Terry Koch Bags Deer With Bow and Arrow

A deer was bagged by a young Kewaskum hunter over the week end as Wisconsin's early 1958 bow and arrow deer season got underway. Among the more than 6,000 estimated archers who invaded the Necedah wildlife refuge Saturday was Terry Koch, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Koch of the village.

Hunting with his father and a friend, Dennis Jandre, Terry got a big eight-point buck which dressed out at 200 pounds. The buck was a fine specimen and had a perfect set of horns. Judging from Terry's size we would say the deer was almost twice as heavy as he is.

The amazing part of Terry's success is that he shot the buck on the run (many hunters can't hit 'em with a high powered rifle). Terry first spotted the deer in the brush but could not get a clear shot at it. When the animal bounded out at a distance of about 40 yards Terry let fly with a well-aimed arrow that struck the buck in a fatal spot below the back. The deer ran only a few more rods before dropping. The youth took up archery about three years ago and his diligent practice paid off when the big moment arrived Saturday. So to Terry Koch goes the honor of being the first hunter from Kewaskum to bag a deer this season.

At least two deer were also bagged in Washington county over the week end, both in the Theresa swamp area that extends into the town of Wayne. Joyce Krug (yes, a woman) of R. 1, Campbellsport, got a six-point buck at 1:30 p. m. Sunday near Hwy. D. Louis Vogel of 4566 N. 66th st, Milwaukee, bagged a six-point buck about two hours later.

SHASKE, HOMUTH BABIES BAPTIZED AT ST. LUCAS

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Homuth of West Bend was also baptized Sunday in St. Lucas church by Rev. Kanless. She received the name Pat Jane. Sponsors were Mrs. Desmond Smith and Donald Homuth. Mrs. Homuth is the former Betty Koerble of Kewaskum.

COW KILLED BY TRUCK

A cow owned by John Breit, St. Michaels, was found dead along the road at St. Michaels last Thursday. Skid marks along the highway indicated that the animal apparently was struck by a truck.

The Kewaskum Statesman
SEPT. 22, 1933

Four girls of "Betty's" tavern, operated by Tony Testilon, better known as Kohn's Curve, 2 miles north of this village on Hwy. 55, were taken into custody by Under-sheriff C. W. Booth of Fond du Lac Thursday night. The next day each was sentenced to 60 days in jail. The girls gave their names as Betty Johnson, Ruth Burns, Sarah Murray and Pearl Boyle. The complaint charged the girls with improper speech and behavior at the roadhouse. The women were picked up at the bar shortly after midnight. The result of the action was in accordance with an order recently issued by Sheriff George Freund that employment of women in roadhouses in Fond du Lac county would not be tolerated.

Miss Marian Kleinhans, who has been employed at the Bank of Kewaskum the past few years, resigned to accept a position in Milwaukee. She has been succeeded by Miss Edith Clark.

Messrs. and Mesdames Lester Dreber, Myron Perschbacher, Arnold Martin and Joseph Eberle were at Chicago Monday where they enjoyed the day at the World's Fair.

Recent deaths: Christ Klumb, 65, town of Barton, father of Mrs. Malinda Bunkelman and brother of Mrs. John H. Martin; Leon Merkel, 43, former resident, and husband of the former Erna Backus;

John Staehler, Jr., 35, town of Kewaskum, who was instantly killed near Princeton, Ill. when the freight truck he was driving went down a steep embankment and overturned, pinning him under the wreckage; Joseph Whalen, 61, town of Wayne; Christ Hall, town of Auburn; Fred Baumgartner, 82, town of Wayne; Neil Schmidt, 69, of this village.

Winners at the card party Tuesday at Holy Trinity parish were: Bridge—Lloyd Hron, Geo. Schmidt, Mrs. A. P. Schaeffer, Mrs. Ervin Koch; 500—Mrs. Addie Van Blarcom, Mrs. Mary Ann Honeck, Miss Linda Reindl; Bunco — Kathryn Schoofs, Genevieve Heim, Harry Koch, Janice Koch; Sheepshead—Peter Haug, Wm. Harbeck, Russell Heisler; Cinch—Mrs. Jos. Mayer; Skat—A. P. Schaeffer; door prize—Miss Mary Schoofs.

Don't forget the fish fry at Joe Eberle's Beer Garden Saturday night.

The village board of Belger, Hepp, Honeck and Schaefer, with President Peters presiding, voted at their meeting to purchase 700 feet of fire hose at 95c per foot.

Arthur E. Olson, 30, Janesville, known throughout the state as "The Human Fly," a stunt performer, was killed before a crowd of 300 people at Chippewa Falls when the inner tube which he was advertising the strength of 30 feet above the sidewalk broke, throwing him head-first to the pavement. Olson in summer of 1932 performed a similar stunt on the Bank of Kewaskum flag pole before a large crowd while here to paint the water tower.

As the days are getting shorter and in order to prevent accidents, I hereby request all bicycle riders, especially minors, to discontinue the practice of bicycle riding on the streets or sidewalks of the village after supper.—Geo. F. Brandt, Village Marshal.

Leo Fellenz, who lives on County Trunk HH, near St. Michaels, layed out 28 acres of contour strips on his farm last week. Leo also has requested a basic conservation plan for his farm. Walter Naab, district forester with the Wisconsin Conservation Department, advises that Nov. 1 is the deadline for woodland tax entries. Any landowner interested in entering his woodland should contact Naab in the near future. Ed Hawig, town of Wayne, plans on constructing 800 ft. of grass waterway on his farm this fall. Barney and John Stuetgen installed 800 ft. of tile on their farm near Goldendale last week. The tile was installed in a grass waterway to keep it dry for crossing with their machinery. Pete Cihlar of Gumms Corners was the contractor. Leo Bodden, Wayne township, installed 600 ft. of diversion terrace and 500 ft. of grass waterway last week. This was done to heal an existing gully and provide safe passage for surface water across his farm.

Schedule TB Retesting For Washington County

The seventh retest for tuberculosis of the cattle in Washington county will begin on Oct. 1, according to information received from the state and federal departments of agriculture. All cattle in Washington county will be included in this retest.

The last test of Washington county was made in 1953-54 at which time 57,150 cattle were tuberculin tested in 2,074 herds, disclosing .11 of 1% tuberculosis infection.

The state and federal departments of agriculture appreciate the splendid cooperation rendered by Washington county farmers in the conduct of these tests in past years and this cooperation is of great importance to veterinarians making the tuberculin tests. It helps the department to perform the work efficiently and far more economically when cattle owners do their part to help the inspectors. The state and federal departments anticipate the same cooperation that has characterized the tuberculin test work in Washington county in the past.

TWO NEW MEMBERS JOIN COUNTY SCHOOL SYSTEM

Two new members of Supt. Harry D. Sheski's Washington County school system staff, replacing the former supervising teacher, Myrtle Jensen, and one of two speech correctionists, Mrs. Harold German, have taken over these posts in the county.

Miss Dorothea M. Back, who last served as principal of the Marcy elementary school in Waukesha county for six years, is the new supervising teacher. Miss Jacqueline Fenisyn, a 1958 graduate of Marquette university, is the new speech therapist, joining Miss Ruth M. Burns in this relatively new but important field.

Pine-APPLE Slices a real fruity treat

For a pine-APPLE fragrant dessert, a combination of apples and crushed pineapple provides the base for a warm and cinnamon-y idea—extra nutritious because nonfat dry milk is added to the filling and the frosting. Here is a way to add to a dessert, important amounts of protein, calcium, vitamins in concentrated, inexpensive form.

You can put this recipe together in a hurry by using your favorite recipe for pie crust, or perhaps you might like to speed the preparation along by using one of the packaged mixes. Serve Pine-APPLE slices frosted with Hawaiian Icing.

Crust

Prepare according to favorite recipe or use package mix, divide and roll dough in two square sheets. Place one sheet in glass baking dish 9" x 9" x 2". Reserve second sheet for top crust.

 1/2 teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons nonfat dry milk
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

 5 cups sliced apples
 1/2 cup raisins
 1/2 cup drained crushed pineapple

Hawaiian Icing

2 tablespoons butter
 2 tablespoons nonfat dry milk
 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
 2 tablespoons pineapple juice

Filling

Mix sugar, salt, nonfat dry milk, spices and butter. Sprinkle half of mixture over dough. Add apples, raisins and crushed pineapple and then remaining sugar mixture. Put on top crust and pinch edges together. Bake in preheated 375° F. oven for 45 minutes to one hour.

Icing

Melt butter and add remaining ingredients. Mix until smooth and frost pine-APPLE slices.

Yield: 8 servings.

Merchandising Invites Customers to Buy the Product

Because a large percentage of food, as well as other, items are now sold in self-service stores, a new and important science of salesmanship has grown up rapidly in recent years. This is generally known as merchandising, the science of winning customers for a product at the point of sale.

It wasn't very many years ago that most food products were sold over the counter, with store clerks available to urge customers to buy this product or that. Today the self-service supermarket, as well as the small self-service stores, have taken over the bulk of food sales in the United States. Instead of buying crackers out of a barrel, we buy them in fancy cellophane-wrapped packages that must sell themselves as they set on the food store shelf.

The result has produced somewhat of a revolution in business thinking in the food field. Self-service stores have required the food manufacturers to increase their advertising in order to pre-sell customers on their products. But self-service has also demanded new ideas in packaging of foods and new methods for displaying items in the stores.

It is estimated that the average American supermarket carries between 4,000 and 5,000 different food items on its shelves. With no clerks urging the customers to buy particular products, the success or failure of any one item depends upon how much pre-selling has been done through advertising and how effective the display is at the point of sale.

Housewives Do the Buying
 Housewives do most of the food buying in this country. Many of them still use shopping lists made up before they enter the store, but so-called impulse buying is becoming more important. Attractive displays of products lead the housewife in their direction and urge them to buy.

Various brands of food and household products come and go. Studies made through the years have demonstrated clearly that, no matter how popular a particular brand may be today, it will disappear, or at least lose much of its support, unless the manufacturer carries on a continuous program of advertising and merchandising. There are many items in competition with one another, and thus it is important that there be no let-up in the sales effort behind a product.

One of the outstanding examples of what good advertising and merchandising programs can do is found in the cheese industry. Consumption of cheese in this country has shown a steady increase over the past 25 years, and in 1952 alone cheese consumption went up one-half pound per person to a new record of 7.7 lbs. per capita per year. This per capita increase meant additional sales of approximately 80 million pounds of cheese, and Wisconsin still produces the largest share of the nation's cheese.

WILL SHE BUY? Whether or not shoppers select cheese, milk, butter and other dairy foods as they walk through the thousands of self-service stores now in operation will determine the future of Wisconsin's dairy industry. Good merchandising of dairy foods in the stores is one necessary part of a strong sales program.

Cheese has come in for intensive promotion since the American Dairy Association, farmer-financed and farmer-controlled promotion organization, was established 15 years ago. In addition to carrying on a nation-wide, year-around advertising program for cheese, the ADA has led the way toward far better merchandising of cheese.

New Era for Cheese

It was through ADA research money that the self-service, open refrigerated cheese dairy cases were developed rapidly. Then ADA merchandising experts worked with retail food stores to demonstrate the value of these cases in increasing not only cheese sales but also the sales of all other dairy foods.

With these self-service cases available, the next step was pre-packaging of cheese in various sizes so that the shopper could reach into the case and pull out almost any variety of cheese in a size to suit her family. For the first time in history, it became a relatively simple matter to buy a piece of cheese.

ADA merchandising men learned, too, that shoppers bought more dairy foods if the dairy case was located in the right spot in the store. If the shopper comes to the dairy case first in her trip up and down the aisles, she'll buy more dairy foods than she will if she already has her basket full of other food items before she reaches the dairy case.

Further studies have shown that more effective displays will help to sell more butter in these self-service stores. Likewise, milk, cottage cheese, ice cream and other dairy foods are coming out in more attractive packages and are being displayed to greater advantage in the stores.

A Complete Sales Program

Merchandising to sell the product at the point of sale is a necessary business tool these days. It's part of a complete sales program that begins with advertising to plant the ideas, then follows through with good displays in the stores. Part of the merchandising technique is to get groups of related foods selling together—such as cheese and crackers—to get greater impact in both advertising and point of sale displays.

Wisconsin's dairy industry is dependent in the future largely upon further expansion of the use of good merchandising techniques so that dairy foods can compete successfully in the self-service stores. Dairy farmers are helping to build a better merchandising program for their products by financing the American Dairy Association.

TAKES PART IN CONFERENCE FOR DORM LEADERS AT UW

James Landmann, Kewaskum, was among the students who live in the various residence halls of the University of Wisconsin who took part in the annual fall conference for dorm leaders held on the UW campus during the past week as the university opened its 110th school year.

The conference was sponsored by the Men's Halls association in conjunction with the UW Division of Residence Halls, with the cooperation and assistance of the Women's Interdormitory Council and leaders from independent dormitories and fraternities throughout the UW campus. The students considered aspects of general dormitory leadership, avoidance of problems encountered in past years, and solutions to any new difficulties at their conference.

COUNTY SCHOOLS RECEIVE RECORD OF STAR SPANGLED BANNER FROM FARM BUREAU

Schools in Washington county will receive phonograph records of the Star Spangled Banner from the Farm Bureau during the month of October.

Wesley Rosenthal, Farm Bureau spokesman, said that more than 3,000 recordings of the National Anthem are being presented to schools in Wisconsin as part of the bureau's citizenship program.

The high fidelity disks are recordings by the Boston and Chicago symphony orchestras, and are provided by the American Heritage Foundation.

This is a nation-wide project. President of the Washington County Farm Bureau federation is John Horlamus.

Indians Rout Grafton In Grid Opener, 26-0

The Kewaskum Indians opened the 1958 football season with an easy 26-0 win over Grafton here Friday night. The game was not a conference tilt. Grafton is a member of the new Scenic Moraine conference with Kewaskum but will not participate in football yet this year because of previous commitments.

Playing all 11-man football this campaign, the Indians ran up a one-sided 20-0 advantage in the first half against the smaller Grafton squad. The big Indians squad, with three regulars, Smith, Marx and Laatsch, weighing over 200 pounds, was held to six points in the second half by a speedier Grafton 11.

Quarterback Norman "Butch" Rodenkireh, a veteran although only a junior, opened the scoring with a sneak from two yards out. Konstantyn Sadownikow added the extra point on a kick. Kon, only a sophomore, is one of the brightest prospects on the squad.

An eight-yard scoring plunge by Dan Coulter gave Kewaskum a 13-0 advantage and Sadownikow again added the point to make it 14-0. Ken Johnson's 60-yard pass interception for a touchdown made it 20-0 before the half ended. Ken, a speedster, also is only a junior and a fine prospect. In the second half Glen Kimmel's TD in the final period provided the only scoring.

Head coach Ernie Mitchell was pleased with the outcome and the performance by his boys. But the 11-man game, still new to the players, seemed to keep his boys off on their timing and on edge and many off-side penalties resulted which might have proved costly against a stronger opponent. The line is very big for a high school team, the backs are fast and shifty with two good quarterbacks, the squad has numerous veterans and promising youngsters who should come along fast with more practice and experience.

Slinger, by virtue of a tight 12-6 win over Campbellsport, Friday night took the honor of winning the first conference game in the new loop. Kewaskum travels to North Fond du Lac tonight, Friday, for the Indians' first Scenic Moraine loop contest.

Seat belts have been installed in all squad cars used by officers of the 250-man Wisconsin State Patrol.

CAROL MILLER ONE OF 330 NEW LAWRENCE STUDENTS

Miss Carol Miller is among a class of 330 new students to arrive on the Lawrence College campus, Appleton, Sept. 10 for orientation before the start of the college's 111th school year. Classes officially began Sept. 16, when President Douglas M. Knight delivered a matriculation address to the student body.

Lawrence's over-all enrollment is up 10 per cent this year, but the freshman class has swelled by 15 per cent. The year brings two major additions to the physical plant: for occupancy in September will be a $200,000 fraternity house built by the college for Phi Gamma Delta, the sixth such unit at Lawrence; while spring completion is expected for a $1 1/2 million music-drama center.

The Fond du Lac county clerk has issued licenses to Leon H. Stange, Fredonia, and Jane D. Eichstedt, Kewaskum, and Matthias L. Serwe, Campbellsport, and Janet R. Sabel, Fond du Lac.

Cottage Cheese Pinwheel Rolls

An aroma reminiscent of bread baking in the old-fashioned kitchen engulfs your home when you bake cottage cheese pinwheel rolls.

These rolls are unusually light and tender. And versatile cottage cheese is the all important ingredient that makes them so. A buttery filling, sweetened with brown sugar and made crunchy with chopped nuts, adds that extraordinary flavor.

COTTAGE CHEESE PINWHEEL ROLLS
1 1/2 dozen rolls
375° preheated oven 20-25 minutes

- 1 cake compressed yeast (1/2 oz.)
- 3/4 cup lukewarm water
- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 12-oz. carton cream style cottage cheese
- 1 egg, beaten
- FILLING:
- 3 tablespoons melted butter
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Sift flour, sugar, and salt together into a mixing bowl. Cut in butter until the mixture resembles fine meal. Add cottage cheese, egg, and dissolved yeast and mix well. (If necessary add more flour to make a dough that can be handled.) Roll out on a lightly floured board to a 14 inch square. Combine all of the filling ingredients and spread on the dough. Roll up like a jelly roll and cut into 18 slices. Place on a greased baking sheet and let rise for 1 1/2 hours or until doubled in bulk. Bake in a 375° preheated oven for 20-25 minutes.
