

Board Acts On Parking Hazards

Regular Meeting July 7, 1952 The Village Board of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, met in regular monthly meeting with President C. Miller presiding and all board members present except Trustee Hansen. The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

Village Attorney Haebig reported that the revision of the village ordinances has been almost completed and suggested that the chair appoint a committee to revise these revisions before presentation for final approval.

Mr. Ed. Fickler appeared to inquire what grade levels had been established for the street and the sidewalk bordering his lot in the Belger addition.

Mr. L. L. Rosenheimer presented to the board the plot of the second addition to Roseland Heights. This plot was turned over to the village attorney for examination before being approved.

Mr. L. N. Peterson appeared to inquire what sidewalk grade, if any, had been established along the front of his lot on Forest Ave.

The board discussed the parking hazard on Fond du Lac Ave. between Main and Second streets. They suggested that the police officer contact the owners of cars parked all day in this area and encourage them to use the village parking lot on Main street.

The committee on streets was asked to bring in at the next meeting its recommendations for this year's street repair program.

Motion by A. Martin, seconded by M. Schaefer and carried that the applications of Marcelia Harbeck, Mrs. Robert McKee and John C. Muckerheide for an operator's license be approved and that such a license be issued to each upon payment of the proper fee.

All Sunday Ball Games Rained Out

A rain and windstorm early Sunday afternoon flooded out all baseball and softball games scheduled to be played in the area.

The Honeck Chevrolets of the Land o' Lakes league were scheduled to play at Grafton. This Sunday they have a home game booked with the strong Mequon team, which is running neck and neck with them for third place. In the first meeting recently Kewaskum shaded Mequon 3-2 in a disputed contest. Mequon protested the defeat after the game was over and League Director Martin Weber of Merton ordered it to be replayed in a doubleheader here Sunday. Manager Kilian Honeck, Jr. of Kewaskum claims that the protest was not legal, the victory was won fair and square and that his team will not replay the tilt.

Other games Sunday find Saukville at West Bend, Grafton at Granville, and Germantown at Newburg. Slinger plays at Cedarburg in a night game next Friday.

In the Rock River league Juneau was scheduled to play at Kewaskum and this contest was cancelled until a later date. This Sunday Hustiford plays at Kewaskum and this battle will get under way at 10 a. m. because the Lakes team has an afternoon home game. In other tilts Juneau is at Barton and Leroy at Allenton.

In the Cross Country Softball loop New Fane's game at Kewaskum was also rained out as were all others. This Sunday Wayne, comes to Kewaskum, Nabob plays at West Bend and Eden goes to Beechwood. New Fane has a bye. All of Kewaskum's ball teams play at home Sunday so come out and have a big day of baseball and softball enjoyment.

Two members of the third place Kewaskum Chevrolets squad were selected last week to play with the northern division all-stars of the Land o' Lakes league in a players' accident benefit game with league leading Granville next Tuesday night, July 29. The game will be played at the West Bend park starting at 8 p. m.

Kewaskum players selected to the team by the managers in the league included Lloyd Petermann, third baseman, and Norman Heid, outfielder. Grafton is well represented on the all-star team with five players selected. West Bend and Mequon have three apiece, and all other teams have two with the exception of Saukville with one.

The team consists of the following:

Pitchers—Jim Boldt, West Bend; Don Rennieke, Mequon; R. Eernisse, Grafton; B. Helm, Saukville. Catchers—Bill Mayer, Slinger; Mueller, Grafton. First basemen—Buczyk, Mequon; Schladweiler, Newburg. Second basemen—Frank, West Bend; Walters, Germantown. Third basemen—Hetebrugg, Newburg; Petermann, Kewaskum. Shortstops—May, West Bend; Haas, Grafton.

Outfielders—Held, Kewaskum; Dickmann, Grafton; Hornig, Germantown; Behling, Cedarburg; Verhallen, Cedarburg; Wagner, Slinger. Utility players are Fred Timm of Grafton and Otting of Mequon.

All-star managers are Timm of Grafton and W. Rennieke of Mequon. Bob Mayer of Slinger was selected as coach.

The probable starting lineup for Granville will be Loden, second; Buczyk, third; E. Gengler, short; Getzlaff, first; H. Gengler, right; Devoll, center; Batzler, pitcher.

Cancer Fund Drive to Open Next Week; Marth is Chairman

Wm. J. Marth, chairman of the 1952 Cancer Fund drive in Washington county, has announced that letters will go out early next week to all residents of the county urging them to support the fight against cancer with generous contributions in order that this year's quota may be reached in a short time. As in the past, Marth said, there will be no direct door to door solicitation. Instead, the fund drive will be conducted entirely by mail, a method which has proved successful in several past fund campaigns of the county cancer committee.

"The fight to conquer cancer must go on and we should all join in that fight in order that research can be expanded," Marth said in announcing the opening of the 1952 fund campaign. Statistics indicate that the toll taken by cancer in

WILLIAM J. MARTH

Washington county during the past year was more than 40 persons, Marth observed, pointing out that cancer is becoming more prevalent as the average life span of man is extended.

"Each and everyone of us has a stake in the never-ending battle to conquer cancer, and those of us who cannot do our part as research experts can best help by providing the funds so badly needed to carry on the fight," Marth said, adding that he hopes "every resident of the county will make use of the opportunity of becoming a helper in the fight against this disease."

Precinct chairmen have been appointed to assist Marth in every sector of the county and letters bearing the signature of these chairmen will go into the mail next week. Those named to precinct chairmanships are: Lehman Rosenheimer, Sr., village of Kewaskum; William Kratz, village of Slinger; O. P. Butzke, village of Jackson; LaVerne Schatzel, village of Germantown; Herb, Matebauer, village of Barton; A. J. Cleary, town of Erin; Albert A. Ehling, town of Richfield; G. A. Eickman, town of Addison; Merton Murray, town of Farmington; Guido Schroeder, town of West Bend; Al Seefeldt, town of Kewaskum; Lawrence Hazel, town of Trenton; Clarence Gumm, town of Jackson; Hugo J. Dhein, town of Germantown; Mrs. Wm. Dieterich, town of Hartford; Edwin Hausman, town of Barton; Edwin Kratz, town of Polk; and Victor Bauer, town of Wayne. Co-chairmen for the city of Hartford are Walter Oberberger and H. E. Pelzer.

General Chairman Wm. J. Marth will serve as West Bend city chairman with the assistance of Mrs. Robert Dunlop.

DRIVER HURT AFTER CAR RUNS IN DITCH

An auto driven by August Bilgo, Jr., Kewaskum, was damaged early Sunday when it went into a ditch on the Kewaskum hill on Hwy. 55, a half mile south of the village. Traveling north, the driver apparently dozed at the wheel and his machine crossed the highway and ran into the ditch on the opposite side. Bilgo was not injured in the mishap but suffered a deep laceration when he walked into a sharp piece of chrome projecting out from the ditched car.

Kohl Buys Maaske Building Service

Allen Kohl, who has been in business with Harry H. Maaske, Kewaskum realtor, in the Maaske Building Service, has purchased the business from Maaske, the latter announced this week. The two had been in the business for the past year.

Along with the transaction, Kohl leased the entire Maaske building on North Fond du Lac avenue, which houses a warehouse, Lenore's restaurant and the office rooms in which Dr. J. L. Raschnbacher will open a practice in the very near future. Kohl also leased Maaske's home adjoining the building. However, Maaske will continue to have his office in the building and occupy the home until Sept. 1.

Kohl will discontinue operating the company under the old name. In the future it will be known as the King Kohl Company. Maaske is discontinuing the building business and will devote his time exclusively to the real estate business. All of the building business will now be handled through the King Kohl Company, builders of low cost masonry homes.

During the past year the Maaske Building Service built 11 homes and also the large Maaske building on Highway 55 in the village.

Kewaunee Noses Out Chevs in Tournament

The Kewaskum Chevrolets participated in the Northeastern Wisconsin Semi-Pro baseball tournament at Plymouth last week. The meet champion will be eligible to compete in the state semi-pro tournament to be held at Borchert Field in Milwaukee.

Kewaskum met Kewaunee at 7 p. m. Wednesday in their first game of the tourney and was nosed out 3-2, in a pitchers battle that went seven innings. Jim Boldt of the West Bend Boosters in the Lakes league did the pitching for Kewaskum and did a bangup job. He allowed eight hits, struck out seven and did not give up a single base on balls. C. Casper, Kewaunee hurler, held the Chevs to six hits, whiffed 10 and passed two.

Kewaskum was leading, 2-1, going into the seventh and last inning but Kewaunee came through with two runs in that frame to pull out a victory. They blasted out a triple, single and double in the 7th. Casper struck out all three Kewaskum batters in the last inning.

Jerry Stautz was the only Chevrolet player with two hits. Barney Frost poled a double and Augie Bilgo a triple for the losers. E. Roehig and R. Roehig got two hits apiece for Kewaunee.

The setback eliminates Kewaskum from further competition in the tournament.

DELEGATES AT STATE LEGION CONVENTION

Almost 2,400 delegates and alternates, plus thousands of visitors, swarmed into Eau Claire last week end when the Wisconsin American Legion held its 1952 convention on July 18, 19 and 20 at the Memorial building of the Johnson Nicols post.

Delegates of Robert G. Romaine Post 384, Kewaskum, attending the convention were Ralph Marx, newly elected post commander; Ray Zeimet, past commander, and Clayton Stautz. Delegates of the Legion Auxiliary were Mrs. Marx and Mrs. Fred Miller.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

An ice cream social sponsored by the Young People's society of Trinity Lutheran church, Dundee, will be held in the church basement on Saturday, July 26, starting at 7 p. m.

Firemen Participate in Civil Defense Run

All protective services of Washington and Ozaukee counties, including fire, police, medical, engineering, transportation, and communications, converged on Germantown and Menomonee Falls Sunday afternoon in a civil defense test ordered by the Wisconsin civil defense office. Fifteen fire departments, including Kewaskum, members of division "A" of Mobile Battalion No. 2 participated in the run.

Units from West Bend, Barton, Allenton, Hartford, Jackson, Kewaskum, Fredonia, Cedarburg, Germantown, Grafton, Mequon, Pt. Washington, Saukville, Thiensville and Waubesa took part. The test run provided an opportunity check on the time required by a mobile civil defense battalion to reach a certain area, and also provided a check on the joint movement of a battalion division in convoy.

Units from Waukesha, Racine, Kenosha and Walworth counties, which make up the remainder of Battalion No. 2 setup, also participated in the test.

The purpose of the trial runs is to move equipment and set up a protective "ring" around the heavy industrial area of Milwaukee in the event of a major attack on that city. After units arrived at Germantown, they reported to Madison Mobile Defense headquarters.

County Fair Now On at Slinger Grounds

The Washington county fair is now in progress at the Slinger fair grounds. It will run through Sunday. About 25 tents house the many commercial exhibits that feature this year's fair. Also, three large tents provide shelter for the extra livestock and poultry that cannot be sheltered in the regular fair barns. The highway shop building is filled to capacity with exhibits such as clothing, canning, frozen foods, flowers, culinary, and vegetables and crops of the 1952 season.

The Snapp Greater Shows and Rides furnish an attractive and well-lighted midway for the delight of both young and older folks. They carry 14 rides and 8 shows, practically all of which are new equipment.

The farm machinery section occupies the entire southern portion of the fair grounds. Most makes of farm machinery are represented.

Saturday afternoon will be children's day. All youngsters will be able to enjoy the rides and the shows for 9c. Also, an appropriate two-hour stage program of special interest to children will be presented. This is a new feature of the fair, and one that should prove very popular with the children.

A free program is presented at 8:00 o'clock each evening and also on Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

A brief outline of the program for Saturday and Sunday follows: Saturday afternoon—Accordioners (Gigante Music Center); songs—Betty Mayer and Beverly Mayer; tap dance—Jack and Patricia Ennis; quartet—Koehn Concert-4; musical reading—Marilyn Lemke; songs—Kloth Trio.

Saturday evening—4-H Girls' Dress Revue, quartet—Koehn Concert-4; barbershop quartet, baton twirling—Constance Rhoades, twice national champion; musical reading—Marilyn Lemke; accordioners (Gigante Music Center).

Sunday evening—Jefferson American Legion band, barbershop quartet, baton twirling—Constance Rhoades; Ray Sommer's dog act, songs—Betty Mayer and Beverly Mayer; Young Adult club—amateur hour.

The Washington county fair is a free fair—no admission or parking charge. Come as often as you wish. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

HEE HAW! NOBODY WINS DONKEY GAME

The donkey baseball game sponsored by the Kewaskum American Legion post at the ball park Saturday night was attended by a large crowd of nearly 500 people. The grandstand was packed, the bleachers along both sides of the field were well filled, and many were standing.

The spectators laughed and howled with glee at the hilarious antics of the donkeys and their would be riders in the jackasscade in which the Legionaires took on Barney Strobel's Wayne team. Although the crowd really enjoyed the game the players got a bigger kick out of it, as they rushed, pulled, hugged, chased, nose dived and did everything but ride the donkeys.

As close as the scorekeeper could determine the game ended in a 6-4 tie but the Legion donkey busters claimed they won 7-6 and are going to protest the contest to the league director, Mike Muehlde of Braytown. Wayne tried to break the deadlock by having two players attempt to ride the donkeys in the last inning and thus score two runs at one time. They got on the bases but were out sliding (off the donkeys). Still this was some real strategy by Manager Strobel.

After the game the weary, battered and beat players got together at the Legion clubhouse for lunch and refreshments and patched their difficulties with gauze and tape. They thought about playing off the tie at Yankee stadium after the American league season closes, by which time they expect to be back in shape. Several big league scouts were in the stands but we are told the only player signed up so far is "Pee Wee" Boegel, who rode masterfully and scored game-saving runs for Wayne.

Red Cross Chapter Officers Elected

Members of the board of directors, West Bend chapter, American Red Cross, unanimously elected the Rev. D. L. Wandschneider to serve as chapter chairman for the coming year. He succeeds Fred R. Holt, whose term as a member of the board expired June 30. The election took place during the annual organization meeting held in the Red Cross office.

Other chapter officers elected for the coming year include Milton Meister, vice-chairman; Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, secretary; and Julius Fleischmann, treasurer.

Comprising the chapter executive committee along with the aforementioned officers are Mrs. Paul Bruhy, West Bend; August Koch, Kewaskum; Francis Aekermann, Jackson; John Horlamus, town of West Bend; Mrs. Clarence Kircher, Barton; Dr. June Hausmann-Dheit, West Bend; Ben Zinke, town of Jackson; and Donald T. Ripple, West Bend.

During the organization meeting reports on the National Red Cross convention at Cleveland were given by the chapter's two official delegates, Miss Janis Krueger, who attended the Junior Red Cross sessions, and Rev. Wandschneider. Mrs. Anna Gensman, who also attended, gave her impressions of the national convention.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK—Take it easy and live!

That was the good advice handed out to businessmen at the American Management Association's convention here. It was suggested that only the mortician business benefits from business leaders who insist on doing everything themselves and who won't take enough time off for relaxation.

Excellent performance is not based on "star" performers but on teamwork where everyone shares the responsibility and authority, Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the General Electric Company, said.

In other words: Get smart—go slower, do better, and live longer.

SUPER CARTEL—The International Materials Conference in which the United States and 27 other member nations are participating is undergoing closer scrutiny. John L. Collier, president of the B. F. Goodrich Company, has called the IMC a "super cartel," and labels it "a mechanism that could be used to force a basic revision in America's competitive economy." What makes such charges even more serious is the fact that the United States, according to Mr. Collier, is participating in this precarious inter-governmental commodity setup without the specific approval of Congress.

The International Materials Conference, through its committees, apportions available supplies of some scarce, essential raw materials; directs in a general way the usage each country may make of such materials, and seeks to stabilize prices. In essence, says Mr. Collier, it is a controlled-materials program on an international scale "with all the defects inherent in such schemes."

Both the House and Senate have already taken steps to end U. S. participation in this type of agreement.

THINGS TO COME—For summer fishing, a transparent lure—in which a minnow, nightcrawler or any other kind of bait can be placed—will make bait go further. The fish can be hooked but cannot nibble a free meal. . . A portable gummed tape dispenser for stockrooms and offices is on the market. The device has a spill-proof water tank and measures, moistens, applies and cuts tape in one operation. . . An automatic counter for testing Beta-ray contamination of laboratory workers has been introduced. . . A belt shortener for the mens' furnishings trade reduces the size of the belt and punches new holes in a jiffy. . . Businessman's delight: a water cooler that also dispenses coffee (black, or with cream or sugar or both) will be on the market soon. It should help end time losses due to "coffee breaks."

LIFE-SAVING FLUID—Private industry has now come up with a product that may prove to be the answer to plasma shortages in the event of disaster. Schenley Laboratories, Inc., of Lawrenceburg, Ind., recently sold 1,200,000 pints of a synthetic blood extender called PVP-Macroose to the Federal Civil Defense Administration for emergency stockpiling.

Though not intended as a blood substitute, PVP-Macroose can be used in an emergency until supplies of whole blood and plasma are made available. A single 500 c.c. injection will maintain circulating volume in an injured person for a period of 12 to 24 hours.

The synthetic solution does not require refrigeration, is inexpensive and can be made in virtually unlimited quantities. Despite the stockpiling order, however, donations of whole blood through the Red Cross are just as necessary as ever. Reserves of blood plasma depleted by the Korean conflict must be replaced.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Up to the middle of June approximately 34,500,000 tons of steel had been lost because of major strikes. . . Eastman Kodak pays its 200th consecutive dividend tomorrow. It hasn't missed since it began paying dividends in 1902. . . May newspaper output in North America was at a record 599,412 tons. . . Eighty per cent of all copper and aluminum producers are exempt from direct allocation control. Only the biggest users must continue to apply for allotments.

MINNESOTA MAKES FIRST COUNT OF BOW HUNTERS

For the first time a count of the bow and arrow deer hunters can be made, because separate licenses were sold for the 1951 season.

Frank D. Blair, director of the division of Game and Fish, reports 1,726 resident and 52 non-resident bow and arrow licenses were sold making a total of 1,778. The hunters took 43 deer, which is a 2.4 per cent hunting ratio success.

Farm laborers have fewer deaths by heart disease than any other occupational group.

On this 176th birthday of the Declaration of Independence the people of the world look with still burning hope to the statesman who shouted man's "Unalienable rights" to "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." As we celebrate the glorious Fourth we might well reflect how appropriate it is that Thomas Jefferson, who spelled out our abhorrence of tyranny, was our country's first Secretary of State. So it is fitting that the oppressed and dispossessed of the world should look to Jefferson on this anniversary of his truly enduring blueprint for the house liberty. And well might recall, in these times of international tension, that the bell which rang so jubilantly in Philadelphia that July afternoon the Declaration was ratified has inscribed upon it: "Proclaim Liberty to All the World and the People Thereof."

GOOD NEIGHBORS KEEP UP GOOD WORK

An operation interrupted Dale Turner's spring work at Stewartville, but 24 neighbors moved in with 19 tractors and other necessary equipment, and—presto! . . . A good deed should not send anyone to the hospital, but when R. F. Laswell slowed down for a duck brood crossing the highway a truck smacked the rear of his car and his spine was injured. . . When rheumatic fever kept Kenrich Majerus out of his Plainview fields neighbors plowed and planted 57 acres of corn. . . When John Halliday's home burned at Winton, fellow Oliver Iron workers made a substantial cash contribution.

ROTC Big Source Of Signal Corps Officers

Camp Gordon, Georgia—Some where in Korea, a lean, bronzed young Signal Corps lieutenant stands in the blazing sun, his steel helmet jammed down over his eyes, directing the installation of a field telephone switchboard. Across the world in Germany, another officer, also wearing the familiar crossed flags and burnish torch insignia of the Signal Corps, grins as he and his men strain to erect a radio antenna in the driving rain.

Wherever the United States Army maintains its farflung outposts, there, officers of the Signal Corps are present, trained, experienced, efficient, insuring that whatever the situation, whatever the conditions, the "message will go through."

With the armed forces greatly expanded, few of these officers can be West Point graduates. In time of peace, only a handful can be civilian technicians commissioned and ordered to active duty. Where, then, does the Signal Corps obtain these trained leaders?

The answer is simple. Large numbers of Signal Corps officers are trained each year in Reserve Officer Training Corps units at colleges and universities throughout the country. Joining the ROTC voluntarily, male students attend classes and drills as part of their regular college curriculum.

In addition, during the third year of their ROTC course, they must, if they desire reserve commissions, attend a six week long summer encampment operated by the Army. Here, they receive practical experience in leading men, living in the field, and operating the Signal Corps complex communications equipment.

This year, the Signal Corps ROTC camp is being held at Camp Gordon, near Augusta, in eastern Georgia. From June 21 to August 1, more than 1,000 Signal Corps ROTC cadets will train and study in the pine woods of this historic southern state.

Camp Gordon, home of the Signal Corps Training Center, is playing host to the fledgling officers for the first time this year. From 1947 to 1951, the camp was held at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, but expansion of activities there and the rapid growth of the ROTC program itself, made it necessary to move the camp to a location with more facilities for training.

For this, Camp Gordon is ideally suited. Situated in the pine woods of the Cracker state, the camp covers over 55,000 acres of ground, and has personnel and equipment to provide the cadets with every training advantage.

Successful completion of the camp will mean eligibility for commissions as reserve second lieutenants, upon graduation from college, for the majority of the cadets. A small group—carefully selected from among the outstanding men attending—will be awarded reserve commissions upon completion of the encampment.

Whenever and wherever the national defense program requires, the Signal Corps will have available for instant service a large, trained reserve of intelligent, experienced officers.

Barbecue Beef For Picnic Serving

Leisurely picnicking is a way of entertaining that's especially favored by the younger generation. It may be a picnic held either in your own yard or at a favorite picnic spot.

With many folks hamburgers are a "first" for picnic food. Here's a variation. Instead of serving hamburgers with all the trimmings, combine the meat, relishes and catchup for a barbecued ground beef. If it's a picnic at home, the barbecued meat may be served on big buns in your kitchen, or if you're traveling to the picnic, place the meat in a thermos or jar. Cover it tightly and wrap the jar in several thicknesses of newspaper. The meat mixture will stay warm for some time. However, if you'll be eating much later it's wise to carry a frying-pan along for reheating the meat.

From Reba Staggs, home economist, comes this barbecued beef recipe for 6 to 8 servings. Slowly brown 1 pound of ground beef until it is crumbly. Then add 1 cup each of finely chopped onion, green pepper and catchup. Season with 1 tablespoon each of sugar and vinegar, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard and 1 teaspoon salt. Cover the meat and simmer for about 30 minutes.

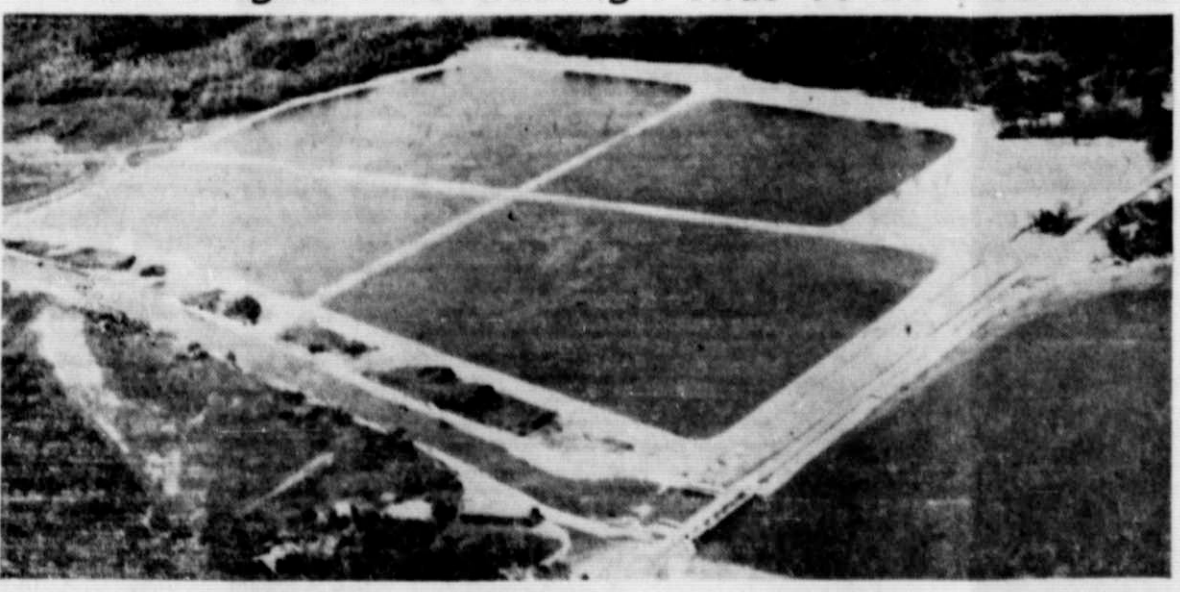

Be sure to take along plenty of potato chips and relishes to go with the barbecued beef on buns. You may want to add a casserole of baked beans for hungry young people. Chocolate brownies and bananas make an easy dessert.

For this, Camp Gordon is ideally suited. Situated in the pine woods of the Cracker state, the camp covers over 55,000 acres of ground, and has personnel and equipment to provide the cadets with every training advantage.

Successful completion of the camp will mean eligibility for commissions as reserve second lieutenants, upon graduation from college, for the majority of the cadets. A small group—carefully selected from among the outstanding men attending—will be awarded reserve commissions upon completion of the encampment.

Whenever and wherever the national defense program requires, the Signal Corps will have available for instant service a large, trained reserve of intelligent, experienced officers.

World's Largest Pike Rearing Ponds To Be Dedicated

More than a million walleye fingerlings will come annually from the world's largest pike rearing ponds at Lake Winnibigoshish to improve fishing for Minnesota's 1,600,000 anglers. The 51-acre pond set-up will be formally dedicated by Itasca county groups on June 21.

Lake Winnibigoshish is at the right of the picture, with the Mississippi river flowing to the left. The four ponds, 15 miles northwest of Deer River, can be filled or emptied individually, according to district fisheries supervisor Harley Hanson of Grand Rapids. A hatchery garage and living quarters will be constructed on the site at the upper right of the ponds.

Fisheries crews have placed 54,000 pounds of commercial fertilizer in the ponds this spring to make certain that there is enough food for the 3,260,000 walleye fry now in the ponds.

Ruin Awaits Those Who Would Depart From Wisdom's Path

IT is one thing to praise wisdom, but quite another thing to practice it. And the most unwise thing that can happen is to abandon wisdom once you have found it.

This is forcefully illustrated in the history of King Solomon, reputedly the author of the Book of Proverbs, and reputedly "the wisest man who ever lived."

At least two great and noble incidents are recorded of Solomon, and if all his life and action had been in accordance with these he surely would have deserved the fullest of his reputation for wisdom.

The one incident was the dream recorded in I Kings 3:5-12, in which, asked to choose whatever he desired from the Lord, he spoke in deep humility and asked, above all things, for an understanding heart to exercise good judgment and rule his people well.

The other outstanding incident was his prayer at the dedication of the Temple. Perhaps, like some addresses of other kings and rulers, it was written for him by some religious leader of saintly spirit and prophetic insight. But by delivering it Solomon made it his own, and if he had continued in the letter and spirit of that prayer he might have gone down in history as famous for his goodness and wisdom as he is for the outward splendor of his reign.

Instead Solomon took to himself many wives. Not content with the building of the Temple, he built for himself. In a great palace he surrounded himself with riches and luxury for which the people paid in oppressive taxes. Bearing it all while Solomon lived, they rebelled when his son Rehoboam succeeded him.

Solomon in the early part of his reign stands as a fine example and an exhortation to wisdom. But in the latter part he stands as a solemn warning of what happens to a man, even a great one, when he departs from wisdom.

Modern Doors Are Flush

IN THE "gingerbread" style of the early century, doors with ornate panels were considered "just the thing." Modern living has changed this. Today's homemakers prefer their doors without dust-catching panels; they want smooth surfaces that are kept clean without effort.

Leading builders and architects generally specify flush panel doors. Their unbroken expanses are pleasing in appearance and easy to maintain. Such doors also are reasonable in cost. In line with the trend to paint doors interesting colors, flush panel doors are particularly suited for such decoration.

Manufacturers, in many instances, are facing their doors with a smooth-surfaced panel known as Masonite Duolux. Their product is being used in various housing projects, among them the new Levittown, Pa., which is under construction for U. S. Steel Corporation employees at Fairless Works. Here, the 16,000 homes which eventually will house 70,000 persons, all have flush panel doors faced with Masonite Duolux.

Sports Afield

By Ted Kesting

The dove is the only bird that breeds in every state of the United States. Yet our leading conservationists are alarmed for fear that it might become extinct. The dove population is dwindling away in a rather alarming manner. Disease and bad weather have claimed many, but foremost is the scant food supply.

So it is good news that the U. S. Soil Conservation Service has announced a new dove food that might well be their salvation. It is the very common pokeberry.

Doves do not eat insects; they do not eat green foods; they will not eat bicolor lespedeza, the new quail food. Pokeberry is the only field perennial eaten by doves. And it grows from Florida to Texas, from Minnesota to New England. According to SCS biologist Verne E. Davison, once established it can be maintained year after year indefinitely.

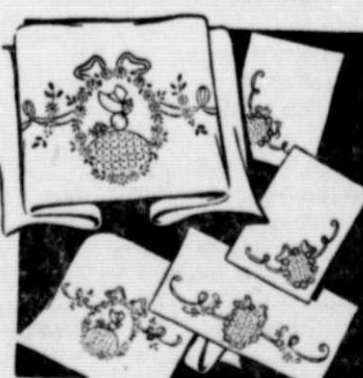

A number of other wildlife species eat the pokeberry fruits in summer and fall. Raccoons, opossums, foxes, mockingbirds and many other fruit-eating birds use the juicy berries; but only the pulp and juice are digested. The shiny black seeds pass thru in the droppings. Doves, and incidentally bobwhites, eat the seeds after the fruits have dried and will eat the seeds in droppings.

Pokeberry can be established by transplanting crowns but it is more practical to grow it from seed. There is no commercial supply of seed available as yet; but anyone who wants to grow pokeberry can do so by collecting the ripe berries and following directions put out by the Soil Conservation Service. I've had people tell me "You can't get people to plant pokeberry. They've been destroying the stuff all their lives." But farmers and sportsmen are learning. They fought it when they knew it only as a weed. They will plant it as a savior of doves.

Pokeberry has value to many kinds of American wildlife—but particularly to the mourning dove. This is another milestone in our search for a plant of high value to each species of American game. Nature alone cannot produce enough food for the game we want. We must feed two doves where there is scarcely food enough for one now.

QUESTION: We are planning to install a bath in our 7-room house which has two rooms on the second floor. Would it be better to install it on the upper floor or in a room which we are adding to the house?

ANSWER: For the sake of convenience it is best to locate a bathroom near a second floor bedroom, with a lavatory on the first floor. Should economy be important, an unfinished room is more easily converted. There is no need to rip out the finish and repair it later. It is easier to conceal pipes, brace fixtures into walls and build semi-recessed fixtures.

QUESTION: The outside of my garage is covered with asphalt shingles leaving the nail points showing on the inside. Would roll roofing placed between the 2x's on the inside to cover the nails and also to act as an insulator cause the garage to sweat?

ANSWER: While roll roofing can be used, anything rammed against it will cause punctures. The garage was not sweat, but moisture trapped inside the walls will condense and drip down the wall with or without insulation. If the garage is not sufficiently heated, using standard insulation with a dry wall finish will turn out a much better job.

QUESTION: I would like to use boiled linseed oil to dress up my tile floors. Can you tell me how long I must boil the oil before using it and if it will make my floors slippery?

ANSWER: Both boiled and raw linseed oil are obtainable at your local paint store and boiling at home is not necessary. Used like a floor wax on tile, it is an excellent polish. It is not sticky when dry and will not make the floor slippery.

Famous Recipe For Mosquito Dope

This is the time of year when we do our annual good deed for that vast army of folks who are allergic, according to Webster, to "any of certain insects (order Diptera, family Culicidae), having, in the females, needle like organs in the proboscis with which they puncture the skin of animals to suck their blood." Or, to put it bluntly—mosquitoes.

Now there are folks who claim immunity to the skeeters sting. This raises the question as to which is worse, the bite or the deadly drone of the night fighters as they invade your land of slumber.

In any event, we annually offer free of charge what we have found to be the best "mosquito dope" available. It is the formula of that great outdoorsman and mammalogist, the late Dr. Thaddeus Surber, former supervisor of fisheries for the Minnesota Department of Conservation. Each year we receive requests for the recipe, so here it is, again:

- Olive Oil, best quality . . . 4 oz.
- Beechwood Cresote . . . 1/4 oz.
- Gum Camphor . . . 1/4 oz.
- Oil of Pennyroyal . . . 1/4 oz.

Standard procedure is to dissolve the camphor gum in as small a quantity of alcohol as possible Do not use synthetic beechwood cresote.

Apply this concoction to exposed areas and the skeeters will pass you up as a meal-ticket.

Flavor Your Hamburgers With a Little Surprise

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

EVERYONE likes hamburgers. Everyone likes a pleasant surprise, too. So put the two together and you'll have an extra treat for the crowd.

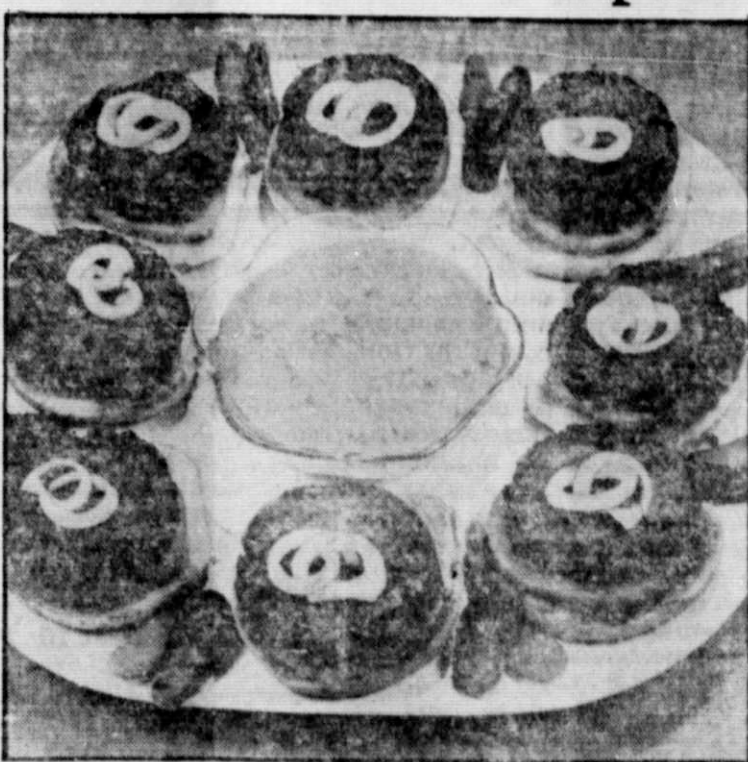

Always allow one pound hamburger for four good-sized servings. The more times meat is ground, the more compact the fibers become. Ready-to-use hamburger, sold under current government regulations, will by ruling be ground twice. The patties made by this ready-ground meat will be firm. If you prefer a juicier product, buy the beef by the piece and have it ground only once. Choose boneless chuck, round, neck or flank for this. If meat is particularly lean, add 2 ounces of suet for each pound of lean meat.

Hamburger Surprises (4 servings)—One pound hamburger, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/2 cup finely chopped onion, 1 slice bread, cut in 4 squares, 1/2 cup chili sauce.

Mix hamburger and seasoning. Divide hamburger into 8 equal portions. Shape each portion into a round patty about 3 inches in diameter. Melt butter or margarine in a large skillet. Add onions and bread squares. Stir and cook until onions are tender and bread is browned and crisp. Push onions and bread squares to one side of the skillet. Place one-fourth of the cooked onion and a toast square in the center of each patty. Place remaining 4 patties on top of bread squares. Seal edges of each 2 hamburger patties by gently pressing them together with the back of a spoon. When bottom patty is cooked through, turn it over and cook top patty. Turn carefully in order not to break the seal. Cook about 7 1/2 minutes on each side. Place cooked surprise on slices of tomato and then place on lightly toasted bun. Heat chili sauce in skillet until very hot and serve over the surprises.

Deviled Hamburger Patties (4 servings)—One pound hamburger, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup crushed cornflakes, 1 tablespoon fat, 10 pimiento olives, sliced, 1 can condensed cream of tomato soup.

Season hamburger with salt and pepper. Add cornflakes. Form into patties 1 inch thick. Brown in hot fat in heavy skillet. Add

Hamburger Surprises on sliced tomatoes served with hot chili sauce.

Cash In Circulation Now Adds Up To $400 For Every Worker In U. S.

An interesting phenomenon that has prevailed in this country since the end of the last war is the abnormal amount of cash that has been accumulated and held by the people at large, contrary to prudence and to sound individual money practices.

The total of currency now outside the banking system figures out to the equivalent of around $400 for every member of the working population, including the armed forces. The comparable figure in 1939 was only $113, while throughout the prosperous period of the Twenties the total currency in circulation outside banks was never more than the equivalent of $100 for every person in the working population.

Big Bills Increase Most
What makes this expansion all the more unusual is that an increasingly large part of the money in circulation consists of bills of denominations that most people would not ordinarily use in every-day transactions. For example, bills of $20 and more, considered together, now make up more than three-fifths of all the cash outstanding, as against less than half before World War II. And $100 bills alone, of which there are more than $5 billions now outstanding, represent nearly one-fifth of the total money in circulation.

Figures compiled by the Federal Reserve System show that money in circulation outside the banking system reached a peak of $26.7 billions at the end of 1946, more than four times the 1939 total. In the next four years, 1947 through 1950, the total dropped more than a billion dollars. This downturn was reversed last year, and the current figure for cash outside the banking system is in the neighborhood of $26 billions. About four-fifths of this cash belongs to individuals.

The whole economy, of course, has grown greatly in the past decade, and the general price level has nearly doubled as well. These and other factors would help to explain the need for a very much larger amount of cash for personal and business reasons than existed previously.

Growth Factors Compared
Nonetheless, the amount of cash now in the hands of the public has grown substantially more than can be attributed to economic factors alone, as indicated in the following comparisons between 1939 and 1951:

- Gross national product—up from $91.3 billions to $327.8 billions, a rise of 259 per cent.
  - Total wage and salary income—up from $45.7 billions to $169.7 billions, a gain of 271 per cent.
  - Consumer expenditures—up from $67.5 billions to $205.5 billions, a gain of 204 per cent.
  - Currency outside banks—up from $6.4 billions to $26.3 billions, an increase of 311 per cent.
- Cash in circulation has also increased considerably more proportionately than have bank deposits. The total of currency outside banks is now the equivalent of around one-seventh of all bank deposits in the nation, including savings accounts and Postal Savings, a ratio nearly half again as great as prevailed before World War II.

The Whys and Wherefores
It is natural for a situation like this to arouse widespread speculation as to its causes. There can be little doubt, for one, that the savings element has been a significant expansion factor, even though shuffling away cash is hardly a sensible or economically productive way for an individual to save. In this connection, it should be noted that the growth of money in circulation over the

Skin Changes As Person Ages

Most of the skin changes occurring from infancy to old age are part of a normal process of growing older, and as such should cause no alarm, states a bulletin from the Minnesota State Medical association.

But, the presence of pronounced changes—intense itching, acne, enlargement or discoloration of a pigmented mole, or the development of warts or over-thickening of the skin during middle or old age—should be checked for diagnosis and treatment. They may indicate something more serious.

In early infancy the skin is delicate and must be bathed with oil. Most skin diseases in infants are inborn—some of these nevi, or birthmarks, disappear by themselves, others respond to x-rays or treatment with a needle, others cannot be treated. Such marks rarely become cancerous.

During adolescence, the most common skin change is acne, and it occurs mostly in persons with oily skin. The best treatment is a proper diet, and perfect cleanliness. Ultraviolet light, x-ray and hormone therapy are useful in severe cases.

During pregnancy the most common skin change is pigmentation—a discoloration usually on the face and neck. Sometimes striped lesions appear on the body. Hair growth sometimes increases. The face may appear puffy and coarse. Most of these changes disappear after labor.

The most common skin change in older people is a thickening of the outer skin layers. Those changes on exposed surfaces may turn into cancer and should be checked. The skin is also drier and fewer hot baths should be taken. Mild soaps should be used. Sometimes abnormal skin itching is a local infection from some underlying disease, and aid should be sought from the family physician or a skin specialist.

Fashion appeal in eyeglass frames is assuming an importance today that is long overdue. More people are wearing eyeglasses with the assurance that comes from being well groomed and well dressed. Glasses are now considered as important an accessory as your hat, your gloves, handbag.

Eyeglasses were destined to be influenced by the dictates of fashion. They occupy a prominent place in front of the most expressive and conspicuous feature of the face—the eyes. It was inevitable that designers would bring their talents to creating eyeglass frames that would flatter the features and be correct for the many social, business and recreational activities of the day and evening.

For every occasion, every purpose, every hour, the right eyeglasses add the proper note of smartness and sophistication. Glasses for office or business wear should be tailored to the type of costume you wear. You might choose from any number of appropriate styles in tortoise shell, clear or colored plastics and the newer lightweight aluminum alloys.

For sportswear there are frames detailed with leather or laminated plaids, straws, even wood in plastic. For evening wear you might choose a frame that features jewels or gold or silver ornamentation.

The three principal categories are work glasses, play glasses and dress glasses. Within these three groups, the wearer's fancy can set the limit.

Rye bread makes delicious croissants to toss with a green salad. Remove the crust from several slices of the bread, cut into cubes, and brown lightly in salad oil. Save the crusts to use in turkey stuffing.

For a quick supper dish mix cooked noodles, chunks of canned salmon, and white sauce together. Turn into a baking dish and reheat in the oven; sprinkle with minced parsley before serving.

When you're making yeast rolls shape some of them into bow knots. Just roll the dough to one-fourth inch thickness; cut into strips about one-half inch wide and six inches long; tie into single knots.

Avoid rny off flavors from grass silage in milk by feeding the silage right after milking and not within four hours before the next milking, says George Werner, dairy husbandman at the University of Wisconsin.

School Meetings in County Best in Years

The past annual school meetings were the best had in the county for many years, reports Harry D. Sheski, county superintendent of schools. The attendance in most cases has been very good. The top average in the rural and graded districts was about 35 people and in the lower bracket about 12. These average attendance far surpass those of the past years.

The school board members must be given credit for having done an excellent job of alerting the people. In one instance, the attendance did not please the board, so the meeting was adjourned to another date and each board member took a certain number of electors and made personal calls insisting that everyone attend the adjourned meeting. In another district, the meeting was adjourned to another date so that the newly appointed committees could report on facts obtained in the interim. The assignment of the committees being that of investigating how the services of the school could be improved and what such improvements would cost.

The county superintendent also wishes to thank the newspapers for their roll in encouraging the people to attend. Certainly these news articles and editorials helped to get the people out to the meeting.

Countywide action seems to be in progress in making the schools serve better. Many districts voted to obtain new seating facilities, the drilling of wells, installing indoor toilets, and even in some instances, the building of an additional classroom. All of these actions indicate that the people of the county are now very interested in the education of their children.

Again this year your county superintendent kept vigil throughout the night watching for the school clerk who would be first to turn in the completed report. At 11:30 p. m. sharp Harry Hoelz, clerk of joint district 7 and 12, Poik township, drove up, thereby keeping his title of again being the first. However, this was at the superintendent's residence, and therefore consideration has to be given to the clerks who turn in the reports at the office. The secretary reported that when she came, she found Harry Oelhafen sitting on the top step, with his younger brother Jake, clerk of district No. 7, Addison, sitting on the lower step next to Harry. From this, we surmise that Harry was first, as he later stated. This is getting to be quite a close contest, especially now, when it becomes a family affair, so we contemplate in asking the county school board association to set up some rules as an aid. Harry Oelhafen thereby repeats as being first at the office.

(The Harrys really tend to the business). Your county superintendent is frank in admitting that he might be partial in his praise, but after all, he is a Harry, too.

Other clerks who turned in the reports on the first day were: Harold Fischer, North Trenton, and Paul Schmitt, Jr. 3, Wayne.

All in all, your county superintendent is happy and smiling, for he knows that the people and the boards are anxious to make our schools the best in the state.

Vacation time is a wonderful time—picnics, barbecues—maybe a week at a lake cottage—ideas that thrill everyone! Well—ALMOST everyone. Perhaps Mom isn't as thrilled about it as the rest of the gang because—vacation or not—she has to do the cooking.

One thing is sure—vacation cooking is twice as easy if it's done the easy, cool—electric roaster way. It's perfect for any vacation meal—large or small. An electric roaster cooks, bakes, roasts, broils or grills without heating up the kitchen or the cook. Enjoy cooler, easier summer cooking with an electric roaster.

JOHN KOUGL OF NAVY AT OKINAWA; SEES JESKE
 John H. Kougl, RD3, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Kougl, R. 1, Kewaskum, who is serving aboard the U.S.S. Ozbourne, has arrived at Okinawa his parents were informed in recent letters. Since arriving there he has contacted another Kewaskum boy, Alvin Jeske. His address is John H. Kougl RD3, U.S.N. 303-75-27, U.S.S. Ozbourne (DD-846) C/O P.P.O., San Francisco, Calif. Following are two letters John wrote to his folks:

Dear Folks:
 Received two letters from you and also the package last Friday and Saturday. Thanks a lot for the sandy and stuff. The chips and crackers were crumbs and pretty soggy, but we ate them anyway. Got here right on my birthday. Maybe sooner, but it was the first time we got mail in 16 days.
 We pulled into Buckner Bay, Okinawa, Friday afternoon so five of us went over to celebrate my birthday. All we could do was go to the BM club and have a couple beers (Schlitz, yet, too, 15c a can). There is not a thing to do there besides that. We're supposed to stay there until Tuesday but a typhoon came up early Saturday morning, so all liberties were canceled and we had to leave. Really was rough for a while, in fact it still is. Now I don't think we'll go back in until Friday.

 Also got my glasses. They help quite a bit. At best now I can read the status boards all the way across the room.
 Wanted to see Alvin Jeske while we were here, but on account of this storm, wasn't able to. His sub is one we are operating with. The other day, at Okinawa, I had one of the quartermasters send a visual message to the sub for me, telling Jeske I'd try to see him the next day. But then, we had to leave, and don't know if I will get to see him or not, maybe I'll get a chance this week end.
 Pretty hard writing with the ship jumping around like a "tin can" in a wind-storm, so will close for now. So until later, I'll say Sayoanara! (Goodbye in Japanese).
 27 June, 1952

Dear Folks:
 Have some time once again, so will write a few lines. We are in Buckner Bay, Okinawa now, got in yesterday morning. Will leave Sunday morning. If another typhoon doesn't come up.
 Sure surprised Alvin Jeske yesterday. I went over to his sub to see him. Last Saturday I had one of our quartermasters send him a message by blinker light, but in the confusion of getting underway, their quartermaster forgot to give it to him, so he didn't even know I was around.
 He had duty, so couldn't go ashore. Today I have duty and can't go. But we plan on going over tomorrow, if we can get together.
 Your loving son, John

Fewer Hogs Produced On Wisconsin Farms

Wisconsin's spring pig crop this year was the smallest one since 1949, according to the Crop Reporting Service of the Wisconsin and United States Departments of Agriculture. A further reduction in 1952 pig production is indicated because of a smaller number of sows to be bred for fall farrowing.

The number of pigs saved from spring farrowings on Wisconsin farms is estimated at 2,273,000 head or 114,000 head less than the spring crop of 1951. Results of the annual nationwide June pig survey show that the number of sows which farrowed on Wisconsin farms this spring was 7 per cent smaller than a year ago. Some of the decrease from a year ago in the number of sows was offset by larger litters this year. The number of pigs saved per litter averaged 3.95 head or the largest number on record.

Wisconsin's reduction in spring pig production was less than for the Corn Belt as a whole. For the Corn Belt the number of pigs saved this spring was 10 per cent below a year ago with particularly sharp reductions in pig crops reported for the states west of the Mississippi River. Corn Belt farmers expect to breed 8 per cent fewer sows for fall farrowing than farrowed in the fall of 1951. The nation's pig crop this spring totalled 56,607,000 head or nine per cent less than a year ago. About 8 1/2 per cent fewer sows may be bred for fall farrowing than were bred a year ago.

STRICTLY FRESH

A DETROIT drugstore clerk was fired because she was caught putting chicken in the soup served there. Manager's probably trying to feather his nest.

It depends on motorists whether we'll have a "goryless" Fourth.

The government has allotted 43 per cent more copper for civilian use. For our pay envelopes?

A Canadian motorist was fined for careless driving when police found his car's brakes tucked away in his auto's trunk. Does save wear and tear.

Russia has taken to shooting down Swedish planes. But it's probably just a little neighborly target practice.

STOP THAT FLOOR SQUEAK

Squeaky floor boards can be stopped easily by the home repairman if the ceiling underneath is not plastered.

Squeaky floor boards usually are signals of loose boards in either the sub-flooring or the finish flooring. Nails have become loose because of warping, dampness or other causes.

Renailing from the top usually will stop the squeak, but should be avoided if possible, because it mars the floor.

Get a hardwood cleat 2 inches square, and long enough to cross the squeaky area in the floor.

Drill holes, as illustrated, from two sides, and about 6 inches apart. The holes should be just large enough to permit the screw to turn easily.

Screw the cleat firmly to the floor joist, close to the floor boards. Use 2 3/4-inch screws.

Draw the floor boards down tight against the cleat with screws driven as close together as necessary to stop the squeak. It probably will be necessary to drill small anchor holes for the screws in the flooring.

Be careful not to drill entirely through the flooring. If you are trying to draw the finish flooring down tight against the sub-flooring, drill holes in the sub-flooring larger so that the threads do not hold.

Five or six screws through the subflooring and into the finish flooring often will stop squeaks without the use of a cleat. Use 7/8-inch screws. (See Fig. 3).

Find the board which seems to be doing the squeaking. Drive an 8d finishing nail through this board into the floor joist on each side of the squeak.

Milk Needs Care After Delivery In Warm Weather

Laws protect the purity, safety and cleanliness of your fluid milk supply all the way from the farm to your doorstep.

From then on, especially in warm weather, it's up to you.

There are no laws or regulations which tell you how to take care of milk in your own home, says the consumer information service of the State Department of Agriculture. Here, however, are a number of good suggestions which will help you get the most food value out of each bottle of milk.

1. Milk must be kept clean, covered and cold. Preferably it should be stored in a refrigerator at a temperature of 45 degrees.

2. Take the milk in promptly after delivery. A few hours in the sun will raise its temperature and lower the keeping quality.

3. Wash the top of the bottle and cap before opening or putting it away in the refrigerator.

4. Keep the milk in the refrigerator. When cooking, put milk container back in refrigerator as soon as desired quantity is measured. Make it a practice to put milk, cream and butter away first when clearing up after a meal.

5. Keep milk closely covered. Milk and dairy products are delicately flavored and readily absorb food odors. You can prevent this by putting them in the coldest part of the refrigerator where the cold air strikes them first.

6. Do not mix new and old milk except for immediate use. Adding some of yesterday's milk to today's will hasten the souring process.

7. Wash milk bottles as soon as emptied. Do not use milk bottles for any other purpose and return them promptly to the dairy.

Head-to-Foot Beauty Hints For Keeping Cool This Summer

Even though temperatures soar and the sun blisters this summer, you can look as cool and fresh as a shady lawn. A neat, always-clean hairdo, comfortable feet and light make-up will keep you pretty and make you degrees cooler, says Peggy Bell. Writing in McCall's for July, she describes quick beauty tricks that will help you beat the heat wherever you are:

"Longer hair looks cool, stays neat swept up to one side of crown in an off-center pony tail. Gather hair in elastic band and set ends in circlet of large curls. When dry, brush up over crown in flat wave, tie with slim velvet bow.

"Short hair stays prettily in place waved back from the face in a pompadour, with ends breaking in soft curls at the crown. Hair is cut to four or five inches front and sides, about two inches at the neck.

"Wash your hair often in humid weather. Cultivate a shine by daily brushing. When there's no time for a shampoo, use a quick between-shampoo refresher that doesn't disturb your wave. One of the new veil-like fixatives that come in spray form will give extra body and put stray tresses in their place.

"Use a light touch with your make-up base. Apply it sparingly and blot with tissues to avoid that caked and clogged look. Choose a creamy liquid if your skin is dry, liquid or pressed powder if it's oily. Brush off excess powder and pat softly with cotton moistened with cold water or skin freshener.

"Take a leisurely bath with lots of fragrant salts or bubbles. Keep the water just under body temperature. Splash yourself with chilled cologne. Use bath powder lavishly.

"Give your feet air in cool, open sandals. Keep away from shoes that seem tight or cut at the instep. Change shoes several times a day. Relax them when they're tired with a powder massage. Pamper them with a weekly pedicure.

"When traveling, you can substitute a cologne sponge bath for a warm tub or shower that may be unavailable at the moment. A liquid cleanser for a quick clean-up is a fine traveling companion. When you get to where you're going, lie down and rest. Fix your hair, cream your face, lie flat on your back with pads over your eyes. You'll feel much more like having fun, and you'll look like a new woman."

Nasal Vaccine Cuts Chick Losses

As researchers have learned more and more about Newcastle disease control, it has become apparent that passive, or parental, immunity, cannot be relied upon to protect young birds. Therefore, those persons striving for Newcastle control have established as their objective the following: a means of protecting birds from the day of hatching to the day of marketing.

The introduction of Newcastle disease vaccine, live virus, intranasal, has had an important influence on the reduction of Newcastle outbreaks in today's flocks. This new-type vaccine has overcome certain disadvantages of both killed and previous live-virus or wing-web vaccines. Where these vaccines have been limited, intranasal vaccine has "filled the gap," so to speak.

Early Protection

Intranasal vaccine has been well received because of the definite need for early protection against Newcastle. As a result, it has been administered to many flocks. And in these flocks, the vaccine has produced good resistance to infection.

Even with intranasal vaccine, however, factors of age, parental immunity, and low virulence of the vaccine are recognized as obstacles to the attainment of maximum immunity. With such limitations, authorities believe that an effective Newcastle control program must include the use of a combination of vaccines, as well as improved methods of administration.

Eye-Drop Vaccination

A new method of administration has recently been introduced. It is the ocular, or eye-drop, method of vaccinating birds. Most commercial intranasal-type vaccines can be used in this way, thus providing raisers a degree of flexibility—or choice in the method to be used. The new method is a somewhat speedier way of administering the vaccine.

Developments such as this, plus continued research for better vaccines, will bring about even greater disease protection for the nation's poultry flocks.

OUTDOOR ENTERTAINING COSTS LITTLE

Supper parties around the outdoor grill or barbecue set are easy and economical but most of all they perk up summertime appetites because they make simple food festive.

Plan a menu that can be prepared in advance so that the hosts are free to enjoy the fun. Hamburgers can be cut into patties beforehand and placed between wax paper squares in the refrigerator until ready to use. Hearty potato salad, pickles, crisp potato chips, onions, relishes and chili sauce together with cold, refreshing beer complete the low-cost but satisfying fare. To save trips to the yard, stack it all on a big tray, ready to carry out in one load.

When the host broils the burgers, let everyone help himself to food and beverage. It's a smart way to entertain.

Bacon-Cheese Sandwiches

1/2 pound sliced bacon
1/2 pound sharp cheese, grated
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pepper
8 slices bread

Cut slices of bacon in half. Add beaten egg and seasonings to grated cheese and blend. Toast bread on one side. Cover second side with cheese mixture. Place sliced bacon over surface. Arrange on broiler pan and place in oven with the surface of the meat 3 inches from the heat. Broil about 10 minutes or until bacon is crisp. Serve hot. Yield: 8 sandwiches.

Barbecued Ground Beef

1 pound ground beef
1 cup finely chopped onion
1 cup finely chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup catchup
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
4 to 6 hamburger buns

Brown meat slowly until crumbly but not hard. Combine remaining ingredients and add to the meat. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes. Serve on toasted split buns. 4 to 6 servings.

Easy Cup Cakes

1 3/4 cups cake flour
1/2 cup lard

Cream Cheese Frosting

1 package cream cheese
3 cups powdered sugar
1/4 cup sweet cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Cream the cheese. Add powdered sugar. Thin with cream and flavor with vanilla. Beat until of a consistency to spread.

Sausage and Pineapple

1 pound country-style pork sausage
2 tablespoons water
6 slices pineapple

Cut sausage in 2-inch lengths and place in frying-pan. Add water, cover and simmer 5 to 8 minutes. Remove cover, and allow water to evaporate and sausage to brown. Remove sausage and brown pineapple in drippings. Serve sausage over pineapple. 6 servings.

Over One Million Americans Have TB

More than one million Americans have tuberculosis in active or inactive form, according to an editorial in the June issue of the National Tuberculosis Association "Bulletin."

Of that number, approximately 400,000 have active, contagious disease, a news release from the Minnesota Christmas Seal organization points out.

With these figures in mind, even though TB death rates are declining in Minnesota and the nation, "it is downright dangerous to think TB is on the way out," the NTA editorial states. It is estimated that 150,000 TB cases are not known to health authorities and that a large proportion of these individuals do not know they are ill.

Another 100,000 persons are either being treated at home or are not receiving medical care of any kind.

In other words, the National Tuberculosis Association Bulletin reports, nearly a quarter of a million Americans are in a position to spread tuberculosis germs to their families, friends and associates.

"Studies also show that about 115,000 new cases of tuberculosis develop each year in this country, creating new public health problems and putting more strain on the already overburdened TB hospital system," according to the editorial.

"Tuberculosis today continues to be one of the most serious and costly public health problems facing the American people."

HERE IS THE PATTON 48

This is the Army's newest Tank, the Patton 48, described as the most modern medium tank ever made for our troops. The new combat vehicle has just been unveiled at the Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant where it was built. Design of the tank was completed by Chrysler Corporation to specifications of Army Ordnance. Extreme maneuverability of the Patton 48—its low silhouette—one piece cast armor hull and improved firepower all combine to make the Patton 48 a formidable fighting machine.

TOT TOTES HIS OWN—With his dad's hat perched jauntily atop his head, two-year-old Gunner Philipp, a displaced person from Latvia, prepares to carry his luggage from the pier in New York. The husky toddler will live in Dallas, Tex., where his father is to be resettled as a factory worker.

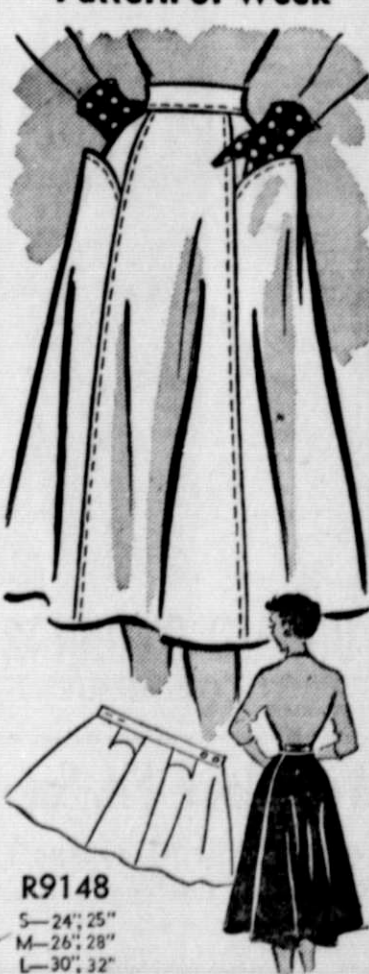

KEEPS IN TRAIN-ING—Addicted to railroading since childhood, Charles Rice of Cordova, Ill., decided to build a house and make it look as much like a train as possible. He's seen in the photo painting the "locomotive" which he made from old oil drums.

MURAL FOR THE MANY—Jose Vela Zanetti, artist from the Dominican Republic, displays some of the sketches he has made for the 60-foot mural he will paint for the main lobby of the conference building at United Nations headquarters in New York. Zanetti will do the work without cost to the UN and expects to complete it in 18 months.

4-H Clubs of County Hold Demonstrations

Washington county 4-H clubs held their county demonstrations last Thursday. A total of 19 demonstrations were given. There was a junior division for members under 15 years of age and a senior division for members over 15. There were both individual and team demonstrations given.

The purpose of giving demonstrations is to show someone how to do something that you already know how to do, and 4-H members realize the value of being shown how to do something rather than just being told. Entering a contest shows them how they compare with others and also helps them to learn how to be better demonstrators.
