

Tessar Scores 50; Chevs Beat Dalers

LAND O' LAKES STANDINGS (Northern Division) Won Lost KEWASKUM 4 1 West Bend 4 1 Fond du Lac 4 1 Horicon 3 2 Port Washington 2 3 Mayville 2 3 Rosendale 1 4 Brandon 0 5

Results last Wednesday—Fond du Lac 96, West Bend 89. Results Sunday—Kewaskum 103, Rosendale 81; Horicon 67, Port Washington 59; Mayville 109, Brandon 59.

John Tessar set a new season's scoring mark here Sunday night by pushing 50 points through the hoops almost half of his team's total, as the Kewaskum Chevrolets romped over Rosendale by the huge score of 103 to 81.

As a result of the win, the Chevs again are tied for the loop lead. This came about as Fond du Lac handed West Bend its first loss last Wednesday. Now all three are knotted for first place as the end of the first half approaches.

The amazing Tessar, with his unstoppable fake and jump shot, scored 35 of his 50 points in the second half. The league leader in points, John's 50 against the Dalers were more than that whole team tally in some games. He dropped in the almost unbelievable total of 20 field goals and 10 free throws.

Tessar and Doug Ritchie of Port Washington, former University of Wisconsin star, are having a dog-fight for individual scoring honors. The two are having a go of it knocking off each other's scoring records. Tessar started it all by dumping in 32 points in one game.

Ritchie then came up with performances of 39 and 44 points. But Johnnie came right back Sunday to raise the ante to 50 points in one encounter. It's Ritchie's move next.

Tessar and Ritchie are far ahead of the field in scoring. John has accumulated 157 points in five games for an average of 32.3 per game, while Ritchie has netted 153 points in five tussles for a 31 point average.

Tessar also leads the loop in field goals with 64 while Ritchie has 61. Both operate from the pivot slot and their play is somewhat similar. Both are also deadeyes under the bucket. Tessar is always heavily guarded but the excellent feeding by Center Fred Engel helps make much of John's scoring possible.

John and Doug should provide quite a treat when they face each other at Port Jan. 17. Kewaskum needed all of Tessar's help as Rosendale surprised the Chevs in the first half. Led by Rohde and Brooks, the Dalers jumped into a 23-15 lead in the first quarter. They managed to hold their own in the second period to still possess a 44-37 halftime advantage.

Then Tessar and company quit toying around and really went to work. They rifled in 34 points in the third quarter while holding Rosendale to a mere 14 and went ahead 71-58. They outscored Rosendale again in the final stanza, 32-23, to win by a wide margin.

Three Babies Are Baptized Here

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Keller, Kewaskum, was baptized Sunday afternoon in Holy Trinity church by the Rev. F. C. La Bawi. She was given the name Cheryl Ann. Sponsors were Betty Becker of Campbellsport and Jimmy Wink of Milwaukee.

Guests entertained for the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lichtensteiger and son Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Lichtensteiger and family of Campbellsport; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kuehl and son of Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Roman Keller and son Lloyd of Kewaskum, and Miss Carol Hetzel of Fillmore.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stoffel, town of Kewaskum, also was baptized by Father La Bawi in Holy Trinity church. The sacrament took place on New Year's day. She received the name Ann Marie. Mr. and Mrs. John Stelpling were her sponsors.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seefeldt, R. 1, Kewaskum, was baptized in St. Lucas Ev. Lutheran church by the Rev. Gerhard Kanies Sunday. He received the name Glenn Allen.

Kiwanis News

At the first weekly meeting of the Kewaskum Kiwanians this year each of the various committees of the club have dedicated themselves to the promotion of at least four activities for community benefit.

The big objective of the club for the coming year will be to bring to the attention of our local population the realization that we are enjoying and are receiving the benefits of the American Way of Life.

Plans are also under way for the next annual turkey shoot to be held in fall. Each Kiwanian wishes to express his thanks to all of you who helped in making the past shoot a success.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

Applications for employment as Probationary Substitute Clerk in the Kewaskum Post Office cannot be accepted after the closing dated January 13, 1953. Persons interested in this position should apply at the post office for an application blank and mail to the Civil Service Commission at Chicago, Ill. without delay.

WALSCH-DEGNER WEDDING

Miss Audrey J. Degner, R. 1, Kewaskum, and Richard Walsh, R. 5, West Bend, were married at West Bend on Wednesday, Dec. 30.

West Bend 4 1 Fillmore 0 4 Mayville 0 4 Results last week—Ixonia 63, Kewaskum 62; Slinger 82, West Bend 51; Horicon 45, Fillmore 44; Cedarburg 55, Mayville 47.

Games Sunday—Kewaskum at Horicon, Mayville at West Bend, Fillmore at Ixonia, Slinger at Cedarburg. A good Ixonia team handed the Kewaskum Rivers team its first loss of the season Sunday night when the defending champions eked out a one-point, 63-62 victory.

Engagements of 5 More Couples

Holiday engagements were announced by more young couples the past week to be added to the list of those published in our last issue. At a buffet supper Saturday, Jan. 2, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wickert of Barton announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ann Wickert, to John Tessar, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tessar, Sr. of Kewaskum. The young couple plan a wedding sometime in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wallenfels of Kewaskum announce the betrothal of their daughter, Bernice, to George L. Wallner of Milwaukee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallner of Route 1, East Troy, Wis. The announcement was made on New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Riffel, R. 1, Allenton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Joy Riffel, to Hilary Batzler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Batzler, R. 1, Campbellsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jandre of New Prospect announced the engagement of their daughter, Janice, to William Barrett of West Bend on Christmas Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wengener of West Bend are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Lila, to Allen Stahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arno Stahl of Kewaskum.

174 in County Died of Heart Disease Last Year

Fifty years ago, pneumonia, influenza, diarrhea and tuberculosis were the four leading causes of death in this country. Also high on the list were diphtheria and typhoid fever. The 1952 figures, recently published by the State Board of Health demonstrate how far medical knowledge has come since the turn of the century. Pneumonia had dropped to fourth place, tuberculosis to sixth, diarrhea of the newborn claimed only eleven of the nearly 34,000 deaths in the state, diphtheria took two and typhoid fever only one.

In the place of these conquered killers, heart and blood vessel diseases now stand. The importance of heart disease is shown in the fact that 174 people, almost half of all those who died in Washington county last year were victims of heart disease.

Cancer, accidents, pneumonia, tuberculosis and diabetes, the next five leading causes together took only about a half as many lives as heart disease. A few types of heart disease can now be cured, but the most important are yet unconquered. Research, like that which found the cures for typhoid fever and diphtheria, uses a third of the funds collected by the Wisconsin Heart Association. Most of this money is spent at Marquette and Wisconsin university medical schools.

You can help to support this research which may some day save the life of a loved one—which someday may save your life. Give generously to the 1954 Heart Fund drive.

253 MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED IN COUNTY IN '53

Marriage license information released by Anton P. Staral, county clerk, on Tuesday reveals that there were a total of 253 licenses issued in Washington county during 1953. The largest number of licenses naturally was issued in June, the wedding month, when there were 43. Next was September with 37. The number of licenses per month was as follows:

Death Takes Mrs. Wm. A. Backhaus

Mrs. William A. Backhaus, 70, nee Elizabeth Schaefer, of this village passed away at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, at 1:45 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 3, following a lingering illness. She was confined to the hospital on Jan. 1.

Mrs. Backhaus was born in the town of Kewaskum on Aug. 22, 1883, and was married to Wm. A. Backhaus on Feb. 22, 1905 in the town of Barton. The couple settled on a farm in the town of Auburn and resided there until 1941 when they retired and moved to Kewaskum.

Surviving are her husband, one sister, Mrs. John H. Techtmann of Milwaukee, and three brothers, Wm. F. and Edward Schaefer of Kewaskum and Elmer Schaefer of West Bend.

Funeral services under the direction of the Techtman-Wieting Funeral home, Hilbert, were held Wednesday at the Peace Evangelical and Reformed church, Kewaskum, the Rev. F. L. Rodenbeck presiding. Burial was in the parish cemetery. The body was in state at the Backhaus residence from 1:30 p. m. Tuesday until 10:00 a. m. Wednesday and at the church from 11:00 a. m. Wednesday until the time of services.

MRS. THERESA ZEHREN

Mrs. Theresa Zehren, 75, died at 9:45 p. m., Friday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Zuehlke, in the town of Ashford, after an illness of several months. She was born Dec. 28, 1878, in the town of LeRoy, the daughter of George and Justine Keller, and was married to Anton Zehren on May 29, 1900. They lived for 11 years in the town of Lomira, before moving to the town of Ashford. Preceding her in death were her husband, who died May 22, 1943, and one son, George.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Verena Zuehlke and Florence, at home; one sister, Mrs. William Mittlestadt, Beaver Dam; two brothers, George and Alois, LeRoy; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Mrs. Zehren was a member of the Christian Mothers society of St. Martin's church, Ashford. Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Tuesday at St. Martin's church, Ashford, with the Rev. A. P. Kaug officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Henry Muckerheide, R. 3, Kewaskum, has been a patient at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, the past week, where he is scheduled to undergo an operation. Don Harbeck, Kewaskum, was removed to St. Joseph's hospital Wednesday morning, Jan. 5, in the firemen's ambulance after suffering a slight stroke the night before at his home. Paul Seefeldt, Kewaskum, is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital, where he was taken in the firemen's ambulance.

Social Security Tax Rate Went Up Jan. 1

The social security tax rate was scheduled to go up on the first of January, according to a reminder issued by K. A. Albrecht, manager of the Milwaukee social security office, this week.

"The increase," he explained, "is in accordance with the 1954 amendments to the social security law, and was enacted by Congress toward meeting future obligations of the old-age and survivors insurance program."

Employees in jobs covered by the law will have 2 per cent instead of the present 1 1/2 per cent taken out of their pay up to earnings of $3,600 a year beginning with the first of January; their employers will contribute an equal amount.

The new rates will apply to all taxable wages paid after December 31, 1953, regardless of when earned. "The social security tax for the self-employed is scheduled to go from 2 1/4 to 3 per cent," Albrecht added. "However, since the 3 per cent rate applies to 1954 earnings, self-employed persons will pay the present 2 1/4 per cent social security tax on their 1953 earnings covered by the law. This will be reported with their income tax return on or before March 15, 1954. Their first payments at the 3 per cent rate will be due March 15, 1955."

In the meantime, the Internal Revenue Service reports that employers will be furnished late this year with new income tax and social security withholding tables showing the rates which will be in force next year. The next social security tax increase, scheduled for 1960, will be to 2 3/4 per cent each for worker and employer, and to 3 3/4 per cent for the self-employed.

In Our Mailbox

Chicago 13, Ill. Jan. 4th, 1954 Kewaskum Statesman Dear Sirs: I received a copy of your weekly paper of Dec. 18th and was surprised to know what a nice paper you have. I don't know who the sender was but I wish to thank you and them for the nice writeup you had about my dear husband, Anton Schladweiler. I think he still had part of his heart in Wisconsin. He was always anxious to get news from those towns where he spent lots of his time in his earlier years. I will keep the clipping and treasure it.

TIME UNTIL MARCH TO BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

It's never too late. "That old maxim is certainly right in the case of your '53 Christmas seals," affirms Miss Lorraine Noll, Christmas seal director for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association. "Because even though the Christmas seal sale ended officially in December, contributions for the 1953 sale will be accepted until the end of March, 1954."

Miss Noll emphasized that Christmas seal dollars do a year-round job fighting tuberculosis, the disease which keeps 1,700 Wisconsin persons in sanatoriums. She said that funds raised during the five-week campaign help pay for chest x-rays, health education, services to patients and medical research during all 52 weeks.

"We've gained a lot of ground since the first Christmas seal was sold in Wisconsin in 1908," Miss Noll declared. "With thousands upon thousands of persons contributing, we've been able to make encouraging strides towards the goal of a TB-free state."

"But we must not be lulled into a false sense of security," Miss Noll warned. "A cut in funds would greatly hamper efforts to wipe out the disease."

Four-H youngsters from all over Wisconsin will attend a state-wide Four-H Club Week at the University of Wisconsin June 20-24. The annual event is being re-planned for the first time since 1942.

Milwaukeean Hurt in Accident Here

John J. Gregory, 41, Milwaukee, lost control of his auto while rounding a Highway 55 curve at Pate's Grove, two miles north of Kewaskum, in the town of Auburn at 2:30 p. m. last Wednesday.

The car traveled across a parking lot at the site and rammed a parked automobile owned by Elmer E. Nigh, 55, R. 2, Campbellsport, damaging both vehicles. The impact resulted in Gregory being thrown from his car. He lay approximately 10 minutes in a semi-conscious state on the ground, then, still dazed, returned to his car and drove off.

A physician overtook Gregory, administered first aid and turned him over to Traffic Officer Miles S. Rahn of the Fond du Lac county police, who took him to St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, in his squad car. Gregory sustained head and knee injuries.

FIRE ON SOUTH ST. FIRST OF NEW YEAR

Not a "Pick-up on South Street" but a fire call on South st., occurred at 11:30 a. m. Thursday of this week. The firemen answered a summons to Roseland Heights where a grass fire was burning west of the street in the rear of the Assemblyman K. Wm. Haebig home. There was no damage. It was the first call of the new year although the fire siren sounded Tuesday morning. This one was a false alarm however.

Our Town

The holidays are over, thank goodness, and folks are back to their normal routine as the year 1954 gets under way. New Year's Eve was somewhat on the quiet side this year. By now, we imagine, most of your resolutions have been broken. But there's still time to wish for a year of peace, good health and happiness.

With the advent of the new year we bring you this little column which we hope to print as often as space and time permits. We hope you won't mind too much.

ODE AT ODDS

(or the meter petered out) 'Twas the week after New Year's and all through the shop Not a feature was brewing, not a story was hot. Not an admat was casting, the pot was quite cold. Not a layout was hanging, not one inch was sold. When all of a sudden we started to dance— One of the town's stores broke a clear-ance!

With that happy thought, and happy it is, The printer was singing, things started to whiz. The phone rang out with its own obligato; A farmer brought in the year's first tomato.

The help arrived (we thought they were dead). And all they could mutter was: Ouch, such a head. The publisher noted, with malice afore-thought: The books didn't balance, a fact he had forgot.

A subscriber arrived to pay his subscription. A lawyer dropped in about a description. He said was a libel of one of his clients. Before any newsmen could snarl in defiance The help came in to collar the lawyer. And tell the old shyster he just needn't bother.

That's how it started, this New '54. Not very different from each year before. There's just this one difference, please let us forget: Was ever a year sprung by such a po-et?

Heating Cable Takes Bite Out of Winter

"Putting the heat" on water pipes will save time, tempers, and cold hands if you do it before the pipes freeze. Install heating cable around those pipes now to prevent freezing this winter, says C. H. Neitzke, farm engineer at the U. of Wis.

Several types of these heating cables are readily available, he says. Cables vary in length, outer covering, heating element, and wattage. Three cable adapted for use around the farm are heating tapes, lead covered cables and plastic covered cables.

Any of these cables can be used to protect exposed water pipes from freezing. Where pipes cannot be buried deep enough to prevent freeze-up, the cable may be laid in the ground with the pipes. Lead covered cable is adapted for this job.

Cost of operating a heating cable will vary. A thermostat will help to produce a constant temperature and cut down heat losses, Neitzke says.

What will the cable itself cost? "Not too much compared to the job it will do for you," says Neitzke. The longer the cable, the less the cost per foot will be, he points out. Tapes for wrapping around exposed pipes are available in 6 to 60 foot lengths. The shorter tapes cost about 60 cents per foot while the 60 foot lengths cost 25 cents per foot. All cables are equipped with a plug at one end so that they can be plugged directly into an outlet.

Lead covered cable is best suited for use below ground level and will cost about 20 cents per foot in any length. This type of cable is normally used in 60 foot lengths on a 115 volt circuit. Shorter pieces may be used if there is a total of 60 feet in the circuit. Plastic covered cable is readily adapted for use in soil and will cost from 5 1/2 to 17 cents per foot depending on length.

Cables can also be used as an added heating unit for brooding chicks and pigs. Cable is used widely in greenhouses and in hotbeds—also to keep eave troughs and downspouts ice free. Beekeepers are using heating cable to heat bee hives during the winter months. A heating cable mat around the edge of the silo is also being used by some farmers to get rid of frozen silage. A highway in Michigan has been equipped with heating cable in the concrete to aid in snow removal.

At the university electric research farm cable is embedded in the concrete steps where the cows enter the barn. Various experiments with heating cable have been conducted at the farm to test its efficiency in many jobs with satisfactory results.

Hog production will probably increase this fall, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The spring pig crop is likely to be five to ten per cent larger than last spring and prices may decline next fall more than usual.

The hats for after five this season are small and sit forward on the head. Some are made of satin or velvet—others of braid and jet or feathers.

These new creations seem to be worn without the tiny veils of last season. A variety of lovely ear-bobs are being shown for wear with these little hats.

Eggs? No Thanks!

Eggs traded for groceries at village stores some years ago were of such uncertain quality that one of the storekeepers decided to put some "suspicious" eggs under a broody hen to see how long it would take them to hatch. Folks around town came in daily to watch the experiment and to make bets on how soon the eggs would hatch.

One night the storekeeper's cat lost out in a fight with a dog, and the man secretly put her three young kittens under the hen, removing an equal number of eggs and putting in some broken shells. Next morning when the daily onlookers came in, the storekeeper led the way to the back room, removed the hen from the nest and said, "Now, whadda you make of that?"

One of the men who had bet heavily rubbed his chin and drawled out: "I dunno; but I do know this—I've et my last egg!"

Economy Cuts Tasty But Nutritious Too

Less-popular beef cuts continue to be the economy meat buy, according to U. S. Dept. of Agric. marketing specialists.

Chuck, brisket, flank, and plate are less known cuts but good ones to use with moist heat. They need longer cooking but give the same flavor and food value as better known cuts.

Flank steak can be stuffed with your favorite bread filling. Spread about two cups of the stuffing over a pound and a half flank steak and roll up like a jelly-roll. Tie it securely or hold together with skewers.

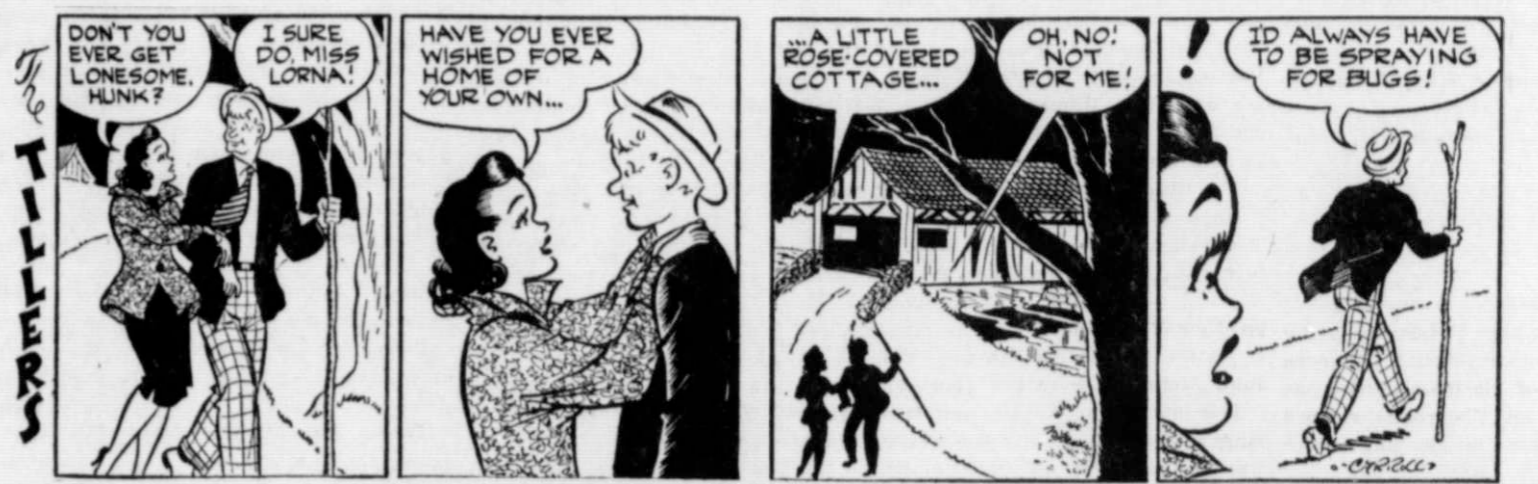

Brown the rolled steak in hot fat. Put on a rack and bake, covered, for about two hours in a moderate oven.

From ground chuck try potato burgers. For each half pound of ground meat, add a cup of grated, raw potatoes. Season with minced onion, salt, and pepper. After the patties are cooked, take them from the skillet and keep warm. Then, add a half teaspoon dry mustard and a tablespoon chopped parsley to the drippings. Heat and use as topping for the meat.

Put the pressure saucepan to work and make meatballs. For a pound of ground beef, heat a cup of equal milk and cream. Cool and add to the meat a little at a time.

Season with salt, pepper, and a fourth teaspoon each of ginger and mace. Blend in one and a half teaspoons corn starch. Heat a cup and a half of beef broth in the pressure saucepan and drop small balls into the hot broth. Cook 15 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

Storage space in the modern home is apt to be limited. Also, closets with ordinary swinging doors cramp the furniture arrangement.

If you are building a walk-in type of wardrobe or closet, regular showcase sliding doors may be the answer to your problem.

The simplest arrangement is to build the closet wide enough that two doors can be used as illustrated. Since the doors slide past each other, no special wall construction is necessary.

There are several trade names of doors made for this purpose. Buy the doors complete with hardware. The important thing is to get doors which have been treated to withstand dampness, so that they will not swell and stick during damp weather.

If the doors are to be painted, they may be covered with a composition board instead of wood. If a wood grain finish is desired, they should be veneered with wood.

There is no limit to the width of opening or the number of doors used. Make sure, however, that the doors overlap when used.

So Goes The Mind

SOME DEFINITIONS
You may occasionally have come across terms in connection with the mind or emotions or mental illness that left some doubt as to their exact meanings. Here are some simple definitions or terms commonly used in psychiatry:

ADDICTION—Dependence on a drug or on alcohol, beyond the voluntary control of the individual. The dependence may be physical or emotional or both.

ADJUSTMENT—The relation between the individual, his inner self and the external conditions and influences that affect him.

AGORAPHOBIA—Irrational & morbid fear of open spaces.

AMNESIA—Loss of memory. Its origin may be emotional or physical. Traumatic amnesia—loss of memory following physical injury such as a blow on the head.

ANTISOCIAL—In opposition or contrary to the usual standards accepted by society.

ANXIETY—A feeling of tension or uneasiness that makes the individual apprehensive. It has been defined as a fear out of proportion to its apparent cause, or even without such cause. Anxiety may arise from conscious or unconscious sources.

BLOCKING—Interruption in a train of thought or inability to recall it, caused by emotional factors of which the individual is not aware.

CHARACTER—The individual's typical patterns of behavior; his character corresponds to his personality.

CLAUSTROPHOBIA—Irrational and morbid fear of closed spaces.

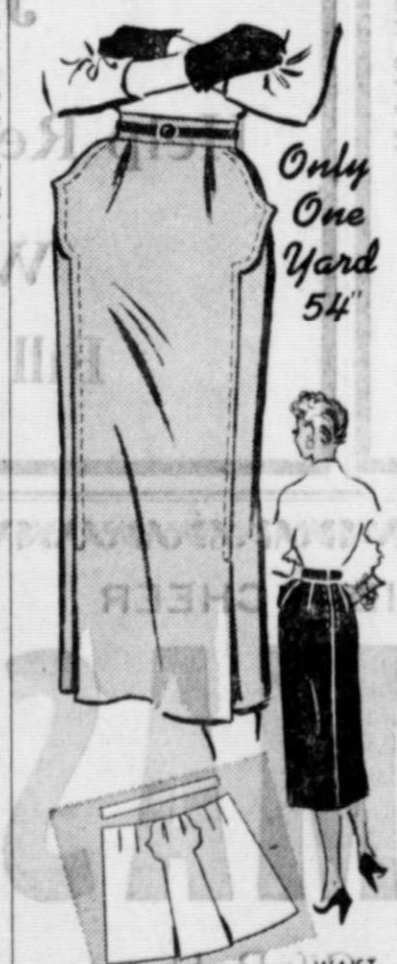

COMPLEX—A group of associated ideas that have a strong emotional tone in common.

Inferiority Complex—Feelings of inferiority or deficiency arising from real or imagined social or physical or mental inadequacies.
Oedipus Complex—Feelings of attraction for the parent of the opposite sex, existing together with feelings of envy and aggressiveness toward the parent of the same sex.

COMPULSION—An urge to perform an act, even though the act may be contrary to the individual's conscious wishes.

CONFLICT—The clash between opposing emotional forces. For example, an instinctual wish may be opposed, from within, by the individual's conscience; from without, by restrictions imposed by society.

Sarah Anne's COOKING CLASS

Festive Fruit Dessert

If you are having an overabundance of rich, filling foods during the holiday season it is time for fruit. Combinations of fruits which are attractive and festive in appearance, cost no more than a like quantity of a single fruit.

The advantages of this dessert are that it is good, easy, quick and inexpensive. Use the combination of canned fruits given here or try other family favorites.

Holiday Compote

- 1 1-lb. can pear halves
- 1 1-lb. can peach halves
- 1 1-lb. can dark sweet cherries
- Whole cloves
- 1 orange

Chill fruits. Drain off part of the syrup and empty canned fruits into a bowl. Squeeze juice of half an orange over them, adding a bit of grated orange peel if you like it. To make party-pretty, stick whole cloves around sides of half an orange and place in the center of the serving dish. Eight to ten servings.

COOKIE JAR MAGIC—These made-in-a-jiffy cookies are good to serve with fruit:

Quick Mincemeat Cookies

- 1 cup canned mincemeat
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 - 2 tablespoons milk
 - 1 1/4 cups graham cracker crumbs
- Mix first four ingredients thoroughly. Stir in the crumbs. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen cookies.

Smart cooks are serving bacon at any of the three meals now. The reason for this is that bacon is such an adaptable meat that it can be served by itself, or used to bring out the flavor of other meats, or eggs, cheese or vegetables. Another reason is that there is no waste to bacon, every bit is edible, and all the drippings are usable.

Strain bacon drippings through a fine strainer into a clean container that will not break when hot fat is poured into it. Cover and store in refrigerator. Bacon drippings make delicious seasoning to blend with green vegetables. Use bacon drippings to fry potatoes, browned potatoes, etc. Bacon drippings also make a delicious casserole topping when blended with bread crumbs. Use 2 tablespoons melted bacon fat to 1 cup of crumbs. Toss lightly with a fork and put on top of casserole.

Bacon and Noodle Loaf
1 1/2 cups fine broken egg noodles
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped onion
3 eggs slightly beaten
12 slices bacon

Line 3x7x2 inch loaf pan with wax paper. Allow paper to extend 3 inches over both lengthwise sides of pan. This makes for easier removal of loaf when done. Cook noodles in boiling water 5 minutes, do not rinse. Scald milk, add bread crumbs, butter, salt, Tabasco, pimiento, parsley and onion. Stir until blended. Remove from heat; add to beaten eggs, stirring constantly. Turn into loaf pan. Set in a pan of hot water. Bake in an oven 375 degrees. Twenty minutes before loaf is done, put bacon in a wire rack in a shallow pan and bake in oven with the noodle loaf. Turn loaf upside down on serving platter; remove paper and serve with the bacon.

Spinach Salad
3 slices of cooked crisp bacon
Fresh spinach
French dressing
Crumble bacon slices and mix with fresh, cut-up spinach. Toss with French dressing, using just enough to coat the leaves. Sprinkle with salt.

Bacon and Chives Sandwich
Cream cheese
Chopped chives
Crumbled crisp bacon slices
Whole wheat bread
Milk or cream

Soften cream cheese with milk or cream. Mix in some chopped chives and crumbled bacon. Spread generously on whole wheat bread.

Cheese and Bacon Sandwich
3 eggs beaten lightly
3/4 lb. grated American cheese
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon paprika
8 slices of bread
3/4 lb. bacon

Combine eggs, cheese, salt,

Worcestershire sauce, paprika and cayenne. Spread on bread. Cover cheese with slices of bacon. Bake 10 minutes in an oven 400 degrees.

Apple Salad
8 slices of crumbled crisp bacon
3 red apples, do not peel
1/2 to 1 cup diced celery
1/4 to 1/2 cup seedless raisins
1/4 cup mayonnaise
Lettuce

Wash, core and dice apples. Combine bacon, apples, celery, raisins and mayonnaise. Serve on crisp lettuce.

Club Sandwich
3 slices buttered toast
Sliced cooked chicken
Sliced tomato
Crisp bacon slices

On first slice of toast put lettuce and chicken. Top with second slice of toast, then with lettuce and tomato. Put on third slice of bread. Cut in quarters diagonally. Garnish with slices of crisp bacon—use mayonnaise on each layer as desired. Be sure that bacon and toast is warm when served.

AZTEC DIMAGGIO?—This chunky Aztec stone image, on display in Mexico City's Palace of Fine Arts, could very well be playing baseball, waiting with a short bat for that horsehide to sizzle toward home plate.

Desperate Resort
Mrs. Bahr (slapping her arm)—This is terrible! There must be something I can put on to keep the mosquitoes from biting me. Husband—There is—clothes.

KILLS OLD DUCK
Kalamazoo, Mich.—John Gar-side, 14, out duckhunting with his father, shot and killed a duck. The bird had a band on its leg, with a 1936 date stamped on it, making the bird older than the boy who killed it.

Foul Weather Warnings
"Hiram," exclaimed Mrs. Corn-tassel, "that candidate you don't like is coming up the road. What'll I say if he wants to kiss the children?"

"Don't say anything. Just call 'im back to the kitchen and give 'im plenty of bread and butter and molasses."

Furniture Fashions

Perhaps you have thought that furniture has reached the utmost in functionalism and practicality. Here is another feature in the world of furniture fashions which is sure to please all homemakers—a cedar-lined drawer in a storage unit.

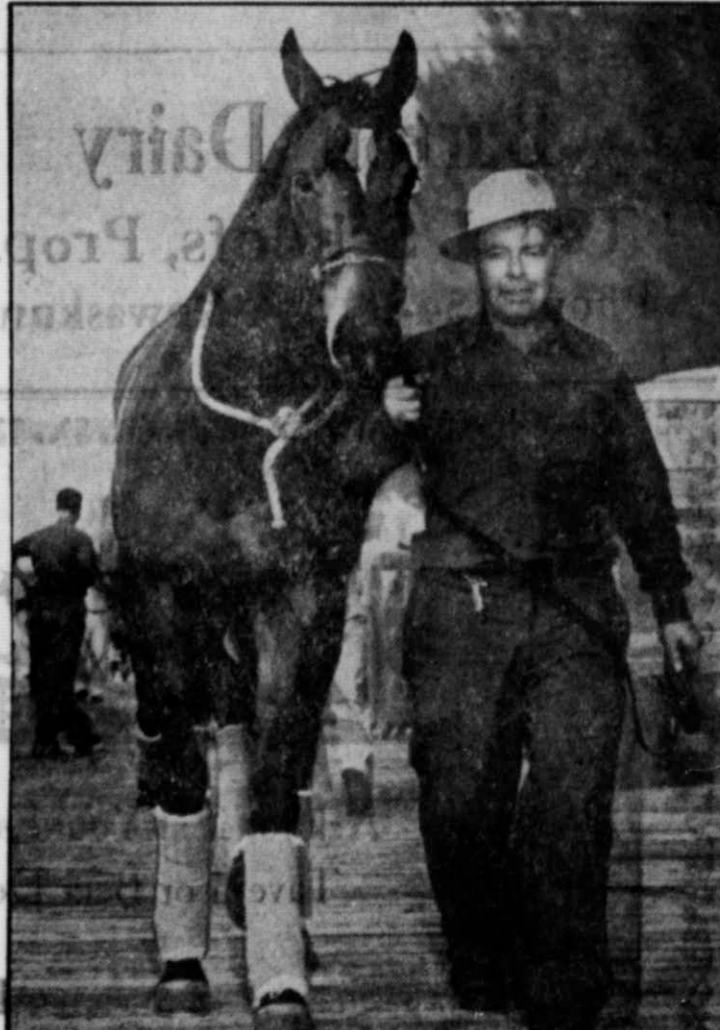

One entire drawer of this bedroom piece is constructed in cedar with a special lid to insure tight sealing and complete protection. This is a practical place to store wearable woolsens. With this unique cedar compartment you can have finger-tip protection for sweaters, blankets, etc. Chest of drawers shown is part of an entire bedroom grouping constructed in mahogany with contrasting hardware of brass or silver color. Wood is available in three finishes.

BLITZ BUGGIES—The Army jeep now packs a powerful new wallop. A 105-millimeter "hip pocket" artillery piece makes it a worthy opponent for any tank it may encounter. Shown above are four of the recoilless rifle-packing jeeps now in use at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

GAG RUNS INTO SNAC—Pink Williams of Caddo, Okla., smiles over a stack of requests for the gag post cards he drew up inviting cattlemen who voted for President Eisenhower to attend a picnic "the day after you are foreclosed." Williams said he mailed more than 300,000 of the cards before the Post Office Department restricted his mailing privileges.

QUEEN WINS A TITLE—"Grecian Queen" who piled up earnings of $229,375 this season, has recently been named Champion Feminine Race Horse of 1953. Being led by her trainer, "Grecian Queen" is shown above on her arrival at Hialeah Race Track in Florida, where she may meet her male rivals in the $100,000 Widener classic in February.

COOKIES AND MILK! After School Treat

A GLASS OF COLD FRESH MILK with a few crisp crunchy cookies to nibble on will satisfy the youngsters as an after-school snack and won't affect their appetites for the evening meal. While they're drinking a glass or two of MILK, you can be sure that they're getting their share of the healthful vitamins, minerals and proteins that are so plentiful in MILK. You'll know that this satisfying snack "fills the bill" for refreshment while it helps build strong young bodies. So keep the cookie jar filled and keep plenty of fresh MILK in the refrigerator for that after school build up.

—Very many of our fishermen have gone ice fishing the past week or two at Lake Poygan. Some have gone many times and some only on week ends. The fishing had been very good up to Sunday, since then the reports are not so good. With the ice still not safe on Lake Winnebago, the anglers have moved to Poygan, where their success has been better. Perch, whitebass, northern, walleyes and bluegills are being pulled through the ice. Some local fishermen even snared a setline on their tip-up with several sturgeon hooked to it.

By Betty Ann

EDITOR
THE MILWAUKEE JOURNAL
WOMAN'S PAGES

Slipper fashions can be exciting, says Betty Ann. There's no limit to the flash and sparkle that can be afoot for pleasant evening hours at home. And there's no limit to the attractions where each season's new offerings are prettier than the last.

Featured are lush velvet and butter soft suedes in delicious colors, the softest of glove leathers, some deluxe imported hatter's plush and a young and perky long piled fiber. Many are carefully and meticulously made by hand with delicate and feminine trimmings which might be gleaming shells or little seed pearls or heavily encrusted embroidery, gorgeous enough for a medieval knight to wear. They are, in fact, a fairy book kind of slipper.

And there are also new patterns in the hand crocheted metallic elastic yarn which so many women dearly love to wear. It molds to the foot like a second skin, never loses its shape and will fit any foot with blissful comfort. This miracle thread is now coated in many jewel colors to make it nontarnishable, nonsoilable and impervious to salt water and alcohol.

Women love elasticized slippers but few know the story behind their constructions, how the best workmanship and material goes into each pair. Tests prove they wear extremely well.

Some older women, realizing that eye make-up can give one a hard look, use none. Yet, when applied with discretion, eye make-up brightens the face considerably. And it is the older women who particularly can benefit from this help.

Using a pencil, for example, will bring out the character of eyebrows that have become sparse through the years. Short strokes made back against the hairs will give the most natural look.

The brow line should be followed, of course. Nothing is more hardening than a heavy, straight line slashed across the brows. Since the natural eyebrow is most popular today, it should not be necessary to pluck more than an occasional stray hair.

A light stroking with mascara will make the lashes look longer and more luxuriant. Black mascara should be used only if the lashes are dark. And the excess should be brushed away carefully when the lashes have dried.

Petroleum jelly can be used quite successfully on dark lashes as a substitute for mascara. And used instead of eye shadow, it adds luster to the lids.

Unless your hair is quite dry, this is a good way to spread your favorite fragrance: Add two teaspoonsful of the perfume to a cup of water and use for setting your hair.

Beauty is not so often the result of good luck as it is of good habits. A little attention each day to clothes, skin, hair and nails will help you on your beauty way.

Winter sleepwear made of cotton plisse or flannelette, or knit cottons, can do nicely without ironing. They're so little trouble to suds, you can change into fresh sleepwear as often as you'd really like to.

Sugar Cookies

Two-thirds cup shortening; 2/3 cup sugar; 2 eggs, well beaten; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 2 cups sifted flour; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder.

Cream shortening and sugar together. Add eggs and mix. Add sifted dry ingredients. Chill dough at least two hours or overnight if possible, then roll out to 1/8 inch thickness. Cut into cookie shapes with a floured cutter, place on a greased cookie sheet, decorate as desired. Bake 10 minutes in preheated 375 degree oven. Makes four dozen. If a glazed effect is desired, brush tops with slightly beaten egg white, then sprinkle with sugar or top with nuts or candied cherries.

Making light work of candy making is a special function of an electric food mixer, long known as a powerful aid to a modern cook. One electric food mixer, which handles even heavy batters like those used for refrigerator cookies, has a lightweight mixer unit with a six foot cord and is easily portable. Optional accessories include a pitcher type juicer graduated like a measuring cup, a meat grinder and power stand.

About Your Home

By FRANCES DELL

The early American skill of needlework is being revived. However, not the authentic, precisely stitched samplers and patchwork quilts but a modern translation.

The old traditional stitches are used. In fact, no new stitches have been devised in centuries. The needle and thread are used as an artist uses paint and brush.

Unusual and attractive results can be composed of simple stitches that anyone can master. Imagination, an understanding of design and an eye for color are as important as skill with the needle.

The new, natural looking work is used on objects as bed linens, blankets, bath towels and table cloths. Irregularities in stitching actually add to the texture but keep in mind that all designs must have a purpose. Meaningless, crossed-stitched posies detract and will destroy the effect.

Beautiful table cloths are fashioned from quality burlap. The coarse texture of burlap lends itself perfectly to this type of needlework. One handsome cloth was decorated with a variation of a sheaf of wheat. It had a small fringed border and twelve napkins. No two decorated were exactly the same.

If you enjoy handwork, you will doubly enjoy giving free rein to your imagination this type of work affords.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Winds Blew Free—But Sailors Had No 'C'

Of those who sailed the high seas of old, it rarely could be said, "they never had it so good." Food supplies on voyages were limited and outbreaks of scurvy were common. Scurvy is now known to be caused by lack of vitamin C.

It was by chance that sailors discovered that citrus fruits could prevent scurvy. Science revealed that the anti-scurvy—antiscorbatic—properties were due to the acid—vitamin C—now known as ascorbic acid. Although scurvy is rare in this country today, a lack of adequate amounts of ascorbic acid in the diet can be recognized. A shortage will result in weakened walls of the capillaries—those tiny blood vessels which form an amazing network in the body. Those who have mild shortages may bruise easily. Lack of energy, muddy complexions and slow healing of wounds are other indications of a deficiency. Scurvy in children is frequently diagnosed as infantile rheumatism. If a deficiency of vitamin C is not too advanced, it may be corrected by adequate amounts of the vitamin in the diet.

Because the body is limited in its ability to store vitamin C, this nutrient must be obtained daily. The easiest way to meet the daily C requirement is through a generous serving of citrus fruit at breakfast. In fact, a well planned breakfast will not only furnish vitamin C but will furnish significant portions of the other nutrients we require. Enriched or whole grain cereal or toast, an egg or serving of breakfast meat and a glass of milk supply the breakfast's share of proteins, B vitamins and minerals.

Daily use of canned or fresh tomatoes, or tomato juice is also a simple way to get one's vitamin C. Often overlooked as sources of this nutrient are potatoes, cabbage and green vegetables, especially if uncooked.

Although vitamin C is more readily destroyed by heat or exposure to air than other vitamins, it is not always lost in cooking; most of the original "C" is retained in a baked potato. Acid fruits, prepared and refrigerated overnight lose little of this vitamin by breakfast time.

Enjoy Red Cherry Relish With Baked Fresh Ham

THIS is the season for bright red. That's why this delicious red cherry relish may be particularly welcome. It goes perfectly with baked fresh ham—also with turkey, chicken, tongue, veal and duck.

Red Cherry Relish (Makes about 1 1/4 cups)

One tablespoon quick-cooking tapioca, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon cloves, 1 1/2 cups (No. 2 can) drained, canned, pitted, red sour cherries (syrup packed), 1/4 cup cherry juice, 1 teaspoon vinegar.

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt and spices in saucepan, mixing well. Add cherries, cherry juice and vinegar. Bring slowly to a boil over low heat and simmer 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Cool. Stir once after 15 minutes. Chill thoroughly (4 to 5 hours or overnight). (Serve with meat or poultry.)

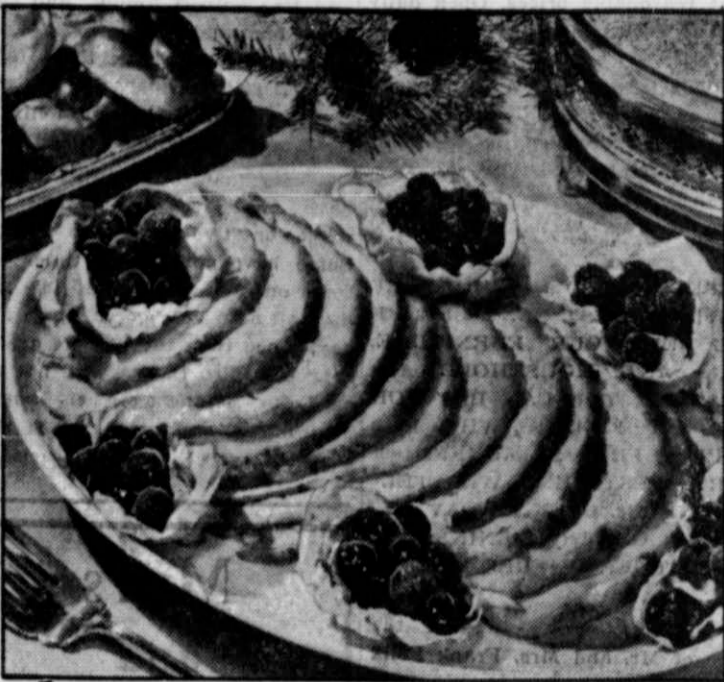

For a festive holiday buffet or dinner, here's a menu suggestion: Tomato juice, hot or cold, fresh baked ham with red cherry relish, casserole of creamed cauliflower, grated cheese topping, tossed green salad, rolls and butter, fruitcake or plum pudding, coffee.

Here's another bright red dish, created by John N. Letsch, pastry chef of St. George Hotel, Brooklyn, N. Y. He won a prize for it.

Cranberry Sherbet (Serves 6 to 8)

Two pounds or 8 cups fresh cranberries, 1 1/2 pounds or 4 cups sugar, 1 1/4 quarts water (5 cups) juice of 6 lemons, 2 teaspoons (level) gelatin dissolved in cold water.

Cook cranberries until they all stop popping. Strain. Add sugar, dissolved gelatin and strained lemon juice. Pour into hand freezer and freeze with ice and salt.

Bright red cherry relish goes perfectly with the Christmas season roasts and other meats.

Sanitation A Must For Rural Schools

The rural school should be a model of sanitation. However, surveys show that the great majority of the rural schools in Wisconsin do not have safe wells, sanitary toilets, effective sewage disposal systems, convenient handwashing facilities, good lighting, and approved heating and ventilation.

The first responsibility of school authorities is to provide a healthful environment for the child while he is in school. School boards are both legally and morally responsible for sanitation in our schools. However, the local health officer, county superintendent of schools, teachers, the state board of health and interested citizens groups can help in making these schools safer and better places in which to learn.

Every school not served by a municipal water supply should have its own well, properly located and constructed, and definitely free from contamination under any conditions. The supply should be adequate in quantity and must be dispensed in a clean and safe way.

Under no circumstances should toilet facilities and the method of sewage disposal constitute a health menace. While water flush toilets are best, other sanitary methods are acceptable. Handwashing facilities if not convenient and sanitary, cultivate bad habits of cleanliness and may cause the spread of skin infections.

The temperature, moisture content, and movement of air all have a significant effect on human health and comfort. Adequate lighting is also a "must." It is regrettable that health education is often carried on in poorly lighted rooms that actually endanger the children's eyesight.

School buildings and their surroundings should be safe, convenient, and sanitary. They should be constructed and maintained so as to promote, rather than undermine, the health of the children and their teachers.

Tips On Nose Drops For Welcome Relief

You can't cure a cold with nose drops; but sometimes you can get welcome relief from stuffiness by proper use of proper drops.

1. Never use alkaline drops in your nose at any time. The chief use of drops is to constrict the blood vessels and reduce congestion; but the drops used should be slightly acid because acid surroundings are unfavorable to growth of disease-producing bacteria. In the presence of an acute cold, sinus infection or hay fever, the normal acidity of the nasal cavity becomes alkaline and use of alkaline nose drops will make matters worse.

2. Never use any drops more than a week at a time unless, in rare instances, your doctor says so. Most drops used longer than that will damage the mucous membrane and the tiny hair-like filaments called cilia that entrap alien dust and bacteria.

3. Remember that nose drops affect all body tissues and the stronger ones can cause nervousness, insomnia and a rise in blood pressure in some people.

4. Remember, also, that nose drop bottles can be actual sources of danger if they are used indiscriminately by the entire family. The tip picks up infection and brings it back to the bottle and many types of nose drop solutions actually promote growth of bacteria.

The truth is that the effect of even the best drops is only temporary. Even that temporary relief can be welcome, however, if the drops used do not add to the torment of an already tormented nose.

Aliens Required To Report Address To The Gov't During January

Irvin F. Shrode, Officer in Charge of Immigration and Naturalization at St. Paul today called to the attention of all aliens the requirement of the Immigration and Nationality Act that every alien in the United States report his address to the government during the month of January. The report must be made on Form I-53, which may be obtained from any United States Post Office or from any Immigration office. The requirement applies to all aliens who are in the United States on January 1st and to aliens who reside in the United States and may be temporarily absent during January. Persons in the latter group must report their address within ten days after return to the United States. The address of minor children aliens must be reported by their parents or guardians. Shrode warned that failure to comply with the address reporting requirements of the Act carries severe penalties. Aliens failing to comply subject themselves to fine, imprisonment and deportation. Shrode urges all aliens to comply and all organizations having alien members to publicize the requirement, also all organizations who assist aliens to urge compliance.

Christianity Built By Men United In Brotherly Love

UPON the foundation of Jesus Christ the early Christian church was built by two things—conversion and fellowship.

The first great in-gathering was on the Day of Pentecost, 50 days after the Passover, when Peter preached with such power and boldness that about three thousand were then converted and baptized.

This company of believers was soon increased. But someone has said that no one goes to heaven alone, and the first immediate manifestation of this new life in conversion was an intense clinging of Christians to one another in a fellowship so deep and strong that at first they held all things in common.

The early Christian communism did not last long, just as most schemes of Christian communism have failed since.

If the Christians had all been as noble as Barnabas, it might have been successful, but a liar and self-seeker like Ananias can make havoc of a noble experiment.

In any case, Christianity places a strong value upon the individual soul, and upon the rightful independence of each life.

Paul understood this well. When he urged that Christians should bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ, he also said that every man should bear his own burden.

That was good, sound democracy. The strength of democracy, of a church, of a Christian fellowship, is built upon the integrity and strength of the individual units.

But the strength of the early Christian church was in the way the individual Christians loved one another. It became a byword, marking them from the world in which they lived: "See how these Christians love one another."

One speaks thus of the early Christian church. Can one say as much for the Christian church of today?

When one looks at the great number of sincere Christians today, the answer to that question must be "yes." But one cannot help wishing there were more in that company of true Christians.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Each year some new candidate for the "most vicious" animal in America is suggested—the semi-wild hog of the South, the grizzly bear, the Russian boar. However, the average person's chances of encountering them is remote unless he deliberately sets out to hunt them, in which case he is armed and presumably prepared.

On the other hand, anyone might run into what outdoor writer Bill Wolf considers the "most vicious" animal anywhere—the domestic bull. I think he's right. Frankly, I'm scared of them, and know of no defense against them except to avoid them, or to turn tail and run.

Here is the most vicious and dangerous animal in America, bar none, and anyone who hunts or fishes much is likely to come across one sooner or later. Only one course is open to you. Get out and get out fast. Take no one's word for it that "the bull is harmless" and that it is OK for you to hunt through a field containing one. The cardinal rule is: Never trust a bull.

Wolf tells of one day when hunting he walked an uneasy length of a field while two bulls, obviously with murder in their hearts, tested the strength of a fence between him and them.

The bulls, without any provocation, left the herd in another field when they saw Wolf, rushed over, pawed, snorted and butted at the wire its entire length. This is an excellent example of how bulls go out of their way to be ornery because, when Wolf first saw them, they were so far away he couldn't tell whether they were bulls or steers. (Steers sometimes turn ornery, too, but they don't have the black fury of a fully sexed bull.)

Bulls, by the way, are not irritated by red any more than some other color because they are as color blind as most mammals. The movement of the toreador's cape, and not the color, infuriates the fighting bull.

So my advice to sportsmen is to learn, if possible, whether there are any bulls turned loose to pasture where you are going to fish or hunt. If that is impossible, treat any bull you meet with respect and get out.

And the Devil Smiled

As the devil sat by, enjoying his last cigar for the evening, a group of executioners were bragging to each other.

First Executioner: Is that so? Well, I cut off more heads than you'll cut off in your whole life.

Second Executioner: Listen, bud, I've brought that old slicer down on the crowned heads of five countries.

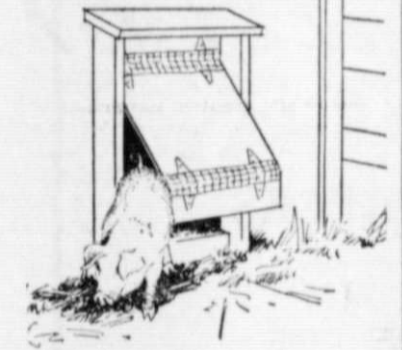

Third Executioner: Come, come boys, let's not talk chop.

No-Backlash Door

THE MAMA Pig needn't say, "Get away from them swingin' doors, girl," when she and her family live in a hog house outfitted with no-backlash doors. There'll be no bruising of hogs with these automatic swinging doors, which let little pigs and big ones through without any spanking.

The no-backlash door, which anyone can make in short order, consists of two pieces of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Presdwood hinged together and from the top of a lumber framework.

It also solves the problem of keeping the live stock comfortable in winter.

William Hulsebus, a Carnarvon, Ia., lumber dealer, invented the door, which swings back into place slowly and therefore does not strike the animals after they pass through. Young pigs move in and out of the house through a panel six inches high, hinged to the larger panel above. When they grow, they join their elders in using the big panel, which is 25 inches high and 21 wide.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A TOY CHEST BENCH

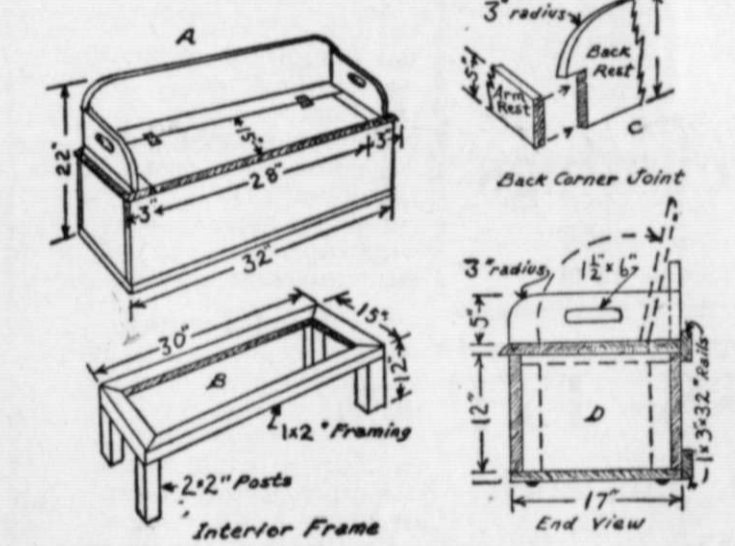

Christmas toys will stay out of the way and be better kept if the child has an attractive, usable toy chest.

The completed chest, A, is begun by constructing a sturdy frame, B, to which sides, ends and bottom are nailed to form a box.

The back rest and arm rest unit is built separately and mounted on 1 x 3 rails, nailed from the bottom. Details are shown in A, C, and D. The completed unit is then screwed to the top of the original frame.

A hinged seat, 15 by 28 inches, completes the chest and serves as a lid. The back rails, shown in D, add greater strength.

Some glider nails are used beneath for sliding. All materials, including hardware, are easy to obtain from lumber dealers.

MAKE A TOY CHEST BENCH

For after Christmas when the season's accumulation of toys clutters up the house, the answer to the question, "Where is my box of paints or my toy wagon?" is an attractive toy chest. A chest that serves also as a seat does double duty.

Since the chest will see hard usage, it should be built around a sturdy frame. Drawing B. Corner posts, 2x2's, 11 inches high, provide for a seat 14 inches high in the finished chest—the right size for a small child. The top of the frame is of 1x2 material, 30 inches long. The frame has mitred corners. If the home craftsman as a mitre box, he will use the 45 degree angle; but without a mitre box, just measure back 2 inches on the inner sides and cut to the corner. If screws are used to fasten the mitred corners, the frame will be drawn tightly together. The frame is then nailed or screwed to the corner posts.

The rest of the basic box is completed by nailing the sides and ends to the frame, using ordinary butt joints, so that the frame is completely enclosed. The bottom boards are nailed to the corner posts and to the sides and ends.

The top, which will include a hinged seat, is made separately and later fastened to the box.

The back rest is of 1x8 material, 30 inches long. Drawing C shows how to cut the back to fit the arm rest. The rounding may be accomplished with dividers, or with a pencil, a piece of string and a thumb tack. Use the thumb tack as a pivot, the string as dividers, and the pencil to swing an arc at the end of the string. Now for cutting the curve: if you have a coping saw this is no trick at all; but if you haven't, a series of straight cuts with a handsaw will soon produce a multi-sided corner that can easily be reduced to the penciled arc with a wood rasp.

The arm rest is then screwed or nailed into the back rest. A 3/4-inch rail of 1x3 material is nailed along the bottom of the back rest so that the back rest is flush with the back edge of the rail. Nailing is done from the bottom of the rail. A similar rail, 15 inches long, is fastened from below to each arm rest. Now the back rest, side arms, and rails are all one unit. This unit is lifted on to the box, the side rails and back rail are fastened with screws to the frame.

The hinged seat is 15 inches from front to rear, with a 1-inch overhang in front to make lifting easier. It is hinged to the back rail as shown in Drawing A. The hinges may be exposed, as shown, or inside hinges may be used.

For additional strength, two binding rails are added on the back of the chest, the upper one being most important since it supports the back rest. These are 1x3 material, 32 inches long.

Added frills include a handhold on the side arms, made by boring a 1-inch hole and cutting out the slot with a coping saw or keyhole saw. Beveled edges are produced with a wood rasp and plane. The chest may be given a natural finish or it may be painted attractively. Decals may be used to decorate the back rest or the front of the chest.

For easy sliding on the floor, four dome glider nails are driven into the bottom, beneath the corner posts. Casters are nice, but they tend to encourage use of the chest as a vehicle rather than as a receptacle.

That's Telling Them!

Two of three girls who had grown up together married, and thereafter their continually annoyed their spinster friend with tactless remarks about her unhappy condition.

She laughed off their comments good-naturedly until one day they went a bit too far. "Now tell us truthfully," they twitted her, "have you ever really had a chance to marry?"

With a withering glance, she retorted, "Suppose you ask your husbands."

New Geographic Map Focuses On China Coast And Korea

With world attention focused on Korea and Indochina, the National Geographic Society has issued a new map of the strategic lands along a 2,200-mile sweep of the Far East.

"China Coast and Korea" is the title of the 10-color, 25-by-14 1/2-inch map. It covers an area from Russia's port of Vladivostok south to Laos State in Indochina, and from northern Japan to Manila. It shows the Sea of Japan, the Yellow Sea, the East and South China Seas, and far reaches of the Pacific.

Battle Landmarks

Splitting Korea, a red line indicates the 2 1/2-mile-wide buffer zone established by the truce signed last July 27 at Panmunjom. Heartbreak Ridge, Old Baldy, Bunker Hill, the Punch Bowl, Sniper Ridge and other scenes of bitter and costly fighting along this line are pinpointed.

To the south, the map charts the three main offshore garrisons that serve as springboards for Chinese Nationalist guerrilla raids on Red-held China. They are the Taichen Archipelago, Matsui Island and the neighboring islands of Quemoy and Little Quemoy—all in the Formosa Strait. Nationalist forces additionally hold some 30 other islands off the China coast, plus Formosa and its offshore lands.

The Viet Nam towns of Hanoi and Dien Bien Phu in Indochina's northernmost corner are focal points of fighting between Communist forces and French troops. Here, in the rice-rich Rouge River Delta, as many as 1,400 persons crowd the square mile.

Slant Technique

The new map marks the first time the Society's cartographers have used an oblique Mercator projection, computed for the great circle running through the center.

Because the maximum map size is fixed by the size of the presses, cartographers put China on an angle to increase the scale to 55 miles to the inch. If China had been shown the usual way, with north at the top, the scale would have been considerably smaller—about 100 miles to the inch.

A novel relief method was also employed. Mountains are shaded in blue and yellow—blue on the shadow side and yellow on the light, assuming the light comes from the northwest. In the Far East, where mountains dominate the land, the color scheme aids visual interpretation.

In water areas, six shades of blue are used to indicate depth

HURT IN 5-FOOT FALL

Great Falls, Mont.—Tim Lynch, steeplejack of Youngstown, Ohio, had just finished painting the Statue of Justice atop the Cascade County Court House when he fell from a 5-foot ladder, on a piece of glass, cutting a leg deeply. Undaunted, he went back to painting the Court House flagpole, explaining, "It keeps my leg from getting stiff."

contours of the ocean floor—the lightest for the shallow continent-deeper waters.

The new map carries 6,234 place names. Multiplicity of placename spellings provided a major problem for National Geographic cartographers. Tientsin, for example, may be spelled three different ways; for Penki, in Manchuria, there are a dozen other spellings.

The Society's 2,150,000 members have been sent the map as a supplement to the October issue of the National Geographic Magazine.

HATS OFF—Blaine Shoemaker, 16, of Aledo, Ill., takes his hat off to his Angus steer, "Teddy." "Teddy" won first blue ribbon in the Junior Calf class at the International Livestock Show held recently in Chicago. Blaine's entrees have won 15 ribbons in six years of competition in the annual show.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK—Two of the more sensitive barometers of economic change, the stock market and the wholesale price index, have not only refused to foreshadow a downturn, but have been reluctant to reflect even the decline which has already taken place in U. S. industrial production.

The Federal Reserve Board index of production is down nearly 7 per cent from its post-Korean peak of 243 reached last March. The wholesale price index, which in March stood at 110 per cent of the 1947-49 average, has just been calculated at 109.9 for November.

The most commonly used index of stock prices, the Dow-Jones Industrial Average, did fall 20 points from May to June, before industrial weakness actually developed. Since then it has climbed back to the May level.

Individual prices have not stood still. Farm prices are down, and so are foods. Major metals are more costly. Weaknesses may spread, but the absence of a general price decline rather argues that business will improve instead.

COFFEE CHANGES—In view of the long popularity of coffee in the American home one would expect coffee drinkers to be firmly set in their purchasing and drinking habits of this favorite beverage. The reverse is the actual case.

Just in the last year, the American Can Company found in a survey of buying habits, families taking home their coffee in vacuum-packed cans rose from 51.5 per cent of all questioned, to 54.5 per cent. Instant coffees show a market rise to 16.7 per cent—doubling the proportion held in 1950. Coffee in paper hit a new low of 25.6 per cent—a one-quarter drop from three years ago.

Over a longer period, the trend to vacuum-packed coffee in cans is steady; can sales have increased 44 per cent since 1940.

THINGS TO COME—Twenty-four of a new pill daily for a year is the recommended dose to heal your ulcer... A new dictating machine records the speaker's words magnetically on an endless belt... An outside thermometer lets a home freezer user check temperature without letting in warm air... After an electronic gauge "watches" a strip of hot steel through a mill to make sure of its exact width, final checking-up is done by rolling the steel over a plain pine board and measuring the width of the char... Lightweight concrete walls, cast in pieces as large as 9x32 feet, are the components of a new prefabricated house.

UNFORGOTTEN VEGETABLE—Louisiana is enjoying an industrial boom, but the state has not forgotten that its position as No. 1 producer of yams still contributes a sizeable portion of its income.

State agricultural extension workers and A & P Food Stores annually co-sponsor a 4-H Club yam growing contest. Young farmers vie with one another, as well as their elders, in producing more yams of better quality. The victors accompany a carload of yams to some large northern city, to see their wares marketed. Thus the future farmer not only learns efficient production methods, he also sees how more efficient marketing methods add to the value of his crop.

Gov. Robert Kennon recently proclaimed a statewide 4-H Yam Week to honor last year's eight winners, each of whom raised several times as many yams on his acreage as the average yield in the state.

WHAT MAKES SALES?—An inconclusive argument went on around New York recently until the end of the newspaper strike made the question merely academic.

What happened to New York department stores' sales as a result of the strike which saw the seven daily papers disappear from the newsstands?

Sales totals were down 5 per cent from 1952 levels, in the week ending December 5. That much is certain. The week earlier the decline had been 7 per cent. So—Did Christmas' seasonal pulling power outweigh the loss of visible advertising? Did radio and television fill the gap? Did the Sunday editions of November 29, which appeared in curtailed form, pull customers through the ensuing week?

Continuance of the strike would have given some fairly definite answer to those questions, but no one was that eager to learn them.

BITS O' BUSINESS—While construction keeps setting new records from year to year, the National Industrial Conference Board calculates that, had the dollars remained the same size, construction per capita in 1953 would have been only 88.5 per cent of the 1927 figure.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Drewitz entertained a number of friends at their home Tuesday evening for the pleasure of their 25th wedding anniversary. Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Harry Ladewig of Milwaukee.

Local Agent Announces New Furnace Oil

A new furnace oil that will prevent major causes of burner failure due to oil is announced by Standard Oil Company.

N. M. Jaeger, Kewaskum agent, said Standard furnace oil contains a patented additive, Sta-Clean, that retards gum and sediment formation and not only prevents clogging of burner filters and screens but cleans those already partly clogged. It protects storage tanks from staining, as well, he declared.

He added that the new oil is offered at the same price and retains the excellent burning qualities of the furnace oil which Standard previously sold under its trade mark "Stanolex."

"Sta-Clean was invented by Standard Oil scientists at our Whiting, Ind., research laboratories, tested exhaustively for months in our burner laboratories, and finally given controlled field tests," Jaeger revealed. "In these tests its action out-performed the best additive commercially available."

"We know Standard furnace oil will cut down service calls. Its anti-oxidant action will prevent damage to pumps and clogging of filters and nozzle screens. Its anti-rust action will protect customers' storage tanks and lines and prevent rust deposits in the oil. And its detergent-dispersant action will clean filters and screens partly clogged previously by inferior fuel oils.

"The Sta-Clean additive in Standard furnace oil is designed mainly to prevent trouble," Jaeger points out. "If filters and screens are completely blocked already, or if a burner is not adjusted right, the unit needs servicing." Jaeger said current deliveries of Standard furnace oil contain Sta-Clean additive, blended in at the refinery.

4-H Club News

"Mille and Tillie in New York," a humorous skit by Marjorie Beck and Eileen Laatsch respectively, was one of the mirthful entertainment features of the Christmas party-meeting of the Boltonville

Busy Beavers 4-H club at the Modern Woodmen hall, Wednesday evening.

Guests were ten members of the Trenton Rangers 4-H club. Carol Riley and Evelyn Staehler also entertained with the playing of Christmas selections on their coronets. Following the playing of games, as proverbs, dragon, and "Who Am I," gifts were exchanged circle-wise to the tune of Jingle Bells played on the recorder provided through the courtesy of Margo Weiss.

After a period of merry social dancing the guests and members heartily enjoyed hot tamales, potato chips, chocolate cake and soda served by Myrna Laatsch, Margo Weiss, Marjorie Beck, Sharon Fay, Sandra Riley, and Harold Gifford. The next meeting will be held Wednesday evening, January 13 with the club agent, Robert Stodola, present to tell about the proposed conservation projects for the club and to show a film on that subject. What else will happen—a picture of the club members, leaders, and sponsors will be taken. Be seeing you! Evelyn Staehler, Club Reporter

LOCAL TREASURERS HAVE DOG LICENSES AVAILABLE

Dog owners are reminded that dog licenses are now available at the office of their local treasurers. 1954 dog licenses will be obtainable from your local treasurers until the first day of March, when all records will be delivered to the office of the county clerk. It should be convenient for most dog owners to get dog licenses when payment of regular taxes is made.

FAITH ...backed by dollars

When you see telephone lines going up, you see proof your telephone company believes in the future of your community.

Your company backs that faith by investing millions of dollars to improve your service. Many of your neighbors share its faith, too. Some show it by investing their savings; others by investing their careers; some by doing both.

It's faith... and partnership like this... that keeps America great.
