Barn on Maedke Farm Destroyed In $25,000 Fire

HOG BARN ALSO DESTROYED; FARM MACHINERY AND CROPS LOST

A large barn on the Ray Maedke farm, R. 2, Kewaskum, near Kohlsville, was leveled by fire last Friday night. Crops and farm machinery were also destroyed in the blaze with an estimated loss of $25,000.

The barn is located about half a mile from the Maedke homestead and is operated by the Maedkes in addition to the homestead farm.

Lost in the fire along with the barn were a threshing machine, baler, chopper and many other farm machinery items in addition to 400 bushels of oats and 25 tons of hay. At first it was believed that some cattle were also burned but a check revealed that they were all in pasture.

A small hog barn was also destroyed and two silos were badly damaged from the intense heat. The fire started about 7 p. m. and was placed under control at approximately 10:30 p. m. A tank truck from Allenton was called to the scene of the fire but it was not needed.

The Kohlsville fire chief, Wilmer Herman, first noticed the flames coming through the roof of the barn from his home, which is located about a mile across the fields from the Maedke farm. He turned in the fire alarm at once and members of the Kohlsville fire department hurried to the scene.

By the time the firemen arrived the flames had gained such headway that they concentrated their efforts to saving nearby sheds. The farm home was not endangered, Chief Herman said.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

HAROLD F. RYAN
U. S. Soil Conservation Service

Soil Conservation District supervisors from 9 southeastern counties held their annual field tour in Washington county on Wednesday, July 16, according to Royal Clausung, chairman of the Washington County Soil Conservation District.

The morning session was spent by taking a tour through the Gehl Bros. Co. Manufacturing Co. where they observed the manufacture of farm machinery.

At noon a luncheon was served to the supervisors at Regner City Park by the wives of the Washington County Young Farmers association. Supervisor Alfred Rode of Erin township welcomed the supervisors to Washington county.

The first stop on the afternoon tour was at the Kohlsville pond where Harold F. Ryan, soil conservationist with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, pointed out that the Kohlsville hunting and fishing club had dredged out at great expense and that if the watershed above the pond had the conservation practices that were needed it would prevent the silting of the pond again.

From Kohlsville the group went to the Edgar Miske farm in the town of Wayne where they observed a protected stream that had been fenced from livestock and wildlife plantings that had been made by the Wisconsin Conservation Dept. at the Miske farm. Art Peterson, field crop specialist from the University of Wisconsin and County Agent Maurice J. Hovland explained the results of various sprays used on the weed control plots on the Miske farm.

The last stop on the tour was at the Edmund Thull farm in Farmington township where Walter Naab, district forester with the Wisconsin Conservation Department pointed out the reasons for good woodlot management and showed the group the management practices that Thull was using in his 18 acre woodlot. On the Thull farm the supervisors observed the grain variety plots which were explained by Co. Agent Hovland and Elwood Brickbauer of the university of Wisconsin.

Supervisors of the Washington County Soil Conservation District are Elwyn Romaine, Kewaskum; Harry Sheski, West Bend; Ray Bast, Richfield; Walter Liepert, Kewaskum; Alfred Rode, Hartford; Royal Clausung, Cedarburg; Thomas Zuern, Hartford; Edgar Miske, Allenton; Edmund Thull, Kewaskum, and Sylvester Muckerheide, Kewaskum.

Polio Foundation Will Expand Health Program, County Chapter Learns

NEW ACTIVITIES INCLUDE WIDE RANGE OF HEALTH PROBLEMS

The Washington County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, now known as the National Foundation, has been informed that the foundation has expanded to include a broad new health program, Anton P. Staral, chapter chairman, said this week.

Returning from a meeting at Madison, with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weiss of West Bend, where a closed circuit telecast was viewed, at which Basil O'Connor outlined the new objectives of the organization supported by the March of Dimes, Staral called the widened purposes of the National Foundation "a challenging concept in the health field."

The National Foundation, while continuing its winning fight against polio, plans to expand its activities to include a wide range of health problems. Initial new goals will be arthritis and birth defects. Virus research and investigations of disorders of the central nervous system will be expanded.

"Our chapter will continue to meet its obligations to polio patients in Washington county for as long as they need assistance, Staral, said. "Mr. O'Connor made it very clear that this will continue to be our primary responsibility. "But the idea of a voluntary association dedicated to improvement of man's health, ready and able to move in whatever direction scientific discoveries lead it, not confined to a single disease, is a tremendous challenge.

Financial support for the new program will be sought through the traditional March of Dimes in January, Staral emphasized.

"Our research program, as was explained at the telecast, already is beginning to pursue new leads, and our professional education program is expanding."

Medical care in arthritis and birth defects is much like that for post-polio, Staral pointed out.

Milk plus other dairy products (such as cheese, condensed and evaporated milk, ice cream and nonfat dry milk) provide over 25% of the protein in the American diet, but cost the consumer only 15% of the money he spends for food.

The truth never hurts unless it ought to.

Soup 'n' Sandwich For Summer!

"S" is for Soup . . . and Sandwich, too! What could be better on a sizzling summer day? Easy to prepare . . . light and nutritious to eat.

Take a can of condensed tomato soup . . . simply add milk or water and heat. For a refreshing touch, garnish with a slice of lime. Or perhaps, you might serve a cold soup . . . especially appealing on a hot day. The combination of tomato and celery is an exceptionally good flavor blend and a cool pink color. Either way . . . hot or cold . . . soup gives a lift to weather-wilted appetites.

For the sandwiches . . . make them varied and appetizing. Use an assortment of breads and fillings. Crisp lettuce adds much to a good sandwich. Then for dessert . . . surprise the folks with another "S" . . . strawberry shortcake.

Use Horse Sense To Beat Heat

The remark "sweating like a horse" is sometimes made regarding a hard-working or hard-playing person during the summer heat. Sweating is one of nature's safety devices for preventing heat prostration. It has a cooling effect brought on by the evaporation of moisture from the skin.

Horses perspire more than any other domestic animal. Maybe we should take our cue from the horses as to what is necessary during hard work, especially during summer heat.

Every farm boy who has handled and brushed or curried horses after a hard workout, remembers those tiny bits of caked perspiration settling on his lips and leaving a distinctly salty taste.

That's just it. Perspiration carries a lot of salt out of the body. There are about 3 grams of salt in every pint of perspiration, and if a man or horse should lose five pounds during a workout, there would be a body loss of 0.6 ounce of salt. A foam covered sweating horse may lose several times this much weight, and several times as much salt.

Here is where the "horse sense" comes into play. Workers at the Michigan Experiment Station found that work horses would consume more than three times as much salt daily when subjected to hard work in hot weather. Their "horse sense" helped them avoid the dangers of salt depletion and resulting heat prostration.

Questions from readers will be answered in the column or by direct reply. Please send your questions to Dr. Bohstedt c/o Salt Institute, 20 North La Salle St., Chicago 3, Ill.

As a farmer using "horse sense" you should take all the necessary precautions to avoid sunstroke or heat exhaustion too. A first step is to take extra salt with meals and salt tablets with each glass of water, or a tablespoon of salt to each gallon of drinking water. This will help replace the body salt lost in heavy perspiration.

In addition to taking extra salt with meals and water, the National Safety Council recommends the following precautions:

Avoid too much exposure to direct sunlight and wear a hat out of doors.

Avoid over-exertion, particularly in the early part of a heat wave.

Wear light, porous and loose fitting clothing.

Increase the use of salt in food, and use salt tablets or salt in the drinking water.

Drink plenty of water throughout the day, avoid ice water and alcohol.

Get plenty of rest and bathe regularly.

Question: I have a few bushels of hybrid seed corn left over from last year. It has been treated for smut and is marked poison. Could the dust be blown or soaked off to make it safe enough to feed, say as one-fourth or one-third of the mixture?

Answer: I would advise against using this seed in any feed mixture. Some seed treatments make use of organic mercury compounds such as ethyl mercury phosphate which are definitely poisonous for livestock. Even with quite thorough washing and use in small proportions in a feed mixture there would remain a grave risk in its use.

Around the Town

Here it is the month of August and the former 1 cent post card which was 2 cents now costs 3 cents.

Just one month until Labor Day which falls on Sept. 1 this year, making the opening of school that much earlier and the summer vacation that much shorter. City stores are showing fall clothes already and soon you can think of Christmas shopping. Just think of it, though, cause who can actually afford to shop?

One local couple returned home from the Braves game last Wednesday night to find a large pole set up next to their house, with beer cans and whiskey bottles (empty of course) dangling from it and a flag flying at the top which read "We're dry." This couple just recently moved into the home and the decorated pole was meant as sort of an informal hint for them to throw a housewarming party. The idea of this custom (?) is that the post cannot be removed until the ones who erected it are invited to a shindig. Anyway "the thing" aroused a lot of curiosity, mysteriousness and accusations the past week. After much investigation the couple is getting hotter on the tail of the culprits. How can they invite them when they don't know who they are yet? Who could have done such a thing, unless it was the same parties who placed someone's car on blocks Monday night?

Nobody can say those Heisdorfs aren't ahead. They finished their fall roundup in July.

All those traffic accidents and fatalities scare one. Be a head-up driver. Don't let it happen to you like the ram that ran over the cliff because he didn't see the ewe turn.

See where they're thinking of raising the auto license fee from $16 to $31. A few bucks wouldn't be bad but doubling it right away is almost a 100 per cent jump. That would eliminate a lot of two-car families. For that price the licenses should be jewel studded. But the fact that they're made in Waupun state prison would offer a problem there.

The centennial county fair which closed at Slinger Sunday night drew record crowds and again was a fine success. But the ghoulish display of a car supposed to have been the one used by slayer Ed Gein to haul women victims of his grave stealing activities to his farm near Plainfield had a brief run. The sheriff's department closed the exhibit Friday night. Shocked by the display, women complained to the sheriff's department and fair officials. The old car, once owned by Gein, was allegedly used by him on his forays in search for women's bodies and at least in one of the slayings. A charge of 25c was made for the exhibit by Bunny Gibbons, Rockford, Ill., concessionaire, who said he bought the car for $760 last March at the Gein auction. The car contained mannikins of the women.

One man who drank his first milk punch at the fair was heard to remark: "Gosh, what a cow!"

Barbaram II, the state barbers' convention, was held at Marinette last week end. The convention was designed, of all things, to provide the latest technical information and instruction for men's hair coloring, the new executive and Ivy League men's styles, fad haircuts, D A and sidewings and the very popular "Butch" summer styles. What next?

The conservation department's program of putting fish shelters in clear lakes without adequate fish cover is proving so successful that it is finding it difficult to maintain markers showing where the shelters are. Fishermen are inclined to destroy the markers to prevent other fishermen from finding the shelters. The shelters have a tendency to concentrate fish to provide improved angling. Most fishermen report that the shelters definitely improve fishing.

One thing about doing nothing is that nobody asks you to do it over and this time do it right.

It sometimes takes a gory sight to make a driver see the light.

WHEN'S THE TIME TO BUY A CAR?

"WHEN I CAN AFFORD IT!"

Tsk, tsk! Too bad he hasn't checked up on car prices lately. He'd find that Ford is the lowest priced* of the best-selling three!

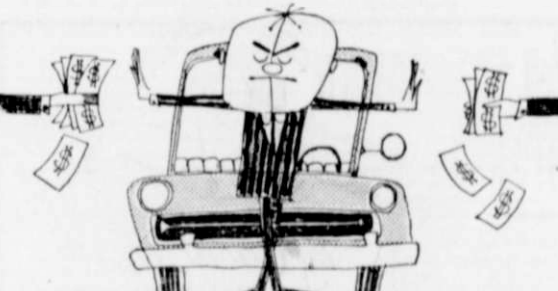

"WHEN THEY INVENT A CAR THAT DOESN'T NEED GAS!"

Gracious! The gentleman obviously hasn't heard about Ford's Mileage Maker Six—the modern short-stroke Six that delivered the most miles per gallon in Class A in the last two Mobilgas Economy Runs!

"WHEN THE OLD CAR'S HAD IT!"

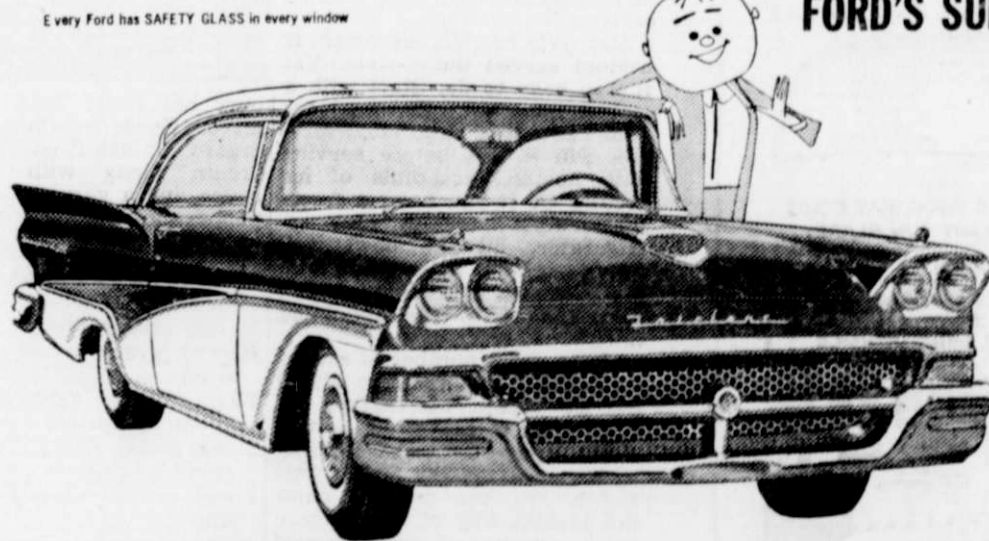

But it has . . . and so has his budget. If he could only have back all the money he's been paying out (and is going to pay out) in repair bills . . . he could be the proud owner of a 58 Ford!

"WHEN MY PRESENT CAR IS WORTH MORE!"

Poor man. He's not only missing out on summer driving in a Thunderbird-inspired Ford . . . he's missing out on money! Doesn't he know that his present car will NEVER be worth more in trade than right NOW!

"WHEN FORD DEALERS ARE GIVING THE YEAR'S BEST DEALS DURING FORD'S SUMMER TRADING PICNIC!"

Smart fellow! He's buying NOW while Ford Dealers are holding their Summer Trading Picnic and giving the longest deals and the highest trades ever . . . and while the selection of models and colors is best. What's more, he'll find that Ford is the lowest priced* of the best-selling three! Why not join him at your Ford Dealers?

Fun For Everyone— Make Your Own Sundaes

You can search high and low, long and far, before you'll find a dessert as accommodating and well liked by everyone as ice cream. Ice Cream is good anytime of year—as part of the family meal, as a snack or dessert for guests, party dish and for many other occasions. It's the perfect dessert all through the spring and summer seasons.

The varieties of flavor and color are so numerous that you're sure to find one which can provide that just right accent to a meal and fit into your color-scheme. If you have no preference—there's always Vanilla Ice Cream which you can dress to fit the occasion with a variety of sauces and a choice of accompaniments like cookies or cake.

Strangely enough, ice cream is seldom served buffet-style. Yet it's so easy to do. Start with a well chilled bowl that best fits your decorations and table service. Fill it just before serving with heaping scoops of ice cream. Or if you have a freezing compartment in your refrigerator, fill the bowl well ahead of the guests' arrival, place it in your freezer and bring it out at the appointed time.

There are a number of sauces that may be made days ahead for ice cream buffet-style. Of course there are good bottled sauces you can purchase. Chocolate, marshmallow and butterscotch are the popular ones. But lacking any of these, there are a number of mighty good ones you can make at the last minute.

Marshmallow Sauce

Melt together over hot water 32 marshmallows and 1/4 cup heavy cream, stirring frequently until marshmallows are almost melted. When mixture is smooth and fluffy, remove from heat and use at once or keep over hot water until ready to serve. Good on Chocolate Ice Cream. Or use it on Vanilla Ice Cream along with chocolate sauce and a garnish of crushed peppermint stick candy.

Tutti-Fruiti Sauce

1 cup maraschino cherries, halved
1/4 cup cherry syrup
Halved green cherries, if desired
1 cup drained canned figs, cut in small pieces
1 cup dates, sliced crosswise in small pieces
1 cup canned pineapple, cut in bits
1/2 cup pineapple syrup
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 to 3/4 cup blanched almonds, cut lengthwise

Pour boiling water over dates and let stand 3 minutes to soften; drain. Combine all fruits and cherry syrup. Cook together the sugar and pineapple syrup. Boil 2 minutes. Pour over the fruit. When cold, add the almonds. Chill well before serving.

Melba Sauce—Thaw 1 package of frozen raspberries, add 1/2 cup currant jelly, and bring to a boil. Mix together to a smooth paste 1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch and 1 tablespoon water; add to raspberry mixture, stirring until thick and clear. Strain and cool. After putting in bowl, just start to stir in a tablespoon of thick cream. This gives an interesting surface swirl effect. Serve cold. This makes about 1 1/2 cups. Fresh raspberries (2 cups) may be used instead, but add 1/2 cup sugar.

Maple Cream—Boil together for 3 minutes 1 cup maple syrup and 2 tablespoons butter. Cool and stir in 1/4 cup cream. Serve with pecans.

Hawaiian Delight—Combine 1 cup drained crushed pineapple, 1/2 cup honey, 1/4 cup quartered green maraschino cherries, if desired, a few drops each of green coloring and mint flavoring. Chill thoroughly.

HAPPY VACATION!—HERE'S WHAT YOU DO

This vacation map is based on business surveys which indicate that during the year, 85,000,000 persons will go on vacation with 70,000,000 traveling by car. The most popular vacation area appears to be the North Atlantic States from New Jersey upward. Other popular areas are around Lake Michigan, out on the Pacific Coast and along the South Atlantic Coast. However, there are many popular vacation states outside these areas. About $20 billion is spent annually having fun and relaxing.

Yanks Win Fourth in Row in Little League

Like the Yankees in the major league the Yanks in the Little League are also pulling away from the other teams in the loop. They won their 4th game in a row, 12-8, over the Braves Thursday night to take a 2-game lead. The Braves had a 7-1 lead in the third inning but the Yanks came up with 7 runs in the last of the 3rd. The winning pitcher was Bob Miller and he also had 2 hits. Kral and Butzke both had 2 hits and Landmann had a home run for the Braves.

The Cubs lost their second game in a row to the White Sox, 7-6. It was a close game and the winning run was scored in the last inning with one out. Ewert hit a home run for the Cubs. For the Sox Zehren's hit in the last inning drove in Sengpiel and Oppermann with the tying and winning runs. Gary Reigle was the hitting and fielding star with 2 triples and made some good catches in center field.

Next Thursday, Aug. 7, the Cubs will take on the Yanks at 6:30 p. m. and the Braves will meet the White Sox at 8 p. m.

KEWASKUM 4-H'ERS

The meeting of the Kewaskum 4-Hers was brought to order by the reporter, Mariel Seefeldt, in the absence of the president and vice-president on July 17 in the Kewaskum grade school.

Roll call was taken with everyone answering whether or not they had their dental examination. The majority of the members that were present had had them.

Mr. Stoffel then reported that our float, "Sitting on Top of the World" had been awarded a second in the Kewaskum parade.

Mariel Seefeldt was then chosen as chairman of the booth committee for the county fair. She chose as her associates Dawn Martin and Diann Ramel.

It was also mentioned that Mariel Seefeldt and Diann Ramel had been the only participants from our club in the county demonstration contest at West Bend. Diann had even taken two demonstrations. Mariel Seefeldt received a blue rating, entitling her to give it at the county fair.

The treasurer's report was then given by Ann Schoenbeck, our new treasurer.

We then discussed generally some of the things we could do next year to improve our club.

The food committee for next month is Lucy Boegel and Janet Dreher.

The meeting was then adjourned and turned over to Daniel Schmidt and Robert Schaefer, the recreation committee. We also had delicious refreshments served by Diane Schaefer and Daniel Schmidt.

Officials Check County Highways, Inspect Projects

Highway work of the past, present and future was discussed at a meeting of the Washington county highway commission last week which was attended by State Senator Frank E. Panzer and Assemblyman Elmer Schowalter.

Senator Panzer and Assemblyman Schowalter, who have been keenly interested in highway projects in this area, dropped in at a regular meeting of the county highway group last Friday.

The discussion revealed that a great deal has been accomplished in Washington county since World War II and particularly during the last few years when many major highway projects were undertaken and completed.

Present major construction projects include work on Hwy. 45 between Barton and Kewaskum, the second lane on Hwy. 41 and the interchange to be installed on this super-highway, contemplated work on the new Hwy. 60 from Jackson Corners westward to its interception with Hwy. 41, 60 and County Trunk C southeast of Slinger.

Participating in the discussion in addition to Sen. Panzer and Mr. Schowalter were County Highway Commissioner Al Rettler and members of the county highway commission, Chairman Adolph Lofy of the town of Richfield; Reuben Schmah of the town of Jackson and Al Bunke of the village of Barton.

A brief review of major highway projects which have been completed during the past years to give Washington county a greatly improved highway system showed that Hwy. 41, the new super-highway, was the major road construction project.

But other major problems included repaving of Hwy. 45 south of West Bend; improvement of Hwy. 145 to Germantown and southward to the county line; improvement of Hwy. 83; the new Hwy. 33 throughway in West Bend and improvements of approaches; improvement of Hwy. 175 through the county; the new Hwy. 60 project to Hartford from Hwy. 175; work on Hwy. 28 and Hwy. 84.

In addition to these major projects, many other jobs on the local level were completed and others are still on schedule.

The splendid progress on improvements of highways in Washington county was attributed to closer cooperation between officials on the county and state level. County and state officials have expressed their appreciation of the splendid cooperation they have received from officials of the state highway commission including Harold Plummer, W. J. Burmeister, James E. Meier and other members of the department.

A policy of district meetings at which county highway officials discuss mutual problems has also greatly contributed to help solve many here-to-fore seemingly insurmountable difficulties.

The tremendous task of maintaining the ever-increasing network of roadways in the county and keeping them open during the winter months was also briefly discussed.

Senator Panzer said the present highways are a great improvement over the old paved roads which once were welcomed when they replaced the former muddy, rutted country roadways.

Sen. Panzer and Mr. Schowalter promised their support to the county group in future highway projects.

Assemblyman Schowalter, who has been an enthusiastic supporter of better roads for Washington county, in outlining achievements of the past few years, asked, "Don't you think we have accomplished a great deal?" And the group at the meeting agreed that much has been achieved.

The visitors and members of the highway commission and state representatives of the highway commission later inspected the Hwy. 45 project north of Barton. Senator Panzer and Assemblyman Schowalter also stopped to view traffic as it flowed across the recently completed Hwy. 33 throughway. They agreed that the new roadway had done much to facilitate the flow of traffic through West Bend.

The most curious thing in the world is a woman who isn't.

PORCH PARTY FOR "THE GIRLS"

It may be too hot to cook but it's never too hot for a porch party for "the girls."

As a matter of fact, that's a mighty fine type of entertaining! No one expects the best linens and gleaming silver, appetizers and fancy desserts.

The menu is simple—pineapple cheese top knots (hot), ribbon jellied perfection salad on water cress, iced coffee with sweetened whipped cream and cinnamon float, salted nuts, mints. Make in the morning and serve in a casual way.

PINEAPPLE CHEESE TOP KNOTS

For each of these sandwiches, dip a large round of sliced bread in melted butter, then in shredded sharp Cheddar cheese. Place plain side down on cookie sheet. On top place a paper-thin slice of boiled or baked ham, cut to fit the bread, then a slice of tomato about the same size as the bread round.

Add another round of butter-cheese dipped bread and top with a slice of pineapple, well drained. Sprinkle with cheese.

These may be prepared to this stage in the morning and kept in the refrigerator. Just before serving time, place in a hot oven, 450 degrees, until the cheese turns a delicate brown. Garnish each with a slice of pimento-stuffed green olive and serve with crisp cold water cress.

RIBBON JELLIED PERFECTION SALAD

8-10 servings

FIRST PART:
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup hot water
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup mild vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt

SECOND PART:
1 cup finely shredded cabbage
¾ cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon diced pimento
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper

½ cup shredded raw carrot
¼ cup chopped ripe olives
Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot water, sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Then add vinegar and lemon juice. Cool, stirring occasionally.

When mixture begins to thicken and resembles unbeaten egg white, add vegetables and other ingredients. Pour into lightly oiled mold or loaf pan.

THIRD PART:
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¾ cup milk
1 cup creamed cottage cheese, sieved
¼ teaspoon salt
½ to 1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Soften gelatin in cold water, then place over hot water to dissolve. Combine milk, salt, and cottage cheese. Add gelatin stirring well. Fold in mayonnaise and lemon juice. Pour mixture over the jellied vegetable mixture when the latter is not quite firm. Chill until set. Unmold on salad greens. Serve with sour cream salad dressing.
