Kohlsville Terrors Win Game of Year on Forfeit

(By "Charlie" Weiser)

"Killy" Honeck and his Kewaskum Standards basketball team forfeited one of their most important games of the season to the Kohlsville Terrors recently by doing a "vanishing act" at their scheduled game at St. Anthony, Wis.

For the benefit of those who are not too well posted on "Who's Who in Basketball," the Kohlsville Terrors consist of such "outstanding" basketball stars as Wesley "Boogie Woogie" Bogenschneider, the bright star of some Slinger high school team of 2 centuries ago; Willard Lincoln "Stonewall" Klein of the Milk Can Slingers; Harvey Janssen of the Hilltop Hotshots; John "Barrimore" Schuppel, better known as 2 point John of the Wayne Swains; and Eddie "Bone Crusher" Heinecke of the Hammersaw Grinders. There is one other man on the Terrors' team and they say his name is Charlie Weiser but nobody seems to know where he came from. When Charlie was asked what school he learned to play basketball he said he is too old to remember. Fritz Dorn manages and coaches the Terrors, and just to make sure that they win he also referees their games. He had his team in top condition for the game with the Kewaskum Standards.

With prospects of being swamped by such an array of experienced basketball veterans it is small wonder that "Killy" Honeck got cold feet when he arrived at the scene of his big test. Several spectators who had $4.40 ring-side seats thought that they saw "Killy" and his team enter cautiously through a side door about 15 minutes before game time, but when "Killy" saw the Terrors sinking baskets from all corners of the floor he pushed his entire team out through the door fast that they forced the door frame apart about 2 inches.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Public School to Hold Open House

On Thursday, May 4, beginning at 7:00 p. m., the Kewaskum public school will hold its second annual open house. This is the one time during the year that parents and interested adults of the community can avail themselves of an opportunity to pay their school a visit to see first hand some of those things that children of different grade levels have been participating in during the school year.

A major part of the program for the evening, which will be presented at 8 o'clock, is music. This first week of May is observed each year as National Music week so it seemed most appropriate that the observance this year be combined with our open house to provide a program in which large numbers of people would be interested. The complete program will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Another feature of the program, and one in which there should be much interest, is the style show. You will find young ladies from all classes of the school modeling the garments which they made in the home economics classes during the year.

There will be an exhibit of the work of the industrial arts classes. Inasmuch as we are still some weeks from the close of the school year, many of the wood working projects are still incomplete. You will find a wide variety of articles being made by the boys in these classes.

In the grade rooms will be found attractive displays of the activities that the children have been participating in during the year.

The public is invited to visit the displays from 7 to 9 p. m. and to continue after the conclusion of the program as long as you wish.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all to be present at this open house event. Remember it is Thursday, May 4, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Crash Injuries Are Fatal to Young Man

Sylvester Marquardt, 29, R. 3, Campbellsport, died at St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, at 8 a. m. Monday, Apr. 24, from injuries received at 1:30 a. m. the same morning when his 1949 automobile went out of control on County Trunk W. about three-quarters of a mile north of Campbellsport, and crashed into two guard rails and a tree near the Charles Backus farm.

Traffic Officer Harry Rozek of the Fond du Lac county police force, who investigated and removed the victim to the hospital in a county ambulance, said that Marquardt had apparently dozed at the wheel. He was alone at the time. The entire front and left sides and undercarriage of the machine were damaged. Marquardt suffered a crushed chest and severe cuts on his head and face.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Marquardt; two brothers, Jerome of Campbellsport and Gerald at home, and two sisters, Mrs. LeRoy Heider of West Bend and Mrs. Ralph Hausner of Beechwood.

The remains were in state at the Twigh Funeral home, Campbellsport, from 7 p. m. Tuesday until 1:30 p. m. Thursday, when private services were held from the funeral home to the St. Lucas Ev. Lutheran church, Kewaskum, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Gerhard Kanies presided and burial took place in Union cemetery, Campbellsport. The rites were largely attended.

In another traffic accident last Friday a car driven by Jerome Knetzke, 22, R. 1, Kewaskum, skidded into the rear of a car driven by James Moore, 22, West Bend, on Hwy. 33 at Horse-shoe hill. Moore had just turned out of the Riosch dairy road when the two machines collided.

On Sunday cars driven by Richard O. Thieme, R. 2, Kewaskum, and Garvin Pickhardt, 24, Richfield, collided on a town road near Richfield at the Arnold Voss mail box. Thieme said he fell asleep at the wheel and upon awakening, applied his brakes and shot diagonally across the road into the Pickhardt vehicle which was stopped at the mail box. The Thieme car then continued back to the right side of the road again, into a small ditch, out onto a hay field and back to the road where it finally stopped. No one was injured.

THE WORLD IS THEIR WORKSHOP AND PLAYGROUND
Camp Fire Girls find pen pals all over the globe

FRIENDSHIP UNLIMITED

Camp Fire Girls Make World Their Backyard for Good Work

Vitamin pills and toys, soap and blankets have been winging their way across the seven seas for several years as gifts of Camp Fire Girls to underprivileged children in almost every land under the sun.

Warm long-distance friendships have sprung up between the American girls and young people overseas. Through the interchange of letters and gifts knowledge of the American way of life is being circulated abroad; while impressions of quaint folkways and enchanting old-world culture are filtering back to our shores.

Camp Fire Girls in Larchmont (N. Y.), learning of the plight of a 10-year-old tubercular girl in Germany, "adopted" her. Since 1946 they have been sending her monthly packages of food and clothing. Their "project" is financed from their pin money and by funds earned through their group projects.

The desperate straits of Japanese children in St. Agnes Episcopal girls' school in Kyoto stirred Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Camp Fire members to quick action. They started campaigning among their neighbors; collected blankets and other necessities and shipped them off to the Flower Kingdom.

Two little Irish collens in Belfast whose short lives had been fended in by rationing were made happy through the thoughtfulness of a Brainard (Minn.) Camp Fire group. The organization's young members had been saving pennies for a Valentine party. Instead they purchased cake mix, favors, games, toys and a beautiful doll; wrapped the gifts in a gay party box and shipped them overseas. In the same Minnesota city a group of Blue Birds (Camp Fire Juniors) became so fond of a little Dutch pen pal, Corry, that they have named their group the "Corry" Blue Birds.

Underprivileged children living in a camp in Valencia, France, had a delightful surprise when they opened a box containing a set of rag dolls made by Youngstown (Ohio) Camp Fire Girls. While other young people in Germany, Czechoslovakia, Australia, Greece and Switzerland will always think Reading (Pa.) is "Santa's headquarters" for it was Camp Fire Girls in that community they received Christmas gifts during the past holiday season.

Korea to England
Cleburne (Texas) is separated from Korea by oceans and continents but it is not too distant for the hand of friendship to extend. In spite of the differences in language and customs, Camp Fire

Two Horizon Club (senior Camp Fire group) members pack a party box containing goodies, favors and games for pen pals in Europe.

Girls in that Lone Star state community have been corresponding with pen pals in Seoul.

Learning that tots in Purley, England, looked upon pencils, pens and erasers as luxuries, Camp Fire Girls in the North Hollywood, Calif., district, collected these much-prized items; packed them along with candy, jello, cheeses and hand-craft materials, and sent them off to the overjoyed English children.

As Lewiston, Idaho, Camp Fire Girls were packing party boxes

The Organization Is 40 Years Old

Camp Fire Girls—a recreational and educational youth agency for all girls 7 to 18—celebrated its 40th birthday during March. It was founded in 1910 by Luther H. Gulick and other progressive educators to provide opportunities for enjoyable, worthwhile leisure-time activities through which all girls, regardless of race, religion or financial status, could develop their best potentialities as alert citizens and homemakers or professional women. Camp Fire Girls membership now totals more than 360,000, plus the unofficial "alumnae" group of 2.5 million.

AT WORK . . . Camp Fire Girls groups work together happily.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Mint Flavors These Chocolate Ice Cream Puffs (See Recipes Below)

Dessert Contrasts
IF YOUR MAIN DISHES for the season are of the lighter variety, then your dessert patterns should be just a shade richer than usual to give the menu variety, balance and contrast.

To avoid loss of interest in food entirely, which is so apt to come at this season of the year, select some interesting desserts such as are featured in today's column. You have your choice of ice cream, puddings and cakes, all of which are unusual and good, too!

There's always audible approval from youngsters and grownups alike when cream puffs are served. And cream puff shells made especially tempting with a filling of ice cream are a dessert that really goes places. The cream puff shells are flavored with chocolate and filled with cool mint ice cream.

Chocolate Mint Ice Cream Puffs (Serves 6)

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon cocoa
- 2 eggs, unbeaten
- 1 quart mint ice cream
- Hot fudge sauce

Add butter to boiling water; heat until butter melts. Sift together flour, salt, sugar and cocoa; add to butter mixture, all at once, stirring thoroughly. Cook, stirring, until mixture leaves sides of pan. Remove and cool a minute. Add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating until smooth after each addition. Drop by heaping tablespoons on greased baking sheet, two inches apart, shaping with wet spoon into rounds. Bake in hot oven (450°) 10 minutes. Reduce heat (350°) and bake 25 minutes longer, until lightly browned. Cool and cut off tops. Fill with peppermint ice cream and top with hot fudge sauce.

ORANGE DESSERT CAKE needs no frosting, since the orange juice and sugar make a wonderful glaze for the top of the cake.

- "Orange Dessert Cake"
- 1 orange, medium size
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup raisins
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 2 eggs, beaten slightly
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in milk
- 1 cup evaporated milk mixed with
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Cut the orange and squeeze out 2 tablespoons of the juice. Add to this the 1/4 cup of the sugar and reserve for glazing the cake. Cut out and discard the central core and the seeds of the orange. Grind the raisins, using the medium blade of the food chopper. Cream shortening and sugar together. Add the beaten eggs. Sift flour with salt. Add alternately to the egg mixture with the milk, beginning, and ending with flour. Stir in the orange and raisin mixture quickly. Pour

LYNN SAYS:
Fortify Leftover Foods With Extra Flavor

Slices of cold roast veal make an excellent sandwich when treated with a spread of anchovy paste and butter and fresh yeast bread slices.

Extend that bit of grape juice in the refrigerator by mixing with cranberry juice. Serve chilled for an appetizer.

Serve that last bit of cauliflower with a tangy cheese sauce and shower with toasted, salted almonds for a genuine flavor treat.

If you run out of stuffing for chicken on the evening after the first serving, mix some leftover rice with chopped fried onions and cooked sausage meat.

Slices of corned beef served with chive-creamed potatoes will have the folks calling for seconds or thirds. If you run out of potatoes, serve with scrambled eggs.

Hard-cooked eggs are easily used as a sauce for leftover vegetables. Rice and mix with hot, seasoned cream. Beat with rotary beater for smoothness. Serve with asparagus, broccoli or green beans.

into a greased 8x8x2 pan and bake in a moderate oven (375°) about 45 minutes. After baking and while still hot, cover with the two tablespoons orange juice and sugar mixture and let stand in pan until juice is absorbed. Do not dissolve sugar entirely, as it should glaze the top of the cake.

BUTTERSCOTCH pecan cake-pudding is a dessert that offers a surprise. Although this luscious pudding begins with batter in the bottom and pudding mixture on the top, it doesn't end that way. During the baking, the batter rises to the top, a wonderful tender cake, with the luscious butterscotch pudding on the bottom. There's a generous share of crisp pecans all through the pudding for flavor and texture interest.

Butterscotch Pecan Cake-Pudding (Serves 6-8)

- Batter:
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup pecans

Blend shortening and sugar. Add beaten egg yolks and vanilla. Gently fold in the beaten whites. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Add dry ingredients to egg mixture alternately with the milk. Stir in the pecans and turn batter into a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole.

- Pudding:
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup grapefruit juice
- Blend sugar and flour. Stir in the milk and grapefruit juice. Mix well and pour gently over batter. Bake in a moderate oven (350°) for one hour. Serve warm.

Burnt Sugar Cake (Makes 3 9-inch layers)

- 2 cups sugar
 - 1 cup boiling water
 - 3 cups sifted cake flour
 - 3 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 cup shortening
 - 4 eggs, separated
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Place one cup of the sugar in a skillet and heat, stirring constantly until sugar melts and becomes brown; remove from heat, add boiling water and stir until sugar is entirely dissolved. Cool. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream shortening with remaining sugar until fluffy. Add unbeaten egg yolks, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each is added. Add vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients and caramel sirup alternately in small amounts, beating thoroughly after each addition. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into greased pans and bake in moderate oven (350°) 30 to 35 minutes.

Roast beef hash takes on improvement when it's served with a smooth, tart hollandaise sauce. You can skip the poached eggs since there's so much egg yolk in the sauce.

On the second or third night that you serve spaghetti sauce, try it with slivers of ham, sauteed mushrooms and a sprinkling of sweet basil.

Leftover sweet potatoes take an extra flavor and glaze when they are heated with a bit of orange marmalade.

Chicken hash doesn't get dull when it is used for lining a casserole. Place corn au gratin mixture in the center and bake for half an hour. Serve with cranberry sauce.

When the family wants a snack, bring out the leftover creamed dried beef. Heat and serve it on toast slices spread thickly with a sharp cheese.

Leftover lamb can have a lot of its flavor restored if you serve with melted grape jelly into which has been mixed some chopped fresh mint.

The Left-Handers

EVEN HOMER nodded. So did Shakespeare, Kipling, Keats and a few others. They were entitled to nod. Most of us are not. We haven't earned any such breaks. So I apologize to the veteran fan from New Jersey who says that in picking Young, Johnson, Alexander and Mathewson as baseball's four greatest pitchers, I mentioned no left-handers.

"Were there no great left-handers?" he asks. "Were there no left-handers to match the great right-handers? There must have been. Who were they?"

In order to appease the gentleman from New Jersey and all left-handed athletes and friends, we'll wade into the game's greatest left-handers today and see how they match the game's four greatest right-handers.

We are not going as far back as Tom Ramsay and southpaws of a forgotten era. This century is late enough.

Who have been the greatest left-handers since 1900? Here are just a few: Carl Hubbell, New York Giants; Lefty Grove, Philadelphia Athletics; Rube Waddell, Philadelphia Athletics; Herb Pennock, Athletics; Red Sox and Yankees; Eddie Plank, Philadelphia Athletics; Doc White, Chicago White Sox; Art Nehf, New York Giants; Nap Rucker, Brooklyn Dodgers; Howie Pollet, St. Louis Cardinals; Hal Newhouse, Detroit Tigers (one of the best); Rube Marquard, Babe Ruth, Lefty Gomez.

Now there happens to be a pretty fair list of left-handers in this limited group. There are fine left-handers not included. But we believe this list covers most of the good ones and the great ones.

You may notice such names as Ruth, Marquard and Gomez. Ruth has the finest left-handed pitching record. He could easily have been the greatest left-handed pitcher of all time. Marquard set or tied an all-time winning record. Lefty Gomez was the most devastating left-hander of his day. He was one of the greatest world series pitchers.

All of this goes to show you what a magnificent list we have all set from which to pick the four best men who might match the four great right-handers we picked some time ago.

The Four Top Southpaws

Here are the four top left-handers we have selected along with an alternate who is hard to leave out. We have seen them all under every form of competition. We admit in advance that we can be wrong. But wrong or right, here they go—

- No. 1 Carl Hubbell, New York Giants.
- No. 2 Herb Pennock, Athletics, Red Sox, Yankees.
- No. 3 Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, Athletics.
- No. 4 George Edward (Rube) Waddell, Athletics.
- No. 5 Eddie Plank, Athletics.

We have never yet been able to figure why Connie Mack had the type of mind to go for left-handed hurlers. Yet it was Connie Mack who produced the best of them and the most of them.

Connie Mack, or Mr. McGillicuddy, should have an evenly balanced mind. Among his right-handers he had Chief Bender and Jack Coombs. But among his left-handers he had Eddie Plank, Rube Waddell, Lefty Grove, Herb Pennock, most of the great ones. Mr. Mack must have been a left-handed dreamer. His phantasies must have roamed in the mystic heavens of the southpaws.

Connie will tell you that Chief Bender was his most dependable hurler. But he will also tell you Rube Waddell was his most brilliant all-around pitcher and that Lefty Grove was the all-time sharpshooter. (Look at Grove's record.) He will inform you that Eddie Plank was the old reliable—he won 283 games for the Athletics.

The only great left-hander Connie Mack never handled was Carl Hubbell, the old meal ticket—the pitcher many old ballplayers will tell you was the greatest pitcher that ever threw a ball.

The Improved Tigers

It is quite possible that Red Rolfe's Detroit Tigers are not going to win the 1950 American league pennant. But it is no part of a certainty that they won't. At least the ex-Dartmouth entry won't be very far away.

The Tigers rate with the Indians and the Indians are not too far below the Red Sox and Yankees. The fact is the American League has five improved teams that look to be stronger than last year.

Rolfe has a fine outfield in Evers, Groth, Mullin, Wertz and Charlie Keller. The ex-Yankee, meaning Maryland's Keller, has picked up a strong spring start and he can be of great help to the Tiger cause. This is good news to everybody, including those who might suffer from Keller's returned or returning power.

Jerry Priddy will help bolster up an infield that has been weak for some time. If Dick Kryhoski comes through at first he will be a big help.

The Way it Happened . . .
IN SAN ANTONIO . . . Two slick men who held up a brokerage company returned office manager R. E. Diaz $50 when they learned it was his own money, made off with $300 in office cash after asking to make certain the firm was insured.
IN ROCHESTER, N. Y. . . . The appellate division of the state supreme court upheld the judge's decision against Mrs. Florence White's damage suit for injuries suffered in a fall, agreeing that she "might expect a bathroom floor to be wet on Christmas Eve."

AROUND THE HOUSE

Pile fluffy mashed potatoes into an attractive shallow baking dish, sprinkle with paprika and brown in the oven just before serving.

Stale soap lasts longer than fresh soap. Buy in advance and remove the wrappers as soon as you get home, so the air can get at the soap while it's stored.

If hankies and other small flat items you prefer some commercial brand of sand-soap—especially for removing paint—and it isn't kind to your skin, add a little petroleum jelly to the soap before you use it.

After an ironing board cover has been washed, it should be put back on the board while damp. When it dries, it will shrink up enough to be smooth and tight.

The hillbillies who had never been on a train before had been drafted and were on their way to camp. A food butcher came through the train selling bananas. The two mountaineers had never seen bananas and each bought one. As one of them bit into his banana the train entered a tunnel. His voice came to his companion in the darkness.
First Hillbilly: "Have you got yours yet?"
Second: "Not yet. Why?"

Grumpy Store Clerks on Way Out; Service Found to Be Much Better

NEW YORK—The next time you shop in the average store, the treatment you get from sales clerks probably will be just a little better than prewar.

And that's a vast improvement over some of their old sloppy habits acquired during the wartime shortages.

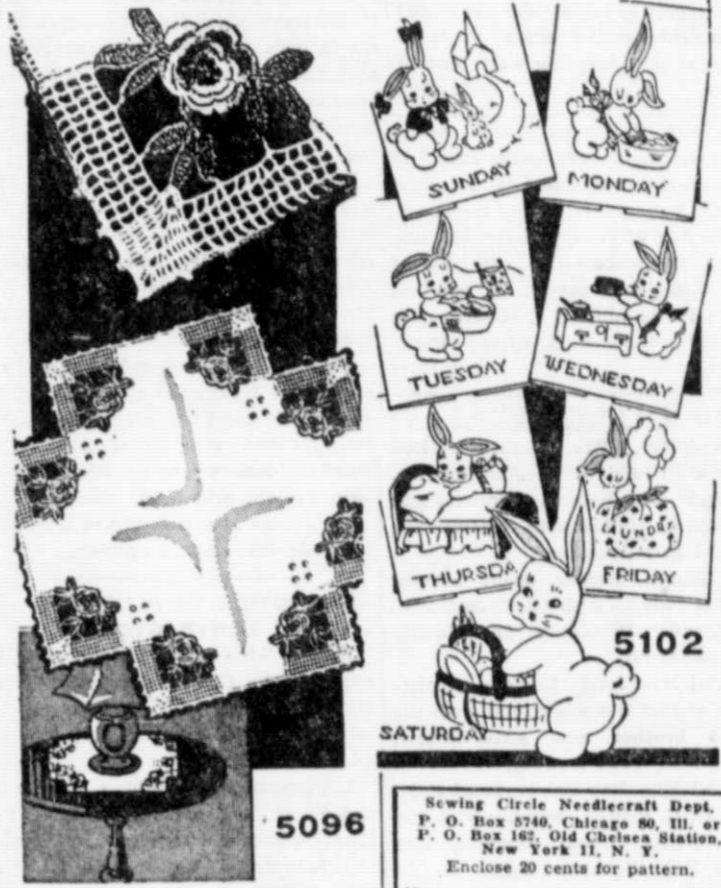

Assurances of this comes from a selling chart compiled by the Willmark Service System, inc., a 30-year old organization which checks on sales practices in 20,000 stores around the country from their offices in 32 cities.

At the beginning of this year sales clerk performance was exactly 1.2 per cent better than a year ago, but it was a good 10 per cent better than the worst days of the war. And Willmark says it is "slightly more efficient than prewar."

These figures mean that the clerk who chewed gum and flaunted dirty fingernails a year ago doesn't do it now. And the clerk who, in 1943, greeted you sourly, scowled when you asked about the merchandise, made you take your pick from only a few items and continued puffing at a cigarette on duty, now is gone from the average store.

Bob Wills Hears Folks Tell Of Hadacol's Many Blessings

Hundreds of folks, who are benefiting every day from taking HADACOL, meet at the Trianon Building in Oklahoma City where Bob Wills, famous band leader, and his Texas Playboys broadcast each noon for HADACOL.

"It looks like all my fans are getting wonderful benefits from HADACOL," said Wills. "It is a real pleasure to broadcast for HADACOL because the folks taking HADACOL are so enthusiastic that I feel like I am performing a real service for mankind."

Hundreds have told Wills of the blessed benefits of HADACOL and the following statement by Miss Carol Jean White, 3636 West Park St., Oklahoma City, is a good example:

"One of the luckiest days of my life was when I heard Bob Wills tell about the wonderful blessings of HADACOL. I had lost my appetite, my energy was down. I suffered with gastric disturbances and indigestion. I took the advice of Bob Wills and took HADACOL. I felt better right off and have felt better and better as I have continued to take HADACOL. I now recommend HADACOL to my friends."

Miss White suffered with a deficiency of B Vitamins and important Minerals which HADACOL contains.

A lack of only a small amount of the B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances... Your food will not agree with you... You will have an upset stomach... You will suffer from heartburns, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the Vitamins and the Minerals which your system lacks.

HADACOL contains not only one, but 5 of the B Vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but 4 of the necessary Minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have already been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

So, it matters not who you are...

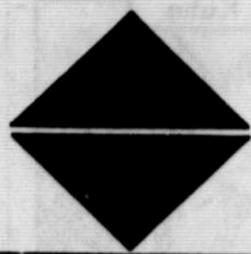

Bob Wills, famous western music band leader, loves to talk with his fans at the Trianon Building auditorium in Oklahoma City about the blessings of HADACOL. In the picture above Miss Carol Jean White, 3636 West Park St., Oklahoma City, tells Bob how much HADACOL has helped her. Hundreds of folks who are obtaining rich blessings from the precious B Vitamins and Minerals in HADACOL visit Wills each week for his network broadcast, which is originated from KBYE, Oklahoma's western music station, and sent over a leased wire to stations, KRMG, Tulsa; KWHN, Fort Smith; KGLC, Miami, Oklahoma; KLTN, Amarillo, and KWFT, Wichita Falls.

it matters not where you live... or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering. Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the Vitamins and Minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial. Demand the genuine HADACOL. Accept no substitutes.

We are so firm in our belief that HADACOL will help you that we sell HADACOL on a money-back guarantee. If you don't feel perfectly satisfied after using HADACOL as directed, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Nothing could be fairer.

If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Send no money. Just your name and address on a penny post card. Pay postman. State whether you want the $3.50 hospital economy size or $1.25 trial size. Remember, money cheerfully refunded unless you are 100% satisfied.—Adv.

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1943, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good..."

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding."

The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT

Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation..."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Need Claimed to Keep GI's Abroad If Continent to be Fully Guarded; Berlin Stocks Up for Emergencies

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

EUROPE: Just in Case

The demands of the cold war are becoming steadily more vast and insistent. First and continuing is money—American dollars to stem the tide of communism and protect itself—so the theory goes—by protecting Europe.

NOW IT IS MEN Europe wants. American GI's to garrison the continent. A permanent garrison of American troops in western Europe—even after German occupation ends—is vital to the Atlantic pact defense, several European experts believe.

THE EXPERTS quoted argue that American troops would provide on-the-spot leadership for Europe's defense forces, and would serve as a reassurance to France if German troops eventually are too powerful in the western European defense.

At present, as the pact alliance rounds out its first year, its 12 member powers have about 22 divisions of varying strength and effectiveness among them.

The normal compliment of a division is 15,000 men. That means a total of 330,000 potential fighting men ready to meet any attack upon the pact signatories. It also means that each pact signatory is putting less than two divisions into the overall plan to protect themselves.

Under such a setup it is conceivable that America might have to bolster the defensive line; but the setup poses anew the question: How sincere is Europe in efforts to rehabilitate and protect itself?

BERLIN: Fear Crisis

In the event of a crisis such as that precipitated by the Russian blockade in 1948, Berlin was ready. The west has stocked the city's bins with enough food and coal to make a mockery of any new blockade.

In the 11 months since the Reds lifted the blockade of the city, a steady stream of train, truck and barge traffic has piled up what is felt to be adequate supplies to meet any emergency.

When Russia clamped down the blockade, in an effort to impose its own political convictions on Berlin, the city had only an average of six weeks supplies on hand. Now the basic staples are in about six months supply and in all probability will continue to increase as further stocks are added.

It was felt that the Russians, aware of this process, would be less foolhardy than to attempt another blockade effort, but even so, no one was taking any chances because of the unpredictability of Soviet action and of the old truism that "what has happened once, can happen again."

HIGH COURT: Accused Must Talk

A ruling of the U.S. supreme court is likely to serve as a powerful stimulant for those accused of Communist sympathies and refuse to talk.

The court refused to grant a hearing to two Hollywood writers convicted of contempt of congress. The action let stand a decision that congressional committees may compel witnesses to say whether they are Communists. The vote was 6 to 2.

By its action, the high court refused to interfere with a lower court decision holding that congress may abridge either the freedom of speech or the freedom to remain silent "when legislating to avert what it believes to be a threat of substantive evil to national welfare."

The high court handed down the opinion but did not explain its reason. It took the action in a brief order saying it would not hear the appeals of screen writers John Howard Lawson and Dalton Trumbo. They had been pending since last August 11. Lawson and Trumbo are each under sentence to serve a year in jail and to pay a fine of $1,000. They had been free under bond.

The court's order noted that Justices Black and Douglas favored a review of the case, and that Justice Clark took no part.

Lawson and Trumbo were two of 10 prominent screen figures who refused to tell a congressional committee whether they had been members of the Communist party.

CLAIM & COUNTER-CLAIM

Could Anti-Red Bill Win Congress' Okay?

Could a bill to control Communist activities in the United States win approval of congress? There was some squabbling about the question with claim and counter-claim being hurled.

Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) claimed he could line up top-heavy support for such a measure, but said he expected the administration's leaders would try to block

H-BOMB: Talks Set

As might have been expected, the nation's top defense and diplomatic leaders will be asked to tell congressmen more about the proposed hydrogen bomb. The lawmakers would like to know something of the impact of the bomb and what civilian defense setups might do about it.

Among those expected to be called are Dean Acheson, and General Omar Bradley.

Chills Charges

Brig. Gen. Conrad E. Snow, head of the U.S. state department's loyalty board, testifies before the senate subcommittee investigating charges of communism in the state department. He chilled charges by Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R., Wis.) when he told probers that he knows of no Communists in the department.

VACATIONS: Why Not England?

For the American tourist planning a trip abroad, England can't be beat, according to Farnham F. Dudgeon, editor-in-chief of Western Newspaper Union, a newspaper syndicate.

DUDGEON visited England some weeks ago along with 14 other representatives of newspaper syndicates, press associations and periodicals. The host on the flight through England and Scotland was the British Travel association which is engaged in a campaign to attract tourist trade to the British Isles.

The syndicate chief reported that "England definitely is the place to go for the American who wants a memorable trip abroad at a modicum of cost. This is true, he said, because of the many places and things in England that are so closely tied in with our own history."

"Right now, England is a tourist paradise," Dudgeon said. "Especially is this true because the pound devaluation has added so much more purchasability to the American tourist dollar. For example, one may stay at almost any of the picturesque inns or hotels for as little as $21 to $23 a week."

"TRANSPORTATION facilities in both England and Scotland are excellent, even if the equipment is somewhat battered from the war. The British are eager to make Americans feel at home, and one gets the impression that this is a sincere hospitality, not motivated exclusively by the desire for American dollars."

There is little need to remind Americans of the particular charm and beauty of the British and Scottish countryside, with their lakes, moors, heather, famed resort spots and historic buildings and landmarks, because they are known, even if vicariously, to most Americans.

"But seeing them at first hand is an altogether thrilling and memorable experience," Dudgeon said.

RADAR: Day & Night

The country was informed during the week that there is at least some insurance against another "Pearl Harbor" in the event an enemy should attack. That insurance is a radar and civilian-airplane-spotting network that is now far enough along to provide protection.

The announcement also reported that alarm systems have been installed that can flash an alert to air force interceptor squadrons and civilian warning centers within a matter of seconds. All these moves simply are preparedness, officials stressed, and do not indicate any need of these defenses is imminent.

Air force officials said more than 200 warning centers now are hooked up and many more will soon be in operation. The centers are selected by officials such as governors, mayors and chiefs of police. Headquarters will be in key cities and someone will always be available to man the warning apparatus.

EGGSACTLY!

A Fowl Effort

Who was surprised? If you feed a radioactive dose to hens, why wouldn't you get radioactive eggs? But Dr. Clyde Driggers, of the University of Florida agricultural experiment station, called them uncommon hens—and uncommon hens they were, inasmuch as they had been given doses of radioactive calcium and they laid radioactive eggs.

THE poultry-department scientist set out to learn what happens to calcium from the atomic energy commission at Oak Ridge and fed minute single doses to two hens and daily doses to another two. He kept them under close observation. The hens suffered no ill effects and got along apparently as well as other hens until they were killed at the end of the project.

With the aid of a Geiger counter, the experimenters found:

THE SHELL of an egg laid by one of the hens 15 minutes after the first dose contained enough labeled calcium to make the counter tick, but none of the material was in the yolk or white of the egg. Radioactive calcium showed up on the shell, yolk and white of an egg laid 24 hours later and the white contained 70 times more of it than the yolk.

PAKISTAN: Peace Move

The Indian parliament ratified the new India-Pakistan pact and with that approval there appeared hope that bloody communal strife on the subcontinent might be ended.

Prime Minister Nehru, in submitting the pact, said he was satisfied it would halt a drift toward catastrophe. "We have stopped ourselves at the edge of a precipice and turned our back to it," Nehru said.

THE AGREEMENT guarantees the security of the Moslem minority in Hindu India, and the Hindu minority in Moslem Pakistan. It also permits the unhampered migration of both minorities across the borders of the two dominions.

The move was an idealistic one and had the blessings of the civilized world. But whether it would work was a problem that would still trouble hemisphere diplomats.

OUT OF INDIA were coming reports that the announced—and probably sincere—effort to abolish caste in order to bring about unity, was encountering more difficulty than was expected. Religious convictions, customs, traditions and practices of centuries are not sloughed off so easily.

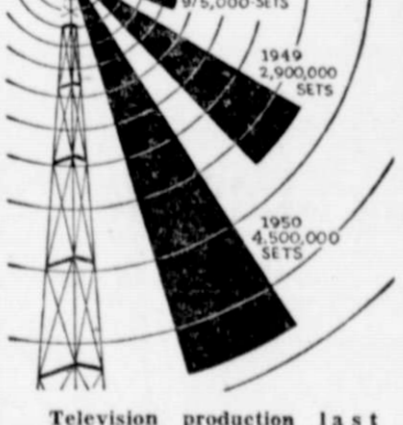

CHILDREN: A New Hope

A new hope for stunted children—a promise of speeding the growth of undernourished boys and girls—is held out in the drug aureomycin. The "golden drug," it was said, may prove a powerful growth stimulant.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT was made at the national convention of the American Chemical Society in Philadelphia, where delegates learned that already the drug has increased the rate of growth of hogs, chickens and turkeys by as much as 50 per cent. Its effects, delegates were told, "far exceed" those obtainable with any known vitamin. It is being tested now on undersized children.

Scientists said the growth-accelerating action of the drug "may hold enormous long-range significance for the survival of the human race in a world of dwindling resources," because it may prove of tremendous importance in extending the world's meat supply and reducing the cost of production.

Television Booms

Television production last year according to findings of the Conference Board, totaled nearly 2 1/2 million sets as compared with 6,500 in 1946. The above graph illustrates the sensational growth of this new entertainment medium. The video industry estimates sets in use this year will range around 4.5 million.

BUSINESS: Too Many Idle

According to U.S. Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer, business is good—but there is too much unemployment.

HE ADDED, however, that it is dangerous to set a specific figure as the danger point in unemployment because "people will get panicky" when it is reached.

HE ALSO said that his department was not drawing up any plan to combat unemployment.

THAT the unemployment picture was a little more grim than Sawyer indicated was attested in the fact that President Truman has underscored his concern over the situation by urging congress to set up a uniform U.S.—state unemployment compensation system.

The plan, which apparently has little hope of congressional approval, would bring another six million workers under the protection of the job-insurance program and raise benefits an average of 20 per cent.

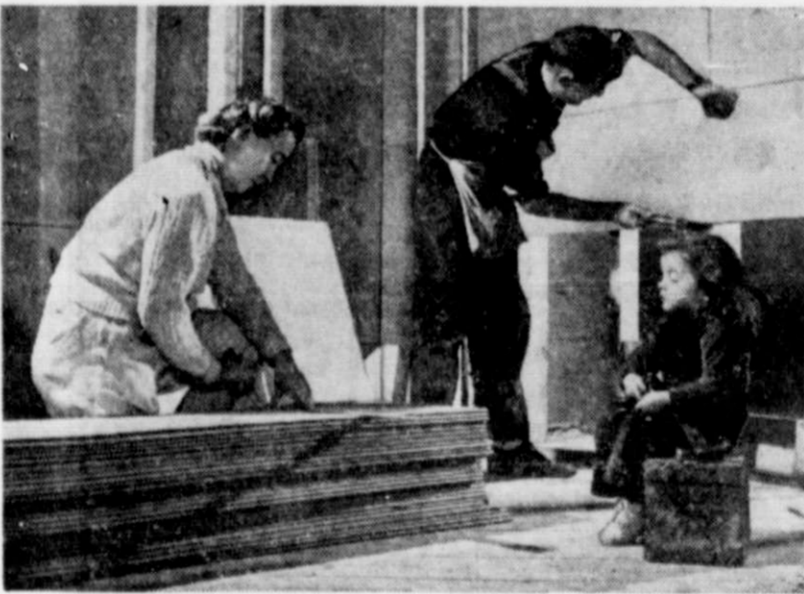

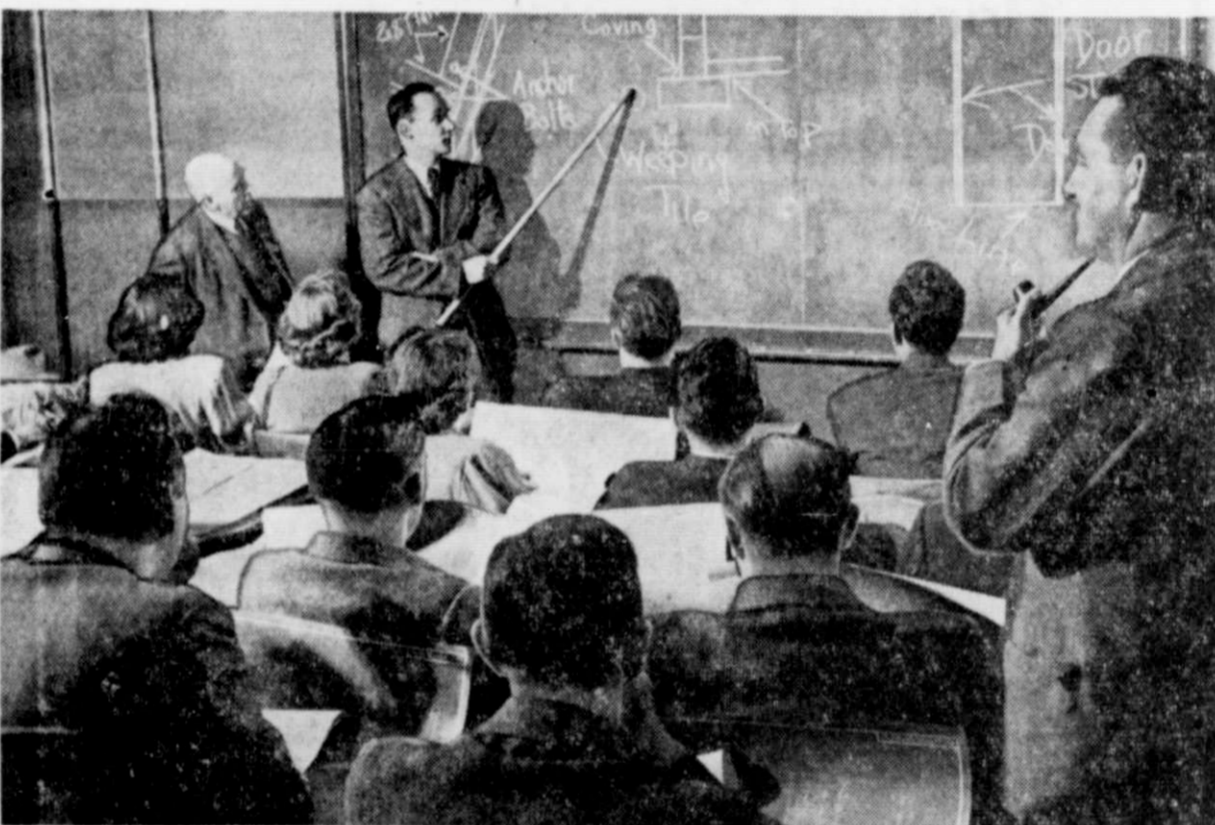

With housing costs remaining so high as to keep home ownership out of reach of many people, the build-your-own-home idea has begun to sweep across Canada. Most of the home-builders have had little or no experience, but they pitch right in and with the aid of specially prepared plans and loans manage to do the job in adequate fashion. This Ontario family (photo at left) has joined the scores of Canadian veterans who are in the build-your-own-house program. They are planning on a house with a room for baby Nancy.

Home-Made Homes

weekly Picture story

The veterans often obtain better quality material for less money through careful shopping. The Veterans Loan association in Canada finances the program. Shown at right, a V.L.A. supervisor, standing at left, is helping a veteran contractor to select his woods which are to be used in the house he is building.

This evening class of 1950 vet builders (above) being instructed by V.L.A. supervisor Robert Wood is one of 12 organized in the western Ontario centers. The veterans are given encouragement in the form of a loan and they need to give proof only of their business ability, their will to work and spare time. The photo at left shows the Simpson family of Roseland, Ontario, working on their home. Simpson put the foundation in himself, learned how to lay cinder blocks and built the walls with his wife acting as hod man.

This is the house (right) that knock built. Ken Reid, a draughtsman, built a home for $7,000—$6,000 V.L.A. aid and an extra $1,000, in addition to a down payment of 10 per cent of the cost and excess over $6,000. The veteran repays two-thirds of the loan amortized at 2 1/2 per cent with interest at 3 1/2 per cent. The remainder is a grant given conditionally on his fulfilling terms of the contract for 10 years.

Thomas "Burns"

Oklahoma's surly Sen. "Cotton Elmer" Thomas was so burned up after this column corrected his version of General Bradley's secret testimony on the possibility of war that Thomas has now ordered a senate subcommittee to investigate. The subcommittee is supposed to find out how this column got General Bradley's secret testimony. Senator Thomas had reported to the press that the chief of staff was not worried about war with Russia. To keep the record straight, however, this column gave a word-by-word account of Bradley's remarks, which differed considerably from Senator Thomas's version.

Following this, "Cotton Elmer" named three senators to investigate this columnist—Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Willis Robertson of Virginia and Homer Ferguson of Michigan. They are now checking on all the secret transcripts to find which one might have slipped into Drew Pearson's hands. What stumps the investigators, however, is that the column also quoted what General Bradley said off the record—which doesn't even appear in the stenographic transcripts.

So far the subcommittee suspects a certain Republican senator of leaking the story to Pearson, but I can assure the subcommittee that its chief suspect wasn't even present during Bradley's testimony.

More to Investigate

What Bradley said, summed up briefly, was that Russia won't have the industrial capacity nor the atomic stockpile to start a war for at least two years. However, he warned that Russia is a bully nation and might get careless whom she pushes around. He also refused to predict what Russia might do after two years.

General Bradley also made other significant observations the public is entitled to know but which this column didn't have space to print in the story now being investigated. So here is some more for the investigators to investigate.

Sen. Burnet Maybank of South Carolina questioned Bradley sharply on whether the 13 billion-dollar budget was an absolute minimum. "I certainly would hate to see the figure become any smaller," replied Bradley. Then he declared flatly: "This amount was determined before we learned that Russia had the atomic bomb."

He assured, however, that he was willing to go along with a 13-billion-dollar budget for the sake of economy.

"In other words," suggested Massachusetts' Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, "as a good citizen you believe we should live within our means."

"Yes, but I would like to qualify that," Bradley hesitated. "You don't want to qualify the good citizen part," smiled Saltonstall.

Then Bradley explained: "The eventual strength of our country depends upon its industrial capacity. We must not destroy that by spending too much from year to year. So if I came here recommending 30 billion or 40 billion for defense, you should start searching for a new chairman of the joint chiefs of staff."

"It is true that our forces—ground, air and navy—are not sufficient now to fight a major war," Bradley emphasized. "Nor do we expect to be sufficient for such a calamity by the end of fiscal year 1951," he continued. "But I feel that we are going to achieve the necessary forces to prevent a disastrous attack from crippling this nation. I also believe that it will be able to win a war if it comes."

He predicted that this country's "mobilization base"—its industrial potential, reserve forces and military education system—would "win a war if it is thrust upon us."

"This is a risk that we take," solemnly added the chief of staff.

Unification?

Outspoken Adm. Dan Gallery, whose ideas about an all-powerful navy have got him into the military doghouse, was brooding over a fire that damaged his home. "I don't blame it on the air force," he confided to an air force friend. "I think Secretary of Defense Johnson started it."

Congress Sky-Pilot

New Chaplain Bernard Braskamp is probably the first chaplain in congressional history who doesn't use a prepared script in delivering the opening prayer before the house of representatives. When Rayburn recently complimented him on it, the chaplain replied:

"Mr. Speaker, I can't pray sincerely by reading something I have prepared. That would be like telling the good Lord: 'Look, Lord, this is my prayer for tomorrow, so be ready for it.'"

This doesn't mean, the chaplain hastens to explain, that we shouldn't continue to exhort God by such beautiful certainties as the Lord's Prayer, "but once in a while I think he likes to hear from us off the cuff, so to speak."

Reverend Braskamp, 63-year-old son of Dutch immigrants, gave up a promising baseball career to enter the Presbyterian ministry. The late Harry Hopkins once carried his glove at Grinnell College, Iowa, when Grinnell had one of the best college nines in the west.

That a portion of the Town Road, beginning at Thiel's corners on S. T. H. No. 60; and extending north approximately three and one-half miles to an intersection with S. T. Highway 143, lying entirely in the Town of Jackson; be added to the County Trunk Highway system of Washington County. The Town Board feels that traffic is heavy enough to warrant such addition; and that such road would serve as a direct extension of County Trunk "M" that would connect S. T. H. 60 with S. T. H. 143.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of Washington County:

Report No. 5
MAJORITY AND MINORITY REPORT
(Board of Trustees—Hospital and Home)
TO THE COMMITTEE ON INSTITUTIONS

Complying with your request that the Trustees give you their recommendation in regard to the request of the City of West Bend for a strip of land along the west side of the County Farm to extend Indiana Ave. across the river, we beg to report as follows:

That the Trustees have given the matter a great deal of study and consideration. That we feel that the welfare of the patients of the County Hospital should be our first consideration, and that said street would add to the difficulties of the patients and their attendants. That the land south of Highway 33 is the most needed by the patients and will become more invaluable to the patients and the County in the future as we get more patients that need closer supervision.

That the Trustees realize that the growth of the City of West Bend presents many problems, and that they are ready and willing to study and consider any proposal made by the City of West Bend involving the County Hospital and its grounds, and that they will approve any proposal that in their opinion will not be detrimental to the County Hospital and its patients.

That the Trustees firmly recommend to the Committee on Institutions that the present proposal of the City of West Bend to purchase land for the extension of Indiana Ave. along the west side of the County Farm shall not be accepted.

That this recommendation has been duly adopted by the Board of Trustees with Ed. Gettleman and Alfred Seefeldt voting for the recommendation, and Michael Goring voting against said recommendation.

To the Institutional Committee of the Washington County Board: Gentlemen:

In as much as the Board of Trustees of the County Hospital and Home could not agree unanimously on the matter of the application of the City of West Bend for the purchase of a right of way or easement over the westerly portion of the present County lands from the Milwaukee River to Division Street, I believe it is proper that I submit a minority report to your Committee.

I voted in favor of selling the proposed easement for the following reasons:

After a careful examination of the proposed roadway it is my opinion that the laying out of such a road would not impair the welfare of the patients at the Hospital and Home. The present fence now separating the grounds from the property owners on the west is in bad repair and must be replaced. In the event a roadway should be installed we would have a definite separation from the public not only on the north and south of the grounds but also on the west. This would be to the advantage of the County since we would not have private property owners encroaching on our lands, but we would be separated from them by a roadway. A proper hedge or enclosure (which must be erected in the near future) could then be placed along the roadway and we would know that our patients would be definitely segregated.

I have examined the proximity of our silo and barn to the proposed roadway and I feel that this will not interfere with our farm operations. Having a roadway on the west side of our grounds will probably facilitate farm operations for this would give us an entrance on the west which we presently do not have and would also furnish us with a method of getting to the fields on the south without crossing thru the balance of our lands.

I have always felt strongly against standing in opposition to progressive measures. The City of West Bend at present has traffic congestion on its main thoroughfares which problem must be solved since it is a definite traffic hazard. Highway 45 and 55 which runs over West Bend's Main Street and Fourth Avenue not only carries the normal traffic highway load but four times a day carries workers from the Aluminum Co., Gehl's Manufacturing Co., Pick Industries, Amity Leather Products Co., Pick Manufacturing Co., Enger-Kress Co., A & P Condensery and the other manufacturing companies in the City of West Bend. The proposal of the City of West Bend is to erect a bridge across the Milwaukee River at Indiana Avenue and then with the counties consent lay out a roadway to Division Street which is also Highway 33. The laying out of such a roadway would mean that persons working at the Amity, Pick Industries, and Pick Manufacturing Co., which companies probably employ more than 1000 employees in the aggregate, would not have to travel on Fourth Avenue or Main Street of West Bend to get to the East side of the town. This of course not only will aid the people living in West Bend, but all the workers who live East of the City of West Bend in the Towns of West Bend, Farmington and Trenton would be aided. It will probably also save lives for with the traffic congestion in the City of West Bend there are bound to be some serious accidents because of the heavy traffic on Fourth Avenue and Main Street. A roadway of this type will also give workers at the Aluminum Company, Gehl Manufacturing Co., Enger-Kress Co., A & P Condensery, West Bend Cannery and other plants located on the East side of the city, who are driving to the South and West, a safe roadway to travel. From the view point of the County it would mean that the people who live in the Towns of Jackson, Polk, West Bend and Germantown, who work in these factories, would have a way to get to their jobs without going through the Main Street of West Bend and we would be aiding their safety and convenience.

I have carefully examined the land needed for the proposed roadway and it is my opinion that such a roadway would not take more than 11 acres of tillable land. Since our County Farm consists of 353 acres this in no way would curtail our operations. For the above reasons it is my firm conviction that it would be to the County's advantage to grant a right of way as proposed so that we may take full advantage of this improvement.

of the County Hospital and Home

To the Honorable Chairman and Members, Washington County Board of Supervisors Gentlemen:

Balance on hand, January 1, 1949 $ 904.45
Appropriation 6,000.00

Table showing expenses from Jan. through Oct. 1949 and estimated for Nov. and Dec. 1949. Categories include Salaries, Expenses and travel, Supplies, Phone, Rent, Petty cash, etc.

Estimated Balance $ 778.11

We also submit the annual report of activities of this office. The number of new cases handled was 426, with a total of 209 carried over from last year, making a total of 635 cases.

Table showing cases carried over and new applications. Categories include Personal problems, Cases completed, Cases pending, Cases denied.

Total 635

The settlements made during 1949 are as follows: Compensation and pension to veterans and dependents $ 12,622.00, Benefits from Wisconsin Dept. of Veterans Affairs 1,639.50, Hospitalization at Wood, Wisconsin 6,926.00, Burial allowances 2,210.00, Social Security 499.02, Insurance reinstated and converted 120,500.00, Insurance settlements 17,420.00, Loans from Wisconsin Dept. of Veterans Affairs 8,000.00.

Total $169,816.52

The above tabulation does not include dental or medical care granted on the out-patient basis. The monetary benefits for such care can only be estimated, as we are not advised of the amounts paid out by the Veterans Administration. Therefore we can only specify the number of cases handled. This is also true of several benefits. We quote these figures as follows:

Table showing various cases handled: Outpatient dental and medical care, Application for training under PL 346, Application for training under PL 16, Headstones for veterans' graves, Burial flags, Domiciliary care at King - old members, New applications, Domiciliary care at Wood, Wisconsin peddlers' licenses, Permanent patients in VA neuropsychiatric hospitals.

Total 146

The new Wisconsin Statute Section 627, better known as the Veterans Housing Loan, has recently been put into effect. Your Veterans Service Officer is designated by statute as being the local agent for the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs. This has placed additional work upon the personnel of this office in executing the loan applications.

Administrative Instruction No. 1, Veterans Administration, has changed the entire setup of training and education, which again adds to the work of your Service Officer.

Public Law 339, which takes effect on December 1st, will cause considerable additional work, as it may become necessary to review all service connected cases for possible increase in compensation. Personnel of this office for the assistance and cooperation extended Washington County, in 1949, had 12 deaths of veterans who died after discharge. However, there were 20 burials as follows:

Table showing burials: Spanish American Veteran, World War I Veterans, World War II Veterans, Bodies returned, Arlington National Cemetery, Rock Island National Cemetery, Ft. Knox National Cemetery.

Total 8

Your Service Officer wishes to extend the appreciation of the personnel of this office for the assistance and cooperation extended during the past year. Our services are at your disposal and we invite you to call upon us whenever any problem presents itself.

Report No. 9 COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Annual report of the County Superintendent of Schools to the County Board of Supervisors November 8, 1949.

Chairman, Mr. Romaine, and members of the Board of Supervisors in Washington County.

To comply with Section 39.03 (4) of the Wisconsin Statutes, I hereby submit the Annual Report of the educational work done under my supervision as County Superintendent of Schools.

I believe that a short statistical summary might give a more complete visual picture of the educational business as it now appears.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes 47 Rural Schools Operating, 36 Closed Districts, 7 State Graded Schools, 2 Grades Below High School, 2 City Grades.

Four schools closed since the 1948-49 school year ended.

In one of the one-room schools, namely, Joint District No. 1, North Trenton, a second teacher has been employed because of the increased enrollment. A tendency toward increased enrollment is quite pronounced throughout the county.

A summary of educational events had and their programs for these occasions is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes September 17, 1949—County Teachers Institute, Educational Trends, The School Health Program, The Arts of Communication, Supervision, The Right to Hear (film), Relations Between the Elementary School and the High School, School Administrators and Elementary Teachers, Teachers Retirement.

Question Box—New School Legislation R. S. Ihlenfeldt State Supr.

A hearing testing program was started in the month of October, and is being carried on at this time. It is being carried on as a conjunctive activity with the office of the County Nurse. This is a new service to the county.

No doubt, the time is opportune for a declaration of educational policy. A statement or two will entirely cover my intentions.

First of all, this office intends to aid in placing in each school, as well qualified a teacher as the salary of the district will invite, and then it intends to aid this teacher in doing as good a job as her faculties and training will permit her to do, in view of the material facilities at hand as aids to do the job well.

The appended accounting is that shown on the record as being that of the period commencing on January 1st, 1949 and ending on October 31st, 1949.

The secretary to the County Superintendent has closed the book as of November 1st, 1948. All duplicate copies of invoices presented to County Clerk are on file and are open for members of the County Board on request.

Respectfully yours, H. D. Sheski, Co. Supt. of Schools.

Report No. 17

REPORT OF THE ANNUAL WASHINGTON COUNTY 4-H CLUB FAIR

The Honorable Board of Supervisors, Washington County, Wisconsin Ladies and Gentlemen: The 92nd Annual Washington County Fair was held on July 28 to 31 inclusive. Three other fairs throughout the state were held on corresponding dates. Many fairs are being held earlier than in former years because more favorable and warmer weather usually prevails.

Reports from county fair officials from some of the neighboring counties indicate that the 1949 fair season was spotty in both attendance and financial returns. Some fairs reported an increase in attendance and receipts. Other fairs reported decreases. The general opinion is that less money was spent at fairs this year than a year ago. The Washington County 4-H Fair shows a decrease in income from amusement sources, but an increase in commercial concession income. The gross income exceeded that of the previous year by a satisfactory amount. However, higher labor, material, and entertainment costs immediately absorbed any increased income.

Entry day was Thursday, July 28. It is a rule of the fair that all entries must be made on this day. No entry fees are charged. 4-H club leaders are employed as department superintendents and clerks.

Five men and five women judges did the judging of the exhibits on Friday and Saturday, with a few of the more important dairy classes held over for Sunday afternoon.

It was estimated that close to 30,000 people viewed the fair. Daytime attendance, except for Sunday, was small. However, the evening attendance on each of the four evenings was good.

Three 20' x 50' tents were erected to house the poultry and many livestock exhibits. A total of 16 tents, all 20' x 40' or larger were used to house various commercial and industrial displays. Another dozen smaller tents were rented by concessioners needing only a limited amount of space.

A 40' x 100' tent featuring electrical displays only was sponsored by the Wisconsin Gas & Electric Company. Since it was expected that the various exhibits included in these displays would utilize considerable amounts of electricity, the Wisconsin Gas & Electric Company installed their own electrical service for the use of those having displays in this tent.

More fairs were held throughout the state this year than last year. Only two fairs—the Clark County Fair at Neillsville and the Jackson County Fair at Black River Falls were called off because of polio. Even though the annual state aid to all Wisconsin County Fairs has been increased from $160,000 to $200,000, the percentage of state aid this year will not be more than the 58% paid by the state last year. More exhibits this year than last year, some premium increases, and more group judging than in previous years, will easily absorb any additional state aid.

The amount of electricity used in the holding of a fair is an item of importance. The amount used this year is in excess of the amount formerly used. To operate the fair, electricity was purchased from the Village of Slinger, The Wisconsin Gas & Electric Company, and from the Snapp Shows, who ran their diesel unit, the cost of which was charged to the fair.

A free entertainment program was presented on each of the four evenings and on Sunday afternoon. Home talent only was used for stage acts. The bands presenting concerts included: Thursday evening—Hartford American Legion Band.

Friday evening—Collins-Meyer Post Girls' Band. Saturday evening—Beaver Dam American Legion Band. Sunday—Jefferson American Legion Band.

A home talent minstrel show made up of personnel from the Young Adults Club of the county was presented on Thursday and Sunday evenings. The fair sponsored these two performances by assuming the obligation of paying for the coaching services and other costs.

The 1949 Fair was considered by many to be the largest and best fair held in recent years. It has a good increase in the number of exhibits and more commercial displays and farm machinery than in recent fairs.

The management of the Fair appreciates very much the splendid cooperation given the fair by your Honorable Board of Supervisors. The secretary freely consulted with the county committee in charge of the fair. These are:

Mr. Otto Koller, Barton. Mr. Emil Gauger, West Bend, Route 1. Mr. Adolph Lofy, Hubertus, Route 1.

Sincere appreciation is further extended to those who conducted the four-day event. These include the local 4-H and FFA leaders, the Slinger Fire Department, the Wisconsin Gas & Electric Company, the Home Demonstration Agent and the County 4-H Club leader.

Appreciation is also further extended to the many youths of the county who exhibited, to the adult exhibitors, to the business firms who had commercial displays, to the newspapers and press of the county for their good publicity, and to the Snapp Greater Shows for in inviting and well managed midway.

Report No. 18

WASHINGTON COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors,
 Washington County, Wisconsin
 Ladies and Gentlemen:

This year 1949 was kind to the rural population of Washington County. The winter was not a severe one. It did, however, have a fair amount of snow which left considerable moisture in the subsoil for spring plowing.

The spring months, April, May, and the forepart of June, were relatively dry months. This permitted an early planting and especially on the wetter muck type of soil. Ample rainfall during the summer months and prevailing warm weather gave the farmers of the county a reasonable good harvest, especially a large corn crop.

Hay fields and pastures were excellent. Grain was only a fair crop as it was somewhat injured by the hot weather prevailing during the middle of July. Most root crops like red beets, potatoes, and others came through in fine shape and produced good yields. Early peas for canning were below the average but the late pea crop was excellent. All kinds of fruit and especially apples were a bounteous crop.

Corn was perhaps the largest crop within the memory of most people and since corn is one of our major crops, the large crop of 1949 will mean ample livestock feed and prosperity to the rural population.

Washington County Has 2,529 Farms

Washington County is one of the smaller counties of the state, but most of the county is farmed intensively. Almost 95% of the land in the county is used for crop production. The average size of its 2,529 farms is 103 acres according to the Wisconsin Crop Reporting Service. Less than one-half of the population of the county is rural.

Washington County has an average growing season of 157 days starting early in May and ending in October. Our longest season was an 187 day season in 1931. In West Bend, according to the weather bureau records, the last killing frost has occurred as early as April 22 and as late as June 6th. In the fall we have killing frosts as early as the first day of September and as late as the forepart of November.

The average annual precipitation for the county is 31 inches. Slightly more than one-half of this usually occurs during the growing season. The average annual snowfall is in excess of three feet.

Nearly one-half of the farms in the county have running water. Approximately 95% have electricity, more than one-half have telephones and nearly every farm is equipped with one or more radio sets. Many now have television installations.

Practically all of the roads are hard surfaced with gravel, black top or concrete. Snow removal is promptly carried out during the winter months. These factors together with the natural beautiful wooded area of the county has caused many people to want to live in the county even though they may be employed in the Milwaukee area. For this reason there is a big demand for homes and suitable building sites in the southern half of the county.

The Agricultural Extension Program of a county covers a wide range of service. It recognizes the needs of the 10-year old boy or girl who is doing his first year of 4-H club work, or the young adult who is beyond the 4-H club age, the farmer who wants technical advice, the housewife who wants help in planning a household remodeling job, or the city gardener whose small garden plantings are in danger of being destroyed by insects or plant diseases.

DAIRY AND LIVESTOCK

Milk is the major source of gross farm income in Washington County. More than one-half of the total farm income is derived from the dairy herd. Only 12 other counties in Wisconsin derive a larger percent of their income from dairying. It pays dairymen to carry out a carefully planned dairy herd management program. Such a program should embody the following major points:

Production—Testing Program

A cooperative dairy herd milk testing laboratory is maintained. This laboratory is now in its 5th year of service to the dairymen of the county. It has a patronage of nearly 200 farmers who are serviced with monthly tests and production records of the individual cows in their herds. Approximately 4,000 cows are on test. This is about 10% of the total milking cows in the county.

A Long-Time Breeding Program

Many dairy cattle within the county are bred through artificial insemination. About 650 dairymen are members of the East Central Breeders' Association whose headquarters are at Waupun. Another concern, the Curtiss Candy Company of Cary, Illinois, is also offering this service to the county dairymen.

Youth project raises 27 registered sires

In addition, 27 4-H and FFA boys are raising registered Holstein sires as a youth project. These are sold at public auctions.

The sale of these 27 young sires was held at the fairgrounds on Friday afternoon, October 28. The average selling price of the 27 head was $228.33 with the top animal selling for $420.00. Three other bulls sold for $300.00 or more.

It is interesting to note that 21 of the 27 sires included in the sale were purchased by Washington County dairymen. This is encouraging.

Commercial firms of the county have shown much interest in the sire project sponsored by the County Holstein Breeders' Association and have annually contributed about $300.00 for paying for the boys' share of the publicity and other expense of holding the sales auction. Auctioneering and clerical service is donated.

Quality Program

Milk is an important source of human food. It is also a food that is easily contaminated by bacteria and disease germs. Hence, careful attention must be given to the handling of milk to keep it clean and wholesome.

New standards of milk production have been formulated by the State Department of Agriculture, which within the next two years will require all milk producers to exercise more care in the production and handling of milk to assure top quality at all times.

Herd Sanitation Program

The dairy herd that is not a healthy herd is usually a non-profitable one. Twenty-five or more years ago tuberculosis in dairy cattle was the dairyman's most dreaded livestock disease. When this disease had been brought under control through a carefully tested and slaughter program, another disease came to the foreground. This disease is Brucellosis or Bang's disease as it is most commonly called.

Recent State Legislation has made it possible for a township to be the basis for Brucellosis testing or Brucellosis vaccination at no expense to the dairymen. This service is available when 75% of the livestock owners request it.

All townships on State program

The writer is pleased to report that all townships of Washington County have secured a sufficient number of signers to qualify their respective townships for state supervised Brucellosis control service. Vaccination of 4 to 8 month old calves is the service requested by most dairymen. Vaccinated calves are thought to have a reasonable immunity against Brucellosis, and it is expected that within a period of 8 to 10 years most herds will be free from this disease.

Mastitis—an inflammation of the udder of milking cows, is another disease that is causing dairymen much concern. It is the greatest cause of loss of good milk cows due to disease. An educational program to teach farmers the nature of this disease and the precautions they need to take to prevent it from getting into the herds was attended by 268 farm folks.

New Wisconsin Dairy Standards

On November 15, 1949 the new dairy standards for Wisconsin will become effective. Farmers will have two years time to comply with these minimum requirements.

Among the major requirements of the new standards may be mentioned—(1) all dairy farms must be inspected (2) only healthy persons can be employed in a dairy barn (3) a milk house will be required on every farm after November 15, 1952. (4) all milk must be transported in insulated trucks.

The new milk standards will mean much to the dairy industry of Wisconsin. More than 80% of our dairy products are sold in out-of-state markets. Our ability to sell top quality products will bring better milk prices to Wisconsin dairymen.

DAIRY QUALITY PROGRAM RECOGNIZED AT STATE FAIR CEREMONIES

Washington County was one of ten Wisconsin Counties to be awarded an achievement plaque for excellence in promoting a dairy quality program.

400 DAIRYMEN ATTEND MID-SUMMER HOLSTEIN MEETING

The 8th annual mid-summer meeting of the Washington County Holstein Breeders' Association was held on June 30 at the Meldomar Farm near Colgate. Mr. A. C. Oosterhuis, formerly president of the National Holstein-Friesian Association and prominent Holstein breeder at Oconomowoc, addressed the gathering. Others who spoke included Mr. Charles C. Brace, well known Holstein breeder and association fieldman, Mr. A. O. Collettine of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, and the writer of this report.

SWINE AND SHEEP

Neither swine or sheep make up much of Washington County's farm income. Lack of ripe corn year after year curtails the extensive raising of swine. However, the county is a large producer of young feeder pigs which are largely marketed at any of the three monthly stock fairs held within the county. Through the high school Agricultural departments and 4-H club members interested in the swine project, considerable registered breeding stock is being made available to county farmers. Three bred gilt sales were held during the past year.

Two meetings, attended by 86 farmers, were held to stress management, disease and feeding problems.

Sheep on the hilly farms where much of the cultivated land should be kept in grass can be a profitable enterprise.

POULTRY

Poultry second largest source of gross farm income.

Nearly every farm in Washington County has its poultry flock. The average size of the farm flock is about 250 laying hens. Total county egg production is about 5 million dozen.

Five meetings, attendance 690, brought to our poultry raisers latest management information.

FIELD CROPS

Grain Variety Testing Plot

On the Ben Zinke Farm, Route 4, West Bend, the writer had 12 varieties of oats and barley planted in a variety test plot. All varieties grew under similar conditions. When the grain was ripe, meetings were held to show visitors the performance of the different varieties. About 300 farmers visited the experimental plot and noted the appearance of each variety. From these observations grain growers can decide what varieties they may want to plant.

New Oat and Barley Varieties

The past few years have seen the development of several new varieties of oats, namely—Clinton, Bonda, Mindo, and possibly a half dozen other varieties. In the field of barley, a new variety called the Moore variety is showing merit.

Hybrid Corn

Hybrid corn accounts for about 98% of the corn grown in Washington County. Seed from many different sources are planted. All appear to give about the same silage yields.

LEGUMES

Some alfalfa fields need Boron.

Only fair yields of white clover, red clover, and alsike clover seed was harvested this year. Ladino clover which is a giant type of white clover, produced an above average seed crop. More alfalfa seed is being produced than formerly. A few farmers are using the first crop of alfalfa for seed purposes. A number of alfalfa fields are showing possible signs of soil deficiency. The elements in which such fields are thought to be deficient are boron and potash.

WASHINGTON COUNTY HOLDS STATE'S LARGEST BARLEY SHOW

Much interest is shown by the farmers in the county in the growing of quality barley as a source of cash income. This statement is supported by the fact that for the past four years the county has held a much larger "Better Barley Growing Contest and Show" than any other Wisconsin County. During the past summer 145 farmers enrolled in the contest and exhibited a one-bushel sample at the show.

Wins 1st prize in State Show.

The top prize winning sample for the state was one of the Washington County entries. It was the bushel sample exhibited by Ewald Rauch, West Bend, Route 3. He received a cash prize of $300, and a beautiful plaque. A. A. Wiedmeyer of Richfield was also a top prize winner. He received an honorable mention and a $50 cash award.

PASTURE RENOVATION

Pasture renovation means breaking up old June grass pastures and reseeding with legume mixtures. Such pastures yield more and better forage. 78 farmers were given information and assistance in pasture renovation projects.

Better pastures mean more economical livestock feeding. Forage crops produce feed nutrition at less cost than do cultivated crops. Hence, good pastures are essential for economical farming.

GRASS SILAGE MAKING PROGRAM

The use of alfalfa as a silage is rapidly replacing corn silage in part, at least on more than 125 farms in the county. To bring to those interested in the new ways of making grass silage, 4 area meetings were held.

At these meetings information was given on several different methods of improving the quality of silage. These different methods are:

Wilted Hay Methods

Because grass silage preservatives are costly, research by the College of Agriculture found that if the alfalfa is allowed to wilt to about a 65% moisture content, the silage will keep fairly well in the silo and be palatable for dairy cattle.

Liquid or Dried Molasses

The use of 40 lbs. of liquid molasses or a somewhat smaller amount of dried molasses per ton of green hay, appreciably improves the quality, palatability and keeping property of the silage.

Ground Corn Method

If molasses is not available, then 200 lbs. of ground corn, ground barley, or dried whey per ton of green hay usually gives good preserving effects.

All three methods of silage preservation were used within the county.

SOIL IMPROVEMENT

Lime and Fertilizer

The soils of Washington County have been farmed for 100 years or more. During these years it has produced abundantly of farm crops. The return to the soil of much of the fertilizing value of these crops, the growing of large acreage of alfalfa, red clover, and other legume crops, helps to retain the fertility of the soil. Then too, farmers are turning to the use of lime and commercial fertilizers, using about 12,000 tons of lime and 6,200 tons of commercial fertilizer per year.

Soil Erosion Control

The message of soil erosion and its manner of control was brought to the attention of 1,200 farmers at 15 community meetings.

Farmers in the county are slow in adopting soil conserving practices. Many of them, especially those that have been farming for a number of years, are reluctant of breaking away from the custom of working and planting a complete field rather than several alternate strips across a field. Short slopes on hills, stone fences, and brush and trees along fences have kept many farmers from adopting soil conserving practices.

Soil Testing Program

A soil testing program has been sponsored by the county for a number of years. Soil samples are collected by the farmer and brought to the Extension Service Office from where they are sent to the College of Agriculture for analysis. Using the soil analysis report as a basis, recommendation for the purchase and application of commercial fertilizer are made. Such recommendations were made to 267 farmers during the year.

Farm Drainage and Tiling

Fourteen farmers were given assistance in planning farm drainage problems. Two organized drainage districts were given information and technical assistance which helped them in the management of their drainage problems.

Soil Erosion Tours

One tour was held with the agricultural committee, the press and farm leaders. The second tour was in cooperation with implement dealers. The two tours were attended by 80 interested people. Their purpose was to acquaint those present with local soil erosion problems and methods of control.

WEED CONTROL

Five years ago your Honorable Board of Supervisors appropriated $1,000 for weed control demonstrations. A part of this appropriation was used to equip a power sprayer for weed spraying purposes. Some was used to purchase chemicals for spraying weeds.

These early demonstrations account, to a large extent, for the almost 100 power weed sprayers now in use in the county. Many of these sprayers are used for custom work, some spraying as many as 500 acres per season.

About 8,000 acres of field crops and 30 miles of roadside were sprayed during 1949.

FORESTRY

The work done on forestry can be divided into two phases—these are

- planting young trees
- harvesting ripe trees

32 farmers purchased 32,650 forest transplants for underplanting of older woodlots where trees were becoming sparse, for windbreaks, or on highly erosion subject land. Such transplants may be purchased from the Wisconsin Conservation Department.

INSECT INFESTATION AND RODENT CONTROL

The year 1949 saw no serious insect infestation. There were, of course, the usual number of gardens and field insects. But most of them, outside of grasshoppers, caused no serious problems. Below is a brief resumé of the insect problems.

The Army Worm

For the first time in six years there was a mild infestation of the army worm during the middle of July. However, because of the advanced crop season little damage was done.

Corn Borer

Fewer corn borers were reported this year than for several years past. Sweet corn fields appeared to be more seriously infested than regular field corn.

Grasshoppers

Grasshoppers were quite plentiful in some areas of the county. It appears as though this insect is on the increase. About 600 acres were treated for grasshopper control. Three methods of control were used. These are:

- spreading poison bait by hand
- spraying fields with chlordane
- dusting with chlordane, usually done by airplane.

Pea Lice

The usual abundance of pea lice were present this year. Late peas were mostly affected, and most late pea acres were dusted for louse control.

Orchard Insect

Orchard insects were no more serious than in other years. Orchardists applied more sprays than formerly. There was an abundant apple crop in the making.

Box Elder Tree Bugs

A reddish appearing insect, known as the "box elder tree bug" was abundant in many sections of the county. Chlordane sprays were successfully used to combat this insect.

Rodent Control

One county-wide rodent or rat control campaign was carried out during the year. More than 475 lbs. of rat poison bait was distributed on almost that many farms. This rat bait was prepared by the Federal Government and sold to farmers at cost.

FRUIT PRODUCTION

400 Orchards Get Supervised Care

Orchard and fruit work is carried on by:

- meetings and demonstrations
- field calls
- newspaper items and spray schedules.

An all-day meeting of fruit growers was held in the early spring time. Approved practices of orchard care and management are outlined to those interested in fruit culture.

In September Washington County joined with Ozaukee and Sheboygan Counties in a tri-county tour. About 150 fruit growers were in attendance.

The Extension Office supplies information on orchard care, management, spray programs and adapted varieties to the spray rings, to members of the county fruit growers association and to about 125 other fruit growers who request this information.

Four neighborhood orchard pruning demonstrations were held. About 60 fruit growers attended.

FARM MANAGEMENT TOUR

See new type Glass-lined Silo

There are 38 farmers in the county who belong to an organization known as the Farm Management Association.

Each year the members of this organization hold a one-day farm tour. From 4 to 6 farms are visited. These are farms where new approved farm practices are being carried out. They include such practices as:

- hay drying with artificial heat
- a new type glass-lined silo
- the demonstration plots on small grains and potatoes which are under the supervision of the County Extension Service
- mechanical farming practices

One hundred and seventy-five farmers and members of their family participated in the tour this year.

STATE FAIR PARTICIPATION

County Herd wins 4th at State Fair

Washington County participated more actively this year in the State Fair Program than it has in previous years.

In the Junior State Fair Department 86 head of livestock were exhibited. Also a goodly number of home economic exhibits were displayed by 4-H girls. Most of these exhibits were blue ribbon winners at the County Fair. The county also was represented with a livestock judging team and a girl demonstrator. In the open class exhibitors entered more than a dozen dairy cattle and a similar number of dual purpose and beef cattle.

The county also was represented by a County Holstein herd of seven animals which placed 4th among nine county herds.

The West Bend Kiwanis Club donated a $5.00 award to each of 10 boys exhibiting at the Junior State Fair. This was to help them defray cost of living expenses while at the Junior State Fair.

GRADUATE STUDENTS OF NEIGHBORING UNIVERSITIES VISIT COUNTY

Syracuse and Northwestern University students study in County.

Graduate students from Syracuse and Northwestern University spent one day during August visiting farms in Washington County. The students were members of an advanced geography class and they did a part of their summer field work in the county.

The writer accompanied the group on a visit to three different types of farms. The first farm visited was one of a high productive level. Here there was little loss of soil through erosion and the buildings were spacious, modern and well kept. Next, quite an opposite type of farm was viewed. The third farm visited was a hilly farm, but the owner had cooperated with the Soil Conservation Service and had laid out his fields in contour strips, diversion dykes, terraces and land drainage.

A visit to the three types of farms mentioned above gave these students an opportunity to see farms of different productive levels. Also they saw the loss of soil due to erosion, and the soil management practices that can be carried out to prevent such erosion losses.

YOUNG ADULT CLUB

Because they were past the age permitting them to be members of the 4-H organization and still wishing to continue the social life of 4-H'ers, a group of about thirty young people organized what they choose to call a "Young Adult Club." This club meets monthly for social purposes. Folk-dancing, games and programs constitutes their usual entertainment.

NEWSPAPER COOPERATION

The four weekly newspapers of the county have given the Extension Service excellent cooperation throughout the year. Each week, items announcing meetings, giving rural people pertinent information, or reports on programs held, were printed in their current issues. This fine cooperation is greatly appreciated.

CONCLUSION

The year 1949 was a banner year for most Washington County farmers insofar as crop yields are concerned. Perhaps the largest corn and hay crops in the history of the county was harvested this year.

However, the value of the crops harvested and the value of the milk, meat, eggs and other food products produced upon the farm has taken a decided downward trend. This downward trend is expected to continue for several years. The farmers' 1950 net income is expected to be from 10 to 15 percent lower than it was in 1949.

Farm production costs have declined very little during the post-war years. The price the farmer has to pay for tractors, machinery, lumber, etc., has decreased little, if any. As a result the net farm income has taken a big drop during the past few years. Many farmers have had to borrow money recently to meet the current operating obligations.

Maximum employment and large government spending are important factors in keeping farm prices fairly stable. Fluctuating prices of farm produce can lead to an agricultural depression which may have an undesirable effect on the prosperity of the nation as a whole.

Report No. 21 REPORT OF WASHINGTON COUNTY NURSE

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors Washington County, Wisconsin Gentlemen:

It is with pleasure that a report is submitted on the activities of the County Nurse's Office during the past year, November 1, 1948 to November 1, 1949.

Your interest and cooperation in the various health projects have made this program possible.

Respectfully submitted, Gladys Salter, R. N. County Nurse

WASHINGTON COUNTY HEALTH COMMITTEE

 H. D. Sheski, Secretary
 Judge F. W. Bucklin
 Mrs. Janet Pike
 Dr. E. L. Bernhardt—Medical Society
 Dr. J. F. Baumgartner—Dental Society

ORGANIZATION OF A COUNTY HEALTH COUNCIL

Solving health problems today involves so many complex phases of community life that it is too big a job for any single group or profession or any department of government. Therefore, a movement has been started in the state to set up local Health Councils which will enlist the interest of all people and all groups in the question of health.

Health is dependent upon the houses we live in; the food we eat; the clothes we wear; the way we play; the control and prevention of communicable diseases; sanitation, including water supplies, sewage disposal, safe milk and food supplies; the care of mothers and infants; health education; mental hygiene; hospital facilities, including care of the aged and chronically ill; medical, nursing and dental care for the whole community; and safety and the prevention of accidents.

There are so many groups in the community concerned with these problems. Each of the organizations is working on that particular aspect of health which concerns it most directly, but there is no over-all planning to look at the field as a whole.

Some way, then, must be worked out so that the potentialities of each group can be used to the best advantage. This is the real function of the health council.

The objectives of a health council is simply to mobilize all of the health resources in a county to meet its health needs.

With this in mind, a meeting of key people from all sections of the County met at the Court House to consider the need for such an organization. Those present agreed that such an organization would be of great value to a community. At a later meeting, Mr. Henry Schowalter, local attorney, was appointed Chairman. It is hoped that within the coming year the council will become fully organized and select projects which will be of benefit to the people.

MATERNAL AND CHILD CARE

Thirty nine (39) home visits were made to expectant mothers. This service is the most sought after of all services. It is at this time that women are eager to learn all they can about how to maintain glowing health and what they can do to have a sturdy, healthy baby.

What they want to know:
 Anatomy and physiology of pregnancy.
 How the food they eat affects the baby and themselves.
 The entire process of delivery.
 How to understand the needs of the new baby.

The most efficient way of giving a generous amount of information is through classes for expectant mothers. Important as this service is, I regret that in a one nurse service it is impossible to conduct these classes because they are so time consuming.

In the past year, a number of patients from this county have attended mothers' classes in Ozaukee County.

Twenty three (23) home visits were made to post partum and new born.

Two hundred thirty four (234) visits were made in behalf of infants and preschool children.

SCHOOL HEALTH

During the past year, seventy eight (78) schools were visited. Sixty two (62) children were referred by the teachers for medical examination. Ninety four (94) parent-teacher-nurse conferences were held.

At the present time a hearing program is being conducted in the County. All of the village school children, public and parochial, are being tested. Volunteers from each school were taught to do the testing by Mr. J. D. Marks, Hearing Consultant, Bureau for Handicapped Children. The audiometric testing has been done in the schools in West Bend for the past two years and it was started in the Hartford schools last year.

The County Medical Society, the Superintendent of Schools and the County Nurse each have definite fields of responsibility in this program.

- The project involves:
1. Giving audiometric tests to all children in the county.
 2. Having a clinic for the hard of hearing with examination by an otologist.
 3. Follow-up treatment for those who were advised to have medical care.
 4. Hearing aids for those children so recommended by the otologist.
 5. Special instruction for children who have defective speech due to poor hearing.
 6. Instruction to teachers about how to help defective hearing children make the best use of their hearing.

DENTAL HEALTH

During the past three years a Demonstration Dental Health program approved by the County Dental Society has been carried on in the County by the State Board of Health Dental Hygienists in cooperation with the County Nurse.

To date a survey has been made of seventeen (17) schools. Each year four additional schools are surveyed. Re-checks are done on the school children who were given dental inspections the previous year so as to determine the extent of corrections.

Inspections on the children re-checked this year revealed that even though the majority of parents had been contacted regarding the dental needs of their children, very little had been done.

It is evident that there must be more emphasis placed on dental health education, and there is an apparent need for funds to provide dental care for borderline families.

The findings of the 1948 and 1949 demonstration dental program in the schools are as follows—this included the eight rural schools plus one high school, one kindergarten group and two first grade groups:

Total number of children inspected	554
Children needing dental care	63%
Children who have never visited the dentist	21%
Children with caries in permanent teeth	26%
Children badly in need of care	11%
Parents present	24%
Preschool children present	2%

TUBERCULOSIS CONTROL
 In December, 1948, two State Board of Health x-ray units were brought to the County for two weeks and in January, 1949, the mobile units were stationed in the City of West Bend for two weeks. A total of 7,837 persons were x-rayed. We have been informed by the State Board of Health that we will be offered the x-ray service again in 1951.

The findings on the persons x-rayed are as follows:
 263 were recommended for further examination by large x-ray and other medical tests.
 9 entered sanatoria for further examination and treatment.

X-ray findings other than tuberculosis were:
 364 heart and circulatory disease.
 126 other lung diseases.

Current statistics on tuberculosis in Washington County as known to our department are as follows:

Active cases	19
Moderately advanced	6
Far advanced	12
Primary	1
In sanatoria	18
At home	1

Eighty-two (82) Washington County teachers had fluoroscopic examinations in September, 1949.

A total of one hundred thirty two (132) home visits were made in regard to tuberculosis.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE CONTROL

An immunization program is in progress at the present time. Two hundred eighty-eight (288) children have been immunized with tri-immunal—whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus.

One hundred ninety seven (197) children have received small-pox vaccination.

A large percentage of children are immunized by their family physician. This is encouraged as it is a means of getting children protected at the youngest age possible.

Report No. 24 ANNUAL REPORT OF WASHINGTON COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT, MARIEL KOLB, 1949

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, Washington County, Wisconsin. Ladies and Gentlemen: The following report summarizes the activities of the home demonstration agents in Washington County during the past year. The narrative report will be confined to the four months the present home agent has been employed in the county. The statistical data, however, will cover the entire year. This will include the period from November 1-15 that Mrs. Harland Daluge remained in the county and the months from January 15-June 30 when Mrs. Kenneth Pike served as a part time, temporary agent. Although the major responsibility for the 4-H club program has been carried by the 4-H club agent, the home demonstration agent has assisted with the 4-H home economics projects and with local and county 4-H meetings and activities. Additional information concerning home demonstration work in the county is included in copies of the annual report of extension workers on file in the home agent's office and in the office of the superintendent of schools. The home agent will also be glad to answer any questions about the report. The Washington County Extension Program for 1948-49 was used as the basis at the home agents' work. It is hoped that the results reported will indicate that one of the fundamental purposes of extension, that of stimulating and inspiring people to do things for themselves, has been attained. The cooperation of the members of the county agricultural committee, the county planning committee, 4-H club leaders and members, officers and members of homemakers' clubs, and personnel of other county organizations has been greatly appreciated. The home agent would also like to express sincere appreciation for the cooperation and assistance given by the County Agent, Mr. E. E. Skalsky, the Club Agent, Mr. E. E. Olsen, the state extension supervisors and the specialists.

Respectfully submitted, MARIEL KOLB County Home Agent.

Report No. 23 ANNUAL REPORT OF WASHINGTON COUNTY 4-H CLUB AGENT To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, Washington County, Wisconsin Ladies and Gentlemen: On the following pages you will find my annual report for the seven months I have spent in Washington County. These have been seven satisfying months. I am thoroughly convinced that many families appreciate extension work. While the writer hopes that the 4-H program would reach more of the youth; a gratifying aspect is that many times 4-H does open the door to acquaint many new families with the entire extension program. At this time I would like to express sincere appreciation to the members of the County Agriculture Committee, the 4-H Leaders Association, the Program Planning Committee, the Extension Supervisors and specialists along with many other rural and urban agencies. The cooperation received from the 4-H leaders and members was excellent.

The writer graciously expresses thanks to Mr. Skalsky for the help and guidance received, and to Miss Kolb who so capably helped with the 4-H program, particularly the girls' projects. Respectfully submitted, EVERETT OLSEN County Club Agent

EXTENSION ORGANIZATION There were twenty-six 4-H clubs in the county this year. The total membership was 453, of which 212 were boys and 241 were girls. Fifty-one adult leaders guided the 4-H program. Of these 51 leaders, 20 were men and 31 were women. Forty-six junior leaders, 17 boys and 29 girls assisted the adult leaders and help carry a share of the responsibility. Each 4-H Club functions as an individual unit. They elect their own officers, plan their own program and activities, and conduct their meeting using the fundamentals of Parliamentary Procedure. This affords an excellent opportunity to understand, live, and practice the principle of our great democratic system. The combined efforts of all members determining their goals, and then working to achieve them is democracy at its best. In addition to improving Agricultural and Home Economic projects, the writer feels that one of the finest goals to be attained is the development of rural leadership. Inasmuch as practical, committees are used to help plan club activities. We strive to make new contacts for each committee. At times this is not the easiest way to get immediate results but it does uncover much latent ability.

WASHINGTON COUNTY LEADERS ASSOCIATION Washington County Leaders Association is composed of adult 4-H leaders in the county. They have been very helpful in promoting club work. Some of the club activities financed by the organization were: Safety Speaking Awards, County 4-H Club picnic, transportation of members to leadership training camps, etc. This organization helped propose the 1949 4-H Club program and in January they will help draw up the 1950 program.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCTION Dairy 113 4-H boys and girls carried the dairy project. 6 dairy fitting and showing demonstrations were conducted in different sections of the county. Over 100 boys and girls witnessed these demonstrations.

Dairy Cattle Judging From the local 4-H judging contest 3 4-H members were picked to go to the district contest. At the district contest, 2 were chosen to go to the state contest at West Allis. One was selected at the State Fair and went to the National Contest at Waterloo, Iowa.

Sire Calf Project 27 registered sires were raised by 4-H and FFA boys. The bulls were sold at public auction on October 28 at the Slinger Fair Grounds. In spite of lower prices than most of the boys anticipated (the average was $228.33, last year it was $313.00) an encouraging factor of this project was that 21 of the 27 bulls stayed in the county. The other bulls went to adjacent counties.

Junior Fair (West Allis) Washington County had 66 head of livestock exhibited at the Junior Fair not including poultry. As evidence to the quality of these exhibits, over $800.00 in premium money passed through this office. This does not include any group or herd awards.

Beef While Washington County is predominately dairy, there is an increasing interest in beef. This year 18 4-H members carried this project. Red Polls seem to be the most prevalent. The county Red Poll exhibit received a first at the State Fair. Several FFA and 4-H members exhibited beef and hogs at the Junior Livestock Show in Madison.

Sheep Only 5 members carried the sheep project. There are few sheep in the county. This might be explained by the fact that most workable land is utilized for dairy cattle feed.

Swine 33 4-H members were enrolled in this project. Perhaps there would be room for more hogs in the county. The limiting factor being the lack of ripe corn. Most corn grown is ensilaged and used as dairy feed.

Poultry 40 club members taking this project. Poultry on the farm has usually paid dividends the last few years. Most record books show a substantial profit from this enterprise.

CONSERVATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES Two 4-H members and 2 leaders attended the soil conservation conference in La Crosse. The hilly terrain of that area provided an excellent opportunity to compare the damage caused by neglected farms contrasted to good farming areas where soil conserving practices are carried out. One member attended a conservation camp at Camp Anokijig, Sheboygan County.

HOUSING, FARMSTEAD IMPROVEMENT AND EQUIPMENT Tractor Maintenance 17 boys were enrolled in the tractor maintenance project. This consists of a series of meetings where basic factors in caring for and prolonging the life of the home tractor, along with tractor safety are taught. A 4-H Tractor Operators Contest was held at the local fair. One contestant was entered at the State Fair. Local implement dealers cooperated by furnishing a meeting place and tractors to work on. They also furnished tractors and equipment for the operators contest.

Using Electricity Ten members were enrolled and several others attended an electrical school where they learned the fundamentals of electricity.

Metal Roofing One demonstration on caring for metal roofs was held. Two boys carried this activity and put on demonstrations of their own along with making a metal roofing exhibit.

HEALTH AND SAFETY WORK All club members received safety check sheets to be used in their own home. 13 members participated in the County Safety Speaking contest, one was awarded a trip to the camp at Green Lake. 392 members filled out health sheets. Three clubs distributed first aid kits to the families of members, and one club had the drinking water tested from each club member's home. Health talks were given at practically all clubs. One member attended the Health Camp at Green Lake on a scholarship won by her club in health activities.

RECREATION AND COMMUNITY LIFE Club Camp 18 4-Hers attended the 4-H club camp in June. These camps do much toward stimulating interest, developing individual thinking, and bringing new ideas into the local clubs. Help is given in crafts, recreation, and other project work. It is a memorable experience for many years.

Older 4-H Party A committee from the older 4-H group planned and made arrangements for the older 4-H party held at Thoma's Resort. This party was financed by the Washington County Leaders Association.

County 4-H Picnic Approximately 250 members and parents attended the county-wide 4-H picnic. Outside competition such as church picnics and final play-offs for local baseball teams lowered the attendance.

Leaders Picnic 55 4-H leaders attended the annual 4-H club leaders meeting and picnic. This year it was an evening of games and square-dancing climaxed with a wiener roast on the shore of Big Cedar Lake.

Young Adult About 30 young men and women have organized what they call the "Young Adult Club." Membership is open to anyone over 17 years of age who has rural interests. Their purpose is three-fold: (1) to provide recreation, (2) to supplement their program with activities of educational value, (3) and to provide community service. This was the group that put on the minstrel show at the fair grounds this last year. Recently they have drawn up their own club constitution. They meet in various places of the county every third Thursday night.

4-H STATISTICS Even though the total enrollment was lower than in 1948, there was an increase in the number of Agriculture projects. This is because more projects were carried per member than were carried in 1948. This year we had 136 new members compared to 160 new members last year. Of those 160, 54.4% re-enrolled in 1949. The number of club members who achieved, or successfully completed their club work in every phase was 87.4%. The state average for last year was 78.8%, the previous year 75%, so our achievement percentage is very commendable.

We would like to see our membership much higher, however, it isn't so much the large number enrolled that is important, but rather the quality of the product produced and the number of members who successfully complete all the projects they have undertaken.

Kiwanis Award The West Bend Kiwanis Club again honored 10 deserving 4-H and FFA members at a banquet. Certificates and $5.00 awards to be used to defray the expenses of exhibiting their animals at the State Fair are presented to these youth.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors

Gentlemen:

It is a pleasure to report to you that the sanitation of the Institution, care and treatment of the patients, has been excellent during the past year.

This fine condition must be credited to all the Attendants, under the guidance and supervision of the Superintendent and Matron.

There were eleven deaths at the Hospital—5 men and 6 women, and 3 deaths at the Home - all men. Their deaths were due to Old Age and Chronic Illnesses.

I wish to thank the Board of Trustees and Board of Supervisors for their cooperation in helping to make this a better Hospital for these unfortunates.

During the past year, we cared for at the Hospital a total of 182 patients, and at the Home, a total of 61 patients. We have had a fortunate year, having only 11 deaths at the Hospital, and 3 at the Home.

We have installed a new revolving tray-type oven in our bakery, a shower room for liberty patients, a new turbine pump, painted the farm buildings, basement, bakery, and made other major repairs to the recreation, Hospital and Home Buildings.

We're grateful to the County Board for enabling us to make these many improvements as we go along, and to the Committee on Institutions for their cooperation in helping us solve our many problems, to the Dentists and Dr. Kauth, who gave our patients medical care, to the Knights of Columbus and Clergy, who provided our religious services, to the various organizations who helped us provide a variety of entertainment for our patients, to the Police Department, which helped to locate our stray patients, and to our fine group of employees, who have helped us immensely in our task of caring for our unfortunates.

(A) Section 36 of Article V is repealed and recreated as follows: Section 36. RECKLESS DRIVING. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate any vehicle upon a highway carelessly and heedlessly, in willful or wanton disregard of the rights or safety of himself or others, or without due caution and circumspection, or in a manner so as to endanger or be likely to endanger the property, life, or limb of any person, or without due regard to the traffic, surface, width of the highway and any other condition of whatever nature then existing.

(B) Section 37 of Article V of said ordinance is hereby repealed and recreated as follows: Section 37. SPEED RESTRICTIONS. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the speed of any vehicle shall not be in excess of the following:

(a) 25 miles per hour in any business or residence district. (b) 35 miles per hour in outlying districts within any city, village or unincorporated village where on each of both sides of the highway there is an average distance of not less than 500 feet between buildings fronting thereon.

(c) 15 miles per hour when passing a schoolhouse at those times when children are going to or from school or are playing within the sidewalk area at or about the school. (d) 15 miles per hour when passing an intersection properly marked with a "School Crossing" sign of a type approved by the state highway commission when children are crossing or are about to cross the highway.

(e) 15 miles per hour when passing a safety zone. (f) 15 miles per hour when meeting or overtaking any school bus stopped outside the corporate limits of any city or village for the purpose of receiving or discharging school children. (g) 55 miles per hour during night time. (h) 65 miles per hour during daytime.

(2) (a) No person shall operate during daytime a vehicle at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent under conditions and having regard for the actual and potential hazards then existing and the speed of the vehicle shall be so controlled as may be necessary to avoid colliding with any object, person, vehicle or other conveyance on or entering the highway in compliance with legal requirements and using due care. (c) The speed of all vehicles equipped with metal or solid rubber tires shall not exceed 15 miles per hour. (3) (a) Whenever the County Highway Committee & Highway Commissioner with respect to the County trunk highway system, shall determine upon the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation that any speed limit hereinbefore set forth, except in subsection (1) (c) to (h), or the actual speed of vehicles on such highways, is greater or less than is reasonable or safe under the conditions found to exist at any intersection or other place or upon any part of a highway, said committee or commissioner may determine and declare a reasonable and safe speed limit thereat, which shall be effective at all times, or at such times as may be determined and indicated by appropriate signs giving notice thereof.

(C) Section 11 of Article IV is hereby repealed and recreated as Section 13 and shall read as follows: Any person violating any provision of Article IV as to which no penalty is provided and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished for a first offense by a fine of not to exceed $10.00 for the first offense and for the second or each subsequent conviction within a year thereafter, shall be fined not to exceed $25.00.

(D) Section 11 of Article IV is created to read as follows: Section 11. TURNING MOVEMENTS AND REQUIRED SIGNALS (1) No person shall turn a vehicle at an intersection unless the vehicle is in proper position upon the roadway as required in section 85.17, or turn a vehicle to enter a private road or driveway or otherwise turn a vehicle from a direct course or move right or left upon a roadway unless and until such movement can be made with reasonable safety. No person shall so turn any vehicle without giving an appropriate signal in the manner hereinafter provided in the event any other traffic may be affected by such movement.

(2) A signal of intention to turn right or left when required shall be given continuously during not less than the last 100 feet traveled by the vehicle before turning. (4) Any stop or turn signal when required herein shall be given either by means of the hand and arm or by a signal lamp or lamps or mechanical signal device of a type approved by the department, but when a vehicle is so constructed or loaded that a hand-and-arm signal would not be visible both to the front and rear of such vehicle then said signals must be given by such lamp or lamps or signal device.

Report No. 37 of the Wisconsin Retirement Fund was presented by Eugene Brumm. Moved by Mr. Knippel, seconded by Mr. Geib that report No. 37 be adopted and filed. Motion carried.

Report No. 37

REPORT OF WISCONSIN RETIREMENT FUND (66.90—Statutes)

Washington County, by a resolution dated November 17, 1946, began participating in the Wisconsin Retirement Fund for elected and appointed officials, and employees, as of January, 1947. By the same resolution, the Director of the Public Welfare Department was appointed as the agent to represent the County Board of Supervisors in all matters pertaining to the Retirement Fund for Washington County, as liaison to the Retirement Office.

Individual employment records for each employee and participating official are maintained by your Agent. All department heads of County government submit copies of semi-monthly payroll for employees, to the Agent, from which are completed necessary monthly reports required by the State Office. These reports, when completed, are submitted to the County Clerk who then issues two checks at the end of each month, payable to the State Retirement Office, one for the employer's contribution, and the other for the employee's contribution. Financial records for this account are maintained in the office of the County Clerk.

On the following chart we submit figures showing monthly employer's and employee's contributions to the Retirement Fund for the 1949 fiscal year:

Table showing monthly employer's and employee's contributions for 1949: January $2,387.36, February $2,225.11, March $2,215.64, etc.

TOTAL $27,479.92 $15,250.22

The rate for 1949 for the municipality (Washington County) was the regular matching contribution of 5% on current earnings for the employee's and officials, plus 4.01% for prior service credits, a total of 9.01%.

During 1950, the rate for the municipality has been reduced to only 2.87% for prior service credits, plus the regular 5% for current earnings, or a total of 7.87%. During 1948, the municipality's rate for current earnings and prior service credits was 9.09%. Thus, it is to be noted that there has been a steady decline for the municipality's prior service credit rate. Eventually, after all prior service credits have been paid in by the municipality, the County rate will be the 5% matching contribution only.

The Advisory Board to your Agent, who were appointed by the County Board, are Wm. T. Leins of West Bend; Mr. Carl Schaefer of Kewaskum; and Mr. R. W. Laubenheimer of Richfield.

Respectfully submitted:
EUGENE A. BRUMM, Agent
Washington County Board of Supervisors.
