KEWASKUM DAIRY IN MILK PRICE WAR IN MILWAUKEE

The Kewaskum Dairy Co., which sells most of its milk and other dairy products in Milwaukee suburban areas, gained publicity in the Milwaukee papers this week in the milk price war currently on in that city. An item in Thursday's paper told of quart prices going down a second penny in two days. The home delivery price was down to 15 cents a quart for milk on Thursday after action by Luick, Borden, Dairy Distributors and Clover Lane, Golden Guernsey reduced to 15 cents Friday.

Meanwhile gallon milk sold by the Kewaskum Dairy Co. in suburban areas remained at 49 cents. The price flurry began when Borden reduced its wholesale price, making it possible for stores to undersell Kewaskum. Kewaskum dropped its price to match Borden. Price reductions to make home delivery and store purchase more attractive than "jug stand" purchases then followed.

With "Mix" Marx making one of his few pitching appearances of the season, replacing John Tessar, the Utensils dropped Grafton deeper into the cellar three Sunday when they defeated that team, 9-6.

Although touched for 11 hits, Marx held sole command. He was ahead, 9-2 going into the last of the ninth but weakened in the final frame and Grafton jumped him for five hits and four runs. Marx reeled up 10 strikeouts and did not walk a single batter. A. Eernisse and Haupt each worked a combined half of the game for the losers. Combined they allowed 14 bingles, half of them for extra bases. Eernisse was nicked hardest as the Utensils pulled 11 safeties off him in four and two-thirds innings. Haupt gave up three more in the last four and one-third frames he worked. Each walked one, and Eernisse fanned four to one for Haupt. The only place Grafton outdid the winners was in fielding, where Kewaskum was discredited with eight miscues.

Paul Kral and Norm Held again fattened their averages with identical afternoons at bat. Each poled out three hits for five, and each got a single, double and triple. Stautz and W. Tessar added two apiece. Schiender was the only Grafton batter who had a good time on Marx's pitching with three hits.

The Honeck Chevrolats' eighth consecutive victory over Slinger there on Sunday by a 10-2 score kept them up in that first place spot in the tight Slinger race, Kewaskum holds a slim half game lead over Allenton.

Backhaus went the route for the Chevs and cut down Slinger with sev. on hits, only one of them for an extra base. "Hefty" walked four and struck out only five but he had the Slinger batters grounding and popping out consistently. Mayer worked nearly all of the contest for the losers but was not around when it ended. He lasted until the start of the ninth when A. Melius came in to relieve him. Before Melius got the side out every man on Kewaskum's team had batted and three more runs crossed the platter. The winners lashed out 12 hits, nine off Mayer and three off Melius. Mayer whiffed seven and walked three.

Shortstop Stahl started with the stick for the Kums. His three base knocks included a rousing home run. Edwards, Krueger and Backhaus each kept their averages up with two safeties and each had one of them for extra bases. Mago, with two singles, was the only Slinger hitter with more than one off Backhaus.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Don't Finish A Dull Book

By Lawrence Gould

Should you finish every book you begin?

Answer: Certainly not if it does not interest you. The idea is as foolish as that a child should be made to "clean his plate" at mealtimes, whether he is hungry or not. You get very little out of any reading that you do because you "feel you ought to," since your interest in ideas or pictures is what makes you "retain" them. But besides that, authors nowadays are compelled by their publishers to "pad" what they write so much that few books deserve to be more than skimmed through, and most have "said it all" in the first hundred pages.

most often led to "purely functional disease"—neurosis. Housewives topped a list including doctors, lawyers, farmers, clergymen, and teachers with 27 per cent of neurotic patients, while down at the bottom came the railroad engineers, with only two per cent of nervous ailments.

Does housework create nervous tension?

Answer: Yes, although the tension probably comes not so much from over-work as from the frustration of the housewife's desire to do things she feels are more important. Doctors of the famous Mayo Clinic made a study of nine different occupations to see which

Is there more than one kind of psychologist?

Answer: Decidedly. The latest directory of the American Psychological Association lists no less than twenty "divisions" (specialties) in which its members are active, from "Childhood and Adolescence" to "Maturity and Old Age." But there is also the broader distinction between experimental psychology, which studies how humans and animals behave, and dynamic psychology, which studies the inner forces that make them behave as they do. One asks, for example, what proportion of men are untruthful and the other, what makes people tell lies.

KEEPING HEALTHY Goiter May Develop Cancer

By Dr. James W. Barton

AS A YOUNGSTER at school I knew two members of a family, a brother and sister, who had a large lump on the neck. We all expected that they would be choked to death or the food could not get down to the stomach and they would starve to death. I must have watched them for 10 years and nothing happened.

I know now that although these enlargements in the thyroid gland are called goiters, and that while some of them are dangerous or poisonous others are, of themselves, not dangerous. As this latter type was the kind with which our two school mates were afflicted, we might still have been waiting to see something happen to them.

As some of these non-dangerous or innocent enlargements of the thyroid gland may develop into the dangerous or poisonous type, there is always the question as to whether these "nodular" enlargements should be removed so that they will not develop.

In the "Journal of the American Medical Association," Drs. George Crile, Jr., and W. S. Dempsey, Cleveland, state that surgeons find that while as high as eight per cent of these "innocent" enlarged glands develop cancer, this high rate occurs only in the cases where cancer is suspected.

"In the millions of non-toxic (non-poisonous), symptomless, and innocent goiters which never are removed, the percentage of cancer cases is so low that cancer of the thyroid stands sixteenth in the list in which cancer is found."

However the lesson is plain. In all cases of a lump in the neck, the family physician should be consulted and if he advises there is nothing to worry about there is no need for further consultation, unless patient notices that lump is growing or he is becoming nervous or getting thin. Dr. Crile suggests that both physician and surgeon be suspicious of cancer in all these cases undergoing operation for removal of the enlarged gland.

HEALTH NOTES

A man is as old as his fear, and nobody grows old merely by living a number of years. Years wrinkle the skin, but giving up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul.

Twenty-five per cent of people who have blood in their urine are found to have cancer somewhere in the kidney, bladder or other part of the urinary tract.

Despite all other factors causing rheumatism—cold, dampness, too much starch food, emotional disturbances—infection is still the commonest cause.

Summer Catastrophes

Summer is not a time when the American public likes to worry about world problems. Nor is summer a time when a newspaper columnist particularly likes to write about them.

For reasons unknown, however, fate has seen to it that some of the world's worst catastrophes were catapulted upon us at a time when our primary concern was baseball, beaches, and bathing beauties.

It was July, 1914, that the Serbs saw fit to assassinate Austrian Archduke Franz Ferdinand, thus precipitating World War I. It was the summer of 1938 that Hitler started his campaign to swallow Czechoslovakia. It was the following summer of 1939 that began World War II. And, perhaps even more significant, it was the summer of 1931 that began the European economic crisis that put Hitler into power.

There are certain similarities between that financial crisis of 1931 and the present British financial crisis. And, despite baseball and hot weather, it will pay us to watch them.

Between 1921 and 1931, the United States had poured several billion dollars into European reconstruction in the same general way we have poured money into Europe since V-E day. The money, of course, was advanced by private bankers, not the government; but since the bankers sold their bonds to the unsuspecting public, actually it was paid by the American people in the end.

Furthermore, much of our money went to Germany, which actually used it to pay reparations to France and England. So, in real fact, we were the main support of our allies, just as we are today through the Marshall plan.

Eventually, and all too slowly, even the bankers, after repeated warnings from the government, woke up to the fact that their long-term loans to central Europe were a poor risk. And in the spring of 1931, falling prices in the U.S.A. plus the continued crashing of the famed market, dried up the flow of funds across the Atlantic. Immediately the banks in Austria and Germany began to tremble.

It was the British in 1931—as in 1949—who first called upon the U.S.A. for aid. Their money, perhaps even more than ours, was invested in central Europe; so they asked for a moratorium on all reparations by Germany to them and all war-debt payments by them to us.

Then as now, the secretary of the treasury, Andrew Mellon, crossed the Atlantic for conferences. Then as now, the British urged that the United States save the day.

We did—of the time being. President Hoover declared a moratorium on all debt and reparations payments — for two years.

This, however, was only temporary. The economic crisis drifted — drifted and deepened. With depression comes political unrest. And one year later a Fuehrer had raised his head in Germany. A few months after that, he had stepped into power.

All disarmament stopped. The league of nations began to disintegrate. It was now only a matter of time before war was inevitable.

There are a lot of differences between the first cracks in the world's economy in 1931 and the first cracks to show in 1949. But the main object lesson to be remembered is: Depression breeds unrest, and enough unrest breeds war.

Today England—and western Europe—is in just about the same boat—faces the following alternatives:

1. Do nothing and go broke.
2. Beg for more aid from the United States and become a poor pensioner.
3. Improve plants and production. This has not been done to any great extent with Marshall plan money, despite outmoded factories which make most European goods cost more than ours.
4. Negotiate tight, two-way barter deals, such as the British-Argentine trade pact; though these usually boomerang in the end.
5. Trade with Russia and the iron curtain countries.

The latter alternative is the one which has recently tempted the British to the tune of a 1,000,000-ton wheat deal. It also contains dangerous potentialities for undermining the chief political objective of the Marshall plan—blocking Communism. For it is doubtful whether any member of congress would have voted a nickel into the Marshall plan kitty without the promise that it would check the westward march of Russian Communism.

British trade with Russia would strain western relations.

FIRING ACROSS ATLANTIC—Dr. Karl Compton, chairman of the research and development board, gave a secret briefing to brass hats recently at which he reported the first guided missile, capable of shooting across the Atlantic, will be completed in four or five years. Compton warned that our worst bottleneck is a shortage of physicists—needed to work on the atomic bomb, chemical warfare, and ordnance research. The U. S. can't train enough physicists.

How It Started ..

BEE IN HIS BONNET—In ancient times it was firmly believed that there was a connection between bees and the soul. Priests named the moon a "bee." To say that a man had "bees in his head" was equivalent to calling him moonstruck.

PIGEON MILK—This is no joke, for it actually exists. Pigeon milk is a thick, creamy mixture composed of albumen, fat, minerals and water. It is produced in the crops of both parent pigeons and this predigested "milk" is regurgitated and fed to baby squabs for the first five to seven days. It is so nourishing that squabs double their weight within 24 hours after hatching. It takes chickens nine days to do this.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: The plaster in our front room is very uneven in places, and in others there are real humps and ridges. Are there any tools we could get to level down the humps and ridges?

ANSWER: Wrap coarse sandpaper around a block of wood and rub down the rough places with it. If the walls are painted, they will have to be refinished after this going-over, of course. A coarse abrasive stone can be used in place of the sandpaper.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Signs North Atlantic Pact; Brannan Farm Plan Beaten in House; British Clamor for A-Bomb Secrets

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Wisconsin Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

ENVOY TO COSTA RICA SWORN IN . . . Joseph Flack (left) of Doylestown, Pa., places his left hand upon the Bible as he takes oath of office and is sworn in as new ambassador to Costa Rica from the United States. He succeeds Nathaniel P. Davis. The wife of the new envoy is looking as Stanley Woodward, chief of protocol officer at the state department in Washington, D. C., administers the oath.

BRANNAN PLAN: Loses Trial

The house approved a measure continuing the farm price-support program in its present form. The bill was slated to go to the senate. The house vote was 363-25.

The retention of the 90 per cent of parity supports killed the Aiken law, passed by the Republican-controlled 80th congress and which was scheduled to go into effect Jan. 1.

The administration gained a partial victory in eliminating the Aiken law but saw defeat in being denied a test run of the controversial Brannan agricultural plan.

Under the Brannan plan, perishable crops would be allowed to sell at what the market would pay; then the government would pay the farmers the difference between the support level and the average price the farmers got.

The Pace bill, which embodied provisions for a trial run on three farm products of the Brannan plan, lost out, 222-152.

A substitute for the Pace bill, the Gore measure, suspending the Aiken law and continuing the present farm program, won by a final vote 363-25.

One of the surprises of the session was the very few votes cast to keep the Aiken law alive.

Corridors of the house office building where the meeting was held were filled with lobbyists for various farm organizations. Police had the area roped off.

Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) argued that opponents of the Pace bill were obligated to offer some kind of alternative.

"I'm concerned about the consumer," he said. "When he sees about millions of bushels of potatoes being burned under the present farm program, he wants to know what's wrong."

WARNING: Pact Okayed

Russia received a warning that any further aggression in Europe will be considered an attack upon the United States. The warning came in the form of an 82-13 ratification of the Atlantic pact by the senate.

It was the first time in American history that a peacetime pledge had been made that the United States will take action (military action, if necessary) if certain other nations are attacked.

UNDER the north Atlantic treaty this nation and 11 other nations pledge that an attack upon one will be considered an attack upon all. The pact also pledges that the 12 members of the treaty shall prepare for mutual defense before the need for military action actually arises.

A small minority waged bitter opposition to the pact during the 13 days of senate debate upon it. Three Republicans, Wherry of Nebraska, Taft of Ohio and Watkins of Utah, tried to write a reservation into the treaty, specifying that ratification did not impose upon the United States the moral or legal obligation to supply arms to the other 11 signers.

The heavy vote for ratification and the impressive vote against arms reservations were victories for the senate bipartisan foreign policy. Only two Democrats voted against ratification—Johnson of

Reds Covet Singapore, British Stronghold

British power has been challenged again in Singapore. From the walls, pictures of Chiang Kai-shek are being torn down and pictures of Mao Tse-tung, Communist, are being tacked furiously.

British rule was flaunted once before. Last summer the Chinese Communist high command ordered the Chinese Reds in Singapore to

WHIPLASH: Condon Talks

The house un-American committee received a severe whiplashing from Dr. Edward Condon, director of the national bureau of Standards. The prominent American scientist testified before a senate rules subcommittee.

The witness declared the house investigating committee was guilty of "major, serious, premeditated violation of ordinary fair play" in calling him a weak security link.

INCOMES: Profits Decline

Net corporation income, according to the securities and exchange commission dropped to an estimated two billion, 400 million dollars after taxes, in the first quarter of this year.

THIS INCOME was approximately 18 per cent below the profits for the corresponding quarter of 1948 and 18 per cent below the preceding quarter.

The drop in sales, the report said, more than offset lower costs and expenses.

Experiencing the largest declines in net earnings were the large corporations. These lower profits were said to have been reflected in lower rates of return on stockholder's equities.

The SEC reported: "The ratio of profits after taxes to stockholders' equity for corporations over 100 million dollars in assets dropped from an annual rate of 18 per cent in the fourth quarter of 1948 to 14.4 per cent in the first quarter this year."

SMALLER-SIZE CLASS corporations with less than $250,000 in assets showed an increase from a small loss to 8.4 per cent.

All but two of 22 industry groups showed declines in profits after taxes from the fourth quarter of 1948 to the first of 1949.

ARMISTICE: Israel-Syria Accord

Syria and Israel have signed an armistice agreement that will keep their military forces behind their international frontiers and established demilitarized zones in the contested areas.

THE CEREMONY, taking place between the Israeli and Syrian fighting lines in north Galilee, will lead, it is hoped, to an early settlement of issues between Israel and the Arab states in the Lausanne, Switzerland, talks of the UN Palestine conciliation commission.

Israel has signed armistices with all the Arab countries that took part in the Palestine conflict—Egypt, Lebanon, Iraq, Jordan and Syria.

The agreement is another tribute to the skill of Dr. Ralph Bunche, UN mediator, and Brig. Gen. William E. Riley, US chief of staff.

IT HAS been agreed that unrestricted civil life may be resumed in the demilitarized zones pending final peace negotiations when an international boundary will be clearly defined.

The agreement calls for the withdrawal of defensive forces to a line three and a half miles deep on either side of the armistice line. This keeps the Arab legion and the Israeli troops out of grenade-tossing distance of each other.

GUATEMALA: Rebellion Off

A military revolt in Guatemala against the government of President Juan Jose Arevalo died out. Calm spread over the capital after 24 hours of fighting that followed the assassination of Col. Francisco Javier Arana, chief of the armed forces.

FORT GUARDIA DE HONOR, the seat of the revolt, was regained by loyal troops and civilian volunteers. All fighting ceased.

Forty persons were reported killed, according to the police director. No United States citizens were among the casualties.

Observers said the colonel was killed because he refused to lead an uprising against the government, and then his death was used as an excuse to attack the government.

Among those fighting were many who belonged to a political party backing Arana for president. All state ministers were loyal to the president.

THE GOVERNMENT a r e d large groups of civilians for the battle against the rebels.

Several United States citizens were endangered by the fighting but none were injured.

Queen

Is there anyone to dispute the decision of the judges in selecting Janice Harvell, 18, of Carolina Beach, N. C., as queen of the Lions? The smiling miss won the title in competition with beauties of other nations.

The crowning occurred at the 32nd annual convention of Lions International at Madison Square Garden, N. Y.

PROTEST: Reds Denied

Russia protested against Italian membership in the north Atlantic alliance, but her protest was denied by secretary of state Dean Acheson. Russia claimed Italy's participation was a violation of a treaty she had with Russia and other allies after the war that she would join in no alliance directed against any of the victors. Acheson denounced the Soviets.

GREEK WAR: Reds Aid Rebels

The Communist information bureau has stepped up its undeclared war against the Greeks government. So Greek delegates to the are being tacked up furiously.

They say the Russians wish to offset the effects of Yugoslavia's recent pledge to keep completely out of it.

Informants say that the combination can no longer count on Yugoslavia to aid Greek insurgents.

UNWELCOME RESCUE . . . Patrolmen haul an unidentified man aboard a navy launch at 44th Street and North river, New York, after rescuing him from the river. The man, fully clothed, jumped into the river and was swimming away from the dock when policemen arrived. They shed their clothes and dived in after him. He fought them off, but was overpowered. PHONE COMPANY SHOULD ELIMINATE... But the Company Would Ban "Hellos" Instead ...WRONG NUMBERS, TWITCHELL THINKS

By H. I. PHILLIPS

"DON'T SAY HELLO"

"Don't say 'hello' when answering the phone."
Give your name or company name promptly and save time."
From a telephone company appeal.
We read it again. "Don't say 'hello' when you answer the phone," it said clearly. "It wastes time." It seemed revolutionary but reasonable. After all, why not cooperate with the company? So we sat down and awaited a phone call...

It is strange how long one has to wait for the phone to ring when one is not busy. If we had been absorbed in a book, tied up in a conference, trying to find a rhyme or busy at reassembling a Swiss watch there would have been a call every 10 seconds. But now... silence! Nobody wanted to talk to us. But we are not easily defeated. We called up a Dudley Zeek (at random out of the book) and hurriedly left word with his secretary to phone us.

Presently our phone rang. We leaped to it and announced our name with no waste of time.
"Elmer Twitchell," we said. There was no answer. We jiggled the hook and insisted on getting the connection. Central finally asked, "Who called you?" "What difference does it make?" we asked. "We will take a call from anybody." Presently she re-connected us.
"Elmer Twitchell," we repeated firmly.

"There is no Elbert P. Twitchell here. You have the wrong number."
"No, I haven't. Listen..."
"This is not Twitchell," the female voice insisted.
"Of course not," we explained. "How could it be?"
"Hello," the voice said.
"And you're not supposed to say 'hello,'" we put in.
"Hello. Who do you want? Hello. You must have the wrong number. Hello."
"Stop slipping in all of those hellos!" we yelled. "Haven't you heard about them?"

Here a male voice put in.
"Hello," it said. "Are you trying to get me?"
"No, you're trying to get me," we said.
"Who are you? Hello," the voice repeated.
"Elmer Twitchell. You are Dudley Zeek, aren't you?"
"Who?"
"Dudley Zeek."
"No," came the answer. "This is the Economy Pastrami Factory, Amos Finch speaking."
"Are you trying to get Elmer Twitchell?"
"No, my secretary has been trying to get the city hall. What're you doing on the line. Hello. There must be a mixup. Hello. Hello."

It was too much. We hung up and fell, witted, into a chair. After a while the phone rang. The wife answered it. "There's a Dudley Zeek on the wire. He says you left word for him to call."
"Just say 'hello' to him... four or five times," we concluded bitterly.

Whatever Is Best

GRACE NOLL CROWELL

DARE not pray for you, dear friend, that sorrow,
The strange unwelcome guest may pass you by,
I dare not even trust that each tomorrow
May hold for you a bright and cloudless sky.
I cannot hope that pain, that hard taskmaster,
May leave you quite untouched throughout the years,
Or that you may escape loss and disaster;
That grief may never dim your eyes with tears.

For only sorrow brings an understanding
Of others' sorrow; only as we learn
The slow and tortuous way, the harsh demanding
That grieving make upon us, can we turn
And speak the freeing word to some hurt brother,
And well we know that blue skies bring no rain
To heal the heart, and we can learn no other
Way to sympathize save through experienced pain.

I crave the best things for you, O my friend,
And for what is best we can trust God to send.

STAGE SCREEN-RADIO

BY INEZ GERHARD
IRVING MANSFIELD, young producer at Columbia broadcasting, proves that lightning can strike twice. He conceived and produces the tremendously successful "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts," using a different twist on the same idea, he came through with the new hit show, "This Is Broadway," also on CBS. He began in radio in 1943 as coordinator of the Fred Allen show, then, in 1944 and '45, produced the Milton Berle program. Realizing what they had, CBS assigned him to originate and develop new comedy and variety shows, and he came through with the "Godfrey" gold mine, which made its first appearance on the air on July 8, 1946.

Well, "The Fountainhead" arrived, was seen, and proved to be disappointing, despite the excellent cast and the money lavished on the production. As with "Arch of Triumph," a good book just was not good screen material.

At luncheon in New York months ago Macdonald Carey announced that a second visit from the stork was slated for his home. Elizabeth Macdonald Carey arrived July 12th, ending a long, tedious sojourn in bed for her mother. Carey installed a television set in the bedroom to entertain his wife. He commented sadly that she didn't care to watch football games and he did.

On the lookout for new acting talent, Columbia has signed Benno Schneider as top drama coach. He is rehearsing a group of players, some of whom will be selected for screen tests. Meanwhile Richard Quine, a talent scout, is touring the summer theaters in Denver, Omaha, Chicago and the East. He recently co-produced and co-directed "Leather Gloves" for Columbia.

ODDS AND ENDS... While the rest of CBS's "The Goldbergs" are on vacation, Larry Robinson, ("Sammy"), remains in New York, toting away in "The Second Mrs. Burton"... Warner's Christmas gift to the movie-going public will be Danny Kaye's Technicolor "Happy Times"... The house purchased by Bette Davis so she could get to work easier in "Beyond the Forest" is the one Al Jolson bought for Ruby Keeler as a wedding gift years ago.

LOVINGLY, TEMPLE

By Richard H. Wilkinson

"DEAR TEMPLE: I was indeed glad to learn that you had obtained such a satisfactory position. I am sure that you will make a most efficient secretary. Frankly, I have been entertaining some misgivings about your future. Serving in the capacity of guardian to modern young ladies is, after all, hardly in my line, although I was only too glad to look after the daughter of my close friend, Tom Creighton, when he so unexpectedly passed away. I imagine you are quite a grown up young lady now, though it is hard for me to visualize you in any other form than a girl in pigtails and short dresses..."

Aaron Bell, 34, looking 10 years younger, abruptly ceased dictating and stared hard at his stenographer. The stenographer, Miss Daniels by name, was small, dark, vivacious and exceedingly attractive. She had come to work in the law office of Attorney Aaron Bell two weeks previous. She was a capable girl, yet for some unexplainable reason Aaron hadn't been able to get used to her. That is to say, he felt nervous whenever he was dictating letters.

During the next few days Aaron began to get an inkling of why it was that he felt uneasy when dictating letters to Miss Daniels. He began to wonder if heretofore he hadn't been attempting to evade an issue. He asked himself, secretly, if Miss Daniels was becoming to mean more to him than just a secretary.

TWO DAYS LATER Aaron was rudely swept out of the realm of ecstasy (a state of mind brought about by his dinner date with Miss Daniels), by receiving another letter from his ward.

"Dear Guardian: My boss is really quite lovely, and has been displaying an unusual amount of interest in me since my last letter. I am not a little flattered by his attention and very much thrilled. In fact, I believe I could fall in love with him very easily."
Aaron rang for Miss Daniels. "Dear Temple: I demand that you resign from your present position at once. It's silly and absurd to think of a girl your age falling in love, especially with a man who makes love to every stenographer he employs."

That night Aaron suggested a drive through the country and was delighted when Miss Daniels accepted. It was a beautiful June evening, with a full moon and a cooling breeze blowing off the ocean. It might have been the atmosphere of conditions which stirred to life the slumbering romance that lurks within the breast of every man, or it might have been the simple desire of a man for a mate. At any rate Aaron took Miss Daniels in his arms and kissed her and whispered nonsensical things that somehow seemed to fit the occasion.

THE NEXT MORNING he found another letter from Temple Creighton on his desk. "Dear Guardian: I'm sorry, but commitments and demands from folks like you don't mean a thing when a girl is in love. And your little Temple is certainly in love. I expect she'll be proposed to in the very near future."

Aaron buzzed for Miss Daniels. "Dear Temple: This thing has gone far enough. It's a pity you couldn't have been endowed with at least a fraction of your father's good sense. It is my wish that you immediately send me the name and address of this boss of yours. I shall write to him at once."

Aaron had hoped that that night he would find himself courageous enough to offer a proposal of marriage to Miss Daniels. Yet when again they were seated on the cliff watching the moon come up out of the ocean, his courage failed.

Heavy-eyed he went to the office next morning to find a letter awaiting him from Temple Creighton. "Dear Guardian: You were right. He isn't the man I thought he was. Apparently he has just been amusing himself, with no idea of asking me to marry him. I do wish you'd talk to him. His name is Aaron Bell. Lovingly, Temple."

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS

Serve Frosty Cool Food During Sweltering Heat To Tempt All Appetites

WHEN the sweltering days hit us, there's nothing more pleasing than to have plenty of frosty cool foods to tempt heat-ridden appetites.
Mothers, too, can keep a lot cooler and comfortable while they prepare chilled rather than hot foods, and the former can be just as nourishing. However, if a hot food is desired, it might easily be a cup of hot soup or a toasted sandwich to serve with the salad, for neither of these takes long enough cooking to heat the kitchen or the cook!
Salads as main dishes should be nourishing, so plan to build them with meat, fish, fowl or cheese, one of the good protein foods which are needed daily. Fill them brimming with vitamins and minerals to keep their energy—giving qualities high.

PREPARE salad ingredients in the cool hours of morning so they will chill thoroughly and need just mixing at lunch or dinner time when energies are low and the heat is at its highest.

- Tomato Crabmeat Salad (Serves 6)
- 6 large ripe tomatoes
 - 1 can crabmeat
 - 1/2 cup lemon juice
 - 1 tablespoon chili sauce
 - 2 cups finely chopped celery
 - 1 tablespoon grated onion
 - 1/2 cup diced green pepper
 - 1/2 cup chopped pecans
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced and seeded

Scald tomatoes one minute in boiling water or turn over heat on a long fork to loosen the skins. Peel and scoop out center. Sprinkle the tomato cavity with salt and turn upside down to chill. Mix all remaining ingredients, except eggs. Fill tomato cups and serve on a bed of greens, garnished with egg slices.

- Frozen Chicken Salad (Serves 4)
- 1 teaspoon gelatin
 - 2 tablespoons cold water
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
 - 1/2 cup minced cooked or canned chicken
 - 1/4 cup blanched chopped almonds, toasted
 - 1/2 cup malaga grapes, halved and seeded
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt

Dissolve gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Dissolve over boiling water. Cool, then combine with mayonnaise. Add remaining ingredients, folding in the whipped cream last. Freeze in tray of automatic refrigerator until firm. Slice and serve on lettuce or watercress.

- Hearty Salad Bowl (Serves 6)
- 1 cup cooked ham, cut in thin strips
 - 1 cup Swiss cheese, cut in thin strips
 - 1 cup raw carrot strips

A luscious red ripe tomato makes the base for this salad and may be filled with cole slaw or shredded carrot salad for a nourishing luncheon when combined with crusty rolls and a beverage. If you need a more filling meal, start off with a chilled or hot soup.

LYNN SAYS: Keep Cool While Serving Summer Meals

Make tomato aspic in a ring mold during the cool of morning, and serve with a chilled seafood salad in the center; garnish outside of the ring with stuffed deviled eggs and crisp cucumber slices.
Cottage cheese makes a delicious and filling luncheon salad if you add to it the following: sour cream, chopped chives, diced cucumber, tomato and radishes.

Frozen berries and fruits make delightful toppings for ice cream desserts. Thaw them slowly in the refrigerator for best results.
Cup cakes take on a glamorous dessert look with no effort at all if you serve them a la mode.
One of the most cooling salad combinations uses cucumber and pineapple in a lemon-flavored gelatin. Serve with cold meats or fish for a good main dish.
Surround your cold soups with crushed ice if you want to make them really chilly and attractive enough on the hottest of days.

Ain't It So
The office grouch just shuffled in. "In these days," he said, "I don't believe anything I hear, and I look twice before believing anything I see."
The adage, "No fool, no fun," must be in error. There are more fools now than ever before and the world has never been so unfunny as it is today.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

I use my rubber plate scraper for greasing cookie tins and baking dishes. It's quicker and easier than using fingers and no stopping to wash hands afterward.

Buy a suction cup clothes hook (the kind intended to fit on glass inside an auto) and stick it on side of electric refrigerator or stove (away from oven) or on any other surface which won't mar. It's a handy place to hang pot holders.

Save plumber's bill. Try pouring kerosene down the drain before sending for the plumber to remedy the stoppage.

Moths won't like this. Go over your rugs every so often with a broom dipped in hot water to which a little turpentine has been added. This will freshen a tired carpet and discourage moths.

According to modern usage any kind of soup may be served in a cream soup cup in spite of its name.

When making peppermints drop them onto a piece of waxed paper instead of onto a pan. They are more easily removed from waxed paper.

When whitening shoes you can keep polish off soles, if you wish, by putting cellulose (Scotch) tape around soles while applying polish.
