

Deaths of Ferdinand Ramel, Henry Guntly

Ferdinand W. Ramel, 70, of this village, a retired town of Scott farmer, passed away on Monday, Oct. 2, at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, following an illness of a year and a half with carcinoma.

Mr. Ramel was born May 11, 1880 in the town of Auburn and when a young boy he moved to the town of Scott with his parents. He farmed in the town of Scott most of his life. Mr. and Mrs. Ramel retired from the farm about five years ago and moved to this village. He was employed by the village of Kewaskum until the time of his illness.

The deceased's marriage to the former Maria Moldenhauer took place on Nov. 2, 1905 in the old Buffalo church. The Rev. S. Moldenhauer officiated at the wedding. An only daughter of the couple died in infancy.

Surviving together with the widow are a sister, Anna (Mrs. Charles Lilje) of the town of Scott; two brothers, Gustave Ramel of Town Scott and Henry Ramel of Kewaskum, and many relatives and friends.

The remains were in state at Miller's Funeral home after 2 p. m. Wednesday and services were held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran church, the Rev. Gerhard Kaniess presiding. Burial was in the parish cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

May I take this method of thanking my relatives and friends for their kind expressions of sympathy shown me during my trying period just passed, the illness and death of my dear husband, Ferdinand W. Ramel. These expressions have been deeply appreciated. I am especially grateful to Rev. Kaniess, the organist, choir, pallbearers, drivers, for the beautiful floral pieces and memorial tributes, to the traffic officer, Miller's Funeral home, Ladies' Aid members who served, all who assisted and showed respect.

Mrs. Ferdinand Ramel

HENRY C. GUNTLY

Funeral services were held Sunday, Oct. 1, at 2 p. m. at the Salem Reformed church, Wayne, for Henry C. Guntly, 74, of West Bend, retired farmer who formerly resided in the towns of Ashford and Wayne. He died Wednesday evening, Sept. 27, at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend four days after suffering a heart attack. The Rev. Carl Flueckinger conducted the rites and interment took place in the church cemetery. Miller's Funeral home, Kewaskum, was in charge.

Mr. Guntly was born Nov. 3, 1875 in the town of Ashford. He married Mary Muehlus on May 15, 1907 at Lomira. She predeceased him Nov. 3, 1933. Surviving the deceased are two children, Lenora (Mrs. Melvin Klein) and Arnold of the town of Wayne, one son-in-law, one daughter-in-law, five grandchildren, three sisters, Katherine (Mrs. Charles Reinhardt) of Wauwatosa and Dorothy and Ann Guntly of Campbellsport; two brothers, Ulrich of Campbellsport and Christ of South Elmore; relatives and friends.

CARD OF THANKS

To those who expressed kindness and sympathy in so many beautiful and practical ways during our recent bereavement, the death of our dear father, Henry Guntly, we extend our heartfelt thanks. Special thanks to Rev. Flueckinger, the organist, choir, pallbearers, drivers, traffic officer, Miller's, for the beautiful floral pieces and to all who showed respect.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Klein

ORDINANCE NO. 64

A CHARTER ORDINANCE RELATING TO THE SELECTION OF VILLAGE CLERK AND TREASURER AND PROVIDING FOR A VILLAGE COMMISSIONER.

WHEREAS Section 61.195 of the Wisconsin Statutes for 1949 authorizes villages, pursuant to Section 66.01, to change the method of selection or tenure of any village officer other than members of the Village Board, supervisors and justices of the peace, and further authorizes consolidation of any village office or offices other than the office of Village Trustee, supervisors and justices of the peace, and

WHEREAS Section 61.197 authorizes the selection of officers other than members of the Village Board, supervisors and justices of the peace to be selected by appointment of the Village Board pursuant to Section 66.01; and

WHEREAS Section 66.01 of the Statutes provides for the adoption of charter ordinances by Villages; and

WHEREAS The Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum has determined to adopt a charter ordinance providing for the consolidation of the offices of Village clerk and treasurer into a single office of Village Commissioner, and has further determined to provide for the tenure, additional duties and compensation to be paid to the holder of such office.

NOW THEREFORE, the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum do ordain as follows:

Pursuant to Sections 61.195, 61.197 and 66.01 of the Wisconsin Statutes for 1949, the Village of Kewaskum hereby elects not to be governed by those portions of Sections 61.13, 61.23 and 61.25 (2) of the Statutes which relate to the selection and tenure of the Village clerk and treasurer, and which are in conflict with the provisions of this charter ordinance.

Section II
There is hereby created the office of Village Commissioner. The person filling this office shall be appointed by a majority vote of the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum. The Village Commissioner shall hold office for an indefinite term, subject to removal as provided by law for officers appointed by the Village Board.

Section III
The Village Commissioner shall exercise the office of Village Clerk and Village Treasurer and shall, unless otherwise directed by the Village Board, supervise all public work activities in the Village and shall perform such other duties as shall be required by the Village Board.

Section IV
The office of Village Commissioner is hereby designated to be a full time position. The compensation therefore shall be set by the Village Board.

Section V
This is a charter ordinance and shall take effect sixty days after its passage and publication; unless, within sixty days from passage and publication, a referendum petition shall be filed as provided by Section 66.01 of the Statutes, in which event this ordinance shall not take effect until submitted to a referendum and approved by a majority of the electors voters thereon.

APPROVED AS TO FORM:
K. Wm. Haebig, Attorney for Village of Kewaskum.

THE WEEK
In Religion

INSPIRATION
Blessed Silence

AN EDITORIAL

THERE ARE great blessings and advantages in silence. This is true both of the silence of aloneness and the silence which means refraining from harmful, slanderous or grumbling speech.

Everyone needs to be alone occasionally so that he may cultivate a deeper awareness of God. Busy people often insist there are times when they simply must "get away from the crowd." But the most important reason should be to converse with God.

Only through silence and prayer can the soul grow in intimacy with God. In the churches of our cities one can always find men and women who appreciate the boon of quiet prayer and meditation. Even in the quiet evening hours at home, it is possible to relax with God and draw inspiration and new courage from reflection on Christ's life and teachings.

None appreciate more the blessings of silent communion with God than those who are called upon to bear heavy troubles. Alone and in quietness, the anxious soul feels the comfort of God's presence and the assurance of His unfailing love and interest.

Just as in silence men may approach closer to God, so in silence they honor and uphold His great precepts of charity.

Many grave sins are committed through the abuse of speech. Perjury is a heinous abuse of one of the choicest of God's gifts. So is slander, back-biting, and malicious gossiping. All these hurt others, sometimes to a tragic and irrevocable degree.

To practice the virtue of silence means, therefore, to desist from any use of the tongue that offends God or injures others. Not only that—one must also avoid profane or blasphemous language, or taking part in improper conversations of any sort.

The charity of silence also means not whining, grumbling or complaining about one's lot and the sufferings one must endure. It means avoiding the ugly practice of nagging or fault-finding. These may seem minor vices, but they always denote a lack of that fortitude, patience and forbearance that is expected in any true Christian.

CHURCH NEEDS PASTOR . . .
This rural church at Frogtown, Ill., needs a pastor. It illustrates one of the chief problems facing rural churches where salaries and living conditions are not on a par with "in-town" churches.

Religion
Question Box

- Q: What is Presbyterianism?
A: A form of ecclesiastical government by courts composed of Presbyters, as opposed to episcopacy on the one hand and to congregationalism on the other.
- Q: Does Judaism encourage piety for the sake of a heavenly reward?
A: No. The sages taught to serve God unselfishly and they stressed that the good deed is its own reward.
- Q: What is the Pauline Privilege?
A: The power claimed by the Roman Catholic Church to dissolve a marriage, even though consummated, of two unbaptized persons when one is converted and the other refuses to be converted, or live in peace with the other party.
- Q: What was the Transfiguration?
A: The momentary overflow of the glory of Christ's soul on His body.
- Q: What is a Suffragan?
A: The bishop of a diocese within a province under an archbishop or metropolitan.

Mormons Build First Churches in Germany

BERLIN—German Mormons will soon have their first permanent church buildings.

A house of worship seating 350 persons is almost ready for occupancy in Berlin-Dahlem. Mormon churches in Hannover and Kiel are nearing completion.

Leaders of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, as the sect is officially called, said there are 17,000 Mormons in Germany. At present, some 80 American missionaries of the church are working in Germany. "Germany is a very good missionary field," according to Walter Stover, president of the Mormon Eastern German Mission with headquarters here.

He said that about one thousand persons had joined the sect annually in recent years. The yearly increase has been small, he explained, because "our members have to give up tobacco, alcoholic drinks, and coffee."

Mormon missionary work in Germany began in 1840 at Gluecksburg.

Churchmen Request Broader Provisions For War Objectors

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Representatives of religious groups are asking broader provisions for conscientious objectors if congress approves newly-revised legislation for universal military training.

A. Stauffer Curry, of the national service board for religious objectors, has asked the senate armed services committee to establish several programs of alternative service for those whose consciences will permit them to follow one kind of work but not another.

Pointing to the fact that religious objectors served during World War II in a program of civilian public service that was financed to the extent of $7,000,000 by the churches themselves, and that these CO's contributed an additional $14,000,000 in wages he said the government makes no sacrifice in recognizing conscience.

The present bill sponsored by Senator Tydings (D-Md.), provides that "any person claiming exemption from combatant training because of religious training and belief . . . shall be required to elect training in such other available training program of his choice as provided herein subject to such quotas and standards as may be established."

Mr. Curry urged that deferment be given those whose consciences prevent participation in compulsory service of any kind and those who would choose to do voluntary humanitarian service.

The Rev. J. Harold Sherck of Akron, Pa., executive secretary of the peace section of the Mennonite central committee, appeared before the committee to urge that consideration be given objectors who oppose noncombatant training under military auspices.

Baptist Students Work On Berlin Projects
BERLIN — Ten college students from the United States are among a group of 60 young Baptists from six nations currently working on several reconstruction projects in west Berlin.

The projects, which have been in progress since the end of July, were planned by the world Baptist youth conference in cooperation with the Berlin student friendship work camp.

Student-workers have been clearing rubble at the site of two Baptist churches, one in Steglitz and another in Lichtenfelde in the American sector, and have been cleaning and repairing the former Siemens' Castle in Wannsee which was turned over to the Berlin Free churches by the city government.

Rabbinical Assembly To Draft Chaplains

NEW YORK — Members of the Rabbinical Assembly of America, conservative Jewish group, have adopted a draft system for filling their quotas of chaplains in the armed forces. Rabbi Max D. Davidson, president, announced here.

A chaplaincy availability board has been set up by the group. All rabbis belonging to the assembly will receive numbers by lottery, and be classified to determine who should be called first.

Final ecclesiastical endorsement will be given by the Division of Religious Activities of the National Jewish Welfare Board.

Under a similar plan set up during World War II, some 100 members of the Rabbinical Assembly became chaplains.

LOVE AT LAKE SUCCESS

THE UNITED NATIONS is mulling a big chance. It failed to put love on the agenda, with the Cretan disturbance over the elopement of 28-year-old Tassoula Patrakageorgi crying out for action. Tassoula, daughter of a Liberal deputy, was whisked off to the mountains in knightly fashion by dashing Constantine Kephalyoyannis, a member of the Conservatives. Something close to war followed. Disturbances are still going on. This column urges that the case be taken up by the security council at once so that for the first time love and romance may figure in its proceedings. So far they have never been mentioned.

Think how it would cheer the heartsick world, fed up with grim debates at Lake Success, to discuss via radio and video a crisis of the Romeo and Juliet type! With the agenda listing it as "Complaint of aggression in the Cretan moonlight!" U.N. needs an atmosphere of orange blossoms, a mood of rice-throwing and distant strains of "Here Comes the Bride" and "This Can't Be Love, Because It Feels So Good." It could even hold moonlight sessions and use a balcony scene.

The elopement and marriage of Tassoula and Constantine brought out the army. It caused disturbances all over Crete. Tassoula's father declared the romance an act of aggression. The bridegroom's supporters are for a fight to restore love and kisses to their proper place in a war-torn globe. We want the Security Council to seat both sides. How will Russia stand? Probably against love and romance as the crude pastimes of the ruling classes. Wall street and Warren Austin. Mr. Malik might charge Foster Dulles with starting the whole business. (If we were Tassie, the happy bride, we would demand that Malik be kept out so her case could be ruled on while she was still young.)

Consider what a relief it would be to hear simultaneous and consecutive interpretations of such immortal pleas as "Come live with me and be my love" and "But soft! What light through yonder window breaks? It is the east and Juliet is the sun!" instead of "As is well known, the despicable vassals of these bloodthirsty warmongers, etc."

We repeat, this is U. N.'s grand chance. The world is sick of conflicts based on hatreds, jealousies, frontiers and parallels. Let's hear something like "Marry me now, my sweet, and tell your folks later" translated into three languages. Make Irving Berlin or Cole Porter chairman for the month. Now is the time for United Nations to drive Tassoula Patrakageorgi back behind the 38th parallel of parental frigidity and insist that "fair Verona" be kept under the rule of Will Shakespeare!

Belated story from the Malik dinner to his colleagues; one of the Russian delegates seemed unnecessarily noisy drinking his soup and somebody asked, "I hope we don't get simultaneous and consecutive translations."

The New Haven road has installed in 21 depots slot machines which for a quarter issue $25,000 insurance policies on any one railroad trip. Do you get paid off if you collapse in the attempt to find a red cap?

Shudda Haddim is sick again. He missed Hawkeye at $109 and Gondolier at $73. "In front of me on the way to the window there is a cop and right behind me is a detective. And I don't get no Hawkeye hunch!" he sobbed. "I let Gondolier get away, too. Right after lunch at a place called the Venetian Tavern! And the very morning of the race my wife tells me we are invited to spend a week end on a canal boat with her sister!"

"Lobsters Gifted With Homing Instincts"—headline. We had a homing lobster for years. It was great fun taking it away out in the wide open spaces, pinning a message on its larger claw and releasing it. The results were incredible. (P. S.—The lobster was boiled. So were we.)

CAN YOU REMEMBER — Away back when Americans could locate any war they got into?

Mr. Vishinsky, it is now reported, will return to United Nations meetings. This will make Mr. Malik seem the soul of restraint, the model of truth and the very glass of courtesy.

Some folks are calling that site of the Security Council meetings "Lake Slugfast."

These are days when the Cleveland and Detroit ball clubs must be considering complaints of aggression.

Governor Bowles of Connecticut was photographed boxing with Willie Pep recently. This is his first admission that he regards his fight with John Lodge as calling for that much footwork.

Perhaps Bill O'Dwyer felt that while New York, was all right for a 35-year visit he would hate to live there any length of time.

Famous last lines: Here's a message from General MacArthur or the Formosa Crisis.

Help Family Health By Fortifying Meals With Nourishing Milk

AS EVERY MOTHER knows, children go through spells when they will not drink their quota of a quart of milk each day. It's smart of her at these times, especially, to get milk into foods that will be eaten.

Since desserts are bound to appeal to the youngsters, make them extra nutritious with milk. If you're budget-conscious, you may use nonfat dry milk which has only water and fat removed, and all calcium, protein, riboflavin and lactose left in.

If your source of fluid milk is readily available, there are many ways in which to use this in the diet, especially in milk desserts.

HERE'S A LEMON Fluff Pudding which gives you just the right milk-rich dessert you want for a hearty meal. Served with a creamy custard sauce, you'll have no problem serving seconds.

Lemon Fluff Pudding (Serves 6-8)
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk
1/4 cup water

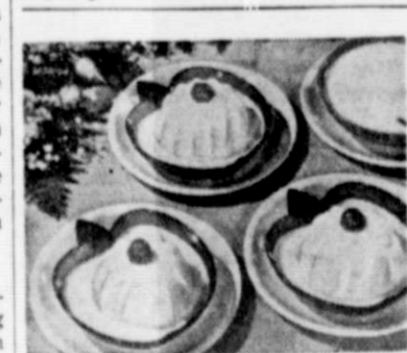

Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Pour boiling water over softened gelatin; stir until dissolved. Mix in sugar and salt; stir until dissolved. Stir in lemon juice. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Meanwhile, sprinkle nonfat dry milk over water and beat with rotary beater until stiff, about 10 minutes. Beat thickened gelatin mixture until frothy, about 1 minute. Fold in nonfat dry milk and beat until well-blended and fluffy, about 1 minute. Pour into individual molds or 1 1/2 quart mold. Chill in refrigerator until firm. Unmold and serve with Custard Sauce.

Custard Sauce (Makes 1 1/2 Cups)
6 tablespoons nonfat dry milk
1 1/2 cups water
2 eggs, slightly beaten
3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sprinkle nonfat dry milk over water. Beat with rotary beater until just dissolved. Heat to scalding in double boiler. Combine eggs, sugar and salt. Stir scalding milk slowly into egg mixture. Return to top of double boiler. Cook over hot, not boiling, water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and coats a silver spoon. Pour at once in bowl and cool quickly. Stir in vanilla. Chill until ready to use.

HOW NOURISHING and delicious is bread pudding, and how easy to bake right along with an oven dinner. Try yours with Lemon or Butterscotch sauce for a real treat in good, nourishing eating.

Raisin Bread Pudding (Serves 5)
6 slices toasted white bread
3 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup raisins

Light, fluffy and delicious is this lemon fluff pudding made with nonfat dry milk which gives you a simple way of fortifying meals with milk which is occasionally not consumed in sufficient quantity as a beverage.

LYNN SAYS:
Add Magic to Meat With these Seasonings

No time to make meat loaf? Pack two cans of corned beef hash into a square pan, make indentations for peach halves, top with the peaches, filling their centers with chili sauce. Bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes.

Skewer nuggets of leftover ham or luncheon meat on sticks with pineapple chunks and banana circles. Drizzle with barbecue sauce and broil for a delicious luncheon.

Sliced and cooked boneless butt makes a party dish when treated this way: place the slices of meat on pineapple slices, then pour a sauce over these and broil about 3 minutes. The sauce uses 1 cup brown sugar, 1/4 cup vinegar, and 4 teaspoons prepared mustard.

Next time you make a boiled dinner with corned beef, glaze the meat after it's boiled; stud with cloves and pour over 1/2 to 3/4 cup of maple syrup. Bake for 25 minutes in a moderate oven until the glaze has browned, basting with syrup.

Few would turn down a luscious dessert like Spiced Cottage Custard fortified with not only milk but also cottage cheese and cleverly flavored with lemon, vanilla, cinnamon and apricots. Swirls of meringue add a festive touch.

1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
3 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 cups milk

Spread each slice of toast with butter. Arrange in shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with raisins and nutmeg. Beat eggs slightly, then stir in sugar, salt and milk. Pour over toast slices. Let stand 10 minutes, pressing toast down occasionally to absorb milk. Bake in a moderately slow (325° F.) oven for 45 to 50 minutes or until top is golden brown and custard is set. Serve with sauce.

Butterscotch Sauce (Makes 1 cup)
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup corn syrup
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup cream

Combine all ingredients except vanilla and cream and cook to soft ball stage (236° F.). Do not stir. Remove from heat; add vanilla. Cool and add cream gradually.

SPICED COTTAGE custard is appealing to look at and good to eat with its cottage cheese, apricots and meringue topping.

Spiced Cottage Custard (Serves 6)
2 cups milk
3 eggs
6 tablespoons sugar
1 cup sieved cottage cheese
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Cooked, drained apricot halves.

Heat milk in top of double boiler. Beat 2 eggs and 1 yolk, reserving extra white for meringue. Add 1/4 cup (4 tablespoons) sugar, cheese, salt, lemon rind, vanilla and cinnamon, stirring to blend. Slowly add hot milk, while stirring. Place 2 or 3 apricot halves in each of 6 buttered custard cups and pour custard over them. Place in a pan of warm water and bake in a slow (300° F.) oven for 35 to 40 minutes or until custards are completely set and lightly browned.

Beat egg whites until stiff and add remaining 2 tablespoons sugar, slowly, beating after each addition. Top each custard with meringue and place in broiler for about 3 minutes or until meringues are lightly browned.

Maple Custard (Serves 10)
4 eggs, separated
1/2 cup maple syrup
1 tall can evaporated milk
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt

Beat egg yolks with maple syrup. Add evaporated milk, water and vanilla. Stir until mixed well. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff and fold into custard. Pour into individual cups and place in a pan of hot water. Bake in a slow (325° F.) oven for about 45 minutes until custard is set.

Try these hearty open-faced sandwiches for lunch: spread baked beans on buns or bread, top with a thin film of chili sauce and a strip or two of bacon. Broil until bacon is crisp. Serve with coleslaw.

Processed cheese melts quickly in the double boiler if a little milk is added, and can be used as a rarebit. Top the roast or rusk with the rarebit and serve with small slices of smoked butt or Canadian bacon which are pan-broiling as the cheese melts.

Vienna sausage mixed with whole kernel corn, then moistened with cream of mushroom soup makes a nice casserole. Bake until heated through.

For a quickie luncheon, heat canned or cooked hominy in bacon fat, along with some chopped onion, tomato sauce and crisp fried bacon.

Ghosts, Clad in Monks' Hoods Walk Through Monastery Gardens

RYE, ENGLAND—Ghosts clad in monks' hoods, with the power to freeze human beings, are walking the ancient gardens of Monastery Hall here.

Fred Parris, caretaker at the 14th century institution, said today the ghosts had walked through stone walls and frightened away his dogs and cats in the past few years.

Other people said they also had seen the hooded figures, Parris had kept the whole matter a secret seven years. Then a few months ago he told a few friends about it.

Since then hundreds of persons have flocked to the old Augustinian friars' chapel.

Parris and his friends said they saw seven monks walking in single file in the gardens and right through a stone wall 10 feet high.

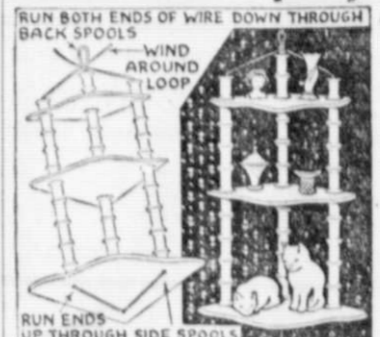

"Once I went to open the garden gate and when I stretched out my arm it went cold and stiff as if it had suddenly been frozen in a refrigerator," Parris said.

"Then I looked and saw the monk looking at me from only a few feet away."

Parris said it was impossible to keep pets.

"No animal will stay with us."

"Easier to use" says Mrs. C. E. Tharp, Sedalia, Missouri, a top winner at the 1950 Missouri State Fair. "No more waiting, no difficult, special directions to follow. New Improved Fleischmann's is the easiest yeast yet—fastest too."

"Faster dissolving" says Mrs. Robert F. Brummond, Bancroft, Nebraska, with the most entries at the 1948 and 1949 State Fair. "I never thought any yeast could be so fast dissolving. Combine it with water... stir well, it's ready to use."

"Faster rising" says Miss Edith Ann Spike, Owosso, Michigan, winner of 3 first prizes at the 1949 State Fair. "New Improved Fleischmann's beats all for speed. I depend on it for quicker risings, finer results when I bake at home."

Yes—America's cooking experts agree—no other yeast can beat New Improved Fleischmann's for speed, for convenience! It stays active for months when kept cool and dry. It will stay active even longer if kept in the refrigerator. When you bake at home, use New Improved Fleischmann's Dry Yeast.

VETERANS—What Is The AMERICAN LEGION?

There is no better way of telling you what the American Legion is, than by quoting brief paragraphs of the preamble to the Constitution of our organization of more than 3,500,000 members.

They read:

For God and Country We Associate Ourselves Together for the Following Purposes

- To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America
- To maintain law and order
- To foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism
- To preserve the memories and incidents of our associations in the great wars
- To inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state, and nation
- To combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses
- To make right the master of might
- To promote peace and good will on earth
- To safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy
- To consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness

That friends IS the AMERICAN LEGION

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. N. Forces Surprise Communists With Amphibious Attack at Inchon; Ministers Plan European Defenses

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

KOREA:

Now the Offensive

With unexpected and dramatic suddenness the war in Korea turned from the defensive to the offensive.

It was sudden in that the American people were surprised that United Nations forces could be mustered to launch an offensive. And it was dramatic in its conception and execution by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

From June 25, when the Communist struck with surprising force and generalship, the people of America watched one continual withdrawal. They heard of one Communist advance after another and the fall of such cities as Seoul, Suwan, Kumsan and Taejon. Further and further the Communists advanced until U.N. forces held a beachhead in the southeast corner of Korea that offered little or no room for further retreat and little possibilities for an offensive.

And then in one stroke General MacArthur launched an invasion of Korea over 100 miles behind the Communist lines at Inchon. Other forces landed at Yongdok and at points on the east coast.

The main invading force on the west coast at Inchon had one objective: the capture of Seoul, former capital of South Korea, and cutting the supply routes of the Communists from North Korea. At the same time a general offensive was launched in the south from the U. N. beachhead.

General MacArthur did not try to hide his eventual hopes for the operation. He wanted to cut Korea just below the 38th parallel and thus have the Communists armies between two hammers that would slowly but surely beat them to pieces and destroy them.

The initial invasion was successful. U. S. marine and army divisions captured Wolmi islands in less than an hour, overran Inchon and advanced on Seoul. Kimp'o airfield, the best in Korea, was captured, and American troops stood at the outskirts of Seoul.

The southern offensive progressed slowly against stubborn Communist rear guard action. There were indications, however, that Communist defenses were crumbling.

SPYING:

Slack Admits Guilt

Alfred Dean Slack, a former chemist at a Syracuse, N.Y., plant, admitted in federal court at Greenville, Tenn., he was guilty of wartime spying for Soviet Russia.

Slack said he supplied Russian agents with a sample of RDX, a high explosive, and the formula for its manufacture.

U. S. attorney James M. Meek told the court there were "extenuating circumstances" in Slack's favor and recommended a 10-year prison sentence.

Meek told the court how Harry Gold, a Philadelphia biochemist now awaiting trial on espionage charges, made contact with Slack and asked him to obtain details of the manufacture of RDX.

Slack reportedly refused three times to give Gold the information, but when threatened with exposure as a "Soviet spy" obtained a sample of the explosive and the formula, and turned them over to Gold.

JAPAN:

Ready for Treaty

Since the end of the shooting war progress toward a Japanese peace treaty has been blocked because the big powers are divided over what the treaty should be and the procedure for drafting it.

Now, however, the United States has announced it is ready for a treaty and the state department representative John Foster Dulles instructed to begin "informal discussions."

It is understood the treaty will provide for the retention of American forces in Japan, with no treaty restrictions on Japan's right to rearm.

The theory is that the Japanese should be free to change their constitution, which renounces forever the right to rearm, if they choose, since the military and industrial imperialism that led Japan into World War II has been broken.

Russia is expected to get in on the treaty, but if she starts another procedural wrangle, the U. S. will push up to the conclusion without her.

MARSHALL:

Anger Close to Tears

In an atmosphere of bitterness that at times brought senators to their feet in anger that bordered on tears, congress cleared the way for General of the Army George C. Marshall, a soldier for 40 years, to serve as secretary of defense.

The waiver to the unification act which forbids the office of secretary of defense to a commissioned officer within 10 years of the end of his active service was approved by the house 220 to 105 and by the senate by 47 to 21.

But before the vote in the senate, William E. Jenner of Indiana took the floor and for an hour, while the senators sat in silence and shame, launched into an attack on Marshall's honor that astounded foes and friends alike.

It was the reappearance of the bitter core of isolationism and Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska immediately made it plain that they were not going along with Jenner's denunciation of General Marshall as a soldier and a man.

Taft opposed the waiver on the grounds that it would put a military man in the cabinet as head of the military establishment and would strike at the old American tradition of civilian control of military affairs. Taft also contended it would strengthen the position of the secretary of state "in relation to the Chinese Communists." That was as far as he would go.

Jenner, however, attacked Marshall as "either an unsuspecting stooge or an actual co-conspirator with the most treasonable array of political cutthroats ever turned loose in the executive branch of the government."

Sen. Scott Lucas of Illinois called Jenner's speech "reprehensible, irresponsible, the most diabolical speech in the halls of congress that I have ever heard in 16 years here." The Republicans in the senate were inclined to agree.

Most observers said that Jenner's attack on a man who has served his country for 40 years and is greatly respected by the American people in every walk of life, will have further and deeper repercussions. The Indiana senator is known as one of the most consistent isolationists in congress. His attack, although denied by such men as Taft and Wherry, still carries the label of the Republican party and may be reflected in the coming elections.

CONTROLS:

Curbs on Credit

With the restoration of government curbs on consumers' easy-payment credits affecting car, furniture and household equipment, 32 war materials—including steel, lumber, industrial alcohol, and nylon yarn—were placed under federal non-hoarding orders.

Although no consumer items were named, the "inventory control" was broader than had been expected. No shortages are expected to develop, but the move was made to prevent overbuying by businessmen.

N.P.A. administrator William H. Harrison said: "The purpose of the order is to make clear that national interest demands there be no accumulation of materials beyond what is needed for immediate production."

The new defense production law provides a $10,000 fine and one year in prison as maximum penalty for violations. Harrison ordered industry to "cancel, reduce, or defer" promptly any orders which already may have been placed, if they would bring stocks to an illegal size.

CIVIL-DEFENSE

Plan Handed Congress

A blueprint for a vast civil defense program, greater than that of World War II, was placed before congress. It was designed to rally the nation from an atomic attack and enable it to strike back swiftly and destroy the aggressor.

W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the national security resources board which drafted the plan, said the program was needed because for the first time since the war of 1812 "an enemy has the power to attack our cities, and for the first time in our history that attack may come suddenly, with little or no warning."

The board's report said, "Granted a few minutes' warning, casualties could be reduced by over 50 per cent through proper organization and training in civil defense."

The program outlined a mutual-aid system reaching into every American home and calling for the services of hundreds of thousands of paid and unpaid workers at the federal, state, and local levels.

CONTRACTOR:

Tape Was Too Long

On the lighter side of the news, Michael O'Malley, a Chicago masonry contractor, sued F. W. Woolworth company and the Waterbury Lock & Specialty company for $20,000 for selling him a rule that was one foot too long.

O'Malley claimed the extra foot caused him to build several garages and a house a foot too big and he is being sued for not filling his contract.

The Chicago contractor claimed the rule had two 12's on it, but that he didn't notice them until he had built six garages and a house, using the faulty tape to measure. He claimed he lost customers and the confidence of others. In fact, he is being sued for damages by a garage owner whose 21-by-21 foot building exceeds the 20-by-20 limit set by a city ordinance.

O'Malley did not say whether he had to tear down the garage and build a new one, but he contended he has been damaged to the extent of $20,000.

HERE COMES THE BAND

No matter what happens to the local football team on any Saturday afternoon this fall, one organization on the field is sure to come out on the right end of the score. That will be the band. A college bandsman is made, not born. His career usually starts in a grade-school class, like the one above, where he learns to play his instrument as part of his regular school work. By the time he reaches college age he is usually a good musician. At right a clarinetist and an oboist, members of the University of Michigan band, practice for a concert. The girl is a member of the school's concert band but not the marching unit.

weekly Picture story

Today's college bands are big enterprises, often surpassing in manpower and equipment the football teams they consort with. But larger still are the concert bands. At left two members of the University of Michigan band go over the score for a performance. Football games and showmanship from the marching bands.

All is not music and marching for the college band. Trips with the football team are high points of their school year. At right the Michigan band attends a banquet in Chicago, puts on pseudo Northwestern helmets and joins in pre-game jibes at the morrow's gridiron opponent. Precision marching and thrilling formations go along with the stirring music of the college band in hundreds of college stadia every autumn week-end. Below the Michigan band denotes that love is in the air with an arrow-pierced heart. It is accuracy and timing like this that will provide half-time entertainment at games this fall.

Foot Support Needed
In her daily 8-1/2 mile hike, the average housewife exerts a total weight of 500 tons on her arches.

Cradle of Wheat
The cradle of wheat is alleged to lay in Abyssinia.

Gold Alloys
Pure gold does not tarnish but is easily scratched and is very soft. It is usually hardened with 10 per cent copper for coinage, with various amounts of copper and silver for yellow and greenish jewelry alloys, or with nickel plus zinc and copper for the jewelry white golds.

Lightning Not Zigzag
Lightning, contrary to the time-honored conception of it by artists, does not travel in a zigzag path of acute angles. It curves and twists but hasn't time for sharp turns. Perspective sometimes gives its course the appearance of acute angles.

New-Born Animals
An animal that is born free of disease and in good nutritional condition has an excellent chance to live; it is the one that is born weak and undernourished that is likely to die before many weeks pass.

Japan's Earthquakes
Japan's crowded population, its mountainous character, and location on the rim of a sharp slope dropping miles deep into the sea make this country probably the world's worst earthquake risk.

Pecan Tree Pollen
Pollen of the pecan tree is such a fine powder that when it is shaken out of the anthers of the male flower it can be sifted through a cloth to remove any coarser particles from the stamens.

U. S. Cabinet
Cabinet members have no elective status. They are merely presidential advisors and, unlike the British cabinet members, they do not participate in legislative debates; they may, however, be summoned to testify before congressional committees.

Silver Alloys
Copper is the most generally employed hardener for silver. Sterling silver usually contains 7.5 per cent copper, while 10 per cent per-silver is one of the important coinage alloys.

Douglas Fir
The outstanding tree of the west is the Douglas fir, named for Dr. David Douglas, the exploring Scotch botanist, who found it in the Willamette valley about 125 years ago.

First U.S. Cows
When Christopher Columbus came to America there were no cows, but on his second voyage in 1495, he brought cattle and other farm animals to the islands of the West Indies.

'Couldn't Swim'
Recent studies indicate that 90 per cent of farm people who drown are not swimmers.

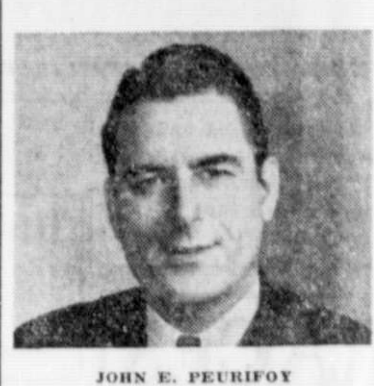

Early Conquerors
When Alexander the Great conquered the world he had only 35,000 men.

Creamed Ham
Add chopped olives, ripe or green, to creamed ham. The flavor combination is delicious.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
'Good Neighbor Policy Proves Successful in This Hemisphere'

By WALTER A. SHEAD
This is the fourth of a series of six articles on the state department and its personnel by Walter A. Sheard, Western Newspaper Union's Washington correspondent.

Washington, D. C.—There can be no doubt but that the foreign policy of the United States, as carried out by the state department, toward Latin and South America today has brought about stronger ties of friendship than has ever before existed.

JOHN E. PEURIFOY
DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE
Born Washington, D. C., Aug. 8, 1907, son of John H. and Emil Wright Peurifoy. 1926-28, American University, B.S. 1931, Georgetown University, M.A. 1932, Georgetown University, Ph.D. 1935. Married Betty Jane Cox, Oct. 2, 1936. Two children, John Clinton and Pauline Byrd. Entered department of state October 1, 1935. Designated deputy assistant secretary of state on May 21, 1940.

The dollar diplomacy of by-gone eras has given away to the "good neighbor" policy of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, and this has been carried on and strengthened by successive secretaries of state Edward Stettinius, James Byrnes, George C. Marshall and Dean Acheson.

Through the Pan-American Union, the inter-American affairs institute, as a result of non-aggression pacts and economic pacts of Mexico City and Rio de Janeiro, Bogota and Havana, there has come to be mutual cooperation and respect between the American republics.

The bureau of inter-American affairs in the state department is headed by Edward G. Miller, Jr., born in Puerto Rico, a graduate of Yale and Harvard, a former law partner of John Foster Dulles in New York, and who speaks Spanish and Portuguese as easily as he speaks English.

OUR FOREIGN POLICY with respect to Germany has been stymied for the time because of the Russian aggressive policy. But from the first we have supported a unified German government based on free and democratic elections.

The Marshall plan, the North Atlantic pact, the military aid program and the Truman doctrine in Greece and Turkey have withered Communist hopes for over-running the European continent.

DAFFY ENOUGH
By Richard H. Wilkinson

ONE DAY last spring a transcontinental air liner got off its beam over the Rocky mountains and smashed up against a rocky peak. It was a few hours before the disaster was suspected, and then the airports could only guess at the location of the wreckage.

Glen Owens, sitting alone in his cabin on the slopes of White Crest valley, heard the announcement over his dry cell set. Young Glen's cabin was located on the course of the liner's flight, and earlier in the evening he had heard sounds that now he remembered as being rather queer.

Glen strapped on his skis, loaded a pack with provisions and supplies and set off up the valley. Three hours later he saw a light and came to the wreckage. Two people were dead, and another was so badly injured that unless he had medical attention pretty quick he too would die.

On an improvised sled, Glen pulled the injured man to the nearest town and doctor. Glen Owens not only received a reward, but he became, overnight, a figure of national reputation.

Three days after this man from Hollywood, Calif., arrived in Crest, looked up Glen and offered to pay him $500 a week to make a moving picture.

Glen smiled and shook his head. "Nope," he drawled, "I always wanted to be a legerdemainist, and now with this reward money I reckon I got my chance."

"Good gosh, man, it will take 20 weeks to make this picture. That's $10,000. Do you realize that?" "It's a lot of money," Glen agreed.

The next week three movie producers arrived on the scene. One of them offered a flat price of $25,000 for a single picture.

Leah Conroy was almost in tears. "Glen, for goodness' sake, try and understand what this means. In another month you'll be forgotten. It's your chance. Do you want to be a trapper all your life?"

"Thirty thousand!" said the movie magnate desperately. Glen heaved a deep sigh. "O. K. If that's the way you want it, Leah!"

So Glen Owens went to Hollywood and made a moving picture. Glen returned to Crest, bearing his $30,000, and the next day he and Leah journeyed down into Arizona. Within a week they had purchased a ranch.

They were married in the ranch parlor, and left immediately for a honeymoon to Honolulu. It was while they were on the boat that Leah asked the inevitable question.

"Well, honey, it was like this," Glen replied. "That offer of $10,000 was good, but we needed $15,000 to buy a ranch of our own, so I figured if I turned down the first offer folks would think I was daffy enough to make me more famous, and the movie folks would offer me more money. Which they did."

RONALD and Benita Colman had no idea, when they embarked on "The Halls of Ivy" series last January, that they were launching a show that would become so popular so soon.

"Really adult entertainment" is the description given by its many devoted listeners. Not only the show, but its theme song, immediately became popular; in fact, so many people wanted a recording of the song that a record has been made by the group that sings it on the NBC Wednesday night broadcasts.

College presidents and faculty members have praised the series; students lament the impossibility of finding a college president like Colman.

Joe Wilman, whose records in American Bowling Congress competition stamp him as one of the greatest bowlers of the decade, has signed to star in "King of the Temples," of Columbia's "World of Sports" short subjects series.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET
'Israel Revisited' Answer to What New Nation Is Like
By BILLY ROSE

Early in 1949, my missus and I took a trip around the world, and one of the countries we got to see was Israel. At the time, many of the streets of Tel Aviv, Haifa and Jerusalem were still criss-crossed with barbed wire, and the hills of Judea were littered with burned-out trucks.

When we got back to New York, my old boss, Bernard M. Baruch, my old man, put me to my enthusiasm in my pocket and try to estimate Israel's chances of survival in this highly competitive world. I told him that one swing around the globe wasn't enough to make an economic expert out of a Broadway jumping-jack, but that I had come away from Israel with the general impression that its people were (a) intelligent, (b) tough as nails, and (c) prepared to work like all get-out to make a go of their new lives.

"A business or nation with those qualities usually gives a good account of itself," said Mr. Baruch.

SINCE MY VISIT, I've heard nothing to change my snap appraisal of Israel's chances. On the other hand, I've read darned little on the subject which could be classified as good objective reporting. Most of the favorite stuff was too favorable — obviously the work of men who were out to make as good a case for the new nation as possible. And as for the dissenters, well, as was to be expected, most of them sounded as if they were carrying a 2,000-year-old chip on their shoulders.

Recently a copy of a new book by Ralph McGill — "Israel Revisited" published in Atlanta, Ga., last month by Tappan and Love — showed up on my desk and I began to thumb through it out of a sense of duty. But what started as duty quickly became compulsion, for McGill, editor of one of the South's most trustworthy papers, the Atlanta Constitution, had obviously gone to Israel with an open mind and crammed it with facts and figures before making it up.

I've met Mr. McGill once or twice, and before I was halfway through his book I found myself wondering how this soft-spoken and hard-headed gentleman from Georgia had come to write such an incisive and insightful commentary on the complicated events now shaping up at the far end of the Mediterranean.

I GOT TO THINKING about it and, as I punched it, the answer is triple pronged: First, McGill is an Irishman, which means that while he has a lively sense of justice in general he has no axiom to grind about Israel in particular. Second, he is first, foremost and fastidious a newspaperman, and as such he is a man of facts, not of special pleading propaganda. And third, he has a long record as a fighting Southern liberal, and once he's gotten his facts straight he's not one to by-pass those touchy areas where even angels fear to tread.

When I finished reading "Israel Revisited," I was, of course, tickled to find that McGill's conclusions jibed with mine, but that's neither here nor there. The important thing is that, without pulling any punches, he has written a book about this controversial little country which one can read without prejudice or without suspecting the author of same.

Here, at last, is a meticulous and meaningful answer to the often-asked question, "What's Israel really like?"

Lion Becomes Stubborn, Keeper Bites His Tail

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa—A lion, upset about being caught in the first place, stolidly ignored crow bars and other persuasions and refused to move from a truck into its cage at the zoo.

A native attendant solved the problem. What the lion was bawling gibed switched outside the bars of the truck, the native pounced on it and bit it—hard. The lion went into the cage.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, strain and stress, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness.
