

Celesta Voeks Weds Donald Jones Here

Donald R. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, R. 2, West Bend, took Miss Celesta Voeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Voeks, R. 1, Kewaskum, as his bride during a 2 p. m. ceremony performed in St. Lucas Ev. Lutheran church here Saturday, Oct. 7. The Rev. Gerhard Kaniess presided. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of shimmering tulle was styled with a sweetheart neckline, long tapered sleeves, and a fitted bodice. The bodice, styled on princess lines was detailed with lace and applique in scroll design. The full skirt ended in a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil was edged with lace and was gathered to a rhinestone tiara. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations and mums.

American beauty satin fashioned the gown worn by Mrs. Robert Warnke, sister of the bride, for her role as the matron of honor. The gown was fashioned with a nylon net yoke and a bouffant skirt. Her half hat and gauntlets matched her gown. The flowers in her colonial bouquet matched the color of her gown. Mrs. Lloyd Reysen, another sister of the bride, Mrs. Lawrence Foy, sister of the groom, Mrs. Lester Koenig, cousin of the groom, and Miss Bernice Reul, a friend of the bride, were bridesmaids in gowns of gold, green, tiger lily, and Heaven blue styled like Mrs. Warnke's. Their half hats and gauntlets matched their gowns. They carried colonial bouquets of flowers to match their gowns. Little Miss Carolyn Reysen was her aunt's flower girl. Her white satin gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, and a wide ruffle at the hemline which was accented with tiny pink flowers. A white satin half hat and gauntlets matched her gown. She carried a bouquet of pink and white flowers in a colonial arrangement.

The bridegroom asked Wm. Jones, his brother, to be best man. Wilson Jones and Donald Bloecher were the groomsmen, together with Ralph Dickman and Harold Schneider. Ushering was done by Lloyd Reysen and Lester Koenig. Ronald Voeks, the bride's nephew, was the ring bearer.

During the service Mrs. George Egert, Jr. sang "The Lord is My Shepherd." A wedding supper for the bridal party and immediate families was served at John Lehn's, Little Kohler. Later the newlyweds were greeted by a large number of relatives and friends at a reception at the Fillmore Turner hall. They will make their home at R. 2, West Bend.

The groom is engaged in construction work at Port Washington. His bride graduated from Kewaskum High school, and had been employed at the Amity Leather Products, West Bend, prior to her marriage.

COUNTY FRUIT SHOW HAS 250 CTRIES OF QUALITY APPLES

"Beautiful quality of fruit and a very creditable fruit show," was the praise given by C. L. Kuehner, University of Wisconsin horticulturist, as he judged the 250 or more apple entries at the Washington county fair fruit show held at Slinger on Saturday of last week. Mr. Kuehner has judged the fruit show for the past 15 years. He complimented Washington county fruit growers for growing the better quality varieties.

In judging fruits, uniformity of exhibit, color, size and freedom of blemishes are considered.

Among the larger exhibitors the following may be mentioned:

Maaske Opens New Real Estate Office Building

Harry H. Maaske, Kewaskum real estate broker, on Monday opened for business in his new real estate office building which he erected this fall on North Fond du Lac avenue on the property adjoining his home.

Mr. Maaske, who formerly conducted a real estate office in the present Kewaskum Floral Shop building, purchased the former Leo Rohlinger property the past year and returned here from his farm north of Campbellsport the past summer with his wife. At that time he immediately set to work on his new office building.

The real estate office is one of the most modern in this district and Mr. Maaske invites the public to pay him a visit at his and Kewaskum's new business place.

County Holstein Sale to Include 36 Animals

The 6th annual Washington county Holstein breeders sale will be held at the county fair grounds at Slinger on Friday afternoon, Oct. 27. The sale will get underway promptly at 12:30. Prospective buyers are urged to be at the fair grounds by 11:00 a. m. to inspect the animals.

A total of 22 young bulls and 14 females will be offered for sale at this auction. The young bulls have been carefully selected as to type and bloodlines. They represent choice offerings from 18 registered Holstein herds. The bulls are from 10 to 14 months old and all are ready for breeding service. These bulls have been grown out by 4-H and FFA members on a share basis with the breeder consigning the calves. Several of these young sires are from dams having production records of more than 500 lbs. B.P. You will like this carefully selected offering of young bulls. If in need of a bull, be sure and attend this sale.

In addition there will be 14 females included in the sale. These will include young heifers, bred heifers and several young cows about to freshen at sale time. Many of these will make excellent project calves for the coming year. Any dairyman wanting to add a few purebreds to his herd will find this auction a good place to make a purchase.

All animals consigned will have passed a clean TB and Brucellosis test. Also all animals will have been injected for shipping fever.

Below are listed the breeders consigning sire calves.

Consigned by Klein Farms, West Bend, R. 4, raised by Orville Weninger, Hartford, R. 2; Hiram R. Larson, West Bend, R. 2; Art. Puestow, Jr., West Bend, R. 4; Fred Pamperin, West Bend, R. 3; Harvey Klumb, West Bend, R. 3; H. F. A "Fitness for Show" contest will be held at 11:00 o'clock on the morning of the sale date. The boys raising the sires have spent much time in feeding and training their animals. They will appreciate your attendance at this contest. It will also afford you an opportunity to view all of the animals prior to the sale.

The animals will be judged on the following points: 1. Grooming; 2. Training; 3. Finish; 4. Development with Respect to Age.

Prize awards will be as follows: 1st. Pick animal vac, donated by the Pick Manufacturing company, West Bend; 2nd. $700 donated by County Holstein Breeders association; 3rd. Leather

Les Francke Buys Local Floral Shop

The Kewaskum Floral Shop, formerly owned by Miss Elsie Bruhn of Kewaskum, has been sold to Lester W. Francke of West Bend. Miss Bruhn, who has been the owner of this business but has not opened the shop, is planning on leaving for South America in the near future.

Mr. Francke is a former employee of the Kewaskum Utensil company. Plans are now to open around Nov. 3 or 4. Further details will be made available when advertisements are placed with the various newspapers.

Miss Bruhn, who formerly managed the Republican Hotel, last August purchased the floral shop from Mrs. Merlin Laiter of Random Lake, the former Lois Zanow of Kewaskum.

In the future the shop will be known as Francke Floral Shop.

Auto Collides With Switch Locomotive; Other Mishaps

A car driven by Mrs. Margaret Bingen, village, ran into a North Western railway Diesel locomotive on the Main street crossing last Friday evening. The locomotive was switching at the crossing. When she brought her auto to a stop for the crossing, Mrs. Bingen understood one of the switchmen's signals to mean that she should proceed. As she did so the Diesel also began moving and the two collided. Both were traveling very slow and the only damage resulting was a few dents on the right side of the auto.

Marvin Tackes, 26, R. 2, West Bend, was driving on Hwy. 32 near County Trunk Z early Monday morning when his car went off the right side of the road and broke a telephone pole. He said he fell asleep. Gladys Stern, 17, Kewaskum, received a nose injury in the accident.

Two other traffic mishaps occurred during the past week, one in this village and the other on Hwy. 28 about a mile east of Kewaskum, but both were of a minor nature and there were no injuries.

Indians Trim Oakfield in Homecoming Contest

Kewaskum High school's homecoming last week end was a complete success in every way. In the main event of the homecoming Saturday afternoon, the Indians easily trimmed a highly touted Oakfield team, 25 to 6. The margin was a surprising one and made the week end, which included a pep rally and parade Friday night and homecoming dance Saturday night, a worthwhile celebration.

With the victory, Coach Mitchell's Indians kept pace with Campbellsport in the Fox River Valley Tri-County conference. Both are unbeaten and have won three games to tie for the top spot. Some 250 spectators witnessed the contest.

After an 18-point first quarter by Kewaskum, it was no contest, although Gordy Kaufman, the Oaks' veteran ace and second high scorer in the circuit, did manage a 25-yard scoring pass to Jerome Kruse for Oakfield's lone tally. The Indians are the only team to bottle up Kaufman so far this season.

Kewaskum's parade across the Oakfield line was in this order: Ronnie Vorpahl, 55-yard run; Dick Buntjer, 30 yards with intercepted pass; Wally Cudnoski, short plunge; Sylvester Hawig, pass from Hilbert Justman; Allen Coulter, 40-yard run. Edgar Lomins place-kicked one extra point.

In other tilts last Friday Campbellsport hammered last place Green Lake, 52-6, and Brandon trounced the other cellar dweller, Lomira, 47-6. Kewaskum met this strong Brandon six on the home gridiron Friday. Campbellsport is at Oakfield and Lomira at Green Lake Saturday. Should the Indians and Belles both get past strong opponents this week they will settle the conference championship at Campbellsport next Saturday playing each other.

Ag Evening School for Young Men of Vicinity

An evening school for persons who are farmers or who are interested in becoming farmers will be held at the Kewaskum High school agricultural department starting next Monday evening, Oct. 23, at 8 o'clock. It was announced by the agricultural instructor, D. W. Scheid.

Any person between the ages of 15 and 25 is welcome. The evening school will consist of fifteen lessons on tractor maintenance, welding, or whatever the group present most desires. Movies will be used and actual experience will be stressed throughout the lessons.

There isn't any charge or outside work for this evening school and diplomas will be issued at the end of the fifteen lessons.

An evening's work will consist of approximately two hours work with a recreation or athletic program at the end of those who desire it.

Educational background makes no difference for these evening schools. Whether you went to high school or not makes no difference.

It is suggested that you come in groups with one car if possible. Come and bring your neighbors and friends. The meeting will start at 8:00 sharp.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Korean Unification Big Question In General Assembly Discussions; Defense Gets Resources Priority

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

After three months and two weeks the war in South Korea was virtually over, with only small pockets of resisting Communists to be eliminated. The above map shows how United Nations forces broke out of the Pusan beachhead and linked up with troops landed at Inchon. Communists not trapped in the quick advance fled north of the 38th parallel.

KOREA: What's the Next Move?

Three months and two weeks after Communist forces from North Korea plunged south of the 38th parallel in an attempt to conquer the republic of South Korea, United Nations forces won a victory in the south, destroyed a large part of the invading army, and advanced to that imaginary line dividing north and south Korea.

And although South Korean troops crossed the 38th parallel, U. N. forces sat on their heels awaiting word from the general assembly of what to do next. The assembly was faced with a question it was reluctant to answer: Should U. N. forces go beyond the 38th parallel?

Those who favored crossing the parallel argued that failure to do so would mean a hollow victory for the U. N. The enemy would be saved from the knockout punch. He would be able to regroup his forces, await the time for another invasion attempt. At the very least, the Communists, safe behind their parallel, would be able to keep the country divided. Thus, occupation of North Korea is necessary if the assembly is ever to fulfill its aim—unification of the country under a democratically chosen government.

Those against the crossing argued that a U. N. military campaign to take North Korea might be regarded by Moscow and Peking as a provocation—a reason for marching south. That might mean the war. Even if the dreaded intervention did not materialize, military operations by General MacArthur in North Korea would have a bad effect in the Orient. It would be interpreted by many Asians, with deep-rooted suspicions of western intentions, as another example of white imperialism. Added to the confusion was the roar of Red China, threatening to send troops into North Korea if U. N. forces advanced north of the 38th parallel. Many observers pointed out, however, that Red invasion of Korea would offer the Nationalist the opportunity to invade south China.

Output to Hit Peak

In response to the government call for greater output, the steel industry promised to boost production by 9.4 million tons a year by the end of 1952.

The news was significant in that virtually all of the expansion will be carried out by 20 companies with no government help. As the new expansion takes hold capacity will rise 2,469,000 tons by the end of this year.

MACARTHUR:

Well and Nobly Done

In the name of the people of the United States, President Truman sent Gen. Douglas MacArthur congratulations on the victory in Korea.

The President said in his message:

"I know that I speak for the entire American people when I send you my warmest congratulations on the victory which has been achieved under your leadership in Korea. Few operations in military history can match either the delaying action, where you traded space for time in which to build up your forces, or the brilliant maneuver which has now resulted in the liberation of Seoul. 'I am particularly impressed by the splendid cooperation of our army, navy and air force, and I wish you would extend my thanks and congratulations to the commanders of those services—Lieut. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Vice Admiral Charles T. Joy and Lieut. George E. Stratemeyer.

"The unification of our arms established by you and by them has set a shining example. My thanks and the thanks of the people of all the free nations go out to your gallant forces—soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen—from the United States and the other countries fighting for freedom under the United Nations banner. I salute you all, and say to all of you from all of us at home, 'Well and nobly done.'"

DRAFT:

Vets May Be Called

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, proposed that the draft take veterans and men with dependents and that the length of service for inductees be stretched from 21 months to 30. For that large group of Americans who felt that victory in Korea would mean a slackening-off of U. S. armed services' need, it was a rude awakening.

Hershey said the pool of men under 26 years of age, and eligible for the draft under present regulations, is down to 1,500,000 and that the rejection rate runs about 50 per cent.

He recommended:

1. Extending the period of draft service, with six months to be spent in training and 24 months in service.
2. Changing the rule for deferment because of dependency so that collateral dependents wouldn't count.
3. Changing the law to permit induction of veterans under 26 years of age.

Hershey also criticized draft qualifications established by the armed services. He contended they are too tight.

Ambassador

Walter S. Gifford, former head of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, was named by President Truman to succeed Lewis Douglas as ambassador to Britain.

FARM PRICES:

Up 9 Per Cent

The agriculture department reported farm prices rose about 2 per cent in September, pushing the level to 9 per cent above that prevailing before fighting started in Korea.

The sharpest gains were reported in cotton, cottonseed and citrus. Other gains of many farm products aided in pushing the farm price level upward.

Prices of commodities and materials and labor used in farm production also increased during the period, but less than half as much as the increase in prices received by farmers.

Also in the farm news, officials reported the government may have to spend nearly as much on potato supports as last year's $90 million outlay.

This year's potato crop is considerably larger than last year's and there is no indication of any change in the long downward trend in consumption.

Price supports on potatoes will be withdrawn altogether on next year's crop unless the law is changed.

Casualties

The defense department announced U. S. casualties in the Korean war as of October 1 totaled 17,200. The total included 2,211 dead, 11,050 wounded and 3,959 missing in action.

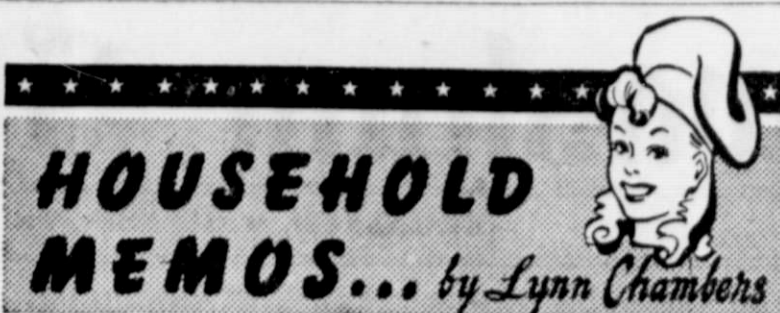

Of the dead 2,211 were killed in action and 230 died of wounds, the department said.

Fifty prisoners of war and 167 other men were included in the missing list.

The army's total casualties in the last report were 16,087. Of this number, 221 were listed as dead, 10,226 wounded and 2,845 as missing. Navy casualties numbered 45, included 14 dead, 26 wounded and five missing in action.

Total marine corps casualties reported were 951. Listed as dead were 175, wounded, 787, and missing 12.

The air force casualty total was 138, of whom 31 were reported dead, 11 wounded and 97 missing in action.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Treat the Family to Yeast Rolls (See Recipes Below)

Bake with Yeast

NO MATTER HOW simple a meal, its appeal can be enhanced greatly with freshly baked, yeast-leavened bread or rolls. There's a certain home-like charm about baking with yeast and the wonderful fragrance that fills the kitchen with the baking of this kind which most homemakers enjoy.

With a good basic recipe that you have learned to perfection, you can turn out many different styles and varieties of rolls. They're fun to make, and it's nice to serve them fresh and sweet-smelling right from the oven.

HERE'S A GOOD recipe for bread type rolls which is easy to follow:

- *Rolls
- 1/2 cup milk
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 2 1/2 teaspoons salt
 - 4 1/2 tablespoons shortening
 - 1/2 cup lukewarm water
 - 1 package yeast, compressed or dry granular
 - 4 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Scald milk, add sugar, salt and shortening; stir until dissolved. Cool to lukewarm. Place lukewarm water into a large bowl and sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Let stand until dissolved, about 5 to 10 minutes. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in 2 1/2 cups flour and beat until smooth. Add remaining 2 1/2 cups flour and mix thoroughly. Turn dough out on lightly floured board and knead until dough is tightly stretched and shiny, feels springy and elastic and does not stick to the board. Place in a lightly greased bowl and brush top with melted shortening. Cover with towel, let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about one hour and 25 minutes.

When doubled in bulk, punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Shape rolls as desired. Cover with a towel and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. Bake in a hot (425°) oven for 20 minutes.

DAD AND THE youngsters will love these little doughnuts, and they're no chore to make since you simply have to drop spoonfuls of the batter into frying fat, thus saving the fuss and bother of rolling and cutting. They are made from a yeast-leavened batter that will keep nicely in the refrigerator for a day or two, so you can have nice, fresh doughnuts for several days.

Glaze them, if you want to be fancy, or toss them in plain or cinnamon or orange sugar.

Kitchenette Doughnuts (Makes about 3 dozen)

- 1 package yeast, compressed or dry granular
- 1/2 cup lukewarm water
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup melted shortening
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 3 1/4 cups sifted flour (about)

Scald milk, add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter. Mix well. Add softened yeast and eggs. Beat well, add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in a greased bowl. Cover and let rise in a warm place for about 1 1/2 hours, until doubled. When light, punch down. Let rest for 10 minutes. Mix together the 1 cup sugar and cinnamon. Prepare a 12x9-inch pan by greasing with butter and sprinkling with 3 tablespoons of the cinnamon sugar. Roll dough into a rectangle 10 by 20 inches. Brush lightly with butter; sprinkle a thin layer of cinnamon sugar over the dough. Fold the dough over in thirds so as to have long narrow strips of dough in three layers. Seal edge and flatten strip with rolling pin or hands. Cut crosswise into 1-inch strips. Roll each strip under hands. Place hands at each end of strip and twist by moving hands in opposite directions. Pick up dough at the two ends at the same time to let dough shape itself into a twist. Place twists side by side into prepared pan. Brush tops with remainder of cinnamon sugar. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderate (375°) oven for about 25 minutes.

Baking time of bread depends upon the size of the loaves. A pound loaf will usually bake satisfactorily in 45 to 50 minutes in a hot (400° F. to 450° F.) oven. Plain rolls bake in 15 to 20 minutes at this temperature.

Don't forget to add salt to your bread and rolls when mixing. It gives a lot of flavor to yeast doughs and also helps to control fermentation. Flour added to the dough after mixing will result in dark streaks and coarse textured bread and rolls. A pastry cloth or canvas is excellent to use when kneading and shaping bread and rolls because it cuts down on the stickiness of the dough and at the same time prevents your using too much flour. To prevent crust from forming on dough or on shaped rolls while rising, brush with oil or melted fat and keep covered.

Eight to ten minutes are required for the first kneading to make dough smooth and satiny. Two minutes of punching are usually sufficient if dough is kneaded for the second time.

1/2 teaspoon vanilla Fat for frying

Softened yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk; add sugar, shortening and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup flour and beat well. Add eggs and mix until dough is smooth. Add remainder of flour to make a stiff batter. Add vanilla and mix until smooth. Cover and let rise until light and bubbly, about one hour. Stir down and cover; let rest for 10 minutes, while heating fat to moderate temperature (350°). Drop batter from teaspoon into hot fat and fry doughnuts about 1 1/2 minutes on each side until golden brown.

SUGARY CINNAMON Twists are a good way to keep cool weather meals interesting as well as nourishing. Try them, too, for refreshments, with a mug of hot mulled cider, milk or a cup of steaming coffee.

Sugary Cinnamon Twists (Makes about 2 dozen)

- 1 package yeast, compressed or dry granular
- 1/2 cup lukewarm water
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1 egg
- 3 cups sifted flour (about)
- 1/4 cup melted butter or substitute

Scald milk; add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter. Mix well. Add softened yeast and eggs. Beat well, add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in a greased bowl. Cover and let rise in a warm place for about 1 1/2 hours, until doubled. When light, punch down. Place twists side by side into prepared pan. Brush tops with remainder of cinnamon sugar. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderate (375°) oven for about 25 minutes.

Household Hints

You can brush out the cuffs on men's trousers easily if you take out the stitches holding the cuff and replace them with metal snaps. From then on, unsnap the snaps, brush, then snap the snaps.

Idle riding boots need boot trees—or a reasonably accurate facsimile—to keep the calf of the boot from getting out of shape. Make your own facsimile by rolling up three or four sections of newspaper; then jam the roll down into the boot leg. Shoe trees in the foot of the boot should be used, too.

Instead of tying the two ends of a broken shoelace together to make it do until you can get a new one, take a little extra time to lap the broken ends over each other and sew them together. A "fix" like that will last longer and look better than a knot.

Behind Time

Little Freddie's mother was in the hospital, and he was paying a visit to see his new brother. He wandered into an adjoining room which was occupied by a woman with a broken leg.

"Hello," he said. "How long have you been here?"

"Oh, about a month?"

"Let me see your baby," he then asked.

"Why, I haven't a baby," the woman replied.

"Gee, you're slow," said Freddie. "My mamma's been here just two days and she's got one."

Thy Will Be Done

AN EDITORIAL

CALMNESS AND PEACE under all conditions and circumstances are found only among those who are in full conformity with God's will. When Alfonso the Great, a wise and saintly Spanish king, was asked whom he considered the happiest man on earth, he replied: "He who abandons himself to the will of God, and receives all things, good or bad, from His hands."

The story is told of a very devout man who prayed fervently for many years that God would send him a counselor who would point out to him the shortest and safest way to His love. One day he heard an inner voice which told him to go to the church door where he would find the person he sought.

The man obeyed. At the door of the church he found a ragged, barefoot beggar. He wished the beggar a good day.

"I thank you for your friendly greeting," the beggar answered, "but I cannot remember ever having a bad day."

"Good. Then I hope that to the good days you have had God will add every possible happiness."

"Thank you," said the beggar, "but I have never been unhappy. In my whole life no disaster has ever befallen me."

"Listen, friend," the beggar went on, "I told you that I have never had a bad day, for our days are bad only when we do not employ them in honoring God by submission."

"If I am hungry because no one gives me anything to eat, I praise God. If I am exposed to rain, hail and wind, I thank God. If my poverty and wretchedness draw upon me contempt or I have any suffering to bear I praise and bless the Divine Majesty."

The beggar paused a while. His face was lighted with an understanding and reassuring smile as he concluded.

"I have also told you," he said, "that I have never been unhappy. You may express surprise, but I speak only the truth. I am accustomed to desire without reserve whatsoever God wills. Hence I accept with joy all things, sweet or bitter, that comes to me from His hand, in the conviction that they are the best for me. And this constitutes my whole happiness."

WCTU Asks for Ban
On Alcoholic Drinks
During Wartime

DENVER, Colo.—Outlawing of alcoholic beverages in the armed forces and "wartime" prohibition for the nation were urged in resolutions adopted by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at its annual convention here.

The action to oust alcoholic beverages from the military services was in the form of a recommendation to congress that it "speedily enact a bill to make effective" a 1901 law which prohibits "the sale or dealing in beer, wine, or any intoxicating beverage on any post exchange or canteen or army transport or upon any premises used for military purposes by the United States."

In adopting recommendations of their president, Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, of Evanston, Ill., the group called on all persons "in responsible positions to abstain from alcoholic liquors during the period in which our boys are risking their lives in war."

"Drinking by public officials as in the District of Columbia where the consumption of liquor is three times that in any other comparable area is unthinkable at a time when the use of the atom bomb is in the balance," Mrs. Colvin said in urging adoption of the resolution.

In another action, the convention asked the nation's churches to set aside a day in which the importance of total abstinence pledges would be explained, and members would be given the opportunity to sign them.

Federal laws outlawing the sale of liquor, wine, and beer on trains and in club cars, and on airplanes or other common carriers were urged. The delegates recommended that the proposed legislation provide that carriers be held responsible for injuries to passengers by persons under the influence of drink.

Religious Music Heard
At Biarritz Concerts

PARIS—Vacation crowds in Biarritz, fashionable French summer resort, responded favorably to religious music in the feature concerts, an innovation introduced this season.

Igor Stravinsky's Mass was played for the first time in France during a concert in the cloisters of Bayonne, reopened for the occasion by the Ministry of Fine Arts.

Reviving picturesque medieval traditions, fresh flowers were strewn over the floor, the cloisters were illuminated by candlelight, and the women present wore "mantillas" (lace shawls) as if at a church service. The cathedral and spire were illuminated in sharp relief by floodlights.

Star Enters Bible School

LOS ANGELES—Former screen actress Colleen Townsend, who gave up a career in the movies to devote her life to religion, has registered as a student at Pasadena College, a Nazarene school.

She will study Christian doctrine and Bible courses at the institution on the recommendation of her pastor, Dr. Louis Evans, of the Hollywood Presbyterian church of which she is a member.

Says Reactionaries Behind
Attacks on Federal Council

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Dr. G. Elson Ruff, Philadelphia, editor of the Lutheran, said here that he believes "reactionary elements in the American economy" are behind the attacks that have been made on the Federal Council of Churches.

He referred to the attacks made on the Federal Council by the Rev. Carl McIntyre of the American Council of Christian Churches, and John T. Flynn, "The Road Ahead."

Occupation ... Sky-Pilot

One of the busiest men of the U. S. occupation forces is the Rev. Thomas B. Doyle, Lowell, Mich., chaplain stationed with the U. S. 15th constabulary squadron in Weiden, Bavaria. Because of his scattered congregation, the chaplain uses a light airplane to carry him on his rounds which may start at 7 a.m. on Sunday morning and keep him on the go until midnight.

Winging his way over the church steeple at Weiden (above) where he is stationed, the flying parson pilots his two-place reconnaissance plane, enroute to a Sunday call. His extra-curricular activities are many and varied. At right he leaves the Weiden church with two young friends from the orphanage. It is his custom every day to invite two of the children to his home for lunch and recreation.

The chaplain's time, between Sundays, is spent talking with G.I.'s. He performs marriages and takes a deep interest in German children. His "parish" covers roughly 250 square miles. Many Germans in the little villages attend his services.

Chaplain Doyle

The above picture is a familiar sight in Weiden. The chaplain's jeep, loaded with youngsters from the orphanage, as he takes them on an outing. German youngsters are the same as children anywhere, a bottle of pop and a jeep ride is a thrill and an adventure. And it is a wonderful treat to be invited to lunch with the chaplain.

The Michigan preacher (above) packs a small suit-case in which he carries his parson's gown and books for his Sunday morning rounds. At left he conducts marriage ceremony between a German girl and an American in St. Michaels Church at Hof. Below, Chaplain Doyle holds camp service for the soldiers of the 15th constabulary squadron.

I favor a long range farm program based on a sound soil conservation, and effective protection of reasonable market prices.

I subscribe to a basic social security program designed to give everyone a reasonable degree of security in old age in a government run prudently and efficiently so that a social security dollar invested today will be worth a dollar when it is returned 20 or 30 years from now.

CONTEST RULES

The contest is divided into two parts. 1. Cut out of this ad the kitchen diagram. Cut out the kitchen appliances, lighting fixtures and outlets and paste them in place on the kitchen diagram. 2. Write in 200 words or less what CCCES means to you — or could mean to you — in an All-Electric home. Include in your written statement the five key words beginning with each of the letters CCCES. The words appear in this advertisement. (Do not write more than 200 words) Mail or bring your model electric kitchen pasteurizer and your statement of 200 words or less to Room 304, Public Service Building, 231 W. Michigan St., Milwaukee 1, Wis. Be sure to include your name and address. All entries must be in — or in the mail, post-marked not later than midnight, Tuesday, October 31. Prizes as stated will be awarded on the basis of correctly pasting cut-outs in the kitchen diagram, and the originality and completeness of your statement in 200 words or less on the advantages of All-Electric living, using the words that CCCES stand for. Judges' decisions are final. All entries become the property of Wisconsin Electric Power Company. Duplicate prizes in case of ties. Winners will be notified by registered mail and their names will be published in newspapers. The 105 winners will select their prizes up to the amount stated at the electrical dealer of their own choice as at the Electric Co. HERE'S HOW TO ENTER

PART 1. Here is an outline diagram of a kitchen without the electric equipment that makes it a modern kitchen.

Here are the electric appliances, lighting fixtures and outlets that will make it a modern kitchen and gives it CCCES.

Cut out the kitchen diagram. Cut out the electric kitchen equipment and paste each one in its proper position in the kitchen diagram. Make the kitchen All-Electric.

PART 2. Write a statement not to exceed 200 words telling why the modern home is All-Electric. Use each of the five key words which the letters CCCES stand for. The words appear in this ad. Tell in your opinion what each of these five words means in the All-Electric home. Your own words will win. Base them on your own knowledge, experience and desires.

REMEMBER — ONLY THE ALL-ELECTRIC HOME HAS CCCES — Ask your friends and neighbors who have switched to All-Electric living — they can give you first-hand information about the CCCES of an All-Electric home. Now, boys and girls, get out your scissors and paste pots — dads and mothers, your pens and pencils — win one of the big prizes for yourself.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Ten Key Men Direct Activities Of U. S. Department of State

This is the last of six articles on the state department and its personnel by Walter A. Sheard, Western Newspaper Union's Washington correspondent.

By WALTER A. SHEARD

Washington, D. C.—If you know the top men in any organization whether it be a lodge, fraternal organization, business organization, bank or a government agency, you can judge fairly well the type and kind of personnel that go to make up that organization. Particularly in this true of top men in government who necessarily live in a glass house of publicity.

Any person who has met and talked to Secretary of State Dean Acheson is impressed by his earnestness, his sincerity, his intelligence and his integrity. The son of an Episcopalian minister, he was born in Middletown, Connecticut, April 11, 1893. He is a graduate of Groton and Harvard with honorary degrees from Yale and Wesleyan. He is a member of the law firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee, Acheson and Shorb in Washington and a member of many important clubs. He has a farm near Sandy Spring, Maryland, where he lives and which is his hobby. If you have a picture in your mind of a suave, highly polished diplomat, never ill at ease, never at a loss for a word, who does not know the words "quit" or "can't", then you have a picture of Dean Acheson.

His next in command is Under Secretary James E. Webb, a native of Granville county, North Carolina. He is a former marine corps major, tall, athletic and a fighter. He is former director of the federal budget and was with the Sperry corporation before coming into government service, and is a recognized master at organization. He is a law graduate of George Washington University, a member of many clubs and well known business organizations.

Frieda Catches Flu, but the Germ Turns on Charlie

By BILLY ROSE

For as long as I can remember, my Uncle Charlie has been complaining of good health—not his own, mind you, but my Aunt Frieda's.

For forty winters, to hear him tell it,—he has been an easy mark for colds, catarrhs and rheumatic pains, while his wife has never developed so much as a sniffle.

Last February, when I dropped in to see them at their Allen Street flat, Charlie was in bed, runny-eyed and carmine-nosed.

"What gives!" I asked.

"What always gives?" said my uncle. "Your aunt loses the flu, I find it. She's got a constitutional like a horse."

Frieda was in the kitchen warming up a plaster. "Like a pastrami sandwich she treats me," said Charlie. "I'm all over mustard. Every reasonable woman lays down in bed once in a while. But not her—she won't give me the satisfaction."

MY FAVORITE relatives came to this country around the time Teddy Roosevelt was elected, and the voyage over, according to Charlie, was the roughest in the history of navigation. It took 23 days and even the captain was seasick. Frieda was the only one on board who ate regularly, and she gained an average of a pound a day. When the helmsman took to his bunk—still according to Charlie—it was she who took the wheel. As for my uncle, he spent the entire trip with his head sticking out of a porthole and, the weather being what it was, it was a miracle he wasn't drowned.

Because of this apparent immunity to disease, Frieda has always been one of the favorite daughters of the East Side, especially when any of the neighbors are ill. For years now, she's been carrying soup and solace to their homes, tending their kids and lecturing family doctors on their therapeutic shortcomings.

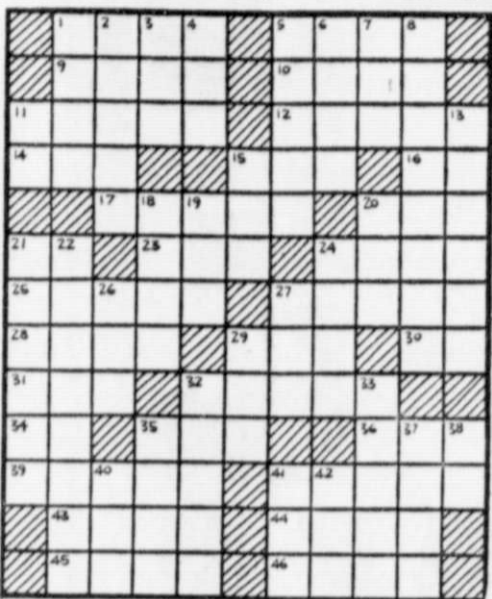

"Herself, she don't get sick, but to me she brings back the germs," is the way Charlie explains her.

A FEW DAYS AGO, however, my

THE FICTION CORNER

SOUCOOK MASSACRE

By Richard H. Wilkinson

CHARLIE Poe lived by his wits. Not because he had to but because he liked to. I could name a half dozen jobs he had been offered, all legitimate, all of which he turned down. He couldn't bear the thought of routine and being tied down.

I met him unexpectedly one day last summer in Boston.

"Not doing a n y thing," he said when I questioned him.

"Looking for something," he confessed.

"If you've nothing lined up," I suggested, "how about taking a ride up country with me? I'm making a two-day trip to Burlington."

"Like to," he said.

We started the next morning. Charlie wasn't the cheerful companion I anticipated. Obviously there was something on his mind.

Halfway across New Hampshire we came to a place alongside the road where a dozen or more cars were parked. A sign proclaimed the reason: "Visit the site of the famous Soucook Indian massacre," the sign read. "Nothing like it anywhere. Free lecture. Offers much by way of historical value. A scene you won't forget. Admission 25 cents."

"Stop!" said Charlie. I stopped. We got out and walked over to a shelter beneath which a man was selling tickets.

The man with the tickets saw us and urged us to buy, eloquently elaborating on his printed sign. Charlie dug into his pocket and produced a half dollar. Presently about 20 people had purchased tickets and the man got down off his stool and led us through the gate.

We followed him along the path. He talked as we progressed. By the time we reached our objective we were all steamed up with apprehension.

uncle telephoned and, without bothering to suppress the triumph in his voice said, "Frieda is flat like a pancake. She's got a flu, with complications yet."

"I'll send my doctor down," I said, "and I'll be around in the morning."

But when I walked up the three flights to their apartment the following day, the door was opened by an obviously in-the-pink Frieda.

"What are you doing out of bed?" My aunt motioned me in, and in the bedroom, propped up on pillows as usual, was Charlie.

"What happened?" said Frieda. "Your uncle got over-heated running up and down the stairs like a chicken."

"I thought you had the flu," "Oh, that," said Frieda. "I fixed it with a suggle-muggle."

For the benefit of the uninitiate, a "suggle-muggle" is an old East Side remedy composed of warm milk, egg, honey, cinnamon and whiskey.

"Wish your uncle happy returns," said Frieda. "It's his birthday."

"Yes, it's my birthday," groaned Charlie, "and for a present she gave me her flu."

Halfway across New Hampshire we came to a place a sign proclaimed the site of the famous Soucook Indian massacre.

We had entered a small clearing. Beyond it was a ledge, overhanging a shallow gorge through which a trickle of water flowed. We stood on the ledge while our guide told us how, 250 years ago, a detachment of militiamen had pursued a band of 20 Indians through the forest. Hard put, the Indians came to this ledge. Below them was the gorge, at that time a good many times deeper than now. Thus the redskins had their choice of leaping into the gorge or being shot.

It was a gruesome tale. We were all silent and impressed as we made our way back to the cars.

"That," said Charlie, "is the best gag I've ever seen."

"Maybe," I said, "but how can that guy prove any such thing happened there?"

"How can the tourists prove it didn't?" Charlie asked. "And what do they care. That chap knew what they wanted and he gave it to them. They were satisfied." He became thoughtful.

Charlie didn't mention the Soucook massacre again during our trip, but I suspected it was on his mind. When he left me in Boston two days later he shook hands warmly.

"Where are you off to now?" I asked him.

"Oh, the western part of mine is still ranking." He grinned. "See you around."

Late in September I had occasion to go north again. Traveling the same route that Charlie and I had taken, I remembered the Soucook Massacre. The shelter was still there and there were cars parked outside.

But a different man was selling tickets. The man was Charlie.

"How about this?" I asked.

He grinned. "You gave me the idea," he said. "Remember you wanted to know how the guy could prove the massacre happened here? Well, I asked him, at the same time flashing a tin badge I sometimes carry around. He decided to move on."

"Is that sort of thing ethical in your profession?" I asked.

"Sure. We're all suckers. Some of us are smarter. The guy was getting fed up anyhow. So am I. Some day somebody is going to ask me to prove that massacre story. If I'm smart enough I'll be gone before he gets here."

Suits Him to a Tee

Modern Milk House Built Under Drive

Idea Could Be Used On Many Midwest Farms

Like most people, farmers have a desire to make use of all available space in and around their service buildings. Few, however, thought of locating a modern milk house under a driveway.

That this is possible is shown in the accompanying picture. Like so many midwestern barns, the two-story structure is located so that about half of it (extending from front to rear) rests on a ridge of land. In this case the ridge is about eight feet high.

Only that portion of the first floor, which is built on the low ground, is used for milking operations. This eliminated the job of excavating under the ridge. Also, however, it created the problem of building a milk house which would be convenient to the milking area and not be affected by drainage from the sloping land.

Since the driveway to the mow followed the ridge line, it was a comparatively easy job to construct the milk house beneath this natural dirt "ramp," and to connect it to the adjacent stanchion section of the barn. The roof of the milk house is strengthened with heavy steel beams.

Protein Supplement Cuts Swine Production Costs

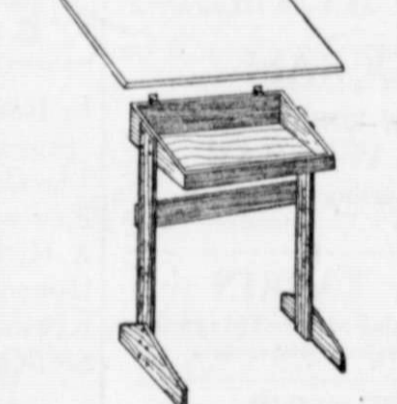

Farmers with ample supplies of grain may be tempted to fill the hog self-feeder with corn and cut down on the amount of, or even eliminate, the protein supplement. Such a step is not as thrifty as it may seem.

Experiments have shown that hogs fed corn alone in dry lot require 11 to 12 bushels of corn per hundred pounds of gain. When a good protein supplement is used in the ration, 100 pounds of pork can be produced with five and one half to six bushels of corn and 50 pounds protein supplement.

With hog and feed prices what they are, this means that every bushel of corn fed with a good protein supplement is worth $2.25 to $2.75 per bushel, while hogs fed corn alone return only $1.50 to $1.75 per bushel of corn consumed.

Hogs fed grain and a balanced supplement will reach a market weight in five and one half to six months.

Shop or Home Desk

Here is a desk that is quite handy for the shop or home. The top may be built to any size desired or made from a large drawing board. It is fastened to the frame with hinges so that it may be raised. The other parts of the desk are made of small pieces of lumber.

Reasonable Care Will Extend Life of Pillow

Pillows don't need a lot of special care, but reasonable attention will extend their serviceability. They should be aired outdoors often in cool, dry air, or placed on a chair near an open window. Airing not only clears the pillows of possible dust but also helps prevent lumping of feathers. A simple daily routine is to remove cases and fluff the pillows when making the bed. This helps force in air.

Cheddar Reserves Placed At 260.2 Million Pounds

Reserve supplies of cheddar cheese in cold storage warehouses was reported by the U. S. department of agriculture recently at 260.2 million pounds, largest for August 1 since 1942.

Although 66.5 million pounds were government-owned the total stocks reported were nearly 98 million pounds larger than a year ago, more than 100 million above the five-year average for the date.

The Way it Happened . . .

IN MILWAUKEE . . . Police Chief John W. Polcyn warned that girl entertainers in nightclubs must wear more than a "G-string and a couple of two-inch stars," and that it was OK as long as they dressed no more immodestly than ladies in audience.

IN JAMAICA, N. Y. . . Judge Joseph M. Conroy listened patiently while Donald and Mary McClay each recited reasons why the other was unfit to have custody of their two-year-old daughter, then gave his decision: "Neither of you will get custody. In my opinion you both both stink."

Ratio of Elders Doubles in Century

The ratio of elders to those at the main working years of life has doubled in the United States during the past century, and has increased by nearly two thirds since 1900.

One hundred years ago there were only about six persons at age 65 or older for each 100 of the population at 20 to 64. By 1900 the ratio had climbed to eight, and since then it has risen even more rapidly and is now 13.

Although the segment of the population at 65 or over has been increasing, the relative importance of the dependent population as a whole has declined, due to a rapid drop in the ratio of children to the population at the main productive ages. The number of children under 18 per 100 persons at ages 20-64 has been cut in half, from 107 in 1850 to about 54 in 1950.

In very recent years, however, due to the war and postwar spurt in the birth rate, this trend has been reversed and the child population has increased at a more rapid rate than people at ages 20-64. This will continue for at least a decade, even if allowance is made for a steady decline in the birth rate from its present level, and at the same time the population at the older ages will continue its long-term upward climb.

As a result, we are entering a period when the country will have to provide for the expanding social and economic needs of both its large child and aged populations, each growing at a faster rate than the population at the main working ages.

Judge Rules It Takes Two Automobiles to Double Park

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—In Minneapolis it takes two cars to double park.

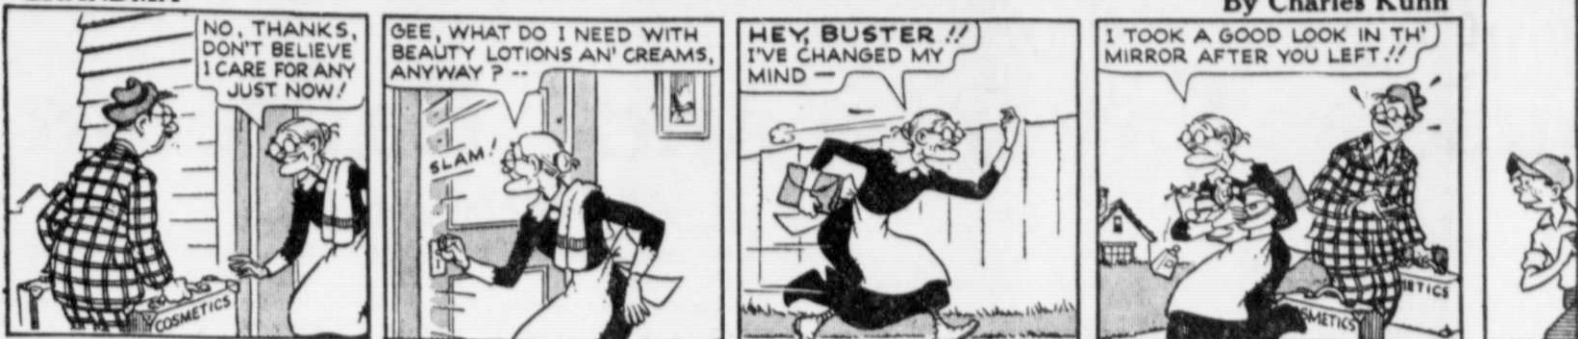

A traffic judge settled an argument between a policeman and a cab driver, in favor of the cabbie. The officer gave the cab driver a ticket when he found his car parked 10 feet from the curb.

The cabbie pleaded "not guilty" on the grounds there was no car between his cab and the curb.

Helicopter Big As Airliner Is Ordered for Air Rescue Service

WASHINGTON—A helicopter as big as an airliner and able to land on snow, ice, water, sand, or marsh has been ordered for the military air rescue service. The copter is the Piasecki H-21, a twin-motor ship with an emergency capacity of 27 passengers and two pilots. The air force announced it has ordered the H-21 after competition among four companies in the design of a rescue craft. The air rescue service is a unit of the military air transport service. It operates 28 rescue units at bases from Germany to the Philippines, blanketing the United States and reaching south to the Canal Zone. Each unit has 10 aircraft and two para-rescue teams composed of men trained to drop into inaccessible areas. The H-21, equipped to land on any flat surface, has a power hoist for use in hovering over spots where landing is impossible. The so-called "omniphobous" landing gear includes large inflatable floats with built-in skis surrounding each wheel. The H-21, developed from a navy type known as the HRP-2 or Flying Banana, has a larger engine than earlier designs and can cruise at 104 miles an hour.

FOR SALE

HAVE 2 taverns for sale, one in Kewaskum and the other in small village, with dance hall. These are both very good business going places, and are not too highly priced. The best of reasons for selling.

17 acres, 12 under cultivation, with 6 room house, furnace heat, inlaid rugs in living room and dining room. Also has garage and very good basement barn. This place is in a small village not too far from Kewaskum, and within a few blocks from school and shopping district. Reason for selling, death in family. Place now rented, but can make date for vacating.

80 acre gravel farm with 2 year old, 4 room bungalow, and has a small lake with fish in, covering about 20 acres. There are about 12 acres that can be cultivated. Gravel now being sold to builders and being used for highway, and black dirt can also be gotten. Owners aged and sickly, and are unable to take care of the business. Will sell farm with building or will sell building with 10 acres separate, and will make contract for the gravel. This is now a money maker, and anyone interested can increase this business, so it will pay for itself in a few years. Is located in Fond du Lac county, about 1 1/2 miles off Highway 55 and about 5 miles from Campbellsport.

2 year old, 2 bedroom, all modern, up to date bungalow, with garage and breezeway, next to home. Lot has a 90 foot frontage and is 120 feet deep. Is located in Kewaskum, about a block to grade and high school. A few blocks from a good shopping district, near churches and show. Also near a good place to work. Owner taking loss. Sickness is the reason for selling, and going back to farm.

Auburn lake cottage, 4 rooms furnished with 50x145 foot lot, 1 block from lake with easement. This is the cheapest lake property on this lake or any lake. It can be bought complete for $1650.00.

80 acre farm with personal, 10 head of cattle, milking 7 now with a 37 test; 2 horses, 16 pigs, 20 chickens, 25 guinea hens, 10 ducks, all machinery and lots of feed. Good concrete silo, 8 room house, stove heated. About 4 miles to Kewaskum, 2 miles from St. Michaels school, bus driven by place for Kewaskum schools. This farm complete for only $11,500.00.

FOR SALE OR TRADE

WILL SELL OR TRADE my 2 1/2 acres, with modern home, with new shower and toilet, running water, furnace, 2 bedrooms, living and dining room and very nice kitchen. And for a little cost or do it yourself, you can make a 3 room flat on 2nd floor. Also has a very nice basement barn with drinking cups and stanchions, garage and other buildings. A built in double silo in barn. Will trade for a flat or small home in Campbellsport, Kewaskum or West Bend. This place is only 2 1/2 miles from Campbellsport, 8 1/2 miles to Kewaskum. All land is workable. This place is ideal for man and wife, who want just enough to do, or a man working that has a job, and wants to have his own small place to raise chickens and have a place for a big garden. For more information, call, see or write
