Although scheduled to play two contests over the week end, the Honeck Chevroletois played only one on Sunday when they won at Barton, 6-4. The game Memorial day was postponed by Allenton because of wet grounds.

Kewaskum collected 10 hits in beating Barton. The game was tied up at 2-3 going into the seventh inning when the Chevroletois tallied three runs on a walk and singles by Miller, Bligo and Jeske. Miller was the hitting star for the winners with three for five. Honeck pitched a bang-up ball game for his team, allowing only four hits. He held Barton hitless until the fourth frame. D. Rose twirled for Barton but was relieved by A. Duenkel in the 5th inning. He was effective in relief, striking out five batters.

For a pitcher who hasn't been doing much throwing the last couple of seasons Marx lurched with the endurance of a high schooler in Tuesday's marathon in which he almost pitched a doubleheader. He allowed only 11 hits in the 16 innings, striking out 17 men, better than on each inning, and gave up only five bases on balls. Kewaskum outhit the Dales, getting 15 but the runs win ball games. Dellios and Michaels shared hit duties for the Dales, the latter coming in in the 7th. Dellios whiffed nine and walked six. Michaels struck out seven and walked none. Marx got off to a shaky start, allowing three hits and three runs in the first inning. After this he settled down and pitched real ball and deserved to win. The Utensils scored five runs in the big third inning on four hits and four walks. John Tessar also played a big roll in this tilt, smashing out four hits in five tries, one a two bagger, after coming in for Lou Bath. J. Schmoller cracked out three for the losers, including a triple.

Utensils-Dales Play 16 Innings Tuesday; Win 2 Hitter Sunday

LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost. Granville 3 1, Lannon 3 1, Mequon 3 2, Waukesha CYO 2 3, Kewaskum 1 3, Waukesha Dales 1 3.

Scores last Sunday—Kewaskum 4, Waukesha CYO 6; Lannon 8, Mequon 1.

Games this Sunday—Lannon at Kewaskum, Mequon at Granville, Waukesha CYO at Waukesha Dales.

The Kewaskum Utensils played two well ball games over the holiday week end. Sunday the team shut out Waukesha CYO, 4-0, with the Tessor brothers playing starring roles. Pitcher Johnny set down the CYO with but two hits and Wayland lashed out a home run and single to lead the victory. Tuesday the Utensils and Waukesha Dales battled 16 innings, the longest game played in the Lakes since the war, before the Dales finally won, 5-7. "Mix" Marx pitched all 16 innings and allowed only three hits after the 6th inning.

In Sunday's tilt Tessor had the CYO eating out of his hand. In only one inning, the fourth, did the visitors threaten to score. They collected both of their hits in that frame. He set down the opponents in order in five innings. When his mates gave him a lead that was all he needed and he coasted to victory in one of his best pitched games in the Lakes. His opponent on the mound, Shields, also worked a fine game, giving up seven safeties. Tessor whiffed 12 batters and walked five. Shields fanned only four but didn't walk a man. Besides Wayland Tessor, Merril Krueger also came through with two hits.

Audrey Ehnert Bride of Willard Schroeter

The Rev. E. J. Zanow performed the nuptial service in St. John's Lutheran church at New Fane at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 27, which united in marriage Miss Audrey Ehnert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ehnert, New Fane, and Willard Schroeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schroeter, Silver Creek.

Ferns, candles and apple blossoms decorated the church altar for the ceremony. During the service Mrs. Marvin in Kleinke rendered a vocal solo, "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Ray Vetter, organist.

The bride's sheer gown was fashioned entirely of nylon tulle with accents of chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was highlighted with two rows of lace forming an off-shoulder effect. The gown was sleeveless and had matching gauntlets of nylon. The full skirt had accents of chantilly lace, the lace extending along the edge of the fan shaped train. A fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a crown of orange blossoms. She carried an orchid surrounded by lilies of the valley.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Delbert Petermann, was her matron of honor. The maid of honor was Miss Byrdell Ficks, a friend, while Miss Dolores Fick, another friend, and Miss Dolores Feiten, cousin of the groom, were bridesmaids. Little Kathleen Petermann, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

The matron of honor was attired in a yellow gown with chantilly lace, lace, mouseline de sole skirt, and satin slip. A picture hat and lace gauntlets completed her lovely outfit. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor in orchid and green respectively. All of the attendants carried colorful bouquets of gladioli with rosebuds and loops of ribbon around the outside. They wore earrings which were gifts of the bride. The flower girl's frock was also identical to the gowns of the other attendants and she wore a white bead necklace and bracelet, gifts of the bride.

The groom's brother, LeRoy Schroeter, was his best man and Ivan Schulz, a friend, was groomsmen. Acting as ushers were Donald Ehnert, brother of the bride, and Marvin Schroeter, cousin of the groom.

Supper was served to 50 guests at Forest Lake hotel, where a reception and wedding dance for 200 guests were held in the evening. Following a wedding trip to Land o' Lakes, Wis., the young couple will be at home after June 3 at the Alex Schroeter residence at Silver Creek.

The bride, a graduate of Kewaskum High school, has been employed in the office at Anity Leather Products Co. in West Bend. Her husband, a Random Lake High school graduate, is engaged in farming.

SAVINGS BOND DRIVE

Replicas of Liberty Bell Tour Nation During Bond Campaign

Few historic relics have a greater romantic or sentimental appeal to the people of this country than the Liberty Bell—symbol of the 1950 Savings Bond drive now underway.

None, certainly, could tell so completely the story of a nation winning its independence if it could speak. If it could tell of the great men who touched it and their thoughts, or of its own adventures, a new history of the United States would be revealed.

In 1751 the assembly of the colony of Pennsylvania appointed a committee, headed by Isaac Norris, speaker of the body, to purchase a bell to be put in the state house.

After due consideration and debate, the committee commissioned a bell that was cast in London in 1752 and had it brought to Philadelphia. It was recast the following year when the inscription, "proclaim liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof," was placed on it.

Then on July 8, 1776, 23 years after it was cast, it pealed the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The next year the British took it from the tower of Independence Hall and threw it in the Delaware river. But it was recovered and rung on July 4 every year until the day it cracked.

That is the bell which is the symbol of the 1950 Savings Bonds Independence Drive. The theme: "Save for your independence—buy U. S. savings bonds."

Silent for 69 Years

On May 15 the drive got underway with Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder symbolically tapping the bell. The drive opened with a nation-wide radio program carried by 2,000 stations and featuring stars of stage and screen.

Television stations on networks lined with Philadelphia and New York carried the program direct from those places. A record number of people heard the broadcasts and saw the television show.

But the most dramatic moment of the show was when Secretary Snyder gently tapped the cracked, old bell that symbolizes liberty for the people of this country. Why did he just tap the bell? Therein lies another story of interest to every American.

The last time the Liberty Bell really rang was on Washington's birthday, 1846. The original crack, that had appeared when the bell was being tolled in mourning for Chief Justice John Marshall in 1835 had been drilled out in 1846

Bennie Ray Wagner, Jr., 6, is the son of a war hero. His father, Pfc. Bennie Ray Wagner, was killed in action on Luzon, March 15, 1945. Here he displays the government bonds he has purchased each month with a government allotment check. He is well on the way to independence, his guardian says, with Savings Bonds amounting to $1,000.

so that the edges would not vibrate against each other. The bell rang clear until almost noon in honor of the father of his country, when the crack spread and the ringing changed to a hoarse rumble. That was the last time anyone heard the true voice of the original Liberty Bell.

In 1926, to usher in the sesquicentennial year of American independence, the wife of Philadelphia's mayor tapped out 1-9-2-6. The ceremony was broadcast, but radio could only reach about half the nation 24 years ago.

The shattered rumble of the cracked relic has been heard by radio only once since then: on D-Day, June 6, 1944, to signal the invasion of the continent of Europe by American and allied forces in another way for freedom—and then a recording of its sound made on New Year's, 1926, was used.

On February 11, 1915, the bell's silence of nearly 69 years was broken to signal the linking of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts by long distance telephone. Three times it rumbled hoarsely over the wire to San Francisco. In the conversation that followed, the mayor of San Francisco made a personal plea

Symbol of Freedom

There and on its journey by rail to and from the Golden Gate, an estimated 17,000,000 Americans turned out to see the bell. Since New Year's, 1926, when it was struck 18 times with a rubber-tipped gold mallet to spell out the new year, it has not been sounded directly, nor is it likely to be again. A trip across a continent, the voice of sorrow and happiness, stolen and cast into a river, the first to proclaim freedom—all that is but a part of its history. And it continues to serve its country. Today it is the symbol telling Americans to purchase savings bonds to insure their freedom and independence.

Fifty-two replicas of the bell have been donated to the savings bond cause and are now on tour of the country. The bells, one for each state, one for the District of Columbia, and one each for Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, are exact copies of the original; the crack is indicated on the surface; the bells ring and are harmonically tuned.

The tour of the replicas, which will end July 4, will enable millions of Americans, who have never seen the original bell and might never get to Philadelphia to see it, to inspect an exact copy of this most hallowed of our historic relics.

Since its return from the San Francisco exposition in 1915, the bell has not been allowed to leave Philadelphia. Since October 10, 1917, when it was the star attraction in Philadelphia's first liberty loan parade during the first World War, it has not even left its shrine in Independence Hall, because of the danger of further cracking of the historic relic.

Made in France

On the last journey in 1915, a six-armed iron spider was fastened to the clapper bolt inside its crown, with arms hooked under the lip of the bell to distribute the strain of its weight, 2080 pounds, more evenly.

The bells now on tour of the nation were made at the foundry of the Sons of George Paccard at Anney-le-Vieux in France. Dr. Arthur L. Bigelow, professor of engineering and bellmaster of Princeton university, made the measurements and drawings from which the new bells were made.

Andrew J. Dunn, director of the labor section of the U. S. savings bonds division in Washington, and its liaison officer with the American Federation of Labor, went to France to expedite the production and shipment of the bells to this country.

To symbolize for millions of Americans the idea of thrift which is essential to independence, the replicas will have visited 2,000 communities during the nation-wide tour.

Authorities report the bells, because of the painstaking, old-world production, sound exactly like the Liberty Bell would if it could be rung. They attributed this to the fact the bells are of the same composition as the original, 85 plus per cent copper, and that their construction gives the same tone.

Millions of Americans will thrill to the sound that the people of Philadelphia heard when the original bell proclaimed liberty "throughout all the land and to all the inhabitants thereof."

At the conclusion of the bond drive on July 4, the secretary of the treasury will lend one bell to each state and territory for permanent exhibit.

Bells Donated by Copper Industry

Actual cost of the 52 bells on tour in the treasury department's bond drive is not known. They are being paid for by America's copper industry.

The Ford Motor company will haul the bells from the Brooklyn navy yard to each state capital and Washington. Exact duplicates of the Liberty Bell, each weighs 2080 pounds and is composed of 85 plus per cent copper. They were produced by the ancient bell-master's formula called the "lost wax" process.

Mayor W. Cooper Green (left of Birmingham, president of the United States conference of mayors, and Mayor Quigg Newton of Denver, president of the American municipal association, mutually pledge support in the Savings Bond drive. They are standing before a reproduction of the Liberty Bell.

Serve Dainty Foods When Entertaining Prospective Brides

IT WON'T BE long now until you're in the midst of entertaining all the girls who will be married in the romantic month of June. If several of your friends are to be entertained, be ready with fresh and tempting ideas for food.

Keep foods dainty and serve them attractively on your prettiest china and tableware. For a luncheon, serve a main dish salad or a lovely casserole. Add to this tiny rolls or muffins, and a seasonal dessert.

Showers may be in the form of luncheons or evening or garden parties. If the latter two, then you'll need only a glamorous dessert and beverage. You may also pass a cool beverage, mints and nuts while the girl opens her presents.

STRAWBERRIES MAKE beautiful desserts for occasions of this type, especially if they're chosen from these:

*Strawberry Angel Pie (Serves 8-10)

- 4 egg whites
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/16 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup sugar
- 4 egg yolks
- 1 package sliced or whole fresh frozen strawberries
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cup whipping cream

Beat egg whites until fluffy, add cream of tartar and salt and beat slightly. Slowly add sugar, a few tablespoons at a time, and continue to beat. Spread mixture into lightly greased or oiled cake or pie pan. Bake in a slow oven, 300° for one to 1 1/4 hours or until meringue is well dried out. Place on cake rack to cool. When almost at room temperature, loosen from sides and bottom of pan and place on serving plate. The top and center of the "pie shell" will crush in to receive the filling. When at room temperature, set aside to chill. While crust is baking, mix egg yolks with juice drained from strawberries that have been put into colander or sieve to thaw and drain. Add sugar and cook in top of double boiler until thick. Stir often while cooking. Beating slightly while cooking will give a fluffy texture. Add lemon juice and chill both the strawberry mixture and the drained strawberries. Assemble pie by spreading shell with a bit of cream that has been whipped. Spread in strawberry filling.

Strawberry Meringue Roll
4 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
4 egg whites
3/4 cup cake flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add 1/4 cup of the sugar and vanilla. Beat egg whites until almost stiff; gradually add remaining sugar; beat very stiff. Fold in egg-yolk mixture, then sifted dry ingredients. Bake in waxed-paper-lined, 10 1/2-by-15-inch pan, in moderate oven (375°) 12 minutes. Turn onto cloth dusted with confectioners' sugar. Remove paper; trim cake edges. Top with waxed paper. Roll quickly, paper inside. Wrap in sugared cloth; cool on cake rack. Unroll. Remove paper; spread with Strawberry Filling; Whip 1/2 cup heavy cream; fold in two tablespoons sugar and one cup sliced strawberries. Roll up. Chill. Frost with Strawberry Meringue; Combine 1/2 cup sliced strawberries, 1/2 cup sugar, one egg white, and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Beat with rotary or electric beater until mixture is very stiff, 7 to 10 minutes.

Strawberry Velvet Pie (Makes 1 9-inch pie)
Pastry
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 to 2 1/2 tablespoons cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Add water. Mix to dry, crumbly dough. Turn out on lightly floured pastry cloth. Press dough together. Roll out 1/4 inch thick. Line nine-inch pie pan with pastry. Bake in hot oven (450°) eight to twelve minutes.

Strawberry Velvet Filling
1 tablespoon gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 cup milk
2 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar

A crust of light, chewy meringue encloses a creamy velvet-texture filling of strawberries in this Strawberry Angel Pie. It's a perfect dessert for entertaining the bride-to-be.

LYNN SAYS: Avoid Kitchen Slavery By Smart Planning

Have only one dish at a meal which requires more than ordinary preparation. If it's to be a fancy dessert, have a simple main course that can be cooked altogether, preferably in the oven.

When you plan a casserole which requires several ingredients and sauce, have a simple dessert such as fresh or canned fruit with cookies that have been baked in advance.

Save trips to the refrigerator by taking out all supplies that are needed for the preparation of the dishes.

When making a dish, measure all ingredients at one time and set them on a tray so your preparation will not be interrupted, and thus cause you to forget steps in the recipe.

Plan to buy staples once a week, and thus save quick though short trips to the grocery several times each day. Meat, fruit and vegetables should also be purchased according to schedule.

Dainty chicken and noodle casseroles offer a delightful main dish for luncheon or light supper when you want to entertain a crowd. A salad accompaniment and light dessert are all you really need to complete the menu.

Are "shock treatments" harmless?
Answer: No, says Dr. Jules H. Masserman of the University of Chicago Psychiatric Clinic. Experiments with animals showed that "unlike most drugs, electroshock produced permanent impairment of behavioral efficiency and learning capacity." He notes a "growing conviction among

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Personalities Cause Clash

By Lawrence Gould

Is marital conflict due to "circumstances"?

Answer: Not primarily, says Florence Hollis of the New York School of Social Work in "Women in Marital Conflict: a Casework Study." The report includes a study of 100 families by 22 social workers from 11 different agencies. The workers concluded that the real causes of conflict were such factors as the women's personalities as excessive dependence, undue attachment to parents, rejection of femininity and neurotic need to suffer. Interfering relatives, cultural differences and financial pressures had but secondary effects.

Can being "logical" make you unsympathetic?

Answer: That depends on how far you are using your "logicalness" as a defense against admitting your own unreasonable wishes or fears. To allow yourself to understand how someone else can have "illogical" emotions (like resentment against someone toward whom he "ought to be grateful"), makes it harder to deny that you are capable of being childish yourself. If you "can't see why neurotics don't get wise to themselves," you may be afraid to admit how much of the time you are ruled by your emotions rather than good sense.

KEEPING HEALTHY Progress Made in Treating Leprosy

By Dr. James W. Barton

WHEN WE CONSIDER the large number of men and women dying of cancer, we may think it strange that research workers have not discovered the cause and cure of this fatal disease. What we forget is the great number of formerly fatal diseases that have been conquered or controlled during the past 50 years.

There is a little magazine called The Star, edited and published by the patients of the U. S. marine hospital national leprosyarium, Carville, La. In this magazine appears a page of cartoons, not only showing the great progress made in the treatment of leprosy (now called Hansen's disease) during the past 50 years, but also in the control of tuberculosis by streptomycin and surgery, of diabetes by insulin, of pernicious anemia by liver and liver extracts, and of mental diseases by the shock treatment.

In a message to the patients of this hospital, Dr. Frederick Johansen, superintendent, says in part: "During the past 50 years we who work with Hansen's disease have seen achievements that mankind has been eagerly awaiting for centuries. The successful use of the sulfa drugs has brought about a new concept of Hansen's disease. The public attitude towards leprosy and those who contract it, is gradually developing as more people learn its true character.

Dr. Johansen's report to the surgeon general on the work done at Carville in 1949 stated that this hospital discharged the largest number of patients to their homes and occupations than in any one year since the hospital was founded.

The above is a wonderful achievement when we think of all the centuries during which leprosy patients were treated as "untouchables" and isolated from everybody but physicians and nurses.

HEALTH NOTES

- Physicians believe a new name, convulsive disorder, is preferable to the term epilepsy, because it is a symptom and not a disease itself.
- While most epileptics are normal mentally, there are a few who are of the emotional or nervous type and have odd behavior symptoms aside from epilepsy.
- Operation to replace a damaged cornea has only recently come into use.
- Milk allergy often will not show skin symptoms for from four to eight weeks.
- Pain or other symptoms in the shoulder and arm should first be examined for infection.
- Nervousness and emotional disorder are the greatest single cause of ulcer of the stomach.
- Psychotherapy—treating the mind of the patient—should form a part of all types of treatment of high blood pressure, because there is always present nervousness and tension of mind.
- Laboratory and clinical studies of alcoholics have convinced physicians that alcoholism is a metabolic (gland) disease.
- Spitting of blood is a real danger signal which calls for prompt action.
- Accident-prone workers should be transferred to less dangerous work.
- Your heart should be examined at least once a year by your family doctor.
- Signs of overactive thyroid are bulging eyes, rapid heart beat and trembling.

ARE YOU... "IN THE DARK" ABOUT TELEVISION?

Sometimes folks tell us that their television sets actually seem to "glare" at them and detract from the great pleasure they get from this new form of entertainment. If this has happened to you—chances are you need additional room lighting.

GOOD LIGHTING—IMPORTANT AS GOOD TUNING

One of the most common mistakes folks make is to completely darken the room for television—with the result that the family frequently experiences unnecessary eye-strain or fatigue. Perhaps it's because television suggests the motion picture screen that some families plunge the room into darkness the moment the set is turned on. However, the brightness of a television screen is many times that of a movie theatre screen and requires more light through the room than the theatre does.

The best way to enjoy real television comfort is to keep your surroundings evenly and softly lighted. Arrange floor and table lamps about the room so that reflected light does not "bounce" off the tube. Or—if this cannot be done—try "backlighting" your set. A small 8-watt fluorescent tube at table height behind the receiver is ideal. If your television set is in a corner, it can be backlit with an ordinary 25 or 40 watt incandescent bulb.

MULTIPLY YOUR TELEVISION PLEASURE WITH PROPER LIGHTING

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U.S. Orders Expulsion of 22 Czech Officials; Observers Say Political Picture Becoming Foggy, Unreal

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

CZECHS:

U. S. Hits Back

The United States has ordered expulsion of 22 Czech officials from this country in retaliation of recent anti-American conduct by that country.

The U.S. note, which hinted at future diplomatic blows against the Kremlin-controlled government, charged Czechoslovakia "will mix or cannot" conduct itself decently with other nations.

Diplomats considered the U. S. note strongly worded and saw the action as clear evidence of the disintegration of relations between the two countries. It reduced the number of Czech officials in this country from 33 to 22.

The state department note said in part:

"Since the United States cannot conduct normal diplomatic and consular functions in Czechoslovakia and since the relations between the two governments are being restricted in scope through the actions of the Czechoslovakia government, the latter has been requested within a reasonable time to close its consulates in Cleveland and Pittsburgh and to make a reduction in its official personnel in the United States similar to that demanded of the United States in Czechoslovakia."

The expulsion order means the Czech government will have 11 representatives in this country, all possibly in Washington. The order does not include that country's representation to the United Nations.

A-BOMBS:

Nearer to Europe

Millions who have had the jitters since the first atomic bomb was dropped on Japan received a new jolt when it was announced U. S. military officials are considering placing atomic weapons within easy reach of this country's European allies.

Such a move indicates that this country would use the atomic bomb in case of war and has no immediate plans of trying to get it outlawed, observers said.

Some congressmen called the idea terrible and predicted 98 per cent of the legislators would rebel if it should be presented to them. Observers agreed that initial congressional reaction to the idea indicates it will have tough sledding if it reaches Capitol Hill.

Military authorities were exploring the highly controversial proposal and possible safeguards against having the bombs fall into enemy hands.

Before atomic weapons could be made available to European members of the Atlantic pact, however, congress would have to amend the atomic energy act.

SANDERS:

Forms for Living

Dr. Hermann N. Sanders, deprived of his right to practice medicine in New Hampshire following his mercy slaying trial, has turned to tilling the soil for his neighbors to support his wife and three daughters.

Some observers, however, felt he would be reinstated when the state medical board let him apply on June 19.

Meanwhile, the doctor was supplying his own tractor for the farm work and moved about from job to job on a trailer attached to his automobile.

Neighbors said his rate of pay for plowing and cultivating farm-lands of the area was $4 an hour.

NATIONALISTS:

Repulse Landing

The Communists tried a practice landing on Chushan island 100 miles southwest of Shanghai but were repulsed, the Chinese Nationalists report.

The announcement caused speculation that the invasion of Formosa itself, protected by 100 miles of open seas from the mainland, was about to begin.

Nationalists sources said they regard a Red "inside job" as great a threat as an actual invasion. A Communist fifth column on Formosa had been broken up, it was reported, but many of the Red agents remained at large.

The Nationalists had nothing to say of their raid a few days earlier on villages on the mainland, 50 miles southwest of Chushan.

WHISKEY:

Big Business

The whiskey industry has long been big business, but now it comes to light that moonshiners apparently are producing more whiskey in the United States than the legal distilleries.

A spokesman for the industry said moonshine stills seized by state and federal officials in 1949 had a daily productive capacity of 97,709 gallons more than the nation's distilleries.

Where moonshine making was once a major business below the Mason-Dixon line, federal officials now find it has spread to every part of the nation.

That whiskey is a big business was indicated by the amount of revenue going into the federal treasury from tax sources. Last year in Kentucky, distillers paid $324,000,000 into the national treasury, and $12,000,000 into the state treasury.

The government is losing between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 a day in taxes because of unlicensed-liquor production.

Truman Speaks

This is a part of the "10 acres of citizens" that turned out to hear President Truman on his "non-political" tour across the nation. He is pictured speaking from the rear platform of his special train.

POLITICS:

Foggy and Unreal

Observers are beginning to shout that the current political scene is becoming so foggy and unreal that the general public is confused. Perhaps it is the observers themselves who are confused.

Regardless of their shouts, however, President Truman concluded his tour across the nation making as many as 16 speeches a day while congress tied itself into knots on one issue after another. As if that wasn't enough, the Dixiecrats had mapped plans of winning the Solid South and were screaming louder than anyone about deficit spending and creeping socialism.

The President has been making speeches pointing out: (1) The lower brackets can double their income into "real" money within the next 10 years, possibly as high as $4,000 a year; (2) Republican charges that the Fair Deal is leading to socialism are "silly nonsense"; (3) TVA power developments "will keep us the most powerful nation in the world"; (4) The nation's output of goods and services can be lifted to 350 billion dollars by 1960.

In the East, meanwhile, the house cut the "one-package" appropriations bill by an estimated one billion dollars and sent the measure to the senate.

The vote, 362 to 21 was considered a big defeat for Truman. Democrats joined Republicans in cutting the bill.

In the South, publisher J. Oliver Emmerick told the third annual States' Rights convention that "our task is to sell the people against deficit spending, creeping socialism and the totalitarian state."

They seek to weld the south into the nation's most powerful minority, even so strong they could become the national balance of political power. And, from the looks of things, they may succeed in creating another congress very hostile to Truman.

GERMANY:

When A Treaty?

Germany may never get a peace treaty, some political observers have hinted. The hints were being made after America, Britain and France announced they will keep troops in Germany and refuse to write a peace treaty as long as Russian policy divides the country.

For that reason there may never be a treaty, observers report. Russia is not likely to change her policy because it would be a political defeat. The Soviet is only interested in victories.

The western powers said: "In view of the continued refusal of the Soviet government to permit inhabitants of their zone of occupation to rejoin their fellow countrymen in a democratic and unified Germany, it has not been possible, and will not be as long as this Soviet policy persists, to proceed to conclusion of a treaty of peace with Germany."

"In the present situation of Europe supreme authority must remain in the hands of the Allied powers."

The three powers, however, have agreed to the gradual modification of many controls which western Germany is still subject.

Shadows

Republicans may have talked down President Truman's "non-political trip," but they kept an eye on him just the same.

The eye was Victor Johnson, executive secretary of the Republican senatorial campaign committee. He shadowed the President across the nation by chartered plane and showed up at all the chief executive's important speeches.

Said the President: "Mr. Johnson is perfectly welcome to buy a ticket and come aboard the presidential special train to get the facts."

It was evident the GOP had a long memory. Republicans were not so concerned about the President's 1948 tour. They were taking no chances of a repeat performance.

The President won great popularity in 1948.

Johnson's job was to listen to what the President had to say and then issue comments. He did not accept the invitation to board the special train.

RUSSIA:

Wants Hot War

Most Americans, who cannot make themselves believe Russia is ready or wants a war, were being told otherwise by European diplomats.

In Europe the belief is growing that Russia now accepts a shooting war as the alternative to the cold war in winning world supremacy. Until recently experts believed European security could be viewed in terms of political activity and economic pressure.

A recent poll of European diplomats, however, reveals that they now believe the political bureau of the Russian Communist party soon will be willing to fight a hot war in pursuit of its aims.

One reliable source declares the Russians would be "ready" to fight in 1952. By then the Soviet Union will have a stockpile of atomic bombs and numerical superiority in ground and air forces.

The Russians are estimated to have 20,000 first-line planes in operation at the present time. That would indicate Russia may be able to fight a "hot war" on a moment's notice. It is generally accepted by observers that the atomic bomb is already in production behind the iron curtain.

BARUCH:

Stop Inflation

Since the war all classes of Americans—farmers, laborers, businessmen, office workers—have worried about inflation.

For all of them the dollar buys less than before the war. Of late, however, there has been little said or done about the inflation spiral.

Now Bernard M. Baruch, adviser to Presidents for 40 years, has taken another swing at inflation.

"Inflation is the cold war we Americans are waging against ourselves," the statesman warns. "Inflation affects the integrity of all our defenses, both moral and military, national and international," he added. "This continuing spiral doesn't necessarily mean trouble ahead if we don't put a stop to it. Somewhere along the line, the balloon always bursts."

The national situation as he sees it finds the country balancing precariously between employment and the maintenance of a high standard of living, and unemployment and inflation.

We must work out a program to curb inflation that will be fair to everyone, he said. No one will like it, but we must do it and soon.

STATE DEPARTMENT:

McCarthy Lied

The state department had waded into the McCarthy spy hunt of the department's personnel by issuing a white paper that hints that the senator deliberately lied.

Assistant Secretary Edward W. Barrett sent 500 newspaper editors an eight-page analysis of McCarthy's speech which charged the department was overrun by Communists.

Barrett's reply contained a point-by-point denial. While it did not assert so many words that McCarthy was lying, the document repeatedly sought to show that he uttered "misstatements" and "inaccuracies."

Meanwhile, the loyalty files, recently turned over to the senate foreign-relations subcommittee investigating communism in government posts, were being studied.

Senator Tydings, chairman of the committee, said he would make a full report to the people on the contents of the files.

Eighty-one cases were being investigated.

Parting?

The movie fans of the nation were startled with the rumors of "strained relations" between Bing Crosby and his wife, Dixie Lee. This 1939 photograph shows the Crosbys with their four sons. Bing is in Europe and will not return until mid-June.

GAMBLING:

13 Billion Take

The American Academy of Political and Social Science reports there are 50 million suckers in the United States who lose 13 billion dollars a year to gamblers.

The experts said Americans bet eight billion dollars a year with horse-race bookies. Pari-mutuel machines alone account for $1,600,000,000 a year and produce more than 100,000,000 annually in tax revenue.

Gamblers take $1,000,000,000 a year from slot machines and the numbers racket accounts for $1,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 annually.

Economic experts shook their heads as they studied the figures. Thirteen billion dollars is almost as much as the United States will spend on national defense this year.

As a final warning to the American public, the academy reports you may think you have a way to win, and may enjoy an occasional winning streak, but you'll finish broke, because you never get a 50-50 proposition.

Garbed in weird protective clothing which would be worn during atomic attack, two rescue workers (left) check equipment before investigating (below) a radio-active "bomb site." The garb consists of special mask and hood to protect face, head and neck, a respirator to prevent breathing of atomic dust, and rubber gloves for handling of radio-active material.

So far 375 rescue experts have finished the course.

Truman Dinner

SOME TIME before leaving on his whistle-stop trip, President Truman held a hush-hush dinner with one of his most vigorous political enemies—Senator Brewster of Maine.

The dinner was held not in the White House, but at the Carlton hotel. And it was the President who inspired the meeting. He and Brewster had worked together on the old Truman committee, once had been warm friends.

Chief result of the Carlton dinner was a challenge to test out the Fair Deal. Brewster is chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, and has the job of electing as many GOP senators as possible next November.

Knowing this, Truman challenged: "I'll lay your program out, and we'll have a showdown."

Brewster agreed. Though they didn't actually plan it that way, part of the showdown is coming right now. Truman is now putting his policies before the public, while Brewster has been busy lining up speakers to refute him. He has already lined up Taft for a speech in Chicago, Wherry in Nebraska, Hickenlooper in Iowa, Morse in Oregon, and congressman Keefe in Wisconsin.

Brewster says the battle, hatched over the dinner table at the Carlton hotel, will continue until November.
