Lanky center Bill Ewing, second highest scorer in the conference, could mesh only eight points. Meanwhile six Indian cagers swept into the scoring column with George Hanrahan leading the way with 13. Gordon Wierman had 10 and Ken Kling nine. The Indians led, 21-14, at the intermission and were ahead all the way. Kewaskum outscored the Belles in every quarter but the second when each team scored eight.

$30,000 Fire Destroys Barn Near Kohlsville

Fire on the Wesley Bogenschneider farm two miles west of Kohlsville on Sunday night resulted in damage estimated at $30,000. Three fire departments, Allenton, Kohlsville and Hartford battled the blaze in subzero weather.

Completely destroyed was a large barn, 176 feet long, along with most of its contents. About 25 young head of cattle were burned to death, most of the farm machinery was destroyed and a large amount of grain and hay was lost. Saved from the fire were the milk cows, a spreader and small tractor. The blaze is believed to have been caused by inadequate wiring.

The fire was discovered by Bogenschneider at about 6 o'clock when he was on his way to the barn to do his chores. He noted that the flames started above a doorway near the straw and got a quick start. By the time the Allenton and Kohlsville fire departments arrived at the scene, the roof had already collapsed and the barn was beyond saving. The Barton department was called later.

A nearby building was also threatened by the flames but the firemen checked further spreading of the fire. There was little the firemen could do so the Barton department returned back home before nine o'clock and Allenton a short while later. Bogenschneider was able to remove some of the contents of the large barn before firemen arrived.

Let Holiday Dinner Reflect Gay Spirit Of Christmas, Too

CHRISTMAS DOESN'T mean just packages under a tree, or gay cards in the mail. A kitchen warm and cozy, fragrant with the smell of baking and the hustle of cooking spells Christmas in its own inimitable way, too.

The culmination of the holiday preparations is the festive dinner, so let it reflect the charm and goodness of Christmas in its planning and serving.

It's easy to use holiday green and red on the table with flowers, ers and fruits. Garnish the meat platter with holly leaves and whole cranberries; make your salad in a star mold. Green vegetables can be studded with stars or bells cut from pimientos.

*Mulled Tomato Juice (Serves 6-8) 4 1/2 cups canned tomato juice 1/2 teaspoon cloves 4 teaspoons prepared mustard 1/2 teaspoon curry powder 1 teaspoon basil

Add seasonings to tomato juice; blend well. Heat to boiling, strain and serve hot or cold.

*Roast Ribs of Beef Select a 2- to 3-rib standing rib roast of beef (4 to 5 pounds). Place fat side up in roasting pan on a rack, then season with salt and pepper. Place in a moderately slow (300° to 350°F.) oven. Do not cover and do not add water. Roast to desired degree of doneness, allowing 18 to 20 minutes per pound for a rare roast, 22 to 25 minutes for medium and 27 to 30 minutes per pound for well done roast. If you're using a meat thermometer, for rare it should read 140°F., for medium 150°F., and for well done 170°F. Plan on 2 to 3 servings for each pound.

*Scalloped Potatoes with Onion (Serves 6-8) 6 cups sliced, pared potatoes 2 cups sliced onions 1/4 cup minced parsley 2 1/2 cups medium white sauce

Partially cook potato slices in boiling water, for 10 minutes. Drain. Alternate layers of potatoes and onions in greased 2-quart casserole. Add parsley to white sauce; stir to blend. Pour over potatoes and onions. Bake uncovered in moderate (350°F.) oven about 50 minutes, or until vegetables are tender.

*Cranberry Holiday Mold (Serves 8-10) 4 cups cranberries 1 cup water 1 cup fruit juice 2 cups sugar

Combine cranberries, water and fruit juice (pineapple, apple, orange or cider may be used) in saucepan. Cook until berries are soft. Put through colander, strainer or food mill. Add sugar to cranberry puree and mix well. Boil rapidly for 10 to 12 minutes, or until a drop jells on a cold plate. Pour into star mold and chill until firm.

*Spice Puffs 1 package compressed or dry yeast 1/4 cup warm water 1/2 cup milk 1/4 cup soft shortening 1 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg 1/2 teaspoon mace 1 egg 2 1/2 cups sifted flour

Add yeast to warm water and let stand. Scald milk and place in a large bowl with shortening, sugar, salt, nutmeg and mace. Blend together and cool until lukewarm. Stir yeast mixture thoroughly and pour into bowl. Add egg, unbeat and sifted flour. Beat for one minute, or about 100 strokes. Scrape dough down from sides of the bowl. Cover with a damp cloth and let rise in warm place until doubled, about 1 1/2 to 2 hours. In the meantime, mix together in a small bowl, 1/2 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Measure 6 tablespoons butter in a small pan. After dough has risen to double in bulk, beat down in 20 to 30 strokes. Drop by spoonfuls into 12 medium or 16 small greased muffin pans. Let rise 30 minutes in a warm place, or until they reach the top of the muffin pans. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a moderately hot (400°F.) oven. Melt the butter in saucepan. After removing buns from the pans, let cool for just a moment on a rack. Dip quickly in melted butter, then roll in cinnamon-sugar mixture.

*Holiday Mousse (Serves 6) 1/2 cup drained, crushed pineapple 1/4 cup chopped maraschino cherries 1 1/2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice 2 tablespoons lemon juice 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon vanilla 2 cups heavy cream, whipped

Combine pineapple and cherries, then blend in cherry and lemon juice, sugar, salt and vanilla. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until firm.

*Coconut Snowballs (Makes 24 medium) 1/2 cup shortening 1 1/2 cups sugar 2 beaten eggs 1 teaspoon vanilla 2 1/2 cups cake flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 3 teaspoons baking powder 1 cup milk

Cream together shortening and sugar; add eggs and vanilla, then beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Stir until blended after each addition. Fill medium-sized muffin pans 3/4 full. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Remove from pan and cool. Frost all over with fluffy frosting, then roll in shredded coconut. Place on small lace doilies for serving. To make Fluffy Frosting: beat 2 egg whites, dash of salt, 1 cup light corn syrup and 1 teaspoon vanilla until fluffy and of spreading consistency.

Bake a holiday cake in a ring mold, using white or yellow cake batter. Frost this with hard sauce to which has been added finely cut candied fruits.

Sliced tomatoes studded with stars of cream cheese pressed through a pastry tube make a properly colorful garnish for cold meat platters. Have you a small tree or star cutter? Mold your hard sauce for the pudding in a thin layer and when chilled cut in shapes. Serve around the pudding mold. Want a truly festive cake? Use white cake batter, enough to fill three layer pans. Have two layers white and one pink, to go between the two white ones. Frosting is broiled, part of it colored with maraschino cherry juice and cut-up cherries to go between the layers. Frost the whole cake with pale pink frosting. Hot tomato juice is a colorful starter for a seasonal meal. Add a few cloves and allspice while you heat the juice and serve in cups, floating with clove-studded slices of lemon.

Holiday colors, red, green and white are featured in this star-shaped cranberry mold if it is served on a white platter and garnished with lettuce or parsley and whole cranberries. With meat or fowl, it provides the properly tart texture required for a nicely balanced meal.

CHRISTMAS DINNER *Mulled Tomato Juice Crackers *Roast Ribs of Beef *Scalloped Potatoes with Onion Silvered Green Beans *Cranberry Holiday Mold *Spice Puffs Assorted Relishes *Holiday Mousse *Coconut Snowballs Beverage Salted Nuts Mints *Recipe Given

Bake a holiday cake in a ring mold, using white or yellow cake batter. Frost this with hard sauce to which has been added finely cut candied fruits.

Sliced tomatoes studded with stars of cream cheese pressed through a pastry tube make a properly colorful garnish for cold meat platters. Have you a small tree or star cutter? Mold your hard sauce for the pudding in a thin layer and when chilled cut in shapes. Serve around the pudding mold. Want a truly festive cake? Use white cake batter, enough to fill three layer pans. Have two layers white and one pink, to go between the two white ones. Frosting is broiled, part of it colored with maraschino cherry juice and cut-up cherries to go between the layers. Frost the whole cake with pale pink frosting. Hot tomato juice is a colorful starter for a seasonal meal. Add a few cloves and allspice while you heat the juice and serve in cups, floating with clove-studded slices of lemon.

BLOOD FOR FREEDOM

Four Nurses Plan 10,000 Mile, Ten State Tour for Red Cross

Four young women are out for blood, and they are going after it in a big way.

First of all, Union Pacific Railroad remodeled a business car, attached a baggage car to carry supplies, and promised to transport them anywhere they wished to go on the 10,000 miles of its tracks to complete their search.

Next the American Red Cross furnished them with supplies and offered to have their local chapters recruit enough patriotic American volunteers to part with a pint of the vital fluid.

So they are ready to hit the road, railroad that is, on a tour that will take them through the eleven western states served by Union Pacific beginning in December.

Wherever blood centers are not operating they will accept donors to supplement the national blood program.

Ambitious women, these Red Cross nurses, they are aiming at 2000 pints each month, and will work on "Blood For Freedom," the name of their mobile blood collection unit, until they make it. They must, they say with typical feminine determination, because every drop is going direct to the armed forces.

Heading the group of four nurses that staff the car is Kathryn McDonough, formerly of Waterloo, Iowa. She did private duty after training at St. Joseph's Hospital in Omaha and then served as an industrial nurse before joining the blood program in September, 1949.

Ramona Walla is another member of the crew. She lived at Lincoln, Neb. originally and received her nursing training at St. Joseph's Hospital in Omaha before joining the blood program in December, 1949. Ramona did private duty nursing.

Eileen Roth, who came from Elkhorn, Neb., before moving to Omaha, is the third member of the staff. She is another alumna of St. Joseph's in Omaha and was on private duty before joining the blood program in January, 1950.

Monica DeWulf of Cedar Rapids, Neb., has been with the Red Cross blood program since September, 1950. She was also a private nurse after her graduation from St. Elizabeth's Hospital Nursing School at Lincoln, Neb.

COLLECTIVELY, these four white-clad nurses have worked on more than 300 mobile trips made by the Omaha regional mobile unit, operating in Eastern Nebraska, so they have plenty of experience.

"Blood donors soon realize just how simple it is to donate their blood," says Miss McDonough.

"Men almost always joke about the possible high alcoholic content of their blood."

"Take a gallon, I've got a lot," is the comment Miss Walla hears from male stalwarts, and knowing the pressing need for blood on the battlefield, she certainly wishes she could.

Whenever they operate, the nurses will be under direction of a local physician, on their feet all day doing a tough job because they realize its importance.

Miss DeWulf summed it up neatly when she pointed out that, "Giving your life for your country is the supreme sacrifice, but saving a life is certainly as important. Any qualified citizen can do just that, once every three months, actually, by donating blood for our armed forces."

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

STEVE COCHRAN'S dog, Tschakowsky, now has a collar which his master says will put the rhinestone one belonging to Joan Crawford's Cluget to shame. It's set with elks' teeth; Steve had it made by a soldier stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., where he spent several weeks filming "The Tanks Are Coming" for Warners'. Tschakowsky appears in that one; his screen credits also include "Inside the Walls of Folsom Prison" and "Tomorrow Is Another Day"; as an actor, he rates really fancy accessories.

The play in which Ginger Rogers returned to Broadway, "Love and Let Love", closed after a month's run. But simultaneously with its closing came the announcement by Columbia Broadcasting that she had been signed for exclusive appearances on television, on a contract running more than five years. For a salary of more than one million dollars, she will be the star and mistress of ceremonies of a half-hour weekly show, starting after April 1. She will sing, dance and act in adaptations of her numerous screen shows.

While on her four week's leave of absence from "Stop the Music", Kay Arden conferred with MGM's Joe Pasternak about doing a film musical in Hollywood. She also filled a three weeks' singing engagement at Las Vegas' Thunderbird Hotel.

GRASSROOTS

G. O. P. More Interested in Goats Than Integrity

By Wright A. Patterson

THOSE REPUBLICANS who are hooked to us directors of the 1952 battle of the ballots have decided that the issue on which the big-gun oratory will be charged will be that of "legal and moral honesty and integrity in the operations of the government."

It is a noble issue, but it is not one that will attract or change votes in the quantities that are needed. There is but little personal interest in the fact that a white house stenographer received as a presidential mink coat, or that a presidential clerk was given free hotel accommodations in Florida, or that deep freeze units were handed out to several favored individuals by General Vaughn, or that others had free cameras, free vacation trips.

There is a greater number of Americans, who by the practice of industry and thrift, have accumulated two or more goats, than there are those who have only one or less, and those with two or more object to following the socialistic preaching of dividing with those who have less.

Self-preservation is the first law of nature, and those with two or more goats are not favorable to the socialistic trend of the nation and the present administration.

Attacking that trend toward the left, the threat of socialism, will change far more votes than will legal and moral honesty and integrity in government, because it has a personal application, the promise to retain the old and tried and proven American profit system.

Then, too, government spending, the thing that calls for more taxes, which all must pay, can be a big vote getter, especially with the government running into the red with each passing month and government debts increasing at an alarming rate. Such things are of greater moment to the general run of American voters than is who gets a fur coat and other perquisites, or who goes to prison for embezzlement of government funds.

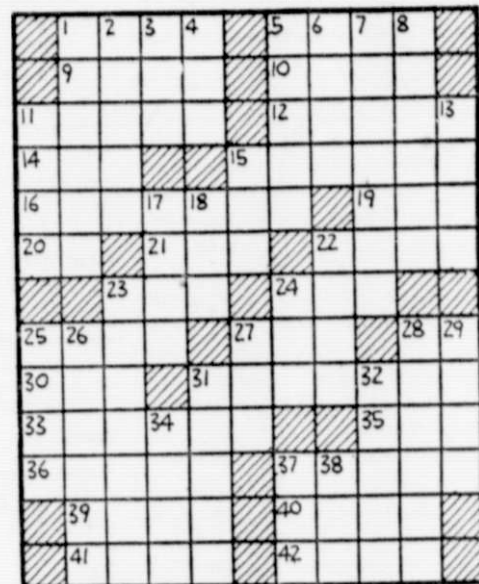

But orating about the need for legal and moral honesty and integrity in government can be a powerful appeal for turning the rascals out, especially for those who believe in such honesty and integrity. With such an inspiring subject, the big guns of the party should be able to create havoc in the ranks of the opposition, and keep the president on the defensive until the last gun is fired and the last vote is cast. But the Republican leaders must remember that the President is a good explainer.

The land-owning farmers do not want America to be turned into a socialistic state. They do not want to divide acres with the landless who prefer to sit in the shade during the hot summer hours, while

THE FICTION CORNER

NEW LIFE

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

THERE WASN'T any particular reason why young Phil Davis and his wife should dislike Templer. Yet this was the case. For one thing neither of them were used to the habits and customs of small town people. They were city bred, and hence misunderstood the kindly interest of their neighbors. Prying curiosity, they termed it.

"That Mrs. Bixby was over again this morning," Dot Davis said to her husband one night two months after they had become nicely settled. "She wanted to know where I had my washing done. Said she'd been curious ever since she discovered I didn't do it myself."

"Prying old bizzard," Phil muttered. "It's a blasted shame we have to put up with it. Tom Wheeler, who runs the local newspaper, was telling me today that Templer was no different from any small town. They're all the same, he said. God pity the people who have to live in them," he added bitterly.

"I'm sick of it," Dot walked. "Sick of seeing and meeting no one but old hypocrites."

Two weeks later the long-hoped-for day arrived. Phil received notice of his transfer to the Suffolk office. Joyously the two young people packed up their belongings and said goodbye to Templer. They took an apartment in the suburb of Ashfield and set about the task of getting acquainted.

This wasn't particularly difficult. Mrs. Hooper, who was rather a plain looking person and who occupied an apartment on the same floor with the Davises, seemed eager to help the young folks get settled. She came in every day and made suggestions which Dot found helpful.

Phil came home one evening to announce that he had joined a club, and would be out one night a week.

"It's just as well," said Dot agreeably. "Mrs. Hooper has asked me to join the Neighborhood Bridge Union, so I'll be out, too."

THEY learned things from Mrs. Hooper and other inhabitants of the apartment about other people in other apartment houses close by. For example, the Ricks were considered "fast." The Browns weren't all they appeared to be.

Bit by bit Phil and Dot adapted themselves to their new life. They learned with whom to associate, and whom to ignore. Gradually they settled into the usual routine.

A month after they had left Templer and its drab dullness behind, Phil arrived home one evening with a curious expression on his face. Dorothy noticed the change.

"Oh, nothing much," he replied to her question. "Bob Talbert was saying today that Ashfield was like a hundred other suburban towns. Same monotonous routine and dullness. The only break they get is when someone new arrives."

"That's odd," Dot said slowly. "Mrs. Hooper was in today. She wanted to know where I had my washing done. She'd noticed, she said, that I didn't do it myself."

Phil and Dot stared at each other for a moment in alarmed silence. Then suddenly, of one accord, they burst into laughter.

"Dot," he said, "I wonder if it's the place we live in or if it's just us. We wanted to be near a large city, and now that we're here we've found conditions pretty much the same as elsewhere."

Dot nodded soberly. "I guess, Phil, dear, it isn't the place that makes one's life drab and dull. It's the people who live in those places, it's the way you treat them and they treat you. I guess human nature is pretty much the same everywhere. It's up to the individual whether or not he or she is happy."

Phil held his wife close.

"I'm sick of it," Dot walked. "Sick of seeing and meeting no one but old hypocrites."

VISIT FROM ST. STALINUS

JOSEF STALINUS' birthday, it is reported, has been designated to replace Christmas in Communist Hungary. Which set us to thinking of the propaganda line needed to sell people the idea of the Master of the Kremlin as "a right jolly old elf," cruising the Yuletide skies in a sleigh with the hammer and sickle painted on each side, presumably with a commissar astride each reindeer. Through our head kept running "The stockings were hung by the chimney with care in the FEAR that Saint Stalinius soon would be there . . ." And we continued:

The children were nestled (scared stiff) in their beds With orders to answer all knocks with "We're Reds!" And mama in her kerchief and I in my hood Were thinking the visit would do us no good. . . .

(Then came the part about the clatter on the lawn and the rush to the windows to see what was the matter. We threw this out. With Stalin making the trip there could be no uncertainty. Everybody would know darned well what was the matter behind the clatter, or else.)

The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow Gave the lustre of searchlights to objects below. . . .

(Objects! Watch your language! Ya wanna go to the salt mines? Just refer to Joe as an "object below." But to resume):

When what to our wondering eyes should appear But Josef himself with his Russian reindeer; I knew in a moment or two it was he.

(If I didn't I knew what would happen to me.)

More rapid than eagles his couriers they came And to volleys of cannon he called them by name: "Now, Ivan! Now, Petrov! Now, Igor! Now Pinski! On, Malik! On Molotov, also Vishinski!

"To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall, With hammer and sickle and borscht over all!"

(All went well until we came to the lines "And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof the prancing and pawing of each little hoof." No dice! No footsteps you hear on your roof in Communist territory can be described as prancing. If you go back to bed thinking it's from reindeer you're nuts. So we picked it up from there):

As I fell to my knees and gave welcomes galore, Saint Stalinius came with a roar; He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot And he quickly shot mom for his coating of soot.

(Now came the part "His eyes, how they twinkled! His dimples, how merry!" That had to go. The twinkling eyes is for decadent democracies. Besides every merry dimple there is a capitalistic warmonger. But to continue):

He was rugged and strong and a great super-elf Which I quickly admitted, protecting myself: A wink of his eye and a twist of his head Demanded my papers as proof I was "Red"; He spoke not a word but with fire animation Pinned onto each stocking a state proclamation;

Then sprang to his sleigh (on each deer sat a gremlin). And gave a curt order "Fly back to the Kremlin!" . . . But I heard him exclaim ere he drove out of sight "Happy Moscow to all To all others Good Night!"

Query of a skeptical gambler just before those basketball players were sentenced: "How many points they gettin'?" . . . In her suit against Billy Rose, Eleanor Holm's attorneys are not, as reported, the firm of Beach, Schwimmer & Waters . . . Eleanor claims nonsupport . . . What? All that dough and no waterwings? . . . For the first time in the history of the Stock Exchange a toy-maker, Lionel Trains, has been listed . . . But a lot of railroads have been toyed with there.

Herman Hickman is secure at Yale, a college which long ago gave the game back to the boys and discarded the idea that nothing counts but grid victories. . . . John T. Flynn, who is out with another best seller, got his first job in the writing business when he found book salesmanship pretty tough and took a job as a reporter on the New Haven Register . . . Eighteen bucks a week! . . . Always a demon of energy, he drew pictures for Chamberlain Furniture Company ads, to help make both ends meet.

BOLTONVILLE BUSY BEAVERS 4-H CLUB NEWS

The spirit of Christmas reigned at the regular meeting of the Boltonville Busy Beavers 4-H club on Wednesday evening, Dec. 12, at the Modern Woodmen hall. The Pleasant Hill Troopers 4-H club joined in the merry making.

"Safety during the Christmas holidays" was discussed by Dan Schein, vocational agriculture instructor, Kewaskum high school, and club members, Elmer Belger and Irene Enright. In holiday sports the speakers urged the club members to avoid sleigh riding on highways, in skating, never to go alone, see that the ice will carry, in case of an accidental break, crawl to shore.

Indoors a beautiful Christmas tree may be hazardous for it is filled with pitch and resin. In 1950, Elmer Belger stated, there were 1000 fires from trees. He urged that trees be watered properly, lights carefully placed and adjusted with safety fuses. Electric trains become a fire hazard when placed under trees.

Christmas poems were read by Myrna Laatsch, "Shepherd Left Behind" by Snow; Arlene Staehler, "Christmas" by Chute; Carol Riley, "December" by Smith; Carol Belger, "A Little Star" by Mervis; Eileen Laatsch, "Santa" by Gibson.

Margo Weiss and Mary Ellen Deener carefully demonstrated how to utilize tin cans and Christmas cards in making safe glittering tree ornaments. An artistic Christmas tree table decoration was demonstrated by Eileen Laatsch. These are on display at the Public Library, West Bend.

A tasty kidney bean salad for Christmas dinner was demonstrated by Evelyn Staehler and Mary Ann Stahl. Margo Weiss was the winner of the pea guessing contest prepared by Eileen Laatsch. Total peas in can 635. Margo's guess was 620 and Janice Riley's guess 609.

Birthdays were sung for Myrna Laatsch, Dec. 19, and Herald Gifford, Dec. 21. A request was heard on WBKV on Friday, Dec. 21. During the singing of Christmas carols, gifts were exchanged.

"All ready for the grand march" and the Pleasant Hill Troopers, Barbara Falter, leader, Dale and Merlin Wolf, Marian Gooden, Mrs. Frank Falter, Bernard Kohler, Bernard Barth, Betty Falter, and Jimmy F. F. joined the merry making with Frank Falter, square dance caller, and Bernard Fechter, accordionist. After a delightful evening of square dancing closing with the Virginia Reel, refreshments were served under the direction of Marilyn Laatsch and Kathleen Degner.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 9. Mary Ann and Kenneth Stahl and Margo Weiss will be in charge of refreshments.

CARD OF THANKS

The late bereavement which has visited our home, the death of Miss Elizabeth Schmitt, has brought to us a greater appreciation of our friends. Such kindnesses and thoughtfulness can never be forgotten. We are especially grateful to Rev. Over one-half of all drivers involved in last year's traffic accidents in Wisconsin were motorists who had been licensed to drive for longer than 10 years, a study by the motor vehicle department shows.

Uncle Sam Says

Having trouble what to get Mary, Johnny or Joe for Christmas? Well, folks, it's not too difficult. Just walk into your nearest bank or Post Office, and one of the finest gifts in the world can be purchased for any or all of them. It's a U. S. Defense Bond, of course, because Defense Bonds grow more valuable every year. That's why you should buy bonds regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. It's the road to economic security through systematic saving.

MAIN STREET IN ACTION

Nose-Count Made by Boy and Girl Scouts Provided Focus for Local Improvement

By Browne Sampson

Built around a 184-year-old church that served as a recruiting station during the Revolutionary War, Falls Church, Virginia, lived in the even tempo of a small, independent southern town until the 1940's.

Then folks rushed in at such a pace that by 1950 the population had gone from 2,576 to 7,534 plus 15 to 20 thousand new people (mostly families of government employees from nearby Washington) who established residence in the area surrounding the town which is known as Greater Falls Church. The impact of this substantial increase in population upset both the old-timer and the newcomer.

MARCH OF DIMES

JANUARY 2-31

Once a community where everybody knew everybody else, Falls Church became a place where nobody knew anybody very well. Leaders and workers in community activities no longer knew accurately who needed what or how many "who's" were available and willing to serve.

One of the lawyers in Falls Church was in a position to know firsthand the necessity of finding out who was who and how many "who's" there were in Falls Church, what they needed and why. This attorney, who is a member of the executive board of the Community Chest, chairman of the Fairfax County District Boy Scouts, a leader in church work, and the father of four children, enlisted the aid of a friend who is a survey specialist. Together they worked out an objective plan for a city head count.

They divided the area into blocks; appointed crew leaders chosen from adult Scout workers and other groups active in community affairs. Each crew leader received with his block assignment, a map and both oral and printed instructions. Leaders then formed crews from Camp Fire Girls, Boy and Girl Scout troops. On the appointed day, crew leaders chauffeured the crews in their own cars to their assigned blocks. And between daylight and dusk of one short autumn day, Boy and Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls, all in uniform, rang the doorbells of 6,000 homes.

This survey, made as a community service by Scouts and Camp Fire Girls under the supervision of selected adults, gave Falls Church a comprehensive city directory that serves as an accurate estimate of community needs and resources.

Among the specific organizations that the survey helped materially was the public school system. The youth survey revealed an undreamed number of pre-school age children. This information gave school officials the opportunity to expand educational facilities to meet the need before it became a crisis.

The survey brought new members to church and Sunday School. In the effort to ascertain the number of actual and potential Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, families were asked to state their preference in church denominations because church groups sponsor some of the troops. From the replies to that question, it was found that many persons did not attend the local church that represented their denominational choice. After pastors and other church workers learned that, they called on these people and invited them to church services. As a result a goodly number joined the church of their choice, and sent their children to Sunday School.

The survey was valuable not only to organizations, but to individuals as well. It showed parents the necessity of participation in community organizations that operate for the benefit of their young along with the other fellows. Parents that the survey revealed to be potential leaders wanted their children to belong to the Scout troops, but they did not relish the responsibility of working with the troops as leaders or in other capacities. Such individuals were told frankly that their children could not become Scouts or Camp Fire Girls unless these organizations found more adult workers and leaders. Expressed in terms of opportunity and benefits for their own children, these parents moved out from the ranks of the potential into the status of active leadership in the Scouts and other organizations.

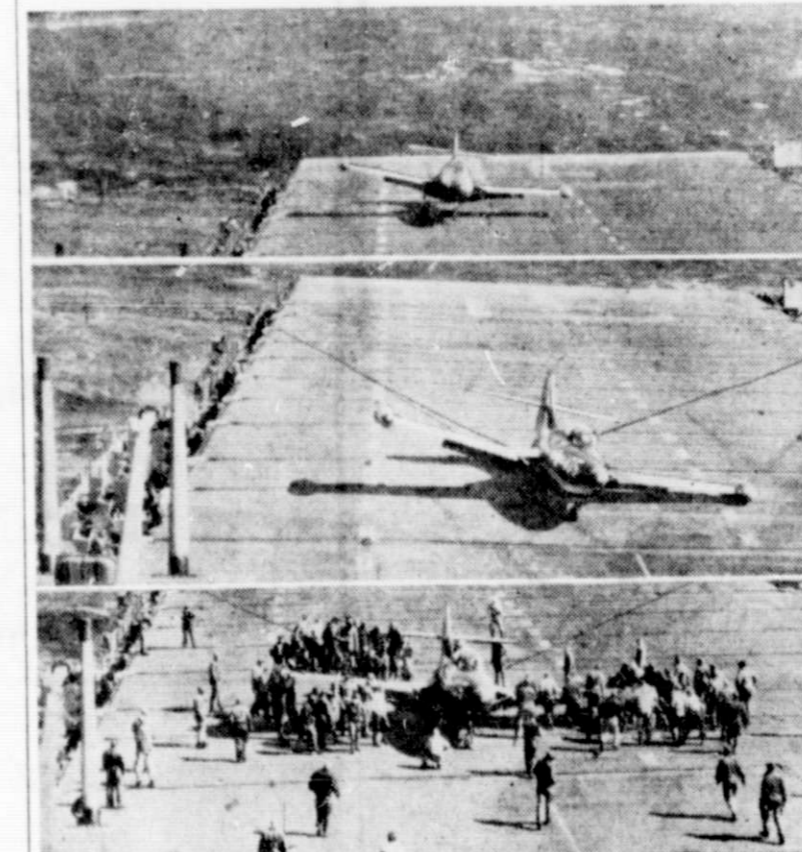

SANTA SIGNS . . . Polio victims enlist Santa to fight the dread disease.

"TEXAS FOR EISENHOWER" . . . Chairman Robert Doss (center) points to a "Texas for Eisenhower" sign at the Eisenhower birthplace in Denison, Texas, after launching the non-partisan movement in a state-wide broadcast. The broadcast was the opening gun in the campaign to get General Dwight D. Eisenhower to announce his candidacy for nomination for President of the United States by one of the parties.

BATTLE WITH GUERRILLAS . . . The body of a Communist guerrilla lies in foreground here as French jungle troops in the background operate against hidden snipers in Cho-Ben Pass, Tonkin, Indochina. More than 200 bodies of dead Communists were found in this area after the action that took place when the French forces cut off a guerrilla force from its escape route to the mountains and scored a smashing victory over Reds who have been a bit too pressing lately.

ONE-WHEEL LANDING . . . Sequence shows landing of jet pilot Robert Lawrence on flight deck of carrier Bon Homme Richard after landing wheel was damaged by Communist flak. His radio was out of commission and he came in on hand signals. At top, he touches deck with one wheel and nose wheel. In center, hook engages arresting wire and left wing dips. At bottom, he is safe and sound at stop. Lt. Lawrence hails from Coronado, California.

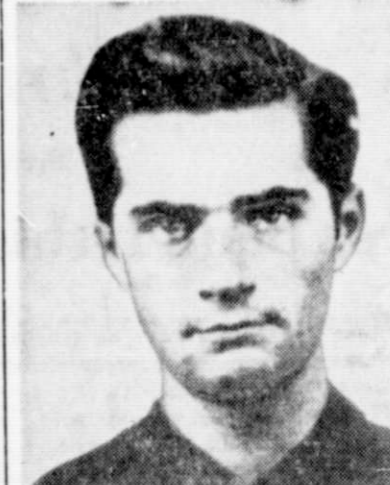

COP IN SKIRTS . . . An elaborate trap set by Cleveland detectives to nab a man who sought $5,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Potts in exchange for alleged information about their 10-year-old daughter, who disappeared August 21, nets ex-convict Frank Davis (left). Detective Bernard Conley (right), dressed in feminine clothing to pose as Mrs. Potts, kept a rendezvous with the extortionist in downtown Cleveland while police lurked nearby.

JUST AS YOU ARE

Good Question
"What's that?" asked the old man.
"A liquid that will dissolve anything" was the reply.
Zeb looked thoughtful a moment and then replied, "Well, by crackies, that's a darn good idea. But tell me, when you find it, what are you going to keep it in?"

Many Sided Gal
She: "I'm entered in two contests. One for the most beautiful back, and the other for the most beautiful bust."
He: "My, aren't you excited?"
She: "I hardly know which way to turn."

Silent Speech
Seated next to each other, the two strangers remained silent as their train roared on mile after mile. Suddenly one of them, an old coddler, turned to his neighbor and shouted, "Blast it! I know I'm getting deaf. You've been talking to me for half an hour and I haven't heard a word you said."
"Relax, mister," answered the other chap. "I've been chewing gum."

WANTED . . . The F.B.I. has issued an alarm for George Arthur Heroux, suspect in two bank robberies netting $86,000 in Missouri and Kansas. Heroux has been placed on the "10 most wanted" list. He is armed, extremely dangerous.

MAN WITHOUT COUNTRY . . . Lifetime of roaming in search for a country which will accept him is faced by Romanian refugee Peter Darie. Because U.S. refused him, Mexico, India, Australia and Canada have all refused him admittance.

BACK FROM DEAD . . . Mrs. Theresa Butler, 60, San Francisco, who revived at a morgue after being pronounced dead and lay in a coma for five days, has recovered her normal health. She tried to end her life with an overdose of sedatives.

IMPERIAL PEEK . . . Emperor Hirohito takes a peek into the electron microscope at a factory in Kyoto during his tour of that area. During his tour some university students mobbed his car singing Communist songs.

HOPES FOR RELEASE . . . Release of Archbishop Stepinac from prison is expected in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, within a month. The official news agency says Tito has decided to settle the case of the former primate of the Catholics.

SHORT CUT SHORT LIFE

I know of no safe repository for the ultimate powers of society but the people themselves; and if we think them not enlightened enough to exercise their control with a wholesome discretion, the remedy is not to take it from them, but to increase their discretion by education.
