Lakes Game Rained Out; Mequon Here Thurs. Nite

Saukville's game at Kewaskum last Thursday night and all games scheduled in the Land o' Lakes league Sunday were rained out and will be made up at a later date. The rainy, cool week end also caused cancellation of other sporting events and picnics. A few skat and sheepshead games were the only events not washed out.

On Thursday night of this week the Chevs played an exhibition game with Eden under the lights here. The team will also be idle this coming Sunday. They will play instead next Thursday night, June 23, with Mequon coming here for a league contest.

The Chevs at present are resting in a tie for fifth place in the standings with Grafton. They have won two and lost two games. League statistics to date show that Augie Bilgo, Kewaskum third baseman, is leading the loop in batting with an average of .588. He has put the wood on the horsehide for 7 hits in 12 times at bat.

The schedule for the next week is as follows:

Saturday—Mequon at Saukville, Germantown at Jackson.

Full Time Child Welfare Worker Hired in County

Robert G. Hintz, director, Washington County Public Welfare Department, has announced the employment of Darrel Langman, effective June 13, 1955, as a full time child welfare worker for the department. Langman is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles where he majored in the field of psychology and has taken additional graduate work at the University of Wisconsin. He has had two and one half years casework experience at the Racine County Department of Public Welfare and previously was employed as boys' counselor for Devereux schools in Goleta, Calif.

Hintz explained the employment of a full time child welfare worker will meet a need in Washington county which has existed for several years. The present staff of the department was limited in the time that could be allotted to child welfare problems because of the press of other duties. With the addition of Langman, the Welfare Department will be able to service requests by the juvenile court, clergymen, schools, and other community groups who are concerned with the problems of children and youth in Washington county. Hintz indicated the major emphasis of the child welfare program will be on protective services to children in their own homes.

"By this program we can prevent minor problems from developing into major difficulties, but to be successful, we must receive early referral of problems for community agencies and private citizens," Hintz added.

Langman is married and has two children: Marshall, age 6, and Jay, age 2. The Langmans have moved to West Bend and reside at 323 S. 8th avenue.

County's Voluntary Cancer Fund Drive Is Now Underway

LEHMAN ROSENHEIMER, ALFRED SEEFELDT CHAIRMEN FOR VILLAGE, TOWNSHIP; GOAL 35% HIGHER

Letters are going out this week to every family in Washington county asking voluntary support of the 1955 Cancer Fund Drive, according to Thomas J. Kenny, campaign chairman for the county. Kenny said the campaign will be conducted entirely on a voluntary basis again this year since this type of drive has proved successful in the past in reaching the quota. This year's goal is 85% higher than the 1954 quota, but Kenny said he is confident the people of the county will respond generously to the appeal. He asked that contributions be returned early in order that the campaign can be completed in a short time.

"Washington county has never failed to answer the cancer appeal wholeheartedly, generously and promptly, and we are sure that this year will be no exception. Residents of the area have always given more than was asked to aid the fight against cancer through research and education. If everyone will give just one-third more this year than last, we will be assured of reaching our campaign quota," Kenny said.

Honorable Walter F. Schmidt is honorary chairman for the city of West Bend. Assisting the chairman in the Hartford area are H. E. Pelzer and W. D. Obenberger. Town and village chairmen who are helping with the 1955 campaign include: Al Seefeldt, town of Kewaskum; Guido Schroeder, town of West Bend; Hugo Dhein, town of Germantown; Mrs. Wm. H. Dietrich, town of Hartford; Victor Bauer, town of Wayne; A. John Cleary, town of Erin; Merton Murray, town of Farmington; Paul J. Cypher, town of Barton; Lawrence Blazel, town of Trenton; Albert A. Ebling, town of Richfield; G. A. Eickman, town of Addison; Edwin Kratz, town of Polk; Clarence Gumm, town of Jackson; William Kratz, village of Slinger; Lehman Rosenheimer, Jr., village of Kewaskum; Lavern Schaezel, village of Germantown; Herb Matenauer, village of Barton, and O. P. Butzke, village of Jackson.

Residents of the county are urged to make their contributions and return them in the envelope provided as soon as the campaign letter is received. They are urgently requested not to put the letter aside to be taken care of later. This only serves to prolong the drive and fosters anxiety over the completion of the effort. Help the cancer research army by making your contribution promptly and generously.

Daniel Panzer at Badger Boys State

Seven hundred and twenty four boys, the cream of the junior classes in Wisconsin high schools, converged upon Ripon college this week as the Wisconsin American Legion held its Badger Boys State on June 11-18.

The Kewaskum Community High school student selected to attend Boys State is Daniel Panzer, R. 1, Kewaskum. His trip is sponsored by the Kewaskum American Legion Posts and Kiwanis club.

The project is a Legion-sponsored event which brings boys — selected by their school faculties — to Ripon to form and operate a mythical "49th State". Upon arrival, boys are separated into two mythical parties — "Nationalist" and "Federalist," and from here commence to form city, county and state governments. Boys campaign for the various offices, and upon election, proceed to handle the duties and functions of the various offices.

Climax of the eight-day event was held on Thursday evening, June 16, when the newly-elected governor was inaugurated. The oath of office was administered by Justice Grover Broadfoot, of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, who formally installed other state officers, as well as the members of the Boys State Supreme Court. Also attending was Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

The program is conducted by a staff of American Legionnaires and others, all of whom donate their time during the "State." They act in the role of advisors and administrators, with the actual conducting of the program handled by the boys themselves. During the week, a long list of public officials on all levels of government in the state came to Boys State to lecture, or conduct courses on various phases of government offices.

Special schools were held for boys seeking different offices, as mayors, sheriffs, county clerks, supervisors, assemblymen, and many other officers give them a review of the functions of the positions.

Kindergarten or First Grade New Adventure In Your Child's Life

In a few months the many children born in 1950 will begin a new adventure. They will receive a new title—that of kindergarten or first grader. For most it will be their first regular group adjustment outside the family, as well as an adjustment to a new adult, namely, the teacher. New faces, new surroundings, new problems—an entirely new routine will face each child entering our schools for the first time.

How ready will these children be for this new experience? Their physical and mental health—largely dependent on the care they have received since birth—will do much to determine this. The readiness-for-school health examination program, encouraged in many communities, as well as individual health examinations by family physicians and dentists, will then serve as a final check up for the child about to enter school. Conducted several months prior to the opening of school, they allow time for all but the most serious defects to be corrected before the child embarks on his "new career."

But important as the physical examination of all new students is, it serves only a part in determining a child's readiness-for-school. The beginning of school marks a period of transition in the child's life—transition from the safe, protected area of his home, to school, a place filled with new experiences. How the child makes this transition will determine to a great extent his attitude toward school and toward learning for many years to come.

A child begins school, reacts and adjusts with patterns learned in his five or six years' experience with life. How he meets this beginning of school depends on how he has met, and been helped to meet, new experiences before he begins school.

A child, happy and secure in his relations with his parents, other members of the family, and his friends—a child given many opportunities for learning and exploring this world at his level of development—such a child—can be confident that he is ready to make the transition from home to school.

HERE'S HOW . . .
MAKE TOMATO PLANT TRELLISES

To keep tomato plants off the ground and to give them support against wind and driving rain, the gardener will want a supply of small trellises. The trellis consists of two frames or small "ladders," with side rails of 1 by 2 by 24 inches. The "rungs" of one ladder are 17 1/4 inches long; those of the other are 18 3/4 inches long. Holes for the rungs are 6 inches apart. The upper hole for the pin is 1 inch below the top of the rail. Use a No. 8 auger bit to bore the holes. Cut the 1/2-inch dowels to size and secure them in place with wood glue and brads.

National Lumber Manufacturers Association

Make Tomato Plant Trellises
To keep tomato plants off the ground and to give them support against wind and driving rains, the home gardener should have a supply of small trellises. They will pay dividends in crop returns.

The trellises may be taken apart for easy storage during the winter months, since they consist only of two frames fastened with dowel pins. Each frame is a small "ladder" with side rails 1 by 2 by 24 inches. The "rungs" of one ladder are 17 1/4 inches long, and those of the other are 18 3/4 inches long. Draw a centerline on one 2-inch face of each rail. Then, starting at the base, mark the positions of the holes. The first three holes on each piece are 6 inches apart. The upper hole on each piece is 1 inch below the top of the piece. Use a No. 8 auger bit for boring the holes. Cut the 1/2-inch dowels to size and secure them in place with wood glue and brads. Make two pins, 4-inch lengths of dowel. Attach a piece of cord to each pin and fasten to the outside rails with screw-eyes. Protected with a good outside paint, the trellises will last many years. For storage, remove the pins and clean off the soil. There are ways of obtaining substitute supplies of fluids, FCDA points out. Right in your home. And it isn't in the least bit complicated. For example: 1. Water in the hot water heater can be used for drinking purposes. 2. You can allow the ice cubes in your refrigerator to melt. Then there is milk. It serves as a substitute for water and provides required fluids for the body. Fresh fruits contain a large proportion of water. The same is true of other bottled and canned beverages, such as soft drinks, fruit drinks, and liquids from water-packed fruits and vegetables. However, these are only substitute sources, the FCDA emphasizes. Every family should keep available at least one gallon of water for each member of the household. This would represent a three-day supply.

LONELY—Forsaken even by this lone pedestrian, 23d Street station of New York City's Third Avenue El stands in rusty solitude, awaiting abandonment of services on the once-jam-packed elevated.

FCDA Tells Ways To Get Pure Water

In the event of disaster you could get along for quite a while without food, if necessary, but you must have safe water or its equivalent to drink. Every family should have in their home a three-day emergency supply of drinking water. These instructions have been widely publicized by the Federal Civil Defense Administration and State and local defense agencies. BUT IN THE EVENT OF a sudden sneak attack you might be caught without this all-important supply on hand. Normal water supplies might be abruptly disrupted. What happens then? There are ways of obtaining substitute supplies of fluids, FCDA points out. Right in your home. And it isn't in the least bit complicated. For example: 1. Water in the hot water heater can be used for drinking purposes. 2. You can allow the ice cubes in your refrigerator to melt. Then there is milk. It serves as a substitute for water and provides required fluids for the body. Fresh fruits contain a large proportion of water. The same is true of other bottled and canned beverages, such as soft drinks, fruit drinks, and liquids from water-packed fruits and vegetables. However, these are only substitute sources, the FCDA emphasizes. Every family should keep available at least one gallon of water for each member of the household. This would represent a three-day supply.

IF AN ENEMY ATTACK should occur, there would be possible blast damage to water mains, as well as contamination of the supply through leaking sewage, poisonous chemicals, radioactive materials, or disease organisms from biological warfare attacks. In storing water for emergency use, FCDA advises, only thoroughly cleaned containers should be used. Glass jugs used for storing liquids should be protected with wadded newspapers, excelsior or other packing materials against blast or shock. Because of the growth of algae (tiny aquatic plants), water may develop objectionable tastes if stored over a long period of time, FCDA health officials state. Storage in a dark place will help slow the growth. Water storage containers should be rinsed and refilled every three months.

Cool 'n' Hearty Summer Fare

Hearty Ham Salad Introduces Apple Gelatin
Everyone who likes salads in the summertime—and who doesn't?—is always on the lookout for new ideas. This Summer we have an entirely new gelatin flavor that will be a sensation for molded salads—apple gelatin. Its clear amber color and refreshingly light flavor make this imitation apple-flavored gelatin the perfect foil for entree salads with meat or fish, salads with vegetables, as well as fruit salads and desserts. To introduce apple gelatin to your household, try this filling, appetizing Hearty Ham Salad—a main dish that will be truly a boon for a warm-weather menu.

Hearty Ham Salad
1 package apple-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon vinegar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2/3 cup diced cooked ham
1/2 cup cooked peas
1/4 cup diced celery

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water, vinegar, and salt. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in ham, peas, and celery. Pour into 1-quart mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens. Garnish with mayonnaise, if desired. Makes 5 servings.

Shrimp and Corn
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons chopped greens
Pepper
1 small onion chopped
1 cup cooked, cleaned shrimp
Celery salt
1 cup whole grain corn
1 pimento canned chopped
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
3 eggs beaten
2 cups milk

Melt the fat in a saucepan. Add the green pepper and onion. Cook slowly for 5 minutes, add the shrimp and remaining ingredients. Pour into a greased baking dish. Set in a pan of warm water and bake in an oven 350 degrees for 1 hour or until set when tested with a silver knife.

Beets With Mint
1/2 cup butter
1 tablespoon vinegar
3 cloves
1 teaspoon sugar
1 1/2 cups small cooked beets
8 mint leaves
Melt butter, add cloves, vinegar and sugar. Add beets. Simmer 10 minutes. Sprinkle with mint leaves which have been cut into small pieces with scissors.

Lemon Blueberry Dessert
4 eggs
1 1/4 cups sugar
Salt
Juice of 1 large lemon
1/2 pint heavy cream
1 cup blueberries
1/2 cup water
10 ladyfingers
Beat eggs well, add 1 cup sugar. Beat well. Add salt and cook very slowly, stirring constantly until mixture is about as thick as soft custard. Takes from 7 to 10 minutes. Cool and then stir in lemon juice. Line a refrigerator tray with wax paper. Beat cream until stiff. Spread whipped cream over the bottom and sides of the lined tray, saving out about 5 tablespoons to cover top. Put tray in freezing compartment to allow cream to set. Combine blueberries with the water and 1/4 cup sugar. Cook very slowly about 2 minutes, long enough for berries to soften but keep their shape. Do not boil. Drain thoroughly. Split ladyfingers in two and place half of them in the refrigerator tray. Sprinkle a layer on top of whipped cream. Chill for 2 hours in freezing compartment of refrigerator. To serve, cut in slices.

There were three bears, Papa, Mama, and Baby Bear, who sat down on the ice to tell stories to one another. Papa told his tale and Mama told her tale, but when it was Baby Bear's turn, all he could do was sit on the ice and say, "My tail is told."

COUNTRY PLATTERS
LES CARROLL

SOME fine recordings have recently been released featuring two great country singers who have passed on. Hank Williams' "Message To My Mother" and "Mother Is Gone" are musts for his fans' record libraries (MGM). And two of Jimmie Rodgers' classics, "In The Jailhouse Now, No. 2" and "Peach Pickin' Time In Georgia" have been re-released with dubbed-in background music (Victor).

Marty Robbins' latest, "Daddy Loves You," is of the lasting type. And George Morgan sings two beautiful ballads, "The Best Mistake" and "I'd Like To Know" (Both Columbia).
"Bargain Day, Half Off" by the Carlisles is a humorous ditty that should catch on. "Got Anything Good" by George & Earle is another rollicking song (Both Mercury).
Red Foley's "Hominy Grits" and "Nobody" are excellent novelty numbers. The Wilburn Brothers put plenty of pep into "I Wanna Wanna Wanna." Another good novelty is "See Saw Baby" by Lonzo & Oscar (All Decca).
On the sacred side, Wally Fowler's group do a fine arrangement of "Down In The Valley Of Prayer" and "A Rusty Old Halo" (Decca). And Carl Story's group sings "Land Of Eternal Peace" in their good, old-time style (Mercury). Faron Young also does an old sacred number, "Where Could I Go?" while Chester Smith & Hazel Houser duet "Men Are So Busy," a good, thought-provoking song (Both Capitol).
Some excellent love ballads are "That's What Makes The Juke Box Play" (Jimmy Work, Dot); "Sometimes Late At Night" (Jimmie Davis, Decca); "Deceive Me Once Again" (Sonny James, Capitol); "For Old Times' Sake" (Charline Arthur, Victor) and "Spitful Heart" (Wesley Fairburn, Capitol).
Darrell Glenn's "Run Little Echo" is a very catchy song, and Chet Atkins' "Hey, Mr. Guitars" is a rhythmic number with choral backing that will set you to whistling.
OTHER GOOD RELEASES are "Love At First Sight" (Sheb Wooley, MGM); "Home In The Hills" (Vaughn Horton's Pine-toppers, Decca); "Someone More Lonesome Than You" (Moon Mullican, King) and "Peepin' Eyes" (Charlie Feathers, Flip).

TREAT YOUR BODY AS WELL AS YOU DO YOUR CAR

Because the body is such a wonderful self-sustaining machine, we are prone to let it run along as best it can until something drastic goes wrong.

Car accidents occur every day. There are collisions and turnovers. The car is taken to have the frame straightened, the dents taken out of the fenders and everything lined up in good shape, but the motorist, unless he has bones broken, merely paints over his bumps and dents and lets his frame go regardless how badly it may have been twisted out of shape. The body reacts just like any piece of machinery when left in this condition. Wear on certain parts is greater and the life of your machine is shortened. The Chiropractor is your body mechanic, a bio-engineer, see him for advice as to how to take care of your machine and go to him when your body frame work needs attention.

TEACUP TOPICS

By BETTY ANN

The narrow, flat line of many spring dresses requires complete sleekness beneath, says Betty Ann. No thigh bulges, not so much as a garter bump should disturb the fluid line.

Long bras and high girdle tops, as well as all in one foundations, have long since banished the once worrisome bulge above the waistline. Now the last battle of the bulge, the bulge between the top of a stocking and the bottom of a girdle has been won.

Nylons are available in lengths that come right up to the hipline, where they meet a newly designed pantie girdle. The long nylons tuck under the pantie girdle and are fastened by four long garters suspended from the top of the girdle. The combination creates a smooth, unbroken line sheath dresses need.

The girdle is a power net pull on style, which comes in white only, in sizes small, medium and large. The net is a blend of nylon and rayon, completely soft, without so much as a featherbone, and the long garters may be detached from the inner loops at the top of the girdle and attached to loops at the bottom if the wearer wishes to wear stockings of the conventional length.

The new, longer length nylons are made with a dull finished, twisted nylon yarn for greater flexibility and therefore, longer wear, according to the manufacturer. They may be ordered in stocking sizes and leg lengths, and a woman who wears size 10 1/2 stockings, and who is medium height, will take a 28 inch stocking of the new variety.

Blouses in sparkling prints and jewel colors are perfect foils for suits and skirts this spring.

There's the long torso look in suits with longer jackets, the new waist length blouses that's sometimes finished with a drawstring for a perfect fit, the overblouse cut like a jacket. Or it might be a button back blouse in nylon and cotton with a satiny finish. Deep V front slash neckline would lend itself as background for ropes, pins.

Many women scouting for an exciting fragrance, unscrew every bottle on the counter, take a deep whiff and wonder why they can't make up their minds. The keen sense of smell is assaulted with the aroma of the strong perfume, and like any other overworked faculty, olfactory nerves get tired when they have to work, too hard and fast.

The proper way to judge the fragrance of a fine perfume is to apply it to the pulse spots such as wrists, throat, temple, bend of elbow where the warmth of the skin dispels the volatile ingredients. Then, about 15 minutes later after the perfume oils have blended with the chemistry of the skin, the true perfume is evident.

A perfume scent cannot last indefinitely, no matter how fine or expensive it is. It needs reapplication after a few hours. The particular heat of the body as well as the oil content or dryness of skin regulate the longevity of a fragrance. Instead of worrying about wearing too much perfume, remember that most women use it too sparingly.

Shrimp Curry

1 cup uncooked rice for 3 cups cooked rice; 1 small onion, chopped; 1 tablespoon butter or margarine; 1/2 teaspoon curry powder; 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed tomato soup; 1 cup diced cooked shrimp; 1/2 cup milk; 1 teaspoon lemon juice; 1 tablespoon chopped parsley.

Cook rice according to the directions on package. Meanwhile, brown onion in butter. Add curry powder. Stir in soup, shrimp, milk and lemon juice; heat thoroughly. Serve over rice, garnish with parsley.

About Your Home

Often you hear young women say they hate housework. This is usually the result of poor planning more than anything else.

In the first place, running a home is not complete satisfaction to most of us, but there are times when we think we simply don't have time for any outside interests. This is always a mistake and is perhaps the most common reason, whether the person concerned realizes it or not, for housekeeping boredom.

If it is not possible for you to be away from home for an hour or so each day, don't become discouraged. You can do any number of interesting things right in the home that will help you to express yourself and do away with boredom.

Try writing, painting or gardening. I have a friend who has a map of Europe, the United States and China thumbtacked over the sink. She enjoys studying this as she pares potatoes or washes dishes. This is a good idea, for actually you need only the basement of your brain to do routine tasks.

If necessary, rearrange the house for greater working ease. Uncluttered organization and convenient arrangement make keeping house much easier and more pleasant. Plan meals that do away with time-consuming dishes. Use more quick dishes made with prepared mixes and canned and frozen food.

Why not chart the following day's activities the night before? Plan the meals, the house work and family activities. Encourage the children and husband to lay out their clothes for the next day to cut down on morning scramble.

Use plastic tablecloths and place mats and paper napkins except for special company. Purchasing seersuckers and corduroys for the children and using sheets and dish towels unironed will cut most family ironing in half.

Health & Beauty

When persons go to a doctor's office with a persistent backache, they usually imagine that they have kidney trouble. They have seen numerous advertisements of pictures showing men standing with their hands on the backs and agonized expressions on their faces. The printed matter accompanying the cuts advised a sure cure for kidney disease, which was supposed to be the cause of the pain.

This is all bosh. As a rule kidney troubles are not ushered in by pains in the back, although backache may be an accompaniment of kidney stones.

The back is a very important and complicated structure. A number of bones are superimposed one above the other and tied together by ligaments, padded with cartilaginous disks between each vertebrae, thus forming the spinal column.

Sometimes the most intractable back aches are caused by a disk slipping out of place. It often requires skillful surgery and long treatment to relieve the condition.

Many cases of back pain are due to injuries. Sometimes parts of the bones are chipped off or fractured.

Arthritis is a frequent cause of backache. If there are deformities of the bones or deposits about them, the X-ray will often reveal the trouble.

Bad posture is also a cause of pain in the back for it puts a strain on the muscles and nerves. There are strong massive muscles which move the spinal column about. The nerves come out from the spinal cord through the openings in the vertebrae. They run to all the organs and structures of the body which they supply. Thus you see that if the back aches, the whole body is sick and most uncomfortable.

A diseased tooth or infection in any part of the body may produce backache. The cause should always be sought before the remedy is applied. Not all cases should be treated alike. If it is due to an injury, pounding and manipulation will only make the matter worse. Strapping and immobilizing will help a back that is strained and sore from an injury.

Penetrating lights, rest, diathermy, and Swedish massage will cure most cases of backache that the doctor sees in the routine day's work.

Here's a Pie for You to Sing About!

Remember the old song about a "buttermilk sky"? By rights it should have been written in June—and for Dairy Month! Who knows, maybe it was! In any event here's a Buttermilk Pie that will, without doubt, call forth many a song of praise from every member of your family, from your guests—or from the lucky folk who share its joys at a village summer festival.

TROPICAL BUTTERMILK PIE

1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks
1 1/2 cups buttermilk
1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/4 cup butter, melted
3 egg whites
1 unbaked Coconut Pastry Shell

Combine sugar, flour, and salt. Beat egg yolks slightly and add buttermilk, orange rind, and melted butter. Add sugar mixture, blending thoroughly.

Beat egg whites until stiff; then fold into buttermilk mixture. Pour filling into pie shell and bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 40 minutes, or until knife inserted near edge of filling comes out clean.

COCONUT PASTRY SHELL

1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons lard

2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup shredded coconut, chopped
2 1/2 tablespoons cold milk
Sift flour once, measure, add salt, and sift again into mixing bowl. Cut in lard and butter until particles are the size of small peas. Add coconut and mix well. Add milk, a few drops at a time, mixing with a fork until dough will form a ball.

Roll pastry on a lightly floured board to 1/4-inch thickness. Fit into a 9-inch pie pan, allowing pastry to extend 1/2 inch over edge. Turn under rim and flute edge with fingers. Prick pastry well with a fork. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 12 to 15 minutes, or until pastry is lightly browned. Cool crust thoroughly, then fill with pie filling.

MAGNETIC SMILE—What makes these choppers different isn't a matter of appearance. Their magnetic appeal for prospective wearers comes from small, U-shaped magnets buried in back portions of both plates. Magnets oppose each other in polarity, forcing plates to make a snugger fit with the jaws. Displayed before the Chicago Dental Society, they're designed for mouths especially hard to fit.

In Fashion Now

Dangling or short-chopped hair is a thing of the past. The hair will head upward, be deeply waved, and the back will be brushed up. The perfect length for this new cut is nine inches from the crown to the ends.

Never adopt a new hairdo simply because it is stylish. The wrong hair line can make a woman look ridiculous. A new hairdo should be a decided improvement over the way she last looked. If a new hairdo doesn't do this, it should be discarded.

The nine-inch length for the new hair style was decided on by coiffure experts because it is a workable length that will be close to the head, stay in place, and be easy for a woman to keep. At least a dozen different styles are said to be possible with hair this length from the crown to the ends.

The high-rise hairdos are re-fined and elegant looking. They compliment the young face and do wonders for the aging face.

Another new role in hair styles is the importance of playing up naturally gray hair. There are special rinses, permanents, and net sprays to glamorize gray hair. This trend is long overdue. Women almost always look younger and prettier with gray hair when the time comes for it to turn. As you get older, you need a lighter colored frame for your face to be flattering. Then the hair itself in better condition without color added.

Gray hair looks unusually lovely fixed in this new upward hairdo.

New Fabrics Bring You Bed-Making Dividends

BY EDNA MILES

HAVING the beds in her house look pretty, ruffy and immaculate at all times with very little effort on her part is one dream of every homemaking.

Until now it was possible to have beds that looked like pictures only by the dint of hard work. That's all been changed with the recent development of complete bedding sets in nylon, dacron and orlon. These are completely washable, need no ironing. They're soft, and in the case of comforters and blankets are light but possess warmth.

Ruffled sheets and pillow cases are in angel crepe, a soft nylon fabric that resembles crepe de chine. Top sheet is ruffled on three sides and used with a fitted bottom sheet. A flower-sprigged comforter is completely machine washable. Its outer shell is sculptured nylon, it's filled with dacron, the filling also used for the pillow.

Blanket is in a downy orlon fleece. All pieces in the set are color-fast, long-wearing, easily washed and quick to dry.

Everything's synthetic but the genuinely restful sleep provided by the new, lightweight bedding.

Bible Comment:

Evangelism Needs Personal Touch For Harvest

JESUS said that the test of discipleship, and the glorifying of God, was in bearing much fruit. "Herein is My Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be My disciples."

What does it mean to bear the fruit that glorifies God? Perhaps the greatest form of fruit-bearing is that in which the original disciples were engaged; that of bringing others to Jesus.

That is something in which every Christian should be engaged, and no movements of mass evangelism can be permanently effective unless the spirit and activity of personal evangelism be present and enduring.

From the throngs that attend evangelistic meetings, one may anticipate a number of changed lives. Many changes may not be permanent, but despite the relapses, many transformations to newness of life will be lifelong and strong.

But the ultimate success of all such mass evangelism is in its effect upon the churches and the normal Christian life.

The ultimate power of winning souls for Christ rests with them. Theirs is the task of teaching and guiding the young so that they never go astray or need rescuing. This is a basic form of evangelism.

But with that is the work of creating an evangelistic atmosphere and environment, a constant invitation to all to accept the message of Christ's Gospel, and find the new life in Him.

This is one great way of bearing fruit to the glory of God.

In 1948, three years after the end of World War II.

The big fight in Congress next year for a tax reduction will undoubtedly be over the question as to whose taxes shall be cut. It will be a question between reducing rates on corporations, and individuals, and individuals in various brackets. It is likely that taxes for individuals and married couples might be cut to approximately pre-Korea rates and, if this is done, savings will be felt all along the line.

At Eldorado, on Beaverlodge Lake in northern Saskatchewan, a main shaft descends 1,300 feet into one of Canada's largest uranium deposits, says the National Geographic Society.

In 1896 two Americans—George Harbo and Frank Samuelson—rowed across the Atlantic Ocean in an 18-foot open boat. They used only oars—no sails, no motor. Their 3,200-mile row took them 62 days.

Tax Cut Coming

Tax collections are pouring into the Internal Revenue Department faster than had been anticipated, and this good news brings about the prospect of a tax reduction next year.

There are several reasons why a tax reduction next year is probable. For one thing, Congress and the President will be completing terms, and elections will be due for both in November.

Another reason is that cash collections for the next budget year indicate a cash surplus of perhaps two billion dollars. This surplus will probably be built up by the business boom now in progress, the resulting tax collections from both individuals and corporations making quarterly payments and from final tax collections for the year.

There is no doubt that a tax reduction is in order, since taxes have been very high relatively since the beginning of World War II. For example, a couple with two dependents earning $10,000 a year in 1929 paid income tax to the Federal Government of $41. The tax today is about $1600 on the same income, with the same two dependents. Moreover, taxes today are higher than they were

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

The smallmouth bass is not an easy fish to understand. Like the trout, he's exasperating, and has a complicated personality. He's moody, super-selective, erratic, wholly unlike his big-mouthed kin. In fact, it's unfortunate that both were named black bass. And it is really astonishing how many experts who should know better talk about "black bass" as if they were one.

The smallmouth's environment is specialized. It is stark, severe, uncluttered, especially as compared to the lush pasture of the largemouth. In an article in Sports Afield, Byron Dalrymple pictures the smallmouth as poised, shy, conservative; while the largemouth is the crude, lippy roustabout with few manners and less judgment.

The smallmouth may be considered predominantly northern. The majority of its waters are in southeastern Canada, New England and the Great Lakes region. The reverse is true of the largemouth, lover of lily pads, weed beds and warm water, even though its actual range extends into Canada.

Typical smallmouth water is a stream of moderate size, with many deep holes, large rocks in it and along its banks; swift, clear and cold; gravel or rock bottom. This sounds like a trout stream, but it isn't. The smallmouth is seldom found in the same stream as trout. They're also found in some lakes—moderate size and depth, cold, clear, almost lacking in vegetation.

Here are a few simple rules for finding smallmouths: 1) Fish mid-depths first and most (five to 15 feet) with rocks somewhere in sight. 2) Don't hesitate to try deep water (down to 30 or more feet); for this use a fast-sinking lure. 3) Figure on smallmouths being in the shallows mainly in mid-spring and mid-fall. But fish the shallows at night in mid-summer. 4) In streams, in addition to spots along rock walls and deep ledges where currents sweep, fish the runs below riffles, and also search closely for gravel bars that lie deep, ten feet or more. 5) Where stream waters flow wild and swift, never overlook the choppy edge just outside the hard push of the current, nor the "island" of slick water in a riffle.

Pronghorns, the only native to North America and among the swiftest of four-legged animals, have declined in the United States until today their numbers are reckoned only in the thousands.

Competition In Transportation

A Presidential advisory committee recently recommended the Government relax its controls over the transportation industry and allow competitors to play a larger role in the industry.

The committee expressed the belief more competition in the transportation industry would make for competitive rate-making and better and more modern transportation services.

As soon as the committee had made its report, some members of Congress assailed the report as being in favor of various methods of transportation. Others, however, defended it and it is certain to have some effect in Congress and to be given thorough study at the White House.

That there is a need to do something about present non-competitive features in the transportation industry has been apparent for years. Trucking lines have long competed with railroads, and airlines with both, and this competition is sometimes limited by Government regulations and sometimes not.

In the case of the railroads, however, competition is seldom in evidence and this has worked to the disadvantage of the railroads themselves. For example, a passenger in Chicago may inquire at the offices of several different railroads and be given the same passenger-ticket fare to Los Angeles. He may travel several hundred miles more on one line than he would on the other, and go considerably out of his way, but the price would still be the same.

In addition, most of the railroads, in such cases, have schedules which show very little difference in travel time. The public is therefore not given the benefit of a highly competitive railroad industry. As a result, travelers often suffer from inadequate and obsolete methods and equipment.

If the Government can find a formula to allow some competition within the railroad industry, it would be most welcome. Furthermore, we believe in more freedom for the different carriers to compete against one another and hope that both the White House and Congress will see to it that greater reliance is hereafter placed on competitive forces in the transportation industry.

About Teeth

President Daniel F. Lynch, of the American Dental Association, was recently quoted in the Chicago Tribune as saying it isn't the toothpaste that keeps teeth from decaying.

In Dr. Lynch's opinion, it is the brushing of the teeth that keeps them from decaying, and he expressed the frank opinion that brushing the teeth with water would accomplish as much—toward preventing a decay—as will brushing them with a toothpaste or a tooth powder.

This is an interesting observation from a leading dentist, one who is President of the American Dental Association, and it has to be given serious consideration. It is no secret those in the "know" have long realized that simple mixtures of salt and soda, or other ingredients, are often just as effective as toothpaste and powders in preventing decay.

The American public, however, buys millions of dollars worth of toothpastes and powders because their taste is pleasing in the mouth and because they like to believe what they read in advertising about XYZ-965. In most cases, XYZ-965 doesn't have anything to do with tooth decay, and probably isn't any better than table salt.

Toothpastes and toothpowders are, then, luxuries. There is no reason to shy away from this fact, for the American people spend much of their money for luxuries and most of them will probably prefer to go on using toothpaste and powder, even though they can get the same results with salt or soda, or both in combination.

In fact, one of the advantages of salt and soda is that one's wife cannot mash the toothpaste tube in the middle, which practice after so long a time inevitably aggravates the male animal to a stage of foaming at the mouth. This foam would probably be as effective as pastes and powders for brushing the teeth, now that we think about it.

Behind The Scenes in American Business

By Reynolds Knight

BEHIND THE SCENES — 700 unusual specialists was held in N. Y. last week. Securities analysts from all over the country gathered to listen to one another and look at the economy.

These are the experts who interpret companies' earnings reports and other corporate news for brokerage houses, pension trusts, and large individual investors. Right now, the way most of them feel is this:

Wholesale prices have stabilized, and won't vary much the rest of the year.

Neither will business — unless there's a major auto strike. The Federal Reserve Board index of production should fluctuate around its present level of 135 per cent of the 1947 rate.

Running neck-and-neck with a big strike over the guaranteed annual wage, in the analysts' list of things-to-worry-about today, is the high level of the stock market. However, none of them would predict a stock market bust. It seems that not forecasting the future of the market in general — aside from earnings prospects of specific stocks — is the first thing an analyst learns.

BIGGEST ORDER — Biggest single purchase of commercial airplanes in the history of the aircraft industry was last month's order for 24 giant airliners. The planes will cost $70 million, and when delivered in early 1957 will go into service on TWA (Trans World Airlines).

The company will build the planes to attain a top speed of 400 miles an hour, cruise at 350, and travel 6500 miles, if necessary, without landing to refuel.

The added cruising range will make possible a true non-stop service between New York and London and Paris. The planes will be able to fly beyond unfavorable weather, or to wait for clearing skies over an airport.

THINGS TO COME — This summer's road maps can be affixed to a gadget that fastens on the sun visor of a car and rolls them up or down like a window shade. . . An all-plastic slip-on sunglass has two nylon prongs rather than the usual four, so a driver can put them on easily while driving. . . An auxiliary accelerator, operated by the left foot, reduces the need for shifting the right foot from gas pedal to brake and back again. . . Fish bites have joined fish sticks. The new delicacies are round balls of fish molded with potatoes and seasoning. Ten minutes' heating is plenty.

LOW - CALORIE GAINS — Sales of low-calorie foods will double in two or three years at the longest, a recent convention was told. This will bring the slimming edibles an annual sales volume of $200 million, more than is spent each year on baby foods. That's only the beginning in the speaker's vision. It was forecast that some day more than 20 million Americans would include low-calorie foods in their market baskets regularly.

Confidence in this rise rested on three bases: The public is becoming more and more aware of the danger of over-weight; low-calorie foods, which used to have inferior taste, now taste quite as good as fattening ones; the variety of low-calorie foods is increasing, making it possible to work them into well balanced meals of familiar dishes.

BITS O' BUSINESS — The new-order index for industrial supplies and machinery, important both for the orders themselves and as a barometer of business intentions is at its highest point in 2 years. . . Zinc stocks, long burdensome, reached a three-year low on large shipments in the week of May 2. . . The Agriculture Department predicts meat output of 26.2 billion pounds this year. . . Steel production last week reached an all-time high of 2,334,000 tons. . . Six utilities asked permission to build a $45 million atom-powered electric plant of 180,000 kw capacity.

SIXTH LIVING GENERATION — Kokomo, Ind. — Mark Cory Ingels, born on May 4th to Mr. and Mrs. James Ingels of Kokomo, represents the sixth living generation in his family. The baby's mother is 19; his grandmother, Mrs. James McLay is 34; his great-grandmother, Mrs. Hazel Hubbard is 52; his great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Meta Keever, is 68; and his great-great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Mary Katherine Walker of Nicholasville, Ky., is 98.

Those members who went on the hike in Bier's woods all had a very good time.

A float committee was arranged. The persons chosen are as follows: Gwen Edwards, Carol Miller, Maureen Borchert, Nancy Fickler, David Schaefer, Aldwin Seefeldt, Duane Etta, Bob Becker, and Ethan Etta, chairman. These people are to make our float which will be in the firemen's picnic.

Ethan Etta received an award as being the most outstanding 4-H member in livestock work in this county.

At our next meeting our 4-H project books must come along to be looked at. Some of the members haven't been keeping records of their projects.

Volunteers were chosen to make the booth at the county fair. They are as follows: Duane Etta, Patty Edwards, Jo Ann Schmidt, Carol Bier and Rosalie Ewert.

The meeting adjourned. We were taught a few steps in square dancing. Refreshments were enjoyed by everyone.

STATE ADOPTS PLAN A
BRUCCELLOSIS PROGRAM

Dairy cattle owners may be interested in knowing that Governor Kohler has recently signed a bill passed by the legislature to bring all livestock herds in Wisconsin on a Plan A Brucellosis-free basis. All counties in the state but twelve were already on a Plan A Brucellosis program by approving county-wide petitions to this effect.

The new handling ease of Power Steering, another extra-cost option, cuts turning effort up to 80%. There's new gas-saving Overdrive, as an extra-cost option on 1/2-ton models . . . and truck Hydra-Matic—on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton jobs.

One final word. When the time comes to trade in '55 models, the man without a really modern truck stands to take a good-sized loss. Come in and see us soon.
