

Louis Bath, Jr. Named Red Cross Fund Drive Chairman for Village

Local Quota is $391, Town $198, No Township Chairman Named as Yet

Henry Renard, fund campaign chairman for the West Bend chapter of the American Red Cross, has named Louis Bath Jr. precinct chairman for the village of Kewaskum it was announced this week.

Drive quota for the entire West Bend chapter area, which includes roughly the northeastern half of Washington county is $6450. Other precinct quotas are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Precinct Name, Quota. Includes Village of Barton ($261), Village of Jackson ($258), Town of Kewaskum ($198), etc.

Other precinct chairmen named by Renard this week include Rudy Pfeiffer for the village of Barton and co-chairmen Mrs. Ed. Boesewetter and John Indermuehle for the village of Jackson.

In a joint statement issued this week West Bend chapter chairman C. J. Schoenher and drive chairman Renard urged all people in the chapter area to give their full support to the drive.

"Red Cross is all of us, working together to do a job that cannot be neglected," they said, adding that "this year more than ever before, the Red Cross needs the support and cooperation of each and everyone of us."

"The tremendous program which has been assigned to Red Cross in the present emergency cannot be carried to completion unless each of us does his share."

"We cannot fail in even the slightest phase of our program for 1951 and we will not, provided everyone of us does the best he can."

Local FFA Student Takes 2nd in Speaking Contest

Robert L. Hulase of the Kewaskum High school chapter of Future Farmers of America took second place in the district F. F. A. speaking contest held at Campbellsport.

Hulase represented the chapter at the district contest after winning first place in the local chapter contest. His runner-up was Jerry Backus.

According to D. W. Scheid, local F. F. A. chapter adviser, Hulase did an excellent job as a freshman boy in the district contest, placing over Port Washington, West Bend, Mayville, Port Washington, and Fond du Lac F. F. A. chapters.

The subject of Hulase's speech was "Soil is Our Life—It Must Be Protected." All speeches must be seven to ten minutes long after which there is a five minute question period on the subject of the speech from the judges.

SUZIE ROSENHEIMER HIGH SCORER FOR WAYLAND TEAM

In the girls' basketball tournament held in the Wayland academy gym, Beaver Dam, Saturday, Milwaukee Downer came through as champion in both the first and second team divisions.

Suzie Rosenheimer of Kewaskum and Ellen Barber led Wayland to victory in the opening first round game with 8 points each. The score was 21-18, Wayland over Holy Angels.

Suzie was again high scorer with 6 points in the final game against Downer, which Wayland lost 17-15 on a goal in the last seconds.

KRAFTS MOVE TO VILLAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kraft and family of Sheboygan Falls have moved into the Maeske home, the former Paper property, on North Fond du Lac ave.

Mr. Kraft recently purchased the A. M. Staehler filling station and garage business in the village.

SKAT TOURNAMENT MONDAY

A skat tournament will be held at Reiser's tavern, Kewaskum, Monday night, March 5, starting at 8 o'clock. All skat players invited.

Training Course for Scout Leaders Here

Training course for scoutmasters and assistants in the Badger council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held this Saturday and Sunday, March 3-4, at Kewaskum High school.

The program will start at 2 p. m. Saturday and be concluded at 2 p. m. Sunday. The scoutmasters and assistants were advised to bring their own sleeping gear and "gadgets," swapping materials, displays, exhibits and demonstrations.

Among the subjects in which the trainees will receive instruction are opening and closing ceremonies, advancement, proper methods of obtaining troop discipline, function of the troop committee and other activities.

Termed the "whoopie doo scouters," the program will be instructed by such council officials as Jack Hopper, field executive, Norman Colby and Henry C. Rucks, L. N. Peterson, chairman of the Kewaskum Scouting committee, will deliver welcoming remarks.

Milwaukee Milk Permit Issued to Local Dairy

The city health commissioner of Milwaukee, Dr. E. R. Krumbiegel, announced last week that permits for two milk distributors to start the sale of their products in the city of Milwaukee have been granted.

One of the permits was issued to Wern Farms, Waukesha, while another was scheduled to be mailed Monday to Kewaskum Creameries of Kewaskum.

The Kewaskum permit was issued after approval of 32 farms and new equipment installed in a milk processing plant at Kewaskum.

Another Washington county dairy requested inspections by the Milwaukee health department of its dairy plant. The new applicant is the Heintzmann Dairy at Jackson.

A potential supply from 90 farms is to undergo farm-by-farm inspection.

Permits are certified milk, see permits for the first to be issued since a Milwaukee health ordinance was changed last December. Previously no milk could be sold within the city limits unless it was processed and pasteurized in a plant within the city limits.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ANSWERS THREE CALLS DURING WEEK

The Kewaskum fire fighters were called out on three alarms during the past week. Two of these were chimney fires. One of them was to the Andrews and Roman Staehler farm home in the town of Kewaskum.

At 2 a. m. Thursday of this week the firemen were aroused by a call from the Alvin Westerman farm in the town of Wayne where a smoke house burned down. The blaze threatened an adjoining shed and barn and was fanned by a high wind. Firemen doused the flames and kept them from spreading to the other buildings.

PROPERTIES IN VILLAGE, TOWN OF KEWASKUM SOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klein, Sr. of the town of Kewaskum last week purchased the Mrs. Nathalie Freiman home and property on the corner of Main and West Water sts., better known as the former Driessel place. The house contains several apartments.

Harry H. Manske, local realtor, last week sold the former Henry Dottman property in the town of Kewaskum to Mrs. Annie Schwabenlender of West Bend. Mrs. Schwabenlender and son have moved into the home.

SCOUTS TO COLLECT PAPER

The Senior Scout troop will conduct a waste paper drive on Saturday, March 10, in the village. Have your paper ready and the scouts will pick it up on that day.

Kewaskum Chevrolets to Battle West Bend Lithia Team for Lakes Loop Championship Sunday Night

Capacity Crowd to See Big Game of Season; Winner to Play in State Meet

All interest in the Land of Lakes basketball league will be centered on the McLane school gym at West Bend this Sunday night when the West Bend Lithias and Kewaskum Chevrolets, which are tied for first place in the northern division, will battle it out for the championship in the final loop game of the season.

Each team has a record of 14 games won and only one lost as they clash in this finale. It is the big game that players of both teams and fans have been looking forward to all winter.

With the Lithias and Chevrolets going along winning game after game more and more interest was aroused for this all-important game. For the past month or two talk in both communities has been directed to this tilt.

Kewaskum lost its lone game at Mayville on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 24, by one point on an off day. The Lithias only defeat was administered by Kewaskum on the home floor on Jan. 14 by a 74-61 score. Since losing to Mayville the Chevrolets have rolled on to ten straight victories. Kewaskum won their ninth and tenth in succession this week with victories over Campbellsport and Rosendale.

The largest crowd of the season at McLane gym is sure to fill the place to capacity. Kewaskum probably will have as many fans at the tilt as the home team. Everyone's going. The winner will be eligible to enter the state tournament at Hartford later.

The feature contest will get underway about 8:40 p. m. A preliminary game will be played between the Kewaskum Honeycks, who now hold first place in the Land of Lakes league, and an all-star team or the leading team from the West Bend Industrial league. This tussle is slated to begin at 7:00 p. m.

After beating the Lithias in an earlier game here, Kewaskum might be rated a slight favorite over them. However, West Bend's large home floor advantage should make it very close and the outcome will probably depend on which team has the hottest night. The Chev's attack is built around Johnny Tassar, league leading scorer, who has scored 257 points to date and may set a new all-time scoring record in the loop this year. Other starters will be big Fred Engel and Tassar's brother, Wayland, at the forwards and another Tassar brother, Alton, and Augie Bilgo at the guards.

The Lithias' big scorer is Center Bob Rauen, runner-up scorer in the league with 254 points. Other West Bend cutters expected to start are Dave Sauer, Pete Graff, Don Kugler and Al Kissinger.

Billy Edwards Enlists in U. S. Marine Corps

William Edwards, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Edwards of this village, who had been a student at Concordia college, Milwaukee, recently enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps. He left Friday, March 2, for San Diego, California, to begin his "boot" training. It is the first time a local enlistee has been assigned to the California base for training. Previously they went to Parris Island, S. C.

A farewell party was held in Billy's honor Saturday night at the Edwards home with many of his young friends as guests. He was presented with a purse as a parting gift.

Four other Washington county men recently enlisted and left for service in the army. They are Melvin D. Cardarelli, 17, and Richard H. Richie, 14, of West Bend, Norman C. Geidel, 14, R. 1, Fredonia, and Gordon L. Sharrano, 20, Newburg.

WIN SHEEPSHEAD PRIZES

Sheepshead winners at the tournament held at Heiser's tavern Tuesday night were as follows: 1st, Ray Kudock, 28-0-23; 2nd, Ed. Schaefer, 30-2-28; 3rd, E. M. Schmitt, 26-8-28; (41 games); 4th, Martin Schmidt, 26-8-28 (10 games); 5th, Paul Schmitt, 20-6-24 (10 games).

BUNTJER DAUGHTER BAPTIZED

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Buntjer, village, was baptized by the Rev. F. C. La Buwi in Holy Trinity church Sunday. She was given the name Patricia Gerilyn. Sponsors were Mrs. Jacqueline Coppock and Richard Buntjer.

Chevrolets Trim Campbellsport and Rosendale to Hold Onto First Place Tie

The Kewaskum Chevrolets worked up to their championship game with West Bend this Sunday by winning two more games during the week. On Sunday night at Campbellsport they trounced by the Kingspins, 63-51, and Tuesday night at Rosendale they pushed the Dalers into the cellar by handing them a 76-52 setback.

Campbellsport predicted they would upset the Chevrolets and hoped to hold loop leading scorer Johnny Tassar practically scoreless but they were wrong. Johnny did have his worst night of the season, missing baskets and fumbling consistently, but still managed to drop in 13 points. They also blamed and publicized Kewaskum's "cracker box" gym and the absence of several players from their lineup for their earlier defeat here by a rousing 81-45 score. But the box scores show there were no players missing in the first game here. Instead they loaded up with another player for Sunday's tilt. And the home

GIRL SCOUT TROOP PLANS TO HOLD BENEFIT MOVIE

The Kewaskum theatre is working with the local Girl Scout troop on plans for a benefit show which will be held in the month of April. The movie which has been chosen for this event is "NEVER A DULL MOMENT," starring Irene Dunne and Fred MacMurray.

The Girl Scouts plan to sell advance tickets and the commission they receive on the tickets they sell will go into their "camp fund." This fund will be used to send all of the girls to scout camp this summer.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The regular meeting of the Girl Scouts was held Tuesday, Feb. 27, at the Girl Scout rooms in the Legion clubhouse.

We would like to express our appreciation to Mrs. Earl Kohler, for the interesting talk she gave to us on England. This has helped us to complete our junior citizenship badge, at which we are working. We are also working on other badges.

The Girl Scouts and Brownies are going around from door to door taking orders for Girl Scout cookies. They will be delivered on March 24.

MISS NIGH ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nigh of Plymouth, former residents of the town of Auburn, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn, to Charles Ostermann, son of Mrs. Charles Ostermann, North 42nd street, Milwaukee. Mr. Ostermann attended the University of Wisconsin in Milwaukee. A picture of Miss Nigh appeared in The Milwaukee Journal this week.

Philip Kibbel, John Kocher, Others Dead

Philip Kibbel, 71, retired farmer of the town of Wayne, passed away Saturday, Feb. 25, at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, following an illness of one month.

Born Oct. 29, 1879 in the town of Wayne, he lived most of his life on the George Kibbel homestead in that township. He resided in the town of Wayne all his life with the exception of five years during which he lived at Bentley, North Dakota. He never married.

The only survivors are a brother, Otto Kibbel of Bentley, N. D., and many nieces and nephews.

The body was in state at Miller's Funeral home, Kewaskum. Funeral rites were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in Salem Reformed church at Wayne. The Rev. Carl Fluening presiding. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

JOHN J. KOCHER

John J. Kocher, 39, of the town of Barton, father of Mrs. Fred Schief and brother of Mrs. Fred Andrae of this village, died Friday, Feb. 23, in St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, of cerebral thrombosis following a week's illness. He was a retired farmer.

Mr. Kocher was born Sept. 25, 1870 in the town of Barton and was a long-time resident of that township. He married Theresa Koch on May 12, 1890 and she predeceased him on Oct. 17, 1919. The couple came to the present home in May, 1916.

The deceased was the father of three children, all of whom survive. They are Elsie (Mrs. Fred Schief) of Kewaskum, Lillian (Mrs. Arthur Buddenhagen) of West Bend and Herbert of the town of Barton. He also leaves one daughter-in-law, two sons-in-law, two sisters, Mrs. Lydia Andrae of Kewaskum, and Mrs. Frieda Goebel of Barton, and four brothers, George and Walter Kocher of West Bend, Alfred of Barton and Emil of Chicago.

After being in state at Miller's Funeral home here, funeral services for Mr. Kocher were held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Peace Evangelical and Reformed church. The Rev. Richard M. A. Gadow officiated and burial was in the congregation's cemetery.

MRS. ANNE KRELL

Mrs. Annie Krell, 55, nee Thill, of Boltonville died at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 25, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Staehler at Boltonville following a lingering illness of several weeks duration.

Mrs. Krell was born Dec. 6, 1875 at Fredonia, Ozaukee county, and lived on a farm near Boltonville many years. She married John A. Krell on Sept. 27, 1914 in Holy Angels church, West Bend. He predeceased her on March 19, 1942. Nine children were born to this union, two of whom preceded their mother in death.

Surviving are George of St. Michaels, Marie (Mrs. Herman Mueller) of Belgium, Lucy (Mrs. Lawrence Staehler) of Boltonville, Cecelia (Mrs. Sylvester Herman) of West Bend, Leona (Mrs. Ray Uselding) of Belgium, Lawrence of Random Lake and Nicholas of Belgium. The deceased also leaves 29 grandchildren, two sisters, Mary (Mrs. John Goshay) of West Bend and Margaret (Mrs. Joseph Sanem) of Fredonia, and four brothers, John Thill of Oldham, South Dakota, Joseph of Holy Cross, Nic of Random Lake and Math of Boltonville. Two brothers and one sister predeceased her.

The remains are in state at the Lawrence Staehler residence at Boltonville. Funeral rites will be held at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in St. Michael's church, St. Michaels, the Rev. Francis Koehwer presiding. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery, town of Trenton. Miller's Funeral home, Kewaskum, is in charge.

MRS. IDA SCHNURR

Mrs. August Schnurr, 77, a former Kewaskum resident, died at the home of her son, Carl, Albuquerque, New Mexico, on Sunday, Feb. 25. She had been ill for some time prior to her demise.

Mrs. Schnurr, nee Ida Morgenroth, was born at Milwaukee on Mar. 19, 1873, and spent her earlier years in Boltonville. In 1891 she came to Kewaskum to make her home. Her marriage to Mr. Schnurr took place April 3, 1892. Following their marriage the couple made their home near Kewaskum. Mr. Schnurr passed away Mar. 4, 1927. Following his death Mrs. Schnurr went to West Bend to make her home. In October, 1949, she went to New Mexico to reside with her son.

Surviving are three sons, Elmer of West Bend, Carl of Albuquerque, Martin of Wilmet, Wis., and a daughter, Myrtle (Mrs. Edward Spier), Campbellsport. She also leaves 11 grandchildren, 5 great-grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Henry Klossig of Milwaukee and a brother, Dr. Charles Morgenroth, also of Milwaukee.

Mrs. Schnurr was a member of the Women's society of Christian Service of 7th Ave. Methodist church, West Bend.

Indians Beaten in Tourney Semi-Finals

After shading North Fond du Lac in the opening round of the W.L.A. A. district basketball tournament at North Fondy last Thursday night, 42-38, the Kewaskum Indians were eliminated the next night in the semi-finals by Campbellsport's Tri-County conference champions, 50-47, in a heartbreaker.

The North Fondy-Kewaskum tilt was a real thriller with the lead changing all through the 32 minutes of play. The Oriole zone defense kept the Indians shooting from outside. After tying the score at 33-all with 3:45 remaining, five Indians scored to grab back the lead. Then Arnie Meier and Bob Lamb counted in the closing seconds to put the Orioles back into the thick of it. High scorer for the Indians was Center Schultz with 11 points and Jamthun had 10. Hintz of the losers was top man with 12. In the other first round game the Belles defeated Oakfield, 49-55.

In Friday night's semi-finals, Kewaskum was robbed of an upset over the champion Belles and the chance to reach the finals and play Winneconne Saturday night. One of the two outcasts, Roberts, called numerous doubtful personal fouls on the Indians and all five of the regular starters were put out of the game with the limit of fouls. Kewaskum was ahead of the Belles, 26-25, at the half but after Coach Ernie Mitchell lost all of his starters on fouls in the second half the reserves just couldn't take the Belle first stringers. A total of 33 personal infractions were called against the Indians.

Dick Steinaeker and Dave Wondra led the winners with 16 points apiece, while Ronnie Schultz dropped in 11 markers for the losers. Kewaskum outshot the champions 19 field goals to 16, but gave away to Campbellsport's 18 charity tosses. The score was tied at 35-all going into the hot last quarter. In the consolation series, Oakfield downed North Fondy, 40-34.

Only four teams competed in the sub-district event at North Fondy this year, the other four playing their games at Winneconne. In the first round there Winneconne beat Brandon 45-37 and Hortonville tripped up Rosendale 50-42. In the semi-finals Winneconne whipped Hortonville 59-34 and Rosendale bested Brandon 60-45 in consolation.

In the district championship battle at Winneconne between that school and Campbellsport, the Belles went on to take the title, defeating Winneconne 41-36. As a result the Belles advanced to a district playoff game in which they had to meet Kohler, a 10-month district champs, at North Fond du Lac on Friday night of this week.

Kohler hasn't lost a single game this season and is rated as the No. 1 team in the state among the smaller schools. Among Kohler's wins is one over Kewaskum by 29 points. This contest was played at Kohler. Kohler was in the state tournament at Madison last year.

EDWARD J. EMMER

Edward J. Emmer, 58, died unexpectedly at his farm home at Ashford Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 28, after having been in ill health for some time.

Born March 24, 1892, at St. Kilian, he was married Jan. 11, 1916, to Adele Bingen in St. Anthony's church, Alton. He is survived by his widow; 10 children, Clarence and Mrs. Arthur Theisen, Campbellsport, Roman, St. Kilian, Wilmer, Lomira, and Elizabeth, Edward, Jr., Kathleen, Robert, Rosalyn and Valeria at home; four grandchildren; four brothers and two sisters, Kilian, John, Rose and Kathryn Emmer, all of Minneapolis; Joseph of Arthay, Minn. and Peter, Medford.

Funeral services will be held at 7:30 a. m. Saturday from the Kieler Funeral home, Lomira, and at 10 a. m. at St. Martin's church, Ashford. The Rev. Francis Knoerschild officiating. Burial will be in the adjoining cemetery.

EDWARD H. WOLF

Edward Henry Wolf, 72, a retired Lomira furniture and undertaker, and native of the town of Wayne, who died Tuesday, Feb. 29, at his home in Brooksville, Fla., was buried Monday, Feb. 26, at Lomira. Services were held at the Salem Ev. United Brethren church in the village at 2 p. m. The Rev. Milton Giese officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery.

The retired businessman was born Mar. 25, 1878, in the town of Wayne, the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Wolf. He was married to Elizabeth Weigand, town of Wayne, in 1903. The couple established their home in Lomira and lived there until 25 years ago when they moved to Florida. Mrs. Wolf died 20 years ago.

Surviving are five sons, a brother, John, Lomira, three sisters, 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

312 Firemen Attend Badger Banquet Here; 18 Depts. Represented

The annual mid-winter meeting and banquet of the Badger Firemen's association was held in Kewaskum last Sunday, Feb. 25. The business meeting in the afternoon was held in the council room at the new municipal building and open house was held in the fire station there throughout the afternoon. The chiefs and delegates from 18 departments were in attendance. Matters of general interest were discussed during this meeting.

At 6 o'clock a banquet was served in Holy Trinity church parlors by the ladies and Holy Name society members of the congregation. Although the parish hall has accommodations for 200, a total of 312 were served. Some others had to be turned away because of the limited facilities but there just was no more space.

Following the dinner John Feutz, Slinger, president of the association and acting toastmaster, introduced Chief Harry Schaefer of the Kewaskum department, who gave the address of welcome. Chiefs from other departments were introduced following Chief Schaefer's welcome.

During the afternoon at the fire station and at the banquet the guests were entertained with music by "The Terlinden and his musicians. They also led the group in community singing.

Guest speaker at the banquet was Capt. Ray Schweltz of the Milwaukee Fire Department. He lauded the efforts of the volunteer firemen who keep their organizations going in spite of the fact that very little financial help is given by the communities. He discussed at great length the care and maintenance of fire hose. Valuable information was gained by the group as Mr. Schweltz has had a great deal of experience in the many years he has been with the Milwaukee department.

He suggested that fire departments interested in getting information on civil defense write the state director of civil defense at Madison.

A letter written to the association by Ernest D. Schneider of Cedarburg, vice-president, in which he sent greetings to fellow members was read. This was the first mid-winter meeting he had failed to attend. He and his wife are vacationing in Georgia.

A special guest at the banquet was Rev. F. C. La Buwi, pastor of Holy Trinity congregation.

Departments represented included Fredonia, Cedarburg, Mequon, Saukville, Kewaskum, Germantown, Barton, West Bend, Jackson, Slinger, Beltonville, Newburg, Random Lake, Menomonie Falls, and the town of Milwaukee. Although not a member, sent representatives as the department plans to join the association in the near future.

The host Kewaskum fire department wishes to thank the members of the Ladies' Altar society and Holy name society and Father La Buwi, pastor, for their splendid co-operation and aid in making the dinner the excellent success it was.

Wounded in Korea

According to a release from the Department of Defense, Washington, D. C., Pfc. Raymond J. Roebuck of Route 3, Kewaskum, has been wounded while serving in Korea. Further particulars were not available.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waidenschmidt of Campbellsport have received word that their son, Marvin, was wounded in action in Korea. His parents were informed that the injury was a leg wound caused by a bullet, but that it was not serious. The soldier had recently returned to action after having been hospitalized for frostbite of his face and hands.

BIRTH

SCHAEFER—A son to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin "Shorty" Schaefer, Kewaskum, Wednesday, Feb. 21.

eral home, Lomira, and at 10 a. m. at St. Martin's church, Ashford. The Rev. Francis Knoerschild officiating. Burial will be in the adjoining cemetery.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS

Fish Demand Careful Cooking to Preserve Delicate Full Flavor

MANY PEOPLE WHO really like fish have accustomed themselves to the disagreeable odors that often go with its cooking; many more people would be very fond of fish if it didn't fill the house with odors during its preparation.

How few home-makers realize that the cooking of fish entails no unpleasant smell! Here is a delicate food that is tender and tasty. When cooked only to the point of doneness, at proper temperature, its only odor is as savory as that of nicely cooked chicken or beefsteak!

Many of the broiled fish recipes call for high temperature, but for only a short time. If cooked just so, fish can be downright delicious. Do give it a chance.

YOU NEED DO little to fish to make it pleasing. It's tender and juicy, easy to prepare, delightful for meal variety. It can be seasoned or served with sauce, but in every way, it's good.

Creole Salmon (Serves 4)

- 1 pound can pink salmon
  - 1 egg
  - 1 green pepper, finely diced
  - 1 small onion, finely diced
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon green pepper
  - 1 teaspoon chili powder
  - 1 cup canned tomatoes
  - 1 cup bread crumbs
  - 3 sprigs parsley, diced finely
  - 2 tablespoons butter
- Mix salmon and egg in saucepan. Add chopped green pepper and onion, seasonings, tomatoes and half the crumbs. Simmer for 10 minutes. Add minced parsley, cook 5 minutes longer. Turn into greased casserole, or individual baking dishes, sprinkle with remaining bread crumbs and bake in hot oven (400°) until crumbs are brown. Serve while hot.

Spanish Style Fish (Serves 4-6)

- 4 cod steaks
  - 2 egg yolks
  - Flour
  - 1/2 cup oil
  - 3 tablespoons honey
  - 3 tablespoons lemon juice
  - 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- Cut steaks into serving pieces. Add 2 tablespoons water to egg yolks and beat slightly. Dip fish into egg yolks and then into flour; brown quickly on both sides in hot oil. Add honey, lemon juice and allspice and simmer fish until all liquid is absorbed, about 5 minutes, turning once.

Baked Fillet of Fish (Serves 6)

- 6-8 fillets of lean fish (sole, haddock, bluefish)
  - 2 tablespoons butter or salad oil
  - 2 teaspoons chopped onion or 1 clove garlic, very finely minced
  - 1 bay leaf, broken very fine
  - 2 tomatoes, skinned, thickly sliced
  - 1 green pepper, sliced
  - 1/2 cup lemon salt, pepper
- Melt butter. Add onion (or garlic) minced, with bay leaf, stir over low heat until soft. Arrange tomato slices with overlapping slices of green peppers to cover bottom of Broiled lobster tails are a favorite with many for a good fish dinner. They will broil quickly, and are done when they turn a deep, rich pink. Serve them with lemon wedges and mayonnaise.

LYNN SAYS: Add Flavored Touches To Everyday Foods

Add some finely chopped spinach to pancake batter and make spinach pancakes. Serve with pot roast or as a vegetable. This is guaranteed to make spinach a favorite even amongst those hard to convert.

Chopped liver seasoned and mixed with bread crumbs and egg makes a first rate main dish especially when the patties are wrapped in bacon and cooked with tomato sauce.

Make the breakfast cereal dish special by serving with a drift of whipped cream, topped with sliced peaches and a sprinkling of brown sugar.

Hot, crusty corn sticks are always welcome with a meal, but they can make it even more festive if you fold tiny cubes of ham and cheese in the batter before baking.

An appetizing chowder uses as its base, cooked rice, into which are chopped carrots, celery, tomatoes and green pepper. Add undiluted evaporated milk and cook until vegetables are heated.

Chunks from cooked lobster tails are seasoned and mixed with egg and bread crumbs to make these lobster fries. Serve with a tangy tartar sauce, French fried potatoes and green salad for a satisfying meal.

large shallow baking dish. Sprinkle the sautéed onion or garlic over top. Add salt and pepper. Arrange the fish fillets on this "bed" of tomatoes and peppers. Sprinkle with lemon juice, salt and pepper. Cover with waxed paper; bake in moderate oven (350°) 20-30 minutes. Pour over this Mustard Hollandaise Sauce. Brown under broiler. Serve at once.

Mustard Hollandaise Sauce

- 3 egg yolks
  - 3 teaspoons dry mustard
  - 1 teaspoon tarragon vinegar
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - Cayenne pepper
  - 2 tablespoons cream
  - 6 tablespoons butter
- Mix in medium small bowl (or top of double boiler) the egg yolks, mustard, tarragon vinegar, salt, cayenne pepper, cream. Place over hot water (not boiling) and beat until mixture begins to thicken. Add butter, bit by bit, stirring continuously until sauce is rich and creamy. Remove from over water. If too thick, thin with a little additional cream.

Broiled Rock Lobster Tails (Serves 4)

- 4 small rock lobster tails
  - 1/2 cup melted butter
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
  - Salt and pepper
- Crack heavy back shell of lobster tails lengthwise to make tail lie flat. Turn lobster over and remove thin under shell with scissors. Combine butter, lemon juice, parsley, salt and pepper. Preheat oven and broiling pan at 400°. Place lobster tails on back on pan, brush with butter and set pan about 4 inches from heat. Broiling frequently with butter, broil about 15 minutes or until lobster tails are well browned. Serve hot or cold with lemon wedges and mayonnaise.

Rock Lobster Fries (Serves 6)

- 2 1/2 pounds boiled rock lobster tails
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 2 tablespoons salt
- 1 1/2 teaspoons pepper
- 1 1/2 teaspoons paprika
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 3 cups fine bread or cracker crumbs
- Butter
- Tartar Sauce
- Lemon slices
- Watercress

Remove cooked meat from lobster tails; cut into egg-sized chunks. Roll lightly in a mixture of flour and seasonings. Dip floured pieces in beaten eggs. Roll in fine bread or cracker crumbs. Melt enough butter to fill 1/4 inch depth in skillet. Sauté lobster until nicely browned on all sides. Serve with tartar sauce, garnish with lemon slices and watercress.

Tartar Sauce (Makes 1 1/2 cups)

- 1 cup mayonnaise
  - 1 tablespoon chopped onion or chives
  - 2 tablespoons chopped olives
  - 1 tablespoon chopped sweet pickle
  - 1 tablespoon chopped sour pickle
  - 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
  - 1 tablespoon capers
- Mix all ingredients, blending well.

Leftover pieces of fish are just the thing to add to a crisp green salad served with a lemon French dressing that's really tart.

When serving sauce with fish, take a bit of time preparing attractive lemon cups for serving the sauce accompaniment. Halves of lemon, scooped out and scalloped at edges are lovely.

Frankfurter scallop is easily made with sliced frankfurters and scalloped potatoes. Add about one tablespoon of prepared mustard to each cup of white sauce used.

For spaghetti dinners, there's nothing better than garlic bread. Slice a loaf of French bread not quite through to the bottom crust. Spread slices with garlic flavored butter and sprinkle generously with Parmesan cheese, grated. Heat in paper bag in moderate oven for 10 minutes.

Dress up those omelets with herb seasoning if you like gourmet touches. Sweet marjoram, tarragon and basil are all good.

Make sweet French dressing and beat some currant jelly in it for ruby red color.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Rough Weather

"THE FAMILY that prays together stays together" is a saying as beautiful as it is true. I have another saying to match it: "The family that plans together stands together."

If you and your husband and children don't plan together you aren't a real home and it isn't a real marriage.

These are days of planning; revolutionary planning. We all have to get new viewpoints in these days. Never in the entire history of the world have peace-loving countries faced such catastrophic possibilities. There isn't one of us whose life isn't going to be touched by the onrush of events in the next few years, and the survivors—and there'll be millions of quite prosperous and secure survivors—are the ones who look ahead today.

Marcia Connelly is a forward thinker. She writes me a most heartening letter from which these are excerpts:

"My husband, Frank, began to be tired, overworked and depressed about three years ago. He's always been a hard worker, but since the war he's had all sorts of troubles; strikes in our very small business, difficulties in getting inventory, high prices, high wages. He became very silent, anxious about me and the boys, but never ugly or interfering.

Lost Her Job

"I'd been a dressmaker when I married, and I tried to get in with a big shop, but my styles weren't today's and I lost that job. Then I went into a hotel as noon waitress, but noon wasn't their big hour, and they wanted me at night, which I couldn't do. Both these efforts distressed Frank, and he was glad when both failed.

"I tried to make him tell me where we stood financially, but he quietly refused; my housekeeping money did less and less, and he gave me less and less. But his shamed, sorrowful look when I served inexpensive meats or no meats at all went to my heart. One night the boys and I had bowls of oatmeal with raisins and a shortcake which we love, and I put one chop on Frank's plate, with a baked potato.

"... began to be tired ..."

"He cut the chop and the potato in two and divided them between the boys, got up and went out, and I learned afterward that he had no dinner at all, but just walked the streets that night.

"Well, then I got mad. I told him that I could manage well, feed the family well, get through whatever was ahead, yes, and enjoy it, too, but that I wasn't going to go on in this unbalanced way. I wanted us all to be in on it, and agree, and face it together.

No Steaks

"I told him that if he'd eat his dinner every night before he looked at it despairingly, he'd always be well filled. But that if thick hot soup and tomato salad and apple dumplings didn't look good to him just because there wasn't a three-inch steak dripping in among them, he'd have to get another cook."

"I asked him to eat what he liked at noon downtown, but to let me see what I could do with meatless suppers for one whole month. Well, we've had shellfish salads and sometimes a chicken salad for supper since, but meat has never been the main dish on our table for three years. We sleep better, our bills are negligible, and we eat better, too.

"Then we moved. We moved from the city to an abandoned outlying shabby old place that we bought for $11,000. It had electric light, but antiquated plumbing and it hadn't been painted for about 40 years. Labor was high, but Frank's 'laborer,' and he worked right along with the men. The house is divided into five small apartments now, and if I had 10 I could rent them all tonight. We have a bank balance; the boys flourish in country air; and best of all, Frank is a younger and more confident man than he was even when I married him. He has moved his business to some little sheds in our back yard. The boys help week ends."

That is Marcia's letter, and what Marcia did other women can do. So don't be satisfied with silence, evasions, even irritable snubs from the man of the house, win him somehow to a mood when all his anxieties are brought out into the open; and bring out your own assortment. Perhaps something that you have been doing—Shirley's dancing lessons, Marcia's school marks—have been fretting him out of all proportion. You may be sure that his worry is all for you and the children, as yours is for him.

Grocer Peppers Armed Bandit With Rolls of Silver Dollars

OGDEN, Utah—The bandit who held up William O. Smirl's grocery must be an unhappy man.

When the nasty thief menaced Smirl with a revolver and ordered him to turn over the contents of the cash register, Smirl first tossed some bills onto the floor at the robber's feet.

As the bandit stooped to retrieve the loot, Smirl peppered him with handfuls of silver dollars.

Quaint but outmoded, little red schoolhouses like this one in Missouri's Ozark country are being replaced by modern schools that offer the very best in up-to-date facilities, comfort and excellent daylight conditions. Many of the new schools are envied by their city cousins.

RURAL SCHOOLS Quaint, Outmoded Rural Schools Vanishing From American Scene

(This is the first of two articles on the rural school plant which is undergoing radical changes in many sections of the country. The second article will appear next week.)

The rural school system is having its face lifted. Outmoded, inadequate and too frequently overcrowded, the "little red schoolhouse" is being shoved off the American scene by a "new look" school which is exciting the envy of the farmers' city cousins.

Most of these new schools are ground-hugging masses of cement, steel and glass block offering commodious classrooms drenched with glareless daylight.

They are designed for function without frills, to provide the latest educational facilities without excessive cost. And they're replacing substandard rural schools at the rate of 2,000 a year.

Appearing from Maine to California, most of these new schools are patterned after the Rosedale experimental school in Austin, Texas, where extensive research in controlled classroom daylighting and its effect on health were conducted by Dr. Darell B. Harmon, noted educator and school designer.

New Lighting System

This research, lasting seven years, proved conclusively that improper classroom lighting was a health menace. It was shown that children forced to twist and turn day after day to get adequate light on their work developed poor posture and chronic ailments. Glare and bright contrasts as well as inadequate daylight were also held largely responsible for eye deficiencies.

Out of these studies, in which 160,000 children were observed and examined, was evolved a new type of classroom, one which has changed the whole aspect of school design.

Its most outstanding feature is a new window system—large panels of prismatic glass block over strips of clear glass sash. It not only offers positive daylight control under all conditions but does it automatically.

Here's how it works: Tiny prisms within each light-directing glass block actually bend strong daylight toward the ceiling. This, in turn, acts as a huge reflector to distribute daylight evenly over work surfaces throughout the room. The clear glass sash serves for ventilation and a view of outside.

Color also plays an important role in these new classrooms. Traditional drab tones have given way to soft pastels that reflect light, not absorb it; floors and furniture are in light natural colors; even the chalkboards are eye-comforting green rather than the customary black.

15 Schools Built

Needing new school facilities to relieve overcrowding, the school board decided to first investigate glowing reports of a "new look" school at Austin, Texas, before signing a contract. The school superintendent and the architect went to see for themselves. Their trip changed the entire complexion of rural Colorado schools.

They found classrooms ideally daylighted; they found gay rooms decorated in pastel colors; they found children with good posture and improved health records.

Facts, figures and visual evidence were convincing and Grand Junction got its first "new look" school—the focus of attention for all surrounding communities.

The school has six classrooms, a kindergarten, a luncheon and a multi-purpose room with a stage. Primary grades have their own toilet rooms and outside exits to play area; the luncheon and kitchen are linked to the large general-purpose room to provide better service for special parties and after school functions; oversized classrooms are flooded with glareless daylight.

Sorely needed to provide for a fast growing population, this school is a far cry from the traditional rural school.

Ultimate in seeing conditions is provided the "new look" rural classroom by means of a new window system. The ceiling acts as a huge reflector to distribute the daylight evenly to all parts of the classroom. The block glass above the clear glass sash bends strong daylight toward the ceiling.

Replacing the "substandard" rural schools are modern plants, scientifically-planned for both education and health.

'Little Red Schoolhouse' Is Outmoded

Five years ago there were 86,580 "little red schoolhouses" throughout the country. This figure represented just about half of all United States public schools.

Today, according to the United States office of education, the total has dropped to below 75,000; tomorrow it can be expected to be far less.

Replacing the "substandard" rural schools are modern plants, scientifically-planned for both education and health.

Wood Ford Farm Builds Dairy Barn
Famous Ayrshire Herd Has 6-Year Milk Record

One of the finest and most modern dairy barns in the United States, using the newest building materials and developments to safeguard against fire, was completed recently on the Wood Ford Farm at Avon, Conn.

Forty feet wide and 267 feet long, the barn houses 100 milking cows. It includes also a large feed room, box stalls, an office, a room for employees, and a well-equipped milk room.

Fire destroyed the old dairy barn last summer. None of the farm's famous ayrshire herd was harmed because it had been put out to night pasture.

In making the barn fireproof concrete was used for the floor, cinder block walls were filled with vermiculite. The roof has asbestos shingles laid on asphalt felt to make the barn almost 100 per cent fire safe.

The barn features an effective ventilating system, which brings air through intakes at the peak of the roof. Stale air is picked up by thermostatically controlled fans from a point near the floor.

The Wood Ford Farm herd has been the highest producing ayrshire herd in the United States for the past six years.

New Burley Strains Are Almost Free of Wildfire

New strains of burley tobacco that are almost immune to wildfire, one of the most destructive diseases of the crop, have been created by an agriculture department plant scientist.

The strains also have a lower nicotine content. This, too, is a major advance, because nicotine in present day burley—used principally in blended cigarettes—is higher than is desired.

A third point about the new plants is that they seem to be a little more vigorous in growth than other lines.

But it will be two or three years before growers have these plants, because they must be improved and selected for local conditions before they are released.

The man who originated the new strains is Dr. E. Clayton. He developed the wildfire resistance in the new lines from a wild species. The new line was developed after a systematic study of several hundred wild species during the last 15 years.

Large Attendance at Farm Meeting Here; Give Prizes

Farm institute meetings held at Hartford and Kewaskum on Thursday of the past week drew capacity attendance. Grassland farming methods, livestock feeding, grass silage, and commercial fertilizers were the principal topics of discussion. An added feature of the meetings was a quality hay and better silage contest. About 25 samples of hay and 15 samples of grass and corn silage were entered at both the afternoon and the evening meetings.

Prizes for the afternoon meeting which was held at the Hartford City hall were donated by the Lehmann Feed Mill of Hartford. Orville Kern, R. 2, Kewaskum, was one of the attendance prize winners.

The evening institute meeting was held at the Kewaskum Opera House and all prizes were donated by Koch's Feed Mill. The winners were:

COUNTY CLUBS PREPARE FOR NATIONAL 4-H WEEK MAR. 3-11

4-H clubs in Washington county are now preparing for 4-H club week March 3 to 11. Many of the local merchants probably have been asked for window space as approximately 20 clubs are planning to put up window displays.

National 4-H Club week is a very important event of the 4-H members' year. It is the week when an effort is made to tell the story of 4-H club work to the public. Locally, 4-H members take stock of what may be needed for the successful completion of their 4-H club goals, so essential in the building of sturdy character. It is a week when 4-H club members welcome new members, exchange ideas, and "get set" for the year ahead.

Already many of the 4-H members have selected their projects for 1951. It is expected to have at least three new clubs in 1951 and hoped to reach the goal of 520 members. This year the 4-H story has as its theme "Working Together for World Understanding." Our 4-H young people have already done much to this end. In Washington county the 4-H leaders' association recently indicated their full support to the International Farm Youth Exchange program. Many 4-H members are donating 5 cents per member. However, in order to lend immediate support, the leaders' association contributed $25 so that Wisconsin may send one or possibly two delegates to other lands under the I.F.Y.E.

In the county extension office hope that many boys and girls will notice these displays and will be interested in 4-H membership. It is free and is open to any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 21. If you wish to find out or if you wish to know the name of a 4-H club nearest you, or if you wish to know more about 4-H club work, do not hesitate to contact the 4-H club agent, the home agent or the county agent.

WHAT ARE 4-H CLUBS?

During National 4-H Club week many people will probably be wondering what 4-H club work is and what they do. The writer hopes that the following paragraphs will help to answer many of these questions.

The 4-H clubs are organized groups of young people who are engaged in farming, homemaking, or community activities under the guidance of cooperative extension workers and local volunteer leaders trained by them.

4-H club work is a part of the national system of cooperative extension work in agriculture and homemaking, in which the United States Department of Agriculture, the University of Wisconsin, and the county extension organization participate.

Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 21 years who agrees to "learn by doing" may enroll in a 4-H club. The club elects its own officers, plans and carries out programs based on the needs and interests of the young people, holds regular meetings, and takes part in community activities. There are 4-H clubs in practically all counties of every state, and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The program is helping to increase farm incomes, improve standards of living, increase the satisfaction from community life, and prepare young people for adult responsibilities. To help prepare tomorrow's citizenry physically, mentally, and spiritually, 4-H club work provides opportunities for voluntary participation in programs, built on needs and interests, through which 4-H members develop talents for greater usefulness, join with friends for work, fun and fellowship, learn to live in a changing world, choose a way to earn a living, conserve nature's resources for security and happiness, build health for a strong America, share responsibilities for community improvement, and serve as citizens in maintaining world peace.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION INAUGURATES NATIONAL HOME NURSING PROGRAM

Veterans Administration has signed contracts with 226 community nursing agencies in all parts of the United States to put its part-time home nursing care program on a national basis, according to George J. Roth, County Veterans Service Officer.

Expansion of the program, which was launched on a six-month trial basis in the New England states, will enable VA to give high quality medical care to veterans with service-connected injuries or illnesses who can be treated in their own homes under the home-town medical care program.

Inauguration of the home nursing program on a national basis is expected to free beds in VA hospitals now occupied by patients with conditions not requiring constant attention by doctors and nurses.

Home nursing programs have come to be recognized by medical authorities as more beneficial for certain patients than full-time hospital care. Many leading hospitals in this country have initiated programs, including such widely known institutions as the Montefiore and Bellevue Hospitals in New York.

The New York program was started in November, 1945, by the Bureau of Public Health Nursing of the New York City Health Department, and grew from one to five municipal hospitals. Two voluntary nursing agencies, the Visiting Nurse Service of New York and the Visiting Nurse Association of Brooklyn, supply the necessary nurses.

The VA program in New England, which provided contracts with 163 community nursing agencies, was begun in April, 1949, and was successful from the start. In the six months trial, nearly 1,200 home visits were made. The cost was only a fraction of the cost of keeping the patient in the hospital. Some patients required almost daily visits; others were visited twice a week and some weekly. Two patients required visits twice daily.

Visiting nurses bathed the patients; gave them medications, physical therapy, discussed diets with patients and their families, instructed them in health and hygiene, and provided general nursing care.

The ailments ranged from attention to ulcers—diets and gastric. Most numerous were patients afflicted with multiple sclerosis, paraplegia and tuberculosis.

In announcing expansion of the program, VA medical authorities pointed out that in addition to providing nursing care in the home, it would help to promote better health generally because of the instructions which the nurses give to the families of sick veterans.

VA said home nursing care at all times must be given under the direction of a fee-basis physician, Regional office physician, or in the case of a patient on leave from a VA hospital, by a physician on the hospital staff.

Community nursing organizations must meet minimum membership requirements of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing to qualify for contractual participation in the VA program, according to Miss Dorothy Wheeler, director of the VA Nursing Service, under whose supervision the home nursing program was established.

Private or fee-basis physicians treating VA patients under the home town medical care program are authorized to request home nursing care for patients from agencies under contract with VA, but such requests must receive prior approval of the VA Regional Office. In emergencies telephone or telegraph requests may be made by the physician, with a written request following within 12 days.

FARMERS MEETING AT SLINGER TO DISCUSS GRAIN VARIETIES

A county-wide farm institute meeting will be held at Roth's hall, Slinger, on Friday, March 9, beginning at 10:00 o'clock a. m. Since this will be the last of the farmer meetings scheduled for the winter season of 1951, a variety of topics will be discussed. These will include weed control with 2-1-D, best varieties of barley or oats to plant, commercial fertilizer uses, rodent control, and the agricultural outlook for the duration of the Korean crisis. Farmers having seed grains to sell are invited to bring in and exhibit representative samples.

A film, "Save Grain with Better Hay," which has only recently been released by a large manufacturing concern will be shown at 10:00 a. m.

Speakers for this meeting will include George Briggs, extension agronomist of the College of Agriculture, who will discuss weed control and cultural practices considered best for farm crops. A. L. Flanagan, barley buyer for the Schlitz Malting company of Milwaukee, will discuss the relative merits of the "Moore" barley which is a relatively new variety. He will base his talk on the experiences of the malting company with this variety. Asher Holson, nationally known farm economist of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, will discuss the farm outlook as he sees it. Mr. Holson's talk will bring a message of importance and one that every farmer should hear. His analysis of the farm situation may bring suggestions farmers may find valuable in planning future farming operations. Mr. Flanagan and Mr. Holson will speak on the afternoon program.

Noon luncheon will be furnished by the Slinger Businessmen's association. Students of the Slinger High school will provide musical entertainment during the noon hour.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL SAVE YOUR VISION WEEK MAR. 4-10

More than half of the defense industry employees have inefficient vision that may handicap them in their jobs and make them subject to accidents. Dr. Paul Hess, president of the Wisconsin Optometric association, declaring this week in a statement issued in connection with the 25th annual Save Your Vision Week (March 4-10).

"The worker who sees well produces more, does a better job and is less prone to accidents than one who neglects his vision," Dr. Hess said. "About two out of three adults wear glasses, but in millions of cases they have not been prescribed on the basis of the specific requirements for the job done by the wearer. The lenses that are obtained to make reading easy may not be the ones best suited to an industrial job. There are vast differences, for instance, between the visual requirements to operate a crane or a lathe. The distance of one's work from his eyes is of critical importance."

Dr. Hess said the eye accidents occur at the rate of two a minute during the working day, and all but 2 per cent of them could be prevented by proper precautions.

Many visual problems can be prevented by proper attention to the seeing environment and by early care, he said, and most visual shortcomings can be corrected by the aid of modern optometric science.

New Prospect

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowen visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. King at Adol Sunday.

Miss Joyce Ludwig of Campbellport spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vilas Ludwig. Richard Trapp, Walter Jandre and George Meyer attended the Union Free High school meeting at Campbellport Monday evening.

Study Grass Growth to Learn Pasture Management

Registered Angus Fatten on Kentucky 31 Fescue and Ladino Clover.

To practice good pasture management you should understand how the more important forage plants grow. Pasture plants, like all others, are living factories. They take in raw materials—water and nutrients—through the roots and transport them through the stems to the leaves where, with the aid of sunlight and air, food is manufactured for life and growth.

These food products are then moved to all parts of the plant. When the transportation of raw materials through the roots runs low, the manufacturing process is slowed down or ceases altogether. Likewise, when leaves are reduced productive capacity is lowered.

The life of pasture plants, from germination of seed to old age and death, may extend over a few weeks, as in some annuals, or many years, as among many perennials. Most pasture plants are perennials, which have an advantage in that they can build up food reserves in their roots to be used for early growth the following year.

The growth cycle of mountain brome has been carefully studied. Primary growth begins before winter snow disappears and continues until the beginning of flower-stalk development. Active midsummer growth includes flower-stalk development, flowering, and seed production. During this period leaf growth is less active, but after seed ripening there is an important secondary leaf growth. The storage of food reserves and the beginning of bud development for the following year take place at this time. Dormancy begins with the drying up of seed stalks and leaves.

There are three periods of root growth which alternate with other plant growth. The first occurs in early spring after melting of the snow, the second following flower-stalk production, and the third near the end of the season. In early spring the food reserves

Kewaskum Youths Enroll in Jr. Dairyman Project

Nine contestants have enrolled this year in the Hartford, Wisconsin Junior Dairyman project sponsored by the Kraft Foods company. It was announced the past week by E. J. Pfeiffer, plant manager.
The youths will compete in the fourth year of the project started in 1948 by John H. Kraft, president of the company. That year 40 junior dairymen in two states took part in the program aimed towards establishing farm youth in dairying. The project teaches them practical know-how and makes them regular milk plant patrons with a full dairy enterprise based on ownership of one or more cows.
Today, more than 1,000 boys and girls in 17 states and 2 Canadian provinces have enrolled in the 1951 junior dairyman projects scheduled to close Aug. 31 with awards of cash prizes, trips to dairy exhibitions and other honors.
The Hartford junior dairymen, their ages, addresses, number of cows owned, breed and the year of competition follow:
William Braunschweig, 13, Rubicon, R. 1, three, Holstein, three; Roland Heuer, 14, Woodland, R. 1, one Holstein, two; James Steingraeber, 11, Random Lake, R. 1, one, Holstein, one; Norbert J. County Teachers Ask Cost of Living Bonus

At a special meeting of the Washington County Teachers' association, held at the court house, West Bend, on Monday, Feb. 26, a proposed resolution was voted into effect. This resolution pertains to a cost of living bonus as a part of the teacher's contracts for the 1951-1952 school year. This resolution was adopted because the consumer's price index shows that the cost of living has advanced 6.6% since April 1, 1950. More information regarding this new resolution will follow as it is received.
The resolution is as follows:
1. Said bonus is to be effective September 1, 1951.
2. Said bonus is not to affect the terms of contract pay or the teacher's bargaining power to obtain such.
3. Said bonus shall be tied to the government's cost-of-living price index. School boards shall be notified monthly by the association secretary as to the increase of said index. Each monthly notification shall apply to the previous month.
4. New contracts with the bonus provisions shall be printed by the association and will be distributed to the individual school boards through the county superintendent's office. Only said contracts shall be valid in Washington county.
5. All new teachers entering this county shall enter the Washington County Teachers' association within 30 days.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Gov. Dewey Breaks With Top GOP Leaders on Arms Aid to Europe; Farm Aid Needed to Kill Rackets

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

DEWEY:

Breaks With Top Men

The hints at a serious rift in policy within the Republican party during the past few months took on definite form when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey took sharp issue with such top G.O.P. leaders as Taft of Ohio, Wherry of Nebraska, and former president Herbert Hoover over the defense of Europe.

In one of the bluntest statements ever made by Dewey, the New York governor said it would be "utmost of folly" to depend upon sea and air power to protect the U.S. against Communist aggression. He added, "Anyone who thinks you can defend the United States or any substantial part of the world with any two out of three branches of the armed forces, is ignoring every lesson of history."

He then urged faster mobilization and sending more American troops to Europe immediately. He said he felt the deployment of troops was no business of Congress.

This viewpoint is the exact opposite of Taft, Wherry and Hoover who have repeatedly demanded no more American troops be sent to Europe without prior approval of Congress. They have also urged placing our faith in defense on overwhelming sea and air power.

Thus develops the serious rift within the Republican party that could have far-reaching results within the coming year. Politically it could mean that Dewey is dead as a possible G.O.P. standard bearer in 1952.

On the other hand, if Dewey's thinking is the expression of the majority of the Republican party, it could mean Taft, Wherry and Hoover will be stamped isolationists and doomed to ultimate oblivion.

In this connection, it was interesting to note that Dewey said, "Any isolationist speech is an aid to Stalin."

FARMERS:

Must Help Curb Rackets

With the government's order limiting the number of slaughterhouses that will be permitted to operate and the amount of livestock they can butcher, it became apparent it is going to take patriotism down on the farm to keep meat off the black market.

While big and middle-size slaughterers who provide most of the steaks and chops for the dinner table will be licensed, several hundred thousand farmers who usually butcher a few hogs, sheep for their own consumption or for local sale are exempt.

While these farmers right now don't account for much of the meat eaten in the United States, they are a potential headache for price controllers. During World War II many farmers set up their own backyard slaughterhouses with no more equipment than a tree, a rope, an ax, and a butcher knife.

It wasn't very sanitary, but plenty of racketeers were willing to buy the meat at fancy prices and truck it into the cities for sale at even fancier black market prices.

Price control officials are afraid that some farmers exempted from the slaughtering regulation might be lured into illicit butchering by the prospect of easy money. The job of keeping check on the farmers would require an army of enforcement agents, and is impossible under present conditions. For that reason it will take a lot of patriotism down on the farm if present slaughter regulations are to be enforced.

HOLLYWOOD:

Unpleasant Publicity

Hollywood, that land of make-believe so often in the headlines, appeared in line for considerable more publicity, but of an unpleasant nature.

The new avalanche began to roll when the house un-American activities committee announced plans to investigate certain Hollywood actors that would "inevitably" lead to a revival of the communism-in-Hollywood case.

In 1947 the committee investigated Communist influences in the movie capital in long and sensational hearings with the result that 10 writers and directors were convicted of contempt of Congress for refusing to say whether they had ever been Communists. All went to jail.

The new hearings may do considerable good, but as in all such investigations, some innocent people can expect to be hurt.

EDUCATION

College Enrollment Drop Is Expected

Mobilization is having a drastic effect on colleges throughout the nation. A recent survey of American universities and colleges revealed that most institutions predict they will lose 25 to 50 per cent of their students before the end of this year.

Such a drop in enrollment will result in a sharp cut-back of faculty members, possible as many as

Hitch-Hiker

William J. Newton, Jr., who first made headlines last August when he landed a seaplane at sea beside the "iron curtain" liner Batory and got into trouble with the FBI, is shown (left) as he was interviewed by correspondent Frank Conniff, after he turned up in Korea. Newton said he had hitch-hiked 12,000 miles to "kill some Communists" to clear his name of the taint of communism. The 8th army gave him a physical, turned him down as unfit.

PRICES:

Reach Record Level

The American public found itself in a strange position, one which it did not entirely understand and which presented frightening possibilities for the future.

The situation began to develop some weeks ago with the enactment of price-wage controls, which most people believed would halt the cost of living spiral. Shortly after the "freeze" went into force, numerous loopholes in the plan were made known by which many foods could jump from 5 to 200 per cent.

Later the gullible public was told by the bureau of labor statistics that wholesale prices reached a new record high despite the "price freeze." The main increases were in prices of food and farm products.

This, of course, caused immediate rumblings in labor's ranks. In turn, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan defended farmers against the charges that farm prices were "unreasonably high."

Economic stabilization administrator Eric Johnston, who has the most thankless job in the United States today, issued a statement saying that prices may advance a few more months and finally level off in mid-summer.

The average American had no desire to see any one group of the nation's economy — farmers, laborers, manufacturers — unjustly bear the greatest burden of price and wage controls. But the average American was worried about how far he could stretch his pay check without drastically lowering his standard of living. He wanted to know if he could stand it until the midsummer leveling-off took place?

KOREA:

Reds Counterattack

With stunning force and typical blood-curdling methods, complete with suicidal charges, bugle-blowing, beat-ringing, whistle-tooting, and drum-beating, Chinese Communists launched a counterdrive against U.N. forces in central Korea.

The counterattack stalled the U.N. advance that began late in January and which had approached Seoul.

Eighth army officers reported elements of nine Chinese divisions and six Korean divisions were used in the counterattack.

At full strength this would mean as many as 150,000 to 200,000 men. However, heavy casualties had been inflicted on the Communists since the U.N. offensive began. Officials claimed Red casualties, by ground action alone, totaled 80,121.

Some military observers believed Communist armies in Korea had been hurt so seriously in recent weeks they could not continue an offensive for a long period of time. Others, however, were cautious with their predictions, remembering the overwhelming manpower available to the Communist cause.

Morale was reported high among U.N. troops during recent weeks as they pushed slowly toward the 38th parallel.

JAPAN:

Progress Toward Treaty

Preliminary steps for a peace treaty between the United States and Japan appeared successfully completed with the announcement that the basic points of a defense agreement to be guaranteed by American power has been agreed upon.

Japan has become more important to American security since the Communist plan of conquest in Asia became clear. The proposed peace treaty hinged on future security measure in Japan.

The security guarantee includes stationing of U.S. armed forces in and about the country. No time limit will be specified and U.S. troops might be stationed in Japan for many years.

And while the arrangement lasts, an attack on Japan would be considered the same as an attack on the United States.

American policy has leaned heavily toward a free and strong Japan as a balancing factor in the Pacific. The United States does not want to place heavy economic or financial burdens or major commercial disabilities upon Japan.

In this respect, however, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand may not agree fully with the United States.

BIG-FOUR:

Meeting Proposed

The United States, Britain and France were reported willing to hold a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Paris sometime during March. Whether or not the Russians would consent is another matter. No one is willing to make a guess.

One of the main problems of such a meeting would be to get the four nations to agree before the meeting took place on just what they would talk about. Britain and France appeared willing to have deputies of the Big Four meet and work out an agenda. The United States wanted to list some of the topics that should be included.

The United States wants to talk about the rearmament of western Germany, eastern Germany, the Soviet Union, and the Communist satellites in the Balkans. Russia would never consent to such an agenda.

It became apparent from the approach of all four governments that nobody expected much to come out of another Big Four meeting. They may meet but it will produce nothing except more frayed nerves and propaganda blasts.

BUDGET:

Congress Accepts Dare

President Truman in presenting his budget to Congress said it was a good tight one and dared the legislators to trim it. Evidently Congress is going to accept Mr. Truman's dare.

Several Democrats and Republicans at least have promised to do so. Senator George of Georgia, chairman of the powerful senate finance committee which will handle the tax bills to pay for the budget, said it could be cut $5 to $6 billion "without harm."

Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, ranking Republican on the senate appropriations committee, termed the President's program "as full of water as a field of melting snow." He urged the senate to squeeze the "water" out.

On the other hand, Senator McMahon of Connecticut asserted talk of a $6 billion cut in nondefense items was "fakery—it can't be done."

Whatever Mr. Truman's motives for making the dare, he certainly stirred up opposition in Congress. The battle may be bitter before it is over.

Engineer

Joseph H. Fitzsimmons, engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad commuter train that met disaster at Woodbridge, N.J., was recovering from injuries received in the crash. He reportedly admitted that he was speeding at 50 miles an hour at the time of the wreck over a stretch of track where speed was supposed to be a maximum of 25 miles per hour. The wreck death toll was 83. Approximately 500 injured.

IRAN:

Red Gift to Royalty

Joseph Stalin's gift of a $150,000 mink coat and a desk set studded with black diamonds to Iran's Shah of Shahs and his new bride caused a number of lifted eyebrows in diplomatic circles.

It is not unusual for presidents, kings and even dictators to send each other presents on important occasions, but Stalin's gift to the Shah of Iran was viewed with deeper meaning than mere respect for the head of one state to another.

In the first place, the Communist doctrine teaches hate of kings or anything else tainted of royalty. And in the second, Russia and Iran have not been too friendly in recent years.

The gift turns the spotlight of speculation on a fact known for some time—Russia has long desired Iran oil and has done everything within its power in recent months to persuade that country of Soviet friendship.

Now diplomatic circles are wondering just how far Russia will go in its attempt to win Iran.

Down Buenos Aires way the underprivileged children have found a home in a city — but more than that, a city within the home. This unique institution is called Ciudad Infantil—City of Infants. Built two years ago, it is a haven for orphans and a sanctuary for youngsters whose parents have to work and have no place to leave them during the day. The city has its own stores (above) and the kids thoroughly enjoy window shopping.

CITY OF INFANTS

The little city contains everything necessary for life. There are homes, stores, a school, church, gasoline station, bank and even a city hall. The residents (during the play periods only) of one of the city's homes (above) enjoy their afternoon tea out on their lawn. The chairs, table and dishes are made to scale. After her tea and crumpets the little matron (left) repairs to her kitchen for a bit of clean-up work. The kitchen and its pots are built to scale. The children don't actually live in the homes, but at certain periods each day they take over the town. All this is designed to eliminate that "institution atmosphere."

The congregation at Ciudad Infantil's house of worship (above) is as miniature as the church. A priest from a neighboring church comes in to serve the children. This is another phase of the experiment in promoting better community spirit in the future citizens of Buenos Aires.

Everything's up to date at Infant City, including the streamlined miniature autos stopping for "gas" at the station (above), complete with pumps and a white-coated attendant. It is the proud boast of Ciudad Infantil that it shelters the most contented orphans of any home in the world.

CIVIL DEFENSE

Knowledge of Biological Warfare Is Vital Link in Civil Defense

(This is the third of a series of articles on civil defense by Walter A. Sheard, a Washington correspondent.)

By WALTER A. SHEARD

WASHINGTON, D.C. — With an enemy which places no value whatever upon the lives of individuals, which have no moral scruples as we know them, an atomic bomb is not the only peril faced by the American people in an all-out war with Russia.

Biological warfare against people and against animals is one of these perils. This sort of warfare which can spread a wide variety of disease including a number of viruses, rickettsiae, bacteria, fungi, protozoa and soluble toxins, may be waged from within by sabotage, or from without by enemy aircraft, and can be disseminated through a variety of media, chief of which are food, air and water. These infectious diseases taken in by humans through inhalation, absorption through the skin or by food, could be disseminated by aerial bombs and other munitions, by release of infectious aerosols from planes or from ground devices, taking advantage of favorable winds, or by release in ventilating systems of large auditoriums. Particularly effective is contamination of water sources.

In addition to humans, biological warfare against animals can be effective since meat, dairy and poultry products are an important source of diet for both military and civilian personnel. Production of wool and leather, might be curtailed and important biological and pharmaceuticals such as adrenalin, liver extract and insulin, entirely dependent upon animal glands and organs, could be cut off.

Such animal diseases as foot-and-mouth disease, rinderpest, fowl pest and foreign types of Newcastle disease appear to have greater possibilities for damage in this country.

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

ON MARCH 4 "Theatre Guild on the Air" plans to do a full hour-and-a-half hour broadcast of "Hamlet", which will certainly be heard by the largest single audience that has ever heard it since Shakespeare wrote the play centuries ago. It will come from the stage of the Belasco Theatre in New York and will be heard over the full NBC network. Stars will be Dorothy McGuire of the movies and Pamela Brown and John Gielgud of the theatre, both now appearing in one of the season's hits, "The Lady's Not for Burning". "Hamlet" was modernized for GI's during the war, and the broadcast will follow along that line.

Irene Vernon, whose latest picture is "Sound of Fury" (a Robert Stillman production for United Artists), is one of the four judges who will hand out 15 savings bonds to the winners of the Num-Zit baby beauty contest. It's open to infants from 6 1/2 months to 2 1/2 years old, from March 1 to June 1. Entry blanks available at all drugstores.

GRASSROOTS

Let's Hope Economists Figured Income Accurately

By Wright A. Patterson

WHAT PERCENTAGE of each dollar we earn during the next fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1951, does the President ask congress to take away from us as federal taxes to pay for rearmament and the expenses of the government? That is an important question to each American.

The President asks for a tax that will produce a total of $71 billion. That is the highest total amount the nation has ever been asked to pay, but the President estimates that the total earnings of Americans for the next fiscal year will be not less than $240 billion, and of that amount we will pay out of each dollar we earn 25.9 cents. As a tax, that is mild compared with what we were charged in 1945, when the government took $2.42 out of each of our earned dollars, and at that time we were a long way from paying the war cost of that year, and added more than 70 billions to our national debt.

Now the President is insisting that we pay the cost of rearmament as we go, and not increase the national indebtedness, and he figures a tax of 25.9, or less than 30 cents out of each earned dollar will accomplish that result.

What the total may be depends entirely on the total of the national income, the earnings of Americans as individuals, corporations, stockholders or bond holders, farmers. If the President is right in his estimate of a national income of $240

Then there is biological warfare against crops in the spread of insect pests and plant diseases which constitute a threat to our food supply. It would be comparatively easy for low flying planes to spread such crop and animal diseases across the vast stretches of the country's great plains where wheat, oats and the meat animals are raised and where population is comparatively meager. The department of agriculture knows about many of these foreign pests such as Japanese beetle, European corn borer, Mediterranean fruit fly, citrus canker and other pests. Our most successful method of keeping down losses is development of strains resistant to specific diseases, which takes time. But it is likely that new organisms which present crop varieties cannot resist, may be introduced, even in peace time, and herbicidal chemicals might be disseminated openly over these vast crop areas where hostile planes might gain access.

OF COURSE CONSTANT vigilance, before-hand knowledge how to detect the effect of biological warfare on both humans and animals, the proper method of fighting the effects, and how state, towns, cities and counties can be organized to fight these perils is a function of the civil defense administration. Probably one of the most insidious and dangerous methods of chemical warfare is the dissemination of so-called nerve gases, developed in Germany during World War II. These nerve gases are more toxic than any previously known war gases and are nearly colorless and odorless. They are liquids which yield toxic vapors when they evaporate and are laid down near the ground. These gases cut off breathing and blood circulation. Action is prompt and lethal and inhalation for a few seconds may cause death. Exposure to mild traces of the vapor causes bronchial restriction with difficulty in breathing, coughing and a water discharge of the nose. A slightly greater exposure induces painful constriction of eye muscles, terrific pain back of the eye-balls. Larger doses cause rapid and severe broncho-spasms, preventing both inhalation and exhalation. The victim becomes confused and cyanotic, may have nausea and vomiting and falls unconscious. The blood pressure falls, heart beat is slowed and may or may not start again.

The U.S. public health service has worked out treatments for all these inhuman forms of modern warfare in the biological and chemical field. The point is in learning how to combat it; what treatments to give in emergencies and in the long pull for recovery; to pile up stocks of the right kind of medicines, particularly atropine and tridione, plenty of gas masks, protective clothing, how to prevent contamination, hospitalization and a dozen other necessities in case of such an attack.

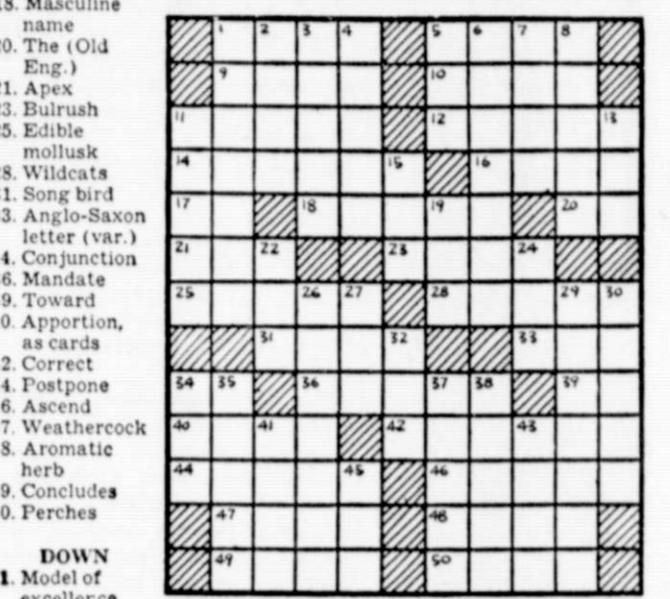

Doctors and veterinarians must take special courses in how to combat the effects of this professional manpower must come from the private ranks. Therefore full cooperation of the various state, county and local medical and related professional groups is essential. Be ready to volunteer.

(Next week's article will discuss national, state and regional training centers in the civil defense program.)

THE BEWILDERED BOY

By Willard Olson Persing

MY HANDS came up shoulder high. I didn't think the kid would use the gun intentionally, but scared and cold as he was his hand shook so much that I was more than a little worried. I wasn't going to startle him into winking any more of the townspeople. They would find out plenty soon enough that I had been caught flat-footed by this teen-age bad man.

Otto was standing behind the counter, his hands resting easily on its scarred top. I couldn't figure it, but he was half smiling at the wild-eyed, boyish face that was half covered with a dirty white handkerchief.

"Sure, son," Otto was saying, "I'll give you the money, after I fix you a bite to eat." The kid's eyes lit up for a moment, then he frowned and said, "You're trying to trick me into taking off the mask."

Otto shook his head slowly. "I'll put some sandwiches in a sack so you can take them with you." He turned his back on the kid and went to work at the sandwich board.

They seemed to have forgotten me, so I started edging around behind the youngster. I figured that was why Otto was stalling, but I had moved only a few inches when he stopped me. "Take it easy, Joe, you're apt to ruin his appetite."

At these words from Otto, the kid spun around. I was staring at Otto, trying to figure out what in the world he had in mind. There wasn't any writing on the back of Otto's neck, and it was too deep for me, so

"This is the first time you've tried this?" Otto was asking the kid with the dirty handkerchief over his face.

I looked a fool with my toe and pulled it out where I could sit down. Otto turned around with a hamburger in his hand. He reached across the counter and handed it to me. "Maybe this will keep you out of mischief for a while," he said, grinning at my bewilderment.

After all, he was the one getting robbed, so I decided I might as well go along with whatever he was trying to do. All I stood to lose was maybe my job.

"This the first time you're tried this?" Otto was asking the kid. The kid's head nodded quickly, then he frowned and said, "What difference does it make? Hurry up with those hamburgers."

I was checking the kid's description again to see if there was anything I had missed. He had brown eyes and was waving a Luger pistol at us. His hair, if any, was hidden under an old cap pulled down over his ears. I was still trying to figure out how much slack there was in the bulky overalls when Otto dumped the cash drawer out on top of the counter.

He counted the money into a paper sack and placed it a couple of feet from the sack of hamburgers. "Thirty dollars," he said to the kid, "not much pay for the chance you're taking."

The kid reached out and scooped the two sacks together, using both hands. His right hand with the Luger came to rest a few inches from Otto's stomach. Otto slammed a huge hand down over the kid's hand and gun, clamping them to the counter.

I started to yell at Otto, if that gun went off, he wouldn't have a chance.

"Take it easy, both of you," he told me and the squirming kid. "That gun isn't loaded." To me he said, "I'm surprised you couldn't tell by looking at the extractor."

I didn't have an answer for that. "Thirty dollars is your next two weeks wages," Otto told the kid, "and you can have all you want to eat." He slipped the gun out of the kid's hand and placed it out of sight under the counter.

The kid was still scared. "Aren't you going to tell the cops?" Otto grinned and pointed at me. "That's them, son."

The kid paled and wilted. That took all the fight out of him. I stared at the kid for a minute, then stood up and headed for the door. "Time to make my rounds," I said. "Otto, you should hire some young fellow to help out in here, you're getting too old to do it all yourself."

THE WEEK In Religion

Real Religion

AN EDITORIAL

"A LOT OF PEOPLE," a preacher once said, "treat religion like a hot-water bottle, something you hug on chilly nights and store on a top shelf the rest of the time."

It is a recognized fact that many people think of religion and God only in times of difficulty. It is, of course, always proper to turn to God in trouble. But it is hardly right to seek Him only when crises arise. That is like a neglectful son who never comes near his father except when he needs something. It is God's wish that we should be constantly in touch with Him. Religion is not just a prop in times of emergency. It is the continuous consciousness of God, especially since He Himself is ever aware of all that goes on in the lives of His creatures.

Religion is defined as a manifestation of belief in God. It implies, however, much more than that. No one is truly religious who does not live in close harmony with God. That, in turn, demands a genuine love of God and a willingness to honor His commands. His love of God means cultivating His friendship through prayer and meditation. It means being ever aware of His presence. It is shown by readiness to accept hardships or blessings with equal grace. It is especially manifested in kindness and sympathy toward others. A real son of God is a man of action as well as prayer. Rather than being content to live in a self-centered isolation, he welcomes every opportunity for sharing the burdens of others.

Besides stressing the bond of charity that makes all men brothers, genuine religion calls for scrupulous observance of Divine law. There are some who profess to be religious yet fail to make a real effort to avoid sin or overcome serious faults. They seemingly ignore the fact that whoever violates any of God's laws is guilty of breaking all—that God is not served except in complete fidelity. It should be obvious that whoever earnestly seeks a constant fellowship with God will never have a "hot-water bottle" type of religion.

The above editorial and other material appearing in this column, was prepared by Religion News Service.

Question Box

Q: What is a Lay Reader? A: Among Anglicans since Elizabethan times, a layman authorized by the bishop to read services in church, especially when clergymen are not available.

Q: What is the Kaddish? A: An ancient Jewish prayer for the hallowing of God's name and the coming of His kingdom. Since medieval times, it has become the mourner's declaration of faith.

Q: What is a Lay Brother? A: A member of a Roman Catholic religious order who is neither in holy orders nor bound to recite the Office in choir, but is concerned solely with the secular affairs of a monastery.

Q: What are Established Churches? A: Churches which enjoy legal privileges and endowments not accorded to other ecclesiastical bodies. Examples are the Church of England (Anglican) and the Lutheran Churches of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland.

Q: What is a Jihad or Jihad? A: A religious war of Muslims against unbelievers, taught as duty in the Koran. It is also a war of crusade for or against some doctrine.

'Unapplied Democracy' Criticized by Bishop

COLUMBIA, S.C. — Bishop William T. Mulloy of Covington, Ky., declared here that the "unapplied democracy" of the south is an obstacle to international good will. The bishop made the statement in a sermon during a mass. In the present world chaos, as a nation, he said, "we have assumed the task of making the promise of our democracy meaningful to the rest of the world."

"Yet the condition of our southern region with its unapplied democracy stands out boldly as an obstacle to other nations who are sincere inquirers into the practicability of our American way of life."

If the south does not extend "full citizenship to all, regardless of creed, color, or race," Bishop Mulloy said, "we have little reason to be too optimistic about any lasting progress."

"Too long," he added, "inadequate provision for education, and racial injustices, have bred poverty, prejudice, violence."

ADMINISTERS SACRAMENTS . . . Miss Agnes Vold, Oslo, is the first woman in the history of the Norwegian state Lutheran Church to administer the sacraments.

Minister Displays Criticized Pictures Before Church Group

PEORIA, Ill. — Three films objected to by a local American Legion post were shown in First Methodist church of East Peoria to test the people's desire for community or national censorship.

The controversial pictures, which have been banned by Peoria Post No. 2 of the Legion had led a fight against them, were Brotherhood of Man, Boundary Lines, and Peoples of the Soviet Union.

Pastor Wilbur F. Powell said he scheduled the films at one of the church's regular weekly movie programs to get the answer to two questions:

(1) Is it still possible to have a free meeting without censorship from any other group?

(2) Are people desirous of local or national censorship?

Of East Peoria's 8,700 population, some 300 persons crowded into the small church for the showing. After the pictures were presented, Mr. Powell asked the audience: "Do you think these films should be censored?"

Opinions were plentiful, arguments heavy, and at times shouting was in evidence. Concerning Peoples of the Soviet Union, the consensus was that it did not represent Russia today, but was pure propaganda. An overwhelming majority of the audience voted that both this picture and Boundary Lines should be censored. Only one said that Brotherhood of Man should be censored.

Newspaper Charges Pope Heads Vatican Spy Ring

MOSCOW—Charges that the Vatican maintains "a vast espionage service in eastern Europe personally supervised by the Pope" were made here by Red Star, official Soviet army newspaper.

"Working under orders of the American commander-in-chief and financed by the United States," Red Star declared, "the Vatican runs several intelligence schools where priests learn simultaneously how to conduct religious services and shoot automatics, how to preach and operate portable typewriters."

According to the Soviet organ, the Vatican's "three principal intelligence schools," are "The Russian, the Eastern Institute, and the Jesuit School."

(The reference here was to the Russian Pontifical College in Rome, usually called the Russian, which prepares priests for work in Russian Eastern Rite communities abroad; the Oriental Institute affiliated with the Pontifical Gregorian University; and a small group of Jesuit students belonging to the Byzantine Rite.)

Germans Demand Church Sponsor 'Merrymaking'

FRANKFURT, Germany — Promotion of social intercourse and "genuine merrymaking" as an integral part of church activities was urged here by the management of the Evangelical Church of Hessen and Nassau.

The church leaders said this was "the only effective way to counteract the increasing lust for pleasure artificially boosted by a certain entertainment industry."

"Excesses in amusement," the church management said, "cannot be fought only by police measures or mere criticism but must be counteracted by giving people a chance to be merry and enjoy life on an unobjectionable basis through a richer community life fostered by Christian organizations."

In response to the appeal, the St. Thomas parish announced that a "course on dancing and social behavior" soon will be started under its auspices.

Urges Morals Course

BOSTON—Moral indoctrination of boys who will be called to the armed services was urged here by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston.

He proposed that a course to familiarize young men with the moral dangers of military camp life be made a part of the high school curriculum.

"The youth are in need of moral and spiritual aid," he said.

He said that young men found military service "need some sound advice on the evils of everyday life."

"Many of them have never been away from home before," he said. "They enter upon military life—where the bars are down and overworked chaplains can't hope to do an adequate job."

"I hope never to see the reality of a third world war, but we must be prepared, and the United States is about to embark on its first universal military training program for youth."

When you can't sleep—feel just awful because you need a laxative—do 10 MILLIONS DO—chew FEEN-A-MINT. Doctors say many other laxatives, taken in large doses, start their "stomach" action too soon . . . right in the stomach where they often cause any nourishing food you need for pep and energy! You feel weak, tired.

But gentle FEEN-A-MINT is different! Taken as recommended, it works chiefly in the lower bowel—removes only waste, not good food! You avoid that weak feeling—you feel fine, full of life! Get FEEN-A-MINT, 25¢, 50¢, or only 10¢!

 floor didn't seem to be of much aid.
 The Chevrolets led throughout the contest by a good margin. For three quarters Kewaskum's total was almost double that of their opponents. The locals were on top 14-7 at the first quarter and 22-18 at halftime. They tallied 15 points in the third period to the Kingpins' 12 and were well ahead, 41-10. In the last quarter they could afford to coast to victory. While the opposition was concentrating on John Tassar, Fred Engel did most of the scoring and wound up high man of both teams with 17 points. When Engel wasn't hitting Frankie Krueger, who played a fine game at guard, or Wycland Tassar sneaked them through the nets. Wondra with 13 and Sem with 10 were best scorers for the losers.

Kewaskum had an easy time of it Tuesday although playing in Rosendale's difficult gym and the result was never in doubt. Ahead 16-9 at the quarter, the Chev's pulled to a 29-25 advantage at the intermission. The Jokers outscored Kewaskum in the third quarter and at the end of the period came within nine points of the winners. The score stood at 43-29. However, the Chevrolets poured it in again in the final period, swishing in 25 points to Rosendale's 13, and making the final count 76-52. John Tassar had another big night and capped top honors with 28 points on 15 field goals and a pair of gift tosses. Brother Wycland and Engel contributed 18 and 17 points respectively. High men for the losers were Gillett with 12 and Rohde with 10. Guard Allen Tassar did a bang-up job on Gordon Finch, Rosendale's high scoring center, in checking him with eight buttons.

CARD OF THANKS

We are sincerely grateful to friends and neighbors for their many kind acts of sympathy during our sad bereavement, death of our dear father, John J. Koehler. Our appreciation cannot be adequately expressed. Special thanks to Rev. Gudow, organist, soloist, pallbearers, drivers, donors of flowers and memorial tributes, traffic officer, Miller's, all who helped in any way, and all who showed respect by attending the funeral or calling at the funeral home.

CARD OF THANKS

The recent bereavement which has visited our home has brought to us a greater appreciation of our friends and neighbors. Such kindnesses and neighborly thoughtfulness shown us in our sad loss, the death of our dear brother and uncle, Philip Kibbel, can never be forgotten. We are especially grateful to Rev. Flueckinger, organist, Miller's, drivers, for the floral bouquets and memorial tributes, to all who assisted in any way and showed respect.

TESTED LENTEN DAIRY RECIPES

Sandwiches Are Always Popular. Here's a Variation Which Will Make a Tasty Dish for a Light Lenten Meal

One of the big advantages of Wisconsin dairy products is the ease with which they blend with other foods for a taste-thrilling dish, packed with healthful energy.

Three varieties of Wisconsin natural cheese are featured in this appetizing sandwich loaf suggested by the Wisconsin state department of agriculture:

- SANDWICH LOAF
- 1 loaf sandwich bread
  - 1 cup Wisconsin natural American Cheese, grated
  - 3 tablespoons pickle relish
  - 2 tablespoons pimento, chopped
  - 1 1/2 cups dressing
  - 1 cup red salmon flaked
  - 1/2 cup green pickle, chopped
  - 1/2 cup Wisconsin Blue cheese, grated
  - Stuffed olives, sliced
  - 1/2 lb. Wisconsin cream cheese
  - Cucumber pickles, sliced

Remove all crusts from loaf of bread. Cut in four lengthwise slices. Combine cheese, pickle relish, and pimento. Moisten with dressing. Spread on one slice of bread, cover with second slice. Combine salmon and pickle, moisten with dressing. Spread on second slice, cover with third slice. Tint Blue cheese with green food coloring. Combine with chopped olives. Moisten with dressing. Spread on third slice, cover with fourth slice. Blend cream cheese. Season with salt and paprika. Moisten with dressing. Spread over entire surface of loaf. Place in refrigerator overnight. Garnish top and sides with olives, sweet cucumber pickles and pimento. Place on large platter and garnish with hearts of lettuce and small clusters of crisp parsley.

Alive today

...like so many other Americans who went to their doctors at the first sign of one of cancer's danger signals.
 By showing Americans how to protect themselves against cancer, the American Cancer Society is saving thousands of lives today. By supporting science and medicine in the search for the causes and cures of cancer, the Society hopes to save countless more lives tomorrow. Know the seven common danger signals that may mean cancer: (1) any sore that does not heal (2) a lump or thickening, in the breast or elsewhere (3) unusual bleeding or discharge (4) any change in a wart or mole (5) persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing (6) persistent hoarseness or cough (7) any change in normal bowel habits.
