The Play at Second

SOME TIME BACK Dr. George Bennett, the noted medical and surgical expert from Baltimore, was talking about the "double play break up" at second. "This is the play used to break up double plays," he said. "It is the play in baseball and should be abolished because it is unfair and cowardly and also because it hurts more ballplayers than you know. I've had any number come to me for treatment of back or leg injuries due to collisions at second base. I can't understand why baseball tolerates such a play. It will end or shorten the careers of many ballplayers in the course of time."

Dr. Bennett is 100 per cent correct. In the first place the play is unfair and cowardly. The player handling the ball, shortstop or second baseman, has no chance to protect himself. His job is to take the throw and make the relay to first base. The base-runner, coming to the bag, has a clear shot at his unprotected opponent. The opponent is often completely at the base-runner's mercy. The player back muscles torn loose or his legs or knees badly damaged.

A recent example was the Eddie Joost case. Joost is one of the star veterans of baseball. He was Connie Mack's most useful player, or one of his more useful players, at least. He was taken out by Cliff Mapes of the Yankees in a recent game. But the main trouble was he wasn't merely taken out of that particular play. He was taken out for the rest of the season, or the better part of it. He may have been taken out for the rest of his career. Certainly Mapes didn't intend to wreck a fellow player's baseball career. But in the speed and heat of action such as this play calls for, it is impossible to tell what the result might be.

There is no one who knows more about the handling of ballplayers in trouble than Dr. Bennett. When he rates this play the most dangerous and useless in the game he happens to know what he is talking about.

One of the first moves at the next fall or winter league meetings should be to abolish this play. Baseball isn't supposed to be football. The two games are entirely different. Baseball is more a game of skill than football can ever be.

The chances are nothing will be done about the play until two or three stars are wrecked, possibly for life, and then some change will be made later—when it is too late for the already injured.

Most Graceful Player

"Help us settle an argument," writes L. F. "Who, in your opinion, is or was the most graceful ballplayer you ever saw?" Among those mentioned by the group were Tris Speaker, Nap Lajoie, Joe DIMaggio, Joe Gordon, George Burns and George Sisler. Nap Lajoie is the most graceful ballplayer we ever saw in action. One proof of greatness is that we can't recall any spectacular play Larry ever made. He made every type of play seem easy. There was no waste motion. For example, in covering second on a steal Lajoie used only his gloved hand. He had the knack of sweeping the ball to the base-runner with one motion.

This grace extended to the bat. You never saw Lajoie crouched and tense as most hitters are today. He would stand at the plate with the bat in his left hand and take it up just in time to swing at the ball.

In spring training, pitchers would test out Lajoie's timing. They would get to him the first day or two in camp before his batting eye was adjusted to the ball. They would throw in front of him, back of him, in the ground at his feet, over his head. But Larry kept knocking the ball back.

On a hit and run I've seen him throw his bat at a wide pitch and single over first base. Lajoie was no small man. He was over six feet and he weighed around 200 pounds.

Ketchel and Greb

The meeting of this pair would have been a ring classic. The west still goes with Ketchel. The east rides with Greb. Of the two Ketchel was the better puncher. Greb was much the better boxer. Philadelphia Jack O'Brien outboxed Ketchel for nine rounds by a wide margin and then finished the 10th dreading of the hour, after the manner of Byron's Turk. Ketchel practically beheaded O'Brien.

Kid McCoy might have been a tough opponent for either Ketchel or Greb at his peak. The Kid was a brilliant boxer and a punishing puncher. Greb at his best almost annihilated Tom Gibbons and Gene Tunney in one season. This was the worst beating that Tunney ever got. I also saw Greb take Jack Dillon apart.

It is the general belief of the public at large that the LaMotta and Mitrani met, for the 1950 title. Ray Robinson is still the best middleweight in the trade.

The Way it Happened...
IN SUTTON, W. VA. . . . Hartzell Friend was held on assault charges for sinking his teeth into the hand of an obstinate debtor and banging on until the man wrote him a check with his free hand for the $15 debt.
IN MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA . . . A woman's will left her husband a lottery ticket a month for life on condition that any winnings be used to pay her debts.
IN WHITEHALL, N. Y. . . . Citizens noticed tame ducks staggering about the streets and quacking off key. discovered a beer truck had crashed, giving the ducks their first taste of an intoxicating beverage.

Princess' Husband Climbing Ladder
Princess Elizabeth's husband has started out to work himself to the top of the ladder. Prince Philip won his first command in the British navy recently. The admiralty announced the tall, handsome Philip would take charge of the anti-aircraft frigate Magpie in August. Court circles predicted also that at about the same time he would be upped from lieutenant to lieutenant commander. Philip, 29 next month, now is first lieutenant of the destroyer Chequers, based at Malta. He returned to active Naval duty last fall. The 1,430-ton Magpie is manned by six officers and 186 men. She mounts four six-inch guns, eight two-pounders and several pom-pom anti-aircraft pieces.

Facts about Wisconsin Traffic Accidents

RELEASE FOLLOWS

More 21-year-old drivers were involved in fatal traffic accidents than drivers of any other single age in Wisconsin last year, according to Wisconsin Accident Facts, published by the safety division of the state motor vehicle department.

The 21-year-old driver also was the most frequently involved persons behind the wheel in non-fatal accidents, and also the most frequently involved motorist in property damage mishaps.

In death-dealing mishaps last year, 41 drivers were 21 years old, 49 were 15 years old, and 39 were 22 years old. Thirty-four were 27 years old, and there were 30 drivers 18 years old, 30 drivers 23 years old and 30 drivers 24 years old.

Rain and cool weather have killed a good share of the grasshopper crop in Wisconsin this summer.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Reds Make New Advance in Korea; Living Costs Continue to Climb Truman Asks Mobilization Steps;

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

KOREA: Reds Advance

For four weeks Americans had picked up their morning newspapers and read about the Communist advances in Korea. Now, as the fifth week of the conflict began, the Reds continued to make advances, but not with the ease of the early weeks of the invasion.

The military picture in Korea was not bright by any means, but at the same time, it was not so hopeless as it seemed a few days ago.

The Communists had advanced into Yongdong, about 20 miles south of fallen Taegon, on the central front. Along the western coast, the Communies advanced south to Mokpo on the southern tip of Korea. On the northern front that touches the east coast, Yongdok, captured by American forces, was retaken by Red troops.

North Korean troops had captured two-thirds of South Korea and were continuing steady pressure upon American and South Korean troops.

The line was slowly being pushed back toward the main American supply port of Pusan.

According to U. S. military experts, however, the picture had its brighter side. They pointed to the number of reinforcements that have reached Korea, the telling blows of the U. S. air force on supply lines and tanks, and the success of the new 3 1/2-inch bazooka against Red tanks.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commander of United Nations forces in Korea, made the statement that the Communists have lost their chance for victory.

A new view of the conflict has been taken by the Pentagon. At first the Korean affair was looked upon as a minor fight which this country could take care of in six months. This estimate has been revised sharply upward.

There is no lack of optimism over the eventual result, but there is a clearly defined desire to discourage any thought of a swift victory. In fact, some military authorities report it may be next spring before an offensive can be launched and as many as 200,000 men may be used in it.

A general summary of the situation would seem to indicate the picture has many unpleasant features, but is not entirely hopeless.

LIVING COSTS: Continue to Climb

To the average American, the man who has a definite income within which he must live, a new and serious worry has appeared. Prices have continued to climb since the beginning of the Korean war, not as fast as the first days after the opening of the conflict, but a steady upward spiral that is beginning to cause hardship for those with low incomes.

The creeping advance widened out through the list of goods, clothing and food. Only a few items essential to America's standard of living remained at the level of the first frightening days of the Korean conflict.

The experts believe the American people are bringing the increases upon themselves. Consumers still crowded into stores to stock up on goods they remembered as scarce in the last war. Department store sales soared 24 percent above the same period of last year. The greatest gain was 39 percent in Dallas, Texas.

Sugar, coffee, cocoa, flour, lard and eggs were reported higher throughout the country. The price of meat climbed rapidly in some localities, although wholesale prices were reported to have fallen since the opening of the Korean conflict.

Observers pointed out that by hoarding, Americans are creating a demand. In turn retailers are taking advantage of the demand and increasing prices for quick profit.

It was the old story of quick profit and greed and the selfishness of a minor group of individuals causing hardship on the public generally.

As compared to prices a week before the conflict began, tin was up 15 cents a pound, wheat up 13 1/2 cents a bushel, rubber up 1 1/2 cents a pound, eggs up 8 cents a dozen, lard up 4 1/2 cents a pound, and hogs up $4 a hundredweight.

This trend, if continued, can mean price controls will become necessary. It may mean, also, rationing of food, clothing and vital industrial materials.

POPULATION: Up 19 Million

The 1950 population of the United States has been estimated at 150,520,000, almost 19 million higher than the 1940 total, the Census bureau reports.

The nation's population has just about doubled in 50 years and the 1940 to 1950 jump was the greatest for any 10-year period in history. The figures will not be official until checked and revised where necessary.

The final figures will be used by congress to help determine how many representatives each state will be entitled to in the house.

Kentucky, Arkansas, Georgia, Illinois, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Tennessee are likely to lose one seat according to the latest count. Florida, Indiana, Michigan, Oregon, Texas and Washington, likely to gain one. California could gain eight seats and New York and Pennsylvania lose three and two seats respectively.

California led the parade of increases over 1940 with 51.6 percent

Eisenhower

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, president of Columbia university and a national defense consultant of President Truman, wears a quizzical expression as he is interviewed by newsmen. He does not see today's Korean fighting as necessarily the start of World War III, but insisted "we've got to win." He added, "If our forces in Korea are defeated the entire world will be thrown into another great war."

TRUMAN: Report to Congress

President Truman in his message to congress on the Korean situation called for $10,000,000,000 down payment on a vast mobilization drive to win the war and combat any Red aggression elsewhere in the world.

He left no doubt in the minds of Americans, and the world in general, about the situation when he said:

"The free world has made it clear, through the United Nations, that lawless aggression will be met with force. This is the significance whose importance cannot be overlooked."

"I shall not attempt to predict the course of events. But I am sure that those who have it in their power to unleash or withhold acts of armed aggression must realize that new recourse to aggression in the world today might well strain to the breaking point the fabric of world peace."

"We will not flinch in the face of danger or difficulty."

He recommended anti-inflation controls, a swift stepping up of war production, additional huge sums to arm non-Communist nations and a sharp boost in taxes.

He authorized the calling of reservists and guardsmen, along with free use of the draft law to build up fighting units. Secretary of Defense Johnson was authorized to call units as needed.

A summary of the steps asked of congress:

Remove all statutory limits on size of the armed forces.

Provide $10,000,000,000 additional military funds; details to be supplied later.

Authorize a priorities-and-allocation system for materials for non-essential purposes; prevent inventory hoarding; authorize seizure of materials needed for the fighting effort.

Authorize government loans and loan guarantees to spur defense productions.

SECURITY: Call F. B. I.

President Truman's statement asking all law-enforcement officers and amateur detectives to channel suspicious information regarding espionage, sabotage, and subversive activities to the F.B.I. had caused many Americans to wonder what is in store for the U.S.

The statement presumably was prompted by the Korean war. Truman stressed that all such inquiries must be conducted in a comprehensive manner on a national basis, and all information carefully sifted out and correlated in order to avoid confusion.

Truman made no mention of Communists in his statement. Anyone with information should report it to the nearest F.B.I. office, located in each of the nation's 51 major cities, or ask the telephone operator to connect them to the nearest office, an F.B.I. spokesman reported.

The spokesman emphasized the informant's identity would be kept confidential and he would not normally be brought face to face with the accused. He said anonymous letters are not welcome.

Unemployment

With nearly everything going up these days, it is astonishing to find anything going down very fast. There is one thing, however: the number of payments to the unemployed.

According to the labor department, between January and June there was a 30 per cent drop in the number of people drawing unemployment insurance benefits under state laws.

The statement did not estimate the number who had exhausted the amounts they could draw. In January 2,077,568 were drawing compensation; in June 1,388,000.

The total amount paid out in January, $186,383,000; in June $119,430,000.

The census bureau has announced that total United States unemployment was 4,480,000 last January and was down to 3,384,000 in June.

A further drop in unemployment is expected as the armed forces are increased and industrial plants increase production of arms.

FOOD SUPPLY: More Than Enough

As prices continued to climb, the government began a campaign of telling the American people there is more than enough food in this country and that hoarding is selfish and unnecessary.

President Truman stressed that point in a recent speech and the department of agriculture repeated it with a statement that the nation's food supply is so plentiful that price increases are unwarranted.

The department's report stated flatly that with high production prospects and large storage stocks, supplies of food for civilians in this country are expected to continue at the same high level as in past years.

"There has apparently been some speculative buying and price increases in food in recent weeks substantially similar to those occurring in 1939, which receded as soon as consumers realized that food supplies are adequate," the report said.

But the increases in prices, despite the report, caused a number of repercussions on the home front.

An immediate investigation into supply, demand and cost was indicated by a government spokesman. American housewives added their voice to the turmoil. More than one retailer found his displays ignored and demands for price controls and even rationing were being heard in some quarters.

The government reported commodities on which stocks were high included dairy products, eggs, poultry and potatoes. Fruits and vegetables were termed ample. Total meat output in 1950 probably will be slightly larger than last year, the report said.

Many believe any campaign the government might launch for voluntary rationing is doomed to failure.

AUTOMOBILES: Production Drop

A spokesman for the automobile industry has predicted a sharp dip in the industry's production within the next five months.

Evidently many Americans have already figured the same way, because dealers throughout the country report a great jump in orders for new automobiles. In many localities waiting lists have already been formed.

The automobile industry does not need a big volume of war orders to curtail its civilian car and truck production. All that is needed is the diversion of large amounts of steel to arms output.

Building automobiles also takes a lot of critical materials besides steel. It requires copper, zinc, aluminum, lead and other such materials vital to aircraft and other war weapons.

As a result, estimates of this year's probable car and truck output were being revised downward. Before the Korean outbreak, industry sources agreed 1950 vehicles output would approximate 7,000,000 units, even with numerous shutdowns for new model changes-over.

Now most informed sources don't want to guess how many vehicles will be added in the rest of the year to the 4,255,373 built since January 1.

Landing

In a surprise move the First Cavalry Division of the U. S. Army made a beachhead landing near Pohang on the east coast of Korea. The landing was made without casualties or opposition.

SENATOR TAFT: Pay as We Go

Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, who has preached economy and a balanced budget to the Democratic administration for years, caused a mild wave of shock among many legislators when he proposed slapping taxes on everybody immediately to pay for the Korean war.

The senator said the Russian threat is clamping a "semi-military" condition on the U. S. at a "permanent" extra cost of $10 to $20 billion a year.

"Since this is not a temporary condition but one that may continue indefinitely, we should tax the people for the whole cost," said Taft. He observed the condition may last "perhaps 10 or 15 years."

Many observers believe that pressure is building up on congress for quick and drastic tax boosts to carry the defense load.

LEOPOLD III: Uneasy Return

Leopold III, King of the Belgians, returned to his throne after an absence of six years, but it was not a secure throne observers believed.

The king surrendered to the Nazis in 1944 and was held prisoner by them during World War II. He is unpopular with a large group because he did not resist the Germans to the last ditch in the early years of the war. Many do not like his wife who is a commoner.

If the return of the ruler brought joy to his supporters, it brought political humiliation and an uncertain future to the leaders who opposed him. Fifty-seven percent of Belgian voters are on record in favor of the king.

The king's evident determination to keep his throne and not abdicate in favor of his 19-year-old son, Prince Baudouin, was seen in some quarters as the source of political conflict in the country for years.

An indication of what is in store for Belgium is the Socialist party vow to drive him from the throne.

Korea juts from Manchuria with one corner bordering the Soviet Union. Its total population is over 30 million people, with two-thirds of them living in South Korea below the 38th parallel.

LAND OF THE MORNING CALM

Korea Has Struggled for Unity And Independence for 50 Years

A great many people in the United States were very vague about the location of Korea until the recent outbreak of fighting in that little country that juts from Manchuria and the Soviet Union, but unlike Florida from the southern part of this country.

It is a rugged land of 30,000,000 people with mountain ranges comparable in height to the Appalachians covering virtually all the country. Granite hills up to 6,300 feet fold the terrain of the United States sponsored Republic of Korea—the Indiana-sized southern three-seventh of the peninsula land. They form a twisting network of valleys which invaders have always followed.

So completely do the rugged hills crease the country that rail and highway routes twist fantastically in connecting cities and towns.

Chief transportation artery of South Korea, for instance, is the double-tracked, standard-gauge railroad running diagonally from Haegu in the northwest on the violated 38th-parallel to a road a r y through Seoul, Taejon, and Taejeu to the southeastern port of Pusan. From Haegu to Pusan by way of the cities named is just about 290 air miles and 400 miles by rail.

Rice Main Crop

At some time in the past, nature's forces tilted the southward-pointing peninsula down on the west, or Yellow Sea side, and up on the east, the coast of the Sea of Japan. As a result of this tilt, Korea, although it averages 150 miles in width, has its drainage divide only about 15 miles inland from the east coast.

The west coast has a partly submerged short line marked by countless fjordlike bays and islands. Yellow Sea tides, fluctuating 25 feet and more, have created broad tidal mud flats. The east coast on the other hand, has almost no islands and a straight, steep shore line. Mountains slope into the sea or from narrow sand beaches washed by clear water.

South Korea is the agricultural part of the peninsula as divided arbitrarily at the 38th parallel in 1945 as a Russo-American military expedient for the disarming of Japanese troops. Rice is grown on every flat space where irrigation is possible. Thatched farm houses and green terraces snuggle in every narrow valley between the endless lines of folded hills. Soybeans, hemp, wheat, barley, and vegetables are cultivated in dry fields.

Throughout its modern history the ancient nation of Korea has been engaged in a tragic struggle for freedom, unity, and independence. Japan annexed the country in 1910 and proceeded to exploit its resources thoroughly until the end of World War II. But for years prior to the annexation, Korea had been a pawn in the big power politics of Japan, China, and Russia.

Peace-seeking Korea ushered in its modern era by concluding an "open door" treaty with Japan in 1876. But Japanese promises of independence were soon forgotten. The Sino-Japanese war of 1894-95 left Japan the dominant foreign power in Korea. This hold was consolidated by victory in the Russo-Japanese war a decade later, and the Koreans had no free government of their own until the elections held in 1948 under United Nations auspices.

Founded in 1122 B. C. Old Korea's origins are obscured by time, but her people claim a history of more than 42 centuries. Korean legend celebrates a founder named Tan Gun, of superhuman origin, whose alleged tomb is still venerated. More credible are the historic references to a Chinese noble who emigrated to Korea in 1122 B. C., and founded a dynasty there that ruled the country for many centuries.

South Korea is the agricultural section of the country and many farmers still use the ancient means of transportation of their forefathers. A wagon and water buffalo haul the family's possessions.

Much of what we now know as Korea had attained a degree of unity and enjoyed an old culture at the time the Roman Empire flourished. In the 14th century the relatively small peninsula country became known as the kingdom of "Chosen", a name often given Korea to this day.

Korea, after completing its treaty of 1876 with the Japanese, made similar "open door" agreements with a number of other powers, including the United States. But none served to protect Korea from aggression and exploitation.

Japan, after winning its war with Russia, made Korea a protectorate for a time until the annexation, when Korean properties were seized or expropriated.

Korean patriots penned their own declaration of independence in 1919. This touching and beautifully written document was presented to the Japanese with peaceful intent, but the signers were executed.

A provisional government in exile was formed. For many years this powerless government, under Dr. Syngman Rhee, campaigned for independence. In 1948 the Rhee government at Seoul was recognized by the United Nations, though the northern half of the country was under Russian domination.

Strange Customs The Koreans have a number of customs which people of this country find amusing.

For instance, by long established custom, the Korean bridegroom stays with his bride three days in his father-in-law's house before returning with her to his own parents' house. Official manhood begins for the Korean only after marriage. Even if he is 70, a bachelor's opinion has little influence.

White is the traditional color of mourning in Korea. Since it is worn for three years for close relatives, Korean families are in mourning white much of the time.

Potential barrier to an invader's progress is the population of South Korea. It is now 20 million, three-fourths of them on farms. Despite the mountains that rule out cultivation of most of the area, that is more than twice the population of North Korea, and five times that of Indiana, comparatively a farming paradise.

KOREA . . . Land of mountains and twisting valleys.

Serve Taste-Tempting Salads for Summer (See Recipes Below)

THERE'S NOTHING quite so cooling as a jellied salad brightly garnished with crisp greens. There's nothing quite so delicious as well chilled fruit or vegetable attractively arranged on frosty looking lettuce, watercress or endive.

You can make a meal out of a salad that's protein-rich, or, if you prefer, you can combine both the salad and dessert course into a luscious fruit salad.

- Jellied Tomato Salmon Mold (Serves 8-10) 2 envelopes plain gelatin 1 1/4 cups water and juice from salmon 1 10 1/2-ounce can condensed tomato soup 1 3-ounce package cream cheese 1 tablespoon grated onion 1 16-ounce can salmon, drained well 1/2 cup mayonnaise

- Tomato Aspic Ribbon Loaf (Serves 8-10) Layers 1 and 3: 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin 3 1/2 cups canned tomato juice 2 teaspoons onion juice 1/2 teaspoon salt Layer 2: 1 1/2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin 2 tablespoons cold water 4 eggs, hard cooked and diced 1/2 cup finely chopped celery 1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper 1/2 cup light cream 1 teaspoon prepared mustard 1/4 cup mayonnaise 1/2 teaspoon salt

- Party Chicken Salad (Serves 8-10) 3 cups cubed, cooked chicken 1 1/2 cups diced celery 3 tablespoons lemon juice 1 cup seedless grapes 1 cup toasted almonds 1 teaspoon dry mustard 1 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup pepper 1 tablespoon capers 1/4 cup light cream 1 cup mayonnaise

- Cool Sea-Food Platter (Serves 6) 1 7-ounce can tuna 1 cup crab meat 2 cups shrimp 2 tablespoons French dressing 1 cup diced celery 1/2 cup diced cucumber 2 tablespoons chopped radishes 1 tablespoon capers 2 tablespoons lemon juice 1/2 cup mayonnaise Salt, pepper, paprika

- Fruit Basket Salad (Serves 8) 2 avocados 1 cup cottage cheese 1 cup chopped pecans 1 cup chopped ripe olives 1 teaspoon minced parsley

- LYNN SAYS: Broiled Sandwiches Make Good Summer Meals Scrambled eggs, mixed with some grated onion, chopped green pepper and prepared horseradish, to which are added some bologna strips make a delicious and filling hot sandwich.

Sliced hard-cooked eggs placed on toast slices, then topped with a slice of cheese and broiled until the cheese melts, adds variety to summer lunches.

If you like a sweet sandwich, mix apricot jam with a dash of cinnamon and spread on bread. Top with a buttered slice of bread and broil until browned. Use a combination of pimento cream cheese spread on bread, and then spread the cheese with peanut butter, top with a slice of bread and broil or grill for a children's sandwich favorite. Cottage cheese, seasoned with some chopped dill pickle, onion, salt, mayonnaise and diced pimentos, makes a nice spread for bread when it's broiled.

- 1/2 teaspoon salt 3-4 bananas 3 tablespoons lemon juice Melon balls Strawberries, halved Blueberries Peach halves Wedges or slices of fresh pineapple Water cress

Pare avocados; halve. Fill halves with cottage cheese combined with nut meats, olives, parsley, and salt. Press two halves together; sprinkle with lemon juice. Arrange fruits on water cress. Pass Fruit Dressing: Combine 1/2 cup sugar or light corn syrup and four teaspoons enriched flour; gradually add 1/2 cup vinegar. Cook over low heat until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Add one teaspoon salt, two teaspoons paprika, one tablespoon onion, minced fine and two teaspoons celery seed; mix thoroughly. Pour 1/4 cup salad oil into mixture very slowly, beating constantly with rotary beater.

Combine chicken, celery and lemon juice. Chill one hour. Add grapes and almonds. Combine remaining ingredients. Add to chicken. Toss. Garnish with slices of hard-cooked egg.

Flake tuna and crab meat. Remove black line from shrimp. Marinate tuna, crab meat, and shrimp in French dressing 15 minutes. Combine with remaining ingredients. Arrange all in lettuce-lined salad bowl. Garnish with additional shrimp, water cress, and lemon wedges. Hostess serve from salad bowl. Pass more mayonnaise.

Grated American cheese mixed with chopped green pepper, diced onion, chopped hard-cooked eggs, stuffed olives and seasoned with catsup makes a good mixture to spread on buns. Broil until cheese bubbles. Sautéed, corned beef hash makes a hearty luncheon sandwich when served on toasted, buttered bread or buns. Spread the hash with tartar sauce and top with lettuce and another piece of bread or top half of the bun. Pan-fried sausage links make a delicious sandwich when placed on toasted bread which has been covered with apple sauce. Top the sausage with a thin slice of American cheese and broil until cheese melts. Slice tomatoes and place on toasted buttered bread; top with a slice of American cheese and broil until cheese melts. It makes an easy and nutritious sandwich. The juice in which wild greens are cooked is rich in nutritive values. Serve with the vegetable, or plan to use in soups, sauces or gravy.

MIRROR Of Your MIND Toy Guns Release Boy's Impulses By Lawrence Gould

Does it hurt small boys to play with toy pistols? Answer: Not unless they will be able to get—or make—real ones when they're older, and not then if they are properly trained in the use of fire-arms. Every small boy has "aggressive" impulses which it's better for him to release in play than to "bottle up" altogether. Even "killing" in play means no more to a small boy than "eliminating" an opponent in a golf or tennis tournament (itself a symbolic battle) does to his father. Fighting is not all of life, but a boy's fighting instincts should not be entirely smothered.

Can a guilty conscience make a man hate his wife? Answer: Certainly. Many a man has hated his wife because of the remorse he felt at having wronged her; he sees in her the embodiment of the pain his conscience makes him suffer. The last way to win or hold anyone's love is to make him ashamed of something that he has

BAByLON, THE METROPOLIS OF THE BABYLONIAN EMPIRE, WAS BUILT ON BOTH SIDES OF THE EUFRATES RIVER, AND ALSO WAS A LEBE BAGEL. ORIGINALLY BUILT IN 2200 B.C., IT IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN 56 MILES IN CIRCUMFERENCE, COVERING AN AREA OF 200 SQUARE MILES. IT WAS FOUNDED BY NIMROD, TAKEN BY CYRUS AND AGAIN BY ALEXANDER THE GREAT, GRADUALLY FALLING INTO RUIN.

KEEPING HEALTHY Pain in the Neck Caused by Allergy By Dr. James W. Barton

IN MANY CASES the cause of pain at back of neck, shoulder, and down the arm has been found to be rupture or hernia of the disk or cushion between two spinal bones in the neck. This rupture of a disk occurs most frequently in the lower end of the spine between the two large hip bones. In rupture of a disk at any part of the spinal column, operation to remove the disk is considered the best treatment, though some of the less severe cases are helped by a snug-fitting belt which must be worn for months and, in some cases, for years. However, that all pain in the neck is not caused by a rupture of a disk in spinal column at the neck is pointed out by Dr. T. G. Randolph in Archives of Ear and Throat. He states that allergy, being sensitive to various substances, is the cause of many cases of nuchal (neck) myalgia (pain in muscles), that is, pain in muscles of neck. It is sometimes called posterior cervical myalgia. Certain foods and inhalants (house dust) were stated to be the cause of pain in back of neck in several cases. In many of these cases of pain in back of neck, physicians, because they can find no apparent cause for this pain—no ruptured disk or other injury, no arthritis due to infection—naturally think that nervousness or emotional disturbances cause the pain because of the tenseness with which these individuals hold all their nerves and muscles, including muscles of back of neck. "Pulling, drawing, tightness and aching of the neck muscles are some of the most usually encountered symptoms observed in the course of performing individual food tests for the diagnosis of food allergy," he writes. "Technicians are trained to observe whether the patient stretches his neck as if his collar were too tight, as telltale evidence of the onset of such neck symptoms. As the patient stretches the neck and turns his head from side to side, he generally starts to rub or massage the back of his neck."

HEALTH NOTES

Our nutrition experts point out that loss of nitrogen and protein is accompanied by loss of calcium and other mineral salts such as iron and phosphorus. In a series of 14 patients given the electric blanket treatment for rheumatism, there was striking improvement in every case. Many of us forget that heat is life. It is gratifying to all physicians to see the public in its attitude toward the alcoholic. As salt holds 70 times its own weight in water in the tissues, excess of salt in the diet causes excess of water and, therefore, excess of weight. When a valuable medical discovery is made, many imitations soon appear on the market, claiming merits equal to the real thing. While starch foods are needed by teen-agers to give energy, proteins are needed even more to build up rich red blood to continue the increase in hemoglobin needed at this time. It is only about 20 years since surgeons in small cities stopped sending their serious goiter patients to large cities to undergo operation. Amino acids, the important part of proteins, are found in meats and eggs and fish. One mistake in modern medicine in the handling of patients is that we cut them up into specialists. Removal of wastes from healthy bowel may take more than two days. The boy or girl with nonorganic heart murmur should play, as play strengthens both heart and lungs.
