Good news for you this winter!

New Shell Fuel Oil contains a unique ingredient FOA-5X, especially developed to keep filter screens clean during the entire heating season. Clogged filter screens have long been recognized as a major cause of oil burner service calls.

Shell Scientists worked for 15 years

Twelve years of Shell research have gone into the development of FOA-5X. And 3 additional years were spent testing it in thousands of homes with burner units of all types and with only normal summer maintenance. In every test the result was the same: not a single case of burner failure due to a clogged filter screen was reported!

FOA-5X helps keep your Fuel Tank from Rusting More news too: new Shell

Fuel Oil with FOA-5X has powerful anti-rust action . . . which retards the formation of rust and scale inside your storage tank.

ARMS RACE: Suicide Road

A solemn warning that an arms race between the United States and Russia beckons annihilation was issued by Dr. Albert Einstein. Appearing on a television show, Einstein, hailed as the world's greatest mathematician and one of the great physicists of the world, declared the arms contest now underway is assuming "hysterical" proportions on both sides.

ONE of the chief contributors to the final development of the atomic bomb, Einstein declared that "the means to mass destruction are perfected with feverish haste behind the respective walls of secrecy. The peared to be a real blow into which H-bomb appears on the public horizon as a probably attainable goal and its accelerated development has been solemnly proclaimed y the President."

Then he uttered the punch line: "Armed security is an illusion if successful, radioactive poisoning of the atmosphere and hence annihilation of any life on earth has the newspaper series. Costello was been brought within the range of technical possibilities."

To implement that conclusion, he said: "The ghostlike character of this development lies in its appar- link him with top-flight gambling ently compulsory trend. Every step appears as the unavoidable consequence of the preceding one. In the end, there beckons more and more nd more general annihilation." FEW MEN could speak with more ompelling authority on that subject than the white-haired, brillianteyed, venerable scientist who has contributed so much to the sum of man's knowledge. But each time civilization has been wont to attempt applification enforcement. through war, there has been little disposition to listen to those voices who would cry out a warning

GI SCHOOLS:

Abuse End Asked The fantastic, preposterous elements in the GI school program had just about run their course. Ballroom dancing, bartending, even a lot of individual flight training by ex-GI's who would never own an airplane or have occasion to need one, were on the way out, apparently, as part of the accepted GI ol training program.

NO LESS A FIGURE than President Truman himself handed con gress a catalog of abuses under this year's 2.75-billion-dollar GI education program and urged the egislators to clamp down.

Mr. Truman asked specifically for legislation to prevent "infertraining of that type which is likely to do the veteran little appreciable good. His report showed that 761 milion dollars already has been added the estimated cost of the GI chooling program for the current fiscal year ending June 30, and attributed this to increased enrollment for trade, vocational and other schools below college level. THE PRESIDENT declined to say just how much might be saved by a careful scrutiny of the pro-

COAL DISPUTE:

Strikes vs. Courts

If the recent coal strike did nothing else, it may have set in motion forces that will bring about a determination for all time of the power of the courts of the land to deal with big walkouts.

It is true that John L. Lewis, under pressure of the law, capitulated and ordered the miners back to work; but when he gave the order the miners were defiant and no one knew whether they would return to the pits in sufficient numbers to ease the production situa-

THE BIG QUESTION in the minds of most Americans was: What can be done about it? If the miners didn't want to work, who could make them return to the pits? In this still-free land, men can work or quit without penalty under the law. But could their union be punished because its mem bers quit as a group, since the law says a union is responsible for the acts of its "agents."

If that were the attempted remedy, the question surely would be raised: Were the miners acting as individuals in pursuit of their individual rights in working, or must they be regarded as "agents" of the union in their decision?

It was a torturous question and one certain to provide a classic case for the courts.

Of course if Lewis and the operators, under order of the court to resume bargaining, were to reach an agreement, the question would become a moot one. But under the recurrent stress of coal strikesand usually at a time when coal stockpiles are lowest-the result may be the writing of some new law, or court-decision approach to break up the continual crises which hamstring production and contribute to widespread unemployment and consequent suffering.

Frankly Fancy Is This Chocolate Torte (See Recipes Below)

Party Desserts

WHEN it's your turn to entertain the club for dessert, or when you plan a nice dinner, what you most want is a dessert that will really make a big hit.

Luscious cakes, fancy pastry or elegant lady finger and whipped cream concoctions are very much in order when you entertain in this way. Don't let your list of fancy deslist of fancy desserts get down too low, or you may spend half a day trying to find something suitable. . . .

ANY LEFT-OVER torte will keep for several days in the refrigerator, in fact once you have made this recipe you will include it in the refrigerator as an emergency dessert for unexpected guests. The wholesome goodness of the ingredients, fresh butter and eggs, makes it one that can be served to mixed groups and people of all ages.

Orange Refrigerator Pudding (Serves 6)

1/2 cup sugar 2 teaspoons flour 2 eggs, separated cup scalded milk 1 tablespoon butter

Few grains salt Grated rind ½ orange Juice of one orange Ladyfingers Whipped cream

Mix sugar and flour with beaten egg yolks, then add scalded milk slowly. Add butter and salt and cook over hot water until thick. Add orange rind and juice. Cool slightly and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Split ladyfingers and place a layer in pan lined with waxed paper; spread with orange mixture; cover with another layer of ladyfingers and continue until mixture is used. Chill 24 hours. Serve with whipped cream.

IT'S an excellent idea to plan re-frigerated desserts for big occasions since they may be made well in advance, and thus relieve you from kitchen chores on the dessert score as you get ready for the party. Here are two you'll like:

LYNN SAYS: Know These Facts About Vegetables

Use green vegetables fresh-the fresher the better. Vitamins disappear as vegetables wilt and wait. If you must hold them for a day or so, keep green vegetables cool, damp and lightly covered. Pile loosely to prevent crushing.

A Midwinter Night's Nightmare

CASEY STENGEL, the hard-luck, good-luck miracle man who suffered over 70 team concussions last season, had a dream recently. It was a dream that turned into a nightmare and Casey doesn't care to talk about it.

It seems that in this dream the eminent C. Stengel saw his team son without single blemish. No injury or accident or illness assailed any of his sturdy athletes. Joe Di-Maggio's heel lost Achillean vulnerability and Joe fought for the Grantland Rice Yankees in 154 games. No replacements were needed to help reinforce outfield or But, at the end of the dream, the Yankees didn't win the pennant, The Red Sox did, haunted by the Cleveland Indians.

Why? Mr. Stengel doesn't care to talk too much about it. But this is what happened-

1. Jerry Coleman, a brilliant rookie last season, had the same "sophomore shingles" that attacked Alvir. Dark and a flock of other freshmen. The second season is always the toughest. The same disease struck the other 1949

2. Phil Rizzuto, the star of the 1949 group, dipped a trifle from his lofty peak.

3. The pitching staff wasn't quite as good as it was last year when Reynolds, Vic Raschi, Lopat and Tommy Byrne, who all had big years, spent part of their time on the soapy chute. They were good but not as good as they had

4. Minus so many accidents, injuries, etc., the Yankees no longer had any fight against fate. They lost part of their 1949 hustle.

5. Prof. Stengel suddenly dis-covered that Red Sox pitching was far better than it was last season with Parnell, Kinder and McDermott out on the happy highway.

6. The pennant-saving Joe Page was good-but not the Page of 1949. Joe has been great every other year-1945, 1947, 1949. This was 1950.

This was the dream. C. Stengel, the potentate, failed to enjoy the next day. "Do dreams come true?" Casey asked. "If they do I may decide to stay out here and pass up St. Petersburg and New York this season."

. . . That 60-Home-Run Mark

When the rather young Ralph Kiner moved into the 50 or better home run bracket for the second time, there were increasing murmurs about the possi slugger passing the Babe's old mark.

Ralph is 6 feet, 1 inch and he weighs 198 pounds. He has a pair of powerful hands and a exceedingly strong wrists. This is where most of hitting power comes from when correctly applied.

"I might do it or someone else might do it," Ralph said. "But I don't think so. I was meeting the ball well last season. In the last 30 games I hit 20 home runs. That's a lot of home runs to hit in 30 games. I probably wouldn't do that well again in a lifetime. I mean in my last 30 games where the tension begins to build up. I suddenly discovered that to beat 60 home runs you've got to get a good start and keep on hitting 'em. can't afford any bad months. You can't blow yourself to any slumps. Sixty home runs a year is a home run about every 21/2 games. I hit better than one every three games last year, but that wasn't good enough.'

Since Johnny Mize was dropped as a regular, there don't seem to be any big home run hitters in sight, except Kiner. Ted Williams is usually somewhere in the high 30's or the 40's. One trouble with Ted is that he won't swing at a ball an inch or two inches off the plate. He doesn't say to himself -"I'm going to belt this next one -if it's close." If it's an inch off it's a ball, and Ted never swings

There are few pitchers who get any thrills from having one of their fast balls hammered out of the ball park. They view such a proceeding with practically no cheer.

Bounding Dodgers

In a strict Florida fishing accent, the Rt. Hon. Burt Shotton, the Dodger's high gun, issued one of the most truthful statements of the

He asked, in effect, just why the Dodgers shouldn't win the next National league pennant since they had much the best ball club in their league - including catchers, pitchers, infielders and outfielders? You've got to admire a statement of this sort for it puts manager Shotton on the hot seat.

One must acknowledge the wornout statement that "anything can happen in baseball." Casey Stengel found that out last year. Any large number of things can happen to the Dodgers, most of them unpleasant. But if you take things in their average spin and turn, the Dodgers should win their pennant by four or five games and they might win it by 10 or 15 games, especially if the Cardinals con't get some fancy pitching. If Ralph Branca and Rex Barney ever find themselves, the Dodgers could break up the league.

Since the caveman attempted to depict on the walls of his caverns the things he saw about him, man has attempted to capture and preserve the beautiful and exciting things which he experiences. From the flint chisel to the camera was a natural development, and the popularity of the latter medium of visual parpetuation is attested by the fact that in the 1949 Graflex photo contest, 62 prizes totaling $5,000 were awarded. In these prizewinning photos the artistry of the lensmen is clearly demonstrated. Above is first prizewinner in the professional action class "Trapped," taken by Russell S. Reed of the Oakland (Cal.) Tribune.

One of the most graphic "on the spot" shots entered in the contest, "Broken Ladder," won not only the first prize in the non-professional action division, but also captured a special press award. It was made by Edward H. Arndt, of Mt. Holly, N. J. Suspense, danger, thrills are all combined here in the magic of the camera's eye.

■ The intricate, meticulous detail which is possible in a photo when a skilled man is behind the lens is strikingly shown in this photo, "The Bells Are Ringing," which was snanned by Charles Hoff of the New York Daily News.

Spy Disclosures

AFTER J. Edgar Hoover's A lengthy session with the sen-ate appropriations committee regarding A-bomb leaks, newspapers reported 'hat senators left the meetng ashen-faced over the disclosures.

Here is what Hoover said to cause those ashen faces.

Hoover dramatically reported that subversive activities in the United States are at an all-time high-worse than during the war. He also revealed that Communists are doing away with party cards in order to prevent detection and conviction. Instead, they dentify each other by word of Hoover told the senators that Communists were making a special attempt to infiltrate into strategic industries such as telegraph, telephone and the manufacture of electrical equipment. Asked pointblank by the senators whether there was a spy ring inside the gov-ernment, Hoover answered "no."

The head G-man complained that Elizabeth Bentley's sensational disclosures two years ago had been premature and that as a result the FBI lost many sources that had been carefully planted for 10 years inside the Communist party.

Listening to Hoover as he testified was Sen. Homer Fergusion of Michigan who was partly responsible for the Bentley disclosures. Ferguson, together with Congressman J. Parnell Thomas, then chairman of the un-American activities committee, heard about Miss Bentley in connection with the Communist treason trial being prepared in New York and jumped the gun on the justice department. In order to cop the news headlines, they called Miss Bentley before their committees and smeared her testimony all over the front pages.

New Employees Needed

Hoover was testifying in order to secure appropriations for about 70 new employees. He illustrated the work of his G-men by telling how during the first trial of Alger Hiss, the FBI was unable to locate Hiss' maid. All Mrs. Chambers could remember about the maid was her name, "Mary." However, after the first trial, Mrs. Chambers dug up a rough sketch she had made of the maid, gave it to the FBI, and after honeycombing Baltimore and using only this sketchy evidence, finally the G-men located Hoover told the senators that Dr. Klaus Fuchs had access to every atomic secret in the United States and was even in on the "final critical assembly" of the A-bomb. This was the most top-secret phase of the Manhattan project.

Hoover testified at machine-gun speed throughout the closed-door session. Here are some of the figures he rattled off regarding crime in the U.S.A. Last year: 1,686,670 major crimes committed in the entire country; the big increases since 1941 have been 67.4 per cent more "aggravated assaults," 35.2 per cent more rapes, 27.2 per cent more burglaries, 24.2 per cent more robberies, 7.3 per cent more larceny.

However, murder has dropped 0.7 per cent since 1941, manslaughter has decreased 5.5 per cent and auto thefts 11.5 per cent. The FBI, he said, had a record of 97.2 per cent convictions last year.

How Fuchs Worked

Here is the background in which Dr. Klaus Fuchs, arrested as a Russian spy in London, worked in the U.S. during the war.

Los Alamos, where he was stationed, was unlike all the other atomic installations and not compartmentalized. In other words, scientists did not work in secret compartments, but were familiar with each other's work. There were some 600 scientists at Los Alamos, of which the foreign "colony" numbered about 60-20 British, two Swiss, 10 German refugees, and some Italians.

Sir James Chadwich headed the British delegation. Fuchs was not considered on the first team, but rather on the second. Since there was no compartmentalization, his exact scientific standing made no difference as far as collecting data was concerned.

Fuch's friends recall that he first worked on atomic matters in Canada, at the Chalk river plant in northern Ontario.

According to British intelligence, Klaus Fuchs came to Britain from Germany in 1932 as an anti-Nazi refugee on orders from Moscow, Fuchs' instructions were to work his way into British scientific circles. As a result he became a British citizen, knew every secret of the A-bomb including the exact size to the critical mass that makes an explosive, and even the secret of the detonator.

Fuchs also knew about the Hbomb, which our scientists tried to produce before they got the A-

Perfumed Town

France's big perfume center at Grasse, high in the hills of the French Riviera, annually collects some three million pounds of orange blossoms for use in making sweet smelling essences. So extensive is this manufacture that perfume odors pervade every street in the town.

Semi Is Not-Too-Brilliant

Semi-gloss interior enamel is applied to surfaces on which a not-too-brilliant gloss is desired. The difference between high gloss and semi-gloss enamels lies in the relative proportions of pigment and binder. The higher the proportions of binder, the higher the gloss.
