GEOGRAPHY STUDENTS TO STUDY IN COUNTY

Each year a group of graduate students from Northwestern university and from the University of Illinois do graduate study geography field work in Washington county. The work these students do consists largely of mapping, woodland areas, streams, lakes, and other points of a geographical nature. These students are under the strict supervision by faculty members and none will molest fences, gates or other farm property. It is hoped that no farmer will object to having one or more of these students walk over their farms. County Agent E. E. Skalksley is also asking any farmers who may be interviewed by the students to give them what information they may want.

These students and their instructors live at a field camp at Lannon. They come from 12 different states and all are advanced geography students. They will study in the county from Aug. 24 to Sept. 15. Similar field classes have been held here during the past three years.

Mequon Beats Lakers; Rain Halts Belle Tilt

LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Table with 2 columns: Team and Won Lost. Includes Lannon, Waukesha Dales, Granville, Waukesha CYO, Mequon, Kewaskum.

Scores last Sunday—Mequon 13, Kewaskum 7; Waukesha Dales 6, Lannon 1; Waukesha CYO 4, Granville 0.

Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at Granville, Mequon at Waukesha Dales, Waukesha CYO at Lannon.

Out of three games scheduled over the week end the Utensils were able to complete only one contest. This was at Mequon Sunday when they were defeated, 13-7. Last Thursday night's game at Lannon was postponed because of rain and on Tuesday night in Campbellsport Belles of the Rock River league under the lights at West Bend, the game was called off in the sixth inning because of a heavy down-pour. The Belles were ahead at the time, 2-0.

A win at Mequon would have pulled Kewaskum to within a half game behind that team. But the setback dropped them deeper into the cellar, 2 1/2 games behind fifth place Mequon. The Waukesha Dales defeat of Lannon brought the Dales up so that they now trail the leaders by only 1 1/2 games. The Utensils were ahead of Mequon through most of the contest, leading 6-4 in the seventh. Then Mequon exploded for 7 big runs and sewed up the victory. Both teams used two pitchers. John Tessar started for the losers and lasted until that fatal 7th when he gave a hit and walked three in a row. Marx relieved him and finished the game. Hennicke and D. Ruehl shared mound duties for the victors. Each team got 10 hits but Tessar's wildness accounted for Mequon's margin in runs scored. Tessar struck out 4, Ruehl 6, and Hennicke 1. Burczyk walked the big gun for Mequon with 3 singles. J. Stautz, Krueger and W. Tessar each collected two for the Utensils.

Two Tuesday night exhibition with the Belles was a pitchers' duel between "Mix" Marx and Al. Kissinger until the sixth inning deluge ended hostilities for the night. The teams played four scoreless innings before Campbellsport broke the ice with a marker in the 4th and had two men on base at the time the tilt was called by the umpires. The Utensils had men on the bags in scoring position in four innings and their mates couldn't drive them around.

The Belles garnered 7 hits off Marx, while Kissinger held the Utensils to 4 in the six frames. Kissinger fanned 5 and walked 1, while Marx whiffed 2 and passed 2. No player on either team got more than 1 safety. Weber's triple was the only extra base blow. The two teams decided to play this game at a later date.

First Place West Bend Boosters Troupe Chevs

LAND O' RIVERS STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Table with 2 columns: Team and Won Lost. Includes West Bend, Allenton, Slinger, Barton, Kewaskum, Saukville, Jackson, Newburg.

Scores last Sunday—West Bend 13, Barton 7; Jackson 10, Newburg 7; Kewaskum 10, Allenton 7; Slinger 10, Barton 7.

Games this Sunday—Barton at Kewaskum, Slinger at West Bend, Newburg at Saukville, Jackson at Allenton.

The West Bend Boosters, pace setters in the Rivers loop all season, won an easy 5-1 game from the Kewaskum Chevrolets here Sunday. The setback dropped the Chevs from a tie for 4th to a tie for 5th in the standings. The Boosters tied off in the first inning for three runs, enough to sew up the win. Three men got on base on errors in this frame and two of them scored. Boldt was on the hill for the winners and pitched himself a five hitter. He had many batters swinging the air and set 14 of the Chevs down on strikeouts. Boldt walked but two. Glen Backhaus worked the entire contest for the losers and was nicked for nine hits. He fanned three and was loose with the free passes, walking seven.

Miller and Lemke were responsible for four of the Boosters' safeties, each connecting for two. Augie Hilgo was the lone Chev with two. Six errors behind Backhaus made it pretty tough for him to hold West Bend in check. Three or four of their runs resulted from miscues. The Boosters didn't have an error.

Local AG Instructor at Valders Tractor School

D. Scheid, vocational agriculture instructor at Kewaskum High school, attended a three-day tractor maintenance school for agricultural instructors at Valders.

The purpose of the school was to study tractor maintenance as it is taught in the farm shops of the agricultural departments. Tractors of all makes were used. "Maintenance of farm tractors is an important thing in this community," Scheid pointed out.

In the farm shop the high school boys are taught how to maintain a tractor properly and how to make simple adjustments. "Complicated motor repair work is not taught because it takes an experienced mechanic to do this work," Scheid said.

Units on tractor maintenance are being planned for the boys taking agriculture at Kewaskum High school and for evening schools for farmers and younger boys who didn't have the chance to go to high school or take agriculture while they were there.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET

Izaak Walton of East Side Did Arresting Angling Job

By BILLY ROSE

When I was a kid on the East Side a couple of hundred years ago, a sidewalk was a lot more than a strip to walk on; it was something to dream on, tap-dance on, pitch pennies on and scribble philosophical sayings on, of the sort not found in Bartlett's "Familiar Quotations."

To put a fine point on it, what Gimpy fished through was not the sidewalk itself but the iron gratings over cellar windows and ventilation shafts. And what he fished for, with the aid of a blob of tar dangling at the end of a string, was everything but fish—coins, picture buttons and other bits of treasure which had fallen through.

There were two occupational hazards, however, which used to annoy this Izaak Walton of the asphalt—cops and dogs. Cops, because a subway fisherman attracts crowds, as a rule, attract pickpockets; dogs, because Gimpy's exposed rear was an invitation for a quick snack, and on several occasions neighborhood mongrels had given it the full and painful treatment.

As he grew older and more ambitious, Gimpy did less and less angling on the lower East Side where the droppin's, and therefore the pickin's, were slim. Instead, he invaded the lush territories to the north, and finally settled on the gratings near the Union Square subway where, if the streets were not paved with gold, at least the ventilation shafts yielded a reasonable amount of silver.

Italian Invents New Type Parachute With Propeller

ROME, Italy—A new type parachute with a propeller has been invented by an Italian and tested. The new whirling telescopic "propeller" fits over the head and shoulders, can be controlled in the air, and is designed to let a parachutist down much more gently.

him. It is judgment of people as people rather than as classes. Intolerance and group prejudice are a resentment of anybody that's different, a manifestation of insecurity and ignorance, and a form of bullying akin to that of chickens picking on the one with part of its feathers already off.

The intolerant is one who has a mob or a safe majority with him and is mean enough to take advantage of it, which is why appeals to intolerance are so generally used by rabble-rousers and demagogues. An appeal to prejudice, an attempt to divide the United States along social, racial and religious lines, and so to conquer it, was the chief hope of our enemies during the war.

FAIR PLAY starts at home, where "little" pitchers have big ears. Even a thoughtless remark by parents and absorbed by children can foster intolerance in school and in the play groups of the neighborhood, where it grows its first poisonous roots and often assumes its crudest forms.

We have made many laws of liberty in the country, nurtured many forms of freedom. But there is one law made long before 1776 which will last far longer than any man-made regulation:

"Do unto others as you would that they do unto you." Let it shine from out the hear of every man. Let it spread through the neighborhood, the countryside and the city block; through the shop and office; through the city and state—north and south, east and west—through the country and throughout the world. It is our one hope of world peace.

TWO LETTERS Abraham Lincoln's letter to Mrs. Bixby of Massachusetts:

I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant-General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any words of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I can not refrain from tendering to you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save.

Yours very sincerely and respectfully,

Abraham Lincoln

Message from Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany to Frau Meter of Delmenhorst-Oldenburg: His Majesty the Kaiser hears that you have sacrificed nine sons in defense of the Fatherland in the present war. His Majesty is immensely gratified at the fact, and in recognition is pleased to send you his photograph, with frame and autograph signature.

BEULAH and Candida had met in the New York office of Mortimer and Brown, attorneys. They became fast friends because they found something in common. That something was a desire to live on a farm in the country.

3-Minute Fiction

down payment on a small farm and live there! "But we don't know a thing about farming. We've both lived in the city all our lives. We couldn't make it pay."

So for a year the two girls worked and saved. They spent evenings on end at the library reading books on small scale farming.

When spring came they drove up into the country and called on the farmers who had offered their homes for sale. The second place they visited proved exactly what they wanted. It was a small, white, tree-shaded house with a big barn, a henery containing a flock of 100 birds, a cow, a horse, a pig and several cultivated acres.

It was a swell idea. Best of all, they made a profit. The enterprise would likely have developed into something lasting, had it not been for Barnaby Xerxes.

"But we don't know anything about farming," Candida said. "We've both lived in the city all our lives."

He was a radio singer, suffering from a nervous breakdown. He had come to Hillside to recuperate. Beulah met him one day on a deserted section of country road. He was walking and she gave him a lift back to town in the delivery truck.

BEULAH was thrilled. During the days that followed she hated going off evenings and leaving Candida home alone, but, obviously, Barnaby and she couldn't take the other girl everywhere with them. Beulah was wondering how, when Barnaby proposed marriage and she accepted him, she was going to break the news to Candida.

Two nights later Beulah delivered a half dozen fowl to the village church for its semi-annual supper, and was returning home earlier than she was expected. Lights were on in the front room and through the window she saw Barnaby holding Candida in his arms, kissing her.

Beulah was furious. She stormed into the house. Candida tried to be calm and explain that she and Barnaby had loved each other all along. They hadn't had the courage to tell Beulah.

"You — you vixen!" Beulah shrieked. A week passed. The girls went about their duties without speaking. Both knew that sooner or later they would have to come to some agreement about the farm.

So in the end Beulah made arrangements with Lawyer Stearns and one evening the girls set out in the delivery truck for his law office to write the final chapter in their adventure.

They were silent on the drive to town. Even when the car lights went out for no explainable reason neither of them said anything. Silently Beulah got out, lifted the hood, covered a fuse was blown, and having no spare, tried to produce a makeshift from a hairpin. It began to look as though there was nothing to do but continue on foot, when suddenly the connection was made and the lights flared up.

In the glare of the headlights a man and a woman, evidently having come up in the darkness without knowing of the truck's presence, were standing in close embrace. The man was Barnaby Xerxes. Nobody said anything for a moment; then Barnaby turned and began walking swiftly away. The girl followed him.

Beulah got into the truck. She started the motor. She looked at Candida. Candida looked at her. "Oh, shucks!" said Beulah presently, "let's go back and milk the cow and call it a day."

"Oh, let's!" cried Candida.

Self Serving Barn Great Labor Saver

Device Is Most Useful Developed in Years

One of the strangest, and possibly the most useful, agricultural devices developed in recent years is the cattle cafeteria.

The cattle cafeteria was invented by Paul Mazur, partner in a Wall Street firm.

structure. It falls down on the other, settling between the two. When the space is filled, the cafeteria is ready for operation.

A series of gates, hinged at the top, may be raised to feed cattle inside or outside the barn. The slats are spaced just wide enough to admit a steer's nose and are also hinged at the top. As the cattle make pockets in the hay they push against the slats. The constant swinging dislodges more hay from the storage area above and it falls down.

The outside gates provide shelter for feeding animals in cold weather. According to reports from a farm where the "cafeteria" has been used, 44 beef steers have been fed through an entire winter with a total of four man-hours of labor. Once the storage area was filled, the farmer walked off, his job done for months.

The idea seems especially good for the northwest where winter feeding of relatively small herds is a constant, laborious chore.

Dimethyl Thallate Is Good Chigger Repellent

If you are bothered with chiggers—and most people have been this summer—extension entomologists suggest repellents containing dimethyl thallate as the most effective.

This solution should be applied around the tops of the stockings, or in a band around the ankles. They caution against indiscriminate use because the chemical stains some fabrics.

Once the chigger's got you, treating the affected portions of the skin with 5 to 10 percent solution of benzocaine in alcohol is recommended by T. H. Parks of Ohio State University.

There is no positive method yet devised for treating yards and lawns to eliminate chiggers, but many people have found dusting the lawn with powdered sulphur helps.

Parks suggests using the cheapest grade of sulphur available, and applying it generously to the lawn with a dust gun.

New Ramp

A recent development at the Union Stock Yard in Chicago providing low, wide steps instead of a cleat ramp has proved highly successful not only in preventing costly bruises. The hogs ascend the steps at least twice as fast as when the old-time ramps were used, and injuries have become rare with this type of equipment.

U.S. Forests One-Fifth Original Size, Report

When Columbus discovered America, nearly half of the land area of what is now the United States was covered by dense primeval forests. Today these forests have been reduced to less than one-fifth their former size. Much of our standing timber today is poor quality second or third growth.

We are still cutting saw timber faster than it grows, and further reducing our forests.

Iowa States 24 Percent Of U.S. Hog Production

Three states—Iowa, Illinois and Indiana—during 1948 and 1949 marketed a combined 45 percent of the estimated sales of hogs in the nation, as shown by recent tables. For each of these years Iowa averaged 24 percent of the market, Illinois 12 percent and Indiana 9 percent of the total.

Minnesota, Missouri and Ohio are also top states in hog production in the United States.

Use Chewing-Gum Laxative — REMOVES WASTE... NOT GOOD FOOD

• When you can't sleep—feel just awful because you need a laxative—do so MILLIONS do—chew FEEN-A-MINT.

FEEN-A-MINT is wonderfully different! Doctors say many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon...right in the stomach. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy... you feel weak, worn out.

But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes only waste, not good food! You avoid that weak, tired feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel fine, full of life! 25c, 50c. or only 10¢

COUNTY AGENT'S NEWS

EARLY THRESHING REPORTS SHOW A BIG GRAIN CROP
The farmers of Washington county are harvesting one of the biggest grain crops produced in recent years. Yields up to 75 bushels of barley are being reported and yields of oats in excess of 100 bushels are common according to reports received from those who have already threshed or who do combine.
These larger yields are going to cause grain bins to be filled to a greater depth than in most years. Also, this year most of the grain harvested contains a higher moisture content than is permissible for safe bin storage. Farmers are cautioned against spoiling of grain in the bin and should spread out moist grain on the barn floor for drying. All bins should be carefully checked daily for overheat- ing. Moisture tests that are quite ac- curate can be made by those who have the proper equipment. These tests will tell you if your 1950 grain crop is dry enough for safe storage. Such tests can be made by most de- vators when grain is bought.

YOUR STATE FAIR OPENS ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 19

For most farm folks this has been a busy summer. Crops have been good. Much of the harvest period is over. A day or two can well be given over to pleasure and relaxation. Why not spend a couple of days at the Wisconsin state fair which starts on Saturday, Aug. 19. Here you will have a chance to see what your neighbors and friends from other Wisconsin counties have produced in 1950 as far as farm crops and livestock are concerned. A day or two spent at your state fair can be a real vacation and at the same time an inspiration to return to your home farm with a determination to do even a better job of farming in 1951.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Forces Ordered to Stand Or Die on Korean Battle Front; Baruch Urges All-Out Controls

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

KOREA: Stand or Die

For many Americans, who had been inclined to look upon the Korean war with indifference and an attitude of "business as usual," there came a rude awakening during the fifth week of the conflict.

Casualties began to arrive from Korea, youngsters without legs and arms, bullet-riddled young men who kept their eyes closed as they were transferred from planes to ambulances, boys who did not wish to talk or be quoted.

To the millions who had no brothers and fathers and husbands in Korea, the scenes brought back frightening pictures of World War II, memories of days filled with tears and prayers, and sometimes, utter despair.

And to the awakening American public came another shock. The commanding general in Korea, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, said: "There is no point in not telling the simple truth, which is that the war has reached its critical stage."

The American army had retreated as far as it would retreat, General Walker said. He gave one order to his troops: "Stand or die."

Americans were shocked by his flat statement that his army must win or die where they stood without hope of surrender or retreat and a mass evacuation as at Dunkerque.

And in Korea the G. I. has a question for the war correspondents: "Are you telling the folks back home the truth—that it is a tough and hard fight, and we need more help at once?"

That was the situation as 120,000 Communists began a steady attack upon U. S. positions. Along the entire front, stretched in an arc from Yongdok on the north to Hadong on the south, Communist troops hammered at American lines.

Four U. S. divisions, none at full strength, with the aid of some South Korean troops, the exact number unknown, slugged it out with the invaders. American supplies and reinforcements were rushed to the battle area, but if they would be enough and in time was still the question uppermost in the minds of military leaders.

One outstanding truth stood out from all the rest: American troops were locked in the battle that would decide the Korean war and possibly the peace of the world for the next 10 to 15 years.

As Gen. Eisenhower said, "If our forces in Korea are defeated the entire world will be thrown into another great war."

It was a rude awakening for the American people, but a necessary one, most observers agreed. It was now time for the American people to get down to the bloody, unpleasant job of winning a first class war.

INFLATION: Invitation to Defeat

Elder statesman Bernard Baruch spoke his mind (and the mind of a great segment of the public) to the senate banking committee when he urged congress to freeze all wages, prices and rents, boost taxes, and ration essential goods in a broad program to mobilize the nation's economic strength.

In his clear and determined way, Baruch asked the question that has been in the mind of the average citizen since prices began to rise after the Korean war started: "Shall we do now what we know will have to be done later, and thus hasten the victory of peace? Or shall we fumble and falter and invite defeat?"

Baruch, who played an important part in economic mobilization in two wars, urged: "Priorities and allocations as proposed by the President. Elimination of profiteering. Higher taxes. Effective price, wage and rent controls. Power to ration scarce civilian essentials where necessary. The postponement of all less essential works. A reduction of unnecessary public and private expenditures. Every effort to increase production."

Also, the development of substitutes for things in short supply. Control of all exports and imports. Conservation of whatever is scarce. And organized self-restraint among the people—"the enlightened self-discipline to accept the denials which winning the peace entails."

INDUSTRY: Higher Profit Rates

The Federal Trade Commission reported that 17 of 25 major U. S. manufacturing industries had higher profit rates in 1949 than in the prewar year of 1940.

Most striking increases in the rate of return were motor vehicles from 17.3 to 29.6 per cent, biscuits and crackers from 8.7 to 16.8 per cent and bread 7.6 to 15.3 per cent. Percentage rates were based on stockholders investment after taxes.

Others showing increases were dairy products, linoleum and felt base, paper and allied products, industrial chemicals, rayon, petroleum refining, flat glass and glassware, abrasives, asbestos and related products, blast furnaces, steel works and rolling mills, tin cans, office and store machines, and devices, electrical machinery, motor vehicles and matches.

The industries showing lower profit rates in 1949 were cigarettes, cigars, soap, wool carpets and rugs, nonferrous metals, and engines and turbines.

Battle Lines

A desperate all-out push by North Korean Communists, aimed at Taegu, center of American defenses in South Korea, is underway. The Red Force hurled nine divisions against the allied line. U. S. forces gave up Hadong (1) and fell back to Chinju. Hamyang (2) was under heavy attack. In the Yondong (3) and Hamechang (4) sectors, the U. S. first cavalry and South Korean troops blunted a powerful Communist assault.

ATOMIC BOMB: Won't Be Used

Many people have wondered in recent weeks whether or not the atomic bomb would be used in Korea. President Truman has announced it will not be used in Korea, but it was recalled that the President has asserted several times that he would not hesitate to use atomic bombs to assure the security of the United States.

As the world situation became more tense, it was obvious that officials were carefully avoiding any public discussion of the use of atomic weapons, though strategists have indicated that there are no worthwhile targets for such weapons in North Korea.

Another angle of atomic warfare was under consideration by defense officials, however. Ways and means of stopping any ship from entering American harbors that might be carrying an atomic bomb were being worked out.

Port authorities in San Francisco and New York have announced all ships from Russia or Russian satellite nations will be stopped and searched before allowed to enter into those ports.

EMPLOYMENT: Highest in Two Years

Except for farm work, employment in the United States set a two year record during the first week of July with 52,774,000 persons employed. The previous peak was 52,432,000 in July, 1948.

The department of commerce estimated 8,440,000 farm workers were employed during the first week of July as compared with 9,647,000 in early July, 1949.

The increase in employment was attributed to a stepped up production in industries directly related to the nation's mobilization drive, most observers believed.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer made this comment on the employment situation: "It should be noted that, with the nation again approaching full employment, it may be necessary once more to find ways to expand our labor force to permit the increased industrial production and strengthening of the armed forces requested by the President."

He was quick to deny, however, that he had any thought of possible manpower controls in making that statement.

PLANES: $4 Billion Order

As the Korean war developed it became obvious to all observers that the United States air force has the best planes in the world. That superiority will be increased. The air force has announced 200 manufacturers have been ordered to begin work immediately on nearly $4,400 million worth of new planes and parts.

Considerable secrecy enveloped the details of the order. Manufacturers were authorized to announce the number of additional workers they would need to fill the orders, but they were prohibited from disclosing the type of production, the number of units, the dollar value of the orders, or other information relating to the contracts.

New Economy

With an eye on the huge amounts being spent for the armed forces and defense, the house appropriations committee decided to take another look at non-military appropriations and cut them where it can. Some observers think the cuts may be drastic.

A committee spokesman said the group had no fixed goal, but was determined to "cancel all appropriations" that can be cancelled.

This economy drive seemed to have wide backing, but observers were doubtful of the outcome, recalling that other economy drives this session have failed.

The main appropriation bill carrying funds for most government agencies in the current fiscal year already had passed the house and at this writing is nearing a vote in the senate.

In addition to taking back appropriations already voted, a new bill could be offered providing more funds and foreign military aid.

SABOTAGE: U. S. Starts Drive

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was back in the news with the announcement of two new arrests of spy suspects. They were identified as Abraham Brothman, 37, and Miriam Moscovitz, 34.

The couple was arrested after Harry Gold, confessed atomic spy, named the man as his one-time associate in espionage activities for Russia. Miss Moscovitz is a partner in Brothman's engineering firm.

In all, seven Americans now have been arrested since Dr. Klaus Fuchs' trial conviction and sentencing to 14 years in prison in England.

Meanwhile, the government started a campaign to catch and prosecute spies and saboteurs.

J. Edgar Hoover, F. B. I. director, said each citizen can play an important part in stopping Communists who would bore from within. The citizen's job, he said, is to report quickly to the F. B. I. any evidence of subversion or sabotage.

And Attorney General McGrath announced that the justice department intends to be ready for any evidence that might be turned up. Effective October 1, he said, four federal grand juries—instead of the usual two—will be kept on duty in Washington. At least one grand jury will be used exclusively to deal with charges of subversive activity.

CANDY: Important Food Item

Candy has become one of the nation's important food items and America's sweet tooth demands an average of 17 pounds of candy per capita each year.

This figure is taken from a book just published by Edwin J. Brach, Chicago candy manufacturer, who reports on America's candy-eating habits. Using figures from the department of commerce, he shows that candy is an important food item in the American family budget.

On a per capita basis each American eats almost seven pounds more candy than better annually; almost 10 pounds more candy than cheese; about 11 pounds more candy than margarine; nine pounds more candy than cereals and only 2 1/2 fewer pounds of candy than coffee.

Citing figures from the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, the Brach report showed that the average family spends 25.2 cents per week on candy in food stores alone compared to 23.7 cents for canned juices, 21.5 cents for cakes, 19.8 cents for shortenings, 18.7 cents for soups and 16.3 cents for white flour.

Almost half of the candy purchased today is sold in food stores.

RUSSIA: Returns to U. N.

The Soviet Union ended its boycott of the United Nations as Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik took over the council chair for August.

The democratic nations of the world immediately raised the question of why had the Russians called off their six-month walkout, especially at this time.

There appeared many possibilities, the most important of which was a belief the Soviet Union would attempt to sabotage the work of the council.

Other observers pointed out that the so-called Stockholm Peace Petition campaign by the Soviet Union had failed and the Russians must now try something else. The security council offers an ideal place for a "so-called" peace move.

Still another possibility presented by observers was founded on the belief by the Russians that the Communists may win the Korean war soon and that the Kremlin decided to step back to the council and demand peace at that stage.

Primary Winner

Rep. Mike Monroney defeated Sen. Elmer Thomas in a runoff primary election, and thus won the right to represent the Democratic party in the November senatorial election in Oklahoma. Democratic nomination in Oklahoma is tantamount to election.

MACHINE TOOLS: Aging Alarmingly

The nation's population isn't alone in growing older. Machine tools are, too, and at a rate that a wartime production expert finds "alarming."

"Our industrial equipment is deteriorating so rapidly that the nation could be placed at a serious disadvantage in an emergency," said William L. Batt, president of SKF Industries, Inc., and former war production board chairman.

The fact that so much equipment is ready for the scrap heap, plus an acute need to balance rising manufacturing costs with production economies, is responsible for an upswing in machine tool buying, according to Batt. Equipment orders are highest in four years.

"Our industrial system, at the present time, is in good shape as a result of more than $70 billion spent since the end of the war for modernization and expansion," he said. "But we need to make it even stronger with better tools."

There is one farm in the United States—an astonishing 140 acres in California's rich San Joaquin Valley—where the red carpet is rolled out and bugs, worms, fungi and blight are invited to come in and destroy the crops. It is Shell Oil's laboratory to experiment with pest extermination and crop growth chemicals and controls derived from petroleum. The modern laboratory (above) is the nerve center of this $600,000 agricultural experiment.

Not all agricultural research deals directly with plants and pest control. Many hours of careful laboratory work (above) in fundamental biochemistry lie behind each successful field test. As new chemical uses come from the test tubes, fieldmen constantly experiment with new application methods. Devices like huge hypodermic needles (left) inject soil fumigants directly into the soil.

Not only new chemicals, but also new methods of application are explored. At right a new soil fumigant is being injected into irrigation water to treat a young peach tree infested with root rot.

weekly Picture story

The healthy tobacco stalk (right) will be deliberately inoculated with tobacco mosaic virus and then treated with chemicals. The successes and failures of hundreds of such tests may ultimately be translated into the savings of thousands of dollars for the practical tobacco farmer in many parts of the world.

The soil and climate of Stanislaus county are ideal for crop experimentation. More than 100 different crops are grown commercially in the county, and the farm may have as many as 75 or 80 of them under observation at one time.

Ain't It So
A bit of advice to women would be: Never go out looking for an ideal man—a husband is a lot easier to find.
As one veteran husband put it: If a man always lets a woman have her own way, it's because he made the mistake of trying to stop her once!

Maddening

Spotlight by GRANTLAND RICE

The Old and New Dean THERE IS ONE other thing you can say about Dizzy Dean—he has changed less in the last 20 years than anyone I ever knew through that length of time.

I don't believe anyone has had as much fun out of life and living as Dizzy Dean has had. This has been one of his main traits.

"I first tried fining him," Gabby said once. "That did no good. I tried hawking him out. He merely grinned. It took some time to find the answer. That was to bar him from the ball park."

"I knew I had a 28 or 30 game winner," Gabby said, "a year or two before he came up. But he was also drawing big crowds in Houston. And I thought maybe he would grow up. In one way he never did."

"I wish I was out there pitching 'to those bums,' Diz said. 'Batters like Simmons, Cochran and Fox were coming up. Three big hitters. Wilson winked at me and I nodded. We sent Diz in. He retired the side with no runs. His belief in himself was amazing.'"

Now 20 years later Diz is having even more fun than he had as a pitching star. Or at least just as much. Life to him is one big playground with plenty to laugh at.

"Pat, you're the luckiest pitcher I ever saw. You've lost five times to me but nobody ever roasts you. They don't expect you to beat Ole Diz."

Last March, along the western coast of Florida, there were two managers who felt their teams had been overplayed. They were Rolfe of the Tigers and Sawyer of the Phillies.

"I think we have been placed too high," Red Rolfe said one March afternoon. "I know Jerry Priddy will help a lot, but we have many more problems."

It might be remembered the Red Sox looked better then than they have looked since.

The American league race is sure to be a hot one. So far the Tigers have been the most consistent squad in the league—where consistency applies to pitching and hitting and pretty fair fielding defense.

My guess would be that if any one team beats them out it will be Cleveland's Indians. The Indians have better pitching than the Yankees can show.

The case of the Phillies has been about the same. Sawyer, a smart manager, one of the best in either league, wasn't sure his young team could finish third again. At that time he didn't know too much about Miller, his young pitcher, and he wasn't too sure that Curt Simmons would be ready after two or three soggy seasons.

Evaporated milk is easy to chill for whipping if you pour the milk, undiluted, of course, into a freezer tray and allow to chill until fine ice crystals start to form around the edges of the pan.

When serving bacon in large quantity, bake it for easy preparation. Lay strips with fat edges overlapping on a rack in a shallow pan. Bake on top shelf with oven set at 400° F. for 12 to 15 minutes.

If spices are left in a pickle solution for too long a time, they make pickles dark and strong flavored. Tie the spices in a bag so they may be removed readily.

Here's an excellent way of frying perch: dip fish in cold water, roll in a mixture of equal parts of yellow cornmeal and flour, with salt for seasoning. Fry slowly in one inch of hot fat; turn only once.

To get gelatin desserts easily out of a loaf pan, line the pan with aluminum tinfoil, leaving enough of it outside pan to pull out. The tinfoil is easily peeled off the mold.

With the injury to Ted Williams it isn't likely that anyone left is going to beat the Red Sox to the home-run wire.

The Pirate outfielder is still the home-run hitter since Babe Ruth's day. Al Rosen may stay close for a while but the Indian rookie will have to be a phenomenal player to swing with Kiner during the closing days of summer.

MIRROR Of Your MIND Keep Home Intact During Wartime

If war comes, should children be "evacuated?"

Answer: Not if it means separation from their parents, and especially their mothers, to judge by what happened in World War II.

London child guidance clinic reports that a follow up of two hundred out of twelve hundred children seen during the war years showed that mental illnesses caused by bombing or changed home conditions have tended to clear up, while those which grew out of being evacuated, although fewer, have become deep and persistent neuroses.

Answer: Every normal child does, but he also sometimes hates her. For in a child, love and hate are automatic responses to the immediate situation.

Answer: No, reports Edrita G. Fried of McGill University in the Journal of Gerontology.

Answer: Every normal child does, but he also sometimes hates her. For in a child, love and hate are automatic responses to the immediate situation.

KEEPING HEALTHY Acetylsalicylic Acid - Valuable Drug

By Dr. James W. Barton

ONE OF THE VALUABLE and commonly used drugs is acetylsalicylic acid (trade name aspirin) which is, and for many years has been, the specific or special treatment for the pains of rheumatism.

Unfortunately there is a certain percentage of people who are allergic to this drug or in whom it upsets the stomach. Accordingly, drug manufacturers combine acetylsalicylic acid with other drugs because it is still the most effective drug in rheumatic pain.

Some months ago I wrote about the use of very large doses of aspirin, over 150 grains a day, which caused no reaction when combined with succinic acid. This is especially valuable in treatment of rheumatism.

Many rheumatic patients find that a few grains of baking soda taken with acetylsalicylic acid prevents any pain or upsetment in the stomach.

HEALTH NOTES

More than a favorable climate is needed to cure hay fever, asthma and sinusitis.

The alcoholic may be just as sick mentally as a patient receiving mental treatment in a hospital.

Many of the short-cuts to weight removal are not advised by physicians.

Only an active heart can pump enough blood to the vital organs.

BOLTONVILLE BUSY BEAVERS 4-H CLUB

Aug. 5, 1936
The meeting was called to order by the president, Joan Fay, and was opened with the club singing "Home on the Range," accompanied by Caroline Brabender. The pledge of allegiance, the 4-H pledge were given, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Since the theme of the meeting was "The Fair" each member at roll call responded stating what he or she exhibited and the placement given. Norbert Dettmann reported on the club booth, and revealed the fact that Roger Zettler received the Kiwanis club certificate of merit. The treasurer's report was given, bills were submitted, and dues collected.

The club was pleased to have Sally Jenkins from the Trenton Rangers club give her blue ribbon demonstration on "How to Clean a Rug." Mrs. Esselmann, club leader, told the club very clearly how to evaluate a good demonstration. She then invited the club to appear on the program of the Trenton Rangers at Newburg Saturday evening, Sept. 2.

"What Makes a Good Record Book" was discussed by Norbert Dettmann. It was decided to have all the record books completed for the next meeting Sept. 13. After a committee has checked the books they will be sent to the extension office by Sept. 15.
At the Modern Woodmen meeting Sept. 4, the club members will tell their sponsors in an interesting manner about their success at the county fair.
A possible trip to the Sheboygan Oil Refinery was discussed. Complete plans for that tour will be presented at the next meeting.
The refreshment committee consisting of Carol Beiger and Ariene Staehler surprised the club by serving a cake each had baked. They told the name of the cake, the ingredients, and how it was baked.

Harold Gifford and Walter Dishno will be in charge of the refreshments for the next meeting Sept. 13. Watch for another surprise!

A lot of people who wouldn't talk with full mouths will go around talking with empty heads.
Open windows in the summer are responsible for most damp basements.
