The European recovery program appeared set for another year. The senate, by a vote of 63 to 7, voted a grams has tuned down the "Voice 5.75 billion dollar appropriation to of America" to a mere whisper of take care of European recovery needs and pay U.S. occupation costs abroad. Final action came after two weeks of debate.

THE SENATE voted a full 12month program, with no authority of the spending agency to expend the money in a shorter period. At the same time, it approved an outlay of $344,000 for a congressional watchdog committee to keep a check on foreign spending. The upper chamber of congress gave tacit approval to nationalization of industries-in England, that is-by knocking down an amend-ment which would have withheld recovery funds from any nation which in the future nationalized an industry. This was aimed directly at Great Britain.

The bill provided:

POLITICS: GOP Seeks Unity

The one thing it did not have in 1948 and the one thing it seeks most in 1952 is the one thing the Republican party seems most unlikely to find-and that is unity.

IT is characteristic of the American voter that when things are going fairly smooth at home, there is little disposition to change administrations. The long tenure of the Republicans and the even longer tenure of the Democrats with Roosevelt and Truman point up

Therefore, if the GOP failed to attain unity in the 1952 presidential race, how could the party ever hope to win? There was an outside chance that, under a unified campaign, the party might win in '52. That chanc. lies in the fact that a lot of Republicans have been voting with the Democrats simply because they were at odds with their own party's candidate and fed up with the "me, too" policies of twice-contender Thomas E. Dewey.

BUT the chance for any real harmony within the party was This was indicated by the bitter split in factions when Guy George Gabrielson of New Jersey was selected to replace Hugh D. Scott, Jr., of Pennsylvania, as the party's national chairman.

The changeover served merely to stir up new party turmoil and to pose the more immediate problem of unity in the congressional races now just 15 months away. Whether Gabrielson can bring this about is, of course, wholly conjectural; but it should be remembered that if the GOP would not run hitched together when the White House was According to reliable reports, the desired destination, there is little reason to expect them to hold tight in congressional contests.

GHOST STORY:

Boy Is 'Haunted'

Because of the myriad uncertainties which beset his existence, man always has been fascinated by the macabre, the supernatural, the weird beliefs and stories concerning ghosts and spiritual manifesta-

THIS is evidenced by the fact that the prominent part played by spirits of the dead in the lives of the living has been recounted and extolled since the days of the most ancient tribal existence.

And through most of the scoffing which greets such tales in this enlightened century there runs - if the truth were ascertainable - a tiny thread of credulity. It's rather like the old classic remark of the man who said that while he didn't believe in ghosts, he certainly had no desire to encounter one.

So the story of the Washington, D. C. boy "haunted" by "midnight manifestations" would bring the same scoffing, elicit the same secret thought, however fleeting, the same hidden wonder: "Could it be so?"

A local clergyman said it was so. This pastor told the Society for Parapsychology that he had the flow of personal income from all sources reached an annual rate of boy spend a night at his home. The 213.5 billion dollars in June. The minister said that during the night commerce department's study the bed on which the boy slept showed the upturn had been con-tinuing for three months, April sleep. The boy moved to a heavy chair. The pastor said that while he stood over the chair it fell over, throwing the lad on the floor. The minister then put some bedding on the floor, told the boy to lie on it. Soon after the boy fell asleep, the minister saw the bedding and the boy slide slowly across the floor and under the bed.

BABIES:

May Sleep More

Parents who pace the floor with their infants during the night hours can now look with hope to a new research project at the University of Chicago. Scientists there are engaged in a study of the sleeping nabits of babies.

These gentlemen will seek to learn what part diet plays in the slumber habits of babies through test feedings of proteins and especially-prepared meats.

Among other things, the scientists will seek to determine whether a 25 per cent increase in protein content of the infant's diet will induce a more restful slumber. An apparatus attached to the crib will record every movement made by the child, indicating the soundness of its sleep.

Infants from six to 26 weeks old will be observed. Scientists say practically no studies of sleep characteristics of this age group have been made to date. They held out hope of good news for distraught parents, maybe as early as fall

God spoke to me today -His voice? Nay, I could not mistake. I hear him speaking clear tonight As the day dies and in the west The crimson sun sinks from my sight. Uncomraded awhile I mark Now far, now near the darkness grow, And lo, he speaketh, "Child of mine, When days and nights all passing go, Still will I hold thee, still will keeplove thee so, I love thee so!"

GRACE NOLL CROWELL

Mr. Twitchell has other utilitarian models in mind for Detroit including the following:

1. Fisherman's special. Here the back-seat area can be converted into a huge aquarium for live bait, with a fish well for the day's catch The car itself is aquatic and by a few wrist motions can be converted into a motor or sailboat. As an extra there is a sun lamp under which the fishermen can loll and lie to one another in comfort.

2. The Loaf-a-Mobile. Here, by a from the back end of the car which becomes, as if by sheer magic, a patio with flowered walls and birdbath. A palm tree can be had in the deluxe model. Through this model the problem of having an auto, a beach home and a small yard is solved.

3. The Kitcheny-Eight. Lives there an autoist who has never longed to whip up a meal en route? In this model Mr. Twitchell gives the world a roomy limousine in which the touch of a button transforms the rear of the car into a complete kitchenette with icebox, stove, pantry shelves, cabinets, etc. A compartment for live birds is included in case the owner wants a fresh chicken

4. The 12-cylinder What-Fun. By a few manipulations, taking less than 10 seconds, this model, seemingly an ordinary touring car, is converted into a police car with all the traditional symbols and sirens. The mechanical devices which accomplish this change also slap a police hat onto the driver. There is no model as satisfactory as this to operators in a hurry.

The Accordion-Kar. Here Mr. Twitchell has something which will be the answer to every autoist's prayer. It is a model which folds up when the driver wishes to park it. All hands alight, a button is touched and the car contracts in the manner of an accordion until it takes up little more room than an umbrella. The car can then be left in hotel lobbies, home hallways, or even phone booths.

Journey for Children

Three lucky essay winners from the Wartburg children's home of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., were taken on a 10-day "dream trip" with Shell Oil company's travel expert, Miss Carol Lane. In the photo above Joan, the eldest of the children, served as conavigator. She misread the map on her first day and cost the party a 10-mile detour. At right, 'though Helen may appear bored, actually she is day dreaming and storing up energy.

At every point of interest, Miss Lane took pains to impress upon the children the historic and scenic values of such places as Monticello, Thomas Jefferson's home near Charlottesville. A firm believer in the American way, Miss Lane sought to impart some of the great traditions of this nation to the children in her charge.

Each of the girls in the lucky party made a point of keeping her personal things clean and fresh, and soon caught on to the tricks of travel laundering as taught them by Miss Lane, whose thousands of miles of travel have made her an expert in this particular field. Edward was excused from such "woman's work" but he had his assignment, too. He checked the car each night to make certain that doors were locked and windows closed.

Miss Lane introduced the children to the wonderful delights of stopping at a tourist court (above) complete with swimming pool. Each child was expected to help with the unloading. Although the children were in bed at a reasonable hour (left) Miss Lane worked on her reports.

Operation to Relieve Intense Pain

I HAVE WRITTEN several times about the operation of cutting certain nerves supplying parts of the brain that have to do with excessive grief and anxiety.

All that was first expected of this operation, lobotomy, was that it would lessen undue grief and

God's Map for Me

Lesson for August 28, 1949

HOW did the writers of the Bible think about the Bible? We can get part of the answer by looking at our Psalms for this week. These poets already possessed a part of our Bible: the Law, some historical books, perhaps some of the Prophets. It was an incomplete Bible they had-but they loved it.

They did not think of it or use it in some of the mistaken ways you may find some people thinking of the Bible today. They did not think it was enough to ead a line or two efore going to bed They every night. did not think that having a copy of it around would bring good luck, or scare demons. They nothing about said Bible's being reat literature. Dr. Foreman They were not at all bothered by miracle stories in Scripture; they believed them, and ook them as evidences of the ightly power of God (see Psalm They did not look on the Bible as chiefly a dictionary of Don'ts. They did not think of it as a Sabbath book, but rather as an everyday one. It did not strike them as a book of mystery.

IN reading Psalm 19:7-14, it is in-teresting to see how many different things the Psalmist says about various names, but that is only because, being a poet, he likes to use several words for the same thing. As for Psalm 105, where else but in his Bible would the poet have learned that story of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph and the de-liverance from Egypt?

The reader of this Psalm will observe that the subject of most of the sentences is GOD. As the poet reviews his people's history, he shows that it is not simply the doings of the Israelites, but it is God who brings things to pass.

"Man proposes but God disposes" is known as an "alphabetic" or acrostic" poem. It is divided into the Hebrew alphabet, and in the Hebrew original of this Psalm each | five "musts." verse of the first section begins last letter. Tau.

The Book of God

WHAT the writers of these Psalms said about the partly-done Bible of their times is of course even more true of the completed Bible which is our heritage as Christians. One thing they make clear is that this is first of all God's book. They knew as well as we do that different human minds had a part of it, but for all that it is of oatmeal which are bound to always God whose message comes through what they wrote. The Bible, properly understood, reveals the mind of God and the will of God. The Bible reveals also the doings of God. His story is the weaving of God's eternal decrees on the looms of time. Again, these poets see that the Bible is for man and about man

None of them thought of it as a guide to heaven, but rather as a road map or to guide us through the mazes of this world. Psalm 119 stresses this world. and no other, as the world on which God's light shines.

The commandments of God are so many lengths of barbed wire to fence us in, rather road-signs to guide us on life's open highway. The Bible presents the "How" of living. It is God's map for me.

The Bible in The Heart

THE SENTENCE: "Thy word have I hid in my heart" (Psalm 119:11) is the clue to the right use of the Bible. When a Hebrew writer says "heart" he means something more than mere emotion. The word means character, what a man really is. A young Korean was learning the Sermon on the Mount, but making slow work of it.

When a missionary asked him about it, the boy said, "I have to be slow. First I learn a verse, then I go out and live it. I can learn the words in a few minutes; but it takes longer than that to live it."

That is the right idea. One verse, translated into living, is worth more than a chapter that never gets deeper in than the edge of the sters are up bright and early, eager to get out of the house to the fascinating work of play as quickly as possible, mother has to keep on her toes to see that they get a good breakfast. Children burn a lot of energy on days when they can play as they want, and they should be properly fortified with nutritious food.

Good breakfasts are simple and easy to prepare. The meal should include at least these five essentials; fruit, cereal with milk, bread, is a proverb which the writer of butter and a beverage, which for Psalm 105 would approve. Psalm 119 youngsters should be milk or cocoa. You may add to these essentials bacon, eggs, ham, sausage, 22 sections, each one exactly eight creamed chipped beef and such verses long. DON'T UNDERESTIMATE the value of hot bread for breakfast and appetite appeal. Here are some muffins with the nutty flavor please as they come hot out of the oven with butter melting on them. As a special time-saving feature, the muffins are made from a homemade oatmeal muffin mix. Make the mix at any time when you have a few spare moments, store in a covered container on the pantry shelf, and you will need only to measure it out, add egg and milk to it for quick muffins.

Milk Products Add To Turkey Profits

More Eggs Result Of Judicious Use

Increased egg production of nearly 25 per cent and an increased profit of $2.57 per hen, as a result of adding milk products to the rations of breeding turkeys, is indi-cated in results of a feeding demonstration reported by the Kraft foods company.

Two similar flocks of broad breasted bronze turkeys on the Lester Woodhams' ranch at Sonora, Calif., were placed on test at the beginning of the season. Both flocks were fed a ration consisting of commercial breeder mash in pellet form, some oats and a little corn. One flock had 130 hens and A Gay Bib Apron the other 204. Breeding and management of the two flocks was indentical. A pelletized milk product was added to the ration of the smaller flock.

These turkeys show what excellent results can be obtained by turkey raisers with use of proper feed and control of flocks.

Careful records of egg production and feed consumption were maintained from the start of egg production, February 21, to May 26 when the birds were marketed because of the lateness of the hatchducing at better than 40 per cent A GAY little bib apron that you ducing at better than 40 per cent can sew in no time at all. the pelletized milk product laid a bright fabrical total of 6,257 eggs, an average of 48.1 eggs each. In the same period the 204 hens in the control flock laid 7,811 eggs, or an average of 38.3 each. This meant that the test flock produced better than 25 per cent more eggs. Rate of produ was 51.2 per cent for the test flock compared to 40 per cent for the control flock.

Eggs from the test flock graded 91.6 per cent saleable for hatching against 89.3 per cent for the control flock. With hatching eggs at 32 cents each, this meant that each hen receiving the pelletized milk product produced an average of $14.11 worth of hatching eggs, or $3.17 more than the average for the control flock, which was $10.94.

Ancient Beans

Indian beans from varieties reportedly many thousands of years old are being tested by Cornell plant growers for qualities that may help growers get better crops. The beans came from the Allegany reservation and the samples are shown here by T. L. York, assistant in plant breeding at Cornell.

Superphosphate Assists Effectiveness of Manure

One load of manure can be made to do the work of two in topdressing fields, if superphosphate is added before manure is spread, says Prof. C. J. Chapman, of the University of Wisconsin. He suggests putting 25 to 30 pounds of superphosphate in the spreader as the manure goes out onto the field, or scattering superphosphate in barn gutters at the rate of a pound per cow per day.

Electric Pump Termed 'Heart' Of Water Units

Pointing out that the electric pump is the "heart" of the farm water system, O. J. Trenary, of Colorado A. & M's extension service, urges that it be selected to fit the special needs of the farm home.

As a general rule, he said, a shallow-well pump is to be preferred in a well in which the water level never falls more than 14 feet below the surface of the ground.

America's First Mural

The first commission for mural painting in the United States was given in 1876 to John La Farge for the decoration of Trinity church in Boston.

Coloring Chore Eased

There's no need to color margrease to make pancakes, rub the garine for baking purposes. Add as much coloring as the amount of margarine requires to the batter. The cake, or whatever you're making, will come out exactly the same color as it would if you had colored the margarine itself.

Expanding Market Seen For Dog Food Market

Some idea of the tremendously expanding market dog foods now represent for agricultural products can be seen from a recent report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The bulletin shows that over 50 million more cans of dog food were produced under their inspection in the first six months of this year than in the comparable period of 1948. While this report covers only the the first grade foods that meet U.S.D.A. specifications and are certified by them, the figures for one pound cans packed in the six month period still runs nearly 175 million. Since this grade of dog food is required to have not less than 30 per cent meat food content and to use only clean fresh grains, it represents a considerable market for both the stock and grain
