Rivers Team Wins Two Over 4th; Tie for 3rd

Table with columns: LAND O' RIVERS STANDINGS (Northern Division), WON, LOST. Lists teams like Allenton, Barton, Kewaskum, etc.

In Rivers play over the Fourth of July week end the Honeck Chevrolet's jumped from last place to a tie for third by copping two fairly easy victories and making the race all the tighter.

Games this Sunday—No games scheduled. Rivers all-star game at New Berlin.

"Hefty" Backhaus won Kewaskum's Sunday game by a margin of 5 runs although Slinger outdid the Chevrolet's, 10-5. However, Backhaus was stung in the clinch and kept Slinger from getting the men to play dirt.

Backhaus fanned but 1 and walked 4. Mago and Ray held both took turfs on the hill for the visitors and gave up 5 hits which Kewaskum converted into 9 runs. Mago whiffed 2 and walked 1; Held striking out 1 and allowing 2 bases on balls. Augie Hilgo and Dick Edwards each collected 2 bingles for the winners.

On the other side, Kewaskum got only 6 safeties off the West Bend twirlers and converted them into 9 runs. According to the hits the score ordinarily should have been the other way around, Honeck struck out 5, walking 2, Kugler and L. Kral shared pitching chores for the losers.

Each whiffed 3 batters and Kugler walked 3 while Kral issued none. Krueger was the only local batter with 2 safeties, both singles. D. Sauer and Kireher both pounded the pill for 2 hits in 4 times at bat for West Bend, one of Kireher's added 2 hits.

Theater Stock Sale Proves Huge Success

Over The Top in 36 Hours as Community Enthusiasm Soars. It took just 36 hours this week between the taking the first and the last common stock subscription of the $30,000.00 offering by the issuer for Kewaskum's new theater building.

This is certainly a manifestation of the co-operation and spirit of Kewaskum and community people toward this project to be built here in Kewaskum.

Because sales were so rapid, and all the stock sold out so soon, there were a great many people who thought they would have taken stock could not be contacted.

Several parties came without solicitation in response to the news item printed in last week's paper and subscribed to shares. Kewaskum's New Fans neighbors alone subscribed to nearly ten per cent of the entire issue.

As soon as routine details are now taken care of with the Department of Securities, the deposits will be released and actual construction will be under way. The promoters are extremely grateful to those who have subscribed and hope for co-operation from those who could not be contacted, those who were not financially able to purchase stock, as well as all of the other neighbors who can in the future lend great help to the project's success in patronage to the new show house.

Gladys Weddig Bride of Anthony Waranius

In a private ceremony attended by the immediate families, Miss Gladys Mae Weddig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weddig, village, became the bride of Anthony Waranius, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Waranius, R. 2, Campbellsport, on Saturday, July 2. The 5:00 o'clock ceremony was read by the Rev. Fr. Schouten in the St. Mary's parish rectory at Cascade. Mixed flowers decorated the rectory for the nuptial event.

For her marriage the bride chose a gown with a skinner satin skirt and five foot train fashioned with a bodice of French imported brocade lace with lace flounces trailing from the back of the bodice to the skirt. Her headpiece was the same one worn by her mother at her wedding, which held a ring-pierced veil. The bride carried a large bouquet of white roses and white and blue carnations with streamers of white and blue satin with alternating white and blue carnations. The bouquet had a background of ivy.

The bride had as her attendants Miss Laverne Grandemann as maid of honor, Miss Marcelle Waranius as bridesmaid, and Miss Deane Adler as junior bridesmaid. All of the attendants were gowned alike in sleeveless white pique dresses, styled with round necklines, large white pique bows on the shoulders, and hip-bones at the sides of the waist to accent the fullness of the skirts. They carried heart shaped bouquets of American beauty roses with white carnation center and lace background.

John Waranius Jr. served as best man, while Bruno Felken was groomsmen. Henry Weddig Jr. served as junior groomsmen.

Dinner was served to 25 guests at the bride's home, followed by a reception, supper and dance for 200 guests at Forest lake resort. Decorations for the reception-supper included mixed flowers on the tables and American Beauty roses in the windows at the lake resort.

Following a wedding trip to Bruce Mines, Canada, the young couple will reside at 2659 N. 1st st., Milwaukee. The groom, a graduate of Campbellsport High school, is a student at the Milwaukee School of Engineering. The bride, who graduated from Kewaskum High school, is a bookkeeper at the Singer Sewing Machine Co. in that city.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of Gage School District No. 5 of the town of Auburn will be held on Monday evening, July 11, at 8 p. m. at the Gage school.

MOVE TO WEST BEND

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Slesar, who resided with Mrs. Slesar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eberle, have moved to West Bend, where they purchased a home and where Mr. Slesar is in business.

ATTEND YOUR ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING

The time of the annual school meeting is approaching, and I would like to stress the fact that this meeting is a very important one. It is important because it deals with the service of our young people. This importance has become more pronounced in view of the fact that a change in the educational system is being contemplated; in fact, it is being effected by the action of the legislature and we shall be asked to act accordingly.

I am certain that all the citizens of the county want the best education for their children and, therefore, they will allot a few hours of their working time and spend them in discussion of their school problems. This open and frank discussion of individual school situations with the school boards will be very helpful, for it will give the county educational committee a chance to work with boards that are fully advised and aware of the needs of their communities.

I am asking that all people plan to attend these meetings so that the youth of Washington county and all other executives in the field of education will be assured that a wholesome attitude exists and that a cooperative plan is functioning.

Garbage Disposal Orders

There has been flagrant disobedience of the rules regarding the proper disposal of garbage, tins, glass and ashes. All refuse excepting garbage must be placed in metal containers with tightly fitting covers. These cans must not exceed 30 gallon capacity in order that two men can empty them easily. These cans must be placed at your curb every other Wednesday morning for collection. Please rinse your used tins in order to reduce the hazard of flies—remember polio may be caused by flies.

All garbage must be wrapped well with several layers of paper. After the garbage has been emptied wash the can and expose to sun to dry for a few hours. This reduces the fly hazard a great deal. All covers must fit tightly. Place your garbage at your curb for collection on Monday and Friday mornings. Remember! No glass or tins in the garbage.

Hereafter the garbage collectors shall refuse to empty garbage that has not been properly wrapped; legal action will ensue should anyone refuse to obey the rules.

UN CHAPEL WILL HAVE NO ALTAR . . .

'Divers Are the Ways to Approach God'

. . . IT CAN BE A MANGER OR A MOSQUE

By H. J. PHILLIPS

'DIVERS ARE THE WAYS . . .'

"The chapel of prayer in the new United Nations headquarters will have no altar or windows. A shaft of sunlight will come through the roof. A huge marble slab, memorializing the war dead, will be the only object in the simple, cylindrical structure."—News Item.

No altar. . . .
No stained-glass windows. . . .
No man of Sorrows with His example of love, sacrifice, sorrow and ultimate victory that has stirred millions through the centuries. . . .
Just a shaft of sunlight beating in from above to symbolize hope, truth and an omnipotent power. . . .

Yet here can be the Universal Temple, the Cathedral of the Earth, the Prayer Room of All Races, Creeds and Sects, all communing with a Supreme Being in the realization that without it they are as video puppets!

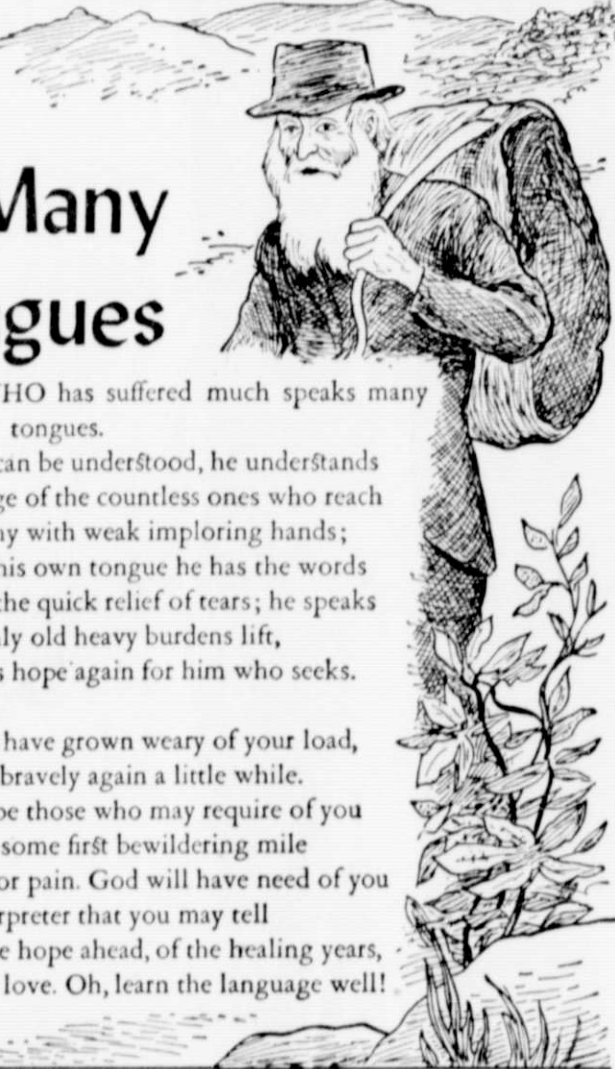

these shadows may men of all faiths find truth, charity, brotherly love and respect for the eternal verities. . . .
Here, denied all symbols, may they hear the flutter of wings, stir to distant trumpets, and mark, "Thou shalt not kill" in a dozen tongues.

In Many Tongues

HE WHO has suffered much speaks many tongues.
He can be understood, he understands
The language of the countless ones who reach
For sympathy with weak imploring hands;
To each in his own tongue he has the words
That bring the quick relief of tears; he speaks
And suddenly old heavy burdens lift,
And there is hope again for him who seeks.

O you who have grown weary of your load,
Shoulder it bravely again a little while.
There will be those who may require of you
Help to go some first bewildering mile
With grief or pain. God will have need of you
As His interpreter that you may tell
Them of the hope ahead, of the healing years,
And of His love. Oh, learn the language well!

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

BETTY CLARK, star of the Sunday ABC "Betty Clark Sings," is one of those rare people who should be a lesson to all of us. It wasn't too surprising to learn that 12-year-old Betty recently was graduated from elementary school with an average of more than 90 per cent. She looks very intelligent. I was slightly surprised to learn that she skips rope and goes roller skating once a week. And of course she is exceptional as the only child in America who has her own network show. But what makes all she does especially remarkable and courageous is the fact that charming little Betty has been totally blind since birth.

The harpsichord which Eugene Ormandy bought in Vienna for Dr. Frank Black, conductor of "Harvest of Stars," with James Melton, couldn't get used to New York weather. Went out of commission and spent a year being repaired.

"The Adventures of Sam Spade" moves to NBC in September (same time, same star, Howard Huff) after being heard on CBS since September of 1946. Before that the show had put in a couple of months on ABC.

Stacey Harris, radio actor, will make his screen debut in "Postal Inspector." Harris started his acting career with Burt Lancaster on the Broadway stage, then turned to radio when Lancaster turned to Hollywood.

William Bendix finally had to wear make-up in "The Big Steal." On location in Mexico he picked up such a deep tan that his face had to be lighted to the shade it was in the scenes filmed earlier in Hollywood.

The Fiction Corner

IT WAS ETHAN PRYOR'S laughter that first attracted Abigail to him. When Ethan laughed every one else laughed. The sound had that mirthful, appealing quality that was infectious. It was good to hear. It gave you a feeling of well-being.

This all happened in 1929, when Ethan's retail antique business was netting him $15,000 a year. It was easy to laugh then. They were a jolly couple.

In 1931 Ethan's retail antique business dropped off from one-half its top amount to one-third, then to one-quarter.

That year passed and the next. The Pryors didn't find it so easy to laugh. They gave up their seven-room apartment and moved into a less expensive one. In January of 1934 they moved to a single room in an unfashionable part of the city. Ethan was barely making enough to keep them from starving.

Abigail hunted for a week and eventually won for herself a job. It wasn't much of a job. She sat behind a glass window all afternoon and evening selling tickets for a stock company performance. The stock company wasn't doing so well. It looked as though it might fold up any day. But it paid $15 a week and would have to do until she could get something better.

Inspired, a little ashamed, Ethan went job hunting himself. He hunted a week, two weeks, without success. He began to brood. Abigail did her best to cheer him up, to get him into a happy frame of mind.

"Let's hear the old laugh ring out, darling. A pleasant frame of mind is half the battle." She sat on the arm of his chair. "Tell you what. Let's celebrate. Let's take $5 and go down to Tony's. We can have a gay time for a change."

THEY WENT to Tony's. They drank wine and ate a big dinner. They danced. They sat and watched the floor show. It wasn't a bad floor show. Among other things there was a comedian. The comedian was sad. He wasn't funny. But Abigail laughed. She laughed as though she thought he was tremendously funny.

Ethan looked at her. A fond light came into his eyes. She was trying to be gay. She was doing all she could to bolster up his spirits. He could at least help.

Ethan laughed. It was the old time, mirthful, appealing laughter. It rolled out and filled the room. Others heard it. Others laughed. They couldn't help it. They laughed with Ethan. The comedian was inspired. After the show a man came up and sat down at Ethan's and Abigail's table. Abigail introduced him as the owner of the stock company show where she sold tickets. His name was Jones.

"Listen," said Mr. Jones. "We'll pay you $5 a night to come and laugh at our show. It's supposed to be a funny show. You can put it across."

Ethan scratched his chin. He looked at Abigail. He said: "Well, I donno. For $10 a week I might consider it."

"Sold!" said Mr. Jones. Ethan looked at his wife when he got home. "You planned it!" he accused.

"Sure," said Abigail. "When you have something it should be cashed in on. You can laugh your way to riches, my dear."

Times were getting better. People were buying antiques. The beginning of 1936 he was doing quite well. That summer he enlarged his shop.

"Well," said Abigail, happily, "I guess we laughed our way through that depression all right."

Ethan kissed her. Then he threw back his head and began to laugh. He laughed loud and long. "There!" he said. "That laugh isn't going to cost you any more. From now on I laugh because I want to and free of charge. Honey, I love you."

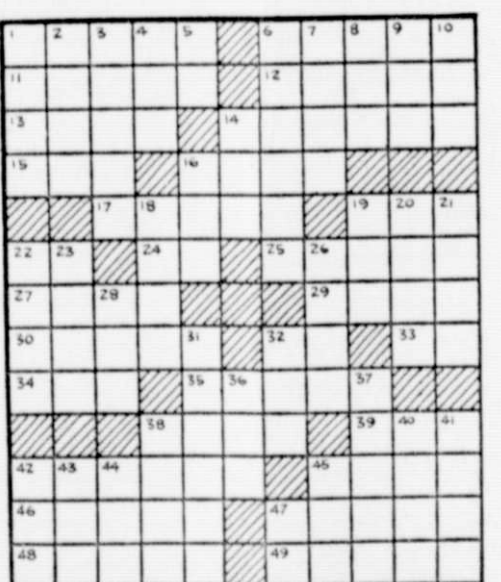

"Ditto," said Abigail.

PUZZLE NO. 6

New Friend Brings Luck, Then Collects With Gun

BOSTON.—Frank Elmer's new friend brought him luck at a local dog race track—and then took it away, literally.
Just after Elmer made the man's acquaintance, he had a streak of fortune. For three nights he won, building $300 into $1,500. His new friend stood by smiling. Then the man asked Elmer for a ride home. In nearby Medford he pulled a gun, relieved Elmer of his $1,500.

Follow Rules for Fruit and Berry Canning (See Directions Below)

Can Fruits Well

SUCCESSFUL fruit and berry canning is comparatively simple, but good results depend upon your being well-informed of the proper methods as well as accuracy in carrying out certain given directions.

If you canned fruits and berries last year and had some spoilage then check over the tips I'm giving and see where you slipped. True economy depends upon having success with every jar you've put up.

Lack of success in putting up fruit and berries may not have been due to any canning procedure. Your first essential job is to select sound fruit and berries. Fruit or berries must be firm and ripe. Over-ripe material may be used for jams and jellies but should never be canned whole.

Discard bruised berries or fruit as well as those which are speckled. The fresher the fruit or berry, the better is your chance of canning successfully. If you have your own orchard or garden, then you can go right out and pick the produce and rush it into the kitchen for canning. This is the ideal way to can.

Blanching Means Removing Skins
IT'S sometimes desirable to blanch fruit, or peel it. This process means dipping the fruit, such as apricots, peaches, etc., in hot water for a minute or so, then in cold water. The skin will slip off easily with just a slight pressure of the fingers or palm.

If you're blanching a bushel of fruit, do it in small doses. Letting the fruit stand in either the hot or cold water for more than the required minute will make it too watery.

Hot Water Bath Best for Fruit Canning
FRUITS and berries, generally hold their shape better when packed hot or cold into the jars and are then processed by the hot water bath.

The open kettle method, whereby the fruit is cooked in a large kettle on top of the range and packed while boiling hot into sterilized jars, is preferred by some people. After packing in the jars, the

LYNN SAYS: These Canning Tips Will Help You
To make one quart of canned fruit, you'll need two and one-half pounds of fresh apricots. The same weight of peaches and pears will also give a quart of canned fruit.

Two medium sized pineapples are needed to yield a quart of the canned product.
When packing fruit into jars in its raw state (cold pack), add syrup to within one and one-half inches of the top of the jar.
When packing jars with syrup, pack to within one-half inch of the top rather than to over flowing. This rule applies when packing pre-cooked fruit.
All fruits may be canned without sugar simply by packing them to within one-half inch of the top.
Sugar is used in syrup to pack fruit to improve flavor, color and texture.
After hot jars have finished processing, let them cool on several layers of newspaper, away from a draft.

pressure cooker may also be used for processing. The pressure cooker, however, is not as essential to canning fruits and berries, as it is in canning vegetables.

Precooking is recommended on the chart above for such fruit and berries as are watery. This method gives a better pack.

Wash Fruit Thoroughly, But Avoid Soaking
BACTERIA lurk in soil, and for this reason, it's necessary to wash fruit and berries thoroughly. However, this does not mean that you allow the fruit or berries to soak in water. They may become waterlogged and give you a very watery pack once the fruit is in the jar.

Whole fruits should be washed under gently running water and placed in a colander to drain as soon as washing is over. Berries may be dipped in and out of fresh, clean water in a basin and then placed in a colander to drain. Running water may break the berries apart.

How to Choose The Best Syrup
IN THE CHART, it is suggested that you add syrup to the fruit or berries after it has been packed in jars. In some cases, it is advisable to precook the material in syrup before packing in the jar.

For the small soft fruit such as sweet cherries and berries, use a No. 1 or a thin syrup made as follows:
Use three cups of water to one cup of sugar and bring to a boil.
The medium, or No. 2 syrup is used for peaches, sour berries, rhubarb, cherries or gooseberries. It is made by using two cups of water to one cup of sugar and bringing to a boil.

The heavy, or No. 3 syrup is generally used on large sour fruits that have to be made extra sweet.
Scum should be removed from the syrup after cooking, before pouring the syrup on fruit.
Corn syrup and honey may be substituted in whole or in part in making the syrup. All honey, and while boiling hot into sterilized jars, is preferred by some people.

From three to three and one-half pounds of strawberries are needed for a quart of canned material since they have a high percentage of liquid.
One and one-half to two pounds of cherries or plums will yield a quart of the canned product.
To sterilize jars for canned foods, wash them first in warm, soapy water. Rinse thoroughly. Cover jars with warm water and allow to come to a boil. Boil for 15 minutes. Let stand in water until ready to use.

Save yourself from burning by wearing gloves, freshly washed canvas gloves while packing hot jars or by lifting hot kettles.
Use shallow pans, wide enough to fit burners, to precook the food quickly so as not to lose color, flavor and nutrients.
A cheesecloth, with fruit tied in it is handy to have for blanching fruits. Place the fruit, tied in cheesecloth into hot water, lift out after a minute and place the fruit in a vessel containing cold water.

Ain't It So
A co-ordinator is a man who brings organized chaos out of regimented confusion.
A conference is a group of men who individually can do nothing, but as a group can meet and decide that nothing can be done.

Fatigue Causes Depression
Continued depression without apparent reason often is due to fatigue. Persistent efforts to secure sufficient sleep on good quality bedding every night usually will result in better spirits. If the depression continues, however, a doctor should be consulted.

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Ayrshire Breeders Testing Production

Keep Average Chart, Record of Animals
The Ayrshire breeders' association is the only cattle-breeders' organization in the field which maintains "average" rather than "selective" production records of its cows, according to officials.

Two directors of the Ayrshire breeders' association, Edward Wilson, left, and Michael Rapano, right, look over "Armour Mona" the blue-blooded Ayrshire cow sold at the Bucks county, Pa., sale.

At this time, it was reported, some 16,000 Ayrshire cows are voluntarily "on test." Daily, certified records of all phases of production and lactation are averaged into monthly records and these, in turn, are averaged into annual records. From these annual figures, "herd" averages are then computed, and these are computed into the only "breed" averages extant. Owners of the Ayrshire cattle are given duplicate copies of the production records compiled with the help of foolproof IBM machines. This system is of immeasurable help to Ayrshire farmers in operating their herds and disposing of surplus cattle. But this painstaking "cows on test" project is only one of the many operations conducted by the A.A.A. staff. The birth of every Ayrshire calf recorded and registered. The operations of the A.A.A. are helping to make Ayrshire cattle one of the most popular breeds of dairy cattle in the country. The Ayrshire is reported the highest producer of 4.0 per cent milk of any breed. Only Ayrshires produce "naturally homogenized" milk—the fat globules are so fine and tiny that they are integrated by nature with the rest of the milk. Ayrshire milk is in great demand by hospitals, and by doctors with on-diet patients.

How It Started...

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK... A very old phrase, with exact origin obscure, although in Prior's Life of Burke (1781) is the expression: "He was not merely a chip off the old block, but the old block itself." The obvious allusion is that the chip (son) is of the same stuff which the block (father) is made.

WHIPPING BOY... The expression goes back to an old custom among royal families of providing youthful princes with boy companions of their own age and when the prince got out of hand, it was the companion, or "whipping boy," who received the punishment—the idea being that the prince's person was inviolable.

AROUND THE HOUSE

De-Humidifier

Now the home-owner can protect property in his basement from mold, rust and mildew damage by moist summer air with any one of several simple and inexpensive de-humidifiers and a low-cost chemical—calcium chloride.

Scarce in supply during the war years, calcium chloride is now in plentiful supply. Low-cost de-humidifiers are available nationally through hardware and lumber dealers.

De-humidifiers designed to use the chemical have a container such as that shown here, for the slake which is exposed to air. Calcium chloride has the unique property of being able to absorb several times its own weight in moisture.

On the bias. Try cutting the thread on a slant when threading a needle. It will point the thread and make it much easier to thrust through the eye of the needle.

Wash line technique. When washing heavy blouses, shirts, etc., hang each one separately on a wooden clothes hanger and then on the line. They will dry more quickly and in better shape than when pinned directly to the line.

Time enough. In making percolated coffee, allow the brew to percolate for only five or ten minutes after the water begins to be amber in color.

Dry in no time. A quick way of drying stockings is to squeeze them as dry as possible, then roll tightly in a turkish towel for five minutes. Hang in an airy place and they will dry in a jiffy.

Deposit rubbers here. A wooden box or carton placed inside the kitchen door to be used as a receptacle for rubbers and galoshes on rainy days will save the home-maker much linoleum cleaning.

Smile Awhile

"You should be ashamed of yourself," reprimanded the father as he gave his son a dressing down for not having advanced beyond the errand-boy stage at his place of business. "Why, when George Washington was your age he was hard at work as a surveyor, earning good money."

"Sure," replied the youth in a swift counter-attack, "and when he was your age he was President of the United States."

"I don't agree with your theory of prenatal influence," said the young lady as she sipped her tea. "Take my case for example," she said. "My mother was accidentally hit with a phonograph record just before I was born, but it has not done me any harm, any harm, any harm."

Hubbie—"You look tired, dear. Why don't you go to the mountains for a nice rest?"

Wife—"Oh, I don't know. I don't think the mountain air would agree with me."

Hubbie—"Well, it would be the first thing that didn't."

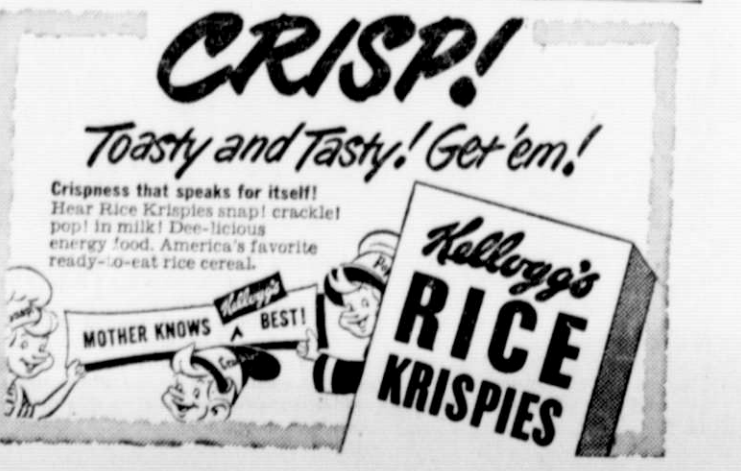

Teacher—"So you want to be older so that you can do many things that your brothers and sisters do, eh?"

Small boy—"Yes, ma'am."

Teacher—"Well, who is the oldest in your family?"

Small boy—"Daddy is, but he got a head start."

Entertainment was furnished by members of the Slinger Happy Workers 4-H club, under the direction of Mr. Schoeni.

LAWN ANTS

The common lawn ants appear to be more numerous this year than usual. Fortunately, control measures are simple and easy to apply.

Using a sharp pointed stick about one-half inch in diameter, make several holes about four inches deep in areas where the ants have made burrows. Pour about one ounce of carbon disulphide into each hole. Then quickly cover with a heavy blanket or rug.

Moist gunny sacks will also answer the purpose. The fumes of the carbon disulphide will kill the ants. The fumes of this gas are inflammable and must be kept away from a flame or lighted match.

Another treatment recommended for ants in hills is calcium cyanide. Punch a few holes into the ant hills and put about a teaspoonful of the cyanide into each hole. Cover as recommended above.

FLY AND INSECT CONTROL

Recently there has been considerable discussion in agricultural newspapers and periodicals concerning the use of DDT as spray for fly control in dairy barns and on dairy cattle. This discussion was brought on by a recommendation from the food and drug administration that other insecticides be used. It is thought that small quantities of DDT accumulate in the fat globules of the milk and in the fatty tissues of the flesh of the animals and that human consumption of such food products might be injurious to human health.

A new insecticide called methoxychlor is recommended in place of DDT. It is used in the same way as DDT. It is available in the form of a 50% wettable powder. A one-half percent spray is recommended for dairy cattle. This can be made by mixing one-half lb. methoxychlor in six gallons of water. Barn wells should be sprayed with a two and one-half percent strength mix two and one-half lbs. with six gallons of water. Apply one gallon of the spray to each 100 square feet of barn walls, ceiling, etc. Methoxychlor has a quicker and more powerful killing effect than does DDT. However, the residual or carry-over effect is for a slightly shorter period of time.

Many other new insecticides are available. Most of them are very effective if used according to the manufacturer's directions.

Chlorane or toxaphene will be used largely for grasshopper control, cattle lice and for other insects affecting livestock. Again they should be used according to manufacturer's directions. These may also be used to combat household insects like ants, cockroaches and box elder tree bugs.

Burning fence rows, roadsides, and fields to control grasshoppers not only does little good; it is against the law. Eggs are buried too deeply to be destroyed by fire.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Wants Welfare Department; Veterans Will Get NSLI Dividends; Big Four Agree on Austrian Pact

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

ROOSEVELT CHATS WITH TRUMAN... Another Roosevelt, Franklin D. Jr., chats in the White House with President Truman. The meeting occurred shortly after young Roosevelt was sworn in as congressman from the 26th New York district, replacing the late Saul Bloom. F. D. R. Jr. made it plain he is a Democrat and a member of Mr. Truman's "team."

WELFARE:

Signing into law a bill to reorganize the federal government, President Truman offered a major proposal. He wants a new department of welfare created with its chief officer given full cabinet rank.

THE IDEA is not a completely new one. It was heard frequently during the early days of the Rooseveltian era, much oftener during the latter years of F. D. R.'s regime.

While this proposition commanded chief attention of the nation's press, the President offered six other streamlining plans aimed at giving the taxpayers better service for less money.

Transfer of the U. S. employment and unemployment compensation offices to the labor department.

PLACING of the two key defense agencies—national security council and national security and resources board—directly in the President's office.

Tightening up administration of the post office department, maritime commission and civil service commission.

Transfer of the public roads administration to the commerce department.

The President said the plans, which followed closely several major recommendations of the Hoover commission on government reorganization, will not "automatically" produce efficiency and cut spending.

BUT HE SAID they open the door to improvements that will make the government "more vigorous" and operate more smoothly at a lower cost "over a period of time."

No one expected any reduction in federal spending, and the President's conclusions might be construed as a preliminary defense setup for continued federal outlay at the present, or an increased level, despite the Hoover commission recommendations and the President's own seven-point manifesto.

VETERANS:

Get Good News Veterans of World War II were all set for a surprise bonanza.

The Veterans' administration announced in Washington that cash refunds totaling 2.8 billion dollars will begin for them about next January—that is, for all GI's who took out national service life insurance during the war. These were estimated to number some 16 million.

Under the new payments, announced by the VA, each ex-serviceman or his heirs would receive an average of $175 from life insurance dividends. Described as a "dividend" the money is to be repaid from two sources:

1. An eight billion dollar surplus which developed from the fact that G.I. insurance premiums were based by law on a standard mortality (death) rate table which turned out to be higher than needed.

2. Earnings from the surplus. In general, it was explained, every veteran who took out national service insurance and kept it in force at least three months will be eligible—provided the policies were not issued after January 1, 1948. No refunds are to be made on policies issued after that date.

MEANWHILE, government officials saw in the insurance dividend payments a timely "shot in the arm" for business in 1950 which should serve to stimulate sales. They recalled that the terminal-leave payoff of some two billion dollars in 1947 provided a sizeable such stimulus for the nation's business.

The plan to start the checks rolling in January brought vigorous criticism on Capitol Hill as Representative Keating (R., N. Y.) demanded that congress set October 15 as the deadline. He introduced a bill to hurry the dividend payments to that date. He declared that the government had "overcharged" veterans on their life insurance, and that the money should be refunded "immediately, not a year from now."

White House Repairs Still a Question

It appeared that all the commotion about repairs to the White House wasn't quite over, although congress approved and sent to the President a money bill carrying funds for work on the White House. The money was included in a measure calling for expenditure of 671 million dollars for various government obligations.

THE HOUSE, which had passed the bill earlier, accepted a one-word amendment approved by the senate. The change would put it up to a special six-man commission whether a separate residence should be built for the first family, in addition to the job on the White House itself.

While this proposition commanded chief attention of the nation's press, the President offered six other streamlining plans aimed at giving the taxpayers better service for less money.

Transfer of the U. S. employment and unemployment compensation offices to the labor department.

LONG SEARCH SEEN ENDED Chlorophyll in Toothpaste Fights Decay A new toothpaste containing chlorophyll may be the answer to the long-time search for a preventive for tooth decay. 'UNIVERSAL MAN':

Johann von Goethe From every state in the union and from many foreign lands, distinguished visitors are pouring into the historic little frontier town of Aspen, Colo., to pay honor to a man born 200 years ago.

The Goethe Bicentennial Convocation and Music Festival (June 27-July 16) is presenting an imposing roster of thinkers, writers, statesmen, philosophers, educators and musicians who will seek to re-examine and re-interpret the works and philosophy of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, the Universal Man, as it pertains to the atomic age.

HEADING the impressive list of lecturers is Albert Schweitzer, of French Equatorial Africa—philosopher, doctor, musician, theologian—acknowledged throughout the civilized world as the foremost modern disciple of Goethe.

The music festival, running in conjunction with the convocation, will feature compositions based on Goethe's works, monumental music of equal stature to Goethe, and music contemporary to him and known to have been inspirational to him.

LABOR:

Bad Timing? Was the postwar buggy ride of consumer demand and increasingly higher wages really over? The Ford motor company thought so and said so.

CONFRONTED with a list of demands by the united automobile workers union, the company made a significant counter-proposal.

Instead of pay raises and pension, health and welfare plans as drafted by the union, the company proposed to peg wages where they are for another 18 months.

Such action, said the company, would "set a stabilization pattern for the entire (national) economy at this critical time."

THE UNION, among other things, has demanded that wages be pegged to the cost of living.

Pointing out that the cost of living is down and that the market for cars might drop up to 32 per cent after this year, the company declared flatly that it would reject any change in the work contract which would mean higher labor costs—whether in the form of wage increases or pension or welfare funds.

THUS the issue was hastening to a showdown. Could industry stand firm against another round of wage increases, or would labor with its organized power so stifle industry that capitulation would be inevitable?

THE RUSSIANS, however, were in there pitching right up to the final moments of the parley. The conference ended in a flurry of excitement as Russia sought unsuccessfully to make a last minute change in the announcement of the meeting's results.

The Reds had promised not to reimpose a blockade on Berlin in return for efforts to revive east-west trade in Germany. This was contained in a six-point statement of principle by the Big Four to guide negotiations in Germany.

The Russians were supported in their 150 million dollar claim on Austria for German assets, and swung an uppercut at Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito by dropping their support of Yugoslavian claims on Austria. These were the points which cleared the way for an Austrian treaty which has been ordered for presentation by September 1.

DESPITE the improvement in east-west relations growing out of the conference, American spokesmen were not optimistic in evaluating results. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson had no immediate comment.

Work on the Austrian treaty, however, was termed a "substantial step" forward and of no little importance because it would free Austria and push Soviet troops farther back into eastern Europe.

It was felt that ground had been neither gained nor lost in Germany.

ROSES - MODELS... American beauties, all, and long-stemmed, too.

REUNION... Mary Jane Truman, of Grandview, Missouri, sister of President Harry Truman, had a warm reception for the arrival in Little Rock. The President was there for a reunion with his former Battery "B" artillery buddies.

MISS CAL... Jane Ann Pedersen, 17-year-old Santa Rosa blonde, was chosen "Miss California" in the beauty contest finals at Santa Cruz. She will represent the state in the "Miss America" competition at Atlantic City in September.

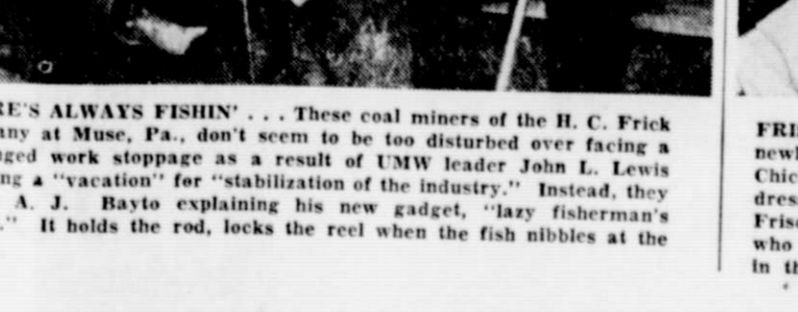

NOW HE'S IN THE 4-H CLUB... President Harry Truman, who is well on his way to becoming a member of every going organization in the U. S., received an honorary 4-H club pin when delegates to the 19th annual national 4-H club camp called at the White House to pay their respects. At the presentation were Mary Bowers of Payne county, Okla., and Don Rutter of Shelbina, Mo., shown presenting the pin.

IN YOUR OWN BACK YARD... Vacation time brings the urge to see strange sights. And while such awesome spectacles as this giant dinosaur in the Black Hills of South Dakota do not appear in every interesting place within a 100-mile radius of their own homes. Authority for that statement is Miss Carol Lane, women's travel director of the Shell Oil company's touring bureau and one of the nation's leading travel authorities.

THERE'S ALWAYS FISHER... These coal miners of the H. C. Frick company at Muse, Pa., don't seem to be too disturbed over facing a prolonged work stoppage as a result of UMW leader John L. Lewis ordering a "vacation" for "stabilization of the industry." Instead, they watch A. J. Bayto explaining his new gadget, "lazy fisherman's friend." It holds the rod, locks the reel when the fish nibbles at the bait.

FRISCH CUB... Frankie Frisch, newly appointed manager of the Chicago Cubs, buttons his shirt in dressing room at Wrigley Field. Frisch succeeds Charley Grimm, who became a club vice-president in the Wrieley organization.

Readin', Ritin' and Rhythm

Learning cooperation is a most important by-product of the musical instruction given these Milwaukee girls, and they find that each must accommodate her flute playing to the other's in order to get the desired harmony and tone.

Carrying out the theme of harmony and cooperation, percussion instruments are taught in class groups in the Oak Park schools. Here the children are receiving instruction on the fundamental percussion instruments of the orchestra—tympans, cymbals, bass drum and snare drum.

In this Oak Park social studies class music is integrated with other school subjects. The subject is Hawaii and the children are acting out the rhythm and music of the islands. Native ukeleles and Hawaiian clothing help.

The Birth of Baseball

IT SEEMS RATHER peculiar, with baseball rated as the national pastime, with the game sweeping the country today, that no set record of baseball's beginning is at hand. Abner Doubleday has been credited with taking a commission from the dying Lincoln, which of course never happened.

Baseball came in before Lincoln or Doubleday were ever known. I have had records showing that baseball was a game around 1840. A well-known game. Will Irwin, one of our greatest writers and reporters, once wrote several articles proving that Gen. Abner Doubleday had nothing to do with the discovery or invention of baseball. As Will Irwin is the most responsible person I've ever known to go fully into the subject, I'll go along with him.

Now a worthy reader in Pelham, N.Y., sends me a copy of a letter that has been in his family since 1833. The letter was sent to "Mr. William H. Butler, Nathaniel Hall, Nathaniel County, Pa., March, 1833." The sender was Charles C. Cain. Here is a portion of the 1833 letter:

"I suppose nowadays you play ball considerably. If I can judge by our condition up here, it is the time of the year to play ball. I think was a great pity that we couldn't teach these lazy rascals to play that beautiful game—Base Ball."

I have seen correspondence before that proved to me baseball was played around 1840 and there were fairly good teams before 1850. It is only natural that different types of games were played in those early days. It may be that General Doubleday was the one who measured out the modern diamond, but there were many changes year after year—such as underhand pitching and out on the first bounce. No game springs full blown into existence over night.

This letter to William H. Butler, written March 22, 1833, referring to baseball by its right name is the first recorded instance I know with full proof attached. This makes baseball 116 years old which brings it more dignity and tradition.

Two Ways to Hit

There are two ways on tap when it comes to the matter of hitting a baseball well. One is the system Nap Lajoie used some 40 years ago. The other has a standard bearer in Ted Williams, one of the best of the moderns.

"I believe in making a pitcher put one over the plate," the Red Sox star tells you. "If a ball is two inches wide, I'll let it go. That's why I wait so late to swing on many occasions. You can tell in advance whether a pitch is going to be good, wild or near the corners."

Nap Lajoie never liked this system. "I make up my mind in advance," he said one day before a game. "I make up my mind to sock the next one if it is anywhere close. I'd just as soon swing at a ball eight inches off the plate. The main point is that my mind is all set to hit this next one. Naturally if it's a bad pitch or too wide, I'll let it go. But you certainly get more timing in your swing when you are mentally set to hit the next one."

"I never worked much on either theory," Ty Cobb said. "I always wanted to hit the ball as solidly as possible. It might be over and too low. It might not be over and just the right height. There is one thing you have to watch in batting. That's your balance, keeping your weight back of the swing."

"One of the chief faults in hitting is overeagerness or over anxiety. This makes you throw your weight forward too soon. As you step into the ball, your hands and body must be working together."

"Young ballplayers, especially fall into this habit of lurching forward ahead of schedule. Their weight is out of place. I used to keep an old-timer on the bench to watch me when I got into a slump."

He'd tell me what fault I was committing—swinging too fast—swinging too long—waiting too long waiting too long—bad foot action.

"It would be a smart thing for managers to have a veteran observer on the bench today to check on mistakes or faults. In both golf and baseball the player can rarely tell what he is doing when something goes wrong. Your pro can help you in golf. You should also have a good pro to help in baseball."

Which sounds like a first-class idea from every angle.

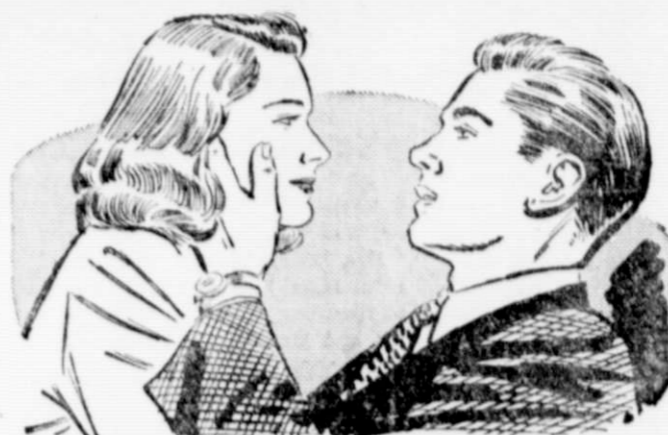

Casey Stengel and his coaching staff have done better than the standing of the clubs shows.

We mention this because Stengel, at the season's start, was bracing himself to draw the worst fusillade in baseball for a possible failure with which he would have had no connection. Casey Stengel has already more than made good, whatever may happen later on.

It is hardly reasonable to suppose that Casey Stengel, with half his team badly shot, should be able to keep his earlier pace.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Pity Never Akin to Love
By Lawrence Gould

Is pity really sometimes "akin to love?"

Answer: Far from it. We get the idea that it is from the fact that when we are little, our mothers appear to give us more affection when we are sick or unhappy, but to try to win someone's love after you have grown up by making him sorry for you is a serious mistake. If he feels you're blaming him, he'll hate you for it, and if he does not, you'll ultimately bore him. The English psychiatrist, Dr. Laura Hutton, truly says that "In the long run most of us are attracted by happiness in others, not by unhappiness—or "hard luck."

staying single than a cripple should be blamed because he "won't walk." There is no worse marriage than the sort in which a girl has forced herself to take a husband she does not love "so as not to be an old maid." Single life is infinitely better.

Can dull parents have bright children?

Answer: As a rule they have quite normal children, and what level of intelligence these children attain depends upon the conditions under which they are brought up. In the Journal of Genetic Psychology, Dr. Harold M. Skeels and Miss Irene Harms report the continuing success of the "Iowa Experiment," in which children with "inferior social histories" were given for adoption to superior foster parents. Though in many cases one or both of the children's parents were rated as "morons," the children have average intelligence or better.

Preventing Deaths from Appendicitis

By Dr. James W. Barton

SOME YEARS AGO the physicians and surgeons of Philadelphia made a determined effort to cut down the death rate in appendicitis. Within one year they reduced it to less than half of what it had been.

How was the death rate reduced by more than one-half in this short time?

These physicians had learned from their own experiences three definite truths. First, that the sooner the operation was performed the better; second, that no food should be given; and third, that no pain-killing drug should be used until the cause of the pain was found not to be appendicitis, as this drug masked or hid the symptoms.

When a pain occurs in the abdomen, even as high up as the stomach, many think that a dose of castor oil or of Epsom salts is the best treatment, as it clears away poisons or wastes. This would be good treatment in most cases but for the fact that appendicitis is such a common cause of pain in the abdomen.

A sluggish liver and gall bladder cause gas, and gas pressure causes pain. Constipation is another common cause of pain in the abdomen.

The reason a cathartic, like castor oil or Epsom salts, is dangerous, should appendicitis be causing the pain, is because a cathartic stimulates so much movement in the intestine and this extra amount of movement may cause the appendix to rupture. A ruptured appendix causes peritonitis, usually fatal.

When a pain occurs in the lower right side of the abdomen (which may have started higher up in the stomach a few hours before) and remains in the appendix region for an hour without shifting elsewhere, call a physician at once.

In previous days it was not unusual for patients to be transported to a large city for an operation, which meant delay and a greater chance of rupturing the appendix. Today, the "nearest" hospital has surgeons capable of removing the appendix in minutes.

HEALTH NOTES

When the ankle or any other joint is sprained (not just strained), the injured part should be placed in hot water and kept hot for an hour at a time until swelling disappears. The joint then should be bandaged and placed on a chair if the patient is sitting or on a pillow if lying down. After a few days' rest, the joint is gently moved (without weight on it), and massaged toward the heart.

So great has the problem of chronic illness become that the American Medical Association has joined with hospital, public health and welfare groups in forming an Interim Commission of Chronic Illness.

While most mouth sores aren't cancers but caused by inflammation of the gums, those with cancer sores are apt to use treatment for non-cancerous sores and treatment by radium may be too late.

Some years ago I tried to count up the number of causes of headache. When it ran over 100, I stopped. Some researchers report over 200 causes.

Myalgia in the back of the neck and in the chest muscles (sometimes mistaken for pleurisy) can be caused by an infection in the nose and throat, with a resultant rise in temperature and pulse rate.

Research workers have shown that delay in marketing food loses much of its nutritional value, as well as keeping food in the kitchen instead of in the refrigerator.

As cancer stands second only to heart and blood vessel diseases as a cause of death, we should always keep in mind the early signs of cancer or the signs that cancer soon may start—persistent hoarseness, a slow-healing sore, chronic indigestion.

Uncovered Relics Yield Story of Primitive Man

LONDON. — Archaeologists thought they had caught a glimpse of the lives of Britain's pagan Saxon ancestors through relics dug up recently from an ancient burial ground on Farthing Down near Colchester.

Beside the skeleton of a child of about 2, probably a boy, had been placed his well-loved toy iron spear. A child in another grave was thought to be a girl.

Beneath her chin were found the colored beads she used to wear and someone, more than 13 centuries ago, had placed a large decorated bead in her mouth when she was laid to rest.

Leg and ankle bones of an old man were found to be bent, probably because he had squatted on his heels in a primitive home which boasted no chair.
