

Fr. La Buwi Talks to Woman's Club on the Brotherhood of Man

The Rev. F. C. La Buwi, pastor of Holy Trinity congregation, addressed the Kewaskum Woman's club at their meeting Saturday afternoon, Feb. 16. Appropriate with the observance of National Brotherhood Week Feb. 17-24, the subject of Father La Buwi's talk was "The Brotherhood of Man."

The address was very highly received by members of the club, who have requested the Statesman to publish it in its entirety for the benefit of our readers. Fr. La Buwi's talk follows: Madam President and members of the Kewaskum Women's Club: Nearly every speaker finds the task of finding a suitable introduction rather difficult and in casting about for ideas I thought of the story of the speaker who began on an occasion such as this by saying: "I am happy to see so many shining faces before me" only to be dismayed in seeing every one of his audience grab her purse, take her compact and proceed to remove the shine. So I will try to be cautious and only say that I am highly honored in being invited to address you on this occasion. When your representative approached me with the invitation, I innocently asked what topic she might suggest and I was quite pleased when she said that since the date would be very close to the National Observance of "Brotherhood Week" I might use that as the subject for discussion. I said that I was pleased with the topic, and so I was until I began to think on it in greater detail. We have all heard of Brotherhood Week and read countless articles and speeches about it and so at first blush it seemed quite an easy subject to discuss. Like so many things that we hear repeated often and that sound good and noble to the ear, I am afraid that I must confess that in the past Brotherhood Week has passed me by without really getting very much serious thought.

Now that I have had to think about it—it seems to me that we have set aside a week for just about everything. Boy Scout Week, Be Kind to Pets Week, Say it with Mothers Week, and so on. The idea is good and it was first thought up, I suppose, to focus our attention on some very noble objectives. Unfortunately the practice seems to have become commonplace and right now I feel confident that one could gain prominence by introducing a week to end all weeks so that we could begin over once again in a more thoughtful way. When I began assembling material for this discussion the first thing that caught my attention and really amazed me was the fact that very few of those who wrote or spoke on the subject seemed to have the safe understanding of what BROTHERHOOD meant. To some it was a loose term which connoted a feeling of friendship which the individual members of the human race ought to have toward every other member simply because they are all human beings. To others it seemed to carry the meaning of a common bond similar to that existing between the members of a profession who refer to each other as "brothers." To still others the term Brotherhood was synonymous with Tolerance toward another. I dislike the word tolerance in reference to one's fellowmen because to me the word means, to grudgingly endure and there is nothing brotherly to that. Only a few seemed to catch the idea that brotherhood in a true sense is impossible except in the light of a common fatherhood. Brotherhood to me means that deep sense of equality, the respect and love, the high regard that the members of a family have for each other. It is a soul-feeling bond which can only exist where there is the tie of a common parent. That is the meaning, I think, which the originators of Brotherhood Week had in mind. Their purpose was to make men conscious, the world over, of a common relationship and so to eliminate the strife and discord that has grown out of misunderstanding, bigotry and bias.

I think though that they made the mistake of hitching the cart before the horse. You cannot effectively bring men to acknowledge a true relationship of Brotherhood until you have first induced them to bow to a Common Fatherhood. The Common Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of men are reverse sides of the same coin, to have one you must have the other. But since the one flows logically from the other it seems to me that what we need first is a national "Fatherhood of God Week." Some might say that there is no need for this. Men for the most part, they would hold, believe in God. If they do have this belief, may I submit that there is little evidence for it in the world about us. If men really feel themselves to be children of the one true God why are they so hostile toward each other? No, I am afraid that many men do not believe in God and what is almost as

Games this week end—Saturday night: Kewaskum at Rosendale, Grafton at Mayville, Waupun at Hartford; Sunday afternoon: Campbellsport at Horicon, West Bend at Cedarburg.

The Kewaskum Chevrolets won two games over the week end to gain a tie for first place in the standings with Horicon. Saturday night, playing at Waupun, Kewaskum won, 55-48, and the next night, Sunday, in the home gym, the Chev's handed Hartford an 80-40 pasting. Previously Horicon and Kewaskum both had lost two contests but the Chevrolets were always behind because they played less tils. Now they have caught up.

Guard Augie Bilgo paced Kewaskum in both victories. Against Waupun he tipped in 14 points for high honors. Wayland Tessar and Des Smith followed him with 10 and nine points. Kaschube was best for Waupun with eight. The tilt was very close in the first half, with Kewaskum ahead 21-19 at the intermission. But the locals broke loose and poured it on in the second half, netting 37 points to Waupun's 19.

In the easy win over Hartford Sunday Bilgo poured in 21 points on eight field goals and five free tosses. However, he was given a close run for honors by Hartford's Buchanan, who hit the nets for 17. Des Smith added 15 points and Wayland Tessar 12 for the winners. The Chev's took a big lead right off the bat and the contest was never close. After leading 19-9 at the quarter, the team increased it to 35-17 at halftime. Again in the third period Kewaskum outscored their opponents 22-9 to bring the third period tally to 57-26. The winners coasted in the final stanza but still trailed 70 points to the visitors' 44.

This Saturday night Kewaskum travels to Rosendale and this should be a tough contest against the fifth place Daters, who are hard to beat on their mrow floor.

Regal Ware Firm of Kewaskum Installs Largest Press of Its Type Built for Defense Wares

Huge Machine 34 Feet High and Weighing 610,000 Lbs. Will Produce Ammunition for Armed Forces in New Building

Largest knuckle joint metal press of its type ever built has been installed in the plant of Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum, it was announced by J. O. Reigle, president, Tuesday. The juggernaut, which will be used in producing ammunition for the armed forces, stands 34 feet from top to bottom, weighs 610,000 pounds, and exerts a pressure of 8,000,000 pounds, equivalent to the weight of 2,500 standard size automobiles. Manufacturers of the press, the Toledo Machine and Tool Division of the E. W. Bliss company, say the press capacity is the greatest ever built into a mechanical type unit. Almost a year was required to manufacture the giant.

Regal Ware, Inc., which ordinarily manufactures cooking utensils and specialty items, literally started from "scratch" on what experts acknowledge to be a tough assignment. They had to erect a new building to house the project. This was accomplished in record time. Then came the tremendous task of obtaining tools and equipment in the face of growing shortages, to say nothing of overcoming the technical difficulties that must be met on a major project of this kind.

In less than a year, Regal Ware, Inc. is "ready to roll" and soon will be turning out vitally needed material for the armed forces. One has only to view the giant press and vast array of other equipment to realize the monumental task which has been accomplished. Representatives of the Chicago Ordnance District through which the ammunition contract was negotiated point to this as indicative of the important contribution being made by small industries to the mobilization program.

Final inspection of the project was made by the following officials from the Chicago Ordnance district: Col. H. H. Haskell, district chief; Lieut.-Col. H. L. Combs, chief of production division; Alfred Sunter, assistant chief of production division, and Bruce Layman, section chief of shot and shell division of ammunition branch.

They were shown the newly completed facilities by J. O. Reigle, president and general manager of Regal Ware, Inc.; L. N. Peterson, executive vice-president; A. G. Hon, Sr., works manager; E. Boots, superintendent of defense production and Robert F. Draper, who is in charge of the company's Chicago office.

Town Scott Church to Take Part in Family Life Survey

The Immanuel Lutheran church, R. 1, Kewaskum, Rev. H. R. Tornow, pastor, has been asked to take part in a nation-wide survey on "family life" to be conducted during the month of February.

The first of its kind to be attempted by any church body, the Lutheran Family Life survey will cover 10,000 homes in the United States and Canada and is part of a $25,000 family research project of the Board for Parish Education of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

By means of a group-administered questionnaire, the survey will attempt to discover what influence Lutheran beliefs and practices have on the stability and happiness of family life in America.

According to the Rev. Paul G. Hansen, Denver, research director for Family Life, the survey will study Lutheran attitudes on the home and family life "in a day when many people believe that the foundations of American family life are shaking."

84 congregations selected completely at random and representing several Lutheran synods from every section of North America will be given opportunity to cooperate in the survey, Pastor Hansen reports.

The research program will include studies in such areas as mixed marriages, engagement, divorce and remarriage, attitudes toward sex, authority in the home, and related problems. Twenty outstanding Lutheran scholars are engaged in the Biblical and historical research which will support the sociological survey.

After playing all season to gain a tie for first place with North Fondy, the Kewaskum Indians' chances of sharing the championship went right out of the window Friday night in the final loop game when Campbellsport upset them, 52-51, in a thriller on the local floor. North Fondy easily trimmed Oakfield to cop a clear title, followed by the Indians in second place and defending champion Belles third. Kewaskum defeated Campbellsport on the Belle floor earlier in the campaign and it appeared like they would do it again in the first half here. The Indians built up a sizable 31-22 halftime lead but faded in the second half.

TOURNAMENT NEXT WEEK

Kewaskum will compete in the W.L.A.A. district tournament at North Fond du Lac next week. The tourney opens Thursday night. Teams entered in the North Fondy district are Campbellsport, Kewaskum, Oakfield and North Fond du Lac. Rosendale and Brandon are entered in the Winneconne meet. The winners of the tourney will play for the district title.

before the Belles' rush. The visitors scored 17 points in the third period to Kewaskum's 10 but the Mitcnellmen still were ahead, 41-39. The score was knotted several times in a torrid final quarter and Tony Thelen's basket in the last eight seconds tripped up the Indians.

Gordon Wierman and Dick Hunter each collected 14 points for Kewaskum to cop top honors. Thelen with 17 and Bill Elwing with 13 paced the Belles. North Fondy's champs racked up 744 points to top the previous high team total of 741 set by Campbellsport in 1951. Lomira ran its losing streak to 36 straight conference games over a three-year span for a new mark.

KEWASKUM DEFEATED BY WEST BEND MONDAY, 57-36

The Indians played the West Bend Badgers of the Little Ten conference Monday night there in a tune-up game for the W.L.A.A. district tournament next week and were drubbed, 57-36. The two teams played on even terms for three quarters at the Melane gym before the Indians folded in the final period as West Bend pulled away.

Kewaskum was expected to make a much better showing and was picked to win by many, including the opponents. But the Indians' play gave evidence that they had an off night. On the other hand, according to West Bend witnesses, the Badgers played one of their best games and were hot in shooting. Kewaskum's squad was flummoxed and this had much to do with the setback. Two of the team's high scoring regulars, Hanrahan and Meisenheimer, both big boys, were kept on the bench through two quarters.

Bob Wiedmeyer, a Badger reserve, baffled the Indians in the opening period as he accounted for all of West Bend's 10 points Sparked by George Hanrahan, the Indians took a 12-10 lead in the first quarter, however. The Badgers took over in the second quarter and maintained a 27-22 halftime advantage. The third period was evenly matched, ending 37-30, West Bend. But in the final stanza the winners ran over Kewaskum, scoring 20 points to the losers' six. Giombetti and Wiedmeyer paced the

With the opening of the 1952 Red Cross fund campaign drawing near, drive chairman R. G. Lauson this week announced appointment of precinct chairmen throughout the chapter area. At the same time, Lauson issued a call for all precinct chairmen to attend an organization meeting Wednesday night, February 20, at 7 p. m. in the Red Cross room on the second floor of the West Bend Public Library building.

Plans for the drive were discussed at that time and supplies were issued to the various precinct chairmen, Lauson said.

Although several precinct posts remain to be filled, the majority of the sub-chairmen have now been named, Lauson announced. Those who will direct the effort in their home areas are as follows:

- Town of Barton—Mrs. William Janzen.
- Town of Farmington—Arthur Schoedel.
- Town of Jackson—To be announced.
- Town of Kewaskum—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Etta.
- Town of Trenton—Joseph Kowanda.
- Town of Wayne—Mrs. William Coulter and George Peter, co-chairman.
- Town of West Bend—John Horiam.
- Village of Barton—A. P. Staral.
- Village of Jackson—Clem Mayer.
- Village of Kewaskum—Robert Schmidt.
- City of West Bend—Richard Donahue.

Within the city of West Bend, Donahue subsequently reported the appointment of John Manning to act as industrial chairman. He said that selection of the business and residential area chairmen would be made later this week.

In reporting the line-up of precinct chairmen, Lauson expressed a feeling of optimism with regard to the campaign.

"We are off to an excellent start with the appointment of a very capable, willing group of precinct leaders," he said, "and I am hopeful that we may again be among the first in the state to reach our goal. It will take a lot of work by all of us, but I am sure that we will not fall down in any particular area or group of precincts." Lauson said precinct chairmen will be recruiting campaign solicitors this week and he urged those who are asked to help to accept the responsibility.

"The Red Cross is all of us, and we need the help of all of us to keep the program operating at full capacity," he said.

Progress Reported in Peace Talks; Republican Accepts Clean-Up Job

PEACE TALKS—After weeks of stalemate and pessimism, an unexpected feeling of optimism surrounded the Korean peace talks. There were reports of a possible early settlement. However, the hard core of disagreement on fundamental issues which have delayed an armistice have been shoved aside only temporarily and must be settled eventually.

On three issues the Communists and Allies have reached agreement: (1) Red Cross teams from Allied countries will work jointly with national Red Cross representatives from Red China and Red Korea in handling the prisoner exchange; (2) The Communists clarified their stand on paroles. The oath would require only that prisoners refrain from participation in the Korean War, instead of all "acts of war"; and (3) The Communists agreed to return U. N. military prisoners—about 11,500 men—within 30 days after an armistice.

There was one development on the world scene, however, that could hurt future peace talks. Jacob A. Malik, Soviet representative in the United Nations general assembly, in a final attempt to frighten U. N. members into agreeing to immediate discussion of the Korean question in the assembly, charged that the Anglo-American block is not only preparing a third world war, but "this world war has in fact begun."

Why should Malik make such a statement if agreement in Korea is near? A number of observers are wondering if the Chinese have finally determined to have peace in Korea, even over the objection of their Moscow masters? And, is it an indication of the much rumored split between Russia and China?

The diplomats may speculate and express their hopes, but the people in the home towns of America remain skeptical about the whole thing. In their minds there are too many unanswered questions. They are inclined to believe there will be peace when the documents are signed, the prisoners exchanged, and their sons are returned home.

TRUMAN HEADLINES—President Truman caused two recent headlines in newspapers across the nation that raised considerable speculation in the home towns of the nation. The first was his announcement that he would not take part in the New Hampshire primary and calling the present system of presidential preference primaries in the states so much "eyewash". The second was his appointment of Newbold Morris, a Republican, to head his long-heralded cleanup against government corruption.

As for his first statement, President Truman was correct to a certain extent. As far as he is concerned personally the state primary system is "eyewash". A president can usually get the nomination before the actual balloting begins simply by announcing he will take it. This seems to be the case with President Truman. However, for the party out of power, state primaries may accurately define the trend of thinking in the some towns and bring added strength to the winning candidate.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN

The President's statement was further highlighted by the fact that a few days later he completely reversed himself and ordered his name not be taken from the primary ballot. In a letter to the New Hampshire secretary of state, Truman explained he had been urged by the Democratic party to leave his name on the ballot. The letter was also something of an apology to New Hampshire voters who party officials felt might be offended by Truman's "eyewash" statement.

As for the second headlines, home towners who have become skeptical about any cleanup of Washington corruption, were asking themselves just what is the true significance of the appointment of Morris, a highly respected lawyer and a self-styled Abraham Lincoln Republican, to the job that has been refused several times.

Generally, the reaction was mixed, depending on which side of the political fence the observer was on. Republicans, voicing suspicion, said they hoped it was not a plant on the part of the administration to use Morris as a window dressing while sabotaging his efforts to clean house. Democrats praised the appointment, saying his selection should be reassuring to the people.

BEHIND THE IRON CURTAIN—The State department has issued a report of conditions behind the Iron Curtain that will be of interest to every home town where there has been a "little people" in Soviet controlled territory. The information was accumulated from interviews with refugees and has been set out in six points:

- (1) Most of the refugees disliked Stalin and other Soviet leaders and most of them denounced the Communist chiefs "in terms of unmeasured abuse".
- (2) They appeared to believe that war between Russia and the United States "is almost inevitable" and could be prevented only if the men in the Kremlin feel it would be suicidal for them.
- (3) The sorest nationality problem in the Soviet is anti-Semitism.
- (4) The ultimate goal of world domination held by the Kremlin is considered to be unchanged. But the means by which the Red command moves toward that goal is highly flexible and involves "secrecy, deception and terror as basic ingredients."
- (5) The standard of living in the Soviet Union is so low as to arouse discontent and is responsible for much crime and other social problems.
- (6) Although dissatisfaction with the present regime exists, a serious problem would exist in Russia if the Communist regime were to collapse or be overthrown. It would be necessary for the Russian people to undergo a process of re-education.

BRITAIN—Great Britain, beset by economic woes and the breaking down of relations with many former subjects in far corners of the Empire, has entered a period of mourning for King George VI who died February 6.

Only a few days before his death, King George made his first public appearance after a long and serious illness, to wave bon voyage to the plane that was to carry Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, on their commonwealth tour.

King George VI was one of Great Britain's most beloved monarchs. And it was during his reign that the British Empire struggled through its greatest crisis—World War II and the years of economic strain that followed. Elizabeth now becomes Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh her Prince Consort. Their son, Prince Charles, is heir apparent.

Egyptian rioters are shown after they surrendered to British troops in the Suez canal zone. During the past few weeks all has been calm in Egypt as the new Premier conducts talks with the British in an attempt to settle the Suez and Anglo-Egyptian Sudan problems.

THE PUBLIC DEBT

Each Individual's Share Is $1,829

As congress battles over a new budget, the public's debt nears an all-time record with federal, state and local governments together owing a total of 282.3 billion dollars. Of this sum, 255.2 billion was federal, 6.4 billion state, 20.7 billion local.

Since 1946, when the public debt was 285.3 billion, state and local debt has climbed 70 per cent, it was estimated.

Draft Quota Reduction Expected This Spring

A sharp drop in the rate of casualties in Korea and an increase in enlistments has made it possible to cut originally planned draft quotas, selective service reports. It was estimated that the April-June quota would run between 40,000 and 50,000 men. An official also estimated that the neighborhood of 275,000 and 300,000 during the next seven months, "baring unforeseen things."

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

Mate's Error
Needn't Embarrass
By Lawrence Gould

Should you be ashamed of a mate's mistakes?

Answer: You may not be able to help feeling embarrassed if your partner commits some serious offense against the rules of grammar or accepted good form, but at least be honest with yourself about it. You are not "embarrassed for him," but for yourself. Your shame means that for the moment your own self-esteem—as affected by what people will think—has become more important to you than your love for your mate or your recognition of the qualities for which you love him. But don't let the injury to your ego drive you to the even worse breach of good manners of correcting him in public.

stitious person all believe that good fortune may come, or the consequences of their mistakes be averted by the intervention of some unseen and capricious power ("Lady Luck," for instance) if they can but gain its favor. Inconsistent parents prevent a child's learning to think realistically.

Does tension make workers inefficient?

Answer: Yes, says Dr. H. Graham Ross, summarizing the conclusions of a Canadian seminar on "Tensional States in Industry." Tense or anxious feelings on the part of workers are responsible for a large share of inefficiency, absenteeism, accidents and psychosomatic illness. Such states may be caused by personal problems outside of the business, but may also result from the nature of the job, the inconsistency of workers or supervisors, and especially from the uneasiness of those workers who are nearing the age of retirement and are conscious of their limitations and their insecure position.

Keep Food Budget Down by Serving Lower-Priced Meats

IF YOU HAVE to shake your head sadly at the high price of food, remember that you can help trim the costs by serving some of the lower-priced cuts of meat.

Naturally there are many kitchen economies that can be practiced to help keep the food budget trimmed, if not exactly slender, such as using foods in season and wisely serving leftovers. But higher priced meats add to the cost of the table set more, probably, than any other single item.

As long as your meals remain savory and nutritious, the family will not mind eating less expensive meats.

Pork is economical and gives plenty of good eating. Here's a dish all under one lid that's bound to please:

- Pork Skillet Supper
(Serves 6)
- 6 shoulder pork chops
 - 2 tablespoons chopped onion
 - 1 green pepper, sliced in rings
 - 1/2 cup rice
 - 1 No. 2 can (2 1/2 cups) tomatoes
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Brown chops in small amount of hot fat. Pour off extra fat and save for later use. Add onion and green pepper; sprinkle rice around the chops. Add tomatoes. Season with salt and pepper. Cover and cook over low heat until chops are tender, about 1 hour. Remove chops and arrange on a warm platter. Fill center with rice mixture.

Use one-half pound of meat and extend it with macaroni for this hearty dish that's flavorful, as well as economical:

- Meat-Macaroni Casserole
(Serves 4-6)
- 3 cups elbow macaroni
 - 1/2 pound lean beef, diced
 - 1 tablespoon fat
 - 1 clove garlic
 - 1 onion, sliced
 - 4 tomatoes, diced or 2 cups canned tomatoes
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 teaspoon chili powder
 - 1/4 cup sliced, stuffed olives
 - 1/2 cup grated cheese

Heat fat in heavy saucepan or skillet and brown thoroughly. Add garlic, onion, tomatoes, salt and pepper and cook about half an hour or until a nice sauce is formed. In the meantime, cook the macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Layer in a greased casserole the macaroni, cheese, olives and meat sauce, having the meat sauce on the top layer. Bake in a moderately hot (375° F.) oven for 45 minutes.

The last of the pot roast or roast beef can be used in this delicious puff for a nourishing supper:

- Beef Puff
(Serves 4)
- 3 cups diced leftover beef roast
 - 1 medium onion, finely chopped
 - 2 cups hot, mashed potatoes
 - 1 tablespoon fresh horseradish
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - Few grains cayenne

Hearty servings of corned beef hash with golden pineapple slices make mighty fine eating for cold evenings. Serve on the same platter with the hash some cooked wedges of cabbage with mustard sauce for a really old-fashioned meal prepared in the quick, modern manner.

LYNN CHAMBERS: Please Family Palates With New Flavor Tricks

Mixed fruit cups make a wonderful dessert with some simple cookies on those busy days. Sliced bananas with cubed pineapples and dark cherries or grapes are colorful and delicious.

Another mixed fruit combination which takes honors includes grapefruit sections with bananas tinted a delicate pink with some maraschino cherry juice and a few of the cherries for color.

Need a hot pick-up before dinner's ready? Heat tomato juice to a simmer and serve with a pat of butter and a slice of lemon in mugs or cups while you wait for dinner to get cooked.

What about an easy-to-prepare pink frosting for your next cake? Use a 3-ounce package of cream cheese and work into it 4 tablespoons of cranberry jelly. Then add gradually a pound of confectioner's sugar, working until smooth. This is enough for between layers and sides as well as top of two 9-inch layers.

Any cook would be proud to serve this meal, but it doesn't take any time at all to prepare. Colorful green peppers are stuffed with well-seasoned corn served with pan-browned Vienna sausages and parsley buttered potatoes. Canned foods from the pantry shelf cut preparation time for this budget dinner.

- LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
- Chicken Broth
 - Stuffed Ham Slices
 - Buttered Peas and Carrots
 - Hot Muffins
 - Jellied Cranberry Salad
 - Devils' Food Cake
 - Beverage
- *Recipe Given

- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/2 cup shredded cheese
- 1 1/2 tablespoons butter

Combine onion, potatoes, horseradish, salt and cayenne. Combine milk with egg, then fold into potato mixture. Fold in diced beef. Turn into a 2-quart casserole. Dot with butter. Bake in a moderately hot (400° F.) oven for 25 minutes. Serve hot.

- Ham slices extended with a savory fruit stuffing will make a memorable meal without putting the budget out of line.
- Stuffed Ham Slices (Serves 6)
- 2 ham slices, cut 1/2 inch thick
- 3 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 cup diced apples
- 1/2 cup melted ham or bacon drippings
- 4 tablespoons sugar

Combine bread crumbs, raisins, orange juice, apples, drippings and sugar and mix lightly. Spread one ham slice with a thick layer of stuffing. Place second ham slice on top. Put wooden toothpicks through one slice into the second one to hold slices together, sandwich fashion. Spread surface of top slice with brown sugar and stick with whole cloves. Place in rack in open roasting pan in a slow (300° F.) oven for 1 1/2 hours.

- Corned Beef-Cabbage Supper
(Serves 4)
- 1 1-pound can corned beef hash
 - 4 slices drained, canned pineapple
 - Hot cooked cabbage wedges
 - Mustard sauce

Open hash can from both ends and push contents out in one piece. Cut in four slices. Rough the top of each patty with the tines of a fork. Arrange hash slices on pineapple slices in a shallow pan. Bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven for about 20 minutes. Serve with wedges of cabbage, topped with hot mustard sauce; add 2 tablespoons prepared mustard and 1/4 teaspoon each of Worcestershire sauce and grated onion to one cup seasoned medium white sauce.

- Vegetable-Sausage Platter
(Serves 4)
- 4 green peppers
 - 1 17-ounce can whole kernel corn
 - Salt, pepper and butter
 - 1 No. 2 can small white potatoes
 - Parsley butter
 - 2 cans Vienna sausage

Cut off stem ends of pepper and remove seeds. Parboil until almost tender; drain. Season corn with salt, pepper and butter; fill peppers. Place in greased baking dish and bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven about 20 minutes. Heat potatoes and drain; dress with parsley butter. Arrange on platter with sausages which have been pan-browned and heated in butter.

Mix together some tart apple sauce with mint jelly and serve with lamb for a wonderful relish.

You've heard of rice and chicken? Well, cook the rice and then without rinsing pat into a shallow pan and let chill. Cut into squares, place on a greased shallow pan and dot with butter. Broil or bake and serve topped with creamed chicken.

Several canned soups can make one delicious one fit enough for guests. Heat together equal amounts of consommé or bouillon, chicken broth and tomato juice.

Prune whip is an old-fashioned favorite which can be made more appealing if you serve soft custard sauce flavored with coffee over it. Fruit salads that are pretty can act as dessert, of course! A few pineapple spears surrounded with apricot halves stuffed with thick banana slices and some dark grapes are as pretty as they're delicious. Salads need not be difficult to concoct even without garden produce right out of the back yard. Try some canned asparagus tips, marinated in French dressing then sprinkled with grated cheese.

Lady Bullfighter Marries Lionhunter

Consuela Cintron Verrill, a daring young lady bullfighter with 800 slain bulls to her credit, made world headlines recently by marrying a lionhunter from a wealthy and titled Portuguese family. Young girls, as supple and pliant, as fearless and strong as boys engaged in the dangerous and spectacular sport of bull-grappling on the ancient island of Crete, more than 4,000 years ago. Unlike their modern counterpart, Consuela Cintron, who carried a deadly weapon into the ring, they entered barehanded, their skill and wits their only defense against mortal danger.

Modern Stadiums Dwarf Colosseum

The Colosseum at Rome, largest and most famous of Roman amphitheatres, had a seating capacity for between 40,000 and 50,000 spectators. It was built by the Flavian emperors and opened for use about A. D. Largest amphitheatres in America today are the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, which has a seating capacity of 105,000 and Soldier Field at Chicago, with 101,180 seats.

Brotherhood of Man

damaging many of those who profess belief have only a vague notion of a personal God and feel little or no responsibility to Him. As you know, Nietzsche set forth the theory of the superman. He himself died mad, but before he reached that stage he had time to show that it would be natural enough for all of us to become monsters of arrogance and cruelty, if we let ourselves go in that direction. Recent world events have proved how right he was. Only men who hold themselves in restraint because of their deep belief in a personal God can ever share in a true feeling of brotherhood toward each other. The fact that there is still today further demonstrates that there is still much wanting in this regard.

Part of the difficulty lies in the fact that there is so much confusion in the minds of men. Even our national and international leaders who glibly speak of the need for brotherhood often demonstrate by their very words that they are lost in the confusion of their minds and have no compass to point the right way. Many of them have no clearer concept than the school boy who was called upon by his teacher to prove that he rightly understood, "Robert," she said "if I were to see a man beating a donkey and stopped him from doing so, what virtue would I be showing?" And Bobby solemnly replied "Brotherly Love."

Take for example this case: The United Nations, in an effort to bring about a better understanding among men set up a Commission on Human Rights. This Commission in turn tried to formulate a declaration which would be acceptable by the people of all nations. The first article in the declaration of Human Rights reads: "All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act toward one another in a spirit of brotherhood." Sounds good doesn't it? But what did they mean by "brotherhood"? In the preliminary discussions some of the commission members proposed that the article should say: "men are endowed by God with reason and conscience" but this failed to be acceptable. The very first article of this famous declaration has no room for God but it does hope to achieve brotherhood. I suppose this was in deference to Russia. Do our leaders then seek to establish a brotherhood that has no other meaning than the bond which holds together a preferential group such as the rulers of the Kremlin? Do you see what I mean by muddled thinking?

Or take another and similar example. It was recently announced by the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization that it had appointed Dr. Ralph E. Turner, Prof. Julian S. Huxley of England and Dr. A. L. Kroeber to head a Commission to write a 3,000,000-word "DEFINITIVE AND UNBIASED HISTORY OF MANKIND." Such a work, if it were possible, would be of the greatest benefit to mankind. We all know that there is no such thing as an unbiased history. One simply cannot write anything historical unless he writes from his own viewpoint and naturally then his writings will reflect his personal bias and attitudes. Outside of Scientific treatises it is next to impossible to find anything written in an entirely objective manner. A Southerner would certainly interpret the events leading up to the Civil War differently than would a Northern Historian. The Revolutionary War to the American Historian is a war against tyranny and oppression. "Taxation without representation" was the battle-cry. I suspect that it was mostly just a rebellion against taxation and I wonder what our forefathers would say if they were living in our age. The British historian sees that same war as a rebellion of ungrateful subjects who were biting the hands that fed them. To them the war was lost because a shortsighted king sent hiring Hessian soldiers, who because they were hirelings did not have their heart in the issue.

Now to get back to the men who are to head the commission to write a "definitive and unbiased history of mankind." Dr. Turner was dismissed from the faculty of the University of Pittsburgh for "his contemptuous and flippant attitude toward religion." It was said of him that he was "emphatically and vigorously atheistic" and a "dedicated iconoclast who has little mercy either on God or those who believe in Him." Professor Huxley has been reported to be "explicit in his denials of the existence of God, or of any human need for God."

Dr. A. L. Kroeber, an anthropologist, has been attacked because of a text-book he wrote when teaching at the University of California as being anti-Christian. And these men are to write the UNBIASED HISTORY OF MANKIND for the children of the world over to study in the future. Can, do you think, universal brotherhood be built on such foundations? Do you see now what I mean when I say that our leaders are lost in confusion?

What is the answer—what can we do? First and foremost, of course, we must educate ourselves. There must be the general and clear understanding that the acceptance of the universal Fatherhood of God is essential to a plan to make ourselves conscious of the universal brotherhood of men. This like all other great ideals must somewhere begin with individuals. When I as an individual have come to realize that Jew and Gentile, Protestant and Catholic, the White, Red, Yellow and Black are all children of the One and Same God the Father in Heaven then possibly the idea of a universal brotherhood will come clear to me, and then I in turn can propose it to others. But all of this is based on a deep and abiding love of God because by the large we can love others only in so far as we see God reflected in them. I might suggest that you read a good biography on the Life of St. Francis of Assisi—Omer Englebert's for example—for he caught hold of that idea better than another man from his age down to the present. He indeed could see all things and all men in relationship to the Fatherhood of God. He could sing of Brother Sun and Sister Moon and even death to him was a brother. It was said of this troubadour of God that when he was misunderstood, reviled and even maltreated he could sing with joy the praise of God. He saw as we should see that before God all men are equal. Before God there are no great or small, no rich or poor and souls have no color.

I am sure that once we caught this feeling of great love for God all problems of human relations would melt in its warmth. Then we would not listen to every idle tale and accept it as gospel truth, rather we would diligently seek the truth and there also find understanding. Of course whenever we speak of this equality among men nearly always there is someone in the audience who will try to elench all arguments with the question "All right but would you want your sister to marry a Negro?" My answer to that I might be "That is my sister's business." I would want her to know and realize certain factors about the conditions that exist in a cruel world that knows little of the love of God. I would want her to realize that under present conditions she might be surprised to find so called professing Christians who would condemn her. In all probability the members of both races for the most part would consider her another family outcast. In their cruelty they would refuse to rent her a home to live in. And her children would be pushed aside. Then I would remind her too that 1900 years ago Romans probably stopped their speaking who pleaded for charity and understanding with the question "All right but would you want your sister to marry one of these Christians?" If she understood all this and still wanted to marry the man I certainly would find no objection.

But someone might ask is not the fact that you propose all these questions an argument that you yourself do not quite accept the ideal of the basic equality of all men? I do not think so. Love of ones fellow man does not necessarily mean that one must surrender all rights to discrimination. Because an individual in a family loves one of his brothers more than another does not mean that he cancels out brotherly love toward the one he loves less. The right to choose one's intimate friends, the people whom he will employ, yes even a wife or a husband must remain unchallenged; and the ideal of a universal brotherhood among men is not thereby destroyed.

Just as I myself fully appreciate the fact that I have been created "a child of God and an heir of heaven." Lenin carried out the selfish ideal of the superman and just before he died Lenin said: "I have made a great mistake. Our main purpose was to give freedom to a multitude of oppressed people. But our method of action has created worse evils and horrible massacres. You know that my deadly nightmare is to feel that I am lost in this ocean of blood coming from innumerable victims. It is too late to turn back now, but in order to save our country, Russia, we should have had ten men like Francis of Assisi. With ten such men we could have saved Russia."

$8,000,000 Goal Set For 1952 'Heart Fund'

Gifts Sought to Combat Leading Cause of Death

A total of $8,000,000 is being sought during February by the American Heart Association and its affiliates throughout the country "to carry on the vital fight against heart and circulation diseases that account for nearly half of our national death toll," Bruce Barton, Heart Fund campaign chairman, reported today. "About 44 per cent of all deaths in the United States are caused by heart and circulatory diseases," Mr. Barton said, "for the single year of 1950 numbering 745,410 persons. However," he added, "there is new hope for hearts in the world that has been accomplished during the past quarter of a century."

"It is especially important," he declared, "in these days when tremendous demands are being placed on this nation's military and industrial strength that we do everything we can to see that our human resources do not fall us. Diseases of the heart and blood vessels, constituting as they do our country's leading cause of death and disability, are a serious threat to our struggle for freedom."

"The public is familiar by now with the fact that heart disease robs us prematurely of too many of our most able and irreplaceable leaders in industry, government, science and other vital fields of endeavor. We pay heavily in the sacrifice of our loved ones, our friends, our associates, our employees to this national health menace.

"Ten million of our citizens are affected by diseases of the heart and blood vessels," Mr. Barton continued. "Over the age of 45, during man's most productive years, one out of every two persons dies of the heart disease. One out of every six deaths in the military age group—20 to 39—is caused by these diseases."

"The 1952 Heart Fund will seek to raise the necessary funds to support the greatest effort ever made in medical history to find the answers to the unsolved problems of heart disease. Money is needed, too, to make sure all the available knowledge about heart disease is placed at the disposal of our doctors and the people it will benefit in every community."

"Consequently," Mr. Barton concluded, "it is our duty to ourselves, our loved ones and our nation to give the utmost support to the Heart Fund that it may continue the fight against our number one health enemy." Contributions may be sent to the simple address: "Heart, care of Post Office."

To Buy Right Seed, Seek Advice From Specialists

How do you go about the job of buying seed? When you wish to buy a plow or a gasoline engine—or seeds—or any other important item you use on the farm, you ordinarily consult one or more dealers to see what is available and get advice on the desirability of purchase, and the make, brand, or size and weight, serve your purpose best.

With seeds, you have several useful sources of information besides your local seed dealer, such as your county agent, teacher in your agricultural high school, the State agricultural experiment station, or perhaps your banker, who usually keeps well informed on agricultural topics and your affairs (whether you know it or not) since he handles your loans and has a track of your finances. But your need for seeds is often so urgent there is no time to consult these other agencies—and the local seed dealer is right there to advise you.

The dealer will give you some advice from his own experience or that of his many customers who have reported their experiences to him as to the best kinds and varieties, rates and methods of sowing and the most effective fertilizers and insecticides to use. He will also refer to his file of farm books and your State experiment station bulletins that he keeps for reference to go for answer to your particular seed problem, whether you wish to know the kind of a cover crop to use or the preparation of a grass-legume mixture to use in a 5-year rotation. If he is not sufficiently familiar with your problem to give all the information needed, he will take up the phone and call the county agent to get his advice in the matter.

regarding the purchase of a particular item.

You will in all cases make your own appraisal of the value and desirability of your sources of information. The seed dealer is interested in selling seeds, but if he is your local dealer, his interest is not only in making a sale and pleasing you at the time, but in having you as a friend and satisfied future customer not only for seeds but for whatever other kinds of merchandise he may handle.

Bear in mind, too, that the seed dealer and the county agent are usually working together in an effort to see that you and other farmers of the community have seed of the right kinds and the best quality for sowing. Each of them hopes the other in giving him the results of farm experiences that are told him by his customers or his farmer clients and information from published sources. Their combined judgment should be valuable.

As your crop develops in the field, keep the dealer who sold you the seed advised as to its progress, and don't fail to tell him the best seed at the time, but in having you as a friend and satisfied future customer not only for seeds but for whatever other kinds of merchandise he may handle.

Your regular seed dealer should be your consultant and adviser on all seed problems—not to the exclusion of your county agent by any means—but together they will constitute a most valuable team for you to work with. Their advice and services are yours for the asking.

Recommended Grain Varieties for 1952 Plantings in County

By E. E. Skalsky

Many requests are received weekly by the county agricultural agent's office for the recommended varieties of oats and barley for the 1952 planting season. This article is intended as a partial answer to these requests.

It must be kept in mind that not all varieties will produce the same results on all types of soil, in oats for example some varieties have been developed for certain types of soil. It is well to know this when choosing the variety for the coming spring planting.

1. Oat varieties most popular—There are several varieties of oats that will be planted in sizable acreage on Washington county farms this year. These varieties and a brief description of them are: (1) Branch oats. This is Wisconsin's newest oat variety. It is available for general farm planting for the first time. Foundation seed stock of Branch oats was released to certified seed growers last year. There is a fair amount of certified seed available at the present time. However, it would be a safe precaution for farmers to secure their Branch oat seed soon as it is generally expected that the demand for certified Branch seed will exceed the available supply. This statement is based on a report recently released by the Wisconsin Experiment Station.

The Experiment Station gives the following description of Branch oats.

It is among the top yielding oat varieties and has medium strong straw. It is a little taller and later than Clinton and Honda. It is well adapted to soils of medium and low fertility. The Branch variety gives protection against helminthosporium (root blight) diseases, smuts and rusts. It is also quite resistant to race 45 of leaf rust. Branch has few of the late tillers which are unfavorable features of most bond strains and crosses such as Clinton and Honda. Branch should be a good variety for the more rolling fields where other varieties would remain quite short.

2. Shelby oats—This variety was developed in Iowa. It has a deep yellow color and presents a nice appearance to the eye. It was grown state-wide for the first time in 1951. It, too, is a bond strain and hence, subject to some types of rusts. It is a late maturing variety and has relative strong straw strength. In nine state tests, it was among the best in yield.

3. Clinton and Honda varieties—The Clinton variety along with Honda were among the most widely grown varieties in Wisconsin during the past 3 or 4 years. Both Clinton and Honda are resistant to root blight, but like the Shelby are subject to races 45 and 57 of leaf rust. Both are subject to some late tillering. There is little difference between the yields of these two varieties when compared on a state-wide basis. Clinton is known for having a strong stiff straw and hence, is recommended for high fertility fields. Honda grows somewhat taller than Clinton and is rated next to Clinton in stiffness of straw.

All 4 varieties mentioned so far are considered to be from 4 to 6 days later in maturity than the Vicland oat which was extremely popular about 10 years ago.

4. Other oat varieties—The earliest maturing variety is Mindo. It is a yellow oat, shortstrawed and hence well adapted to high fertility fields and to muck soil fields. It is a Minnesota selection and resistant to root blight. It will only be grown on a limited acreage as yield often is lower than for the other varieties. Ajax oats is a high yielding, well strawed, and late maturing Canadian variety. It does exceptionally well on some farms, it is subject to the common rusts and smuts to a greater degree than most Wisconsin developed varieties. The Andrew, Cherokee, and Mohawk are fairly popular early maturing varieties, but have not proved best over a period of years in all parts of Wisconsin.

BARLEY VARIETIES

Barley growers may be disappointed to learn that the Moore variety of barley which was developed about 5 years ago by the Wisconsin Experiment Station has been dropped as an approved maturing barley. Any one growing Moore barley must expect to market it at feed barley prices. It is a good variety to grow if the barley will be used as a livestock feed on the home farm. It has many desirable qualities to recommend it as a feed barley. It is no longer acceptable as a maturing barley and is not expected to sell for top market price.

Malting varieties include (1) Kindred or "L" type; (2) Montclair; (3) Oderbrucker; (4) Pedigree No. 38, which has lost much popularity in recent years.

Kindred is a six-rowed rough awned white barley and has good malting qualities. It is fairly early maturing and because of its rather weak straw lodges fairly early.

Montclair is a blue kernalled, six-rowed, smooth awned barley developed in Canada. It has good malting qualities. It is fairly stiff-strawed, and will be popular with Wisconsin farmers who grow barley for the malting trade in 1952.

Oderbrucker is one of our oldest varieties. It is rough-awned and in former years lost much popularity because of this characteristic. However, with the advent of the combine, this objection is largely disappearing. It has excellent malting qualities and a pump kernel. It is expected to be a fairly popular variety in 1952.

WHEAT VARIETIES

Henry wheat is the most commonly accepted variety. It is not a top quality bread wheat, but finds a ready market as a feed wheat. The Blackhawk variety is considered best as a winter wheat.

FLAX VARIETIES

Only a small acreage of flax is grown in Washington county. However, in 1952 it may replace certain other crops as a source of cash revenue.

Also baled flax straw of top quality brings good returns and which when added to what the seed brings, makes flax a desirable cash crop. The varieties recommended are Redon, Redwood, Bison, and Red Wing.

The above mentioned varieties to plant are intended as suggestions to those farmers wanting guidance in planning their spring crop planting program. Some may find other varieties even more desirable than those mentioned in this article.

A Toast to Wisconsin Dairymen...

America's Dairyland

Bread made with nonfat milk solids is rapidly becoming the toast of America, thanks to the advertising and educational programs of the American Dairy Association.

Bakers and housewives are learning that milk solids not only increase the food value of bread, but make it taste better and stay fresh longer.

Your neighbors, the dairymen of Wisconsin, actively support and participate in these and other A.D.A. programs, such as soil conservation, which contribute so much toward better business and better living.

We believe they deserve a rousing cheer from all Wisconsin.

CAPITOL ARCHITECT

Staff Works Months to Renovate Capitol Building for Congress

By Anne Mattingly
WNU Washington Bureau

Belying its weathered and hoary walls, the century-and-a-half-old national capitol building presented a spruce appearance when lawmakers returned for the second session of the 82nd congress on January 8. Dominating the city of beautiful buildings, the gleaming white dome, surmounted with its figure of freedom, many priceless paintings refurbished, walls inside gleaming with fresh paint, shimmering chandeliers, hundreds of statues washed and polished, floors scrubbed and painted, many major jobs of plumbing and electrical work and the constant upkeep tasks, bore the mark of several months of unremitting labor by David Lynn, architect of the capitol and his corps of men and women workers.

The architect of the capitol has charge of the structural and mechanical care of the United States capitol building. He is also responsible for arrangements, in cooperation with the proper authorities, for ceremonies held in the building and on the grounds which comprise 131.1 acres.

He is also charged with the structural and mechanical care of the senate and house office buildings, the capitol power plant, the legislative garage, the library of congress building and grounds, the United States Supreme Court building and grounds, the United States Court of Claims buildings, the United States Court of Appeals building, and the Columbia Hospital for Women.

The architect of the capitol is also the acting director of the Botanical Garden, and is charged with its operation as well as the house and senate restaurants. He serves as a member of the Capitol Police Board, the Commission for Enlarging of the Capitol Grounds, the District Zoning Commission, and the National Capitol Housing Authority. With all these duties, the architect maintains a staff of 950 persons.

THE CORNERSTONE of the capitol was laid September 18, 1793. The north wing of the old building, containing the senate chamber, now known as the old Supreme Court room, was constructed between 1793 and 1800. The senate chamber was ready for occupancy for the second session of the sixth congress which met November 17, 1800. The south wing, containing the house chamber, now known as Statuary Hall, was constructed between 1800 and 1811, and was completed for the first session of the tenth congress October 26, 1807.

After the British burned the capitol building in 1814, congress met in a brick building in northwest Washington known as Biddgett's Hotel, but the accommodations were inadequate. A group of public spirited citizens pushed a larger wooden building on Capitol Hill on the site of the present Supreme Court building and offered it to congress. The offer was accepted and the first session of the fourteenth congress was held there. Both houses continued to occupy this building until the capitol was restored in 1819.

The addition of the present house wing in 1857 and the senate wing in 1859 made the construction of a new dome necessary for the preservation of architectural symmetry. The dome of the original central building was made of wood covered with copper. This was replaced by the present one of cast iron, completed in 1865.

The first major changes in the house and senate chambers during the more than 90 years of their occupancy were made between 1949 and 1951. Temporary steel girders were removed and the old roof and skylights were replaced with a new roof of concrete and steel construction, covered with sheet copper. The cast iron and glass ceilings were replaced with new ones of stainless steel and plaster. Alterations were made in the interior of each chamber from floor to ceiling, with modern air conditioning and lighting. Changes and improvements were also made in the cloakrooms and other adjacent areas.

The 250,000 tourists who visit the building each year, as well as the congressmen and their staffs, and citizens generally can be proud of Mr. Lynn's work during his 29 years of stewardship as overseer of the capitol, to which part he was appointed by President Coolidge in 1923.

Star Dust

By INEZ GERHARD

ON the strength of their performances in Horizon Pictures' "The African Queen" Katharine Hepburn and Humphrey Bogart make a strong claim to the 1952 Oscars; both are superb. Throughout almost the entire picture they are alone, yet the interest never lags. At times the excitement is almost too keen; this one is a real thriller. Directed by John Huston and made in Africa.

HUMPHREY BOGART

In Technicolor, it is beautifully done; casting Robert Morley in a secondary role is an example of the effort that was made to turn out a perfect production. Hollywood's severest critics will have a hard time finding fault with "The African Queen."

"Hollywood Star Playhouse," a new dramatic NBC radio show emanating from Hollywood, makes its network debut on Sunday the 24th at 5:00 E.S.T. The half-hour program features name stars in original dramas.

Sandra Michael's "Against the Storm," the only daytime radio serial ever to win the Peabody Award, was named the best daytime dramatic show in the 16th annual FAME poll of the country's radio editors, made by Motion Picture Daily. The Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz television show, "I Love Lucy," won the title of "Most promising female star" for Lucille.

Old West Has Given Way to Modern Civilization

By Wright A. Patterson

I KNEW the old west, the west of Indian fighting days, only through the experiences of acquaintances who had been a part of that valiant little regular army of under 25,000 men, which subjugated the Indians and opened the plains and mountains from the Missouri river through the Rocky mountains.

Among those I knew was Gen. Nelson A. Miles, then commanding the department of the Missouri, with headquarters in Chicago. As Chicago correspondent of the Army and Navy Journal, it was a part of my job to call on the general each week, seeking news of the army.

From him I never secured very much of his experiences in the Indian wars. He was much more interested in telling me of his social engagements. At that time he was a social lion in Chicago, made much of by the society leaders, and he liked it. Another of the general officers of that old army was Gen. Frank Richardson, but his experiences were more in Alaska, than in the west, though he had commanded army posts and troops in the west. Then there was Gen. Charles King, of whose stories of the western army I never missed one so far as I know. An hour with King was favorite entertainment for me.

But a standby at all times was Major George F. Lee. Lee had enlisted in the army as a private in the late 60's or early 70's. He later was commissioned as an officer and before retirement had risen to the rank of major. He had participated in practically all of the campaigns against the Indians and knew the west as a boy might know his father's farm.

He was in the campaign that defeated Geronimo and his Apaches. It was Lee's description of Tucson that gave me the urge to see that place. Now I have visited Tucson, but I did not find the place he had so vividly described. Instead of a little trading post with trains of Conestoga wagons on their way to the gold fields of California, I found a beautiful modern city, a place of fine homes, of magnificent hotels, beautifully landscaped.

Instead of pioneers and their families moving west, there are veritably thousands of tourists enjoying the sunshine and looking, as I was for that old west that has given way to comfort and civilization. Instead of the old army post, with its squadron or two of cavalry, a battery or two of light artillery and a regiment of infantry, there is a mammoth air field for great bombing planes, B-50's, that may some day be called upon to visit Moscow and pay respects to Joe Stalin.

But there is much of the atmosphere of the Tucson that Lee knew still to be found in Tucson.

Today the Santa Rita hotel occupies the ground that in George Lee's day was the shack of the army sutler. To me that corner was holy ground. I could easily imagine George Lee critically looking over the shack in that effort to decide what he could afford to buy with his private's pay of $13 a month. Today fine, well stocked stores have taken the place of the sutler's shack.

Up in the mountains, some five miles outside the city limits, there is old Tucson, a place that is typical of what George Lee had pictured to me. It is but a village of adobe huts, all of them occupied by Indian families, with no one of them appearing to be livable. That village is characteristically Indian of the old west days, except there is no fight in any of the inhabitants.

The prosperity of the Tucson of today is based on cattle. That is evident from the people on the streets and in hotel lobbies, ranchmen and bow legged cow men, with ten gallon hats, tight fitting high-heeled boots and spurs.

But Tucson is not the place that was described to me by Maj. George Lee, Col. Brinkerhoff, Private Mike Mills, and others. Today it is a good place to go to, and because of its climate, its attractiveness, the hospitality of its people, and the atmosphere of the old west, it is a hard place to leave.

Socialism by whatever name it may be called is still socialism, of which America wants none.

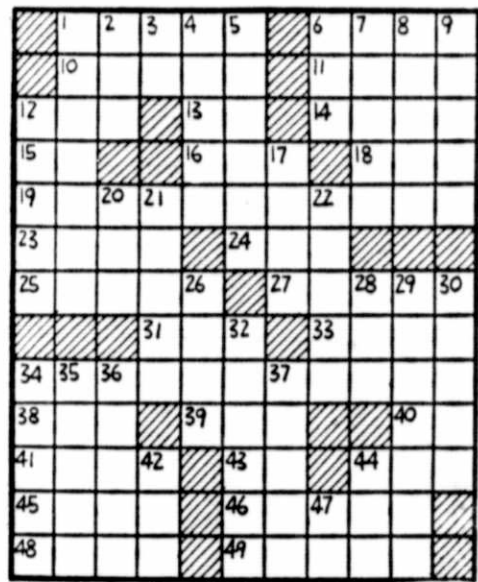

The farm organizations are asking that farm subsidies be withdrawn. They are hearing from the five urban votes, and are wise.

MacArthur proposes to have a part in evicting the tenant from the White House.

THE FICTION CORNER

CIGARETTE TRICK

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

JOE Frazer finished his dinner, pushed back his chair and produced a cigarette. Extending his left hand horizontally, palm down, he placed the cigarette thereon, struck his left wrist sharply with his right hand and the cigarette opened his mouth.

The cigarette bounded into the air, somersaulted and missed popping into Joe's mouth by a hair. Joe giggled good-naturedly and repeated the operation. On the fifth try his lips caught the somersaulting cigarette in mid-air and held on. Joe gurgled triumphantly and struck a match.

Watching this performance from across the table, Bess, Joe's wife, considered screaming hysterically, but controlled herself. Instead she decided on another course . . .

A year before they were married, when Joe and Bess first met, Bess had thought it was cute. Like all of Joe's ways, the first time it happened they had dined at a tiny country inn. After the meal Joe had produced a cigarette, tried four times to successfully perform his trick, and succeeded on the fifth attempt. Joe was clever at other things, too.

But the cigarette gag was his special achievement. During the year that elapsed before they were married Bess must have seen him perform it a hundred times.

After the first hundred, Bess began to weary of the cigarette trick a little. She didn't say so, of course, because Joe was pretty proud of his achievement.

And so they were married. They went to Maine for a week's honeymoon, and Bess saw the cigarette trick performed, without variation, 21 times. They came back to Worcester and began housekeeping. Joe resumed work and was gone all day. Dinner was the only meal he ate at home, and so Bess had to watch the cigarette trick only once on week days and three times on Sunday. But that was enough to drive her almost mad.

Joe was clever at other things, but the cigarette trick was his special achievement.

After six months of it she found herself waiting at the end of each meal for sight of Joe reaching for his cigarette, for sound of his gurgling laugh, for the vision of his triumphant grin. She felt like the condemned man who awaits the first shock of current.

She took measures to absent herself at the ritual, but they failed. Joe required an audience and he always waited patiently for her return. He expected her smile of approval.

Bess realized Joe thought the cigarette trick a noteworthy accomplishment. He was vain. It wouldn't do to ask him to stop. His ego couldn't stand the gaff. No, she had to think of some other way and think of it quickly, before the funny wagon backed up to their door one day and took her away . . .

Joe applied the match to his cigarette, inhaled deeply and exhaled contentedly. His look was the look of a man of smugness, complacency, superiority. Joe was clever. Joe knew it. He was the life of every party, because he knew so many cute tricks.

Bess reached for the cigarette box. She drew forth a cigarette. She extended her left hand outward horizontally, palm down. She placed the cigarette thereon. She suspended her right hand above the wrist of her left and smiled at Joe.

Joe's idle interest quickened. He was amused. Poor Bess.

"Try it," Joe urged patronizingly. "Go ahead and try it. See how you make out."

Bess tried it. She smacked her left wrist sharply. Up bounded the cigarette, somersaulted. Bess' mouth opened. Her head remained stationary. The white cylinder, as if responding to a magnet, darted toward her lips. She caught it and hung on.

Joe's jaw dropped. His eyes bulged. He gaped.

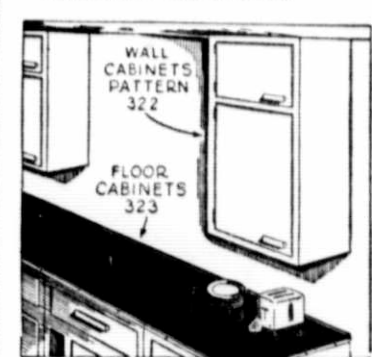

Bess gurgled triumphantly and struck a match. "The first try," she chortled. "No four out of five for me."

Joe Frazer no longer performs his cigarette trick for the entertainment of wife and friends. Bess is happy. She hopes Joe won't develop any more cute tricks. It takes too much time and patience to perfect them. Two hours every day for two months.

It's Wonderful the Way Chewing-Gum Laxative Acts Chiefly to REMOVE WASTE - NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's the secret millions of folks have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing-gum laxative. Yes, here is why FEEN-A-MINT's action is so wonderfully different! Doctors say that many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon . . . right in the stomach where food is being digested. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy. You feel weak, worn out.

But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes mostly waste, not good food! You avoid that typical weak, tired, run-down feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel your "peppy," energetic self—full of life! Get FEEN-A-MINT! No increase in price—still 25c, 50c or only 10c.

Big Saving. No Cooking. So Easy. You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds, when you try this splendid recipe. It gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money, and you'll find it truly wonderful for real relief. Make a syrup with 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any drugstore) in a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of medicine that will please you by its quick action. It never spoils, and tastes fine—children love it.

This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing. Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its quick action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Sinus Trouble Aided Star to Radio Fame

Sinus trouble is not usually a stepping stone to success, but it was in the case of radio's fabulous "Lonesome Gal."

Jean King had been a smash hit over Dayton's WING for two years as the purveyor of a frankly sentimental style designed to appeal to lonesome listeners. She acquired a large listening audience with a honey-voiced approach that goes something like this:

"Hi, baby. This is your Lonesome Gal who loves you better than anyone else in the whole world . . . Gee, I missed you over the weekend . . ."

But after two years in the east, Jean's sinuses were taking a beating from the weather and she packed up and headed for Hollywood. Although stations there were skeptical about her possibilities, she "packaged" her shows by tape recording for subscribing sponsors and then put it on KHJ, Los Angeles. It was then heard on four stations and grossed $185 a week. Today, it has more than 50 outlets in major cities in the U.S. and Canada and stands to gross a cool $150,000 to $200,000 in 1951!

Slaa Smut is Dane Answer To America's Football

COPENHAGEN—The world's oldest sport is probably played only in Denmark. It's "ducks and drakes"—the art of skimming stones over water.

The Danes call it slaa smut, and practice it as religiously as Americans do football. Club members are not content to use mere stones, they carve and chisel their own for tournament use. They feel they can do better with them.

A suggestion has been made to change the name of the Friday Nite Minor Handicap to the Campbellsport Major league. Steve and Sam must be putting some magic finishes on their alley beds the last few weeks. The league hopes these conditions will continue, because the keggers all like to get those astronomical scores.

Population "forecasters" think it likely that Wisconsin's population will rise from its present three and one-half million to more than three and three-fourths million by 1950, and to four and one-fourth million by 1975.

Religious Leaders Laud Heart Fund

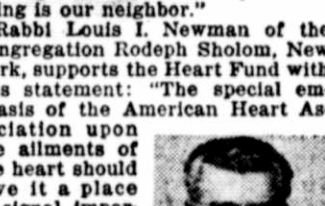

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish religious leaders have given warm endorsements to the Heart Fund campaign being conducted by the American Heart Association and its affiliates during the month of February.

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Minister Emeritus of the Riverside Church, New York, declared in a letter to Mr. Barton that "control of heart diseases is one of the most pressing problems of medical science, not only because of the tremendous toll it takes each year, but also because of the anxiety and readjustments it forces on bereaved families. 'No other form of disease,' Dr. Fosdick continued, 'affects so many persons, so many families. Since 10,000,000 Americans are estimated to be affected by these diseases, it is a fortunate person, indeed, who does not number a loved one as a victim. In simple Christian charity it is the duty of all to do everything possible to control this scourge.'

Dr. Fosdick

Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, also wrote: "In this time of national crisis we know what it means to be alerted to the need of a strong defense, defense of America and our heritage of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. We know our duty as patriots. But as true patriots it is also our duty to protect America against Enemy Number One to the health of our nation—heart disease—the enemy which is the cause of 10 of every 25 deaths in the United States.

Rabbi Newman

"Therefore, do we gladly cooperate with the American Heart Association in its efforts to support and extend research into the causes and cure of this dread scourge. We should remember that the heart which we help to save may be our own, or the heart of a loved one, or the heart of a neighbor—and in the war against disease every human being is our neighbor."

Rabbi Louis I. Newman of the Congregation Rodeph Shalom, New York, supports the Heart Fund with this statement: "The special emphasis of the American Heart Association upon the ailments of the heart should give it a place of signal importance in the favorable attention of the nation. Nature continues to baffle us, whatever our scientific progress, and the decrease of deaths by diseases which formerly seemed incurable has been accompanied by heavy ravages due to heart illnesses. "Therefore, the Heart Fund is rendering an even more valuable service in seeking to alleviate the suffering and loss to society which heart affections entail. There is every reason to believe that the American Heart Association can prove itself one of humanity's chief benefactors today. But generous public support is required, and it is earnestly hoped that a multitude of contributions from all walks of life will give to the Heart Fund the necessary resources for its great work."

Cardinal Spellman

Mr. Barton pointed out that contributions can be sent either directly to any of the affiliated heart associations or to the simple address: "Heart, care of Post Office."
