Trench, Pit Silos Advantages Listed Biggest Disadvantage Amount of Food Spoiled

In this year of near record crop and cattle production, farmers in many areas will need a larger amount of silage. Many of them do not have adequate silos.

These farmers may make profita-ble use of trench or pit silos, which have a number of advantages, but at the same time a number of disadvantages.

The trench silo is easily and speedily filled. The relatively low cost of construction is another of the advantages. And they can be

However, one great disadvantage stands out. A great amount of feed can be spoiled if carelessly filled, compacted or covered. But due to construction costs, a tower silo is a major project on most farms these days. Many farmers might find it profitable, therefore, to investigate the construction and maintenance of a trench or pit

The local county agent, no doubt, can supply complete instruction.
And they should be investigated thoroughly before any farmer undertakes to build one.

Forest Sites for Summer Homes Are Available

Many vacationists who visit the national forests make the wish that they might have a summer home in the forest. Many are not aware that the wish might come true. The possibility is worth investigating. More than 16,000 families already have such summer homes, and in many forests there is room for others who want what the forest service has 'to offer. The services recognizes summer home opportunities as one of 'multiple uses" for the national forests and provides sites for approved buildings.

This may surprise many who have motored through national forests without ever noticing a colony of summer homes. That, in fact, is one of the features of the policy on summer home sites. Permits for summer home building are not now issued for areas within sight of highways or on lake shores, along fishing streams, or near scenic attractions. Such areas are preserved for general use of the public which, of course has first priority.

Farm Scrap Iron Is Needed for Defense

The steel industry is asking for more scrap iron to keep its furnaces running full blast. Old worn out and broken machinery, no longer usable on the farm should be sold as scrap and once more put into use in the defense program.

A scrap clean-up program not only helps our defense preparations, but it also cleans up possible accident hazards. Scrap iron produces ready cash.

$100,000 Scholarship Is USDA Employee Plan

Employees of the U.S. department of agriculture plan to establish a scholarship fund of $100,000 as a "living memorial" to honor the 309 departmental employees who gave their lives in World War II. The memorial also will include an appropriate plaque to be placed in the department administration building. The campaign will be concluded by Armistice Day, the campaign committee announced.

A Local Committee for Industry Secured a 'New Era' for the Town

Hoosick Falls, New York, a small town of about 5,000 population, started from scratch to bring a shoe company into the community as a new industry. Ten months after the idea was born, the company was in operation there in a newly constructed building. It was pointed out here last week that this near miracle was achieved primarily because of the whole-hearted effort and cooperation which the entire town brought to bear on the problems involved.

This effort was spearheaded by S. J. Milberg, head of a local undergarment factory, and James M. Brahan, publisher of the Hoosick Falls Standard Press, a weekly newspaper. In April, 1949, Mr. Brahan began printing a series of front-page editorials calling attention to the need for a new industry in the community.

The editorials struck a responsive note among local business leaders, and action was initiated with the formation of a Committee for Industry, composed of 12 businessmen. This group held a number of discussions covering all angles of the general problem, the members cooperating closely in staking out the job ahead.

Their views and reports were reflected in articles which appeared continuously in the Standard Press, and their fervor for the project communicated itself to the townspeople, who affectionately nicknamed them the "twelve apostles." The group later was expanded to 18 members to form a nonprofit corporation to finance the proposed new plant.

Mr. Brahan described the objectives of the committee, "We set our sights for a new industry that would employ 150 to 200 and occupy a new 15,000-square-foot plant costing about $75,000. We felt we could build one that size with local funds. We found we could go much further than that after we started the ball rolling."

The first concentrated attempt to raise money for a building fund was an unqualified success. Four weeks after the drive was started a mass-meeting was called. A throng of 1,000 interested local citizens attended, and an encouraging total of $41,600 was pledged then and there for the building fund.

With that kind of backing from the community, the committee pitched in tirelessly to complete the job. One man accepted the task of contacting and negotiating with "prospects" who might be persuaded to locate in Hoosick Falls. Two local attorneys donated legal services during the negotiations. Another busy man was the treasurer of the group, a bank cashier, who handled the raising of the funds.

On formation of the industrial corporation, which erected the new plant, stock was sold at $50 a share par value to 637 individuals. The corporation, a non-profit concern, proposed to return the funds to the subscriber within the subsequent 12 or 13 years. In all, funds were raised to build a $134,000 plant.

When the shoe company, seeking an up-state New York location, negotiated for the plant, it was agreed that title for the building would remain in the community corporation until monthly rentals amortized the cost of the property. As a matter of fact, the president of the shoe company and his wife were so interested in the Hoosick Falls project that they became among the largest stockholders in the enterprise. Under the agreement, they will be the last of the subscribers to receive any return on the stock.

Ground for the plant was broken on October 26, 1949, just a few hours after negotiations between the committee and shoe company had been completed. Incredibly, the plant was finished and ready for occupancy in less than three months - an achievement to which the mild winter contributed. Machinery was installed, and the grand opening followed late in January.

Hoosick Falls felt that a new era had arrived. The committeemen say they are finding their work has paid off, and a community spirit has been aroused which promises bright and prosperous days ahead. They are sure, too, that other communities can do as well if they will try.

It took thrift and savings, together with tremendous character and vision, to make our nation what it is today. And it will take thrift and savings, together with constant ingenuity and stamina, to conserve our remaining resources to enable us to continue to be a great nation.

Reds Preach Hate Theme at German Youth Festival; Average Income Up

German youth festival, during which Red leaders preached a theme of hate of western democracy to 2,000,000 German youths, than any other single event in recent history. The demonstration reached its climax with half a million Soviet-zone boys and girls swearing loyalty to Stalin.

THE current experiment in penewith half a million Soviet-zone boys and girls swearing loyalty to Stalin. with half a million Soviet-zone boys and girls swearing loyalty to Stalin. From the Communist viewpoint, the festival was one of the most successful propaganda stunts in Red history.

But from the viewpoint of the average boy and girl in the home towns of America, viewing the event from afar, the mass hysteria had such a flavor of Nazism it was nauseating. To the American youngster of high school and college age a football game is of more interest than staged political parades and the wild speeches of fanatics.

American youngsters, however, could not miss the hate theme preached by Red leaders. It was evident in every speech and at every moment during the rally. For the first time many American boys and girls realized there can be only one ending to this build-up-the eventual clash of the free world and Communism.

There was one bright spot in the whole affair. A few of the thousands of Communist youths slipped into the western zone of Berlin for a first-hand look at the "horrible conditions" preached by their leaders. What they found was surprising and revealing. These few learned the truth and may carry it behind the iron curtain to their families and friends.

YOUR INCOME-According to the department of commerce the average income for each man, woman, and child in the United States last year was $1,436, a gain of $116, or 9 per cent over 1949.

The average home-towner, however, had no reason to feel happy about the report. The cost of living increased 6.5 per cent during the same period and the rise in the tax burden cut down the net gain.

The total income to individuals over the nation was a record $217,-000,000,000, a gain of 11 per cent over 1949. The department said average incomes ranged from $698 in Mississippi to $1,909 in Delaware and $1,986 in the District of Columbia.

DISAGREEMENT-The senate armed services and foreign relations committees last week issued a statement saying that the group would make no report on the eight-week MacArthur hearing. The committee said that formal evidence of disagreement in the senate on far east policy might have bad effect on the Korean-truce negotiations and signing of the peace treaty with Japan next month.

That statement had hardly been made public knowledge when eight senators, members of those committees, issued their own conclusions drawn from the long hearings, calling the Truman administration's far east policy a catastrophic failure. They declared that it "represents the most desolate failure in the history of our foreign policy

These eight senators have made it clear that there is disagreement in the senate. It would seem, therefore, the conclusions of the full committee can no longer be withheld for reasons given and should be made public immediately. There is little likelihood that it will be, however. Contrary to what these eight senators may say, there is a feeling in Washington these men put their political ambitions above the welfare of their country as expressed by the full committee's vote to withhold

RUSSIAN PROTEST—There is new evidence that trade reprisals against the iron curtain countries for their anti-American actions are beginning to hurt. The latest evidence comes from no less an authority than the Kremlin itself.

In a note delivered to the state department, the Soviet bluntly accused the U.S. of aggravating serious tension between the two countries by canceling the 1937 American-Soviet trade pact. Congress ordered the canceling of trade concessions to iron curtain countries early in the year. While the cancellation will not bar Soviet goods from this country, it will increase tariffs on them and make it harder for them to compete in the U.S. market. The Russians would like to continue their campaign of distortion and abuse against the United States, but at the same time enjoy trade concessions offered friendly nations. The Soviet Union is finding, however, it can't have its cake and eat it too. ARMY NEEDS-The nation's needs in manpower for this fiscal year -June 30 to June 30-was made known last week. It gives the young men in the nation an idea of what the future holds in store for them. Selective service announced it expected to draft 300,000 men during the year—an average of 25,000 a month. There have also been reports the army may need 430,000 alone to fill gaps caused by discharges. Some 550,000 men were called up by draft boards between last September and June 30. The defense department already has asked for 35,000 men in August, 34,000 in September and 41,000 in October.

WEST POINT-The first of the 90 cadets involved in West Point's ans or prisoners of war chiefly from cribbing scandal left the academy last week. Others will be sent home this week and in the near future. Five days after receiving their orders the men must report to their draft boards. They must either register for the draft or if already regis- bers in 32 countries plus another tered, advise their boards of a change of status. Meanwhile, President Truman has ordered a full investigation of the athletic systems at both West Point and Annapolis to determine if the service academies are overemphasizing football and other sports.

TRUCE TALKS-Conflicting reports continue concerning the possibilities of success in the Korean truce talks. One day there are reports that progress is being made, the next that the talks are near collapse. At the moment there seems to be little reason to expect a settlement. Red China is reported to have said: "If the American side stubbornly adheres to its unreasonable demand for plunder and rejects the just and reasonable proposal of our side, an agreement will be impos-

In other words, the Communists are unwilling to compromise on an armistice line. The Allies have indicated they will compromise, but will not accept the 38th parallel.

Meanwhile, the Reds have increased their propaganda campaign with a "people's funeral" for a soldier reportedly killed by Allied troops in the Kaesong neutral zone. It begins to look like the build-up for a break in the truce talks.

Propaganda War

loons may be a great success or it may fail. It is too early yet to say. But the important thing is that it's an attempt by private individuals under the free-enterprise system to try out certain methods of psychological propaganda-or call it psychological warfare if you will -which governments will not and perhaps cannot tackle.

Today the state department's propaganda effort is seriously hamstrung by congressional penny way to stop Russia is to have more and bigger guns. They have little faith in psychological warfare. Accordingly, the national security council has ruled out any strong appeals to the people in the iron curtain countries to revolt, sabotage, or disrupt their cominform governments.

Yet psychological warfare to be successful must offer something-a chance for freedom, for peace, more food or an end of oppression. American propaganda frequently fails because it offers nothing.

The citizen of Czechoslovakia is ot interested in hearing foreign radio broadcasts tell him the Soviet system is evil. He knows the Soviet system is evil; what he wants to hear from the Voice of America are ways by which he can throw off the yoke of oppression.

Stalin's Achilles' Heel

These are some of the reasons why private individuals tackled this experiment of trying to make the iron curtain a lace curtain. Personally I am convinced from my last winter's study of the iron curtain countries and from other information that it's not the atomic bomb but contact with free peoples that the Soviet fears most.

Therefore, if we are to win the subjugated nations over to our side, we must inspire them, encourage them and above all, keep n contact with them, It was because Stalin mortally feared such contact that he erected the iron curtain and it is to hit this Achilles' heel that a group of private individuals and organizations, has now launched messages of hope, friendship and encouragement by balloon into Czechoslovakia.

The people who had the courage to sponsor this project are the American Crusade for Freedom organization, the Inter-American Federation of Free Trade Unions which has been fighting Communism throughout Latin America, veter-Belgium, France, Holland and Let Italy, the General Federation of Women's Clubs with 5,500,000 memfive and a half million in the United States, the A.F.L., Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the C.I.O., Canadian Congress of Labor, and the International Federation of Free Journalists, comprising about 1.000 newsmen exiled from Soviet countries.

The chief dynamo in this intricate operation has been Abbott Washburn, loaned by General Mills of Minneapolis to the committee for free Europe which has done such an important job of beaming broad-casts into Czechoslovakia and placed the freedom bell in Berlin last year. Harold Stassen, who heads the Crusade for Freedom, has also helped to mastermind the operation.

It is considered especially significant in Europe that these balloons are being aimed at Czechoslovakia after the imprisonment of William Oatis and that among their sponsors are the Federation of Free Journalists. Hitherto the United States' official policy has leaned toward paying virtual ransom money when its citizens have been seized by the cominform.

However, it is now realized that the more you pay out in concessions to the Soviet the more Mosdemands in ransom money and the more it is inclined to maltreat American citizens and to increase the blackmail demands. America's cracking down on Czech trade is an indication of this new stiffening of policy by the U.S. and the current balloon operation supplements it. This may help to show the cominform that, instead of taking the abuse of our citizens lying down, we intend to retaliate.

Story of Friendship

Around Europe-Germans crowd around the balloon truck convoy when it sets up operations at night like kids watching circus wagons unload at home . . . One trouble is to keep the crowds from smoking shells are porous, and therefore when near the hydrogen tanks . . . evaporate easily. Radio free Europe, operated partly by Czech refugees in Munich and financed by the Crusade for Freedom, has poured a daily barrage of messages to the Czech people giving them the story of friendship.
