Vet Hospital Thanks Jr. Red Cross for Articles

A letter received recently by Mrs. Albert Gensman, chairman of the West Bend chapter of the American Junior Red Cross, conveyed the thanks of the patients, VA personnel, and the Red Cross staff at the veterans' hospital at Wood, Wis., for articles donated to the institution by the local Junior Red Cross chapter.

The letter was signed by Mrs. Mabel Braden, field director, service in veterans' hospitals. It stated that the hospital's tray covers and nut cups, made by McLane school pupils and West Bend Girl Scout troops two and four and donated to the hospital by the chapter, helped make the dining room tables and trays for the bed patients gay and colorful.

Writing tablets, writing boards, and a shoe shine stand, made and donated to the chapter by instructor Walter Schuecke's manual training class at the West Bend high school, were also gratefully received by the patients at Wood, according to the letter.

The shoe shine stand, especially, came in for special mention. In part, the letter from Mrs. Braden had this to say regarding the stand:

"The shoe shine stand was demonstrated to special services and it has all the promises of being in great demand by the patients. The idea now is to place stands like the one received from your Junior Red Cross members in a number of places about the hospital, announcing to the patients through the hospital newspaper, that these shoe shine stands are for their use. Your Junior Red Cross members may be the ones to introduce the equipment to the patients at Wood."

Besides Mrs. Gensman, other local chapter officials who were pleased to receive the report from Wood include Atty. Clyde J. Schloemer, chapter chairman, and Harry D. Sheski, Junior Red Cross co-ordinator for the West Bend and Hartford chapters.

AWARDED HIGH HONORS FOR EXCELLENT UNIVERSITY WORK

John E. Anderson, Kewaskum, student at the University of Wisconsin, has been awarded sophomore honors for the excellence of his work in the state university's College of Engineering.

Anderson, who is a graduate of West Allis high school, won sophomore honors in metallurgical engineering.

Dean Morton O. Withey, in announcing the names of the 55 young men who earned honors or high honors, pointed out that honors are awarded to those students who have earned a grade-point average of 2.25 in all residence courses at the end of the semester or term in which they have attained 60 residence credits, while high honors go to those earning an average of 2.75 grade points per credit of study taken. A grade point average of 3.00 would mean perfect grades in all studies.

OFFICIALS ELECTED AT COUNTY BOARD SESSION

The Washington county board held its monthly three-day session last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and a large number of elections, resolutions, and appointments were made. Chairman E. M. Bonamine of Kewaskum approved the appointment of Mike Goring Jr. to fill the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Mike Goring Sr. as a member of the Civil Service commission. Newton Rosenholmer, Kewaskum, received appointment for five years as a member of the Civil Service commission.

DORN INFANT CHRISSTENED

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dorn was christened on Sunday, Nov. 20, in the St. Lucas Ev. Lutheran church, Kewaskum. He received the name Edward William. Sponsors were Alfred Peterson, Miss Erna Dorn and Roland Brandt. Those present at dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dorn and family, Erna Dorn, Arnold Dorn, Grandpa and Grandma Dorn, all of Kewaskum; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Peterson of Ohio, Gilbert Juchter, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Brandt and Grandma Baumgardt, all of Milwaukee.

CARDS AT ST. MICHAELS

The Altar society of St. Michaels will sponsor a card party at 2 o'clock in the parish hall on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 27. All games will be played, prizes awarded, and lunch served. There will be a sale of baked goods before and after the card party. Everyone is invited to attend.

CHRISTMAS VACATION

The date for the Christmas vacation has been set for Dec. 21 to Jan. 2, at which time school will reopen.

STUDENT COUNCIL NEWS

At a student council meeting on Wednesday, plans for an all-school Christmas party on Dec. 21 were made. The program and entertainment will be planned by the seniors. The grades and high school Christmas program will be held on Dec. 14.

The dances will be held after the home basketball games on Friday night.

The juniors have set May 14 as the date of their prom.

JUNIORS HOLD TRYOUTS FOR PLAYS

Tryouts for two one-act plays which will be put on by the two junior English classes were held on Tuesday of this week. One play is a comedy, the other is a Christmas play.

The one-act plays will be given Dec. 15 and 16.

LOSE THRILLER AT FALLS

Kewaskum lost a basketball thriller to Sheboygan Falls by a one-point free throw made after the game. The game was tied, 25-25, at its end, but a Sheboygan man had been fouled by a Kewaskum player, and this basket brought the game to a favorable end for Sheboygan Falls, with a score of 26-25. Half-time score was 18-18, proving that the game was close throughout.

The high scorer for the evening was Eldon Hamthun, with 19 points tallied up by him. Other players who saw action were Frank Krueger, Roger Wierman, Frank Joske, Hilbert Justman, Don Falk and Wally Gudmohske.

NOON-HOUR PROGRAM

A schedule of noon-hour activities for students who remain in school during the noon-hour was set up by a student council committee. Basketball and dancing will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday noons. Volley ball and activities for grade school pupils will be held in the gym on Tuesday and Thursday noons.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

France, Canada Urge Atomic Pact; British Labor Gets Speedup Rule; G.M. Dividend Sets Industry Mark

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

NEW NAVAL OPERATIONS BOSS CONGRATULATED... U.S. Navy Secretary Francis Matthews (left) congratulates Adm. Forrest P. Sherman after the latter was named by President Truman as chief of naval operations to succeed Adm. Louis E. Denfeld.

ATOMIC PACT:

France and Canada joined at Lake Success in asking that all nations do everything in their power to ban use of atomic bombs and control atomic energy.

THE APPEAL was directed to all—and especially the Soviet union—to forget traditional ideas of the sovereignty of nations and join an atomic pact that would promote security and peace.

It was a sincere gesture, but about all that could be said of any results that might ensue was that it was a "nice try."

The proposal did have the support of the others in the majority group of the 59-nation political committee of the U.N. general assembly, but Soviet Russia was still to be heard from on the suggestion.

The French-Canadian resolution actually meant the majority pow-

FIRST BOMB WEIGHED TON

According to Stephen M. Alexis, Haiti, the first atomic bomb weighed a ton. He made the statement at a United Nations session. Statistics on the makeup of the bomb have not been officially disclosed, but Alexis said he had his information from a scientist, and that in three or four years there would be a smaller bomb for use by smaller countries.

ers want the general assembly once more to endorse their proposal for atomic control and to order secret talks to continue between the Big Five and Canada.

SIR BENEGAL N. RAU, India's chief delegate, offered another idea in the debate outlining officially his plan for the international law commission to draw up a world declaration for prohibition of the bomb and for control of atomic energy.

But, it was said in official circles, that the French-Canadian proposal was as far as the majority powers wanted to go at this time.

DIVIDENDS:

Was it a symbol, a portent of the future? Did it indicate the strength of the nation's economic situation, or was it as temporary signboard at the mercy of any real wind of economic recession?

WHATEVER its real significance, industrialists and economists took cheer for it. It was a vote by General Motors corporation of the largest cash-dividend total in the history of American industry. The company, which recently reported a record net profit of more than 502 million dollars from the first nine months of this year, would send checks totaling $190,436,055 to 436,005 holders of its common and preferred stock.

GENERAL MOTORS was also expected to establish a record when it retired out of its own corporate funds its entire long-term debt of 125 million dollars—17 to 27 years before the notes are due.

OLDSTERS' ATTITUDE

Crankiness in Old Age Linked to Health

According to an Ohio state university professor, crankiness or a cantankerous state in old age is directly proportionate to poor health. In other words, the professor's situation holds basis for the adage that a man is "only as old as he feels."

The professor, Albert R. Chandler, said his conclusion was the result of 503 reports by college students,

COFFEE:

Housewives and others planning to hoard coffee before a widely-heralded price rise and possible shortage, were in for a disappointment.

According to coffee experts, it won't keep for long periods even in vacuum-packed tins. It will get rancid in about six weeks or two months, these experts point out. Meanwhile, reports of heavy purchases of coffee continued.

Plane Record

Commercial planes were darting about the world faster and faster. Latest speed record for commercial planes was claimed by Pan American lines which reported its strato-cruiser Westward Ho landed at London in 9 hours and 12 minutes after leaving New York.

Capt. Robert D. Fordyce, Jackson Heights, N. Y., commander of the Westward Ho, did it with the aid of a tail wind which at times reached a speed of 75 miles an hour.

The plane traveled the Great Circle route and its average speed was about 385 miles an hour. The plane carried 21 passengers and a crew of 10.

Only a day before, a Pan American plane flew from New York to London in 9 hours, 21 minutes, which had bettered the existing mark by 20 minutes.

BRITISH LABOR:

It has been a fairly well established philosophy of trade unions to frown on the "eager beaver" who likes to demonstrate how fast he can work or how much he can produce in a given time. In fact, some unions prohibit members from engaging in any type of production speed contest.

The philosophy is understandable, if not popular. It is one which takes care of the union member who hasn't the ability, the skills or the physical stamina to keep up with the speed demon. The philosophy has been applied often enough for critics to charge that it has amounted, in many instances, to an actual work "slow down."

ALL THIS being a matter of record, England's labor government's move to allocate higher rewards for greater labor productivity came as a surprise to many U. S. supporters of the Atlee regime. They began to speculate whether the prime minister was laying up trouble for himself among his labor adherents.

The British government's turning away from this traditional philosophy of labor was explained on the basis that it must be done to meet growing demands for higher wages to offset higher living costs. Therefore, the ministry is advocating a system of tying wages to the rate of production, rather than the price index.

GOLD HOARD:

Those skeptical, apprehensive citizens whose dreams had begun to be haunted by the awful spectre of doubt that Uncle Sam's purported gold store at Fort Knox wasn't there at all could all relax. The gold was there, all of it.

ASSURANCE came from a source certainly qualified to know, for that source was Leland Howard, assistant director of the U.S. bureau of the mint. It is his duty to examine personally the gold hoard at least once a year.

"There's more than 12,000 tons of it (gold) at the Ft. Knox depository," he reports. That's more than half of the 24 billion dollars worth of the stuff which the government keeps under lock and key.

"People in their 70's or 80's seemed no more likely to be rigid in their habits and opinions," Chandler said, "than people in their 50's."

"But when the people were divided into groups in excellent health, fair health and poor health, definite trends appeared. People in excellent health were definitely more likely to be very sociable and change habits easily under changed conditions. People in poor health were more likely to be domineering, to be very irritable, or to be very sensitive to noise and confusion.

RUSSIA:

Direct Warning Soviet Russia was doing a bit of boasting and chest-thumping about the atomic bomb for her arms stockpile.

IN A SPEECH broadcast from Moscow, Georgi N. Malenkov, a member of the Soviet inner circle, warned that with the atomic bomb in Russian hands a third World War would "wipe out capitalism."

He said that atomic energy in the hands of capitalism is the "means of bringing death."

Turning to a new note for the moment, he declared that "we do not want war and are doing everything to prevent it." Then, discussing atomic energy again, Malenkov asserted that atomic energy "in the hands of the Soviet people must and will serve as a mighty weapon of unprecedented technical progress and further speedy growth of the productive forces of our country."

FOLLOWING THE PARTY LINE right down to the final syllable, he charged that the United States has a plan to "enslave the entire world" and that this plan was "borrowed from the mad plans of Hitler and Tanaka (pre-war Japanese militarist) but different in that it exceeds both plans together."

Despite all the boasting and the bombast, there existed in many minds a doubt that Russia has the atomic bomb as we know it—a weapon ready to be dropped at will.

POLITICS:

Sound & Fury The sound and fury of the 1950 congressional campaign was touched off rather prematurely by Minnesota's Harold E. Stassen in Minneapolis where he accused President Harry Truman of making "vicious and untrue" statements in his attacks on political enemies.

AND STASSEN is one of those enemies, for the former Minnesota governor and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, is a certain candidate for the GOP presidential nomination in 1952. Stassen charged that Truman used historical references in his recent St. Paul speech to "wrap the cloak of Jefferson around himself," but that actually the President "long ago personally trampled on the cloak of Jefferson."

WITHOUT mentioning Truman by name, Stassen answered directly the President's address at St. Paul in which the chief executive assailed "reactionaries" who, he said, had impeded progress of his welfare program in congress.

Stassen praised congress for refusing to go along with Truman on the "dangerous" Brannan farm plan, on the President's request for postwar retention of OPA, and on his demands for pyramided centralized power over a wide range of subjects.

BLARNEY:

A Sham Rock? Most folks know better than to get into an argument with an Irishman—particularly about anything that is peculiarly Irish, such as the blarney stone.

BUT IN CALIFORNIA, as in Brooklyn, anything can happen, so it wasn't too surprising to find a row over Ireland's famed blarney stone breaking out there.

It all happened when a 15-pound stone, believed by San Franciscans to be a chunk of the real blarney stone, was stolen from a church bazaar. Jim Cummins, custodian of the San Francisco stone chunk, declared he had "documentary proof my stone is authentic."

On Trial Again

GEESE:

Farmer Burned Near Allegan, Mich., nearly 13,000 Canadian geese were making themselves at home in the grain fields of farmer Andrew Degeus. The loud yackety-yak of the birds as they devoured the grain attracted about 5,000 sight-seers. At times, nearly 4,000 of the birds would rise into the air in a black cloud. Spectators thought it was great fun to watch the birds eating their dinner on the farm.

But it wasn't a bit funny to Degeus, who manages the farm for the A. M. Todd company of Kalamazoo. In dismay, he had to stand and watch his corn flying away in the claws of the geese.

And the geese were plenty smart. It was open season on the geese and hunters lay in wait for them, but not on the Todd farm. It's a sanctuary and no shooting of wild fowl is permitted there. Degeus had permission to chase the birds away—and tried; but the geese just hopped from one field to another still eating.

INDIAN VISITOR

Pandit Nehru examines an ear of corn on the 210-acre Kendall county (Ill.) farm of William Smith (below). The Indian prime minister examined three Fox River Valley farms in an effort to learn something of American farming methods.

Here, at right, is a close-up of Pandit Nehru's party as they watch and discuss American farming methods, knowledge of which was the goal in the prime minister's visit to Fox River Valley farms. Below, Nehru and his party greet workers at an International Harvester company plant where they inspected farm machinery.

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru inspects operations of corn picker on farm of Albert Mitchell, Fox River Valley, Illinois, during a good will tour of the United States (left). Nehru was said to be here in an effort to interest the United States in helping to build up India's naval and military strength. In photo below, Nehru enjoys ringing the dinner bell for a fried chicken dinner on Mitchell's farm.

JUST AS YOU ARE

Triple Return
An American comedian had just completed a tour of English theaters. The actor was asked how he liked playing before the English audiences.

"Splendid," he enthused. "I prefer them to American audiences."
"Why is that?"
"When the English audience hears an amusing story it laughs first to be polite, then it laughs again when it hears others laugh, then it laughs a third time when it gets the point of the story."

Just Wait

The widow probably would have been better off if she had stood over the stone-cutter as he chiseled the epitaph on her late husband's tombstone. But she was terribly grief-stricken and gave him a slip of paper with the wording she wanted on the stone.
Instead of making two separate lines he ran two sentences together with not even a comma separating the thoughts so that the epitaph read:
"Thou art at rest 'til we meet again."

DANA ANDREWS SAYS:

"Family prayer can keep your family happy and together."

Make Your Fruit Cakes, Plum Puddings in Time For Leisurely Ripening

BEFORE YOU GET CAUGHT IN the crush of holiday shopping or tangled in festive tinsel and wrapping, give a thought to your fruit cakes and plum puddings. These should be made at least a month or more before the holidays to give them time to ripen and mellow so their flavors will be perfect.

It's a comforting thought, too, many homemakers have found in years past, to have their Christmas desserts all snugly wrapped, ready to be eaten well in advance of all the other holiday food preparation.

In case you want to give away fruit cake and plum pudding as presents with "warmest regards" from your own kitchen, decide exactly who will be the lucky receivers, and plan accordingly.

PLAN TWO DAYS for making your fruit cake. The first day is usually spent ordering the fruits and nuts and getting them ready, along with lining the pans with paper. The second day is spent mixing and baking, as well as decorating and wrapping the cakes for storage.

Horn of Plenty Fruit Cake (Makes 5 pounds)

- 2 1/2 cups golden raisins
- 1 cup dried apricots
- 1 1/2 cups sliced citron
- 1 cup cut candied pineapple
- 1 cup halved candied cherries
- 1 cup shredded coconut
- 3/4 cup apricot whole fruit nectar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons nutmeg
- 2 teaspoons mace
- 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 3/4 cup thick orange marmalade
- 1 cup butter or substitute
- 1 1/4 cups granulated sugar
- 4 eggs
- 2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 1/4 cups finely chopped blanched almonds

Rinse raisins and drain. Pour boiling water over apricots and let stand five minutes. Cut into thin strips. Combine with raisins, citron, pineapple, cherries, coconut, nectar, spices and marmalade. Cover and let stand overnight. Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat thoroughly. Add flour sifted with baking powder and salt and mix well. Blend in flavoring, almonds and fruit mixture and mix well. Pour into two loaf pans (8 x 4 x 3 inches) or one (9-inch) tube pan lined with two thicknesses of greased brown paper and one of waxed paper. Bake in a slow (275° F.) oven 3 to 4 hours, depending upon size of cake. Decorate top as desired.

Bake your fruit cakes in loaf pans or tube pans, whichever you like, but bake them early. Then they'll have a chance to ripen properly before the holidays and taste their mellow best. This Horn of Plenty Fruit Cake, light in color, is packed with luscious candied and dried fruits, golden raisins, coconut and almonds.

LYNN SAYS:

Try These Tasty Seasoning Tricks
Rice pudding is an old-fashioned favorite, but it will have more flavor if you make it with brown in place of white sugar. Plump the raisins in hot water before adding to the rice.

Spread toast with chutney before serving the Welsh rarebit. Yes, it's different but interesting.

Baked pears become a favorite dessert when they're served with nutmeg flavored cream.

Add a dash of curry powder to your cream of chicken soup if you want a delightful change from the ordinary.

Beets will make a delicious salad if you slice them thin and serve them with French dressing to which has been added a dash of mustard.

Thin griddle cakes are a mighty tasty Sunday night supper dish if you spread them with well-cooked and seasoned chicken livers and then roll.

Spread that slice of ham to be baked with honey, then top with crushed pineapple.

Plum puddings, like fruit cake, should be given a month or so to ripen before serving to taste their best. Here's a truly festive pudding with fruits, nuts and spices combined with suet, molasses and bread crumbs.

FOR THOSE who prefer a dark type of fruit cake, here is a recipe which gives excellent results:

Dark Fruit Cake (Makes 10 pounds)

- 1 1/2 pounds candied cherries
- 1 pound candied pineapple
- 1 1/4 pound candied apricots
- 1 pound citron
- 3 pounds seeded raisins
- 1 pound currants
- 1/2 pound raw, shelled almonds
- 1/2 pound (2 cups) sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 3/4 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 pound shortening
- 1/2 pound brown sugar
- 1 1/2 cups cider
- 6 eggs, separated

Cut the cherries in halves. Thinly slice the pineapple, apricots and citron. Wash raisins and currants and dry them. Blanch and chop almonds. Mix all these ingredients together. Sift together flour, baking powder and spices. Combine fruit and flour mixtures thoroughly. Cream together shortening and sugar. Add egg yolks and beat thoroughly. Add cider alternately with fruit mixture until all are thoroughly mixed. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into cake mixture. Line the bottoms of 4 pans (8 3/4 x 4 3/4 inches) with brown paper. Grease the paper and fill pans with cake mixture 3/4 full. Place pans on a rack in a large roaster which has about 1/2 inch of water at the bottom. Cover the pan and set in a slow (275° F.) oven for 2 1/2 hours. Remove pans from roaster and set in oven, at same temperature, for 1/2 hour to allow cake to dry.

Plum Pudding (Makes 2 3-pound molds)

- 1 pound seedless raisins
- 1 pound currants
- 3/4 cup chopped nut meats
- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon allspice
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups pure dark molasses
- 2 cups buttermilk
- 1 1/2 cups finely chopped suet
- 1/2 cup grape juice
- 2 1/2 cups fine, hard bread crumbs

Wash and dry raisins and currants, combine with nutmeats. Dredge with one cup flour. Sift remaining flour, baking soda, spices and salt. Beat eggs, add crumbs, sugar, molasses, buttermilk, suet and grape juice. Add raisin mixture and blend thoroughly. Add flour mixture; mix thoroughly. Pour into two greased three-pound molds. Cover and steam for three hours. Cool puddings, wrap in heavy waxed paper and store in a cool place. Re-steam to heat and serve with hard or other type sauce.

Garnish your ham with steamed apples which have been molded in cider or lemon gelatin. The flavors suit the ham perfectly.

When you want to stuff a roast of pork or pork chops, you'll find that apples and prunes or raisins and apples have a wonderful flavor affinity to the pork.

Mincing pork sausage and rice mixed with egg, shaped into cakes and fried in the skillet, slowly and to a golden brown are a deliciously different dish to have for breakfast.

Garnish your next dish of creamed spinach with paprika dusted, hard cooked egg slices and sauteed mushrooms and see what a hit it makes.

Chopped sweet mustard pickle is a natural seasoning for hamburgers. You'll wonder why you never thought about it before.

Try something different for stuffing those crisp celery sticks. Caraway seeds mixed with the cream or cottage cheese is a big flavor favorite.

Mix together some orange juice and rind with the cinnamon sugar and use as a spread for toast.

THE HOME TOWN REPORTER IN WASHINGTON

Tyranny in Labor
JOHN L. LEWIS, vain, cantankerous and contentious boss of the United Mine Workers, is reported to have shouted boastfully to the coal operators in a recent conference. "I have labor to sell."

It's such stupid attitudes of some labor union leaders and the tremendously costly strikes in the steel and coal industries which have led to renewed demands in some quarters for government prosecution of some labor unions as monopolies in violation of the anti-trust laws.

And while the idea of prosecuting a labor union as a monopoly or in restraint of trade under our anti-trust laws is all poppycock, there is a real danger that as a result of the truculent and tyrannical antics of such leaders as John L. Lewis, legislation might be forthcoming which again would take us back into the dark ages of labor-management relations when the laboring man did not enjoy the freedoms and immunities he now holds under the laws of our Democracy.

Old Theory Outgrown

Today in America we have outgrown the fallacious theory that labor is a commodity and have accepted the maxim that man is a free individual having a right to work or not to work, and that he has the added right to set his own price on his labor and his own conditions of work.

It was not too long ago when a man, if he wanted to work, must necessarily accept the wage his employer decided to pay.

He had no alternative in the matter. But with the advent of mass production, it became impossible for a man or the employer to dicker individually with thousands of employees on the production lines. So unions came into being and the workers authorized their union to bargain with employers for the best wage and working condition they could get.

Not only that, the Clayton act specifically grants immunity to these unions and also to agricultural organizations under prosecution under the anti-trust laws. So this reporter contends all the talk of prosecuting the unions is pure propaganda intended to harm the unions, but at the same time it is provoked by such union leaders as John L. Lewis.

Labor Not 'Commodity'

Article 6 of the Clayton act says: "The labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce. Nothing contained in the anti-trust laws shall be construed to forbid the continuance and operation of labor, agricultural or horticultural organizations instituted for the purpose of mutual help and not having capital stock and conducted for profit, or to forbid or restrain individual members of such organizations from lawfully carrying out the legitimate objects thereof; nor shall such organizations or members thereof be held or construed to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade under the anti-trust laws."

But congress gave this immunity and congress can take it away.

Of course there have been instances where an individual union has conspired with an employer to prevent use of the commodity of a rival manufacturer, in which case the union was equally guilty with the employer.

Demos Gain Seat

For a short time the Republicans gained a seat in the senate when Idaho's Republican governor named former Sen. Henry C. Dworshak to take the place of Democrat Sen. Bert H. Miller, deceased. But when congress convenes in January a new Democrat senator, yet unnamed, will take the place of Sen. Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut, who resigned to become a justice of the Connecticut supreme court. His successor will be named by Democratic Gov. Chester Bowles of Connecticut.

The 81st congress has apparently appropriated a cumulative total of $6.4 billion dollars, as compared to $5.5 billion appropriated by the 80th congress. But additional foreign aid and deficiency appropriations as a result of 80th congress cuts, made up for the difference.

Mike Straus, reclamation director in the department of interior, is still on the job and he is drawing back pay amounting to several thousand dollars. It will be remembered the 80th congress, peeved at Straus, cut off the appropriation for his salary, with that of the California director Richard L. Boke.

Under a loophole in the tax law, insurance companies are evading tax payments.

Little Eggs
Big eggs, little eggs—which are the best buy? Chances are the grade A pullet eggs have a slight edge over the others for the few weeks they're available in retail stores. This will be particularly true if the price range in eggs is great. A good rule of thumb is this: Figure that you're saving on grade A pullet's eggs if their price is less than three-fourths the price of grade A large eggs. When the pullet's egg price is about three-fourths, values are equal.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Name Calling Is Profitless

By Lawrence Gould

Does calling names get you anywhere?

Answer: Not often, if ever. It relieves your feelings (though it may make you feel guilty later) and perhaps wins you some sympathy from people who already feel as you do. But expressing your hatred of someone—which is all calling him names amounts to—neither changes him nor helps you to deal with him more effectively. It merely distracts you from the tasks of understanding why he does the things you fear or dislike and what can be done to counteract them. To a mature mind there are no "villains"—only grown-up "problem children."

resistance your unconscious mind sets up against a process which may weaken its hold on you. If you find a doctor whom you can trust "some of the time," take your doubts to him and discuss them along with your other symptoms. He won't mind, and probably can help you overcome them.

Does reading ability improve with practice?

Answer: Under normal circumstances, Yes. Up to your limits of fatigue, the oftener you do anything, the more it tends to become automatic, and therefore to be done faster and with less expenditure of effort. A competent book reviewer really can get the gist of a whole book in the time that it would take most people to read say, two or three chapters. But if you've acquired bad reading habits—like just looking at words without stopping to think what they mean—the more reading you do, the less you will understand or remember.

Can you be sure a psychiatrist will help you?

Answer: I'm afraid not—in fact, I doubt whether any honorable man would guarantee to cure a given patient. But if you are mentally ill, remember that your very doubt of whether psychiatric treatment can "do any good" is part of your illness; it grows out of the

Glutamic Acid Improves Intelligence

By Dr. James W. Barton

I HAVE WRITTEN a couple of times about the use of glutamic acid—an amino acid—in helping to brighten the mind. This discovery was first reported by Dr. C. C. Pfeiffer, professor of pharmacology, Illinois College of Medicine, who stated that glutamic acid brightened the wits in a series of 69 mentally defective children one and one-half to 17 years of age.

More recently an editorial in "The Journal of the American Medical Association" stated that glutamic acid had been found of great help in the mild form of epilepsy (petit mal). Still another group reported that they had observed a rise in mental age and intelligence quotient in adults.

Since the above favorable reports, some research workers have stated that they failed to obtain favorable results in treating "backward" children with glutamic acid.

In view of the above favorable and unfavorable reports, a not unusual occurrence when any new drug or method of treatment is announced, it is of interest to learn that glutamic acid has been found to improve the wits or intelligence in what is known as mongolian idiocy (which is present when the child is born); that is, the lowest form of intelligence.

Generally speaking a moron has an intelligence quota of from 80 to 90, an imbecile is much below this, running from 50 to 60, but an idiot has little or no intelligence, although he is lively and imitates well.

It would naturally be expected that little or nothing can be done to increase the intelligence of a mongolian idiot, but in "The American Journal of Psychiatry," Drs. F. T. Zimmerman, Bessie B. Burge-meister and T. J. Putnam report their study of the effects of glutamic acid in 30 definite cases of mongolian idiocy or mental backwardness and 30 non-mongoloid control cases.

While too much should not be expected in all cases of mental backwardness, parents of backward children would do well to discuss this method of treatment with their family physician.

HEALTH NOTES

While diabetes is not a contagious disease, it is hereditary, and the million diabetics are chiefly the relatives of diabetic persons.

We should all try to avoid making unnecessary noises.

The lower bowel is not supposed to be empty at any time.

When sulfa drugs came along, the death rate in the usual form of pneumonia was reduced from 10 to about 3 per cent.

Regular exercise and play within limits are beneficial for patients with high blood pressure, arthritis and paralysis.

Bromides (quieting drugs) can so poison the system as to render the individual accident prone from three to four months after taking the drugs.

Ain't It So

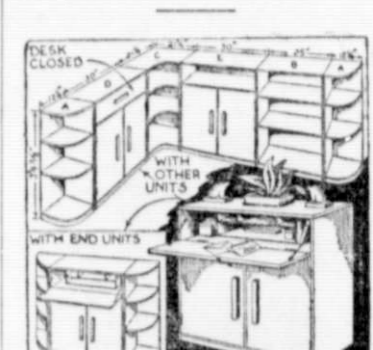

Every man is optimistic enough to believe that he could be a lot worse than he is.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET
If the Brakes Don't Work Just Hit Something Cheap

By BILLY ROSE

A fellow tried to sell me a helicopter the other day. He told me I could hop from the roof of my theatre to my place in Westchester in 20 minutes, and added that it was as easy to drive as a car. I told him I wasn't interested because I couldn't drive a car.

How come? Didn't I ever try and learn? Just once. And here's what happened...

One day several summers ago, my wife said, "I wish you'd learn how to drive. Every time you want a paper or a pack of cigarettes, I've got to stop what I'm doing and chauffeur you into the village."

"Okay," I said, "if you'll play teacher."

Next morning I crawled into the car beside Eleanor. "Just turn this jigger over," she began, "push in this dingus, pull out this doohickey, step on this wing-doodle, press down on this thing—a m-a-b-o-b, and you're all set to go."

"What's this gizmo?" I asked.

"The hand brake," she said. "You throw it on quickly in case of emergency."

"What happens if the brakes don't work?"

"Hit something cheap," advised my spouse.

A MOMENT LATER the car went hiccupping down the road. Then for a mile it went smooth as you please. A feeling of confidence came over me, the same feeling all new drivers get just before the lights go out. I pressed down on the gas.

"The pistons seem to be knocking," I said professionally.

"Pistons nothing," said Eleanor. "Those are my knees."

Everything went fine until we got to the traffic light in the village. I forgot to press the hickey-maddoole on the gilhoolley and the car stalled. The lights changed

THANKSGIVING TURKEY
Corner

IMOGENE sat at the kitchen table and listened starry-eyed while Tony read the letter. "Dear Tony and Imogene: I was sorry to hear about Tony's ill luck down there in Carolina, and know you must be having rather a hard pull. But things are bound to straighten out. Under separate cover I am sending you a turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner. Please don't acknowledge its receipt, as your Aunt Sara might read the letter. She doesn't know I'm doing this, and I doubt if she'd approve—you know how she felt when you two got married and started out on your wild venture. My love to you both, Uncle Rufus."

Tony pulled off the last wrapper and grinned happily. Within the cardboard box there nestled a handsome, fat turkey; a delicious, palatable turkey. Tony's mouth watered at sight of it.

Accompanying the bird were vegetables, galore, nuts and fruit and a real plum pudding ready for heating. It was complete, old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner.

At length Imogene stirred. She turned and looked through the window and there was something queer about the expression on her face. Tony saw the look and he came and sat down on the table and took her hand in his.

Imogene looked at him squarely. "I was thinking, Tony, about the Santrells. I can't help it, with this big turkey here in front of us."

Tony's hand tightened its grip. "Precious," he said gently, "you're a dear."

He was silent, then, staring thoughtfully out into the yard. The Santrells, he reflected, had prob-

"Darling," she said, "I've been trying to figure out one good reason for marrying you since our wedding day. And now I've found it." Whereupon she kissed him and Tony held her tight in his arms.

And so they marched over to the Santrells and undid the package on Mrs. Santrell's kitchen table and watched with a curious tugging at their hearts as the eight Santrell children and the two grown-ups stared and stared at the great fat bird. They left very soon after that because Mr. and Mrs. Santrell seemed to have difficulty in finding adequate words to express themselves.

They raced up the walk of their little stucco bungalow—and stopped dead still on the veranda.

A great package reposed before the front door, and a letter lay atop the package.

Tony picked up the letter, stared at the package curiously and tore open the envelope. "Dear Imogene and Tony," he read. "Your Uncle Rufus wouldn't like it a bit if he knew I was doing this. You know how he disapproved when you two got married and went away down South. However, I know you must be lonesome and rather discouraged, and so, under separate cover, I'm sending you a turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner. Please don't acknowledge its receipt, as your Uncle Rufus might read the letter and I'd never hear the end of it. Love to you both, Aunt Sara."

The Brave of Earth

STRONG with the shining shield of their high purpose,
Brave with the silver armor of their prayer,
We see them face the day, their unseen crosses
Almost too heavy for their hearts to bear.
Yet uncomplainingly they live the hours,
And patiently they face the lengthening years,
With none but God, himself, to know their heart-break,
And none but God to mark their unshed tears.

The hurt of earth! How ably they dissemble!
They bear with courage grief they never tell:
Self-conquerors they go, the strong, the valiant,
The brave, who smile and say that all is well.
When all awards for courage have been given,
Surely the highest will be theirs in Heaven.

GRACE NOLL CROWELL

I THREW THE CAR into reverse and backed away from the fire plug. "If you're going to drive much," yelled the cop, "I'd have the car painted red on one side and blue on the other, so the witnesses will contradict each other."

I had only one more mishap getting home. I scraped a guy's fender. He was pretty nice about it. "It's my fault," he said. "I saw you coming. I should have driven into the fields and avoided you."

Star Dust
STAGE SCREEN RADIO
BY INEZ GERHARD

JAN MINER admits that it is a rather odd distinction — she seems to have received more wedding cakes than anybody else, although she's not married. She has been wed eight times on the air, and each time fans have sent her wedding cakes. Currently starring as "Beth Lambert," alias "Carol Brent," in "Road of Life," Jan looks forward to the day when she can retire to her home in New Hampshire. The farm is on a strictly commercial basis, except for a few of her pet animals, one a horse, "Dr. Malone."

Rosalind Russell will be lured to the Broadway stage, if playwright George Kelly can do it. He wrote "Craig's Wife," one of her most successful movies and recently outlined his new play to her on the set of "Tell It to the Judge."

Randolph Scott credits the late William S. Hart with launching him on the road to screen success. Hart visited him when the star of Columbia's "The Nevadan" was working in "Roberta." "Randy," said he, "Why don't you get out of that monkey suit and into a western outfit? There's gold in them thar picture hills." Scott recently said he'll make nothing but Westerns now.

Joe DeBona, winner of the 1949 Bendix air race, has been signed by producer Lindsley Parsons for a leading role in "Smoke Hunters," the story of parachuting fire-fighters. The U. S. Forestry Service will cooperate on it.

Since a pre-view audience stood up and cheered him at a showing of "The Hasty Heart," young Richard Todd is being hailed around Warners' as the screen's newest star. An Englishman, he was one of the first British paratroop officers to jump into Normandy on D-Day. As a boy he was bedridden for three years with rheumatic fever, regained his health by playing football!

Unaccustomed as she is to roles in which she doesn't sing, Doris Day has been given a chance to branch out; Jack Warner has assigned her to a straight dramatic part as Ginger Rogers' married sister in "Storm Center."

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Gordon MacRae and his wife stayed at the Waldorf during their New York vacation, the hotel where he once was refused a job as bellhop . . . Julia Faye, who was Cecil B. DeMille's leading lady in many a silent film years ago, has been added to the cast of the Pine-Thomas "Outrage," at Paramount . . . Albert Crews, who was formerly head of radio for General McArthur in Japan, is now director of production for the Protestant Radio Commission, in this country.

LATEST . . . Martin XB-51, newest jet bomber, makes initial flight.

The Way It Happened . . .

IN COLUMBUS, IND. . . . Five parking meter salesmen waited impatiently for a sixth to appear for a conference with the city council, found he was late because of an argument with a policeman about over-parking.

IN SOUTH BEND, IND. . . . An eight-year old girl complained to Mayor George Shook that since parking meters came to town she never got any of her father's small change any more.

IN MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA . . . Police arrested a man who was sitting on a park bench sewing a patch on his only pair of trousers.

Household Hints

To retain the greatest amount of flavor in fruits, place them in a covered saucepan and cook them as fast as possible without scorching the fruit. Also do not overcook the fruit.

Add a different flavor to potato salad by marinating the chopped onions in lemon juice for an hour before mixing with the other ingredients.

Place leftover vegetables in layers in a casserole, add cream sauce, sprinkle grated cheese on top and bake.

Before adding the batter, drop a teaspoon of peanut butter in each muffin pan to give muffins a delicious, nutty flavor.

As a salad for children, use celery stalks filled with peanut butter. Cut the stalks into half-inch pieces and place them on shredded lettuce with banana slices of the same length. Serve with mayon naise.

How Constipated People Can Be Kind to Themselves

Thousands of people who suffer from chronic constipation have found an amazingly easy way to be kind to themselves. They don't whip their systems with harsh, painful cathartics. Instead, they turn to Nature's Remedy. For Nature's Remedy, 12 tablets, is composed entirely of natural, vegetable laxatives—no gentle, most people take them at night because their sleep is not disturbed, yet regularity is accomplished the next morning.

Try it at our expense. 25 tablets 25c. Buy a box at any drug store and try it. If you are not completely satisfied, return the box and unused tablets to us. We will refund your money plus postage.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

"Checked" Enamel

QUESTION: Is there any way to smooth the enamel on our woodwork without completely removing it? It has several coats of various colors of enamel and varnish on it. There are fine cracks or checks in some of the enamel. Could we rub it with turpentine or something, then sand it before repainting? If we have to remove all the old paint, how should we do that? Use a paint and varnish remover? We want to repaint our woodwork, but those checks show through so that it doesn't look nice.

ANSWER: You have the right idea, but in reverse—that is, you should use the sandpaper first, and then clean off with turpentine before repainting. If you were going to varnish, you would have to take off all the old finish; but as long as you are going to use paint again, I do not believe it will be necessary to take off all the paint, which would be quite a job. But the cracks and checks should be sanded out smoothly so that they will not show through the new finish.

Noted Throat Specialists report on 30-Day Test of Camel Smokers...

NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels, and only Camels, for 30 consecutive days.

I MADE THE 30-DAY TEST AND MY DOCTOR'S REPORT WAS NO SURPRISE TO ME! I KNOW CAMELS ARE MILD—MY THROAT TOLD ME SO WITH EVERY PUFF AND EVERY PACK!

Ford is 50 ways new for '50 . . . packed with improvements that make it the fine car of its field. For Ford brings you an even smoother "Mid Ship" Ride on new foam rubber front seat cushion with new non-sag springs . . . a new silent ride in Ford's 13 ways safer, sound-conditioned "Lifeguard" Body. Power such as you've never felt. It's 100 h.p. and it's a V-8—the engine type used in costlier cars—for hundreds less than most "Sixes". It's so quiet you can talk in whispers at highway speeds. Try it today.
