Week's Wit

The jilted suitor says she's the kind of a girl who does not care for a man's company--unless he owns it.

BLACKTOPPING DONE IN PARK — Payne & Dolan, contractors, of Waukesha did blacktopping work in the new Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park over the weekend. Black-topped were the parking lot, tennis courts, basketball court and a stretch of street on the west end of Brooklane Drive leading into the park. Progress is coming along very well on the park.

Heavy Turnout of 816 Voters In Village Election Tuesday

A large turnout of 816 voters cast their ballots in the Village of Kewaskum in Tuesday's General Election. This is about 75% of the voters and was a larger turnout than in the last presidential election. The largest number of votes ever cast in the village was some 1100.

As usual all Republican candidates were favored in the village with the exception of the offices of attorney general where Democrat Bronson La Motte, 441 to 316, and district attorney of Washington County where Frederick Fink, Jr. was unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

A Kewaskum native running for state office, that of Secretary of State, Fredric A. Seefeldt, was defeated in the election by Democrat Vel Phillips statewide but Seefeldt outpolled Phillips in the village by more than 2 to 1, 524 to 257, as expected. Seefeldt is the son of Alfred Seefeldt of Kewaskum and is secretary-treasurer of A. H. Seefeldt, Inc., a family operated insurance agency in Kewaskum. Now of Neenah, he has been home secretary to Sixth District Congressman William A. Steiger for the past nine years.

Winners in Tuesday's election were:

Governor-Lt. Governor — Lee S. Dreyfus and Russell A. Olson (R); Secretary of State — Vel Phillips (D); State Treasurer — Charles P. Smith (D); Attorney General — Bronson C. La Follette (D); Representative in Congress 9th District — F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. (R); Representative to the Assembly 6th District — Gervase A. Hephner (D); County Clerk — George F. Nehrbass (R); County Treasurer — Leo P. Scholtz (R); Sheriff — Clarence A. Schwartz (R); Coroner — Robert H. Boltz (R); Clerk of Circuit Court — Jon W. Sanfilippo (R); District

Attorney — Frederick A. Fink, Jr. (D); Register of Deeds — John C. Steilen (R).

Two statewide referendums to make Wisconsin voting laws conform to federal statutes won by sizable margins.

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM

Governor-Lt. Governor — Martin J. Schreiber and Douglas J. LaFollette (D) 326; Doug S. Dreyfus and Russell A. Olson (R) 475; Eugene R. Zimmerman and George Reed (C) 2; John C. Doherty and Marion A. Doherty (I) 1.

Sec. of State — Vel Phillips (D) 257; Fredric A. Seefeldt (R) 524; George A. Meyers (C) 6.

State Treas. — Charles P. Smith (D) 273; Harold W. Clemens (R) 460; Katharine J. Keene (C) 6; Fred B. Blair (Communist Party USA) 1.

Atty. Gen. — Bronson C. La Follette (D) 441; William A. Matka (R) 316; Thomas J. Bergen (C) 7.

Wilson, Backhaus Receive Degrees

Dr. Dean Henderson, professor of animal and food science at the University of Wisconsin-River Falls, will deliver the fall Commencement address on campus, Sunday, November 12, at 2 p.m. in Karges Gym. Henderson is the 1978 UW-River Falls Distinguished Teacher.

Approximately 122 of the 202 summer and fall graduates to receive degrees this fall will be present at the ceremony. Of the 202 UW-River Falls graduates, 93 will be granted master's degrees.

Douglas Wilson, Route 3, Kewaskum, will receive the Bachelor of Science degree with a major in business and a minor in economics.

Randy Backhaus, Route 2, Kewaskum, will receive the Bachelor of Science in Agricultural Education degree with a minor in animal science.

Chamber of Commerce Plans Christmas Sale

The sixth annual "Kewaskum Christmas Sale" promotion will be held from Friday, November 24, thru Saturday, December 2.

The sale is sponsored by the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce. The ads will run in the November 22 issue of the Statesman. All ads for this promotion must be in our office by Thursday, November 16.

For this Christmas sale, sample copies of the Statesman will be mailed out to all postal patrons in the Village of Kewaskum and all three rural routes out of Kewaskum.

A reminder also that all news copy for that issue must be in our office no later than Monday, November 20, as we will print a daily Thanksgiving due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Legion Removes Flags From Graves

The Robert G. Romaine Post No. 384, American Legion, Department of Wisconsin, recently removed the Wisconsin flags from the graves of veterans in our area cemeteries.

Many of the flags were weather beaten and ragged, and they all will be disposed of in the proper manner.

New flags will be placed on the graves again next spring for the summer months.

Respect the American flag and remember the men and women who made many sacrifices for it.

Annexation of Kilian Honeck Property Approved by Board

By TAMI EDGAR
Statesman Staff Writer

The annexation of the Kilian Honeck property was approved at Monday night's Village Board meeting.

The property consists of approximately 8 3/4 acres and lies east of Hwy. 45, south. The Plan Commission had previously approved this annexation.

Monday, November 11, at 7:30 p.m. was set for a public hearing for the rezoning from B-2 to R-4 of the William Edwards property at 100 Clinton Street.

A request for a refund on the 1977 real estate taxes on the grounds that there was an unfair assessment will be reviewed before any action will be taken.

Three building permits were approved for the following:

1. Thomas Bauer - one family residence at 540 Knights Avenue.

2. Tom Jaeger - 12 ft. by 16 ft. storage shed at the rear of existing home at 360 Braatz Drive.

3. Kohn Bros. Farm Service - addition to existing farm implement sales and service building at 516 Main Street.

Harold Mueller Excavating of Campbellsport was approved to take down the old Geidel house. The estimated time span would be one day.

The board discussed and approved a request from Betty Clark to be hooked up to water and sewer services on her property that was annexed at an earlier date.

A question was raised on who is to pay for paint damage done to cars when the Kewaskum water tower was being repainted. It was caused from the blasting off of old paint which stuck to cars. They felt the village had given adequate warnings prior to the work. The board voted to turn the matter over to the Finance Committee to review it.

The Jaycees expressed their thanks for the use of the Geidel house for their Haunted House.

The board then adjourned to a closed session.

Open House at All Schools in District

The annual open house at all schools in the Kewaskum District will be held on Monday and Tuesday, November 13 and 14 from 9:05 a.m. to 3:40 p.m. All residents of the district are invited to visit any or all of the schools.

Parent-Teacher conferences will be held the following week. Parents of elementary students are invited to schedule this conference when they are at the schools for the open house.

The week of November 13 is American Education Week. The public is urged to visit their schools and to ask questions which they might have concerning the educational programs.

Winter Parking Ordinance In Effect

A reminder that on November 1, our winter parking ordinance went into effect.

Section 9.30 (1) of the Village of Kewaskum Municipal Code restricts parking on village streets from November 1 until April 1. No vehicles may be parked on the streets between the hours of midnight and 6:00 o'clock a.m., unless they are parked in accordance with the following:

(a) On the even numbered side of the street on those dates which bear an even calendar date at 12 o'clock midnight.

(b) On the odd numbered side of the street on those dates which bear an odd calendar date at 12 o'clock midnight.

An additional comment on the winter parking ordinance is that in compliance with our revised Municipal Code the minimum fine allowed by the code is $5.00.

POST OFFICE HOURS FOR VETERANS DAY, SATURDAY

The Kewaskum Post Office window service will be closed for Veterans Day on Saturday, November 11. The lobby, however, will be open from 6:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

There will be the regular dispatch of mail at the register time, 6:15 p.m. Mail must be deposited in the collection box in front of the post office before 6:15 p.m.

Obituaries

PAUL GREMMINGER

Paul K. Gremminger, 76, of Route 2, Campbellsport, died Saturday, November 4, at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac.

He was born January 2, 1902, at Campbellsport, and married Frances Fox on September 10, 1930, at St. Michael's, Dotyville.

He was a retired farmer, a member of St. Matthew's Church and Holy Name Society and a 50-year member of the Catholic Knights.

Survivors include his wife; four sons, Eugene of Campbellsport, David (Eleanor) of Campbellsport, Robert (Bonnie) of West Bend and Dr. Roger of Milwaukee; four daughters, Sr. Elaine of Waukegan, Ill., Ruth of Milwaukee, Carol (Ernest) Jones of West Bend and Susan of Milwaukee; eight grandchildren; one brother, Roderick of Mayville; three sisters, Mrs. Eleanor Miller of Campbellsport, Mrs. Valeria Cosgrove of Fond du Lac and Mrs. Olive Dieringer of Wabeno, and other relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by one son, three brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services were held Monday at 10:30 a.m. at the Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport, and at 11:00 a.m. at St. Matthew's Church, Campbellsport. Rev. Victor Kemmer officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

GEORGE MILLER

George V. Miller, 58, 320 Forest St., Campbellsport, a mason with Del Ponte Construction Company at Campbellsport, died Wednesday morning, November 1, 1978, at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac.

He was born July 15, 1920, in the Town of Ashford, a son of John A. and Eleanor Gremminger Miller. He never married.

Mr. Miller was a member of Campbellsport Volunteer Fire Department for 29 years, Sportsmen's Club and St. Matthew's Catholic Church.

Surviving are his mother of Campbellsport; two brothers, Francis of Baraboo and Benno of Campbellsport; and four sisters, Mrs. Eugene (Rita) Zehren and Mrs. Norbert (Julia) Broecker, both of Kewaskum, Mrs. Linus (Florence) Simon of Campbellsport and Mrs. Robert (Agnes) Schenk of Athelstane, Wisconsin. His father preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport, and at 10:30 a.m. at St. Matthew's Church, Campbellsport. The Rev. John Simon, a nephew of the deceased, officiated and burial followed in the parish cemetery.

Visitation for Mr. Miller was after 3:30 p.m. Friday at the funeral home.

NORTON KAISER

Norton R. Kaiser, 82, formerly of Beechwood, died at Plymouth Extended Care Facility on Tuesday, October 31, where he had been a patient for the past three months.

He was born September 14, 1896, at Batavia.

He graduated from Sheboygan County Teachers' College in 1916 and from Milwaukee State Teachers' College in 1922. He received his Ph.D from UW-Madison in 1925 and his MA degree in 1928.

From 1928-1960 he taught at Riverside Brookfield High School in Riverside, Ill. where he was head of the Social Science Department for 30 years.

He was a member of various organizations including, Phi Delta Kappa Honorary Education Fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa Honorary Scholastic Society, past president and member of the Riverside Brookfield Teachers Assoc., life member of the National Education Assoc., member of the Illinois Education Assoc., and West Suburban, Illinois and National Social Studies Councils.

Following his retirement in 1960 he lived at Beechwood and served on the Beechwood Union Cemetery Board.

Survivors include nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by one brother and a twin sister.

Private funeral services were held Friday at 2:00 p.m. at the Wittkopp Funeral Home, Plymouth. Rev. William F. Helwig officiated and burial was in Beechwood Union Cemetery.

There was no visitation at the funeral home.

Nurses Cap Received By Ann Koerble

(Marshfield)....The 70 members of the Class of 1980, St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing pledged their dedication to their chosen profession in a ceremony at the Fine-Arts Lecture-Performance Hall, University of Wisconsin Center-Marshfield on Sunday, October 29.

During what is traditionally known as the "Capping Ceremony," women members of the class received caps, and male members, pins. The ceremony is conducted at the time when students have completed their fundamentals in nursing and are preparing to begin their clinical experience in the hospital.

Mary Streff, RN, and Lula Mueller, RN, performed the capping ceremony, presenting either caps or pins to the students. With a background of "I Want to Live," by John Denver, sung by Lynn Hendrick, accompanied by Connie Halberg, Mrs. Hanson lighted the center candle for the candlelighting ceremony. Class members then lit individual candles, and the poem, "Thinking," by James Allen, was read by Maria Cieslewicz and Shirley Talford.

Members of the class of 1980 included Ann Koerble of Campbellsport, formerly of Kewaskum.

Papa Robin sat on the blue eggs in the nest. Later, Mama Robin returned to sit on the nest to keep the eggs warm. When it became Papa Robin's turn again, he found among the blue eggs one that was brown and mottled. He asked Mama Robin about it.

"Said she, "I did that for a lark."

Fred Meyers to Celebrate 50 Years of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyer of Route 1, Kewaskum, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with an open house given by their children on Sunday, November 19, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, Kewaskum. Relatives and friends are invited.

They are the parents of four children: Mrs. Dolores Hackbarth, Hartford; Mrs. Vincent (Elvira) Nigh, Kewaskum; William F. (Janet), Kewaskum and Carl H. (Bonnie) of rural route Random Lake. They also have 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The former Ella Block was born March 22, 1902 at Williams Town. Meyer was born on February 13, 1904 at Rubicon. They were married November 28, 1928 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Kekoskee, by the late Rev. Otto Toepel. Mrs. Esther (Block) Steger and the late William Steger and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hardegen of West Bend were the wedding attendants.

KEWASKUM HIGH SCHOOL FBLA TO SELL CANDLES

The Kewaskum High School Chapter of FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) is selling candles to raise money. The sale is being conducted from November 8 thru November 12. Prices for the two sizes of candles are $2.50 and $2.75. Wall sconce or holders are also available.

The Meyers farmed in rural Kewaskum until the time of their retirement in 1969. Both are quite active and enjoy doing odds and ends around the farm, and are members of St. John's Lutheran Church of New Fane.

To place an order call Dawn Gavin, 626-4789; Kathy Batzler, 533-8425; Patty Felten, 626-2724; Cheri Hintze, 626-2709; Lisa Voge, 629-2158; Janis Karoses, 626-2558, or Miss Vogt, 629-5928.

Christ Kobers Plan Golden Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Christ J. Kober, 1630 Riverview Drive, Kewaskum, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, November 12. An open house will be held from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the Wigwam Hall in Kewaskum. Relatives and friends are invited to greet and congratulate them.

The former Leona E. Rosenbaum and Kober were married November 14, 1928 at the home of her parents in Waucousta.

Miss Erma Rosenbaum, Walter Daliege, Mrs. Louise Eichsteadt and the late Alvin Hoeppner were the honor attendants.

Kober worked for Regal Ware, Kewaskum until he retired. They are both members of St. Lucas Lutheran Church, Kewaskum.

The couple has three children: Mrs. Norman (Bernice) Krueger of West Bend; William (Beverly) and Mrs. Raymond (Betty Mae) Mertzig, both of Kewaskum. They also have nine grandchildren.

Weiss Baby Girl Baptized Sunday

The infant daughter of Tom and Donna Weiss, Route 2, Kewaskum, was baptized Sunday afternoon, November 5, at Holy Trinity Church, Kewaskum, by Rev. John T. Budde. She received the name Heather Ann. Her sponsors were Dawn Volm, Route 2, Kewaskum, and Richard Weiss, Washington D.C., who is serving in the Navy.

The baby's christening dress was made from the maternal grandmother's wedding dress by the paternal grandmother.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Weiss, Route 3, Kewaskum, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Volm, Route 2, Kewaskum.

A number of guests were entertained for the occasion.

Leo J. Thelens Celebrate 50 Years of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Thelen, Route 1, Campbellsport, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a Mass at St. Martin's Catholic Church, Ashford, and a reception, dinner and dance at Lomira Legion Hall on October 8.

The former Eleanor Haas and Thelen were married October 9, 1928.

Emma Haas and the late

Alex Thelen were the honor attendants.

The Thelens are engaged in farming.

They have five children: Leo, West Bend; Ray, Route 1, Campbellsport; Mrs. Leander (Audrey) Ruplinger, Route 3, Campbellsport; and John and Robert, Campbellsport. They also have 17 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Christmas Craft and Bake Sale Saturday

Don't forget to attend the annual Christmas Craft and Bake Sale at Holy Trinity Church Hall, Kewaskum, this Saturday, November 11, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

The craft sale will include handmade tree ornaments, holiday decorations, wall hangings, stuffed toys, pillows, quilts, mittens, knitted and crocheted items.

The bake sale will feature all kinds of yeast dough bakery including stollens, plus cakes, cookies and candy.

'Colonial Women' Program Planned For DAR Meeting

Dorothy Dwelle, professor of English at UW-Washington County, will present a program on "Colonial Women" at the November 16 meeting of the Joseph Marest Chapter, DAR.

The 1:15 p.m. meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. C. Kieckhafer, 626 S. 8th Avenue, West Bend. Co-hostesses are Mrs. William H. B. Wright III, and Mrs. Thomas Fuhrman. All members planning to attend should notify one of the hostesses before the meeting date.

Professor Dwelle, an associate member of Joseph Marest Chapter, is the first faculty member at UWWC to be given a full professorship. She taught at the Racine two-year campus and at Parkside before coming to UWWC as a member of its originating faculty. Her publications include mainly plays and skits, and she has authored the English literature course for the United Armed Forces Institute for early English literature, including her intense interest, the plays of William Shakespeare. Her most recent publication was as one of the three authors of The History of Worth County, Iowa. Since her ancestors founded the county seat of that county, she has often been called upon to write feature articles for the Worth County newspapers on history of that area.

Travel fills whatever time Professor Dwelle has to her own devices, so recently she toured the early American Colonial areas, visiting in particular localities of the earliest settlements. Individualism and self-realization of the early American women hold a special interest for Dwelle, since Abigail Adams and Priscilla Mullins are two of her progenitors.

Area women interested in DAR membership should contact the Chapter Regent, Mrs. Donald Cooley (telephone 338-1618); Chapter Registrar, Mrs. Harry Koch (telephone 626-2061), or the membership chairman, Mrs. William Nielsen (telephone 334-5032).

National Legal Secretaries Court Observance Week

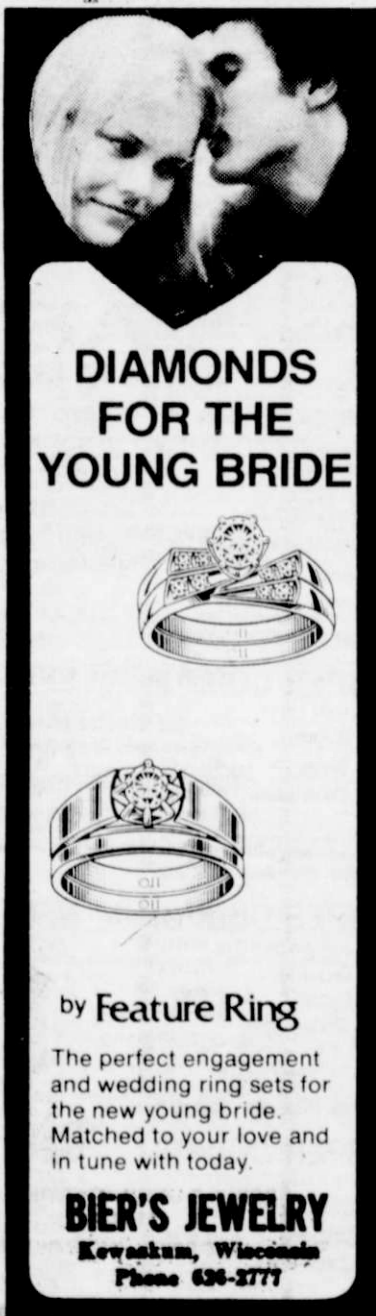

The week of October 8-14, 1978 had been proclaimed National Legal Secretaries Court Observance Week.

The National Association of Legal Secretaries (International) has sponsored Day In Court Programs since 1956 for the purpose of affording Legal Secretaries, Students, Legal Assistants and the General Public an opportunity to visit local courts, observe trials in progress and gain first hand knowledge of the functions of various departments connected with local judicial systems.

Washington-Ozaukee Association of Legal Secretaries observed its "Day In Court" on October 17th at the Ozaukee County Court House, Port Washington. Harold Dobbepuhl, County Clerk, was host for the tour of various offices. This was followed by a business meeting.

Our chapter received a copy of the Proclamation issued by Acting Governor Martin J. Schreiber proclaiming the week of October 8 through October 14, 1978 as Court Observance Week.

The National Association of Legal Secretaries (International), consisting of over 24,000 members from the United States, Canada and several foreign countries, is a professional association dedicated to increase the knowledge, proficiency, and professionalism of employees in the legal field. Its motto is: "PROFESSIONALISM plus EDUCATION equals EXCELLENCE."

Conservation Tillage Used On Neumann, Proeber Farms

Conservation tillage protects soil, and conserves energy. Conservation tillage is defined as limiting the number of cultural operations to those that are properly timed and essential to produce a crop and prevent soil damage.

Conservation tillage reduces soil and water losses; retards deterioration of soil structure to reduce soil compaction and formation of tillage pans, and improves soil aeration, permeability and tilth.

Keys to successful conservation tillage are:

1. Select equipment and a tillage system suitable to your soil and type of farming.

2. Use crop residue cover to reduce wind and water erosion. Contours, strip cropping and diversions help on long slopes.

3. Limit tillage and cultivation to that necessary for your system.

4. Select varieties of crops to perform in high populations and surface residues and to resist disease.

5. Use pesticides for weed and insect control.

Chisel plowing leaves a protective cover of crop residue on the surface for erosion control by substituting the chisel for the moldboard plow.

Advantages:

1. Saves energy.

2. Reduces runoff.

3. Surface residue reduces evaporation.

4. Saves time and labor.

A disadvantage of conservation tillage is that it takes more pesticide to control weeds and insects. The herbicide acts as a cultivator controlling crabgrass and other types of grasses.

Roger Neumann of Kewaskum has approximately 120 acres of conservation tillage on his farms. He first tried conservation tillage in 1976 and has been adding more to his land each year. He said it has worked out very well for him.

University of Wisconsin research has determined that chisel plowing is the best erosion control without sacrificing yield. Corn plots on the Howard Proeber farm, Town of Wayne, showed that tillage using a chisel plow was about $5.00 per acre less than conventional tillage. However, yields were about 10 bu. per acre lower using the same management inputs and planting dates. Therefore, it appears the advantages of chisel plowing are decreased soil erosion and time and energy savings.

Find out all you can about the method you plan to follow. What works on one farm might not work on another. Read all about it. Talk with those who use conservation tillage. Observe it firsthand. Check on equipment needs and perhaps you can get started using your present equipment with or without modifications. Various hybrids react differently so try several and stick with the best.

Make up your mind that conservation tillage will work for you. It will! For production with protection contact the Soil Conservation Service at 2395 W. Washington Street, West Bend, Wisconsin or phone 334-3706.

PCA Supports Outstanding Young Farmer Program

Production Credit Association (PCA) has become a major sponsor to support the 1979 Jaycees State Outstanding Young Farmer Program. PCA has supported the State Outstanding Young Farmer Program in recent years.

This year, PCA is supporting the major cost of securing Orion Samuelson as the featured speaker for the Awards Program. Samuelson is the Agriculture Services Director with WGN Radio in Chicago. He is well known and sought after by agricultural groups for their programs.

The 1979 Outstanding Young Farmer Program will be held in West Bend on January 12 and 13, 1979. Jaycee chapters from around the state will be sponsoring local Outstanding Young Farmer winners to the state competition. About 40 chapters are expected to participate.

The weekend events will include interviews with candidates and judging of state winners, Candidate and Sponsors Banquet, farm tours, and the Awards and Recognition Banquet.

The Jaycees are looking for local and statewide support for their project. Contacts are being made with many agricultural businesses for their support.

Project Chairman for the event is Jack Trzebiatowski. Additional information about the program can be obtained by contacting him at 116 N. 15th Avenue, West Bend, Wisconsin 53095; phone (414) 338-3677.

Kelly Butzke Selected As KHS Candidate For Youth Foundation Competition

Kelly Butzke has been selected as Kewaskum Community High School's candidate for the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation International Leadership Seminar competition, Clark Pearson, Principal, announced.

The Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation promotes leadership qualities in high school sophomores. The local competition was open to all high school sophomores. The criteria for selection consisted of evidence of emerging leadership ability, cooperation with fellow human beings and sensitivity to the needs of others, ability to relate to new pursuits and acquaintances, and the desire to learn and share knowledge and experience with others.

Kelly will now compete with other high school representatives from Wisconsin. One boy and girl from the state will be chosen to attend the annual, all-expense paid, week-long International Leadership Seminar on America's Incentive System, sponsored by Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation and coordinated by Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia, April 21-28, 1979.

A "Blue Ribbon" committee composed of 53 nationally-recognized leaders will select the candidates at the state level. Mamie Doud Eisenhower is Honorary Chairman of the National Selection Committee and Norman Cousins, former Editor, Saturday Review, is its Chairman. Those chosen to participate in the International Leadership Seminar will interact with top tenth graders from every state in the nation and 12 other countries and with prominent leaders in business, government, education and the professions.

The actor, Hugh O'Brian established the Foundation in 1958 to seek outstanding high school sophomores to provide them with opportunities for their potential leadership abilities to emerge, develop and be recognized. The Seminars are vital to achieving the Foundation's goals.

"These informal sessions are run by the 10th graders," O'Brian said. "One of the most exciting aspects of the sessions is the question and answer time with plenty of give and take from the students and the speakers. The Seminars provide a means for the nation's young people to return home and make a positive contribution towards motivating themselves and their classmates to become contributing members of the community. The Seminars also provide the opportunity to take note of the exciting good news about the nation's positive-thinking youth....tomorrow's leaders."

UWWC to Present 'A Thurber Carnival'

Preparations for UWWC's fall theatre production "A Thurber Carnival" are well underway according to Communication Arts Professor Carl Barnhart. The dramatic and technical elements are soon to be combined for the November 29, 30 and December 1, 2 performances. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Directed by Barnhart, the Thurbert cast includes Ann Steinbach, Kelly Rock, Connie Steger, Crystal Fauster, Greg Starr, Dean Wick, Mark Kohler, Kevin Rock and Mark Anderson. Lighting and set design/construction involve Jack Gates, Wes Reshel, Lee Miller, Stuart Carlson and several cast members.

Written by James Thurber, "A Thurber Carnival" illustrates a score of social situations and/or sacred cows which man and woman become inextricably part of. Their efforts to deal with these situations will provide an evening of parody, poignancy and insight.

Tickets are on sale from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily in the Main Office. Ticket prices are $3.00 for adults, $1.00 for students and senior citizens and the special family rate for two parents and any number of children is $7.00. To order your tickets through the mail, send a check for the amount of tickets, specify the night you wish to attend and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope. Mail to: TICKETS, University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County, 400 University Drive, West Bend, Wisconsin, 53095.

October Kiwanis Students of the Month

Kewaskum Statesman, Friday, Nov. 10, 1978, Page 9

Jeri Buss

Jeri Buss, daughter of Mrs. Ivan Buss of Route 2, Campbellsport, and Paul Bremser, son of Mrs. Althea Bremser of Route 3, Kewaskum, have been chosen as Kiwanis students for the month of October.

Jeri has been active in track for four years and in gymnastics for two years. She was on the prom court in her junior year and on the homecoming court in both her junior and senior years. Jeri is a member of the National Honor Society. She was a student government representative in her freshman year and a class officer in her sophomore and senior years. Last year she was our representative to Badger Girls State. She was a cheerleader for two years and a member of the Spanish Club. Jeri is also a member of the high school band. Paul was a student government representative in his freshman and junior years. He is active in sports, having participated in football for four years and in basketball and track for three years. Paul was inducted into the National Honor Society in his freshman year. During his freshman, sophomore and senior years, he was a member of the Swing Choir and the Mixed Chorus. During his sophomore year, he participated in the musical production of "Music Man." Last year Paul was on the prom court and this year he was homecoming king.

Regular Meeting of Board of Education

The regular meeting of the Kewaskum Board of Education will be held on Monday, November 13. The meeting will begin at about 8:30 p.m. in the district administrative offices.

Agenda items will include two from the last meeting dealing with payment for an arts and crafts program and paying mileage for a supervision program. A question on the sale of typewriters, approval of purchasing an amplifier for the music department, approval of payroll and vouchers payable, and approval to purchase industrial and arts equipment will also be on the agenda. A closed session will be held before the regular session, so the open meeting will begin at about 8:30 or 8:45.

Births

WILLIE — A daughter to Dennis and Adeline Willie, Campbellsport, Tuesday, October 31.

BAUMANN — A son to Ardith and Marjorie Baumann, Kewaskum, Saturday, November 4.

Governor Proclaims Nov. 16 As 2nd Annual Day to Stop Smoking

The American Cancer Society hopes that grocery stores will run out of lemon drops, celery stalks and chewing gum on Thursday, November 16. If they do, it will mean that many Wisconsin smokers will be trying to quit during the Great American Smokeout.

The 2nd Annual Day to Stop Smoking is a nationwide effort by ACS volunteers. Wisconsin's Honorary Chairman is Green Bay Packer, Dave Roller. A smoker himself, Roller is asking others to join him in trying to kick the habit on the 16th. Acting Governor Martin Schreiber, an ex-smoker, has declared November 16 as a day to stop smoking in Wisconsin.

Society volunteers are planning a variety of activities before and on "D-Day." The UW Marching Band will do a pre-game show about the Smokeout during the Badger-Purdue game November 11.

Bowman Dairy has dedicated a side panel of their half pint milk carton to the health message, "Best tip yet, don't start." Both American Family Insurance Group and CUNA Mutual Insurance Society will be encouraging employees to quit.

Waukesha County will have a Mayor's breakfast with the event county-wide. The smoke-out committee in Outagamie County is asking 13 high schools to ban smoking for the day-including bathrooms!

Pledge cards will be distributed in shopping centers in Green Bay. Cold turkey sandwiches will be sold for 25c to smokers trying to quit at St. Mary's Hospital in Racine. All employees at the Krohn Clinic in Black River Falls will take the pledge to quit.

There is probably something happening in your community. Join the effort by calling your local American Cancer Society.

Steps Taken Now Can Check Plant, Lawn Winter Harm

If you underestimate the appetites and burrowing abilities of small mammals this winter, you may be in for an unpleasant surprise.

Last winter's long, protective snow cover combined with large populations of meadow mice, moles and rabbits do leave homeowners, nursery owners and others reeling from the damage inflicted on their lawns, trees and shrubs.

To prevent a repeat performance this year, homeowners are asked to take some preventive measures this fall and in the coming winter.

Burrowing animals such as moles can cause a network of lumpy ridges in your lawn. Meadow mice (also known as meadow moles) do not burrow in the soil but they do make runways through dense grass and lawns.

Rabbits and meadow mice can seriously injure trees and shrubs by gnawing on the branches and bark. If they completely girdle the trunk, the tree will die.

The meadow mouse is probably the most abundant species of mammal in the state. Their appetites seem boundless--as few as 10 mice per acre in a 100 acre field could eat as much as 11 tons of grass or 5 1/2 tons of alfalfa in a year.

Last year, large populations of meadow mice caused serious damage throughout the state to Christmas tree plantations, nursery stock and ornamental trees and shrubs in yards and gardens.

Around the home, however, meadow mice are usually easy to control by trapping. It is suggested to use mouse snap-traps baited with a mixture of oatmeal and peanut butter. It is also advisable to mow and thatch your lawn this fall to reduce the protective cover and the amount of food available to mice during winter.

Moles do not eat much vegetable matter but they do construct extensive burrows at or near the surface of lawns or gardens. It is difficult to control mole damage because a special type of choker trap, which is inserted into the burrow, is needed.

Judging by the complaints received last spring, rabbits may have infested homeowners more than other small animals. Last year's extensive snow cover forced the rabbits to search for food above the surface of the snow. Exposed trees and shrubs were the only food sources available. As a result, many trees and shrubs were damaged or killed by girdling.

To prevent damage to shrubs and fruit bushes, surround them with a two to three foot high fence made of one inch mesh chicken wire. Make sure you keep snow from building up in the immediate area around the fence. A snow build up may make it easier for the rabbits to jump over the barrier.

For trees, wrapping quarter inch hardware cloth around the base to a height of three feet is recommended. If the wrap is extended slightly below the surface, it may also deter mice damage.

Repellants can be brushed or sprayed on plants and are quite effective. However, some repellants must be applied after each rain or snow while others can be applied this fall and should last all winter. These are available at lawn and garden stores. Read the label and follow the directions carefully when applying the repellants.

Trapping, with a box trap, is another alternative and is easy to do during winter. If you remove rabbits this winter, you may encounter fewer problems next growing season.

'How to Get Control Of Your Business' Seminar Planned

"How to Get Control of Your Business" is a question facing businessmen daily. How can I meet governmental demands? How can I meet the escalatory costs? How can I stay on top of my business?

These and other questions will be dealt with in a practical, no-nonsense seminar on November 15 at the Olympia Resort, Oconomowoc, from 1:30 - 4:30 p.m.

Top leadership for the experience will be given by Harry Davis, owner/operator of the Jellonia and Rollin/Resort at Caledonia and Cooper, Business Economics from the Rec. Res. Center of the University.

The concerns and questions of the participants will be an important part of the day's work. A practical approach to record keeping and additional resources will be identified for the business manager.

A registration form can be secured from your local University of Wisconsin Extension office or from Chuck Wise, Program Coordinator, (414) 547-6721, Ext. 214. Pre-registration is necessary; enrollment is limited.

The Table Talk Series is being co-sponsored with the Southern Gateway Association.

Workshop Will Review Farmer Tax Regulations

Recent changes in both Wisconsin and Federal income tax laws will be reviewed in a Farm Income Tax Workshop held at the Holiday Inn in Fond du Lac November 15, from 2:30 to 9:00 p.m.

Other program topics will include installment sales, carry-over property basis, new tax regulations, formation of corporations and partnerships and other tax procedures, including capital gains and losses and depreciation.

University of Wisconsin-Extension personnel and representatives from the U.S. Treasury-Internal Revenue Service and the State of Wisconsin Department of Revenue will conduct the workshops.

The registration fee of $30 includes the cost of workshop materials, a meal and other expenses associated with the meeting.

More information is available from the Washington County UW-Extension office, phone 334-3491, 644-5204 or 342-2929, Extension 263, or the Agricultural Conferences Office, Jorns Hall, UW-Madison, Madison, Wisconsin 53706, phone (608) 263-1672.

Participants must pre-register for the workshops.

The workshops are sponsored by the UW-Extension Department of Agricultural Economics.

Valley Banks Announce Dividend

Appleton — The board of directors of Valley Bancorporation, parent company of the Valley Banks, voted a dividend payout of 38c per share December 1, 1978, to shareholders of record as of November 24, 1978.

With the 10% stock dividend issued during the second quarter, the annualized dividend of $1.52 per share represents a 16.1% increase over the annualized dividend per share of a year ago.

Valley remains the fourth largest among Wisconsin banking organizations after posting a third quarter annual increase of 15.3% in assets. The $535.5 million-asset Valley Bancorporation consists of 16 banks with 26 banking offices, a trust company, a leasing company and a data processing subsidiary all located in Wisconsin. In addition, an application is pending for prior approval to acquire the $29.2 million-asset Winnebago County Bank in Omro, Wisconsin.

November 'Law of the Month' to Stress Autumn Driving Hazards

Special driving hazards associated with uncertain weather conditions will be emphasized by the Division of Enforcement and Inspection as the "Law of the Month" for November.

Seasonal driving hazards include fog, which may occur in early morning and evening hours particularly in low-lying areas near rivers and lakes, as well as bridge decks that can be icy even when adjacent roadways are clear.

Captain Jack W. Jorgensen, Commanding District 2, of the Wisconsin State Patrol, said Wisconsin laws require motorists to have their vehicles under control at all times, and to drive no faster than "reasonable and prudent," which, under adverse weather conditions, can mean substantially slower than the posted speed limits.

Jorgensen noted that "speed too fast for conditions" was the leading "possible contributing factor" listed by Wisconsin law enforcement officers investigating both fatal and non-fatal accidents last year.

He urged drivers to be especially alert to unexpected fog conditions along the entire shorelines of Lakes Michigan, Superior, and St. Clair, areas along the Mississippi, Wisconsin, Fox and other major rivers, and in the vicinity of marshlands and lakes. Another hazard is wet leaves lying on the roadway. They can be extremely slippery under the wheels of a speeding vehicle.

The icy bridge deck phenomenon occurs during the warm days/cold nights of Autumn because bridge decks cool more rapidly and ice crystals form from condensation. The approach roadways, which retain heat more effectively, will remain clear and dry.

William A. Harvey, Administrator of the Division of Enforcement and Inspection, urged drivers to adjust their driving habits to the changing season by being more alert to the special driving conditions, and to adjust their driving speeds accordingly.

The warmest sea on earth is the Red Sea in Asia Minor. Its average temperature is 95 degrees F.

Program Honors

4-H Members

Washington County recognized many of its outstanding youth at the annual 4-H Achievement Program recently. Four Washington County members received a Wisconsin 4-H Key Award. They were Anne Hupfer, and Mary Kay Hupfer of the Topnotchers 4-H Club of West Bend; Pamela Mayer of the Sr. Hi-Lite Happy Workers 4-H Club of Slinger; and John Sobotik of the Hillside Hustlers 4-H Club of Colgate. The Wisconsin 4-H Key Award is presented to members who have done outstanding work in club activities and leadership over the past several years.

The Youth Leadership Award for leadership during the past year was presented to John Dettmann, Pam Mayer and Sally Krueger.

Awards were given to members in various 4-H projects based on their record book and recommendation of their leader.

The following awards were presented. Agricultural - Eugene Heterbrueg and Dawn Schmidt; Beef - Stanley Shaw, Mary Ellen Shaw and Renee Schneider; Clothing - Cheryl Wolf, Linnette Wolf, Marcella Mayer and Pam Mayer; Conservation - Debra Klug, Jon Etta and Sandra Olson; Crafts - Billie Clark, Julie Harvancik, Bryn Herther, Julie Dettmann, Patty Hupfer and Craig Wolf; Crochet and Knitting - Kim Belger, Lori Prochnow and Diane Sterr; Dairy - Dwight Mayer, Marcella Mayer, Pam Mayer and Scott Lepien; Demonstration - Jim Minz; Dog Care and Training - Jerold Harvancik, Linda Groth, Tracey Guelig, and Donna Laun; Exploring - Paul Braun, Diane Schroeder and Colette Wolf; Electrical Energy - Edward Wolf, Jr.; Food and Nutrition - Jill Klesper, Ellen Heterbrueg, Sue Lemke and Greta Stearns; Food Preservation - Katherine Stommel; Forestry - Kim Belger and Sandy Secor; Gardening - Kenneth Falk, Robert Falk, Debra Klug and Jim Rodell; Goat - Sharon Gordon; Home Environment - Jill Etta; Horse - Debbie Emmer, Sharon Gordon and Donna Laun; Houseplants and Flowers - Gail Schumacher; Music and Drama - Laurie Lemke; Photography - Kurt Braun, Amy Nigh, Carol Proeber and Cindy Rauh; Rabbit - Laura Miller and Karl Seilenbinder; Sheep - Carey Dogs; Small Animals - Roxanne Guelig; Veterinary Science - Connie Long; and Woodworking - Billie Jo Clark, Brian Seideman, Tom Selle and Scott Schoeni.

When members have successfully completed their 4-H work and reach age of 18 or graduate from high school, they are eligible to graduate from 4-H. The following members were 1978 graduates of the Washington County 4-H Program: Diane Belger, Kurt Braun, Beth Bruni, Laura Dei, Christine Doll, Debbie Emmer, Tim Groth, Chris Hilgendorf, Donna Kertscher, Lisa Kirmse, Bonnie Kreif, Cindy Lubbert, Mary Martin, Colleen McCambridge, Richard Peters, Paul Puestow, Kathy Sauer, Allen Schoeni, Andrew Schuetz, Robert Secor, Debra Selle, Richard Takacs, Mary Turk, Jeff Wahl, Marilyn Wagner, Catherine Wolf and Elizabeth Zimdahl.

Several clubs were honored for their club activities. Clubs recognized are as follows: Community Development - Happy Go Lucky, Kewaskum 4-H'ers, Good Luck and Trentonaires; Conservation - Happy Go Lucky, Good Luck, Kirchhayn Trotters and Trentonaires Go Getters; Health - Good Luck and Trentonaires Go Getters; Recreation - Happy Go Lucky, Trentonaires Go Getters, Myra-neers, and Kirchhayn Trotters and Safety - Kirchhayn Trotters.

A special feature of the County Achievement Program was an illustrated talk by Beverley Jordan, the West Bend Rotary Club International Student from Rhodesia. There was also a report on the trip to Citizenship Short Course by the four members that had attended. They were Mary Kay Hupfer, Bonnie Kreif, Diane Belger and Linda Groth.

Two AFS students living with 4-H families were also introduced. They were Edgardo Carranza of El Salvador who is living with the Norbert Dettmann family and Patrine Dias from Sri Lanka living with the Bob Cross family. She did a candian dance at the program. The AFS students would like to visit 4-H clubs in the county.

The program began with the presentation of colors by Evelyn Mayer, Kevin Harvancik, Vernon Jung and Phyllis Cameron. Ushers for the program were Ann Margaret Shaw, Sandy Nigh and Roxanne Guelig.

The Achievement and Recognition Committee which is responsible for conducting the program included Arlene Cypher, chairman; Mrs. Marilyn Mayer, vice-chairman; Mrs. Marie Clark, Billie Jo Clark, Donna Laun, Gordon Wilhelmi, Mrs. Barbara Shaw, Mrs. Robert Guelig and Mrs. Wilmer Flasch.

CAMPUS FOLKLORE

Nature of Campus Lore

Since it is a common belief that folklore centers on the quaint beliefs and superstitions of uneducated, backwoods people, let us look at lore found on college campuses. Generally, we will find that it centers on sex, pranks, and professors.

On most any campus men will say that 99% of the coeds of the world are beautiful and the rest go to the college next door; that men are men and so are the women on a campus where women's phy-ed is strong; that if all the "F" students at Madison transferred to Harvard, it would improve the academic levels of both institutions; or that one college is shutting down because someone stole the book out of the library. Thus do sayings express male chauvinism, snobbery, and humor—important ingredients of campus lore.

Stories About the Unsuccessful Student Who Fooled Them!

Every campus has a few stories about the student who just didn't have what it took to do academic work, and so was either dropped or managed to graduate by special action of the faculty who hoped he would disappear.

One student who had barely scraped through mathematics courses and had been graduated by charitable action returned to his old campus for the 25th reunion. He drove up in a Cadillac, wore expensive clothes, and indicated that he had enjoyed a successful life. When asked by old friends how he had done it, he explained that he had invented a little widget which cost only $2 to make but he sold it for $4, and with that 2% profit he said he had become a millionaire.

On another campus the dean told a student that he was being dropped because of his poor record. But, said the dean, you can come back some day when you are rich and famous, and "spit on my grave." The student said that he surely would come back rich and famous someday, but he would not spit on the dean's grave. He would not want to stand in line that long!

When the school year started in the fall, a bright student enrolled in one professor's course and attended the first day. Then he failed to show up again until the final exam which he wrote and received a "B" in the course. This puzzled the professor. How could a student do so well in his course without attending his lectures couched in brilliant prose and loaded with gems of wisdom. He called the student into his office and asked him to explain this strange happening. The student said that he thought he could do better than a "B," but the professor confused him a little when he attended class the first day.

Lore About Presidents And Academic Deans

Students tell few stories about deans and presidents, but among faculties such yarns abound as part of their anti-administration beliefs. They say that a dean is a person who does not know enough to be a professor and is too smart to be a president. An assistant dean is a mouse in training to be a rat. If the president is the shepherd of the flock, the dean is the shepherd's crook.

The dean would define his job as making the college twice as good as the faculty says it is and half as good as the president thinks it is. If the role of the faculty is to think and the president to make speeches, then the dean's task is to keep the faculty from making speeches and the president from thinking.

A family had a pup named "Professor." After it grew up, they changed the name to "Dean." They were asked why they had changed the name. "We had to," said the owner. "He used to go around sniffing at everything and bothering everybody, but now all he does is sit on his hind-end and howl."

The role of the dean of women hardly exists these days, but until recent times she looked after the interests of all the women. Campus lore says the dean used to tell the girls:

"Don't say peaches or pucker your mouth when out on a date; do not wear red dresses, or patent leather shoes which reflect what is above; do not sit on a boy's lap unless you place a newspaper beneath you; do not eat celery or lettuce before going on a date since they whet sexual desire."

Faculty stories about presidents always downgrade the position. This one is typical:

When the Pope arrived in Heaven, he was surprised to learn that there was no welcoming committee and that no celebration was planned. As he sat thoughtfully by the entrance gate, a college president arrived and was immediately whisked through. Within minutes there was a parade and bands played and speeches rang through the heavenly corridors. This was more than the Pope could take, so he asked St. Peter why a college president should get so much attention and the head of Christendom should receive so little. "The answer is simple," said St. Peter, "We've never got a college president before."

Lore About Professors

Until recent times professors have occupied lofty positions in an admiring social order. A Danish immigrant farmer near River Falls even named his cows after college professors. Despite this role, the yarns about older professors deal with their forgetfulness, incompetence, or laziness and those about younger professors center on their special treatment of pretty coeds such as giving good grades to those who have the prettiest legs in the front row.

A common saying is that if you put three professors in a room, they will come up with four opinions after hours of dis-ussion. Bored students say that if all of Professor X's students were stretched end to end they would be more comfortable.

A professor of geography was lecturing from his faded notes, droning along about the Mississippi River dumping each year 9,989,000 tons of silt and then turned the page and started another topic. A brave student asked, "The Mississippi River dumps each year 9,989,000 tons of silt where?" The Professor turned the yellowed page back, and again intoned: "The Mississippi River each year dumps 9,989,000 tons...." paused, turned the page, and said: "It don't say."

Student Lore

Student lore centers on sex, drinking, professors, or the food service. The latter is the butt of many jokes, especially when the winter doldrums set in. There are stories about worms found in the salads, laxatives in the desserts, and flies in the soups. Little ditties such as this one abound: "They say at River Falls that the meal plan is fine, but how the hell do I know--it killed a friend of mine."

The most persistent belief about the food service is that saltpeter is put in the food, especially on weekends, to calm down student passions. Returned veterans say that the army does the same thing in the training camps. It is doubtful if this was ever done by any university or even the army.

There is a considerable body of lore about fraternities--how they make their pledges sleep with a goat or consume large quantities of liquor, how they run campus politics, and how they sing raunchy songs at their meetings. One of their songs begins this way:

She was a virgin in her freshman year,

She was a virgin with her conscience clear,

She never drank, or smoked, or ran around

And was the envy of every college girl in town

Until she met a man from (another fraternity.)

And now she's a ----- in gay Paree, gay Paree.

Fraternities also sing old drinking songs such as the one about the mouse that licked up the liquor on the barroom floor one night, then sat on his haunches and roared "Bring on the gol-danged cat."

The song ends:

Well, out of the corner came the big black cat

And ate up the little brown mouse,

And the moral of this story is Never have a drink on the house.

One fraternity in Minnesota treasures a story about their little old gray-haired house mother who lived with them for a year. When it became known that the house mother was only 18 years old, the fraternity was banned for 99 years.

Campus Legends and Pranks

One of the great legends is that of the mysterious non-student who is graduated from universities. The story told when I was in college was that of the old horse that graduated from Harvard. The students enrolled an old milk-wagon horse named Bill, paid his fees each semester, and took his exams. Classes being large, no professor ever had any occasion to know Bill. Imagine the surprise at commencement when the old horse was presented for his degree!

The same story is told about UW-Madison, and perhaps elsewhere in Wisconsin, about the enrollment of a phony student who became only a number on all records. Students took this non-existent student's exams and finally graduated the "number" with an "A" average. Students at St. Olaf in Minnesota tell about graduating a dog. Though it is doubtful if any of these events occurred, they show a student hostility toward large classes, computers, and anti-personal aspects of college life.

Student Humor and Graffiti

In the 1950s every college paper had one or more humor columns, expressing the beliefs of that era. Here are two culled from the student weeklies:

Do you believe in free love?
Have I ever sent you a bill?

I'm glad that I'm an American

And proud that I am free
But I wish I were a little pup
And Russia were a tree.

In recent decades students have shown their attitude toward war, sex, and the establishment by writing graffiti on walls, desks, and blackboards. Here are some gems from the UW-River Falls:

Draft beer, not students;
make love, not war; women should be obscene, not heard;
save water--shower with a friend;
a pill a day keeps the stork away;
a woman without a man is like a fish without a bicycle;
ashes to ashes, dust to dust, what is a sweater without a bust.

It is this body of lore about student life, professors, and administrators that gives flavor and zest to campus life. Some of this lore is pure superstition, much of it is humorous. All of it shows campus lore to be helpful in describing the educational process, yesterday and today.

Book Available on 'Yarns of Wisconsin'

For the young and young-at-heart, YARNS OF WISCONSIN, a new book of stories and reminiscences about turn-of-the-century life in Wisconsin, is available through Tamarack Press, the book division of WISCONSIN trails magazine.

In the book, over 40 writers tell tall tales, remember their childhoods, and help to recreate the times 'way back then... when the world was a smaller, saner place. It was a world filled with gypsies and ragamuffins and rough-and-tumble lumberjacks, steamboats and clippers, old-time deer camps and one-room schoolhouses, lavender sachets and antimacassars, hand-cranked telephones, hot-air balloons, and White Eagle Speedsters.

YARNS OF WISCONSIN, with dozens of stories and nostalgic drawings, will be a keepsake for everyone... for the young, to know the way it was, and for the young-at-heart, to remember the way it used to be.

This new $6.95 soft-cover book is available at bookstores and gift shops or from the publisher, P.O. Box 5650, Madison, Wisconsin, 53705.

TALL TALES CONTEST DEADLINE EXTENDED TO NOVEMBER 20

South Otselic, N.Y., Oct. 17, 1978....The deadline for the Gladding International Sport Fishing Museum's annual Tall Tales Contest has been extended to November 20. The winners will receive all-expense paid trips to Ireland.

The overwhelming response to this year's contest, requests by a number of anxious anglers for more time, and the chance to fish the streams and rivers of the "Emerald Isle" have prompted museum trustees to give noble sportsmen everywhere until November 20 to submit their stories.

The 1978 contest is co-sponsored by Aer Lingus (Irish Airlines) and the Irish Tourist Board. Aer Lingus will fly the winners of both the Amateur and Professional Writers Division to Newport House, County Mayo, Ireland from the closest of its departure points: Boston, New York or Chicago.

The lucky anglers will also win an assortment of Gladding outdoor products: Invincible Fly Line, a Pearce-Simpson Depth-sounder/Fishfinder, the Gladding "Angler" fisherman's life vest, and a carry-all canvas bag. The 10 runners-up will receive their choice of Gladding fishing line and a personalized canvas bag.

There are separate categories for professional and amateur writers. Professional writers must indicate their status because they will be judged separately. No formal entry blanks necessary. Send stories to: Gladding Fishing Tall Tales Contest, P.O. Box 586, Back Bay Annex, Boston, Mass. 02117. Include name, address and telephone number.

TALL TALE CONTEST
RUNNER-UP — 1976:

I was spending the summer at Grandpa's cottage and was on the lake at daybreak, beating the lily pads with a cork bug. It was one of those mornings when the lake was blistered all over with swirls of feeding fish and there was just enough chill to appreciate my knit underwear; compliments of Grandma.

The bug was sucked in by a huge bass who then charged out of the weeds like a bull with a bee in his ear, tearing yards of line from my small flyreel. When the old moss-back stopped to "catch his breath" I looked down to see only two turns of line left on the spool. Right then and there I was willing to concede defeat until I noticed some yarn trailing out of my left cuff. Immediately I stripped to my undershirt, cut the line from the spool and attached it to the yarn with a blood knot. I was just about to trim off the ends when the bass ran again. Well sir, that yarn reeled off my sleeve so fast it wore the hair off my arm and a bothersome mole from the back of my hand (I made a mental note to determine the test weight of Granny's yarn later).

That monster soon tired and I knew in a few more minutes he would be mine. Fate was against me, however, as Granny had skipped a stitch about four inches above my elbow. The resulting loop let enough slack into the line for old Bucket-mouth to rid himself of that painful morsel, which he did: his bassy sneer being visible at a distance.

In lieu of the trophy fish I had the one-sleeved undershirt mounted as testimony of the incident: should anyone doubt this account.

Big Brothers & Sisters of County Elect

At a recent meeting of the Association of Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Washington County, the following officers and Board of Directors were elected (1979):

President: Richard Potter, West Bend; Vice President: Kenneth Schermacher, West Bend; Secretary: Nancy Mason, West Bend; Treasurer: John Von Tish, Hartford.

Three (3) year terms: Mary Sue Pansing, West Bend; Larry Teigen, West Bend; Clarence Schwartz, Route 2, Kewaskum; Terry Placzek, West Bend; William Gehl, West Bend; Todd Neilsen, West Bend; Art Seeger, Germantown; Ruth Falkner, West Bend.

Board vacancies filled: William Gehl (3 years), West Bend; Ruth Reines (1 year), West Bend; John Whelan (2 years), West Bend; Richard Schacht (2 years) West Bend; Jerold Beerends (2 years), West Bend.

Early Reserve
Entry of '78 Corn

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) says 1978 corn under price support loan is eligible for immediate entry into the farmer-owned grain reserve. This means that a farmer who has participated in the 1978 Feed Grain Set-Aside Program may obtain a Commodity Credit Corporation price support loan on his 1978 crop corn and also place it in the reserve at the same time.

The corn was authorized for early entry because the National Feed Grain Reserve goal had not been reached as of October 1, 1978.

As of September 29, 1978 county farmers had placed 126,532 bushels of corn in the reserve, contributing to the national total of 315,469,800 bushels.

ASCS officials say farmers are continuing to make substantial use of the reserve, and this gives them the best alternative to accepting current low corn prices.

In addition to reaping the benefits of higher grain prices, producers who place their corn in the reserve receive annual storage payments in advance. The program isolates grain from the market for a period of up to three years, or until prices reach stated levels.

Kewaskum Girls Strong Third in State Cross Country Meet

The Kewaskum High School girls cross country team participated in the state meet at Madison on Saturday, November 4, and ran to a strong third place finish. Finishing just ahead of Kewaskum was Hawkeye in second and Tomahawk in first.

Barb Wilson, top runner for Kewaskum, was edged out of second place by Bev Wren of Tomahawk, in the last three hundred yards and settled for third place overall with a fantastic time of 11:55 for the two mile course, 31 seconds better than her previous best. Julann Zemlicka and Laurie Wilson were the next two finishers for Kewaskum, finishing seventh and eighth respectively and also setting personal best record times of 12:38 and 12:41.

rounding out the field were Sheri Squier 25th, 13:23; Mary Kougl 28th, 13:32; Tracy Coulter 33rd, 14:10, and Brenda Fuller 37th, 14:49. Brenda had been substituted for Laura Asch because of illness.

Coach David Drexler was extremely pleased with the fine effort put forth by the whole team. "Tomahawk was a little stronger than I expected them to be," Drexler said. "I knew that their top three runners were tough but was unsure of their fourth and fifth runners. As it turned out they had good group running and that is what makes the difference."

The girls finished up with a fine season record of 6-1 in dual meet conference competition, first place championships in both the regional and sectional, and of course a third place finish at state. Top runner Barb Wilson was individual champion at both the regional and sectional.

Janet Matenaar, Pam Kempf All-Conference in Volleyball

The three schools which shared the Scenic Moraine Conference volleyball title--Kewaskum, Hartland and Pewaukee--all placed two players on the all-conference team selected by the eight coaches Monday.

Kewaskum had one unanimous pick, Janet Matenaar, who is only a junior, and Pam Kempf, who was also selected on the first team last year.

The two Pewaukee players who made the team are veterans Lia Vaalonne and Colleen Gramman. Hartland placed two juniors, Lisa Moon and Robin Henschel.

First year Kewaskum coach

Mary Lawson felt Kempf was very deserving of the award. A starter for three years, Kempf exhibited some of the best overall skills of any player in the conference, according to the coach. Matenaar is regarded as a real competitor and received many comments on her great defensive play.

All first team choices will receive Scenic Moraine medals, and this year the second team selections will also receive certificates.

Kewaskum also had two players picked on the second team, senior Denise Menzel and junior Diane Bremser.

West Bend Judo Club Competes in Midwest Classic

The West Bend Judo Club traveled to Menomonee Falls East High School Sunday for the 1978 Midwest Judo Classic. It was sponsored by the Menomonee Falls Rec. Department and Judo, Inc., Milwaukee. The club had twelve entries.

Highlighting the event was the entry of the U.S.A. National Champ, Lynn Roethke. Lynn fought in the women's 135 lb. division where she captured an undisputed 1st place. Lynn also fought in the girls 17-21 year class where she won second. Her only loss came when she fought Connie Roth, a senior brown belt, who won on a disputed call in the final seconds of the match. Lynn beat Connie in the championship match of the women's class.

In her first tournament was Pam Steilen, who competed in the 67 lb. girls class. Pam was awarded 3rd place.

The boys division saw Robbie Gessert in the 10-year-old class. As a white belt, he fought his final match against a green belt and threw the boy for a full point win (Ippon). He took 2nd place.

Dave Schlieter (11 year), of Route 1, Kewaskum, Todd Ernster (12 year), Mike Jutz (12 year) and Scott Schalk (13 year) all fought until the final round before being eliminated.

The boys 16 year class saw Dan Spors capture 1st place. His last match was won by a mat hold for a full point (Ippon).

In his second tournament was Chris Pestow. He participated in both the 17-21 year boys class where he won 3rd place and the men's 176 class.

ADULT BASKETBALL ORGANIZATIONAL MEET

An adult basketball organizational meeting will be held Thursday night, November 9, at 7:00 p.m. at the Middle School gym. Sponsors from last year will have priority. Please attend if you wish to sponsor a team. This is a six-team league.

Indians' Rod Schultz Named to Scenic Moraine All-Conference Football Team

In the voting by Scenic Moraine coaches Monday, co-champions Grafton and Pewaukee had five and four players named to the all-conference football team respectively.

Other first division teams, Germantown and Mayville, had four each selected, while Kettle Moraine had two, and Hartland, Slinger and Kewaskum one each.

Grafton's Mike Gannon was a unanimous pick. He had better than 1,000 yards rushing and led the conference in scoring with 72 points, although he missed the first two games against Mayville and Kewaskum. The Blackhawks also had Dave Leu at center and Jeff Coates (unanimous), Henry Van Damme and Chris Heller on defense.

Pewaukee's Pete Opie was selected as quarterback for the second year in a row. He completed nearly 60% of his passes, ran well and was a strong leader. His favorite target, John Maltch, was a unanimous choice at end. He had 17 receptions and always came up with the big play. Big Greg Maternowski, tackle, and Dave Hillen, who finished among the top scorers, were the other Pirates named. Hillen had a 200 yard day against Kewaskum.

Third place Germantown's four players were end Gary Heilman, guard Chris Matheus, linebacker Bill Bruegger and defensive halfback Reinhold Kindler (unanimous). Mayville's four were tackle Randy Wurtz, defensive end Dale Spars (unanimous) and linebacker Keith Pike. With one each were Hartland with tackle Steve Styzo, Slinger with 220 lb. interior lineman Roman Wenninger and Kewaskum with defensive halfback Rod Schultz. Wenninger, one of the best noseguards in the league, made 20 solo tackles and 51 assists.

Kewaskum's Rod Schultz was selected even though his team didn't win a game in the conference. Opponents didn't throw much in his direction as the season wore on. He ended up with 22 solo tackles and was a solid defensive player. He also stood out on the specialty teams, returning kicks and punts.

Running back Mike Pettit just missed for the Indians. After three tie breaker votes, he lost out to Mayville's Wurtz. Pettit, a 155 lb. junior, had 494 yards and averaged 7.0 yards per carry. He had three runs of better than 60 yards, including one of 80. Mike was named to the second team along with guard John Bemis.

Host Indians Second in Volleyball Sectional

Kewaskum (with two courts) hosted a WIAA girls' sectional volleyball tournament Saturday afternoon. Four regional winners, Random Lake, Kewaskum, Pewaukee and Evansville (located about 20 miles south of Madison), participated in the meet.

Random Lake's Central Lakeshore Conference champions won the meet (5-1) and will advance to the state meet at Oshkosh this weekend, November 10-11. The Rams with a 49-4 record, had won the last 47 games they played. Kewaskum just fell short of a state berth, placing second in the sectional here, (3-3), with Pewaukee and Evansville tying for third (and last) (2-4).

Kewaskum opened the first round with Random Lake and in the first game they had the distinction of breaking the Rams' long winning streak by handing them a 15-10 loss. It turned out to be Random's only loss of the day. Then the Indians jumped out to a 6-2 lead in the second game but couldn't hold it. The Rams came back to win, 15-11.

Random Lake won four other games, 15-2 and 16-14 over Pewaukee and 15-1 and 15-2 over Evansville. They had a close game against Pewaukee in their second contest. The teams were tied at 14-14 before the Rams pulled out the victory. Had Pewaukee won this one the Indians would have been in contention as they split with their other opponents.

Kewaskum coach Mary Lawson cited her three senior starters, Pam Kempf, Denise Menzel and Tami Edgar, with fine jobs and singled out Janet Matenaer's play as the highlight of the afternoon as she came up with great defense.
