Resignation of Connors As Principal Officially Accepted by School Board Mitchell Appointed Interim Principal

BOARD MOVES TO PROCEED WITH BUILDING ADDITION

By Ruth Held
of the Kewaskum Statesman

The resignation of Edward C. Connors as principal of Kewaskum Community High School was officially accepted by the Board of Education Monday night. He resigned Jan. 19, effective that day.

The board moved to pay Connors the salary due him to Jan. 19, based on a 220-day school year. That matter was discussed in an executive session held before the meeting.

Also, in executive session, the board agreed to have Supt. Floyd Brenholt appoint C. E. Mitchell as interim high school principal. Mitchell has been on the high school staff since 1942. Previously, he has served as interim principal and principal.

The board moved to proceed with working drawings and contracts for a proposed building which will be needed next fall when split shifting is adopted. Representatives of Schutte-Mochon architectural firm were present to discuss the type of bidding procedure that will be used.

Architects Jack Fieweger and Ray Juerrists discussed with the board conventional contract bidding and contract management bidding. Fieweger said, "we will sit down and analyze the bids both ways and go in the direction to effect the biggest saving to the district." But he said he doubts that the spread between the two types would be big because the building project is comparatively small.

Two other questions need answering now, the architects pointed out. One is where in the proposed building would plumbing be located for the home economics or art area that this building will evolve into in the future. The second is the location of a basement in the event of a future addition. The architects were asked to return to the Feb. 14 meeting with more data.

The board discussed the possibility of the district buying a car for use primarily of teachers who must travel to three outlying schools to instruct. Supt. Brenholt stated figures on how the cost of owning a car compares with reimbursing teachers at the rate of 10 cents per mile for their travel.

Presently five teachers travel to outlying schools — three music, one art, one physical education and a speech therapist. Two are a husband and wife team and each must go separately. Total mileage paid last school year was for 35,000 miles.

Brenholt said he believes a new car, properly maintained, could be driven six years or more. At that time, a $3,000 car would be worth about $500, for a 3.5 cents per mile depreciation. Basing his figures on initial cost, depreciation, insurance, repairs, license and cost of operation, his figures showed cost of owning would run to 8.8 cents or a saving of 1.2

cent per mile.

He also figured possible cost of buying a used car, an idea favored by Gerald Secor and Richard L. Edwards. Brenholt pointed out though the depreciation would not be as high, somewhat higher repair costs could be expected and cost of operation would probably be the same. Gerald Zimmel, Richard Theusch and Thomas Gundrum were named as a committee to bring back a recommendation.

The board recommended that a citizens committee on long-range planning be formed and that each board member bring to the Feb. 14 meeting names of three persons whom they feel would be worthy committee members. It was the feeling members should represent various occupational backgrounds. One teacher, one student and Brenholt would complete the group.

Brenholt noted the importance of long-range plans. "Only in this way can we coordinate educational needs with buildings, sites, staff, budgets, school organization, etc." It would be the duty of the citizens committee to take a survey of what the community feels the school should be doing and come to an agreement on differences of opinion. Brenholt said. The committee would meet at least monthly.

The question of whether to give driver education to some freshmen who are over 15 years of age was discussed. It was decided the high school teaching staff should be allowed to make the decision, based on the student's scheduling and nearness to age 16. It was Brenholt's opinion that, "if we're going to meet individual needs of students, we're going to have to make some concessions."

Approved were some recommendations for curriculum changes for the high school for next year. A cutback in the physical education program would require juniors and seniors to take only one semester instead of one full year. Classes would concentrate on life sports more than team activities, since one of the objectives is to develop skill which can be used in a person's lifetime.

If there were sufficient registrations, advanced biology, advanced inorganic chemistry and organic chemistry would be offered. Industrial synthetics II, drafting and metals would be added to industrial arts, probably necessitating staff additions, plus about $6,000 in equipment.

Offering a survey course in business education at the junior high level is also included in the recommendations. It would expose students to the business field, allowing them to have some knowledge to make decisions on this as a work field. This type of course is now offered in industrial arts and home economics.

Also recommended is a typing II course for better prepare students for clerical office practice and to enable those unable to take office practice to take an additional year of typing.

To home economics would be

Award Manthei Another Medal Posthumously

HONORED WITH MILITARY MERIT MEDAL OF VIETNAM

The Government of the Republic of Vietnam has awarded its Military Merit Medal posthumously to Warrant Officer James W. Manthei son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Manthei of 206 Third St., Kewaskum.

The 20-year-old serviceman was co pilot and gunner on a helicopter when it was shot down over Southeast Asia last March 21. This is the eighth medal awarded to Manthei, who previously had been awarded seven American posthumous awards for bravery. He is one of the most decorated area war heroes.

The presentation to Manthei's parents was made by Major Gary Brown, Army advisor for the 53rd Aviation Co., Army National Guard, West Bend, as the ranking area Army officer.

Manthei was fatally injured when, as gunner on a helicopter which was protecting another rescue helicopter, he was shot and he took over operation of the copter and it failed and crashed after the aircraft received numerous hits. He was also awarded citations for exceptional valorous action and distinguishing himself in previous aerial flights against a hostile force in Vietnam.

The Vietnamese award is presented to U.S. servicemen "of courage and rare self sacrifice who displayed at all times the most tactful cooperation while aiding the armed forces of Vietnam to repel the Red wave undermining South Vietnam and Southeast Asia."

"With a ready zeal and commendable response they fought on to the end in every mission and set a brilliant example for fellow soldiers. They died in performance of duty. Behind them they leave the abiding grief of their former comrades in arms, Vietnamese as well as American."

Public tribune to Manthei and his family was paid last fall during half-time at a Kewaskum High School football game when seven posthumous American medals for bravery were presented to his parents. The Mantheis presented the school with their son's American flag to be flown at the high school.

Jim was an outstanding football player on the high school team and set a school record when he ran 75 yards from scrimmage for a touchdown. He was also a varsity basketball player and participated in track.

added a survey course for junior and senior boys to include some food preparation, etiquette, clothing, etc. Vocational or practical English and modern poetry would be added to the English department. The English course would be designed for the student who needs more work in basic reading, writing, speaking, listening and other skills needed in the every day world.

The Spanish department would be rearranged to eliminate the labels of Spanish III and IV and

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

January 25, 1972

Editor, The Kewaskum Statesman
Kewaskum, Wisconsin 53040
Dear Sir:

To the Kewaskum School District

As a 1965 graduate of Campbellsport High School and a teacher in a well-administered public high school, I was abhorred to read of the action Mr. Connors was forced to take at Kewaskum High School. The character of the man you are losing is evident in his published statement. The fact of his resignation indicates his sincere concern for the situation your school is in. Had he not cared, he would have closed his eyes to the problems and continued accepting a salary for NOT doing his job, and let the quality of education for the students continue to decline. In spite of being so unkindly treated, he refers to Kewaskum as a fine community. Such generosity is rare, and obviously was not extended to him.

Young people today demand to be allowed to "do their own thing," and resent being judged according to appearance. Therefore, adults have adjusted their standards to accept bizarre dress and unkempt appearance in an effort to recognize a person for what he is, rather than what he looks like. I find it ironic and hypocritical that these same young people make fun of an adult because his appearance and/or policies do not please their fancies. Why is this person in a position of authority not given the same respect they demand from "the establishment"?

In your social studies classes, you have been taught that in a democracy every individual has rights, and these rights have corresponding duties. A principal's duty is the administration of the school, and his rights guarantee him the respect of the position. Each student has the right to a free education; the student's duty is to prepare for the responsibilities of citizenship in a democracy. Are they preparing by holding a sit-in in the gym? This more nearly resembles the temper tantrum the four-year-old throws on the kitchen floor when his mother refuses to let him play with a dangerous object.

Although the community does not seem to understand the function of a high school principal, the school board will probably seek applications for the position. It will be difficult to fill the vacancy, unless the authority of the position is guaranteed to the applicants and recognized by students, teachers and parents.

County Group Meets To Formulate Drug Information Center

Some 50 Washington County residents gathered last Wednesday night at Silverbrook Middle School, West Bend, to listen to a group of young citizens who are in the process of formulating what will be called the Washington County Drug Information Center.

Those attending included police officers and clergymen, teachers and social workers, students and school administrators.

All, for varying reasons, came to hear what aims the group had and what functions it hoped to provide to the West Bend community.

Three members of the Madison Drug Information Center opened the program by describing what their center was doing to provide information to people in that city.

But they admitted that West Bend was not Madison and an individual program would have to be suited to West Bend if it was to meet its particular needs.

DRUG CENTER GETS BACKING

The Washington County Medical Society has endorsed the organization of a Washington County Drug Information Center and has offered its moral and financial support, it was announced Friday.

After a question and answer session with the Madison speakers, the local youths spoke to the specific problems in West Bend and Washington County as well as what steps they had taken and what they saw ahead.

Bob Welsh, a senior at West Bend East High School, read some facts and figures he had gathered on the drug problem in this area. He said estimates ranged from 20 to 50 per cent of the number of high schoolers in West Bend who had experimented with marijuana or other drugs.

Twenty of 21 arrests for drugs in the City of West Bend were people under 21, he said. Of 15 arrests by the county, eight were solely for marijuana while the other seven involved some other type of drugs as well.

The total drugs confiscated by the city and county amounted to 26½ pounds of marijuana and thousands of pills as well as some heroin.

Welsh pointed out that the biggest problem in the area was getting the people to admit that there is a problem and then doing something about it.

"A hot line is a start... a step in the right direction," he said.

Diane Steinmetz, also a senior at East, explained that the group was now in the process of trying to raise funds to allow 30 people to take a course offered by the "Drug Understanding Institute" to form the nucleus for an answering service in West Bend.

She said they temporarily had a small office in the old library, but they were looking for larger quarters for the future.

Dr. James Albrecht, who has been very active in aiding alcoholics over the past decade, said he was "just as pleased as punch to support this group" and offered to arrange a loan for the group to get the training program underway. The program will cost $1,250.

A spokesman for the group pointed out that while the group now has a referral list, most of those on it were located in Milwaukee, and local lawyers, social workers and others had to be found if the information center was to be a worthwhile function.

He also said the group was very interested in speaking before various civic groups to get support, both vocally and financially, for their operation.

He envisioned that, like the Madison center, a center in West Bend would get involved in handling and referring problems on arrests, welfare and rent, as well.

Drive carefully.

Fred Buss and family are now occupying the upper flat in the Fancher Colvin residence on West Water St. Mrs. Wm. Schmidt moved from her farm south of the village into the former Herman Meilahn home on West Water St.

The Misses Ada and Meta Schulz, students at Bushey Business College, Appleton, spent the Boss: "Jones, you disappoint me. I've been told that you were seen at the New Year's party, intoxicated, pushing a wheelbarrow around the room."

Jones: "Why, yes, I thought you approved."

Boss: "Of course not. Why should I?"

Jones: "You were riding in the wheelbarrow."

A lot of people's idea of perfect exercise is rolling in money.

Orval Behnke Lions Club Guest Speaker

The 2nd meeting of the month for the Kewaskum Lions Club was held Jan. 25. Special guest speaker was Orval Behnke, a well known insurance agent and a member of the village board.

Behnke started the evening by reading some of the ordinances that are on the "books" from the olden days, which was quite amusing in our modern day atmosphere. He went on talking about and explaining our local tax structure and its intended use. Because of the nature of the subject and the excellent way it was delivered, many questions were asked of Behnke. Because of the short time that remained, he was asked to come back again or any other board member for that matter, to discuss and learn more about the village.

One new guest was present. A thank you note was read by Lion President, Bob Kirst, which was received from one of the children who received a Christmas gift while being at St. Joseph's hospital as a patient over Christmas.

On Jan. 11, the club met and had 3 new guests. An eye examination and the glasses will be given to a child of a local family.

Two grizzled mountaineers came down from the hills and met in town. "How's things at home?" asked one.

Well, my wife ain't talkin' to me this morning, and I ain't in the mood to interrupt her."

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 53

At the Jan. 27 meeting the patrol leaders collected dues. Then Mrs. Harlow took the 6th graders and did the dance - called the Virginia Reel for the Woman's Club. The 4th and 5th graders made name tags which look like Norwegian faces and they did that with Mrs. McClain. Then Mrs. Harlow took the 4th and 5th graders and did the dance called Gustav's Skool, a Danish drinking song. The 6th graders then made the name tags. The patrol leaders and scribe painted a paper mache fish as a donation box for the Folk Fair.

At 7:20 Mrs. McClain called all the girls into the main room. Bonnie Schrauth made food charts for a badge. Then on Feb. 3 the girls went ice skating. We met at the Kewaskum Elementary School rink or the Legion house from 5:00 until 6:00. After ice skating we had a meeting and hot chocolate and potato chips.

Mayville's Strong Rebounding Tips Indians, 63-51

Kewaskum hosted Mayville's Scenic Moraine leaders Friday and went down to defeat for the second time at the hands of the powerful Cardinals, 63-51. This time out though the Indians made a contest of it, at least in the first half, and cut the margin of defeat to 12 points after losing by 27 at Mayville earlier, 74-47. The setback evened the Indians' record to 5-5 in the conference and boosted Mayville's to 9-1, 3 full games ahead of second place Germantown, with only 4 more to play.

The Cardinals' superior height and rebounding spelled the difference between the teams. Led by 6-4 Jeff Stieve and 6-3 Dan Heim, Mayville controlled the boards and out-rebounded the Indians badly, 42-28.

Kewaskum stayed with Mayville in the first half and even led at one time in the second quarter. The Indians trailed by only 3 points, 27-24, at halftime and the Cardinals had only 2 more rebounds up to that point. In the third period, however, Mayville began dominating both boards and broke the game open. They out-scored Kewaskum 18-10 in the quarter to lead 45-34 and maintained that advantage the rest of the way although the last quarter was evenly played.

Kewaskum was hurt in the third period when their leading scorer, Glen Eichstedt, got into foul trouble and had to sit out much of the remainder of the game. This gave the Cardinals a big assist as they were able to hold down the Indians' offense.

Big Stieve really caused Kewaskum a lot of trouble as he led both teams with 20 rebounds and at the same time scored 14 points. Practically on a par with him was his running mate Heim, leading scorer in the conference, who scored 26 points, tops for the evening, and also snared 13 rebounds. Dennis Toellner chipped in 15 points. For the Indians, Craig Carr had one of his best nights with 18 points and Mitch Misko led in rebounds with 8. He also scored 9 points and Eichstedt contributed 10 while he was in the game.

Mayville is now 13-1 overall for the season, their only upset coming at the hands of Grafton when they were told some of their players were ill.

Kewaskum's JV's also were dumped by Mayville, 59-32. Fischer paced the visitors with 17 points and Fickler led Kewaskum with 12. In the afternoon at Mayville the Indian freshmen also lost 48-45 to make it a clean sweep. It took a strong second half performance by the unbeaten Cardinal frosh to pull out the win. Kewaskum was ahead at halftime 18-16 but Krecklow's 10 points in the third period and 21 overall were too much for Kewaskum. Bill Zacho led the local frosh with 13 points, while Mike Koepke had 12 and Scott Koth 10.

The varsity has another tough one in the fire tonight when they travel to Germantown to face the second place Warhawks. The Indians were nipped by one point, 76-75, in their first outing here.

Faculty - Auxiliary Police Game Sunday

The Kewaskum High School gym is the location where, at 2 p. m. Sunday, the KCHS faculty will deal a few surprises to the Kewaskum Auxiliary Police. Caging on a mutual court, these rival teams are playing to support a scholarship fund for the senior class and to supplement the auxiliary police fund.

Suffering a severe loss of manpower to the auxiliary police, the faculty hopes to have reinforcements from a benevolent surprise team. Fighting for the faculty will be John Breaker, Chet Czoschke, David Stradtman, Hollie DeMotts, Ken Erickson, Dennis Reha, Bill Wuebben, and Dale Squire. Injured Mike Williams and Jim Westphal two strong shooters, unfortunately won't be contributing because of injuries acquired previously.

A strong auxiliary police team consisting of Neal Denniston, Jan Rosenthal, George Allmann, Fran Charland, Howard Zemlicka, Richard Zarling, and the other men we see parking cars or directing traffic, will give the underdog faculty team a good work-out.

Being a tough game to referee, Orv Behnke and Cy Wieter have
