

Kewaskum Runs Up 97 Points Lacing Waldo

The Kewaskum Chevrolets kept their perfect record intact here Sunday night when they felled Waldo to make it six straight in the northern Land o' Lakes. The team ran up 97 points, the highest score of the season, to Waldo's 43, a margin of 54. All told the locals now have won eight games with-out defeat, including non-league victories over North Side A. C. of Milwaukee and Menomonee Falls of the Lakes Central division.

Kewaskum was so far ahead of Waldo all through the game that it became uninteresting. The boys could have run their score well over 100 points if they wanted to keep the first five in the lineup. But substitutes played much of the game. The first quarter score was 23-9 and at halftime the Chev's were ahead by a 42-20 margin. Ahead 64-31 at the third period's end, the boys poured in 33 points in the final stanza.

A young fellow by the name of John Tessar, who is way out in front in scoring in the Lakes, went wild again against Waldo. He burned the baskets for 32 points, nearly as many as the entire visitors scored. Johnny dropped 13 field goals and six gift throws although he did not play all the game. And 27 of his points were scored in the second half. He made only five in the two initial quarters. Johnny now has a total of 121 points in six tilts, an average of better than 20 per game. Brother Wayland again gave him a run for scoring honors by dumping in 17 markers, while Jerry Mehlos netted 12. All three of the above players and Augie Bilgo, who had nine points, are among the top scorers in the circuit. Little Chet Richards was high man for Waldo with 12, while two guards, Pokel and Bohnenstengel, each collected 9.

STANDARDS BEAT SAUKVILLE The Kewaskum Standards won their fourth Rivers game in six starts when they upset Saukville, 64-50, in the opening game here Sunday. The Standards were way behind in the first half but came roaring back in the second half to overtake and pass up the opponents. At halftime Kewaskum trailed, 27-15, but by the finish of the third quarter they had narrowed the gap to 37-31. They put on a burst of scoring power in the final period to win going away from Saukville. Lloyd Keller again paced the Standards with 29 points, followed by Bob Dreher and John McElhatton with 11 apiece. Hess, Saukville center, was top man of the night with 26 points. The lineups and points scored:

Municipalities of County Sign for Direct Relief Aid

A report submitted to the press by E. A. Brumm, director of the Washington county public welfare department discloses that a total of 13 of the political subdivisions which make up Washington county, contracted with the public welfare department for the administration of their direct relief, beginning Jan. 1, 1950.

Those municipalities who signed contracts include the cities of West Bend and Hartford, the villages of Barton and Kewaskum, and the townships of Addison, Barton, Hartford, Erin, Polk, Richfield, Trenton, Wayne and West Bend, the report reveals.

The new program is a result of the adoption of an ordinance, known as Ordinance No. 31, by the county board of supervisors on Nov. 29. Under the new system, the county public welfare department, which has been responsible for the administration of all public assistance programs in the county with the exception of direct relief, will begin administering that last remaining category of public assistance for those municipalities who have contracted with the department to do so.

Vet Administration Cannot Honor Dividend Checks

George Kolb, county service officer, wishes to advise veterans that the veterans administration cannot honor any assignment of National Service Life Insurance dividend checks.

L. C. Cocheu, director of insurance for the Chicago district office of the veterans administration, released this information for the benefit of those who are entitled to NSLI dividends. "Dividend checks can be mailed only to the person who made application for the payment," he said. "We cannot, even if directed in writing, mail the check to any other person or concern."

The fact that a veteran has a policy does not indicate the amount of his dividend, Cocheu continued. The dividend must be used to offset any overpayment the veteran has received or any other indebtedness to the government.

"We cannot tell the amount of any veteran's dividend here in Chicago," Cocheu said. "All of the dividend records are in Washington central office and will be maintained there."

"As we explained last summer any correspondence regarding veterans dividend account will result in a delay in payment to that individual. Therefore, we are in no position to give any information about what amount any individual will receive."

Cocheu reminded veterans that the application for dividend payment had requested an address where the applicant would receive his or her mail for the next six months. He explained that the veterans administration could not change mailing addresses at this late date and recommended that those who had moved since making application, request that postmaster change their addresses.

"At present the veterans administration insurance service is not in a position to advise any veteran as to the length of time his NSLI policy has been in force, the amount of the dividend he may receive, or when he will receive it," Cocheu said.

"We will tell any veteran who writes us whether his policy is active or in a state of lapse. We cannot give more than that just to permit the veteran to estimate the amount of his dividend without delaying its actual payment."

Hasty Weddings

IS THERE ANYTHING we can do to stop the unthinking young marriages that lead to so many unthinking divorces?

She is matron in a dormitory that houses some 200 college girls, on the campus of a midwestern university.

And Miss Day, who is Scotland born—and has herself been married, and is war-widowed—observes that she was engaged to her young man at the age of 20, and married to him eight years later, and that their 10 years together were cloudlessly happy.

"In my country," she writes, "long engagements are considered quite natural. A girl and a man find an affinity, they plan their future and then, perhaps, he goes off to Africa, China or India to get his start. Or he gets a position with one of our many banks, oil companies, or shipping firms that simply do not permit employees to burden themselves with domestic cares until a certain financial stage is reached.

"It seems to me this delay," continues the letter, "makes for character and self-control. The girl trusts her man, and he trusts her. And as the time of the wedding approaches, their happy plans, their preparations, the presents and trousseau and finding of the new home, are surely the more delightful because of the long wait.

"Aren't slow-developing things nature's way, after all? Spring and summer, the coming of a baby, the slow rise of a man to a position of responsibility, the slow gathering of household goods in the slowly-acquired home—doesn't all this come closer to a real ideal of living?

"Isn't it better relished than this rush of today's adolescents into the most sacred of relationships, the skipping of all formalities and preliminaries, the childish assumption that ignorance and passion and novelty are all that is needed?

"Right near the campus," writes Doris, "there is a couple aged 19 and 20. They ran away and were married in a neighboring state eight months ago. The girl's family continued to send her $100 a month. The boy's family has never answered his exultant wire.

Baby Expected "In a few weeks there will be a baby. At first they were delighted about this baby; now they are not so sure. The boy has left school and taken a job in a shoe store. The girl plans to go home for the baby's arrival and tells me in tears that she won't come back. Sandy is so changed, she says, so irritable lately. They can't do anything, can't afford night club dinners or movies. The rent is $35 a month, for three small unheated rooms in the rear of a village house. Elinor is sick of money talk and the egg dishes and the splashy bathroom and the oil cook stove, and feeling so rotten all the time."

Well, Doris, wonderful lives have been built out of those egg dishes and cold little rooms, money shortage and young discouragement. Spring comes and the baby comes and, when they take the baby west to see Grandma and Grandpa, Sandy gets a job in hospitable Oregon or California, the little new family will get on its feet among a million others who have fought the same good fight.

If Sandy and Elinor have character enough—or only the beginnings of it, character—and if they know that love has to be built slowly, like the house and the income and the baby, then they're all right. I hope they are.

But long engagements? Well, perhaps blood in Scotland and England runs more slowly, is cooler. Or perhaps pounds, shillings and pence loom more important in the eyes of lovers than do dollars and cents over here.

But nobody dares talk long engagements here. The wedding date is usually set before the engagement is announced at all, and as for the quiet talks, the plans, the reading of books, the placid postponement until say, 1954 or 1956—our young people would laugh that out of court.

Whatever we think, they will continue to place the wedding date only weeks, rather than years ahead. So we can only remind them that a boy-and-girl marriage can grow into the miracle of human happiness that is a good marriage, if meanwhile, the boy and girl have grown to real manhood and real womanhood.

Open and Shut Case

There probably are millions of cases of unreturned umbrellas but Pat O'Rourke was unfortunate enough to be sued for failing to return one he had borrowed.

Just before the trial opened Pat managed to get the umbrella back into the original owner's custody, but the latter went ahead with the suit, contending that the article was damaged beyond repair.

When it came time for Pat to speak his piece he stood up before the court and with his feelings irreparably injured said:

"Yer Honor, in the first place O'niver borryed the danged thing, in the second place it wuz just that way whin I got it, and in the third place I returned it in perfect shape, Oi did."

Time Would Tell Neighbor—"A remarkable old man, your granduncle. When he died he had every tooth in his head, his eyesight was very good and his hearing was excellent. To the best of my knowledge he retained full possession of his faculties until the very end."

Grandnephew—"Well, we'll be able to make sure of that when his will is read tomorrow."

Help!

Mrs. Peck—"Help! I'm choking."

Mr. Peck—"Sh-h-h, the neighbors will think I'm doing it."

Mrs. Peck—"I don't care. Get me something quick."

Mr. Peck—"What did you swallow?"

Mrs. Peck—"A sponge."

Mr. Peck—"Okay, I'll go and get some water."

Old Guard Liked Rugged Matches

By GRANTLAND RICE

NO ONE CAN QUESTION the fact that football's big argument this winter will concern the two-platoon system.

This correspondent, opposed at first to the double-platoon idea, must admit in talking with Fritz Crisler of Michigan and Red Blaik of Army one gets a far better picture of what the two-platoon game means.

Crisler and Blaik must be listed among the top football coaches of all time. I mean up with Rockne and Haughton and Sutherland, to mention only a few. Both are smart, subtle talkers. They know their subject. On this day, Red Blaik stood for nearly two hours, challenging a long list of doubters—answering every charge.

"Of course," he said, "the old guard is against it. The old guard in anything is against every form of change. This is new football—football that is faster, keener, more exciting, less punishing on the player."

I thought about the old guard. I've heard them grumbling for over 40 years about the modern players of the 20's and 30's. They couldn't understand why a fellow couldn't play 60 minutes of every game. Shep Homans of Princeton was Snake Ames' substitute. Homans never got to play a minute until Ames graduated. Homans, weighing 185 pounds, was Princeton's fullback in 1890 and 1891. Shep's substitute never got to play a minute. Homans played the full 60 minutes for 22 games.

But the game was different in 1925 and 1930. It is the contention of Crisler, Oosterbaan and Red Blaik that the game is still different. Today's demand is for speed.

They prove to you that it is faster, keener and more exciting because it is played with fresh men, with rested athletes. And if you tell Fritz Crisler the public doesn't like it, he points to Michigan's attendance record—97,500 a game for either five or six games—plus television in Detroit.

Important Point

It has always seemed to us that in any football problem there should be only one angle to consider—what is the player's viewpoint?

I have never been interested in what the coaches or what the public might think. The player is the one who takes most of the beating—who makes most of the sacrifices. The coach is certain to be biased and selfish. Nearly always. The public pays but it doesn't have to pay unless it wants to, and its viewpoint is usually warped.

But the player should know. To get this slant I had a long talk with Arnold Galiffa, Army's leading star. Red Blaik had just said that Galiffa, his offensive spark, was also the best defensive player on the Army team. Galiffa played entirely on offense this fall.

"Don't you like defensive play?" I asked Galiffa. "Oh, I like it very much," he said. "Do you like to tackle?" I asked him. "I sure do," he said. "Then you don't like the two-platoon system?" I inquired.

"I certainly do," Galiffa said. "I'll tell you why. My job is to try to run the Army team on offense. To call the plays—to pass—to run with the ball—to block. Scoring is the big factor in football. Under our two-platoon system I am always fresh. I am never tired or battered. I can do a far better offensive job for the team. We are out to win games. Galiffa doesn't count. Cain doesn't count. John Trent, our captain, doesn't count. No one counts but the Army team. Individuals are out."

"To show you what I mean, we have very good men on our defensive squad. They know they won't be picked on any All-America. They don't give a rap about All-American mention. They are out to help win games for Army. Isn't that the way it should be?"

Official Has Say

"Suppose," an official said, "you were working a game and you saw a player holding—suppose you saw him palpably offside—suppose you saw backs distinctly in motion before the ball was snapped—suppose you saw every form of rule breaking taking place under your nose—code infractions that definitely affected the play."

"The officials are taking all the blame," he said, "while the full blame belongs to the players and their coaches."

Washington MERRY GO-ROUND

Maragon Still Favored

A SIGNIFICANT DEVELOPMENT has taken place inside the justice department regarding the amazing John Maragon, close friend of General Vaughan and once a frequent caller at the White House.

Higher-ups in justice have given orders to Morris Fay, efficient U. S. attorney for the District of Columbia, to give them a full report on the perjury case against Maragon and to make no move without consulting the justice department.

This has not been done in other important cases. General Benny Meyers also faced a perjury charge, but no such order went to Fay from the justice department. He was convicted and jailed without any delay or consultation.

John Maragon not only faces an almost identical perjury charge, but Sen. Clyde Hoy of North Carolina, chairman of the senate expenditures subcommittee, officially sent the case to the justice department with a request for prosecution. Furthermore, Hoy went to extra precautions to have a quorum of his subcommittee present when Maragon was questioned so there would be no legal loophole for a wriggling out of a perjury prosecution.

Finally, it has been three full months since the senate sent its report to the justice department, and still no action. Ordinarily, it takes about one week to bring a case of this kind before a grand jury.

Maragon, of course, has had a special White House pass, has supplied liquor to Gen. Harry Vaughan, has ridden on special presidential trains, stood on the bridge of a battleship with the President when he reviewed the fleet in New York, and at one time had access to the White House at almost any time of the day or night. So while Gen. Benny Meyers can't even get parole, Maragon isn't even indicted.

Reluctant Justice

Failure to act in the Maragon case brings up a point regarding the justice department which most people don't realize. The public generally thinks of the justice department as the protective branch of the U. S. government, which reaches out to punish dishonesty wherever found and does its best to keep the federal government clean.

A review of important cases, however, indicates that the justice department is extremely reluctant to go after the big boys in government, and that most of the cleanup cases have been developed either by committees of congress or by the newspapers. Frequently it isn't until after a crime has been thoroughly aired by the press and on capitol hill that the so-called upholders of the law in the justice department move in. And if some friend or high political figure is involved, such as John Maragon, sometimes they don't move at all.

Here are a few notable cases in point: Alger Hiss—Now on trial for perjury. This case was developed by the house un-American activities committee, which turned up the famed pumpkin papers. Since the justice department finally moved in, however, its lawyers have done an efficient and persistent job.

Congressman Andrew May of Kentucky—Now sentenced to jail. Various hints of May's peculiar activities were published by this column and others for some years, but it took the senate investigating committee, under Sen. Jim Mead of New York, to bring out the facts. After that the justice department acted.

Congressman Parnell Thomas—Now sentenced to jail. It took a newspaperman to dig out Thomas's skulduggery. After the canceled checks in Thomas's kickback deals, plus an important witness, were turned over to the justice department, it carried through thoroughly and efficiently. However, Alex Campbell, dynamic chief of the criminal division, who carried the ball, had to buck some opposition near the top.

Gen. Benny Meyers—The first public revelation that General Meyers had been up to no good was published in this column on July 29, 1947, when it was stated that Meyers had speculated in the stock market with as much as four million dollars.

Arabian Oil—It was also the Brewster committee which developed the amazing manner in which certain admirals and the navy had over-charged the U. S. government for Arabian oil during the war. The justice department, for reasons best known to itself, never prosecuted this scandal, but exposure of the facts resulted in new oil contracts and a saving to the taxpayers of millions of dollars. Why the justice department has not prosecuted those responsible for the swindle is another Washington mystery.

Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma—When the senate probing lobbyists learned about the speculating activities of Senator Thomas, it wanted to indict him, but the justice department demurred. Instead, Thomas's friends, who worked with him in speculating—Ralph Moore, Tom Linder, J. E. MacDermid and Robert Harris—were indicted. He was not.

Thomas has been defended during discussions inside the justice department by no. 2 bigwig Peyton Ford, who hails from Oklahoma.

Hearty Desserts, Served Piping Hot From Stove, Pep Up Family Meals

"IT SEEMS though I can't serve enough to keep appetites satisfied these cold days," says many a homemaker when the temperatures dip and chilly menfolk and youngsters crowd around the table ready to eat everything in sight.

If you've planned a soup, this helps take the edge off sharp appetites. Add to this a nourishing meat dish, a starchy food and a vegetable and a salad; top it off with a hot, hearty dessert, and you'll be certain to meet not only nutritional requirements for a heavy meal, but also those of the appetite as well.

IF YOU MIX a starchy food with fruit, you have the perfect answer for dessert in many instances. Hot puddings can be baked right with meat and vegetables. Oother top-of-the-stove desserts may be quickly prepared, so neither adds much work toward getting together a meal.

Cranberry Coconut Dumplings (Serves 6)

- 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 cup shredded coconut, cut
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1/4 cup milk
- 4 tablespoons melted butter
- 1-1/2 cups (1-pound can) whole cranberry sauce
- 1/2 cup orange juice

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Add coconut, combine egg, milk, and butter; add to flour mixture, stirring until soft dough is formed.

Combine cranberry sauce and orange juice in saucepan; bring to a boil. Drop dumpling batter from tablespoon into hot cranberry sauce. Cover tightly and cook over low heat 15 minutes. Serve at once with cream, if desired.

Coconut Dessert Pancakes (Serves 4-6)

- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
- 1/2 cup finely cut shredded coconut, plain or toasted
- 1 cup fresh or canned whole cranberry sauce

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg and milk. Add gradually to dry ingredients, beating only until smooth. Add shortening a nd coconut. Use about three tablespoons of batter for each pancake and bake on hot griddle. Serve three or four (three-inch) pancakes with cranberry sauce for each serving.

Empress Pudding (Serves 6)

- 1/2 cup rice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4-1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

- 1-1/2 cups drained, cooked apricots

Old-fashioned rice pudding gone modern with apricots substituted for raisins and some jam in between the layers for extra appetite appeal. This is an ideal dessert to make when you're having an oven dinner.

Change the flavor of the pot roast with different combinations of seasonings. For one, try a mixture of marjoram, basil and rosemary. For another, use lemon rind mixed with curry powder; for a third, use horse-radish.

Add grated cheese to creamed dried beef and stir until the cheese melts. This is wonderful served over drop biscuits, hot from the oven.

That last bit of ham is easy to use if you combine it with canned mushrooms, chunks of ripe olives, finely minced parsley and hot steamed rice cooked in bouillon. Heat together and serve hot.

Fry salt pork until crisp. In the fat, fry onion rings until brown. Add baked beans to the meat and onions and heat through. Serve on buttered toast for an excellent luncheon sandwich.

Corn bread makes good eating if you serve with a cream gravy to which has been added diced left-over ham.

Dumplings light as air are these Cranberry Coconut delights that make a perfect, fruit-filled dessert for mid-winter mealtime glamor.

The batter is easy to make and is then simply dropped in cranberry sauce to cook.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Chilled Vegetable Juice
- Braised Lamb Shanks with Potatoes Onions Carrots Orange and Grapefruit Salad
- *Cherry Nut Custard Beverage
- *Recipe Given

cots (sweetened) or 1 cup apricot jam, or other favorite jam

Scald milk in top of double boiler; add washed, drained rice and salt. Cover and cook over hot water about an hour; until rice is tender and milk is about absorbed. Stir occasionally. Be a t eggs; add sugar and blend. Stir some hot rice into egg - sugar mixture and blend; stir into remaining rice mixture. Add vanilla and nutmeg. Put rice into well-buttered casserole in alternate layers with apricots or jam between, reserving a little for top. Bake in a moderate oven, 325°, about 40 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve with milk or cream.

*Cherry Nut Custard (Serves 6-8)

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups scalded milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla or almond extract
- 2 eggs or egg yolks
- 1 cup red tart pitted cherries (canned or frozen)
- 1/2 cup broken nut meats

Mix dry ingredients. Add scalded milk gradually. Cook 15 minutes in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and afterwards occasionally. Add eggs, slightly beaten, and cook two or three minutes longer. Cool and fold in the flavoring, cherries and nuts. Serve with dairy cake cut-outs or cookies.

Cobbler Crust: Any favorite baking powder biscuit dough may be used.

This may be made a little shorter for this purpose, if desired, by adding two additional tablespoons of shortening per cup of flour. Press a layer of the dough into a greased baking dish, then add filling and top with remaining dough. Bake at 400°, about 25 minutes, or until crust is brown and filling is tender.

Cobbler Filling:

- 1 cup red tart pitted cherries
- 2 cups apples—any cooking apples, sliced as for pie
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons flour

Combine sugar and flour, then mix well with the cherries and apples.

Cherry Foam Sauce:

- 1 cup tart red cherry juice
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 egg whites
- 1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
- Few drops red vegetable coloring

Combine juice and sugar. Cook to a thick syrup or 230°. Pour gently over stiffly beaten egg whites, add flavoring, then coloring to make desired shade. Serve hot or cold as a sauce or topping on any plain cake, such as white, yellow, sponge or angel food.

Use mint-flavored barbecue sauce for lamb chops. Combine chopped onion with mint leaves, vinegar and salad oil. Let stand overnight, then brush over lamb chops before cooking.

When you have meat loaf left-over, cube it and heat with barbecue sauce. Serve over toasted buns.

Use a slice of luncheon meat for these tricks. Break an egg on top of each and cover with grated Swiss cheese. Cook slowly in skillet until egg sets. It's grand for Sunday night suppers.

When you're having a weiner roast, spread the buns with processed cheese before heating them. Then pop the broiled weiners into them for serving.

Spiced olives dress up a pot roast beautifully. Add whole spices, a bit of brown sugar and vinegar to cooked prunes. Simmer briefly and allow the fruit to stand overnight in the syrup.

When you make your next ham loaf, put gashes in the top of it and insert orange sections in them. Top with spicy raisin sauce and bake.

County Agent Notes

GOOD COWS YIELD

High producing cows convert feed into milk and butterfat more efficiently and more profitably than do low producing cows. More production per pound of feed consumed means lower feed costs and greater returns above feed costs. For example, a cow that produces 260 lbs. of butterfat per year does so at a cost of 66 cents per pound of butterfat. Whereas a cow that produces 100 lbs. of butterfat per year does so at a feed cost of 46 cents per pound of butterfat. The production of the average Wisconsin dairy cow is approximately 200 lbs. of butterfat per year. Those that are in dairy herd improvement association testing produce almost twice as much. This greater butterfat production of cows in dairy herd improvement associations is due largely to the fact that dairymen have used the IHIA records (1) as a basis for culling unprofitable cows, (2) as a means for better feeding according to production and (3) to select the best animals in their herd as breeding stock.

Dairy herd improvement association work is available to any dairyman who wants it at a reasonable cost. About 300 farmers are members of the county testing association. The laboratory has the help and equipment to take on more members.

Where the dairyman takes the milk samples and records the daily production, the cost of the testing service is $23.00 per year for an average size herd of 15 milking cows. No dairy farmer can afford to be without this herd improvement service. For further information see the county testing laboratory or the agricultural extension office.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Huge Crop Surpluses May Bring On Widespread Federal Farm Controls; Three Pact Nations Unify Defense

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

CROP REPORT: Punitive Plenty

It was an ironical twist that American farmers, by producing in 1949 the second largest crop in all U.S. history, may have shackled themselves with broad government controls for years to come.

The year's harvest acreage was the largest since 1932 when depression-ridden farmers sought to offset declining prices by expanding production.

Except for bad weather during the growing season in some sections of the nation, the 1949 crop total might easily have set a new record. Even so, the harvest was so large that the U.S. department of agriculture felt called upon to invoke production controls of various kinds to reduce the volume next year.

The agriculture department said the huge harvest was the result of uniformly large production of most crops, rather than record volumes of a few individual ones. Records were marked up only for rice, dry beans and peas.

The figures: Corn, three billion, 378 million bushels; livestock feed-grain, 126 million tons; vegetable oil-seeds; soybeans, flaxseed, peanuts, cottonseed, 15.33 million tons; tobacco, two billion pounds; fruit production, nine million, 800 thousand tons.

Yields per acre were above average for most crops, although wheat, flaxseed and dry peas were notable exceptions. Nearly 163 million tons of the eight grains were harvested during the year.

COMIC BOOKS: Get Last Laugh

There may not be any laughs in current comic books—as so many psychologists, psychiatrists, educators and ministers have charged—But there was certainly more than an abdominal chuckle for the comic book entrepreneurs, themselves, in a spectacular respectability recently accorded their products.

For, as amazing as it may seem, the U. S. state department was to incorporate the comic book technique in its latest bid for the minds of non-Communist Asians.

WITH THEIR THEMES based on the lives of American heroes, 260,000 copies of the picture-series books had been scheduled for delivery early in January.

The books were to be sent to South Korea, Thailand, French Indo-China and Indonesia. The hope was that through hand-to-hand circulation information about the history and background of the United States would be spread widely in areas under strong Communist pressure but which, as yet, had not capitulated.

THE SERIES was to include 32-page books of the lives of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Walt Whitman, Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Carnegie, Jane Addams, Thomas A. Edison, and George Washington Carver.

Libraries and other agencies of the state department's public affairs division, already on the scene, would distribute the books at public showings of American documentary films and other such occasions. American libraries operate in all countries where the books are to be distributed.

PANCAKE DAY: Idea Spreading

A familiar and popular event in some United States communities, unknown in many more, National Pancake day is beginning to catch on in many localities.

An ancient as far as international observance goes, the event has been observed elsewhere in the world for hundreds of years. No artificial "Johnny-come-lately" idea, the day has long been observed in Great Britain and many other countries in Europe—always on the day before Lent begins.

THE NEXT Pancake day falls on February 21, 1950, when here, in the United States, some communities will mark the day in city-wide celebration, a sort of mid-winter fair at which everyone eats pancakes. In many other communities, church groups (frequently Episcopalians) have long observed the day with quiet breakfasts, luncheons and dinners—all of which feature pancakes.

UMBRELLA: For Amphitheatre

Most everyone has speculated about it and when it would come, but now, apparently, it has arrived—a revolutionary rain-defying umbrella for an amphitheatre.

According to the designers, it can cover the amphitheatre in two and one-half minutes at the flick of a switch. The device isn't actually on the market yet, but will be built next fall to house activities of the Pittsburgh Civic Light Opera.

The structure, believed to be the first of its kind in the world, will cover an amphitheatre where concerts, pageants or shows—if they're non-profit—will find here in the rain-and-sun a safe haven. A removable roof is said to be the secret of the project, which will cost a million dollars.

The money already has been allocated, with half the cost pledged from a trust fund set up by Edgar J. Kaufmann, Pittsburgh merchant and philanthropist. The city of Pittsburgh has agreed to match that sum.

Raps Big Steel

Everett Kassarow, executive secretary of the CIO, tells a congressional committee that big steel's hiking the price of steel is a "scandalous situation" and asks the committee to investigate it. In the recent price raise, the steel industry said recent welfare and pension concessions to labor made the increase necessary.

PACT DEFENSE: One Broad Pattern

Probably pointing the way toward a general North Atlantic pact policy, the United States, Great Britain and Canada have worked out procedures for practically a complete exchange of information concerning military weapons and fighting techniques each country develops.

THE OFFICIAL announcement to that effect was a guarded one, but defense department spokesmen said the three nations will pool all data on just about everything in the way of conventional weapons used by their respective fighting forces and together will study such advanced weapons as guided missiles. There was no indication of the atomic bomb in this "share-the-know-how" deal.

The goal, according to the announcement, was to make not only standard weapons interchangeable, but to draw on the incentive techniques of scientists and the "operational procedures" developed by military planners.

THE STEP, in any manner of speaking, was a prudent one if the democracies are convinced that among the best avenues of peace is one that leads to the ultimate in preparedness.

There is a most plausible school of thought among international diplomats, that if a consolidation of sufficient strength is mustered by the western powers, there need be no fear of World War III, no matter how much the Russians might desire one. For whatever else may be said of Russia's Stalin, he has never been branded as a complete idiot.

After Stalin, of course, anything might happen, for ambitious men oftentimes let their ambition cloud their vision to the extent that they can't see where they are going. Give such men enough power, and the war everyone fears might well be in the making.

TOP 10 MEN: Rated Outstanding

More than 1,500 newspapermen had been called upon to choose, in their opinion, the 10 outstanding men of the world during 1949. At first blush that would appear to be a staggering assignment, but there is no newsman worthy the name who won't give you an opinion on anything at any time.

THE TEN "outstanding men of the year," as announced in the 1949 Year News Annual were: Dr. Albert Schweitzer, religion; Dean Acheson, U. S. Secretary of state, statesmanship; Dr. Ralph Bunche, world peace; Dr. Charles Seymour, Yale university president, education; Walter Reuther, president of the CIO-UAW, labor; Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodgers second baseman, sports; Serge Koussevitsky, Boston symphony orchestra, music; Arthur Miller, "Death of a Salesman," drama; Stanley Kramer, producer of the movie "Home of the Brave," movies; Milton Berle, radio and television.

CRITICS of these selections might charge that the selectors let the headlines of the year, rather than the gentlemen's accomplishments, get in their eyes when they made their choices.

New Probe Asked

Whatever else might occupy congressmen, there appeared to be no lacking of probe subjects. For in a stinging assignment, but there is no newsman worthy the name who won't give you an opinion on anything at any time.

RUSSIA: Going to Sea

Tom Paine's phrase, "sunshine patriot," might well apply to any segment of the Russian army, since the Soviets have no warm water port for winter operations; but if the authoritative publication, Jane's Fighting Ships, was to be believed, the Russians must be planning to change all that.

ACCORDING to the article, Russia is building three 35,000-ton battleships equipped to fire radio-controlled aerial torpedoes. It said the Soviet navy also is speeding construction on a fleet of 1,000 submarines including a type "with a great range and a very high submerged speed."

How did Jane's penetrate the iron curtain to a degree necessary to glean that information?

The publication itself says merely that a "hitherto reliable source" relayed the report, and added that it passed along "with reserve . . . conflicting information in the informant's report" that one of the three battleships is still in the yards, but "two others of the same class are believed to be in commission." Jane's emphasized that it had "no substantiation of this report."

THE ARTICLE noted that the United States and Great Britain have only one battleship in service between them—and that is the U.S.S. Missouri. But, it added, "there are signs that new fleets are in the making."

Continuing, the article declared: "Warships are being designed not as improvements or developments of previous classes, but from first principles for a specific role of countering a potential enemy type. In the next few years we are likely to see . . . the atomic-bomber carrier, the guided-missile control vessel, the task-force command ship, the anti-submarine cruiser, rocket destroyers, fast, low-lying frigates and gas-turbine ships."

Which would indicate that the navy hasn't been as dormant as the air force might have liked it to appear in the unification rows in congress.

HOUSING: For 'Forgotten'

According to an impression prevalent in the capital, President Truman intends to press congress for some action to spur construction of medium-priced housing.

And, as must have been inevitable, the "forgotten man" was again brought into the picture. The capital sources mentioned that Mr. Truman's administration would recommend that the so-called "forgotten man" in housing—the middle-income worker of the nation—to own his own home or get better rental accommodations.

IF ANYTHING can be done in that respect, the "forgotten man" would surely be most grateful—but the manner in which the housing problem has been kicked around in Washington could be blamed if the "forgotten man" adopted an attitude of "I'll believe it when I see it."

The new housing program, according to reports, will be on the "must" list of early consideration by the lawmakers, but that "must" isn't as formidable as it sounds, for most Americans will remember that Mr. Truman was unable to get any action on a lot of "must" legislation in the first session of the 81st congress.

However, no one could be ruled out for trying, and if any successful housing venture should result, there would probably be an air of forgiveness all 'round.

THE LEGISLATION which the President is reported as ready to sponsor is said to rely mainly on private industry to do the job.

Talks for Hiss

Francis B. Sayre, former U. S. assistant secretary of state, testified that Alger Hiss, former state department attache who is on trial for perjury in connection with stolen secret documents, had a "very good" reputation for integrity and veracity in 1938 when Hiss was Sayre's "right hand man."

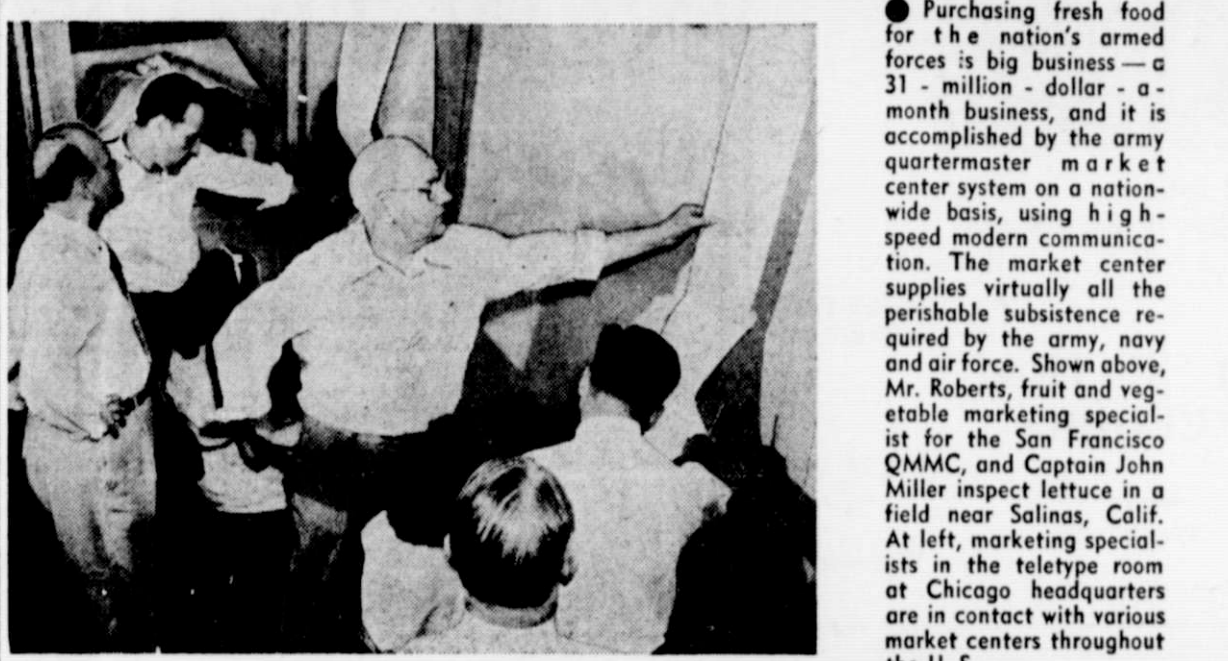

DIPLOMACY: Classes for Japs

As part of the policy of speeding readmission of Japan into the world family of nations, U. S. state department officials have disclosed that this nation soon will start training more "important" Japanese diplomats to aid in that effort.

It was disclosed at the same time that plans have been made to bring several hundred Japanese members of parliament, newsmen, government officials, and students.

The whole effort to help prepare Japan for democratic nationhood was speeded up, officials indicated since Dean Acheson, U.S. secretary of state, and Ernest Bevin, British foreign minister, announced last September that a final Pacific-war settlement was "urgent." Since then work has been diligently going forward in drafting the necessary treaties.

The new diplomatic training arrangement was worked out by the U. S. state and defense departments and General MacArthur's headquarters.

One of Two Sedans in 1950 Chevrolet Line

The Styleline, one of two individually designed sedans which have achieved immense popularity with Chevrolet owners, will have new beauty in 1950. Improved grille work, sturdier bumper guards and more tasteful ornamentation are some of the exterior improvements. New Chevrolet also offer increased power and comfort with the Powerglide automatic transmission as optional equipment on De Luxe models.

It's Big

Everything about a '50 Ford—except the price—says "Big car." You get more hip and shoulder room than any car in Ford's field. You get "big" power—"hushed" V-8 power. And you get a big car "feel," too, from Ford's low, level "Mid Ship" Ride.

It's Beautiful

With "Fashion Car" styling—this year more beautiful than ever... with new baked-on colors that are "built to live outdoors"... Ford looks the quality car, too. And, inside, sparkling, new upholstery fabrics make the '50 Ford a decorator's dream.

It's Buyable

Less money than you'd guess will put the keys of a '50 Ford in your pocket. A big V-8—for hundreds less than most "sixes"! And nowhere else—for any price—are you offered Ford's 13-way stronger "Life-guard" Body... and the other great features which add up to the new Ford "Feel."

SEE... HEAR... and FEEL the difference '50 FORD at your FORD DEALER'S

POWERGLIDE AUTOMATIC OVERDRIVE pays off in savings and smoothness of operation. It's an automatic fourth speed or overdrive gear. Engine speed drops 30% while the car speed remains unchanged. And should you require a hard shift, extra power, shift push through on the overdrive pedal and you return automatically to third gear.
