Newly elected officers include Atty. Deane R. Bascom, president; Harry D. Shekeli, vice-president; Mrs. Albert Schroeder, secretary, and Atty. Henry O. Schowalter, treasurer. According to Bascom, the purpose of the organization shall be to promote such measures as will meet the health needs of the individual, the family, and the community. To this end it shall: 1. Organize and encourage participation in the accomplishment of health goals. 2. Study total community health needs, the services available and their adequacy. 3. SOFTBALL TEAM CONTINUES PACE BY BEATING ASHFORD

In an important test on the home field Sunday the undefeated Kewaskum softball team kept its league lead intact by defeating second place Ashford, 10-5, to make it five straight. Kohlsville, which had been tied with Ashford for second, also won Sunday and took over second.

Kewaskum had to come from behind to win but a big fourth inning in which they scored seven runs put the game on ice. Features were the pitching of "Tony" Kisinger and home runs by Perkins and Wink, which put them ahead. Thelen pitched for Ashford. J. Thelen also got a homer for the losers. This Sunday Kewaskum has a bye.

Newburg outfit Kewaskum's Chevrolet but couldn't outscore them and lost, 7-6, in a tussle played on the local field Sunday. The Chevrolets were behind by five runs going into the sixth inning and bounced back with seven runs in the late innings to pull out a victory, which kept the team in undisputed second place.

Kewaskum was held scoreless for five frames by Parlow, Newburg hurler, but really came to life in the sixth in which they pushed six big markers across the platter to go ahead, 6-5. Newburg countered with one button in the seventh to knot it up but the Chev's brought home another in their half of the same frame to complete the scoring and win.

Parlow held Kewaskum to six hits, walked five and struck out three. Newburg touched Honeck for eight safeties but the latter walked only one and whiffed seven hitters. Ten errors marred the game. In the hitting department Kempf and Honeck each got two for the winner and one of Kempf's blows was a long homer. Isselmann and Bell each lashed out two bingles for the Burgers.

Three Mequon Runs in Ninth Beat Utensils

LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division) Won Lost Lannon 5 1 Mequon 5 2 Granville 3 3 Waukesha CYO 3 4 Waukesha Dales 2 4 Kewaskum 1 5

Scores last Sunday—Mequon 4, Kewaskum 2; Lannon 7, Waukesha Dales 1; Waukesha CYO 10, Granville 4.

Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at Granville, Mequon at Waukesha Dales, Waukesha CYO at Lannon. With the Kewaskum Utensils ahead, 2-1, going into the last half of the ninth inning at Mequon Sunday, the latter pulled a victory out of the fire with a three run rally in that frame to hand Kewaskum a hard to take loss by a 4-2 score. The Utensils had the handicap of a strictly partisan Mequon crowd and a couple of questionable decisions by the umpires to contend with.

Kewaskum drew first blood in the second inning with a marker and Mequon tied it up in the fourth. No more runs were scored until the eighth when the Utensils pushed over another button to again go ahead. A walk, error and two fielders' choices gave the winners their three tallies in the ninth.

John Tessar pitched a four-hitter against the Mequon sluggers and still lost while Kewaskum tagged Fleming, opposing hurler, for nine safeties, on which they could score only two runs. Tessar fanned five to Fleming's two but the winning twirler walked only one man while Tessar put nine on base with free passes.

Heading the Utensils' attack was Norm Held, who banged out three bingles, one of them for two bases. John Tessar collected a triple for himself. Burezyk got two of Mequon's four hits. Each pitcher threw seven scoreless innings.

Lithia Co. Celebrates 100 Years of Brewing

Brewing in West Bend is celebrating its 100th anniversary this year. The first brewery was erected by B. Goetter just a century ago on property directly across the street from the present plant. After operating the brewery for several years, Mr. Goetter sold the plant to Stephan and Charles Mayer who operated it for over twenty years.

A second brewery was built in West Bend in 1856. This was the Eagle Brewery erected by Christ Eckstein on the site of the present West Bend Lithia Co. In 1881 Adam Kuehlthau purchased the Eagle Brewery.

In 1885 the brewery operated by the Mayer Co., with a capacity of about 2,500 barrels a year and the Eagle Brewery with a capacity of about 2,000 barrels annually were consolidated. It was shortly thereafter that the first "Lithia" brew was placed on the market. Now, some 60 years later, the name "Lithia" is still the synonym of good beer in much of the southeastern part of Wisconsin.

In 1911 the present owners purchased the brewery and in 1919 changed the name of the company to the West Bend Lithia Co. under which name the plant now operates.

Chas. W. Walter, secretary and treasurer under the new ownership, is the present general manager. Under this management the brewery has grown to a plant with an annual capacity of about 75,000 barrels and averages employs about 45 men. Prohibition did not close the West Bend Lithia Co. which turned its efforts to the production of near-beer. With the repeal of prohibition in 1933 production of course returned to beer as we know it today and at the present time features two outstanding brews—"Lithia" and "Old Timer's." Its sales are confined to the state of Wisconsin, more particularly that area within a 50 mile radius of West Bend. However, the brewery does have distributors as far north as Wisconsin Rapids and as far west as Maunston.

The present officers of the West Bend Lithia Co. are Martin Walter, president; Carl Pick, vice president; Chas. W. Walter, secretary-treasurer and general manager, and Chas. W. Walter, Jr., assistant secretary and treasurer.

Garbage Disposal Orders

There has been flagrant disobedience of the rules regarding the proper disposal of garbage, tins, glass and ash. All refuse excepting garbage must be placed in metal containers with tightly fitting covers. These cans must not exceed 30 gallon capacity in order that two men can empty them easily. These cans must be placed at your curb every other Wednesday morning for collection. Please rinse your used tins in order to reduce the hazard of flies—remember polio may be caused by flies.

All garbage must be wrapped well with several layers of paper. After the garbage has been emptied wash the can and expose to sun to dry for a few hours. This reduces the fly hazard a great deal. All covers must fit tightly. Place your garbage at your curb for collection on Monday and Friday mornings. Remember! No glass or tins in the garbage.

Hereafter the garbage collectors shall refuse to empty garbage that has not been properly wrapped; legal action will ensue should anyone refuse to obey the rules.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET

This Guy Khrustalev Must Have a Lot of Crust, Making Fun of Poor Old Joe Stalin That Way

By BILLY ROSE

Generalissimo Joseph V. Stalin Chairman, Council of Ministers Kremlin, Moscow, U. S. S. R.

Dear Joe:

If I may be so bold, I'd like to call your attention to a matter which is no laughing matter, even though it's been getting a lot of laughs lately. Namely, the recent efforts of your propaganda boys to win friends and influence people in this part of the world.

Take, for instance, last winter's lollapalooza about how your engineers were nudging mountains with uranium. We degenerate democrats, whether you know it or not, are a fact-minded people who thrive on details. When a fellow says he's Napoleon we want to see his birth certificate, and when he's atomized an Alp we want to see the hole in the ground.

Then there were the recent hum-dingers which claimed that every doodad from the wheel to the flying saucer had been invented by a Russian. Now, I can't doubt that many an important idea has been hatched between the carpathians and the Urals, but when your propaganda machine gives the rest of the world credit for nothing but the Lindy hop and the bubonic plague, a lot of folks who might otherwise be friendly begin to titter—and even your legitimate claims get lost in the chuckle.

OUR MASS REACTIONS were neatly summed up a few months ago when The New Yorker cartooned a group of your agents in China discussing policy. "The main thing is to handle them with tact," said one of them. Let them think they invented gunpowder. Some issues later, the same periodical ran another captious cartoon in which several Politburocrats were debating the question. "Shall we invent television now or wait until they perfect color?"

As another, and admittedly picaresque, example of what I'm getting at, let me tell you about my own experiences with your editors and copywriters.

Every now and occasionally, as some idle-eye in your press division has apparently noticed, I take a playful poke at your regime in my column—an event which certainly doesn't figure to precipitate a crisis of state. But instead of filing it in the wastebasket and going about their business, your name-callers have twice made the mistake of answering back—and both times with the finesse of a lambrjack trying to tat.

Billy Rose

exploded nothing but giggles. Time magazine reprinted the item as a gag, my chorus girls threatened to picket the Russian consulate, and the syndicate which handles my stuff picked up a few more papers.

ALL OF WHICH should have taught your word-wasters a lesson, but it didn't. A few days ago, someone mailed me the February issue of your magazine, Novy Mir (New World), and—lo and surprise!—in it was an article by one P. Khrustalev which, by way of documenting the degeneracy of American culture, described me as "a gangster with three chins" who "murdered a man and grabbed his capital."

I took this, I assure you, as a plaudit rather than a potshot. On your way up, as I get it, you knocked off a couple of banks yourself, and since have undoubtedly knocked off an opponent or three. Khrustalev, it was evident, meant to be complimentary when he word-painted me in the image of Soviet Citizen No. 1.

All kidding aside, though, don't you think it's about time you sent for your typewriter assassins and pointed out that their releases are getting more howls than hosannas? And while you're at it, you might point out that Joe Goebbel's theory—the bigger the lie the more apt it is to be believed—only works with people who desperately want to believe the lie.

One thing more: I fraternally suggest you keep an eye on this Khrustalev fellow who said I had three chins. Such a man, in a reckless moment, might describe his premier as having two heads. Sincerely, Billy Rose

WHAT SAY? . . . Sporting his first new hat in 50 years, Frank E. Gimlett, famous hermit of Arbor Villa, Colo., and advocate of a return to the gold standard, shows how he regained control of his speech after suffering a stroke last February.

This is Your Paper 'A Little Late' Means Trouble

By William R. Nelson

A PUBLICITY chairman of a prominent civic group rushes breathlessly into the newspaper office, her face a picture of worry. "I hope you will forgive my being late with our news, but I simply forgot what day this is," she begins. "I just have to get this announcement into the paper."

In a metropolitan newspaper office nothing could be done to help her. Deadline is deadline. There, in the home town paper office it is sometimes difficult to be so rigid about deadlines. In the hypothetical instance cited, let us assume an exception is made. Here is what would probably happen.

The breathless chairman would go her way much relieved. Although received after deadline time, her organization's news will be in the paper, as usual.

At the newspaper, however, the chairman's tardiness has precipitated a chain reaction of upset schedules that will affect virtually every member of the staff.

An editor will have to handle another news story. One or more items already in type will have to be shortened to make room for the late story. Typ already set will have to be discarded and more set. Page dummies will have to be altered. Lockup of page forms will be delayed. Printing and distribution will be off schedule.

This probably exaggerated example of what happens when someone imposes late news upon the paper, is duplicated, even more disruptingly, whenever an advertiser fails to get copy to the paper on time.

As long as humans are prone to forget, have accidents, or otherwise be delayed in performing duties, it will probably be necessary for stores and newspapers to occasionally accept such impositions. But these disruptions of necessary schedules will be materially reduced, no doubt, when people fully realize what inconvenience their tardiness causes.

Whenever you have news or advertising for the paper, get it in well ahead of the deadline. You will get better service, and have the satisfaction of knowing that you did not impose upon the newspaper's people.

LETTERS FOR SPECIAL DELIVERY

(Mrs. Allison Palmer, teacher in the Bergenfield, N. J., public schools, has quit her job, saying that, due to radio and television, she missed a good deal of the time—News item).

YOU GIVE UP too easy. Video is here to stay. So are school-teachers. You missed a swell chance to make a name for yourself as a great educator. Thousands of schoolteachers are making the same mistake. You have to meet competition with competition. Why didn't you institute a new program, opening school with "Home on the Range," following with a demonstration in pistol "fanning" and announcing that sheriff badges would be given to all kids making good marks? You probably came to school, as do most teachers, on a bus. How can your arrival that way capture the fancy of the children? Before giving up you could have galloped up a couple of mornings on a cow-pony, blazing away from a six-shooter as you entered the school yard, and doing a few rope tricks. The kids would have been your devoted followers.

Schoolteachers are not living up to their opportunities. Name me one who has had the foresight and intelligence to offer live ammunition to any kid who gets 90 or better in school work! Many teachers keep cats. Why do we hear of none who keep buffaloes? They emphasize in geography the beauties of Venice, Paris, Athens, etc. How many mention Deadwood, Dodge City, Goldfield, Poker Flat or Boot Hill? Why, before giving up in your battle to hold the interest of the kiddies, did you never come to school in Indian costume? Or bring an Indian to correct papers?

I suppose you often told them what great men Washington and Lincoln were and urged them to pattern after these great leaders. But did it ever occur to you how immediate their response would have been if you had done as much for Billy the Kid, Jesse James and Sheriff Bat Masterson? How often did you mention the James Brothers? Get the attention and support that way, lady, and you can hold them through the spelling and arithmetic, especially if you tell them that Joe Slade never lost a spelling bee and that the reason cowboys jump their ponies through saloon windows so beautifully is that they are mathematical marvels at figuring the square feet in any given sheet of glass.

Won't you reconsider, Mrs. Palmer? It's all a matter of approach. Any teacher in America can have the kids eating out of her hand if she follows some of these suggestions and winds up every school session with a stirring "Don't miss tomorrow's exciting chapter in this stirring course of public school studies! Will the Three R's get the captive ranch owner out of the flooded mine in time?"

These words have but a little while "Deposit Nickel. Listen for Dial." Possible classified ad of tomorrow: Gentleman desiring to make phone call requires cash loan.

"Phillip Murray said the talks between the CIO and the AFL would be carried out by both sides in a complete spirit of humility and understanding."—News item. Wanna bet?

Postmaster Jesse Donaldson denies the charge of the letter carrier's president that many are now compelled to eat lunch on the curb because of a mere half-hour lunch period. "Mailmen are expected to take 30 minutes for lunch, but there is no objection to them taking an hour or more if the distance to a place to secure a satisfactory lunch is too great," he says. How about a new stamp, Jesse, commemorating the quick-lunch room and the discovery of the hard-boiled egg?

"The Kansas City police will be held strictly to a new rule prohibiting them from taking any part in politics or even discussing them openly."—News item. Wanna bet?

Full-blooded American Indians, representing the Six Nations, went to U.N. the other day to complain of some injustices by America and Canada but couldn't get a hearing. Naturally. They have kept comparatively civilized and must take the consequences.

Shorter taxicabs are reported about to be adopted in New York. As this will bring the passenger closer to the meter, we hope the click will be softened commensurately.

The Federal Trade Commission has sued another company for making overstatements on anti-cold pills. Someone in Washington has taken a couple and is still coughing. We hear the trade commissioner gave his orders thusly, "Bring sude a gedst all cub-nies thad glaim to gure a gold."

There is need of a new slogan for 1952. How about "Two turkeys in every pot and a government auto mechanic in every garage?"

The Way it Happened... IN WARRENSVILLE, Ohio Six hundred inmates of the workhouse went on a strike to demand better recreational facilities, their chief demand being for television sets. IN NASHVILLE A recurrent defendant, brought into court after a razor brand and told to avoid trouble by staying out of had company explained to the judge that he didn't have enough money to get a divorce. IN NEW YORK A shoe salesman reported that someone broke into his parked car and stole 300 shoes—all samples, all for the left foot. IN EL PASO Police Chief W. C. Woolerton boasted, "This is the second peaceful weekend we have had without a murder."

Thrifty to Make King Tut's Sandals Still in a state of perfect conservation, a pair of leather-soled sandals, painted and embossed in gold, were found in the tomb of Tutankhamen in Egypt. Painted on the inner soles were figures of traditional enemies, Syrians and Libyans, "on whom the King trod".

Personal To Women With Naggng Backache As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

BY INEZ GERHARD RONALD COLMAN has emerged so completely from professional retirement that nobody would be surprised if he returned to his first love, the stage, where Lillian Gish discovered him years ago and had him engaged as her leading man in "The White Sister." His radio show, "The Halls of Ivy," Wednesday nights on NBC, was the first step. Next came the hilarious United Artists picture, "Champagne for Caesar," his first film in three years. Colman is wonderful as a double-or-nothing quiz contestant who runs his take up to a $40,000,000 jackpot. Even the talented parrot who plays "Caesar" can't steal scenes from him—quite a feat!

Lowell Thomas, CBS newscaster, had quite a week recently. The doctor let him discard the crutches he'd been using for seven months, ever since he was thrown from a horse while trekking through Tibet. And his son was married, with Thomas as the best man. The beautiful wedding took place in a charming church in Greenwich, Conn. James Melton sang.

Jan Sterling's standing at Paramount was boosted so high by audience reaction to her work in "United States Mail" and "Union Station," when they were shown at sneak previews, that she will given a top assignment in "Ace in the Hole."

Mona Freeman has been worried; she's so little and looks so young that she feared she'd never get roles where she could look her age—25. "I could just see my daughter growing up," said she. "And going to the movies with a boy friend, pointing to a bobbiexer on the screen and saying, 'That's my mother'." But now Mona's happy; she looks her age in "Branded."

Stewart Granger is going to be stuck in costume pictures for a long time to come. M-G-M was delighted with his performance in "King Solomon's Mines," and will now turn him into a swashbuckling hero. He will do "Robinson Crusoe," "Ivanhoe," in full-blown Technicolor, followed by that old favorite, "Scaramouche," and then will don uniform for Kipling's "Soldiers Three."

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Marion Morgan has been signed as a permanent replacement on "Stop the Music," in place of Estelle Loring, who has left with the national touring company of "South Pacific." Fred Allen has signed to do a series of records, but has not yet decided what kind of material he'll record. . . . Jose Ferrer, star of "Cyrano de Bergerac," has just tried out his 26th false nose for the part. . . . It is reported Fibber McGee and Molly are thinking of retiring.

THE FICTION CORNER VANITY ALL

By Richard H. Wilkinson

"EVERY MAN," said Inspector Joe Warren, frowning over the letter which he held in his hand, "has a weak point. In the case of a Flash, the most daring criminal of this city's criminal history, it appears to be vanity." He gestured toward the letter.

"The fellow has become drunk with his success in accomplishing two outstanding robberies. And now he has taken to writing us letters, stating just where he's going to be at a certain time and what he plans to do." Detective Fargo blew smoke rings at the ceiling and evaded his chief's eyes.

"So far," he said, "he seems to have been pretty successful in carrying out his plans. This is the third letter we've received." "Each time The Flash has appeared where he said he would at exactly the time denoted in his letters. And while we've stood idly by he's committed his crimes and escaped. What's he up to this time?"

"Tomorrow," he groaned, "every newspaper in the city will have the story. It will be the most humiliating moment of my life." Fargo smiled bitterly. "Every man has his weak point," he said. "Yours seems to be vanity."

Fargo crushed out his cigaret. "Have you taken any steps to prevent the robbery?" "Fargo, as you know, the Flash's disguise is perfect. He'll appear at that party as a guest, or servant or someone with whom the Devonshires are but slightly acquainted. I want you to go up there early.

The butler's face was white and drawn. meet Mrs. Devonshire when she comes down stairs and stick with her until the last guest has gone. Then see to it that the emerald is stored away in a safe before you leave. I'll have Johnson and a couple of other men mingling with the guests."

AT 11 O'CLOCK on the night of the Devonshire party Inspector Warren drew his roster up before the palatial mansion and ascended the steps. Warren stepped quickly inside. And at that moment Mrs. Devonshire, accompanied by her husband and Detective Fargo, came flying down the stairs.

The doctor recently installed a television set in his special children's room and Detroit Tiger baseball games are a regular feature.

Mote admits things are getting a little complicated, since a man has been attempting to arrange his appointments for days the Tigers are in town.

Historic Doubters
When the Italian Galileo 300 years ago dared to question an age-old theory by Aristotle that heavy objects fall faster than light ones, learned men scoffed, scolded and finally brought Galileo to trial for his beliefs. So, he climbed the Leaning Tower of Pisa, dropped a half-pound weight and a 100-lb. cannon ball. They fell together. Even then, the wise men ran home to point out the exact page and line in Aristotle's writings to "prove" Galileo wrong.

—Banns of matrimony were announced in Holy Trinity church Sunday for these bridal parties: Francis Voim, St. Bridgets, and Dorothy Schoofs, Kewaskum; Francis Schoofs, Kewaskum, and Bernice Kowanda, Newburg; Carl A. La Bawl, Rubicon, and Inez Stelplflug, Kewaskum.

—Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Strachota of Whitefish Bay, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Val, Peters of this village, graduated from the College of Business Administration at Marquette university and received his bachelor's degree at exercises held Sunday evening in the Milwaukee auditorium. Mr. and Mrs. Peters attended the services and spent until Tuesday with the Strachotas.

—Miss Betty Joske, who attended Martin Luther college at New Elm, Minn. the past term, and her fiancé, Robert F. Scherzer, spent from Saturday to Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erich Joske, and family. On Wednesday they left for Kenilworth, Ill. to visit Miss Joske's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bunkeimann, before going to Des Plaines, Ill. where she will teach this coming term. Later Miss Joske and her fiancé will leave for Michigan to visit his folks.

There comes to many who reach a great age, not only extreme physical decline, but also a waning of the mental faculties, to a point where they again become children, and as such, they are just as emotional, craving company, a caress, a hug and a kiss.

It is at this time when so very many are forsaken by fair-weather friends, and neglected by callous and indifferent kin. I wish to make public my gratitude to Mrs. Otto Liepert, who visited my lonely mother, whenever circumstances permitted, and who was a solicitous, generous and loyal friend to the very end.

Germans Mad About Burlesque Shows

Nearly every big-city German night club has at least one female performer whose specialty is undressing in public.

The girl most West Germans prefer to see is a sloop-eyed brunette named Laya Raki.

They blow foam off seidels of beer and applaud wildly when her gold scarf is discarded and she flicks in droves to this new wrinkle in German entertainment.

A weary orchestra thumped away while a black-haired frau-lein trudged aimlessly about wearing a G-string and two feather fans.

It was anything but a tango but nobody seemed to mind.

One night club run by a German woman has rung in another version of undressed entertainment.

Every night at 12 o'clock a 10-minute motion picture of semi-nude girls is shown.

The scenes are set in the night club. While a man and woman hold hands amorously, girls with bare chests and loin cloths made of artificial butterflies or orchids simmer daintily.

It has the place packed every night.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

GM-UAW Sign Five-Year Contract; June Grad Job Prospects 'Good'; Fuchs Puts Finger on U. S. Spy

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

LABOR: Historic Contract

An unprecedented five-year contract, hailed by labor and management alike as an important stabilizing move in the labor world, has been signed by General Motors Corp., and the CIO United Auto Workers.

In the eyes of many, the most startling thing about the contract was not its terms and duration, but the fact that both management and labor are happy about it.

The agreement includes a four cents an hour increase, $100 pensions for retired workers, and a cost of living formula. The union estimated immediate benefits total 19 cents an hour.

Walter Reuther, UAW-CIO president, described the agreement as "the most significant development in labor relations since the mass production industries were organized."

Speaking for management, GM vice president Harry Anderson said the unusual and unexpected agreement was "historic in labor-management relations."

The contract is the longest ever written in the industry and assures the company of five years of uninterrupted production.

Labor observers are almost unanimous in their agreement that such contracts—long term ones—would exert a stabilizing influence on all industry.

In Washington, Secretary of Labor Tobin said the contract is "great news."

"It means that there is confidence in the future prosperity of this industry and its ability to produce so efficiently that it can continue to pay higher wages, and at the same time insure greater security for its workers when they are ill or retired," he said.

ESPIONAGE: Successful Spy

The attorney general has announced the capture of another spy, Harry Gold, 39, of Philadelphia. As usual with the capture of a spy in the United States, the agent had operated very successfully, delivering, according to reports, top atomic bomb secrets to Russia.

Gold, whose family name is Goldsmith, "has admitted his contacts with Dr. Klaus Fuchs, the imprisoned British atomic scientist, and has given a detailed account of his activities," the announcement said.

Gold was reported to have received written and oral information concerning atomic projects in this country and delivered them to agents of the Soviet Union.

"I thought that I would be helping a nation whose final aims I approved along the road to industrial strength. Particularly was I taken with the idea that whatever I did would go to help make living conditions for more advanced along the road as we know them here in the United States," Gold said.

The charge against Gold said that he did "conspire" to obtain "documents, writings, sketches, notes and information relating to the national defense and with intent and reason to believe that it was to be used to the injury of the United States and to the advantage of a foreign nation, to wit, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

DRAFT LAW: Its 'Draftless'

By a vote of 216 to 11, the house extended the selective service law for two years and sent the measure to the senate for its approval.

The measure has been called a "draftless" draft because it would be extended on a stand-by basis. Youths attaining their 18th birthdays would be required to register as at present, but they could not be ordered into uniform unless certain conditions existed.

Before passing the measure, Chairman Vinson of the armed services committee, told the house that "this nation must be prepared for an indefinite time in the future to counter promptly, with every means available, an attack by modern weapons."

QUINTUPLETS: No Boy Friends

To millions in Canada and the United States it seems like only yesterday that the nation's newspapers carried headlines of the birth of the Dionne quintuplets. In the minds of many they are still little girls.

The rude awakening came with the recent observance of their 16th birthday. But Papa Dionne said the girls would have no boy friends for two more years.

The quintuplets—Annette, Cecile, Emelie, Marie, and Yvonne—have two more years of school. After that they can have dates, their father ruled.

A 16-candle bakery cake was the centerpiece of the birthday party attended by 10 of their schoolmates, the Rev. R. Saue of Ottawa, a family friend, and a New York writer.

Harry Gold, 29, of Philadelphia, held under $100,000 bond, is charged with assisting the convicted British spy, Klaus Fuchs, in handing over vital atomic secrets to Russia.

GRADUATES: Job Prospects Good

Four out of every five job-hungry June college graduates will be employed by October 1, though many will have to hunt harder and longer than did the class of '49.

This is an average of the estimates of placement officials reporting in a survey of 128 colleges and universities made by Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

Actually 1950 will be a good year for the job-seeking college graduate—not as good as 1949, but much better than was considered normal in pre-war years, the report said.

Four out of every five schools in the survey—102—report that starting salaries are as high this year as in 1949—a few find the average slightly higher.

Initial salaries for business school and liberal arts seniors generally range from $175 to $275 a month; for engineering and other sciences, $225 to $350. A few outstanding seniors get higher offers, of course, ranging up to $400 a month for outstanding advanced-degree men, the survey finds.

While a few schools and individual departments reached their peak of senior enrollments in 1949, most campuses have considerably longer cap-and-gown parades this year, with more graduates seeking jobs.

The vast majority of schools report their seniors to be pretty well prepared mentally for job competition—"more realistic," and "down to earth."

"Graduates realize that jobs are a little scarcer, but are putting more effort and thought into hunting work," reports the College of Business Administration of the University of Texas.

A great majority of employers contacted are optimistic, at least for the immediate business future. The University of Notre Dame, which finds employment demand "somewhat less this year but not as much less as anticipated," observes, "The majority of employers with whom we have talked appear to feel that the period immediately ahead will be good for business, but many are still 'uncertain.'"

Says the University of Buffalo's report: "The feeling is that business is seeping down. The boom is over, but prospects remain good on the whole."

Regarding the outlook for women graduates, Ohio State University reports, "The most opportunities are for girls who combine secretarial skills with their major studies." Another typical comment on this phase, from the University of Chicago: "Professional types of positions continue to be scarce, but stenographic and secretarial opportunities are far in excess of our supply of women trained in those fields."

AIR FORCE: Asks 200 Million

Backed by Secretary of Defense Johnson, air force leaders had asked for $200,000,000 increase in the budget to cover the purchase of new aircraft and the modernization of existing tactical and training planes.

Air force officials reported the present budget would pay for 42 modern groups by 1956. The force today includes 8,600 aircraft of all types. Of these, 3,100 are combat planes and 5,500 are utility aircraft.

On V-J Day the army air force had 37,000 combat planes.

Saucers

Flying saucers jumped back into the news with the announcement of a new book entitled "Flying Saucers Are Real." It was the government, not the book, however, that made the news.

The government protested its publication on the grounds it made public "information vital to national defense." That statement caused the lifting of a number of eyebrows.

The book will be published regardless of the government protest. In all former announcements the government, including the army and navy branches, have stated flatly there is no such thing as a flying saucer. Even the term "mass hysteria" was used at one time in describing reported sightings of the objects through U. S. skies. Most reports, incidentally, have originated in the Midwest.

The company about to issue the book said it contained nothing on the saucers that had not been "printed or hinted at" before.

RED CHINA:

Almost in U. N.

The British labor government had spoken out for admission of Communist China to the United Nations. Which meant, most observers agreed, it was now only a matter of time until it became an actuality.

Political students based their reasoning on the fact that France will not stand in the way of admitting the Communists, and, the American position is that the U.S. will not sponsor Red China but will agree to any majority decision.

Ernest Bevin, Britain's foreign secretary, in a statement to the house of commons, said:

"We think it is better for the new China to be inside the U.N. We do not want to ostracize anyone on political grounds."

No matter how one wishes the picture to appear, observers said acceptance of Red China into the United Nations means the Nationalist cause is a lost one. It is now publicly admitted.

Interwoven in the picture was the cautiously worded statement from U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie in London that there is hope of ending the cold war by careful negotiation.

What is there to negotiate the cynics wanted to know? France, Britain and the United States will accept Communist China and Russia will come back into the United Nations—for as long as it pleases her. When it is expedient, she will withdraw again.

GERMANY: New Army?

The three big western powers—United States, France and Britain—have pledged to the Soviet Union of the creation of a police force and militia of 50,000 men with "the character of an army" in eastern Germany.

Obviously based on recent reports by deserters, the three governments charge the force is not "an ordinary police force, and it does not have ordinary police duties." Its weapons, the note of protest said, include machine guns, howitzers, anti-aircraft cannon, mortars, and tanks, and it receives basic infantry, artillery and armored training.

"It must be regarded, therefore, as a military force," the United States note protested.

Observers agreed that the United States was not worried so much about the military capabilities of this force at present. This government is concerned, however, with the fact it could form the nucleus of a new German army or "an internal security force to maintain Communist control."

POTATO BUGS: Latest Laugh

Every once in a while, the Russians come up with a conspiracy that is so ridiculous it gets a belly-laugh from many nations. If nothing else, the latest one at least relieved the tension of international affairs for a moment.

The East German Communist government charged Americans with spraying potato bugs over East Germany from planes.

According to reports circulated by radio from Soviet dominated East Germany, the American planes flew over forbidden areas of the occupied zone, that is, outside the prescribed air corridors to Berlin—and spread potato bugs.

In all seriousness the Germans reported: "Potato bugs were found in bunches up to 100 after an American plane had passed. There is great indignation among the population about this criminal plot."

The American airmen laughed heartily and one said he didn't know there was a potato bug east of Kansas.

Visits Stalin

Trygve Lie, secretary general of the U.N., is shown talking to newsmen on his arrival from Europe, including a trip to Moscow where he conferred with Joseph Stalin. He remarked the cold war could be ended by "careful negotiation."

JAPAN: Russians Sail

The unexpected departure of the Russian mission to Japan, including Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko and 48 staff members, started rumors that the Kremlin was not happy about the mission's activities in Japan.

According to some observers, the Russians have come out second best in a long running quarrel with Gen. MacArthur over nearly every phase of the occupation.

General MacArthur has built numerous fires under the Russians in the last few years. Twice in the past year he has suggested that Japan might consider outlawing the Communist party.

The general recently rebuked Derevyanko's assertion that American bases in Japan and Okinawa violated occupation policies. With his usual sting, MacArthur called the charges "provocative impertinence" and said the United States would do as they pleased and it was none of the Russian's business.

GUN THAT WON THE WEST

Buffalo Bill's Famous Old Rifle To Join Mementos of Scout's Life

Buffalo Bill's historic old Winchester is going home. The famous old repeater used by William Frederick Cody, and symbol of the spectacular fighting days of the early west, will join other historic mementos of the legendary scout, hunter, Indian fighter, and showman in the Cody Memorial Museum at Cody, Wyoming, on July 4.

The rifle is from the private collection of Colonel Walter F. Siegmund, official of the Winchester Repeating Arms company division of Olin Industries, Inc., and will be presented during the Frontier Day celebration, according to Mary Jester Allen, niece of Colonel Cody and the founder of the museum.

Buffalo Bill's rifle which he made famous as "the gun that won the west" is a Model 73 lever action repeater. Cody described it as "the boss" for hunting and Indian fighting and said an Indian would give more for it than any other rifle. One of the first repeating rifles, it had a 15-shot magazine, and it was said that it could be loaded on Sunday and fired all week.

Once in the Black Hills Cody saved his life with one of these rifles by firing 11 shots into a wounded bear that charged him from only 30 feet.

Called Long-Haired Chief

Frequently described as the "Buffalo Bill rifle," the Model 73 established the world-wide reputation of its manufacturer. A total of 720,610 rifles of this model were made until 1924 when it was discontinued.

Buffalo Bill's famous rifle is still in excellent working order and it contains two new "features" which Buffalo Bill knows nothing about. These are the autographs of two heroes of World War II, Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz and General Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero of Bataan and Corregidor, who found inspiration in Cody's colorful career.

The famous scout, who was both a live hero and a legend during 48 of the 71 years of his exciting life, was born February 26, 1846, in Scott County, Iowa, near the town of Le Claire and died January 10, 1917, in Denver, near which he now rests on a promontory of Lookout Mountain.

Cody, who became known to the Indians as Pa-Has-Ka, the long-haired chief, shot his first deer at the age of eight, his first Indian at 11, rode for the Pony Express at 14, and became a scout at fifteen. At the ripe old age of 23 he began a dual career as a picturesque live hero as well as the legendary figure who fought his way as a champion of law and order and upright living through the pages of more than 900 dime novels.

Inspiration For Novels

It was in 1869, when Cody was only 23, that Edward Zane Carroll Judson, better known as Ned Buntline, gave him the name of "Buffalo Bill" in the first of the 900 dime novel stories that described Cody's exploits. With Judson's death in 1886, Colonel Prentice Ingraham, one of Cody's cronies who also had an intimate knowledge of his life, continued the dime novel saga, kept generations of youngsters pulsating to wild west adventures which have been perpetuated in western movies, radio and television programs, and comic books.

Newest publication to perpetuate the memory of Colonel Cody is the new "Buffalo Bill" comic book just released which tells true stories in the famous scout's life.

Cody enjoyed the unique distinction of having an entire literature built around his life while he was still alive, and it was difficult to determine whether his experience portrayed in the dime novels were more dramatic or incredible than those he lived.

Cody spent years traveling the United States with his wild west show featuring Indians and cowboys. Also a feature attraction of his show was Annie Oakley, famous crack shot. Buffalo Bill's show also toured England and the continent.

CHILD PRODIGES

Spotlight of America's Music World Turned on Two Children

A hot race for the title of "America's greatest child prodigy" is being waged between two moppets hardly old enough to escape the afternoon nap.

Beverly Bowler Babcock, 3½, and Jerard Jennings, 6, share honors in the spotlight of America's music world as the youngest professionals.

Beverly considers the piano "easy" and turns pages meticulously although she can't read a note. She is booked solid for public performances months in advance.

Jerard, with a three year head start, appears for his concerts prepared to do piano and organ selections of Brahms, Mozart, and Chopin.

Mr. and Mrs. David Babcock of Newport News, Va., music teachers, first learned of Beverly's infallible ear for music when the baby complained about the mistakes that the students made.

With the rare gift of perfect pitch and a remarkable memory for melody, Beverly is now able to hear a number once or twice and play it—with none of the mistakes that irk her.

Concert veteran Jerard Jennings of Newark, Conn., is the son of the former Frances Hayes, premiere danseuse in the Broadway production "Great Waltz." His father is a research engineer.

Prodigies Retain Childlike Qualities

Both of America's outstanding prodigies happily retain the childlike qualities of imagination and mischief, and lead normal lives untroubled by enormous popularity and frequent radio and concert appearances.

Beverly is professionally calm before an audience, but is typically shy when "company" coaxes her to play. Jerard, with a small boy's eye on the future, told Lion Club members who fascinated him during a special concert, he, too, wanted to be a lion tamer when he grew up.

Little Beverly Bowler Babcock is only three and a half but a successful concert star. She is gifted with perfect pitch and a remarkable memory for melody. She can hear a number once and then play it without a mistake.

Mr. Trout

C. W. Trout, of Lebanon, Tenn., well-known manager of square dances and operator of several trucks, now joins in a few steps of the dancing, much to the amazement of friends who know how severe aches and pains of neuritis have made him almost an invalid for some time.

This blessed relief came to Mr. Trout as HADACOL helped overcome his deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. This relief came to him after these horrible pains had haunted him, making it impossible for him to carry on his business activities only through sheer determination. He didn't let aches and pains kill his spirits, however.

Then, one of the musicians at his square dances brought him a large economy-size bottle of HADACOL. Gave Him HADACOL.

"I am tired of seeing you suffer with these aches and pains," said the musician. "I bought you this big bottle myself because I want to see you start getting well."

Here is Mr. Trout's own story: "I have suffered with aches and pains of neuritis for some time. I have tried dozens of preparations but have had little relief. My greatest pains have been in my knees and ankles and recently there have been pains in my wrists. One of the greatest horrors was to be unable to sleep at night. Since taking HADACOL I have been able to sleep and it is wonderful to get rid of those terrible pains in the knees, ankles and wrists. I have found in HADACOL the only relief that has come after years of search."

You'll Feel Great...

...with your money back. There is only one HADACOL and it is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. So give this remarkable HADACOL medicine a chance to help you if you suffer from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. Remember that HADACOL is amazingly different and amazingly effective because it treats the real cause of such troubles. Make up your mind to take HADACOL regularly. Refuse substitutes. Insist on the genuine. You can't lose a cent, because it's sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Only $1.25 for Trial size. Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.

If your drugist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Send no money. Just your name and address on a penny post card. Pay postman. State whether you want the $3.50 hospital economy size or $1.25 trial size. Remember, money cheerfully refunded unless you are 100% satisfied.—Adv.

Guide Vegetable Canning With This Chart (See Recipes Below)

Canning Vegetables

THOSE GARDENS will soon be bursting with lovely green, yellow and red vegetables which you'll want to speed onto your canning shelves for healthful eating this fall and winter. Best results can be achieved when you have the kitchen ready, the night before, to take in the produce early in the morning while the dew is still fresh on them.

Whether you pick your own vegetables or buy them from somewhere else, try to get them well on their way to canning within two hours. Vegetables which have been picked for longer than eight hours before canning do not give as tender or high quality canned products.

Certainly the work is made easier if the kitchen is all set for action. This means that you have your jars freshly washed and scoured, sitting in tubs or large kettles ready to sterilize. You can put them on to boil when you go out to pick the vegetables.

Have a work table ready with colanders, knives and spoons where you can work on the vegetables after they're washed.

The pressure cooker should have been checked for use to see that the gauge is accurate. It should be clean and fitted with a rack, ready to receive the jars after they're packed.

Have a large kettle ready on the work table or range so that vegetables can be pre-cooked. Some women still use cold pack, that is pack the jars without any cooking of the vegetable. However, most women say they have more luck with precooking since this shrinks the vegetable before packing and also sets the color better.

Choosing Vegetables

IT'S EASY to determine whether a vegetable is right for canning just by careful inspection. Here are tips to guide you.

Asparagus stalks should be green for the greater part of their length, inasmuch as the white parts are woody. Choose firm stalks.

Lima beans or snap (green) beans should be young and tender. Both types should look green and fresh. Green beans should snap readily when bent.

Kernels on corn should be plump and full of milk. The husk should be fresh and green.

In greens choose those with tender, young and unbruised leaves. Never use wilted leaves.

Pea pods should be bright and full. Avoid the puffy pods with small peas. Peas, when shelled should be tender.

LYNN SAYS: Treat Pressure Cooker Like Fine Machine

One of the best things about the pressure cooker is the accuracy with which it processes foods. Treat it carefully so that the accuracy can be maintained.

Guard the cooker against blows, as these may dent it or break it. If the pressure gauge is jarred or damaged, it will lose its accuracy.

Keep the sealing surface clean and dry as this enables you to close the cooker properly.

Keep the pressure cooker scrupulously clean. Those made of aluminum take kindly to scourings with metal pads and other such cleaners. If the cooker is enameled, avoid abrasives.

Do not pour water in the cooker while it's hot and dry as this may warp it. If you try to pour cold water on the cooker to reduce temperature quickly, this, too, may warp it.

Follow These Directions

WHEN VEGETABLES are brought in for washing and preparation, have your pressure cooker all ready to use. The rack should be in place, the safety valve assembled and the petcock open. The jars should be ready, too, after washing, in a pan of hot water.

Have the teakettle or other vessel with boiling water ready, too, as this is the liquid you'll need for filling vegetable jars.

Wash and prepare the vegetables to fill the jars you have.

Pre-cook the vegetable for the specified length of time, then ladle into the jars immediately. Add enough boiling water to the jar so that it reaches to within 1/4 to 1/2 inch of the top. Add salt to the jar, in the proportion of 1/2 teaspoon to pints and 1 teaspoon for quarts.

Run a spatula around the inside of the jar to release air bubbles. Wipe the sealing surface of the jars with a clean cloth.

Adjust the jar closure, using manufacturers' directions. These vary with different caps, so it's smart to read directions for the particular one you're using.

Place jars in cooker, seeing that they do not touch, and that there is enough room for the hot air to circulate. There should be enough water in the cooker to cover the bottom or the rack.

Adjust the lid on the cooker and tighten clamps as directed by manufacturer.

Processing Under Pressure

TURN THE heat under the cooker on, and let steam pour from the petcock for 7 to 10 minutes. This is necessary for releasing the air from the cooker so that when you do start the actual pressure cooking, you'll have correct temperature.

Close the petcock and let the cooker come to the desired pressure. It's important that this be maintained, as fluctuations of a pound or two either way several times during processing will drain liquid from the jars, thus giving an unattractive look to them, as well as leaving them dry to the point where they are uncovered.

Process according to vegetable chart given above.

Turn heat off and remove to a cooler place until the gauge registers zero, then release petcock, clamps and cover. Always stay far enough away so that the steam does not burn you as you open the cooker.

When you want to clean the petcock and safety valve, use a pipe cleaner, running it back and forth through the openings. Never use toothpicks as these may break and clog the cooker.

Never store the pressure cooker away without insulating it against any moving or dust and dirt. Wrap well in newspaper and cloths.

It's best to store the lid separately from the cooker, so that no musty odors, difficult to rid, can develop in a closed utensil.

Pressure cooker lids are best stored when they are thoroughly wrapped for protection against dirt and dust, and laid flat on a shelf.

Cookers which have safety valves of the ball and spring type should have these removed before the cooker is put away for the season. Wrap these well and tie in a piece of cloth to handle of the cooker so they cannot be damaged or get lost.

When you use a pressure saucepan in place of the pressure cooker, be sure the cooker is cool before releasing the pressure.

● On a 37-acre island off Puerto Rico a colony of monkeys live a perfect life in the name of science. They roam at will, swim in the Caribbean, have plenty to eat, and are not molested. Dr. Facundo Bueso of Puerto Rico university is conducting research in tropical tuberculosis, dysentery, and malaria. The monkeys are used because no animal comes as close to human anatomy or physiology. The young lady (right) is feeding a mother monkey part of a coconut. Notice the young.

MONKEY ISLAND

● The animals have divided themselves into four colonies, each headed by a chief. Fierce tribal battles are continuous. Above a group of students study the "hill tribe." At the left a mother feeds her young while the chief, her lord and master, takes it easy. First to eat is always the chief, surrounded by his "ladies." He reigns, incidentally, just as long he can "lick any man in the crowd."

● The animals (above) are on the feeding grounds. After being fed they separate to different parts of the island. Rafael Louis Neeva (right) lives alone on the island—that is, except for the monkeys. He is tossing them food. When he goes into his house, they will follow and peer at him through the screened windows. Contrary to general belief they are not shy of water. On hot days most of them go swimming to cool off.

Household Hints

Coffee to Horse Radish
Use an after dinner coffee spoon for old-fashioned cocktails or tiny bowls of mustard or horse radish.

Good Dessert
Here's a gorgeous dessert for your family. And it's so simple. Slice donuts crosswise and place one half in the bottom of each dish. Cover with maple syrup and add the other donut half. Fill and top with more maple syrup and garnish with cherry or walnut.

Buffet Near Pass Door
If you want a pass door in the wall between the kitchen and dining room, be sure it opens onto a buffet or built-in serving counter on both sides of the wall.

Sunday Breakfast
Add new interest to an old favorite by serving sliced bananas between two or three helpings of golden French toast, made from nutritious enriched bread. Then smother all with maple syrup, jelly, or confectioners' sugar. Crisp bacon, hot pork sausages, or fried ham make this tempting fare perfect for Sunday morning breakfasts or daily lunches. Try it with other fresh and canned fruits too. It's a real treat.

Cooked Celery Dishes
Cooked celery may be served in a variety of ways. Team it with peas or carrots, if you like, serve it creamed or add it to leftover soup.
