Programs Completed For Dairy Day Event In Kewaskum Mar. 21

ALICE IN DAIRYLAND WILL CROWN DAIRY QUEEN; SEEK TALENT CONTEST ENTRIES; MANY PRIZES TO BE GIVEN

Work on the Dairy Day event to be held in the Kewaskum Community high school on Saturday, Mar. 21, is progressing well according to Bernard Murray, agriculture instructor. Sponsors of Dairy Day will be the Kewaskum Business association and the FFA and FHA chapters of the high school.

The FHA girls, under the direction of Miss Weber, high school home economics instructor, are developing a fine afternoon program on dairy demonstration for the women.

The FFA is sponsoring a local dairy queen contest. Eight candidates have been chosen by the boys and final selection of the queen will be made by those individuals attending the Dairy Day festivities.

According to Killy Honeck and Orv Behnke of the Business association, many attractive displays and booths have been planned by individual business establishments. Also numerous prizes have been donated by local merchants.

Mr. Murray, in charge of the program, has stated that the afternoon and evening programs have been completed, listing several University of Wisconsin professors presenting timely topics on agriculture. The evening program will be highlighted by Alice in Dairyland (who will crown the Kewaskum dairy queen) and the local talent show.

Anyone in the Kewaskum school district interested in entering the talent contest should contact Murray or Behnke before Mar. 16. The prizes awarded by the Business association will consist of $10 for first, $7 for second and $5 for third.

The Dairy Day event will begin at 11 a. m. and continue throughout the day and evening. The afternoon program will be mainly an educational one while that in the evening will be one of entertainment. Main exhibit booths will be in the gymnasium and machinery will be on display in the ag room. The women's program will take place in the cafeteria. A free dairy luncheon will be served from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.

A complete program of the event will follow in a later issue of this paper.

Chevs Beat Fox Lake in Final Game, Tie for 4th

The Kewaskum Chevs brought their 1958-59 season to a close with a 77-64 win at Fox Lake Sunday afternoon. The team finished the second half with a 4-3 record to tie for fourth place with Mayville. The Chevs placed second in the first half of the race with a 6-1 record. It was the first time in several years that Kewaskum did not win the championship or be included in the playoffs for the title. Slinger defeated runner-up Horicon over the week end to cop the second half championship with a clean slate of 7 wins and 0 losses. That team will now meet Thiensville, first half titlists in a three game playoff for the grand championship, starting this week end.

Fox Lake, which tied for the cellar, surprised the Chevs in the first half by running up an 11-point 38-27 halftime lead. After the intermission Kewaskum figured it was about time to wake up and go to work on their opponents. This they did, catching fire in the third quarter with 24 points while holding Fox Lake to 9 and moving into a 51-47 lead. The Chevs continued to pour it on in the final period, outscoring the Lakers 26-17 to win by 13 points. Kewaskum was still without the services of ace Augie Bilgo, else the contest probably wouldn't even have been close. Augie was hurt in tourney play the week before. Long George Hanrahan played one of his best offensive games of the season and copped scoring honors by far with 31 points. He made 14 in the first half and 17 in the last. Ken Felix took second honors for the winners with 20 points, followed by Frank Krueger with 13. Top men for Fox Lake were Mullin with 18 points, Rabehl 13 and Ruenger 11.

YOU CAN COUNT ON HER

Every day is a birthday or anniversary for someone, but next week, we think, is especially worth noting. It's the 47th anniversary of the Girl Scouts.

Since the first Girl Scout troop was formed in 1912, almost 14 million American girls and women have learned basic and important lessons of citizenship in Girl Scouting.

This is a unique achievement not only because great numbers of girls and women have been involved but because Girl Scout citizenship training has maintained its fresh and creative approach through the years. Teaching youngsters to respect the flag, to serve their communities, and to keep themselves ready and alert for all emergencies is the chief business of Girl Scouting. When the Girl Scouts, in their anniversary theme, say "You Can Count on Her" they mean just that. In this community, we are fortunate that we can also count on the many men and women volunteers in Girl Scouting who make Scouting available to our daughters. Happy Birthday Girl Scouts. WE SELF SCRATCH LADS.

There has never been a time when the need of brotherhood among men was more urgent than it is now. Kindness and decency are no longer abstract qualities which we can discuss and forget; they must supplant hate and prejudice as the practical force of this world if the final disaster is to be avoided.—Ben Hibbs, Saturday Evening Post.

FFA Members to Attend "Campus Highlights"

Four Kewaskum F.F.A. boys, Gerald Vetter, David Schaefer, Earl Broecker and Jerome Klein, will be the guests of The Short Course Alumni of Wisconsin at the "Campus Highlights" program in Madison on the day of the colorful Little International Livestock Show, Saturday, Mar. 7.

A full and interesting day has been carefully planned for the boys. It includes a campus tour, noon luncheon with a brief program of distinguished speakers and short course musical talent, and admission to the afternoon Little International Show.

"Campus Highlights" is being sponsored by the Short Course Alumni in the belief that as these prospective students see the current crop of short course students in action at the Little International, as they show in competition the animals they have fitted and trained, compete in meat cutting, sheep shearing and other skills, they too will be inspired to check the educational offerings available at the university in helping to prepare themselves for the business of farming, or closely related occupations.

Impala Sport Coupe—like every Chevy—has Safety Plate Glass all around.

Chevy stops quickest... goes farthest on a gallon!

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR*. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you. There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop by your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!

DRIVE CAREFULLY

One of the easiest ways to become popular is to remember the nice things folks say about a person, and repeat them to him.

COOK-INS are a fun change of pace for winter

The fun of a summer cook-out can easily be duplicated in the winter; just take the same idea and move it indoors for a "cook-in." Besides being fun a cook-in is a fine idea because it provides a nice change of pace for this time of year when menus are likely to be a bit winter weary.

For a starter you might like to tray a cook-in with snacks. Hot little cheese puff sandwiches served with hot tomato juice are wonderful warmer-uppers for a wintry day or evening. Start out with a basic mixture of sharp Cheddar cheese, evaporated milk, seasonings and a little baking powder (for the puff). Then just let your imagination roam as to what you want to add to that and how you can put together the little open face snacks. Chopped olives, deviled ham and brown and serve sausages are good in combination with the cheese, but you and your family can probably think up lots of other ideas, too. For the base of the sandwiches whole wheat wafers and rye bread are extra fine.

Bake these in the oven until they're nice and puffy and a pretty golden brown color. If you like, you can fancy up the tops with garnishes of chopped parsley, olives, green pepper or what have you. And try floating a slice of lemon in that tomato juice you serve with the sandwiches—its fragrance and flavor perk up the hot juice in a delightful manner.

Basic Cheese Puff Recipe

- 1/4 cup flour
 - 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 - 1/8 teaspoon cayenne or dash of Tabasco sauce
 - 1/4 cup water
 - 1 cup evaporated milk
 - 2 cups shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- Mix flour, mustard and cayenne or Tabasco sauce in a medium size saucepan. Blend in water, stirring to keep smooth. Slowly stir in evaporated milk. Cook over low heat until mixture is thickened, stirring constantly. Add shredded cheese and stir until cheese is melted and mixture is thick. Chill thoroughly, then add baking powder and mix well. To prepare a variety of small open face sandwiches, mixture may be divided into thirds, if desired. To 1/3 of mixture add 3 tablespoons very finely chopped stuffed olives. Place 1 1/2 to 2 measuring teaspoons of olive-cheese mixture on whole wheat wafers or small slices of ice box rye bread. Use another third as follows: Spread wafers or rye bread first with deviled ham, then top with small amounts of cheese mixture. Use remaining for sausage cheese puffs. Place pieces of brown and serve sausages (which have been browned) on wafers and bread, top with 1 1/2 to 2 teaspoons cheese mixture. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350° F.) until top is puffy and lightly browned, about 15 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 50-60 sandwiches.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Begins Today; Proceeds Aid Camp Fund

STAFF TROOP HOUSE AT 280 GRANITE CAWSPITE WAU-BUN GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL FOND DU LAC WISCONSIN

Hundreds of girls in this area will waste no time when school is dismissed on Friday, Mar. 6. This is the day when the girls of the Wau-Bun Council may begin taking orders for Girl Scout cookies.

The girls know that a successful sale will mean that more money may be added to the Camp Development fund, and like Girl Scouts all over the world they are anxious to have their own camp.

The council's campsite near Redgranite is an ideal spot, but the site is not enough. There must be funds for the development of the site, and the construction of the camp. Community Chest allocations for the Girl Scouts may not be used for such purposes, as such funds are sufficient for current operating expenses only.

The girls have seen the picture of the troop house (sketched above) which is the first building under construction, and which will be equipped, too, through cookie sale proceeds. Knowing that the camp is actually being built has given a real incentive to the sale for 1959.

This year the girls will be taking orders for four varieties of cookies during the period from Mar. 6 through Mar. 15. These are all priced at 45¢ per box and include the following: chocolate and vanilla cream sandwiches, mint teas (chocolate-mint coat teas), Savannah (Oatmeal type with nut-butter filling), and scot-teas (tasty little short bread type).

One-half of the 45¢ selling price is profit for our local Girl Scouts. Of this amount 5¢ is retained by the troop to which the seller belongs. Troop treasuries are used for service projects as well as hikes, cook-outs, camping, and national membership dues.

The balance of 17½¢ then goes to the Camp Development fund. There are 2333 Girl Scouts in the Wau-Bun Council who will use the camp when it is completed.

The girls will not accept any money at the time the order is taken, but will collect for the cookies when they are delivered. Delivery dates are from April 20 to 25.

The girls will be carrying a supply of window stickers as they make their calls. Any resident who puts the sticker in the window will not be solicited again.

Locally, Mrs. Harold Marx is chairman of this year's cookie sale.

Indians Beaten Twice In Sub-District Meet

As was more or less expected Kewaskum high school's Indians lost to the Scenic Moraine conference champion Bells in the opening game of the sub-district tournament at Campbellsport Friday night but it was completely unexpected that they would also be defeated by lowly Random Lake in the consolation finals Saturday night. Random Lake hadn't won a game all season, either in or out of Kettle Moraine conference play until an embarrassed Kewaskum team made them happy.

The Indians lost to Campbellsport, 71-55, and to Random Lake, 44-42. Against Random the team probably over-confident, was way off in shooting, passing and other fundamentals of the game. Still they could have won. The Indians led by a sizable 11-point, 31-19 score at the half and appeared to be heading for an easy win. But as the first team was not up to par Coach Walt Bade chose to play underclassmen in the second half to give them experience for next season. Second and even third stringers played most of the second half.

As a result Kewaskum scored only 11 points in the entire half. They made a mere 4 points in the third period while Random Lake scored 15, but still were ahead by a point, 35-34. In the final quarter they made only 7 points and the Rams 10 to win by 2 points. Random Lake's coach used only 6 players in the contest, being hungry for a win, while Coach Bade cleared the bench, giving all 11 team members plenty of chance to play. Risse with 15 points and Falk with 12 were top scorers for the winners. Rodenkirch's 12 were best for the Indians. No one else made more than 6. Spectators are still wondering "what happened?"

In the tourney opener with Campbellsport Friday the Indians played basketball more like they are capable of playing. They held the conference and tournament champion Bells on pretty even terms in the first half before succumbing to Campbellsport's accurate shooting, smooth working cagers in the second half. The winners led at halftime by 8 points, 35-27. The Bells had a hot third period and outscored the Indians, 20-7 to take a big 55-34 lead. But Kewaskum came back with 21 in the final quarter to the Bells' 16 to cut down the margin to 16 points. The big guns for Campbellsport were Scheid with 19 points, Pieper 16, Schlaefer 15 and Weber 11. Kewaskum's leading point men were Rodenkirch with 15 points, Sadownikow and Coulter with 10 each.

After the Bells took Kewaskum, Lomira swamped Random Lake in the second game Friday, 69-26. The Rams grabbed consolation honors with their upset over the Indians Saturday night. In the championship battle Campbellsport shaded Lomira, 49-45, in overtime. Thus the Bells advance to the district meet at Slinger which will get underway tonight.

City Basketball

With the season coming to an end the City Basketball league is becoming a very exciting one. All of the four teams have a very good chance to take the title because of all the teams being so evenly matched.

Last week's results were Behnke's Assurance taking the first game from Regal Ware, 45-29. The second game was a very close battle from start to finish with L. Rosenheimer's coming up with a victory over Big Gene's, 41-40.

The first game was fairly close in the first half but Behnke's ran away with the game in the second half. High point men were W. Tessar with 19 points for the winners and B. Bunkelman with 8 for the losers.

The second game was very close all the way with L. Rosenheimer's coming up with the victory. This game was the second straight they have won by one point. High scorers were J. Heisdorf with 19 points for the winners and H. Perkins with 14 for the losers.

Announce Plans for County Civil Defense Training Program

Ray Storck, Washington County Civil Defense coordinator, and Robert C. Hintz, director of the Washington County Welfare Department announced the development of a comprehensive training program for emergency welfare services for Civil Defense at a meeting of local Civil Defense directors at the court house, West Bend, Thursday evening, Feb. 26.

Storck has cited the need for development of a comprehensive emergency welfare service program as one of the basic problems in Washington county's preparedness program for a civil defense disaster. He stated "should an enemy attack be launched against the Milwaukee area, we are sure that the damage will extend well into Washington county. This will create many local problems for us in caring for those members of our community who will be made homeless, and virtually helpless, by the effects of blast damage and radiation." Storck concluded by urging citizen participation in formal training courses as a means of individual as well as community preparedness.

Robert Hintz revealed that plans have now been completed for the first training program in emergency welfare services for Civil Defense. He described the course as being a general orientation in Civil Defense, and will cover the meaning of Civil Defense, planning assumptions on which Civil Defense preparedness plans are made, release of the latest information relative to the effects of atomic and thermo-nuclear weapons, and the problems of radio-active fallout, psychological aspects of a Civil Defense disaster, and control of panic in the event of such an attack. The course will also be related specifically to the emergency welfare service assignment for Washington county covering the mass care programs of feeding, clothing and shelter; registration and information, and emergency financial assistance programs.

The first course will be taught by Thomas Lucas, Jr., coordinator of emergency welfare services for the State Department of Public Welfare. It will consist of lectures, movies, slides and filmstrips to present the course material. Classroom exercises in measurement of radio activity and solution of practical problems posed by a Civil Defense disaster are also included.

Hintz announced that enrollment for the first course began Monday, March 2. The 10 hour course will consist of four weekly meetings. The first class session will be held Thursday, March 19, in the circuit courtroom, courthouse, West Bend, at 8 p. m.

Persons interested in this program should register in advance by contacting the Washington County Public Welfare Dept., West Bend. Telephone FEderal 4-3496.

LEMON BUTTER ADDS GLAMOR TOUCH TO FISH DINNERS

Fish, the staple of many a Lenten meal, can be made more glamorous, more tempting, through the use of imaginative sauces and garnishes.

To give your next fish dinner extra zest and sparkle, try this delightful lemon butter topping. It's a versatile flavor-maker which, if you wish, may also be used to give distinction to broiled meats and chicken. And it lifts carrots, broccoli and cauliflower from humdrum to extraordinary flavor treats.

When softened, this spread is a delightful addition to any or all of your favorite sandwich fillings.
