The Washington county 4-H fair held at Slinger last Thursday through Sunday attracted a total attendance estimated at more than 30,000 for an increase of approximately 20 per cent in attendance figures over any previous fair.

Slinger Noses Out Rivers Team in 2-1 Night Duel

The Honeck Chevroleters were nosed out in a heartbreaker under the lights at West Bend Monday night. Slinger turned the trick by a 2-1 score in a real round duel. With a victory Kewaskum could have passed up Slinger and moved into third place.

Seemingly Kewaskum had the victory until late in the game. Glen Backhaus shut out Slinger for the first six innings. In the meantime his mates scored a big run and held a 1-0 lead until the 7th when Slinger snuffed the count. The score was still tied with two out in the last of the ninth and it looked like extra innings. Then came the heartbreaker. Backhaus walked Bill Meyer and Jim Bohman and Art Mellis both followed with singles to push over the winning marker.

Locked in the pitching battle with Backhaus was Ray Held. He held the Chevs to five hits while his teammates collected eight off "Hefty." He fanned 13 for a great night's job and the Chev twirler also did all right with eight strikeouts. Held walked four and Backhaus five.

Jim Bohman was a trouble maker for Kewaskum all evening. He led both teams in hitting with three for five and one other time he reached base on an error. Doing his best to put the Chevs on the winning side was Lloyd Petermann, who banged out a single and double in four tries and also made base another time on a miscue.

Tessar in Two-Hit Win Over Waukesha

There was justice Sunday and the Kewaskum Utensils came out on the long end of a close 4-3 score for a change against the second place Waukesha Dales. The team has lost a number of close ones this season. Topnotch Lannon was shut out Sunday but Kewaskum's upset of the Dales foiled the latter team's chances of gaining on the leaders.

Kewaskum's ace in the hole and bright star of the victory was John Tessar, who pitched another two hitter against the hit-potent Waukesha nine. He has equalled this feat before this season but Sunday's job was one of his best of the campaign. He had the Dales fanning the air for nine strikeouts but with these he uncorked seven bases on balls. Tessar's wildness allowed the visitors to score three runs in the third but they did not get a solid hit off him after that.

Luehman, Dale pitcher, was almost equally effective, giving up only five and walking but one batter. However, he struck out only three. Seven errors behind him, five of them by shortstop R. Schmoller, proved to be his downfall as some of the bobbles were turned into runs.

Plant Pike, Bass in Nearby Lakes; 25 Raccoon Stocked

Conservation Warden Charles A. Schlumpf of Fond du Lac county reported that 2,000 yearling walleyed pike were stocked in Long Lake near Dundee the past week. The walleyes, shipped from a state conservation department fish pond near Madison, range in size from six to eight inches. Schlumpf stated that the shipment was one of the best he has seen in years and that the fish would give a lift ultimately to Long Lake fishing.

More than 5,000 large mouth black bass fingerlings were also planted in Fond du Lac county waters recently by Warden Schlumpf. The fish, measuring two inches in length, were received from the Delafield state fish hatchery. Of the shipment, 2,500 were placed in Lake deNeuve, 1,900 in Twin Lakes near Eden, and 720 in Lake Berne near Elmore.

The warden also reported that 25 raccoons were planted in the southern and eastern sections of Fond du Lac county Tuesday. The raccoons, received from the state game and fur farm at Foyette, were about half-grown. They were released by Schlumpf and representatives of East Shore Conservation, St. Cloud Conservation, Ashford Sportsmen's, Campbellsport Sportsmen, Oakfield Conservation, Byron Sportsmen and Eden Rod and Gun clubs.

North Squads Win in Lakes, Rivers All-Star Contests

The northern division teams scored impressive victories in both the Land o' Lakes and Land o' Rivers league all-star games played at Hartland under the lights last Thursday night. These titles were for the grand all-star championships in the two circuits. The northern and western divisions had previously beaten the southern and eastern stars in the Lakes and in the Rivers. The North and East eliminated the South and West in games before.

In the Lakes game, pitchers John Tessar of Kewaskum, Arnold Lemke of Lannon and Pete Dellios of Waukesha Dales were equally effective in holding the western squad to four hits for an easy 11-3 victory. John Smith of Lannon had four for four to lead the winners at bat. Tessar struck out five and walked one in the three innings he worked. He shut out the West in these three frames and also got a hit in his only trip to the plate. Tessar was also the winning pitcher. Dick Edwards was the other Kewaskum representative on the North squad. He caught part of the game and failed to hit in one time at bat.

The northern Rivers team staved off a ninth inning rally by the East to win 5-3. The Bassy early hurling of Jim Boldt of West Bend and the relief work of Ray Held of Slinger highlighted the game. Augie Bilgo was the Kewaskum player selected to participate in the Rivers all-star tilt.

On Thursday night of this week the Lakes all-stars took on the Badger association all-stars of northern Wisconsin in a game at Lannon. The entire lineup of the northern division was selected because of the decisive 11-3 victory over the western stars at Hartland last Thursday night.

250 UW SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED HIGH SCHOOL GRADS

The principals of all high schools in Washington county were recently notified of the 250 new University of Wisconsin freshman scholarships which will be awarded to Wisconsin high school graduates who plan on entering their state university this fall.

The high school principals were asked to see that deserving students know about these scholarships in a letter from Kenneth Little, registrar and director of student personnel services at the university.

The university has been authorized by the state legislature to award scholarships to freshmen who are bona fide residents of Wisconsin, who during their high school course were good students, who possess qualifications for leadership, and who are in financial need. These scholarships will remit the general incidental fee in each of the two semesters in which the recipient is a freshman. Those attending the university at Madison will be required to pay only the regular infirmary and Memorial Union fees. Thus the cash value of the scholarship to the student attending at Madison will be $51.50 per semester.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

American Troops Taking Beating In Korea; Mobilization of U. S. Manpower and Industry Forecast

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

KOREA:

GI's Take Beating

As the Korean battle went into the fourth week it became apparent to every American that U.S. troops were taking a beating.

They were outnumbered; tanks were inferior and too few; guns and bazookas could not pierce the 12-inch armor of the Russian-made tanks. They were pinned to foxholes by tanks, artillery and mortars; overwhelmed by massed infantry, sniped at from the sides and rear by infiltrating columns.

Taejon, provisional capital of South Korea, was abandoned after the Kum river line was broken by thousands of fanatical Communists who charged American positions without regard to casualties. They overran first aid stations, killing patients and chaplains, and for every one the Americans killed, ten took his place.

American forces began a slow withdrawal which appeared to halt some 35 miles southeast of Taejon where a range of hills offered a natural defense position. Whether or not they held this position would depend upon reinforcements and the continued flow of guns, tanks, and ammunition.

No matter how optimistic a view an observer was inclined to take, the situation appeared serious. As has often been the case in the past, Americans greatly underrated North Korea's military strength and fighting determination.

Facts of the situation indicated: North Korea had 10 to 15 divisions—100,000 to 250,000 men, with replacements handy from the armies of Communist China when needed. At least 200 tanks, with replacements also available from Russia, and almost unlimited supplies behind the lines in Siberia and in Manchuria.

United States would need eight full divisions, perhaps 250,000 men. The inadequate supply of tanks and heavy artillery in the Pacific would have to be remedied.

The one bright spot in the picture was the work of the U.S. air force which had knocked out tanks, bombed and strafed troop concentrations and supply lines, and driven the North Korean planes from the air.

But military observers pointed out that air power will greatly increase the chances of victory, but the Korean war, as has been the case in all wars, will be won by the soldier who fights through mud and rain and cold and heat. The foot soldier has not been replaced with push-button warfare, as yet.

MCCARTHY:

Called a Liar

Senator Joseph McCarthy, who has had more front-page publicity in the American press than any one man in a number of years, has made the front pages again, but not to his liking.

The senator, still screaming charges of communism in the state department, was called a liar by three Democratic members of a senate investigating subcommittee.

Reporting their conclusions from a four-month inquiry, they attacked the Wisconsin Republican in terms of harshness rarely used in the senate's history. They accused him of conscious falsehood and of serving the interests of the Communists by raising baseless suspicion among the people of the country.

They cleared every person McCarthy accused of being a Communist.

The Republican members of the subcommittee, Senators Hickenlooper and Lodge, declined to sign the report.

The Democrat members termed McCarthy's charges "a fraud and a hoax perpetrated on the senate of the United States and the American people."

Their report said, in part: "They (McCarthy's charges) represent perhaps the most nefarious campaign of half truths and untruth in the history of this republic. For the first time in our history we have seen the totalitarian technique of the big lie employed on a sustained basis."

"The result has been to confuse and divide the American people at a time when they should be strong in their unity, to a degree far beyond the hopes of the Communists themselves, whose stock in trade is confusion and division."

SOVIET UNION:

An Olive Branch

Although no official announcement has been made, it is believed in many quarters the Soviet Union has offered terms for settling the Korean war. It is a bloody and wilted branch the Russians are holding out to the United Nations.

After the sugar coating of diplomatic language is penetrated, it seems Russia would be willing to call off the affair after China is seated in the United Nations.

Most observers agree it is nothing other than international blackmail on the part of Russia to the war weary peoples of the world. And many remember the Russians are not very good at keeping their word even if such an odiferous proposition was accepted.

However, no one sees the possibility of such a settlement. Such an agreement would undermine the United Nations to a point of total collapse. The pals of the Kremlin have forgotten one of the great virtues of this nation—it will not be bullied or blackmailed.

Korea Commander

Lt. General Walton H. Walker, a tank expert from Texas and commander of the Eighth Army, has been named to the top command post in Korea. Walker gained fame as commander of the 20th corps in Patton's Third Army.

MOBILIZATION: Is It Near?

Many observers are wondering if complete mobilization of this country's manpower and industrial strength is in prospect for the near future? Some believe it is, unless the world situation takes a sudden and unexpected turn for the better.

Within a matter of hours after this writing, President Truman was expected to go before congress and outline for the American people steps deemed urgent to cope with the Korean war. He was also scheduled to speak over a nationwide radio hookup and tell Americans just where we stand.

One official predicted the President would:

1. Request new military funds or contract authorizations totaling $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000.
2. Propose legislation authorizing 160,000 more men for the army above the present legal limit of 337,000 and 60,000 more for the Navy, which now cannot exceed 608,000. An increase may also be ordered for the 502,000-man air force.

HOME FRONT: Controls Likely

Observers on the home front are predicting limited controls to back up an intensified military campaign in Korea.

At this writing the controls had not been asked for, but observers pointed out that anti-inflationary action was becoming more urgent with each day. They predicted President Truman would ask for them within a very short time.

A request for higher taxes, to cover an expected jump in military spending, was held to be inevitable.

Government officials were predicting privately that President Truman would ask congress:

1. Power to allocate—by voluntary means, or more drastic measures if necessary—steel and a few other basic metals.
2. Authority to put quantity ceilings on the production of automobiles, television and radio sets and other civilian products consuming large quantities of metal, so that the demands of these industries will not interfere with arms production or create a "gray market" in prices.
3. Restoration of consumer credit controls. By tightening up on easy-payment credit for automobiles and other consumer goods, it is hoped that some of boom-level buying demand may be removed from the market.

LABOR:

Mobilization Urged

At least one labor leader, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has demanded all-out preparedness for any eventuality, including mobilization of labor.

"We find ourselves facing a situation with the implication of a third world war . . . If war is localized now, we know it is only a question of time until the inevitable happens. Only adequate preparedness can safeguard us," Green said.

He added: "We cannot send our soldier to the fighting front without training equipment and regular supplies . . . We must provide quick transportation which will increase mobility . . . There will be no side lines secure from bombing . . . There must be mobilization of labor."

Electoral College

In what observers believe to be one of the strangest line-ups in modern political history, the house killed, 210 to 134, the proposal that would have made a presidential election more nearly reflect the popular vote.

The senate approved the constitutional amendment last spring. The measure needed a two thirds vote. Had it passed, it would have needed approval by states.

The amendment would have done away with presidential electors. But there would have been no change in the system of each state's having electoral votes. A presidential candidate winning a majority of popular votes would no longer have taken all that state's electoral votes. He would have a portion of them based on his percentage of popular votes. The other candidates, too, would have their portion.

Had the system been in effect in 1948, Truman still would have won, but by fewer electoral votes.

ECONOMY:

Profits and Prices

As the Korean war roared into its fourth week much of the news was being made on the home front in the form of profits and prices.

Government agencies announced after-tax profits of American manufacturing firms as a whole were nearly five percent higher in the first quarter of 1950 than in the fourth quarter of 1949.

At the same time the prices of foods, especially meat and coffee, took an upward swing that made many consumers catch their breaths.

At least one congressman, Representative Klein of New York, demanded an investigation of high living costs and profiteering. He went so far as to charge bakers and dairies with "soaking the consumer without conscience."

"Meat prices are threatening to turn this country into a nation of vegetarians and ruin the cattle raising states," he said.

Also on the economic front, the Federal Reserve Board said preliminary figures show that industrial production reached a new postwar peak in June.

Production was estimated at about one percent higher than the previous postwar peak of October-November, 1948, and 17 percent above the level of June, 1949.

Some highlights on the net profits report:

1. After-tax profits were $100,000,000 higher in first-quarter 1950 than the preceding quarter, but unchanged from the 1949 first-quarter mark of $2,400,000,000.
2. The rate of return on stockholders' equity was 12 percent in first-quarter 1950 against 11.6 in last year's fourth quarter and 12.8 in its first-quarter.
3. Dividend payments to stockholders totaled $1,000,000,000 against $1,700,000,000 in last year's fourth quarter and $900,000,000 in first-quarter 1949.
4. Profits per dollar of sales rose to 6.2 cents from 6 in last year's fourth quarter and 6.1 in its first quarter.
5. Set-asides for federal-income taxes amounted to $1,500,000,000 in both the 1950 and 1949 first-in-four-quarter 1949.

EDUCATION:

No One Flunks

A new trend in education—100 percent promotion of pupils in the lower grades—is reported by educators.

Educators won't come right out and say no one flunks any more in the lower grades on the ground that some elementary pupils still need the threat of failing to spur them on, but it's true that fewer are flunking.

The new trend seems to be based on four points:

1. Little is learned by repeating.
2. Failure merely discourages and does not aid pupils.
3. There is no reliable way of determining failures.
4. Real failures cannot do the work, no matter how often they repeat.

This is a long jump from the days of reading, writing and arithmetic and the rule of the hickory stick. The educators sum up their report:

"Nonpromotion is an admission of an inadequate school program and has no place in a school where children are motivated properly and work to the level of their capacities."

"What is looked on as a pupil failure may be a teacher, supervisor, or administrator failure."

Into Battle

The realities of the Korean war were impressed on Americans in every walk of life as this country's soldier went into action in Korea. Scenes like the one above were grim reminders to Americans that the foot soldier is still the workhorse of war. A group of U.S. soldiers above are nearing the front.

HENRY WALLACE:

What Now, Little Man?

Henry Wallace, who calls himself a progressive but who has been the darling of the Communist press since his visit to Russia, now finds himself consigned to the ranks of Wall Street buccaniers by the Daily Worker.

Observers are wondering what will be the next utterance of this muddled thinker who was once the Vice-President of the United States and greatly liked?

Recently he supported the policies of the United States and the United Nations in Korea. As a result the attack by the Communist press.

At one time Henry Wallace had a great following in the mid-west. As his political thinking became more and more confused, however, his supporters dropped beside the road. Now he is deserted by his Communist supporters and may be ousted as head of the Progressive party. Republicans and Democrats want nothing to do with him. He stands alone, a strange figure.

Shakespeare's Globe

weekly Picture story

● All the world may have been a stage for William Shakespeare, but he scored his greatest successes on one particular stage—that of London's Globe Theatre. Hofstra College President Dr. John Cranford Adams displays (above) his three dimensional model of the theater which was destroyed by fire in 1613. Dr. Adams was assisted by commercial artist Irwin Smith, (left) who cut and laid some 6,500 tiny eraser rubber bricks. In Elizabethan times the courtyard held the lesser folks.

● Holding an ale tankard in his right hand, a fat and ruddy Falstaff, (right) carved and painted by Smith, is made to scale for the theater. There were very few documents to be found bearing directly upon the building's design after it burned. Dr. Adams, however, managed to build the miniature, executed in minute detail, during a period of 10 years. He has poured the accumulation of 26 years research into the project. The walnut entrance of the theatre is a reproduction of the doorway of Ford's hospital in Coventry; the door itself is taken from Contmarle in Dorset.

● Lady Percy (left) is another character from "Henry IV" that Mr. Smith carved as a companion for Falstaff. The artist expects to complete many other Shakespearean characters to people the stage. Below is a stage-section view of the playhouse that displays the greatly expanded multiple stage, one of the innovations brought to theatrical history by the building of the Globe. The three-level stage made continuous dramatic action possible. The building would seat 1,400 persons. Dr. Adams' model is insured for $50,000 and will be displayed at the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington. Later it may be sent to England. The original building was constructed of oak timbers, horsehair and lime.

● At left are the cannon which caused the destruction of the Globe, 14 years after its erection. During a production of "Henry VIII" a salute of these cannon to mark the entrance of the king upon the stage, set fire to the thatched roof. The playhouse was totally razed. Loss of any but the scantiest records have made its reconstruction a guessing game.

"I suffered with constipation, but had. Medicines didn't help for long. Lucky for me, I decided to make ALL-BRAN my breakfast cereal. Believe me, I feel like a new man!" Sam Plesky, 1937 Churchill Av., Cleve., O. Just one of many unsolicited letters from ALL-BRAN users. Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago . . . "that is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to eat these things—I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough." HADACOL Can Help You, Too!

. . . as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind

. . . to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Send no money. Just your name and address on a penny post card. Pay postman. State whether you want the $3.50 hospital economy size or $1.25 trial size. Remember, money cheerfully refunded unless you are 100% satisfied.—Adv.

MILLER'S

SALUTE THE KEWASKUM UTENSIL COMPANY

for the fine job they have done during their first five years in Kewaskum. We Wish You Continued Success!

Do We Remember?

DID YOU SAY, or did you think that the crash of guns, the rattle and crackle of small arms, the deadly thudding of grenades, the swish of iridescent water against the sides of blacked-out ships, the scream of dive bombers, the shrill insistence of bomb-siren whistles, the trailing whir of rockets, the blunt crash of bombs, the shrieks of dying men, are all in the past?

Most folks think that those days are layered over with the press of current events and the pressure of day to day living in peace and what goes for security these days.

Yes, most folks think the hell and horror of war is over. Most people are glad that the stink and the mud and the terror is all part of history now.

But it isn't—not at all.

THOSE THINGS live today almost as fresh and terribly terrifying as they were five, six or seven years ago. Those things happen again every night and tear the soul with as cruel slashes as they did on the beaches of a thousand islands, in the hedgerows, mountain passes and deserts of the fronts all around the globe.

The hurt and the memory of the hurt still lingers. In the minds of the men whose bodies and minds were torn in the holocaust the recollection never grows dim.

Those thousands who have spent every day since then in hospitals have had to live close to it. They have not had the grace and goodness of civilian life to spread a thin veneer of insulation over scars and horrors of those days.

OH, I KNOW HOW easy it is to forget things which are painful to remember—unless such have been branded so deeply that conscious thought is never free from the ugly recollection.

Thus it comes as a shock, a hurting shock to hear that more than fifty thousand disabled American veterans have been in the hospitals for an entire year without a single visitor.

The gray walls, the gray corridors, the gray bathrobes, the gray ceilings and the gray faces of the patients in the veterans' hospitals are so easy to forget. So easy to put out of mind in the rush and color and goodness of life in these United States.

But we must not forget. We must not forget so soon. We promise a lot of times that we wouldn't forget them. Now it is time to pay the debt—and it is a real debt.

IT IS THE TIME NOW when the veteran who has been awarded a compensation payment under the law is looked upon as a tax liability and moves are under way in both houses of congress to effect some economies in this part of governmental expense.

This, too, is further evidence that we are forgetting.

Good to relate is the fact that the Disabled American Veterans (the DAV) are organized in order to help each other. No other program or project is on their agenda. The idealism of the organization is not left to walk on clouds. It is practical and hard headed in its approach to the problems of the disabled veteran. Of course there are some mistakes made, but they are few and hundreds of worthy, needy and honest veterans are honestly helped.

So it behooves us who are fortunate to remember—to remember that the war isn't over—that it won't be over—that it comes back again and again and again, into the lives of those it hurt in body and mind.

Fifty thousand completely forgotten disabled American veterans is a national disgrace. Add to that figure those other hundreds of thousands who still bear the burden of war with a tiny money payment as compensation.

THAT'S ALL FOR TODAY.—Don't forget those who can't forget.

—J. M. Herlet, "Sounding Off", Posh Valley Democrat, Posh Valley, Oklahoma, winner of Disabled American Veterans annual newspaper column award.

COUNTY HAS 131 ENROLLED IN UW HOME STUDY COURSES

Washington county had 131 students enrolled last year in correspondence-study courses of the University of Wisconsin. No Wisconsin county failed to enroll students, of adult and youth ages, in college-grade courses for home study.

Forty-five—more than one-half—of Wisconsin's counties furnished more than 100 registrations each. Dane county led with 1,428 and Milwaukee was next with 928. Smallest number was Florence county's 13.

The year's total for the state was 12,634 active registrations, of which 4,992 were new in 1949. Out-of-state registrations added 1,647 more.

Wisconsin's enrollees included many adults who, avoiding the high-cost offerings of out-of-state commercial schools, are taking courses from their own state university at low fees made possible by the state subsidy under which the quality of the instruction is guaranteed.

CLYDE SCHLOEMER OF WEST BEND IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Tuesday morning, July 25, Attorney Clyde J. Schloemer, former mayor of West Bend, consented to file the nomination papers which were presented to him by the Democrats of the Sixth Congressional District.

Influential farm, labor and business leaders in the district obtained over 1,000 signatures to nomination papers on behalf of Atty. Schloemer as a candidate for congress on the Democratic ticket despite the fact that he had repeatedly refused to seek the nomination for this office.

In accepting this draft, Atty. Schloemer announced that he intended to make an active campaign on behalf of good government by enlisting the support of aggressive citizens of all parties in a drive to bring out every vote in the district. He says that good citizenship requires that every eligible person cast his vote in this hour when American democracy is at stake. "In this way," Atty. Schloemer said, "I can feel that I have made a worthwhile contribution toward the strengthening of our American way of life regardless of whether I win or lose this election."

Atty. Schloemer has become widely known in Wisconsin through his eight years service as mayor of West Bend, his work on behalf of city planning, and his lectures on "The Six Trials of Jesus from a Legal Viewpoint."

The dangerous age for men is when they begin to regret the sins they didn't commit.

'How Are You?'
Is Just Polite

Should you take "How are you?" literally?

Answer: As a rule. No. When the average person asks about your health, he's merely being "polite" and you'll surprise and annoy him if you go into details about how you are feeling. Of course, if you've been ill and it is a friend who asks you, that's another matter. But even so, telling someone that you feel bad when there's nothing he can do about it does you no good and makes him needlessly uncomfortable. Keep your aches and pains to yourself even with your family, unless it is necessary to explain why you are not your usual self.

showed a less realistic view of life than would be normal for children of twelve to fourteen. To face and accept life as it is, while worth the effort, requires the full use of all our mental powers, and when these decline, we become children again.

Are there different ways of reading?

Answer: Yes, says Dr. Emmett Albert Betts, Director of Temple University Reading Clinic, Philadelphia. In a well-balanced reading program, a child should be taught to "skim" material at high speed to locate ideas; to "read rapidly" to get a general impression of an author's meaning, and to do "study-type reading" to think problems through and organize ideas. The old-fashioned notion that you should read every word of every type of reading matter both makes you waste time and may discourage you from reading at all.

Is it easier to be childish than to be adult?

Answer: Yes. And one proof is that as our mental powers decline in old age, we tend to revert to childish ways of thinking. Psychologists Wayne Dennis and Betty Mallinger report that seventy-five per cent of inmates of homes for the aged gave answers to test questions which

KEEPING HEALTHY

Adding to the Working Life Span

By Dr. James W. Barton

BECAUSE THE AVERAGE LIFE expectancy has increased almost 20 years—from 47 to 66—since the beginning of the century, there are more elderly men and women than any other single age group. This great increase in the number of elderly persons has brought problems of health and security to every community.

While security is very important to everybody, there are other points to be considered, such as the working span; that is, how long the elderly man and woman is able to work or allowed to work.

Because of the great number of the aged and the problems they present to the community and themselves, medical journals, magazines and even newspapers are now published for the elderly.

In "The Journal of Gerontology," Dr. E. C. Clague shows that while life expectancy has been steadily increasing in recent decades, there have been no corresponding gains in the working life span. Modern industrial and occupational trends have had the effect of lengthening the working life span; in fact if anything, they tend to shorten it, because there has been no increase in the kind of work elderly men and women are able to do.

"A program for extension of working life is needed as an alternative to a steady increase in the period of old age dependency and in the corresponding economic burden," Dr. Clague writes.

During the depression period we are told that the British workers preferred to work for 30 shillings rather than remain idle and collect 25 shillings a week from the government. The same applies to the elderly, who greatly dislike the thought that employers consider them unfit for work when they reach a certain age.

To keep elderly people happy, employment for which they are fit should be provided by the community. Dr. Clague states that "this will require concerted community action."

HEALTH NOTES

Group games conducted by competent supervisors in civic playgrounds cost a community considerable money, but no other investment pays such large dividends.

Early ambulation may be practiced after operations on appendix, stomach, large bowel, bile ducts, kidneys and male and female organs.

Surgeons are allowing patients undergoing operation for removal of the appendix to get out of bed immediately after operation.

Tooth decay can be reduced 50 to 60 per cent by brushing the teeth immediately after eating.

A large meal at noon is not advisable for mental workers as it keeps them heavy or sleepy.

A new drug which relieves pain of rheumatism is Tolserol.

An individual can be changed from an accident-prone driver to one with fewer accidents.

After six months, babies prefer to sleep on their faces with their knees drawn up.

Unilateral prefrontal lobotomy is an acceptable measure for the relief of intractable pain.

In the ordinary type of leukemia the spleen becomes enlarged sometimes 10 times its normal size.

Early symptoms of polio are headache, fever, nausea, upset stomach and sore throat.

The emotions are a significant factor in the restoration to normal of every prolonged illness.

Persistence in treatment is necessary in all methods of removing pinworms

Heredity in Sport

JOHN PARTRIDGE, the veteran race horse trainer and one of the smartest, was discussing a new angle concerning heredity in sport. "Years ago," he said, "I spent some time at the Mayo's in Rochester, Minn. There I discovered to my surprise that Dr. Mayo was a turf lover as well as an occasional horse player.

"I spend most of my time," Dr. Mayo said, "with the sick and the dying. The thoroughbred is my only outside outlet."

"It was then," John Partridge said, "that we began discussing various angles on heredity among competitors.

"I've discovered one thing," Dr. Mayo said then, "That is that athletic mothers rarely give birth to athletic children. I mean the ones that come to me. They are so muscularly developed that apparently they need too many things to carry their own system. I have checked back as far as I could and have discovered that most fine athletes come from mothers who were not athletes—not in any way. I mean the Cobbs, the Ruths, the Dempseys, the Hagens. Most of them were rather frail.

"For that matter," Dr. Mayo said, "not many fine athletes on the male side breed sons or daughters who are good at athletic games. Out of a long list of children from these famous athletes I've discovered very few who ever amounted to much as competitors in sport."

"This got me to thinking recently about this subject," Partridge said. "So I began looking into the horse angle. I discovered from a long review that very few good running mares ever gave the racing game either good colts or good fillies.

"Here's a list," The veteran trainer took out a record book and the figures were there to prove his statement. Most of the good ones came from well-bred mares, but not good racing mares.

"A Man O'War can be the sire of many great racing horses," John said. "But it doesn't work that way for mares who can win races. It must be for the same reason Dr. Mayo discovered or dug up a few years ago. One would think that an athletic father and mother would produce an athletic child. Only they don't. Or at least rarely. Apparently heredity on the athletic field doesn't run that way."

It is a subject that could stand a bit more study.

The Younger Stars
What has become of the younger golf stars? Where are such kids from the past as Bobby Jones, Francis Ouimet, Chick Evans, Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Johnny Goodman, Bob Gardner?

In the recent P.G.A. the last 16 left averaged around 36 years of age. Cary Middlecoff and Jack Burke are about the only new names that have sprung up lately. The P.G.A. apparently wants no youth in its major tournament which frequently leads to such results as we had at Columbus with two old-timers left.

It was nice to see two instructors fighting out the last round with the tournament stars beaten out, but someone in golf should start encouraging a few young fellows.

On the amateur side, they turn pro when they can make part of a living at the game.

Golf has always had one major trouble. It is too expensive for too many people. The price of golf balls has risen. The price of clubs is up. Caddies cost you $2 or more a round now against 75 cents and a dollar a few years back. There are few caddies from the younger crop watching crack veterans play as Sarazen, Hagen and others did.

Jerry Travers was a kid phenom at 15, Bobby Jones shot a 70 when he was 12. At 14 he reached the last eight in the amateur championship.

I saw Chick Evans shooting in the low 70's when he was 16. Francis Ouimet was scoring 70 to 71 when he was 18.

Golf was then a young man's game. It is still a young man's game but not many kids today have the money or the zest for hard work needed.

The Total Base Record

Recently Bobby Doerr of the Red Sox contributed two home runs, a triple and a single in one game.

Back in the 90's, Bobby Lowe of Boston and Ed Delahanty of Philadelphia each hit four home runs and a single in one game.

This is a matter of 17 total bases and it still stands.

Lou Gehrig, one afternoon in Philadelphia, came the closest to cracking this mark. Lou hit four homers and at his last time at bat smashed out a long fly ball.

Babe Ruth was never able to approach the 17-total-base collection for one game. Neither was Jimmy Foxx nor Hank Greenberg. Ted Williams hasn't been close.

Duke Snider of the Dodgers hit three home runs and a single this spring, a total of 13 bases, but Duke was a home run shy.

With the double rabbit ball now in use, there is no telling when some big hitter will have a record afternoon, provided the opposing pitcher can slip the ball near enough to hit.

Menu III
Chilled Apricot Nectar
Sea Food Salad in Tomato Cups
Potato Chips
Pickle Fans
Coconut Ice Cream Balls

How to prepare: Chill apricot nectar and all salad ingredients overnight. Ice cream balls may be made in advance if they can be frozen in refrigerator.

Coconut Ice Cream Balls (Makes 12)

3 pints vanilla ice cream
Food coloring (red, yellow or green)

1/2 cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste

Flake tuna fish and shrimp; remove black line from shrimp. Mix all seafood together and add French dressing. Marinate for 15 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and toss lightly.

If the wild green hunt does not yield much, you might try combining several different kinds to give enough for a vegetable.

Wild greens will wilt quickly. Plan to use them as rapidly as possible to get them at their best, and for their vitamins and minerals, too.

Discard wilted and damaged leaves, and cut off roots when you prepare them for use. Lift out of water several times to dislodge all dirt.

Lamb's quarters is another name for wild spinach, and it has a delicate flavor. Cook it as you would spinach. You'll find the green in rich garden patches or in potato fields.

Flaxain is a heavy leaved green that hugs the ground as close as dandelion and should be dug the same way. Use only young, tender leaves. Wash, crisp and shred, and they make a nice green for salads.

Purslane is a sprawling weed with small thick leaves. It can be cooked by steaming, and is also used in soups and salads.

This cherry mousse made in a mold is a cool invitation to lazy summertime appetites. Made of smooth, whipped cream and sprinkled throughout with tempting bits of tart red cherries, this dessert is bound to please.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Remember never to boil meat. High temperatures toughen even the most tender meat. Keep the cooking temperature just below boiling or at a simmering temperature to get the best results.

The greenish-white part of watermelon rind between the skin and the flesh can be made into a delicious preserve.

Braising—a process that combines browning, steaming, and stewing—is a good way to cook the less tender kinds of meat.

While doing other housework, use your alarm clock when cooking. Set it so it will ring when food should be removed from the stove.

Over-cooked vegetables can be as unattractive as wilted flowers on a table.

Potatoes are grown on about one and one-half to two million farms throughout the United States.

It takes centuries to cover a mountain with foliage. A fool and his match can destroy it in a day.

There are just two rules for serving watermelon successfully—pick a good one, and serve it cold.

A storage space that has a temperature of from 35 to 45 degrees F., with a humidity of 85 per cent or more, is ideal for conserving egg quality.

There's a trick to making golden brown, crisp fried potatoes. The trick is to partially cook them about two hours before you need them—cook them about five minutes in deep fat at 370 degrees F. Then just before serving, reheat fat to 390 degrees F. and cook potatoes about two minutes or until brown. Drain on absorbent paper and serve immediately.

Amazing results proved by independent scientific test. For cleaner teeth, for a brighter smile... try Calox yourself!

YOUR NATIONAL FORESTS
180 Million Acres of U. S. Forests Offer Ideal Vacation Opportunity

Perhaps you haven't thought much about it, but some 180 million acres of national forest land are yours for the using this summer. That's a little more than an acre apiece and with few exceptions they are yours to use for free. Owned by Uncle Sam and administered by the Forest Service, these acres offer recreation and vacation opportunities unlimited. You don't have to know an oak from a pine tree to enjoy one of the 4,500 camping and picnicking areas scattered from Maine to California. For most American families one of these sites, complete with fireplace and picnic table and benches, is within a day's driving distance of home. The areas will accommodate 280,000 people at one time, insuring plenty of elbow room unless you choose a very popular area near a large city during a long weekend. The forests provide boundless activities. The 750 rangers managing the areas don't organize trips for you; they don't serve as guides. However, they are friendly men, ready to answer questions, direct you to points of interest, and make your visit a pleasant one.

Miles of Trails

If it's sittin' and eatin' you want, the ranger can tell you where to get the best scenery with your meals. But if it's rockin' you want with your sittin', you'll have to bring your own chair, or patronize one of the 50 privately owned and operated resorts on national forest land.

What you do in the forest is pretty much up to your individual taste. There are 136,000 miles of trails, forming in places a maze of foot and horse paths. In the west the Pacific Coast Trail system traverses the cascades of the Pacific northwest and the Sierras of California, north and south across the United States from Canada to Mexico. In the east the Appalachian Trail stretches more than 2,000 miles from Mt. Katahdin in Maine to Mt. Oglethorpe in Georgia.

Short trails leading to scenic spots offer half-hour to half-day jaunts for the tired business man and his family. The more experienced woodsman can plan a backpack trip of several days' duration, camping nights at three-sided shelters usually spaced 10 to 15 miles apart in the East.

For those who want to hike unencumbered except for personal items, the Appalachian Mountain Club of Boston operates a chain of huts in the White Mountains of New Hampshire where one can bunk for the night, get dinner and breakfast, and have a trail lunch put up at a reasonable rate.

The less adventuresome can join hiking clubs—the Sierra Club, the Obsidians, the American Alpine Club, the Appalachian Mountain Club or some of the smaller trail and mountain climbing clubs throughout the country. Many of these clubs run organized trips for members into the national forests.

Fine Fishing Offered

For rugged individuals the Forest Service has set aside 14 million acres of real wilderness. Untouched land preserved in its original state for future generations, these areas present a real challenge to those with a pioneer spirit.

No roads lead into these wilderness areas. You walk, ride horseback, or paddle your own canoe and carry grub and equipment to last you the length of your stay. You can be your own guide and your own cook.

On the national forests there are many swimming areas, 70,000 miles of streams for fishing, and 100 million acres of good hunting country. There are 120,000 miles of forest highways and roads for the motorist or bicyclist.

Because his creations must be pleasing to millions, the industrial designer must be gifted with a super sixth sense. He has to know intuitively what will strike people, then work with engineers and production men in perfecting the product. Requisites for its success: look better; be more durable and efficient; be easier to keep and keep up; cost less than its competitors.

Important Field

Like most of his contemporaries, Chapman finds relaxation and inspiration in other arts. Some designers write, paint, do sculpture or compose music, in addition to their design. Chapman is an architect, recognized oil and water color painter, master black and white and color photographer, and collector of rare books and ethnic recordings. As our culture progresses, our tastes grow finer, more exacting. We expect better and better things. So the industrial designer is growing in importance to our happiness. Your "crystal ball," revealing what you will use in the future, is the industrial designer's drawing board today. Right now, he's busy creating what you will use in 1955 and 1960.

26,000,000 Visited Forests Last Year

So long as you are considerate of others, leave the camping area clean, and are careful with fire, you can do pretty much as you please in the national forests. No salesman knocks at the tent flap or overtakes you on the trail. No alarm clock peeps at an uneasy hour of the morning. You rise when you feel like it and go to bed likewise.

Last year Americans made 26,000,000 visits to the national forests. This year forest rangers expect even more people to get acquainted with their own backyards.

Many forests provide ideal streams for canoe trips.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, strain and stress, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. INQUIRIES ON SERVICEMEN'S CIVIL RIGHTS ANSWERED IN ADMINISTRATION BULLETIN

The Veterans Administration central office has received numerous inquiries whether present or future members of the armed forces will receive same protection of their civil rights during the current emergency that World War II military personnel enjoyed under the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended.

For the benefit of all concerned George Kolb, county veteran service officer, submits the following bulletin recently released by Veterans Administration.

Certain sections of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act were terminated by the act that set July 25, 1947, as the official end of the war for the purpose of certain benefits for veterans of wartime service.

The Draft Act of 1945 reinstated those sections of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act previously terminated and the Draft Act of 1950 extended the law for another year to July 9, 1951.

The Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act now applies to such civil liabilities as rent, installment contracts, mortgages including GI loans, insurance, taxes and public lands.

VA administers only the insurance section although certain legal questions arising under the loan guaranty program will come up for VA consideration.

All other sections are more or less self executing or depend upon individual initiative of the servicemen and women in the armed forces.

VA's responsibility under the insurance section is substantially as follows: Servicemen or women may apply to VA for the protection of their commercial life insurance policies while they are in service. This protection is afforded by way of guarantee of premiums. VA has the authority to approve each application in an amount not to exceed $10,000 of the face value of the policies of each individual. VA also has the authority to disapprove any application that does not meet the requirements of the law.

Any premiums and policy loan interest that VA may pay for the insured under this act will remain as an indebtedness against the individual until repaid. VA is not authorized to waive this indebtedness.

Facts about Wisconsin Traffic Accidents 1949

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of brief articles based on facts compiled from accident reports covering 33,285 Wisconsin traffic accidents in 1949. These facts are the "voice of experience" for Wisconsin motorists and pedestrians.)

RELEASE FOLLOWS

What was the most common violation on the part of drivers involved in accidents on Wisconsin streets and highways last year?

According to Wisconsin Accident Facts, published by the safety division of the state motor vehicle department, the most common fault was operating "too fast for conditions."

Second most frequent driver error was "failure to yield right-of-way at intersection." Third worst fault was "failure to stay in correct lane."

Fourth most frequent flaw in driver behavior was "following too closely." And fifth most common error was "improper starting from a parked position."

REEMPLOYMENT RIGHTS ARE CONTINUED BY EXTENSION OF SELECTIVE SERVICE ACT

Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin has announced that inductees, inductees and reservists who leave jobs in private industry or with the federal government to perform active service in the armed forces are eligible for re-employment rights as a result of Public Laws 572 and 499, 81st Congress, which extend the Selective Service Act of 1948 until July 9, 1951.

Secretary Tobin explained that re-employment rights apply to the person who enlists in the armed forces prior to July 9, 1951 if it is his first enlistment after June 24, 1948 and for a period not more than 2 years unless extended by law, and to the reservist who enters upon active duty between June 24, 1948 and July 9, 1951 if released within 3 years after entering upon active duty or as soon after the expiration of such 3 years as he is able to obtain orders relieving him from active duty.

"Of special interest to reservists is the fact that the Selective Service Act of 1948, as amended, extends re-employment rights to persons who enter upon active duty in the armed forces in response to an order or call to active duty," the secretary said. "Whether with or without his consent, a person going on active duty does so in response to a call to active duty. The statute draws no distinction between the reasons behind the call."

The Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights in the Department of Labor has responsibility for handling re-employment rights under section 2 of the Selective Service Act. Persons seeking information about such rights should contact George A. Kolb, veteran service officer, who is also the re-employment committee member for the local Selective Service board.
