

Board Okays Lot Size Reduction In Bel-Ric Acres

Members of the village board Monday night granted the second request from Schulz Realty, Inc., of West Bend, to reduce five 100-foot wide lots in the Bel-Ric Acres subdivision into seven lots, on the condition that the realty firm give the village a certified survey map.

The board denied the first request at its July 12 meeting on the basis that it previously approved an original plat, then a replat which called for reducing lot sizes from an average 100 to an average 70 foot width.

As one board member stated Monday night, "how many more times are we going to be asked to chop up these lots?"

James Schulz told the board that the five lots in question, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 in Bel-Ric addition No. 2 were not included in the replat. He said he would not need board approval to change the lot sizes, that he can do this in a deed process but that he prefers going through the board and gaining its approval. Schulz said the lots are owned by Mrs. Rose Miller of Kewaskum and he intends to buy them from her.

Board members were divided on their views of whether the request should be granted and they reached a decision only after all seven trustees left the council room to discuss the matter privately. Earlier, Trustee O. E. Behnke said he would like to "caucus" with Trustee Raynor Herriges and the two left the room.

Village Attorney Roger McKenna was questioned by a news reporter as to the legality of the board's leaving the room and he replied, "They wouldn't listen to me anyway."

Trustee Charles Miller presided in the absence of Village President Cyril Wieter. Miller commented that "in the future, we should have something definite as to what lot sizes should be." A building code is presently in the making for the village.

Miller also said he feels the subdivision should not have been replatted in the first place. But now that it is, I feel we can be more liberal in adjusting lot sizes because of the price range of the homes."

In other matters, the board authorized payment of $800 to Puetz Motor Sales of Kiel for a used truck. An offer from Westra Construction Co. of Waupun to buy the cyclone fence which encircles the present sewage plant area was refused.

Operators licenses were approved for Dennis Petermann and Kathleen Galabinske. Building permits were approved for Schulz Realty for two one-family dwellings on Memorial Drive and for Elmer Ramthun for a two-car private garage.

Youths in Local Class Lift Off Their Own Rocket

Not only did the Apollo 15 lift off from Kennedy Space Center but about 9.30 a. m. the same day Kewaskum had its own launching. The summer school small engines class had their own rocket launching behind Kewaskum High School.

The class was composed of boys in grade 6 through 9 from the local school district. For much of the six weeks course they worked on small engines but for a week worked on rockets and another on model airplanes. The class instructor was Howard Zemlicka, industrial arts instructor, who has a Master's Degree from Stout State University.

Zemlicka explained that the boys had designed their own rockets and made the launch pads. He said these were not kits. They got some parts and engines from a hobby shop and went to work.

One at a time the boys launched their rockets, using tractor batteries for ignition. While his classmates counted down "5-4-3-2-1-blast off," up went one boy's rocket and its parachute opened. A few of the youths' rockets went almost one-half mile high. Another boy placed a live grasshopper in the nose cone of his rocket but it did not survive the impact of landing.

Samaritan Needs Family Care Homes

The Samaritan Hospital in West Bend is urgently in need of adult family care homes in the Washington County area to provide community living for patients who are ready to leave the hospital. Many patients have no families to return to and are not ready to live independently in the community without some sort of family structure.

The "sponsor," a person or family sharing their home, helps the person feel accepted, needed and important to himself before moving on to independent living. Adult family care homes have proven successful in Washington County and other areas with the help of the sponsors and community agencies working together.

Beyond the satisfaction of doing things for others, the sponsor will be financially reimbursed. For further information and applications contact Miss Margy Korth, social worker, at the Samaritan Hospital by calling 334-3123 or 334-3344, or by writing to 531 E. Washington St., West Bend.

Adults Also Enjoy Children's Theatre At Mauthe Lake

The "Children's Theatre" currently playing at the Mauthe Lake Recreation Area each Saturday night might more appropriately be entitled "Family Theatre." At least that's the viewpoint of Walt Adams, superintendent of the Forest. Adams thinks that the Northern Kettle Moraine State term "Children's Theatre" is misleading and that many adults as a result are missing out on an enjoyable experience if they send their children but fail to attend themselves.

"It's true," Adams commented, "that the Legend of Sleepy Hollow and the Great Cross Country Race are two stories that are favorites with children but the caliber of this live stage production is such that adults experience equal enjoyment."

Adams indicated that the program is not only catching on at the Mauthe Lake Recreation Area but also at three other selected state parks where similar performances are being given. "At all parks, the attendance the second week has substantially exceeded that of the first week."

Children's Theatre is a joint venture between the Department of Natural Resources and the Badger Repertory Theatre of the University of Wisconsin Extension Arts. Members of the cast are all talented artists from the University of Wisconsin. Performances are held in the amphitheater and commence at 7:30 p. m. A nominal admission fee is charged to offset production expenses.

Alva Schaefer of Sheboygan Falls purchased the former Quandt home and property on Fond du Lac Ave. from Christ Wolter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Riordan and children, who for the past 11 months resided with Mrs. Riordan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Schmidt, recently moved to Waukesha.

Kewaskum firemen were called to the Al Schneider tavern property at Wayne where sparks from a rubbish fire set fire to a barn. Schneider, with the assistance of neighbors, had the blaze out when firemen arrived although a hole big enough to walk through had already burned in the building. The fire could have been a serious one as the barn is an old frame structure and stands only a few feet from a frame dance hall and tavern owned by Schneider.

The building formerly used as an office by the late Dr. N. E. Hausmann on Fond du Lac Ave., which was purchased some time ago by David D. Korth, has been moved onto Korth's lot in the Bilgo addition where the structure will be used in part in the building of a new home by Korth and wife.

ture will be used in part in the building of a new home by Korth and wife.

The collection of garbage in Kewaskum was started as a sanitary measure. It has more than proven to be beneficial to the community. Housewives are reminded that all garbage is to be wrapped. Garbage does not include glass and tin cans. Garbage crews have been instructed not to accept unwrapped garbage.

51 YEARS AGO 1920

First class gunner Robert Backus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Backus Jr., returned home recently from Ft. Monroe, Va., where he was honorably discharged after four years of service in the U.S. Navy. He served as one of the members of President Wilson's body guard during the war.

Since the dry era began, card playing at social clubs and at family homes has been on the rapid increase. Cards are now being sold at the rate of $3,500,000 an increase of $1,500,000 according to figures of the internal revenue department. This vast increase in the sale of cards increases Uncle Sam's revenue receipts.

Postmaster Geo. H. Schmidt was called to Washington, D.C. to appear at the final hearing of the Joint Post Office Committee, consisting of senators and congressmen. Postmaster Schmidt goes there as a member of the executive committee of the National League of Postmasters of the U.S.

Summer School for Handicapped Children Conducted at Threshold

Thanks to a Title I grant, the Threshold of West Bend is conducting a summer instructional, recreational and enrichment program for 53 handicapped children of our county.

The grant, according to Director Horst D. Wagner, "enables us to provide the necessary funding for instructional staff, pupil transportation, facility rental and special equipment for a 6-week summer program."

All 53 children, ages 2½ to 14, depending on their specific needs, attend between ½ to 2½ hours every morning at the Decorah School, where four classrooms, the speech lab and the gymnasium are utilized.

The grant itself was awarded to the Threshold, via the Department of Mental Hygiene, because of the local gaps in both recreational and summer school instructional services which the handicapped and learning disability children face. These gaps are being attempted to be eliminated by Threshold's five phase program which includes pre-school for handicapped, speech therapy, recreation and arts and crafts, hard-of-hearing instruction, plus tutorial instruction for severely emotionally disturbed.

"The entire program," related Wagner, "utilizes an individual student behavior objective approach. We identify one or two behavioral changes which will improve a child's individual development of learning skills in the self-help adaptive behavior. This will enable progressive step-by-step sequential development of the child."

For example, a child must learn to walk by himself before he can run alone. We've had a 3-year-old child in the program for 3 weeks. Prior to that time, she could not walk without the assistance of someone else. Now, she can pull herself up alone and walk throughout the house and the school classroom. Mrs. Ann Dunlap, assistant instructor, and her aide, Sue Greminger, along with volunteer Karen Peters, have been working with 8 children on different locomotion and adaptive behavioral home living skills.

Another big gap that is filled is the need for a continuum of services in the instructional area. Handicapped pre-school aged children faced with a 3-month summer lay-off from regular school instructional activities regress much more than other children. The summer program not only prevents this lag, but also advances children beyond their previous school vacation level. This is especially true in the speech, hard-of-hearing and pre-school youngsters.

Mrs. Monica Malsch, the head pre-school instructor, with Aides Sue Greminger and Sue Demerath have eight children in their pre-school class. Major emphasis is on visual and auditory perception, and motor and muscular development.

Deaf And Hard-Of-Hearing

Under the direction of Mrs. Caryl O'Driscoll, five hard-of-hearing youngsters who normally go to Milwaukee during the school year, now receive instruction at Decorah. This not only provides continuity and reinforcement of prior instruction, but also is less strenuous on the child and their parents.

Each child attends instruction from 60 to 120 minutes per day from the hard-of-hearing specialist who utilizes special equipment purchased under this grant.

The primary objective is to focus on and increase each child's vocabulary and language ability which will, therefore, improve their reading level. "Our unit approach incorporates auditory training (learning to listen) speech, lip reading, and visual and auditory memory skills," related Caryl. Also, "by developing and using each child's residual hearing, we aim to stress individual strengths and remediate individual differences. A one-to-one teacher to student method of teaching is used with each child."

Speech Therapy

Chris Belcher (nee Gumm) from Jackson is the summer therapist. According to Chris, the pre-school age children who have difficulties or need development instruction in speech and articulation are served. Speech areas include articulation, correct sentence structure, vocabulary building and auditory memory.

The pre-schoolers are seen individually by Chris. Instructional activities include auditory and verbal stimulation, simple word acquisition, vocabulary building, listening skills and improving memory span.

Emotionally Disturbed Instruction

Miss Mary Dhein has been the tutorial instructor for a severely emotionally disturbed child. This is a 2-part program, the academic areas which include reading, language development and experience, plus the group activity interaction phase. The latter is in the area of recreation and arts and crafts activities.

Recreation

The recreation phase, in addition to the Title I grant, receives the services of one recreation aide supplied by the West Bend Recreation Department, thanks to the empathy and efforts of Gary Anderson, its director.

The recreation program is for handicapped children ages 6-14 who because of their disability would not be able to partake in the regular playground recreation activities. Yet these children, too, have a need for this type of summer time outlet. Swimming (once a week), arts and crafts, and gymnasium type of activities are parts of this program. Under the supervision of Miss Jeanne Berres, aides Bob Otten, Mike Schultz, Doug Agentin and Miss Darlene Borusky, work with a total of 16 children daily in groups of four youngsters per instructor.

Professional school psychologists are also utilized on a consulting basis. Their main role has been to identify and advise the staff on various instructional methods and behavior approaches needed in order to bring about the changes desired in the children.

Wagner remarked that he and his summer program staff have been receiving excellent assistance from all the various service agencies, whether it was social service agencies, the school systems, or particular state agencies. "Hopefully we will be able to operate a similar program next summer. This summer's program has been rewarding and beneficial to all — especially the children."

Residents of Home, Senior Citizens to Present Musicale

On Sunday, Aug. 15, at 2:30 p. m., the residents of Cedar Lake Home are combining their talents with the Senior Citizens to bring a most delightful musicale to the auditorium of the West Bend High Schools.

This year's show is entitled "Let's Take an Old Fashioned Walk" and includes the combined choruses as well as a number of solos, some dancing and the always popular rhythm band.

Judging from the early rehearsals, everyone is in better voice and more agile than last year and even with their past successes are determined to bring you an even better show if that is possible.

The costuming, although quite a challenge, is bound to be one of the more interesting features and might bring a twinge of nostalgia for those days.

The directors, Rev. Louis Riesch and Mrs. Arlene Pietsch, are using some show tunes of the Broadway variety and have done some very fine casting for these parts.

The auditorium is completely air conditioned and located on East Decorah Road in West Bend.

You are urged to attend this performance by purchasing tickets at $1.25 each from the following sources: Loomans and Hicken, Men's Apparel, Marv's Store, Senior Citizen's Activity Center and Cedar Lake Home. Mail orders will be handled by Mrs. L. J. Bowerman, 237 Lincoln Drive South, West Bend 53095. For children under twelve years of age, tickets will be available at

"What am I supposed to do with this?" Inquired the motorist when the clerk handed him a receipt for his traffic fine.

"Keep it," advised the clerk. "When you get four of them, you get a bicycle."

High meat prices have a tendency to keep a lot of families in a perpetual "stew."

Eichstedt Placed On Scenic All Conference Team

ENDS BRILLIANT CAREER; THEUSCH AND CZERWONKA GET HONORABLE MENTION

Senior outfielder Clark Eichstedt was the only Kewaskum player selected by coaches on the Scenic Moraine All-Conference baseball team named Saturday, although third baseman Rod Czerwonka narrowly missed a berth on the team. He and pitcher Tom Theusch were given honorable mention.

Mayville, the conference champion, also placed only one player on the team, while Slinger, which tied Kewaskum for second place, had three players chosen on the all-star squad. Fourth place Kettle Moraine had two boys picked on the team and other schools with one selection were Grafton, Pewaukee and Hartland Arrowhead.

With the 1971 baseball season, Eichstedt ended a brilliant three-year career at Kewaskum High School, during which he participated in four varsity sports each year. Although most outstanding in basketball, the 6-3 senior also starred on the golf and baseball teams and played end in football. Clark was a unanimous all-conference selection in basketball last season, (he was a second team selection the year before) was second in scoring with 283 points, and was the leading rebounder in the conference with 190. He just missed setting a new school scoring record by only three points and would have made it easily except for missing the last five games of his junior year due to an injury. Eichstedt will go down as one of the top athletes ever turned out at Kewaskum High School.

Slinger's three all-conference selections were pitcher Mike Zwirlein, with a 7-3 mark, 1st baseman Brian Schmidt and 2nd baseman Steve Thiel. Zwirlein also finished with a .404 batting average, second best in the league. Mayville's player chosen was pitcher Kurt Kuehl, who hurled the Cardinals to the title with a 6-0 record. The 3rd base position was decided after a 3-way tie between John Bartlotta of Kettle Moraine, Czerwonka and Mark Hauser of Slinger. On the second ballot Bartlotta edged out Czerwonka for honors. At shortstop Jim Audley of Hartland nosed out Jim Yaresch of Pewaukee. Audley batted .341. Five outfielders had .300 batting average or better. Bill Riebe of Grafton, with a .422 average, tops in the conference, was a unanimous selection. Eichstedt with a .325 average (who hit 2 home runs against Mayville in the Regional) and Jay Milkowski of Pewaukee were the other outfielders picked. Bill Beno of Pewaukee, an all conference pick at pitcher last season, missed much of the season with a broken leg.

Two Scenic Moraine teams, Pewaukee and Kewaskum, won Regional tournament championships. Pewaukee also won the Sectional and lost to Alma, which later won the state title, in first round state action.

Lakes '9' Defeats Barton, Grafton, Moves Into Sixth

BARTELT, LEAGUE LEADING HITTER, AND KOEFKE STAR

The Kewaskum Land o' Lakes League team, suddenly turned sluggers, went on a hitting rampage over the weekend to win 2 big games and move into 6th place with a 5-7 mark. Kewaskum scored 21 runs and pounded the ball for 31 hits in the 2 contests.

The team's first victory came over Barton here Saturday night, 7-2, and Sunday afternoon they upset 4th place Grafton there, 14-10, and in doing so defeated Grafton's ace pitcher, Pat McFarland, who posed no problem, Kewaskum powdered the ball for 11 hits against Barton and 20 hits against Grafton.

Hitting stars for Kewaskum were Tom Bartelt and Al Koepke, who were red hot. Bartelt got 3 for 5 against Barton, including a triple, and 4 for 5 against Grafton for a total of 7 hits in 10 times at bat. His binge raised his batting average to .519, tops in the league. Koepke collected 1 for 3 against Barton but then blasted 5 out of 6 at Grafton for a total of 6 hits in 9 trips. Clem Jacak also connected for 4 hits in 6 trips at Grafton with 2 of them being doubles.

Mark Heise held Barton to 3 hits and would have had a shut-out except for numerous Kewaskum errors. Several Barton mental lapses helped the winners score 3 of their runs. Dave Mertzig started for Barton and Dave Roell relieved him in the 4th inning.

Bartelt and Koepke, with 9 hits between them, drove in a total of 8 runs at Grafton in the surprise victory. Bob Fellenz was the winning pitcher. He worked the first 6 and two-thirds innings and then Heise came in to finish up. S Atwell started for Grafton but was relieved by McFarland after 5 and one-third frames. McFarland was saddled with the loss. T. Wagner, with 4 for 6, and B. Riebe and B. Bertling, with 3 for 5, led Grafton's hitting. Kewaskum was held scoreless the first 4 innings, then tallied all of their 14 runs in 4 innings, 1 in the 5th, 6 in the 6th, 4 in the 7th and 3 in the 8th, to come from behind.

Kewaskum has a bye in the schedule this weekend but scheduled a practice game with Long Lake of the Rock River League here Thursday night and will play the old timers Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Next Thursday night the team will host Sheboygan in a make-up of a rained out contest.

Lakes standings: Saukville 9-2, West Bend 8-3, Thiensville-Mequon 8-4, Grafton 7-4, Sheboygan 5-4, Kewaskum 5-7, Barton 4-8, Cedarburg 3-9, Port Washington 2-10.

ASSISTANT CHIEF FINDS GOLF DANGEROUS SPORT

Assistant Police Chief Augie Zell of West Bend last week discovered that golfing can be a dangerous sport. He was assisting one of his foursome in retrieving a ball at the sixth hole at Hon-E-Kor in Kewaskum. It was near a pond and Zell lost his balance and fell partly into the water. He suffered a broken arm and ended his golfing for this season.

Hon-E-Korner

It was guest day at Hon-E-Kor for Town & Country. We had about 25 guests for coffee and rolls at 8 o'clock and shotgun tee off at nine, and a very good lunch at noon.

A jacket was won by Bette Hovand. Door prizes donated by Regal Ware, Vera's and Hon-E-Kor were won by the following ladies: Darlene Gross, Florence Marks, Edna Deritman, Eva Hopper, Sally Black, Joyce Gruber.

Eileen Perkins won the event on hole 7, closest to the pin in 2. Cele Will had long putt on 9. Eight ladies got the ball in the circle on No. 6.

Bridge winners for the day were Joyce Gruber and Dorothy Schaefer.

Kewaskum - Lithias To Play Game for Retarded Children

Aug. 18 is the date set for the 16th annual benefit ball game for the retarded and handicapped children and adults of Washington County.

These yearly games are co-sponsored by the Washington County Association for Retarded and the West Bend Lithia Baseball Club.

Appointed as co-chairmen are Horst Wagner, director of the Threshold, Inc. and Tony Berres. Ticket sales co-chairmen are Mrs. Florence Matenaer, West Bend, Mrs. John Daehn, Kettle Moraine Branch-Hartford and Mrs. M. C. Bell, Germantown Branch. Refreshment chairman is Mrs. Lovell DuCharme.

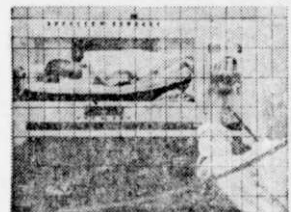

The West Bend Lithia team will play Kewaskum. As in previous years, there will be entertainment before the game. This year the Tony Berres Orchestra will provide the pre-game music. There will, again, be door prizes at intervals during the game, and refreshments will also be available.

All proceeds will again be designated to the Threshold Building Fund. Over the past 15 years, $22,053.00 has been raised for the benefit of the Threshold, Inc.

SCIENTISTS ARE WINNING IN WAR AGAINST POLLUTION

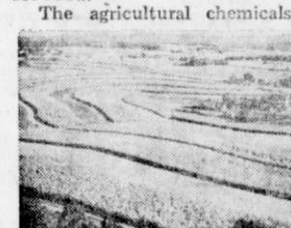

Armed with chemical pollution-fighters and more ingenuity than many people know about, America's scientists are teaming up with our farmers to clean up our environment successfully.

On our farms, where the main polluters of our agricultural environment are insects, weeds, bearers of plant diseases and nematodes, U. S. Department of Agriculture officials estimate that we are losing $10 billion a year to these destroyers. But new and improved pesticides and herbicides are proving effective against these polluters — so effective that without them, insect and plant diseases would cut farm production by more than 40% and nearly double the price we pay for food.

Without chemical pollution-fighters, food would cost nearly twice as much.

are also making an important contribution to wildlife and outdoor recreational opportunities.

Through the use of selective chemicals, hundreds of thousands of acres of poor fishing waters have been rehabilitated by Federal, State and private agencies. Using specific chemicals, fishery managers can destroy unwanted species and yet leave the desirable fish unharmed.

One of the most exciting examples of this is the Great Lakes where the parasitic sea lamprey entered the lakes and dramatically destroyed most sport fishing there. Expensive nets, traps and even electric barriers did little to control this parasite.

But now, by treating the parasite's breeding grounds while it is still in the larval stage, the lampreys are in check, and trout and salmon have been successfully reintroduced to the Great Lakes.

Even the ducks have difficulty finding the water in some places. But with the right chemicals, scientists are able to get rid of weeds while leaving food plants alone. This use of one of the greatest boons to wildlife management.

Populations of most wildlife species are increasing. Annual harvest of deer has more than doubled in the last 20 years. The annual harvest of morning doves is over 40 million. beavers and buffalo.

These and other encouraging facts are being brought out in a new 20-minute slide presentation produced by CIBA-GEIGY Corporation. The purpose of the 68-slide color program, "Agriculture and the Environment," is to identify the role of agricultural scientists in combating pollution.

It points out that agricultural science, when viewed in perspective, is a powerful force in fighting environmental pollution.

The presentation, which includes script, slides and color brochures, is ideal for classroom, garden clubs, civic or social groups. It is available on free-loan, or is for sale, at cost, for $15. Requests should be sent to Venard Film Distribution, 113 N. E. Madison Avenue, Peoria, Illinois 61602.
