Las Vegas recently.

Robert Beisbier and his wife Darlene had gone to the convention representing Kewaskum Frozen Foods owned jointly by them with David and Liz Nigh.

The (garlic flavored) sausage was judged both on appearance and taste and was taken directly off the rack, not especially made. This means that Kewaskum Frozen Foods customers are getting the same quality sausage.

Delbert Shea, 58, the chief sausage maker, has a lifetime of sausage making behind him and joined Kewaskum Frozen Foods about six years ago. Each Friday, the beef for sausage, 70% of the total, is ground, spices are added and it is aged in the cooler over the weekend. On Monday, lean pork is added for the other 30%. The mixture is ground finer and stuffed into plastic casings. Sausages are then hung in the smokehouse. By Wednesday afternoon the sausage is cured, cooled and ready for sale. Other sausages such as bologna, bratwurst, mettwurst and others are also sold at the plant.

Kewaskum Frozen Foods was opened for business in November, 1941, by the late Sylvester Harter and his wife Anna with one employee, Walter Schmidt, who is still employed at the plant. A month after they opened, Harter was called into service to serve in World War II and was killed in France. Mrs. Harter continued the business throughout the war. She married Greg Nigh in 1946 and they built up the business. They hired Greg's brother, David Nigh, in 1958 and three years later Beisbier was hired. Over the years there has been a steady growth necessitating four additions. Dave Nigh and Robert Beisbier bought out the owners last January. Greg and Anna still come in part-time. There are 26 part-time and full-time employees.

They have also received other state awards.

Leroy Lockers, Leroy, and Hoffs of Brownsville also received national honors.

Barutha Promoted by West Bend Savings

Charleen J. Barutha

West Bend Savings and Loan Association announced the appointment of Charleen J. Barutha of Kewaskum as Assistant Vice President and Branch Manager of the association's Kewaskum Savings Office located at 114 Main Street, Kewaskum.

Mrs. Barutha, in addition to assuming the duties of Branch Manager, will be responsible for coordinating and expanding the association's home lending activities in the Village of Kewaskum and its outlying areas.

Mrs. Barutha joined the association as a savings teller in 1972 and was later named Assistant Secretary. She was active in assisting with the association's data processing program and, most recently, served as Assistant Branch Manager for the association's Kewaskum Office.

Barutha succeeds Daniel V. Filzen who served as Kewaskum branch manager since 1975. Filzen was named Assistant Manager of the association's mortgage loan department and Vice President of Citizen's Credit Corp. - a wholly owned association subsidiary.

Mrs. Barutha, a mother of three, lives with her family at 1510 Brooklane Drive, Kewaskum. Her husband, Al, is employed by Artos Engineering, New Berlin.

Seefeldt Appointed County Treasurer

Fredric A. Seefeldt

Fredric A. Seefeldt, 41, a native of Kewaskum, who was the Republican candidate for Secretary of State in 1978, was appointed by the Washington County Board Tuesday morning as County Treasurer.

He will serve until January 7, 1981, filling out the unexpired term of Treasurer Leo P. Scholtz, who resigned recently. The 1979 salary for the position is $16,577.60.

Seefeldt at present is living in the Town of Kewaskum. He was home secretary for nine years for the late U.S. Rep. William Steiger (R-Oshkosh) and currently is a field representative for the George Bush for President Committee.

Seefeldt could take over almost immediately as treasurer. He felt his training and experience prepared him for the work." This includes a variety of experiences in the family insurance firm, his work for Congressman Steiger and investment work he has done. He has also worked with computers.

Thirteen persons applied for the appointment. The Administrative Committee interviewed applicants Friday, dwindled them down to five and later three, best qualified, including Seefeldt, former deputy Lori Spaeth and Wanda Roevers, treasurer of the Town of Polk six years.

Seefeldt received 19 votes on the final ballot, Spaeth six and Roevers four.

In addition to the treasurer's resignation, the deputy treasurer had resigned and the accounting assistant transferred out to another county office.

Turkey Shoot Sunday

The Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum has announced that its 27th Annual Turkey Shoot will be held on September 16 at the Bar-N Dude Ranch, six miles northeast of Kewaskum on County Trunk GGG, the beautiful Kettle Moraine Drive. Thousands of people joined the fun last year with over 540 marksmen winning fine frozen turkeys.

For a fee of $2.25 for four shots (four shots for $1.75 on advance sale tickets, which may be ordered from Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum, Box 125, Kewaskum, Wisconsin 53040), the marksman attempts to win a frozen turkey. There are special lines for ladies and children.

Rifles and ammunition are furnished.

Trout fishing contests are another attraction. The angler keeps the fish he catches. In addition, there is a grand prize for the person catching the largest fish.

Trap shooting contests are conducted throughout the day. Sportsmen desiring to enter these events may bring their own shotguns and ammunition. There is also an archery target range, as well as other marksmanship contests. In addition, there are games for every member of the family to enjoy. Shelter, brats, hamburgers and both hot and cold beverages will be available.

Town of Auburn Needs Your Help

The committee needs the help of the people of the Town of Auburn to purchase land suitable for a transfer station (a sanitary compactor for garbage). The land should be located in a desolate area with sparse population not immediately adjacent to any residential property. It should be one acre or more, a source of electric power, and a good approach of vision for all vehicles (meaning an exit and entrance). The land to be purchased will have the consent of the people of the Town of Auburn who will vote on the matter.

If land or a solution is not found, the State could intervene causing higher taxes and no freedom of choice for everyone.

Any suggestions, comments, or available land, call or notify one of the following committee members:

Joe Priesgen (Laborer) R.R.3, Box 121AA, Campbellsport, WI 53010, Phone 533-8486

Dick Giersch (Businessman) R.R.2, Campbellsport, WI 53010, Phone 533-8134

Kenneth Jandre (Farmer) R.R.2, Box 226, Campbellsport, WI 53010, Phone 533-8037

This matter will be discussed at the regular town meeting at the Auburn Town Hall, October 1, 1979, at 8:00 p.m.

High School Students To Take ACT Tests

The 1979-80 school year is just beginning, but juniors and seniors at Kewaskum High School and other high schools across the country are already facing some big decisions.

One of those decisions is what to do after graduation — whether to go on to school, to get a job, or try to do both.

Playing an important role in the students' postsecondary education and career planning will be guidance counselors, parents, friends, and a national service called the ACT Assessment Program. Designed to provide the guidance information for education and career planning, the widely used program is recommended for use by student applicants at more than 2,700 colleges and universities.

Kewaskum High School students will have five opportunities during the 1979-80 school year to make use of the national program, which consists of four tests and a two-part questionnaire. Students complete the questionnaire at home as part of the registration process, and then take the battery of tests at area test centers on any of five weekend national test dates, explained

Michael Theiler, Guidance Counselor at Kewaskum High School.

The five 1979-80 national test dates and the corresponding registration periods are: October 20, 1979 — August 6-September 21; December 8, 1979 — October 8-November 9; February 16, 1980 — November 26-January 18; April 12, 1980 — February 4-March 14; June 14, 1980 — March 24-May 16.

It takes students about three hours to complete the ACT Assessment's four exams covering subject areas of English, math, social studies, and natural sciences. On any of the test dates, most local students will take the tests at University of Wisconsin Center, Washington County.

Theiler said the test scores provide an assessment of general educational development and the questionnaire section information focuses on academic and non-academic accomplishments and interests, as well as career and educational plans. For the fifth consecutive year, the basic student fee for using the ACT Assessment Program is $7.50.

In addition to being used by students and their high school counselors, information provided by the ACT Assessment is also used by colleges for academic advising, admissions counseling, course sectioning and placement, student services, and institutional research. Students' ACT Assessment reports are sent to only those colleges specifically designated by the respective students.

One of several educational services provided by The American College Testing Program (ACT), the ACT Assessment Program is used each year by more than 900,000 students as part of their education and career planning.

Board Denounces Port Schools For Hiring Therapy Teacher

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

In a special meeting of the Kewaskum School Board on Tuesday, September 4, a teaching contract was approved for Terese Dunlavy, who has now accepted the position as speech clinician at the Kewaskum elementary schools. She replaces Barbara Hickcox who has since accepted a position with the Port Washington School District, although her resignation has not been accepted here. Ms. Dunlavy is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point in communicative disorders. She has spent one semester working for Marathon County.

In yet another round of "musical kindergartners," four students from the Boltonville area are now being bussed to Beechwood while one Farmington area student is now bussed to the original Farmington School instead of Beechwood. This creates classes of 27 in Beechwood and 28 in Farmington - down from the original 31. There are 32 kindergartners at Wayne, so the board authorized the hiring of an aide.

The regularly scheduled meeting of the school board occurred on Monday, September 10. After a 45-minute delay due to a closed session, the doors were opened to the public.

Later in the meeting, President John Tessar read a statement concerning the contractual problems with Barbara Hickcox and the Port Washington Schools. "The school board decided at this time not to take any action. We have a number of alternatives we are studying..." Legal action may be taken at a later date. Tessar also added that the board wished to "publicly denounce the action of the Port Washington School District. According to the State Statute of 118:22, no teacher may be under contract with two schools. Port Washington was aware of this." Tessar mentioned contacts with the Supt. of Port Schools, David Herbert, and their Board President, Allen Hackey, and that they were "well aware this teacher was under contract with the Kewaskum School District." Tessar concluded, "and I am stating here that the Port Washington School District broke the law!"

In a not-so-instant replay of the motion and amendment involved in math scheduling, homogeneous groupings of elementary students and the privilege of having individual school principals establishing math times within each building, was upheld. After listening to tapes, board members were still uncertain if an amendment by Byron Gessner to have grades 1, 2 and 3 math scheduled at the same time and grades 4, 5 and 6 math at the same time, was seconded or merely ruled out of order.

The entire sequence was reenacted with Jerry Secor making the original motion again and the second by Jean Goeden. Gessner then introduced his amendment which was seconded by Charles Ogi. The amendment was voted on first with Tessar breaking a 3-3 tie to defeat the idea of "split scheduling." Then the original motion was upheld with Tessar again breaking a 3-3 tie. Math scheduling is still at the discretion of each school's principal and subject to review at the end of the year.

The parents of a St. Michaels kindergartner were present to request that their child and another family's kindergartner be bussed to Kewaskum Elementary instead of Beechwood. A bus which transports one of the second family's children to the Early Childhood program at KES could conceivably transport the other two children. Presently there are 24 kindergartners at Kewaskum with one mainstreamed special ed. student, and two more would bring the number to 27 in the smallest kindergarten classroom in the district. The parents of the first family said their child could adjust to being at Beechwood, although his brothers and sisters attend KES. It was agreed that the second family's kindergartner would be bussed to KES, thereby allowing for any new students at both Kewaskum and Beechwood.

This year thermostats will be set at 65 at the middle school and high school. This is three degrees cooler than last year's setting, and a notice may be sent out with report cards to "don more apparel." Systems Service Ltd. of Milwaukee was also consulted as to other ways of conserving energy. They suggested that the "uni-vents" in each classroom which go to the outside be closed off via a pneumatic switch during winter months. This would allow for the necessary 10% air exchange. 80 such switches would have to be installed at $26 each, and it was estimated that fuel savings may be 30%. However, Business Manager Bob Borch investigated the actual savings at the middle school where such a system was in effect last year. He found that 4,776 cubic feet less gas was used last year than the year before, representing savings of $1,194 or 15%. This system has paid for itself and would probably do so at the other buildings. The board then approved the expenditure of up to $3,000 for this, and the provision that a Systems Service representative show the Head Custodian how to correctly install such switches.

A fall student enrollment audit by Vand Derg Jagt, Buss and Associates was approved. Enrollment figures must be audited in order to receive the corresponding state aids.

There was a final discussion on the usual fate of the School Newsletter - ending up in the wastebasket at the post office. The possibility of allowing people to refuse it was mentioned, but one board member quipped that people wouldn't read any notice about not receiving a newsletter which in turn is not read. Supt. Brenholt mentioned there would be no real savings, because they are sent out at bulk rate. The calendar was mentioned as one advantage of the newsletter as well as its being a means of meeting legal requirements for publication of school board minutes.

Open Meeting Ordinance Adopted

Village Board Authorizes Master Street Layout Map

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

On Tuesday, September 4, the Kewaskum Village Board authorized a master street layout map of the village and to arrange for a Land Use Plan through the Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission. An investigation of two dangerous railroad crossings was discussed. An open meeting ordinance was adopted, and the proposals for sewage dewatering equipment were tabled.

The village engineer was authorized to proceed with a long needed master street layout map at about a cost of $1260. In the future, overlay maps would be made of the sanitary sewer system, the storm sewer system, and the water system, each at the same cost. Presently, the village does not have a comprehensive map that shows these services and the last official map was done in 1959. These maps would directly assist the Supt. of Public Works and the Supt. of Wastewater Treatment. It was also mentioned that at Plan Commission meetings, such a map would provide the tool needed for the job of planning.

In his quest for funding of this, Village Administrator Dan Schmidt was informed that state funds are divided up between regions. When SEWRPC was contacted, they said they would do a Comprehensive Community Plan officially known as a Land Use Plan, for Kewaskum at 50% cost once the four maps were completed. This would give future projections for the village as to services needed. It would also show how services compare with other communities. President Danielsen stated that some different innovative ideas may be given and that it certainly wouldn't hurt to listen. Presently five communities have applied for these Land Use Plans, and with two or three being completed per year, the earliest Kewaskum's could be started would be August 1980. The Board voted unanimously to get on the list.

One citizen, Paul Behring, was present and represented the Chamber of Commerce. A letter also requested the board to consider altering the intersection of "45" and Second Street by taking off about 10 feet and rounding off the sharp turn. The Public Works Committee was enjoined to look into the matter with their first contact being Fairmont Foods whose truck lot occupies the corner. The question of improving this bottleneck which may affect certain businesses has come up before, and Supt. of Public Works Augie Bilgo noted that alteration would necessitate some digging to move a storm sewer.

The State Transportation Commission will be investigating the railroad crossing on Main Street by sending up a survey team in the near future. The Commission will then decide on what should be done and write the C & NW railroad. They have 365 days to comply, however, during the first 20 days of this period, any involved party can ask for a public hearing. Administrator Schmidt pointed out that any action to improve the crossing could actually be postponed two or three years due to such procedural hang-ups.

The board authorized Schmidt to also request the state to investigate the First Street crossing at the same time. Recommendations from Bilgo and Police Chief Hlavaty were also encouraged. The dangers of the rough crossings were pointed out. Bilgo noted that the Main Street signal reflects red in the early morning, is about 40 years old, and actually did not attract the necessary attention. Chief Hlavaty mentioned that on Second Street, there have been no accidents due mainly to a much better multiple light signal.

No bids on the sewage sludge conditioning device were accepted as yet, since Supt. of Wastewater Treatment Pete Albers would like to make a few more contacts. The village engineers have made a recommendation to accept one bid, however, several village representatives have seen other equipment in action in another community and were impressed. Other board members may visit this site in the future. There was a motion to table the issue and investigate the cost of upkeep of certain sludge conditioners. President Danielsen noted that a cheaper model may actually have more maintenance cost.

The open meeting ordinance which delineates agenda format and public notice procedures in order to be in compliance with State Open Meeting laws was readily accepted and adopted by the board. The only action that may have to be curtailed by the board is calling a meeting with only two days notice as opposed to the legal five days notice. Emergency meetings can still be called, however.

In other action, the board voted to cancel its remaining order of equipment from Swim Time of Wichita, Kansas, and place the remainder of the order with Miller and Associates of Wisconsin. The items will be comparable in cost and hopefully arrive sooner.

Village Commissioner Bill Martin pointed out that the board should not count on Federal Revenue Sharing past 1980. Congressman Sensenbrenner has stated that the federal government will be eliminating this program. Martin admonished the board not to budget in this area beyond 1980. The village's allotment for 1980 is $55,688.00.

Carl Spoeth, Chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee, announced that a local citizen, Bill Mech, had expressed interest in starting a local tennis tournament. This is now scheduled for September 15 and 16, and will be played on the new courts at the new park and at the high school courts. The board allocated $100 to defray expenses for this, and an individual entry fee is $1.00. Hopefully this will become an annual event and is not intended to be over-competitive.

The board accepted the resignation of Gerda Hlavaty who is presently an assistant librarian. She will continue working until a replacement is found. The Plan Commission representative, Jerry Stollenwerk, reported that there was some question as to zoning for a log cabin which the Historical Society wishes to place near the museum. Schmidt said he had talked to the zoning administrator and that a public hearing for rezoning the site to "institutional" may be a solution.

Raynor Herriges, after completing a successful stint as President Pro-Tem during President Danielsen's recent absence, was soon back performing his customary role of moving to adjourn. The board then went into closed session.

4-H Leaders Banquet Sept. 19

The annual meeting and banquet of the Washington County 4-H Leaders Association will be held Wednesday, September 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Slinger Village Hall. All adult and youth leaders are invited. Reservations should be made with the 4-H office.

The 4-H program happens because there are people who volunteer to work with the youth in Washington County. There are over 400 adults and youths who are volunteer 4-H leaders.

The annual banquet and program is intended to recognize leaders who have reached a certain milestone in their service to youth. A public recognition of this kind is one reward for volunteering to work with youth. It is a hunch, though, that the greatest reward that a leader receives is the satisfaction of what he's done for some youngster. Perhaps he's taught the youngster some new skill, maybe he's given him confidence to do something on his own, maybe the member has learned to plan and work with others.

There are almost unlimited ways to work with youth in the 4-H program. Maybe you have a special hobby that you'd like to share. Perhaps you'd like to teach a few girls the basics of sewing or something about foods and nutrition. Maybe you'd like to help younger members explore their community. Kids want recreation, maybe you can help them plan and conduct their own recreational activities. Perhaps you can help them become a part of the community by working with other groups to beautify or improve the neighborhood.

If you want to share your skills or hobbies with one or a dozen or more youth, consider the opportunities in 4-H. You may even learn new things or get new ideas yourself.

Two Area Students Take Part In Monopoly Tournament

Two Kewaskum area students participated in the Regional Monopoly Tournament at Chicago on Saturday, September 8. Youngest of the 125 players from five states was nine year old Philip Ciha, fifth grader at Wayne Elementary School. Richie Lloyd, seventh grader at Kewaskum Junior High School was the other participant.

Age range was from nine to 64, with occupations from student to hospital administrator, auto dealer, lawyer, accountant, systems analyst, policeman, psychotherapist, commodity trader, college principal, truant officer, security guard and others. They were from Missouri, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, as well as Wisconsin.

Neither of the two boys played beyond the first round of the tournament held at the Continental Plaza on Chicago's Gold Coast. Following their elimination, they became typical "Windy City" tourists with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lloyd, Highway W, Campbellsport, and Claire O. Ciha, Mullen Drive, Allenton. They toured the Water Tower Place, one of Chicago's newest skyscrapers and the John G. Shedd Aquarium in Grant Park.

Other Regional Monopoly Championships were held or are scheduled for Boston, Dallas and San Francisco. Those winners travel to New York for the U.S. Championship, and that winner receives an all-expense paid trip for two to Bermuda for the World Championship in the Spring of 1980.

Principal Dennis Reha supervised the first local tournament held at Wayne School last spring.

Tractor Operation Dangers Increase At Harvest Time

By Robert A. Stodola
4-H & Youth Agent, West Bend

It's a familiar story. A young man was in a hurry to finish before the rain started. As he turned his tractor sharply at the row end, he didn't notice the washed out hole — until the tractor began to tip. Then it was too late.

Overturning tractors are the most common cause of farm deaths in Wisconsin. In 1977, 15 people were killed in this way; four were young men aged 11 to 17. Tractor accidents of all kinds accounted for 33 fatalities in 1977, and there were 36 deaths involving other farm activities.

Both exposure to dangerous conditions and the variety of work account for the high rural accident rate, according to University of Wisconsin-Extension safety specialist Donald V. Jensen. Farmers not only work longer hours than many other workers, they also have jobs that demand the safe mastery of many kinds of equipment every day. Fatigue from long hours, haste and carelessness can lead to serious accidents.

Many young people will be working in harvesting operations, so it's a good time to think of tractor safety. Here are tips to prevent the most common tractor accidents.

1. Fasten your seat belt if the tractor has a roll-over protective structure.

2. Avoid using the tractor near ditches, embankments and holes. They are likely to cause a sideways upset.

3. Slow down when turning, crossing slopes and on rough, slick or muddy surfaces. Centrifugal force pushes the tractor to the outer edge of the turn. Doubling the speed while turning increases the danger of upsetting by four times.

4. Stay off steep slopes. A tractor's stability is much less on a slope. Drive slowly, avoid quick uphill turns. Watch for depressions on the downhill side and bumps on the uphill side. Keep the tractor in low gear when going downhill so that the engine can serve as a brake.

5. Watch where you are going, especially at row ends, on roads and around trees. Slow down and be alert to fence rows, making as wide a turn as possible.

If you must operate a tractor on a highway, be sure to display the triangular slow moving vehicle emblem. Stay alert and obey all traffic signs. Keep the approaching traffic lane clear and don't allow a large buildup of traffic behind. Pull onto the shoulder when it is safe to allow a line of cars to get by.

Beware of soft or collapsing road shoulders.

6. Don't permit others to ride.

Tractors are designed for only one operator. Four deaths in 1977 resulted from carrying passengers.

7. Drive the tractor smoothly with no jerky turns, starts or stops. Make sure no people or obstructions are ahead or behind. Stopping quickly can cause fishtailing, then jack-knifing and roll-over.

8. Hitch equipment only to the drawbar and hitch points recommended by tractor manufacturers. Hitching higher may cause the tractor to tip over backwards. Always use a safety-hitch pin for fastening a pulled implement to the drawbar.

9. When the tractor is stopped, set the brakes securely and use park lock if it is available. Don't depend on leaving the transmission in one of the driving gears to keep your tractor from rolling. Whenever you leave the tractor seat, shut off the engine, set the parking brake or shift to park, and remove the key.

10. Make sure all safety shields are in place and don't allow young children around moving machinery.

To give a chromium teakettle a quick and easy shine, go over it with a piece of wax paper when the kettle is warm.

Public May Report Motoring Emergencies Or Request Assistance on CB Radio

Motorists with citizen band radios are reminded that they can report emergencies or request assistance from the State Patrol by calling KWI-0911.

The state department of transportation said all State Patrol cruisers are now equipped with CB radios, and will respond to distress calls. While State Troopers generally monitor channel 19, their radios will pick up emergency messages broadcast on channel 9, if they are in the vicinity.

The department said the KWI-0911 number utilizes the "911" distress signal so that it can be more easily remembered by the general public.

Kewaskum FFA Officers Attend Workshop Sept. 10

The Sectional FFA Chapter Officer Leadership Workshop was held Monday afternoon, September 10, at the Hartford Union Senior High School.

Gary Zastrow, State FFA Vice President, and the Hartford FFA Chapter were the hosts of this inspirational event. There were chapter officers representing 30 FFA chapters throughout the area.

The purpose of the Workshop is to promote individual and FFA chapter growth in both leadership and FFA related work. New FFA programs were also introduced and greater participation in existing programs encouraged.

Zastrow was assisted by five other State FFA Officers, including Mark Lelle, State FFA President from South Wayne. Mark challenged the officer groups in attendance to set their goals high and work hard to reach these goals. Other State FFA Officers attending included:

Vern Dougherty, State FFA Ranking Vice President, De-

Forest; Todd Seeley, State FFA Chaplain, Boscobel; Tom McKetrick, State FFA Secretary, Viola-Kickapoo, and Chuck Radloff, State Vice-President, Omro.

The FFA Advisors met with A. B. Cordes, State FFA Executive Secretary, who shared new materials with them and underscored some of the goals that the FFA chapters should strive for this year.

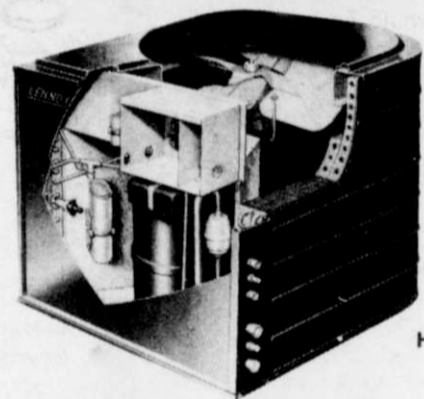

Mr. Sands, Principal of Hartford Union High School, welcomed the group to the school and the city. He encouraged their leadership training and commended them for their constructive activities.

The Hartford FFA chapter provided refreshments. Local chapter officers conducted the Opening and Closing Ceremony, and served as hosts of the Workshop.

The area chapters in attendance were: Beaver Dam, Campbellsport, Kewaskum, Lomira, Mayville and Slinger.

Those attending from Kewaskum FFA were: Barbara Schulz, President; Mark Huffer, Vice President; Sue Schaub, Secretary; Jeff Nigh, Treasurer; Joe Hoerig, Sentinel; Wes Haug, Historian-Parliamentarian; and Mr. Rizzardi, Advisor.

Time to Revamp Congress

We see plenty of signs of unrest among the American people these days with the inability of Congress to deal with our nation's problems. With justifiable concern they watch while Congress seems to do little to meet our energy, inflation, and tax problems. There are many reasons for this inaction, but I am convinced that Congress can and should reverse this frightening trend, simply by streamlining its own legislative procedures.

Much of the difficulty, I believe, lies in Congressional committees. They are numerous, cumbersome, competing, and demanding of the time of their members. Several steps could be taken, I believe, to change this situation.

One, each Member of Congress serves on several committees and subcommittees dealing with different issues. The result is that they are spread too thin to do a good job. They become too dependent on staffers and federal bureaucrats because they do not have the time to really delve into the issues they must consider in committee. If we limit committee assignments to one for each member, they would be better able to develop expertise on issues and to develop solutions to them.

Two, the proliferation of committees and subcommittees creates many roadblocks and delays for legislation. Our energy crisis is a case in point. There are now over 40 House subcommittees which deal with energy-related legislation. They often compete for jurisdiction over the popular issues, trying to decide which committee will work on them. Conversely, when the issues in question are controversial or politically unpopular, no one wants to touch them with a ten-foot pole. At other times some legislation must wend its way through a succession of several committees which practically brings the whole process to a grinding halt.

Three, bills are now often referred to several committees at once, which usually results in buck-passing between the various committees when an issue in them languishes for whatever reason. Clarifying just who has responsibility for dealing with an issue would quickly reduce the buck-passing.

Changing the structure of the legislative process will help Congress become more effective, but ultimately it still is up to each member to have the courage to work and take stands on controversial issues before Congress will truly become a more productive, more responsible instrument for change and solution for our nation's problems.

21 Graduate From MPTI Farm Training Program

Twenty-one young farmers from the Washington and Eastern Dodge County areas of the Moraine Park VTAE District joined the ranks of over 300 persons who have graduated from the Farm Training Program conducted by MPTI, in late August at Huilsberg. They were given Certificates of Completion by Dr. John Shanahan, Moraine Park District Director, and Mrs. Ann Grahl, farmer member of the Moraine Park VTAE Board. They all completed five years of the program designed to help young farmers get established in the business of farming.

Since Ralph Van Dixhorn, instructor of the program, was leaving on September 1 to accept an agricultural missionary position in Venezuela, a special farewell tribute to him was given at the banquet.

Don McDowell, former Wisconsin Department of Agriculture Secretary and recently retired director of the National FFA Foundation, was the master of ceremonies. McDowell is a member of the National Commission on Vocational Education, having been appointed by President Ford and just recently appointed by President Carter.

Featured speaker was Dr. Robert Spitzer, President of the Milwaukee School of Engineering and former director of the Food for Peace Program in the U.S. State Department in 1975-76. Spitzer, a nationally-recognized expert on world hunger problems, was president of the Murphy Feed Company of Burlington, Wisconsin for many years prior to his Food for Peace position.

Those receiving awards were: Ralph Baetz, Fred Berndt, Allan Bogenschneider, and Kenneth Dietrich of Allenton; James Klink, Charles Naab, Gary Pusch, and Eugene Troeller of Hartford; Robert Flasch, Henry Schacht, Terry Schaub, Michael Lettow, Keith Luft, Gary Schladweiler, James Senn, Alois Serwe, and Fred Wilkens of Kewaskum; and Sylvester Goeller, Dennis Kuhaupt, Albert Schulteis, and Richard Wiedmeyer of Slinger.

County Medical Society Urges Update Of Immunizations

Many children of school age are not completely immunized against common childhood diseases. Immunizations for diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis (whooping cough), polio, measles, rubella (German measles), and mumps are now readily available and effective. It is no longer necessary for children to experience these illnesses and be exposed to the possible serious complications of these diseases.

Some parents may feel that immunizations are no longer necessary or are outdated.

Others feel that these common childhood illnesses have been eliminated. This is not true.

The Washington County Medical Society encourages all parents to check their family immunization records. If these are not available, they should check with their family physician to make sure all of their children are adequately immunized.

Proper immunizations are available through your family physician or through the immunization clinics run through the Washington County Nurse. Contact your physician for further details.

Conservation Award Winners

The West Bend Kiwanis Club recently recognized Mr. and Mrs. Ken Ramthun, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ramthun and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Eisenmann for their efforts in conservation and wildlife habitat development on their land at a noon luncheon on September 4. Both farms are located in the Township of Farmington.

The Ramthuns were recognized for their use of conservation farming methods which not only control soil erosion but also help develop wildlife habitat. Ken and Harold own approximately 350 acres between them, and rent another 650 acres beside which are cropped to feed their 100 plus head of dairy cows. Wildlife is benefitted in various ways on the land. One method is to leave naturally wild lands remain in their original state. A second way is the implementation of conservation practices directed specifically at wildlife, such as wildlife clump planting of white pines, and construction of a wildlife pond. Thirdly, through conservation farming methods such as contour strip-cropping, waterways and minimum tillage wildlife is again benefitted.

The Eisenmanns have carried out an extensive tree and shrub planting program since purchasing the land in 1964. Several thousands of trees and shrubs such as White Pine, Red Pine, Norway Spruce, White Spruce, White Cedar, Chokecherry, Crabapple, Butternut, Black Walnut, Autumn Olive, Ninebark and Highbush Cranberry have been planted. A food plot is planted to corn and left unharvested for wildlife to use in the winter. A wildlife pond was dug in 1967, which holds fish and offers waterfowl habitat. Ralph has also done timber stand improvement cuts on his 12 acre woodlot three times since 1964. Ralph reports that several species of wildlife have returned to his land since he began his habitat development work.

The award winners are also being submitted by the Washington County Soil and Water Conservation District as district wildlife habitat development winners to the Southeast Area Wisconsin Association of Conservation Districts for area level competition.

State laws relating to funeral processions will be emphasized as the "Law of the Month" for September.

The State Department of Transportation said funeral directors have expressed concern that the rights and responsibilities of a funeral procession are misunderstood and a driver's failure to obey the law could pose a safety hazard.

Captain Jack W. Jorgensen, Commanding District 2, of the Wisconsin State Patrol, said many motorists are apparently aware of laws granting right of way to funeral processions at intersections if certain requirements are met. Vehicles in the procession must have bright headlights lighted, and the lead vehicle must comply with all traffic control signals and stop signs. However, once the lead vehicle legally proceeds through the intersection, all vehicles in the procession may continue through without stopping, regardless of the signal.

The Department also noted that it is illegal to drive a car between vehicles in a funeral procession. "If a driver inadvertently finds himself or herself in a funeral procession, the courteous and safe thing to do would be to pull off the road and wait for the procession to pass after signaling his or her intention," Jorgensen said.

The lead vehicle in a funeral procession is permitted to have a flashing yellow light, he said. All vehicles, including those in funeral processions, are required to yield the right of way to emergency vehicles, or when directed to yield by a traffic officer.

Local law enforcement agencies are urged to join the law of the month program, which is an educational program emphasizing a timely law each month.

Cards to Be Issued

Washington County senior identification cards will be issued to residents of the West Bend area on Tuesday, September 25, 1979 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Washington County Senior Center, 410 East Washington Street, West Bend.

Persons must be 60 years of age or older to participate in this program. The applicant will have their picture taken for the ID card at this time. The cost is $1.00/card. This is NOT a discount program.

The following information is necessary for the completion of each card:

Applicants name, address, and telephone number; vital statistical height, weight, sex, hair and eye colors; birthdate; religion; Social Security number (optional); emergency contacts name, address and telephone number; and applicants physician and telephone number.

State Park Use By Residents Up

Heavy use of Wisconsin state parks by residents during July this year has boosted both day attendance and camping use for the first seven months ahead of last year's totals, according to DNR park officials.

Camper numbers through July of this year were 4 percent ahead of the first seven months of 1978, and recreation visitations to state parks exceed the 1978 totals for the first seven months by 2.5 percent.

"The hefty increase in both visitations and camping during July of this year (visitations up 8.2 percent and camping up 6.4 percent over July, 1978) were largely responsible for the increase in attendance so far this year," said Loren Thorson, chief of recreation programs in state parks.

As further evidence that July was an outstanding month for park use, Thorson noted that the sale of vehicle park stickers during the month exceeded the July 1978 totals by 7 percent.

Can It Safely

By Debi Streuli

U.W. Extension, West Bend

For great-grandmother, the boiling water-bath method of processing tomatoes was an acceptable and generally safe preservation method. Today though, newer tomato varieties which are lower in acid content require special attention in canning to prevent the formation of botulism, a microorganism which can be fatal when ingested.

The best and safest method of preserving the new, low-acid tomato varieties is to process them at 5 pounds of pressure for 10 minutes in a pressure canner.

To prepare tomatoes for packing, skin them by dipping them into boiling water for 20 to 40 seconds. Dip immediately into cold water to stop the heating action. Cut out the hard core and remove the stem scar. Peel off skins and green, yellow or white hard areas.

To hot pack tomatoes proceed as follows:

- *Cut peeled tomatoes in quarters
- *Put in pan, heat to boil and stir to prevent sticking
- *Pack boiling hot tomatoes and juice in a jar
- *Leave 1/2 inch head space in jar
- *Add seasoning: 1/2 teaspoon salt per pint or 1 teaspoon salt and sugar mixture per pint (2 parts sugar to 1 part salt)
- *Run knife along inside edges

- of jar to remove air bubbles
- *Pretreat lid as directed by manufacturers
- *Wipe rim, seal with lids
- *Put jar in pressure canner, ready to process
- *Process both pints and quarts 10 minutes at 5 pounds of pressure.

Start counting processing time as soon as the pressure reaches 5 pounds. Process tomatoes for the exact number of minutes stated in each recipe. If the pressure at any time drops below 5 pounds, bring pressure up to 5 pounds and begin timing again. Retime full time. Never cut processing time. Do not substitute or guess.

If you do not have a pressure canner and your budget does not stretch far enough to purchase one, you can use a water-bath canner if you add citric acid, vinegar or lemon juice to raise the acid level and reduce the chance of spoilage and protect against botulism.

You will need to add 1/16 teaspoon of citric acid per pint when cooking tomatoes (mix well). Citric acid (crystalline citric acid monohydrate) can be obtained at a pharmacy.

To use lemon juice, add 1 teaspoon per pint while cooking, mix well. Or, add 1 teaspoon of 5% acetic acid vinegar per pint. Next, place boiling hot tomatoes in jars, leaving 1/2 inch of head space and sealing jars, according to lid manufacturer's directions.

Before inserting jars in water-bath canner, have water in canner boiling vigorously. Add one jar at a time so water remains boiling. Start timing immediately. Keep water boiling and process hot pack tomatoes for 15 minutes for pints and quarts.

Cool jars upright on a rack. Do not cover jars with a cloth - this slows cooling. When cold, test seal. Lid tops should be depressed and jar lids will ring when struck with knife or spoon.

If your jars did not seal after cooling, you must re-process immediately. Check the jar mouth for nicks and use a new, properly pretreated lid. Process again for the required time.

Indians Show Reversal of Form, Crush North Fond du Lac, 38-0

After being blanked themselves, 32-0, by Campbellsport the week before, the Kewaskum Indians showed a complete reversal of form here Friday night when they rolled over North Fond du Lac, also of the Flyway Conference, by a one-sided 38-0 score.

The difference was in execution. This time out the Indians had it — the week before they lacked it, but they were up against a weaker and less aggressive defense. After being held to under 100 yards by the Cougars, Kewaskum rolled up just over 400 yards on the ground against the Orioles. They gained no yards passing but didn't need the pass as Rod Schultz and Mike Pettit ran around the defenders.

The two seniors combined for 293 yards rushing and four touchdowns. And Pettit, bothered by a sore back, was held out and didn't even carry the ball in the second half. His replacement, Brian Dreher, also scored two touchdowns.

The Indians didn't waste any time (after fumbling the kickoff and first punt the week before). On the third play of the game, the Indians' Randy Heberer intercepted a Rob Hinn pass on the Orioles' 41. On the second play Pettit ran right through center for the first score.

In the next series, speedster Schultz picked up three long gainers on pitchouts. Then it was Pettit again, who skirted 25 yards around the end for his second score to make it 14-0 at the end of the period.

About half way through the second period, Pettit added a third score before retiring from the game. This time it was another sweep on which he outran the defense down the side lines 26 yards for a TD. Before halftime, Bruce Keller grabbed a fumble on the 33 yard line and Pettit's replacement, Dreher, after carrying the ball several times, took it in from the seven. The half ended 26-0.

While all this was being accomplished by Kewaskum, North Fondy had trouble moving the football. They had just one first down in the opening half and didn't penetrate beyond the Indians 40 yard line.

The third quarter was scoreless but then the Indians went back to work in the final period by scoring 12 more points. One of these scores came on a 19-yard touchdown run by Schultz, who wound up with 181 yards rushing on 19 carries, had a 57-yard punt return, and played a solid game on offense and defense. Keller also had a number of solo tackles. Tony Kartos carried 14 times for 102 yards for the Orioles. N. Fondy lost Steve Behnke early in the game with a pulled hamstring.

The Indians will open their Scenic Moraine Conference schedule Saturday afternoon in a 1:30 p.m. game at Grafton. The Blackhawks are defending co-champions and are favored to repeat this year. Grafton is 2-0 thus far as the result of two easy victories, including a 28-0 win over West Bend East. In a prep poll of Milwaukee area teams conducted by the Milwaukee Sentinel this week, Grafton was rated fifth, Hartland 10th and Germantown 18th.

Area Racing News

By Ken Knoll

Thursday night was the final night of racing at Wisconsin International Raceway in Kaukauna. Tony Strupp was second in time, third in the fast dash and then was involved in a wreck in the feature placing him 13th. Willie Goeden was unable to compete due to engine problems in hot laps.

Saturday night Goeden took part in the "Dairyland 150" at Golden Sands Speedway in Plover, Wisconsin. He had his engine problems licked as he was 14th in time out of 60 cars. In his 50 lap feature he placed sixth. In the 100 lap feature he finished 17th, three laps down to the leaders after a shunt with another car forced him to lose a lot of ground. Goeden's performance was good enough to earn him "Rookie of the Year" honors in the Midwest Artgo Racing Association.

Sunday night was the final race of the year at Slinger Speedway. Tony Strupp wrapped up the season championship with a win in the 50 lap feature. He had earlier placed third in time, won the fast dash and won his heat. Willie Goeden ended up fifth in points. He placed fourth in the feature. Earlier he had claimed fifth in time.

Goeden Named Artgo 'Rookie of the Year'
