Week's Wit

Don't complain that your wife doesn't make bread like mother used to make unless you make dough like father used to make.

New Pharmacist at Kennelly's

Tom Leitzke

Tom Leitzke, 31-year-old pharmacist of Milwaukee, has purchased an interest in Kennelly Pharmacy, Kewaskum, and will be managing the store. Leitzke was born in Milwaukee. He graduated from Dominican High School in that city and the University of Wisconsin Pharmacy School, Madison. He served his internship at Medical Arts Pharmacy, Milwaukee and managed Stein Drug Store at St. Mary's Hospital in that city for two years.

Tom and his wife Kathryn have three children, Katie 8, Zachary 6, and Jacob 4. They are living in Milwaukee but are planning to move into the area. John Boray and Tom Kennelly of Kennelly Pharmacy, Hartford, are still affiliated with Kennelly Pharmacy in Kewaskum and Boray will be at the local store a few days a week. Michael Wolfgram, pharmacist, who joined Kennelly Pharmacy in Kewaskum about a year ago, has returned to his former place of employment at Columbus Community Hospital.

Kindergarten Registration Feb. 6 and 7

This year's annual "round-up" for the parents of all prospective kindergarten pupils in the Kewaskum School District will be held during the day on Tuesday, February 6, and Wednesday, February 7, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, and 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. in the Beechwood, Farmington, Kewaskum, and Wayne school offices. Please register your child at the school in your area on one of the above days. It is not necessary to bring the child while registering.

To be eligible for enrollment in kindergarten, children must have attained their fifth birthday on or before November *1, 1979. *This is a change in the State Statutes. Evidence of date of birth, either a birth certificate or a baptismal certificate, must be brought to the office at the time of enrolling.

Parents of bus pupils will need their section number and fire number as well and also fill out bussing forms.

Parents will register their children for next year's term and get the necessary health forms. If you know of any new families in this district, please pass this information on to them.

Richard E. Zarling, Director of Elementary Education, stresses the importance of registering your child on either of these two days so that plans may be made for them and staff requirements for next year are known.

Snow Emergency Extended

At a special meeting of the Village Board held Tuesday evening, the board decided to extend the snow emergency until April 1 or until otherwise cancelled.

It was announced in last week's paper that the snow emergency was in effect from January 19 until the end of January or until further notice.

The question was whether to vote for a continuance or cancellation of the snow emergency. The parking restrictions have helped in snow plowing, garbage pick-up, fire and police protection, and ambulance and rescue service.

The board felt you can't designate parking on some streets and not on others because of the confusion. Augie Bilgo said "I don't think it's an inconvenience with the present condition."

President Miller stated that if the emergency is taken off it will be hard to put back into effect. The winter is still early and there will probably be more snow to come to add to the problem. Police Chief Hlavaty said that some people choose to park their cars across from each other. He then stated that a car could get through, but large vehicles such as firetrucks and garbage trucks couldn't fit through the narrow passage.

The "no parking" on village streets is from 1:00 a.m. to 6:00 a.m. The original ban was from 1:00 a.m. to 7:00 a.m.

Fire Chiefs Elect Enright and Bilgo

On Thursday, January 25, the quarterly meeting of the Washington County Fire Chiefs Association was held at the Germantown Fire Department station.

This being the annual meeting, election of officers for the year 1979 took place. Officers elected by fire chiefs present are:

President — Chief Joe Enright, Boltonville Fire Department.

Vice President — Chief Augie Bilgo, Kewaskum Fire Department.

Secretary and Treasurer — Chief Keith Franz, Cedar Lake Fire Department.

School Board Reviews Busing Problems at Monday's Meeting

By TAMI EDGAR
Statesman Staff Writer

The board decided to review a few busing problems at Monday night's School Board meeting.

The problem dealt with children in the Windy Acres Subdivision in the Town of Farmington walking and waiting in the cold for the bus to arrive. One main concern was that the children could not be seen getting picked up by the bus.

The board felt that if you start making exceptions, there will be more complaints. The distance these children walk is within board policy. It was brought to the board's attention that one of these children is a kindergartner and is now walking beyond the specified limit. In this case, the bus would have to pick up this child at the home and it could also pick up the other children who had previously been walking.

The routes are set up to make as few turn arounds as possible. This cuts down on the time factor. The board decided to check out the kindergarten problem.

The second busing problem was a family on the borderline to Kewaskum's District who wanted their children to attend St. Lucas. This family on East Newark said a Kewaskum bus passes their house. The board made a special motion to the effect that the Budd Reth children will be picked up on the stipulation that the bus doesn't deviate from its present route, that it's never overloaded, if legal to charge a fee, and stays in effect for only the remainder of the 1978-79 school year.

A health insurance problem was presented from a teacher. Her husband was on an insurance policy which didn't cover pregnancy while hers was a single coverage. When checking into family coverage they were told that the single coverage would cover the hospital costs. When the child arrived, the mother's bills were paid for but not the child's. The board will notify the WEA Insurance about this matter and will express their concern.

The student admission policies were adopted. The disposal of an old bookkeeping machine was also approved. The Summer School programs were voted to continue as they have in (Continued on Page 2)

Brewer Night Well Attended

About 150 persons, most of them youngsters, attended the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce Milwaukee Brewer Night in the high school cafeteria Monday evening.

The main attraction of the evening was the appearance of the two winning pitchers on the Brewers pitching staff, aces Mike Caldwell and Lary Sorensen.

Following the showing of a Brewer film, Caldwell and Sorensen held a question and answer period and were flooded with questions from the floor. Later they signed autographs for the kids. Brewer literature was also distributed.

the past. A diploma has been granted to a former student who has completed her credit requirements.

The selling of cars that had been used for training in the auto mechanics classes at the high school will be set up in a policy so they will not have to keep going back to the School Board.

The board approved the tuition and parent transportation contract for a child to attend the West Bend Special Education program. The typewriter for the business office and the selling of an old cub tractor will be checked into further. The Scenic Moraine Conference met on Tuesday night at the Germantown High School to discuss the realignment of the conference.

The board then adjourned into a closed session.

HAVE YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE CHECKED

Blood pressure readings will again be held at the Legion Clubhouse, Kewaskum, on Wednesday, February 7, from 11:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

This health service is sponsored by the Washington County Nurses and is held every two months. There is no charge and everyone is welcome to have their blood pressure checked.

Year of Academic Accomplishments For Martin Children

The newest graduate is daughter Dawn of Greendale. Dawn received her Bachelor of Science degree in Professional Health Arts in December. She was an off campus student of the College of St. Francis, Joliet, Ill. She graduated with a 3.5, earned her point. Cedar Lake Home Continues Respite Care Services

The Cedar Lake Home Campus will continue its adult respite care community service program into 1979 through the renewal of a Title III grant.

Adult respite care is a program designed to provide temporary relief for the family or guardian of an elderly or handicapped person over 60.

It is ideal for families who will be going away for a few days and cannot take their loved one with them. Or it can provide a few days rest for the ones who care for an elderly individual.

The length of stay may be as short as overnight or as long as 14 nights.

As a temporary resident, the person is invited to fully utilize the facilities of the Home and the Home's total creative program.

"Our respite care program is designed to give the individual mental stimulation, extended community involvement, three good home cooked meals a day, plus a wide range of therapy and recreational activities that a person may not otherwise receive," says Mary Gumm, program coordinator at Cedar Lake Home. "We find that the respite care individual really enjoys the stay."

People who are interested in the program should contact Mary Gumm at the Cedar Lake Home Campus, 5595 Hwy. Z, West Bend, Wisconsin, telephone 334-9487.

The Southeastern Wisconsin Area Agency on Aging, District 2-B, awarded the Cedar Lake Home Campus a grant through Title III of the Older Americans Act.

The program is available at no charge for residential care for those residing in Washington, Ozaukee, Waukesha, Racine, Kenosha or Walworth Counties for up to 14 days.

Sore Throat Nature's Warning of Illness

Does your throat hurt? If so, you may console yourself with the knowledge that you have plenty of company.

Sore throat is one of the more common physical discomforts that plague most of us from time to time.

Sore throat is nature's warning system that something in your body is out of order, says the American Medical Association.

Often a sore throat accompanies a common cold, and the soreness passes in a few days. But, sore throat also can be the symptom of any of a wide range of diseases, from diphtheria to leukemia, that require your physician's skill, not your guessing, to diagnose.

Sometimes tonsils and adenoids are involved in causing a sore throat, and when these organs repeatedly cause trouble they frequently are removed.

Tonsil-adenoid removals account for half of all surgery performed on children. Sometimes the removal helps prevent sore throat, sometimes it doesn't.

Allergies can cause sore throats. Cold, dry winter air can trigger it. So can extreme thirst, excessive smoking or mouth breathing. Anything that dries out the throat and cuts off secretions that normally wash dust away.

Virus infections of many types also are a cause of sore throat, and everyone who has had flu knows that this particular virus disease often causes the throat to hurt.

"Strep throat" is a serious infection that occasionally leads to rheumatic fever and possible heart damage. It can be knocked out with penicillin, if it is diagnosed in time.

The crucial diagnostic test in sore throat is the swab test, through which the germs causing the trouble can be identified.

There is little or nothing you can do to cure a sore throat at home. There are medications which bring temporary easing of the discomfort. Most sore throats will clear up in a few days without treatment. If the sore throat persists, the cure must be launched by your physician.

It took the Colorado River two million years to carve the Grand Canyon.

The Sensenbrenner Weekly Report

Now that President Carter has unveiled his 1980 budget proposals, Congress begins the complex process of changing or approving them. The focal point of the arguments on the budget will probably be the sharp disagreement voiced by many Congressmen over the President's recommended cuts in many social programs.

The President's budget provides for total federal spending next year of $532 billion, compared to estimated tax revenues of $503 billion. That unfortunately leaves another budget deficit of $29 billion, somewhat less than this year's deficit of $45 billion. This is a step in the right direction toward a balanced federal budget, but is disappointingly short of that goal.

The President's budget contains several controversial proposals, such as elimination of 158,000 public works jobs, elimination of the federal school milk subsidy, reduction in summer jobs for youth, and elimination of Social Security aids for college students over 18 years old. Liberal Congressmen are very upset with these cuts, especially when contrasted to the 9.5% increase the President recommended for the defense budget, long a target of the liberal members.

Conservative members are not pleased with the budget's levels of spending, its continuing deficit, and its lack of tax reductions. The conflict of liberal and conservative members over these policies already promises to be intense, and probably will cross party lines.

In short, the budget the President gave to Congress last week is likely to be very different from that the Congress will pass by mid-September. In the meanwhile, the conflict between liberals and conservatives, Republicans and Democrats, and Congress and the President will make for interesting observation by the taxpayers who pay for it all.

Homestead Aid for Many in '79

As you assemble earnings reports for 1978 and begin the unpleasant task of compiling your 1979 state income taxes, be certain not to overlook our Homestead Tax program.

Under this program, Wisconsin residents were paid $66 million in property and rent relief in the 1977-78 fiscal year and the total amount distributed this year should be even higher. The average individual tax credit distributed during fiscal '77-78 amounted to $263.

You may earn up to $9,300 a year and still be eligible for some Homestead aid. The earning limit for senior Citizens 65 and older was raised to $9,900 as a special plus designed to benefit those on fixed incomes.

Any dwelling unit that is either owned or rented may qualify for the Homestead credit program. The program provides for up to a maximum credit for taxes or that portion of rent paid on your dwelling that is used for property taxes. As you earn more, the portion of taxes paid by the state declines. Under present law, the state will reimburse you up to $640 depending on your earnings and tax. The Homestead Tax provision may be just the answer to some of your tax worries, and help you save on your property tax dollars.

FUTURE BRIGHT

Attempts are being made during the present legislative session to use surplus funds to improve the Homestead program. Under a proposal now being considered, anyone earning less than $24,000 and less than $24,600 for persons 65 and older, would be eligible for some property tax relief. If these changes become law, they will provide an additional $121 million a year in property tax relief.

In addition to the Homestead program, a special 10% tax credit for 1978 property taxes is also available for all legal residents of Wisconsin. One member per household will qualify for this credit which will amount to $40-$100.

The entire matter of the state tax burden will come under extensive discussion this year when the legislature reconvenes in late January. It is my intention to work toward establishing a more equitable taxation system in Wisconsin, so that the working families of this state can take home more of their paycheck.

IRS Will Figure Your Income Tax

Taxpayers who use Form 1040A this year can make filing their tax return easier by having the Internal Revenue Service figure the tax.

Any taxpayer who files Form 1040A can have the IRS figure the tax by completing the form to the line that says, "If you want IRS to figure your tax, please stop here and sign below."

This service is also offered to many Form 1040 filers. The qualifications for having the IRS calculate the tax on Form 1040 are listed in the tax instructions mailed by the IRS.

The IRS will also compute the Earned Income Credit and the Tax Credit for the Elderly for those requesting assistance. After calculating the tax, the IRS will either send a refund check or a bill for any taxes due.

The IRS reminds taxpayers to file by April 16, 1979, and to be sure to sign the return. Both spouses must sign a joint return, even if only one had income.

TRIAL BY FIRE

In a recent study testing the effects of insulation in a house fire, three 8' x 10' test homes were ignited. One with cellulose fiber, one with fiberglass batts and one completely uninsulated.

Ninety minutes after ignition, the test building with Class 1 cellulose insulation, except for the loss of the roof, was intact. The fiberglass insulated test building suffered the loss of roof and ceiling with some wall damage, and the uninsulated building was almost completely consumed.

The test also stated that it was staged to show how much untrue information has been acquired by the public about cellulose insulation and its ability to burn.

Since the majority of fires start in the attic, they demonstrated that with Class 1 cellulose insulation, most damage can be confined to the attic and in this way also, cellulose insulation is more effective than fiberglass.

Legislation Creating Dairy Promotion Program Introduced by Rep. Hephner

(MADISON) — Legislation creating a dairy promotion program in the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection was introduced in the Assembly last week by State Representative Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton).

Under this bill, a nine-member dairy promotion council is established comprised of farmers and other industry representatives to review department plans for encouraging the marketing and promotion of dairy products.

The measure also directs the department to plan and conduct an advertising program and assigns other activities to the agency such as research, planning and technical assistance.

According to Hephner, the measure is patterned after the state's existing tourism promotion program by establishing a cooperative marketing and advertising program to provide state matching funds for certain advertising. "Non-profit dairy promotion corporations would be established in the private sector," Hephner explained, "each of which could be eligible for cooperative advertising dollars from the state."

Cooperative promotion projects would be implemented, he said, by means of a written agreement between the department and the dairy promotion corporations.

The Chilton lawmaker said the purpose of the bill "is to complement the promotional efforts already being made by farmers and other members of the state dairy industry."

"Right now, the Wisconsin American Dairy Association through voluntary donations is spending about $1 million each year for dairy promotion," Hephner stated, "and the least we can do is to supplement these efforts with additional advertising dollars and cooperative marketing approaches."

The bill provides a total of $1 million during the first two years of the program for dairy promotion and marketing. Half of that could be set aside for cooperative advertising grants.

"The more at a party the merrier; the fewer, the better fed."

File Income Tax Early To Get Refund Sooner

Taxpayers who file their Federal income tax returns early in the tax filing season will get their refunds sooner than those who file closer to the April 16 deadline, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Due to the lower volume of returns processed in January and February, taxpayers who file during those months may expect to receive their refunds in four to five weeks, according to the IRS. Those who do not file until April may wait as long as eight weeks for their refunds.

The IRS also cautioned taxpayers to double check their returns, especially the computations, before filing. Errors can delay any refund due.

Taxpayers can also save time this year by checking their tax instructions, which are keyed to lines on the form for easier reference. The instructions often can lead a taxpayer to some overlooked deductions.

State Needs Snow Damage Information

The Wisconsin Department of Local Affairs and Development's Division of Emergency Government needs information about property and personal belonging losses suffered by businesses, industries and private citizens from recent heavy snows.

The information could lead to a request by Governor Lee Sherman Dreyfus for a federal Small Business Administration (SBA) Disaster Declaration which would make low-interest (7-3/8%) long-term loans available so losses could be repaired or replaced.

Persons or businesses with losses should report the extent and value of damages to their local or county Emergency Government Director, listed in the local government section of telephone directories. Local Emergency Government Directors will compile and relay the information to DLAD's Division of Emergency Government, which then will advise Dreyfus on whether to seek SBA declarations for eligible counties.

Should a declaration be made the SBA would set up assistance offices in the affected areas.

According to SBA, one of the following criteria must be met before a disaster declaration can be made:

(1) At least 25 homes or five businesses, or a combination of at least 25 eligibles in any county or other political subdivision collectively have sustained uninsured loss averaging 25 percent or more of their estimated fair replacement value; or

(2) At least three businesses have sustained uninsured loss averaging 25 percent or more of their estimated fair replacement value and as a result, 25 percent of the work force in the community would be unemployed for at least 90 days as a direct result of the physical damage; or

(3) At least 200 homes or 40 business concerns or a combination of 200 eligibles in any county or other political subdivision collectively have suffered any loss as a direct result of a physical type disaster.

Valey Bank of Brownsville Announces Retirement of Lauber; Adds Two Directors

Effective January 1, 1979, Joseph A. Lauber retired as president from the Valley Bank of Brownsville, Wis. Lauber, who has over 45 years of banking experience, joined the Brownsville State Bank (now the Valley Bank of Brownsville) in April of 1953 as cashier. He later was elected to the board of directors and the loan committee and in 1977 was elected to the position of president. Prior to coming to Brownsville, Lauber was with the Barneveld State Bank, Barneveld and the Whitefish Bay State Bank, Whitefish Bay, both located in Wisconsin.

He was an instructor pilot and mechanic for six years in the U.S. Air Force and served in China, India, and Burma during World War II. After discharge from the Air Force, he was employed by the FDIC as a bank examiner.

Muentner is presently on the board of the Farmer's Home Administration in Fond du Lac and is a supervisor for the Town of Byron. If you think the Yellow Pages is just a listing, think again.

It contains all sorts of information that can be extremely helpful no matter what you're shopping for.

Like, does the place take credit cards?

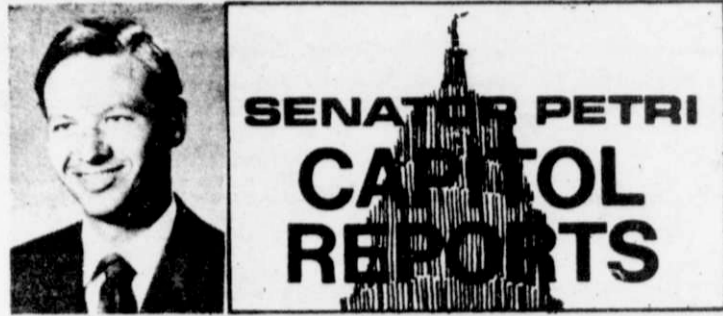

What are their hours? Etc. Etc. Etc.

Maybe that's why more people read the Yellow Pages last year than just about any book published.

Debate of Wisconsin Drinking Age

The minimum legal drinking age is a hot topic of debate this legislative session.

Wisconsin is one of fifteen states in the nation where the legal drinking age for hard liquor is 18. There are several legislative proposals to raise the age to 19 or 21. Governor Dreyfus has indicated that he would not oppose a higher minimum drinking age.

MY POSITION AND WHY

I believe that the minimum legal drinking age should be raised to 19 or high school graduation.

Alcoholism is a complex problem which seems to have become more serious in our high schools in recent years. The availability of beer and liquor to 18-year-olds has increased the flow to younger adolescents. It has created disruptions in the classrooms, in gymnasiums and on the playing fields. And it has been a major factor in an increasingly large number of serious car accidents.

I do not believe that raising the drinking age will provide an easy solution to these problems in our high schools. Alcoholism must be recognized as a social problem that is often ignored and unintentionally encouraged. There have been suggestions to increase the regulation of the liquor industry's advertising, and to place warning labels on bottles and cans of liquor. I think these suggestions must be considered carefully for the effectiveness before they are enacted.

There is a clear need for increased education on the effects of alcoholism. Parents who set and enforce society's moral standards must be made aware of their part in creating and perpetuating these problems. Our schools should take a more active role by expanding alcohol education.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED IN THE PAST AND ELSEWHERE

In 1971, the 26th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution changed the voting age from 21 to 18 and half of the 50 states lowered their minimum drinking age limits.

In 1976, Minnesota raised the minimum drinking age to 19. In 1978, Iowa, Michigan and Illinois raised theirs. Wisconsin residents who live near the state's borders are concerned that eighteen-year-olds from other states will drive into Wisconsin in order to buy liquor thus increasing the drinking drivers on the roads.

From all indications, the time has come to raise the minimum legal drinking age in Wisconsin.

Alice in Dairyland Applicants Sought

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection is looking for qualified Wisconsin women who would like the opportunity to serve the state as "Alice in Dairyland."

Mrs. Cindy Tienor, Alice program coordinator with the department, points out that applications from interested applicants will be accepted through March 1, 1979. Official application forms are printed in "Alice in Dairyland" brochures which are available at newspapers, radio and TV stations, county extension offices, chambers of commerce, local dairies, university, college and vocational school placement offices and from the ATCP Department in Madison.

Young women may apply for the Alice position if they are between 18 and 30 years of age as of March 1, 1979, and a Wisconsin resident. The person selected will fill the position for one year.

Twelve finalists will be chosen at interview sessions in Eau Claire and Milwaukee April 3 and 4 and in Appleton and Madison, April 5 and 6. Applicants may choose a location and date convenient for them. Interviews will be conducted in accordance with regular civil service procedures, with applicants to be notified of the time they should appear.

The Alice in Dairyland finals will be held in Clark County with Nielsville as the headquarters city, June 14, 15 and 16.

Alice in Dairyland receives a salary of over $10,000 annually, plus travel expenses. She travels extensively, makes many public appearances, and receives wide recognition through press conferences, radio interviews, and TV appearances while representing Wisconsin's agricultural food products throughout the state and the nation.

Wisconsin's current Alice, Miss Laura J. Oldenberg, of Burlington, will crown her successor during the finals June 16. She says, "The opportunity to serve Wisconsin as the 31st Alice in Dairyland has been a most exciting and enriching year for me."

It's better to get bent from hard work than crooked trying to avoid it.

Aging of the skin, such as dryness, wrinkling, and 'senile freckles', is usually limited to exposed areas of face, neck and hands, and is due mostly to the ultraviolet rays of sunlight. Hephner Favors Veterinary School For Wisconsin

(MADISON)---"It's clear we're going to see progress in the area of veterinary education this session," State Representative Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton) said after meeting with Governor Dreyfus. "We're finally going to have some Wisconsin veterinary education provision in the new state budget."

Hephner and others interested in the building of a veterinary school in Wisconsin met with the Governor this week to show their support for the school. Dreyfus said he saw two options for meeting Wisconsin's veterinary needs: building our own vet school and clinic in Wisconsin, or building a clinic for veterinary internship here while contracting for the other three years of training in other states.

Dreyfus currently favors the contract/clinic option, and will be attempting to pursue permanent contracts for Wisconsin students. But the governor said he remains open to school arguments, and promised Hephner's group that some provision for veterinary education in Wisconsin would be submitted in the Dreyfus budget.

"The prospect of certain action in the executive budget is encouraging," said Hephner, "and so is Dreyfus' pledge not to drag this process on and on again."

Hephner said he will continue to advocate the Wisconsin school alternative because the school would emphasize the farm animal veterinary science Wisconsin needs, would ensure more spaces for our veterinary students, and would provide significant economic benefits for the state.

"The states we're contracting with aren't particularly strong on large animal veterinary medicine," Hephner said, "and the contracts would educate less than half as many students as a Wisconsin school could accommodate." In addition, Hephner said the contract process itself has basic flaws.

"Wisconsin has tried to go the contract route before and negotiations have always failed," Hephner noted. "Even if we were to get a contract, who's to say it won't be broken in five to ten years? Then we're really out of luck--having invested millions in a veterinary clinical facility to intern vets, but nowhere for our students to get training."

"Once we've built the school, the annual operating costs would actually be less than the cost of the contracting/clinic option," Hephner continued. "And in addition, Wisconsin would benefit from all the economic spinoffs that accompany the operation of a major educational facility like the vet school."

Hephner, who is the senior member of the Assembly Agriculture Committee, said that most of the committee members share his commitment to a Wisconsin veterinary school, as do the majority of farm organizations in the state.

Hephner complimented Dreyfus on his willingness to meet with the pro-veterinarian people, and said he thought the Governor would be objective in evaluating the veterinary education options. "I think when Dreyfus sees the pitfalls in negotiating vet school contracts, he will have to agree that the Wisconsin school is the only way to go."

"No two ways about it...the Dairy State needs a veterinary school."

County Grain Reserve Totals 203,583 Bushels

Grain reserve activity in Washington County was high as 64 farmers placed crops in the program to help strengthen market prices.

As of now, local producers had placed 1877 bushels of wheat, 188,945 bushels of corn, and 12,761 bushels of oats in the reserve.

"Grain producers had particularly good crops this year, and had it not been for the reserve, wheat prices would have dropped substantially," Ira A. Oelhafen, Chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee, said. Season average wheat prices rose from $2.31 per bushel in 1977 and are projected to average between $2.80 and $3.00 a bushel for 1978. "These prices held firm through harvest, despite a large supply of old-crop stocks, and continue to run 60-70 cents per bushel higher than the year before." Ira A. Oelhafen said net farm income is expected to exceed $26 billion this year. Farmers in the county are currently using the reserve to isolate their crops from the market. The grain is placed in the reserve for a period of up to three years, or until prices rise significantly. Farmers retain ownership, and when the grain is eventually sold, the profit goes to the producer, the ASC official explained.

IN MEMORY

One year ago, Feb. 5, 1978, Donald F. Mitchell died, but is still remembered with much love and joy by his wife, Mary Kay, and children, Jennifer, Heather and Shannon.

Being there with you that last night, covered by the softness of love, I wanted to be the ruler of time. If I had the power I would have stopped the clock of the world so that I could be there forever, sharing the warm vibrations of your heart. But I could not stop the lonely path of time. I could not hold you forever because today would arrive and you would leave, but your memory will remain. Your warmth is mine forever.

MADISON, WI — Moderating temperatures have encouraged Wisconsin residents to take advantage of excellent snowmobiling and cross country ski conditions, but the heavy snow cover and slush have hampered travel on lakes.

In northwestern portions of the Badger State, warmer weather and new snow has made for ideal outdoor conditions. Snowmobiling is excellent in the Cumberland area, but drivers are encouraged to stay on the trails. Rabbit populations are high and hunters were able to shoot cottontails through Tuesday, January 31; snowshoe hunting is open all year. Wall-eyes and northerners are biting in Yellow Lake, Burnett County. In the Park Falls area, deer are still in good shape, but are beginning to move into yarding areas; continues heavy snow and crusting could create serious problems.

The same can't be said in west central Wisconsin, where deer are moving freely and are in good condition, despite cold weather and 17 inches of snow on the ground. Crappie and bluegill fishing has been very good on Mississippi River backwaters. Cross country ski conditions are excellent in the Black River State Forest. In the Eau Claire area, ice fishing for panfish has been good on Lake Menomin, Dunn County; Cedar Lake, St. Croix County, and the back sloughs of the Mississippi River. Panfish and walleyes are being caught on Lake Onalaska and below locks and dams on the Mississippi River in the La Crosse area.

North central portions of the state report excellent snow conditions. In the Woodruff area, snowmobile and cross country ski trails are in excellent condition, and perch are biting on wigglers in Pelican Lake, Oneida County. Deer are in yarding areas around Antigo and could be in trouble if snow depths increase. Lake Wausau, Marathon County, is producing panfish and northerners. In the Wisconsin Rapids area, quiet cross country skiing can be found at the Sandhill Wildlife area near Babcock in Wood County.

Heavy snow in east central Wisconsin is causing a serious dog-deer problem in Waushara County, and dog owners are requested to confine their dogs until the snow melts. Chain Lake and Townsend Flowage in Oconto County have been producing nice catches of bluegills in early morning and evening. Lake Winnebago ice conditions are not very good and anglers are urged to check with road maintenance crews before venturing onto the ice with vehicles. For those fishing the big lake, some walleyes are being caught off Otter Street in Oshkosh, along the east shore in Calumet County and the southern end in Fond du Lac County.

In southeastern Wisconsin, cross country skiing and snowshoeing conditions remain excellent throughout the district. Snowmobile conditions are quite variable with some trails in poor condition because of too much snow. Deep snow is also making access to some trails difficult and snowmobilers are advised to stay on trails. Snowmobilers should exercise extreme caution in crossing highways because high snow banks on roadsides hamper the visibility of passing motorists.

Fishing pressure continues light, but ice fishing has been generally good. Northern pike are being taken on Crystal Lake in Sheboygan County, Keesus Lake in Waukesha County, Big Cedar Lake in Washington County, Browns and Eagle Lakes in Racine County, and Como, the Lauderdale Lakes and Lake Geneva in Walworth County.

Perch are biting well on Crystal Lake in Sheboygan County, Upper and Lower Nemahbin Lakes in Waukesha County, Pike Lake in Washington County and Wind Lake in Racine County.

Nice catches of bluegills are being taken on Bass Bay and Little Muskego Lake in Waukesha County, the Lauderdale Lakes in Walworth County, Eagle Lake in Racine County and Hooker Lake in Kenosha County. Lake Elizabeth in Kenosha County is also producing nice catches of crappies.

Warmer weather has opened streams in southwestern Wisconsin and anglers are starting to participate in the early trout season. Ice anglers are finding heavy snow and slush conditions, which makes travel difficult. Cross country and snowmobile conditions are excellent and use on groomed trails is heavy. Outdoor activities are near a standstill in Jefferson and Rock Counties due to cold weather and heavy snow. In the Horicon area, perch are biting in Fox Lake, but winterkill conditions exist in the Rock River and oxygen levels are becoming very low in Beaver Dam Lake.

The word "booze" is believed to come from the Dutch buizen, meaning "to drink to excess."

Schilter Scores 22 Points But Indians Fall to Slinger

The Kewaskum Indians gave third place Slinger (now 6-3) a battle of it Friday night there but came out on the short end of the score, 69-60.

Two of the best guards on each team stood out in the game. They were Kewaskum's Henry Schilter and Slinger's Tom Zurn. Both scored 22 points. Schilter made his on 11 baskets in 17 shots and Zurn on eight buckets and six free throws. He also grabbed 12 rebounds.

Slinger had a decided edge on the boards, 43-22, and this was the difference in the contest.

A lack of practice and game action because of the snow cancellations was evident. Early neither team was hitting and there was a rash of turnovers and fouls.

When the team finally got going four points by both Schilter and Bob Nigh helped the Indians to a 12-3 lead over the dazed Owls. But in the closing minutes of the quarter Zurn got hot and hit on a variety of shots to get Slinger back in the game and give them a 15-14 lead.

In the second period everyone got into the act for Slinger, led by Don Mayer with eight points. At the same time, Schilter put on a show for the Indians by scoring 10 of his 22 points, as his team took a brief 20-19 lead again. But the Owls went ahead by eight, 37-29, at the intermission.

Kewaskum came back to within one in the third quarter, paced by Schilter and Nigh, but the Owls bounced back late in the period to go ahead by six again.

The Indians had to play catchup in the final stanza. Their only hope was foul and pray the Owls would miss their free throws. But Slinger made 9 of 12 attempts to sew up the victory by nine points.

Both Schilter and Zurn played super games and were praised by both coaches.

Indian Girls Beat Grafton

Kewaskum got balanced scoring in the girls won at Grafton Friday, 53-40.

Yvonne Schacht paced the Indians in scoring with 13 points. Sue Russell was next with 10, frosh Jill Yearling had eight and Janet Matenaer six. Schacht also had 10 rebounds.

The Kewaskum press also played a big part in the win. Trailing by one point at half-time, the Indians held the Blackhawks to just one basket and two free throws in the third quarter to go ahead by eight points.

Kewaskum is now 5-5 in conference and 5-8 overall. Grafton had been 5-3 and in second place going into the contest.

The victory was Kewaskum's fourth in their last five games. In the JV game at Grafton, Michelle Rodenkirch's 22 points paced Kewaskum to a 51-41 win.

Kewaskum hosted league leading Hartland Tuesday night and was snowed under, 90-54. The Warhawks, who have beaten every team badly this season, have not lost a conference game since 1976. Details next week.

Behind Zurn, Jonas and Mayer each scored 20 points for the winners. Next to Schilter, Nigh had 12 and Tom Kern 10 for the losers.

This Friday the Indians host Grafton (2-6) and Tuesday they will make up a recently snowed out contest here with Kettle Moraine (4-4).
