Kewaskum, Mayville Meet for First Half Title at West Bend Saturday

Kewaskum and Mayville, which teams tied for the first half title in the Lakes league with 8 wins and 1 loss apiece, will meet in a one-game playoff for the first half championship at the McLane school gym in West Bend Saturday night, Jan. 24. This game was chosen by both managers as the neutral floor for the playoff. The game will get underway at 8:30 p. m.

It will follow a preliminary game between Ixonia and Horicon Rivers teams starting at 7:15. The preliminary tilt will be for first place in the Rivers standings.

Mayville handed Kewaskum its only defeat of the first half and a victory for the Chev's will doubly avenge the setback as it will clinch the first half title.

day night, 47-43. Kewaskum had rougher going than Mayville in these two tilts to come out tie, Mayville handed Kewaskum its only setback of the season in the loop opener there, after which the Chev's went on to cop eight in a row.

Because of the heavy snow few fans were on hand Saturday night. The Chev's disposed of Horicon with comparative ease, 79-56, a margin of 23 points. Although the weather was wintry, Wayland Tassar was very hot in the contest. He put on his biggest scoring spurge of the campaign with 31 points to easily top all other scorers. He swished in 14 field goals and three free throws. Kewaskum's other high scorer, Augie Bilgo, was awarded second honors with 15. Forward Wrucke paced Horicon with 17. Kewaskum took a lead in the initial quarter and stayed well ahead. It was 15-9 at the end of the first period, 40-23 at halftime, and 56-36 at the third quarter's end.

The going was a lot harder Sunday night on the difficult Oakfield floor (with bars running across the hall to shoot over or under). The locals had their hands full in edging the Oaks, 47-43. The Chev's held a slim 30-9 advantage at the quarter and pulled ahead 26-17 at the intermission in the low scoring tussle. The Oaks outscored the winners in the third period to pull within three points, 33-30 at the end of that quarter. The scoring was about even in the final stanza. Bilgo's 15 points were tops on both teams. Guelow's 12 were best for

Government Licenses St. Kilian Seed Warehouse

Final approval has been received which establishes the Strachota company of St. Kilian as a government licensed warehouse for grass seeds. The announcement was made last week by Bennett S. Bird, chairman of the Fond du Lac county production and marketing administration.

Orville Strachota and his father before him have been engaged in the grass seed business at St. Kilian for more than 40 years. Strachota has met all of the qualifications of the commodity credit corporation and his building has been declared a bonded licensed warehouse for processing, testing and storage of grass seeds under the price support program. The Strachota warehouse is fully equipped with the latest seed cleaning and grading machinery and can make laboratory tests and reports on germination and purity.

Farmers wanting to secure price support on grass seed which they have for sale can take it to the Strachota warehouse at St. Kilian. There it will be cleaned, tested and placed in storage. The farmer then will receive a warehouse receipt listing amount, grade and germination of the seed. This warehouse receipt can then be taken to the production and marketing administration office in the county in which his farm is located and he will receive a draft for the value of the seed less service charges. The Strachota company is the only licensed government warehouse in Wisconsin for grass seed at the present time and has been set up to serve southeastern Wisconsin.

Price support rates for grass seeds are: Red Clover 35 cents per pound, Ladino $1 per pound, Alsike 25 cents per pound, and sweet clover 12 cents per pound. These seeds will be supported at these prices either through loans or price agreements, until April 30, 1953. Loans bear interest at 3 1/2 per cent.

The final date for producers to apply for price support on grass seed is Jan. 31. Due to this short period of time remaining, producers are urged to act promptly if they wish to take advantage of this program.

Scores Tuesday—Lomira 65, N. Fondy 49; Campbellsport 75, Brandon 50; Oakfield 52, Rosendale 46.

Kewaskum's undefeated Indians made it six conference victories in succession with a very easy win over Lomira here last Friday, 80-61. The first place Mitchellmen now are 1 1/2 games ahead of second spot Campbellsport, which was upset by North Fondy. The Indians have a season record of 9 wins and 1 loss, including non-league contests.

Coach Ernie Mitchell cleaned the bench and all squad members saw action in an attempt to keep the score down against the Lions after the Indians pulled away to a 45-22 halftime lead. At the end of the third period the count stood at 66-32. Only in the final quarter with substitutes in the game, did Lomira outscore the winners.

Center George Hanrahan stole the show as he racked up 28 points on 9 baskets and 10 free throws during the time he was in the contest. Don Meisenheimer hit for 16 and Russ Rodenkirch added 10. Guards Schultz and Buerger led Lomira with 12 and 11 points respectively.

The Indians have scored 400 points in six games to the opposition's 312. In center Hanrahan the league leaders have the highest score in the conference. He has a total of 159 points to his credit on 53 baskets and 33 free throws. Hanrahan holds a 10-point lead over Brandon's Tom Miller. Meisenheimer is in 7th place with 83 points and Rodenkirch 5th with 78.

Unsung cagers in this section are the Kewaskum Indians. Overlooked by the W.I.A.A. committee which hands out prep ratings last week, it is expected that the local quintet will receive due honors in the future from the W.I.A.A.

This Friday night, Jan. 23, Kewaskum played at North Fond du Lac and next Friday Brandon plays at Kewaskum.

Residents Asked to Step Up Pace in Dimes Drive

As the March of Dimes drive in Washington county entered its third full week Monday, Michael J. Goring, Jr. and Alan Pick, campaign co-chairmen, called upon all residents of this area to step up the pace in the fight against polio.

"We have gotten off to a good start, the chairman said, 'but now we must shift into high. We have just come through the worst polio epidemic of all time. And, ironically, that epidemic occurred almost simultaneously with reports of genuine scientific progress against the disease."

The general chairmen for the northern portion of Washington county cited the vast service made possible by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis through the March of Dimes. They said that four out of five polio patients need and receive direct aid, and that were it not for the financial support of the March of Dimes, America might still be in the "dark ages" so far as scientific progress against the disease was concerned.

"The people of Washington county must realize the seriousness of the plight we face," said Goring and Pick. "Polio is still the only epidemic disease still on the increase our contributions to combat it. While there has been a good response so far, it is of vital importance that everyone be given a chance to join in our common cause. When you go shopping and see those March of Dimes coin collectors, drop in as much as you can. That little movement of your hand may help some polio patient regain the movement of his hands. Needing help as never before, we urge all to join in making the March of Dimes drive this year equal to the task ahead."

Winter Workouts Can Be Dangerous

Onset of the snow shoveling season prompts the Minnesota State Medical association, today, to warn people of the dangers involved in the old-fashioned winter workout with the shovel.

Regular mild exercise is fine, according to the doctors, even with a shovel; but the occasional, violent and prolonged spurt does nobody any good and, in adults after age 40, can end in disaster.

The truth is that violent exercise has no tonic effect at any age. What you get even from continuous strenuous exercise is just bigger muscles, enlarged heart, liver and other organs and more reserve power to meet the emergencies which most people who aren't professional athletes never have to meet anyway.

There is abundant medical evidence that you do not get greater resistance to disease or longer life or better health from exercise. Even overweights cannot rely upon exercise to substitute for dieting, except the simple, uncomplicated exercise of pushing the chair back from the table.

Fat or lean, if you save your exercising for the occasional week end or vacation, or for the big snow, you are simply courting trouble. Better to shovel the walk in sections or get a youngster to do it for you. Or leave the stalled car and walk.

Most people get an adequate amount of exercise in their daily round of activities, according to the doctors, supplemented by regulated therapeutic exercise in convalescence, after childbirth and injuries.

When the man who sits in an office most of the day comes home and shovels out an entire drive before dinner, he is compelling his heart suddenly to pump four or five times the usual volume of blood while he shovels. Even youngsters are not particularly benefited by such workouts, and their elders may never recover from the shock.

WAS YOUR TOMATO crop a fizzle this year? Here is a good way to stretch your limited supply when you make that tomato relish. (Do be sure to make relish; it's a good menu perk-up-er.)

TOMATO RELISH

- 12 tart apples; 2 large onions; 2 green peppers; 1 quart canned tomatoes; 2 cups sugar; 2 cups brown sugar; 1 quart cider vinegar; 1 tablespoon salt; 1 tablespoon celery seed, and 1 tablespoon mustard seed.

Pare and core apples. Put through food chopper with onions and peppers. Drain tomatoes, using only the pulp. Mix sugars, vinegar, and seasonings, and combine with apple-tomato mixture in a kettle. Simmer slowly until thick, about 3 to 4 hours. Fill hot, sterilized jars, and seal at once.

MINUTES OF GOLD

Two or three minutes—two or three hours—

What do they mean in this life of ours?

Not very much if counted as time. But minutes of gold and hours sublime.

If only we'll use them once in awhile

To make someone happy—make someone smile.

A minute may dry a little lad's tears.

An hour allay the trouble of years.

Grains of my time may bring to an end

Hopelessness somewhere, and bring me a friend.

And they say, how doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most High?

—(Psalm LXXIII, 11.)

Sometimes, in our wilfulness, our selfishness, our self-centeredness, we may feel that we can "go it alone"—especially if the going happens to be good at the moment. But just let danger or tragedy confront us, and then we realize—often too late—that without God and His mercy and His strength we are pitifully weak and helpless. God is omniscient—He knows the beginning and the end of all our plans: His will shall be done.

YOU DIDN'T TAKE a vacation? Well, now, everyone should take a vacation. It keeps you from getting stale.

I am told this country of ours has 51,000,000 cars on the roads through the summer. After Labor Day, a large percentage of them go into hibernation, making this an ideal time to take a late but pleasant, vacation.

A 5200-pound thrust turbojet engine whips the ship close to the speed of sound and a 6000-pound rocket engine rams it past the sonic wall. Able to overtake any high-speed bomber, the XF-91 provides the Air Force with a topnotch interceptor plane.

Business finished, the van moves to the next town. Rolling over Puerto Rico's highways, the motorized "Banco Popular" reaches many of the island's towns which have no other contact with banks. With a bank, many rural islanders now have savings accounts.

HOW TO REPAIR A BROKEN SIDEWALK

Unless the break in a sidewalk is quite small, it is usually best to remove the entire section.

Build a form as illustrated, so that the top is even with the rest of the sidewalk. It need not be the full depth.

Remove enough earth to make 4" thick.

ART LIKES ART—Butcher Art Hutchinson of La Crescenta, Cal., loves fine art and believes it should be displayed where ordinary people can see and appreciate it. He hangs the best paintings obtainable behind his counter and customers get an eyeful of art while Art goes to work on chops and steaks.

Buy enough asphalt expansion strip to put between sections. This precaution is well worth the expense.

The beginner should pour only one section at a time. As soon as the first section is set, the next may be poured.

The Portland Cement Association recommends a mixture of 1 part cement, 2 1/4 parts sand, and three parts pebbles.

You will probably have to use a standard mix gravel, containing both sand and pebbles. A 1-to-3 mix will give you a good sidewalk. Most sidewalks contain less cement.

After the form is filled, level off the top with a board which leaves a slight crown on the sidewalk. It should be about 1/4" higher in the center than on the edges.

Finish the cement with a wood float after it has partly set. Do not leave pools of water.

Do not leave a smooth shiny surface on a sidewalk. It is too dangerous during slippery weather. The surface may be swept with a broom to leave a rough finish.

A grooving tool may be used between sections, and an edger on the outside edges. Some hardware stores have these tools for rent.

Shield the fresh cement from the hot sun or rain until it has set hard.

Cement should be kept wet for several days. It will set harder than if left to dry out.

Household Hints

Use Leftover Turkey in Flavorful Chowder

Looking for tasty ways to finish up the turkey? A thick turkey chowder makes a good substitute for that last-of-the-turkey hash, suggest Sally Stillman, nutritionist at the University of Wisconsin.

Chowder's a good way to get a little extra milk into your family, too. Made with rice, onion, and plenty of seasonings, it's flavorful and nourishing enough to serve as a main dish for luncheon or supper.

Most chowders are made with a thin white sauce, to which seasonings, vegetables, and either meat, fish, or poultry are added. Another way to thicken chowder is with rice, Miss Stillman continues.

For six servings, you'll need about two cups of chopped turkey and one medium-sized onion chopped and browned in butter. Add the turkey, onion, and one-fourth cup of uncooked rice to four cups of boiling water.

Season with one and one-half teaspoons of salt and one-fourth teaspoon of pepper. Cover, heat to boiling, and simmer 30 minutes, or until the rice is tender.

Add three cups of milk and heat the chowder thoroughly before you serve it.

Most people like crackers with soup or chowder. Buttered toast or hot French bread also make good accompaniments to a soup-and-salad meal.

A vegetable salad with grated or cubed cheese goes well with chowder, Miss Stillman adds. A vegetable relish tray also adds good color and crispness.

"Not Too Hot" Is Laundry Rule for New Fabrics

The new synthetic fibers can lighten your washday load—but there are some new precautions to observe before you toss them in the tub, says Helen Pearson, clothing specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

The important rule: be careful of hot temperatures. Both hot water and a hot iron are apt to make synthetic fibers turn yellow. That's why the washing directions always emphasize using lukewarm water and ironing with the thermostatic control set at "low" or "rayon".

Orion, dacron, and nylon shed soil more easily than natural fibers do, she points out. They also dry faster and require little or no ironing.

Before you wash garments made of these fibers, check the fabric for flaws or weak spots. Be sure that the seams are well-made and that any trimming on the garment is sturdy and colorfast.

It's a good idea to handwash any articles that have delicate trimming, Miss Pearson continues, machine washing is only safe when seams and trim present no danger of fraying.

To prevent wrinkling, garments made of synthetic fabrics should be hung on the line dripping wet. Wringing and spin-drying cause unnecessary wrinkles.

You can often eliminate ironing entirely by smoothing the fabric with your hands while it's drying. The few wrinkles that remain after drying can be removed easily with a warm iron.

To keep synthetic fabrics white, wash them separately from colored things. Bleuing isn't necessary, though it won't harm the fibers.

To bleach synthetic fabrics that have grayed, use sodium perborate and rinse it out thoroughly.

Drooly Dessert For Winter Days

Chocolate and pears are favorites together. Here rich, velvety smooth Chocolate Mousse is teamed with succulent canned pear halves to make a handsome, delicious dessert duet.

Don't let the title "mousse" frighten you, for it's really easy to make. The gelatine chocolate base is allowed to thicken slightly and whipped to fluffiness; whipped cream is added; and then it is turned into the mold to chill in the refrigerator until serving time. Unmold it on a platter and surround with the chilled canned pear halves.

Chocolate Mousse With Pears

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- 1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
- dash salt
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 pint whipping cream
- 1 No. 2 1/2 can pear halves

Soak gelatine in water for 5 minutes. Combine sugar, chocolate and milk; heat over boiling water until chocolate is melted. Add the gelatine and beat with rotary beater until dissolved. Add vanilla, salt and cinnamon. Chill until slightly thickened and whip until fluffy. Fold in whipped cream. Put in a mold and chill until firm. Unmold on serving dish and surround with chilled pear halves. Six servings.

Candied Grapefruit Peel

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 2 tablespoons corn syrup
- 1 cup grapefruit peel

Cut grapefruit peel in lengthwise pieces. Soak overnight in 1 quart cold water with 1 tablespoon salt. Drain. Cover with cold water, bring to boiling point, and boil 20 minutes. Repeat 3 times and cook in the last water until tender. Drain and cut in strips 1-8 inch wide.

Bring sugar, water and corn syrup to boiling point. Add the prepared peel and cook slowly until peel is clear, 230 degrees on candy thermometer. Take up peel with skimmer and spread on plate to cool. Roll in confectioners sugar. Spread on wax paper to dry.

Apricot Squares

- 1 1/2 cups dried apricots
- 2 cups sugar
- 1/4 cup gelatin
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon rind

Cook apricots 40 minutes and mash through a sieve. Soak gelatin in water to soften, then add sugar, lemon juice and rind. Boil 30 minutes gently. Remove from fire, add apricots. Mix thoroughly and cool.

Pour into a shallow pan lined with wax paper and allow to sit overnight. Remove from pan, pull off paper and cut into squares. Roll in powdered sugar. Keep in a cool place.

Divinity Fudge

- 2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup corn syrup
- 1/2 cup water
- 3/4 cup candied cherries
- 2 egg whites
- 3/4 cup blanched almonds
- 1 tablespoon almond extract

Put the sugar, water and corn syrup into a saucepan. Stir it while it dissolves over the fire, then let it boil without stirring to the light crack stage 265 degrees. Beat the egg whites stiffly and when the syrup is ready pour slowly on egg whites, beating until creamy. Add cherries, nuts and extract. Drop by teaspoonfuls on wax paper or spread in buttered pan and cut in squares.

Fondant

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 1/4 cups water
- 2 tablespoons light corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar, water and corn syrup. Place over low heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. Cook covered for 3 minutes. Uncover and continue cooking without stirring and boil to the soft ball stage, 238 degrees. During cooking, wipe down sides of pan with a wet cloth. Remove from fire, pour on a cold wet platter. Cool to lukewarm and beat with a paddle or spatula until white and creamy. Add vanilla and knead until smooth. Store in a glass covered jar to ripen several days before using.

Cream Mints

Melt 3/4 cup fondant over hot water, flavor with 1 drop oil of peppermint. Color as desired. If desired add 2 tablespoons chopped nuts. Drop from tip of spoon on wax paper. Dry thoroughly.

Creamy Mushroom Sauce with Roast Beef Slices

- Roast beef slices
- 1 4-ounce can of mushrooms
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon parsley

Drain and slice mushrooms. Cook mushrooms and onions in butter until tender, blend in flour, then add milk, and seasonings. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add parsley. Serve hot over slices of roast beef.

Roast Beef Hash

- 2 cups chopped roast beef
- 2 cups boiled potatoes cut up
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1 cup beef gravy or hot water
- 4 tablespoons butter or other fat

Put the fat in the frying pan and then put in the meat, potatoes, onion, salt and pepper. Add the beef gravy and cover. Let it steam or heat thoroughly stirring occasionally. If a drier hash is desired, reduce the liquid, and after hash has been thoroughly heated remove the cover and allow hash to brown.

A Clean Stove Saves Fuel

The easy way to clean an oven. Leave a bowl of soapy water and ammonia in the oven overnight with the door shut tight. Next morning, suds the interior with a stiff brush. Dirt and grease wash off easily, thanks to pre-softening.

These are days of hearty meals and much home entertainment—and time to check the efficiency of your kitchen to save you time and money. A good start is the kitchen range.

Sputtering burners and smoky ovens are signs of trouble and wasted fuel. A good rule to follow is "a clean stove cooks better, saves fuel and lasts longer." But don't make a chore of it. Keep your stove in working order. Like the proverbial "stitch-in-time," constant care saves hours of hard labor.

Wipe the top and burners with a soapy cloth after each use, but let the stove cool first. Enamel may crack if water is applied while hot. However, wipe up spillovers at once with a DRY cloth or paper towel, lest they leave permanent stains. Follow with soap and water when the stove has cooled.

To keep carbon from jamming the pilot light, first turn it off; then scrub the housing with a soft wire brush and wash with a soapy cloth. Make sure surrounding surfaces are completely dry before you relight it, and that connections are "seated" correctly.

Pour grease off the broiler while it is still warm, but let it cool before you soak and scrub it in hot soapsuds. Rub mineral oil on the racks occasionally and they'll resist rust better and longer.

Treat the deep well cooker as you would any aluminum kettle. Lift it out and scrub with hot soapsuds, particularly along the outer edges. Non-insulated covers can be tub-washed, but insulated covers should just be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

Local Students to Compete for $4,000 in Prizes National High School Photographic Awards Offers Many Opportunities to Win

Grand Prize Winner in the 1952 National High School Photographic Awards was this excellent action picture taken by Alvin McMillin of Junction City, Kansas.

Local high school students who like to take pictures may well be among major winners in the 1953 National High School Photographic Awards, the National Scholastic Press Association has just announced. The nationwide picture-taking competition, which opened January 1, will continue through April 15. Every high school student in the 9th through 12th grades, inclusive, is eligible to enter and win prizes. Prizes range from Awards of $10 each to four Grand Prizes of $300 each. A total of 196 cash prizes will be given.

Local students who wish to enter snapshots in four classes of entry, NSPA officials indicated. This means that pictures of babies and children, young people and adults, scenes, and pictures of pets or wild animals may be entered. Local high school picture takers need no entry blanks to submit pictures in this $4,000 contest. Nor need they have developed and printed their own pictures to be eligible for prizes. They must, however, have taken the pictures themselves without professional help. Pictures made since the close of last year's competition on May 1, 1952, are eligible for entry. Pictures may be enlarged if desired, but no print larger than 7 x 7 inches is permissible. Any make of camera or film may be used, but the contest is open to only snapshots made from original black-and-white negatives. Snapshots entered in this contest must not be entered in any other contest or competition. Entrants must be able to obtain permission for the use of their picture from any recognizable person who appears in their snapshot if the picture wins a prize, but such permission should not be sent in with the print for the contest. Local students who wish to enter the competition may do so by writing their name, street address, city and state, school name and address, grade in school, class of entry, and picture title on the back of all prints. Entries should be sent to the following address, where full details may also be obtained. NSPA National High School Photographic Awards, 18 Journalism Building, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis 14, Minnesota. Pictures will be judged on photographic quality, general interest, and appeal. Duplicate prizes will be awarded in the event of ties.

gram for 1953. Those who attended were Martin Haack, Ronald Petermann, Joanne Furber, Eleanor Odekirk, Norman Heberer, and the leaders.

The next regular meeting was held at Gage school on Jan. 14, at 8 o'clock. After this all meetings will be held the first Wednesday of every month until June.

1953 BUICK—NEW POWER, PERFORMANCE, STYLING

Buick introduces for 1953 a Golden Anniversary line of cars with outstanding engineering developments which include the world's newest V-8 engine and an advanced Dynaflo transmission. Pictured above is the two-door, six-passenger Riviera in the Super Series, most popular hard-top in the Buick line. The new engine, leader of all V-8s, turns up 170 horsepower with a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. The new Twin Turbine Dynaflo gives it vastly improved performance and greater economy with no sacrifice of Buick's completely smooth acceleration. It has a re-styled front end incorporating a sturdier grille, two piece bumper, and a futuristic headlight arrangement. A new alligator-type hood, long-flowing body lines, new moldings and ventipoints, and horizontal rear fenders with bullet-shaped tail lights, give the 1953 Buick an ultra-modern, sleek appearance. The interior features fresh new colors and tasteful trim. Its wheelbase is 121 1/2 inches and offered as optional equipment are wire wheel covers and power steering.

FLINT, MICH.—Buick today presented its 1953 Golden Anniversary line of cars, featuring a new compression, valve-in-head V-8 engine of new design in both the Roadmaster and Super Series, a new Twin Turbine Dynaflo that greatly improves performance and economy, and fresh new styling inside and out.

The new engine, which develops 165 horsepower in the Roadmaster and 170 in the Super, is of the 30-degree "V" type with a compression ratio of 8.5-to-1, the highest in the industry.

Buick's power steering, which proved so popular last year, has been made standard equipment on the 1953 Roadmaster and is offered as an option on the Super and Special.

Power brakes, which take 75 per cent of the effort out of braking, are offered as optional equipment on the Roadmaster.

New styling features include a new front end, new headlights modeled after those on the Buick's famed XP-300, new rear fenders and interior trim combinations unequalled for beauty and luxury.

Buick's generous-sized bodies continue to be featured in 1953. They offer the maximum roominess and comfort available in the industry.

"We have made more important styling and engineering changes to the 1953 Buick than in any model we have produced in the last 25 years," said Ivan L. Wiles, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors. "Our new engine and new Twin Turbine Dynaflo, coupled with our many styling improvements, make the 1953 Buick the newest car on the market today, and the most outstanding value we have ever offered the public."

Buick's 1953 Special Series is powered by the time-proven F-263 Fireball straight eight engine with stepped up horsepower and compression ratio. The improvements in the straight eight engine, plus the new Twin Turbine Dynaflo, make the Special the outstanding performer in its class.

The 1953 Buick line comes in 12 different body styles, including the Skylark sports car which will be produced in limited quantities. The wheelbase of all Roadmaster models has been reduced 4 1/2 inches for easier handling and parking. The wheelbase on the four-door Roadmaster sedan has been reduced from 130.2 inches to 125.5 inches, and on the two-door Roadmaster it has been reduced from 126.2 inches to 121.5 inches.

From a styling standpoint the new 1953 Buicks are new inside and out. A new and wider grille provides better cooling for the engine and gives the car a lower look. The top line of the hood has been extended forward to give a bolder appearance to the front profile. The headlights are housed in a new bezel patterned after the XP-300, and parking and directional signal lights have been incorporated into the headlight bezel.

The hub of the newly-designed steering wheel is decorated with a red, white and blue Golden Anniversary medallion with a gold replica of a 1903 Buick embossed upon it.

Sweepers and rocker panel moldings are continued on all models. The rear windows are of the one-piece wrap-around type with no posts to obstruct the driver's vision.

Buick's V-8 engine has a piston displacement of 332 cubic inches in both the Roadmaster and Super Series. The new Twin Turbine Dynaflo takes hold with a more solid feel than its predecessor because torque multiplication has been increased, yet it retains the same smoothness of operation that has distinguished Dynaflo from other automatic transmissions. Acceleration is faster and quieter.

Power brakes, which are optional on the Roadmaster, give the driver toe-tip braking in any stop. A special safety feature permits direct braking action in case the vacuum which provides the power is lost.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—Changes in relationship between government and business, obviously in the making with the advent of Eisenhower, have begun to make themselves felt even before the Truman administration bows off the stage.

Charles Sawyer, secretary of Commerce, proposes to replace the present cat-and-mouse system of anti-trust law enforcement with "conferences" between companies and the justice department to make sure the companies don't get too close to the borderline between competition and conspiracy.

Also, the National Security Resources Board proposes that the government end its monopoly of atomic energy development. At the same time, from outside the Board, more demands are heard that massive government participation in natural resources development, urged by the Paley Report, be disavowed by the incoming administration.

The intricate machinery of controls over our economic life is being allowed to coast to a standstill. Resistance to Republican policies may yet show up in the top layer of bureaucracy—the permanent staff which is supposed to implement policy (but more often makes it) for appointed administrators. So far, however, everyone seems willing to let the new administration make its own record. Paradoxically, all this is perhaps a greater challenge to business, newly enfranchised as a full partner in the country's affairs, than were the years of exile from the nation's top councils.

MORE CANS IN 1953—Sales of American Can Company in 1953 are likely to go as high as 10 per cent above record-breaking 1952 figures, declares William C. Stolk, Canco's president. Mr. Stolk feels that this is a good omen for the economy as a whole, since an increasing array of the products of industry are packed in cans. The container industry has two important factors sending it to new highs almost every year: population is growing at a rate which may add 30 million Americans in the 1950-60 decade, and the average housewife today opens 776 cans a year compared to the 486 of 1939.

SULPHUR SHORTAGE OVER—U. S. industry faces 1953 assured of ample supplies of sulphur after weathering a two-year shortage, according to Langbourne M. Williams, Jr., president of Freeport Sulphur Company. Government estimates place supplies in 1953 at seven million tons, maximum and exports at a total of 6,637,000 tons.

There are nearly 100 projects under way to produce more sulphur in 23 countries of the free world, Mr. Williams said, and these are expected to add four million tons to yearly output by the end of 1955. Freeport's Bay St. Elaine mine, only floating sulphur plant in the world, went into production late in 1952. Two other Freeport projects are under way in Texas and Louisiana.

GAS APPLIANCE GAIN—Despite a slow start, gas appliance sales this year probably amounted to $1.2 billion, says James F. Donnelly, president of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. Increasing sales are credited to the trend in housing—public, private and remodeled—to ward use of the whole family of gas appliances, including water heaters, clothes dryers, incinerators, comfort heating and air conditioning as well as refrigerators and ranges.

Factory shipments of ranges this year were some 2.2 million, a little under the total for 1951, and production of gas water heaters 1.9 million.

BEST YEAR FOR RUBBER—Looking into 1953, John L. Collier, president of the B. F. Goodrich Company, foresees the best year in history for the rubber manufacturing industry, with a probable gain of 11 per cent in total tire sales. Not only will automobile manufacture continue at a high rate, but many of the cars made in the last three years will require replacement tires.

$40 MILLION HOME SALES—Levit and Sons, Inc., often called the Henry Ford of the home-building industry, built more than $40 million worth of homes in 1952, and sold most of them before the first nail was driven in the spring. Scene of greatest activity was Levittown, Pa., where the first pre-planned city since Major L'Enfant laid out Washington in 1790 is springing up on 5,000 acres of Bucks County farmland. There a three-year program of erecting 16,000 homes is under way—4,000 in 1952, 6,000 each in 1953 and 1954. At completion, the city's 70,000 inhabitants will make it Pennsylvania's tenth city.

'Banco Popular' Rolls Across Puerto Rico

Seen above is the interior of a mobile banking unit serving the island of Puerto Rico with all the facilities of a big-city bank. A guard at the door welcomes and advises customers, a stenographer types records and an executive makes a phone call on the van's portable phone. Seated at right is an attractive islander waiting to open a savings account. The bus-bank is the first of a fleet of 20.

ADA Adopts 2-Way Program For 1953

The advertising program of the American Dairy Association for 1953 will stress economy and appetite appeal. The Executive Committee of the American Dairy Association in November set up advertising activities on a national scale that will represent two million dollars worth of expansion and research projects.

The research financed by the American Dairy Association will center on the development of new products. Included among the research projects are two that will seek to find new, quick tests to determine the butterfat content in products where it may be mixed with other fats and oils.

The executive committee feels that this new two-way campaign will be the most far-reaching yet attempted by the dairy farmers financed ADA program.

'Hopeless' Cancer Has New Chance For Cure

Thousands of sufferers from far advanced breast and prostate cancers have a chance for life as a result of a new operation, states a bulletin from the Minnesota State Medical Association.

The operation, developed by Dr. Charles Huggins of the University of Chicago, is the removal of the adrenal glands, which supply the hormones to the body. This is a radical procedure, since such removal is supposed to mean death. But the patient is given synthetic hormones to supplement the supply which is cut off by removing the adrenals.

The operation shows that cancers of the prostate and breast, even when far advanced, can be influenced by control of the hormones that control the growth of the breast and the prostate.

At first the synthetic hormone was not satisfactory, but the development of cortisone aided the research. Cases of adrenal removal, followed by injections of cortisone and another hormone, showed complete improvement, with the patient returning to normal.

However, total removal of the adrenal glands does not always stop the cancer's progress; sometimes there is improvement followed by relapse. But in half the cases, a return to normal health is seen; and all these cases would have resulted in death.

In cancer of the breast, after removal of the breast, the ovaries are removed, along with the adrenals, and daily cortisone is prescribed. In eight out of 10 of the utterly hopeless cases, total adrenalectomy has brought a return toward life, when death was almost certain. In these cases, when the cancer began to wither, in none so far, has it returned.

Adrenalectomy is done with little danger. For competent surgeons in good hospitals, it is no more difficult than removal of the gallbladder.

Bible Comment: Ruth the Devoted Was an Ancestor Of the Nazarene

SCATTERED through the pages of mankind's history are the beautiful stories that we would like to offer as representative of the true life of man, the life that lies beneath the overabundance of tragedy.

These are the stories telling of generosity and kindness, of happy home life and the love of little children for their parents, of courage in the face of danger and the sacrifice of people for those they love.

In the Bible we find them all. Among the most beautiful of these is the story of Ruth, a tale so deep and penetrating it merits a complete book of the Old Testament and stands as a classic tale of faith, love and loyalty for all time.

Because Ruth was the daughter-in-law of Naomi, a woman who lost her husband and sons and was left alone in the world, Naomi was far from home when her husband and sons died and decided to return to her people. She advised her daughters-in-law to stay in their native country of Moab and remarry. One did. But the other, Ruth, refused. She vowed loyalty to Naomi with a promise that stands as the highest expression of devotion we have: "Whither thou goest I will go; and where thou lodgest I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God. The Lord do so to me, and more also, if aught but death part thee and me."

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1: In many parts of the United States, several neighboring small towns or several counties with sparse population are joining forces in order to afford a qualified medical officer and set up good public health services. In some states a new law is required to permit such consolidation.

Answer to Question No. 2: Every parent knows that the right toys are very important to a normal child's development. They contribute to both his mental and physical health. Experts are developing special toys that encourage handicapped children to use crippled hands and feet.

Answer to Question No. 3: Not if they are really frozen. Thaw them at room temperature—and call a doctor. Until you get help, wrap the frozen members warmly but keep them away from extreme heat, and rub above the frozen areas to increase circulation. New drugs that retard or prevent clotting of the blood are proving helpful in experiments with severe frostbite, reducing the number of amputations necessary. These experiments are particularly important now that frozen feet are a major reason for casualties among the fighting men in Korea.

Question: Can you tell me what to use on a concrete retaining wall for color? Should it be oil paint, waterpaint, whitewash, or colored cement? Part of the wall was treated with water-repellent, and holds whitewash well, but the other parts did not.

C. J. H., Staten Island, N. Y. Answer: If you want to stick to whitewash, and make it stick, try one of these: 1 oz. alum to a gallon of whitewash; or, 1 pint of molasses (or 1 pound sugar dissolved in hot water as a substitute) to each 5 gallons of whitewash. Both stick well. You may also use oil base outside paints, or those with a resin emulsion. You'll have more trouble making colored cement stick to water-proofed surfaces.

Question: Our middle-aged house is equipped with half-screens which ride up and down on a wood molding. These screens do not fit flush against the bottom and small sized insects gain easy entry. Is there any way we can seal these openings and still have the screens work?

C. S. Baltimore, Md. Answer: You might plane or sand the lower edges of the screens to fit the uneven sills by first drawing a pencil line along the sill-and-screen joint to discover the points that fit poorly, then remove the causes of trouble. Or you might apply felt weatherstripping to the underside of the bottom edges where its springy action will seal the gaps when the screen is closed tightly.

Question: I plan to cover my basement joists with ceiling tiles, and have to set the copper water pipe and electrical conduits into notches in the joists, but have been told this will weaken the joists. Can you suggest a solution?

D. J. T., Lansing, Ill. Answer: It is a better plan to disconnect the electrical wiring, and run BX cables through drilled holes in each joist it must cross. If rigid pipe, you may cut notches to recess the pipe but cover each notch with a heavy steel plate the width of the joist, and drilled with holes for at least two screws on each side of the notch. Best way is to relocate the pipe along one wall and box it in.

Question: We are bothered with ants in the basement which seem to appear each time the floor is washed and waxed. They are difficult to get rid of. Can you suggest any treatment?

R. G., Brooklyn, N. Y. Answer: Chlordane is one of the most successful poisons in combating ants. In liquid or powder form, spread chlordane around all cracks and wall joints where entrance is possible. Also, along door and window sills. This, and other methods of getting rid of ants was discussed in GREAT DETAIL in the April-May 1952 issue of The Family Handyman.

ON SEPTEMBER 11, one hundred and two years ago, Jenny Lind's first concert took place at the old Castle Garden in New York. If you think theater tickets are sky high nowadays, just compare them with the prices P. T. Barnum got for Jenny's first concert. Tickets were auctioned off... the first one sold for $225. In Boston the first one brought the extravagant price of $625.

There's news in the advertisements, too.

Sports Afield

By Ted Kesting

Probably the cutest snake of them all, if you can imagine any snake being cute, is the hognoose snake, also known as the puffing adder, puffing viper and spreading viper. Outdoor writer Shep Sheperd thinks this completely harmless snake is the biggest ham in the reptile world.

When danger threatens, he raises his body upward, flattens his head and spreads a cobra-like hood. With mouth open he hisses and strikes ferociously. This awesome performance is designed to frighten other creatures into instant flight. For all this show of pugnacity, the little hognoose won't bite even if you put a finger in his mouth. If his bluff fails, he resorts to other means. He dies. And when it comes to playing dead he can out-possess the most expert possum that ever lived.

He goes into violent convulsions, turning on his back and thrashing about in fancied pain. Gradually the convulsions cease, the mouth comes open, the tongue hangs out and the hognoose looks for all the world like the dearest snake alive. He makes one mistake in this convincing act. So intent is he upon his purpose that if you turn him over on his belly after he has "died" he will instantly flop over on his back again. This is his death and, by golly, he is going to die in the manner of his own choosing.

When he is completely "dead," walk away somewhere out of his sight and wait. After a few minutes he turns slowly on his stomach again, raises his head and takes a careful look around. If his audience has departed he does likewise. If they ever come up with an Oscar for snakedom, the little hognoose is a cinch to cop it. Incidentally, he got that name from his snout, which is turned up on the end for rooting in dirt after the toads that are the main item on his menu.

Now comes the moral of this piece. Destroy poisonous snakes. Let the others live. Don't smash the skull of every snake you see just on the theory it might be poisonous. Learn to know the four dangerous kinds and give the rest a chance to leave you alone, which they will gladly do. In most sections of the country people have only one or two poisonous snakes to think about. The West concerns itself only with the rattlers, except for a portion of the Southwest where a few coral snakes may be found. The central states will encounter rattles, copperheads and occasionally moccasins. New England has rattlesnakes and copperheads. The southeastern states have the greatest number and variety of venomous snakes since it is here that the range of the rattlesnake, the coral and the moccasin overlap, with a few copperheads also appearing in northern Florida.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

License Plate Backer

MOTORISTS can avoid denting or bending their new automobile license plates by backing them with a piece of Masonite 1/8" Tempered Presdwood. In this way, the metal will be kept straight despite occasional parking incidents.

Cut slightly smaller than the plates, the Tempered Presdwood is attached to the metal by means of ordinary license plate fasteners. First, of course, holes of the proper size are drilled. In addition to the two fasteners at the bottom edge, two are applied at the top corners so that the metal and hardboard are drawn into close contact.

Motorists who have been using this idea find it easier to clean the plates, which are always kept flat. The cost is negligible, but the improvement in appearance is great.

Parasites Harmful To Farm Livestock

Wisconsin farmers are needlessly spending money each year to raise a crop of livestock parasites.

Dr. R. E. Hall, State Disease Control Laboratory veterinarian, lists loss of weight, reduced rate of gain, lower milk production, weakened body resistance, skin damage, and occasional death as results of the invasion of farm livestock by parasites.

Hall pointed out that winter months when dairy cattle are indoors and in close quarters are especially dangerous for livestock parasite infestation.

The veterinarian says dairy cattle are susceptible to many different kinds of parasites.

Internally, livestock are exposed to coccidia, stomach worm larvae, blood worms, and tapeworms—all of which lower livestock health.

To combat these internal parasites, Hall advises farmers to separate the dairy herd into age groups, stress clean herd sanitation and use drugs for parasite control recommended by local veterinarians.

Externally, three parasites seem to give the most trouble to dairy cattle; they are lice, mange mites and grubs.

In controlling lice, Hall recommends spraying or dusting with new type insecticides, cleaning and disinfecting barns and cattle when mite infection occurs, and treating with dust for grubs.

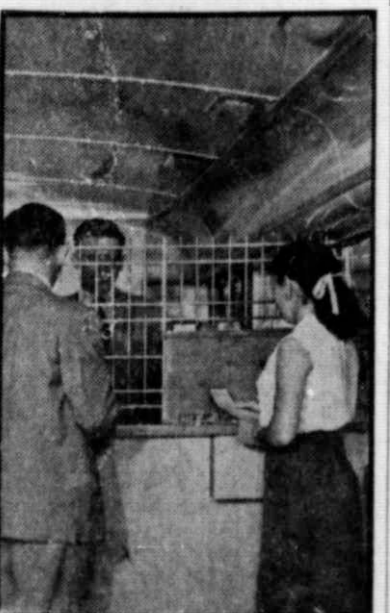

Hall says the actual number of death losses due to parasites are great, but the total economic loss is tremendous.

And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

—(St. Mark XII, 30.)

Surely we are letting ourselves in for trouble, for disappointment for a denial of the complete happiness that could be ours, if we disregard these words of Jesus and thus delude ourselves into thinking that just loving God a little—while indulging ourselves—is enough. The fact is that a little self-indulgence grows into a lot of it, and soon the Lord is crowded out.

Leisure Clothes for Leisure Hours

Lovely Loafing Clothes

BY EDNA MILES

Designed for leisure wear, this three-piece ensemble is completely washable. Short, reversible plaid coat-trim two-piece pajamas.

THE trend to clothes designed especially for leisure hours at home is a noticeable one. It's a practical one, since the day of the elaborate tea gown and the flowing hostess gown has long since gone.

Such leisure as the average woman does have is highly valued. For this time, they want fashions that are pretty and comfortable, that wash easily and iron without difficulty. Designer Harry Berger does clothes that meet all of these requirements and have designed flair as an added bonus.

A mandarin coat in three-quarter length is printed in giant gold-tipped butterflies. The coat is quilted and has long sleeves that flair in a wide circle at the wrist. There are big square pockets for holding the little incidentals that women like to carry about the house with them.

This coat tops narrow two-piece pajamas in solid aqua broadcloth. These have the mandarin collar too but sleeves are short. Both coat and pajamas are completely color-fast and washable.

For the very young housewife and the career girl, this same designer has done a short coat and two-piece pajamas. The quilted coat shell is in plaid broadcloth lined in solid color. It's reversible, has big pockets, man-tailored collar and long, full sleeves with adjustable cuff-lengths.

Pajama top is in plaid with pants in solid color. Top and trousers can be worn outdoors as well as in; both are meticulously tailored. These three pieces are completely washable.

This three-quarter length mandarin coat in gold butterfly print is worn for leisure hours over aqua broadcloth pajamas. Both wash and iron beautifully.

Learn to Relax for Health in 1953

People who are currently worn out by their holiday activities are likely to be especially interested in the first five rules for a healthy new year issued today by the Minnesota State Medical association.

Getting plenty of rest and relaxation is recommended in the first place by the doctors because so many adult Americans appear to be failing to get adequate rest these days. Learning how to relax and forget their troubles is just as important, they say, as getting regular seven to eight hours sleep every night. Both are urgently recommended for healthy and comfortable living. Much premature aging, not to speak of stomach ulcers and many heart disorders, are known to be the direct result of failure to rest and relax.

The other four rules selected to help you get through 1953 in good health are as follows:

Have a thorough physical check-up by your doctor and faithfully follow his advice.
Watch your diet. If your doctor finds you overweight start today to count calories in accordance with his instructions. With the holidays nearly over this suggestion should be easier to follow.
Be alert to any unusual symptom such as sudden, unexplained indigestion, any lumps or discharges anywhere on or from the body, any persistent hoarseness or cough. Report them to your doctor immediately for prompt diagnosis and treatment. Usually immediate treatment will help you to forestall serious illness later on.

Having shifted responsibility to your doctor and followed his advice, then forget yourself and enter wholeheartedly into the activities of your family, friends and community. Due concern, in itself, is one of the surest invitations to illness.

J. R.: Why should I have sore throat after my tonsils have been removed?
ANSWER: Removal of tonsils does not guarantee that you will never have sore throat again. Chronically infected tonsils will, of course, no longer be a focus of infection. But germs may attack the throat from many other sources.

Eyes Come First In Decorating Any Room

Visual well-being should be the first consideration in designing any room where critical seeing tasks are to be performed for long periods, says the Better Vision Institute. Regardless of transitory style trends, the requirements of efficient, comfortable seeing should receive the foremost attention of decorators, particularly when they are planning schools, offices, libraries, and factories.

In the performance of any seeing task, you have highly accurate vision in only a very small area. Here, high contrasts, such as that between black ink and white paper, are usually desirable. But elsewhere in the visual field it is better not to have very high contrasts. For instance, you shouldn't read with a glaring lamp directed upon the book while its immediate surroundings are relatively dark. People see more efficiently and suffer less eyestrain, tenseness, and general fatigue when the immediate surroundings have a brightness comparable to that of the task area than when the surroundings are considerably darker. On the other hand, it is bad for the immediate surroundings to be brighter than the task area.

In keeping with these principles, the desk-tops in school and offices should be finished in natural wood or other materials of high reflectance, rather than in the old dark-stained wood. Floors, walls, ceilings, and furnishings in rooms where eye-taxing work is to be done should also have higher reflectances than they frequently used to have. Reflectances conservatively recommended are as follows: floors—at least 15 per cent; desk-tops and similar equipment—35 per cent; walls—35 to 50 per cent; and ceilings—70 to 80 per cent.

Fortunately, the Institute points out, there is a growing tendency to create bright environments. People are becoming increasingly aware of the need to safeguard precious vision, through good sense in daily living as well as through professional eye-care.

Community Interests Aid Emotional Health

Have you ever felt lonesome in a crowd? Have you ever pretended that you did not see an acquaintance coming and crossed the street in order to avoid meeting him? Do you feel that your neighborhood can easily get along without you and that you are not needed in its functioning? Are you so self-centered that you prefer being left alone? Do you habitually make excuses for not attending social functions?

It is possible for a person sometimes to harm his emotional health by developing incorrect attitudes towards life, towards his community, towards his family or even towards those who would gladly become his friends. Far too many people, by being seclusive or by "withdrawing into their own shell," develop anti-social habits which sometimes prove very injurious.

Only in the days of primitive man was it possible for individuals or families to live to themselves. Since civilization has opened the eyes of the individual to the need for companionship, the average normal man actually craves social life. He prefers not to eat his food alone, but in the company of others. He likes to hold gatherings with his friends and acquaintances. The enjoyable quilting bees, corn huskings, cane boilings, square dances and candy pullings of Great Grandmother's day are delightful examples of wholesome fun and social development. Today, clubs, associations, conventions, teen-age organizations and public gatherings without number afford excellent means for social interchange and a sure proof against social stagnation of the individual.

Many centuries ago when the guild system came into being, man found that the guild meeting served not only as a social stimulant but also as a protection and an aid.

Do you think you would be a good Robinson Crusoe? How long could you exist without food, clothes, fuel, shelter, books, music, picture shows, and so on?

As an individual in a community, properly protected against crime, properly equipped with good roads, lights, churches, water, schools, museums, entertainment houses, public parks and so on, do you realize there is a specific place to be filled by every individual? Would it be a sign of emotional health were you to sit back amid the comforts of a good home and admit that you were content to keep company with your radio only? Do you feel that you should lend your support to various activities of the community if the community allows you the unlimited uses of its utilities and benefits? Perhaps you will contend that your job is not very important and that your duties seem minor when compared to those of professional people or of great artists or prominent politicians.

Though most of us cannot be the hub of the wheel, we all can be the spokes; but how could the hub make any connection with the rim if it were not for the powerful spokes? Thus we can see that in the affairs of his community everyone should have an important place to fill and should continue to realize that he is important, for feelings of inferiority do no one any good but often work harm to the nervous system.

A great Jewish leader once said that a man must not think of himself more highly than he ought to think but should think soberly. This is the reason that we know these two attitudes of mind about which you have been reading are actually signs of an unhealthy emotional condition and, in time, may lead to a break in the personality.

If, in the past, you have been too much in love with yourself to think of others; if you have lavished too much attention upon yourself or have been pre-occupied with self, just remember that self-love is injurious and causes maladjustment and maladjustment brings on nervous conditions. Or on the other hand, if you have been thinking about yourself as inferior, begin right now to think "soberly." Remember that no matter how important you once thought you were, both you and your job are important to your community, your family and your nation.

BOLTONVILLE BUSY BEAVERS 4-H CLUB NEWS

"We Drivers" was the challenging film shown at the regular meeting of Boltonville 4-H club, Wednesday evening, Jan. 14, at the MW lodge rooms.

The timely film was introduced by Norbert Dettman, leader, emphasizing the fact that within the last year the local township, Farmington, had three auto fatalities as compared with none for the past ten years.

Since careful driving protects the most important crop we grow in America—our boys and girls and their mothers and dads, the film summarized ten rules that make for safe driving:
