Dan Schmidt Resigns From Village Board

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

In a special Kewaskum Village Board meeting on Thursday evening, July 5, the board accepted the resignation of Trustee Daniel S. Schmidt. The board also approved the sale of the old coil filter at the sewage treatment plant to a "hot prospect."

After the Monday, July 2, board meeting, Dan Schmidt informed Village President Bob Danielsen that his resignation was effective immediately. Although Schmidt resigned "With a great deal of regret," he stated in a letter that "My resignation is due to my community interest and in trying to serve the community in a more useful manner."

Danielsen then told the board at the special meeting that "I'm sure we all feel disappointed about his resignation and evidently he feels he's doing what he wishes to do." Danielsen also said that a replacement would be appointed and subject to the board's approval at another special meeting on Tuesday, July 10. One other applicant was interested in the trusteeship when Schmidt was appointed on May 2, 1979, and is now a prime candidate. Whoever is appointed would serve until the April 1980 election. This would fill the post originally vacated by Danielsen when he became Village President.

Schmidt has been on the Village Board for nearly seven years and was presently Park Committee Chairman and responsible for much of the development of the new park and swimming pond. He had served on all committees at one time or another, acting as Chairman of the Finance Committee for two years. The Library Board and the Village Plan Commission also benefited from his services for about two years each.

The coil filter sludge conditioner which has been at the sewage treatment plant since 1954 may be sold to an unnamed party who is very interested in it. The board recently heard specifications on a new sludge conditioner which acts to press out excess water instead of vacuuming it up like the old one. The machine was maintained well, has a control panel and several starters to go with it, and is ready to go. The possible purchaser would pay for the moving which would not be too difficult with a crane and a truck. The board gave Supt. of Wastewater Treatment Peter Albers authorization to negotiate a price above a certain minimum, as the opportunity to sell it may not arise again.

Spoeth Named Trustee

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

In a special meeting of the Kewaskum Village Board on Tuesday night, July 10, Carl R. Spoeth of 1189 Riverview Drive was appointed to fill the board post vacated by Dan Schmidt.

In his recommendation of Spoeth, President Danielsen noted that only two people had indicated interest in the trusteeship. Spoeth was chosen, since he was the only one who had written a letter of application, and he resides on the east side of Fond du Lac Avenue, giving more equalized representation throughout the village. Danielsen further recommended him, saying "He's interested and I think he'd do a very good job." Spoeth would replace Schmidt as Chairman of the Park Committee. He will also be on the Protection and Public Safety Committee and the Finance Committee. Paul Blumer would take over for Schmidt on the Public Works Committee.

Spoeth, age 34, is presently employed as a Product Engineer at the West Bend Company and was a former owner of the "Village Store." He commented that he believes government starts out with people, and since Kewaskum was an "outstanding place to live," he wished to work for the community to keep it the way it is. Spoeth is an active member of the Kewaskum Lions Club and also belongs to the National Management Association at the West Bend Company. Prior to moving to Kewaskum, he was an officer in the U.S. Navy, stationed at Barber's Point,

Hanaway Nips Hephner

In a special election Tuesday, former De Pere Mayor Donald J. Hanaway was elected to the 2nd District State Senate seat, narrowly defeating Democratic State Rep. Gervase Hephner by 40 votes in unofficial returns.

The long, narrow Senate District extends from Green Bay south to Kewaskum.

Complete, unofficial returns in the 2nd District:

Republican — Donald J. Hanaway, 7,941.

Democrat — Gervase Hephner, 7,901.

Hanaway also outpolled Hephner in the Village of Kewaskum by a close margin. Only 161 votes were cast, of which Hanaway received 88, Hephner 72, and one vote was defective.

Two New AFS Students to Arrive

Bassma I. Marji

Mirjam Sibbel

It is hard to say goodbye to AFS students that have lived in our community for a year and it wasn't easy for Jorge Casal and Edgardo Carranza to leave their families who shared their lives and cultural backgrounds.

Mrs. L. N. Peterson, Kewaskum AFS student/family liaison, tells the students when they return to their country to give their parents a chance and not to talk about their year too much at first. Their parents, after all, are primarily glad to have their children back. They are not going to be excited to hear, "My American mother did this or let me do that." In some countries, of course, difficulties in adjustment are economic. You cannot expose these students to two-car garages and dishwashers and not have their ideas about what is a necessity change. Mrs. Peterson pointed out that the lack of these luxuries does not mean that their countries are unimportant. When readjustment is achieved it tends to be complete.

These students see that we're human, we're real, not like the movie images they've seen of rich Americans. They see the good and bad after living here for the year and have a greater understanding why sometimes there can be a bad.

After about two or three months most students have readjusted to the pattern of life in their own countries. That is about the same length of time it takes them to get used to the United States.

Two AFS girls are coming to the Kewaskum area in August.

Kewaskum Girl Killed In Mequon Car Accident

A Kewaskum girl died of massive head injuries Sunday, the second victim of a weekend traffic accident in Mequon.

Killed in the crash were Tammy Sue Liepert, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Liepert of Kewaskum, and Wanda C. Miler, 56, of N72-W7355 Beech St., Cedarburg.

The accident occurred on N. Wauwatosa Road, about two blocks north of W. Donges Bay Road at 4:40 p.m. Saturday.

Authorities said the girl was a passenger in the back seat of a car driven by Minerva Reifschlanger, 75, a resident of Tudor Oaks North Retirement Community, 9301 N. 76th St.

Mrs. Reifschlanger was driving the girl and her grandmother, Ruth Grasse, 68, who also lived at Tudor Oaks, to a Saturday afternoon church service, according to the girl's father.

The Reifschlanger auto was northbound on Wauwatosa Rd., police said. As another northbound car passed her auto, Mrs. Reifschlanger lost control of her car, which veered onto the shoulder of the road, then crossed the center line and collided head on with a southbound car driven by Mrs. Miler's husband, Richard, 55.

Mrs. Miler was dead of chest injuries on arrival at St. Michael Hospital, Miler was in critical condition and Mrs. Reifschlanger and Mrs. Grasse were in serious condition following the mishap. All were at St. Michael.

Tammy was born September 23, 1966, to Elton and Luella Grasse Liepert in St. Joseph's Hospital, Milwaukee.

She was a 6th grade student at the Kewaskum Elementary School in Kewaskum.

Survivors include her parents; one sister, Bonnie (Donald) Kealiher of 520 Linde Lane, Kewaskum; her grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Grasse of Tudor Oaks, Milwaukee; uncles, aunts, other relatives and friends.

Visitation at Miller's Funeral Home, Kewaskum was Tuesday after 4 p.m. Services were conducted by Rev. John T. Budde on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Holy Trinity Church, Kewaskum. Burial was in Holy Trinity Cemetery.

Bassma I. Marji from Amman, Jordan, will be living with the Marvin Kleinke family at 1532 Stark Street, Kewaskum. Bassma is 17 and has four brothers. Her father, Izzat Marji, is office manager for an American company "Near East Foundation Company." Her mother, Nahil, teaches at De La Salle College in Amman. Bassma has had eleven years of English and twelve years of French. Her native language is Arabic. She is interested in arts (painting), basketball, music, reading and gardening.

Amman, the capital of Jordan, has a population of almost 1,200,000. It is an Arab kingdom in the Middle East area of southwest Asia. Jordan is a little larger than Indiana, but has less than one-third as many people as that state.

Education is free in Jordan. The law requires all children to attend elementary school. Jordan has some high schools and several schools are operated by Protestant, Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox groups.

Textbooks are distributed to students free of charge, except in private schools. Higher secondary education is provided by secondary general schools or secondary vocational schools. The latter include agricultural, commercial and industrial schools. Students of both types of secondary schools sit for the Public Secondary Education examination — those who pass are entitled to pursue their education in institutes of higher learning, both in Jordan and abroad.

Mirjam Sibbel from Zaandam, in the Netherlands, will be living with the James Dieringer family in Fillmore. Mirjam is 18 and has two brothers and two sisters. Her father "Jan" is director for a large company. Her mother "Wil" is an employee of the company her father works for. Mirjam has had six years of English, six years of Dutch, six years of French and five years of German. She likes team sports, popular music and reading.

Zaandam is a modern city a few miles north of Amsterdam. They have several industries. A strictly enforced law in The Netherlands requires all children between their sixth and fourteenth birthdays to attend school. The government supervises and gives aid to both public and private schools. Children who finish elementary school may continue in industrial schools, or in several types of high schools. Their courses are similar to those given in high schools and colleges in the United States. A high school graduate in the Netherlands may continue his education in a University. Dutch universities are graduate schools only.

When the girls arrive the latter part of August, let us all give them a warm welcome to their new community for the 1979-80 school year.

The AFS officers for the coming year are Mrs. John Schmitt, president; Mrs. Gerald Buchel, vice president; Mrs. Roger Strack, treasurer; Mrs. Donna Zanow, secretary, and Mrs. L. N. Peterson, student/family liaison. The AFS board consists of Mrs. Charles Miller, Ernest Mitchell, Mrs. Ray Schaefer, Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Schmitt.

The board eventually adjourned to closed session to screen applicants for the proposed position of Village Administrator and to discuss compensation for that position. Prior to the meeting, Danielsen stated there were ten applicants. As of Wednesday morning the field was narrowed to three who would be interviewed on Monday, July 16. Danielsen again stated that this position would more than pay for itself through the possible grants received and increased efficiency.

In other action, the board authorized the signing of a contract for the sale of the coil filter at the sewage treatment plant. Mrs. Mark Kral was present to find out what was to be done about the disturbances by high schoolers in the alley behind the Lutheran Church.

Danielsen assured her that a meeting would occur in late July between Supt. of Schools Floyd Brenholt, High School Principal Clark Pearson, Police Chief Don Hlavaty, and himself to find a solution to the problem instead of merely transferring it to adjacent streets. In addition to posting "No Loitering" signs in the alley, the tentative possibility of keeping students on campus at noon may be discussed.

The board authorized Ken Leitheiser to install an astro-turf type carpet on the raft at the pond. The cost would be $52.00 at $3.99 a yard with free installation by Saturday, July 14. The board also agreed to buy 138 baskets for clothes checking from the school at their asking price of $3.00 each after bargaining in good faith.

The highlight of the Village of Kewaskum Board meeting of July 2 was a response by the President of Regal Ware to the problem created by an excess of lead discharged to the sewage treatment plant. The board also heard the specifications for a sewage sludge conditioning device and made the final decision on sewer and water charges for Werner Drive. Three part-time police officers were also hired. A complaint about rowdiness at the softball diamonds was also heard.

James Reigle, President of Regal Ware, Inc. began the meeting with a clarification of the relationship between the village and the local industry. He stated that he was embarrassed to have to appear before the board, since there was a 34 year history of cooperation with, and contribution to the welfare of, the community, and now "...apparently we, Regal Ware are contributing to your problems, and this is not our way of doing business."

Reigle was referring to an inexplicable increase in the amount of lead, up to 166 parts per million, that had been monitored at the sewage treatment plant. Village standards say that no more than .1 part per million is acceptable. The matter had come up at the June 18 village board meeting and was followed by a front page article in the West Bend News which was obviously not received well by the aluminum ware company. Reigle claimed that the article made it seem as if the village and Regal Ware were at odds. He felt that this was definitely not the case and added, "I doubt very much that that article expressed the feelings of the members of the board." He further stated that he had "...no intentions whatsoever of allowing any third party to come between us." Reigle pointed out that the village had been kind to the company and allowed for their expansion. He also mentioned how the company's employees have been on the school board and village board and been involved in church related activities.

Reigle mentioned that the company had been using porcelain which does contain lead and other hard metals since 1967. For 12 years this had worked out well with no extreme excess of lead discharge. Reigle was at a loss to explain the reason for the problem, saying, "All of a sudden, something has happened and frankly, we don't know exactly what it is." The amount of lead had increased only slightly from 2.98 parts per million in 1975 to 3.56 parts per million in 1977 and then dropped to .49 parts per million in 1978 and recently shot up.

The village and the company have mutually been trying to locate the source of the problem. Reigle vowed that they would not quit until the situation was resolved. He noted that one possibility was that a settling tank may not have been properly maintained. Portions of it were being rebuilt and would be checked out by Swanson Environmental Inc. of Sheboygan. Reigle also mentioned that some processes may have a cumulative effect whereby lead may build up if apparatus is not maintained properly and then begin washing through, but this was a little difficult for him to accept as an explanation. He further suggested that the village was free to contact him directly in regard to any problems that may arise.

A report was mentioned by Reigle that claimed village sewage treatment standards were rather tight. Standards were compared between the Village of Kewaskum and the City of Manitowoc. Kewaskum allows .1 ppm of lead, Manitowoc allows 5 ppm; Kewaskum accepts only .05 ppm of cadmium while Manitowoc allows 5 ppm; Kewaskum permits only .1 ppm of chromium and Manitowoc accepts 25 ppm.

After Reigle spoke, Village of Kewaskum President Bob Danielsen spoke for the board and the village that the remarks would be received well and Kewaskum "...appreciates your being located in our community and the fine works you do for us."

Don Woller of Foth and Van Dyke of Green Bay, the village's consulting engineers, gave the board a copy of the specifications for a sewage sludge conditioning device to be installed at the sewage treatment plant. The device which has to be somewhat customized to meet space requirements and the village's needs, will act to thicken sludge by adding a polymer that draws off excess water. This method would save the village the cost of hauling more liquid sludge more often onto lands which may or may not be accessible.

Bids will be taken on the installation of this equipment. A bidding firm must look at the sketches and visit the site. If a bid is accepted by the board, Foth and Van Dyke must further see that the equipment will meet the specifications. Prior to any payment, the equipment must be rigidly tested, and if it doesn't meet the standards it would be modified or removed at no extra cost to the village. With this arrangement, the board approved a motion to advertise for bids which would be opened on August 20.

Elton Liepert was present as one of the property owners on Werner Drive. He wanted to know what the village had decided as to corrected charges for sewer and water installation on that street. The bills had been revised so that on a corner lot, sewer was charged according to the full number of frontage feet instead of 1/2 the number of frontage feet on each side. Liepert would be paying about $1400 more this way and did find it hard to accept. Board member Don Mlodzik and Commissioner Martin reaffirmed the village's position that frontage was the only way and the most equitable way to bill. A 27 foot portion owned by Wilmer Ramthun was not to be billed for sewer and water, because it would not benefit the property in any manner. Martin pointed out that this was statutory procedure.

The costs for sewer and water extension on Werner Drive are $15,166.77 for water at a rate of $16.37 per foot, and $15,631.30 for sewer at a rate of $15.05 per foot. At these rates, Ken Erickson who had previously confronted the board about his large bill, would be paying $3,373.22 for water and $3,100.30 for sewer with his 206 frontage feet. Liepert, the owner of three lots, would be paying a total of $12,025.78. These corrected bills are payable within one year with no interest or within four years or an installment plan with 8% interest. The board moved to send out the bills.

Mrs. Schaefer who lives near the ball diamonds east of the elementary school, came before the board to complain of noise and rowdiness after the games are over and lights are out. She said often the situation turned into a street party. The main disturbances came on Tuesday nights when the men's softball league is playing. She noted that people had been drinking in that area, and, at times, using her yard as a urinal. She had asked them to leave sometimes with some success, but the basic problem remains the same. More patrolling by the police and an ordinance limiting such activities were suggested by Mrs. Schaefer. Police Chief Hlavaty noted that this was the first such complaint in 12 years and agreed to respond if the police were notified immediately. President Danielsen had additional comments that next year the problem would be totally eliminated, since softball will be played in the new park. He stated that ordinances against such disturbances were already in existence and assured Mrs. Schaefer that if she called immediately, direct action could be taken.

As part of his routine report to the board, Chief Hlavaty announced that three parttime officers had been hired by the Police Commission. Two additional officers had been suggested, but three were chosen since the cost would not be any more and the personnel would be available as needed. Jim Jansen of West Bend, Howard Schneider of West Bend, and Steve Hafeman of rural Kewaskum are the new officers. Mlodzik wished to know if the board could know more about them, but Danielsen denied this, since the hiring was strictly the function of the Police Commission.

A tavern license application of Robert J. Klein was approved. Klein has been leasing Timmer's Bayside Inn and will now be taking over the Wigwam from William Edwards who has sold the business. Edwards will continue to run the business until Krazy Daze with his operator's license. Klein will take over the tavern license as of July 1. There was no objection from the board or the police chief. A bartender's license was also approved for Earl William Wienke of Route 2, Slinger.

The board also approved the dedication of a 410 foot long and 66 foot wide street to the north of the proposed south side shopping center. The developers would have to provide curb, gutter, sidewalk, and other street improvements with no direct involvement of the village.

A building permit application was approved for a one-family residence to be built by Schulz Home Inc. in Hon-E-Kor Estates.

In miscellaneous actions, Raynor Herriges, as Chairman of the Protection and Public Safety Committee, commented on the need to look at the problem of young children playing in the street near the entrance to the new park. Supt. of Public Works, Augie Bilgo, announced that the stop signs had arrived and would be installed along Clinton and Brooklane when the piping also arrives. Dan Schmidt, Chairman of the Park Committee, noted that a new pier for the pond may be constructed by Howard Zemlicka and that there are monies from the Modern Woodmen for purchasing a large clock for the beach. Danielsen received a letter from Phil Majerus Construction and Land Fill stating that rates for dumping rubbish at his Town of Byron site would be raised from $1.00 to $1.50 per cubic yard. At present, the board couldn't realize many alternatives to this. Danielsen also announced that only two applications for the position of Village Administrator had been received. On Tuesday, July 11, a closed session will determine if the applicants warrant the creation of the position.

It was a tight race, but Dan Schmidt beat out Raynor Herriges for the opportunity to move to adjourn at around 10:15. Personally, the 5-minute meetings are more to my taste.

PICNIC ANOTHER GREAT SUCCESS

The Kewaskum Firemen-Legion picnic continues to grow and this year's event probably set a new high in attendance and gross receipts. Thousands of persons filled the park Saturday night and Sunday and lined the streets for the parade. The picnic was again blessed with good weather.

Ten teams participated in the women's water fights Saturday evening. Random Lake II won the first place trophy with Kewaskum II second. There was a fine crowd on hand, with the new beer garden jammed for the music of Danny and the Sunliners.

Sunday noon's parade was another excellent one which lasted over an hour. It was highlighted by about a dozen bands, drum and bugle corps and drill teams and many beautiful floats among the numerous entries. Prize winning floats were: 1. Wizard of Oz (Regal Ware), $100; 2. Threshold, Inc., $60; 3. Kewaskum 4-H, $40; 4. Campbellsport Farm Supply, $20. Kiddie entry winners were: 1. Fat Family, $15; 2. Heisdorfs, $10; 3. Sentry Clowns, $7; 4. Jill Larson, $5.

Following the parade a performance was given in the park by the Madison Jr. Scouts Drum and Bugle Corps. The Mapleton Circus Band of Oconomowoc also played a brief concert on the bandstand, followed by music by the Twilighters.

During the afternoon live music in the beer garden was furnished by Syl Groeschel's orchestra. In the evening Wisconsin's Kings of Country Rock, featuring Ida Red, took over.

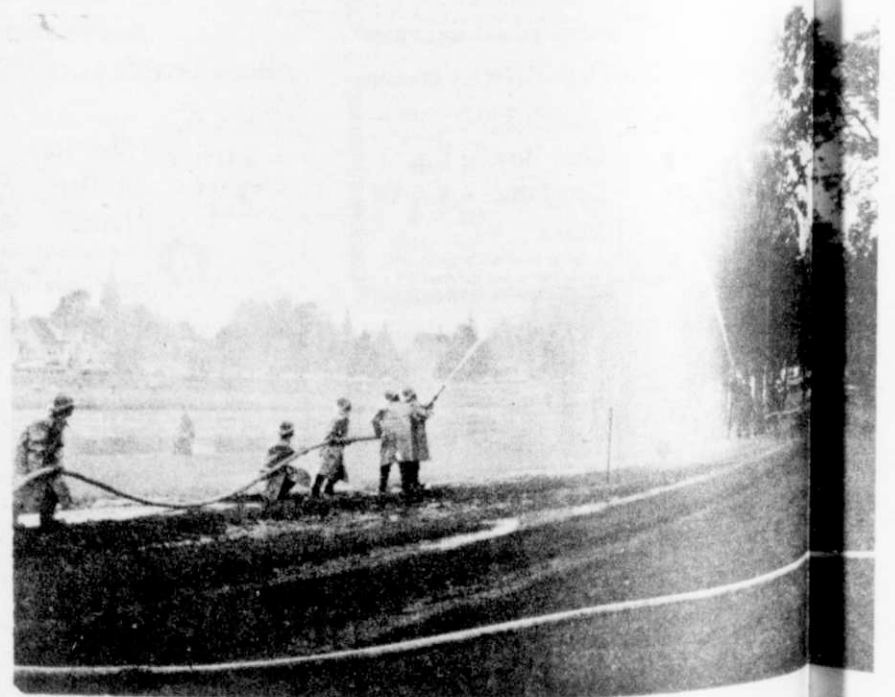

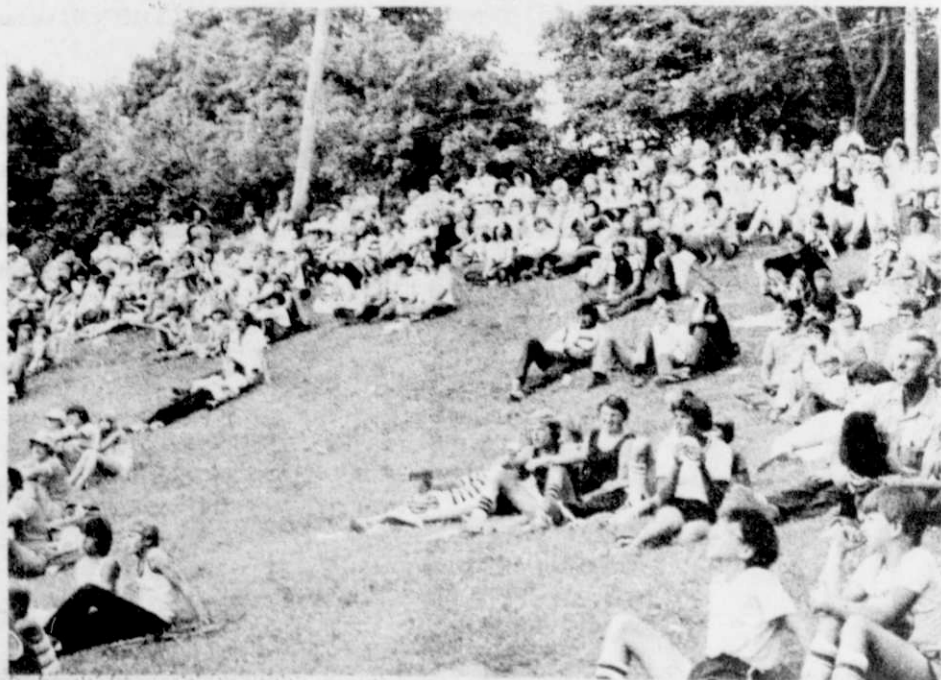

Fifteen neighboring fire department teams were entered in the evening men's water fights. First place was won by Cedarburg and second by Campbell-sport I.

Winners of the many cash and merchandise prizes will be announced at a later date.

The committee in charge wishes to thank everyone who helped make the affair an outstanding success.

Seidemann Family Reunion Sunday

Over 2000 living direct descendants of Friedrich Seidemann and his wife, Rosina have received invitations to attend the 46th annual family reunion which will be held Sunday, July 15, at the Ray Seidemann family farm located east of West Bend and about 1½ miles northwest of Newburg.

When Friedrich Seidemann and his wife came from Germany with their eight children in 1853 they settled here in the area of the Ray Seidemann farm. Thus, since 1933, the descendants have met there each year to hold an annual get-together.

Games and contests for all age groups, attendance prizes and music have been planned by the entertainment committee. Also, there will be a display of over 75 family heirlooms and antiques dating back to 1845, some which were brought along by members of the family when they emigrated to America from Germany.

The history and chronological table of the descendants will again be available and for sale listing the descendants of Friedrich and Rosina (nee Koch). Copies of this booklet have been filed with the Wisconsin State Historical Society at Madison and most local libraries.

The committee planning this year's reunion are: Elmer Wilkens, West Bend-General Chairman; Mr. and Mrs. William Schreiber, Jackson-Entertainment; and Donald Trepte, West Bend-Refreshments.

Georgie Girls Win Trophy

On Sunday, June 24, the Georgie Girls of Washington County Baton Corps marched in Cedarburg for the Music Festival and were awarded a first place trophy in the baton corps division.

The corps has a new look since reorganizing in April. Under the new instructor, Jill Etta, a student at Kewaskum High School, the corps consists of a senior corps, junior corps and color guard. The junior corps are the Georgettes. At the present time there are 30 girls in the corps and the leader of the corps is Sandra Petsch.

A pizza sale was held and through other donations the corps was able to purchase a tape player and two speakers. Jill Etta instructs the girls and arranges the marching music on the tape to accommodate the routines that the corps performs.

Anyone interested in joining the corps call Jill Etta at 629-9275. The corps practices every Monday night at Silverbrook school in West Bend.

Congress Cleans Up Its Act

A few days ago I was very proud to take part in an historic action in the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, on which I serve, when it recommended that Representative Charles C. Diggs, Jr. (D-Michigan) be censured by his colleagues and fined $40,000 for misconduct in office. The implications of that action are far-reaching, and should prove to a cynical American public that Congress now means business when it disciplines wrongdoers among its ranks.

The Committee, otherwise known as the Ethics Committee, heard Mr. Diggs plead guilty to several charges of misusing tax dollars for his own personal gain. Earlier his attorneys had asked for dismissal of the charges filed against him by the Ethics Committee, but the Committee rejected that and persisted in its scrutiny of Mr. Diggs' financial affairs during the 1975-77 period. In the end, Mr. Diggs chose to plead guilty and face the music.

Until now, Congress has been very reluctant to punish any of its members for unethical conduct in office if he or she was re-elected after public disclosure of his or her misconduct. The feeling was that re-election by constituents having the full knowledge of such acts meant forgiveness.

In my opinion, that attitude was wrong. The Ethics Committee's action marks the official end of that practice.

If the full House accepts the Committee's recommendation, it will be only the second time this century that a Member of House has been censured by his colleagues, and the first time ever that a Member has been ordered to pay restitution. While I personally believe those convicted of felonies, as Mr. Diggs has, should be expelled from office, I am satisfied that the unprecedented action of the Ethics Committee demonstrates that Congress intends to fully punish its members who abuse the public trust.

Beach Briefs

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

The lifeguard staff at the new pond has selected the "Swimmer of the Week" for July 1 to 8. Congratulations go to Tracy Buchel, daughter of Jerry and Diane Buchel, 227 Clinton, and Chad Schmidt, son of Lee and Barbara Schmidt, 622 Highland. Each week, two swimmers will be chosen who frequent the beach and obey all rules.

Tracy, age 12, in a telephone interview, stated that she liked the new pond, because it's better than the Milwaukee River. She also liked that clothes could be checked in baskets. She enjoys swimming, because "It's relaxing." Tracy's hobbies include softball, biking, and of course, spending a lot of time swimming. Her favorite song is "Is She Really Going Out With Him."

Chad, age 8, says he enjoys swimming, because "It's fun." He commented further that you "get to move your body around." Chad said he liked the new pond, because it's cleaner and bigger than the river. He also said the showers were fun. Chad's other hobbies include constructing plastic models and drawing (aha! another artist). The theme from "Star Wars" was Chad's favorite music.

Senior guard, Andrea Wagner, announces that the adult swimming class will be starting most likely on July 19. Adults may sign up for this class at the beach and state a preference as to the day of the week. Final announcement of this time will be made in the papers and on WBKV radio. Remember, Thursday night is presently scheduled for adults only from 6 to 9 p.m.

Swimming lessons are progressing well and attendance is picking up these warm July days. On Monday, July 9, a total of 151 women and 106 men used the pond. Behavior at the beach remains good, although a reminder is given as to the use of bad language and the throwing of stones. Swimmers will be warned, but if rules are not obeyed, the season pass may be nullified for a short period, or a swimmer will not be allowed in through the bath house. Also, swimming suits or gym shorts are required for swimming - not cut-offs or variations of jeans.

It has been a safe summer so far with only one assist of a tired swimmer by a guard.

Indians Drop 3 More Games

Scenic Moraine leader, unbeaten West Bend East, downed Kewaskum here Thursday evening, 8-3, behind solid pitching by Bill Froehlich and timely hitting.

A mental error in the first inning opened the door for five West Bend runs, capped by a bases loaded single by Bob Liebetrau which went for an inside the park home run as a result of two Indian throwing errors. The Suns added 2 in the second and their final run in the third.

Scott Reif took over for Steve Muench in the sixth and held East Scoreless but the damage was done. Liebetrau pitched the sixth and Pruett the seventh for West Bend.

The Indians scored two of their runs in the fifth and the other in the seventh. All runs for both clubs were unearned. Kewaskum was held to 4 hits. Liebetrau went 3 for 3 for the Suns.

With Hartland leading 3-1, the Warhawks scored 6 on just 2 hits. Mike Pettit scored both Kewaskum runs, 1 on a home run.

Reif pitched well but was given little offensive or defensive help. Eleven Indians were left stranded. Winner Jerry Dobb allowed 6 hits.

Pettit was also the hitting hero of the second game with Germantown. He had a single, double and home run. His double also might have been a homer but the umpire ruled it bounced over the fence when he did not see it clearly.
