When it comes to giving to worthwhile projects like the current United Fund Drive, some people stop at nothing.

Kewaskum to Receive $40,150 in Cost Sharing Funds for New Park

Land acquisition, shelters, ball diamonds, tennis courts and parking lots are some of the examples of projects that communities can receive cost sharing funds for the purchase and development of community recreation programs, according to Tom Blotz, Recreational Aids Specialist for the Southeast District.

"A total of $1,106,750.00 will be given to communities in the Southeast District," noted

Blotz. "The funds for these programs, which have been going on for 10 years, are furnished through the Federal Land and Water Conservation Funds (LAWCON) and the state Outdoor Resources Action Plan (ORAP). Currently 25 municipalities are taking part in the cost sharing program."

Applications are now being taken for the current funding year and information on the program is available from Blotz.

Funded projects for 1977-78 for the Southeast District include one for Kewaskum of $40,150, for parking, multipurpose court, walks and ball diamond fencing in the new park.

Lauer Wins $25 In MD Contest

James Lauer, 815 Pleasantwood Drive, Kewaskum, is the winner of a $25 gift certificate donated by M-M Sporting Goods as one of the eleven runners-up in the 1978 Muscular Dystrophy Carnival Chairman 12-Word Contest.

Contestants had to answer in 12 words why they decided to be a chairman in WISN TV's Carnival Program. Entries were judged by a panel of three judges on the basis of originality, neatness, sincerity, and aptness of thought.

James held an MD carnival with games and a gong show raising $28 of a record breaking 1978 total of $91,400 from the metro Milwaukee area.

Proceeds will help send children to a special summer camp, pay for wheelchairs, braces and other orthopedic aids. The money will also help support the Milwaukee MDA clinic where patients receive medical services free of charge.

Former AFS Student To Try for Olympics

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Degnitz, 9364 Boltonville Road, Village of Boltonville, received a letter this past week from their AFS son, Poonipat "Duke" Padoongtam, 1973-74 school year, that after working for three years in the phy-ed program at his university in Bangkok, Thailand, he won the Green Belt in Judo, entitling him to be on the Thailand Varsity Judo team which will be in the Asian Games for the Olympics December 11.

If his team wins in the Asian Games, they will be able to be in, we hope, the Summer Olympics in California. "Duke" said he hopes to come to the U.S. again to visit his family and friends around Kewaskum.

VAN OWNERS GATHER AT LONG LAKE RESORT

Van owners from throughout the country gathered at Benson's Century Resort camping area at Long Lake over the weekend when Sin City Vans of Sheboygan sponsored its annual Halloween party for van owners and their families. Bill Benson of the resort said that about 350 van units were at the event.

Milwaukee Man Killed By Hit-and-Run Auto

The Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department this week was investigating a traffic accident in which a Milwaukee man walking along Highway 45, about two miles north of Kewaskum, was struck and killed by a hit-and-run vehicle late Saturday night.

The victim, Harold J. Robbins, 26, of 3209 W. Wells Street, Milwaukee, was reported dead at the scene after sustaining severe head and internal injuries, officials said. Fond du Lac County Traffic Police said Robbins apparently was walking on or along the roadway when he was hit.

His body was discovered in the roadway just north of the Fond du Lac-Washington county line, or about three-tenths of a mile south of Sandy Road, in the Town of Auburn.

Robbins was taken to St. Agnes Hospital by the Kewaskum Rescue Squad.

Police said Robbins was visiting the area and was struck by the vehicle shortly before 11 p.m. Saturday.

Fond du Lac County Sheriff Dan Sondergard said Monday that a car believed to be the hit-and-run vehicle had been impounded, but added that the investigation was still continuing.

Robbins is Fond du Lac County's 15th traffic fatality of 1978, compared to 12 on the same date last year.

Two Companies Give Board Presentations On Monitoring Systems for Lift Stations

By TAMI EDGAR
Statesman Staff Writer

Two companies gave presentations on monitoring systems for lift stations at Monday night's Village Board meeting.

A representative from L.W. Allen Co., Madison, had Jere B. Hitchcock of ADCOR Electronics, Atlanta, Georgia, explain the computerized system.

The system's transmitter relays the message to the receiver which gives a printed record of the time, date and malfunction. The machine can be run manually or automatically with an audible alarm at the site. This system can retain the records and can be set to dial a location; if the line is busy it can be programmed for a predetermined time and contact will again be tried.

A black code would indicate all systems were functioning normally but a red code would show a malfunction in the system. It would then dial to the programmed location.

The installation would be for ten transmitters which require ten telephone lines. No estimate was given because the company would like to survey the job on what is needed.

The second presentation was given by Kamp and Associates of Cedarburg. The company makes their own systems which range from very simple to highly sophisticated systems.

It would be a full-time system (24 hours) and would monitor high water, air compressor failure, power and telephone line failures. Maintenance is very simple for the machine. It contains no moving parts and requires no battery. No action was taken on either matter.

A question was raised on whether to put up outfield fencing around the diamonds in the new park or to leave it for a future date. If the fencing was installed it could eliminate the possibility of a future ball diamond. Too many fences could also detract from the beauty of the park. The board voted to table the issue.

Two building permit applications were granted to Leroy Zipperer for a one family residence at 511 Lin-De-Lane and Ron Johann, for an addition to attached garage at 1511 Brooklane Drive. These permits had previously been approved by the building administrator and building inspector.

Board Approves Procedure for Completion of Curriculum Studies

By TAMI EDGAR
Statesman Staff Writer

The suggested procedure for the completion of Curriculum Studies was approved at Monday night's School Board meeting.

The board will review on the recommendations in English, social studies and values at the October 30 meeting. Effort will be made to have all reports to the review committee by the end of February, 1979. When the review committee has completed its work, all reports will be submitted to the board.

The second readings for Policy #5113.2 on full-time students and Policy #3326.1 on check signatures were given and the board adopted them with a unanimous vote.

The long-term disability insurance plan was approved for WEA Trust which was quoted for a two year period. The plan is based on a ninety day elimination period, and pays 2/3% of salary to a maximum of $1200 per month to age 65.

The board then voted to accept the budget revisions as proposed and the levy of $2,080,025.

Roger Strack was present for the discussion of the possibility of purchasing a tune-up tester for the auto shop. Action on the matter was delayed until Howard Zemlicka could attend the meeting. After Zemlicka arrived further discussion was held and the board approved the purchasing of the tester.

The transportation committee gave their report on the request of parents to pick up their kindergarten child at the driveway rather than at the corner. They pointed out that the distance was very short, but it would mean walking along Highway 144.

The committee recommended that, due to health problems, the child watch for the bus during bad weather months and then have the child proceed to the designated pick-up point as soon as the bus can be seen. The committee agreed that the bad weather period extend from November 15 - March 1. The board then approved the committee's recommendations.

The board accepted the resolution for short-term borrowing of up to $750,000 as needed.

The Ward Brodt bid for musical instruments was approved. Purchases included 2 bass clarinets - $399 each, 1 Fox Bassoon - $711, 1 cymbal stand - $25, and 1 Hi-Hat stand - $37.

The board approved the placing of Gary Gerhartz on the Bachelor's Degree & 30 credits column of the salary schedule and Jan Rosenthal on the Master's & 10 credits column.

The proposal for paying long-term disability insurance to administrators was not acted upon. There was a question as to the legality of this approach.

Some change in the proposed "Packet for Parents" was suggested. This issue was tabled for rewriting.

The board approved the purchasing of a Savin 760 copier at $6250 and a Savin 755 at $3615 as proposed.

Recognition of the girls' golf team was given by the board for winning the conference championship.

Consideration was given to Maryanne Merwin to change the rate of parent transportation contracts from the present $80 per year. No motion was made to alter the amount.

Jean Goeden raised the question as to why homerooms weren't used more often at high school levels for special events as voting.

Mr. Pearson explained that voting for class officers is done over the student lunch hours.

NOTICE TO VILLAGE RESIDENTS

Now that the heating season is again here, village residents who place ashes from their stoves or fireplaces with their garbage are asked to make sure ashes are completely extinguished before placing them at the curb or pickup by village crews.

Hot ashes could cause a serious fire in the refuse truck when mixed with all other refuse.

'Friends for Battered Women' Present Play to Local Women's Clubs

"Life's Hard Knocks," a short play with narration was presented to the combined group of Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club and Woman's Club members on October 12 at their meeting at the Peace Church.

The play's cast was made up of members of an association named "Friends for Battered Women of Washington County, Inc." The stated purpose of the group is to respond to the urgent needs of abused women and their families by offering alternatives to domestic violence in local communities.

A recently formed group, its members are able to present dramatically the plight of the confused, seemingly helpless, abused woman. The play pointed out that many agencies which one would ordinarily expect to be helpful, are helpless because of legal and financial barriers, or have had no place to send women who have been abused.

"Friends for Battered Women" hopes to be able to find the problems, coordinate the agencies which can help, educate women and ultimately set up "safety havens" and transportation to them for women and their children who need them.

At the present time, calls are relayed to the organization from the Open Door Crisis "Hot Line." The "friends" are in need of manpower, time and money, and their special plea was for volunteer help with such things as typing, phone answering and money-raising. Specifically, the project mentioned as needing immediate help was the Rummage-Bakery-Crafts Sale being held October 20-21 at the Westfair Mall in West Bend.

Members of the audience expressed shock and amazement at the results of a recent survey of police departments which revealed that in Washington County, at least 325 cases of domestic violence were reported in 1977. It is evident that a problem does exist in our county.

Following a discussion period, Mrs. Marj Rosenthal, Mrs. Carolyn Smucker, Mrs. Sherri Miller and Mrs. Karen Keller served refreshments to members and guests.

Separate business meetings were held after the program.

AFS Chili Supper Set

The annual AFS Chili Supper is set for Wednesday, November 8, from 4:30 - 7:30 p.m. Advance tickets, on sale at $2.25 for adults and 1.25 for children, include all the chili you can eat, desserts, and milk or coffee. There will be no charge for extra cartons of milk this year.

Guests of honor at the chili supper will be Edgardo Carranza and Jorge Casal, our AFS exchange students from El Salvador and Paraguay. They will exhibit displays of pictures and material from their home countries and be available to answer any of your questions.

AFS club members will be selling advance tickets door-to-door. If you are not contacted by a club member, tickets can also be purchased in the high school office.

The Chili Supper is one of the club's means of raising money to send our own students abroad with an AFS scholarship.

WEEKLY Health TIP

John Boray, R.P.H.

Seven out of ten headaches can be traced to tension. When the delicate blood vessels surrounding your brain become enlarged, they press against your nerves and a headache pain results. Tension--the contraction of skeletal muscles about the face, scalp, neck and shoulders--causes the blood vessel enlargement. How to relax tensions? One way: when seated, roll the head gently forward and back, then from side to side several times--then rotate the head slowly, three times in each direction. A hot bath or a long walk can also relieve tensions.

Handicapped Young Man Will Present Musical Program

The public is invited to attend a musical program, "A Miracle of Love," featuring Leslie Lemke, Sunday, October 22, from 2 - 4 p.m. at the UWVC Theatre, University Drive, West Bend.

Leslie Lemke, Pewaukee, is a young man with multiple handicaps. He was a spastic baby, and at six months of age he lost his eyesight. Leslie's foster parents, May and Joe Lemke, noticed that he enjoyed music, and so Mrs. Lemke began to teach him to play the piano. He now plays everything from popular music to classical selections. The fact that Leslie first learned to walk 10 years ago at the age of 16, or that he learned to talk when he was 24, or that his present mental age is 3 years, doesn't interfere at all with his musical ability. As Mrs. Lemke says, "Everyone has one gift—and music is his."

The Lemkes are willing to share Leslie's gift with others. He is an inspiration to all people—especially to those individuals who are handicapped in some way. Watching him play, despite his handicaps, offers hope to parents and others who are close to a handicapped child.

Leslie's musical program is sponsored by Wisconsin Citizens Concerned for Life, Kettle

Moraine Chapter. There is no admission charge; however, a free-will donation will be taken.

Woman's Club to Tour Stonewood Village

Wednesday, November 1, is the date set for the Woman's Club tour to Stonewood Village, a unique shopping area on Capital Drive in Brookfield.

Members who attended the meeting October 12 were given the opportunity to make reservations for accompanying the group, and others are being called, if possible. If you have signed and must cancel, or if you've not been called and wish to go, please notify Mrs. Walter Bade (626-2637) or Mrs. Orv Behnke (626-2441) by October 26. Guests are welcome.

At the business meeting on October 12, the Woman's Club members approved the budget for 1978-79, discussed donations, and welcomed four new members.

Merv Thompson stated that lamb sandwiches would be available for a $1.00 charge at the Kewaskum Legion Hall starting at 3:30 p.m. on October 22. Elmer Yoost will be chief chef for this event.

October 'Law of the Month' to Emphasize Anti-Litter Laws

Highway litter is not just a summer problem but a senseless, year-around nuisance that costs Wisconsin taxpayers over a million dollars a year, Captain Jack W. Jorgensen, Commanding District 2, of the Wisconsin State Patrol, noted in announcing stepped-up enforcement efforts against highway littering as the "Law of the Month" for October.

Last year, the cost of cleaning up trash along the 12,000-mile state trunk highway system reached a new high of $1.3 million, he said; money that could otherwise be used for badly needed highway improvements.

During 1977, there were 686 people convicted of violating Sections 86.07 and 346.94 of the Wisconsin Statutes. Sec. 86.07 establishes penalties of up to $200 in fines and up to 30 days in jail, or both, for depositing rubbish and trash on the highways. For drivers who permit debris or waste materials to be thrown from their vehicles (and for the offender if it is not the driver), the law also provides, under Sec. 346.94 (6) and (6m), a $50 forfeiture for each offense.

Between January and July of this year, there were 331 convictions for highway littering, with several more peak months for traveling remaining.

Although relatively few people are apprehended for littering, any crime that costs taxpayers over $1 million annually cannot be considered "minor," Jorgensen said, adding that dollars being wasted on picking up after careless motorists could be spent more productively to increase the safety of Wisconsin's roads and streets.

Enforcement of anti-litter laws has been increasing in the past few years, perhaps due to use of unmarked squad cars by state, county and local law enforcement agencies, but also partially attributable to increasing concern for the environment.

In selecting anti-littering for emphasis in the "Law of the Month" campaign, the Wisconsin State Patrol is supporting schools, service clubs and other community groups in their continuing efforts to keep Wisconsin clean and beautiful.

Local law enforcement agencies are urged to join in the campaign which selects timely laws for emphasis each month to increase the public's awareness of laws that have been adopted for their safety and convenience.

Area Co-op Leaders At District Meeting

Representatives from area cooperatives attended the Wisconsin Federation of Cooperatives district delegate meeting held in Waupun, September 18.

The Wisconsin Federation of Cooperatives is a trade association representing the interests of Wisconsin cooperatives in the legislature and before the state's regulatory agencies. The Federation also conducts over 20 education programs each year and provides technical information for their 354 member cooperatives.

At the annual delegate meeting, Courtland Sperger, Waupun, was elected to represent the district on the Federation board of directors. Nominees must be approved at the Federation's annual meeting, scheduled for November 13-14 in Oconomowoc.

Delegates also elected a 5-member district committee. The district committee will host Keep-In-Touch dinners this December so local co-op leaders and co-op members can get to know their legislators. In addition, the district committee helps recruit new members for the Federation.

Delegates elected Henry Rosenow, Oconomowoc; Ernst Averbek, Fond du Lac; John Koopmans, Cambria; John Bradley, Oshkosh, and Thomas Breuer, Allenton.

Delegates and guests also heard staff reports from four Federation staff members including Rod Nilsestuen, new Wisconsin Federation of Cooperatives' executive secretary. Nilsestuen talked about many of the issues that will face cooperatives next year including investment credit for cooperatives, the consumer co-op bank bill, tax reform and transportation in our rural communities.

In addition, delegates reviewed policy statements that will dictate the Federation's positions on issues as they come up during the year. The policy statements cover issues from transportation to the nation's dairy policy to recommending that a farmer be included on the Board of Regents. Other resolutions cover pesticides, the Copper-Volstead Act, energy, non-point source pollution, agricultural education, research and extension and animal disease control programs.

Humane Society to Hold Fall Festival

The Washington County Humane Society's third annual "Fall Festival" will be held on Saturday, October 21, at the Richfield Town Hall, 4128 Hubertus Road, Hubertus, from 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. There is no admission fee.

All items to be sold at the fair have been donated and all proceeds will be used to help the animal shelter, which is located at the corner of Hwy. 60 and Scenic Road. In addition to the many arts and craft items, there will be antiques, bakery, food items, plants, pumpkins and gourds and many assorted items. Coffee, soda and fresh bakery will be available in our hostess area.

Spend a day in the beautiful Holy Hill country and visit the Fall Festival. The Town Hall is one mile south of Hwy. 167 at the corner of Hubertus Road and Hillside Road.

Work on New Park Progressing Very Well

According to Village Trustee Dan Schmidt, chairman of the park committee, work is moving along very nicely at present on the new Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park on Kewaskum's far west side.

Work on the bathhouse should be completed shortly. About 80% of the seeding and landscaping has been finished. Blacktopping of the parking lot, road, walkway, tennis courts and basketball court is expected to be done next week. The electricians are working on the lighting for the tennis courts. Lights around the pond and on the parking lot are pretty well completed.

It is planned to have the pond open for swimming next summer and also the tennis courts, basketball court and ball diamonds ready for play. The ball diamonds may be used only for Little League the first year.

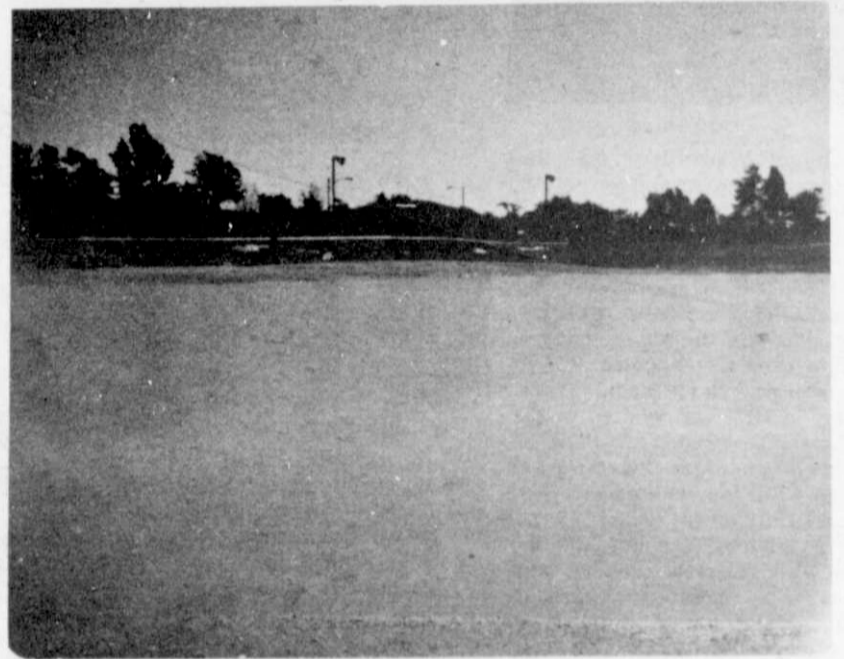

Schmidt said Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fickler have donated a flag pole and the landscaping around it in memory of their two sons, James and Gary.

Soil Erosion, Land Use and Water Quality Are Top Resource Concerns

Soil erosion, land use, and water quality are the top three resource concerns of Wisconsin people, according to J.C. Hytry, state conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. Hytry spoke at a public meeting October 10 in Mt. Horeb.

More than 4,000 people at about 190 meetings throughout the state earlier this year listed their major resource concerns in each county. Many other people have expressed their views on resource concerns in response to questionnaires and surveys.

Compilations of their comments revealed that soil erosion is a major concern in 88% of Wisconsin's 72 counties, land use is a major concern in 76% of the counties, and water quality is a major concern in 64% of the counties.

Hytry said that during the next five years more than $200 million would be needed for conservation practices to adequately treat 2.1 million acres in the state. Persons attending meetings have said they believe costs for installing practices and for technical assistance should be shared by landowners and all levels of government.

On the whole, people believe 20% of the costs of installing conservation practices for soil erosion should be paid by landowners, 10% by local government, 15% by state government, and 55% by the federal government. They believe costs of technical assistance should be borne 15% by landowners, 15% by local government, 15% by state government, and 55% by federal government.

Hytry said information from Wisconsin's counties, together with comments from the October 10 meeting and two other such meetings this week, will be included with information compiled throughout the nation to develop a national soil and water conservation program for the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act.

The Resources Conservation Act, signed into law last year by President Carter, directs the Soil Conservation Service to use scientific data and public opinion to appraise the nation's natural resources on private land, develop a 5-year program to conserve these resources, and evaluate progress each year.

County soil and water conservation districts, The Wisconsin Board of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, and the Soil Conservation Service are cooperating in carrying out the Resources Conservation Act.

Byron Berg, chairman of the Lafayette County Board and vice chairman of the Wisconsin Board of Soil and Water Conservation Districts (BSWCD), said one important concern is that conservation practices are continued on a piece of property when ownership changes. In many cases, this does not happen, and conservation efforts actually lose ground.

Berg said there is a need for establishment and enforcement of land contracts and deed restrictions to prevent such backsliding. He added that some government programs tend to reward land abusers instead of persons concerned with conservation.

Hytry said new federal and state programs to share costs of soil and water conservation practices are intended to complement each other, not duplicate each other.

Leonard Johnson, a member of the BSWCD staff, said many concerns can best be addressed by local and state governments rather than by the federal government.

How the New Milk Support Price Affects Producers and Consumers

By Jack Trzebiatowski
Washington County
Agricultural Agent

The new government support price for manufacturing-grade milk--milk that is made into butter, cheese, skim milk powder and other dairy products--is now $9.64 per hundredweight for milk with 3.5 percent butterfat. This price is 43 cents higher than the old price support level that was set last April first.

The old level--$9.21 per hundredweight--was 80 percent of parity. Parity measures the farmer's cost to produce the milk. However, the new higher price is also 80 percent of parity--because farmers' costs to produce manufacturing-grade milk have risen. The support price had to rise in order to stay at 80 percent of parity.

The new support price increase doesn't mean consumers will have to pay more for their butter, cheese and other dairy products. The support price, even with the new increase, is well below the going market price for milk right now. Consumers who buy dairy products have "bid" the price of milk up beyond the support level. The new support level simply puts slightly higher "floor" under farmers' milk prices--and insures that the price can't drop below 80 percent of parity.

In 1977, dairy farmers got an average price of $9.71 per hundredweight of milk. Their average cost to produce a hundred pounds of milk was $9.64--leaving dairymen with a profit of 7 cents per hundredweight. This profit--which is less than one percent of their costs--is about one-fifth of a cent of profit per quart of milk. Support prices don't mean a dairy farmer will necessarily earn more profit for his milk--they do mean that he can't lose as much if the market price drops sharply.

If support prices aren't contributing to the rising cost of dairy products to consumers, then why are prices rising? There are two reasons. First, dairy production is slightly below where it was last year. There's about one percent less milk on the market now than in 1977. Secondly, consumers are buying more dairy products. Total sales of dairy products are up 5 percent. Cheese sales to consumers are up 5 or 6 percent--and consumers are buying 16 percent more butter now than they did last year.

Even with the higher support prices, the federal government is buying less dairy products now than last year. Government butter support purchases are down 40 percent. Cheese support purchases are down 73 percent compared to 1977, and skim powder purchases are down 37 percent.

The dairy outlook is good for both farmers and consumers. Farmers have a better floor under milk prices, to protect them from large market price drops--and consumers pay a very reasonable price for quality dairy foods--especially compared to other consumer goods.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Ollie Staehler, who passed away one year ago, October 21, 1977:

Time speeds on, one year has passed,
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast,
Within our home so full of cheer,
God took to him, husband and father dear.

We miss him and we ever will,

His vacant chair no one can fill,
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in Heaven we will meet again.

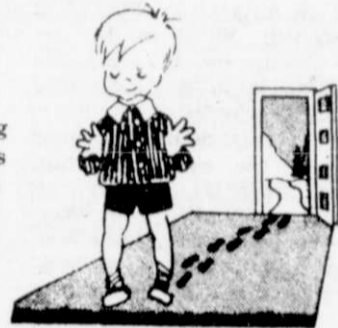

God took him, led him by his hand,
Not now, but someday we will understand,
So while he rests in peaceful sleep,
His memory we will always keep.

Sadly missed by his wife,
Joan, and children.

WEATHER LORE

In the early settlement of Northern Wisconsin, one old Norwegian was not certain whether his land was in Wisconsin or Michigan's Upper Peninsula. When the final surveys were made, he learned that his forty acres were all in Wisconsin. He threw his hat into the air and shouted, "No more of them dog-gone cold Michigan winters."

Weather is and has long been one of the most important things of life. It has determined what we do the next day, whether we have good or poor crops, whether we are comfortable or uncomfortable. It is our most common subject of conversation. Millions of Americans cannot go to bed without hearing the weather forecast for the next day over radio or television and can hardly start the day without hearing the morning forecast.

Of course, anything as important as weather would produce an abundance of sayings, proverbs, superstitions, and ways of predicting weather. Wisconsin weather lore is an adaptation of that which came from Europe and the eastern states, sometimes embellished by Indian beliefs, and often centered on the cold or the snow. Who has not heard that Wisconsin has two seasons--winter and six weeks of poor skiing, or that it was so cold that we saw two cottontails pushing a jackrabbit to get him started.

Weather Lore in Early America

Perhaps the shepherds of the ancient world were the first observers of the sun, moon, clouds, and other "signs" which enabled them to make predictions of storms or seasons, and to pass on these observations which became weather lore. The first published body of weather lore appeared in an almanac printed in England in 1457 and the English colonists to America were familiar with almanacs that provided them with information on tides, sunrises, sunsets, moon data, and superstitions about planting and harvesting.

Here are a few of the signs or observations that are still with us. Some are fairly accurate in predicting weather:

When the bees stay close to the hive, rain is close by.

When a dog eats grass, it is a sign of rain. (Possibly true, since low air pressure and high humidity may cause internal pain to a dog and he wants to purge himself. More likely, the dog has worms.)

Flies bite more before a rain. (Heat causes sweating and releases more body odors, which attract flies, and heat and humidity presage rain.)

Crickets are accurate thermometers. (Count the chirps for 14 seconds, add 40, and you have the temperature.)

When joints ache and corns hurt, stormy weather is ahead. (Possibly true because increased humidity may affect them in some unknown way.)

When squirrels lay in a big store of nuts, there will be a harsh winter. (Doubtful, since squirrels do the best they can whether the annual crop is good or poor.)

If the groundhog can see his shadow on February 2 and is frightened back into his hole, spring will not come for six weeks. (There is no evidence that this old European belief has any validity.)

Almanacs

The first book printed in the English colonies was an almanac published at Harvard in 1639. The oldest continuing publication in the U.S.A. is the Old Farmer's Almanac, first published in 1792, it still comes off the press each year, informing people 12 months ahead when it will storm or the fish will bite. It is said that the editor's reputation was established in 1815 when he failed to provide a prediction. Being very ill, the editor told him to put anything in for that date. The printer inserted "Rain, hail and snow." When it rained, hailed, and snowed somewhere in New England that day, the reputation of Old Farmer's Almanac was made.

The Moon and Weather Beliefs

It is known that the moon affects the tides and many even affect the emotional cycles of humans. Wags say that the moon affects both the tide and the untied. Many people plan their work and play in accordance with whether the moon is waxing or waning. The great plant scientist, Luther Burbank, did his planting, grafting, and pruning in the light or the dark of the silvery moon and firmly believed that the moon had some power over vegetation.

Among gardeners and farmers, there are many who believe that root crops (potatoes, carrots, rutabagas) must be planted with the eye down--(some Poles point them east)--and only when the moon is dark. Crops with fruit above the ground (corn, peas, beans) should be planted when the moon is light.

There are some scientists who say that planting by the moon is a "reasonable superstition;" that it might be possible for beneficial moon radioactivity to impart special properties to the sun's rays when reflected from the moon's surface. The Wise Garden Encyclopedia (1959) cautions people about discrediting Burbank and other scientists who have accepted the moon theory, and at least hold that it is more than mere superstition.

The use of the moon in predicting snowfalls has been a folk belief since the colonial days. Sometimes it is said to be an old Indian secret that the white men learned. Such is the case with Brodhead automobile dealer F.M. Ties. He is the fourth generation of the family to use this method in predicting snowfalls and it is similar to that found elsewhere in the snow-belt: take the number of days that the moon is old when the first snowfall comes, add the number of days left in the calendar month, and that is the number of snowfalls ahead for the winter. A snowfall is defined as one sufficient for tracking a cat.

Old time farmers butchered only when the moon was waxing, believing that such meat would not shrivel in the frying pan. They would not castrate pigs unless the moon was waning, thinking the healing would be affected.

The Old Farmer's Almanac still publishes its lunar table listing the major and minor feeding times of fish throughout the country for the year ahead. It would save many fishermen a lot of wear and tear on their casting arms if they knew that the bass would strike at a precise time of day. This writer has found these lunar predictions fruitful occasionally, if not half the time. However, this old weather poem had undeniable good observation behind it and is fairly reliable for frying-pan fishermen.

When the wind is in the East, the fish they bite the least;

When the wind is in the West, the fish they bite the best;

When the wind is in the North, fishermen seldom go forth;

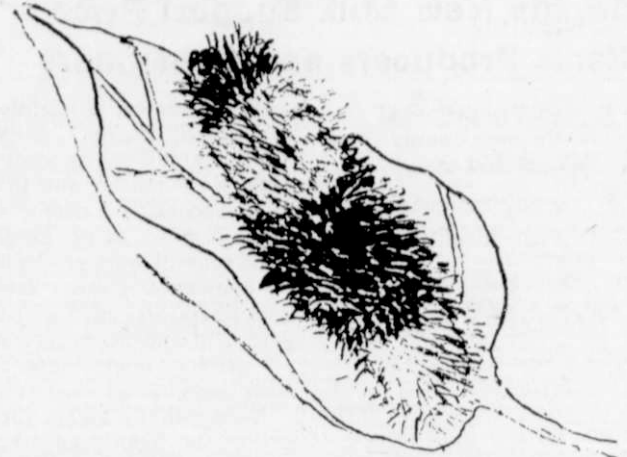

And when the wind is in the South, it blows the bait right out of the fish's mouth.

Other Planting and Harvesting Lore

Plant corn when the apple blossoms fall, or when the leaves are as large as squirrel ears.

If the first frost of the year is a hard one, there will be a hard winter.

The first thaw determines the

The broad band of the Woolly Bear caterpillar, if black, means a bad winter.

length of the growing season. Two weeks after the first thaw, Black River farmers know they can start planting.

The first frost will come six months after the first thunderstorm in the spring.

Each of these would have many adherents in Wisconsin.

Tall Tales and Weather Lore

In a land where the tall tale and the "Whopper" have blossomed, it is not strange that weather--hot, dry, cold, wet, tornadoes, snowfalls--has inspired its share of yarns and expressions. Here are a few:

It was so hot in Dane County that the rabbits were seen picking up their feet and blowing on them.

It was so dry during the 1976 drought that the trees followed the dogs around.

A Pierce County farmer was on the way home from Ellsworth when a hailstorm struck. He whipped his team to a dead run to stay ahead of the storm, but when he got home, the back half of his wagon was full of hailstones.

There was a windstorm one day off the lake that laid all the trees along Lake Michigan flat.

The next day a wind from the West straightened them up again.

It was so cold that the ducks froze in the pond and when they flew away, they took the pond with them.

The snow piled up 14 inches on top of the barbed wire fence.

Perhaps the greatest "whopper" of all that has found its way into literature is the poem about the logger who stirred his coffee with his thumb, froze to death, and "They made him into ax blades to chop the Douglas fir."

Summary

Weather lore has been accumulating for hundreds of years, based on observation, superstitions, and some instruments as time has passed. Much of it has been recorded in almanacs. Obviously such superstitions as that the killing of a spider will produce rain have never had much validity, but those based on many years of observation are often accurate.

One old Indian had a sure-fire method of predicting the weather. He said it would be a cold winter if he saw white men laying in a lot of firewood.

If the Groundhog sees his shadow, he will go back into his hole for six weeks to wait for spring.

Gov. Schreiber Proclaims Oct. 22-28 As 'Disabled American Veterans Week'

Governor Schreiber has proclaimed "Disabled American Veterans Week," October 22 to October 28, 1978, in recognition of the services rendered by the D.A.V. to the disabled veterans and to the communities of Wisconsin. Thanksgiving Day Seals from the Disabled American Veterans will be arriving in the homes of Wisconsin residents during D.A.V. Week. State Commander Leo H. DeGreef of Green Bay, said that through the contributions received from these seals, the D.A.V. is able to carry on and expand its rehabilitation services maintained in Wisconsin since 1927. Commander DeGreef also stated that no promoters or solicitors are used, and all money received is expended within Wisconsin to help disabled veterans, their widows and dependents.

The D.A.V., whose membership consists of veterans who have been wounded, gassed or injured in service, has service officers available in 60 chapters throughout the state, whose services are free of charge to all veterans and their dependents, to help them process their claims for Veterans Administration benefits. These service officers are under the supervision of the National Service Officers at Milwaukee. A Service Officer's School will be held at LaCrosse, October 28 and October 29, to acquaint them with new laws, procedures, rehabilitation and employment opportunities available to all disabled veterans. With the help of the D.A.V.

Auxiliary (wives, mothers, daughters and granddaughters of the D.A.V. members), a Christmas Store is conducted at Tomah Veterans Hospital, where over 1000 veterans are able to send gifts, gift wrapped and mailed free, to their loved ones. Programs are also conducted at the Madison and Wood VA Hospitals and State Veterans Home at King.

Your contributions to the D.A.V., Box 1113, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53201, will be greatly appreciated and used to expand and continue our services.

Dear Editor:

The Washington County Sheriff's Department has just finished undergoing an extensive management study by the firm of Cresap, McCormick and Paget. The study was initiated by the Sheriff and the Sheriff's Committee and funded through a federal Law Enforcement Administration Aid grant.

The results of the study will be made public as soon as the Sheriff's Committee has had a chance to review it and accept or reject all or part of the recommendations.

The Steering Committee for this study was made up of Sheriff's Department members, County officials and private citizens who volunteered many hours of their time and without whose help this project could not have been successfully completed.

I want to congratulate and publicly thank the following persons for their help and unwavering support in the long and sometimes tedious hours spent in initiating and concluding this study:

Arthur Hoberg of Amity Leather, West Bend; McKay Schwalbach, West Bend; Orval E. Behnke, Kewaskum.

Sincerely

Clarence A. Schwartz, Sheriff Washington County

WHEREAS, the DAV maintains a Service Office, at the VA Regional Office in Milwaukee, whose free services are available to all veterans, their families or dependents; and

WHEREAS, the DAV will hold its annual Service Officer's School in La Crosse, October 28 and 29, 1978, to familiarize all chapter service officers with new benefits and regulations in processing claims; and

Pat Rusch Says Tax Reform Major Issue

Mrs. Pat Rusch, candidate for the Sixth District Assembly seat, has said: "In this campaign, tax reform has been one of my major issues. I propose we raise the standard deduction on the State Income Tax and let the people keep more of their hard-earned dollars."

Rusch added: "My opponent voted on two separate occasions against raising the standard deduction on the State Income Tax. I wonder, why does he think the State of Wisconsin needs the additional revenue? I don't agree. The gigantic budget surplus certainly proves that. No wonder the people want tax relief, and so do I."

Rusch concluded: "The choice in this election is clear. Do you want an Assemblyman who will work to save your money, or do you want an Assemblyman who is insensitive to the needs of the people and continues to oppose meaningful tax reform?"

Boy Scout Report

By John Rimmel, Scribe

On October 6 and 7 the Kewaskum Boy Scouts and Webelos attended the "Pathways to Scouting" campout. Webelos pass from Webelos into scouting during this event and receive the highest award in cub scouting, the "Arrow of Light." Three past Webelos from the Kewaskum area became members of Troop 744 by receiving this award. They are: Danny Bingen, Danny Ramthun and Shawn McKenna.

During the outing, scouts and Webelos were divided into two patrols, each having a patrol leader. The patrol leaders were Dale Rimmel, Tim Leitheiser and John Rimmel (acting patrol leader for Fredonia). In these patrols, the boys learned about various skills ranging from knot tying to first aid. The boys also participated in making their own supper by making hobsos (potatoes, hamburger, carrots and onions) which they ate. The event was named tin foil cookery. They also received the polar bear award for camping in weather below freezing. The boys had a great time and so did the leaders.

On October 13, 14 and 15 five boys and two leaders went to Wittman Field, Oshkosh, for one of the greatest scouting events in Wisconsin, the "Mini-Jamboree." Over 3000 scouts, a few being explorers, were in attendance as well as 1000 leaders. One of the happenings at this event was a game in which you would try to spell out B-L-C-Scout-O-Ree. You would each be given a letter and then have people with the other letters sign your paper. Besides the occasional planes taking off and the jets landing, there was a various number of happenings ranging from fireworks to music. The boys in attendance from this area were Danny Ramthun, Tim Gutjahr, John Rimmel, Brian Kober and Doug Miller. The leaders were Ken Leitheiser and Ted Miller.

Coming events this year are rollerskating, horseback riding, canoeing, camping and lots more. On Wednesday, November 15, we will go rollerskating. Our meetings are at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. If you would like to join come to the Labor Center for a meeting.

Kewaskum Defeated Again, This Time By Hartland, 33-6

The Kewaskum Indians' losing streak was extended to five straight in the Scenic Moraine Conference when Hartland turned the trick, 33-6, in the final home game Friday night with two on the road to go.

Hartland's Eric Ueberson ran for two touchdowns as the visiting Warhawks got good field position. They started five offensive series in Kewaskum territory and scored on all five of them for 33 points, including the conversions. On the other hand, the Indians had their backs to the wall most of the night and managed only one consolation score for 6 points.

Right from the opening kickoff things started going wrong as Paul Bremser fumbled on the runback and Hartland recovered on the Indians' 35 yard line. Five plays later Ueberson took a pitch out for a 7-yard scramble into the end zone for his first score.

After a good kickoff return by Rod Schultz to the 42 yard line, the Indians began one of their best drives on the running of

Volleyball Girls in Key Win Over Pirates, Also Defeat Horicon

The Kewaskum girls volleyball team took another step last Tuesday toward a shot at the Scenic Moraine title when they knocked Pewaukee out of the unbeaten ranks.

The match was very close with the first game going into overtime, the Indians winning it 16-14. In the second game the Pirates took a big lead, 12-7, but the Kewaskum girls put on a great comeback to win, 15-13. In the final game, using reserves, Kewaskum was blanked 15-0.

Coach Mary Lawson said the total team effort was the best of the season as the girls were really up for Pewaukee.

Arrowhead added two more touchdowns in the last quarter on pass plays. The first was on a 10-yard pass from Jay Yde to Jim Hermann. Once more a good punt return had given Hartland the ball on Kewaskum's 30. Their last points came when reserve Greg Joers hit Paul VandenHeuvel with a
