RELIGION: New Concept Urged

When man finds himself unable to cope with the myriad problems that beset him, when there seems to be no avenue toward solution within himself, he is wont to turn to the concept of Divine aid for the help he needs

AS THIS IS TRUE of most individuals, it is essentially true of this nation, as evidenced by the motto on its coins, the frequent allusions to the Divinity in its constitution and laws.

But, it seemed, a new concept, a new dedication to religion was needed. President Harry Truman himself went on the air to emphasize that need. His broadcast was part of the program, "Religion in American Life," sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches, the Synagogue Council of America, and 18 other religious bodies.

The President urged every American to take an active part in the religious life of his community and give generous support to religious institutions.

Turning to the perplexed world ituation of today, he declared that every problem in the world could be solved "if men would live by the principles of the ancient prophets and the Sermon on The Mount." BUT, he added, that religion is like freedom—"we cannot take it for granted." down in industry and field affected by it as a result of the coal strike is this photo of a store of the Westland mine of the Pittsburgh coal company.

"Man to be free," the President said, "must work at it. And manto be truly religious-must work at that,too. Unless men live by their faith and practice their faith in their daily lives, religion cannot be a living force in the world today.

While "Miss America of 1949" was being chosen at Atlantic City, the Seminole Indians of the Florida Everglades were picking their own prize beauty in a new and unusual procedure. At right, tribal chieftain Sam Willie places the crown on "Miss Early America." It was the first time a Seminole female ever had been seen in a swimsuit.

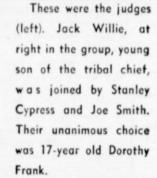

Here she is (right) "Miss Seminole, 1949." Dorothy Frank, the winner, poses in front of the totem pole which is supposed to keep evil spirits away and bring good luck to the tribe. She won her title over a field of beauties from various Seminole settlements in south Florida. The contestants seemed to enjoy the innovation of appearing in bathing suits.
