3 Held in Mequon Robbery Believed Same Ones Involved in Local Theft

Three robbery suspects who took approximately $975 in cash from the Mequon Park Liquor store and were apprehended by the Mequon Police Department last week Monday are believed to have been involved in the theft of a pouch containing cash, a check and other valuable papers valued at $1,100 at the Gamble Store Agency owned by Frank J. Felix in Kewaskum on Dec. 31.

Felix told police he was alone in the store at about 3:30 p. m. getting ready a bank deposit to take to the bank before it closed at 4 p. m. on the last day of the year. At this time several people entered the store, including a colored man and two women. Mrs. Felix then entered the store from the upstairs apartment. One of the "shoppers" diverted her attention by asking prices of items displayed in the window. The other two strolled around the store and purchased one or two small items from Felix. After the customers left Felix again went to finish preparing the deposit but the pouch from which other checks had already been taken out, was missing. The approximate redeemable amount totaled about $375, of which less than $200 was in cash.

The same procedure was followed in the robbery of the Mequon store. Melvin Petersen, owner, told police he was alone in the store Monday morning when two women dressed in slacks entered. One went to the back of the store where she asked his advice in making a purchase. The other woman remained at the front of the store and after Petersen and the first woman returned to the front counter, they discussed different brands of bottle goods. Petersen then returned to the cooler at the back of the store to get a six pack of beer the women ordered. As the two women left Petersen answered the back door for a delivery. When he returned to the checkout counter he discovered the money bag which he was preparing for deposit was missing from under the counter.

The Mequon Police Department swung into action immediately. They broadcast bulletins to all surrounding communities describing pertinent information on the robbery. The quick action of the Mequon police and the cooperation from other departments soon brought a call from the Cedarburg Police Department that they had observed the suspects leaving a store in that city. A short time later, the three were apprehended and returned to Mequon.

They were identified as George W. Thomas, 907 W. Atkinson, driver of the car, Gertrude I. Jefferson, 3444 N. Richards St., and Ray Blakey, 3942 N. 24th St., all of Milwaukee. They were taken to Ozaukee County Jail where a complaint was filed charging them with theft. Bail was set at $3,000 for Thomas and $1,000 each for the two women.

Photos of the three apprehended at Mequon were identified this week by Kewaskum police and local businessmen as the same suspects seen in this village on the day of the Gamble Store theft. The vehicle used in the Mequon job

Peace Church Has Meeting, Election

The annual congregational meeting of Peace United Church of Christ was held Sunday afternoon with Gerald Secor, president, presiding. Consistory members were elected during the meeting.

Elected elder was Henry Rosenheimer, Kewaskum. Dean Roe, Kewaskum, was selected to serve on the Board of Christian Education. Eugene Panzer, Kewaskum, and Arlyn Schmitt, West Bend, were elected deacons, while Mrs. Charles Ogi and Miss Ione Terlinden, both of Kewaskum, were elected trustees.

An organizational meeting followed at which Secor was again elected president, Robert Sparks, vice president; Hugh Greathouse, secretary; Erwin Bullette, treasurer. Mrs. Marion Erdmann was re-appointed financial secretary. All are from Kewaskum.

Area Men's Car Retrieved From Lake Winnebago

A station wagon, which broke through the ice of Lake Winnebago off the Village of Pipe two and a half weeks before and sank, was retrieved Monday and taken to a garage to be dried out. The removing job was done by Earl Ecker and his crew from rural Stockbridge.

Thomas Michels of West Bend, driver of the car, and two friends, David Oppermann of West Bend and Richard Dreher of R. 2, Campbellsport, both former Kewaskum residents, escaped from the 1963 vehicle when it went through the ice. Divers LeRoy Keller, Jr. of Kewaskum and Dick Becker of Dundee recovered nearly $300 worth of fishing equipment from the car the next day.

It was reported there were 200 other cars on the lake that day. Ecker learned how to use the special equipment used from watching his father, Ray, when he was only eight years old. Earl has now taken over the business and so far the Eckers have removed 13 cars from the lake.

These are the final portions of over $55 million in state highway funds returned to the local municipal units of government during the year, in addition to $21.4 million in aids distributed to the 72 counties.

A total of $153,292.40 from the privilege tax allotment is being distributed in Washington county to the following municipalities: Cities of Hartford, $14,693.42; West Bend, $39,244.96; villages of Kewaskum, $8,745.51; Germantown, $14,799.00; Jackson, $2,219.47; Slinger, $3,942.79; and 13 towns $69,647.25.

Reigle, 24 Other Business Leaders To Aid Gov. Lucey

On Monday a business leader widely known for his services in aid of the Wisconsin Democratic Party in recent years was chosen chairman of an advisory committee on state priorities for commerce and industry that will assist the Democratic state administration of Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

James Wildham, president of the Pabst Brewing Company of Milwaukee, was elected head of the 25 man group which will work with members of the state legislature and specialists drawn from state agencies to develop a legislative program on commerce and industry for the consideration of the governor.

Many of the other members of the committee are men and women known for their prominent association with Republican political affairs, as well as for their ranking positions in Wisconsin business enterprise.

Among prominent members of the Wisconsin business community who accepted invitations to work with the Lucey advisory group include James D. Reigle, president of Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum.

KEWASKUM LIONS CLUB HOLDS LADIES' NIGHT

The wives of the Lions were entertained at a regular meeting of the Kewaskum Lions Club Tuesday, Jan. 12. A delicious meal was served at the Glacier Inn and all had a good time. The wives were given a Lion Pendant as a gift, which is to be worn by the Lionesses at every Lion Club social. Only three members were absent.

2 Architectural Firms Interviewed By School Board

REGARDS BUILDING EXPANSION PROGRAM

By Ruth Held

of the Kewaskum Statesman
Two architectural firms were interviewed regarding a proposed building expansion program when the Board of Education met jointly with the Citizens Advisory Building Committee Monday night. The building project involves three schools in the district.

Interviewed were Lawrence E. Gray and Associates, Inc., of Sheboygan and Schutte-Mochon, Inc., whose main offices are in Milwaukee. No decision was made on hiring an architect. Two other firms were designated for Feb. 1 interviews.

During the Monday night interviews, both firms gave their background and told of their organization and discussed their fees. Both showed colored slides of some of the buildings they have designed and answered questions.

In attendance from the advisory building committee were Howard Zemlicka, Melvin Moths, Henry Weddig, Jr., and Mrs. June Berg.

The Schutte-Mochon firm made preliminary drawings and cost surveys last June. But it is the consensus of both the school board and the advisory group that it is important to check out other firms in order to come up with one that will be acceptable to district electors.

The Schutte-Mochon firm designed the defeated swimming pool addition. One school board member spoke out of the "bad taste" that has been left as a result.

How much of a "stigma" this will be when a referendum comes up was tossed around in a lengthy discussion after the interviews.

Both firms are familiar names in the district. Schutte-Mochon designed the high school addition that was completed toward the end of 1966. The Gray firm designed the Farmington School which began operation in January of 1967.

The school board went into executive session at 11:30 p. m. The agenda did not show that an executive session was scheduled and the nature of the matter to be discussed was not made known. Board President Richard L. Edwards asked the advisory building committee and the reporters to leave, saying, "we want to discuss something."

NIEBLER SPEAKER AT HOLY NAME SOCIETY BREAKFAST

Chester J. Niebler gave a very good talk on income tax at the Holy Name breakfast Sunday, Jan. 16 at Holy Trinity Church. Some of his remarks brought laughter from over 35 members that were in attendance at the meeting. His talk was humorous as well as informative.

This was followed by a short meeting where it was decided that the K.C. members of the society would donate their extra "Sports Nite" tickets to some of the C.Y.O. students so they could attend. Tickets can be turned in at the Bob Kirst residence or the rectory.

AFS Students
Guests of Jr.
Woman's Club

A fascinating and interesting trip through the Scenic and beautiful German countryside was on hand for all attending the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club's Jan. 14 meeting, held at the Kewaskum Public Library. Miss Sue Behnke, Kewaskum's AFS student to Germany this past summer, gave an informative picture of what AFS entails. In order to enjoy, understand and get the most out of all the opportunities available, much work is involved.

Orientation in Germany was spent in the city of Limberg, where customs, language and government were taught. As one of the 140 American students sent to Germany, Sue spent two months with a family of ten in the port city of Bremen.

Kewaskum's AFS student for the year, Ivan Andrade, of Quito, Ecuador, also gave everyone an idea of life in his country. Ivan enjoys the Kewaskum area, but doesn't appreciate the winter white, as his country rarely reaches freezing temperatures, and never has snow.

Other guests for the evening were Mrs. L. N. Peterson and Mrs. Bruce Spoullock.

The business meeting was then called to order by club president Mrs. Marvin Perkins. Mrs. Dennis Bingen gave an informative picture of her day as a delegate to the 19th annual Junior Fall Conference in Racine. Stressed by Federation is a Better Environment."

Mrs. Mark Rodenkirch, Community Affairs chairman, explained Valentine's day favors will be made for the Beechwood and Cedar Lake Homes. She also urged members to bring sewing scraps, plastic sheeting and oil cloth for the Girl Scout and Brownie troops. Eye and ear screening tests will be conducted at the Kewaskum

High School on Feb. 1, 2 and 3 by club members.

Mrs. Edward Miller is forming a C.I.A. committee to help promote patriotism and work with Mrs. Edwin Fickler to help the prisoners of war and men missing in action.

A collection of new and used toys to be donated to St. Joseph's Hospital children's floor was taken by club members. Anyone having toys yet to donate should bring them to the home of Mrs. Mark Rodenkirch.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Allen Koepke, Mrs. Bill Geidel, Mrs. Norman Heberer and Mrs. Ray Mertzig.

Home Nursing Care Service Available

When you have a sick or disabled person in your home who needs special nursing care, the Washington County Community Nursing Service (formerly called Public Health) can help you with home care service.

Like the Visiting Nurses Association in larger cities, bedside care, under the family doctor's direction, is given in the home. Skilled procedures such as enemas, catheter changes, bed baths, dressing changes, injections and exercises can be done. Primary consideration is given to rehabilitation to aid the individual in independent living.

Consideration will be given to any special nursing care needed. This service can be of great help to both the patient and his family. Service is available Monday through Friday on a basis of one or two hours per day, usually two or three times each week. All other services are continued as in the past.

Dates for the immunization clinics will be announced at a later date.

Nursing service inquiries should be directed to: Althea Miller, R.N., Supervisor, Washington County Community Nursing Service, 515 East Washington St., West Bend. Telephone 334-3491, ext. 61.

"Who's the responsible man here?" asked the caller.

"If you mean the fellow that always gets the blame," answered the office boy, "you're speaking to him now."

The person who said that work well done never needs doing over never weeded a garden.

Kenny Weddig — Manager Lumber and Building Materials Advisor

If there's so much hate in the world today, how do you account for the population explosion? . . . All it takes nowadays to keep up with the Joneses is a little ingenuity. When they buy a color TV set, you buy a color TV antenna and keep them out of your house . . . Maybe they call our language the Mother Tongue because the father so seldom gets to use it. . . A wife is a great comfort to a husband in those distressing times a bachelor never has . . . It's hard for a fat girl to throw herself at a man—and it's even harder for him to catch her . . . Hard work never killed anyone—only the thought of it . . .

True, hard work never killed anyone — if it did, first on the list would be MINZ SUPPLY'S "HWI FRIENDLY ONE" Kenny Weddig. Not only does he put orders together but he also makes sure they're delivered promptly. (Just another good reason for doing business with an "HWI FRIENDLY ONE" dealer) . . .

One of our readers is advertising for an all-around farm hand, offering $125 a month in order to get a competent workman. To be compelled to pay this price for a farm hand would be ruinous to the majority of farmers. The shortage of farm labor is becoming a really serious factor. If this wage increase becomes general, it will mean thousands of acres will be left idle because a farmer cannot afford to work them.

Chevrolet introduces New Glide-Away tailgate

Substantially more glass area, all-new styling and greater interior room are features of the full-size 1971 Chevrolet wagons. Three-seat wagons have a forward facing third seat. A new interior ventilation system exhausts air through louvers in the tailgate. Standard on the Kingswood Estate and other full-size wagons is a new Glide-Away tailgate that gives full access to the rear of the wagon even in close quarters. At the turn of a key, the power-operated window moves upward into the roof. The tailgate then slides manually down under the load floor. A power disc/drum brake system is also standard. Leading Indians Win 6th Straight At Grafton, 71-61

HOST STRONG HARTLAND, SLINGER THIS WEEKEND

The rampaging Kewaskum Indians ran their win streak to six in a row (7 all told including a non-conference win over Lomira) in the Scenic Moraine and maintained their first place tie with Mayville with a 71-61 victory at Grafton Friday. The Indians and Cardinals each have 6-1 records, the latter winning by a surprising 91-69 margin over Pewaukee Friday.

Beating Grafton wasn't the only task facing the Indians, they had the officials against them too. The officials made a number of ridiculous calls against Kewaskum, especially in the opening quarter and as a result the Indians were trailing at the end of the period, 16-10. Despite this handicap, Kewaskum showed its class by overcoming the deficit. They outscored Grafton in the second quarter, 19-6, to go ahead 29-22 at the intermission. The Indians increased their advantage to 50-38 in the third stanza.

The big second quarter, in which they held Grafton to 5 points, turned the tide for the Indians and gave them a good lead which they held throughout the rest of the contest. Kewaskum's ace, Clark Eichstedt, got things rolling for the team. Clark, who is getting quite adept at between-the-legs dribbling and changing hands while dribbling (like the pros) again was the leading scorer with 22 points. He is second high scorer in the conference, close behind Rod Barbera of Hartland. Clark's brother, junior Glen, is sixth in scoring.

Tom Theusch gave Eichstedt a lot of help. He had his best game of the season, hitting for 19 points. Dennis Smith contributed 14 points and Glen Eichstedt 13. Top men for Grafton were Duane Tonn with 19 points and DeLeeuw with 11.

A telling factor was in the rebounding, in which the winners had a one-sided 49-27 margin. Although off to a bad start, the Indians had an overall shooting percentage of 55 for the night.

The Kewaskum JV's were defeated, 87-69, in the preliminary despite a 29 point performance by Jim Gaffke, high scorer.

This weekend the Indians really have their work cut out for them. They will play two games on successive nights against two of the tougher teams in the conference. Tonight (Friday) they host Hartland Arrowhead, the only team to beat them this year in the opening game of the season there. Kewaskum is bent on avenging this one. And Saturday night the Slinger Owls play here. Slinger (5-2) holds down third place and defeated Hartland last Friday by a surprising 73-58 margin. Kewaskum won over Slinger earlier there but the Owls are always tough for them with their press.

West Bend Whips Lakes Five, 111-68

Still seeking their first victory, the Kewaskum Land o' Lakes League team ran their losing streak to four straight at West Bend Sunday night where they were trimmed by a 111-68 score. The win was the fourth in five starts for West Bend, which is tied with Hartford for second place, a half game behind leading Menomonee Falls, which knocked off Mayville.

Balanced scoring featured West Bend's win over Kewaskum, with five players hitting in double figures. Jim Cahoon set the pace with 19 points, followed by Lee Young with 17, Tim Zettel and Bilj Clark 15 and Chuck Rondorf 13. Schwartz paced Kewaskum with 15 points, followed by Race and Reha with 12 each.

The winners outscored Kewaskum by sizable margins in every quarter. It was 25-18 at the end of the quarter, 48-35 at halftime and 79-50 at the third period's end. In the final stanza, West Bend reserves took over and outpointed the losers, 32-18 to bring the final count to 111-68.

On Thursday night of this week Kewaskum was scheduled to play a make-up game at Port Washington and Sunday night they host second place Hartford (4-1) in a toughie.

Results last weekend — West Bend 111, Kewaskum 68; Hartford 105, Port Washington 95; Menomonee Falls 126, Mayville 84; Horicon 89, Slinger 84.

HOLY TRINITY WINS 5TH STRAIGHT, RETAINS LEAD

The Holy Trinity School team entertained Lomira Friday night in a Kettle Moraine Catholic Grade School League contest and won its fifth in succession without a loss, trouncing St. Mary's, 48-25. Paul Petri was high scorer with 19 points for the winners. With the win, Holy Trinity retained its tie for the lead with Barton, both having 5-0 records.

Doug Bindrich at 157 pounds won his match to stretch his win streak to five in a row. Dave Schacht returned to action at 135 pounds after an injury and also defeated his opponent. Schacht, George Muckerheide at 107 and Kim Rodenkirch, heavyweight, are still unbeaten in Scenic Moraine competition. In fact, Hartland, after sewing up the match, forfeited to Rodenkirch.

Doctors Now Detect and Treat Defective Babies Before Birth

By HENRY L. NADLER, M.D.
Assoc. Prof. of Pediatrics
Northwestern University
Medical School, Chicago

Every woman wonders, at one time or another, whether her children will be normal. The question is especially urgent for those thousands of women who know that someone in their family, or their husband's family, was born with a birth defect.

Until recently, doctors have seldom been able to offer meaningful answers to worried families, but now they can effectively counsel prospective parents. After family histories are taken and diagnostic studies performed, doctors often can determine before conception or during pregnancy whether a child will be normal.

Genetics Provides Clues
This developing medical specialty is called genetic counseling. Such advice, or referral to genetic services, is now available at many of the more than 100 March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers across the nation.

What information can these doctors offer? Well, Mrs. Collins' husband has a five-year-old brother who is a mongoloid child. Mrs. Wilson's brother died from the effects of hemophilia.

Mrs. Jenkins' sister almost lost a child to Rh blood disease (Naturally, these are not their real names.) Each of these couples wants to know: "What chance do we have for a normal, healthy baby?"

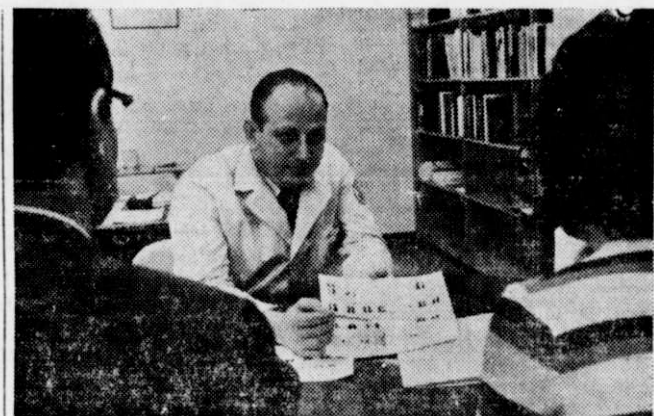

Doctors usually can now supply answers—and in some cases medical treatment to help assure a healthy child.

Physicians can offer two kinds of answers to these parents. Based on his knowledge of genetic inheritance, he can tell them the odds of having a defective child.

Prenatal detection of genetic disorders has brought a new dimension and precision to genetic counseling. Now, in some instances, the physician can give a precise answer.

Studying Tomorrow's Child

To study the unborn baby, the physician sometimes uses a procedure called amniocentesis. A thin, hollow needle is inserted through the pregnant woman's abdomen into the amniotic sac, or bag of waters, to withdraw a little of the fluid that surrounds the baby.

The procedure is virtually painless and can be performed as early as the 12th week.

It is done, however, only when a doctor has a good reason to suspect that the fetus may be defective. For instance, the mother might already have had an abnormal child, or she might be over 40.

The amniotic fluid contains cells shed by the growing baby. In the laboratory, the cells are carefully analyzed to determine whether or not a child has one or more known genetic defects.

Defect Detection

The presence of disorders due to extra, broken or missing chromosomes can often be detected. Such defects include mongolism, as well as other conditions.

Many diseases caused by inborn errors of body chemistry can also be detected. Examples are maple syrup urine disease and galactosemia, two enzyme disorders. Both diseases, if not detected and treated, can lead to mental retardation.

What is done with this information? Once the diagnostic procedure has been completed, several avenues may be open.

The knowledge that a mother is carrying a fetus with a severe defect, such as mongolism, raises the question of termination of pregnancy. The parents must face the many moral, ethical and legal questions that are raised when therapeutic abortion is considered.

But in many instances, knowing that a defect is present may enable the doctor to take steps to stop further damage from occurring.

Prenatal treatment is available for potential victims of Rh blood disease. If parents know that their Rh blood factors are incompatible and that their child runs the risk of damage, a doctor can perform amniocentesis and cell examination to determine whether the fetus is in danger.

If he learns that the infant is suffering severely from Rh blood disease, a blood transfusion can be performed directly through the mother's abdomen. Intrauterine transfusions of whole blood into the fetus vastly improve the chances for survival.

Although this procedure cannot reverse damage that had already been done before the transfusion was given, it may stop further damage.

Research into the causes and prevention of birth defects is providing more information every day. As this knowledge is coupled with new developments in prenatal diagnosis, we can move toward further prenatal treatment of defective babies. These accomplishments are bringing about an important advance in the fight against birth defects.

Dr. Nadler is Head, Division of Genetics, Children's Memorial Hospital, Chicago, Ill. He has been conducting a research program in prenatal diagnosis under a grant from The National Foundation-March of Dimes for several years.
