

Tessar Pitches One Hitter But Wildness Loses Opener, 3-2

LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division)

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost. Includes West Bend, Mequon, Slinger, Germantown, Grafton, Kewaskum, Barton, Cedarburg, Saukville, Newburg.

Scores last Sunday—Germantown 3, Kewaskum 2; West Bend 8, Cedarburg 2; Slinger 9, Saukville 1; Grafton 5, Newburg 4; Mequon 6, Barton 1. Games this Sunday—Kewaskum at West Bend, Saukville at Barton, Slinger at Newburg, Grafton at Cedarburg.

Lefty Johnny Tessar pitched a brilliant one-hit ball game to open the Lakes season here Sunday but he was so wild that he gave Germantown all of its three runs on walks as the Chevroleters were nosed out, 3-2. Tessar walked a total of 12 men, forcing all of the winners' markers across the plate. The weather was very cold with a raw wind and this, along with a lack of pre-season practice no doubt accounted for Johnny's poor control.

Kewaskum collected 7 hits off of Fleming of Germantown but he was a tough cookie in the clinches. The locals had a golden opportunity to win the contest in both the 7th and 8th innings when the side was retired with the bases full. Both pitchers had the batters swinging the air all afternoon. Tessar whiffed 14 batters. Imagine, and he allowed only 1 hit but still lost the ball game. Fleming fanned 9 hitters.

Tessar donated a run to Germantown right off in the first inning when he forced in a button on four walks. Their two other runs were scored in the 5th on a hit and four more successive bases on balls. Kewaskum tallied 1 in the 4th on Kempf's single, Korth's sacrifice and Dreher's one baser. The other crossed the platter in the 7th on an error, Frieder's choice and two walks. No batter got more than one hit. Tessar struck out 5 of the last 6 batters to face him.

The Chevroleters have a tough assignment this Sunday when they meet West Bend at the city park there. The Boosters easily dominated Cedarburg last Sunday.

Table with columns: Team, AB, R, H, E. Includes Germantown, B. Hoelz, R. Hornig, W. Hoelz, W. Hornig, W. Geiger, G. Becker, M. Hillman, C. Wenzel, A. Smith, H. Flemming.

Stolen bases—Hornig, Bilgo, Dreher 2, Stautz, Wild pitches—Tessar, Flemming 3. Hit by pitcher—Smith.

Annual Open House at Public School May 16

On Wednesday evening, May 16, starting at 7 p. m. the annual open house will be held in the Kewaskum Public schools. The entire community is invited to attend the activities which will be held in the schools on that evening.

Visit the grade and high school classrooms, visit with the teachers in charge, see the exhibits that are on display in both schools, work that has been done by these school pupils themselves. You will be amazed to see the quality of workmanship that goes into some of these exhibited items. And these items are not made just to show you people, they are things that were made for pleasure and use. See the different types of equipment that are relatively new in the field of education—projectors, tape recorders, and disc recorders, and biology, chemistry and physics equipment.

After you have had an opportunity to visit the different rooms in the buildings, a program will be presented in the main room. This program will be presented at 8:15 and will consist in a clothing review by the students in the homemaking department and the school band. Home economics girls will model items which they have made in their classes and perhaps tell you something relative to the cost and construction of each. The band will present popular, semi-classical, and march type music in presenting its part of the program. After the program is finished, and it is the plan to make this one short, you are invited to continue your tour of the building if it was interrupted by the program.

Of particular interest should be the visits to the kindergarten and agriculture departments. You will be proud of the addition of these two departments in the over-all school program.

We should like to see this the largest OPEN HOUSE that has been held in Kewaskum. You can learn more about your schools and the part they play by making this visit. Plan to be there—you will be glad that you came.

Fire Saturday Night Destroys Large Shed Here

Fire destroyed a large two-story wooden shed on the Mrs. Louis Backhaus, Sr. estate property in the village Saturday night. The local fire department was called to the scene at 9:45 p. m. and fought the blaze almost two hours before it was completely extinguished. Cause of the fire is not known.

When the fire department was called the entire roof and upper story of the shed was ablaze, brilliantly lighting up the sky so that many people at first believed the Standard Oil company tanks nearby were on fire. The flames attracted many people to the scene.

The shed is located some distance back from the street between Prospect ave. and Clinton sts. Flanned by a strong wind, the blaze threatened to ignite neighboring garages and homes surrounding the shed as well as the Backhaus residence. Luckily the wind was out of the east and blew the sparks in the opposite direction from the oil company tanks.

The fire department rushed two engines to the fire, one of them connecting to a hydrant on Prospect ave. and the other on Clinton st. so that streams of water could be played on the blaze from two directions. A neighbor not connected with the fire department also called outside firemen but their services were not needed. With two streams of water on the fire from the hydrants, the firemen did not find it necessary to use the pumps on the engines.

The fire started on the second story of the shed where William Metz, local painter, had his paint, varnish and other materials and equipment housed. Metz and his sister Margaret live in the Backhaus home. There was also some household articles stored upstairs. All fell through to the first story when the second story floor collapsed. There was little on the first floor besides piled up stove wood and a few other things.

With the tremendous start the fire had, firemen succeeded in saving part of the old building. The entire roof and upper story were destroyed but the walls were still standing after the blaze was extinguished. After getting the fire under control with the large hoses firemen connected a smaller one to the lines and went inside the shed to put out a few remaining burning articles. The department used their new lighting system for the first time and it proved very beneficial.

Tuberculosis X-Ray Unit Here May 16-17

A state mobile X-ray unit for detecting tuberculosis will operate in Kewaskum two days next week, beginning Wednesday afternoon, May 16 and continuing all day Thursday, May 17. The Washington County Public Health council will assist the mobile unit in carrying out the program.

X-rays will be free to all. However, the emphasis will be on testing mothers and adult men, 40 years and over, who have not had X-rays taken during the past three or four years. Others may also have X-rays taken at no charge. With the exception of outer garments, no undressing will be required.

Two units are visiting the county, one from April 23 through May 18 and another from May 14 through May 18. The second unit will be the one to make tests in Kewaskum. Its schedule is as follows: Newburg—May 14; County home and hospital—May 15; Boltonville—May 16 (morning); Kewaskum—May 16 (afternoon) and May 17; Schneiders' hall, Wayne—May 15. The unit will operate in Kewaskum at the municipal building from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. Wednesday and from 9:00 to 11:45 a. m. and 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. on Thursday.

Tuberculosis is a contagious disease that gives no warning and is contracted only from someone who has the disease in its active form. X-rays will show up the presence of the disease even before symptoms appear. It is especially prevalent among older people but can readily be transmitted from older to younger people. X-rays show not only the lung condition, but also the size and shape of the heart and thus note any heart troubles. Individuals having their chests X-rayed will receive a report on the test from four to six weeks after X-rays.

New Microfilming Equipment Installed at Bank of Kewaskum

Modern microfilming equipment which will provide increased protection for depositors has been installed at the Bank of Kewaskum, President M. W. Rosenheimer announced Tuesday. The new equipment has already been placed in operation.

Mr. Rosenheimer said that the new equipment will make it possible for the bank to produce and retain a photographic record of the business transactions it makes with its depositors so that items charged or credited to a customer's account will be quickly available for inspection in case of loss.

Quoting Mr. Rosenheimer, "The automatic operation of our new microfilm equipment will make it possible for our customers to see a photographic record of their deposits, or checks that are presented for payment, within 24 hours. We feel that it will be a very important addition to the service we now give our customers."

Great Debate Not Over

IT SEEMS that the "great debate" in congress over foreign policy is not over, it is just getting started.

But what is hard to understand is this — during more than three months of debate, the Republican leadership in congress opposed sending troops to Europe on the theory that to do so would arouse the Russian Bear to the point of war, that it was a calculated risk that should not be taken and that our main line of defense should be the western hemisphere.

And almost over-night this same band of leadership has switched from a western hemisphere defense to demands for an aggressive war on Red China which would take a million American boys and all the planes and ships and guns we could muster to send across the Pacific.

The rhyme or reason in this thinking is certainly not clear, and the only interpretation which can be placed on such a metamorphosis is politics, pure and simple. The Democratic administration was for sending an army to serve under General Eisenhower in continental Europe to implement the Atlantic pact, so politically, the Republican leadership must oppose and they did, but lost. The Democratic administration was opposed to making any aggressive war on Red China, seeking to confine the fighting in Korea, so the political thing for Republican leadership to do was to oppose it, so they are opposing, some going even as far as asking for an immediate declaration of war.

What has happened to the proposal of ex-President Hoover, to withdraw behind our two oceans? What General MacArthur thinks about this is not even important insofar as this congress is concerned, for the simple reason that what he says before a joint session or before any congressional committee will not change a vote one way or another. Minds already are made up beforehand. Does any one believe for a minute that anything General MacArthur might say will change the minds of such senators as Taft, Wherry, Jenner, Cain and Kem? Nor do you think they will heed for one instant whatever General Collins, or Admiral Sherman, or General Bradley or General Marshall will say, or what General Vandenberg, or Admiral Nimitz or even General Eisenhower might say on the subject in these committees?

What has happened is unfortunate, particularly for General MacArthur, and it is unfortunate for the country, for it is having the effect of driving deeper and deeper the wedge of disunity into the marrow of the nation, and it is permitting politicians to make a scapegoat of MacArthur, when the General's return should mean only a tribute to his military feats of valor.

MacArthur Deserved Honors

General MacArthur, setting foot on U.S. soil for the first time in 14 years deserved all the adulation and honors heaped up on him by the American people. A lot of it was overdue, but that is the characteristic American way—do it up brown if you do it at all.

But after all the shouting dies down and the emotional hysteria has worn off—remember the man who withstood most, and who exhibited the most personal courage and just plain guts in this whole affair, was the present occupant of the White House—Harry S. Truman, President of the United States.

Truman Clears the Way

And it was the President who cleared the way for MacArthur's formal Congressional appearance, and it was the President who canceled his own public appearances so there would be no counter-attraction to the MacArthur's day in court in Washington and permitted government offices, the schools, the whole town to turn out to greet the general on his return after 14 years abroad in the service of his country.

President Truman is now at his lowest ebb of popularity. If you are interested, however, watch his popularity barometer start climbing. His two most recent talks to the American people were more forceful and contained more plain common American horse sense than any in many months.

Europe Approved

One thing appears to be certain, if the MacArthur position insofar as Asia is concerned is ever maintained or supported by this government, we will wind up behind the international eight-ball without a single ally in Europe or the United Nations with the exception of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, now holed-up on the small island of Formosa. It is significant that every allied nation without exception approved the removal of MacArthur.

Retail Sales Up

Retail sales in the independent stores enjoyed a 10 per cent dollar increase in March, 1951, over March of 1950, the census bureau reports. The agency said its figures were based on reports from about 10,000 independent stores scattered across the country. A breakdown of the figures revealed that hardware stores recorded a 22 per cent sales rise; dry good and general merchandise stores a 20 per cent rise and jewelry stores a 15 per cent.

AROUND THE HOUSE

A grilled sandwich is welcome with cold accomplishments. Dip cheese sandwiches in a combination of beaten eggs, milk and salt, and brown on both sides in hot fat.

When making muffins, have milk and eggs at room temperature for best results. This is especially important when melted shortening is used, because cold milk will solidify shortening.

When cooking fudge, don't beat in the pan used on the burner. Pour fudge into a chilled bowl and then beat with an egg beater to get it creamy.

If a loaf of bread is in danger of molding, cut it in thin slices, place the slices in a pan and place in the oven. When dry, put through a food chopper, store in a closed container, and use for stuffing and puddings.

Apathy Toward Possible Atomic Bomb Attack Noted by Officials

(The first of two articles.)

During the last few days in Washington, D. C., officials have been considering the most important problem in the United States—the lives of its citizens.

"An extreme apathy—the 'it can't happen here' attitude—has been the reaction of the public toward the many bulletins we have sent out concerning the possibility of atomic attack on this country," said Dr. Richard Gerstell, consultant to the federal office of civilian defense, and author of the book, "How to Survive an Atom Bomb."

A cross-country check on homeowners revealed that initial steps toward individual household safety Demonstrating interior fireproof housekeeping. Resident of private house cleans attic of refuse, papers, etc., in order to minimize possible problem of fire caused by atom attack.

NANCY OLSON is going to look just as glamorous in her WAC uniforms, in Warners' "Force of Arms", as she does in her own clothes, which is saying a good deal, because young Nancy is a pretty glamorous person. Army officials have assigned a WAC officer to the picture, to supervise her outfits. She is co-starring with William Holden and Frank Lovejoy in this picture, her last before she retires to await the stork's arrival. There's a beautiful home all ready for the new baby—the farm formerly owned by Burgess Meredith and Paulette Goddard, not too far from New York, which Nancy's husband, Alan Lerner, the "Brigadoon" composer, bought last year.

Screen star Ruth Hussey has turned down a five-year TV deal offered by NBC, at $1250 per half hour film—said it would interfere with her movie career. Also, she is likely to appear in one of next season's stage hits.

Susan Peters, star of NBC-TV's "Miss Susan" was given orders by her 44-year-old "Timmy" for adopting a sister for him. She must be his size, be able to walk, talk and fight—but most important, she must be a boy!

Gary Lee Jackson, aged 7, will play Helen Hayes' neighbor in "My Son John." Gary began his movie career at four, has made half a dozen pictures. His brother Curtis, 14, and his sister Sherry, 9, are also movie veterans.

Dismissal of Mac Showed Disregard of Politics

By Wright A. Patterson

WHAT EVER, IF ANY, may be his deficiencies in other lines, the American people have credited President Truman with a complete knowledge of partisan politics, of how to make or lose votes for his party and its candidates, whoever such candidates may be, and of the need of votes if his party is to be successful.

Such being the case, it is hard to conceive of the promptings of Harry S. Truman, the partisan politician, taking the action Harry S. Truman, the President, did in the case of Gen. MacArthur. To arbitrarily dismiss from the nation's service a man in whom the people had full confidence, a man of demonstrated ability, at the instigation of such as Dean Acheson, secretary of state, and some others, who do not have the confidence of any considerable number of American voters, a condition of which the President must be aware, is a simply incredible action, and one that will be paid for in a loss of votes, now and for years to come. It will come nearer wrecking the Democratic party than anything that has happened since the days of President Johnson.

The President tells us we are facing a grave emergency, a crisis in our relations with Communist Russia. We may be called upon any day to meet the Red army hordes in both Europe and the far east. In the face of such conditions Harry S. Truman, the president, dismisses from the nation's service one of the great military leaders of the century, a man whose ability and knowledge of far eastern conditions we will so terribly need. To the American people it would be unthinkable to dismiss Gen. MacArthur for any reason, but to do so at the instigation of Dean Acheson will politically condemn Harry S. Truman and his party. It may mean the party's defeat at the hands of the voters for years to come. It was Acheson's bad guesses, if they were nothing worse than bad guesses, that are responsible for the conditions we face in the far east, and have been responsible for our more than 60,000 casualties in Korea.

It is not alone we in America who must suffer from that stubborn will that insists that whatever he says or whatever he does must be right. The people of Japan, of Korea and others throughout the Pacific must also suffer a severe loss. For Stalin, it is like winning the final battle.

The cry of "wolf! wolf!" has been heard frequently from the White House or from those backing the President's policies, and his demands for more taxes, for more appropriations, for more power, but has been followed within a few hours by the assurance that we are nearer peace with Russia than at any time since the beginning of the cold war. So often has that wolf cry been repeated, with its assuring follow-up that it has lost all of its effect, both with congress and the people of the nation.

Whether the wolf cry comes from the President or from Speaker Rayburn, congress accepts it as but another political-must call, and goes serenely on its accustomed way without undue excitement, and the people have become so apathetic over the war possibility that they no longer take seriously those frightening wolf cries, or the assurance of advancing peace. The wolf cry has outlived its usefulness as a means of advancing the President's policies and his demands for legislation. It has been used too often.

The senate crime committee did an excellent job until it came to reporting its findings to the people. That report, as carried in the Saturday Evening Post of April 7, carried one small line at the bottom of its first page. It said: "Copyright, 1951, by Estes Kefauver, all rights reserved." Senator Kefauver evidently expects his report to be issued as a book, and did not want to detract from his royalties by too wide a reading from which he would receive no revenue.

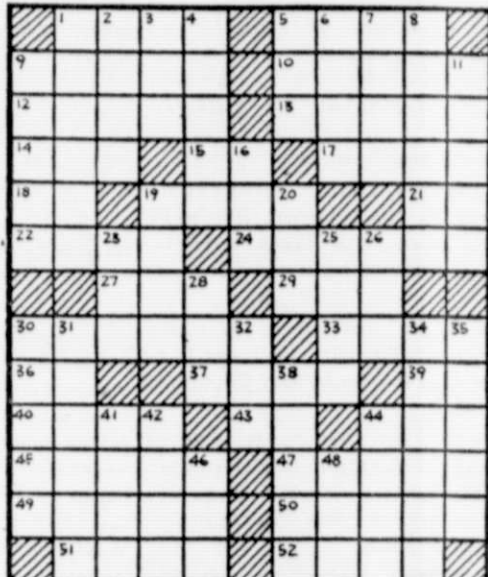

In these days of billions that cut of a few hundred million from a presidential appropriation request may not seem much, but it was a saving and represented results, not merely talk. Let us have more of the same.

There are thousands of people in Washington, carried on government payrolls with the backing of the Democratic national committee, with nothing to occupy their time, and more of the same are being added each day.

THE FICTION CORNER SECRETS ARE BAD

By Richard H. Wilkinson

NO ONE caught on to my secret but Sheila. Sheila was smart. Pretty, too. She had smoky gray eyes and titian hair and pure white skin.

We met at a winter sports house-party in New Hampshire, and the next Monday, back in Boston, I took her to lunch. "I've some friends I'd like to have you meet," I said. "They have an apartment out on the Fenway. Suppose we run out tonight?" She looked at me with a sudden flash of her smoky eyes, and I said quickly: "Sounds like a stuffy evening, suppose. It won't be. Bette and Gill are O.K. You'll like them."

"I'd love to go," she said. And so that night we called on Bette and Gill.

On the way home Sheila said she'd had a grand time, which is why I've always marveled at Bette and Gill, because we'd done practically nothing.

"I like them," Sheila said. "They're married and they seem happy."

"They are happy. They've been married six years and they're happier than when they started. I've known 'em both since high school."

Well, during the six months that followed I saw a lot of Sheila, and together we saw a lot of Gill and Bette. One night I went up there without her, and you'd think those two had been waiting for an opportunity to get me alone.

"Say, listen," Gill said, "you're getting old. I mean, here we've been married six years and you're not even in love."

"How would you know about that?" I grinned at him. "I knew it!" Bette cried delightedly. "It's Sheila! He's in love with Sheila! Oh, Jim, we think that's grand! She'll make you a wonderful wife!"

"Sheila's all right. Good company. So are the dozen other girls I've been bringing up here."

Gill shrugged. "O.K., Jim. We've been hoping you'd fall for one of them, because you're missing some thing—not being married."

TWO nights after that I saw Sheila. We went to an in-town hotel to dinner and dance. Around 10 o'clock I suggested we leave and run out to Gill's and Bette's. But Sheila shook her head, and I looked at her in some surprise.

"They're nice people," she said. "I like them, but I'm a little tired of being an excuse."

"Excuse?" "I've heard about the other girls. They were all excuses, but I'll bet they didn't know it."

"Now, wait a minute," I said. "What is this?" "Call it a game, if you like." She looked at me steadily. "Jim, you'd better give up. Gill happens to love his wife and I have an idea he'll keep on loving her."

"I flushed angrily. 'Of course he will. Who says he won't?'"

"Nobody. But you hope he won't." "I hope what? What the devil are you talking about?"

She sighed. "Oh, Jim, stop pretending. You're in love with Bette. You've been in love with her for so many years you've lost count. You kept bringing pretty girls up there, hoping he'd fall for one of them, hoping she'd break up their match. Then you'd have a chance with Bette."

"Stop!" I yelled. "You're crazy!" "No I'm not. I'm quite sane. What kills me is that neither Gill nor Bette have caught on." She stopped and bit her lip. "Well, it's none of my affair, but I'll tell you this, Jim: Those two are about the only inspiring people I've ever known. And I'm all for letting them stay that way. From now on, count me out."

I shrugged. "O.K. You're out. There are two dozen others out with you. But you're the first who's guessed the reason." I sighed. "I guess I'd better quit. Gill and Bette think if I married you I'd be getting a prize. I'm beginning to agree with them. Will you marry me?"

"No," said Sheila. "Which is what a chap gets for having a secret like mine."

"I knew it," Bette cried delightedly. "It's Sheila! He's in love with Sheila!"

Certain Stains Won't Bleach

Although sunshine is one of the best and safest bleaches for white clothes after laundering, and even though it often fades colors, it may have just the opposite effect on some common stains. ## ALL WEED COMMISSIONERS TO MEET AT COURT HOUSE MAY 15

A meeting of all county weed commissioners, town chairmen, and all village and city officials in charge of weed control will be held in the Washington county court house at 9 a. m. on Tuesday, May 15. This meeting is called by Henry Lutz, who is chairman of the Weed and Seed Inspection Service for the State Department of Agriculture. The use of chemicals and new 2,4-D spray materials will be discussed by George Briggs, extension agronomist of the College of Agriculture. Those who operate power weed sprayers will find this meeting excellent for bringing one up-to-date on the new research findings on the uses of the 2,4-D compounds.

MAIN STREET IN ACTION

The 'Big Frog in the Little Puddle' Does a Fine Job for His Community

An "urban" place, according to a solemn definition by the U. S. census bureau, is an incorporated city of more than 2,500 inhabitants. This also included unincorporated communities of that size located on the fringes of big cities.

The thing about these urban places is that there are considerably more of them now than there were in 1940-50 more, according to the 1950 census. In 1940, to put it another way, there were 550 more small towns with populations under 2,500 than there are now.

At the same time, towns in the 2,500 to 5,000 population group have been on the increase, too. There were only 1,407 such incorporated places in the nation in 1940, while by the time of the 1950 census the number of communities in that population range had risen to 1,554.

Taking these figures as a straw in the wind, we might conclude that the long revered villages and hamlets of rural America are growing up. "Growing bigger" probably would be a better way to express it, however; because according to what many of us have observed about the larger cities, they don't have near the maturity that the small towns like ours achieved long ago and which we now take almost for granted.

The kind of maturity we're speaking of is that which comes to a person—or a community—when he is able to identify himself surely and securely with a definite position, a specific social and economic niche in the fabric of his surroundings. It is a maturity that makes not for smugness, as we sometimes think, but for progress, integrity, solidity of character.

"A big frog in a little puddle," some say enviously when referring to a successful business man in a small town. But those "big frogs" are the men who have been largely responsible for the striking growth of our small towns which we noted above.

Let's examine that banal reference to the big frog in the little puddle for a minute and see how it applies constructively to Main Street.

If you were to see him first on a visit to a big city—walking down Broadway in New York or State Street in Chicago—chances are he would appear to you as a typical, moderately prosperous businessman. Nothing exceptional about him to give him individuality in the ponderous mass of big city humanity.

In the local, small town scheme of things, however, his business is of the most vital significance. In a town like this one, a business failure has a tragic local impact in terms of the loss of jobs, savings, and the ruining of futures of people whom we know. Conversely, business success means more jobs, more money in the bank, and happiness and security for us and our friends.

We in the small towns recognize and respect the men responsible for the payrolls. Their signatures on the weekly or monthly payroll checks mean that they are important to us and to the community.

But this business man we followed home is more than an element on the economic scene. Unlike his big city counterpart, he does not fade into anonymity in some distant suburbia after the five o'clock whistle blows. Because of his business interests and his position during working hours, he also takes an active part in community affairs.

He works hard in the interest of civic improvements, fully conscious of the unspoken but deeply felt responsibility that he and other men like him have as leading forces in the progress and betterment of their town.

As we look a little further, we find that he is important in still another way. Instead of investing his money in stocks, bonds and other kinds of impersonal securities, he is more likely to put his company's money and his own savings into real estate, other local businesses, and farms in the immediate area.

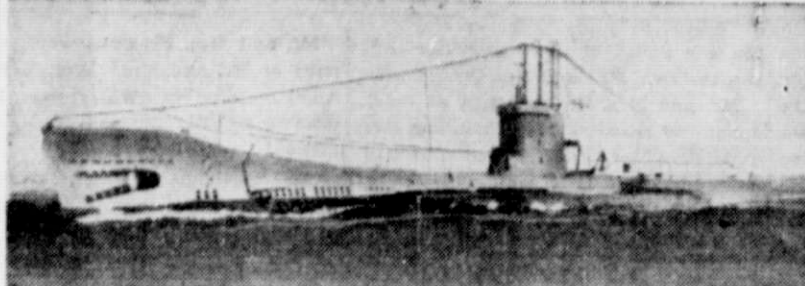

Thus, he becomes an influential factor in more than his own business. He has a very real, practical stake in the entire weap and woof of his community. He is good for all of us, whether we be one of his customers, one of his employees, or even one of his competitors.

"Big frog in a little puddle?" It's a compliment—a well-deserved accolade to the small town businessman.

A

FEATURE

Any man will usually get from other men just what he is expecting of them. If he is looking for friendship he will likely receive it. If his attitude is that of indifference, it will beget indifference. And if a man is looking for a fight he will in all likelihood be accommodated in that. Men can be stimulated to show off their good qualities to the leader who seems to think they have good qualities.

Truman-MacArthur Fight Continues; Chinese Launch Spring Offensive

HOW DIVIDED THE NATION—There was no sign of a letup in the great quarrel on whether President Truman did right or wrong when he fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Pacific commands. If anything, the man on Main Street was hotter under the collar than ever before following the general's impressive speech before congress.

Ticker-Tape Blizzard

Never before in the history of the U. S., or possibly in the history of the world, has a returning hero received such acclaim as Gen. Douglas MacArthur as he drove through a ticker-tape blizzard to the shouting of 7,500,000 people in New York. It was the climax of welcome home celebrations which began in San Francisco when the general returned to his native land for the first time in 14 years.

THE MILITARY—General MacArthur in his speech before congress said the joint chiefs of staff concurred with his view on conduct of the war in Korea. This brought an immediate statement which the joint chiefs said they had been unanimous in recommending the dismissal of MacArthur. The statement said: "Operations in the far east are being carried out in accordance with the views of the joint chiefs of staff.

THE UNITED NATIONS—Members of the United Nations, whether they were in agreement with General MacArthur's policy in the far east or not, were almost as impressed by the general's address as were members of congress.

ON THE FRONT—And while the politicians ranted over how the Korean conflict should be conducted, the North Koreans and Chinese Reds opened their long awaited spring offensive. First reports from the front indicated a break-through in the mountainous central sector of Korea by an estimated 400,000 enemy troops. Approximately 300,000 others were reported attacking in other sectors of Korea.

SALES TAX—The Committee of Americans, reportedly a nonprofit, fact-finding research-survey organization covering all 48 states and Hawaii, reports a recent survey indicated the majority of the nation's businessmen favor a retail-sales tax on the federal level.

BEATING ENLISTED MEN It has been hushed up by the navy, but the Norfolk, Va., shore patrol has been officially accused of kicking and beating servicemen and throwing them into the brig without their shoes.

BEATING ENLISTED MEN (Continued) These shocking charges were made in a confidential report by Rear Adm. F. N. Kivette, who was skipper of the aircraft carrier Midway until his promotion to admiral last month.

Take Me Out to the Ball Game

Neither wars or threats of wars, politics or the acclaim of a conquering hero could dim the opening of the baseball season on the sandlot of the home towns to the major leagues. Sport-minded Americans took time out for the greatest game of them all.

MAIN STREET BUSINESS—Hardware, dry goods and general merchandise, and jewelry stores on Main Street enjoyed a dollar sales increase during March of 1951 over the same month last year, the census bureau reported.

PROBER HAILS PRESS—Senator Kefauver, speaking before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, said his committee's elaborate investigation into crime could not have succeeded without the support of the nation's press.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE 1950 Marriage Rate Climbs 6 Per Cent The U.S. public health service reported recently the marriage rate rose and the divorce rate dropped in the United States during the past year.

1,200 Physicians May Be Drafted by July 1 The defense department announced that 1,200 doctors will have to be drafted into the armed forces in July, August and September unless volunteers fill the gap in the next ten weeks.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round BY...DREW PEARSON

AT AN explosive Republican senatorial strategy meeting, the big GOP guns walloped against the Republican party too closely to MacArthur's kite.

One of those who led the warning was Senator Taft, whose friends have been worried that MacArthur might crowd him as the GOP presidential candidate in 1952.

However, the sharpest Republican fire was concentrated on Senator Cain of Washington for putting the Republican party on the spot with his resolution declaring war on China.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, who has been Secretary of State Acheson's bitter foe, actually snorted: "As far as the Cain resolution is concerned, I am on Acheson's side."

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round BY...DREW PEARSON

AT AN explosive Republican senatorial strategy meeting, the big GOP guns walloped against the Republican party too closely to MacArthur's kite.

One of those who led the warning was Senator Taft, whose friends have been worried that MacArthur might crowd him as the GOP presidential candidate in 1952.

However, the sharpest Republican fire was concentrated on Senator Cain of Washington for putting the Republican party on the spot with his resolution declaring war on China.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, who has been Secretary of State Acheson's bitter foe, actually snorted: "As far as the Cain resolution is concerned, I am on Acheson's side."

Senator Young of North Dakota warned that declaring war on China would do "more damage than anything that has happened in the Republican party in five years."

However, Cain tried to defend his position by arguing that his real purpose was to "pin this war on Truman as Truman's war."

He pointed out that the President in his April 11 speech mentioned war 21 times. However, Cain's colleagues failed to follow his reasoning.

In the end, Cain insisted that he had promised to introduce the resolution and intended to go through with it. However, he agreed to make a statement that his only purpose was to focus attention on the China issue, since Truman had already got the country into war.

The most explosive outburst of the closed-door meeting came from Indiana's wild Senator Jenner. He was spurred out of his seat by a remark from Senator Taft that "no responsible Republican senator would advocate impeachment."

To this Jenner shouted angrily: "I may not be part of the responsible Republican leadership, but I have my own opinion."

He demanded immediate impeachment of President Truman and used considerable profanity in demanding it.

Senator Ecton of Montana tried to soothe Jenner by explaining that it was up to the house to bring impeachment proceedings and the senate was supposed to act as a jury. Ecton cautioned that it would be improper for a senator who was supposed to sit on the jury to express advance opinions about impeachment.

Kivette ordered his own investigation of the Norfolk shore patrol and sent a sharp report to the navy, charging that the Norfolk SP's were "arrogant, dictatorial, arbitrary, sometimes abusive and occasionally brutal."

Kivette's investigation was conducted by Ensign Robert E. Kenyon.

Commenting upon his subordinate's report, Admiral Kivette declared: "I believe these to be true and not the case of a cat."

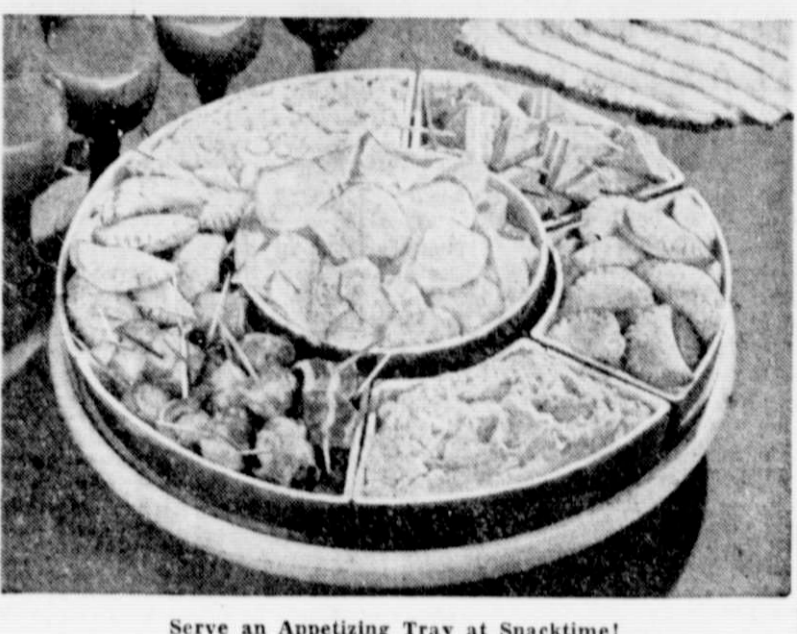

The admiral also added: "The very few but brief reports I have had concerning the condition of the shore patrol brig are calculated to induce nausea without a visual inspection."

Merry-Go-Round Marriner Eccles, who has threatened to resign from the federal reserve board several times, now tells friends he has definitely made up his mind to leave the board on June 1.

One reason Gen. Lucius Clay was eased out as No. 2 man for mobilization was Clay's stubborn refusal to take advice from anyone. His own assistants were saying that "even Confucius couldn't advise Lucius."

The B-36 feud is smoldering again. This time, instead of the navy and air force bickering, it's the army and air force. Army generals believe the air force should spend its money on tactical planes to support ground troops, but the air force wants to build more B-36's for strategic bombing.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Serve an Appetizing Tray at Snacktime! (See Recipes Below)

Appetizing Ideas ONE OF THE nicest ways to entertain is just to ask friends to drop in for a snack. If you've been invited to a church supper or a large party, it's a nice idea to get together, have a few friends drop in to visit you, and then all go together.

Snacking is a popular and informal way of entertaining during afternoons and evenings. Nibbling while you chat or play games, listen to music or watch programs is an easy way to serve food. Just put out a tray of snacks along with a pitcher of chilled fruit or vegetable juice and let guests help themselves.

HERE'S AN old-fashioned onion cake which may be served warm with chilly vegetable juice. It's ideal for eating before dinner or for evening, since the "cake" is best served in very small wedges.

*Zweibelkuchen (Onion Cake) (Serves 8-10) Crust: 1 cup butter 4 tablespoons milk Pinch of sugar 2 cups flour Pinch of salt

Mix together all ingredients gently and place in refrigerator until dough is ready to be handled. Roll out dough and place in 2 8-inch pie tins. Bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 10 minutes or until half done.

Batter: 4 large onions, diced 6 strips bacon, diced 2 whole eggs 1 egg yolk 1/2 cup sour cream 1 teaspoon chopped chives Pinch of caraway seed Salt and pepper to taste Fry bacon; when crisp, drain off some of the fat, leaving the remainder for cooking the onions.

When yellow and soft, drain off fat and add beaten eggs, bacon, sour cream, seasoning and chives. Pour into pie crust, partially baked, add the caraway seeds and bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 12 to 15 minutes. Serve warm.

A LAZY SUSAN is an excellent way of serving snack, but if you don't have one, arrange four or five small pottery bowls on a round tray and fill each bowl with a different appetizer. Place a bowl of potato chips in the center for dipping into the "dunk" mixtures.

Cream Cheese-Pickle "Dunk" Blend 1 3-ounce package cream cheese with 2 tablespoons milk. Stir in 1/4 cup sweet pickle relish. Cover and refrigerate until served.

Deviled Ham "Dunk" Blend 2 3-ounce cans of deviled ham with 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon prepared mustard. (Liver or tongue spread may be used in place of the deviled ham.) Cover and refrigerate until served.

Veal Loaf Triangles Spread thin slices of canned veal loaf with a soft sharp cheese and stack three together; chill. Cut into triangles and spear with a toothpick. Wrap well in waxed paper and refrigerate until serving time.

LYNN SAYS: Make Simple Suppers Satisfying Meals A cheese sandwich gives you a hearty and tasty supper if you spread the bread enclosing it in a bit of mustard. Dip the sandwich in egg and milk mixture and fry until golden brown. Serve with broiled Canadian bacon.

Canned corned beef hash becomes something of a treat when you brown it in the skillet until crisp and serve with scrambled eggs over the top.

Tempt the appetite when it's wiled by serving hot French toast with sauteed mushrooms. Applesauce toast gives another delectable supper on days when the appetite takes a rest. Spread toast with applesauce, then crisp bacon or fried ham and grill until piping hot.

Chicken salad served high on thick tomato slices is a real treat for warm night. Add chopped roasted walnuts, pecans or slivered almonds to the salad, then garnish the plate with pineapple spears.

Canned Spanish rice makes a quick stuffing for parboiled green pepper halves. Top with a slice of American cheese and bake in tomato sauce.

You can cream some canned lobster quickly if you're in a hurry for supper, and serve on easily cooked instant rice.

Marinated leftover vegetables can make a fine salad to serve with slices of cold boiled ham, spread with cream cheese. Place a dill pickle strip on top of the cheese and roll the ham.

With cold cuts, try this potato casserole. Mix leftover mashed potatoes with egg, milk, scraped onion for flavor and heap high in greased baking dish. Brown in a moderate oven.

If cheese soufflé is on the menu soon, add to the mixture some finely chopped green onions and crisp-fried bacon.

You'll need only crackers to go with this soup to give a hearty supper dish. Blend together some condensed tomato and green pea soup, thin with rich milk and fold in some flaked crabmeat.

Another Fracture Bed Now Available for County Use

Edgar Van Beek, commander of the Washington County Council, American Legion, has announced that another fracture bed for home use has been acquired through the commission earned from the magazine drive recently conducted in Washington county.

This bed will be available to Washington county residents who have received maximum hospital benefits, but still are required to remain in bed for an additional period of time.

Previously only one bed was available from the Legion, stated Mr. Van Beek, and as this has been in constant use we decided to secure another. The bed may be requested from either Miss Josephine Miller, county nurse, Miss Clara Jashalg, Red Cross secretary, or George A. Kolb, county service officer.

There will be no charge for the use of this bed, all that is required is that the bed be returned to the place of storage in good condition upon termination of the periods for which it was required.

Application can be submitted to any of the above named persons, and will be approved by the county nurse, who has been charged with the administration of the project.

Junior Red Cross Members Receive Letters From Guam

Thank you letters from children on Guam who received Junior Red Cross gift packages at Christmas time came by the dozen to the Red Cross office in West Bend last week. More than 39 individual letters, addressed to pupils and teachers at Holy Angels, Schnurr, Holy Trinity of Newburg and Melane schools, were received.

Written in the loose scrawl of fourth and fifth grade pupils, the letters expressed thanks in many ways to the youngsters in this area who, as a Junior Red Cross activity had sent Christmas gift packages to the Pacific Isle.

Typical of the letters was this one sent to Margaret Schacht of Holy Angels school—

"Dear Margaret, 'I received your Christmas present and I was so glad. Thank you. I am in the 5th grade, I am 11 years old. I go to Price school. My teacher's name is Miss Rojas. How are you? Are you fine. My Christmas present is nice. I have wash rag, tooth brush, soap, comb and ball. Margaret, I am fine and the family. Can you tell me how old are you now? Remember this year we are going in the 6th grade. What is your date of birth? My date of birth is June 2, 1933. Guess I'll close now, until I hear from you again. Good bye—"

Imaculo Sobhan Another letter sent to children at the Schnurr school came from Merizo school on Guam. It read— "Dear Friends: "How deep my appreciation to the lovely Christmas gift you've forwarded to me. I'm really enthusiastic to thank you, each and every one of you now.

"How kind of you to have been helping the children on Guam during Christmas seasons from the past.

"Before I close, I want to thank you again in behalf of my school.

Sincerely yours, Jesus R. Garrida"

Since nearly all of the letters were sent to individual youngsters within the various schools which sponsored the Junior Red Cross gift box program, it seems likely that a number of "pen-pal" acquaintances will spring up between here and Guam.

More than 200 boxes of this type, each containing gifts with a total value of about $2.50, have been packed and sent by Junior Red Cross members in this area in the past year.

RED CROSS OFFERS ANOTHER MOTHER-BABY CARE COURSE

Another Red Cross course in "Mother and Baby Care," offered especially for couples who are expecting an addition to the family begin at West Bend this week. The first session was held in the home nursing instruction rooms, adjoining the Red Cross office on the second floor of the public library building, Thursday, May 10, beginning at 7:30 p. m. At that time, by majority rule of those who registered for the classes, a decision was made as to the regular meeting night thereafter.

Mrs. George Sampson will be instructor for the course which covers all phases of the care of the new born baby and the mother. The complete course includes six class sessions of two hours each. A similar class was completed recently by six young couples from this area, all of whom praised its merits.

Registration can be completed by calling the Red Cross office, phone 392, the Red Cross home nursing chairman, Mrs. Ray Haebig, phone 1454, or Mrs. Sampson, phone 1343. Since only a limited number of couples can be accepted for a "learn by doing" course of this type, persons desiring to take this course should make their registration arrangements as soon as possible.
