

Board Meets Twice, Adopts Resolution

Kewaskum, Wis., July 11, 1949. The village board of the village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, met in an adjourned meeting, adjourned from July 6, 1949, with president C. Miller presiding, and all trustees present, except H. Rosenheimer. The minutes of the regular meeting were read and approved as read.

Due to the postponing of the opening and reading of the bids for Kewaskum's new municipal building, to August 4, 1949, the members present had a good discussion on various subjects, no definite action being taken on any subject, and it was then moved and seconded to adjourn.

NICHOLAS S. PUERLING,
Village Clerk

Kewaskum, Wis., Aug. 1, 1949. The village board of the village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, met in regular monthly meeting, with president C. Miller presiding, and all members present, except trustee E. Miller. The minutes of the adjourned meeting were read and approved as read.

Resolution number 4 was introduced by trustee H. Rosenheimer.

RESOLUTION NO. 4

Be it hereby resolved by the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin,

That the Clerk and the President be authorized to execute the agreement submitted by the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company, concerning the Village of Kewaskum to construct, maintain, and use a sewer line and water main upon the property and under the track of the Railway Company at Kewaskum, Wisconsin, in the location and position and in accordance with the specifications shown on the map, dated June 15, 1949, called exhibit "A".

This Resolution is subject to all provisions as may be at any time imposed by the local governing body, and is subject to revocation as provided by law.

Charles Miller, President

ATTEST:
Nicholas S. Puerling,
Village Clerk

Motion made by M. Martin, seconded by G. Hansen, that resolution number 4, as submitted by trustee H. Rosenheimer, be adopted. "On roll" call, all members present voting "aye," no "no's."

After this resolution was adopted, there was a thorough discussion by the board members, on matters confronting the village board at the present time, and on subjects yet to be met.

The clerk was instructed to communicate with the State Highway Commission, Eugene Brumm, County Highway Commissioner, R. G. Edwards, M. D., Wisconsin Retirement Fund and village employees.

The president read a letter from Alfred H. Stewart, the architect, asking the village board to postpone the opening and reading of the bids to August 11, 1949, on Kewaskum's new municipal building.

Motion by L. Dreher, seconded by H. Rosenheimer, that the following wages and bills approved by the finance committee, be allowed and paid.

Pvt. Joe Gruber, Brother Both Serving on Okinawa

Pvt. Joseph Gruber, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gruber, village, sends a letter to inform this office that he now is stationed on Okinawa with the army and lists his new address. He adds that his brother also is serving on Okinawa. His note follows:

Friday, July 21

Dear Bill:
I thought I'd better write and give you my correct address, because all my papers are going to Japan and I'm on Okinawa. So you might be getting a few of those papers back.

I hit it pretty lucky here. My brother Harlan is here too and I have seen him quite a few times already.

Well, I'll give you my address and then I'll close because we're getting ready for a typhoon that is supposed to hit tonight. My address is Pvt. J. A. Gruber R. A. 1630152, 624th Engr. Maint. Det., APO 881, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Sincerely, Joe

EDITOR'S NOTE—Since the above letter was written Mrs. Gruber received one from her other son, Harlan, in which he describes the typhoon after it hit Okinawa. He writes that the typhoon was a very bad and devastating one, destroying many of their buildings, tents, trees and poles and causing much other damage and injury.

SCHOOL BAND, DRUM CORPS, FIREMEN AT BOLTONVILLE

Kewaskum will be featured in three ways at the Boltonville firemen and Legion picnic this Sunday, Aug. 7.

The Kewaskum High school band will participate in the parade and play a concert. The band will meet at the high school and leave by bus at 12:15 p. m. All members are asked by Director Elmer Schabo to be prompt.

The Legion drum and bugle corps, winners of second place in competition with seven drum and bugle corps (two of them state champions) at Port Washington last Sunday, has also been engaged for the parade.

Members of the local fire department will march in the parade and will take part in a water fight at Boltonville in the evening.

LEROEY KELLER JR. FRACTURES BONE IN ELBOW IN ACCIDENT

Leroy Keller Jr., village, sustained a fractured bone in the elbow in an accident last Friday afternoon. Leroy was a passenger in a jeep driven by a companion, which was towing a stalled farm car near the Ray Schaeffer farm in the town of Kewaskum. Another friend was steering the auto being towed. In going down a hill the brakes on the car failed to hold and the machine crashed into the jeep, which turned over, injuring Keller. The boy was confined to St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, from Monday to Thursday to have the bone spiked and for medical care.

LOCAL KIWANIS MEET WITH WEST BEND AT COUNTRY CLUB

Golfing, horseshoes and card playing were activities engaged in by the Kiwanians Tuesday afternoon and evening as the local club met with the Kiwanis club of West Bend at the West Bend Country club.

It was a truly enjoyable gathering and was capped by a splendid dinner and movies. About 40 Kewaskum club members and guests attended the affair.

FORM SQUARE DANCE CLUB

A square dance club will be organized at the Bar-N-Ranch. Anyone interested in joining should attend a meeting next Tuesday night, Aug. 9, when Kettle Mornine square dance teachers will be present for instructions.

Scores last Sunday—Kewaskum 7, Granville 3; Lannon 5, Mequon 4; Menomonee Falls 4, Grafton 2.

Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at Grafton, Mequon at Granville, German town at Lannon.

Behind the five-hit pitching of John Tassar, the Utensils took Granville into camp on the home diamond Sunday, 7-3. In the feature game of the day Lannon and Mequon, tied for first place, battled it out and Lannon nosed out Mequon to take the undisputed lead.

Tassar was the master in a game that started out to be a pitchers' duel between him and Cap. The score was tied at 2-2 at the end of the fifth but finished strong with single runs in the sixth and seventh and three in the eighth to win in easy fashion. Tassar struck out five but again had trouble with his control, walking seven. The Utensils pounded out 13 base hits off Cap, who walked four and whiffed the same number. Kewaskum was aided by Granville's six errors.

Clayton Stautz had a good time with the stick Sunday, heading the Utensils hitting attack with four safeties in five trips, one of them a two-bagger. Wayland Tassar followed suit with three, while Marx and Kral connected for two. W. Esser was the lone enemy to collect two bingles.

County Fair is Very Successful; Record Attendance of 32,000

The 1949 Washington county 4-H club fair held during the last four days of July came to a successful close with an estimated attendance of about 32,000 people. It was the largest attendance of any of the fairs held at the county grounds at Slinger, Incidentally, this was the 12th fair held on these grounds.

Those who came to the fair are to be complimented for the fine sportsmanship of their conduct on the fair grounds and for the care exercised by those who drove cars. As far as is known, there was no automobile accident by people coming to or going from the fair grounds.

Many favorable compliments were heard regarding the nice appearance and cleanliness of the commercial and entertainment midway. The fair carried many more commercial displays than in past years. A total of 34 tents were erected to house commercial displays and increased exhibits.

A band concert and a free stage show held each evening was well received, as was evidenced by the fact that seating and standing room within hearing distance of the stage was at a premium at all times.

The nine judges who awarded the ribbons for the many exhibits spoke words of praise for the quality of the exhibits and for the manner in which they were displayed. Wm. Halbach of Waterford, who judged the poultry, indicated that the fair had shown a good improvement in the poultry department and added that many of the birds shown could easily hold their own in state fair competition. Geo. E. Barrett, dairy cattle judge, complimented the youthful exhibitors for the many fine purebred heifers and young bulls shown. He was especially pleased with the group of 25 young bulls shown as a special exhibit and all of which will be sold at public auction on about Oct. 28 at a 4-H and FFA bull sale. D. H. Williams, who has judged the swine entries in recent years, paid many compliments to the boys and girls in the show ring and praised them for the capable way in which they handled their animals.

Superintendents and their assistants in charge of the livestock departments included:

Cattle—Harvey Dettmann, Arthur Kurtz, Neal Nicholson, Everett Olsen.

Swine—Geo. Janz Jr., Robert Friedemann, Clarence Janz.

Cheeks—Eberhart Muth, John Paul Horvath.

Poultry—Wm. Huth, Jos. Welch Jr.

The many commercial displays by exhibitors from all parts of the county added much to the size and attractiveness of the fair. They, too, are deserving of praise for the fine manner in which each concessioner arranged and handled his display.

The management of the fair is to be complimented for a very successful 1949 fair.

Home economics and agricultural exhibits filled every inch of space in the county highway shop which served as an exhibit building during the Washington county fair. Clever 4-H club displays attracted the attention of many fair visitors while 4-H club boys and girls were busy competing in various contests.

The home economics, horticulture, and handicraft exhibits at the fair were very capably handled by the following fair superintendents and assistants:

TRACTOR CRUSHES BOY

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Strohschein and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Voelsgaenger of Chicago, returned home Friday after a vacation at the former's cottage at Woodruff, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lamnuth and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brandenburg and daughter Madeline of West Bend are spending a two weeks' vacation and trip in the western states.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bede and son Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haffernand and son Henry Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schellhaas, Werner Koepke and sons, Werner Jr. and Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schellhaas and children, Sandra, David, Mary and Donald were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schellhaas near Plymouth Sunday.

Scores last Sunday—Kewaskum 14, Allenton 8; Slinger 3, Barton 0; West Bend 12, Jackson 4.

Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at Slinger, Jackson at Barton, West Bend at Allenton.

The red hot Hotchkiss Chevrolets knocked off league leading Allenton there Sunday, 14-8, to take over first place themselves for the first time. The victory ran the team's streak to seven in a row. The Chev's were at the bottom of the loop only a few weeks ago but their super string of wins shot them right up to the top spot in the standings.

The contest was far from a pitchers' battle. There were plenty of runs, hits and errors. Allenton outbatted the winners, 14 hits to 11, but Kewaskum pushed more of them across the plate when they had the chance. While the locals were rounding the bases the Allenton men were standing stranded on them. Both teams played very loosely in the field and each was checked up with eight bobbles.

Each club used two pitchers. Honeck started for Kewaskum and was relieved by Backhaus in the seventh. Schlagenhaut opened on the mound for Allenton and was replaced by Schoenecker, also in the 7th. Honeck fanned three and walked one. Backhaus struck out one and walked one. Schlagenhaut whiffed six, walking two, and Schoenecker struck out two.

Pacing the Chevrolets' batting barrage was "Bud" Korth, who laid a lot of wood on the ball. He smashed out three hits in four trips, one of his drives being a powerful home run and the other two doubles. Incidentally, this was "Hind's" second circuit blow in the last two hits. Honeck and Edwards added two hits apiece, both of Honeck's and one of Edwards' being doubles. Biggest hit of the afternoon was C. Schweitzer of the losers, who lined out four hits.

Make Pleasant Work of Canning Relishes (See Recipes Below)

Savory Relish
RELISHES go with meals just as easily as some foods team together. What's a sandwich without crisp pickles, or peanut butter without jelly? Doesn't a meat platter look bare without sliced peaches? What's a hamburger without chili sauce or catsup? If you answer these questions favorably, you probably are planning to stock your canning cupboard with a variety of these relishes, for they are just as much a part of your food supply as are fruits and vegetables.

There's little chance of failure if you follow recipes because spices and vinegar are a preservative and make success easy.

- LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
Fried Pork Sausage
Fried Potato Salad
Sliced Tomatoes Pickles
Rolls Butter Beverage
Grapes Sugar Cookies
- Spiced Peaches (Makes 4 1/2 quarts)
10 pounds clingstone peaches
3 1/2 pounds sugar (7 1/2 cups)
5 cups vinegar
4 teaspoons whole cloves
3 sticks cinnamon
4 teaspoons whole allspice
- Choose ripe but firm, medium-sized peaches. Place sugar and vinegar in a saucepan and heat to boiling. In the meantime, slip the skins off the peaches by dipping them in hot water for a minute or two, then in cold water. Stick two or three cloves in each peach. Tie remaining cloves, cinnamon and allspice loosely in a cheesecloth bag and drop this into the boiling syrup. Add 8 to 10 peaches and cook until tender. Place peaches in sterile jars and cover with lids but do not seal. When all the peaches are done, pour hot syrup into each of the jars to within 1/4 inch of the top. Seal at once.

HERE'S A FAVORITE pickle which you'll want to make, especially if there are lots of sandwiches made at your home:

Chunk Pickles (Makes 8 pints)
25 large (about 6 pounds) cucumbers
3 1/2 cups salt
3 quarts water
2 tablespoons alum
1 quart vinegar
8 cups sugar
2 2-inch sticks cinnamon
2 blades mace
1 tablespoon whole cloves

Wash cucumbers; place in a stone crock or jar; cover with cold brine made by dissolving salt in water; let stand for two weeks. Remove cucumbers from brine; wash and trim off stems. Cut cross-wise, into one-inch pieces. Cover with cold water; add alum and let stand overnight. Drain and wash well. Combine remaining ingredients and bring them to a boil. Pour immediately over cucumber chunks and let stand. Repeat this process for three mornings, reheating the syrup each morning, place cucumbers in sterile jars. Pour hot syrup over them and seal at once.

PLUM CATSUP is an excellent relish to use with meats and fowl.

Plum Catsup (Makes 5 pints)
5 pounds plums, pitted and chopped
1/2 pound tart green apples, peeled and quartered
2 cups vinegar
4 cups brown sugar
3 tablespoons cinnamon
1/2 tablespoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon mace
1/2 tablespoon salt

Cook plums and apples in vinegar until soft enough to put through a sieve. Add remaining ingredients and simmer until as thick as desired. Pour into sterile jars and seal at once.

Chill Sauce (Makes 4 pints)
10 pounds red tomatoes
1 quart chopped sweet red peppers
1 cup finely chopped white onions
1 quart sugar
2 tablespoons salt
5 cups vinegar
1 teaspoon mustard
1 teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon celery seed

Scald tomatoes, remove skins and cut out cores. Wash peppers, remove seeds and dividing membranes. Put all through food chopper. Add all remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Boil for two hours, stirring frequently to prevent burning, until thick. As soon as the sauce is of desired consistency, pour into sterile jars and seal.

Ripe Grape Jam (Makes 12 6-ounce glasses)
5 1/2 cups prepared fruit
7 cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, slip skins from three pounds fully ripe grapes. Add one cup water to the pulp, bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, for five minutes. Remove seeds with sieve. Grind skins and add to pulp. Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Place measured fruit into a five or six-quart saucepan, filling the last fraction of a cup with water, if necessary. Place over hottest fire and add fruit pectin; mix well and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard one minute. Remove from fire, skim and pour into sterile glasses. Paraffin hot jam at once.

LYNN SAYS: Observe These Tips For Crisp Pickles
Salt used in making pickles should be of good quality, with not too much chemical added to it to prevent caking. Table or dairy salt, such as is used in flavoring butter, is good to use.

In making sweet pickles, do not place them in too heavy a syrup or they will shrivel. The vinegar solution should not be too strong, either, at first or the pickle will shrink.

Using a large amount of alum in making pickles crisp is to be discouraged. Crispness is assured if you use good vinegar, mineral-free water, quality salt and proper procedure with good recipes, for brining and curing.

Although pickles are frequently made in crocks, it's better to pack them in sterile glass jars after they are cured, to prevent possible spoilage.

To avoid hollow pickles, use good cucumbers, since this fault is frequently caused by using faulty cucumbers.

In making catsups, use a low heat and stir frequently to prevent the mixture from burning.

Food choppers may be used for catsups, sauces and relishes for cutting vegetables and fruits easily.

Cider vinegar is most frequently used for pickling since many people like its mellow flavor. Light vinegar may be used for pickling light colored fruits and vegetables.

Over-mature vegetables will frequently give you tough and tasteless pickles.

Fruits which are overly-ripe should not be used for pickling as they will not hold their shape well enough to make nice pickles.

All relishes should be stored in a cool, dark place, away from drafts.

If your water has a high lime content, the pickle may be soft; if water has a high iron content, the pickle may darken. Obtain soft water for pickle making, if possible, for best results.

To avoid shriveled pickles, use vinegar which has a sufficient strength such as 40 to 60 grain. Pickles which are exposed above the brine will frequently shrivel. Make certain they are covered while in the brine.

Avoid the use of old spices as these may cause peculiar flavor in pickles.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Get Out of the Rut

ANNE AND Alan Wilson are deadily bored with their marriage, and just about have decided to break it up. Nothing is specifically wrong, and everything is wrong.

"Alan is a smart man," writes Anne, "and I'm stupid; I know it. I'm a good cook, I keep my apartment clean and comfortable, but I can't talk politics or business; when I try to, Alan just looks at me patiently and looks back at his newspaper, without any comment."

"We have two children; I know we both adore them, I know we'd both die for them. But living with a stubborn, spirited boy of 4 and a delicate girl of 6 is something else. Alan and I are both nervous people, and the children naturally are nervous, too. There is a good deal of crying and disobedience in a sort of nursery way; not scenes and beatings and loud voices, but difficulties in getting them to go off to bed or Alan asking 'What on earth is Shirley crying about now?'"

"We try to control our nerves, but we don't seem to be talking the same language these days. Alan showers, dresses, goes off to business; I don't see him again until six o'clock and then he hardly speaks. Then it's the newspaper, radio, dinner, and he is either 'dead tired' and goes to bed, or he is going 'over to Joe's for a minute.' All wives, busy with dishes, homework, mending, know that 'minute.'

"Now the questions I want to ask you are these; do you often hear of a situation like this? Is it my fault or Alan's? Would a psychoanalyst help us? I'm 30.

... Then it's the newspaper ...

Alan 34; we can't go on for 40 years like this. Can you help us?"

My answers to these questions are yes, I often hear of this situation, it arises in many marriages. No, I wouldn't go to a psychoanalyst. In your case that would be money thrown away. And yes, it is your fault and Alan's both, although it isn't an easy one to see.

In the first place, Anne, you're not stupid. No stupid woman ever wrote a letter like this. You're simply bogged down in a rut that has involved Alan and the children, too. Five city rooms, year out and year in, aren't too healthy an environment for two small children. Five city rooms doesn't afford much scope for your imagination or activity, either. Five city rooms aren't restful when a man gets home from eight hours in a close office.

Longs for Life, Vitality
"I long for life, vitality, interest, occupation," Anne ends her letter. "I'm doing my job as well as I can, but it's not enough for me. It's not enough for Alan. These five small rooms are as modern, as well-equipped as any in the world, I suppose; we don't like taxes and rising prices, but we aren't in debt. There should be a good many things for us to talk about, after nine years of marriage. But apparently there aren't."

Answer: Yes, although you probably don't realize it. After struggling with the elusive game for forty years I am convinced that when you miss a two-foot putt, a guilty conscience is the explanation. For success at golf (or any other sport) implies you're doing two things, both of which are "wicked" from a childish standpoint: proving how "good" you are, and getting the better of someone else. The more you want to do either, the more childish memories of being told you mustn't tend to make you flinch and punish yourself by "missing."

KEEPING HEALTHY
Surgery Relieves Profound Grief

By Dr. James W. Barton

I WRITE FREQUENTLY about the operation lobotomy or leu- kotomy, used in cases of deep grief and depression. It certainly causes a great change in the individual's outlook on life and is of great comfort and relief to the family.

When this operation was first reported, all that was hoped for was the relief from the great depression of spirits. The fact that these patients, in losing their depression, often lost their sense of responsibility did not seem very important. When further reports showed that some of these patients who had undergone operation were able to return home and be of some use to themselves and to the household, it was more than had been expected.

In "Lancet," London, Dr. G. Garmany reports the results of leu- kotomy present in 59 patients, three years after operation. Leu- kotomy proved successful in half of the 22 patients with depression, and also in half of the 10 patients with double personality (the Dr. Jekyll-and-Mr. Hyde type).

Why was there an improvement in some and not in others having the same symptoms and undergoing the same operation?

Dr. Garmany states that operation alone is not responsible for all the improvement obtained. Improvement also depends on the home environment or surroundings.

In depression a naturally good personality, never affected by fears, doubts, emotional disturbances, and of average intelligence, is absolutely necessary if good results are to be expected. Where the patient has always been affected with illusions, delusions, obsessions or other types of odd behavior, good results may be, but are usually not, obtained by leu- kotomy.

The thought here is that while leu- kotomy relieves grief and depression in most cases, restoring the mind and the emotions to normal depends to a great extent upon the personality of the individual during his lifetime and also upon his family and community surroundings.

Guilt Feeling Makes Duffers

Can a sense of guilt make you miss golf shots? In the true sense, in which happily means more than egotistic pleasure, "Only the happy man is good." Educating children to serve the state rather than teaching them to live so as to realize their own best possibilities marks the difference between Nazism and democracy.

Surgery Relieves Profound Grief

By Dr. James W. Barton

HEALTH NOTES

When symptoms point to lack of vitamins, eating enough of the protective foods will bring relief. The protective foods are milk, butter, cream, cheese, fruits and green vegetables.

Physicians suggest that all patients with severe sciatica and low back pain should be put to bed for one month.

The first thought in treating general itching of the skin, is to look for some general ailment of the body such as exhaustion, blood pressure disturbances, gout, liver and gall bladder disturbances, and infection of the teeth, tonsils, gums, and large intestine.

Although physicians know that at least half the patients consulting them have no organic diseases, they know also that these patients have symptoms or they would not consult physicians.

AROUND the HOUSE

Avoiding Varnish Bubbles
To avoid surface bubbles when you varnish, don't shake the can; stir the contents gently with a clean stick.

Mirror Streaks
If streaks on your mirror show marked signs of stubbornness, they can sometimes be persuaded to go if you rub them with a little oil-type furnish polish.

Wall Patching
Plaster of Paris is good stuff with which to patch walls; but unless you're nimble, it may get dry and hard before the job is finished. To prevent that, mix a tablespoonful of ordinary flour with every cup of plaster of Paris.

For Shiny Faucets
When the nickel faucets in your sink become stained, polish them by rubbing with a soft cloth dipped in spirits of ammonia. Wash them off afterward with hot water and soap, and polish with a soft, dry cloth.

Hint to Waxers
Regardless of what type wax you use, be sure you don't apply too much and that you give the application sufficient buffing. Otherwise your floor will be quick to show rubber heel marks and furniture scratches.

Rust Stains on Tile
Rust stains on tile usually will yield to kerosene, if they're not too old. Cover the spots with kerosene for a couple of hours then wash the tile with soap and hot water.

To Brighten Rug
For a general brightening up of a cloth rug, sprinkle salt all over it, let stand an hour or two, then take it up with the vacuum cleaner.

Anchoring Rugs
Small throw rugs that have a tendency to slip along the floor can be anchored by attaching several jar rubbers to the under side, or shelling the reverse sides.

Dairy Herd Spraying Will Yield Dividends

May Mean $75 Extra Profit This Summer

Spraying dairy cows with methoxychlor to control blood-sucking stable and horn flies, may mean at least $75 extra profit this summer, according to H. B. Petty, insect specialist in the Illinois college of agriculture. And the chances are good, he says, that profits from spraying may run much higher.

Spraying dairy cattle is a big job for farmers, but it is one that should be done.

Petty figures the potential $75 extra profit from spraying in this Spraying dairy cattle is a big job for farmers, but it will help build the type of clean, "contented" dairy herds such as that shown here.

You can get 15 per cent more milk up to September if you spray. This has been demonstrated by careful small-scale field tests.

It is generally estimated that the average cow will give 1,700 pounds of milk during the four-month fly season. A 10 per cent boost — instead of 15 per cent — would mean 170 pounds of milk for that time. For a 15-cow herd, that would mean 2,550 pounds of extra milk from fly-control.

Figured conservatively at $3 a hundredweight, that's just under $75 more in milk checks. And it costs only about 20 or 25 cents a head for spraying.

Petty recommends spraying the inside of dairy barns two or three times during the summer. He suggests that the formula used provide for one pound of 50 per cent methoxychlor-suitable powder in two to four gallons of water to every 1,000 square feet of surface.

Dairy cattle should be sprayed with methoxychlor every two to four weeks to control horn flies.

The formula is one-half pound of 50 per cent powder in three gallons of water and apply one quart to each cow.

How It Started ...

JACK TARS—Sailors used to wear their hair long and twisted into a stumpy pigtail which was often bound with string into a larry-looking stump of rope. This greasy decoration had the appearance of having been tarred.

YANKEE—The term is often thought to be derived, through the word Yenge(s), from the American Indian corruption of the word English, or the French Anglais, but is probably from a Dutch diminutive of Jan, or John, as applied by the Dutch of New York to the English of Connecticut.

Today's farm machinery is fast replacing the familiar rural picture of pitchfork and horse in haying time. With farm machinery in better supply than at any time in history, scenes like the upper one are giving away to those depicted by the bottom photo. Haymaking equipment like the automatic baler, left, and field bale loader in the lower picture are cutting man hours in the hayfields as much as 75 per cent.

Vitamin B12 Heralded In Hog Feeding Practice

Will vitamin B12 revolutionize swine feeding practices? Michigan state college researchers don't say it will, but they're finding that this new vitamin is doing some rather remarkable things in swine feeding.

They have found that it has growth stimulating properties for pigs and when added to other diets in small quantities it results in gains for dry-lot pigs.

In Selecting Tin Cans Be Certain of Choice

Many home canners like to use the same kind of tin cans for their products as those found on the shelves of the grocery stores. Of course, this type of container would require a tin can sealer.

If tin cans are to be used, the canner may wish to use certain kinds for certain foods. Cans with enamel interiors help retain the color of the canned foods. Cans with "C" enamel are used for corn.

Drying Out Fresh Plaster

QUESTION: Is there a way of drying out plaster and Keene's cement (in a bathroom) quickly, so that we can paint the walls of new rooms? We were advised to wait three to six months, but we need to hurry this if at all possible.

ANSWER: You can help to some extent with portable stoves, but I would not advise you to apply an oil paint under two months, three to six months will not be necessary. If you wish to cover the walls in a hurry, you can put on a resin-base, water-emulsion paint. This, however, is not intended for either a bathroom or a kitchen, as the surface is not glossy enough. But it may serve your purpose for a couple of months. You then can put on a varnish-size and when dry, apply two coats enamel undercoater and a finish coat of enamel.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

PLAN YOUR GRASS SILAGE PROGRAM NOW

Many Washington county farmers have put up grass silage for one or more years. Nearly all of them say they were successful in obtaining a high quality feed. Feeding tests show that grass silage is higher in protein, carotin, and other vitamins than corn silage, but is somewhat lower in net energy content.

Many farmers find that they can obtain good quality silage by wilting the silage down to 65 or 70 percent moisture content before it is put into the silo. Perhaps two-thirds of all of the silage put up in the state is put into the silo by the wilting method. The chief drawback to this method is to determine when the alfalfa or red clover has been wilted to the proper moisture content. As yet no simple workable method has been devised for making this determination. Usually it takes about 2 to 3 hours of good drying weather to reduce the moisture content sufficiently.

The use of a preservative such as stock molasses, or ground corn and cob meal is the better way of putting up grass silage. Freshly cut alfalfa put up with either 40 to 50 pounds of stock molasses or 200 pounds of corn and cob meal gives good results and produces a better flavored and more palatable feed. The molasses can best be added to the forage with a pump attached to the blower or cutter. A detached pump will also work satisfactory. If a pump is not available, the molasses can be diluted with water and a gravity system worked out. The corn and cob meal can best be applied by hand either on the load if a chopper is used, or put on the carrier. Cut alfalfa for silage when one-half of the stand is in bloom, and red clover when in full bloom.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Dulles Rebukes Pact Detractors; England Faces More Austerity; US Steel Dislikes Truman Plan

Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper. EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of

MONROE DOCTRINE: Pact Fuss

John Foster Dulles, in his first speech as U.S. senator, appealed for ratification of the North Atlantic pact and rebuked Senator Robert A. Taft and others opposing it.

Dulles countered with the defense that the pact does not obligate this nation to enter any arms program which "isn't defensible on its own merits."

Another foe of the pact, Senator Flanders of Vermont, wanted to extend the Monroe Doctrine in place of entering the pact.

Flanders also objected to possible arms commitments to Europe if we signed the pact.

Senator Scott W. Lucas, the Democratic senate floor leader, said that the treaty imposes no legal obligation for an arms program.

The Truman administration seeks a $1,130,000,000 program to rearm western Europe.

ENGLAND: More Austerity

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, has placed a new austerity program before the British people.

The BRITISH financial situation is more serious than Secretary of State Acheson has made it appear.

There is taking place in England, according to a recent poll of the British Institute of Public Opinion, a shift of political sentiment toward the right.

Union leaders promised to try to end London's wildcat dock strike as more soldiers, sailors and airmen went into the miles of wharves to unload ships and move cargoes of food.

MONOPOLY CHARGE: Bridges Crossed

Longshoremen's union president, Harry Bridges, wants congress to hear charges that Hawaii's "Big Five" companies are trying to "maintain monopolistic control" of the island's economy.

He asked for a hearing before the house judiciary committee. Chairman Celler said he would have "to give the matter a little thought."

Vaughan Accused

President Truman has been asked to suspend his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan.

The request came from Rep. Shafer, Michigan Republican, who cited the army's suspension of two other major generals, Herman Fieldman, the quartermaster general, and Alden H. Waite, chief of the chemical corps.

They were suspended pending a senate investigation of army contract handling. Shafer said Vaughan was implicated in the same case, but gave no details.

All three generals were mentioned in a recent news story which inspired the inquiry into dealings of "five per centers," those who hire out to obtain government contracts.

STEEL RESPIRE: Steel Accepts Plan

The steel industry's biggest corporations accepted President Truman's 60-day peace plan under protest, thus averting a nation-wide steel strike.

The United States Steel Corporation had asked President Truman to alter his terms for a peace proposal with the United Steelworkers, as a steel strike deadline rushed closer.

The corporation demanded that the president's proposed fact-finding board be given no power to suggest a settlement.

The union threatened to strike against four companies—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Inland. These firms are against any fact-finding boards outside the Taft-Hartley act.

Phillip Murray's big steel union agreed to a 60-day postponement of the walkout at companies which agreed with the president's proposal.

Earlier, Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D., N. Y.) flayed Benjamin Fairless of United States Steel in a speech before the United Automobile Workers in Milwaukee for not acceding to the president's proposal.

"YARDSTICK" Cancer Gauger

A "yardstick" for measuring the growth of cancer has been reported discovered.

A simple, quick and inexpensive method of gauging the growth or decline of a cancer was reported by Doctors Philip West and Jessamine Hilliard of the medical school at the University of California.

The technique is based on an analysis of blood compounds and will measure the effectiveness of curative treatments. It is not a cure itself, nor is it a test for the presence of cancer.

FIRESIDE CHAT: "Selfish Interests"

President Truman charged in a "fireside chat" to the nation that "selfish interests" are making budget-cut requests which threaten to "blunder" the nation into depression.

In his economic report, Truman assured the nation that it is not in a depression, despite business decline. "Political reasons" lead some people to want depression, he said. He added that depression can be avoided.

He blamed "selfish interests" for the tax cut that congress passed over his veto and for the denial of anti-inflation curbs he requested.

HE FEARED a third great blunder and warned that "to slash government expenditures now would add to the downward trend."

He defended his $42,000,000,000 budget for government spending the next 12 months.

He said, "If we follow the wrong budget policy at this time and slash our expenditures, we will decrease employment, cut down investment, weaken our defenses, and injure our efforts for peace."

His speech was seen as a movement to line up popular support for a showdown fight with the economy bloc in congress which is demanding that government spending be cut to income.

He criticized those who say we are in a depression.

"Many of these persons for political reasons would like to have a depression," he said. "Others are saying that there is nothing to worry about and an increase of the number looking for work is a good thing. This attitude ignores the human suffering . . ."

"CONEY ISLAND:" "Trivicalization"

Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, demanded that mankind's expanding knowledge be turned toward achievement instead of "trivicalization" and formation of a huge "Coney Island."

He spoke at the Goethe Bicentennial Convocation at Aspen, Colo. He said that world catastrophe is inevitable if the "tribal self-adoration, which goes under the name of patriotism continues unchecked."

He asked for a world union of "men of good will," and said that world government is a step in the right direction to avert global suicide. He argued that "communication" with Russia is possible if other nations were sincerely willing to try.

A "moral, intellectual and spiritual revolution is the only thing that will turn the world from a downward course, he argued.

He attacked the "purposelessness" of contemporary living, made more so by technology, and declared that new-gained leisure has been used for meaningless recreations.

Of atomic energy in peace and war he said, "If we have war, we shall be blown to bits; if we have peace we shall be bored to death."

Hutchins compared today's civilization with the fears and hopes expressed by the 18th century humanist, Goethe. The theme of his speech was "Goethe and world unity."

Goethe's dream for the world was that it should be a "world of friends," Hutchins said. He advocated Goethe's "civilization of dialogue."

Injured

Among the injured in the crash of the New York-California airliner that came to grief in the Santa Susana mountains near Chatsworth, Calif., was movie actress Caren Marsh. Latest estimates place the death toll of the crash at 25 with 18 injured. The plane crashed shortly after the pilot radioed that a violent fight was going on in the plane among the passengers.

SCIENCE: Turbine Aircraft

Research on gas-turbine engines at McGill University, Montreal, may bring about improved flying. A turbine engine is a scientific version of the mill wheel. It has many small blades instead of a few big ones, and instead of water, hot gas is used to push the blades.

THE HOT GAS is produced by a blowtorch in which fuel is burned with the aid of air scooped from the atmosphere and compressed.

The turbulent burning particles of gas may be controlled as long as the plane is on the ground, but at high altitudes, air pressure and oxygen deficiencies make controlled burning necessary.

The blowtorch heat is used twice — to heat gas driving the turbine and to heat the incoming air and fuel to make sure it will burn fast enough.

Germany, England and the United States all developed the gas-turbine aircraft engine independently of each other. Adequate scientific studies are lacking.

SUBJECT: ECONOMICS . . . Legislators study Truman report.

MAN BEARS CHRIST'S BURDEN . . . British railway porters bring ashore at Dover, England a 10-foot wooden cross built by Jerusalem monks. The cross will be carried across England on shoulders of volunteer Roman Catholic crossbearers. It already has been carried on foot through Syria, Lebanon, France, Italy and Belgium. In Rome the cross was blessed by Pope Pius XII. After its trip through England, the cross will be carried to Ireland, then it will be sent to the U.S.

MAINE STREET MIRACLE . . . For the first time in 18 years, Edward J. Ray, 63, East Maine Street, Hopkinton, Mass., looks at his daughter, Ruth. He had been blind that long and had remembered only the childhood features of his daughter, now Mrs. John Rotherford who lives next door to him. Ray said he felt an odd sensation one day recently and his sight was restored completely.

PRAYER FOR CZECHS . . . Mary Stanke, 7, kisses ring of Cardinal Spellman following mass at St. Patrick's cathedral, as Mary's sister, Anna, and mother, both dressed in Slovak costume, look on. Spellman offered prayers for the people of Czechoslovakia in their fight against Red persecution in the mass in honor of Saints Cyril and Methodius.

BRAVELY WAITING . . . for the return of his slain father is David P. Nelson, four son of Earl Nelson, Christfield, Md., crab fisherman, who was shot and killed by an airborne Virginia conservation deputy while allegedly resisting arrest for illegal crabbing. David is waiting beside the portrait of his father, David Acee, 23, a rookie Virginia fisheries deputy, surrendered to police on a Virginia warrant charging him with murder of the crabman.

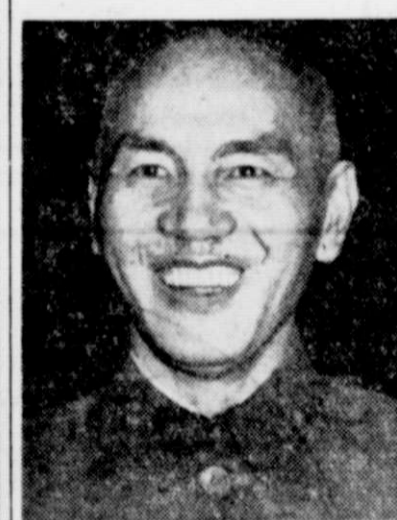

GOOD LUCK HUG . . . If there were a blue ribbon for cute poses, little Diana Hulme and her father's Afghan hound would surely win it. They were snapped like this at the Richmond dog show (London) as the Afghan waited to enter the judging ring.

STARLET . . . Hitting the ceiling (with her head) in her trailer home near a movie studio in Hollywood is Shari Robinson, new child actress, who is described as merely sensational.

WAR DANCE ON WHEELS . . . Peggy Wallace, New York, is a good match for the Navajo Indian war dancers in her dance-skate interpretation. Rated one of the greatest feminine skaters, she holds the world's championship singles and doubles.

SMILE OF HOPE . . . China's Chiang Kai-shek has announced from Formosa that he is rallying all forces at his command to fight communism. He believes that he can oust the Reds from control of China if he receives requested aid from the United States.

OPPOSES PACT . . . Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio emphatically stresses a point in a recent talk to reporters after he announced in a senate speech that he would vote against the North Atlantic pact. He said it would promote war.

Ain't It So Motorists see so many "Speed Limit—20 Miles an Hour" signs, that they pay little attention to them. An exception is the small town in Texas where the sign at the edge of town reads "20 Miles and Hour or $19.99."

Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's has a grand soothing effect on one of woman's most important organs!

That Nagging Backache May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

DOAN'S PILLS Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

'MARRYING' ENGEL MAY BE FREED . . . N. Y. Reds Didn't Register as Man and Wife . . . BY SUPREME COURT 5-4 DECISION

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Garble Sisters

"What a lot of exciting news there's been lately! Alger Engel marrying all those women! Judy Palmer being found guilty of lying about that typewriter! And the attorney general suing the Yanks to make them break up DiMaggio!"

"Yeah, and ain't that Engel a honey? What'll they do with him!"

"The government may have to put back controls to stop operations like that. He has a good chance of getting free on one of them supreme court five to four elections. Look what the court did in that lone-ly hearts case . . . they threw the case out because there was no quorum present."

"I wish the high courts would agree on what is the law like the low courts do. When a girl meets a Russian agent in New York and she is carrying a bag loaded with secret papers from government files why should it make any difference whether she worked for the Carnegie library and took a rug from some auto dealer?"

"It's like that trial of the eleven Communists in New York. They all deny they registered in Baltimore as man and wife and say that when they were arrested on that bus they were just getting material for a novel."

"I can't see why President Truman named Perle Mesta to that supreme court vacancy anyhow when Wagner stepped out with Justices Palmer, Murphy, Musial and Waitkus dissenting."

"It was all on account of the Taft-Hartkins law."

"Where does that stand now?"

"The part requiring anybody to answer yes or no has been cut out but everything else is left in, including the agenda which lets both sides bring their own referee and puts the coal miners on a three day week."

Ima Dodo says he read the verdict in the case but couldn't find out whether Judy Coplon retained the custody of the microphone.

The writer of this column does not claim to be the seventh son of a seventh son, but the following chapter from a book by him, "Private Purkey's Private Peace" (the original and much more apt title was "Peace, Wearing Purple Tights"), published a few weeks after World War II ended, revealed distinct powers of prophecy. In the story, Private Purkey and several companions crashed a peace conference in Paris, a feat duplicated in a way by Garry Davis a few weeks ago. And in a chapter headed "Discord in the Dovecotes" ye ed pictured the collapse of peace hopes, the friction between the great powers, etc. thusly:

Months have now elapsed since the peace. And except for the lack of actual gunfire and bloodshed there seemed to be as much fighting going on between the nations as ever. A Hollywood movie czar had in fact put in a bid for pictures of the peace conference thinking he was bidding for fight pictures. Representatives of Russia, France, England and the other nations on our side—brothers all—were standing toe to toe in many arenas, no punches barred, and not even bothering to go to a neutral corner after knockdowns.

There were rumors that Anthony Eden had come out of a council meeting with the "Shiner of the Year," that an American peace conferee had been seen rolling on the floor with a Russian brother, and that Big Three meetings were being opened with demonstrations in jiu-jitsu. The spirit of mutual distrust was rampant.

The assorted peace committees and sub-committees were giving evidences of heading for the rocks and discord, and some of them were less inclined to try dynamite than to upholster the rocks for comfort. Tossing in the heavy seas of conflicting interests in small boats, they seemed at times bent on attempting to cure seasickness by resolution and plug up leaks by amendment.

They were good men, kindly and well meaning, in these postwar world huddles, but they were in one of the hot spots of history and it made them jumpy.

"There is no need for any businessman to seek assistance from any five-percenter to do business in Washington,"—President Truman.

Wanna bet?

A committee of New York theatrical producers proposes that box-office men and theater treasurers be licensed to handle all ticket sales. Suspensions could then be made, we take it, for exceeding the greed limit.

ONE DOLL, FOUR HAIRDOS . . . New type doll's hair can be playwaved.

TWICE AHEAD . . . Two-time winner of the Hambletonian, Tom Berry, veteran trotting horse reinsman, is framed between his two promising entries in the $67,000 sulky derby at the Good Time track in Goshen, N.Y., August 19. The photo was snapped at track where the famous race is held and where the veteran reinsman is training a stable of horses. Corona Hanover, a bay filly owned by Mrs. H. M. Miller of Hanover, Pa., is on the left, and Volume, a bay colt by Coldstream Stud of Lexington, Ky., is on the right. Good luck, Tom.

MAKES THE WHEELS GO 'ROUND . . . Legs were invented before wheels as modes of locomotion, and they still seem to be holding their own. Lorraine Deboe is oiling one of the huge wheels of a Pennsylvania crack train at the Union Railroad station in Washington, D. C. Miss Deboe was named "Miss Railroad Model of 1949" by Washington's model railroad club. She was selected to present the prizes to the winners of the annual model railroad contest this year. As a model, she's OK herself. No railroad fireman or engineer ever performed his work in exactly this fashion or seemed to enjoy it as much.

FAMOUS BANNER TO FLY AGAIN . . . Here's two Jim's famed stars and stripes which will wave in Philadelphia during the fifth marine division convention the first week in August. Examining their world war II flag which was raised on Mt. Surabachi are left to right, Sgt. Ralph W. Grissom, Gastonia, N.C.; M/Sgt. George L. O'Connor, Philadelphia; Lt. Col. George H. Stallings, Augusta, Ga.; Lt. General Keller E. Rokey, fleet marine force, Atlantic; Sgt. Alexander Ferzoco, Mansfield, Mass., and Capt. Victor A. Kieber, Chicago.

Seed for the Springtime

MY HEART was heavy with its load of care:
So much to do, so many clamoring needs!

I quit my task and walked out where the air
Was clean and sweet to cull my garden seeds.
Seed for the springtime! Hope was in the sound,
And gladness lifts through every singing word.
I gathered the shaken seed from stem and ground,
And quite distinct were the clear words that I heard:

"I will not leave you comfortless . . ." This pod,
Dark as it seems, will someday blaze with light.
"Except a grain of wheat falls to the ground . . ."
Here is the golden cosmos, here the white:
Seed for the springtime—seed for a new dawn,
That life and love and beauty may go on.

RUTH HUSSEY may some day get the kind of roles she deserves in pictures; until then she'll probably continue to do her best work on the stage. Her new picture is Paramount's "The Great Gatsby," her current play, "Good-bye My Fancy" in which she has the role created by Madeleine Carroll. She has moved her family—husband, two small boys and a dog—to New York for its duration. Lunching with three members of the press, she could hardly get in a word until they finished telling her, at length, how wonderful she had been in "State of the Union," and how much they hope that Hollywood will soon do right by her.

That same day Betty Field lunched at an adjoining table. She and Miss Hussey hadn't seen each other since they worked together in "Gatsby," in which Miss Field and Alan Ladd star. MacDonald Carey and Barry Sullivan are featured.

Off-stage atmosphere: Two deputies of the Hollywood sheriff's office stood guard for two days over the machine gun used in RKO's "Follow Me Quietly." The law demands that such guns be constantly under the eye of a law enforcement officer while in use in a picture, and that it be in the hands of an officer of the law between takes. No unscheduled shooting allowed!

Jay Livingston and Ray Evans, who wrote "Buttons and Bows" for Bob Hope's "The Paleface," have done such a good job on "Fancy Pants," written for his "When Men Are Men," that he thought that would be a good title for the picture. However, the other title sticks. Meanwhile Evans and Livingston, authors of "To Each His Own" and other hits, are writing a second song for him.

The Fiction ★ THE RIGHT LOOK ★ By Richard H. Wilkinson

TRACY clawed his way up over the slippery ledge, threw his skin and poles on the ground and sat down panting. Generva laughed merrily.

"That's what city life does to you," she chided.

"See? You can't take it any more."

"For a fact I can't," he grinned. "Phew! What a climb! Skis are no good up here. If we're going to the top we'll have to hob-nail it up."

"We can quit and go down," she said. Her voice held the barest hint of a taunt. She hated herself for it.

"Quit nothing! Just because I've been away for two years you needn't think you can stump me." Tracy's eyes flicked over the girl's slim, wiry figure. "Boy, you always could take it," he admired. "Ever since we were kids I've had to hump to keep up with you."

The reference to their childhood escapades brought on a flood of regrets.

Two years ago he had left her with a brotherly clap on the back and a firm handclasp. She had almost hated him. He had gone down to the city to become an architect. Then he'd written about Jessica. She was a singer in a night club. He had fallen madly in love with her. His letters had been full of their romance.

Generva had wanted to tell him to stop writing his everlasting prattle about a silly night club singer. Didn't he know that every word was a knife thrust in her heart?

"You know," he said suddenly, "you're growing more lovely every year, Gen. Some day soon a man's coming along and—"

She laughed out loud and scrambled to her feet. "Come on, City Man, we've got to get going if we want to make the top and get back before dark."

Tracy grinned and yanked himself up the first steep ascent. Before he had gone 10 feet he realized that it was a foolhardy business. Without ice picks and ropes climbing was hazardous.

He started ahead again and then stopped. Above him, maybe 30 feet away, he could make out the blurred form of Generva.

The blurred outline stopped. He listened for her reply, but if she called the wind trembled it. For an instant her hobnailed boots were clawing against the ice. Then she came coasting down the incline, reaching frantically for bushes that slid through her hands. Tracy made a lunge. His hand caught at her ski jacket as she whipped past, held, flit it slip through his fingers. A strangled cry escaped his lips.

Horror-stricken, he watched her reach the ledge and flip over its edge, disappear. In a moment he was back on the flat ground looking over the edge, not daring to hope.

Fifty feet below he made out a green patch, like a wisp of cloth caught in the gnarled branches of a hardwood shrub.

IT SEEMED like hours before he found footing against a rock 10 feet from where Generva clung to the hardwood shrub. Directly beneath her was a 200-foot chasm.

Tracy slipped the handle of one pole through the wheel of the other, tightened the strap on his wrist and cast out across the ice. At his second attempt Generva grasped the slim bamboo.

"Take it easy," he called. "You'll have to swing down like a pendulum, then slowly upward."

She nodded and released her grip. The impact of her 112 pounds almost caused him to lose his grip. But he held on. The moment she was below him he began pulling upward, hand over hand. In a moment their hands touched and she was safe on the rock.

Tracy's hand reached for hers. There was a queer light in his eyes. "It just came to me," he said, "what this old world would be like without you, Gen. I mean—" he gulped—"I never realized it before. Her eyes were misty. "Darling, you don't have to. I've been waiting for you to look like that for 10 years."
