

Memorial Day to Be Observed With Parade, Services

The Robert G. Romaine Post No. 284 of the American Legion will conduct a parade and services on Memorial day, Saturday, May 30, commemorating the dead of the war and the present conflict. Memorial day originated at the close of the Civil War and has been observed each May 30 since that time as a tribute to the dead in all our wars.

The observance will begin with the parade at 9:30 a. m. It will originate at the high school and proceed east on First St., south on West Water St., west on Main St. and north on Fond du Lac Ave. to the Legion Memorial building.

Attorney David Bartelt will be the principal speaker on the program which will immediately follow the parade. The program will be presented on the front porch of the Legion Memorial building.

The Legion invites all persons, adult and youth alike, to participate in this commemoration and show their respect toward those who gave their lives for their country. Any organization not yet contacted who wishes participation in the parade, please contact Dr. Robert Kauth, post chaplain.

In case of inclement weather, the parade will be omitted and the program will take place in the high school auditorium.

The order of march for the parade will be as follows:

1. Police Escort.
2. Legion Colors and Guard.
3. K-M V.F.W. Colors and Guard.
4. High School Band.
5. Firing Squad.
6. Gold Star Mothers.
7. American Legion Members.
8. K-M V.F.W. Members.
9. American Legion Commander, V.F.W. Commander and Speaker.
10. Legion Auxiliary, V.F.W. Auxiliary, President.
11. Fire Department.
12. Boy Scouts and Cubs.
13. Girl Scouts and Brownies.
14. Guests of V.F.W.
15. Town Children.

The following program will be conducted after the parade:

1. Star Spangled Banner—High School Band.
2. Invocation—Rev. F. C. La Buwi.
3. Gettysburg Address—Jeanette Staehler.
4. High School Quartet—(T. Rosenheimer, J. Kanless, E. Kluever, M. Rosenheimer).
5. Flanders Field—Audrey Schaefer.
6. America—High School Band.
7. Memorial Day Address—Atty. David Bartelt.
8. Placing of Memorial Wreath—Auxiliary Chaplain.
9. Firing Squad.
10. Benediction—Rev. F. C. La Buwi.
11. Taps.

Chevs Rained Out; at Mequon Sunday

For the second time in three weeks a steady rain Sunday caused postponement of scheduled games in the Land o' Lakes northern division. The Kewaskum Chevrolet team was to meet Belgium on the home field.

This Sunday the four teams that won their opening games will face the four losing teams. Feature tilt Sunday will be Kewaskum's battle at Mequon. Although Mequon lost its opening to Cedarburg they have a strong team. Other contests are Cedarburg at Newburg, Germantown at Belgium and Saukville at Grafton.

John Tessar will most likely be on the mound for Kewaskum. John won over Newburg in the opener, 14-3 but will get a tougher test at Mequon. Don Rennieck will probably oppose Tessar.

Children's Pictures to Be Taken Free, Published

The publishers of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at our future "world builders."

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. We have invited the Woltz Studios of Des Moines, Iowa, nationally known children's photographers, to take these special pictures for us.

An expert children's photographer for the studios, with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Tuesday, May 26. The special studio will be set up at the Modern Woodman hall and will be open from 2:30 p. m. to 6 p. m.

To add to the interest and fun in this exciting event, the studio will award $500.00 in CASH prizes—$250.00 to the cutest girl; $250.00 to the cutest boy. Each child or children photographed in this community will automatically be entered in the contest, which covers the Midwest states only. Beauty alone does not count—the studio judges will base their selections upon the personality and charm as portrayed by the pictures. Every child and family group are eligible.

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bona fide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper and entered in the contest. It is entirely up to them.

The Statesman simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more the better. So the mothers and fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date, Tuesday, May 26, at the Modern Woodman hall.

Mother and Dad—and the youngsters too—will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Gladys Stern Wed to Marvin Tackes

Miss Gladys E. Stern became the bride of Marvin J. Tackes, Route 2, West Bend, on Saturday morning, May 16. The 8 o'clock nuptial mass was read in Holy Angels church, West Bend. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stern, Route 2, Kewaskum. Mr. Tackes is a son of Robert Tackes, Route 2, West Bend, and the late Mrs. Tackes.

Bridal satin and marquisette were combined to fashion the gown worn by the bride. The full satin skirt of the bride's gown ended in a long lace trimmed train. Her fingertip veil was gathered at a crown of seed pearls and beads. An orchid was centered in her bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Dolores Petrey served as maid of honor in an orchid satin gown with a lace bodice. She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations to contrast with her gown, and wore matching flowers in her hair. Miss Darcel Tackes, the bridesmaid, wore an identical gown in yellow and carried flowers like those of the maid of honor. Little Miss Elaine Uelman served as the flower girl.

Completing the bridal party were Dalvine Tackes, the best man, and Sylvester Stern, the groomsmen. Master Dwayne Tackes served as ring bearer.

A wedding dinner and supper at the home of the bride's parents preceded an evening reception at West Park ballroom, West Bend, at which the newlyweds received the well wishes of a large number of relatives and friends.

They will reside at Route 2, Kewaskum. Mr. Tackes is employed as a molder at the Guson company, Port Washington. His bride graduated from Random Lake High school and has been employed at Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Mrs. Clifford Stautz, Kewaskum, is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, since Friday, May 15, when she underwent an operation.

Charles Sparks, Kewaskum, submitted to an operation at St. Joseph's hospital last week.

Mrs. Reuben Martin, Kewaskum, R. R. submitted to an operation at St. Joseph's hospital on Monday.

Stautz Initiated Into Honor Society at UW

Floyd F. Stautz, Kewaskum, is among the 124 new members of Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic honor society for freshmen, who were initiated into the University of Wisconsin chapter on May 7. Of the total, 37 of the newly initiated members are students in the university's extension centers throughout the state.

Each semester pledges for this honor society are selected from the freshmen class on the basis of scholastic achievement. Candidates must have earned a grade point average of 2.5 or better in their first year studies. An average of 3 points per credit of study taken in the university would mean a perfect record.

The requirements for membership in this organization are very high. Freshmen become eligible after the first semester or after the end of their freshman year. To be eligible the scholastic average must be equal to or better than a grade of A in one-half the credits elected with a grade of B in the remaining credits. It is the greatest scholastic distinction a freshman can attain. Less than six per cent of the men in the class normally attain the honor each year.

Finish Plans for Cancer Fund Campaign in County

Completion of plans for the annual fund campaign of the American Cancer society in Washington county has been announced by the drive chairman, Thomas J. Kenny, West Bend. As in the past, Kenny said, the campaign will be conducted by mail on a voluntary basis. Letters to all residents of Washington county will go out at the end of this month.

District chairmen have been named in each township, village and city in the county and letters will go from these volunteer workers to their neighbors in the respective areas within Washington county. A complete list of the chairmen in the individual precincts will be announced next week, Kenny said.

Expressing confidence that the campaign will receive generous support, Chairman Kenny noted that Washington county has compiled a splendid record in previous years, giving evidence that the people of this area are wholeheartedly behind the never-ending research and education work of the American Cancer society. He pointed out that this vital work could not continue without the financial help of millions of people throughout the nation who make their individual contributions, each according to his means, every year to further the work of the American Cancer society.

Infant Barbara Ebert Dies

Barbara Jean Ebert, aged fifteen months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ebert, Kewaskum, died Friday morning, May 22, at the home of her parents in the village. The body will be in state at Miller's Funeral home after 1 p. m. Sunday. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at Trinity Lutheran church, Dundee.

NO SERVICE AT POST OFFICE MEMORIAL DAY

There will be no window service at the post office on Memorial day Saturday, May 30. Only one mail will be received and that is on Train No. 217 due here at 5:00 a. m. No mail will be dispatched, no rural delivery. The lobby will remain open until 6:00 p. m. for the benefit of lock box patrons.

Frank Hoppe, Postmaster

District Baseball Tournament Here Won by Belles

Campbellsport shamed Oakfield by a 4-3 margin in the final game of the state W.I.A.A. district baseball tournament at Kewaskum Tuesday afternoon and will now advance to the sectional meet.

Opening games of the tourney were played Saturday afternoon here. In the first game at 1 p. m. the Kewaskum Indians were defeated by the Belles, 9-1. In the second contest at 3 p. m. Oakfield downed Lomira, 8-4. The losers were eliminated from the meet and the winners advanced to the finals Tuesday.

Norman Serwe was the winning hurler for the Belles, who also lead the Tri-County conference. Dick Collien was the losing pitcher for the Oaks in the title game. Serwe held Oakfield to three hits while his mates collected six. There were seven errors.

The Belles scored a run in the third, two more in the fourth and another in the fifth. Oakfield counted two markers in the second and a third in the sixth only to have the rally fall short.

Catcher Bob Bauer of the Belles clouted a home run and a triple. Collien had a triple for the losers. In conference games last Thursday Lomira eliminated Oakfield from the undefeated ranks with a 12-7 victory. The Oak defeat enabled Campbellsport to take over first place with a 4-0 record. In one other tilt Rosendale walloped North Fond du Lac, 12-1. The Kewaskum-Brandon contest was postponed because of cold weather. Oakfield still has a chance for the title, with a makeup game with Campbellsport remaining to be played.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK—Two news items, same day, same paper:

"Security analysts believe the economy has passed the defense peak and has entered a period of slow decline."

"Manufacturing and other non-farm industries added more than a quarter-million workers between mid-February and mid-March, raising the total of non-farm employees to 46.7 million."

Security analysts, the men entrusted with the investment programs of Wall Street houses, investment banks and life insurance companies, are among the most astute students of the nation's business. Yet the very businesses they expect to decline are the ones which are bolstering their forces for summer sales. Both of these signposts that point in opposite directions were erected by experts.

The answer is that no one really knows just which way the economy will turn next. In such times the businessman who simply strives to keep his accounts in order, do a better job than his competitor, and let the long-term trend take care of itself may be following the best course.

SIGHTED SNORKEL, CLAIMED SAME—The Russians got a lot of laughs by their claims to have invented "beizbol," the telephone and the hot dog. But they'll run into an argument when they claim to have invented the first messproof fountain pen. Wilbur Olson, patent attorney for the Sheaffer Pen Company, has mailed a patent application on the new Snorkel fountain pen to the Moscow patent office.

"The Reds say America is dominated by a 'soda pop and fountain pen culture,'" said Olson. "If they follow their standard practice of deriding American institutions and then taking credit for them, they'll soon be saying they invented the fountain pen. Our patent claim should forestall their inventing the Snorkel pen."

The new pen has a tube that extends from under the nib, to draw ink without wetting the point. It is named for the snorkel breathing apparatus that extends from submerged submarines to draw air.

THINGS TO COME—A portable high current test unit checks circuit breakers and other electrical devices to reduce electrical fires. . . . A Cambridge, Mass., firm offers a plastic spray to cover factory windows against summer glare. . . . For still fishermen, a new rod support protects rod, reel and line when the line is left unattended. . . . A new treepuller shoves the tree or stump out of the ground instead of yanking it. Saves wear on the operator; he need not dodge.

GOOD NEIGHBOR—One country that encourages capital investment by responsible foreign firms and backs it up with full guarantees is Cuba. This good neighbor policy on the part of the island republic was started recently by President Batista in connection with Freeport Sulphur Company's discovery at Moa Bay in Cuba of what is believed to be the free world's most important proven source of critically short nickel outside Canada.

Free port subsidiaries had previously mined manganese in Cuba during World War II, and built and operated for the U. S. government a nickel processing plant at Nicaro, near Moa Bay.

In an official statement the Cuban government said it welcomed the return of Freeport as a company that had operated "with a very satisfactory record under the previous government of General Batista." It expressed confidence that a pilot plant to be built for recovery of nickel and also cobalt, which the Moa Bay ores contain, "will be transformed in successive states into a great center of production which will have positive influence in the industrial development of the country."

ONE LITTLE HITCH—Makers of the huge electronic digital computers, commonly called "giant brains," fret because their costly machines, aside from a heavy play by airplane makers, do not attract the business they should.

The trouble seems to be that the average executive who might order a problem taken up with Univac or Eniac is a Model 1908 Human Being, a marvelously intricate and perceptive machine in its own right, but a little on the blind side, in most cases, with respect to higher mathematics.

Look for advertising of the giant brains to stress the practicality of the problems they can solve, as well as their lightning speed.

BIT'S O' BUSINESS—Movie exhibitors, fighting the 20 per cent admission tax, made a move to show members of Congress. . . . Steel price increases, strongly hinted in this column a week ago, began last week with posting of extra charges by Republic Steel of Cleveland.

No Miracle Cure Yet For Leukemia

Leukemia is one form of cancer in which early discovery is not the first, hopeful step toward cure.

Leukemia is really a very rare disease, in spite of the stories, the doctors point out. Panicky parents who think of it every time their children are ill should know that the chances for the average child to contract it are almost negligible. The average doctor sees less than one case a year.

Doctors of the Minnesota State Medical association call attention to it in their bulletin issued recently, first, because current research does hold out some hope for the eventual development of a substance that will control this malignant killer in the blood; and second, because stories of miracle drug cures of leukemia in children rouse false hopes that can only end in tragic let-downs, at the present time.

Nobody knows, yet, what starts the characteristic wild growth of white cells in the blood. It bears no apparent relationship to infection or glandular imbalance, or to any specific virus or poison. Neither has any treatment so far developed, proved to be more than temporarily effective in controlling it. The onset is stealthy and usually simulates many other common, trifling illnesses at first. It attacks adults at any age as well as children.

Conquest is bound to come eventually, the doctors say. They base their optimism chiefly on the recent discovery of substances in the blood that tend to stimulate cell multiplication. Leukemia may be a disorder of the body that causes over-stimulation of these substances and discovery of a neutralizer that will act against the trouble-maker may be the answer they have been seeking for.

Blouses Build Up Many a Spring Wardrobe

BY EDNA MILES

Sheer nylon linen makes this lovely blouse. The trim is four embroidered, cutwork butterflies. The contour-fitted neckline tapers at the back.

IT'S a fact that many a tiny wardrobe has been stretched and made to seem larger through the addition of several blouses.

This spring, a designer has created a complete blouse wardrobe. Each one is budget-priced in fabrics that make upkeep simple. Some are in that fragile-looking but hardy synthetic, nylon tricote. Others are in pima broadcloth, acetate rayon, nylon sheer, orlon-and-silk, pure silk, nylon linen or pique.

Colors are vivid or delicate; chartreuse, natural or melon plus the basic black and white; pink, blue, maize and eggshell.

One of the most likely members of the nylon group is nylon linen. Opaque, it looks like linen and washes like nylon. This means no ironing and that's good news anytime, anyplace.

White cotton pique blouse, at left, has a classic club-collar and tailored, stitched placket fastened with ocean-pearl buttons. Short-sleeved brief, at right, has a convertible mandarin collar and rows of pinpoint stitching. Both blouses are budget priced.

About The Home

By Frances Dell

One of the delights of decorating a home is how much you can achieve with pictures. Pictures can add a splash of color, set a mood or help to hide a bad feature of a room. They will focus attention on an important wall or, when used en masse, hide a bad one.

It has been said that nothing is as much your personal expression as the pictures you hang on your walls. You may dream of someday possessing a Renoir of Van Gogh, however, chances are that you will be so busy sending your children to college or trying to furnish an entire house that you won't invest in masterpieces. You can have the next best thing. Today, museums and libraries will make photographs or photostats of anything they have.

A detail from a good fabric can have the same rich texture as an oil painting and should be framed without glass to reveal it. Old maps are decorative and interesting, especially in a den or library. A collection of old plates can give new charm to a traditional mantel. Old print books are an unending source of reproductions of birds, shells and flowers. Certain wallpapers lend themselves to framing.

Butterflies, sea shells, antique buttons and hat pins are attractive framed in a deep shadow box.

Let your imagination run riot and you will be surprised at the interesting and personalized effects you will come up with.

Bible Comment:

Speaking the Truth Is Only Christian Way of Life for All

PERJURY done in the act of self preservation when a man is under the stress of great fear or emotion is far removed from the evil act of lying in order to injure someone else.

This is the greatest evil and is mentioned in the Ten Commandments. Moses put great stress on the importance of not bearing false witness against anyone.

Today the question of perjury is suddenly of great interest to many of us. Several men have been sentenced to prison for lying while giving testimony of great importance to our national security.

No matter why a man lies, his act is inherently evil. Paul's description of Christian conduct is a good one. He pointed out that "Speaking the truth in love" is the Christian way—and the only Christian way.

To be sure, there have been dramatic instances of perjury which surprise us when we consider the sources of these false statements. One is the denial made by Peter when he was accused by the young girl as he sat in the outer room of the high priest's palace.

But Peter's denial was based on a sudden surge of his instinct for self preservation. His true nature is revealed almost immediately when he breaks into sobs at the realization that he has fulfilled the prophecy and denied his Lord.

The professional perjurers, the informers for profit, and those always ready to lie for their own advantage, are the men destined to suffer for their violation of the commandment. Because the great stress put on the commandment was not enough, even for the small group of people who made up the tribe of Israel in those ancient days.

Mentioned in the Proverbs are references to "burning lips" and "wicked hearts."

Ruin is the ordained fate of the perjurer. This is probably clarified best in the statement: "Who so diggett a pit shall fall therein; and he that rolleth a stone, it will return upon him."

Treated Grain Can Be Health Hazard

With winter gone farmers are doing their spring field work. One of their concerns at this time of year is the problem of seed treating to prevent rot. However this process must be done carefully because, if mishandled, the chemicals used can be most injurious to health.

Most small grain today is treated with a mercury compound, usually in a powder or dust form. This treatment has proved quite successful in combating moisture rot and rust. Whether the farmer treats the seed himself, or merely handles bags of previously treated seed, dust particles containing mercury may be inhaled. Mercury poisoning may result.

The symptoms of this health hazard are quickly apparent. A running nose and watering eyes, often accompanied by intense headaches should be a warning sign to anyone handling seed that dust particles containing mercury are being breathed into the system. If no precautions are taken and exposure continues mercury poisoning in time will have serious effects on the nervous system. The victim becomes excitable and irritable, and complains of headaches, weakness, and fatigue. A noticeable trembling of the hands, head, and jaw may result.

MIXED ACCENT—Paris-Madrid styles blend in this summer creation of a New York designer. Can-can ruffles on the cotton stole contrast with the bare-top black cotton gown.

New Weed Control Being Developed

A cotton field that has been pre-emergent treated with Chloro-IPC shows control of grass in 7-inch bands on each side of row.

PITTSBURGH, PA.—Development of a new chemical for control of weeds and grasses in field crops, soy beans, alfalfa, vegetables and especially cotton, promises an important contribution to the continuing mechanization of agriculture. Experiments now being conducted with the new herbicide, designated Chloro-IPC, show favorable control of certain annual grasses and broadleaf weeds for a variety of crops. Of importance to farmers is the fact that research indicates that it is not translocated in plants. It selectively retards cell divisions in the primary root structures of germinating weed or grass seeds and very young seedlings. For this reason, it should be present in the soil at germination or in the very early seedling stage of the weeds to be controlled. Effects last about four to six weeks in the soil, although both longer and shorter periods have been reported. Soil temperature seems to be the most important factor and rainfall secondary. The higher the temperature, the shorter the effective period.

GOOD HEALTH

1. WHAT DOES THIRD PARTY PAYMENT MEAN?

2. WHEN DO BABIES NEED EXTRA VITAMINS?

3. HOW MUCH SCHOOL TIME IS LOST BY COLDS?

Answer to Question No. 1:
The term is applied to that method by which a hospital and physician receive payment for hospital services not from the patient himself but from an organization such as non-profit health insurance groups (Blue Cross), commercial insurance companies, industrial plans, cooperatives, or government agencies.

Answer to Question No. 2:
Before babies are a month old, they are often given, on the advice of a doctor, some form of vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin. Premature babies especially need extra vitamin D since they may not have inherited much from their mothers and because they grow so fast. Many doctors give babies vitamin C in the form of orange juice before they are a month old. Medical science's discovery of the importance of vitamins is one of the outstanding health contributions of the 20th century.

Answer to Question No. 3:
In a study of 7700 pupils it was discovered that the common cold was the cause of one-third of all absences. Most persons have one or two colds a year, but some average four or more. In case of frequent colds, it is advisable to consult your physician.

TO START THE DAY RIGHT, treat yourself to a generous helping of cheerful thoughts and a liberal breakfast. As the poem says:

Eat a fine breakfast
To start the day right.
It helps make you happy
And healthy and bright.

As you know, the food experts say it's important to have 3 square meals a day. Breakfast is especially important. Because your system goes without food for a long period—from dinner to breakfast. Follow this kind of meal pattern for good daily fare.

BREAKFAST: Tomato juice or citrus fruit; cereal with milk and sugar; hot toast; bacon or sausage.

LUNCH: Vegetable soup; tuna salad; fruit cup, cookies, milk.

DINNER: Ham a la king on biscuits; buttered asparagus green salad; bread and butter; cherry pie; milk or coffee.

AS SPRING-LIKE AS DAISIES is a dinner that features "Ham a la King on Biscuits."

Ham a la King on Biscuits
1 small onion, chopped (about 1/4 cup)
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed cream of celery soup
1 cup diced, cooked ham, pork or veal
1 cup cooked peas, drained
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
6 hot biscuits, or corn meal muffins, split and buttered

Brown onion lightly in butter in skillet. Add soup, meat, peas, milk and Worcestershire sauce, simmer over low heat about 10 minutes. Pour mixture over biscuits in short-cake fashion. 6 servings.

Sports Afield

By Ted Kesting

I'm tired of photographs of grinning anglers holding up strings of dead fish. So I asked Ormal Sprungman, one of this country's outstanding wildlife cameramen, for some new angles on filming fish.

The most difficult shot for shutter-clicking sportsmen is a leaping fish. From Sprungman I learned that you must bring a freshly-hooked fish to the surface as quickly as possible. You focus at the point where the line cuts the water, and release the shutter as soon as the fish starts his upward climb. If you delay until he is already freewheeling in open air, you'll probably catch only the final splash.

I've found that getting one good leaping fish picture in a dozen tries is a tough day's work and worth all of the patience and perseverance you can muster. The surprise element is ever present, for you will never know what you have captured until the negative is developed.

Once you have succeeded in filming leaping fish all by themselves, try branching out to work both fish and fisherman in the same scene of action. Because of the large lens opening and fast shutter speed—usually 1/500 to 1/1000 second is necessary to freeze the leap—both angler and fish must be approximately in the same plane. In other words, if the fish leaps between the camera and fisherman, and focus is sharp on the fish, chances are the angler will be out of focus. And vice versa.

Another ambitious project is to try filming close-ups in color or black-and-white of the various species of fish you can catch. On the bigger lunkers, come in close for striking head portraits showing the bulging eyes and powerful jaws.

If you want to brighten up your outdoor fishing scenes, use a yellow filter with black-and-white film to enhance any clouds in the sky and give your prints more snap.

And watch your backgrounds. Contrast a light subject with a dark background, and dark against light. Mottled backdrops of trees and rocks are confusing; shooting from a low angle will silhouette your subject nicely against the sky.

In proportion to its mighty size—24,902 miles around at the equator, 13 miles less at the poles, the earth is smooth. Reduced to the size of a basketball the 5-mile mountain peaks of southern Asia, the equal depths of the Oriental Pacific, would be only a dab or two of paint, or a pin scratch.

Average distance from the earth to the moon is 239,000 miles.

London In Coronation Season Will Be Gay—Especially For American Girls

London will be the most spectacular city in the world to be in this summer. Beginning in April with the Caledonian Ball at Grosvenor House and going on to the Eton-Harrow cricket match in July, the social season surrounding the Coronation will be the most glittering Britons and their visitors have seen since before the war. Americans will be the favored guests, and since it is a Queen who is being crowned, the social festivities will be most fun for girls, says Geoffrey Bocca in McCall's Magazine. Writing in the May issue he tells you what the main events of the season will be and something of the magnificent preparations now under way:

"The only people who will have fun at this Coronation will be the young people and the Americans, a weary English nobleman told me not long ago. He was referring, I realized, to the bills he and other members of the British aristocracy will be paying for the social festivities attending a coronation. And he is probably right.

"Perhaps because it is a queen rather than a king who is being crowned, London this summer will be the best city in the world for girls. Even the stuffy London clubs, where Englishmen have always claimed sanctuary from their womenfolk, are loosening up for the Coronation.

"Much of the celebrating will be totally exclusive, but, like many of the attractions of England, there will be a lot more that is both fashionable and free. One of the joys of London is that even if you miss the Royal Family in the procession you will see them somewhere else. They will be at the Derby, Ascot and the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden.

April is the month for the first Coronation parties. The Caledonian Ball at Grosvenor House is the earliest big dance of the year. The men wear the kilt or tartan evening dress—not merely a plaid jacket in the New York manner but from head to foot, including shoes—and the women tartan sashes. There is a pipe band, and every alternate dance is a Scottish reel, which gives non-Scots a pause for refreshment. Tickets are not particularly difficult to get, but the untartaned guests must wear white tie and tails.

"The season proper begins with the Derby, which is run on the Epsom Downs at the end of May, with the Royal Family there to watch. The Derby is fashionable, though not in the way that Ascot or Goodwood are fashionable. There are Rolls Royces in the car parks, but on the Downs the air is thick with Cockney tongues, the shouts of bookies and tipsters, the calls of gypsy fortunetellers and the tang of beer and jellied eels. One of the greatest attractions of the Derby is that you can see it for free. There is no restriction or admission charge.

"After the Coronation itself comes Ascot, five days of racing and fashions on the course laid out by Queen Anne 200 years ago. Queen Elizabeth and the Royal Family will be there too. June and July see the London season at its height, with the Derby, the Trooping of the Color, the magnificent Antique Dealers' Fair and the Fourth of June.

In June too there is the Guard's Club dance by the river at Maidenhead, one of the few occasions on which one might see Royalty incognito. Wimbledon and the All-England tennis championships, with the Duchess of Kent as the resident attraction, come in July, followed by the boat racing at Henley. The Eton-Harrow cricket match at Lord's cricket ground in St. John's Wood, London, almost closes the season and gives London yet another chance (admission price: 25c) for a fashion show with a sporting background.

"Actually fewer peers than ever among the 1,200 who will attend will be able to afford the $1,000 or $2,000 or $3,000 necessary to buy their Coronation robes, and more than ever are being seen making their way gingerly through the cabbage-strewn streets of Covent Garden to the unique store run by the Brothers Moss. For nearly a cen-

Eisenhower Praises "CARE" Program

President Eisenhower marks CARE's seventh anniversary by commending the foreign-aid agency to Americans as a means of backing up the government's international efforts.

In "A Report to the People," CARE's anniversary booklet, the President states "CARE strengthens the fight for peace, for the impoverishment of any single people means danger to the well-being of all others."

"The Twentieth Century has laid upon our country the responsibility of the free world's leadership," he continues. "This responsibility cannot be borne by government alone. It summons the voluntary assistance and initiative of all citizens—working through such institutions as CARE—to match good will with good works."

The booklet traces CARE's growth from May, 1946, when it began delivering food packages to Europe, to its present programs for self-help as well as relief for the people of 40 countries in Europe, Asia, Africa and South America. CARE gifts subscribed to date by individuals and organizations total $150,000,000, and range from food and textiles to plows, tools, new books, health and medical supplies and community center equipment.

Paul Comly French, Executive Director, in an appeal for continued contributions, points out the nonprofit agency has no endowed funds. "Everything CARE has done, and hopes to do," he stresses, "depends upon voluntary public support."

Among the most practical fabrics home dressmakers will find this season is a flannel type material of 90% virgin wool and 10% nylon. It is guaranteed washable and in one of the first fabrics for home sewing to feature moth-proofing.

The fabric is fashionably timed for the trend toward smooth textures says Betty Ann. Because it is so easy to care for, it is also ideal for children's wear. The handsome flannel has the soft hand and resilience expected of fine wool fabrics and lends itself beautifully to precise tailoring. Yet it will wash without matting, felting or shrinking and never requires the troublesome care normally entailed in safeguarding wool against moth damage.

Dresses or other garments made of the fabric can be kept conveniently in any closet, accessible for use whenever they are needed. Moth flakes, crystals, sprays or garment bags are unnecessary.

Shall we mix or shall we match? That's a question often asked about accessories.

It used to be that one would strive to match a bag and shoes or any two or three other accessories in color and material. The effect was often bad. If one achieved only a near-match, it was painfully obvious that one had failed in one's aim.

Today, girls are much more free. Because they don't feel they have to match colors, they can use two shades of one color together, with just enough difference for interest. Or they can use two colors in their accessories, provided their background colors are plain.

The same thing is true of materials of which the accessories are made. One used to match faille to faille, velvet to velvet and so on down the line. With today's new freedom, a girl strives for greater interest than that—in texture contrasts.

If you're still shopping in the old way—bringing a bag and shoe under the light to see if they match perfectly—why not enjoy the new freedom of today? With imagination and good taste, you can have liveliness and flavor in your accessories.

Homemakers who save strain on the family budget by sewing will find the gathered flounce for couch, chair and dust ruffle an effective finish for informal rooms. When estimating the amount of fabric needed for such flounce finishes, remember to allow one and one-half times the measurement around furniture piece to be covered.

Ginger Nut Bread

One-half cup firmly packed light brown sugar; 1/2 cup granulated sugar; 2 tablespoons soft shortening; 1 egg; 1 1/2 cups evaporated milk; 1/2 cup water; 3 cups sifted flour; 3/4 teaspoon baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans; 1/2 cup finely chopped candied ginger.

Blend sugar, shortening and egg thoroughly in a large mixing bowl. Stir milk and water into egg mixture. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Add to egg mixture all at once and stir until well blended. Add nuts and ginger with the last few stirs. Pour into a large loaf pan (10 1/2 by 5 1/2 by 3 inches). Let stand 20 minutes. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean, about 55 to 60 minutes. Remove from oven and let stand about five minutes. Turn out on cooling rack and set right side up to cool. The bread may be used hot, if desired. Use serrated edge bread knife or sharp knife to cut. Makes one large loaf.

Strawberry Shortcake

Two cups sifted enriched flour; 3 teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt; 1/4 cup sugar; 6 tablespoons shortening; 2/3 to 3/4 cup milk; sweetened sliced strawberries; whipped cream.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to form a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently one-half minute. Pat or roll out into rectangle 8 by 6 inches. Cut into two and one-half inch squares. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven, 450 degrees 10 to 12 minutes. Split crosswise. Spread bottom layer lightly with butter. Cover with sweetened berries and replace tops. Cover with more berries and whipped cream. Makes six servings.

The nap on suede or doekskin can be restored with a steam iron. Hold the steam about an inch away and brush while still moist.

SHE'LL SEE SHELLS—In her sleep, Priscilla Conrad, shell casing packer, will see thousands of shell casings after a day's work at the Chicago, Ill., plant of the Akco Products Co. She feels she has a personal interest in these casings as her brother is fighting on the Korean battlefields where many of them will be used.

Collar the Clock!

PUTTING a collar on the average kitchen timepiece will brighten up the clock wall and make it both attractive and more useful.

Lay the clock on a piece of paper and trace its outline. Transfer the drawing, by means of carbon paper, to a panel of Masonite Tempered Presdwood one-eighth inch thick. The material should be large enough to allow for the sawing of a "collar" to fit around the clock.

The center of the "collar" may be cut out with a coping or similar-type saw. To get the blade started, insert it in a hole bored near and inside the line marking the outline of the clock.

Shape of the clock will determine whether the outer edge of the "collar" is round, square or hexagonal. The distance between the clock and the outer edge of the Presdwood should range from four to six inches, depending on the size of the clock and the amount of wall space available.

Friction ordinarily will keep the "collar" in position, flat against the wall at the back of the clock, but if the sawing has been irregular and the border is loose, insert small pieces of wood to take up the slack.

Arranged in clockwise order around the clock's new border may be glued the leaves from a small calendar.

The ingenious homemaker can decorate the clock in various ways.

Go Butter A Crumb!

Buttered crumbs give a richness of flavor which adds that special touch to casseroles, au gratin dishes, scalloped seafoods and similar dishes. Crumbs are of two varieties . . . dry crumbs, made from crackers or dry bread ground or rolled into fine crumbs, and fresh crumbs or cubes, made from soft bread. Dry crumbs are good for coating croquettes and soft crumbs are good for a variety of uses: topping casseroles, scalloped tomatoes and cabbage and au gratin dishes. Good butter is of only one variety, the kind with the fresh, sweet flavor, protected from churning to table by a sturdy paraffined carton which keeps out the harmful effects of light, air and foreign odors. To make buttered crumbs, melt 3 tablespoons of cartoned butter in a skillet over low heat, add one cup of crumbs and stir over low heat until all the butter has been absorbed. If you want to try a delicious variant, add 1/2 cup of finely chopped nuts to your buttered crumbs.

Child Expert Tells How To Handle Three Basic Kinds of Destructiveness

Destructiveness in children can be of three different kinds and result from three entirely different motives, says child expert Irma Simonton Black in Redbook Magazine. The two-year-old who misuses toys usually doesn't know any better. The older child who takes apart the family alarm clock is impelled by intelligent curiosity about how it works. But the youngster who destroys deliberately and wantonly needs special help. Writing in the May issue of the magazine, Miss Black tells you how to handle each of these problems when it arises:

"The two-year-old who ruins her doll does so from a simple lack of judgment. She is unable to control her impulse to feel the eyes as they close, and to work on the hair with comb and brush. If you provide your child with sturdy, simple toys, they will hold up under the normal rough handling of early childhood.

"The little boy who takes apart the alarm clock is not deliberately destructive, either. He is impelled by an intelligent curiosity to find out what makes it work. You will naturally set limits to such experiments, and your child will learn them easily with friendly guidance. It will help too, if you give him equipment with which he can experiment freely. An odds-and-ends box of assorted old pulleys, latches, nuts and bolts, and such playthings as blocks and tinker toys help him to work off mental as well as physical steam.

"The child who smashes his toy car deliberately is driven by a real impulse to destroy—sometimes even possessions that he loves. He is working off on things feelings that he dares not work off on more powerful people.

"Practically any child, or adult, too, feels this way occasionally. But when a child feels this way most of the time, he needs your help.

"Do you favor another child? Are your standards for this one so high that he feels it is hopeless to live up to your expectations? Do you take off in six different directions at once in discipline? Do you scold him one day, spank him the next, and ignore him the next for the same behavior? Do you fly into frequent rages?

"Steady, affectionate handling is this child's need. You can stop him from destroying, but still show him that you are sympathetic even when you are firm. If you let him do things that actually require destruction, like pulling apart an orange crate, for kindling, his awareness of your understanding may be the beginning of a change in his attitude."

Absolutely Right
Two children were talking. "Know how to tell a lady worm from a gentleman worm?" one asked.
"Oh, sure," said the other. "You've heard that a worm turns. Well, if it turns without putting out its hand, it's a lady worm."

It is possible to make attractive furniture for the children's play room from nail kegs or small barrels. No dimensions are given because sizes vary.

In making the chair, cut away about one-fourth of the keg as illustrated. Nail a false bottom in place for the seat. Pad, and upholster another piece of wood for a cushion.

Pad and upholster the back. Use kapoc or cotton for the padding. Sometimes old bed quilts are used.

The outside of the keg may be sanded smooth if desired, and then varnished, or it may be painted.

MOONEYE

Mooneye

©1952 National Wildlife Federation

The larger rivers and lakes of eastern North America from Hudson bay through the St. Lawrence region and the Great Lakes and south through the Mississippi valley to Alabama and Arkansas is the home of the Mooneye. It apparently is not found along the Atlantic seaboard south of the St. Lawrence and Lake Champlain drainage area. The Mooneye is a member of the mooneye family of fishes and has as a close relative the somewhat smaller Goldeye which commonly is more abundant than the Mooneye. There is a southern relative, the Southern Mooneye, which is less well known and differs from the typical fish by having the keel on the under side of the body absent from the region of the pelvic fins. In the Mooneye, these fins are at about the middle of the fish along the under side.

The Mooneye is a silver and olive fish which may give off a steel blue luster from the olive-colored upper areas. The sides are silvery. The related Goldeye or Northern Mooneye averages under a foot in length and is usually about a pound in weight, though 2-pound fish have been taken. Mooneye of two pounds in weight are not uncommon and fish in excess of that weight have been taken.

Mooneyes will rise to a fly and

THE IMPORTANCE OF PSYCHOLOGICAL TRAINING DURING EARLY CHILDHOOD

Part II

Last week we asked the question whether an effective program for training little children could improve our American way of life. The answer was yes, and we discussed ways to develop wholesome patterns of emotional stability.

If a child is supplied with an intelligent foundation of living, so that his environment, parental training and background tend to steer him toward unselfish goals, he is likely to be emotionally stable. But if parents are overstrict, severe, or if they unwisely handle childhood problems, and fail to realize that all individuals have their differences, they themselves can be responsible for later emotional disturbances.

Space will not permit more than a few warnings against improper handling of young children by parents or guardians.

Don't forget that breast-feeding of babies, with affectionate cuddling, smiles of the mother's approval and expressions of her love can do much to give the little one its earliest feelings of security. Likewise it should be remembered that when the child is deprived of this satisfactory nursing routine through weaning, it is necessary that his deprivation be made tolerable by frequent expressions of reassurance and love on the part of the mother.

Don't forget that the psychological need arising in the young child through toilet training must also be wisely met. Such training must not be forced upon the child hurriedly. Those children upon whom evacuation habits are not forced too early are those who later develop healthier attitudes toward life.

Don't forget that unless the child is prepared properly for the arrival of a new baby in the home, it is only natural for him to show jealousy.

Don't forget that you can help your child to escape future anxiety by enlightening him on matters of sex and procreation.

Don't forget that unwise supervision, over-protection and too lavish an affection will produce in one's offspring lack of courage, security, self-reliance and initiative. Don't forget, also that according to the manner in which parents and teachers handle a young child, he will experience fear or obedience or rebellion, satisfaction or irritability, amiability or anger.

Very Tactful

A customer sat down at a table in a smart restaurant and tied his napkin around his neck.

The distraught manager called a waiter and instructed him: "Try to make him understand, as tactfully as possible, that that's not done."

Said the thoughtful waiter to the customer: "Pardon me, sir. Shave or haircut?"

when hooked qualify as a game fish. The food is normally insects and small fish and the bait used is of course governed by this food habit. It is best taken on a fly during the season when the fish are feeding near the water surface.

Mooneyes may be taken on hooks baited with worms but, like the trout, win their best reputations when they are taken on artificial flies. The best time for fishing for Mooneyes using wet or dry flies such as would be used for trout is the early dawn or period just before dawn, or late evening. They often feed in schools, sometimes in swift water, and a school of these fish actively feeding may give the angler a most satisfying experience.

Naturally the Mooneye gets its name from the rather large eyes. It is probable that other fish of equal length have eyes as large or larger without winning claim to the name. The reason the eye of a Mooneye appears so large is particularly because the head is relatively small.

Mooneyes resemble herrings and like them are prepared for use as food by smoking. They are not considered good as fresh fish chiefly because the flesh is dry and is too well supplied with small bones to win complete popularity. Mooneyes are sometimes called "toothed herring" but they are not true herring.

The spawning season in the New York area is from June through July at which time the eggs may be found in rapid waters commonly below dams.

A New, Light Spice Cake Delight

Call it tradition, or what you will—this is the time of year we expect to enjoy the delights of cakes fragrant with spices. High on the list of desserts to make now is feather-light, regal-looking Frost Spice Cake that generously yields 16 to 20 servings. Make it with a vacuum-packed oil that blends quickly with other ingredients because it is superfined. Frost Spice Cake, with its easy-to-make cream cheese frosting, stays lusciously moist. This icing has a burnt-sugar flavor, though either orange or lemon are approved with spice cake. The cake keeps beautifully, and even with the cream cheese frosting does not need to be refrigerated.

Frost Spice Cake

- 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 6 eggs, separated
- 2 tablespoons molasses
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 2 teaspoons orange juice
- 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar

Sift the flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, cloves, and nutmeg together into a bowl. Make a well and add in order, the oil, egg yolks, molasses, water, orange rind and juice. Beat with a spoon until smooth. Add the cream of tartar to the egg whites and beat until very stiff. Pour the egg yolk mixture gradually over the whipped egg whites, carefully folding with a rubber scraper just until blended. Do not stir. Pour immediately into an ungreased 10 x 4 inch tube pan. Bake in a moderate oven, 325°, for 70 minutes or until the top springs back when lightly touched.

After removing the cake from the oven, turn the pan upside down, placing the tube part over the neck of a small funnel. When cold, loosen the sides with a spatula, remove the cake from the pan.

Caramel Cream Cheese Frosting

- 1 8-ounce package cream cheese
  - 1/4 cup caramel syrup
  - 4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- Blend the cream cheese and the syrup. Add the sugar gradually, blending it in well.
- To make caramel syrup heat 1 cup granulated sugar in a frying pan over low heat, stirring constantly. Heat until melted to a golden brown syrup. Add 1/2 cup hot water and stir until smooth. Cool.

Devils Food Cake

- Filling:
- 1 cup sugar
  - 1 egg
  - 1 cup milk
  - 1/4 lb. cocoa
- Beat egg, all sugar and cocoa. Cream well. Add milk. Cook until thick. Cool.
- Cake Batter:
- 1/2 cup butter
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 3 eggs
  - 1/2 cup milk
  - 2 cups flour
  - 2 teaspoons baking powder

Cream butter and sugar, add well beaten egg yolks. Add dry ingredients alternately with egg whites which have been beaten stiff. Add chocolate mixture. Bake in 3 layers in an oven 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Put together with white icing.

Rice and Cheese Balls

- 1 cup raw rice
  - 1 egg
  - Salt
  - 1 package of sharp cheese
  - 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
  - 2 tablespoons grated horse-radish
- Cook rice. Then mix with the egg which has been well beaten, add 1/4 teaspoon salt. Shape the cheese into balls about 3/4 inch in diameter. Roll them in the mustard and horse-radish. Put rice and egg mixture around the cheese balls, being careful that every bit of the cheese is covered. Shape with hands. Fry in deep fat until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper and keep hot until ready to serve.

Queen's Soup

- 1 fricassee chicken
  - 1 onion
  - 6 blanched almonds
  - Salt and pepper
  - 2 eggs
  - 1/2 cup cooked rice
  - CROUTONS
  - Grated cheese
- Cut up chicken and cook with onion in water to cover until chicken is tender. Strain. Run the almonds and enough white meat from chicken to make 1 cupful through the food chopper twice, using the finest knife. While grinding add the rice. Return the mixture to the soup, season with salt and pepper. Bring slowly to the simmering point and slightly thicken with the beaten eggs, first pouring a little of the soup over them. Be careful that the soup does not boil after the eggs are added. When ready to serve put a few croutons into each portion and pass grated cheese.

Lemon Fritters

- Batter:
- 1 cup flour

Now They've Electrified Everything!

New applications of electricity to household and farm use have made the business of everyday living continually easier through the years, from such major projects as mass milking operations, to things as simple as toasting a piece of bread. Now they've even electrified the kitchen cabinet itself. A new fixture called a "totalite," which fits in the base of these unusually-styled glass-door "pantryettes," has a two-way fluorescent light, and convenient electrical outlets to plug in the toaster, coffee-maker or electric mixer. The light illuminates both counter-top below, and the interior of the "pantryette."

TRADE TRICKS—Roughing edges of a horse's teeth is a trick used by unscrupulous traders to disguise an equine's age and make a customer believe the animal he is buying is young and strong. Demonstrating with a file, above, is Fred Cochran of Solon, Iowa, who has been a reputable trader for three decades. "A horse's teeth wear smooth with age," explains Cochran. "Only young animals have rough teeth."

PROCESSING PRISONERS—American Army Sgt. Donald L. Rombough of Flint, Mich., fingerprints captured Communists inside the prisoner-of-war camp on Cheju Island, Korea. Sergeant Rombough is a member of the 164-man Military Police team which re-photographed and re-fingerprinted 132,000 Red prisoners.

HALF A JET IS BETTER THAN NONE—Not a battle casualty, this halved jet T-33 is seen divided to allow routine repairs on the jet-engine power plant. This plane, seen above, is based at an airfield on the island of Okinawa.
