Woodmen Honor William Schaub

Fifty-eight members and their families of Modern Woodmen of America Camp 2233, Kewaskum, and guests attended a recognition and awards dinner at Camelot Country Club near Lomira Wednesday evening, Sept. 28, to honor William Schaub of Kewaskum.

Schaub, 84, was cited for his outstanding service to the community and its members. He joined the Woodmen in January of 1936 and has been a faithful and active member ever since. Schaub also served as an officer of the Modern Woodmen.

On March 13, 1936 Schaub was hired by the Village of Kewaskum as Superintendent of Public Works. He served 22 years in that capacity until his retirement in 1958. Prior to that he was in the garage business in Kewaskum many years. Bill also served as a volunteer fireman for the Kewaskum Fire Department for 45 years. He joined the department in 1915 and retired in 1960.

Door prizes were awarded and card playing and socializing followed the dinner.

The next Woodmen camp activity will be a public benefit card party to be held Thursday, Oct. 20, at the Legion Hall in Kewaskum at 7:30 p. m. Proceeds will be used towards playground equipment for the new park.

Joe Schwind (left), council of Camp 2233, presented the certificate of recognition to Mr. Schaub.

Junior Women To Meet Oct. 13

The Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Valley Bank on Thursday, Oct. 13, at 8:00 p. m.

"What is Child Abuse and the Causes? How Can We Help to Prevent Them?" will be presented by Karen Bonet of the Washington County Department of Social Services and Pam Salters of Open Door. It should prove to be a very effective program.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Ros Kiefer, Mrs. Sherry Miller, Mrs. Joan Stoffel and Mrs. Char Rademacher.

Guests and prospective members are always welcome to attend.

Resignation Accepted by School Board

The Kewaskum Board of Education met in special session Monday night to act on a few items which required a decision by the board before the regular Oct. 17 meeting.

One of those items was a resignation from Lora White, speech therapist. She had submitted her resignation to be effective Oct. 7. The board accepted her resignation and approved her release from her contract on a 4-2 vote. Mrs. White resigned because her husband accepted a position in Kansas.

A contract to run from Oct. 10 to Dec. 16, was approved for Patricia Baker as speech therapist. She had formerly taught in the district and resigned when she was married. Mrs. Baker agreed to work during this period, and it is hoped that semester graduates can be hired to fill the positions open.

Jean Goeden, John Tessar and Dr. Ogi were appointed to serve on a board committee to hear grievances resulting from the master agreement with the teachers.

A closed session was held after the regular meeting to discuss teacher negotiations and a personnel question.

Field Narrowed to One for Painting Water Tower at Busy Board Meeting

By MARYANNE MERWIN
Statesman Staff Writer

The issue of painting the water tower was again tabled by the Village Board Monday night when Charles Miller asked that the Board contact the Water Tower Paint and Repair Co. "once more."

The Board narrowed the field of painting firms to the Water Tower Paint and Repair Co., because they are based in Wisconsin and because of their good reputations with neighboring municipalities. Fredonia had told Raynor Herriges that the work of the painters had been excellent and that the company's men checked their tower every year under a maintenance agreement. Pat Nigh received similar comments when he checked the company's reputation with Elkhorn. Elkhorn's spokesman told Nigh that they were in the fifth year of a seven year contract and were well pleased with the company's maintenance work; he did emphasize, however, that their own superintendent from their water department inspects the job personally both before and after completion.

Some discussion then followed as to the merits of a videotape inspection from the ground as opposed to an on site scrutiny of both the outside and the inside of the tank. Raynor Herriges said that welding, because of the piece-work nature of the charges, could well run into the $15,000 category. Painting of the exterior and cleaning and coating the interior of the tank has been estimated at $6,027 without welding. An additional fee of $1,563 would be assessed for each year's maintenance, again without welding.

The interior coating material was also discussed. In previous years a "wax" had been used, but Daniel Schmidt said that this could be the very material that was now "coming loose." Charles Miller thought that such a coating might not even be

Observes 100th Birthday

Mrs. Regine Roessler of Cedarburg, mother of Mrs. Frank Sell, R. 2, Kewaskum, observed her 100th birthday on Thursday, Sept. 22.

She was honored at a one o'clock family dinner party on Sunday, Sept. 22 at the Sell home. Guests included her daughter Emily Krueger, Cedarburg, with whom she makes her home; Regine Herget of Germany, her niece and godchild and Mr. and Mrs. Erich Diewock and family of Breckenridge, Colorado. Mrs. Diewock is a daughter of the Sells. Another daughter of Mrs. Roessler, Mrs. Louis Bryhan of Grafton was unable to attend.

Regine was also given a surprise birthday party by the St. Paul Lutheran Church

Ladies Aid Society of Grafton on the day of her birthday. A group of German friends also honored her at a party at River Park in Grafton.

Mrs. Roessler is taking life a bit easier, but she's not just sitting around. She still gets to church regularly and spends time walking outdoors each day.

Hesdorf, Bavaria, was the birthplace of Mrs. Roessler born Regine Dotter, the second of 11 children. Her father was a farmer and at one time owned a great deal of land. Memories of exactly what happened are clouded, but the family lost a great deal. Regine was out in the fields working by the time she was six or seven years old. At the "sanctioned" within the next year. All agreed that the newer "epoxy coatings" that were available were the best choice.

Another water matter confronted the Board in the form of an upcoming hearing in West Bend. The DNR has rescheduled its September hearing which was to be held in Milwaukee concerning Washington County municipalities whose wastewater empties into the Milwaukee River. Oct. 13, at 1:00 p. m. in the lower auditorium of the new court house Peter Albers, the Superintendent of Wastewater Treatment in Kewaskum, will give an account of Kewaskum's "tertiary treatment" for control of residual ammonia. In the past, Albers has reported that the level is "well below" levels considered "acceptable." This hearing will be open to the public.

The Administrative Committee (Daniel Schmidt, Pat Nigh, Mark Kral and Robert Danielsen) will be taking "another look" at the village fees charged for all its permits. The present charge for a dance permit prompted the action to review the entire spectrum including park use permits and bartenders' licensing. The present fee for dance permits is $18; the officer on duty receives $17 for that night and the village receives $1 of that money. Commissioner William Martin says that a considerable number of permits are issued throughout the year — over $600 in permits has been collected to date this year. This represents the total fee and not only the village's portion of those permits issued. Park permits actually bring the village no revenue since the entire fee is returned to the applicant when the attendant is satisfied that kitchen privileges have not been abused.

Bartenders' licenses were issued by the Board to Ervin M. Schmitt and Robert Schneider for Schmitt's Never Inn.

Applications for building permits were granted for two new one-family homes. Jaeger Construction will build one on Knights Avenue, and Leroy Zipperer will begin construction of a home in the Bel Ric Acres Subdivision.

Due to the breakdown of the heating system in the village-owned house on Fond du Lac Avenue, the residents of that property have been asked to find different living quarters by Oct. 15. The property was purchased more as a buffer to a right of way than in order to gain rental revenue.

Fire Chief August Bilgo and Capt. Don Ehnert will be sent to the Annual Statewide Fire Prevention Inspection Seminar in Wausau from Oct. 24 to 27. Upgrading local fire inspection and discussion of smoke detection devices are among the topics for consideration by fire officials.

Dan Schmidt asked that the Job Study be tabled again so that Board members could have a chance to bring positive revisions and comments with them next time. He is certain that some changes will be made, and asked other members of the Board to "write down any additions" they felt should be added.

Dan Schmidt and David Nigh gave their report on the amount of sidewalk needed in areas now completely without it. They measured "a little under ten miles." President Charles Miller quipped, "Can you buy that stuff on a roll?"

Some revenue is forthcoming from delinquent personal property taxes, most of which date back to 1972. A total of $5,250.21 collectively owed by seven parties is due the village, and some of it is being collected in the near future. Attorney Gerald Kiefer, submitted his report which indicated that several people had already responded to inquiries about their delinquency in a positive manner. The cost of water "sold" to Campbellsport about two weeks ago when both their pumps were being repaired will be discussed at a future meeting. Commissioner Martin said that normal rates ranged from 9c to 32c per 1,000 gallons, with 9c being charged after 4 million gallons had been pumped. Campbellsport used only 273,000 from Kewaskum in the two days their pumps disfunctioned. However, the second day they brought in water from Eden as well.

Before adjournment some traffic problems were brought to the Board's attention by Judy Harlow. She first asked about the stop signs requested by the citizens in the Hillside area. Dan Schmidt said that Police Chief Hlavaty's written report would indicate that the need would be greater when the new park opened and would not recommend them at the present time. Schmidt said that Hlavaty could change his mind if enough citizens were to call and express their concern. Harlow also asked about the "island" at the intersection of Fond du Lac and Main; she said that trucks seemed to have difficulty negotiating turns at that point. Dan Schmidt said he would take the matter up with the state Highway Commission in the near future.

age of 12 she was hired out to work in order to help her family financially. At 14 Regine went to the city to work as a maid and kitchen helper for a doctor's family. Again, all her earnings were sent home to help the family.

In 1903 at the age of 27 she married Frank Roessler in Frankfurth, Germany in Die Weise Frauen Kirche, the Wise Virgin Church.

Regine Dotter's life didn't change much when she married. Her family couldn't afford to give her the customary trousseau and the couple started their life together much as it had been before - quite poor.

"My father went from town to town cutting wood for people that could afford such services, and my mother helped along," Mrs. Krueger said. Mrs. Roessler lost a middle finger in a steam driven saw.

A promise of easy money in the United States and an incurable wanderlust brought the Roesslers to the United States. They were sponsored by Mrs. Roessler's uncle in Tomahawk with whom they lived for a couple of months before coming to this area.

The couple found America meant a lot of hard work if you were going to have anything. By 1958 they had saved enough money so they could return to Germany for a visit. At the time she was a young 82.

Mr. Roessler died in 1969 at the age of 93.

In 1971 her daughter Emily took her to Germany to visit relatives and to see her last brother who passed away a month later. It was during this trip that Mrs. Roessler paid a visit to one of her favorite places. Together with relatives she climbed that mile high mountain. At that time she was only 91.

Nine years later she's looking back on one hundred years of what was not an easy life. She and the late Frank Roessler have left a legacy though: three daughters, 13 grandchildren, 25 great-grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Child Find Program Comes to County

Child Find is a nationwide effort to locate and identify handicapped children. Child Find is looking for children with physical, mental, emotional and learning problems who are not now receiving a free, appropriate, public education. By children we mean individuals ages birth to 21.

In Washington County the Child Find Program has its office at St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend. Judith F. Bringe is the coordinator of this program.

"Every child has the right to a free appropriate education. This includes children with special problems, no matter how serious," says Ms. Bringe. "These children, like all others, deserve the chance to reach their full potential. Since these children have special needs, they can benefit from special educational programs."

But there is a first step. Find the child.

This may not be as easy as it sounds. A child's problem may not be obvious, and, in the early years, the parents may be the only ones who know if the child has a special problem. This may also be true for school age children whose problems have kept them out of school.

Congress has responded to this need. All states are required by law to find handicapped children who are not getting an appropriate education.

Handicap may include a variety of problems. Some of which could be: Physical, crippling or orthopedic disability, mental retardation or other development disabilities, hearing impairment, visual disability, speech or language disability, emotional disturbance, learning disability.

"Not every problem is listed. If you suspect that your child has a disability that would hamper his or her education, please call us. Finding the child and educating them gives them a chance to meet their full potential," says Ms. Bringe.

Once you have contacted us we will send out a form to you to request a screening for the child. This screening is provided at no cost to you. All information you send us will be kept confidential.

Help us find the child for the child's sake.

Call collect 1-414-338-3418 or write: Child Find Washington Area Schools, Cooperative Educational Service Agency 16, P.O. Box 974, West Bend, WI. 53095.

MPTI's Women's Center Features Four Courses Here

Morning or evening, Kewaskum area residents will have an opportunity to participate in some of the unique courses offered by MPTI's Women's Center.

The Women's Center, which provides services to enrich the lives and realize the full potential of women in the district, will run a class as soon as ten people sign up for one. One of the courses we are offering in Kewaskum is "Sex Discrimination and the Law," a course which has created a lot of interest elsewhere. It stresses the legal rights of women and will be taught by West Bend attorney, Elaine Shanebrook, on Wednesday evenings from 7:00 - 9:45 p. m. for a cost of $4.30.

The course will examine typical cases from family law, criminal law, property law and employment law. Participants will develop an awareness of the ways in which the law has kept women in a dependent position as well as areas in which significant changes have been made for women.

"Job Finding Skills," a four week course pertinent to anyone who wants to enter the job market, change jobs or upgrade his or her status on the job, will be offered in the morning when 10 people have indicated an interest. The class, taught by Alice Ridolfi, Communications instructor at MPTI, will identify each participant's goals and skills, in order to aid her in finding the right job. The course will include techniques for writing letters of inquiry and resumes, researching the job market and answering questions at interviews.

Women and men who wonder what they'll be doing in the future, or who want to make changes in their lives, but don't know quite how to begin should consider registering for a morning class titled: "Where Have I Been,

Where Am I Going?" instructed by John Auten, who has a Master's degree in Social Work and experience as a teacher, as well. This course will help participants gain insight into themselves. Auten will use paper-pencil exercises, value clarification techniques and discussion to help participants examine their goals, values, and ability to make decisions.

The fourth course, "Coping with Stress," will be offered in the evening for four weeks: It will help participants identify stress in their lives, learn the connection between our minds and our bodies when it comes to identifying and dealing with stress, and learn specific techniques for coping with stressful situations. Each four week course will cost $4.30. You must register in advance by calling 626-2166. Talk up the class in which you are interested with your friends, so that ten will sign up soon!

MPTI's Women's Center is coordinated by Kay Stellpflug of Beaver Dam and is a program of the Community Services Division of MPTI administered by Ron Hall. Mary Thompson, Women's Center Program Specialist for Washington County, will be glad to answer questions or speak with your organization about the center. Call 675-2284 or 334-3413, and leave a message if necessary.

Fire Prevention Week Coming Oct. 9-15

Fire Prevention Week 1977 will be observed Oct. 9-15 in neighborhoods and factories, schools and businesses throughout the United States and Canada. Sponsor of the international event since its beginning more than a half-century ago has been the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA).

"Today, as much as in the early 1920s when Fire Prevention Week was established, every man, woman and child in America needs to practice fire prevention — not just one week each October, but all year long," states NFPA President Charles S. Morgan.

"Although there have been great recent advances in the science of fire fighting, there has been even faster growth in the potential for fire in our modern environment," Morgan observes.

Common household goods made of plastics, the gas dispensed along with the products from some aerosol containers, the multitude of handy small electrical appliances. . . . All help make life easier but also can contribute to the fire problem, he explains.

For instance, Morgan points out, some of the chemicals which go into the making of those comfortable foam mattresses and furniture cushions give off thick, intensely uncomfortable, even life-threatening smoke when they catch fire.

Because more fire victims die from smoke inhalation than from actual burns, emphasis in fire prevention education now includes preparation for fast evacuation in an emergency, the NFPA President notes.

This means getting everyone out of a fire before its poisonous smoke has a chance to befuddle people's thinking and cause loss of consciousness. Recent development of low-cost home fire detection equipment has been an invaluable step forward in providing the early warning needed to escape, says Morgan. The National Fire Protection Association strongly advocates installation of smoke and heat detection systems in all residences.

"Environment" is a popular subject today. Because of the ever-increasing "fire load" where we live and work — due to the materials with which modern society functions — "environment" is perhaps the most important aspect of today's fire problem," according to the NFPA President.

"Keeping informed about everyday fire hazards and knowing what to do about them is the best way for each person to avoid becoming a statistic in the fire loss column."

Governor Proclaims
Oct. 2-8 4-H Week

Gov. Martin J. Schreiber officially proclaimed Oct. 2-8 as "Wisconsin 4-H Week" in a ceremony Sept. 28 in his office at the State Capitol.

Schreiber urged all citizens "to recognize the importance of the 4-H program in Wisconsin" during 4-H Week.

Calling boys and girls "our greatest natural resources," the governor cited 4-H for helping 82,000 Wisconsin youth acquire "essential life skills" this year through group activities and individual projects.

He also praised 4-H for "providing opportunities" for 22,000 parents and other adults to serve as volunteer leaders to plan and carry out these programs with kids.

There are 1,200 4-H members in Washington County and 400 4-H leaders, according to Bob Stodola, UW-Extension 4-H and Youth Agent in Washington County.

4-H, which is 63 years old in the state, is open to youth 9 - 19, says Stodola. If you would like to join 4-H as a member or a leader, "4-H Week is a perfect time," he says.

Lisa Kalian of Hubertus placed first in the Hunt Seat Equitation for 12-14 yr. olds competition at the State 4-H Horse show in Madison Sept. 10 - 11.

The Washington County 4-H'er is one of 450 horse and pony project 4-H members who competed for honors at the Dane County Fairgrounds.

Other Washington County participants and their placings include: Kris Nickels of Hartford placed in the top 10 champions in the Hunt Seat Equitation; Melissa Wick of Hartford placed sixth in the Western Showmanship; Sheri Kempfer of West Bend placed sixth in the English Showmanship 12 - 14 yr. olds; Kris Nickels of Hartford placed sixth in the Hunter Under Saddle; Lisa Kalian placed third in the Hunter Under Saddle age 12 - 14; Sheri Kempfer placed 4th in the Saddle Seat; Renee Feyrer of Kewaskum placed fifth in the Western Horsemanship age 14; Cindy Hoffmann of Jackson placed fifth in the Western Horsemanship age 13, and Sheri Kempfer placed fourth in the Saddle Seat Equitation.

The Washington County riders presented the Honor Guard for the show and the group won second in the herdsman's competition.

The competitors exhibited their skills in showmanship and performance classes and a horseman's display says Ray Antoniewicz, University of Wisconsin Extension horse specialist. A judging contest gave the 4-H'ers a chance to judge the classes and compare their judgment with the official horse show judge's placings.

Almost 100 horse industry contributors in Wisconsin sponsor prizes for the State 4-H Horse Show.

Hug Memorial
To Provide 4-H
Scholarships

The Washington County 4-H leaders have accepted funds from the family of Marie Hug to establish a scholarship in her memory. Mrs. Hug had been a secretary in the county 4-H office for many years.

The scholarship will be used annually for youth to attend the State 4-H Congress. The congress is a leadership conference for high school age 4-H members held at the University of Wisconsin Campus at Madison. It provides an opportunity for delegates to have a personal experience and develop self-confidence. They have an opportunity to express and exchange ideas with other members from throughout the state. They can increase knowledge in selected subject matter areas and converse with campus specialists.

In addition to being a good personal experience, the conference helps develop leadership abilities that can be used in the local 4-H club. Members may apply for this scholarship by completing an out-of-county trip application form which can be gotten from their local 4-H leader. Applications for the 1978 congress are due by Oct. 30.

The Washington County Commission on Aging has asked a group of volunteers to conduct a survey of county residents over 60 years of age. The purpose of the survey is to assess the needs of older adults and determine whether or not they are met or can be met by the various services available in the county. The persons to be interviewed will be contacted by telephone to set up an appointment convenient for them.

The survey will include questions about health needs, transportation, nutrition and recreation. The information will be treated in confidence by the interviewer and the Commission. It is the Commission's hope that those contacted will be cooperative so that it can serve the over 60 age group more appropriately.

Grafton Has to Come From Behind In Last Quarter to Defeat Indians

The two powers in the conference, Grafton and Germantown, had their hands full to remain undefeated in last weekend's games. Grafton had to come from behind with 19 points in the last quarter to defeat winless Kewaskum Saturday afternoon at Grafton, 25-13, and Germantown just squeezed past Hartland, 22-21. The two leaders will clash head-on next week.

It was the fifth straight loss overall for the Indians, 3 of them in the Scenic. One consolation is that Kewaskum has played the toughest part of its schedule, meeting three of the top teams first.

For more than three quarters the Indians had an upset in the making at Grafton. But the final six minutes proved fatal as the Blackhawks came up with three scores to pull it out. Naturally the bigger and more experienced Grafton team (5-0) was heavily favored. The Indians came to play and led, 13-6, after three quarters.

After a 0-0 first quarter, Grafton drove 65 yards for the first score in the second quarter. Dave Brewster took it in from the seven after he had made a 34 yard sprint. The extra point went wide.

Then after the Blackhawks failed on a fourth down try, the Indians took over on their own 40. On the first play Mike Schaub broke loose around right end, broke a couple of tackles, and scored a 60 yard touchdown. Mike Pettit's successful extra point gave Kewaskum a 7-6 lead.

With a good ground attack by Pettit, Schaub, Al Jaeger and Greg Eichstaedt late in the half, the Indians again drove inside the Grafton 10. But with a half minute remaining a 26 yard field goal attempt went wide.

The Indians got their second score in the third quarter when Jaeger teamed up with Wayne Endlich on a 58 yard pass play, set up on a 35 yard run by Jaeger, who took the ball to near midfield. A high snap forced Jaeger to run and he was stopped short for the extra points.

With the wind behind them in the last quarter, Grafton drove 77 yards to tie the contest with 5:01 remaining. The Indians had trouble punting and the Blackhawks got the ball again on Kewaskum's 28. Quarterback Greg Merchen then hit Steve Strenger with a 27 yard strike for the go-ahead score. On the first play after the kickoff, Schaub fumbled and Grafton pounced on it at the Indian three. Seconds later they scored again.

The final score does not indicate the closeness of the game. Statistics show that Grafton had 307 yards, only seven more than the Indians' 300.

In the two other Scenic games, Mayville edged Kettle Moraine, 7-6, and Pewaukee beat Slinger, 8-0.

This Friday night at 7:30 p. m. Kewaskum hosts Kettle Moraine in its homecoming game and hopes to salvage its first victory. This could be a problem as the Lasers are 2-1 and quite strong.

Unbeaten Girls Golf Team Wins Conference Title

The Kewaskum girls golf team came home soaked but happy from the Scenic Moraine Conference meet at Hartford Friday with a perfect score to end their conference year. They finished first in the meet with a score of 229, nine better than second place Grafton.

Scheduled to be an 18 hole affair, the meet was called after nine holes due to the wet conditions.

First place gave Kewaskum 21 points — 14 from the conference meet and seven from their clean sweep in the dual matches.

Hartland finished third with 242, Mayville fourth 244, Kettle Moraine fifth 249, Slinger sixth 259, Pewaukee 297 and Germantown 305.

Kewaskum also brought home a couple of individual medals. Soph Bobbi Schmidt had the distinction of being conference medalist with a 51 and probably would have done better had it not been for the rain. Junior Denise Dean was also a surprise medal winner. Playing in the ninth of ten foursomes, based on seeding from year averages, Dean fired a 57, good enough for a tie for third.

Chris Nigh had 50 for the champs and Carrie Swanson and Sue Harlow, a freshman, each had 62's.

This was the first golf title won by a Kewaskum girls' team, and it was the first year of coaching for Carol Martin.

In a triangular meet on the front 9 of West Bend Country Club last Tuesday, West Bend West totaled 249 strokes to defeat Grafton 252 and Kewaskum 255. Linda Schuetz was medalist with 52. Nigh led Kewaskum with 59. Except for competition against West Bend teams, and now also Grafton, the Indian team was undefeated.

Illness hit three of Germantown's golfers last Wednesday and they had to forfeit to Kewaskum in their final match. Thus the Indians finished with a perfect 7-0 conference record.

In the regular season final Thursday, three 40 rounds paced West Bend East to a win at Hon-E-Kor over Kewaskum. It ended Suns 201, Indians 219. Connie Rudnickj was medalist with a 45. Nigh was low for Kewaskum with 48 and Schmidt was three shots back.

Cross Country Boys Lose; Girls Unbeaten

Mayville's cross country team, led by No. 1 runner, Dave Schraufnagel, had eight of the top 10 finishers to easily beat Kewaskum Tuesday, 19-45.

Schraufnagel set a course record on the new Hon-E-Kor layout, which is just short of three miles. He came in in 15:31, just over a minute ahead Kewaskum's Dick Kleinmann, second.

Then the Cardinals had six runners come in before Rob Secor 9th, Scott Klein 10th, Dan Murre 12th, Todd Rodenkirch 13th and Joe Zarling 14th.

The Indians are now 0-5 overall.

The girls, unbeaten in duals, won on a forfeit when Mayville had just three runners. Rather than not run at all, the girls ran in the JV boys' race. Barb Wilson and Robin Acker crossed the finish line together, in 20:45 for three miles rather than the usual two used for girls' events. The girls are now 5-0.

GIRLS' TENNIS TEAM FINISHES SEASON 0-6

A loss to Germantown Thursday concluded the regular tennis season for the Kewaskum girls. The team only in its second year, finished 0-6 in the Scenic Moraine.
