Miss Byrdell Firks Bride of Ivan Schulz

St. John's Lutheran church, New Fane, was the scene of the marriage ceremony in which Miss Byrdell Firks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Firks, R. 1, Kewaskum, became the bride of Ivan Schulz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Schulz, R. 1, Cascade, on Saturday afternoon, June 3. The 2 o'clock rite was performed by the Rev. Elmer J. Zanow.

Candleabra on each side of the altar, ferns and flowers placed on the altar in vases decorated the church for the service. As the bride approached the altar the organist, Mrs. Ray Vetter, played the march, "Let Us Ever Walk with Jesus." During the ceremony little Kay Luettke sang "The Lord is My Prayer," and Mrs. Marvin Kleinke sang "The Lord is My Shepherd."

The bride wore a gown of mousseline de soie with accents of chantilly lace on the bodice, which was repeated at the hipline in the skirt and train. Pearls were formed along the chantilly ruffle on top of the dress. The chantilly lace as seen in the gown was formed in rosebuds with seed pearls on either side of her head. Leaves of the same lace were formed across the top. She wore a three quarter length veil with rolled edge. Her cascade bouquet of white carnations and lily of the valley stock was centered with an orchid.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Arno Luettke as matron of honor. She wore a gown of aquamarine silk fashioned with a rounded neckline, which was edged with a pleated ruffle. Two little nosegays were caught on either side of the deep neckline. The snug bodice extended to a V at the front, to which was attached the full shirred hoop skirt. Near the hem of the skirt was a band of marquisette in which were caught little flowers to match those at the neckline. She carried an aqua lace and satin basket of aqua coral Esther Reed daisies, white roses, white larkspur, and glad blossoms.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Audrey Schroeter, Gail Schulz and Joyce Hintz, and they wore gowns styled identically like that of the matron of honor. Mrs. Schroeter and Miss Schulz in orchid and Miss Hintz in yellow. They carried lace and satin baskets to match their dresses filled with larkspur, yellow Gloria roses, Esther Reed daisies and glad blossoms.

Flower girls were Barbara Ann Elbert and Karen Luettke. They wore colonial style dresses in mousseline de soie with full taffeta slips. A lovely sheer bodice set off their pretty hoop skirts with mistis and mistis of ruffles. They wore the same hats as the bridesmaids and carried identical baskets to match their dresses. The flower girls sprinkled rose petals before the bride as she approached the altar.

Vernon Firks was the groom's best man, while Willard Schroeter, Glenway Elbert, Jr. and Roger Schulz were groomsmen. Guests were ushered to their places by Allen Brueser and Arno Luettke.

Supper was served to 40 guests at Forest Lake lodge and a reception for 150 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. In the evening a wedding dance was held at Old Fort Silver in Silver Creek.

Following a honeymoon in northern Wisconsin, the young couple will be at home after June 19 at Cascade. The bride, a Kewaskum High school graduate, had been employed at the Enger-Kress Co., West Bend. Her husband is engaged in farming.

LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost. Lannon 4-1, Mequon 4-2, Granville 3-2, Waukesha Dales 2-3, Waukesha CYO 2-4, Kewaskum 1-4.

Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at Mequon, Waukesha Dales at Lannon, Granville at Waukesha CYO.

In last Sunday's Lakes play, Lannon moved into the first place spot and Kewaskum moved into the cellar as a result of Lannon's 9-1 win over the Utensils. The game was played on the local grounds and was Kewaskum's fourth setback in five starts.

The Utensils could do little with the slants of M. Reimer, who pitched himself a three-hitter as his hard hitting mates pounded out 8 hits good for 9 runs off John Tassar. Except for the fourth inning, when Kewaskum tallied its lone run on Marx's double and an error, Reimer sailed along without trouble. Reimer struck out five and walked only one. Tassar's wildness again was his downfall. Although he fanned eight batters, he walked 11 and many of these ended up into runs and kept him in hot water. Lannon had at least one man on base in every inning. They played well afield and have a fine team.

"Mik" Marx, with a double and single, was the only Utensil batter with 2 hits. Jerome Stautz collected the other safety. Best hitters for the winners were L. Reimer and Jim Smith, each with two for five.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nation Displays Might on First Armed Forces Day; Atlantic Pact Nations Announce Defense Plans

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

ARMED FORCES—A Workable Team

Any doubts that observers might have entertained about the success of armed forces unification in the United States was dispelled with the observance of the first national Armed Forces Day.

For the observance, America's fighting forces across the world paraded in the mightiest show of power since World War II. The biggest show of all went on in Germany where more than 85,000 Yanks demonstrated their readiness.

The day's message to the world was plain: The United States is awake to the menace of Communist aggression and is readying its defenses.

President Truman took the occasion to tell the public that if congress had passed his universal military training program five years ago "there would have been no cold war."

He also invited all Americans "to take stock of the state of our readiness to defend ourselves against aggression."

And, in general, Americans were pleased and impressed with what they saw on parade. Although the forces were less in number, they seemed well trained, power-packed units that would form the backbone of new armies should the situation arise.

Army, navy and air force put on a united front that was pleasing to observers who remember recent unification squabbles between the services.

BOSTON: Taste of Tradition

Climaxing its jubilee celebration, staid old Boston let down its hair by serving dinner to 10,000 on the Common and holding a barn dance at the Garden.

Believed to be the largest meal ever served to a seated group, the guests got a taste of tradition by consuming five tons of baked beans, three tons of potato salad, and 3,500 pounds of ham.

Earlier events of the jubilee were designed to call attention to the cultural, business, industrial, and recreational advantages of Boston and New England.

Serving the "baked-bean supper" and all the trimmings took less than an hour, some kind of a record. The trimmings included 2,000 loaves of brown bread, 12,000 individual apple pies, 12,000 servings of cheese, and 12,000 Parker house rolls.

One thousand volunteer waitresses, supervised by 40 home economists and dieticians, served the food.

UNEMPLOYMENT: Worker's Output Up

According to the federal reserve board the individual worker's increased output has been one of the big factors in the unemployment picture since last summer.

The board analysis of "labor market developments" point to two influences at work on the part of business management:

1. "Large profits and strong financial position in recent years have encouraged business to spend record amounts for new machinery and equipment of highly efficient design.
2. "Intensified competitive pressure on management to reduce costs partly by curtailing employment and by utilizing those employed more efficiently than earlier in the postwar period."

In addition the board reports there is an increased "tendency for married women to work outside the home," and a similar trend among teen-agers.

FARM INCOME: Likely to Dip

The agriculture department predicts that the cash income of the nation's farmers will be well under 1949 totals.

The department explained: "Prices farmers receive for their products have generally been below those of a year ago, while their costs have declined only slightly. This situation is expected to continue for the rest of the year."

Cash receipts from marketings in 1949 totaled 27.5 billion dollars. Forecasters expect the 1950 total to be approximately 25 billion dollars.

NATIONALISTS: Ready for Last Stand

Observers believe the long expected last stand of Chinese Nationalists is now underway. They base their opinion on the fact the Nationalists have withdrawn from all except one of their blockading bases along the China coast.

Apart from Formosa and the neighboring Pescadore islands, the only territory remaining to the Nationalists appears to be Quemoy island, off Amoy.

Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters announced the withdrawal of 150,000 troops from Chusan islands and other reports indicated Mangan island has been evacuated. Tungshan island, opposite Formosa, was reported captured by the Communists after an ineffectual resistance by its defenders.

It is questionable just how long Formosa would stand under an all-out assault. World leaders are also wondering the fate of Chiang, his wife, and other Nationalist leaders should the island fall to the communists.

Assails Truman

Sen. Robert Taft is shown above speaking over a nationwide radio network. He charged in his speech that the administration has shaken the confidence of the people and seeks to elect a "subservient" congress to vote into law policies that would wreck the country.

DEFENSE: West United

At one point in their policy making in recent years, the Russians reasoned, and not without basis, that the western powers would never really be united. That reasoning, however, has received a terrific jolt.

The 12 western nations, members of the Atlantic pact, have agreed to pool their economic and military might into one vast armed force, centrally directed to resist Soviet aggression.

The plan, in reality a unification move, is American inspired. It will "create a balanced collective force," which means each of the 12 nations will contribute specific units to the central western armed force and not try to maintain expensive over-all military establishments, each self-contained in all arms.

The move was seen by military men as the one means of giving the west a balanced defense force, working in harmony, and with maximum efficiency.

The United States is expected to bear the greatest part of the cost, although each nation will share in proportion to its resources. The U.S. share is expected to cost more than a billion dollars this year.

That the West is deadly serious and intends to have the plan in operation as soon as possible was evident by the creation of an over-all council of deputy foreign ministers, meeting all year round, to put the plan into force. The council will have a permanent powerful chairman who, it is understood, will be an American.

Some sources predicted the U.S. may require a larger air force and navy under the plan, since this country will be entirely responsible for atomic and other strategic bombing in case of enemy aggression.

DEMOCRATS: Harmony Disturbed

Surface harmony prevailing among Democrats at the Jefferson jubilee celebration in Chicago was shattered by the controversial civil rights issue, which split the party in 1948.

The Democrats were startled because of the unexpected source of dissention.

Most southerners who attend the Chicago meeting chose to ignore the civil rights panel. Jonathan Daniels, North Carolina national committeeman and former White House aide under both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, did not so choose.

He sat through the meeting, listening to 16 speakers demand enactment of the Truman program, and then insisted upon speaking at the conclusion.

He told them flatly he could not go along with them in favor of a compulsory fair employment practice act, and added: "you cannot have a prohibition law against discrimination in the south."

He asserted the propaganda for the creation of a fair employment practice commission "gives a weapon to our enemies, the Dixiecrats" and makes it possible for them "to hide behind the civil rights issue while they fight every progressive measure."

Moscow Tool

The independent United Electrical Workers union has been denounced again as "Communist dominated."

Maurice J. Tobin, secretary of labor, and Phillip Murray, president of the CIO, made the charges in speeches at a rally of General Electric workers. The UE was expelled from the CIO last year on charges of having left-wing tendencies.

"From 1937 to 1950 the UE leaders made a whole series of mistakes, all of them anti-American mistakes," Tobin charged in his address.

Murray shouted, "I swear on this platform that this small group of leaders of the old United Electrical Workers union have one master—Stalin in Russia."

"The United States won't do business with this lousy outfit," he told his audience.

Tobin's remarks were particularly startling in that he said he was speaking as "secretary of labor."

POLITICS: Are Both Parties Split?

Observers are wondering if the Republican and Democratic parties both are going into the November election with split political fronts.

The Republican trend came to light in the Oregon senatorial primary which was won by independent voting Sen. Wayne Morse. His campaign is not likely to resemble any other Republican drives this fall.

In Pennsylvania, Governor James H. Duff defeated the old guard Republicans in the senatorial primary.

In many quarters the Duff and Morse victories were seen as signs that many Republican voters think the party needs to offer more than mere opposition to President Truman's Fair Deal.

On the Democratic front, a few more cracks have been added to the split caused by the civil-rights conflict started in 1948.

Southerners are still battling the program, and recently, have generally opposed Truman's plans for more government spending. The Brannan plan has added fuel to the fire of discontent among some of the President's best western friends.

With these points in mind, the September and October political speeches of both parties may prove the most interesting in years.

Meanwhile, a high-ranking Republican took another swing at the President, charging that he seeks a "rubber-stamp" congress elected in November.

Said GOP national chairman Guy Gabrielson: "The 1950 issues now are clear. President Truman has asked the voters to give him a rubber-stamp congress that will approve his program of socialism."

WINNIPEG: Wet but Undeafed

Flood battered Winnipeg slowly returns to normal. With nearly a fifth of the city at one time under water, the citizens raised a banner proclaiming they were "wet but undeafed" on the court house and waited for the Red river to show its first drop.

Before it came flood waters had reached a record high for the century. Some 100,000 of Winnipeg's 350,000 population were forced to evacuate and many of southern Manitoba's towns were deserted.

When the river showed its first drop, flood waters were about two feet below the absolute peak at which engineers figured nearly all of Winnipeg would be waterlogged and the whole population would have to be evacuated.

Even with the river back in its banks, however, observers said it would be near the last of June before the city would be back to normal.

MRS. ROOSEVELT: Comforted Distressed

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was awarded the seventh annual Williamsburg Settlement gold-medal award for typifying the American way of life and aiding the underprivileged.

At the presentation dinner, former congresswoman Clare Boothe Luce called her long time political foe the "best-loved woman in the world" and said that no woman ever had "so comforted the distressed—or distressed the comfortable."

"When her justly notable tolerance and patience with the Communists finally gave out, that day tolerance of communism in America ended officially. It is safe to say that her resistance to Soviet communism is a more potent factor in winning the cold war than an extra billion dollars of Marshall plan aid," she added.

Something New

With all the investigations that have been under way in Washington, Rep. Usher L. Burdick of North Dakota has come up with a new one. He asked the house rules committee to approve a resolution to investigate—of all things—congress. The committee postponed action on the resolution indefinitely.

EXPLOSION: Second in Generation

The stunned and battered community of South Amboy, N. J., 30 miles south of New York City, tied up its wounds and, for the second time in a generation, went about the business of rebuilding.

On May 19 four explosive-laden barges blew up with such force debris was splattered over a 10 to 12 block area. Twenty-six persons were dead or missing and nearly 400 were injured.

On October 4, 1918, a munitions works at nearby Morgan, N. J., blew up. South Amboy reeled under the shock. Scars of that disaster still mark the town.

An estimated 500 tons of dynamite and mines exploded in the more recent disaster on the waterfront.

New York and federal investigations into the handling of explosives and the cause of the blast were indicated. As is usual in cases of this sort, however, virtually all of the evidence had been blown to bits.

Underwater Fish Story

Fast becoming one of the major sports, underwater fishing is attracting men and women alike. Armed with "cross-bows", which are in reality underwater guns, the fisherman stalks his prey at the bottom of the sea. Necessary equipment includes rubber fins for the feet to augment the propulsion of the swimmer and a sheath knife to finish off the victim or cut the line should the hunter become the hunted. A contest to determine the world champion underwater fisherman was held recently in the Mediterranean.

At the start of the competition for the title, the women (above) lower themselves into the water. Notice the fins which give them greater water speed. Included in the equipment carried by the underwater fisherman is a sheath knife, (left) arrangement upon which to hang his catch, and a spare harpoon all attached to his belt.

At right, Tony Jurcenko, the new world champion, is shown loading the crossbow. It is fitted with a trigger and safety catch just like ordinary firearms, but is lighter and made of rustless metal.

The young lady at the left is obviously pleased by her catch—two small merons and an eel. Large eels of this sort used to feast on slaves thrown to them by the old Roman emperors. Women are getting as great a thrill out of underwater fishing as men. More and more of them are beginning to take it up.

Tony Jurcenko (right) is shown with the 39-pound beauty which brought him the underwater fishing championship. The human submarine (below) is searching for game. The breathing tube, like a periscope, permits the swimmer to breathe normally through his mouth when his head is under water.

The 21-year-old champion is pictured at the left as he finally brought his 39 pound mero to the surface. The champion is a Pole who has been living along the French Riviera.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By Lawrence Gould

Movies Failure
As Propaganda

Do movies affect public opinion?

Answer: Very little believes Dr. James E. Hulett, Jr., University of Illinois psychologist and public opinion expert. Questionnaires and interviews before, during, and after the run of a propaganda-entertainment picture in a local theatre showed it was "unexpectedly ineffective" in influencing popular judgments. Apart from the film's imperfections, Dr. Hulett feels "most people do not attribute accuracy and seriousness of purpose to films shown commercially." I suspect that films not meant as propaganda may be more effective.

Are some "inner conflicts" unavoidable?

Answer: In their primary form, Yes. From his first day in school, for example, a child's wish to have the other children like him conflicts with his wish to have his own way and boss everyone around. And this conflict between "social will" and "self-will" can't be settled by allowing either one to crush the other since both are imperishable parts of human nature. The nearest to peace of mind we can come is by compromising, or, through finding where our wishes coincide with those of others, managing to gratify both urges at once.

Should you "make yourself at home" with married children?

Answer: You may hope to be a welcome guest in their homes, but unless you live with them, you should never forget that you ARE a guest and not "one of the family." To assume the right to drop in uninvited for a meal, for instance, is to show lack of consideration for a person who is, after

KEEPING HEALTHY

Brain Stroke and Blood Pressure

By Dr. James W. Borton

BECAUSE so many middle-aged and elderly men and women die of heart stroke (coronary thrombosis), we do not read or hear so much about brain stroke (apoplexy), which, like heart stroke, may cause death on first attack, or may consist of several strokes.

The first or following strokes may cause paralysis of limbs or other parts of the body. Both brain and heart strokes are caused in the great majority of cases by high blood pressure and the breaking down or clogging of a blood vessel supplying the part.

In "The American Heart Journal," Drs. S. P. Hicks and B. K. Black report their study on the role of the failure of heart and blood vessels to do their work properly, thus causing apoplexy. There were 155 cases of apoplexy confirmed by examination after death in 99 men and 56 women.

It was found that high blood pressure (hypertension) was present in nearly 90 per cent of the patients. Now having high blood pressure does not mean that you are bound to have a brain stroke or a heart stroke. Thousands of men and women with high blood pressure live and enjoy good health year in and year out. In the care of the family physician, they perhaps never think of their illness.

From time to time the physician examines their blood pressure, and aside from some advice as to diet and rest and occasionally a quieting drug, no treatment is necessary to prevent a brain or heart stroke.

In the study of the 155 cases of apoplexy, Drs. Hicks and Black report that a spasm, probably due to some emotional disturbance, appeared to be an important factor in most cases, while the high blood pressure, aside from spasm, was responsible for just a few of the deaths.

The lesson is plain for those with high blood pressure. By keeping the mind at rest, by help of religion or philosophy of life, a brain stroke may be prevented.

HEALTH NOTES

Unfortunately the causes of some forms of heart disease are not known, and it is research on these diseases that requires so much money, if they are to be prevented and controlled.

Headache symptoms are subjective (what the patient tells the doctor), not objective (what the physician sees.)

There is something in the blood of a patient just recovering, or recovered, from an illness, that, injected into a sick patient, helps to fight that same disease.

There are now available tables of the amount of food necessary for normal men and women according to their work or occupation.

Bloating often begins after excitement, annoyance, fright, or fatigue.

While methods of controlling decay of teeth, such as brushing and use of fluorides are of real value, the most effective method is removal of decayed enamel and dentine.

In most hospitals, a blood examination for syphilis is made of every patient entering the hospital for any disease.

Just as those needing glasses for defective vision need more than to have objects magnified, so do the heard-of-hearing need aid that does more than magnify sound.

A burning pain in one or both nostrils and a dull aching pain deep under the bridge of the nose, and in the eye, temple, upper teeth and ear, is commonly present with overactivity of the lining of the nose.

Central City, rebuilt and repaired in recent years, is a peaceful little community today. But once it was the richest and wildest town west of the Mississippi. Fortunes in gold were dug from the surrounding mountains and were spent quicker than they were made. The town's annual play and opera festival is scheduled for July 1 through August.

CENTRAL CITY FESTIVAL

Colorado Ghost Town Is Alive With Revival of Opera Season

In 1895 a fortune hunter by the name of John H. Gregory was prospecting in the mountain section of Colorado which is now less than an hour from Denver. He wandered into a gulch framed by aspen and heavy scented pine. It was there he struck his pick into a lode that yielded 20 million dollars worth of gold.

That strike founded Central City which was to become known for a time as the most evil city west of the Mississippi. It also became associated with many fabulous names of the theater, politics and finance of the era.

Gregory named the gulch after himself and it soon became known as the "richest square mile on earth."

Miners swarmed into the area and the usual claim jumping and drinking and killing plagued Central City. But more important to the new citizens, gold by the millions was being dug from the surrounding mountains. Women followed the miners—dancehall girls at first—and finally the wives of miners and businessmen.

Imported Big Name Stars

Within a year the millions were building a town in the mountains of Colorado where stuffed pheasant, oysters from San Francisco, and bubbling champagne were not uncommon.

It was not long before the rough men who took their wealth from the earth wanted culture and entertainment. They had a pocket full of money and wanted the best. Entertainment is always for sale. They purchased it in such doses that Central City sparkled as brightly as such cities as San Francisco, New York, and New Orleans.

The greatest stars of the day—Keane, Booth, Menchen, and Sarah "the divine" Bernhardt—journeyed from the east, braving the rugged mountain passes in stagecoaches, to appear at the theater, one of the first buildings erected in the town.

In those days Central City took its entertainment straight, as straight as its whiskey. From 1890 the city boasted a three months season of plays and operas running from sombre tragedy and lurid drama to roaring farce.

When the theater burned in 1874 a subscription was taken up and a new opera house built of stone. It still stands.

Today the miners, with the exception of a few old-timers, and their free spending ways have vanished. The mines were gradually exhausted and Central City almost became a ghost town.

The opera house remained, however, and in 1932 was repaired, restoring to the old town once more the thrill of live theater and expectant audiences. New stars were shipped in by plane and train to make the building echo with real music and vibrant voices. That began the period of annual play and opera festival. They have continued with the exception of the war years. This year the festival is scheduled from July 1 through August.

Two Operas Planned

Again the Teller House, which once housed President Grant, vivacious Baby Doe Tabor and her husband, and the theater great, will bustle with curious crowds from all over the world. They'll pour into the hotel's famous bar and stand over "the face on the barroom floor"—inspiration of the well-known poem.

This year the opera season will see the performance of "Madame Butterfly" and "Don Pasquale," featuring stars of the Metropolitan Opera. For the play season which follows,

The Central City Opera house as it appears today. Here such immortals as Bernhardt, Booth, Gish, and Menchen thrilled the culture crazy miners. Stars of today perform on the same stage during the summer play and opera festival.

drama fans will see George Bernard Shaw's comedy "The Devil's Disciple," now appearing in New York under the direction of Maurice Evans. The whole New York company will be shipped to Central City on August 5 for four weeks.

On July 26 national theater and music notables will gather on the stage of the opera house to form the annual critique. This informative panel discussion is fast becoming known as the "town hall meeting of the entertainment world." Past members of the panel have been the late Burns Mantel, Hedda Hopper, Howard Taubman, Saul Caston, James Michener, Virgil Thompson, Gypsy Rose Lee, Eleanor Steber, Jerome Hines, Hanya Holm and Emil Cooper.

It is amazing that one small town hidden away in the backbone of the continental divide could hold so much dramatic and musical tradition. Many are calling Central City the Salzburg or Edinburgh of the United States because of the festivals.

Will Recapture Past

The thousands who attend are not there for the music and plays entirely. They want to recapture the atmosphere that once made Central City the "rip-snorter" of the west.

They will find that atmosphere in the mementoes along the road leading to the old mining community and the old buildings which have been repaired and made usable. Theater-goers attending the traditional "first night" will find themselves surrounded by patrons clad in the costumes of the late 1880's.

And when the final curtain is rung down and the encores are over, they will again get a touch of the gaudy night life reminiscent of the wild and fabulous seventies.

Once again Central City will shake off the dust and cobwebs of the past to become the "richest square mile of earth"—and, perhaps, bring back a few of the ghosts of a lost era.

Serenades New Feature of Festival

A new feature of the festival this year will be the Central City serenades to be held on Sunday nights as informal request concerts in which the audience will request songs from the various stars.

Other entertainment besides the plays and operas will be evening performances of Dr. Lloyd Shaw's Cheyenne mountain folk dancers in the gardens between the Opera house and the Teller House.

The old Tabor suite in the Teller House reflects glories from a fabulous past. It was here that Tabor and his wife, Baby Doe, entertained notables with champagne parties and feasted on pheasant and caviar. Note the designs on the window shades.

New Potatoes, Fresh Asparagus Team With Pork Chops (See Recipes Below)

Spring Vegetable Treats

As gentle showers coax brilliantly colored vegetables from the moist brown earth, imaginative homemakers can perform equally miraculous deeds with the foods in their kitchens.

With a dash of imagination, all vegetables can come in for plenty of honors and encores. A special set of seasonings, a few sauces, or a certain arrangement of several vegetables are all that are needed to make any member of the vegetable family a real treat. Golden carrots, plump asparagus spears, deep green spinach and snowy white onions, as well as others lend themselves to the recipes given in today's column. Use them often to pep the vegetable portions of your daily menus.

Spring Vegetable Casserole (Serves 4)

4 ounces elbow spaghetti
1/2 cup butter
2 tablespoons enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pepper
1 cup vegetable liquid
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 to 1 1/4 cups cooked asparagus
1/4 cup buttered bread crumbs
Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender (about eight minutes). Drain and rinse. While spaghetti is cooking, melt butter in saucepan. Add flour, salt and pepper and mix well. Gradually pour in vegetable liquid and lemon juice stirring constantly until thickened. Cut asparagus into one-inch pieces leaving four or five spears whole for garnish. Fold cut asparagus and spaghetti into sauce. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Arrange uncut asparagus spears on top and sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350°) 30 minutes.

*Spring Salad Plate (Serves 6)

2 pounds asparagus, fresh-cooked whole stalks
6 medium-sized beets, cooked
1/2 cup French dressing
6 hard-cooked eggs
1 cucumber
Leaf lettuce
Stuffed olives

Cut beets in thin slices. Spread asparagus and beets in shallow dish. Pour French dressing over them; let stand in refrigerator one hour or more. Remove shells from hard-cooked eggs, cut each egg in half lengthwise and remove yolks to bowl. Mash yolks with fork; add any desired seasonings, mayonnaise, etc. Refill waxed paper and keep in refrigerator until serving time. Arrange lettuce on individual plates, dividing into three sections. Place alternating slices of beets and cucumber in another section. Place two deviled egg halves in third. Garnish with stuffed olives.

French Fried Asparagus (Serves 8)

1 1/2 pounds spinach
2 tablespoons butter
1 onion, sliced
1/2 slice garlic, minced
2 tablespoons bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Dash of nutmeg
1 cup soup stock or milk
Wash spinach thoroughly. Cook without any additional water until tender (about 10 minutes). Drain and chop fine. Melt butter, add onion and garlic and brown. Then add remaining ingredients and spinach and cook together five minutes. For variation use Swiss chard in place of spinach.

Leave berries in baskets in which they were purchased and store in a cool place. Wash just before using.

Dried dates should not be refrigerated because they become sticky and sugary.

Keep canned foods away from moisture so they do not become rusted, and thus spoiled.

Because of their pronounced odor, oranges, lemons and melons should be wrapped in heavy waxed paper before they are stored in the refrigerator.

Beef broth is very perishable. As soon as it's cool enough to refrigerate, store it without delay.

Scald the meat compartment after it has been used for storing fish so no odors will be left to contaminate other supplies.

1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash onion salt
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon water
1 cup dry bread crumbs

Drain juice from asparagus spears. Combine flour, salt and onion salt; roll each asparagus spear in this mixture. Group three floured asparagus spears together. Dip each group in combined beaten egg and water and roll again in dry bread crumbs. French fry in deep fat (350°) for four minutes or until brown. Serve hot.

Fresh Vegetable Chow Mein (Serves 6)

1 cup thin celery strips
1/2 cup sliced onion
1 medium green pepper, sliced in thin strips
1/2 pound green beans, cut lengthwise

Cook for an additional 10 minutes. Add tomatoes during the last three minutes of cooking. Serve on Toasted Bread Sticks. Leave crusts on six slices of day-old bread. Cut bread into strips 1/4 inch thick on all sides. Toast on a cookie sheet in a moderate oven (350°) for 20 minutes. Turn them so they will be golden brown on all sides. Serve with creamed foods.

Wash spinach thoroughly. Cook without any additional water until tender (about 10 minutes). Drain and chop fine. Melt butter, add onion and garlic and brown. Then add remaining ingredients and spinach and cook together five minutes. For variation use Swiss chard in place of spinach.

Leave berries in baskets in which they were purchased and store in a cool place. Wash just before using.

Dried dates should not be refrigerated because they become sticky and sugary.

Keep canned foods away from moisture so they do not become rusted, and thus spoiled.

Because of their pronounced odor, oranges, lemons and melons should be wrapped in heavy waxed paper before they are stored in the refrigerator.

Beef broth is very perishable. As soon as it's cool enough to refrigerate, store it without delay.

Scald the meat compartment after it has been used for storing fish so no odors will be left to contaminate other supplies.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by ROGER C. WHITMAN

Soft Wood Floor
QUESTION: Could you tell me how to finish a soft wood floor? We finished one, put on a filler and then varnished it with clear varnish. But it got too dark and rough.

ANSWER: If you used an ordinary varnish, perhaps that was the trouble. You should have used a regular floor varnish. For another thing, if you sanded the floor before varnishing, are you sure you cleaned up all the dust after sanding? If any dust remained on the floor, that would explain some of the roughness. Some darkening of the wood should be expected, as all wood and also varnishes darken with age. There are special finishes for soft wood floors that prevent splintering, but these must be applied over bare wood; not over a varnish. If you wish a good job, you might consider having a contractor scrape and refinish the floors with the right materials.

Water Hunters Debunked
Many professional "dowsers" who employ forked stick "divining rods" sincerely believe in their magic powers to find water underground, but scientists say they are deceived, according to Richards' Topical Encyclopedia. The turning of the twig is due to unconscious acts of muscle and nerves while squeezing the stick.

Without Painful Backache

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET Ghosts Haven't Ghost of a Chance in Manhattan But This Haunting Story Gave New Yorkers Pause

By BILLY ROSE

We men of Manhattan are an undaunted and unhaunted lot—or at least think we are—and so ghost stories seldom stand a ghost of a chance in this town.

Billy Rose

On the night of the big snow three winters ago, a doctor in Queens answered his doorbell and found a smallish man in a faded mackinaw standing on the stoop.

"THIS IS NO PLACE for a sick woman," he said. "You ought to have some heat in the house."

The man led him up a creaky set of stairs to the second floor, and in the front room an emaciated woman was lying in an old four-poster bed.

WILLIAM HOLDEN made quite a record in 1949—he did five pictures at four studios; this year promises to be equally busy.

character he was playing. His performance is really tops. In private life his severest critic is his daughter Virginia, who reads all his scripts; of this one she said, "Why do you play such heels?"

Gloria Swanson, after her sensational come-back in "Sunset Boulevard," plans to star in another picture, which she will co-produce with William Dieterle.

Rhonda Fleming, star of "The Eagle and the Hawk," is featured in the June issue of Holiday magazine in a color portrait shot at Malibu; she was chosen as "being typical of the 1950 feminine figure in a bathing suit."

chief, and though the doctor went through the motions of an examination he knew at once it was an advanced case of tuberculosis.

"I can give her something to relieve the congestion," he told her husband, "but she'll have to be moved to a hospital first thing in the morning."

Next morning, wondering how the woman was getting along, the physician stopped by the wooden house, but there was no answer when he rang the bell.

"THAT'S A FUNNY sort of question," said the agent. "There aren't any residents and there aren't likely to be any. The house hasn't been occupied in 15 years, and though praised of all the events and happenings in Centerville during the past two years, and assured that his folks were well.

"Bart," she said, when at last they stood outside the door to her room. "When are you coming home? When are you going to give up all this and come back where you belong?"

"Bart looked down into her eyes and saw something that two years ago he had longed to witness. He sighed deeply.

"Sadie, it's been just great seeing you. Just what I needed. A sort of tonic." He smiled at her gently.

"I'm not going back just yet, Sadie. There's something keeping me here, something that before I never knew existed. I know now that it's something greater than anything. Some time I'm coming back, and when I do there'll be two of us."

Her name was Sabina Goodnow, and she adored him.

met him in the lobby of her hotel. "Hello, pal," she cried. "Looking just the same. Thinner, maybe. But otherwise old Bart himself."

"Sadie!" Bart stared in open admiration. "Sadie! How good it is to see you. Tell me, how are things in Centerville? How are the folks? Tell me everything."

"Same old town, Bart. Your folks are fine. Your dad owns a new tractor. Polly, the horse, died you know. But I suppose they wrote you that. The voters decided to run town water up to William's Hill at the last town meeting.

THEY TALKED for hours. By evening Bart was fully acquainted with all the events and happenings in Centerville during the past two years, and assured that his folks were well.

it's always been on my list, nobody's ever wanted it. "Do you think squatters might be living in it on account of the housing shortage?" asked the doctor.

"Could be, but I doubt it," said the agent. "There's been a lot of queer talk about that house, and the last family that moved in during the depression could only stand it for a few weeks.

"I know its sounds absurd," said the doctor, "but I examined a sick woman there last night, and if you've got a key I'll walk over with you and prove it."

When they got to the house, it took the agent quite a while to get the rusty lock open, and when they entered there wasn't a stick of furniture in sight.

"I still think it's the same place. Let's look upstairs."

On the second floor they went into the front room. It was also empty. Empty, that is, Except for a piece of paper on the window sill—the prescription the doctor had written the night before.

A well-written, straight news story presents its outstanding information in the opening paragraph, or lead. What follows after that is amplification, additional details.

There are excellent reasons why news story style is best, among them: (1) The reader can quickly read the lead, and quit there if the story fails to interest him or her.

(2) It permits cutting or reducing the length of a story, to get it into a particular place in the paper, by eliminating from the bottom. As these bottom paragraphs contain less important details, their removal will not seriously reduce the information the story is conveying.

The editor tries to pack his paper with as much news as he can get, written in clear, readable style, and arranged to give the paper a varied and attractive appearance.

Because writing, editing, setting type, putting the type in the page forms, and printing, addressing and delivering take time, they must start early enough to conclude at a specified time each issue. If news stories are not written so they can be made to fit the space assigned to them, much time will be lost and the paper will contain fewer stories and be less interesting.

The editor is a specialist whose stock-in-trade is an understanding of what interests people. He welcomes news and does his best to present it in accurate, readable, interesting form.

Next time you bring in a news item, and it is "changed all around," remember that it was written into news style to help you make it of interest to the greatest possible number of readers.

Watchman Asks Legal Ruling On Tail Light for Horse

ODESSA — Tex Vandervalk, a night watchman, has come up with a complicated legal question. Can he put a tail light on his horse? Vandervalk makes his rounds on a rubber-shod horse. He applied to the sheriff's office for permission to install a tail light on his steed.

This Is Your Paper Those 'Changed' News Items

By William R. Nelson

"WHENEVER I bring in a news item, why do you always change it all around?" That question is one of the most frequently asked in every home town newspaper office in the country.

The answer is, of course, that news stories are easier to read, better understood, take less space, when they are written to conform to a somewhat flexible pattern.

The editor tries to pack his paper with as much news as he can get, written in clear, readable style, and arranged to give the paper a varied and attractive appearance.

Household Hints

Bread Box To insure the fullest protection of bakery products, keep the bread box clean. Wash and scald the container, and air-dry it thoroughly twice a week in winter and every other day in summer.

Horseshod With Ham Horseshod sauce is delicious with cold ham; to make it, whip a half cup of cream and add a quarter cup of drained, prepared horseradish to it along with a half cup of creamed cottage cheese, a half teaspoon of vinegar and a quarter teaspoon of salt.

Freeze Leftover Waffles If you've made too many waffles wrap them in moisture, vaporproof material and place them in your home freezer. When ready to use heat them in your automatic toaster at the lightest setting.

Delicious Fruit Compote Prunes, apricots, and dried pears make a delicious dried fruit compote. Use part orange juice for the liquid in which the fruit is cooked and add a slice or two of lemon, too. Serve with a topping if sour cream is desired.

Economical Use of Heat When you are cooking a roast it's a good idea to put potatoes, and maybe a pudding, in the oven at the same time for economical use of heat.

Spooling Make a dessert spoon work in the mornings, too, as a cereal spoon.

You Can Spare a Tine A salad fork can double as a fish fork. Use it also for firm desserts such as pie and cake.

Pitchers; Then and Now

THE FRIGHTFUL PITCHING of the new season has certainly eliminated the short spring training season for 1931. Twenty bases on balls per game—15 and 20 runs—ball games running beyond three and a half hours—wild melees of home runs—have left the natives in a badly dazed condition all around the map.

Next spring pitchers will be put to work running as well as throwing around the middle of February. May-Grantland Rice be that won't help any too much. But at least it might. Cutting off a few arms couldn't make it much worse. The ball fields are littered with sore-armed pitchers as it is.

"A few friends of mine were talking about pitching and throwing the other night," writes R. T., an accurate observer, "and one of them said it was just as good as ever. Somebody mentioned Bobby Feller's 348 strikeouts with Cleveland in 1946—and 28 strikeouts in consecutive games in 1938—as being just about tops.

"Good, yes," our friend yawned, "but I want to remind you of a guy who never left one club, pitched every game for one team, and that team was always fighting with all its might to get out of the cellar. Here's a sample—in 10 consecutive years there are the games that pitcher won: 25, 23, 32, 36, 28, 27, 24, 23, and 20 per season. If a pitcher wins 20 games nowadays he's a national hero. This man won 20 games or more for 10 straight seasons, with a miserable ball club, a club that sometimes won only when this man pitched. In his lifetime the average pitcher, wins 100 to 150 games. The real stars win 200 (Buck Walters missed it by a whisker). Once in a great while the champion of champions comes along and wins 300 games in a lifetime in the major leagues. This man won 413; And in 21 years of big-time baseball his earned-run average was below three runs per game 75 per cent of the time. The year he won 36 games and lost only seven, his ERA was 1.14! His name? Walter Johnson, of course, right-hander, Washington."

"But even Walter Johnson's record for consecutive 20-game years was topped in the majors," he said, "Christopher Mathewson, of the New York Giants, by name. In 1903, Matty won 30 games for the Giants. In the next two years he won 33 and 31. In the next nine years he won, in order, 22, 24, 37, 25, 27, 26, 23, 25, and 24 games per season. He won 20 games in 1901, and altogether Matty won 20 games or better in 13 seasons. Maybe Ty Cobb's record of leading the league in batting nine years in succession is better, or Babe Ruth's 714 home runs, or Cobb's 4,191 hits. I'll take Mathewson."

"Right-handers! I'll take a lefty any day," said another kibitzer. "I'll take Lefty Grove against the field. Connie Mack (who still calls him "That Grove") judges Grove the greatest left-hander of all time, and that includes George (Rube) Waddell, whom Mack once named the lefty king. Grove's record in 1931, when he won 31 games and lost only four, with an ERA of 2.05, is the finest pitching in modern baseball. Maybe Johnson and Mathewson did have to face Cobb and Wagner and Speaker game after game. Grove had to face Babe Ruth and Harry Heilmann and a guy named Gehrig. Grove won 300 games in only 17 seasons but that's not the most important statistic—Grove lost only 141 games. His all-time winning percentage of .680 will never be equaled. It's as far above Johnson's, Mathewson's, Alexander's, and Eddie Plank's percentage of wins as Cobb is above the rest of the hitters. Lefty Grove, don't forget, is the only major league pitcher who ever won twice as many games as he lost—over a long career."

"The talk fell to pitchers of the 1930's and 1940's (and 1950's) and which one had a chance to make the upper circle of fame.

"Somebody said that Joe DiMaggio's 56-game consecutive hitting streak in 1941 was the greatest feat in all baseball—batter 408, 91 hits in 56 games.

"You're all wrong," said another, "The greatest feat in history of baseball wasn't in a regular game. It was when Carl Hubbell struck out Ruth, Gehrig, Foxx, Simmons and Cronin in order in the all-star game of 1934. Only Foxx so much as nicked a single ball—it was a foul. And Foxx never saw the other three pitches. Nobody did. Babe Ruth said afterward it was the greatest pitching exhibition he had ever seen, and that was from one of the greatest pitchers of all time!"

The 1,000-to-1 Shot

You might call it the 100-to-1 shot, but it could be better labeled as the 1,000-to-1 shot.

We are referring to those unknown 15- and 16-year-old kids who suddenly pitch a no-hit game and strike out 22 hitters. Or 27 hitters.

Only a few days ago another kid Californian pitched his third no-hit game this season. His name is Dick Green.

Now what is Dick Green? Another potential Bob Feller? Or another punk?

Weather Prophecy

The Bible contains a weather proverb that is as true today as it was 20 centuries ago. "When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the sky is red. And in the morning, it will be foul weather today: for the sky is red and lowering." Moisture and dust in the air makes the sky red. When heated by the morning sun, an updraft follows, heavy clouds form and rain probably will fall. But as nights are cool, moisture and dust settle to the ground.
