Lakers Lose 5-3 Tilt at Waukesha

LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost. Rows include Lannon, Granville, Mequon, Waukesha CYO, Waukesha Dales, Kewaskum, etc.

The Kewaskum Utensils were downed by another close score Sunday at Waukesha when the CYO team of that city defeated them, 5-3. The setback was the team's 7th in eight starts.

It was no fault of pitcher John Tessar that the Utensils lost. Weak hitting on the part of his teammates was responsible for the loss. Kewaskum could get but three hits off the combined pitching of Shields and Betenz of the CYO. Shields struck out three and Betenz four batters. Each hurler walked one man. Tessar pitched a seven-inning game, fanned a total of eight batters and walked only three, a performance that should have won for him.

The only Waukesha swinger who found Tessar's slants to his liking was Joe Long, veteran cleanup hitter, who lashed out three for three, one a double. The Utensils' three safeties were divided among three batters.

Rivers Team Shut Out by Saukville's Helm

LAND O' RIVERS STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost. Rows include West Bend, Kewaskum, Allenton, Barton, Saukville, Slinger, Jackson, Newburg.

It was too much Bob Helm and too many Saukville hits Sunday as the Kewaskum Chevrolts left their third tilt of the season on the home field. The team was shut out, 6-0. The Rivers nine is now tie for second with Allenton, which team won Sunday.

Helm, who has just returned to the Saukville lineup, is an ace pitcher. He allowed only six hits in whitewashing Kewaskum. He set down 10 swingers on strikeouts and walked but one for a pretty neat hurling job. Saukville came in to relieve him in the sixth, for 12 bingles. Honeck retired after striking out five hitters, walking none, and giving up eight hits. Backhaus allowed four more hits in the four innings he worked, whiffed two and passed one. Five errors behind them also hurt the local pitchers considerably.

The big powers for Saukville were Dommer and Dominsky. Each smashed out three hits for half of their team's total. No Kewaskum batter connected for more than one safety. There wasn't an extra base hit in the contest.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

J. Edgar Hoover Says Potential Fifth Column of 540,000 in U.S.; Wheat Crop to Miss Billion Mark

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

FIFTH COLUMN: 540,000 in U.S.

Of all the men in high government security posts, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the F.B.I., possibly commands more respect than any other. For that reason, his statement that the Communists have a potential fifth column of 540,000 people in the United States, made public some four months after he testified before a senate committee, gave Red conscious Americans a shock.

He was explicit on two points: (1) Communists are seeking American secrets with every trick and means at their disposal; (2) Subversive Communists are more active now than the Nazis and Fascists ever were during World War II.

The "orbit of Communist control," he said, has increased from one seventh of the world's population in 1917 to one third of the world's population today.

"The intensification of communism and underground activity in the United States has increased proportionately. If we are to preserve our internal security in times of emergency, it is incumbent that the identities of those who work against the peace and security of America be established."

The F.B.I. chief revealed that native-born Communists and sympathizers are after information on atomic research, radar, jet propulsion, coastal maps, military airports, biological warfare, and industrial resources.

His agency is handicapped in dealing with them because present espionage laws are intended mainly for aliens.

Hoover also reported, "To counter the F.B.I.'s penetration of the Communist party, its leaders have established a far-reaching and vigorous loyalty program of its own, calling for establishment of investigating committees in each state and a thorough investigation of each member of the party as to personal history, activities, associations, contacts, and length of membership."

SENATOR TAFT: War if Necessary

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, the Republican policy chieftain who has as good a chance as any for the GOP presidential nomination in 1952, has issued a frank and complete, if somewhat startling, one-paragraph statement on U.S. foreign policy.

The main points: (1) The United States should go to war if Russia moves into western Europe; (2) He doubts there ever can be a complete bipartisan foreign policy to cover all areas of the world.

The senator, however, did not entirely abandon the music of isolationism with which he has often been associated. He added that he believed the U.S. can contribute most to meeting the challenge (of Russia) if it maintains "a free hand" and avoids any commitments, such as arms aid, now or "land-mass fighting in Europe" if fighting breaks out.

On the bipartisan foreign policy problem, Taft was not jumping completely to either side of the fence. He wanted it understood he believed a bipartisan policy could be achieved on "specific projects" when there is advance consultation with "elected Republicans in congress."

He was critical of two recent developments, particularly the "balanced collective forces" concept agreed upon by the Atlantic pact foreign minister in London, and the $1,222,500,000 second-installment arms-aid program. He said the building up of European forces might incite Russia to attack on grounds that it constituted "aggressive action."

NEW CAMERA: 26 Miles in Picture

The Air Force has announced development of a camera that will take 26 miles of picture from 10,000 feet. The picture can be taken in two seconds.

The air force said the camera tests to determine its value in reconnaissance. Whether it will be installed in new aircraft was not disclosed.

The distance can be increased by a corresponding elevation of the plane, the air force reported.

INVASION: Red Youths Threaten

Ever since the gigantic Red youth rally in Soviet Germany it has been apparent to observers that the Communists were not satisfied at all with the results of that rally.

Now East Germany threatened to send its blue-shirted Communist youths marching into West Germany. And western leaders warned they would "shoot if necessary" to keep them out.

The Soviet youth organization announced it would defy a western ban and send 1,000,000 members across the Berlin border to hold a big youth congress.

A spokesman for the West said 11,000 American, British and French troops would use their guns to turn back any such march from the Soviet zone.

The new threat was seen as a renewed effort of the Communists to embarrass the western powers in Germany. It was also seen as a face saving move after the Communists backed down last May

Jailed

John Howard Lawson (left) and Dalton Trumbo (right) are shown on the way to jail to start a year's imprisonment for contempt of congress. Hollywood writers, they refused to tell the house committee on un-American activities whether they were Communists.

WHEAT CROP: Miss Billion Mark

For the first time in seven years, the nation's farmers will fail to harvest a billion-bushel wheat crop this year, the agriculture department has predicted.

This means, the government forecasters said, the income of wheat farmers will be down some $400,000,000.

The government predicts a harvest of 944,514,000 bushels as the result of voluntary reductions in plantings under the government's acreage allotment program and from bad weather and insects.

The record crop was harvested in 1947 and amounted to 1,367,186,000 bushels. Last year 1,146,000,000 bushels were harvested. The forecast, incidentally, is well under the 10 year average of 1,032,000,000 bushels.

Observers pointed out it means the government may have to dip into its big price support wheat surplus to meet the combined domestic and export needs in the year ahead. The government now has approximately $4,000,000,000 invested in farm surpluses.

The agriculture department said prospects for the corn crop now generally are favorable. Plantings are expected to be smaller than a year ago because of the acreage allotment program.

The report forecast an oat crop of 1,380,000,000 bushels, four percent more than last year. Rye production forecast at 22,400,000 bushels, would be 20 percent larger than last year but still smaller than average.

DISARMAMENT: U.S. Just Talking

Sixteen outstanding scientists, educators, and clergymen have issued a five-point program calling for total disarmament and accusing the United States of just paying lip service to disarmament while actually discouraging such a step.

The five points: 1. An immediate halt to atomic bomb production, with stockpiles to be taken over by the U. N. pending further negotiations.

2. Acceptance of the Soviet proposal for national—rather than international—atomic ownership, under an agreement blocking large-scale production.

3. Acceptance of the American proposal for international inspection of atomic resources and production.

4. A compromise in the U. S.-Soviet disagreement over whether atomic stockpiles should be destroyed before or after international controls go into effect.

5. Abolition of all armies and conventional armaments at the same time atomic weapons are destroyed.

The report was signed by Albert Einstein and novelist Louis Bromfield among others, and said in part:

"Officially appointed representatives to the UN tell the world that the U. S. wants disarmament and only Russia stands in the way. Yet other American officials do what they can do to discourage disarmament."

Most observers agreed the program proposed was idealistic, but hardly practical in the light of world events.

10 Million to 1

While much of the nation was reading about methods to curb gambling, a story from Las Vegas, Nev., reported a gambler made 28 passes at the dice table, something that happens once in 10,000,000 times.

The gambling casino said it lost $150,000 and the gambler, who won only $750, could have taken $268,435,456 had he let his bets accumulate.

The man kept the dice for an hour and 21 minutes but won only $750 as he pocketed most of his winning after each roll. Had he bet a dollar to start and then let all his winnings ride—$2-$4-$8 etc.—it eventually could have totaled the $268 millions.

The house, no doubt, would have yelled "uncle" long before that. It was heavy bets by other gamblers, four deep at the table, which cost the house its huge loss. It was the greatest display of gambling luck in history for the gambler to win so little.

CONSUMERS: Buy More Heavily

The commerce department has announced consumer incomes, the main spring of retail buying, rolled up to $212,800 million a year rate during April.

The April showing constituted a $900 million annual-rate gain over March and was the second consecutive monthly increase.

The gain "reflected an expansion in payrolls that was largely offset by declines in proprietors' income and transfer payments," the department said.

The decline in proprietor's income occurred chiefly in farm income as livestock marketing receipts declined in a season when they normally rise.

"The net income of farm operations for the first four months of 1950 was about one-fifth less than in the same period last year," the department said.

"The rise stemmed primarily from increased activity in the durable goods and manufacturing industries. Higher employment and a longer work week in factories producing transportation equipment, machinery, and other fabricated metal products were mainly responsible for the advance of total wages in durable-goods manufacturing."

POTATOES: Shootin' Bug Dust

Now it can be told. A hundred million pounds of surplus American potatoes have been sent into Soviet Germany to feed victims of the potato bug fantasy.

Recently the Soviet controlled radio and press went into a song and dance about American planes dropping potato bugs in the Soviet zone. The Communist propaganda said the United States sewed insects to blight the east German crop, to test out germ warfare, and sell capitalist bug poison.

American officials called the charges ridiculous and said the Communists apparently were trying to condition the people for crop failure. The continued broadcast by the Communists on the potato bug theme and the silence maintained over the shipment of unbranded American potatoes were looked on as evidence of a campaign to cover up production failures.

The potatoes were shipped by a New York broker to a Swiss firm in Hamburg. Another deal was reported under way to ship 18,000 tons to Frankfurt in western Germany.

In both cases, state department officials suspected that the potatoes were going to the Communists.

RENT CONTROL: Senate Extends

With what observers called an eye for the November elections, the senate passed, 36 to 28, a 6-month extension of rent control. The law is due to expire June 30.

Many of the Democrats who voted for extension did so frankly in response to an appeal made in party caucus by majority leader Scott Lucas. He told his colleagues his chances to defeat his Republican opponent in Illinois, Everett Dirksen, hung on Democratic support for rent control.

The following day the house voted 202 to 163 to extend the rent control measure. The house measure, however, would extend rent control seven months.

Now the two chambers must appoint a committee to iron out the length of extension before the bill can be sent to President Truman.

Like the senate bill, the house measure provides that when extension federal law again runs out—on December 31, 1950, or January 31, 1951, depending on which version is adopted—the governing bodies of municipalities can vote an additional extension until June 30, 1951.

Primary Winner

James Roosevelt gives out with the famed Roosevelt smile after winning the Democratic nomination for governor of California. He will meet Governor Earl Warren, Republican nominee, in November.

REMINGTON: Resigns Post

William W. Remington, commerce department employee, who with Michael Lee, another $10,000 a year man in the department, were handed a "quit or be fired" order last May, has resigned his post.

Remington is under indictment for perjury. He is accused of lying when he denied ever being a Communist. Lee has refused to resign until the loyalty board has ruled on his patriotism.

Remington's case first hit the headlines nearly two years ago when he was accused of slipping secrets to the Communists.

He denied the charge but was suspended from his job of screening exports to Russia. He was restored to the department after the loyalty review board cleared him. Then, only a few weeks ago, the house committee on un-American activities confronted the official with the sworn statement of two former Communists that he had participated in Communist activities while employed in Knoxville.

General Donovan's Interview

SENATOR McCARTHY and Boy S Howard of the Scripps-Howard newspapers didn't know it, but General "Wild Bill" Donovan, famed wartime chief of OSS, let them down on the Amerasia stolen documents case.

General Donovan, a fellow Republican, was ballyhooed as backing up the McCarthy-Scripps-Howard charges. When interviewed by a senate committee shortly before leaving for Europe, however, he talked much more like Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, who decries McCarthy extremism.

In fact, Gen. Donovan inferentially criticized his own OSS investigator, Frank Bielski for illegally raiding the Amerasia office, and the FBI for illegally raiding Emmanuel Larsen's apartment. As a result of these illegal raids, the justice department could not prosecute.

Here is exactly what the senate investigators reported to the committee after their interview with Donovan at his New York apartment.

General Donovan asked if we had talked with Archibald Van Buren (his wartime deputy), and when we replied in the affirmative, he indicated that his information was no more than that which Van Buren probably gave us . . .

"General Donovan discussed his belief at the time that 'John Doe' warrants should have been obtained and statements under oath gotten from the principals," the investigators' report continues. "He indicated that the fact that the matter was incorrectly handled, because when any agency conducts an investigation, the matter does not remain confidential and opportunity to cover up arises."

General Donovan mentioned in discussing the matter with Fred Lyon (of the state department), he asked if the state department had any idea who might have been responsible for this material (secret documents) emanating from the state department.

When he pressed Mr. Lyon for some suggestions or suspicions, Mr. Lyon suggested that it might have been John Carter Vincent. General Donovan then queried us as to whether Vincent did not have a wife who was a Communist."

Throughout the interview, Donovan made it clear he had no new evidence but that his attitude was that of a Margaret Chase Smith republican who didn't relish unfair accusations.

Continuing, the investigators' report declares: "Donovan suggested that we should see Pat Hurley (former ambassador to China). Shortly after the discovery of the Amerasia case, General Donovan went to London and met Pat Hurley at the airport there. Hurley being on his way to Moscow and China, Donovan told Hurley what Fred Lyon had said about Vincent because he knew that Hurley thought Vincent was 'his boy.'"

That was about all Donovan had to say. In fact, he seemed in a hurry to get off to Europe.

Trygve Lie and Truman

Here is the inside story of what happened when U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie met with President Truman and Secretary Acheson following Lie's return from Moscow.

Lie first reported on the strong desire for peace which he found everywhere from Moscow to Washington; then asked the President to consider sending Acheson to a special meeting of the United Nations security council in Geneva this summer, a meeting which he said was imperative to keep the United Nations from collapsing.

Mr. Truman's reaction was immediate. He promptly said he could do no such thing; that it would be a cruel hoax to play on the American people when there is absolutely no chance of agreement with Russia.

The only thing Russia understands, the President argued, is force, and the West is going to build up its own force until Russia realizes the democracies mean business. After that, perhaps a meeting with Russia might produce some good.

As it is now, Truman told the U. N. secretary general, Russia is boycotting the United Nations because it won't seat Communist China—just like a little boy who says he won't play in the game unless he can be captain of the team.

Capital News Capsules

—Ambassador Kirk has cabled the state department that the Russian general who was suddenly recalled from Japan with his entire 52-man staff has suffered the same fate as Marshal Zhukov. He's being demoted and disgraced—because he was too chummy with American and British personnel in Tokyo.

Kirk says General Kuzma Derevyanko committed what is the supreme heresy—he actually believed the east and west could get along.

One of the big news picture services got a wire from a California politician asking if it had any picture linking Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas with Paul Robeson, Henry Wallace, Claude Pepper or Moscow. The news service wired back that it had a picture linking Mrs. Douglas with Moscow. California immediately ordered the print. But all it showed was Helen Douglas giving an award to Warren Moscow, crack reporter of the New York Times . . . Actually Mrs. Douglas refused the endorsement of Henry Wallace.

COW TOWN

World's Largest Stock Market Likes Being Called 'Cow Town'

Chicago, world's largest livestock market, is unique among American cities in that it appreciates being called a "cow town."

While it has no tradition of fast-drawing sheriffs, gun-toting cowboys and villainous cattle rustlers, Chicago, for almost a hundred years, has played an important part in America's great livestock industry. It is the strategic point between the meat-producing rangelands of the West and the market outlets of the East.

Since 1865, when the Chicago Union Stock Yard was established by a special act of the Illinois legislature, almost a billion head of livestock—cattle, hogs and sheep—have been shipped or driven to Chicago.

It is a constant source of pride to the meat industry that Chicagoans, and most midwesterners, talk about "The Yards" with a possessive attitude. In 65 years it has become as much of an institution as the city's universities, its public parks, or even Lake Michigan.

Stock yard activities, whether they be in Chicago or in any of the other 12 major terminal livestock markets, are simple to explain. The stock yard is a public market place where livestock producers sell their animals to buyers on a free, open and competitive market. It is open to anyone who has livestock to sell and to anyone who has money to buy in competition with others.

At the time the Union Stock Yard was established, seven different yards were operating actively in Chicago, and others were being planned. The producer whose animals were shipped to Chicago often was confused as to his best marketing possibilities.

This era was in the early days when stockmen from the west drove their animals in herds, sometimes many hundreds of miles, to concentration points. Many brought them afoot all the way to Chicago and sold them for as much as they could get from a buyer.

There was no true "Chicago market" in those days. The stockman had no real assurance that his animals would be in demand or even knowledge of the extent of that demand which would tend to determine a value. One "yard" had a different price than its competitors. Uniformity was lacking, confusion the order of the day.

Major Stock Market

About this time, however, commission firms came into existence and with these salesmen representing the producers, guesswork on values was reduced. The commission firms, working in cooperation with producers and buyers, recognized the need for one central market, where producer and buyer could intelligently appraise supply and demand, and where values could be determined by open, competitive bidding. Representatives of these interests met with owners of the many yards and railroads in Chicago and brought about the formation of the company which bears today's name.

A commission firm salesman talks business with an Iowa hog farmer. A total of 3,425,252 head of hogs were shipped to the Chicago yards in 1949.

Chicago is a major terminal livestock market. This means the yards serve the care of the livestock industry. Chicago's Union Stock Yard does not own, buy or sell, or in other way enter into the transactions dealing with the transfer of livestock ownership. Competitive bidding alone determines the price of cattle, hogs and sheep.

Those entering into the bidding on a public market include individual buyers wanting only a few animals, representatives of the large packing houses who buy in volume daily, and shippers or order buyers.

The Chicago yards, because it is a market-place, provides facilities for unloading docks, pens, feeding, housing, weighing and other services necessary for the care of the animals during the time they are on the property. All operations are "posted," which means they are governed by the terms of the Federal Packers and Stockyards Act, under the supervision of the United States department of agriculture.

Chicago Is Livestock Barometer

As a market, Chicago is known as the livestock barometer of the world. All commission firms there are bonded under government supervision in amounts corresponding to the volume of their business. Management of the Chicago yards is proud that no producer has ever lost a single dollar in a transaction throughout the long history of the company.

All sales are on a cash basis. A nod of the head or a gesture of a hand indicating agreement on price, binds the transaction, and the buyers word closes the deal, whether buying a trainload or a single animal.

A typical scene at the terminal livestock market in Chicago. Included are ranchers, feeder cattle buyers, brand inspectors, commission men, and cowboys. More than 13,000 pens contain hogs, cattle and sheep shipped to the Union Stock Yard.

JUST ONE

Willie was doing penance in the corner. Presently he thought aloud pensively.

"I can't help it if I'm not perfect," he sighed. "I never heard of but one perfect boy, anyway."

"Who was that?" asked his mother, thinking to point a moral. "Papa," came the silencing reply, "when he was little."

Meat Loaf, Potato Salad Makes Ideal Meal
(See Recipe Below)

Meals—Indoors or Out
WEEKEND plans have a way of going awry, depending upon who drops in and what the weather turns out to be. Fortunate indeed is the homemaker who can serve from four to eight people readily, or set the dining room table or bring the meal to the back porch.

Meals for such weekends should be planned with care so there will be ample food, but none to waste. Choose combinations that can be reheated and served later if they're not eaten.

Good staples for menus include potato salad, ham or chicken. Have salad ingredients washed and chilling so that you can use as many or few as needed. A plain cake which can be frosted at the last minute, or some creamy citrus sherbet nestling in the refrigerator will solve dessert or snack problems conveniently, and with a flourish.

*Spicy Potato Salad (Serves 6 to 8)
3 pounds cooked potatoes
1/2 cup pickle juice
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons celery seed
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Pare and dice potatoes; add pickle juice and allow to chill in the refrigerator for 1 hour. Add onion, salt, pepper, celery seed, chopped pickles and eggs. Blend in mayonnaise, mixing lightly but thoroughly. Chill in refrigerator.

*Ham Loaf (Serves 4-8)
2 pounds ground, smoked ham
1 pound fat pork, ground
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
1 small onion, grated
1/2 cup sweet pickle relish
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 tablespoons brown sugar
Whole cloves

Combine ham, pork, bread crumbs, milk, mustard, worcestershire sauce, onion and pickle relish; mix lightly but thoroughly. Lightly grease a 9x5x3-inch loaf pan; line with waxed paper and grease lightly. Pack mixture firmly into pan. Combine butter and sugar and spread over top of loaf. Insert whole cloves on top of meat mixture. Bake in a moderately hot (375°) oven for one hour or until done. Pour off excess drippings that form during baking. Serve hot or cold.

HERE'S A flavorful way to cook chicken. It may be served hot, but, if desired, the pieces of chicken may be removed from the seasonings and cooled to be served cold on a picnic supper.

Chicken Sauté (Serves 6)

Dress up meat loaves with a pineapple topping by placing slices of pineapple in bottom of a greased loaf pan. Pack meat mixture on top of fruit. Serve the loaf inverted.

Fold diced ham in your supper waffle batter and make them more tempting. Serve with tossed salad and a colorful fruit dessert, and the meal's complete.

Make your molded salads in the cool of the morning, and they'll be perfectly chilled and firm for supper time. Into lemon-flavored gelatin, fold some crushed pineapple-canned apricots, diced apple and pitted ripe olives.

The last of the chicken can be sliced or chopped and spread between buttered bread slices. Dip in egg-milk mixture and fry like French toast. It's perfect for lunch.

● Archie's parent (left) listens to the detective's warning. But he explains Archie will not be taken to court. The young offender receives a membership card in the Police Juvenile club, brain child of Capt. Ovia Pelletier. Voluntary members, plus members like Archie, number 65,000 in the city's clubs.

● A fast hockey game finds Archie (left) a willing and enthusiastic player. His early suspicion of police has given way to a grudging respect and finally gratitude. This story of Archie can be rightly termed a miracle, if even in a minor way, for it represents the first chance for a wholesome boyhood Archie has ever known. It is also the story of what one great city is doing to battle juvenile delinquency. Perhaps it should be named—the Miracle of Montreal.

ANOTHER STRIKE

AGAINST THE PUBLIC AND INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE SERVED BY FIVE WESTERN RAILROADS

President Truman's EMERGENCY BOARD recommends a 40-hour week and a pay increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 a day for switchmen represented by the Switchmen's Union of North America.

• Notwithstanding the tremendous increase in their expenses involved, the Railroads' answer to Board is... YES!

Union leaders' answer to Board is.. NO!

In face of Board findings to the contrary, union leaders insist on 48 hours pay for 40 hours work. This would be an average increase of 31 cents an hour, or $2.48 a day. So Union leaders have called a completely unjustified strike on 5 Western railroads, effective June 25.

On June 15, an Emergency Board appointed by President Truman under the terms of the Railway Labor Act recommended the railroads grant switchmen a 40-hour week and a wage increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 for an 8-hour day.

Despite the added financial burden involved, the railroads are ready to accept these recommendations, as they have always accepted Emergency Board recommendations on national issues.

But the leaders of the Switchmen's Union refuse to accept! They demand an average increase of 31 CENTS AN HOUR OR $2.48 A DAY—although their present earnings are substantially higher than those of workers in other industries!

Board Says Demands Unjustified

In its report, the Board declared this demand unjustified by all the evidence presented. It also pointed out that it would give the switchmen an unfair pay advantage over other groups of railroad employees, and would add too great a burden to railroad costs.

Here is another case of a railroad union flouting the findings of an Emergency Board—another case of calling a crippling strike in an outrageous and reckless attempt to force demands which the Board clearly labels as unjustified!

Leaders of the Switchmen's Union are calling this strike in defiance of the Board—in defiance of the facts—and at the expense of the public!

In its report on this case, the Board made this statement:

"The railroad industry, the Board believes, needs above all else a period of relative stability to adjust and adapt itself to present competitive post-war conditions."

Despite this warning, the leaders of the Switchmen's Union are upsetting the apple-cart—forcing a completely unjustified strike against everybody who uses the railroads.

FIVE WESTERN RAILROADS AFFECTED BY THE JUNE 25 STRIKE

The five railroads affected by this strike, which goes into effect at 6:00 A.M. local time, Sunday, June 25, 1950, are:

- Chicago Great Western Railway Company
- Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company
- The Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad Company
- Great Northern Railway Company
- The Western Pacific Railroad Company

It is time to put an end to such un-American tactics!

The Answer to a Raw Attempt At Dictatorship is "NO!"

In the interest of the public who depend on the railroads every day, there can be only one answer to this outrageous and dictatorial action by the leaders of the Switchmen's Union. And that answer is—"NO!"

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

Plan Given to Beat Inroads of Dread Disease— Makes All Doctor's Offices Cancer Finding Labs

By BILLY ROSE

Mr. Alfred S. Black Hattiesburg, Mississippi Dear Mr. Black:

A couple of months ago you dropped in to see me, and as the result of our meeting I wrote a column asking for suggestions on how to best spend the $2,000,000 left by your brother to the Black-Stevenson foundation to provide "preventive and remedial treatment for cancer sufferers."

And I was plenty happy when you phoned a week after the piece appeared and told me you had received 4,000 letters, many from outstanding medical men and research organizations.

Well, this is letter No. 4001, and if your patience and eyes can take it I'd like to outline a startlingly unspectacular plan which may save the lives of 50,000 cancer victims a year at a cost of less than $5 per life.

The idea—and it's a simple one—was passed on to me by Dr. Harold T. Hyman of New York, the well-known physician whose four-volume "Integrated Practice of Medicine" has been called "the practitioner's bible" by Time magazine. But before I ease into Dr. Hyman's notion, let me give you some of the reasons behind it.

IN THIS WEALTHIEST of nations, where we have more doctors per capita than anywhere else, millions of people get periodic medical check-ups—but seldom are they checked for cancer until something begins to hurt. The reason, according to Dr. Hyman, is that these examinations seldom include a "survey" for cancer, even though this involves little more than a few probes and scrapings.

Billy Rose

As I get it from Dr. Hyman, a person has a 50 per cent chance of licking cancer if it is spotted in its incipient stages and treated by a competent physician. But once the malignancy is far enough along to cause pain and the associated symptoms, the odds against killing the man-killer drop to 20 per cent.

Which, in my simple arithmetic, means that 30 out of every 100 cancer deaths can be prevented if we find a way to make every doctor's office in the country a cancer detection center.

Here's where Dr. Hyman's notion and your brother's money come in. Why wouldn't it be a good idea for the Black-Stevenson foundation to compile all the latest knowledge on cancer diagnosis in one hefty volume and then, working through the various local medical societies, see to it that a copy of this volume, free of charge, reaches the desk of every family doctor in the country? And why wouldn't it be a logical extension of this idea to follow up the book with supplements whenever the research labs come up with a worth-while advance in test or technique?

IF THIS PROGRAM were backed up by an educational campaign to alert both doctors and public to the importance of nipping cancer before it buds, it is Dr. Hyman's estimate that each of our 100,000 general practitioners would spot at least one incipient case each year. And since there's a 50-50 chance of curing cancer in its baby stages, it figures that some 50,000 lives could be saved annually—either by local medics or by specialists and hospitals equipped to deal with the malady.

I know this is an undramatic notion, promising no miracles and requiring no glass-and-chronium skyscrapers. I also know it isn't new—clinics in New York and a few other cities have worked along these lines for years.

A campaign on a national scale, however, is something new, and it ought to appeal to you because it would give the fellow on RFD 1 the same chance to live out his three-score-and-ten as the chap on Central Park West.

I'm not suggesting, of course that you tear up the 4,000 letters and put your entire $2,000,000 into this venture. The plan which Dr. Hyman has outlined could be carried out for a tenth of that sum, leaving the bulk of your endowment for well-administered agencies and projects such as the Damon Runyon fund.

And by putting a couple of hundred thousand on the sure-shot of diagnosis rather than on the long-shot of research, you would be rendering the average Joe and his misused service hardly anybody else is bothering about.

Sincerely, Billy Rose

DEATH WON . . . In a dramatic effort to save the life of two-month-old Joseph Bryant of Boston, Patrolman Jeremiah Harrington breathes into the infant's mouth.

This is Your Paper You're Angry? Write a Letter

By William R. Nelson

NEWSPAPER subscribers who become angered at the paper have long used cancellation of their subscription as a means of showing their irritation. Such action is generally looked upon as being the same as stopping patronage of a store to show displeasure. But, is it the same?

The reader who cancels a newspaper subscription does not cancel telephone, gas, water or electric service to show displeasure with those services. Yet, the home town newspaper is, in many ways, comparable to utility services.

There is a notable difference between newspaper and other utility services. It is the individual subscriber's share of the cost. For all services except newspaper, the subscriber pays the full share of cost plus a profit or its equivalent.

The subscription price of the home town newspaper, however, is but a fraction of the actual cost of producing and delivering it to each subscriber.

Unlike other services, where the subscriber can somewhat control the cost through regulation of the amount used, neither the subscriber nor the publisher can regulate the amount of newspaper service to be rendered. Being a continuous recording of local history, the amount of newspaper space required is bound to fluctuate. To meet its obligation, yet keep the cost of its service so low all can afford it, is why the paper sells subscriptions below cost.

Cancelling a subscription to a newspaper, it seems obvious, is not the best way to show displeasure. A better way is to write a letter to the paper. If your point of disagreement is a matter of general concern, and you authorize it, the paper will publish your letter. In that way you publicly chastise the paper and tell another side of the controversial matter.

Publication of matter critical of themselves is another of the unique characteristics of our newspapers. No other public or private institution or service is so willing and eager to publicize its own mistakes.

Subscribing to the home town newspaper should be looked upon as the same as subscribing to the other services available in the community. The price is small and actually below the cost. And, whatever the amount, it is a necessary item for complete enjoyment of life in the community.

Fleming Race Course Still Flies Stars and Stripes MELBOURNE — The Melbourne Sun Pictorial wanted to know why the Stars and Stripes still flies atop the main stand at Fleming Race Course, home of the Melbourne Cup classic, at all important meets. THE FICTION CORNER HE SPOKE HIS PIECE

By Richard H. Wilkinson

WITHOUT REALIZING it Armine had been watching the young man with the black hair and blue eyes. She admitted to herself that he was good looking. Also, he wore his evening clothes with just the right degree of casualness; his face was pleasant and guileless. Dangerous, she thought. The type of man who couldn't be trusted. Deceptive. Like Loring Brookes. Mere thought of Loring gave her a funny little pang.

And then the young man with the blue eyes and black hair started toward her. He weaved his way in among the dancers and tapped Seaver Clark on the shoulder. "Mind if I cut in?" he asked.

"Hope you don't mind? Believe me it took courage." "Did it?" said Armine coldly. "Am I to feel flattered?" He grinned broadly. "Sorry, I'll quit if you say so."

"And leave me stranded in the middle of the floor?" "Well, then, when the music stops. . . But when the music stopped they weren't on the floor at all. They were out on the terrace, looking up at the moon, and Armine was saying, "I do wish you'd take me back. I'm cold."

"You can't be cold. It's a warm night. Besides, if you start to go back alone I'll grab your arm. And that will make a scene."

She looked at him angrily, but he only grinned. "I've half a mind to do it. It might teach you a lesson."

"It probably would," he admitted. "But please don't. You see, I've been watching you all evening and planning this campaign—bringing you out here, I mean."

"The idea!" Armine tossed her head. "Well, you can bring me right back again."

"Not until I say what I have to say."

SUDDENLY HE sobered. "That's the trouble with you — you're never willing to give a fellow a chance. You take him at his face value and let it go at that. It's not fair."

"What! Certainly you can't be serious. If this is some sort of joke, it's a poor one. Please take me back!" "Wait." He gripped her arm. His

WILLIAM PINE took his wife to a sneak preview of "The Lawless;" he and William Thomas, after making some sixty successful action pictures, had stuck their necks out and tackled one that was highly controversial. And for the first time Mrs. Pine said to him afterward,

"I like your picture!" Starring Macdonald Carey and Gail Russell, "The Lawless" deals with the minority problem in a small California city. The Johnston office recommended it to special United Nations consideration. Paramount executives wanted to scrap it at one point. It is honest and realistic, showing what might happen in any American town.

Johnny Bond, western singing star, has been signed to an exclusive, two-year radio contract by the World Broadcasting System. He will transcribe songs for the program service library, used by more than 700 radio stations.

Bob Garred has been heard in six months in the past two months but hasn't been seen in one, which is how he wants it. Being photographed entails making up, endless rehearsals with others, and overtime work, he pointed out—"And I just don't have the time. My two news broadcasts a day make it impossible for me to do any acting." So he will remain a voice rolling from a loudspeaker.

Warner Bros' forthcoming "Fifty Years Before Our Eyes" features some of the rarest old film footage in the world, such as Prince Hirohito's chat with Lloyd George before World War I, and the first movies of Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini.

Patrice Wymore, known in New York as a dancer and singer, reported for her role in "Tea for Two" wearing the finest white slacks suit money could buy, with a white cap on her red hair. Even on the Warner Bros. lot she stood out. But two minutes later deflation of the spirit had set in. Director David Butler took one look, and asked if she were going to work on a parking lot between pictures.

When James Cagney and his "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye" troupe made some scenes at a Glendale supermarket two elderly matrons were spotted among the extra players. They explained that they slipped in to get just one close look at Mr. Cagney.

JUNE WEEK . . . Annapolis grads, 1850 color girl get together.

THEY'RE OFF! BUT WHO?

SHUDDA HADDIM, the well-known horse player, popped an osetlet in his indignation over the senate interstate commerce committee's bill to stymie the big bookies and curb gambling by banning the interstate transmission of all pre-race information, beyond the entries. "All that would do is to make me bet on the wrong horse with twice the effort," he declares. "Up to now all I had to do was to guess who was TRYIN' to win a heat. Now I gotta guess who's running!"

"I even gotta guess the weather," he moaned. "I broke down early in life just figurin' them skinkers and now they think I should figure whether it's raining one thousand miles away or not. How can a guy dope out today's weather on past performances? Them senators would not let no scratches, weight changes, jockey substitutions or prices get out on the day of a race. Scratches was the only thing that made life bearable for me. It cut down the number of beetles I had to figure. Now if there is 18 goats in a heat I gotta handicap 'em all, when maybe only five will show up on the track, lizav fair?"

"The small horse player is the only one that'll suffer and he is takin' it on the chin enough now. Them big bookies and big gamblers will get all the news they need if they have to set up their own code signals and grease a few thousand more law enforcement agents and top politicians. And it will make it easier for 'em to get a horse player's dough on account of a horse player will know less about what he is doin' than ever. Does that make sense?"

"It won't stop 'em gambin'. A race fan is a persistent guy. It is lack of facts that keeps him goin'. He lives in a world of dreams, guesswork and ram-o-r-a compulsory. Answer me this: How come an interstate commerce committee gets into horse racing? I know owners, trainers and jockeys done business before the race. I seen many a business conference in a paddock. I could name plenty of skinkers that seemed to be reading a quarterly report on the economical situation coming down the stretch, but this is the first time anybody says it all comes under the head of COMMERCE!"

If I was handicappin' them senators I would say they was away off form, not up to a race yet and was carryin' too much weight. What happens if a horse breaks a leg the morning of the race, or the jockey get run over by a taxi?

"Give up betting on the ponies," we advised Shudda Haddim. "You'll be better off."

"Who, me, a lifelong fighter for the freedom of interstate commerce?" he demanded with heat.

Beef Sandwiches Cool days call for treating the family to a satisfying lunch of hot roast beef sandwiches. They are easy to prepare, thrifty, and tasty too. Simply arrange cuts of hot, left-over roast beef between slices of enriched bread, and cover with gravy. Hot roast beef sandwiches are high in nutritive value so necessary to growing youngsters, and working adults. Serve these tasty hot sandwiches with crisp carrot sticks, stuffed celery hearts, cabbage slaw, or your favorite fruit salad.

Birthday Parties Mothers know that birthday celebrations are among the most important occasions in a child's life. However, it takes time to plan the games, favors, and other preparations that make these occasions a success. Busy homemakers can save time and work in the kitchen by depending on their neighborhood baver to furnish one of his delicious cakes for the party. A personal touch may then be added by decorating the top of the bakers' cake with a clock face, making the numbers out of contrasting frosting and placing the hour hand of the clock so that it points at his age. Candles are unnecessary with this clock face, although most children enjoy making a wish and blowing out the flames.

Wool Outlook Bright, Bureau Head Reports
Material Remains Quality Fabric for Human Needs

For the sheep ranchers and the farmers who maintain small flocks, W. F. Fitzgerald, president of the Wool Bureau, had a good word when he predicted markets for wool are bound to increase.

Speaking before the National Association of Wool Manufacturers at their annual meeting in New York, he said:

"Barring a national catastrophe, markets for wool, and indeed for all textiles of established service value, is bound to increase. The reasons are fundamental and are to be found in even a casual study of our increasing population, our expanding birth rate, the total number of people employed and the constantly increasing standards of living of large segments of our population."

Newly-scoured virgin wool is turned to hasten drying. There will be a greater demand for this fiber, spokesmen for the wool producing industry predict.

Fitzgerald went on to point out that an acceptable substitute for wool has not been developed. Wool is still the quality fiber which is best suited for a wide variety of human needs and we are convinced the public shares that opinion, he added.

The Wool Bureau is a service organization established by wool-growers of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and America.

Needs of Corn

Corn needs plenty to eat and drink to produce high protein yields.

You can get extra pounds of protein and more bushels per acre, too, with a well-rounded bill of fare based on good soil management. University of Illinois research men proved that in tests on a number of experiment fields.

H. J. Snider of the agronomy staff reports that good soil management increased the corn's protein content by nearly a pound per bushel. Corn grown on well treated land averaged 5.6 pounds of protein per bushel, or about 10 per cent of the total weight. Corn on untreated soil averaged only 4.8 pounds of protein per bushel, or about 8.5 per cent.

The well managed land had the benefit of liming and rotation built around well-fed deep-rooted legumes. The organic matter added by the legumes built good soil structure and tilth, improved the drainage and increased the soil's water holding capacity. That made it easier for corn roots to get at plant nutrients, oxygen and moisture.

The fertilizer treatment included phosphate and potash where needed. In soils requiring more nitrogen than the legume crops provided, nitrogen fertilizer helped increase the corn's protein content. Snider says good soil management not only improved the corn's feeding value, but improves yield.

12½ Million Fewer Mules And Horses in 30 Years

Today there are 7½ million head of horses and mules on farms in the United States, a decrease of 12½ million in the last 30 years.

Experts estimate that it took about 24 million acres of crop land to feed these 12½ million animals. That amount of land, released to yield food, would provide for 11 million people. The horse population of the United States is expected to drop further.

Tests DDT Toxic Effect On Soil, Plants, Crops

Just what are the toxic, or poisonous, effects on soil of the newest insecticides? That is what the U. S. department of agriculture is trying to find out.

Extensive studies are being made on many insecticides, including DDT. So far experiments have shown that heavy deposits of DDT in the soil have adverse effects on some plants and crops. Many are not harmed.

Useful 'Pest' Found
By Nutrition Expert

ATLANTIC CITY — Better understanding of human and animal nutrition may be found through study of the mealworm, a many-jointed, brown insect larva discovered in granaries and corn cribs.

This pest may in turn join the rat in being an aid to study of nutrition.

Prof. G. S. Fraenkel, University of Illinois, told the Institute of Nutrition here that mealworms have already led him to discover a new growth vitamin, designated "B-T."

Mealworms are only about an inch long and eat far less than rats. A half pound of food a month takes care of 10,000 worms. This gives the advantage of large numbers of experimental subjects and the need of only small amounts of expensive and highly purified food chemicals.

Mealworms are close relatives of weevils which infest flour at times. But they are large enough to dissect, weigh and observe.

Hadacol Helps Wife Keep Her Family Well and Happy

Mrs. Edward H. Newton, 4364 Reading Road, Cincinnati, Ohio, feels that a wife's chief responsibility is attending to the welfare of her family at all times. HADACOL has been a big help to her in keeping her husband and little nephew well and happy.

Mrs. Newton's family, like so many, were suffering deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

HADACOL brought such wonderful results to her husband, who had suffered from stomach distress, that Mrs. Newton gave HADACOL to her three-year-old nephew, Bobby Newton, with equally gratifying results.

Mrs. Newton's Statement:

Here is Mrs. Newton's statement: "I gave my little nephew HADACOL because he was pale; he had no appetite; he was run down and he caught colds repeatedly. After taking HADACOL, he has an appetite, has color in his cheeks and he is healthier all the way. My husband has always been troubled with his stomach. After taking five large bottles and three small bottles of HADACOL, he eats anything and is not bothered with his stomach." Mrs. Newton has recommended HADACOL to many of her friends.

Helps You Feel Wonderful!

Why not have a similar happy experience happen to you? Now don't keep putting it off—don't say that you'll start taking HADACOL tomorrow. START TAKING IT TODAY! If only you'd realize the wonderful benefits that people by the thousands are getting from HADACOL, you wouldn't delay a single minute.

Hundreds of Doctors... have prescribed HADACOL for their patients, have requested quantities of HADACOL for their own clinical use and for their own families. The fact that HADACOL is scientifically formulated, compounded so that it contains therapeutic quantities of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron to supply deficiencies of these vital elements and is enriched with helpful amounts of Manganese, Calcium and Phosphorus (in liquid form), help to account for its increasing acceptance by doctors.

You'll Feel Great...

...with the first few bottles you take, or your money back. There is only one HADACOL and it is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. So give this remarkable HADACOL formula a chance to help you if you suffer from any sickness caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron. Remember that HADACOL is amazingly different and amazingly effective because it treats the real cause of the conditions you suffer from by supplying the deficient elements of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron. Make up your mind to take HADACOL regularly. Refuse substitutes. Don't be satisfied with temporary relief. Insist on the genuine. You can't lose a cent, because it's sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Only $1.25 for Trial size. Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.

If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Send no money. Just your name and address on a penny post card. Pay postman. State whether you want the $3.50 hospital economy size or $1.25 trial size. Remember, money cheerfully refunded unless you are 100% satisfied.—Adv.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, William Schmidt, Sr., whom God called home 25 years ago, July 2, 1925:

Memories are treasures no one can steal
 Death leaves a heartache no one can heal

And though the years are many or few
 They are filled with remembrances of you.
 Many a sleepless night I've spent
 Thinking of you
 And each day my thoughts are with you too.
 Loving and kind in all your ways

Upright and just to the end of your days,
 Sincere and true in your heart and mind
 Beautiful memories you left behind.
 But I know you are in God's own care
 And some day I shall meet you there.
 Deeply missed by wife and children.
