

Chevs Upset Slinger, 6-5; Tie for Second

LAND OF LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division) Won Lost Mequon 11 2 KEWASKUM 9 4 Grafton 9 4 Slinger 8 4 West Bend 7 5 Germantown 6 6 Newburg 5 8 Saukville 4 8 Barton 4 9 Cedarburg 0 13

Scores last Sunday—Kewaskum 6, Slinger 5; Barton 7, West Bend 3; Germantown 4, Mequon 2; Newburg 6-7, Saukville 4-4 (doubleheader); Grafton 7, Cedarburg 4.

Kewaskum upset second place Slinger Sunday on the latter's home grounds, 6-5. With the victory the Chevrolets moved into a tie for second place with Grafton, who also won Sunday. The setback dropped Slinger, which team had led the league all during the early part of the season, to fourth place. Leading Mequon also was upset by Germantown and Kewaskum is back in the running for first place, resting two games behind the pace setters.

"Mix" Marx pitched the Chevs to their win. He was touched for 13 hits but was tough in the clinches and held the opponents to 5 runs as he stayed in during the entire game. Although hit hard, Marx had Slinger fanning the air as he struck out 11 batters. He walked only one man, Kewaskum collected only six hits off R. Held but made every one count as they scored an equal number of runs. Held whiffed four men and passed two.

Two good innings led the win for the Chevrolets, the 6th and 7th. Frost led off a 3-run spurge in the 6th with a home run, followed by two errors and hits by Norm Held and Marx. The locals tallied two more in the 7th on a hit by Lutz and two errors. The Chevs' other marker came in the first inning. Norm Held, hitting in the cleanup spot, had his big bat beginning as he led the Chevrolets in battling with three hits in four trips to the platter. However, top honors for the day went to Slinger's R. Mayer, who connected for 4 out of 5.

Table with columns AB, R, H, E for various players like D. Lutz, C. Stautz, K. Frost, M. Krueger, N. Held, R. Edwards, H. Marx, L. Petermann, A. Bilgo, L. Kempf.

Two base hits—Mago, F. Melius, Wadewitz, Home run—Frost, Stoen bases—Mago, R. Mayer. Umpires—Potter and Potter.

Switch Engine Derailed Here

A North Western railroad Diesel switch engine was derailed Tuesday afternoon while backing onto the main track from a siding next to the Regal Ware, Inc. plant. The derailment was caused when a length of rail tore loose from the ties and turned over on its side from the weight of the engine. The mishap occurred about 2 p. m. A wrecker and derrick was sent out by the railroad company from Milwaukee to hoist the engine back onto the track. The wrecker arrived toward evening and with a crew of men worked until about 9:30 p. m. before getting the giant Diesel back onto main track so that it could run under its own power. The engine was slightly damaged.

A sizable crowd of people gathered to watch the operations of the wrecker and crew. After being righted on the track the engine continued on its way.

Regal Ware Addition Nearing Completion

The large addition to the Regal Ware, Inc. plant in Kewaskum is nearing completion. Production work in the new addition, built on the north end of the plant, is expected to get under way some time this coming fall. Officials of the company revealed that the addition will be used to produce a year's defense contract with the government for the manufacture of 105 millimeter steel shell cases. More than $1,000,000 worth of special machinery and equipment for this manufacture will be installed, it was reported.

Giant tanks have arrived at the plant which are required for the storage of propane gas. This gas is necessary in the defense work. Each of the two tanks has a capacity of 30,000 gallons. A previous addition to the rapidly growing plant was completed last fall.

11 From Area Enlist in Army, Air Force

It was announced this past week by the West Bend recruiting station that eleven young men from this area recently enlisted for service with the U. S. army or air force. Lt. Ralph J. Marx Wounded in Korea

Word was received the past week by Mrs. Ralph J. Marx of this village that her husband, Lt. Marx, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Marx, has been wounded in action in Korea. Lt. Marx sent the information in a letter in which he wrote that he suffered shrapnel wounds in his arm. He wrote the letter in a hospital where he is confined and mentioned that his wounds are not serious. Lt. Marx was home on leave in June after taking a four-week refresher course at Ft. Benning, Va. before that he had been stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky. Following his 15-day leave he left for Ft. Lawton, Wash. to embark for overseas service at Yokohama, Japan. Soon after arriving in Japan he was sent to Korea for combat duty. Lt. Marx is a veteran of World War II, during which he saw much overseas service in the European Theater of Operations. He was called back into the army this year from the inactive reserves.

5 Local Persons Hurt in 3-Car Crash Sunday

Seven persons were injured, five of them from Kewaskum, Sunday night as a result of a three-car collision on Hwy. 55, about four miles south of West Bend, and just south of the Wagon Wheel tavern. All were removed to St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend. The collision occurred in a heavy string of traffic at about 7:10 p. m. Cars involved were driven by Theodore F. Heinen, 43, Milwaukee; James Schroeder, 20, Clintonville, and Roland Senn, 41, Kewaskum. Those injured included: Senn, chest injuries and fractured ribs; Mrs. Senn, 35, shock; their twin daughters, Susan and Sandra, 4, both of whom were released from the hospital; Schroeder, shock and eye injuries; Kathrine Campbell, Kewaskum, cut on forehead; and Mrs. Heinen, shock and bruises.

Schroeder was attempting to pass the Heinen car when he noticed the auto driven by Senn coming from the opposite direction, straight towards him. Having no place to cut back into his own lane of traffic, Schroeder was forced to smash into the Heinen car. Senn's car, traveling north, could not avoid smashing into the left rear side of the Schroeder machine. Senn then lost control of his car and it swerved into the ditch on the right side. Two other traffic accidents of a minor nature occurred near the village the past week. One involved a driver whose auto left the road and ran over a stone pile near the east village limits, damaging the car. The other happened near the Loran Backhaus farm home 1 1/2 miles north of the village, when a car left Hwy. 55 and clipped off several guard rails.

Fire Destroys Jackson Cannery; $300,000 Loss

Fire causing an estimated $300,000 loss Sunday destroyed a three-story wing of the Rockfield Canning company plant in Jackson. Albert Klump, company president, said the total loss was about $300,000. Also destroyed were a viner shed housing equipment for separating peas from the vines, two tractors and two trucks. The plant, which closed Saturday after completing the corn pack, was the village's largest business. The only part of the cannery's main wing not destroyed by the blaze was the cooking room, located in one corner of the brick structure. The wing, measured about 140 by 180 feet. A crowd estimated by Sheriff Sylvester Naumann at 15,000 persons watched as firemen from Jackson, West Bend, Germantown and Grafton battled the blaze. No one was injured. Jackson's volunteer firemen, about 30 strong, had just finished marching in the village's annual "Action in Jackson" celebration when the fire was discovered at about 1:47 p. m. The building's single story wing housed offices and storerooms. Klump said 150,000 cases of canned peas, 160,000 cases of frozen peas and 200,000 cases of mixed vegetables were saved. The cannery employed 200 persons. Cause of the fire was undetermined. Klump said the blaze started in the viner shed, which was connected to the south end of the main wing. A watchman on the premises turned in the alarm. Sheriff Naumann said 5,000 autos carrying throngs of curious people jammed in the area. He deputized six cannery employees to help his regular force of 10 officers to handle the huge crowd. Jackson Fire Chief Norbert Boegert estimated all but seven or eight members of his volunteer force were manning refreshment booths erected for the celebration which has been raising funds for a public park since 1946. Others were preparing for a Rock River baseball game scheduled for 2 p. m. The blaze sent up smoke and flames seen for miles around the village. The destroyed portion of the cannery was built of brick. The community celebration, started by a parade, went on as planned.

Mrs. Anna Bauer Dies Suddenly Thursday

Mrs. Anna Bauer, 74, operator of the Bauer Hotel in Campbellsport, passed away at her home there at noon on Thursday, Aug. 9, following a heart attack. She had not been feeling well the past several months. Mrs. Bauer was born Jan. 4, 1877, at Niedorf, Austria, the daughter of Joseph and Theresa Kurzwil. She came to this country at the age of 16 years. On Nov. 7, 1897, she was married to Joseph Bauer and they lived on a farm in the town of Germantown, Juneau county, until 1910 when they moved onto the Jim Day farm near Campbellsport. In 1911 they purchased the Henry Braun hotel, the site of the present Bauer hotel, where she lived until her death. Surviving are eight children, Theresa (Mrs. James Farrell), Edward, Joseph and Floyd of Campbellsport, Lillian (Mrs. Raymond Sprankel), Viola (Mrs. Alfred Scheldt) of Milwaukee, Florence (Mrs. Ed. Mitchell) of Oshkosh, and George of Port Washington; ten grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, two sisters, Rose of Chicago and Catherine of Germany. Her husband predeceased her in 1947 and a son Frank died in 1946. The body is in state at the Twobig Funeral home, Campbellsport. Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning from the funeral home to St. Matthew's church at 9:30 a. m.

An afternoon reception was held at the bride's home, followed by a dinner at the church. In the evening a wedding dance was held at Batavia. Later the young newlyweds left on a wedding trip to the western states and upon returning will reside at Batavia. Mr. Schacht and his bride are both graduates of Kewaskum High school. The bride had been attending the Milwaukee County Hospital school of Nursing. The bridegroom is employed at the West Bend Aluminum company.

POLZEAN-KETTER

In a 9 o'clock nuptial service read in St. Bridget's church, town of Wayne, on Saturday morning, Aug. 4, by the Rev. F. C. La Bui, Miss Martha B. Ketter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ketter, R. 3, Kewaskum, became the bride of Andrew M. Polzean, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Polzean, Sr., Campbellsport. The bride wore a gown of satin and lace. The square neckline was outlined with lace, and pearl and rhinestone bows trimmed the skirt. The full train was edged with lace. A Juliet cap held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid. The maid of honor, Miss Agnes Ketter, was attired in a gown of white marquisette with a lace trimmed bodice. Her flowers consisted of white gladioli. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Gilbert Gloede, Regina Ketter and Dolores Rutenberg. Mrs. Gloede's gown was sky blue marquisette, Regina Ketter wore a gown of yellow marquisette, and Miss Rutenberg's frock was orchid. Adeline Ketter and Shirley Polzean were the junior bridesmaids. They wore Nile green marquisette gowns. All of the attendants carried bouquets of gladioli to contrast with their ensembles. Little Miss Dolores Ketter served as flower girl in a white marquisette gown. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli. Attending the bridegroom as best man was Forrest Kleinhaus. Serving as groomsmen were Gilbert Gloede, Ralph Ketter and Sylvester Wondra. Usher was performed by Herman Forster and Francis Polzean. The ring bearer was Gerald Polzean. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. Dinner and supper were served in the Holy Trinity church hall, Kewaskum, and in the evening a private wedding dance was held at the Kewaskum Opera House. The newlyweds, who left on a honeymoon in northern Wisconsin, will reside with the bride's parents. The bridegroom, a graduate of Campbellsport High school, is employed at Regal Ware, Inc. in this village. His bride is an employee of the Amity Leather Products company, West Bend.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round
BY DREW PEARSON

Chinese Profiteer

AMERICAN truce negotiators in Korea have noted with interest that the Chinese Communists are using American jeeps. The American public has also wondered not only how the Communists were able to obtain American equipment, but why the Nationalist government was driven out of China.

The sub-rosa operations of the Chiang Kai-Shek family may be one of the answers. Another of their operations had just come to light—a move by a Chiang brother-in-law, with other wealthy Chinese to corner the soybean market at the expense of the American public.

The brother-in-law is T. L. Soong, brother of foreign minister T. V. Soong, who formerly handled much of the three and a half billion dollars worth of supplies which the United States sent to China during the war. Tan soybean pool netted a profit of $30,000,000 and shot up the cost to the American consumer $1 a bushel.

One of the strange things about the soybean manipulation was that its operators knew exactly the right time to buy up the world's soybean supply—a few weeks before the Communists invaded Korea.

Recently this column told how Eugene Soong, son of T. L. Soong, together with L. K. Kung, son of Dr. H. H. Kung, another brother-in-law, sold a huge quantity of precious tin to the Chinese Communists. As a result Secretary of Commerce Sawyer has now barred this group, together with three law partners of Ex-Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, from getting export licenses to trade with any country for three years.

It was the father of Eugene Soong, T. L. Soong, who bought up half a million bushels of soybeans before the Korean war in May, 1950.

GOP Targets for '52

A frank outline of GOP campaign strategy for 1952 was presented to key Republican senators' assistants by Ab Hermann, the energetic national committee executive director, in a private meeting the other night.

The tall, banjo-eyed Hermann, one-time big-league ballplayer, confided: "We won senate seats last year wherever we took our gloves off. There were only two states we should have taken and didn't and that was because our nominees refused to punch hard—Missouri and Connecticut.

"Why," complained Hermann, "we had to bootleg speakers like McCarthy into Connecticut."

The "prime targets" in 1952, he said, were Scott Lucas in Illinois; Francis Myers in Pennsylvania; Elbert Thomas of Utah, and Millard Tydings of Maryland.

Turning to Frank Smith, assistant to Sen. John M. Butler, who defeated Tydings, Hermann continued: "We did a beautiful job in Maryland and Utah, Frank. I don't see why the Democrats yelled so much about the composite picture in your campaign, when, by comparison with anti-T. H. M. a newspaper in Utah, your publicity was like a country gentleman's."

He referred to the fact that in Utah, a supposed "congressional record" with statements attacking Thomas as a pro-Communist was circulated to all mailboxes in the last hours of the campaign—so late that Thomas had no opportunity to reply.

"We all know Senator Thomas was not a Communist," Hermann explained, "but these tactics were necessary to balance the pseudo-liberal newspapers which were for him."

Pointing to Dick Cardall, administrative aide to Sen. Arthur Watkins of Utah, Hermann continued: "There's the fellow who gets a lot of credit for that victory. Senator Bennett (the Republican who beat Thomas) is very much indebted to him."

The 1952 target areas, Hermann indicated, were to retain all Republican seats in New England and Atlantic states, and pick up new senators in Arizona, New Mexico and Wyoming.

"We have Republican governors and some patronage strength to put on real scraps," he explained.

"Also, we have a fighting chance of picking up seats in Maryland, Kentucky, West Virginia and strengthen our position in the south."

"On the other hand," he said, pointing to a map behind him, "we could lose four or five senators."

Oil and Gold

Ex-Sen. Sheridan Downey of California recently met radio correspondent Rudy Block in a Capitol corridor. Downey, who rose to political fame on an old-age pension scheme known as "ham and eggs" a number of years ago, is now lobbying at $3,000 a month for tideland oil.

"Well, Senator," said Correspondent Block, as they shook hands. "I see it's from ham and eggs to oil and gold."

Washington Pipeline

Hamilton Jones, incidentally, has been a strong supporter of education... Democratic Chairman Bill Boyle was warned by White House advisers not to send telegrams to Democratic national committee members urging them to pressure congress on price controls. "We've got 30 to 40 Republican votes lined up," Boyle was warned, "and we may lose them if this looks like a Democratic issue." Boyle sent them anyway.

DOMESTIC PROBLEMS

Human Relations Center Founded At University of Pennsylvania

A human relations center, the first of its kind ever organized in this country to provide a complete service to communities faced with racial and religious conflicts, has been established at the University of Pennsylvania.

The new development in meeting "the outstanding problem in democratic life" is known as the Albert M. Greenfield Center for Human Relations, it was announced by Harold E. Stassen, president of the university and Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

It will start its work in September. Its program was made possible through the combined financing of the Philadelphia area office of the National Conference, the University of Pennsylvania, and Albert M. Greenfield, a Philadelphia realtor and civic leader.

The governing body of the center is an executive committee consisting of two representatives each from the university, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and the community, Dr. Martin W. Chworowsky, of Columbia University, has been named director.

"The urgent need to improve the quality of human relations in our country has been stressed as the outstanding problem in our democratic life," declared the members of the executive committee in a statement outlining objectives. "A university dedicated to the advancement of knowledge and to the education of people to render more effective service as citizens and as members of their respective professions has a special responsibility to bring its resources to bear in solving human relations problems.

"Because of an increasingly widespread recognition of the underlying need and of the role which institutions of higher learning can assume," the statement added, "the resources of the university and the community are brought together in a center for human relations where many of the problems in intergroup relations can be attacked."

THE WORK of the new center can be compared to our modern health centers, Dr. Clinchy said. "They will provide communities with scientific resources for treating tensions and conflicts in the same way that a modern medical center guards the public health."

He explained that the center would conduct research activities, train students in intergroup problems, serve the community in meeting situations growing out of group conflict, and test existing methods for meeting these problems.

"While the centers would be equipped to study the causes and treatment of chronic social disease like prejudice, discrimination and racism," Dr. Clinchy said, "basically they would be concerned with preventive measures for correcting and eliminating conditions that lead to hostilities in social relations."

Members of the executive committee representing the National Conference are Mr. Greenfield and Dr. Tanner G. Luckrey, assistant to the Board of Superintendents of the Board of Education of Philadelphia.

Iona Massey was not making a picture since 1949, preferring radio and the stage to roles that did not appeal to her. But in "Escape to Paradise" she has found a story that she likes. It is being made in Vienna, with the beautiful blonde playing an actress who returns to the city after the war to claim jewels she left when she fled the city.

GRASSROOTS

There Is Hope '52 Election Will Oust Wastrels

By Wright A. Patterson

DESPITE all the needs for economy, consistently urged by the President, the executive department at Washington does not practice any of the President's admonitions that he insists are necessary on the part of every American.

In government the waste goes merrily on, with Gen. George Marshall's department of defense leading the way. As an example: Recently the army wanted several million pounds of margarine for the troops in Korea. The purchasing agent of the army purchased the several million pounds at a price of 25 cents a pound. Within a few minutes walk of the Pentagon building, Secretary Brannan, secretary of agriculture, sold at approximately the same time, just about the same number of pounds of grade A-1 creamery butter to Italy at 15 cents a pound. That butter had been purchased by the department to keep the price of butter up to the American consumer.

Had it been provided for our armed forces, the result on the home market would have been the same as selling it to Italy. Such transactions represent unnecessary waste.

Hundreds of such items have been dug out of the records by members of congress, and are aired on the floors of both the senate and house. It is the airing of such items that causes the careful scrutiny of appropriation bills.

Last year the navy purchased paint enough to paint all naval ships several times over. The surplus, and more, was sold to a German concern. When it was found that too much had been sold, at a price of less than one third the original purchase price, navy purchasing agents bought that same paint back from the German concern at better than three times the price at which it had been sold. Waste! Waste!

Waste! through all the administrative departments of government, and no one called on the carpet because of it.

The total runs into many millions and possibly billions, for all of which the tax payers must pay.

Senator George (D) of Georgia says the administrative departments can easily cut six billions from their budget demands, and that there will be no additional taxes voted until that six billion cut has been made. That demanded six billion cut does not include any defense rearmament expenditures, which could cover another six billion.

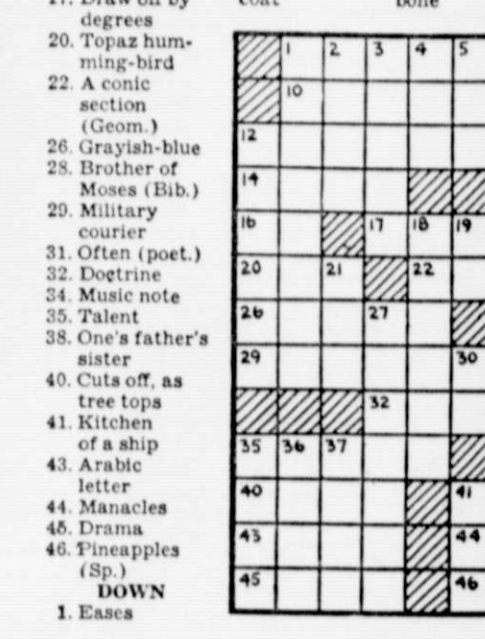

Despite the evidence of waste the President continues to call for more and larger appropriations, more taxes, that the nation may be saved from the dangers of inflation. He does not recognize that government purchasing of commodities creates a shortage, quite as much as individual demands, only the excess demands of government, is far greater than is the hoarding purchases of the individual. From what school of economists does he select his advisers?

THE FICTION CORNER

BRIGHT IDEA

By Richard H. Wilkinson

MR. and Mrs. Roscoe Hardy found themselves in a sad predicament. For years they had solved the problem of summer vacations by visiting friends and relatives. They had made a career of it. They were professional guests. But now the end had come. The Hardy's were no longer welcome where they once enjoyed economical weeks of rest.

The future looked black. The Hardy's bank account was never lower. Then Roscoe had an idea. He remembered that once upon a time he had an Uncle Ralph. Rumors drifted in, unfounded, that Uncle Ralph had gone to Alberta, Canada, established himself in the wheat business and prospered.

Now then, thought Roscoe, why not restore Uncle Ralph to the good graces of the family circle? Why not cook up a story about Uncle Ralph suddenly dying and making Roscoe and Mrs. Roscoe sole heirs to his millions? Why not mention this in a letter to Cousin Beatrice and Chauncey Hardy, who lived in Philadelphia and who had practically evicted them two years ago? And if it worked on Beatrice and Chauncey, why not try it on other relatives?

Mrs. Roscoe Hardy had always been rather grudging about handing out compliments to her husband. But she had to admit that this plan was deserving of a lot of credit. She even agreed to write the letter to Beatrice herself.

"—and as you probably know," Mrs. Roscoe wrote, "dear Uncle Ralph, who has been living in Alberta these past 20 years, passed away a month ago and has made us sole heirs to his millions. Naturally we are upset at the news of his death, and would like to come to Philadelphia for a week or two to rest up and visit you."

Less than three days elapsed before Mrs. Roscoe had a reply. "Darling Grace," Beatrice wrote, "news of dear Uncle Ralph's death has upset us terribly. Of course you need a rest. And both Chauncey and I will be delighted to have you as our guests for as long as you want to stay, despite the fact that at present we have other relatives visiting us. Chauncey and I can sleep in the day bed in the living room."

"Humph!" Mrs. Roscoe folded the letter with a look of triumph. IT WAS a long drive to Philadelphia, and Roscoe had been able to borrow barely enough to get them there. But the future now loomed bright. There would be a pleasant month of relaxation, free from worry about the cost of meals, and always there was the possibility of being able to touch Chauncey for a hundred or two. And after that, more relatives, more pleasant times, and more touches. Roscoe figured they could work their present scheme for at least a year in safety, while the "estate" was being settled.

The Roscoe Hardys arrived in Philadelphia late one rainy night and drove up to Cousin Chauncey's with glad expectancy. The place was brightly lighted.

Roscoe honked his horn shrilly and had the satisfaction of seeing Cousin Chauncey jump to his feet and rush to the door. "I'll go up and get Chauncey to come out for our luggage," Roscoe told his wife.

Roscoe climbed out of the car and ran through the pelting rain to the house. He disappeared inside, while Mrs. Roscoe waited. She waited perhaps three minutes and then became irritable. What was the idea? she asked herself. What kind of a reception was this for the heirs of millions?

The front door suddenly burst open and Roscoe came hurtling down the walk. Breathing heavily, Roscoe climbed into the car. There was a wild look in his eyes. "For heaven's sake, what's happened?" Mrs. Roscoe demanded. "What's the matter?" Roscoe gulped. "It's—it's that relative that's visiting them."

"Relative? Who—oh, the one Beatrice spoke about in her letter. Well, what about it? Who is it, anyway?" Roscoe gasped again, this time not entirely from lack of breath. "It's Uncle Ralph!" he blurted.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Question: I just finished the staggering task of removing some casein paint from a bathroom ceiling, by using a strong water softener solution and a scraper. I am now down to the plaster. Do I treat the bare plaster the same as when new; that is, by using sizing, undercoat and then paint? I had to remove the casein paint because it started to peel and let go of the ceiling.

Answer: You did all right, for you succeeded in doing what you started out to do. But the water softening solution should all be thoroughly washed off, for if you let it stay on the ceiling, it will continue to work on your new paint and spoil the job. Use plenty of water for the wash-off. When the ceiling is quite dry, apply two coats of enamel undercoat and a finish of enamel following the directions on the label. Where you made your original mistake was in putting casein paint on the bathroom ceiling. The steam loosened the paint and caused it to peel. Enamel is the right kind of finish for bathroom and kitchen surfaces (unless you are going to use other hard finishes for the walls). Flat wall paints are not supposed to be used for these rooms.

Coal Was Created Before Human Advent

What is coal? How was it made? Well, it all started many millions of years ago, in what is called the Carboniferous Period. We sometimes call it the Coal Age. The climate was very warm and moist all over the earth. There were heavy rains. Plants grew fast and luxuriantly, especially in swampy areas.

In our country, these great swamps extended in all directions to where we find coal today in what is now Pennsylvania and the whole Appalachian range, the middle Atlantic states, the Rocky Mountains, and even the far away Pacific Coast. The forest trees resembled giant ferns, reeds, and mosses, rising to heights of 100 to 120 feet, and many feet in diameter. Other trees looked much like enormous ferns, climbing 50 feet into the air.

Everything was green and lush in this strange world. The giant trees, ferns, grasses, insect life and other creatures, died, fell into the swamps and became part of the sea life buried there. Heavy rains washed soil and sand from high places into the swampy lowlands. Land gradually sank. The great inland seas advanced and covered up these peat-like bogs, keeping out air and bacteria that cause decay. Again conditions on the earth changed. The land was raised up and once more forests grew, flourished, and died. Again the land sank and the seas advanced.

This process continued over and over through untold thousands of years. The sunshine, whose warmth and magic made these forests, was buried with the vegetation. Slowly the forests piled up one atop of the other, the peat layers began changing into something we now call lignite, and the enormous deposits of dead leaves, branches, trunks, insect life, and sea life were transformed slowly into coal and other minerals.

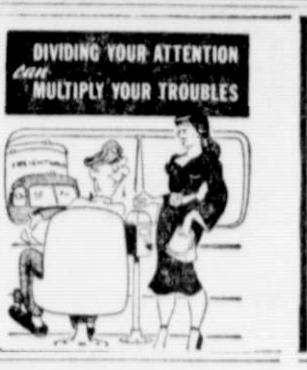

The quality of legume and grass silage can be improved by letting the green material partially wilt before putting it into the silo, and by adding 60 pounds of molasses, or 150 pounds of ground shelled corn, or 200 pounds of ground ear corn to each ton as the silo is filled.

Coal of the Samchok basin, largest fuel source in South Korea, is poor anthracite hard to burn unless mixed with bituminous, but its use reduces expensive imports of other fuels.

Pruning and dormant spraying of trees and shrubs may be done any time when the temperature is 45 degrees or higher.

The typical raindrop shape is produced by air pressure. The raindrop would be a sphere if it were floating free in space or falling in a vacuum.

MRS. HERREN DISCOVERS THAT HADACOL BRINGS REAL RELIEF

HADACOL Helps Folks Who Suffer Weak, Run-Down Conditions, Nervousness, Sleeplessness Caused by an Upset Stomach and Poor Appetite, If Due to Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

In these days of the fast pace of life, with folks always hurrying, you simply have to feel well to keep going. And if you are weak and tired, nervous, have no appetite, don't sleep well and feel run-down, life can be mighty unpleasant. Mrs. Martha Herren of 113-C N. Chevy Chase Drive, Glendale, California, used to feel that way. But she heard how many folks who suffered these conditions when due to a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron were being helped by today's great HADACOL. She began taking HADACOL and now feels so good that she just can't say enough for HADACOL.

Mrs. Martha Herren

Here is what Mrs. Herren says, in her own words, about HADACOL: "For a time I had been run-down, was just simply tired all the time. I was nervous, couldn't sleep well and didn't have an appetite at all. I would just pick at my food. I started taking HADACOL, as I had heard so much about it. In just a couple of weeks I could certainly tell a difference. My appetite picked up—I was actually hungry at meal times. I was no longer as nervous and tired. I simply can't say enough for HADACOL. I am still taking it, and believe me, I will always have it on hand. I know how much it has really helped me, and sincerely, HADACOL is wonderful."

Yes, HADACOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of weak, run-down conditions, poor appetite, nervousness and sleeplessness caused by an upset stomach when due to a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in the system.

AND EVEN MORE IMPORTANT! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps prevent these conditions from returning when due to such deficiencies. Now, that's the kind of product you have been waiting for. That's the kind you should buy and start taking at once. And HADACOL is so easy to take—comes in pleasant liquid form and is so easily and quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to go to work for you immediately.

Because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ and to every part of your body. You may have tried other Vitamin preparations or other Vitamin and Mineral preparations, so we make you this offer. Try a bottle of HADACOL today if you need Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. You be the judge. If you do not believe that HADACOL is the best Vitamin and Mineral preparation you have ever taken, we will gladly send you back your money. That's our positive money-back guarantee. You take no chances.

So be fair to yourself. Don't put off finding relief another day. If you are suffering from these deficiency-caused ailments, you owe it to yourself to start taking HADACOL today.

Refuse Substitutes And remember! There's only one HADACOL. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee.

Sold at all drug counters. Trial size, $1.25, but buy the large economical family-size, only $3.50. If your dealer does not sell HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

Polio Pointers Announced by County Chairman Statal

A new set of "Do's and Don'ts" in avoiding children and adults against polio during summer and fall months was issued this week by Anton J. Statal, chairman of the Wisconsin County Chapter of the National Foundation for Paralytic Polio.

"If polio comes," Mr. Statal said, "the National Foundation recommends positive action as follows:

"Do allow children to play with friends they have been with right at home.

"Do wash hands carefully before eating and always after using the toilet—especially important when polio is around. Also keep food clean and covered.

"Do watch for signs of sickness, such as headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, extreme tiredness or nervousness, trouble in breathing or swallowing.

"Do put a sick person to bed at once, away from others, and call the doctor. Quick action may lessen crippling.

"Do telephone your local chapter of the National Foundation at West Bend number 46 if you need help. No patient need go without care for lack of money. Your chapter will pay what you cannot afford.

"Do remember—at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling."

Here are the "don'ts": "Don't get over-tired by hard play, exercise, work or travel. This means men and women as well as children.

"Don't get chilled. Don't 'bath' or swim too long in cold water, or sit around in wet clothes.

"Don't have mouth or throat operations during a polio outbreak.

"Don't use another person's towels, dishes, tableware or the like.

"Don't take children to places where there is polio. Ask your health department.

"Don't take your child out of camp or playground where there is a good health supervision."

MAIN STREET IN ACTION

Rural Schools Should Base Programs On Their Rich, Native Surroundings

To conclude our current study of the conditions in our rural schools, let us hear an opinion of the late Fannie Wyche Dunn, long time professor of rural education at Columbia university teachers college.

The point she makes in a book entitled "The Child in the Rural Environment" is that the 12 million children attending rural schools throughout the nation do not have a school program to fit their needs, but have instead a carbon copy of curriculums developed in and for city schools.

FEATURE

Is this a valid contention? The burden of Dr. Dunn's message is that the rural schools should take more complete advantage of their rich environmental background and the great possibilities for expression that naturally exist in the fabric of rural life. She insisted that rural school programs based on rural life would be no less rich than those of city schools.

Surely, this is a thoughtful and constructive point of view that we on Main Street might consider profitably. Here is how Dr. Dunn develops her idea:

"Country children have a rich and varied background for firsthand experience with natural and physical sciences, in animals, birds, insects, rocks, soils, plant fertilizers, weathering, machinery, and electricity. Certainly science should have an important place early in and throughout the curriculum, if rural children are to improve environment.

"Our rural education program today does not find its basis in the rural environment. City schools have nine-month terms, beginning early in September and closing in late June, with long vacations in midwinter. So we shut country school children up in school buildings in June and September when the outdoors is full of all sorts of educative experiences, and give them a vacation in late December, which isn't usually as severe as February, and not distinctively abundant in educative outdoor opportunities.

"The city school building has been compact and several stories high because ground space is scarce. So we have built tall and compact rural schools. The city school has many pupils, whom it finds convenient to classify in groups of thirty or forty children of all ages or advancement. So we classify the few pupils in many of our rural schools in the same way, and then resort to all sorts of devices to put them together again so we can find time to teach them.

"We need to develop a new pattern for every aspect of the rural program involved. The content will be no less rich than that of city schools; much of it will be identical. Farm children need to know about gallons and dozens sooner than city school children. City children need to know how to make change sooner than country children."

What Dr. Dunn has advocated is not a double standard of education, but a double set of procedures which eventually might lead to a higher, unified standard for the entire nation.

"Rural education must be distinctive, because the community, the present living, the opportunities for active experiences are all rural," she wrote. "The rural child's development must be rooted in rural soil.

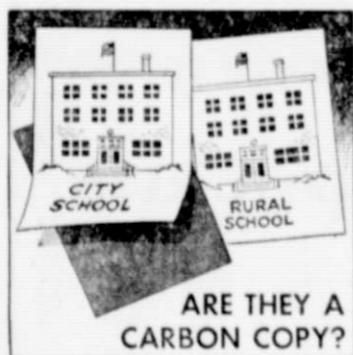

"An adequate education program must serve those who will spend their lives in the communities in which they were born and those who must seek occupation in cities and may go to remote states and other lands."

And finally, this challenging statement:

"The country is the seedbed of the nation, for cities do not produce children enough to replace themselves. It is estimated that not more than a fourth of the children born on farms can hope to find their life work in agriculture. Another fourth may make their homes on farms if they find some other part time occupation to supplement farming. But half of the rural youth must move cityward, both for the sake of their own futures and for that of the city and the nation.

Opportunities are greater today than ever before in history. Young people graduating from our schools have greater chances for health, happiness and prosperity than had the children of any previous generation. There is a greater demand today for people of character than at any time in the history of America. Industry, intelligence, imagination and persistence are great gold mines.

—Roger W. Babson

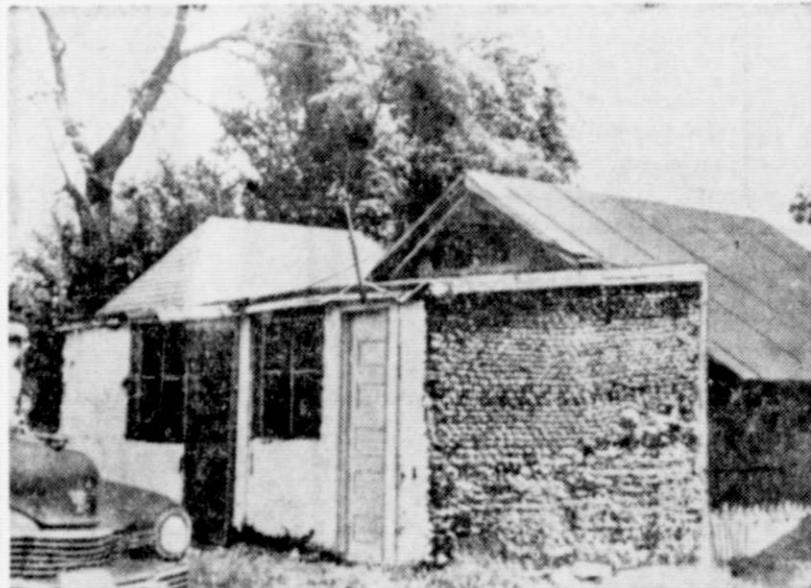

ARE THEY A CARBON COPY?

HER HONOR . . . Mrs. Jessie Ryan is Jersey City's first female judge.

DUMPING APPLES . . . Another truckload of Washington apples is dumped on growing pile of fruit being left to rot by growers in order to keep prices up near Yakima. More than 2,000 carloads have been dumped by growers in the past two weeks. The farmers claim that they cannot market the fruit at more than 50 cents a box. So they prefer to dump the crop than to sell them at lower prices, bringing to mind the plowing under of the "little pigs" several years ago.

SQUALID HOME FOR G.I. . . . Angry senators revealed that service men with families are forced to live in such "hideous hovels" as a shack built of whiskey bottles and beer cans (above) and sleep with the lights on to keep their children from being bitten by rats. With no water supply, house above contains two shabby rooms divided by a counter and is rented to a corporal for $25 a month near Camp Breckinridge, Kentucky.

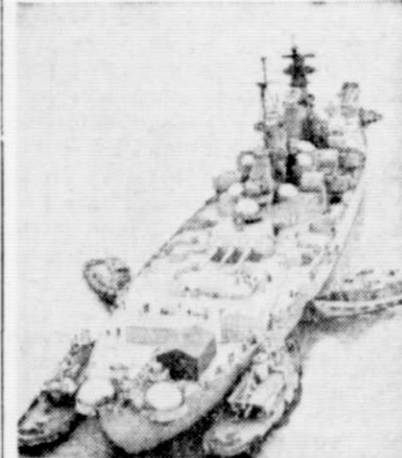

G'S AND GERMAN POLICE QUELL RIOTS . . . This scene shows Capt. William Priest, Baltimore, leading American and German police in West Berlin, the latter with coal shuttle helmets, in a smoke-bomb attack against mock demonstrators. Any Communist-inspired outbreak in the city will be met quickly by a combined team of U.S. soldiers of the occupation forces and West Berlin police who are being trained together to protect the city. The Germans are forming military units.

REDS RIDE JEEPS . . . Outside peace conference building at Kaesong, an unidentified American soldier scrapes mud off bumper of an American-made jeep to ascertain from what organization it was captured. Still bearing its U.S. army markings, the jeep and another like it have been used by Reds to transport their negotiators to and from the Kaesong peace meetings. At the left are two Russian-made vehicles which closely resemble the U.S. jeep.

SCANNING THE WEEK'S NEWS of Main Street and the World

Quick Agreement in Korea Unlikely; Control Fight Confused Main Street

A LONG WAY FROM PEACE—As much as the people in the home towns of the nation desire peace, the majority approved the United Nations' flat refusal to talk about withdrawal of allied troops from Korea.

Even if the troop-withdrawal issue is solved, however, home towners should realize it will not necessarily mean a cease-fire in Korea. It will be merely an agreement on what subjects to discuss in seeking a cease-fire.

The issue of withdrawing all foreign troops from Korea will come up again in the main talks. As a result, there is only one logical conclusion: the home towners can draw; the world is a long way from peace.

SHADOWS OF 1952—The long shadows of 1952—the presidential election year—again fell across the national scene with a speech by Sen. Robert A. Taft.

In an address described as the jump-off for his bid for the 1952 GOP presidential nomination, Taft described the Korean conflict as "a useless and expensive war brought about by the Truman administration."

Despite the fact he approved intervention in Korea, Taft charged that the United States is involved in a "useless and expensive war."

Besides attacking the administration's foreign policy, Taft promised that the GOP would restore "honesty and integrity to government" after the 1952 election and end "the low moral tone, the dishonesty and the inefficiency" of the Democratic administration.

CONTROL FIGHT CONFUSING—To most home towners the battle over the price control bill, which should by this time be the law of the land, has been a fight of confusion. The house and senate versions of the bill differed in many details. And even one representative, when asked how his amendment to the bill would work, replied he didn't know.

For the average American, it has been much the same. He has been unable to understand the many details of the bill and the conflicting viewpoints of the proponents and opponents of price legislation. Only one thing he understood: the administration wanted a stiffer price control law, but seemed doomed to defeat.

The administration contended that old controls should be extended and strengthened. That the old law was inadequate, particularly in controls of food prices, rents and credit. A stronger law was needed in the face of government defense spending during the coming months.

These arguments, however, did not impress congress. Opponents of the administration argued that the President just urged stronger controls as a "power grab." Skillful lobbyists for business interests also battled to weaken controls.

Just before the final version was due out of the house-senate committee, observers believed the administration would be thankful for any kind of bill and that it would be signed immediately upon receipt by the White House.

TRAINING PROGRAM OVER—Thousands of World War II veterans in the small towns and big towns of the nation received educational benefits under the GI bill that expired last week.

And despite the abuses of the program, educators believe the nation will feel for a long time to come. Thousands of veterans reaped educational benefits that they could not have otherwise afforded.

Approximately 7,600,000 veterans received training for an average of 15 months each. They drew $8,700 billion in subsistence. The rest of the $12,400 billion cost went for tuition, fees, equipment, books and counseling.

Veteran college enrollment hit its peak in December, 1947, when 1,158,000 discharges crowded back to the campus. To date, a total of 2,200,000 veterans have studied in institutions of higher learning. But even more—3,300,000—have taken courses below college level in nearly 38,000 grade schools, high schools, vocational, trade, business and correspondence schools.

SPECIAL FLOOD APPEAL—For the first time since 1938, the American Red Cross launched a general disaster fund appeal in an effort to raise $5,000,000 to help 45,880 families affected by the midwest floods.

Flood waters of the Missouri river caused millions of dollars of damage in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois. It was possibly the most costly flood in the history of the nation.

In the four-state area, the Red Cross was reported housing 17,500 flood victims in 80 shelters and feeding 42,600.

King Is Assassinated Prince Naji (left), was appointed regent of Jordan after the assassination of his father, King Abdulallah (right). The king was shot as he entered a mosque in his capital of Amman. In center is King Faisal of Iraq.

PRICE WARS END—According to a senate report the price wars that started in New York after the Supreme Court's "fair trade" decision have all but died out.

The report said cutting of fair-trade merchandise occurred in 43 of 123 leading trade centers throughout the country. In the 43 cities, only 825 of 77,241 stores set prices on one or more items or merchandise below the resale price recommended or set by the manufacturers.

The report showed Denver leading the list with price cuts in 300 stores, Detroit second with 175, and New York third with 100.

JAPANESE TREATY NEAR—The possibility of a quick Japanese peace treaty became evident last week when the United States invited 50 nations, including Russia, to join in signing the agreement at a conference opening September 4 in San Francisco.

Missing from the invitation list were the Communist and Nationalist governments of China, South Korea, and Italy.

Although the Russians were invited, they are expected to refuse to sign the treaty, which the Soviet has denounced. In all likelihood, however, the Russians will send delegates to the conference to attack the treaty.

APPROPRIATION Senate Group Approves Farm Work Fund

A bill calling for $751,000,000 in new cash and authorizing $262,000,000 in loans for various farm programs was approved by the Senate appropriations committee. The group, however, ordered a department of agriculture payroll reduction of 10 per cent below President Truman's budget.

Besides the cash and loan money, the bill authorizes the spending of some $172,177,264 automatically set aside by law for use by the department farm programs.

The $751,000,000 in cash is some $34,400,000 more than the amount budgeted by the house, but is $69,900,000 below the amount the President requested.

The boost in cash came chiefly in a $24,000,000 increase in funds for soil conservation. Agriculture department's research and operating staffs in small field offices were exempted from the salary cut.

At the same time an appropriations subcommittee approved a $138,409,415 budget for the District of Columbia and agreed to contribute $12,000,000 to the district's support.

The budget is a record for the district, but about $2,000,000 below Truman's figure. Most of the money comes from taxes paid by District of Columbia residents.

Nitrogen Starved Corn Produces Small Ears

Lack of Nitrogen May Show Up Early in Crop (Second of Two Articles)

The ear of corn and the leaf shown in the photo below tell a plain story of nitrogen starvation. The soil didn't supply the nitrogen the crop needed, so unmistakable signs are evident on both the ear and the leaf.

The ear of this nitrogen-starved corn is short, but the kernels are well-filled and the ear has fair finish. Nature has an uncanny way of regulating the size of the ear to match the amount of nitrogen available when the ears are shooting.

This is its insurance for seed another year. When nitrogen is lacking the middle of the leaf turns yellow and dies. Signs of nitrogen starvation can show on the corn any time from the knee-high stage to maturity.

Early hints are skinny stalks and pale green leaves. "Firing" of the lower leaves is another sign, although it is often mistakenly blamed on drought.

You can add more nitrogen for your corn in three ways: (1) By having more well-fertilized deep-rooted legumes in the rotation; (2) By using more manure; (3) By using fertilizer carrying nitrogen. The point to remember is that no matter how much nitrogen the corn gets, it cannot build strong roots and stalks and fill out kernels unless it has plenty of phosphate and potash, too.

Besides adding nitrogen, well-fed deep-rooted legumes such as alfalfa and sweet clover unlock tightly packed clay soils below the plow layer and let air and water in.

There are many reasons why a Turpin-Robinson return will attract the biggest crowd of many years, plus one of the richest harvests. This could be true in England or over here. With the fading days of Joe Louis upon us, Robinson had become the sole survivor of the ring's greater days, when Dempsey, Tunney, Henry Armstrong and a few others were around.

Joe Louis is now more obsessed than ever that he will be heavyweight champion again before September passes on. He will tell you he had a different feeling in his Savold match, a feeling of deeper confidence, of great speed, of his ability to hit and hurt.

Next week seen champions before who were keen enough to regain their lost titles. Jim Corbett was one, back in the years when he trained so desperately for the Jeffries fight. Corbett astonished Jeffries and the world at large by his amazing condition.

Dempsey lost no time in facing a long, hard training campaign for his second meeting with Tunney. He worked for many hours a day for the better part of a year to be ready for this meeting. The fact is, I think he overdid it. He had a close call in the early part of his Sharkey bout, and might have left the scene a little badly beaten, but for Tunney's help and another crack at him.

But Louis has a burning, blistering desire, possibly unequalled in ring history, to put the old crown back upon the Louis knob. It will also help cover the expanding bald spot.

Few believe the Bomber has speed enough to accomplish his wish. But whatever happens I believe Louis will look better in this recent championship test than he looked before. No one can wish that hard for something and not have at least a chance to make the dream come true.

The Last Big Charge A year ago Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Brookmeade Stable dropped famous Calumet from first place as the top money winner of the year.

It isn't likely that Calumet will lead the final parade this busy season of 1951. It may be Brookmeade again, or Greentree, or Sonny Whitney, or George Widener. Or some other stable.

But the Jones boys, Ben and Jimmy, plus Mrs. Warren Wright, are giving Calumet one big final whirl, whatever happens later. Their two major performers are Citation and Bewitch.

Last winter at Santa Anita, Ben Jones told me that 1952 would bring the big story for Calumet. "We have seven colts by Bull Lea and six fillies," he said. "We will have little for 1951, outside of my old-timers. But we may get plenty for 1952. We may get another Citation or another Coaltover or another Whirlaway."

The biggest military construction program since World War II appears likely with the approval of $5,768,720,000 for the job by the house armed services committee. Much of the program is secret. However, the air force was put down for $3,480,661,000. Of this amount, over one billion is for secret purposes. The army received a total of $1,368,025,130. Of this, $302,234,000 is for secret facilities.

The Crowded Month

The fight game has run from famine to overflow, from rags to riches, at the fastest pace anyone can recall.

The startling defeat of Ray Robinson by Randy Turpin has left the September situation badly over-jammed.

Jim Norris naturally wants a Robinson-Turpin return match for September with the prospect of a $500,000 show. He also wants to give Joe Louis his shot at the lost title in the same month. He has plans for the younger heavyweights who have been moving forward.

Certainly of all the September parties, the Turpin-Robinson meeting heads the list in the way of general interest. Robinson's defeat is old stuff now, but it is still an almost unbelievable episode. The reason for this is plain. British fighting men have been so bad through so many years that one takes British defeat for granted before a glove is thrown.

There are many still who want to see what happened to Robinson since he crossed the purling Atlantic. Slumps in fighting form are not uncommon, but it is difficult to see how Robinson could have gone back that far.

One answer is that Randy Turpin must be a much better fighter than he was rated. Even a slipping Robinson, a skidding Robinson, is still something to beat.

So everyone, in any way interested in the boxing game, or the career of a champion, wants to know what the true answer is. What was Turpin in his system that was overlooked? Why has Robinson gone back? Or how far has Robinson gone back?

Ray bestrode his field like a towering Colossus up to the Turpin moment. It must have been a rude shock after so many years to find himself outboxed and outpunched by a considerable margin.

Fill Those Bare Spots in Canning Cupboards

Do Preserving Now LATE FRUITS AND VEGETABLES are now ready to be put up in jars, whether you want to finish filling your own canning shelves or lay in a supply for holiday giving.

Good results are not so much a matter of talent, but rather of care given to instructions. Before finishing the canning, have a plan in mind. If you need some whole fruits to complete your dessert plans, then that's the thing to put up. If you relishes need a bit of rounding out, then plan to put up a few jars of pickled peaches or some vegetable pickles.

Jams and butter should come in for their share of attention, too, unless you already have enough spreads for mealtime and lunch boxes. If you want to give a few jars away as presents, decide how many you'll need and go to work with these recipes you'll treasure after trying once.

*Pear and Peach Jam (Makes 8 6-ounce glasses) 2 cups finely chopped pears 1 1/2 cups finely chopped peaches 1 box powdered pectin 4 1/2 cups sugar

Add powdered pectin and sugar to the chopped pears and chopped peaches. Mix well. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. When a full rolling boil is reached, boil for 1 minute. Remove from heat and skim. Seal in hot sterilized glasses.

Pickled Watermelon Rind (Makes 5 pints) Cut off all the green rind and pink part of the watermelon, then cut the white rind into small cubes (about 1-inch in size). Cover with hot water. Parboil until it can be pierced with a fork, but be careful not to let it get soft. For 20 cups of rind, make the following syrup:

7 cups sugar 2 cups vinegar 1/4 teaspoon oil of cloves 1/2 teaspoon oil of cinnamon

When the rind has been parboiled, drain off the water, bring the syrup to boiling point, then pour over the rind. Let this stand in the kettle overnight. In the morning drain off the syrup, re-heat it and pour it back over the rind. Do the same the third morning, heat both the rind and the syrup and seal in jars. Using the oil of cinnamon and cloves keeps the cubes clear and almost transparent.

Pickled Peaches (Makes about 3 quarts) 6 pounds, about 20 peaches, medium 4 cups sugar 2 cups vinegar 4 three-inch sticks cinnamon 1 piece whole ginger 3 tablespoons whole cloves

Select ripe, firm peaches. Scald, peel, cut in halves and remove pits or leave whole, as desired. Peel just enough fruit to be cooked at one time to prevent browning of fruit. Combine sugar and vinegar and bring to boil. Add spices, tied loosely in a cheesecloth bag, and boil 5 minutes. Add peaches, enough to fill one jar. Simmer gently just until tender. Pack while hot into sterilized jars, covering fruit with syrup. Seal at once.

Bread and Butter Pickles 6 quarts sliced, medium cucumbers 1 cup salt 6 onions sliced medium Combine and allow to stand for three hours. Drain. 1 1/2 quarts vinegar 6 cups sugar 1/2 cup mustard seed 1 tablespoon celery seed 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper

Combine seasonings and vinegar. Boil. Add cucumbers and onions. Heat to simmering. Be careful to avoid boiling as that makes pickles soft. Pack hot in clean jars and seal immediately.

Peach and Plum Jam (Makes 8 6-ounce glasses) 3 1/2 cups prepared fruit 4 1/2 cups sugar 1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit, peel and core about 1 1/2 pounds fully ripe peaches. Chop very fine or grind. Pit (do not peel) about 1 1/2 pounds fully ripe plums. Cut in small pieces and chop. Add 1/4 cup water; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 5 minutes. Combine fruits and measure 3 1/2 cups into a large saucepan.

TO MAKE THE JAM: Measure sugar and set aside. Place saucepan holding fruit over high heat. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

Peach and Plum Jam (Makes 12 6-ounce glasses) 4 1/2 cups prepared fruit 7 1/2 cups sugar 1 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit, peel and pit about 1 1/2 pounds soft ripe peaches. Grind or chop very fine. Pit (do not peel) about 1 pound fully ripe plums. Cut in small pieces and chop. Combine fruits and measure 4 1/2 cups into a very large saucepan.

TO MAKE THE JAM: add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses.

iced tea will look prettier if it's served with cubes made with a slice of lemon and a slice of orange plus a sprig of mint. Deviled eggs are a welcome sight on the salad plate, if they're made extra nourishing and tasty by mashing some deviled ham with the yolks before refilling the whites.

Lemonade can be just one of those beverages, but everyone will perk up at the sight of a glass of lemonade which has been tinted pink with maraschino cherry juice. Brings to mind the circus!

Next time you're making scalloped potatoes, layer a few thin sliced onions with the potatoes for a real taste treat. Collect all your small roll and bread baskets if you want to solve the problem of serving chicken on a picnic. Wrap fried chicken in cellophane and tuck in several brightly colored napkins.

For as pretty and tasty a dessert as one could wish, bake individual meringues in the cool of the morning. For dinner, fill them with fresh sugared peach slices and top with whipped cream.

Broiling is a quick and tasty way to prepare the main dish. Why not do their duty well by diners if you serve them with a whipped cream or soured cream dressing to which is added some chopped cucumber.

Molded fish salads for hot nights will do their duty well by diners if you serve them with a whipped cream or soured cream dressing to which is added some chopped cucumber.

LOCAL "ANNEY OAKLEY" TO ATTEND FLIGHT NURSES SCHOOL
 CRAIG AIR FORCE BASE, ALA.—Craig's "Anney Oakley," Nurse 1st Lieutenant Jeanette Ambrose who recently made the newspapers when she qualified as a sharpshooter on the range the first time she fired the weapon, believes she has her sights on the right target.

The auburn-haired nurse is anticipating a short leave to the farm home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Krautkramer, R. 2, Kewaskum, for on Aug. 13 she is scheduled for a 6-week flight nurses school at Gunter Air Force Base, outside Montgomery, Ala. "I love Craig," attractive Jeanette explains, "but I think flight training is just about it."

The former farm girl graduated from St. Agnes School of Nursing in Fond du Lac, Wis., in 1940. She was discharged after 3½ years with the army in 1946, and entered the air force in January.

Upon the completion of the Gunter AFB school, Lt. Ambrose expects to be transferred from Craig and put on flying status.

PFC. BROCKMAN PROMOTED TO CORPORAL IN KOREA

Pfc. Henry Brockman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brockman, West Bend, formerly of Kewaskum, was promoted to corporal on July 2. He is serving as squad lead in Company G of the 27th Wolfhound Regiment in the 25th Infantry Division which is serving in Korea with the U. N. forces.

Cpl. Brockman enlisted in the armed forces on June 5, 1950, and arrived in Korea on March 3 of this year. He was made squad leader on June 27.

Prior to enlisting in the army, Cpl. Brockman was a student at Kewaskum High school.

BOB STAEHLER HOME WHILE SHIP UNDERGOES REPAIRS

Robert Staehler, AN, of the U. S. Navy, arrived Friday to spend an 15-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Staehler, while his ship, the USS. Midway, is undergoing repairs at Norfolk, Va. The deck of the Midway was damaged when a plane crashed in attempting to make a landing on it. Staehler's three-year term in the navy, scheduled to expire in September, has been extended one year.

VORPAHL, STERN HOME

Pvt. Anthony J. Vorpahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vorpahl, and Pvt. Harold Stern, son of the Fred Sterns, arrived Thursday from Camp Rucker, Ala. to spend 14-day furloughs at home.

This is the first time home for these two young men who have served in the army six months.

PFC. WM. EDWARDS HOME

Pfc. William A. Edwards, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Edwards, arrived home last Friday to spend a 20-day furlough. Pfc. Edwards is stationed at Camp Joseph Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif. with the marine corps.

SGT. GRUBER, WIFE HERE

Sgt. Harlan J. Gruber of Fort Hood, Tex. is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gruber. Sgt. Gruber was accompanied here by his wife, whom he married recently.

Drivers' License Fees Are Increased Aug. 7

Effective Aug. 7, Wisconsin drivers will be required to pay increased fees for their drivers' licenses, which are renewable every four years under state law, Commissioner B. L. Marcus of the state motor vehicle department announced Tuesday.

New drivers will also feel the effect of fee increases voted by the 1951 Wisconsin legislature, the commissioner said.

The fee for original driver license application and for license reinstatement has been raised from one dollar to two dollars. Renewal fees have been raised from 25 cents to 50 cents. Instruction permits and school permits will cost one dollar, instead of the former charge of 50 cents. To obtain a duplicate license, drivers will pay 50 cents, instead of 25 cents.

The action of the legislature in doubling driver license fees is in line with the increased cost of motor vehicle administration," Marcus commented, "and follows action already taken by most other states. Seventy-five percent of the fees collected on applications requiring examinations by local enforcement officers will be returned to the local communities to compensate more adequately for time spent.

and to enable local departments to continue to expand this important service."

The commissioner warned that failure to renew a driver's license on time would result in the owner paying the full two-dollar fee, instead of the regular 50-cent renewal fee.

To avoid paying this penalty fee, Wisconsin citizens have only to renew promptly upon receipt of the renewal notices we send out 30 days in advance of license expiration," the commissioner pointed out.

"As an added service to our customers we will mail their renewal notices under first class postage," Marcus said. "This will enable the notices to be forwarded without charge in the event of a change of address. However, Wisconsin car owners and licensed drivers should remember that it is their duty, under the law, to report any change of address to the motor vehicle department. Complying with the law in this respect will save time, insure better service, and eliminate the necessity of ever having to pay a penalty fee for failure to renew on time."

Wisconsin's crop of canning peas this year is expected to yield high with 2500 pounds per acre.

CARD OF THANKS

Our recent sad loss, the death of our dear husband and father, Herman Butzko, leaves us with grateful hearts toward neighbors and friends. Their comforting expressions of sympathy and kindness will always be remembered. We are especially thankful to Rev. Zanow, the organist, singers, pallbearers, drivers, ladies who served, ushers, traffic officers, Miller's, for the beautiful floral and memorial tributes, and to all who showed respect by calling at the funeral home or attending the funeral.

Mrs. Herman Butzko and sons, Alvin, Clarence and Marvin

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express to our kind neighbors and thoughtful friends our heartfelt thanks for their many expressions of sympathy and kindness in our bereavement, the death of our dear father, Nicholas Gross. Special thanks to Rev. Eschweiler, the organist, choir, pallbearers, grave makers, traffic officer, Miller's Funeral home, for the beautiful floral tributes and spiritual bouquets, and to all who helped in any way and showed their respect by calling at the funeral home or attending the funeral.
