Kewaskum Upsets Champion Belles

Coach Ernie Mitchell's Kewaskum high school Indians pulled the upset of the season Friday night when they defeated Campbell'sport's Tri-County conference champions here, 41-39. The victory gave the Indians a tie for second place with Oakfield in the final standings. Each team won 9 and lost 3.

It was the veteran Campbell'sport team's second setback in 16 contests this season. And the Indians were forced to meet the Belles without their star guard and high scorer, Hilbert Justman, who was home for a week ill with the "flu." Without Justman little hope for a victory was held.

Campbell'sport took an early lead but lost it in the second quarter. The Indians led at the half, 22-16. The Belles went ahead by one point in the second half but lost out with a Kewaskum flurry at the start of the fourth quarter. Roger Wierman led the victors with 18 points while Andy Wondra scored 16 for the losers.

Kewaskum teams have stormed through the conference for championships for years in succession. However, last year all members of that great team were lost through graduation except one. The squad took the court this season with only one veteran and it looked like a sad year ahead. But Mitchell's young team of newcomers caught on quick and showed much improvement as the campaign went on until now they rate with the best in the conference. They did remarkably well in coping second place in a field of teams that had many veterans back.

FINAL STANDINGS

Team	Won	Lost
Campbell'sport	10	2
Kewaskum	9	3
Oakfield	9	3
North Fond du Lac	7	4
Rosendale	3	8
Brandon	3	9
Lomira	0	12

Kewaskum Hi-Lights

The Kewaskum high school band will be represented in Fond du Lac by three of its members who have been asked to play in the circus all-star band. The band, directed by Merle Evans, the leader of the Ringling Bros. band, will be made up of musicians from 21 cities and villages and will play for the Ayres-Kathryn Davies 16-act real circus.

ALL-STAR CIRCUS BAND

The three members from the K. H. S. band are Irene Kanless, Diane Schaefer and Ferd. Bueschel. The band will perform at 2:30 p. m. and 8 p. m. in the senior high school gym on Thursday, Feb. 23.

INDIANS TRIP BELLES

A capacity crowd filled the Kewaskum gym to watch the underdog Kewaskum team upset the champion Belles by a slim 2 points, 41-39. Even though they played without star guard Hilbert Justman, who was sick with flu, the Indian team put on a brilliant display of ball-handling that thrilled the home rosters. The Indians were out to win from the starting whistle and kept the Belle players harried and the lead wavering from side to side. At the half the Indians were ahead, 22-16, after having been four points behind at the end of the first quarter.

The fine play of Roger Wierman kept the Indians always very much in the game. Wierman was high scorer for the evening with 18 points. It was not, however, a one man game, for the game could not have been won without the fine play of every one of the Indians who saw action. The loss of this game was quite a jolt to the Belle team who will probably attempt to reverse positions with the Indians should they meet next week in tournament play.

DAR GIRL

Each year the Daughters of the American Revolution sponsor a Good Citizenship Pilgrimage. One senior girl is selected from each state and the District of Columbia as the outstanding good citizen to be awarded a $100 bond. The senior class chooses by vote three girls of the class whom they think best represent the qualities of a good citizen. The girls chosen this year were Pat Campbell, La Verne Spaeth, and Virginia Thull. These names were then submitted to the faculty for the final selection. This choice is based on dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. Of the three names submitted to the faculty, Virginia Thull's was selected as good citizen from Kewaskum high school. She will receive a questionnaire of ten questions which she will answer to the best of her ability. Based on these questionnaires, the winner of the good citizen award from Wisconsin will be selected.

Child Critically Hurt When Hit by Car

Richard Breit, three and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Breit, R. 2, Kewaskum, was struck by a car on Hwy. 28 last Thursday and was critically injured. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, and on Wednesday of this week there was still little change reported in his condition.

The child ran down an embankment and across the road directly into the path of an oncoming car. The driver of the car, Dale Gruendeman, 23, R. 1, Kewaskum, saw the child start across the road and applied his brakes but could not stop because of the ice-covered surface of the road.

A car driven by Elmer Eggebrecht, R. 3, Hartford, was attempting to pass a truck driven by Joseph Staller, R. 1, Kewaskum, Monday on Hwy. 41 when the two vehicles collided. Damage was minor.

Turning north onto Hwy. 55 from a driveway, a 1948 Chevrolet driven by Clarence Bingen, Kewaskum, was struck by a southbound 1937 Chevrolet driven by Robert Gavin, 23, Kewaskum. Gavin attempted to apply his brakes but skidded on the icy road and struck the other car in the left side. Damage was minor.

One person was slightly injured on Sunday morning at 10:30 when Joseph Reinders, 24, R. 5, West Bend, slowed his 1941 Hudson on Hwy. 33 to make a right turn and was struck by a 1941 Chevrolet driven by Harold Lehner, 24, R. 2, Kewaskum, who was traveling directly behind him.

Lakers Tip Plymouth Again, Also Waldo to Take Undisputed Lead

The Chevrolets faced a crucial test Wednesday night at Plymouth and came through like champions with a well earned 47-45 victory. Previously these teams were deadlocked for first place, each having lost but one contest although Kewaskum played more tilts. Wednesday's win gives the Chev's sole possession of the Lakes lead but they must play at Plymouth once more two weeks hence. The victory, Kewaskum's 12th of the campaign, was the second over Plymouth this year.

The team's high scoring Tessars, Johnny and Wayland, formed a duet that scored enough points to almost lick the opponents alone. They scored all but 2 of the Chevrolets' points. Johnny dropped in 21 and Wayland 18 for a combined total of 39. An odd part about it was the fact that Johnny netted 29 of his markers in the first half, being held to a lone free throw in the second half. When Plymouth stopped Johnny, then Wayland broke loose. He collected only 3 in the first half and made 15 in the second part. This is what makes the team hard to beat. Stop one man and somebody else rains thru through the hoops. Holfeltz, Flood and Galbari were the big point getters for the losers with 11, 10 and 9 respectively.

The game saw two good, well-matched teams battle it out. The contest was close, as a match of this kind should be, and both clubs played the best that was in them to win. Kewaskum was ahead at the half, 25-20, after trailing, 15-11, at the quarter. Each team made 11 free throws and each was charged with 17 fouls but the winners sank one more goal from the field.

The Chev's played a warmup contest for the Plymouth encounter here on Sunday night when they ran up 75 points in defeating Waldo in a Lakes tilt. Waldo's points totaled 54. Kewaskum began slowly with substitutes starting the game but with the regulars entering the game at the quarter they warmed up in a hurry and took a big lead. The Chev's led, 15-11, at the quarter, 40-26, at halftime, and 52-41 at the third period's end.

Johnny Tessar again led the field night against Waldo. He went on a 31-point scoring spree and easily capped scoring honors. He sank 14 goals and 3 charity shots. Behind him in the point department were Honeck with 16 and Wayland with 13. Jerry Mahlos did not play because of illness. Waldo also had a hot man in Jimmy Pokel, who hit from all over the place for 21 points and Nolte contributed 14.

Chairmen Announced For Red Cross Drive

The chairman of the 1950 Red Cross drive in the West Bend area, Atty. Michael J. Goring, Jr., this week announced the names of 15 chairmen whom he has appointed to aid him in directing the West Bend chapter's fund appeal.

Named as chairmen for the seven townships included in the area were Kenneth Schoenecker, town of West Bend; Mrs. William Jansen, town of Barton; Lee Flecker and Walter Liepert, town of Farmington; Theodore Schoofs, town of Kewaskum; Wilmer Bretschneider, town of Trenton, and George Peter and Mrs. William Coulter, town of Jackson. Goring revealed, has not yet been selected.

Goring named Rudy Pfeiffer, John Indermuelhe, and Henry Rosenheimer to serve as village chairmen of the villages of Barton, Jackson, and Kewaskum, respectively.

Named to serve as general chairman in the city of West Bend was David Rolfs. Rolfs will be assisted by William J. Marth, business chairman; Wilson L. Nicoll, industrial chairman, and Mrs. Ray Haebig and Mrs. Joe Weiss, residential chairmen.

Goring went on to announce that meetings of solicitors are now in the process of being arranged. At these meetings, the solicitors in the various precincts will be informed of their duties and requested to give their full co-operation to the precinct chairmen in their respective areas. Emphasizing the importance of the solicitors, Goring stated that only with their help can the drive be expected to reach all the people in the chapter area.

City, village, and township quotas for the 1950 drive will be announced next week, Goring declared. The drive is officially slated to get underway Mar. 1 and will continue through Mar. 31, he added.

Red Cross disaster aid was given to 225,509 persons last year and $6,574,711 was spent for the domestic disaster relief program alone. The disasters during the fiscal year in which the Red Cross participated killed 530 persons, injured 4,412 others, and destroyed or damaged 19,553 buildings. Red Cross chapters provided relief assistance in 271 counties, including Washington county, in 45 states, and was also active in Alaska. Already in 1950, Red Cross workers are giving aid, financial and otherwise, to flood victims in the Northwest, Midwest, and South who have been driven from their homes by rivers swollen to flood stage by unseasonable rains. If the wide range of Red Cross services are to continue as in the past, the present year's drive cannot be allowed to fail.

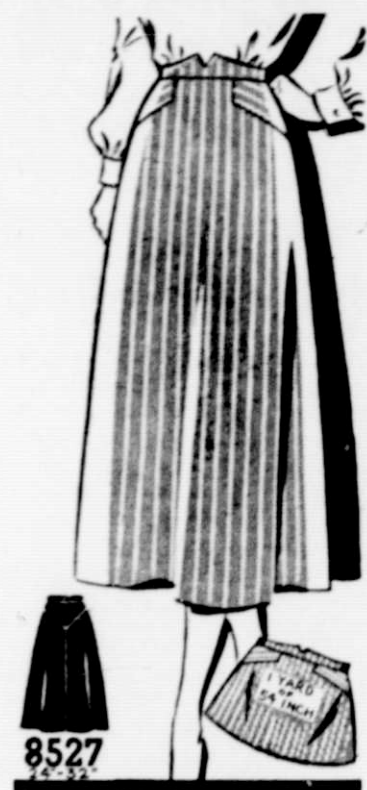

"If we are to succeed, we will need the wholehearted support of everyone in the West Bend chapter area. This chapter has always been among the first in the entire state to attain its quota. We hope we will be able to continue that record during the coming drive," Goring concluded.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET The Truth May Make You Free But Watch Out How You Use It

By BILLY ROSE

One night when I dropped into Jerry's for a firkin of foam, Long George Smiley and Sid "The Inch" Perry were at the bar as usual. As unusual, however, they were not arguing with each other but with the bartender.

"The truth never hurt anybody," said the bartender, "and the truth is I'm on the hook for 63 beers. And until you gentlemen settle up, there ain't gonna be no 64th."

"Look," said The Inch, "you're a downtrodden worker yourself, and when you turn down another worker's request for a bowl of suds, you're committing class suicide."

"For three weeks successive," said the bartender, "you gentlemen have been promising to pay up, and if it wasn't against the rules to insult a customer, I'd say you liars were making free with the truth."

"What's wrong with a lie now and then?" said Long George. "It wasn't for a little banana oil, the wheels of our crummy civilization would come to a dead stop."

"You couldn't be more wrong," said the bartender. "A wise man tells the truth on any and all occasions."

"If you'll excuse my elegance," said The Inch, "that's a lot of pig shampoo."

"I CONCUR with my friend," said Long George. "Look at what happened to Hogan, the trucker, when he got mixed up with the verities. A couple of months ago, a friend tipped him off that his wife was dating a kid who worked in the brewery, and instead of making like the three little monkeys, he hired a detective to follow her."

When he learned his missus had been sneaking off to a dime dance hall to jiggerbug with the young man, he confronted her with the fulsome facts, and a few scrappy minutes later his wife was packed and on her way back to her mother's house in Canarsie.

"Served her right," said the bartender. "Besides which," said George, "nobody has heard him say a word against his wife. But the finagling friend who tipped him off—well, he's got an eye you couldn't cover with an eight-dollar steak."

"You've got a point, maybe," said the bartender, "but I still insist there's nothing like the truth, and the truth is you gentlemen get no more beer."

"THE TRUTH, I'd like to point out," said Long George, "is probably the most incendiary thing man has discovered since he learned how to rub two little sticks together. And if the case of Hogan isn't enough, let me give you another for instance: The gent in congress who recently insisted on inspecting Fort Knox to make sure the 20 billion in bullion hadn't been hypnotized by the Fair Dealers."

"Why shouldn't he inspect?" said the bartender. "It's in the public interest."

"You amaze and sadden me," said The Inch. "Suppose, due to a subterranean earthquake or some interplanetary shuffling, the congressman had found nothing at Fort Knox but a big hole in the ground.

"Which proves what?" said the bartender. "Which proves," said Long George, "that truth, like dynamite, shouldn't be tossed around carelessly. If my friend and I sometimes misrepresent about setting our tab, it is only to spare you pain."

The bartender took a couple of beer glasses, wiped them, and then put them away. "You know," he said, "I never thought about it that way before, and it almost makes me ashamed of myself to have to throw you gentlemen out."

Careful attention to the need for purchasing proved varieties of seed is one of the major factors in securing quality yields like the corn shown here.

Each fall, reports are received of less responsible salesmen and mail order advertisements selling new varieties, often at high prices, that may not be as good as our common varieties.

Most experiment stations test in their plots most all the new grain varieties developed by plant breeders in the north central states and Canada that offer promise of being adapted. By consulting county extension agents about a new variety of seed, farmers can find out if it has been tested and is recommended for your area.

The trick is turned regularly by some chickens at Cornell University. Dr. J. H. Bruckner, head of the poultry husbandry department, says the color actually varies in light shades of both green and blue depending on how much brown pigment is present.

A Prayer by GRACE NOLL CROWELL

MY Lord, I pray that through today I may walk patiently, Forgetting not that Thy dear hand Is leading me.

I know not what Thy wisdom, Lord, May choose for me today; What the long hours may hold for me I cannot say.

I only know that I may go Unquestioningly with Thee, Remembering that what Thou wilt Is best for me.

For Thou, O Lord, canst see the end, While I but see the way— Help me to walk it patiently Throughout today.

The Fiction GARDEN SEQUENCE By Richard H. Wilkinson

BRYANT DREAMED a dream. He was in a garden. A beautiful girl sat on a white marble bench, and smiled at him across a pool filled with goldfish and pond lilies. Bright sunshine filtered down through shade trees and reflected the gold in the girl's hair.

Bryant knew that, according to all good dreams, he was supposed to do something—possibly to walk around the pool and bow gallantly before the girl.

He began to wonder if he didn't look somewhat like an idiot standing there.

It was then that he heard footsteps on the flagstone path that connected the garden with the wide, screened-in porch of the house. He looked up to find Laura, his sister, coming into the garden. He was glad that Laura had come. For Laura knew all about dreams and could tell him what to do.

"Bryant!" Laura exclaimed, stopping on the pool's edge, and looking from him to the girl, "whatever in the world are you standing here for? Why, you're positively rude. Doris must think my brother is stupid!"

Oh, yes, that was it. It was all working out fine now. Laura had asked her college roommate, Doris La Plante, down for the week-end. Of course, that was she. How stupid of him.

So Bryant walked around the pool and was introduced. He looked deep into the twin black pools that were Doris' eyes, and apologized. His voice sounded odd, but that, of course, was because he was thinking that there was the girl he had been waiting for.

Then he almost groaned aloud. Doris had looked up and said it was quite all right and she really should have introduced herself, but he added so much to the scene,

Bryant slowly put his arm about her slim shoulders, standing over there so straight and silent. It was the sound of her voice that made Bryant groan; for he remembered that it was all a dream and that Doris would soon be gone.

Then suddenly it was night, and Youth Wounds Girl Friend Because She Wore Sweaters. BATONNE, N.J.—Because his 14-year-old girl friend "wouldn't stop wearing sweaters," a 16-year-old youth shot her.

The police said that was the reason given them when they questioned the youth. The girl was taken to a local hospital for treatment of a 22 caliber bullet wound. The boy was held on an open charge. He told officers he disliked his girl wearing sweaters.

DECISION... Six of jury that named Alger Hiss guilty.

Farmers Ask Data On Crop Varieties Proper Choice of Seed Held First Requisite

Farmers, with this year's harvest out of the way, are looking toward 1950 and seedling time, county extension agents report.

Many farmers are asking county extension agents about new varieties of crops.

As a rule, the county agent's answer to farmers is this: "Before buying seed of any new variety it is good business to be sure it is recommended and suited to the locality in which you live. The new variety should be at least as good, or better, than varieties you have been growing."

Reliable seed dealers and their agents can usually be depended upon to offer you only proved new varieties of grain, he says. But

Hens Not Properly Fed Won't Lay Many Eggs "Where does the feed go?" That is the question most poultrymen ask, says Kermit Schlamb, North Dakota assistant poultry husbandman. It is a recognized fact, he points out, that unless a hen is fed properly she will eat, but won't lay many eggs.

He stated that "a flock of 100 five-pound hens requires about 125 pounds of well-balanced feed per week just to keep in good shape.

Purchase of Good Boar Important to Profits One of the best things a farmer can do if he is trying to improve his swine herd is to buy a good boar. That's the opinion of G. R. Carlisle, extension livestock specialist in the Illinois college of agriculture.

He added that the important point in selecting a boar is to make sure the animal is healthy. The boar should be tested for Bang's disease.

NO POTATOES WILL BE DUMPED IN WISCONSIN

Walter F. Katterhenry, chairman of the Wisconsin Production and Marketing committee, stated this week that no potatoes purchased in Wisconsin under the federal price support program have been dumped. According to state PMA office records, the 361 carloads of potatoes purchased under the 1949 price support program in Wisconsin through Dec. 31, 1949, have been disposed of as follows: Wisconsin school lunch and institutions, 67 cars; out of state school lunch and institutions, 65 cars; and 229 cars to Wisconsin farmers for livestock feed.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Announces U.S. Will Add Hydrogen Bomb to Arms Program; Major Housing Plan Is Envisioned

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

H-BOMBS:

Time of Decision

One of the most important decisions in world history had been put up to Harry S. Truman. Should he order construction of the hydrogen bomb?

When, after a respectable period of deliberation, he did make up his mind, the President expressed his decision in the most matter-of-fact manner possible!

The U. S. would continue its development and production of all types of military weapons, including atomic armaments and the so-called hydrogen bomb. That statement, probably intentionally cryptic, may or may not have meant that the U. S. already has begun work on the H-bomb.

Only one thing was sure—it was a terribly important decision, not only to Mr. Truman but to every person in the world.

IT WASN'T the cost of the bomb that was a poser, even though that was expected to be in the neighborhood of four billion dollars. It wasn't a doubt as to whether it could be made, for science declared it could. It wasn't a hesitancy about its effect, for if an enemy decided to, and could, construct the bomb, any experiments on the part of the U. S. to make and test it would be justified.

No, it was none of these that aggravated the responsibility and the solemnity of the decision. Instead, it was the question of life and death involved and even more terrible, if purely speculative, question: Might not man be unleashing a force which would destroy all mankind?

THE PREPONDERANCE of persuasion was by those advocating the bomb. Sen Millard Tydings (D., Md.), chairman of the armed services committee gave voice to what the majority of presidential advisers was thinking.

He urged that the U. S. proceed with manufacture of the bomb, declaring that failure to do so could invite attack. But President Truman was probably thinking of the horrible and utter devastation, the incalculable deaths, the vast destruction which would be hurled upon enemy and innocent alike.

BROTHERHOOD:

Renewed Effort

Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will be observed from February 19-26, marking the annual observance of an event that has grown into national significance.

In accepting the honorary chairmanship of Brotherhood Week, President Truman urged "all Americans to ponder well the true meaning of brotherhood" adding that "there probably has never been a time in history when true brotherhood was so indispensable to the welfare of our own nation and to the peace and freedom of the entire world."

IN A SIMILAR VEIN, former Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan, named general chairman of the national observance, interpreted this year's event. "The big question today is whether the human spirit will remain free or whether it is to be enslaved by totalitarianism," Sullivan declared. "The dignity of man is on trial throughout the world," he continued, "and the fate of our civilization may well depend upon the outcome. It will survive only if the ideal of man's inalienable rights is acknowledged, respected and strengthened."

First established in 1934 by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Brotherhood Week has been celebrated each year during the week of George Washington's birthday as a special period when the people of all faiths in the United States are invited to consider together the need and implications of good will among Protestants, Catholics and Jews.

IN 1934, some 300 communities across the United States participated in Brotherhood Week events; in 1942 there were 800 communities.

In 1944 the number spiraled to 2,000. The figure today is impossible to estimate, according to Sullivan, so widespread is the desire of Americans of all faiths to demonstrate their loyalty to the basic ideals of respect for people and human rights which are essential to our way of life.

As observed with growing community participation each year, Brotherhood Week dramatizes the practical things which people can do to promote understanding and realization of time-honored American principles.

DOUGLAS: Rumor Scotched

Rumors that Lewis Douglas would not return to England as U. S. ambassador were scotched by Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, who denied knowing anything about such reports. Told by a reporter of the stories saying Douglas would not return to his post, Ross remarked: "Your informants have better information than the President. I don't know anything about it."

Steel Defender

Benjamin Fairless, president of U. S. steel, testified before a joint congressional economic committee in defense of the recent increases in the price of steel. He called the rise "modest," laid the blame largely on union pensions.

HOUSING:

$8,000 Units

Could the American individual in search of a new home afford to pay $8,000 for it? Federal housing officials believe that to be a fair figure and Raymond M. Foley, housing administrator, explained to the house banking committee a bill for federal housing aid based on that premise.

FOLEY STATED that the administration is considering construction, through cooperatives and other non-profit organizations, of some 250,000 housing units on an average cost of $8,000 each.

The homes envisioned in the program would be for families with annual cash incomes of $2,800 and $4,000. One third of the urban families of the nation had incomes within that "middle-income" range in 1948.

The endeavor, even in the eyes of the severest critics, appeared laudable, but with the cost of living as it is and high income taxes for families without above-average exemptions, would still put the $8,000 home out of reach of many.

AS AN INSTANCE of that supposition, Foley said average monthly payments would be about $69. That's $628 a year. Add a $1,000 food, meat and milk bill, and the total outlay for the new home owner is $1,828. This would leave the $2,800 a year man $972. Taking average figures, utilities, health costs, insurance, clothing, transportation (there would be nothing with which to pay for a car) recreation and incidentals would amount to about $516. This would leave some $400, or less than $40 a month with which to meet emergencies or other needs.

So, it is easily apparent that the $8,000 house, the $69 monthly payment and cost-of-living items would run the $2,800-a-year man so close to the edge, that he'd hardly have anything left for a pack of butts each week.

HOMELESS: Break for DP's

An easement of the present law which limits entry of displaced persons into the United States to 205,000 in the two-year period ending June 30, this year, has been approved by the Senate judiciary committee.

THAT GROUP voted to permit 320,000 homeless foreigners to enter this country by June 30, 1951. This includes the approximately 124,000 who already have entered.

The committee voted by 10 to 3 to approve a bill which would make other changes in the present DP law which President Truman has urged.

For example, it would shift the date by which displaced persons must have entered European DP camps to be eligible for entry into this country. The present law fixed the date for December, 1945. The bill which the committee approved would change that to January 1, 1949.

THE ACTION came on the eve of the date which the senate had ordered the committee to report out a DP bill.

The house bill has been approved by the committee over the protests of Chairman McCarran (D., Nev.), who was in Europe at the time. After a heated floor fight, the senate sent the measure back to committee.

DRAFT LAW: Bickering Starts

Atomic stockpiles . . . hydrogen bombs . . . billions for defense . . . incredible speed in the air . . . all these added up to a readily apparent conception that U.S. policy is committed to a course which believed that he is "best defended who is best armed."

The question was: Would the compulsory military service system be retained? The question of manpower remained an intangible factor.

Already there was important argument about it. Chairman Vinson (D., Ga.) of the house armed services committee served notice that he believes congress should have "exclusive power" to say whether the draft should be put into effect.

LABOR:

Cry of 'Foul'

Labor is never so vocal as when it feels its own particular rights and privileges are being stepped on. This was evidenced by the cries emanating from Miami Beach, Fla., where angry AFL leaders charged that Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the national labor relations board, was campaigning to apply the anti-trust laws to big labor unions.

IT ALWAYS has been puzzling to the average American why labor itself is not subject to some governmental control—such as business and industry encounter in their operations. The average American's sense of fair play—were no other factors involved—would cause him to puzzle over that.

Denham catapulted himself into the AFL's bad graces in a speech before the American Trucking Association. In that address, he singled out the AFL teamsters union with which the truckers do business. He said the teamsters have a tremendous "potential power" to paralyze the country with simultaneous trucking strikes over the nation.

DAN TOBIN, president of the teamsters, and William Green, AFL president, contended that Denham's views were unfounded and pointed out that the teamsters have had no "serious strikes for several years" and none now of which they were "aware."

The AFL council charged Denham has stamped himself by his speeches as the "antagonist of organized labor and the protagonist of the employers."

Then they advocated he be thrown out of his job, particularly because he suggested "certain labor unions are monopolistic."

Words oftentimes are convenient things: one can become all things to all men, as viewpoint or strategy directs.

DEFENSE:

A Contradiction

A slight confusion seemed to be the chief thing which could be read into the first annual report by Defense Secretary Louis Johnson on the activities and findings of his department.

WITH ONE breath, Secretary Johnson warned that an attack on this country "could come from the opposite hemisphere without warning and with unpredictable fury."

In the next, he expressed belief that the prospect of war is diminishing despite the Russian attitude of belligerence.

Other than its further identification of America's first potential enemy, the secretary's report held little of excitement or import. It was encouraging to find that he was convinced that the military strength of the U. S. is a major deterrent in the start of a shooting war by any other nation. That conclusion would come as a comforting confirmation of the belief of many millions of Americans that a policy of armed strength at home is the best assurance against threats from abroad.

AFTER REPORTING on expenses of his department, military, diplomatic activities, and other functions, the defense secretary declared his belief that while he did not discount the damage done to unification of the armed services, he believes "that the extent of these conflicts has been exaggerated."

He also reported, parenthetically as it were, that Russia now has the secret of the atom bomb a fact with which everyone in the U. S. is all too familiar for any degree of comfort.

New Post

Maj. Gen. Gordon P. Saville, often called the "father of radar," has been named deputy chief of staff to hear the air force's new research and development command, a staff section charged with long range planning for military aircraft of the future.

Life Expectancy

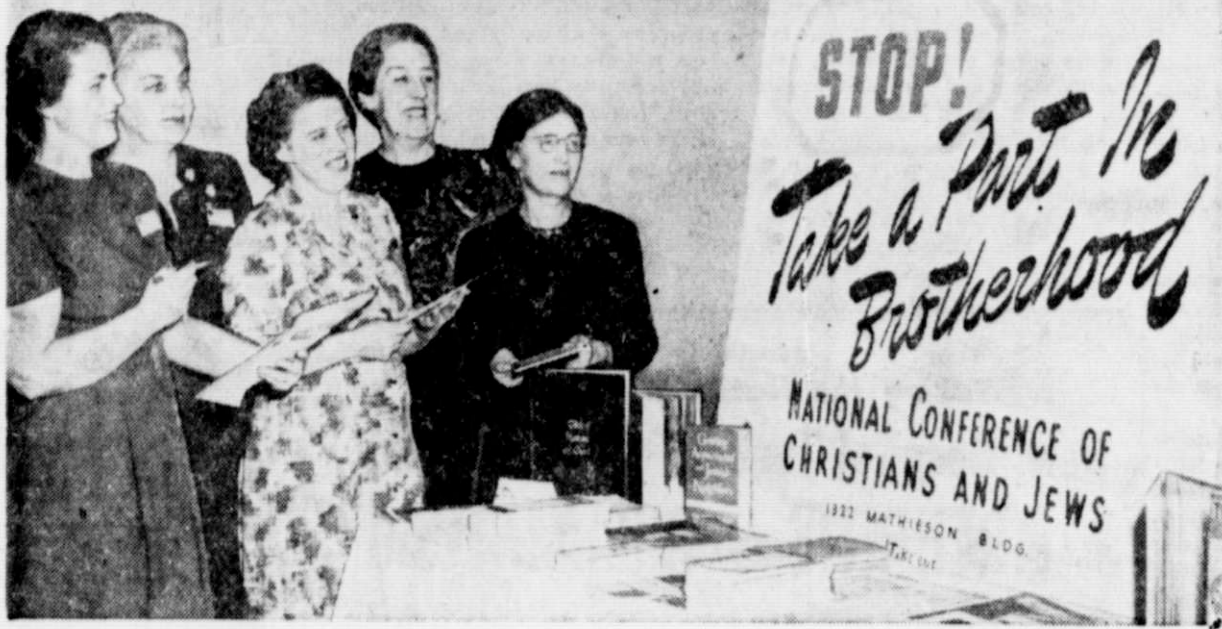

Perhaps it's indicative, perhaps it isn't—but, for whatever it's worth in life expectancy computation, it's a fact that the United States has more than 3,000 people who are more than 100 years old.

It wasn't too many years ago that life insurance companies on their annuity tables had everybody dead at 96. In other words, that was the extreme age at which anyone was supposed to be around.

It is generally conceded by experts in the field that two things are vital factors in helping people to live beyond the century mark, or far beyond the normal life expectancy. These two things are said to be discoveries in medical science, including that branch of medicine called geriatrics—the science of aging—and newer knowledge of nutrition. Medical science is adding years to life.

Science says that food and health habits from middle age on determine whether one will have a healthy old age.

BROTHERHOOD

Maryland PTA leaders, representing a membership of 56,400, arrange a Brotherhood Week display at their state convention, an activity typical of PTA's all over the nation and one from which more than 2,000 people benefitted.

While attainment of world "brotherhood" has appeared as chimerical as the Holy Grail, men and women of goodwill everywhere are constantly seeking it. This is evidenced by observance annually of Brotherhood week sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. In the photo at left, Jane Froman, singer, receives a Brotherhood Week award. In the bottom photo, girls of many religions and national backgrounds join in the universal language of song.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Something's Cooking

IT LOOKS like an explosion was brewing inside the Republican party.

A senator's short plus troubled questions are portents of trouble. The short came from that merry old soul of Republican conservatism, the delightful and brainy Eugene Millikin, Colorado, at an outraged gathering of minority senators.

Senator Millikin, an important looking man with a huge, bald head, listened with an amused twinkle to gripes hurled at the Republican national committee. Then he snorted: "The trouble with the national committee is they are living in an antediluvian age."

Coming from millionaire Senator Millikin, this is extremely significant, yet it's typical of the reaction of moderate Republicans to the high, wide and handsome campaign by the party's right wing against "me-tooism."

Another troubled question was raised recently by Vic Johnston, conscientious man-of-all-work for the GOP congressional campaign committee. He inquired of Republican friends: "What can I tell my son? He wrote from college that he's considering leaving the Republican party because he thinks it does not offer anything for youth."

"Progressives"

Advice Unheeded

Two "Progressive" Republicans have answers, but so far they haven't been listened to. Scholarly Sen. Irving Lyles of New York advises: "To attract the support essential for success, we Republicans must stand for things. We must show that we have genuine solicitude for the welfare of all the people. The reactionaries are living in a dream world and can only destroy the Republican party at a time when there is a tragic need for an intelligent opposition to the Fair Deal."

Similar advice comes from the young, hard-hitting Massachusetts senator, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., who says: "We need a positive program to win elections."

Other Rumbles

Other signs of the coming explosion are:

1.) "WILD BILL" Langer, the bull-throated independent from North Dakota, was calmly eating in the senate restaurant when GOP leader Ken Wherry stroled by. The mere sight of Wherry aroused Langer to an angry snarl. "They're trying to read me out of the party," he said, "and there goes one of the so-and-so's who'd like to do it. But I'll show them. I've been stomping up and down North Dakota and the people don't want to go back to McKinley."

2.) REPUBLICAN regulars in Oregon, backed up by lumber interests and a $150,000 campaign kitty, are preparing a 90-day "blitzkrieg" against progressive Sen. Wayne Morse in the GOP primary.

3.) LAST STRAW for many Republicans in congress was a demand that they buy blocks of tickets for the Lincoln day "box supper" at the Uline arena in Washington. Senator Morse sent the tickets back with a note, "I cannot afford to spend this money. I need it in my own campaign, and I am quite sure I will not receive any financial support from the national committee."

Acidly commented Senator Lodge: "This is a new low from the high of Abraham Lincoln. There are too many big-time lobbyists mixed up in this affair. This is not the way to win confidence in the party."

NOTE — What GOP strategists seem to forget is that in order to win elections they have to woo away Democratic votes. It isn't enough merely to get the same number of Republican voters. The man most successful in winning Democratic votes has been Gov. Earl Warren of California, who, when last elected, had both the Democratic and the Republican nominations.

"Honest, Honey"

Vice-President Barkley was introducing his lovely wife at a sumptuous dinner in the office of his good friend, Senate Secretary Les Biffle. The Veep came to Biffle's secretary, bowed and said, "This is Betty Darling."

With a twinkle and a wink at Mrs. Darling, Barkley said merrily, "That's her name, honest, honey."

Di Salle Is Comer

Mike Di Salle, vigorous young mayor of Toledo, was shot out of the cannon with a bang in the Ohio senatorial race. On the same day he announced, Di Salle grabbed the potent support of Mayor Tom Burke of Cleveland.

Result will be a rough-and-tumble scrap for the Democratic nomination between Di Salle, who had made labor peace history with his Toledo management council, and "Jumpin' Joe" Ferguson, the state auditor.

Just Kids

A back room in the Capitol offers proof that senators are kids at heart.

Some are furtive about it, some bold, some shy, but they all like to drop into the office of Joe Duke, the boyish senate sergeant-at-arms, to diddle with the array of toys on Joe's desk. The array includes a gray mechanical burro whose long ears and fuzzy gray tail flap wildly when wound up; a grinning clay donkey whose head nods waggishly for 20 minutes; a wind-up cowboy.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

No Science Of Marriage By Lawrence Gould

Is there a science of marriage?

Answer: No, says Dr. Arthur N. Foxe in the Psychiatric Quarterly Supplement. But there is an "art of marrying" which is different from and more important than the art of getting married. This involves choosing a wife or husband, not on a purely "romantic" basis—since the romance that comes before marriage is less realistic than that which develops later—but because you know the person of your choice has a background, character, and "goals" that harmonize with yours. A psychiatrist who knows this art can teach it to his patients.

suit of his goal, the genius is apt to be ruthless, and particularly if he is an artist, the goal itself may take no account of moral values. Apart from such fields as medical research, if the genius is a useful citizen, it is by accident or indirect.

"There will be gold-plated vanity case," the description adds. Nonsense! Harry can't have softened up that much.

Another feature is "panoramic visibility." Harry can see ahead with no more than the usual trouble he encounters, and if Taft, Dewey or Hank Wallace are following behind he can watch them.

Then there is central point steering, making it easier to turn in any direction, a great advantage in Washington today. The President hasn't been having any trouble in that respect, however.

There will be the latest non-skid tires, especially useful when journeying through the slippery streets of a cold war and not at all bad when the car sinks up to the hubs somewhere between Chiang Kai-shek and General Mao.

The automobile desk will be nifty and helpful, but in a luxurious car like that Harry is going to feel awfully queer writing a plank about a balanced budget.

Other features include wide seats, giving ample room for the President, his military aid and all the medals; hydraulic brakes to bring the car to a full stop between the point of a decision to act in a coal strike and the point where he gets a frown from John L. Lewis; and special shock absorbers to take up the recoil if he hits a depression in the road or in the business outlook.

The extra headroom for a high hat may be a mistake. The Republicans can make the great campaign stuff out of that. Change the order to a car with regulation headroom, Harry! When a man steps out of a car wearing a silk hat today, the more battered it is the better.

Send my case straight to the jury. Spare me a hostile twist; Call in anyone to help me... But, please, NO PSYCHIATRIST!

The Once Over by H.I. Phillips

NEW CAR FOR THE PRESIDENT

PRESIDENT TRUMAN is getting a super limousine with gold-plated gadgets, a writing desk, special upholstery and room for a high hat. If Harry is smart he will have a quick convertible old-fashioned railroad train platform attached and carry a spare soft hat.

He was studying the budget when asked what color and he snapped without hesitation, "Anything but RED."

The new presidential auto has everything including a horn which won't work when approaching Republicans.

The bumpers will be inside the car. Where Harry needs 'em most especially if listening to advisers on Formosa policy.

YE GOTHAM BUGLE & BANNER

Seeing those big cruisers being moved from the motorboat show reminded ye ed of the time he bought a 38-footer at the show and, nervously following its removal across town in a blizzard, saw it wedged between the elevated railroad and a taxi. That's how nervous breakdowns are born! Lowell Thomas is still on crutches but retains the spirit of youth.

An auto has been driven 150 miles on a gallon of gas. An overdrive, special carburetor and tires inflated to 110 pounds were necessary. We assume that if the driver had walked beside the car instead of riding he could have gotten another two miles.

A car that can get 150 miles to a gallon is an urgent need, however. You can't find a place to park without driving that much.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS by Lynn Chambers

Youngsters Should Have An Opportunity to Cook, Learn About Food Items

MOTHERS who give their children a chance to work in the kitchen with actual foods as they're supposed to be served contribute highly to bringing up good and helpful adults. Theirs aren't the daughters who are all thumbs when it comes to preparing their first meal after marriage, nor are their sons inept at tossing together a salad to help out a new bride!

Most youngsters actually like cooking, and during growing years can be really helpful to mother, if they're given the opportunity to learn.

It's a smart idea to plan an occasional simple menu which the teen-agers in the family can take over completely. Start out by having them prepare one or two dishes on the menu, and it won't be long before they're saying, "Move over, Mother, we'll take dinner preparation off your hands."

SPAGHETTI is a favorite dish for teen-agers to prepare. Here's one made with salami that needs only a tossed green salad and fresh or canned fruit to complete the menu.

Quick Italian Spaghetti (Serves 6-8)
1/2 pound salami
Lard or drippings for browning
1 cup onions, chopped
1 cup fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 tablespoon flour
1 1/2 cups tomato juice
1 cup water
1 1/2 teaspoons worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons parsley, minced
1/4 green pepper, chopped
6-8 ounces uncooked spaghetti

Brown onions and mushrooms lightly in drippings. Cut 1/2 of salami into 8 thin slices and grind or chop other half. Blend into the onion mixture the chopped salami and flour. Add tomato juice, diluted with water and seasonings. Simmer 25 minutes. Add parsley and green pepper and cook 5 minutes longer. In the meantime cook spaghetti in boiling, salted water until tender. To serve, make a ring of the cooked spaghetti on platter and pour spaghetti sauce in center. Circle with sliced salami.

MEAT LOAF lends itself easily to preparation by novices in the kitchen. Here's one made mainly with ham and fortified with other meat and bread.

"Ham Loaf" (Serves 10)
1 1/2 pounds ground ham shank
1/2 pound ground beef, lamb or veal
4 slices bread, flaked
2 eggs

Soften bread in milk. Add to meat mixture. Mix thoroughly. Shape into loaf. Bake in moderate oven for 1 1/2 hours.

To make shell, blend crumbs, sugar and butter and pack firmly into bottom and sides of nine-inch pie pan. Bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 10 minutes. Cool.

To make filling, separate eggs and beat yolks. Combine yolks, milk, 1/4 cup sugar and salt. Cook and stir over hot water until mixture coats the spoon. Remove from heat. Soften gelatin in orange juice, then dissolve in hot mixture. Add rind and lemon juice. Cool until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff and gradually beat in remaining sugar. Fold into cooled mixture. Top with remaining slices. Chill until firm.

Banana-Apricot Fluff (Serves 6-8)
1 package orange-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups thinly sliced bananas (2 to 3 whole)
1/2 cup apricot puree
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add sugar, salt and orange juice. Chill until cold and syrupy. Combine bananas and apricot puree; add to gelatin mixture. Beat with rotary beater until thick and fluffy like whipped cream. Chill and serve.

Fried foods should be well drained before serving so they are not excessively greasy. Use crumpled absorbent paper such as toweling arranged on a baking pan or a colander.

For shallow frying in a skillet, have at least 1 1/2 inches of melted fat or oil in the pan before placing the food in to cook.

Pan-broiling a cut of meat means that it is cooked in a skillet or frying pan without the use of extra fat. Make certain the pan is hot before placing in chops or steaks.

When a recipe calls for caramelized sugar, use a heavy frying pan. Place the sugar in the skillet over medium heat, stir constantly until it melts and forms a golden brown syrup.

To lard a piece of meat or fish means to insert pieces of fat such as salt pork into gashes cut into the meat, fish or fowl.

If you have to brush meat or dough with melted fat or oil, save your hands by employing a small pastry brush for the purpose or a crumpled piece of paper.

Apple-sausage corn bread is a main dish which the whole family will appreciate, but it's easy enough for a beginner to prepare. The recipe is simple, the results impressive. Served with a green vegetable and a relish plate of carrot strips, celery, pickles and olives, then topped with a simple dessert, this main dish will give a well-balanced meal.

GIVE THE TEEN-AGERS desserts which are easy to prepare, but which look special when they're finished. Everyone likes to turn out desserts which are pretty as a picture.

"Sunshine Peach Pie" (Serves 6-8)
Crumb Shell:
1 1/4 cups fine sugar-honey graham cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
1/2 cup melted butter

1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 cups canned cling peaches

Effective Cough Syrup, Home-Mixed for Extra Economy

Saves Big Dollars. No Cooking. This splendid recipe is used by millions because it makes such an effective medicine for coughs due to colds. It's so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any drugstore get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial irritations.

Then make a syrup with two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and fill with your syrup. This makes a full pint of cough medicine, very effective and quick-acting, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

This cough syrup takes hold of coughs, giving quick relief. It loosens phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, helps clear air passages. Money refunded if Pinex doesn't please.
