Firemen Called Twice; Car Burns

The Kewaskum firemen answered two calls early this week.

On Sunday night a 1942 Dodge car driven by Robert Leischer of Erma, Wis. caught fire on Highway 55 at the south village limits. The upholstery, wires, motor and body of the auto were burned before the firemen put out the blaze. It is believed that faulty wiring caused the fire. Half of the car was in the town of Kewaskum and the other half in the village, the driver bringing his machine to a stop right on the line.

At 11:15 a. m. Monday the firemen received a call to the Art. Ramthun farm home on Highway 28 just east of the village. It was a chimney fire. Firemen worked almost an hour opening and cleaning a clogged chimney. No damage resulted.

Burial was in St. Mary's parish cemetery.

WEST BEND VOCATIONAL SCHOOL OFFERS CLASSES IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Classes in physical education 59 and physical education 159 will be offered by the West Bend School of Vocational and Adult Education, cooperating with the extension division of the University of Wisconsin, during the first semester of the current school year.

Physical education 59—nature, function and organization of play, 3 undergraduate credits—fee $27.00.

Physical education 159—play, recreation and leisure time problems, 2 graduate credits—fee $18.00. Prerequisite physical education 59, or consent of instructor.

These courses deal with the practical problems of organizing play on school playgrounds, community centers, athletics and similar activities. Some of the topics to be treated in a practical manner are philosophy, organization, problems, playgrounds, community centers, indoor programs and athletics.

Classes will be under the direction of Glen L. Holmes. The first meeting will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 22, at 7:30, and registration will be held at that time in the office of the Vocational school, West Bend High school building. Entrance is at the southwest corner of the building. For further information, call or write Irving Johnson, director of the West Bend School of Vocational and Adult Education, Phone No. 1021-W.

FARM SERIES OF WTMJ-TV BROADCASTS PRESENTED

COUNTY PMA NOW HANDLING SOIL SAMPLING REQUESTS

A. John Cleary, chairman of the Washington County PMA committee, announced Tuesday that the Washington County PMA office is now in a position to take care of additional requests for soil sampling.

In addition to other requirements, it is necessary that a copy of a soil test report be on file in the county PMA office in order to receive a payment for the application of lime and fertilizer under the 1941 Agricultural Conservation program. Therefore it is important that all farmers who have not had their soil tested request that it be tested this fall. The cost is 25¢ per sample. All the cropland on the farm must be sampled.

All farmers who wish to have their soil tested this fall should write immediately to the Washington County PMA committee, 213 North Main street, West Bend, Wis.

Audrey Boden Wed to Robert Rosbeck

A reception was held at West Park ballroom, West Bend, on Saturday evening, Sept. 5, for Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Rosbeck who were married at St. Mathias church, Nabob, at 9 o'clock that morning. The Rev. Robert Schweizer read the nuptial mass which united Miss Audrey M. Boden, daughter of the Peter Bodens, R. 5, West Bend, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rosbeck of R. 3, Kewaskum. A dinner and afternoon reception at the Boden home preceded the evening reception.

Mrs. Rosbeck is a graduate of West Bend high school and had been employed at the West Bend Aluminum company prior to her marriage. Her husband is an employee of the Milwaukee Road railway, Milwaukee.

The bride's gown of white slipper satin and Rosemary lace was fashioned with a tight fitting bodice and a square neckline outlined with pleats of nylon tulle. The full skirt which was entrain was enhanced with lace inserts. A lace trimmed veil completed her attire. White roses comprised her bouquet.

Miss Patricia Boden was her sister's maid of honor in a blue gown of Rosemary lace, satin and net. The fitted bodice was styled with a mandarin collar and was closed with tiny pearl buttons to the waist line. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations in a colonial arrangement. Identically styled bouquets in gold coral and green were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Boden, another sister of the bride, Mrs. William Brill, sister of the bridegroom, and Jean Alice Kiefer, a cousin of the bridegroom. The carnations in their colonial bouquets matched the colors of their gowns. Little Miss Geraldine Dieler was her aunt's flower girl in a miniature copy of the bridal gown. She carried white carnations.

Norbert Rosbeck was his brother's best man while Sylvester Haug, a friend, Ralph Boden, brother of the bride, and Richard Boden, a cousin of the bride, were the groomsmen. Guests were seated by Earl Peters and Jerry Guldán. Master Charles Wagner, the bride's nephew, was the ring bearer.

CYCLIST LOST LEG, WOMAN KILLED IN MISHAP NEAR HERE

A motorcycle passenger was killed and the driver critically injured, and two drivers of cars were also hurt in a three-vehicle crash Saturday night on Highway 55, about one-half mile south of Kewaskum. The fatality was this county's 10th of the year.

The victim was Mrs. Ila Fay Hartert, 36, of 2320 W. Nash st., Milwaukee. She died of chest injuries at St. Joseph's hospital in West Bend. Her husband, George Hartert, Jr., 38, driver of the cycle, underwent emergency surgery to have his left leg amputated at the hospital. He also suffered severe shock and arm injuries. Also injured were two Fond du Lac motorists, whose cars were involved in the mishap. They are James Douglas Brown, 23, of 103 E. Rees st. and Robert Cutter, 27, of 366 Evergreen ave.

The motorcycle collided with Brown's car at 10:10 p. m. just south of the Kewaskum hill. According to investigating officers, Brown was traveling north and was followed by Cutter. Hartert was heading south. Tire marks showed that Brown's auto pulled over the center line into the opposite lane. Cutter reported that Brown's brakes seemed to catch, causing the vehicle to swerve over the line.

The cycle and the left side of the Brown auto crashed. Cutter attempted to avoid ramming the car and cycle and he lost control of his 1953 model vehicle. It went into the ditch on the left side of the road, returned to the highway, rolling over and ending in the ditch on the right side of the road. Brown's 1949 model went into the right ditch and the motorcycle ended on a lawn at the Bohn home.

The Kewaskum fire department ambulance was used to remove the injured to St. Joseph's hospital where Mrs. Hartert succumbed at 3 a. m. Sunday. Cutter sustained severe cuts on the right side of his head necessitating 20 stitches. He also received body bruises and a cut on his leg. Brown suffered shock. Both Fond du Lac men were allowed to go home.

Prisoners In State Usefully Employed

How do men spend their time in prison? Do they sit glooming in their cells bemoaning their fate? Do they work fruitlessly at such useless tasks as breaking rock, "making little ones out of big ones?" Do they spend long hours idling in the prison yard with nothing but time on their hands? Hardly; at least, not in Wisconsin's state prison at Waupun. There, while they may not relish the idea of being prisoners, they at least have the satisfaction of being busy at useful tasks and of earning something while doing them.

During the month of June the average daily population of the prison was 1,298 men. Of this number, says the Division of Corrections, State Department of Public Welfare, 90 per cent were employed in useful and productive work either inside the walls or outside. Of the remaining, 8.5 per cent were not working because of illness, old age or some similar cause, while only 1.5 per cent were "out of circulation" for disciplinary reasons.

In the first place, 335 men were not even in the prison; they were working as trustees on one of the prison farms which supply a large part of the food served in the prison and other state institutions or at a forestry camp in the north woods, doing work for the state conservation commission.

Of the men inside the walls, 444 were employed in various prison industries—the binder twine plant, the license plate and metal working shops, the print shop and bindery, the tailor shop or some other of the 12 "production" plants.

Another group of 390 was employed in prison operation and maintenance activities—in the kitchens and bakery, the power plant, the hospital and many other parts of the institution, working as maintenance men, caretakers, and in general, carrying on the "housekeeping" tasks of a big institution.

Altogether all these activities accounted for the time of 1179 of the 1,298 prisoners, each of the workers earning up to 40 cents a day to be credited to his account, pending discharge, or to be spent otherwise as the prison authorities permit.

Of the 129 men not accounted for in the work program, 29 were too old to work regularly, 46 were in quarantine or not yet assigned to regular jobs, 13 were in the hospital and 2 were invalids. The remaining 19 were not permitted to work for disciplinary reasons.

HELP PREVENT POLIO CRIPPLING!

A public service feature of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation

THE KENNY TECHNIQUE IS COMPLEX, ITS MASTERY REQUIRES INTENSIVE STUDY BY MEDICAL DOCTORS AND FULLY TRAINED KENNY THERAPISTS.

WE HAVE PROVIDED OPPORTUNITY TO AN EVER-INCREASING NUMBER OF MEDICAL DOCTORS TO STUDY AND LEARN KENNY METHODS; YET THE NUMBER OF THESE DOCTORS AND KENNY THERAPISTS REMAINS PITIFULLY INADEQUATE.

Public contributions to the Sister Kenny Foundation help to provide Kenny treatment and other urgently-needed services. These contributions also help insure continued, tireless polio research to develop and make available an effective cure, or vaccine or preventative.

IT WAS SISTER KENNY'S FINAL REQUEST THAT THE KENNY FOUNDATION, ESTABLISHED IN 1949, CARRY ON AND EXPAND HER WORK. WITH THE CONTINUED SUPPORT OF MANY GENEROUS AMERICANS, WE SHALL SUCCEED. WE SHALL KEEP FAITH WITH SISTER KENNY.

Speaker: Marvin L. Kline, founder of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation

CAN THEY PASS THE TEST?—UCLA's tailback Paul Cameron, left, and right tackle Chuck Doud see if they measure up to the new "both way" substitution ruling which will replace the outmoded two-platoon system this fall on the college gridiron. On defense Cameron will play safety while Doud will work at left tackle for the Bruins.

DERBY WINNER—Fourteen-year-old Freddy Mohler of Muncie, Ind., waves to the grandstands after winning the 1953 All-American Soap Box Derby in Akron, Ohio. The youngster is shown with W. E. Fish, Chevrolet official who presented the trophy and five-year college scholarship to the new champ.

"Mister Fixum's Handy Hints"

BY ERNIE GARDNER

DETAILS FOR BRICK VENEER GARAGE

If you intend on building your own garage, it is a good idea to consult your local building code restrictions regarding rat wall construction. If there are no restrictions, the rat wall should be 24" below the surface of the ground for your own protection. The brick veneer garage, however, requires a cement footing to carry the load of the brick and framework. This footing should be below frost level. It should also be below fresh fill which is apt to settle. See illustration.

The footing should be wider at the bottom than at the top. Also note that the footing for the brick need only be 4" wide at the top. The curb extending above the floor level is to keep the sill dry and prevent rot.

Anchor the sills to the curb by means of bolts set into the cement.

Leave a ledge on the inside wall below the floor level. This is to serve as a shelf when the floor is poured.

If you intend to use brick above the doorway, you will need either an I beam, or a 4" angle iron, to carry the load. The flange on the iron must be wide enough that brick may be laid on it.

When you buy the beam or iron, give the steel company the length of the span and the number of brick to be supported. They will tell you the size you need.

Some people prefer to use wood construction above the doorway of the garage. It saves the cost of the steel and makes construction much simpler for the beginner.

A Resemblance

A company of cadets was lined up on the field of inspection, and as the officer strode down the line, he stopped before a young man and said:

"You remind me of General Grant."
"Really, sir," said the cadet eagerly.
"Yes," said the officer, "he didn't shave either."

Although Baltimore and Washington are only 38 miles apart by road, the cheapest way to transport gasoline from Baltimore tankers to Washington distributors is 200 miles down Chesapeake Bay and up the Potomac River by motor barge. The trip takes approximately 25 hours.

So Goes The Mind

By Orin R. Yost, M. D.

(Editor's Note: Dr. Yost is a graduate of the Medical College of Virginia at Richmond, studied psychiatry at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D. C., taught psychiatry at Columbia University, New York, was division psychiatrist of the 79th division in World War II, and is presently Medical Director of Edgewood Sanitarium Foundation.)

WHAT HAPPENS TO ALCOHOLICS

According to statistics gathered by Dr. Frederick Lemere, M. D., Seattle, Washington, approximately 28 per cent of all alcoholics will drink themselves to death, 7 per cent will regain partial control of their drinking, 3 per cent will be able to drink moderately again, and 29 per cent will continue to have the problem of drinking throughout their lifetime. Twenty-two per cent will stop drinking during a terminal illness and eleven per cent will quit drinking exclusive of a terminal illness.

Most alcoholics who quit drinking will probably do so on their own without outside help (7 per cent of this series of 500 cases). Spiritual reconversion has been the biggest help to alcoholics who have become abstinent (3 per cent of this series). In the past medical treatment has been of some, but not great, help (1 per cent of this series).

The average life expectancy of these 500 alcoholics was 52 years. Many alcoholics quit for prolonged periods of time only to relapse at some later date.

The interest of the Mental Health field in alcoholism is legitimate. In the first place, the number of alcoholics who finally filter into public institutions because of brain damage due to alcohol is considerable. In the second place, alcohol contributes directly or indirectly to the development of other mental conditions in a significant number of instances. In the third place, alcoholism as a disease in itself claims a host of victims. The number stated is 750,000 yearly, a figure greater than those suffering from tuberculosis. And lastly, the abuse of alcohol has serious potentials in the way of accidents, carelessness and conduct disorders such as crime, which make it a public health problem of extensive proportions. Interestingly enough, the pioneer work in Mental Hygiene is paying dividends in the field of alcoholism. In 1946 Connecticut established the first state commission on alcoholism. Now some years later, over forty states have commissions or some other state agency concerned with the problem. In some states the budgets run well into the six figures. Treatment instead of contempt and jailing is the present trend.

Such rapid expansion of interest and support could never have occurred if the general public had not already been alerted by previous discussions of mental illness and the proper methods for their control.

Those of us associated with the field of alcoholism would indeed be ungrateful if we did not acknowledge our indebtedness to the earlier workers in Mental Health and to express our conviction that the continued success of the Mental Health movement has a vital effect upon all allied efforts both program-wise and monetarily.

Only as the whole movement goes forward in all of its various aspects can any one area hope for progress. Crime rates can be linked in part to alcohol about which little can be done directly if the problem is not scientifically attacked as a mental health disturbance, which attack, in turn, demands personnel knowledge and facilities.

An entirely similar overlap occurs in the field of prevention. No one can overstress the interrelation of the various Mental Health activities. The need for a strong central organization to offer leadership and guidance is of supreme importance. The alternative is cross-purposes, chaos and stagnation, according to Harry M. Tiebout, M. D., President of the National Committee on Alcoholism.

Personal Touch

Little Judy was visiting her grandmother over the week end. When they went to bed, Judy asked if she could leave the door open.

"Why, Judy," said the grandmother, "you aren't afraid of the dark at home?"

"I know," said Judy, "but that's our own dark."

Sarah Anne's COOKING CLASS

Here's Novel Menu Idea

Very clever these Chinese! But the American homemaker has a note to add when she uses economical nonfat dry milk in making Salmon Egg Foo Yung.

Every ingenious homemaker is on the lookout for interesting recipes, especially for meatless menus. We nominate Salmon Egg Foo Yung made with two economy pantry shelf items—canned salmon and nonfat dry milk—as a new and practical note. Nonfat dry milk, available at the grocer's, comes in a one-pound package which yields five quarts of nonfat milk for as little as nine cents a quart.

Salmon Egg Foo Yung (Makes 6 servings)

- 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped celery
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 4 eggs
- 1/4 cup water

- 6 tablespoons Starlac nonfat dry milk
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup (7 1/2 oz.) canned salmon, finely flaked
- butter

Sauté green pepper, celery and onion in butter until tender but crisp. Beat eggs slightly. Stir in water. Sprinkle Starlac nonfat dry milk powder and salt over eggs; beat with rotary beater until just blended. Add green pepper, celery, onion and salmon. Heat small amount of butter in small frying pan. Pour 1/2 cup of egg and fish mixture into pan. Cook over medium heat, until golden brown; turn and brown other side. Repeat, making six cakes. Fold each cake in half. Serve hot with hot fluffy rice, mustard and soy sauce.

*Any other cooked fish may be used.

As well as being beneficial to our health, the tomato with its delicious flavor and cheerful color contributes generously to our meals.

Fried Green Tomatoes

Green tomatoes
Seasoned corn meal
Slice green tomatoes 1/3 inch thick. Dip in seasoned corn meal. Fry in salad oil or butter. Turn once with a wide spatula.

Tomato & Cheese Sandwiches

6 slices bread
6 slices tomato
6 slices bacon
Grated cheese
Butter the slices of bread. On each slice place a slice of tomato, cover with grated cheese, and add a slice of bacon. Toast under the broiler until the bacon is crisp.

Scalloped Tomatoes

6 large fresh tomatoes
Salt and pepper
Bread crumbs
Butter
Grated cheese
Skin fresh tomatoes and cut them into slices. Place a layer of tomato in a greased baking dish, add salt and pepper, then a thin layer of bread crumbs. Dot with butter. Then another layer of tomato and proceed until the materials are used, having crumbs for the top layer. Add bits of butter and bake 30 minutes in an oven 350 degrees. Serve in the baking dish. Grated cheese may be added to each layer if desired.

Five Layer Dinner

2 cups sliced raw potatoes
2 cups raw hamburger
6 large tomatoes sliced
1 cup sliced green peppers
1 cup sliced raw onion
Salt and pepper
1 cup boiling water
Place in layers in order given in a greased baking dish, seasoning with salt and pepper. Pour 1 cup of boiling water over mixture and bake in an oven 300 degrees for 1 hour.

Tomato Hors d'Oeuvres

Slice tomatoes. Spread each slice with a mixture of mayonnaise and cream cheese. Sprinkle parsley and chopped onion over the top.

Tomato Surprise

Bread slices 1/2 inch thick
Mayonnaise
Thin slices of sweet pickle
1 cup grated cheese
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 onion chopped
Salt and paprika
Parsley
Small sweet pickle
Allow 1 slice of bread for each person. Spread with mayonnaise. Place a thick firm slice of tomato on bread. Salt it and spread with mayonnaise. Then lay a thin slice of sweet pickle on tomato. Mix the cheese, green pepper, celery and onion. Spread thickly over the tomato and bread. Place in an oven 400 degrees and leave until cheese is melted. Sprinkle with paprika. Garnish with parsley and small sweet pickles.

Eggplant With Tomato

1 medium sized eggplant
4 tomatoes
4 tablespoons cooking fat
1/2 cup bread crumbs
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Peel the eggplant and the tomatoes. Cut in half-inch slices and dip in crumbs, mixed with the seasoning. Brown on both sides in cooking fat. Place a layer of the browned eggplant in a greased baking dish, cover with one of tomatoes. Continue adding alternate layers until the dish is nearly full. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake 20 minutes in an oven 350 degrees.

When you're preparing mashed or baked potatoes use potatoes of the mealy variety; when you want the potatoes for a summer salad, or perhaps a creamed potato dish, use the waxy kind.

ON LAND AND SEA—Something new in the blue is the Navy's XF2Y-1 Sea Dart experimental jet fighter. Capable of land and sea operations, the needle-nosed jet is the world's first delta-wing seaplane and the first in U. S. aviation history to employ hydro-skis for improved rough water take-off and landing operations. The Sea Dart is shown above as it soars over the choppy waters of San Diego Bay, Calif., during a test run.

SIGHT FOR ATOMIC CANNON? No, it's a king-size rear sight of the M-1 (Garand) Rifle. This training aid is used at Camp Gordon, Ga., to familiarize Army trainees with the infantry's basic weapon. It's 50 times larger than the actual sight.

PUFF MARKS THE SPOT—Hidden device underneath training aid is used to emit a puff of smoke to show soldier-students where their artillery fire would land in relation to the target. This training aid—known as a Puffboard—depicts enemy territory and targets. It is in use at Munich, Germany, where a class of non-commissioned officers is being instructed in the conduct of artillery fire.

Farm population in the United States is definitely on the decline. In the 1950 census, just over 24 million people lived on farms. In 1910 there were 32 and a half million people on farms. Economists in the Department of Agriculture predict that by 1975 there will be less than 20 million people living on United States farms.

WOMAN'S PAGES

How many handbags have you owned that didn't live up to your expectations in one or more of these aspects—roominess, comfort and style? You can avoid such disappointment in your new fall handbag if you bear certain points in mind when shopping, says Betty Ann.

Much has been said about scaling a handbag to your size. Put a prospective new bag over your arm and stand before a full length mirror to determine whether it dwarfs you or looks ridiculously small.

Adequate room, however, is a more important factor than appearance when you decide on a size. Why not transfer your handbag contents from the one you're carrying to the one you're considering? Then you'll know whether the bag is large enough. If it's for travel, it ought to have zipper compartments and plenty of extra room.

Comfort depends on light weight, flexible handles of the right length, and a neat shape. A frame and a stiff leather add to weight. Handles may cut into the arm, so try them over your arm when you shop.

A convenient bag for every day will stand on its own base without toppling and will open up quickly and easily, revealing the contents without need for groping. Your belongings will be safely inside and not liable to fall out in transit.

Choose a color that goes with most of your clothes. Leather will give you your best wear for every day. For evening, you'll want velvet, satin or faille. As for style, you'll grow less tired of a graceful, simple shape that does not look too much like any particular season.

Put a few drops of perfume on a small piece of flannel and pin beneath your costume pin. Not only is this one more way of wearing perfume but the flannel will keep the pin from making large holes in the fabric of your dress.

Take a tip from the farmers. A cabbage leaf under your sun hat is the best know protection against sunstroke. More practical, of course, for home gardeners than for beach bathers.

Blueberry Scones
Two cups sifted all-purpose flour; 2½ teaspoons baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon sugar; 1/3 cup shortening; 1/3 cup milk; 2 eggs, beaten; 1½ cups blueberries, washed and well drained; ¼ cup light cream (approximately).

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Combine milk and eggs. Add to dry ingredients and mix lightly. Add blueberries. Roll out on a lightly floured board to one-half inch thickness. Cut into 4 by 4 squares. Cut each square into 2 triangles. Place on a lightly greased baking sheet. Brush each with cream. Bake at 450 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 18 scones.

Made with blueberries bursting through the batter, these golden blueberry muffins are just as good toasted the next day as they are when you serve them piping hot the first meal. So while you are baking make a good supply. When served as toast spread generously with butter and dust with cinnamon sugar.

Felt has met with great acceptance. Creators of high fashion like it and so do thousands of discriminating women. The prestige of the phenomenally successful felt skirt is increasing and has influenced designers to extend themselves.

Just recently they have created other new and varied types of felt apparel. Coats, spencers, jackets, boleros, vests, stoles, jumpers, slacks are meeting with unprecedented approval.

Felt has virtues all its own. It comes in 72 inch width and in a bright, unlimited color range, does not ravel, can be cut in any direction. Combinations of color and texture result in pleasing effects not possible with other fabrics. Unique decor can be obtained with stitched designs or appliques, producing dynamic third dimensional effects.

The popularity of felt accessories continues—millinery, handbags, slippers, flowers, especially in combination with other materials such as embroidery, fur, buttons, ribbon, braid, sequins, costume jewelry, making for chic ensembles. It's an ideal material for juvenile apparel.

About The Home

By FRANCES DELL

You can't beat iris. They are colorful, dependable and easy to grow. They will give your garden a big lift next spring and for many springs to come.

For a striking mass of color, plant several plants of one kind in a group. If you are patient, you will soon have ample bulbs to make a good show from only one rhizome. Each rhizome will make a large clump in three years.

There are now numerous fine varieties to choose from in almost any color you could desire.

The best time to set plants is right after the blooming season. However, you can plant anytime through mid-summer. Space rhizomes one foot apart, barely covering the tops with soil. Iris like full sun and a well-drained soil.

After blooming, cut off flower stalks so the plants won't waste strength ripening seeds. Make sure that air and light can reach the hearts of the plants by removing excess iris leaves, and keeping weeds out. Iris need lots of water but never allow water to stand around plants.

Iris borers hatch all spring. Spray weekly with DDT garden spray.

Dutch Apple Pie

1 unbaked pie shell
4 to 5 apples
1 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup thick sour cream
Cinnamon
Peel apples and cut into eighths. Arrange slices in unbaked pie shell. The pie must be well filled. Mix sugar and flour with sour cream, and pour over the apples. Sprinkle with cinnamon and, if wanted extra rich, dot with butter. Bake in an oven 425 degrees for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 degrees and continue baking for 30 minutes, until apples are tender and the top crispy brown.

Salmon and Rice Mold Late Summer Treat

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

A RICH, beautiful-to-look-at jellied salmon and rice mold makes the perfect dish for your late summer porch party, your Labor Day at home, or for your canasta luncheon. Served with warm French bread and iced tea, it's quite an event in itself.

SALMON RICE MOLD WITH ASPIC

One recipe easy tomato aspic, ½ cup pre-cooked rice, 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 cup hot water, ½ cup cold water, 2 tablespoons vinegar, ½ cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 cup (7-ounce can) red salmon, drained and flaked, ½ cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons chopped dill pickle.

Prepare easy tomato aspic as directed below and pour into 2-quart ring mold. Chill until almost firm.

Meanwhile, prepare pre-cooked rice as directed on package. Cool to room temperature.

While rice is cooling, dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water, vinegar, mayonnaise, salt, pepper and onion. Mix well. Chill until slightly thickened.

Then add salmon, celery, dill pickle and the cooled rice. Pour over tomato aspic layer. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with crisp salad greens.

Serve with additional mayonnaise. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Easy Tomato Aspic: Dissolve 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin in 1½ cups hot water. Add 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 1½ tablespoons vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt and dash of pepper. Blend. Mold as directed above.

For breakfast or afternoon tea or coffee, these pineapple muffins are going to make a lot of people happy. They are made with non-fat dry milk—an easy way to economy.

Pineapple Muffins

Two cups sifted flour, 3 tablespoons non-fat dry milk, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening, 2 eggs, 1 flat can crushed pineapple (1 cup), undrained.

Salmon Rice Mold in Jelly makes a substantial and handsome luncheon dish for a party.

Sift together flour, non-fat, dry milk powder, baking powder, sugar and salt into mixing bowl. Cut in shortening. Beat eggs and stir in undrained crushed pineapple. Add to dry ingredients. Stir only until flour is dampened. Spoon into greased muffin pans, filling each well about ¾ full. Bake at 400 degrees F. (hot oven) 12 to 25 minutes. Makes 10 large or 36 very small teatime muffins.

Everyone Should Know Social Security Facts

Many Americans have a fortune of $46,000 waiting for them which they know little about, a financial columnist of the New York Post reported.

"This $46,000 is in the form of Social Security benefits. Here are some facts that will astound even most experts.

"Social Security is much more than retirement benefits. It is also life insurance to protect young children and their mother; it also is a lump sum death benefit to soften the financial shock of death; it is also a pension for aged widows and dependent parents.

"Want dollars-and-cents proof of that $46,000? Here goes:

"Assume a father of two infants—ages one and two—dies in 1953. He had been earning a salary of $3,600 a year, was, therefore, fully insured at the top Social Security level.

"1. On application, his widow gets a lump-sum death benefit equal to 3 times her husband's $85.00 monthly retirement pension. This equals $255.

"2. His two children and their mother get a pension of $168.75 a month until the youngest reaches 18, one year later. This amounts to $1,530.

"3. His youngest child and the mother gets a pension of $127.50 a month until the youngest reaches 18, one year later. This amounts to $1,530.

"4. The widow's pension ceases when both children reach 18, but she gets old-age benefits when she is 65. For the rest of her life, she draws $63.75 a month, equal to three-fourths of her husband's monthly retirement pension. If she had to buy a commercial company's annuity which would pay this sum, she would have to spend about $11,921. The total hits a whopping $46,346 and all of this income, under the law, is tax free."

Many Americans are not fully aware of all the benefits payable under the Social Security Act.

As one official put it to me recently "Social Security helps those who help themselves." You must know your rights, protect your benefits and you can't collect the money unless you apply. So take the time to find out your rights and benefits. Visit your Social Security representative.

Bible Comment:

The Last Supper Accents Fellowship Among All Faiths

THE Last Supper of Jesus with His disciples stressed the communion as the symbol of fellowship in the Christian church.

This is marked to such an extent that denominations, or sects, are called "communions," even in their very separateness which denies the unity that ought to be in Christ.

For that, of course, there are historic reasons, which to a large degree are being overcome by many who in mind, soul and heart accept as fellow Christians all who love the Lord, regardless of barriers of organization and formal creed.

But there ought to be even deeper implications of fellowship as we contemplate that Last Supper in the upper room.

That Last Supper was the celebration by Jesus and His disciples of the Passover, the most sacred rite in the Jewish religion, which was their heritage as Jews and which Jesus said He had not come to destroy, but to fulfill.

The fact ought to give the Last Supper a significance that it has never had, neither for Jews nor Christians, and a meeting place in fellowship that they have never found.

Surely the supreme task of all who believe in the Christ and the fellowship of the upper room is to bring to reality and fullness in the world the spirit and the practice of brotherhood.

We know that there was one present in that room with Jesus who renounced that spirit, who betrayed his Master. What we do not realize is that everyone who professes to share in the communion, but who does not live in its spirit of brotherhood, is more akin to Judas than to those who loved their Master.

To partake of holy communion in the remembrance of Jesus' is not merely an act of conformity, an expression of outward faith, its reality is found only in a renewed commitment of the soul to the Christian way—the way of brotherhood.

Sports Afield

By Ted Kesting

More and more sportsmen are getting more and more interested in getting more and more speed from their boats. There is no magic formula that will make an outboard outfit go faster, but there are things that can be done to almost any of them. Our boats and motors editor, Willard Crandall, says it can be done without the kind of motor souping up that would cause extra wear, or make it in any way poorer for fishing use.

The first job when you're after speed is to clean the motor thoroughly inside. Carbon and dirt never did anything but cut rmp's. Don't neglect exhaust parts and muffler systems. See the intake manifold—the path gas takes entering the cylinders—is well smoothed off. Remove all roughness from casting imperfections.

The motor should turn over as freely as possible. Gears with worn teeth, or that mesh too tightly, or any ailing bearings can cause trouble. Compression should be good; check gaskets, replace piston rings if there is doubt about them. Balance, by filing, reciprocating parts such as pistons and connecting rods. Smooth up the lower unit.

Do all this well and you'll have in all ways a better motor. But go further and you will soon start taking some risk of inducing excessive wear, or cutting the usefulness of your outfit for fishing.

The amateur's greatest chance for increased speed with his fishing outfit lies, of course, with the propeller. When you order a speed prop from the manufacturer, tell him all about your boat. Tell him all you know—not just length and beam. Then he can pick the best size for you. Tell him all about your motor too, of course, and just what weight will be aboard when you want to do your speeding. If you're after top speed, or want friends aboard for a speedboat ride—rather than superspeed when you're by yourself—you can get a propeller for that too—very likely a three-blade job.

One more point: raise your transom. The standard height, best for all-around use and various motors, won't give you top speed. Some racers today run with the prop almost half out of water. You won't want to go that far, but the higher you get your transom, the faster you'll go.

Two Plowing Champs; "Queen of the Furrow" To Be Chosen At Meet

America's champion level land and contour plowmen win a double chance at international honors at the national plow matches near here next month. They become eligible to represent the U. S. at 1953's International Plowing Contest in Canada in October and also in the 1954 international matches in Ireland in February, 1954.

Two plowmen may be champions but the spectator will be king at Russells Corners, two miles west of Augusta on Hy. 27, Sept. 18, 19 at the National Soil Conservation Field Days and Plowing Matches.

Chairman Ben Rusy, Co-Chairman A. J. Wojta, and Vice Chairman, Ed Hill, all of Madison, are helping 200 committeemen prepare to please the public at farming's biggest event of the year.

Demonstrations by the score are slated across the 700-acre watershed. Wagon tours will eliminate the hiking for those who don't care to walk.

Women's organizations will whip up mountains of food for sale on the grounds. Eau Claire County Sheriff Ray Kuhlman is marshaling forces to keep traffic flowing smoothly and provide parking in 15 lots.

Wisconsin Governor Walter J. Kohler, Jr., Augusta and Eau Claire High School bands, the Plowman's Parade and Banquet will provide color.

Wisconsin's loveliest farm girls will vie for "Queen of the Furrow" honors and a chance to be introduced to the country on radio, television, and through the newspapers.

Biggest tent on the grounds will house 500 chairs for the ladies. Yvonne Olson and Shirley Young, Eau Claire and Dunn County Home Agents have planned a "Tribute to Dairyland". Three dairy food leaders, Mrs. Maude Little, Chicago, American Dried Milk Institute; Dr. Henry I. Scott, U. of Wis. Alumni Research Foundation, Madison, and Mrs. Margaret Fink, State Dept. of Agriculture, Madison, headline the women's program to be presented morning and afternoon of each day.

Hay Fever Season Serious For Allergics

Each year in mid-August, Wisconsin is bombarded by a heavy pollen attack, and its many victims will sneezingly inform us that the hay fever season is here again. Those of us not subject to this malady can little appreciate its seriousness.

Hay fever is more than just an annoyance—it can be a serious matter. It may affect ones general health through loss of sleep and appetite. It may lead to infections of the sinuses, throat, and bronchial tubes, and sometimes may be accompanied by asthma.

Fall hay fever is usually due to ragweed pollen, and lasts until the first frost. Unless ragweed is destroyed and until all communities inaugurate all-out war against this weed, hay fever will not be controlled.

But there are several ways a doctor can help the hayfever sufferer. After studying your individual case, and by using allergy tests, he will be able to decide whether any of the accepted treatments should be tried.

Several improved medicinal remedies have been developed during the last few years. Some of these may be useful in relieving your case, but should never be taken unless prescribed for you by your doctor.

A series of hypodermic injections, or shots, will often reduce the sensitivity and prevent further attacks for some time. Usually the injections must be given each year, a few days apart, during the months before the hay fever season. Taking less than the complete series is a waste of time and money.

Removal of pollens from the air, particularly in your sleeping room may help. Your doctor may recommend any one of a number of filters or masks now on the market.

In stubborn cases a change of location may be advisable. Perhaps you can plan your vacation during the hay fever season. As a last resort, you may wish to consider moving permanently, but this should be done only after careful consultation with your doctor. You might escape one kind of pollen only to encounter another to which you are sensitive.

Diabetes Serious Health Problem

In spite of advances in medical knowledge, diabetes remains one of our most serious health problems. Each year approximately 700 Wisconsin residents die from this disease. Recent surveys indicate that two out of every 100 people have diabetes, and half of them do not know it.

Diabetes occurs when the body does not have enough insulin to utilize sugar properly. Sugar in the blood usually is formed from the digestion of starches such as found in flour and its products. Insulin, produced by the pancreas, functions in our body to help turn food into energy. When something cuts down our supply of this substance the starches we take in with meals are not properly used and diabetes results.

Diabetes develops in people of all age groups, but is most common in people of middle age and over. Women have it more often than men. It quite often seems "to run in the family," so at least a tendency towards the disease may be inherited. It is also much more likely to happen to people who are overweight. In one study 17 out of every 20 diabetics past 40 were overweight.

Some of the earliest signs and symptoms of this disease are fatigue, loss of weight, sores which refuse to heal, and blurring vision. Many people believe that excessive thirst and the passing of large quantities of urine are the most important symptoms, but these occur only when the disease is far advanced.

Many mild cases of diabetes occur without any symptoms. These cases can be discovered by testing small samples of blood or urine for sugar. These tests are usually part of any routine physical examination.

Mild cases of diabetes often require only regulation of diet and exercise. With more severe cases daily injections of insulin may be necessary. Thus, diet, daily activity, and insulin are the tools with which the physician works to control diabetes.

Your best defense against diabetes is to find out if you have it. Early discovery and continuing medical supervision are the key to success in combating this disease.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK—The April-May-June quarter of 1953 saw government spending—federal, state and municipal—running at the rate of $83.5 billion a year. This was up a billion from the rate of the previous quarter, and probably marked the peak of peacetime expansion in the federal field. July Treasury outlays were down $700 million from July, 1952. It will take a long time for such gradual cuts to bring the budget back into balance.

State and local spending on neglected roads and municipal plant in general is on the rise, offsetting part of whatever decline in federal costs we can expect. More than half a billion of new tax-exempt obligations were sold for such purposes in July.

While enormous government spending is undoubtedly a prop to the economy, its actual effect is sometimes over-estimated. As long as the budget is balanced, what the government spends is what the taxpayer would have spent if it hadn't been taken away from him. When there are deficits, the government is spending "created" money, which of course the taxpayer can't do.

Whatever the actual size of the government prop, the Treasury figures put us on notice that it will get smaller.

MOUNTAIN TO MOHAMMED—Instead of taking its fall sales, advertising and merchandising story to the field, as is customary in the distilling industry, Schenley Distributors, Inc. invited 200 of the nation's top liquor distributors to New York for a first-hand inspection of company plans.

The distributors were invited in groups of 20 or 30, to combine informality with concentration on the Schenley presentation to the exclusion of all the details that would intrude on the distributor in his own place of business.

So enthusiastic were the distributors that J. E. Farr, Schenley's executive vice president, said orders growing out of the meetings indicated bigger fall and holiday sales than those of record-setting 1948 for Schenley Reserve, the company's biggest-selling brand.

THINGS TO COME—Once cans of aluminum soldering flux now enable the do-it-yourselfers to fasten this metal to others. It has long defied him... A lead-weighted desk stand holds a wrist-watch during the working day... A wheel, with an axle which sticks in the ground, will guide the hose around your favorite shrub, sparing low-growing branches... A child's umbrella has a window of transparent plastic between two of the ribs, for safety... Mouse bait stations of plastic have dark chambers molded on so the mouse can eat the poison in seclusion.

COME BACK, ROSIE—Rosie the Riveter, glamorous figure of the World War II production line, is being paged again. New York state laws were changed after the start of the Korean war to permit employment of women workers on both day and night shifts, and demand is soaring.

Unusual opportunities are offered in the airplane industry, because of the growing complexity of military aircraft and continued tightness of the over-all labor supply. Republic Aviation Corporation of Farmingdale, Long Island, is adding between 6,000 and 7,000 workers to its payroll between now and the end of the year, and is counting on women to fill 4,000 of the jobs.

The airplane company, which has a backlog of orders in excess of a billion dollars, must have the extra hands to meet immediate and long-range production commitments for the new supersonic successor to the famous Thunderjet fighter-bomber. Republic employed 7,500 women during World War II, and found them outstandingly satisfactory workers.

FATHER'S TURN—Some cynical observers say a turn-up in demand for men's clothing marks the crest of the business cycle. The idea is that by the time father gets around to upgrading his wardrobe everything else the family needs has been purchased.

Be that as it may, men's clothing makers appear to face their best fall season in years. Rochester, N. Y., great ready-made suit center, reports activity reminiscent of the demobilization days of 1946. (That's too optimistic; 1946 saw 624 million pounds of worsted spun; this year won't reach 400 million.)

Worsted mills have ordered combed fiber from top makers as far ahead as December. Imports from Argentina and Australia are above the last two years' average, and domestic wool has edged above the support level.

More Kenny Therapists Needed To Prevent Polio Crippling

Patients suffering from acute polio are very sick people, but fortunately the death rate from the dread disease is usually low.

Severe crippling and deformity in many cases have in the past been considered as inevitable results of polio and a major cause for concern to the patient and the patient's family.

However, much of the anxiety on this latter score has been eliminated with the realization that the Kenny treatment prevents a major part of the crippling and deformity once accepted as unavoidable.

Full Kenny treatment for polio is administered at no charge by qualified Kenny Therapists under supervision of doctors who are familiar with the Kenny concept and treatment of the disease. This work is carried on only in facilities maintained or sanctioned by the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation.

Registered nurses and physical therapists who are under 40 years of age and who have the necessary personal qualifications for the work alone are eligible for consideration for the Kenny Therapist training program. Scholarships are provided for their living expenses during training and their tuition is furnished by the Kenny Foundation.

The training of Kenny Therapists consists of an intensive, two-year course. A large part of it is conducted by medical personnel and Teaching Therapists at Elizabeth Kenny Institute, Minneapolis, Minn., the Kenny Foundation's International Kenny Therapist training center. Students serve through two periods of polio incidence during their course which includes classroom instruction and work with patients. Before receiving a Kenny certificate, the trainee is given opportunity to demonstrate ability to manage polio cases from admission to final discharge. Upon graduation, Kenny Therapists are assigned to one of the Kenny facilities in this country.

Many more Kenny Therapists are needed to enable the Kenny Foundation to attain its goal of making full Kenny treatment available to all polio victims for whom it is requested. This means that more funds must be made available to the Kenny Foundation to expand its Kenny Therapist training program. The Kenny Foundation is dependent on public contributions to carry on its Therapist Training and Treatment Program.

Please give generously to the 1953 Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation fund appeal so that Kenny services may be made available to an increasing number of polio victims everywhere.
