Number of Cattle In Nation Increases Record Total Indicated; Swine Crop Nears Peak

According to a late department of agriculture survey, the number of beef cattle and swine on the nation's farms is near an all-time record.

The department estimates the country beef-cattle may total 65,400,000 by January 1, 1952. This would be 5,800,000 more than last January 1, and 7,600,000 more than at the wartime peak of 1945. Dairy cattle, a source of calf meat and processed meats, but not significant as a source of beef, are excluded from these figures. With this rise in beef cattle, all cattle would increase from the 80,000,000 level of 1950, and the 84,200,000 level of 1951, to between 90,000,000 and 91,000,000.

The department estimated the 1951 pig crop, which will come to market from the middle of September on, is the second highest in the nation's history. The crop is estimated at 108,000,000 pigs, or 5 per cent greater than the 1950 crop.

Pork production, 5 to 10 per cent larger than last year, is expected to continue until next March. Chickens, too, are at record levels.

Larger Family Farms Hope Of American Agriculture

The future of American agriculture and the possibility of it meeting increasing production demands, depends largely on the hope of increasing the size of family farms to take full advantage of mechanization.

This, in brief, is the opinion of the bureau of agricultural economics after an analysis of what happened to make possible increased production during World War II.

Large farms, the bureau reported, are now producing nearer to total capacity than most family farms. They are up-to-date, use more advanced technology, and are more nearly balanced. Therefore, these show few opportunities for further increase in efficiency.

During the war an enormous shift took place from small to larger family farms. This shift enabled the larger family farms to take advantage of gains for mechanization.

There is doubt, however, that large farm efficiencies continue beyond the point at which the farm gains full advantage of mechanization. Beyond the size of the fully mechanized and up-to-date family farm the problem of hired labor intervenes.

The future of agriculture depends on increasing production on larger family farms.

Handy Tool Hangers

Here is an idea for the gardener who never has a place to hang up his tools. Bore holes, at a slant, in a piece of 1 by 4 board. Drive old clothes pins in holes and saw off protruding ends at back. Nail the board up on a wall where tools are kept and hang up your tools. It's convenient and practical.

Dyed Mulches Suggested As Aid to Garden Beauty

Mrs. Phil Patterson of Colorado came up with a new idea in the current issue of The Farm Journal. She suggested dying garden mulch to harmonize with other colors in your flower plot. A 10-cent package of vegetable dye, mixed with water, would dye a great amount. Mulches have been recommended for years as the home gardener's best friend. Now, it will add to the beauty of your garden.

4-H Members Help Stop Erosion on Million Acres

Imagine an American landscape with straight-rows cornfields and checkerboards with other grains. Then visualize a second picture with graceful curves, strips and "steps." The second picture is one being transformed to a large extent by the young people enrolled in 4-H club work. Since 1944 they have helped stop erosion on 1,400,000 acres of America's farm land in every state.

IN SAN DIEGO . . . Carol Williams was jailed for drunkenness despite her explanation that her rings were so tight the needed a few drinks to ease her pain.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

German Youths to Learn About U.S. By Living in American Homes

By Anne M. Mattingly WNU Washington Bureau

"The people are so nice—and it's wonderful to be able to say what- ever you want to in America. I'm so happy to be here."

These youngsters are to be sent to grange homes throughout the country, a large number going to Washington, Virginia, and Ohio.

Although this program of the state department and the national grange is one of exchange, it represents for the most part an opportunity for foreigners to see not only our agricultural methods but also to study our national philosophy and the manner in which we live.

JUST ABOVE THE teen-age level, there are "Young Farmers Groups", young men and women in their twenties, from Germany, Norway, Denmark, and Sweden, who do much more traveling than the younger students.

Since only about one in ten of the group of 74 which arrived recently can speak English, it might be assumed that language would be a great barrier to their American education.

Upon their arrival in New York, this latest and first such group of German teen-agers were whisked down to Washington where they, in a group, spent part of their second day in this country writing home to their families to let them know of their safe arrival and to tell of their first impressions.

While in Washington, they met Herschel Newson, master of the national grange, who welcomed them to this country and added that he hoped the Americans with whom they came in contact would learn as much about Germany as the students did about America.

The group also met Harold Howland, of the exchange of persons division of the state department, who summed up the whole purpose of the program with his quotation from Charles Lamb "How I hate that person."

If, through the immediate sphere of the study of agriculture, and the greater and broader one of human relations, this program can continue to aid in the cause of international understanding, it will be a great boon not only to this country, but to the entire world.

THE FICTION CORNER

PERFECT DAY

By Sallydale Wimbrow

EARLY FALL bristled the air. The lawn surrounding the little church was caked with brown fallen leaves and in the sky, a bright sun darted behind a cloud.

"Such a perfect day" Nell thought. "Everything is on its good behavior for Steve and Mary."

She folded her hands in her lap and relaxed in her seat. The organist began playing the pre-wedding melody. An unexpected tear started down Nell's cheek.

"That's right," she told herself. "Go ahead and cry. Make a fool of yourself and bawl like a baby. Forget about your plan to seem calm."

"The church looks lovely. Isn't it beautiful?" someone whispered. "Everything is so perfect."

"Yes" Nell thought, "Lovely, the white flowers, the fern, everything perfect. I mustn't be sad. I should be happy for Steve, for this is what he wants. It seems so sudden though... his getting married. Just yesterday he was only a boy interested in boats, automobile engines, camping out in the woods for weekends. Is he ready for a wife, a family? Oh, my Steve, I love you. But I would not hold you back. Not if this is your happiness. You have chosen Mary and she is lovely. I would not fight to keep you for myself, though I can't imagine what my life will be now, without you."

The opening strains of the wedding march sounded. People stood. There was the rustle of new dresses, the sound of feet shuffling on the floor. Nell felt stiff. She pulled herself up, put one hand on the back of the pew before her. There was Steve, standing by the altar, his face slightly flushed, looking toward the back of the church. His eyes were bright waiting for Mary. Nell remembered seeing that brightness in his eyes so many times before. She remembered how she had watched him often when he was only a small boy, playing with skates and toy pistols. As he grew, so did her love for him.

"Only yesterday" Nell thought "You were mine. Now you will never be mine again. Mary will hear your questions, solve your problems, be there when you need help. She is your life now. I have given you all I have to give. I only hope you will remember me, Steve, remember me with a smile. I will always love you and cherish the happiness you gave to me."

MARY was coming down the aisle. She seemed surrounded by a faint glow. Nell trembled slightly at the sighs of the admiring congregation. Mary was indeed a vision. By the altar, Steve was leaning forward, tense. There was that eager expression on his face that Nell remembered so well.

"The picnic" she thought. "You took me by the river for a picnic—and we carried your old portable phonograph. You played your favorite records—laughed at me trying to learn about jive. That eager alive look you have now. We were so happy Steve. You kissed my cheek and told me I was your girl—there would never be another girl for you. That's what you said, Steve—remember?"

Now the couple stood together, facing the altar. Nell heard the words that Steve and Mary together for a lifetime, unable to control a soft sob. "Mary, Mary—make him happy. It's up to you now."

Then it was over. The organ sounded again and Nell watched the couple turn, start for the door, laughing, Steve clasped Mary's hand and they brushed by Nell. "He doesn't even see me" Nell thought "He didn't even look."

Outside a photographer was taking pictures. Nell lifted her chin, tried a bright smile. She walked up to Steve who was standing alone while Mary posed for her picture.

"Darling," she whispered "It was perfect. I am so happy."

He leaned and kissed her "Thank you, Sweetheart" he said. Then his arm stole about her waist and he hugged her.

"I'm rather happy myself" he said and then he looked deep in her eyes. "I guess it's the most perfect day in my life. Mom."

A succession of ups and downs in the theatre led him to Hollywood; he made his first picture at Columbia, and his latest and probably his biggest success is that studio's "The Whistler at Eaton Falls." GRASSROOTS

Lack of Positive Platform Has Defeated the GOP

By Wright A. Patterson

OVER THE YEARS I have voted with but rare exceptions the Republican ticket.

One such exception was in the contest between Harding and Cox. As a protest against the unfair methods of the old guard senators in nominating Harding, I voted for Cox. The old guard was unfair, un-American and un-Republican.

In the campaign between Landon and Roosevelt for a second term, I went along with Landon, despite his endorsement of New Deal policies, tempered only by his insistence he could do a better job with them. By not having a Republican program, or a Landon program, but by accepting the Roosevelt program, Landon lost.

If they must have the New Deal, the voters prefer to leave it in the hands of the originators.

In the campaign against a third term for Roosevelt, Willkie used as a subject for a campaign address "I could do it better," referring to New Deal policy. He deserved to lose, because he was no Republican. He was a candidate who gained the Republican nomination by unfair methods. Willkie flopped as an advocate of New Deal policies on the Republican ticket and deserved his fate at the polls.

Devey, in his first campaign, came nearer supporting New Deal policies than anything he or his party proposed as their own. When given his second chance, he talked only of a senseless and meaningless term, "unity," when people were asking for a statement of national policies. The Republican party offered them no platform, leaving it up to the candidates to propose their own platforms.

The candidates had no platforms, or at least could not enunciate them. So again the Republicans failed for lack of a constructive party platform, a statement of principles for which the voters were so avidly waiting.

To return a bit farther back to the campaign between Roosevelt for his first term and Herbert Hoover for re-election, that campaign for the Republicans was conducted by the Republican old guard senators, such as Jim Watson, Reed Smoot, George Moses, and others.

They had not been able to use Hoover and preferred to deal with a Democrat, rather than Hoover with a second term. They said so, and admitted that their interest in the campaign was only re-election of themselves. They deliberately worked against Herbert Hoover.

They succeeded in defeating both Hoover and themselves. In the election for membership in the 80th congress, an off year, the Republicans secured a majority in both houses. They could not undo much that had been done, but they could refuse appropriations to pay the vast army of bureaucrats that was a factor in the Democratic successes.

They did not do that. Expecting a Republican president at the next election, they wanted the jobs continued so they might be filled by Republicans. Visions of future patronage for Republicans were the alluring prospects that provided pay for the millions of Democratic job holders.

But with the meaningless word "unity" the only thing talked about, President Truman beat the Republicans to the punch, and he was given a Democratic congress that the Republican 80th congress had paid for with its refusal to limit bureaucratic appropriations.

And so it has been for 20 years the so-called leaders of the Republican party have been responsible for its defeat, either deliberately planned or brought about by lack of a definite and meaningful program.

Their profuse condemnation of the opposition has not been effective, nor will it be. Has the Republican party ceased to function as a party?

Are its candidates all on their own, with each one supplying the principles he thinks best; have the party leaders ceased to lead in anything other than vitriolic opposition to what others propose? Can the party, as such, no longer enunciate policies and principles? Under such conditions, the party has ceased to be of value to the nation. It is time it gave way to some political group that can and will.

We need two functioning parties. Congress gave the President control of both wage and prices, but he exercised only control of prices, and permitted labor to get all the wages it could, regardless.

NO MORE RUN-DOWN FEELING NOW; SHE THANKS HADACOL

HADACOL Relieves Weak, Run-Down Conditions When Due to Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

When a person feels tired all the time, is run-down and lacks energy, life just isn't too pleasant. Mrs. Floyd Smith, P. O. Box 623, Tolleson, Arizona, had been feeling that way. Then she heard about HADACOL—how it had been helping folks who were tired, run-down and suffered from a lack of energy when due to deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin in the system.

Mrs. Floyd Smith

Here is what she writes: "I have been taking HADACOL for about two months. I had been quite run-down, just didn't have any energy at all. We, my husband and I, had heard so much about HADACOL, so we decided to give it a trial. My husband, in just a short time I could certainly tell a big improvement. I felt so much stronger—was no longer as tired as I had been. HADACOL has certainly helped me. I just can't praise it too highly. I'm still taking HADACOL and intend to always have it on hand."

It is any wonder that Mrs. Smith is going to continue taking HADACOL?

HADACOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of that run-down feeling and lack of energy when due to a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in the system.

AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps keep such distress from returning when caused by such deficiencies. Now that's the kind of product folks have been looking for... the kind to buy and start taking at once. HADACOL's wonderful Vitamins and Minerals come in liquid form and are quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to go to work at once.

HADACOL IS SO EFFECTIVE Because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ and to every part of your body.

You may have tried other Vitamin preparations or other Vitamin and Mineral preparations, so we make you this offer. Try a bottle of HADACOL today if you need Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. You be the judge. If you do not believe that HADACOL is the best Vitamin and Mineral preparation you have ever taken, we will gladly send you back your money. That's our positive money-back guarantee. You take no chances.

So be fair to yourself. Don't go through life suffering from a run-down condition and lack of energy when caused by lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, when relief may be as close as hand as your nearest drug store.

Refuse Substitutes There is only one HADACOL. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee.

Sold at all drug counters. Trial size, $1.25, but buy the large family-size, only $3.50. If your dealer does not sell HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

The Tale of Two Towers

YOU will have to look hard to find any windmills in the rural area served by The Electric Company. Electric power has replaced wind power for pumping water on practically every farm. Electric power instead of manpower does the chores. Electric power instead of manpower does the work in the farm home. Yes—electricity has made the television aerial tower more of a rural landmark than the old windmill tower on the 19,000 farms we serve.

The job of electrifying our rural service area is done. Electricity is available to every farm. No farm needs to be without it. In the entire State, more than 96% of all farms have electricity, and it is available to 98%.

Helping the farmer to make the most profitable use of electricity is the next step—he can farm better and live better.

Use of electricity by our farm customers shows substantial progress in this direction. In 1950, the average use of electricity per farm served by The Electric Company was double the national average, excluding irrigated farms.

In our service area, every farmer can have electricity—all the electricity he wants.

We are joining with other electric companies throughout the country in the celebration of National Farm Electrification Week beginning August 26. The job of making electricity available to the farms of the United States is approaching completion—another important milestone in the history of America's electrical industry.

MAIN STREET IN ACTION

This Community Needed a New Industry, And Got Itself One—In Just 10 Months

One day in February, 1950, the folks in Hoosick Falls, New York, gathered happily at a new building, which had been constructed at a cost of $134,000 with community-raised funds, and celebrated the opening of their newest industry, a shoe manufacturing company.

The story behind this event in Hoosick Falls, a town whose population is under 5,000, involves a united and cooperative effort on the part of local citizens and the development of a plan for getting new industries which has worked so successfully that other communities in New York state and in other states are studying it as a pattern.

FEATURE

That civic holiday in February celebrated not only the acquisition of a new industry—a task to which the local businessmen's committee had pledged itself the previous spring—but also the fact that an answer had been found to at least a part of the problem which was bothering the town's leaders.

This problem, in a word, was how to promote Hoosick Falls' industrial growth, which apparently had come to a flat-footed halt.

It was this question which sent the committee into action last year. The townspeople knew that although they had a reasonably prosperous community, the industrial capacity of Hoosick Falls had remained static for some time and not enough jobs were being created to provide employment opportunities for the young people of the town.

Industrial employment in the community had dropped to less than 1,000 by the time the businessmen decided that it was time to stop talking and go into action.

So now the shoe company is in operation there. It responded, after some weeks of negotiations, to the committee's invitation to locate in the community, beginning with an initial employment of more than 100. The company expects to raise this figure to 450, involving an annual payroll in excess of $1,000,000, when in full operation.

The New York state department of commerce, which assisted in the negotiations for the new plant, had only the highest praise for the all-out effort made by the town's businessmen and leaders.

Commissioner Harold Keller of the department particularly commended the Hoosick Falls committee for the speed with which the entire project was handled, and for the strong and lively spirit of community enterprise which, in the final analysis, made the program a success.

"Hoosick Falls has provided very definite evidence of the manner in which communities can help themselves to a larger economic future," he said. "The persistence and cooperation shown by the local industrial committee was of greatest importance in the successful outcome. We feel that a time record has been set, since in the experience of this Department in encouraging the development of industry in the State, projects of this kind often require two to three years."

How long did it take Hoosick Falls to obtain its new industry and get it into operation on home grounds? Ten action-packed months. From the time the idea received its first impetus and stimulation in April, 1949, in the pages of the Hoosick Falls weekly newspaper, The Standard Press, until the opening of the plant in mid-February, 1950. Ten months, brimming with work, planning, and action.

Other communities have approached Hoosick Falls, seeking the magic formula for getting new industry. There is no magic. The formula, as one of the town's businessmen put it, is:

"Simple! The answer is teamwork, hard work, and a helping hand from all—including the weatherman." The weatherman, incidentally, played his part by providing a mild winter so that construction on the new building could move ahead at top speed.

Next week in this space we will go into a more detailed study of just how that formula was made to work for Hoosick Falls.

We are told that there are no new frontiers to conquer, but this is the attitude of those who despair today, who despaired yesterday, and who will still be at it during the rest of their lives. We dare not follow such an attitude of mind. It has been well stated "That the pioneer is a creature not of time but of spirit."

Tungsten at Stake

ONE REASON for the deadlock over the cease-fire line in Korea is that precious tungsten deposits are at stake in the juggling for position. For, without Korean tungsten, this country won't have enough tungsten to build jet engines, armor-piercing shells and, even more important, to supply atomic energy needs.

The pie-shaped slice of land, held by General Ridgway's forces above the 38th parallel, contains rich, untapped tungsten deposits. This is one reason Ridgway has been ordered to hold firm. Furthermore, the largest tungsten mine in the free world is located at Sangdon, less than 80 miles below the 38th parallel. This is another reason Ridgway wants to hang on to his stronger defense line above the 38th parallel, and keep the Communists as far from Sangdon as possible.

The shortage of tungsten is so desperate that we have rushed mining equipment to Korea, in order to step up production at the Sangdon mine and to re-open small mines above the 38th parallel.

It is no secret that this country is over two million pounds short of tungsten for civilian requirements alone. Normally the United States consumes about 14 million pounds a year, chiefly for metal-cutting tools. This doesn't count the critically needed tungsten for jet engines, armor-piercing shells and atomic energy. In fact, our anti-tank warfare depends on these armor-piercing shells, which can't be built without tungsten. Yet the Russians know that the most tungsten we can scrape up this year will be about 12 million pounds—unless the Korean mines can be rushed into full production.

Declaration of Independence

Two newspapers have now tried the experiment of asking Americans to sign a petition containing nothing but the Declaration of Independence and the original amendments of the U.S. constitution. First was the Capital Times of Madison, Wis., which had 111 out of 112 people refuse to sign. Second was the New Orleans Item which had 24 out of 36 refuse to sign.

The New Orleans petition was circulated after both President Truman and this commentator had publicized the shocking 111 to 1 refusal in Wisconsin. Nevertheless its results showed how many of the American people either have forgotten the inspiring precepts of the founding fathers or else become afraid of the expression of liberal ideas.

Here are some of the reactions received by reporter Allen Johnson when he circulated the New Orleans copy of the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights:

"Three men," reported Johnson, "called me a Communist. One said, 'My family's with the government, it would get them in trouble. You know the FBI checks up on these things.'"

Another read Jefferson's stirring words: "Wherever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it. . . ."

"That," remarked the man approached by reporter Johnson, "sounds Russian to me."

A housewife didn't like the amendment to the constitution guaranteeing a free press and free speech. "That part ought to be narrowed down," she said. "There's too much talk going on." She refused to sign. Maybe Senator Joe McCarthy, who has circulated thousands of copies of his speeches through the mails at the taxpayers' expense, should circulate free copies of the Declaration of Independence instead. It might counteract some of the fear he has instilled in peoples' minds.

Crime Probe Stymied

Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona, one of the most conscientious and respected members of the senate has taken a strange stand regarding the crime committee. It puzzles his colleagues in the senate.

As chairman of the powerful senate rules committee, Hayden has flatly refused to authorize more money to be spent on the crime probe. This has caused the crime committee, now chairmanned by conscientious Herbert O'Connor of Maryland, to withdraw its investigators from New York and other areas. It also means that the committee will have to wind up its work around September.

Washington Pipeline

Senate crime investigators have reported undercover links between the big-time gambler, William Johnston, and the Jackson Construction Company, Jacksonville, Fla. Johnston donated $100,000 to Gov. Fuller Warren's campaign, and now the Jackson Construction Company has received $180,000 worth of state contracts. . . . Internal revenue department is reported to be probing the income taxes of Governor Fuller Warren.

Ambassador O'Dwyer has sent a blistering telegram to the senate crime committee accusing it of ulterior motives in leaking a rumor that he was involved in a million-dollar check sent to New York. The state department gave Senator O'Connor permission to have the crime probes look at the canceled check and found it was a lend-lease payment from the Mexican government. Senator O'Connor has now cabled Ambassador O'Dwyer that he is completely exonerated. Another example of what an ugly rumor can cause.

KOREAN REDS IN BERLIN . . . A delegation of young Communists from Korea marches to the Ulbricht stadium for the youth festival in East Berlin. More than 100,000 Communist youths from many parts of the world pledged allegiance to Soviet Premier Stalin and enmity to the United States at the opening of the rally. The secretary of the youth league declared, "The belief of the people of the Soviet in the victory of the Korean people over the U.S. aggressors is unshakable."

ANTI-U.S. POSTER . . . This huge poster was given a place of prominence in East Berlin for the Red youth rally held in that city. The poster bears a composite portrait supposed to be of President Truman and Adolph Hitler. Across the face of the poster is printed "Truman—Hitler's Successor." This was only one of the many anti-U.S. posters.

LEADER IN MIG KILLS . . . Capt. Milton E. Nelson, Tarrant City, Ala., shown entering his plane, is the present ace among jet fighters in Korea. Capt. Nelson has destroyed four MIG-15 jet fighters since he arrived for service in the Korean war with the Fifth Air Force's fourth fighter wing. Nelson stepped into the lead after "Ace" Capt. Jim Jabara was rotated to the United States on the armed services' regular plan for sending troops home after certain amount of combat.

ARMED COMMUNIST TROOPS IN KAESONG . . . General Matthew B. Ridgway broke off the Korean peace conference because of the violation of the neutral zone in Kaesong by armed Red troops. The five mile demilitarized zone was violated by about a company of armed Chinese troops who marched near the conference house. These troops are pictured here as they marched down a road, near the conference house in the armistice city, carrying machine guns and rifles.

CANDIDATE SHOOTS SELF . . . Senator Eduardo Chibas, leader of Cuba's orthodox party and candidate for president, is reported to have shot and critically wounded himself after making a regular Sunday night political broadcast.

HINTS NEW BLOCKADE . . . A threat that West Berlin may be cut off from the coal, fuel and other goods it receives from east Germany was made by Josef Orlopp, east Germany's trade negotiator. He blamed American refusal to approve an east-west trade agreement.

MUGGING RED . . . This jeep driver for the Reds spends his spare time in Kaesong mugging for U.N. cameramen. He has grown especially adept in rolling his eyes and sticking out his tongue at the newsmen who want to take his picture.

LOVE STORY . . . Luciano Negri, unfracked and excommunicated missionary priest, and the American girl he is reported ready to marry, Claire Young, are pictured during a visit with his folks in Milan. She is daughter of Loyola University professor.

AFL Breaks With Farm Agencies; Gen. Eisenhower Reports on Europe

AFL BREAKS TIES—Farmers and farm workers across the nation were pondering the sudden action of the American Federation of Labor obviously aimed at breaking off its heretofore friendly relations with the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange.

Meeting at Montreal, Canada, the AFL's executive council issued a statement which charged that the labor organization could no longer "appease" these farm groups because they had swung "to the side of reaction" in national affairs.

"In fact, on economic issues of vital concern to the national welfare," the statement said, "it has become difficult to discern any major difference between the policy of the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange on the one hand, and that of the National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce on the other."

The AFL then pointed out that "labor cannot go on indefinitely supporting legislation beneficial to farmers while their organizations maintain a policy of seeking punitive anti-labor legislation."

The AFL made it clear that it was disappointed in the action of the farm groups in teaming up with "big business" representatives to defeat the enactment of effective anti-inflation controls. This would seem to be the opening shot in a civil war between two big segments of the nation's economy.

REPORT ON EUROPE—One of the clearest reports the home towns of the country have received on western Europe's growing strength was made last week by a senate subcommittee after a 14-day visit with Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Ike and Rosenberg

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant defense secretary, is greeted by Gen. Eisenhower at SHAEF headquarters near Paris. Mrs. Rosenberg is discussion manpower with the Allied supreme commander.

The committee reported Eisenhower as saying "it is almost ridiculous for us to be talking in terms of fright and hysteria" in the face of the free world's overwhelming strength. The committee reported: (1) Eisenhower's headquarters is dissatisfied with the fact that western Europe has increased its armed forces only 20 per cent since the Korean war began. (They have promised a 75 per cent increase next year); (2) Spain and Yugoslavia should be brought into the "master plans" for defense of Europe; (3) Once European military build-up is complete, it will be possible "to begin the gradual withdrawal of U. S. forces"; (4) There is dissatisfaction among U. S. field representatives at the "multihanded command" in Washington over political, economic, and military operations; (5) It will cost about $1,000,000,000 in France alone to erect the "overhead" for combat operations; (6) Without U. S. leadership Europe by now might have fallen before Communism; (7) Economic aid must be "primarily for the purpose of assisting friendly countries to strengthen their individual and collective defense"; (8) It is most important that east-west trade shall not be permitted to increase the war potential of the Soviet Union.

RED BUILD-UP—While Allied and Communist representatives negotiate a cease-fire at Kaesong, with increasing prospects for success, the Reds have taken the opportunity to carry out a big military build-up in Korea.

Observers are now wondering if the Communists are planning a new offensive if the Kaesong armistice talks collapse, or are they pouring in troops merely to strengthen the hand of their negotiators?

Many are inclined to believe it means a new offensive. They point out that unusually heavy truck traffic through North Korea toward the front, started at the first mention of armistice talks late in June and continued through mid-July.

There is an entirely new vigor in the North Korean army, observers point out, and Communist artillery has become more plentiful and bolder. Red prisoners and deserters invariably talk about plans for a "new offensive". In the past they have usually been right.

THE WHEAT CROP—In a new crop forecast, the department of agriculture predicts this year's wheat crop will fall below a billion bushels for the first time since 1943. This was a decrease of 72 million bushels from its July 1 forecast. However, the department said, the indicated crop, plus reserves, would be more than ample to meet needs.

Floods and dry weather last month was credited with cutting the crop to an estimated 998 million bushel harvest. Several million acres of wheat, corn, barley, flaxseed and potatoes were destroyed by mid-west floods. This year's corn estimate was lowered to 3,206 million bushels, 89 million bushels below last month's predictions.

REDS TO ATTEND—Although the Soviet Union has announced she will send delegates to attend 50-nation Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco September 4, the Russian delegation is expected to refuse to sign the document.

The Russians have bitterly condemned the proposed treaty draft as illegal and a device for tying an "aggressive" satellite Japan to the United States.

By attending the conference the Russians will again have an opportunity to create world-wide propaganda. They can be expected to protest the treaty item by item.

A CITY COMES BACK—Nearly 17 million tons of mud, muck and debris have been shoveled aside in Kansas City as the flood-ravaged valleys of Missouri continue to make one of the nation's most remarkable comebacks.

Just three weeks after the flood waters had ebbed from the Kansas City stockyards, a consignment of shorthorn cattle pounded through the wooden pens to mark the reopening of the nation's second largest livestock market.

Three major packing plants are slaughtering again and more than 120 business firms have returned to offices evacuated during the flood. Although many families are still in dire need of relief and assistance, nearly 30,000 employees have returned to jobs washed out by the mid-July flood.

Throughout the flood-stricken area, it's been back to business for grain elevators, flour mills, farm machinery concerns, transfer companies, sheet metal works, motor parts firms, tractor and equipment companies, paint manufacturers, milling companies, a creamery and dairy supply company, soap manufacturers and lumber companies. It has been a wonderful story of a city fighting its way back.

PRICE LAW VIOLATIONS

$10,000,000 Involved in Fifty Cases

The government is investigating 50 major cases of alleged price-ceiling violations that could result in the return of $10,000,000 to the government and consumers.

Price Enforcement Director Edward P. Morgan hinted that the cases involve some of the largest business concerns in the country. He said one case "has possible international ramifications and involves about $5,000,000 in illegal profits."

In many cases the price agencies are forcing firms found guilty of violations to make restitution to customers. In others, where there is no clear method for repayment to customers, money from settlements is paid to the United States treasury.

In July more than $250,000 was recovered by action of the price stabilization agency.

Meanwhile, the administration came under attack by Republicans who said it was failing to hold the line on prices and wages. New predictions of price increases brought the charge from Republicans who said the administration has no intention of holding the line on prices.

On the other hand, the administration charges that the new price control law is inadequate and far short of what is needed.

Thus the battle continues and prices continue to increase.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Take to the Outdoors for a Basket Picnic (See Recipes Below)

Picnic in a Basket

WITH ONLY a short time remaining for the picnic season, plan one last, memorable picnic before the season is over. A simple prepared menu with family favorites, with the added plus of good eating and carrying ease will bring cheers from everyone including mother and dad.

You've probably had picnics already which require outdoor cooking, and those were wonderful. Then, too, you've probably had the sandwich, potato salad and deviled egg kind. Now you're ready for something that's different. With a little effort, you can have a picnic with corn bread dressing. It's a sure hit with all the family.

Use young chicken for frying and cut them into serving pieces for picnic style eating. Place a few pieces of the chicken in a paper bag with pancake ready mix to apply a light coating and thus prevent the absorption of grease from the frying. You'll have chicken that retains a crisp and tempting texture. Heat fat in a heavy skillet or chicken fryer, having fat 1/2-inch deep and brown each piece carefully, using kitchen tongs to prevent from piercing the chicken while turning.

Prepare the dressing while the chicken browns, using cooked giblets for extra flavor. Place the dressing in the skillet you have used for browning chicken, leaving only enough grease in it to coat bottom and sides of skillet. Top the dressing with chicken pieces, cover and bake. Then wrap the skillet in several layers of newspaper to keep hot while you go to the picnic spot.

Here are exact recipes for preparing the chicken and dressing:

Golden Corn Bread (Makes 1 8-inch square)

- 1 cup enriched yellow corn meal
 - 1 cup sifted enriched flour
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 4 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1 egg
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup shortening, soft
- Sift together dry ingredients in medium-sized bowl. Add egg, milk and shortening. Beat with rotary egg beater until smooth, about 1 minute. Do not overbeat. Bake in a greased 8-inch square pan on greased muffin pans in a hot (425° F.) oven for 20 to 25 minutes.

Fried Chicken

- 2 frying chickens, disjointed
 - 1 cup pancake ready-mix
 - 1 teaspoon salt
- Cook giblets from the frying chicken in salted water to cover. Set aside to use for dressing. Roll chicken in ready-mix combined with salt and brown in chicken fryer or deep frying pan.

Corn Bread Dressing

- 1/2 cup butter
 - 5 cups corn bread crumbs (made from corn bread)
 - 1/2 cup sliced celery
 - 1/2 cup onion
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1/2 teaspoon sage
 - 1 egg, beaten
 - 1/2 cup chicken broth
- Cut giblets and butter in small pieces. Add to corn bread crumbs. Add all remaining ingredients and mix well with crumbs. Put dressing in deep skillet and lay fried

- Lynn Chambers' Picnic Menu
- *Skillet Baked Chicken

chicken over top of dressing. Cover and cook in a moderate (350° F.) oven for 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender. Remove cover during the last 10 minutes to crisp the crust on the chicken.

Crisp vegetable relishes are good accompaniments for fried chicken and corn bread dressing. When you wash and prepare these, put them directly in net or plastic bags so that you can take them directly from the refrigerator to put in a basket.

Include a variety of raw vegetables to nibble with the chicken, such as crunchy carrot sticks, crisp celery fans, radishes and green onions, along with whole plump tomatoes that can be sliced when you're setting the picnic table.

FOR A REFRESHING picnic beverage, there's nothing as refreshing as well chilled lemonade placed in a thermos or insulated jug. If you don't have either of these, use a gallon glass jug or jar for it:

Picnic Lemonade (Makes 1 gallon)

Fill a gallon container with ice cubes or crushed ice. Pour over the ice 1/2 cup strained honey or 1/2 cup sugar, mixed with 1/2 cup lemon juice. Screw the top on tightly and place the jar in the picnic basket where it can serve as a "refrigerator". Surround with relishes and watermelon which you'll want to keep cold en-route to the picnic. By this time the ice will have melted to make the lemonade.

BRING ALONG plenty of soft, chewy cookies for youngsters and grownups alike.

They go nicely with watermelon or other fruits for a simple and well-balanced dessert. Like most oatmeal cookies, these are not only extra tasty but also nutritious:

Coconut Gumdrops (Makes 16 bars)

- 1 cup sifted enriched flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup brown sugar
 - 1/2 cup shortening, soft
 - 1 egg
 - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 1 cup quick rolled oats, uncooked
 - 1 cup chopped gumdrops
 - 1/2 cup grated coconut
- Sift together flour, soda and salt into bowl. Add brown sugar, shortening, egg, vanilla and milk. Beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Fold in rolled oats, gumdrops and about half of the coconut. Spread dough into greased 7x11-inch pan. Sprinkle with remaining coconut. Bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven for 25-30 minutes. Cool and cut into bars.

Baking powder biscuit is a fine topping for leftover meat pie, and it's even more delicious if you add some sage to the biscuit mix.

Sandwich cookies that go nicely for a snack—use thin gingersnaps put together with cream cheese to which some crystallized ginger is added.

Cut cold, boiled sweet potatoes into slices, dip in beaten egg, then fine crumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat until deep golden brown and serve with ham or chicken.

Of course you've tried orange sauce with roast duck. Next time add a few black cherries to the orange sauce for extra flavor.

Lima beans are a good vegetable made better when they are mixed with parboiled green pepper bits and a little chopped chives. Butter, salt and pepper to taste.

Mashed sweet potatoes, onion to taste, celery and a bit of boiled rice blended together make an excellent stuffing for spareribs. Spread the mixture on the spareribs, fold over on the inside of the ribs, dredge in flour and bake.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

Movies Aid Mental Health
By Lawrence Gould

Do movies help mental health?

Answer: On the whole, yes, asserts H. Sutermeister in the German "Health and Welfare." They provide a useful outlet for emotions which would create tension if kept pent up. But they involve certain risks for adolescents whose lack of experience may lead them to take what they see too literally. The danger of over-emphasis on sex is not as great as that of young people's getting the impression that they can hope to get on in the world with comparatively little effort and may aspire to a life of luxury and leisure. Villains are not "foiled," nor is success gained as easily in the real world as in the movies.

mothers and their babies are together from the baby's birth) report that many babies settled down to a four-hour feeding schedule in the day time and sleep right through the night by the time they are taken home. And the mother's average stay in the hospital under this system is but six or seven days.

May a psychoanalyst seem to talk nonsense?

Answer: Yes, particularly when he speaks of your "unconscious" feeling. For unless you have been psychoanalyzed yourself, you cannot fully grasp the possibility that what you honestly believe are your true feelings may be camouflage, and that at heart you have quite opposite emotions. You are sure that you love your child, for instance, that the idea that you may also cherish secret hostile feelings toward him is apt to seem simply absurd. The analyst neither is accusing you of lying nor expecting you to "take his word for it." You may recognize the truth of what he says once it has a chance to "sink in."

May a baby make his own feeding schedule?

Answer: Yes. The idea that a baby will "give you no rest" is not true, especially if he has been fed on demand from the day he was born. Members of the obstetrical staff of French Hospital, New York which two years ago installed a "rooming-in service" (in which

KEEPING HEALTHY Proteins Prevent Old Age Diseases

By Dr. James W. Barton

MANY OF US may remember when eating meat (proteins) was considered the cause of rheumatism and gout and how elderly persons were advised to eat little or no meat for this reason. Although milk is rich in proteins, milk was considered good food for the elderly. Today it is known that protein foods are not the cause nor do they aggravate arthritis or rheumatism; it is the starch foods—potatoes, sugar, bread—that contribute to the cause of arthritis and rheumatism. And, unfortunately, many men and women as they approach middle age and become elderly have the mistaken idea that because they are old they must have rheumatism.

Some months ago I quoted Dr. E. J. Steigitz in The Journal of the American Medical Association, as stating that 40 is the time to take a health inventory. At 40 the silent or insidious progressive disorders, so common in late years, first become manifest.

The actual beginnings of such common disorders as hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure and degenerative arthritis occur months and even years before their symptoms appear.

Good diet is a powerful weapon for keeping healthy and vigorous in later years. And these degenerative diseases, the diseases that cause wearing down of the body processes because of the wasting away of valuable or needed glands and their juices, are often caused by lack of protein in the diet.

HEALTH NOTES

Tonsils should not be removed if they are filtering blood efficiently.

Ask your doctor. The sympathetic advice of a layman may not be good advice.

Sympathy has its place in helping the sick, but the layman should advise his friends who are ailing only to consult the doctor.

In appendicitis, early operation, no food, no purgatives, saves lives.

It is easy to forbid a layman to dispense drugs, but who can restrain him from offering advice?

Because so few of our muscles are used, owing to the advance of labor saving devices, we suffer in various ways.

The sudden rise in obesity after the age of 20 is because most men then have attained maturity

Rehabilitation of heart patients increases the nation's manpower.

Infected teeth and impacted lower wisdom teeth cause mental symptoms.

Head noises are caused in many by too much fluid in the blood vessels and tissues surrounding the ears.

Do not eat too many kinds of food at one meal or too much of some favorite food.

Some individuals, mostly young women, at times seem to lose control over their acts and emotions. This is called hysteria, and is cured by a psychiatrist with hypnotism.

Movements of the stomach walls can be started by worry and other emotional disturbance as well as by food and the digestive juices.
