LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Score last Thursday—Lannon 7, Kewaskum 6 (night game).
Scores last Sunday—Granville 6, Kewaskum 5; Lannon 7, Waukesha CYO 6; Waukesha Dales 12, Mequon 4.
Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at Waukesha CYO (3:00 p. m.), Mequon at Lannon, Waukesha Dales at Granville.

The Kewaskum Utensils' hard luck of the season continued the past week as the team dropped two more games. Last Thursday night in a night game at Lannon the boys were shut out by the loop leaders, 7-0, and Sunday at Granville they lost a 6-5 heartbreaker.

Thursday night's game was the first under Lannon's new lighting system and it was played on a night that was no good for baseball. As the game went on it became so foggy that the outfielders couldn't be seen from home plate and vice versa. The fog and damp weather made the field wet and slippery.

However, the weather didn't hamper the Lannon powerhouse much. While they were crossing the plate seven times Kewaskum went scoreless and couldn't do a thing with the slants of Mike Reimer. Reimer pitched a masterful game, allowing only two hits, striking out five, and walking but one better in his shutout. John Tessar threw most of the contest for the Utensils and Marx came in to assist him late in the game. Both pitched pretty good ball, allowing Lannon seven hits, Tessar whiffed seven and walked three, Marx fanned one and walked one.

Marx and Clayton Stautz got Kewaskum's two bingles, L. Reimer and Joe Warner got four of the winners' safeties with two apiece.

The tussle at Granville Sunday was a mighty tough one to drop. The Utensils built up a 5-2 lead going into the last of the ninth and seemingly had victory in the bag when a Granville tornado struck in the last half of the ninth. Granville suddenly pounced on Marx for five hits, good for four runs, including the winning one. Before this Marx hurled fine ball, allowing eight hits and two runs in the first eight frames. He struck out one and passed one. Batzler, Granville twirler, was nipped for 12 hits and fanned two. Out of the 25 hits in the tilt there was but one for extra bases, a double by Krueger.

Wayland Tessar swung a big bat for the Utensils, connecting safely three times. Jerry Schmit equalized this performance for the winners.

The fireworks will be shot off as soon as it is dark. They will be exploded across the river from the park. A perfect view of the display can be had from the top and side of the big hill in the park with beautiful reflections in the water. The fire department requests the people to watch the fireworks from the east side of the river. They shall not park their cars and watch the demonstration from the same side on which the big fire crackers are touched off because of the danger involved.

Rivers Nine Cops Again; Slinger is Victim, 4-1

The Kewaskum Rivers team did it again Sunday and held their second place position above Barton. Slinger was downed on the home field, 4-1.

Glen Backhaus was in real form on Sunday and came through with probably his best performance of the season, a nifty five hitter. He allowed but two hits and had a shutout until the ninth inning when he weakened and gave up a run to Slinger on three hits. "Hifty" fanned five hitters and didn't walk a man. The Chevrolets pounded two visiting pitchers, Bill Mayer and Ray Held, for ten safeties. Held pitched a wonderful game after coming in to relieve Mayer. He gave up only three hits, struck out eight and walked none in five and two-thirds innings. Mayer was jobbed two and walked three.

Joe Miller laid the wood on the apple for three hits to pace both teams. One was a two bagger. Allen Stahl and Don Lutz also connected safely twice, the latter's including a double. No Slinger batter got more than one hit off Backhaus and none were extra base blows. Kewaskum tallied all four runs in the first four frames. Reliever Held twirled a shutout the rest of the way.

Red Cross Annual Meeting at Jackson Hall Thursday

Subjects to be discussed by round table speakers when the West Bend chapter of the American Red Cross chapter of the American Red Cross holds its annual meeting Thursday, June 29, at Jackson were revealed this week by John Indermuehle, annual meeting chairman.

According to Indermuehle, the theme of the round table discussion for this year's meeting will be centered around the subject, "Looking Ahead With Our Neighboring Chapters." In line with this topic, a representative of the Sheboygan Red Cross chapter will speak on "Our Walking Blood Bank," a Fond du Lac chapter representative will discuss "Our New Chapter House," and a member of the Hartford chapter will talk on "Our Volunteers Visit the Chronically Ill." Representatives from Milwaukee, Waukesha, and Ozaukee county chapters will talk on "Mutual Aid in Disaster," "Everybody Swims," and "Our Gray Ladies Service," respectively. Moderator for the group will be Donald Rippe.

Indermuehle also announced that the place of the meeting has been changed from the Peace Reformed church to the Jackson village hall. Shortage of materials to complete a construction project at the church made the change necessary, said Indermuehle.

Reservations for the dinner may be made by calling the Red Cross office 352, or by contacting Indermuehle directly. The cost per plate will be $1. The meeting is open to the general public.

Assisting Indermuehle in making the arrangements for the meeting are Mrs. Alfred Held, Mrs. Ray Griesemer, Mrs. Rudolph Hempel, and Mrs. Adolph Schmidt. The dinner will be served by the Ladies' Aid society of the Peace Reformed church.

Cancer Crusade Being Conducted in County

Residents throughout Washington county received letters this week requesting contributions to the 1950 Cancer Crusade being conducted in the county at this time under the direction of D. J. Kenny, chairman of the Washington county division of the American Cancer society.

The letter sent out calls attention to the fact that one out of every two families in this area will have death by cancer under present circumstances. It points out that something can be done about the disease, and that most cases can be cured if discovered in the early stages.

No requests for financial aid were made in 1949 because 1948 contributions were so generous, the letter continues. But the need for funds to continue important research into the cause and cure of the disease necessitates the current request for additional donations.

Whatever amount is donated will help a lot, perhaps save a life. Generous support of the drive by everyone will do much toward helping the county meet its quota.

Red Cross Officials at State Disaster Meeting

Mrs. Anthony Ziegler, Mrs. Art Boesewetter, Misses Jean Theusch and Theresa Jackus, and L. A. Westphal of the West Bend Red Cross chapter met with officials from Wisconsin's other Red Cross chapters June 29 in a state disaster meeting called to discuss preparedness to meet Red Cross responsibilities in any disaster which might strike Wisconsin, according to Fred H. Holt, chapter chairman. The one day meeting was held at the Lorraine hotel in Madison.

The state disaster meeting, it was explained, was planned to review past disaster experience and to plan for the most effective co-ordination of Wisconsin's Red Cross chapters in future emergencies. The responsibilities of and methods of the Red Cross were defined so that, through complete understanding of duties and services, the most effective plan for each chapter would be developed.

Harold Schatz, local disaster chairman, pointed out that immediate, emergency Red Cross help is limited mainly to providing food, clothing, shelter, and supplemental medical aid, while governmental agencies are concerned with the protection of life, public health, and public property. Long-term aid, taking about 70 cents of the Red Cross disaster dollar, rebuilds and repairs homes, provides home furnishings, farm supplies, maintenance, extended medical care, and, sometimes, training for a new job for disaster victims who cannot recover without financial help.

Garbage Disposal Orders

There has been flagrant disobedience of the rules regarding the proper disposal of garbage, tin, glass and ashes. All refuse excepting garbage must be placed in metal containers with tightly fitting covers. These cans must not exceed 20 gallon capacity in order that two men can empty them easily. These cans must be placed at your curb every other Wednesday morning for collection. Please rinse your used tins in order to reduce the hazard of flies—remember polio may be caused by flies.

All garbage must be wrapped well with several layers of paper. After the garbage has been emptied wash the can and expose to sun to dry for a few hours. This reduces the fly hazard a great deal. All covers must fit tightly. Place your garbage at your curb for collection on Monday and Friday mornings. Remember! No glass or tins in the garbage.

Hereafter the garbage collectors shall refuse to empty garbage that has not been properly wrapped; legal action will ensue should anyone refuse to obey the rules.

The letter sent out calls attention to the fact that one out of every two families in this area will have death by cancer under present circumstances. It points out that something can be done about the disease, and that most cases can be cured if discovered in the early stages.

No requests for financial aid were made in 1949 because 1948 contributions were so generous, the letter continues. But the need for funds to continue important research into the cause and cure of the disease necessitates the current request for additional donations.

Whatever amount is donated will help a lot, perhaps save a life. Generous support of the drive by everyone will do much toward helping the county meet its quota.

Utensils Drop Games to Lannon, Granville

LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Team	Won	Lost
Lannon	7	1
Mequon	5	3
Granville	4	3
Waukesha Dales	3	4
Waukesha CYO	3	5
Kewaskum	1	7

Score last Thursday—Lannon 7, Kewaskum 6 (night game).
Scores last Sunday—Granville 6, Kewaskum 5; Lannon 7, Waukesha CYO 6; Waukesha Dales 12, Mequon 4.
Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at Waukesha CYO (3:00 p. m.), Mequon at Lannon, Waukesha Dales at Granville.

The Kewaskum Utensils' hard luck of the season continued the past week as the team dropped two more games. Last Thursday night in a night game at Lannon the boys were shut out by the loop leaders, 7-0, and Sunday at Granville they lost a 6-5 heartbreaker.

Thursday night's game was the first under Lannon's new lighting system and it was played on a night that was no good for baseball. As the game went on it became so foggy that the outfielders couldn't be seen from home plate and vice versa. The fog and damp weather made the field wet and slippery.

However, the weather didn't hamper the Lannon powerhouse much. While they were crossing the plate seven times Kewaskum went scoreless and couldn't do a thing with the slants of Mike Reimer. Reimer pitched a masterful game, allowing only two hits, striking out five, and walking but one better in his shutout. John Tessar threw most of the contest for the Utensils and Marx came in to assist him late in the game. Both pitched pretty good ball, allowing Lannon seven hits, Tessar whiffed seven and walked three, Marx fanned one and walked one.

Marx and Clayton Stautz got Kewaskum's two bingles, L. Reimer and Joe Warner got four of the winners' safeties with two apiece.

The tussle at Granville Sunday was a mighty tough one to drop. The Utensils built up a 5-2 lead going into the last of the ninth and seemingly had victory in the bag when a Granville tornado struck in the last half of the ninth. Granville suddenly pounced on Marx for five hits, good for four runs, including the winning one. Before this Marx hurled fine ball, allowing eight hits and two runs in the first eight frames. He struck out one and passed one. Batzler, Granville twirler, was nipped for 12 hits and fanned two. Out of the 25 hits in the tilt there was but one for extra bases, a double by Krueger.

Fireworks Display in Village Park July 3

Kewaskum will have another giant fireworks display in the village park over the Fourth of July week end. The fireworks, sponsored by the local fire department, will be touched off on the evening of Monday, July 3. A variety of beautiful displays and loud cracking fireworks has been purchased and everyone attending will see a grand display.

Hamburgers, soda, beer and other refreshments will be sold in the park and there will be other entertainment. People are invited to come early and picnic in the park.

The fireworks will be shot off as soon as it is dark. They will be exploded across the river from the park. A perfect view of the display can be had from the top and side of the big hill in the park with beautiful reflections in the water. The fire department requests the people to watch the fireworks from the east side of the river. They shall not park their cars and watch the demonstration from the same side on which the big fire crackers are touched off because of the danger involved.

Miss Kowanda Bride of Francis Schoofs

In Holy Trinity church, Newburg, at 9 a. m. Saturday, June 17, the Rev. Alton O'Brien, O.F.M., presided at the nuptial mass in which Miss Bernice Kowanda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Kowanda, Route 1, West Bend, became the bride of Francis Schoofs, son of Mrs. Jos. Schoofs, Route 2, Kewaskum. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bridal gown was fashioned of white marquisette over satin. The hoop skirt was styled with a ruffled lace train. Lace also trimmed the portrait neckline. Her fingertip veil was edged with lace and her flowers were a bouquet of white roses.

The bride was attended as maid of honor by her sister, "Miss Mary Kowanda. Miss Dorothy Schoofs, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Both of the young ladies were identically gowned in blue eyelet organza gowns with matching mitts and sheer half hats. They carried white satin baskets filled with white and yellow daisies. Blue lace and blue satin ribbon trimmed the baskets.

The bridegroom's brother, Allen Schoofs, was best man, while Tom Kowanda, brother of the bride, attended as groomsmen and also ushered together with Ralph Schoofs, another brother of the groom.

A wedding dinner and supper, served in the church parlors, preceded a wedding dance held in the evening at Buettner's hall, Myra.

Following a honeymoon in northern Wisconsin, the couple will reside at Route 2, Kewaskum

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Japan Outlaws Communist Party; Europe Coal-Steel Pact Signed; U. S. Construction at New High

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

JAPAN: Outlaws Reds

The Japanese Communist party received a serious setback with that government's announcement that the party would be outlawed in Japan.

Observers did not find the move surprising since such action had been hinted and only waited the outcome of the general election which was carried by Japan's Liberal party. The liberals alone stuck to a pro-United States policy in a highly nationalistic campaign.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida had announced the action would be taken if there were further acts of violence by Communists. He referred to the attack on five U. S. soldiers at a Communist rally on Memorial Day.

As expected, the Communists tried to blame the action on the American occupation, but Yoshida quickly denied it.

Meanwhile, the Liberal party seemed assured of victory in the election. Despite rains throughout the country, the voting was heavier than expected. Officials said 31,400,000 voted, or 70 percent of those eligible. About 60 percent had been expected.

Yoshida's strong showing had been expected after his government firmly squelched projected Communist anti-American rallies and a so-called general strike called for election day.

COAL-STEEL PLAN: Unites Six Nations

Britain's labor government has been caught short with the announcement that six European countries have formed a coal-steel alliance.

The United States gave the six countries — France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Western Germany, and Italy — its blessings, with, observers pointed out, an eye on the heavy gamble for postwar economic reconstruction of Europe as a means of further winning the cold war.

Under the plan, proposed by Robert Schuman, French foreign minister, the six nations have united to produce the sinews of heavy industry in peace.

Observers said it was fairly clear that Britain, struggling to win back a high place in world trade, was caught by surprise at the move.

The Schuman plan represents a historic surrender of national sovereignty of all the six countries in their economy. The pooled coal and steel industries will be directed by an independent international high authority.

Neutral observers were especially happy over the alliance. It is the first time in history that countries whose differences have caused numerous wars have gotten together to create a community of interests. This, observers contend, should eliminate the cause of wars.

Increased production is also expected from the merger. The total joint production could be far greater than the sum of their separate competitive efforts. It was pointed out, for example, the industrial Ruhr needs French coal and France needs the Ruhr steel but each put a premium on the materials they exchanged with each other.

Although the British have not joined the alliance or made any commitment on the plan, the way has been left open. Observers said it would certainly give the labor government something to think about.

BALTIC PLANE: Evidence Damning

The United States produced new evidence that the navy patrol plane recently lost in the Baltic was shot down, although the Russians reported they only drove it out to sea.

State department officials said a recovered landing wheel indicated the plane had exploded in mid-air, and had possibly lost a wing before it spun into the sea.

The wheel floated because its tire was inflated with air. It was found by a Swedish fishing captain 48 miles off the coast of Latvia.

A navy expert, Lt. Comdr. M. W. Cagle, exhibited the plane's front landing wheel, and pointed to a lever in a position showing that the wheel was retracted when the plane crashed.

MAUNA LOA: Brilliant Fireworks

Mauna Loa, the 13,680-foot volcano on the island of Hawaii, turned on a brilliant display of fireworks for island tourists with the greatest eruption in history.

Fortunately, no lives were lost in the eruption that sent streams of molten lava across the island and into the sea. At some points where the lava entered the ocean, the water was reported near boiling far from shore.

The lava streams, more than 25 miles long, were as high as 24 feet and a quarter of a mile wide. To top it all, the island suffered a minor earthquake which knocked out all seismographs. Numerous homes have been destroyed by the flowing lava and plantations and ranches damaged.

The eruption, while damaging to the coast, was a boon to one of Hawaii's major industries, the tourist trade.

Newspapers were full of advertisements offering special excursion flights at bargain rates.

Japs Riot

Japanese Communists staged a rally in the shadow of the imperial palace and for the second time violence broke out between the Reds and U. S. soldiers. U. S. MP's (above) are shown breaking up the riot and taking a Jap Communist into custody.

CONSTRUCTION: At New High

Construction in the United States has reached a new high, according to reports by the department of labor.

According to department statistics, construction valued at nearly $2,000,000,000 was put in place in May. This was ahead of the 1948 and 1949 seasonal peaks.

Home construction accounted for much of the advance, although building costs have risen sharply.

Private construction in May amounted to $1,400,000,000, an increase of 12 per cent over April and 27 per cent over May of last year. The home building part of that was estimated at $825,000,000, an increase of 15 per cent over the month and 56 per cent from a year ago.

In the first five months of 1950, the total value of all types of new construction was nearly $8,100,000,000, an increase of 21 per cent from the corresponding period of 1949, the labor department announced.

HARRY GOLD: Patriotic Spy

Like the little boy who pinched off the icing on his mother's cake, Harry Gold, the American who turned against his own country to spy for Russia, wanted the sweet but didn't mean to spoil the cake.

Explained the Philadelphia biochemist, no doubt for a gullible American public, he delivered atom bomb secrets to Russia, but "I had no intention of hurting my country."

Such an explanation would not appease the intelligence of the six-year-old who pinched the icing. How can anyone give away the secrets of his country and not expect to hurt it, observers asked?

The Judy Coplon case and now the Gold affair have shocked the American public. Many Americans are remembering stern measures employed by founders of the nation in handling spies.

The business of espionage, under any circumstances, is a nasty thing. One is not inclined to be angry with a spy such as the Russian agent Gubitchev who was acting under orders. But to turn against your native land and give or sell its secrets is an entirely different matter.

Now an admitted spy asks the court to appoint him counsel, which he insists be counsel whose patriotism is unimpeachable, with the respect of the court, the public, and the bar. Further, he insists upon the right to cooperate with the F.B.I.

SEARS, ROEBUCK: Sharp Price Cuts

Sears, Roebuck and company, the world's largest retail merchandise business, has announced price reduction of up to 32 percent of 4,000 items in its midsummer sale catalogue.

The merchandising world was startled with the announcement of price cuts that averaged 7 per cent on the items. Seasonal wearing apparel was cut as much as 41 per cent.

More than twice as big as its nearest competitor, Sears, Roebuck and company was founded in 1896 and drew its greatest support from the farm population.

Although today Sears sells in the big cities, it still keeps its rural touch with all sorts of farm projects.

Employment

Employment in the United States reached its highest peak in May since last August, the census bureau announced in an optimistic report.

The number of jobless dropped from 3,515,000 in April to the May figure of 3,057,000. Employment jumped from 58,668,000 in April to 59,731,000 in May, a gain of 1,063,000. In May, 1949, there were 58,694,000 employed.

The census bureau cautioned that "most of the gains since the beginning of the year were due to the seasonal expansion in agriculture, construction, and outdoor work in general."

Farming accounted for 867,000 of the 1,063,000 increase in job opening during May.

Commerce Secretary Sawyer said, "It is significant that we are again close to the record job total of the year 1948."

It substantiates highly encouraging reports of an upswing in business activity this spring, he added.

SUPREME COURT: Three Decisions

The U. S. supreme court has handed down three decisions in the current civil rights controversy which will have far-reaching reactions.

The court held that segregation of Negroes in railroad dining cars violates the Interstate Commerce Act, that Negro students must be admitted to the University of Texas law school because the state does not afford them facilities equal to those for whites, and that Oklahoma had been discriminating against Negro students at its state university law school by segregating them in classrooms and elsewhere on the campus.

The court, however, did not go into the cases as deeply as the justice department desired.

For instance, the justice department argued there can be no such thing as "separate but equal" facilities and treatment. It contended the mere fact a Negro has to use a separate public facility prevents him from having an equal facility. It is just as sensible, the department argued, to say that a thing can be "black but white" as to insist it can be "separate and equal."

Observers point out that had the court gone into the matter as deeply as the department asked and ruled in its favor, there would have been practically nothing left of segregation laws.

Some students of government believe such a ruling would have been a great deal more far-reaching than the passage by Congress of the much debated F.E.P.C.

The court, however, adhered to its long established practice of not determining constitutional issues if other grounds for decisions exist.

IOWA ELECTION: Brannan Plan Test

The nation watched with interest the final outcome of the primary election in Iowa. And the outcome was what seasoned political observers expected—a final campaign between Albert J. Loveland and Sen. Burke Hickenlooper.

There was more to it, however, than just the outcome of a primary election to determine the Democratic and Republican senatorial candidates this fall.

Loveland, former undersecretary of agriculture, campaigned against five other Democrats using the Brannan farm plan as his main weapon.

On the other hand, Senator Hickenlooper is a strong opponent of the plan. He won the Republican nomination easily over two opponents.

Thus, the fall campaign takes shape. Political observers see Loveland campaigning with the Brannan plan as the main plank in his platform, while on the other hand, Hickenlooper will take his stand against it. Political observers are looking forward to this final test on the much debated plan in the heart of America's farm belt.

Political observers also pointed out that it is almost a sure bet now that President Truman and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will campaign in Iowa for Loveland.

ECONOMY: Budget Cut Hinted

Observers are predicting another battle in congress in an attempt to cut President Truman's budget for the coming year.

According to some reports, Republicans are backing a move for a new cut of the budget which the house last month trimmed $2,068,590,504.

Some senators would like a flat cut across the boards. But others want to exempt the military establishment, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and defense spending.

A means of making the cuts on the Senate floor is being sought if the trimming is not done first by the Senate appropriations committee.

Gold Attorney

BELGIUM: Wants a King

While the rest of the world has worried about rebuilding and securing a permanent peace since World War II, Belgium has been the scene of one election after another on the question of bringing King Leopold III back from exile.

The latest of the four elections gives the Social Christian party another victory and would seem to guarantee the return of Leopold to the throne.

The monarchy, as such, was not an issue in the election. None of the major parties were antiroyalist. The question was entirely the personality of Leopold, the 48-year-old monarch who surrendered to the Nazis in 1940 and in exile took a commoner as his second wife.

For these two actions many of his countrymen opposed him and would have liked to see his 19-year-old son on the throne.

By winning the election, however, the Social Christian party will return Leopold unless unforeseen difficulties arise.

County Meeting Held to Discuss Zoning Questions

On the evening of June 13 at the courthouse in the city of West Bend, there was held a meeting of the county park commission, board of adjustments, J. M. Albers and R. M. Roden, planning engineers of the state planning board; Anton Staral, county clerk; Arthur C. Snyder, district attorney, and several town chairmen and zoning inspectors.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss zoning questions, and in particular, what might be done to make it easier to permit the erection of billboards on highways. The county zoning ordinance presently provides that they may be erected only in commercial districts.

Mr. Albers said that the Association of Outdoor Advertisers have repeatedly requested that they (the outdoor advertisers) be treated the same as other businesses, that they want no special privileges. Mr. Albers also stated that it could not be made any easier for advertising companies to erect signs than it would be for any other business or commercial enterprise to be established in an area that is not a commercial area.

It was further brought out by Mr. Albers that the courts have repeatedly declared "spot zoning" to be illegal. Spot zoning is that kind of zoning where a particular lot or parcel of real estate is changed from one use to another use, such as agricultural to commercial use without having in mind whether it is for the good of the public and perhaps without changing the vicinity to the new use. That is declared illegal because it discriminates in favor of one or a few and against the other people in a locality. He further stated that zoning ordinance regulated land use for the good of the public and changes should not be made unless they promote that objective.

Discussion was had as to the advisability of going over the zoning map of Washington county with the idea of creating new commercial areas and making any other adjustments which would be advisable at this time. The ordinance, having been adopted in 1944, it was felt that there might be need for changes. None can be made without a hearing by the park commission, the adoption of an ordinance by the county board, and the consent of each town board.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Nightmares Run
True to Form

By Lawrence Gould

Are your nightmares all of one type?

Answer: Probably, if you have nightmares at all. According to Dr. Irving D. Harris, writing in the magazine, Psychiatry, two of the most frequent types of "anxiety dreams"—those in which you feel that you are falling and the ones in which you are being attacked—are rarely experienced by the same person. Of thirty-six patients whom he studied, twenty had had the former type of nightmare as children and adults and sixteen had had the latter, but not one had had both. It's your childish feeling toward your parents that decides which type you will have.

Does unfaithfulness destroy a marriage?

Answer: That depends upon the circumstances — and the kind of people the husband and wife are. Infidelity for either partner may really mean no more than a passing mood of bitterness — perhaps the result of accumulated but unspoken grievances—which for the time gives another woman or man an intense, but unreal fascination. In such a case, if the partners can achieve a mutual understanding which leaves no room for guilt or grudge-bearing, there's no reason why the marriage should not be resumed on a firmer foundation than before.

Can you be "influenced" against your will?

Answer: Not against your real will, ever. Character grows from within out, and the only way that anyone can "influence" you is to give some quality or impulse that already exists in you a chance to develop and express itself. Nobody can "make" you fall in love with him, for instance, if you do not have a (possibly unconscious) craving for the kind of happiness he seems to offer. And if you find yourself following another person's advice "unwillingly," what forces you to do so is your wish to have someone else make decisions for you.

Heart Pain Described in Journal

By Dr. James W. Barton

UNTIL A FEW YEARS AGO a patient with angina pectoris (pressure of pain in chest) was considered a heart case. Today angina pectoris is called cardiac (heart) pain.

In "The Canadian Medical Association Journal," Dr. Harold N. Segall, Montreal, states that after studying heart pain for the past 30 years he can repeat the description of this pain as given him by these patients.

Instead of calling it a vise-like pain, as is taught to medical students, the patients described it as a pain under the breastbone (sternum) and as "a sense of weight," "pressure," "pressing," "squeezing," "load on the chest," "burning," "fullness."

The pain in most cases extends to the left arm, but occasionally to right or both arms. In a few cases there is discomfort in upper abdomen and shortness of breath.

Dr. Segall states that in his experience there are three degrees of heart illness: mild, moderate and severe. In the mild type of heart pain (angina pectoris), called chronic, the pain lasts a short time, and is brought on most commonly by walking outdoors—not just by walking itself, nor by any other type of exertion.

Sometimes just the sense of hurry brings on the pain. The patient notices that after the pain passes he can walk for hours continuously without any return of the pain. Pain is relieved or prevented by nitroglycerin.

In the moderate type, the pain lasts a little longer than in mild type, and appears for no apparent reason, even with patient at complete rest. There is a change in the electrocardiogram but this is corrected within a day or less.

Finally there is the severe type. Pain comes on for no apparent reason and lasts for two to four hours or more. Morphine is necessary in these severe cases to relieve the pain.

HEALTH NOTES

There's a difference between being sound and being fit.

There are more persons with constipation than there are without it.

Extrinsic asthma is caused by allergic sources outside the body, and intrinsic asthma by sources inside the body.

The great value of Tolserol in rheumatic treatment is that it relaxes spasm muscles without paralysis.

When a baby is born its chest normally is as wide as it is deep.

If patient is under 30 when asthma starts, allergy is probably the cause.

Pin worms look like little pieces of white threads when found in the stools.

Our present rate of living is a factor in causing many to behave abnormally.

Believing you have a physical ailment when none exists is a neurosis.

Never neglect the common cold as it may be the forerunner of other more dangerous conditions.

Until cortisone and ACTH are available in good supply, the use of Tolserol or Myanesin is worth a trial.

That all infants, supposedly smothered in their cribs, are not really smothered but die natural deaths is just now becoming known.

For each case of polio in which paralysis occurs, there are 100 cases in which no paralysis occurs.

KENTUCKY HOMECOMING

State Celebrates Entry of First Settler Into Cumberland Gap

On July 4th the governor of Kentucky and a number of other notables will gather at Bardonia, Ky., for the rededication of My Old Kentucky Home. The ceremony will be one of the highlights of the state's mid-century homecoming celebrations.

For the second time in the last 50 years, Kentucky issued invitations to natives and their descendants throughout the country to visit the state during a homecoming year. The ceremony opening the celebration was held April 29th at Barbourville, Ky.

It was on April 29, 1750, that Dr. Thomas Walker passed through Cumberland Gap and became the first permanent settler in the blue grass state. The Barbourville celebration was in his honor.

In planning "homecoming-1950," state officials and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce frankly admitted they hoped the celebration would boost the state's tourist trade and bring dollars into the commonwealth. Knowing that several hundred thousand American tourists would invade Europe this summer, Kentucky officials outlined a program that would attract those who would look for vacation spots closer to home.

Boone First Homecomer

But the most optimistic planners were surprised at the early response to homecoming plans. Tourists from many parts of the nation found the state's celebration the answer to their spring vacation problem and thousands visited the commonwealth to see its many attractions. Communities throughout the state planned special programs to attract tourists during the summer and fall.

A picture of Daniel Boone, hero of the state's pioneer days, was chosen as the homecoming insignia. It was an appropriate choice because, in a sense, Boone was Kentucky's first "homecomer."

Dr. Walker crossed Cumberland Gap in 1750 and settled the same year, but Boone did not explore and hunt in the blue grass state until 1769. He returned to settle six years later.

Kentucky officials made a fine selection when they designated the rededication of My Old Kentucky Home as one of the highlights of the celebration. For of Kentucky's shrines, Federal Hill, as the home was known until it became state property, retains much of the atmosphere of the commonwealth's early history.

It was there that Stephen Collins Foster, the melancholy and tragic composer, wrote the song My Old Kentucky Home. It was there, too, he received the inspiration for others.

The house was built by Judge John Rowan, one of the leading Kentucky pioneers. The rear wing was erected in 1795 and the main section about 1818. It was to this house that came the important men of the times, senators, congressmen, and future presidents—including Abraham Lincoln—to plot the nation's political future.

Last Homecoming in 1906

As focal point of "homecoming-1950," the mansion has been refurbished and restored. Museums throughout the country have offered as much as $25,000 for single items of the original furniture now in the house.

Kentuckians, however will tell you there are other things that make the state one of the leading tourist attractions in the country. They will quote Boone who once said of Kentucky, "A spot on earth where nature seems to have concentrated all her bounties." And John James Audubon, famous ornithologist, called Kentucky "the greenest, leafiest state I have ever seen." Audubon lived and drew and painted his portraits of American birds near Henderson, Ky.

To the neutral observer, Kentucky is a strange state. Middleground between the North and South, the only southern state not to leave the Union during the Civil War, the peace and tradition of past years, and modern highways, industrial plants, and up to date farms, live together and seem not to detract one from the other.

The state's last homecoming was held in 1906. This year's celebration is sponsored jointly by the Commonwealth and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. Thomas Graham and Charles I. Dawson, both of Louisville, are directors.

Four of the state's most famous sons, Fred M. Vinson, Chief Justice of the United States; Alben W. Barkley, Vice President of the United States; Governor Clement; and John Sherman Cooper, are honorary chairmen of the committee in charge of the celebration.

OLDEST CITY

Center of Inca Empire Battered By Earthquake

Cuzco, earthquake-battered city in the highlands of south-central Peru, is probably South America's oldest existing city of importance. Historians believe its founding occurred more than 900 years ago.

Cuzco's name signifies navel, in the sense of hub of the universe—which it was to the Inca Empire. Although counting only about 45,000 residents at the time of the recent disaster, it was a gold-trimmed metropolis of 200,000 when overrun in 1533 by the Spanish conquistadores led by Francisco Pizarro.

The city became the scene of riots and mass slayings as the Spanish conquerors carried away tons of Inca treasure.

With other treasure looted from the new world, Spain became the richest nation in the world. While Spanish tile-roof-and-stucco architecture prevails in modern Cuzco, a very sturdy and distinguishing feature of the city is the mortars masonry of the Inca and pre-Inca builders, notes the National Geographic Society.

How Firm a Foundation

Old Inca walls often were made the foundations for Cuzco's comparatively new homes and business houses, as well as for Spanish churches reported badly damaged by the quake. The walls are of three types. Oldest and most impressive are those in which massive flat-faced stones, having as many as a dozen angles on their sides and back, are matched and fitted so precisely into a dry wall that nowhere can a knife blade be inserted.

Such artistry obviously required infinite patience and time. A strong belief persists locally that the Incas knew how to soften granite temporarily by using juice of herbs, so that the stones could be shaped or cut into any form.

Developed somewhat later were the walls of six-sided stones, and those of large rectangular stones polished to great smoothness and often built to a circle's arc. The wall of the Temple of the Sun is of this curving form.

For 500 years Cuzco was the Mecca of Inca land. Its sacred quarter, the Coricancha, or Enclosure of Gold, centered in the Temple of the Sun and included separate shrines dedicated to the Moon, Lightning, Rainbow, Venus, and the Pleiades. Early Spanish writers have left fabulous accounts of the pure gold embellishments these buildings contained.

Today, the remnant of the curved wall of the Temple of the Sun forms part of the foundation of the "quake-shaken" Monastery of Santo Domingo. Treasure-house of relics of the Inca period, the Monastery and its grounds cover the two acres believed to correspond to the sacred Coricancha.

Railway to Pacific

On the heights above Cuzco, the monumental fortress of Sacsahuaman spreads its walls in many angles of massive, dovetailed stonework. At near-by Pisac and Pucara are other hillside structures of the Inca dry-wall skill. The ancient forts and homes often commanded hilltops for safety, and slopes were terraced to make narrow, irrigated gardens.

Since 1909, the Southern Railway of Peru has connected Cuzco with Mollendo on the Pacific coast via Lake Titicaca. The 506-mile route crosses the Andes ridge at 14,000 feet.

Cuzco is capital of Peru's Illinois-sized province of the same name. It is a farm center in the approximate region where the white potato was first known. Grains make the plateau the breadbasket of the nation. The stricken city has several small flour mills; soap, candle, chocolate, and spaghetti factories; potteries and textile plants.

Campfire Flavors Are Easy to Capture When You Broil Meat Cuts

WHEN YOU LONG for the taste of campfire cookery and still want the convenience of your kitchen, plan some broiled dinners!

Broiling gives an irrefragable flavor to meats as well as fruits and vegetables to go with the meats. It's a quick method of cooking, too, for, in most cases, the broiler meal takes only 15 minutes to one-half hour to cook.

Most homemakers like to plan several broiled dinners for hot weather because they're so quick and appetizing. Furthermore, since meat, vegetables and fruits can be placed on the broiling tray, there's only that single piece of cooking equipment to be washed after dinner, in place of several pots and pans.

To stimulate a real out-of-doors supper several times a week, plan to serve on gay gingham cloth out on the porch or in the garden. The main course, hot and sizzling from the broiler, is easily carried outside.

Select meats for broiling from this list: chopped beef or lamb, sausage, frankfurters, steaks, chicken (broilers), corned beef hash, leftover chopped meat, small pieces of meat on skewers, bacon, sweetbreads, pre-cooked ham slices, lamb chops, bacon or sausage.

Pre-cooked or canned potatoes may be used with the meats, as well as cooked vegetables which need simply to be reheated.

Broiled Lamb Chops Dinner (Serves 10)

- 10 pear halves
- 3 tablespoons melted butter
- 5 tomatoes, halved
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- Salt and pepper
- Parmesan Cheese
- 10 loin lamb chops (about 1-inch thick)
- 5 teaspoons mint jelly
- Parsley

Drain pear halves thoroughly. Brush lightly with butter. Brush tomatoes with butter. Spread 1 teaspoon of onion on each half, season with salt and pepper and sprinkle with cheese. Arrange lamb chops on broiler and broil 8 to 10 minutes. Turn, if necessary, tomatoes and broil another 8 to 10 minutes, or until degree of doneness desired is reached. Just before serving, place mint jelly in pear halves. Garnish with parsley.

Use sausage links or form bulk sausage into patties. Arrange on broiling pan. Arrange pineapple next to sausage and place potatoes, halved, and peas and carrots in pan underneath sausage and pineapple. Broil until sausage and pineapple are browned. Note: Pineapple

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Broiled Steak, Au Gratin Potatoes
- Green Salad, Blue Cheese Dressing
- Heated Rolls
- Butter
- Strawberry Ice Cream
- Butter Cookies
- Beverage
- Recipe Given

This broiler meal, featuring beef patties, topped with onion rings with a square of cheese, browned potatoes and tomatoes, will be popular with the young folk. The broiler shown here broils food on both sides at the same time, and requires no turning.

Broiled Steak, Au Gratin Potatoes (Serves 4)
4-5 potatoes, cooked and diced
1½ cups thin cream sauce
½ cup sharp grated cheese
¼ cup fine bread crumbs
T-Bone steak (1½ to 2 inches thick)

Place potatoes in baking dish and cover with cream sauce. Mix cheese and crumbs and spread over top. Place potatoes in the oven set at 400° and let bake for 20 minutes. Place steak on broiling rack, and broil until done. For a medium rare steak, the broiling time required will be from 20 to 25 minutes for the thickness mentioned above.

Broiled Ham with Limas (Serves 4-6)
1 slice ham, ¼-inch thick
2 cups cooked lima beans
Salt and pepper
2 cups grated American cheese
2 cups grapefruit segments
1½ tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons brown sugar

Broil ham until lightly browned, about 10 minutes. Heat lima beans and pile on top of ham; season with salt and pepper and sprinkle with cheese. To one side of the ham, place grapefruit segments. Brush with butter and sprinkle with sugar. Reduce heat and broil until cheese melts and grapefruit browns slightly.

Broiled Chicken
Clean two-pound chickens thoroughly. Split down the back and flatten out by pressing with the hands. Brush skin and underside with butter, then season with salt and pepper. The chicken may first be placed in a hot oven to cook for 15 to 20 minutes, then in the broiler to complete the cooking, another 15 to 20 minutes, depending upon how done one likes it.

Broiled Beef Patties (Serves 6)
1 pound ground beef
Salt and pepper
¼ cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons fine bread crumbs
6 onion rings

Season meat with salt and pepper; blend in chili sauce and bread crumbs. Shape into six flat patties and top with onion rings. Broil until plump, brown and done, as desired.

Keep broiler pans washed after each use as the fat and drippings from meat, fish and fowl will easily turn rancid and make your cleaning greater if you let it go.

Plan broiler meals for a time when you have leftover, cooked vegetables on hand that can be heated with the meat; otherwise, use canned or freshly cooked vegetables.

The thicker the cut of meat broiled, the further away from the heat of the flame it should be placed.

Steak may be rubbed with a cut clove of garlic or dotted with sauteed mushroom caps as soon as it comes from the broiler, if additional flavor is desired.

Sauces may be poured over meat cuts a few minutes before broiling is finished, if desired. They will blend with the drippings and can be poured over the meat when serving.

When you plan to serve directly from the broiler, arrange food as attractively as you would on a platter during the cooking so you need do no further changing before bringing it out to serve.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's gives happy relief—helps the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

New Song Plugs 1950 Homecoming

A new song was written about Kentucky and named the official song for the Kentucky mid-century homecoming.

The symbolic Boone of the official insignia for Kentucky's homecoming was taken from the famous statue of the pioneer in Louisville's Cherokee Park. Originally fashioned in a composition for the Filson Club to exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair in 1893, the statue was executed by the noted Kentucky sculptress, Miss Enid Yandell.

SPORTLIGHT Why Not Give Frenchmen a Chance?

By GRANTLAND RICE

ONLY A SMART YOUNG MAN with the expanding energy of Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, would even tackle the fight game tangle as it is today.

It happens to be twisted into a greater number of knots than a medley of pretzels. Here is a game without a heavy-weight who can fight, a snarl in the stronger middleweight division and two good fighters in Pep and Saddler who want two mints for what to be doubtful entertainment.

Philadelphia has grabbed off the best show of the lot in Robinson and Villemain so far as actual ring skill is concerned, but there is no title involved.

It is an odd angle that a fighter of the LaMotta type should be able to tie up the one good division left to a game that seems to be reeling in the dark.

Both LaMotta and Graziano were much higher in the scale some years ago. Neither could ever be accused of being another Benny Leonard or another Greb.

Both have lost the reflexes and resiliency of younger years and appear to be waiting for the axe.

The Television Angle Back around the hazy year known as 1893 in Baltimore there was a move on the part of the ball club to keep baseball writers out of the park.

This suggestion was quickly thrown out. Who would go to a ball game when he could sit at home and hear every play for no cost? Larry MacPhail was one of the first to prove this theory was incorrect.

No. 1—Television will wreck baseball, starting with the minor leagues.

No. 2—Television will hurt the weaker clubs. It won't affect the stronger clubs.

No. 3—Television will make little difference one way or another after good weather and better baseball arrive.

No. 4—Television will help baseball in the long run. It brings the games to thousands of new homes. It will be even more help than radio was.

As Larry MacPhail was the first to give radio a real trial, I asked the former Yankee owner, or one of them, how he felt about it.

"I don't think it will make much difference," he said. "Baseball doesn't televise well. I'd rather hear a game called over radio."

The 1950 Miracle Man From the extensive domain of his broad estate in Maryland it seems that Larry MacPhail still keeps an eye on the general scene.

He is now raising Angus cattle and thoroughbreds and also watching the standing of the clubs in the two leagues, especially the American.

"What do you think," he asked, "of a fellow by the name of Bucky Harris? If he isn't the miracle man, so far, of 1950, who is?"

The raw facts in the case are that for the first five or six weeks of the new season Bucky Harris has come through with the finest job in baseball.

UNIVERSITY FIELD DAYS DRAWS THOUSANDS OF STATE FARMERS
Many Washington county farmers were among the thousands of Wisconsin farm folks who attended university farm field day held on the University Hill farms June 11.
Chief interest centered around the new hay making machinery including hay crushers, hay knives, new type forage harvesters, new type hay rakes and the latest methods of applying artificial heat for forage drying.
Other exhibits and demonstrations which drew large audiences included the 2-D spray program for corn, alfalfa varieties and management, milk house construction, pen barns and milking parlors.
Most farm buildings can be expected to last at least 100 years if kept in good condition.
More than three-fourths of the farms in the United States are now electrified.
Many a woman will use a pill to get rid of a headache, and vice versa.—Earl Wilson.
