Klein and his wife, Judy, have one daughter, Tami, age six. They also are proprietors of Timmer's Bayside Inn at Big Cedar Lake for the past 3 1/2 years and will continue operating that supper club as well as the Homestead Supper Club here in Kewaskum.

Klein has a vast twenty-year experience in the supper club business and was formerly manager of the West Bend Country Club. He is originally from Glenview, Illinois, and his wife is from Superior, Wisconsin.

The Homestead will be open on Tuesday thru Friday for noon smorgasbord lunch and family style menu from 5:00 to 10:00. A seafood buffet will be served every Friday evening in the banquet hall. On Saturday, they will be serving from 5:00 to 10:00 and Sunday dinner menu will be from noon to 8:00 or 9:00 p.m. They will be closed on Monday. Their number is 626-4447.

The Kleins are remodeling the Supper Club and Hall and will also cater to weddings.

Bill and Violet Edwards originally started their food business 26 years ago when they opened Billy's Car Hop in 1953. They remodeled in 1960 and added a drive-in and called it the Wigwam Drive-In and Restaurant. The Edwards' remodeled again in 1965, making the drive-in into a supper club.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards would like to thank everyone for their patronage these past 26 years and hope you will give the new owners your support.

Large Attendance

Intense Discussion Held at School Meeting On Disbanding of Implementation Committee

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

The well attended Kewaskum School Board meeting on Monday, July 30, was lengthy and fraught with controversy. There was an intense, but somewhat disjointed discussion on the disbanding of the implementation committee. It was determined that math would not necessarily be scheduled at the same time within any given elementary school. The bidding of insurance was explained by Gene Bohn.

Orval Behnke, one of the 5-member implementation committee was present to call for more cooperation between future committees and educational and administrative personnel. He stated that most of the members would have gone along with the idea of open meetings, even though it may have caused embarrassment if the press was present. Behnke restated the purpose of the committee to compare the "suggestions" (he stressed this word as opposed to "recommendations") of citizen advisory committees appointed by Supt. of Schools Floyd Brenholt, with the actual curriculums generated by teachers for various content and subject areas. It was denied by Behnke that there was any badmouthing of the administration, board or teachers by the committee composed of Tom Brigham, Jan Hubbell, Ellen Peterson, Norma Serwe, and Behnke. Behnke then read some samples of newspaper quotes which may have been bad publicity for the committee and interfered with its function and adequate communication. In a summary statement, Behnke said, "I hope that in the future that responsible citizens and teachers and administration and board members can work together, instead of any backbiting or allowing petty jealousies to provide juicy articles for the news media...and, together, to work as one big team. In other words, work towards the best possible education - the best available education - at a tax dollar that is readily affordable by the taxpayer."

UWWC Professor Tom Brigham also added, "I think the whole thing is a lack of communication....I think we are all trying to do the same thing and that is to give the best program

Fire Damages Village Home

A fire at the John Schultz residence, 1439 Park View Drive, Kewaskum, caused damage to the interior of the home last Friday afternoon. Kewaskum firemen were called to the scene at 4:10 p.m.

Members of the Schultz family were not home at the time and the fire was discovered by neighbors who saw smoke seeping out of the house. Firemen gained entrance to the house with a key left with a neighbor.

The blaze is believed to have started when an aerator pump on a fish aquarium under a stairway shorted out, according to Fire Chief Augie Bilgo, and spread to clothing and wood casing. The living room ceiling was also scorched and there was much smoke and heat damage throughout the house. Firemen used very little water in extinguishing the fire.

A smoke detector, which was also damaged in the blaze, was still buzzing when firemen arrived.

40th Reunion Of Seefeldt Family Held

The 40th annual Seefeldt family reunion was held Sunday, July 29, 1979 at the Kewaskum village park, with 202 members present.

Dr. Reinhard Ulrich, professor of philosophy at Lakeland College, Sheboygan, was the guest speaker. He described the political, religious and economic conditions which caused so many people to immigrate to the United States from Germany in the 1850's and 1860's, including the Seefeldt/ts.

The first of seven children of Christian Friedrich Seefeldt and Anna Sophia Kobs to emigrate from Germany to the United States was David, in 1850. The others followed within an 18 year period.

Distributed was a commemorative folder listing the first and second generations of Seefeldt/ts in America and a summary about each of these first pioneers.

On the occasion of the 40th family reunion, the group received a commendation certificate from the Wisconsin State Genealogical Society. One of the members, Mrs. Ray Thornton, Fond du Lac, is the Family Reunion Certificate chairperson for the state society.

During the business meeting conducted by Phil Majerus, vice president, of Fond du Lac, recognition was given to the only living member of The Ninety Club -- Mrs. John (Ida Fink) Weber of Fond du Lac, age 96. Senior man present was Louis Seefeldt, 89, of Kewaskum.

The family historian recorded

5 births, 4 marriages, and 5 deaths during the year. A prayer was offered by the Rev. Fredric Seefeldt of Neenah in memory of the deceased members.

Youngest member was David William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Heinke, Fond du Lac. Most recently married couple was Mr. and Mrs. William Fink of Fond du Lac.

The longest married couple was Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanke of Campbellsport, 59 years. Traveling the farthest to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Streich of Big Stone City, South Dakota.

Officers elected for next year's 41st reunion on July 27 were: president, Phil Majerus, Fond du Lac; vice president, Gerald Vigansky, Kenosha; secretary, Miss Rosella Peisker, Fond du Lac; treasurer, Mrs. Reuben Schultz, Kewaskum; historian, Mrs. Ray Thornton; and genealogist, Alfred Seefeldt, Kewaskum.

A group photograph was taken by Ray Thornton, Fond du Lac.

The family record books and scrapbooks were viewed.

On display from the first reunion in 1940 was the original invitation card, the attendance record, and the newspaper article. Approximately 100 persons were in attendance. The first president and organizer was Alfred Seefeldt of Kewaskum.

Preceding the 12.30 p.m. potluck dinner, Pastor Seefeldt gave the invocation.

Serving on committees for the event were kitchen, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Seefeldt, Kewaskum; refreshments, Lloyd Keller, Kewaskum; Arvin Halle, Plymouth; and Robert Hintz and Laurie of Campbellsport; tables, Aldwin Seefeldt, West Bend, and Richard Kuehl, Kewaskum; tickets, Mrs. Alvin Seefeldt, Campbellsport; games Mrs. Aldwin Seefeldt and daughters of West Bend, and awards Phil Majerus, Fond du Lac.

School Meeting

Charles Ogi complained of bad publicity and that there was too little of substance put in the paper regarding the math curriculum and this may have led to a communication breakdown. Board member Jerry Secor, in response to one of his alleged statements, concluded, "We had a communication problem," to which Joan Serwe responded, "Definitely!" Board member Jean Goeden noted that this was the first time she had seen some of the members of the implementation committee in that role. Kewaskum Education Association president Bob Getter noted that people do not get upset when things are discussed, but rather when there is the hint of "dictation" or having something forced upon them which seemed to be an attitude generated, however erroneously, by the "process" of the implementation committee. Board President, John Tessar, agreed everyone had learned a lesson. Initially, Behnke stated how the committee was an "experience" and if asked again to serve in such a capacity, would decline.

A math survey given to teachers had indicated that homogeneous grouping of children for math was agreeable to them, but having math at one particular time each day throughout a school, was not. The major objections stated also at previous meetings by teachers, was that art, music, Title I specialists had to remain idle for an hour during math. Beechwood Elementary Teacher Margaret O'Reilly cited a case where art had to be inconveniently taught to 42 children in the afternoon, because it could not be scheduled during the morning when math had to be done. Elementary school principals were all present and agreed that there was not much physical shifting of students from room to room due to higher or lower math placement. Wayne Principal, Dennis Reha, claimed that the original objective of teaching math more directly to students, and not allowing them to be on their own, had been achieved. Supt. Brenholt's opinion was that simultaneous scheduling was not necessary to do the job. He added that Kewaskum had always scored higher in math, and any decision either way would not kill the math program. The scheduling of specialists around math also posed problems to Brenholt. Board member Jean Goeden and Mrs. Joe Engright thought reading should be an area of emphasis, especially at lower grades, or for those who could use remedial reading. Instead, a math emphasis. Ultimately, the board voted 3 "aye" and 3 "nay" on a motion to maintain homogeneous grouping but the scheduling up to the individual schools. A round of applause greeted President Tessar's tie-breaking "Yes" vote.

Gene Bohn, in his explanation of the possibility of bidding on insurance, said that an insurance counselor would then have to be engaged for around $500 a year to set up specifications and evaluate bids of companies which have varying rates and varying coverage. The advantage of bidding might be premium savings once the bids are compared. Bohn then proceeded to list advantages of retaining the present setup through his agency. Among them are: savings on correspondence with agents due to convenient location, no counselor fee, the representation of 14 companies to obtain the best coverage at the best price, simultaneous liability insurance with the Village of Kewaskum and the district to prevent problems when there are claims against each other, experience of 27 years and 12 years with the district and proven performance.

The board approved to increase its blanket catastrophic liability policy from $2 million to $5 million coverage with a premium hike from $1900 to $2700. Employers Mutual would replace West Bend Mutual as the carrier.

The Phy. Ed. curriculum was approved by the board. Included in this, was a provision allowing CESA 13 to provide consulting in regard to adap-tive physical education for special education students. The citizen's advisory committee to screen materials used in some phy ed units is the same as the policy that requires parental permission for students to receive instruction in the sexuality unit. The health and values curriculum will be considered at the next meeting, because they are completely new guidelines and can be implemented as ongoing activities.

Reliance Construction Company was awarded the contract for blacktopping of a potentially muddy area at Farmington, of an area near the 700 area at KCHS, of the playground and service at KES. The cost would be $5,740. The bid of Lyon Metal Products of $14,931 was accepted for the installation of lockers at the middle school. The purchase of new equipment above $300 which was included in the 1979-80 budget was approved along with payment of vouchers in the amount of $39,391.42.

A request by Ron Yogerst was granted. Although living in the Wayne attendance area, Yogerst would transport the child to his mother-in-law's in the village as he would otherwise be without supervision for several hours of the day.

Substitute teachers' salaries were set at $32 on a daily basis, $37 after 11-20 days, and at the base for teachers with a BA after 20 days in the same position. Previously, Kewaskum has been the lowest paying district in the area, and it was noted some subs do not choose to teach here when they can get higher pay elsewhere. The administration stated that the new pay schedule "should put us in a fair position relative to other districts."

The board denied payment of $350 to Pat Ertman for an arts and crafts program she had conducted at Wayne. Principal Reha praised her efforts and said she had offers for the same program in other schools. The program was part of the intramural evening. The main objection seemed to be that if the district had to pay for instruction in one such program, it would have to allow the program in all schools.

Last Spring, a girl had been injured by a staple bed by another student from a staple gun. The "sharpshooter's" insurance company paid $350 and now requested reimbursement from the school district. With blinding speed, the board denied this request.

Oh yes, a total of 37 people, including the board, attended this meeting, and Brenholt was overhead saying how "the annual meeting was last week."

AREA YOUTH INJURED IN ANOTHER ACCIDENT

Washington County was the scene of a rash of traffic accidents over the weekend. In one other serious mishap which occurred around 1 a.m. Saturday morning on State Hwy. 45 just north of Hassmer Lake at Jackson, Randall L. Standish, 18, of 2925 County Trunk H, Kewaskum, sustained severe head cuts and a possible broken leg when he rounded a curve, lost control of his vehicle, and struck a telephone pole.

According to sheriff's deputies, Standish's car came to rest on its right side in a field. He was taken to St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, by the Jackson Rescue Squad. Later he was transferred to the intensive care unit at Milwaukee County General Hospital. He was reported out of intensive care and in satisfactory condition Monday morning.

of ribbons, was a special guest at the Saturday morning pancake and sausage breakfast and mingled with the crowd.

She will also compete in the state Fairest of the Fair pageant sometime next winter. Last year's winner, Darlene O'Hara, placed among the five state finalists and the 1977 winner, Anita Lee, was pageant runner-up for the state pageant.

The year's first runner-up for the county fair was Mary T. Hoffman, 18, West Bend, and second runner-up was Stephanie Fischer, 20, also of West Bend.

According to the rules for the Fairest of the Fair pageant, the contestant may be an entrant in only one county or district fair which she considers to be her "home" fair. A contestant must reside in the county she represents. The only exception: she may reside in an adjoining county if the majority of her activities are in the county in which she enters the contest.

Baranowski Appointed to MPTI District Board

Philip Baranowski

Philip Baranowski's interest in education has been lifelong. His nomination to the District Board of MPTI is an example of his interest and dedication. July 9 marked Baranowski's debut to the Moraine Park Technical Institute District Board meeting in Fond du Lac.

Baranowski is the District Administrator of the School District of Green Lake. State statutes governing the District Board provide that one member of the Board must be a school District Administrator. Baranowski filled out an application for Board membership following the resignation of Dwight York.

He was told of the confirmation of his appointment in mid-May. "I have a strong interest in vocational/technical education. As a counselor, I looked to that area for students as a viable education choice. The technical education people are involved with developing the best training for this job market and changing economy."

Baranowski has been in public education most of his adult life and with Green Lake District since 1958. He has been a teacher, counselor, and school administrator. "I feel the vocational school should be involved with the secondary and even upper elementary schools. As a Board member, I'm going to work to continue that involvement. MPTI has been effective in getting the word out to the public regarding the programs and activities available to members of the District.

"I think the faculty and administrative staff have done a fine job of public relations. As a Board member, I want to see that enthusiasm continue. We also must keep in mind the needs of the District residents and develop programs to fit those needs. There should be a continual evaluation of programs to see that they meet the needs of the changing job market."

The seven member District Board decides policy for the MPTI District, as well as acts upon recommendations of the administrative staff. "We will work closely with the new District Director to continue the energetic programs of MPTI." Baranowski's first meeting was a memorable one, as that was the night that Board President, David Wolbrink, announced the selection of Dr. John J. Shanahan as the new District Director. "I joined the Board in the concluding interviews and was part of the final decision on the night of July 9."

Baranowski said he was impressed with the other Board members. "They are really dedicated and sincerely interested in MPTI." Other Board members include David Wolbrink, Chairman, Carl Plaum, (Kewaskum), Vice-Chairman; Ann Grahl, Secretary; Doug Warner, Treasurer; Phyllis Ohlrich and Franklin Mittelstadt. "I was impressed at the way they interacted with each other. They are all open-minded, frank, and engage in meaningful and thoughtful dialogue. They look at all viewpoints and evaluate the situation before coming to a joint decision. It will be a pleasure working with such talented and dedicated people."

Board members receive no salary, except for special instances of reimbursement for travel costs to state meetings. Holding regular monthly meetings, usually on the third Thursday of the month, the Board meets in various locations across the District, which includes areas of ten counties.

"If you're going to be effective and a learning board member, you're going to have to do your homework and commit your time. You take a position like this knowing it will take up your time - I think MPTI is worth my time."

SCHOOL BUSING

Our gasoline problems unexpectedly stirred much debate recently over an issue that has lain dormant for some time — forced school busing to achieve racial integration. The realization that busing consumes a tremendous amount of gasoline renewed Congressional interest in an amendment to the U.S. Constitution to prohibit forced busing. That debate came to a head last week when the House defeated that amendment, which I supported.

Busing was intended to improve the quality of education for minority groups, on the premise that racially mixed schools would be better educationally. But I believe that has not been borne out. On the contrary, I believe it has eroded the quality of our educational system for our children.

A great deal of time, attention, and education dollars have gone into making busing a reality. But the result of that diversion of educational resources has been a decline in the general quality of education. This resource drain has destroyed the incentive and opportunity for local school creativity and innovation in curriculum planning, which was the hallmark of U.S. education for many years.

Most importantly, the concept of neighborhood schools closer to and more involved with their students and families, and more responsive to their needs, has been destroyed. How can parents influence the programming affecting their children if they actually live in another school or school board district? The element of local input and control by those most interested and affected by the quality of education offered is lost. Opinion polls clearly show that both white and black parents now are convinced of this, so there is very little support for the concept of forced busing left, except in the courts which ordered it.

I am hopeful that the proponents of the amendment to prohibit forced school busing, which was defeated last week, will continue their efforts. The courts and the federal agencies which have been most responsible for this anti-educational policy must get the message that the American people — black and white — do not want any more forced busing.

Some Income Tax Rebate Checks May Be Late in Arriving

If you have heard about, but did not share in a recent $90 million Wisconsin income tax rebate and want to know why, State Senator David Opitz (R-Port Washington) offers these suggestions.

Senator Opitz said an estimated 100,000 Wisconsin income taxpayers may find their checks are late in arriving because of one of several reasons:

—they received an extension of time in which to file their 1978 tax returns

—they filed their state income tax forms after April 16, the due date

—they received a Department of Revenue notice of tax change to their 1978 return —they owe delinquent Wisconsin taxes. The state will keep those checks to offset any delinquent taxes.

Senator Opitz said checks could be delayed between 6 and 8 weeks.

The tax rebates are being given to both renters and homeowners with the maximum amount for property taxpayers of $100. Renters are eligible for a minimum of $40 per household.

Senator Opitz added that anyone eligible for the special property tax/rent credit who forgot to claim the credit on their 1978 state income taxes have until December 31, 1979 to file a claim. They may contact the Department of Revenue, P.O. Box 8903, Madison, WI 53708 or their nearest Revenue office.

SEWHSA Acts on $78 Million in Health Care Proposals During '78-'79

During the 1978-79 program year, the Southeastern Wisconsin Health Systems Agency (SEWHSA) acted on health-related proposals totaling over $78 million — about double the amount acted on in the previous program year.

SEWHSA's third annual report, which was recently distributed, lists more than 100 health-related projects and program grant applications considered by the agency from May 1, 1978 to April 30, 1979. This compares with the 1977-78 program year during which the agency acted on more than 90 proposals totaling approximately $40 million.

A new addition to the annual report is a summary of the Health Systems Plan (HSP) and Annual Implementation Plan (AIP). These plans provide a blue-print for future development of the area's health care system. One of the primary uses of the plans is in the agency's review of health care proposals by hospitals and other health care institutions.

SEWHSA is a private, non-profit organization set up under a 1974 federal health planning law. The agency, whose voluntary membership represents both consumers and providers, works to contain health care costs, provide equal access to medical services for all residents and to promote health education in Kenosha, Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Racine, Walworth, Washington and Waukesha Counties.

Beach Briefs

For the festive week of July 22 to July 29, the lifeguard staff has selected (ta-da) as swimmers of the week, Jessica Rohrer, daughter of Jeff and Sue Rohrer of 1124 Edgewood, Kewaskum, and Shae Darvin, son of Jan and Mike Darvin of Route 3, Campbellport.

The five year old Jessica commented on the new pond, "I like when you swim in it. It's nice and warm." She also indicated a preference for the swing set outside the cyclone fence. Jessica's interests, besides "swimming a lot," include playing with friends. Jessica quickly stated that her favorite food was "rice" (that's nice) and her favorite song was "Dancing Poodles." When asked "who sings that?" she gave the most logical and obvious answer, "Me!" If Jessica were Village President, she vowed to remove stuck cars, saying, "I would get them out." The question of the week was: What would you do if you were principal of the school? Jessica said she'd "help with the kids." Not being in school yet, she was asked, "What do you learn in school?" Her response was "how to whistle" and she further said she almost knew how to read.

Shae, age 6, in a chance meeting said that the pond was "clean" and that he liked the water and swimming. Shae's other hobbies include fishing, but he admitted, "I like roller-skating the best." His favorite food is "ham" and his favorite song is "Slip, Slidin' Away" by Paul Simon. The hypothetical Village President Shae Darvin would "tear the buildings down and make new ones." (not a bad solution for unemployment) If Shae were principal of his school, he'd "keep the kids quiet." When asked what he'd do for the teachers, he said he'd "tell the teachers to be quiet." He complained that his teacher always yelled. During the interview, Shae was in a bit of a rush, because...of course...he had to go swimming.

WATER CARNIVAL MAKES BIG SPLASH

The first annual Water Carnival which was held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week proved to be a good time for all who participated. We had planned on starting the carnival on Wednesday, but rain and cold weather forced us to postpone the festivities until Thursday afternoon.

With the weather made to order we began the carnival with the greased watermelon contest, a form of keep away in the water with an anything but easy to hold on to "ball."

When time was up for the 5-7 year olds, Jessica Schmidt came up with the trophy. She was aided in her winning effort by David Berndes. Christopher Schmidt, Brian Leitheiser, Heidi and Heather Denniston, Missy Wietor and Kelly Sarauer.

In the 8-10 year old face-off, the watermelon ended up in the arms of Ted Wuebben when time was called. His victorious teammates were Jill Schmidt, Dirk Denniston, Jeff Sevik, Noel Stollenwerk and Vicki Castro.

It was out to the deep water for the 11-13 year olds as they battled for five minutes plus before referee Randy Gust declared Gina Finch and her team the winners.

Last but not least came the 14-17 year olds led by life-guards Troy Ellis and Jeff Decker. From the start, Ellis' team held a slight edge but after 10 minutes of battling, neither team had gotten the melon to their goal and when time was called, Decker and his team of Doug Miller, Steve Hubbell, Tom Leitheiser, Ken Miller and Jim Smucker emerged victorious. After the contest everyone was invited to share in the feast as the prized melons were cut making everyone who participated a winner.

Other events that added to the fun of the Water Carnival were ping pong ball blowing relays, sandcastle building, tandem swimming races, water balloon throwing, diving and underwater swimming, frisbee throwing, frog catching and jumping, and tug-o-war.

Editor:

It has come to my attention that there is a large number of people who did not receive the tax refund during these past two weeks that they had coming.

Those people who did pay property tax in 1978 would qualify for a 10% property tax credit and those who rented would qualify for a $40 rebate.

This credit was originally to be part of one's 1978 property taxes, and an additional credit was granted by the Legislature. The minimum refund is $40 and the maximum is $100. Therefore, since this credit is to be given twice, one's total refund will be between $80 and $200.

If any person did not receive these credits, he or she should obtain a Schedule PC form. Instructions for filling out the form are on the back side of the form. The form enables the person to file for both credits at one time. The PC forms are available from any Department of Revenue district office, or he or she can contact the DOR office, 608-266-1961, and the office will send the form.

Sincerely yours,
Marlin D. Schneider

AMPI NAMES TOP DAIRY COUPLES

FOND DU LAC....A couple from Illinois and two from Wisconsin are winners in this year's "Outstanding Young Dairy Couples" contest sponsored by the Mid-States Region of Associated Milk Producers, Inc.

Named first and second runnersup were Robert and Patricia Zinck, Arena, Wisconsin, and Michael and Judy Waldvogel, Antigo, Wisconsin.

Tops are Dale and Linda Drendel, Route 2, Hampshire, Illinois.

Drendel, 26, is in partnership with his father, George, and his brother, Rodney, on their 883 acre Kane county dairy, milking 77 registered Holsteins.

The Drendel's, parents of Carrie Anne, 2, recently served as state chairmen of the cooperative's Operation Outreach program designed to open lines of communication between producers and consumers. The Drendel's coordinated the two-day exhibit at a Mt. Prospect shopping mall.

The three couples won all-expense-paid trips to the annual meeting of the National Milk Producers Federation in November in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Following farm visits by a panel of judges, three other couples were named to attend the annual American Institute of Cooperation meeting to be held in August at the University of Missouri-Columbia.

Winning this all-expense-paid trip were Frederick and Sandy Grulke, Mayville, Wis.; Bruce and Mary Klug, Merrill, Wis.; and Terry and Kay Ellingson, Poplar Grove, Illinois.

The contest identifies future leadership on the farm and in the association and recognizes contributions to agriculture. Competing were 45 couples from Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan.

State Patrol Steps Up Speed Enforcement

One of the newest weapons in the State Patrol's arsenal has turned out to be the old-fashioned time-distance-speed computers, which check speeds without a radar beam to tip off truckers that "Smokey" is on the job.

In fact, through the increased use of the TDS computers and aircraft, both of which time a vehicle as it crosses a pre-measured space, plus several of the new radar units which emit no tell-tale pulse except when actually being used, the State Patrol has more than doubled the number of speeding citations issued to truckers this year.

Col. Howard Goetsch, of the Wisconsin State Patrol, said the patrol issued a total of 51,161 citations to autos and 10,276 to truckers during the first six months of the year, compared to 43,863 to cars and 4,979 to trucks between January-June, 1978. The 26 per cent total increase in speed citations shows a 12 per cent increase in auto enforcement, but a 106 per cent increase for truckers.

Goetsch said the increase is due to a number of factors, including special enforcement programs to add overtime hours to each trooper's shift, and an enhanced use of new enforcement techniques.

"One of the factors is that truckers and some auto drivers have come to rely too heavily on their CB radios and radar detectors," he said.

"Most State Patrol cruisers now have CB and, when they learn that their location has been spotted, they simply move to a new location," Col. Goetsch said. "Furthermore, radar detection equipment is useless when there's no radar beam to detect."

"Old age is ready to undertake tasks that youth shirked because they would take too long." W. Somerset Maugham

Blow 5-1 Lead

Indians Edged by West Bend East in 10 Innings in Sectional

The surprising, much improved Kewaskum Indians came close to upsetting West Bend East's Scenic Moraine co-champs in the Sectional Tournament at Random Lake last Wednesday night, before finally losing in 10 innings, 7-5, in a three hour contest.

The determined Indians held a 5-1 lead after four innings before East made it 5-2 with a run in the fifth. This is how the score stood until a last ditch rally in the 7th scored 3 runs for West Bend to tie it up at 5-5 and send the game into extra innings. There was no more scoring until the 10th when Mike Zoelle's home run over the wall with Doug Gonring on base broke the tie and won the game for the Suns.

In the second game of the evening, Grafton defeated Random Lake, 8-5, earning the right to meet West Bend East in the sectional championship contest Thursday night. East won this game, also by an 8-5 score, to advance to the state tournament in West Bend this week.

Trailing 5-2, West Bend East tied Kewaskum in the 7th on a walk, a pair of bloop singles, a hit baseman, another walk and a sacrifice fly. The Suns had their backs to the wall most of the game until the 7th.

The Indians got just 3 hits in the game, a double by Ross Krautkramer and two singles by Scott Reif, yet found themselves leading 5-1 after 4 frames.

Two Sun errors gave the Indians their first run in the 1st. They took a 3-1 lead in the second on Krautkramer's double, Reif's single and an overthrow. Kewaskum added its last 2 in the 4th without a hit. Randy Heberer walked and when Dave Donath's bunt was misplayed, the 2 moved to 2nd and 3rd. Then on Reif's grounder first baseman Tim Perkins missed the ball and both runners scored.

Steve Muench pitched until he tired in the 7th and was relieved by Reif with the score at 5-4, Kewaskum, and the bases loaded. Gene Pufahl chose to catch a long foul ball rather than let it drop and the tying run scored after the catch.

Pruett hurled for the Suns until relieved by Froelich in the bottom of the 7th.

Winnebago County — Wall-eye fishing is good on Lake Poygan at the mouth between Lakes Poygan and Winneconne. The best baits are nightcrawlers and spinners. Perch fishing on Winneconne requires a great deal of patience, but they are there. Trolling is recommended for best results. For those who like sheephead, they are biting in the Fox River in Oshkosh. Fishing is generally slow for other species in the Oshkosh vicinity.

Southeast District

Largemouth bass fishing has been fair to good with some good catches coming from Pewaukee and Eagle Springs Lakes in Waukesha County and Little Cedar Lake in Washington County.

Northern pike are being taken from Nagawicka Lake in Waukesha County. Panfish fishing is only fair at this time, however nice perch are being taken from the Sheboygan Marsh in Sheboygan County.

White bass are hitting on Pewaukee and North Lakes in Waukesha County.

Bluegill and crappie fishing is generally spotty, although some nice catches of bluegills are being made in Lulu Lake in Walworth County.

Lake Michigan shore and boat anglers have had good, and in some cases excellent, success off southeastern counties. Boat anglers have harvested a mixed bag of salmon and trout off Sheboygan County and excellent catches of both trout and salmon have been made off the Sheboygan piers in the early morning hours. Boat fishing, just off the breakwaters, at Port Washington has produced salmon and fair catches of trout. Good catches of Chinook have been taken by shore anglers. Salmon fishing is improving off the ramps in Milwaukee and Salmonorama wound up over the weekend in Racine County with boat anglers coming in with plenty of 15 to 20-pound Chinooks.

WISCONSIN'S 1979 STEEL SHOT RULES TO REMAIN THE SAME

The 1979 steel shot regulations for Wisconsin will be identical to those used in 1978. The 1979 steel shot zone includes 21 counties in east-central and southeastern Wisconsin, the Mississippi River from Prescott to the Illinois border, the west shore of Green Bay, the Wisconsin River bordering Juneau and Adams Counties, and the Mead, Wood County, Sandhill and Meadow Valley Wildlife Areas in central Wisconsin. (see map) The zones represent the most intensively hunted areas in Wisconsin and cover about 66% of the state's duck harvest. The 150 yard rule will again be in effect and only 12 gauge shotguns will be required to use steel shot loads.

LEAD SHOT PHASE-OUT

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is gradually phasing out toxic, lead shot for waterfowl hunting in heavily hunted areas throughout the nation where die-offs from lead poisoning pose a problem. This process began in the Atlantic Flyway in 1976 and now extends to all four flyways nationwide.

WISCONSIN'S STEEL SHOT PROGRAM

The Natural Resource's Board has adopted steel shot regulations that have been consistent with Federal Guidelines since 1977. In 1977 counties with a harvest of 20 ducks per square mile or 20,000 per county were included in steel shot zones. The 1977 zone included five counties in east-central Wisconsin, the Mississippi River and three additional state wildlife areas.

The 1978 guidelines included counties with a 10 duck per square mile harvest or 10,000 per county. With adjustments in such areas as river bottoms, made to simplify rules, the 1978 zones were established and will remain the same this year.

HOW TO GET BETTER PERFORMANCE FROM YOUR STEEL SHOT LOADS

As steel shot is about 1/3 lighter than lead, a few changes in old habits will greatly improve your hunting success with steel shot.

1. Use one or two shot sizes larger than you are used to when using steel shot loads. Pellet numbers are not decreased significantly with this change and as most steel loads pattern better than commonly used lead loads very little pattern density is lost by using larger steel shot sizes. Experts recommend that 4's and 2's be used for ducks (1's work well also) and 1's and BB's for geese.

2. Purchase steel loads that have as high a muzzle velocity as possible. It is recommended that steel shot loads with velocities of at least 1,350 fps be used. Magnum shells should be closely scrutinized as many of these shells produce slower velocities.

3. Do not attempt shots over 45 yards. Most hunters have difficulty in consistently making clean kills on waterfowl with any load at ranges over 45 yards. With steel it is particularly important to restrict your shooting within this range to be most effective.

4. It is also helpful to pattern your gun with the steel shot loads you will be using prior to the season. Check penetration by shooting at a plywood backboard. The lead you have developed using lead loads may also have to be adjusted somewhat using the faster steel loads.

5. Use a more open choked barrel. The very tight patterns produced by steel shot hamper all but the expert. Modified and even improved cylinder bores will give much better performance for the average hunter within the recommended ranges.
