'Autumn Pathways' Home Tour

The Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club would like to invite all area residents to attend "Autumn Pathways," a tour of four beautiful homes in the Kewaskum area. The tour is Saturday, October 27, and begins at 11:00 a.m. at the Peace Church on First Street in Kewaskum.

The Al Hron home will feature many oil paintings created by Mrs. Hron's father, Hugo Bratz. Mr. Bratz painted as a young man and also after his 90th birthday. Mr. and Mrs. John Baitinger did all of the exterior stone work on their home as well as designing their fireplace. Mr. Baitinger is an art teacher at Kewaskum High School and has many of his works on display in his home. The John McElhatton family has remodeled and enlarged their home several times to meet the changing needs of their family. They purchased the home 25 years ago but parts of the structure are over 100 years old. The Richard Knoebel home is a 2 1/2-year-old senior executive model ranch style home.

Tickets for the tour of homes are $2.50 in advance and $3.00 at the door. The price of the ticket includes free dessert and coffee. Tickets are available at Miller's Furniture Store in Kewaskum, from any club member, by calling 626-8067 or 626-2434 and at the door the day of the tour. The tour continues from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., with a shuttle service available free of charge starting at the Peace Church.

For the craft minded, the Juniors will offer for sale decorated jute and jay-rope wreaths, owl note pad holders, painted plaster accent pieces and homemade ginger-bread men. These crafts will be demonstrated and sold at the various homes during the tour. The Junior Woman's Club cookbook, Kewaskum Kettles, will be available for purchase in the Peace Church basement.

Tour chairmen, Mrs. Jeanne Goeden and Mrs. Clare Lehmann, have guaranteed an interesting day for all in attendance. Set aside Saturday, October 27, and stroll down "Autumn Pathways." Enjoy the beautiful Kettle Moraine in autumn and the four homes the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club has chosen.

Plan Commission Agrees to Building Permit for Schaefer's

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

A special meeting of the Kewaskum Plan Commission was held on Tuesday, October 9. It was agreed to recommend to the Kewaskum Village Board that a conditional use permit be granted to Kathryn and William Schaefer who wish to do some filling near the Milwaukee River and construct a detached garage near their south property line. This matter has been discussed and debated for several months, since the property lies within the urban floodplain regulatory area and only a conditional use can be allowed.

Attorney Aldwin Seefeldt reported that after a personal visit to the Department of Natural Resources in Madison, he learned they would have no objection to the proposal as long as it is not within the usual floodway (below a 935-foot elevation) and not a residential structure which would require filling two feet above the floodway. Seefeldt also clarified the role of the Plan Commission in granting the conditional use permit, as twofold - to allow construction of the garage and to allow the Schaefer's to do some filling and construct a railroad tie-type retaining wall just east of the 935 foot elevation. This wall would turn east at the north property line and taper towards the street. The Schaefer's hope to retard some seepage into their basement as well as providing a base for their garage.

Zoning Administrator Richard Zarling went over Section 5.3 of the Village Zoning Ordinances point by point and indicated that: 1) the proposal would maintain "safe and healthful conditions;" 2) it did not interfere with the topography, drainage, or vegetation cover to any great extent; 3) the use was compatible with other uses on adjacent lots; 4) it presented no traffic problems; 5) it presented no parking problem - here Zarling's only further recommendation was creating a new driveway on the south for the garage and abandoning the north driveway; 6) there was adequacy of existing services. Commission Member Bob Kirst did mention that a utility pole on the south side may prove to be an expensive snag (if moved) for construction near the south property line.

In conclusion, Zarling stated "There's no reason why the Plan Commission shouldn't look favorably upon the request." He added that the conditional use permit is still subject to any restrictions possibly imposed by the DNR, although this is unlikely according to Seefeldt, and the granting of a zoning ordinance variance by the Board

Change in Time for Homecoming Parade

The time for the Kewaskum High School homecoming parade Friday, October 12, has been moved up one hour, from 6:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., it was announced this week by the school.

The homecoming game with Pewaukee will start at 7:30 p.m. Friday and the homecoming dance is scheduled from 8 to 12 Saturday night.

The homecoming king and queen will be announced at the end of the school day Friday.

The homecoming court was announced and pictured in last week's issue.

Firemen Urge Residents to Take First Aid, Life Support Classes

The Kewaskum Fire Department is scheduling night classes in "Basic First Aid and Basic Life Support."

The Basic First Aid Class is a 10-hour course. Items covered will be General First Aid to a victim of accident or illness such as bleeding, breathing difficulties, common fractures, burns, and how to survey a victim of accident or illness to find out the medical problem.

The Basic Life Support Class (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation) is a 12-hour course on what to do if someone stops breathing. Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation is a combination of heart massage to circulate the blood and blowing into the victim's mouth to ventilate oxygen to the victim's lungs and brain. Brain damage and death can occur if a non-breathing victim is not artificially resuscitated by someone else in three to five minutes.

The Fire Department feels that the village and surrounding area needs more residents to take part in these courses. They encourage the residents of Kewaskum and the surrounding area to get involved in these classes. Only 12 hours could save someone's life.

Practice sessions will be included in both classes. Cost of the class is $5.00 and will be held at the fire department or at the high school. A minimum of ten pupils is required for each class.

For more information or scheduling call Lieutenant Larry Williams (626-4669) or Captain Michael Fierke (626-4362). Instructors will be from the Moraine Park Technical Institute.

Howard Zemlicka

Darlene Hall

David Stradtman

Howard Zemlicka, of Stark Street, Kewaskum, David Stradtman of Meadow Lane, Kewaskum, and Darlene Hall of University Drive, West Bend, are among fifty instructors who have been nominated for Moraine Park Technical Institute's Outstanding Adult Educator Award. The MPTI award has been established for the first time this year to recognize the service and dedicated efforts of the part-time community service instructors. There are over 900 part-time instructors throughout the MPTI district.

Winners in the seven Vocational/Technical/Instructional divisions will be selected by a committee designated by Ron Hall, Administrator of Community Services. Their selection will be based on material collected from four sources: nomination forms from students, two letters of support for the nomination, center supervisor evaluation, and information related to the educational and professional background of each nominee.

Zemlicka has taught machine tooling, woodworking, small engines, auto mechanics, and snowmobile tuneup for the MPTI District for the past 12 years. He is also a teacher at the Kewaskum High School. He says of his years in adult education, "I find my involvement with adults one of the more rewarding experiences in education. The friends and acquaintances I have made through adult education are the best part of the job."

His supervisor in Kewaskum feels that his "enthusiasm and ability to motivate are characteristics that make Mr. Zemlicka a very successful teacher."

Stradtman's woodworking courses have been offered through the MPTI adult education center in Kewaskum for the past four years. Of adult education, he comments, "I enjoy bringing a hobby to adults. Woodworking and cabinetmaking offers them the opportunity to make something that they can take pride in. They treat my class like a weekly two-hour vacation — forgetting their everyday cares and working on something that is important to them."

His students comment on his patience and self-confidence in handling students who are not accustomed to the equipment and the skills needed for working with wood.

Teaching all phases of secretarial skills, shorthand, and typing for MPTI for 10 years, Hall has taught classes in Kewaskum and West Bend. She is a business education teacher at Slinger High School.

She has two reasons for teaching adults, "First, I feel that it is important for people to be given a chance to continue their education in either vocational or avocational courses in a location close to their homes. My second reason is that I enjoy teaching adults. They are usually highly motivated and eager to learn, and appreciative of my help, particularly in the areas of job preparation and placement."

Her students appreciate her efforts. "She patiently and enthusiastically displayed her ability to become aware of each individual's needs, giving clear and organized instruction to help those students fulfill those needs, thus allowing them to reach their goals."

The announcement of the final selection for the Adult Educator will take place at the community services fall in-service meeting on October 17 in Fond du Lac.

For Fire Safety

The more trash and excess storage you accumulate at your house the greater your chance of having a fire.

A lit match, lighted bulb, frayed wire or hot iron are just a few fire sources. Rubbish, wood shavings, gasoline spills and oily rags are just a few items which are easy to involve in a fire.

Don't give fire a place to start. Keep everyday refuse in covered containers away from heat exits and stairways. Have the heating equipment checked and serviced each year. Discard what you really don't need.

Tonsil and adenoid operations are "often performed in a ritualistic manner, largely in fulfillment of parental need," says Dr. R. P. Bolande of Case Western Reserve, School of Medicine. Such surgery should be sharply limited before age five, except for good causes, because the experience can be emotionally upsetting to youngsters, he states.

Seeing IS Believing

On the front of every Volcano is an inspection port with a swing away cover, through which the observer sees a sheet of bright orange & blue flame sweeping over and around wide, flat steel surfaces of hollow crossflow baffles. He sees the heart of the Volcano, and the significant difference that makes it the most sophisticated wood burner in the world.

This sheet of flame (gases burning in the secondary combustion chamber) superheats room-heating, fan-forced air ducted around the firebox and through the hollow baffles.

- 1 A precision controlled volume of combustion air is pre-treated and ducted evenly through the primary firebox.
- 2 Exhausted fresh air is introduced to the secondary firebox to create secondary burning.
- 3 Superheating of air occurs out the chimney.
- 4 Fan air near the firebox is fan-forced.
- 5 Through hot air jacket & hollow baffles and exhausted into room or into hot air system.

This intense secondary burn, observable and fascinating to watch on every Volcano, demonstrates Volcano's lead in woodfiring technology.

When hooked to forced air or hot water systems (hydronic models available), the Volcano literally provides all the heat a homeowner needs with measurably less wood consumption than even the most modern of competitor stoves. Inside, the Volcano is as new as tomorrow, with the outward appearance of the Quaker Box Stove of yesteryear.

Neumann, Hovland Are Appointed to ACCESS Citizens Advisory Committee

The Milwaukee Metropolitan Sewerage District (MMSD) has appointed Roger W. Neumann, and Maurice J. Hovland, Kewaskum, to the ACCESS Citizens' Advisory Committee.

The ACCESS (A Cooperative Citizens' Effort to Select Sites) Committee will advise the MMSD on its program to locate agricultural application, landfill and compost sites in southeastern Wisconsin (sludge). This MMSD program, called the Site Specific Analysis, will continue through the next two years.

"The land application of wastewater solids recycles a valuable agricultural nutrient," says Joel Wesselman, MMSD Executive Director. He continues by saying, "Members of the ACCESS Committee fulfill an important role in determining sites where these nutrients can be used."

Neumann and Hovland were two of 36 committee members selected from over 200 applicants from Washington, Ozaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Milwaukee, Walworth and Waukesha Counties.

In addition to advising the MMSD, ACCESS Committee members will be a source of information on site locations and selection methods for people in their communities.

Citizens interested in the siting effort are encouraged to attend upcoming ACCESS meetings, which are open to the public. The next meeting will cover the ways sites are located.

It will be held at 7:30 p.m. on October 24, at the Waukesha Exposition Center, N1 W24848 Northview Road, in the Oconomowoc Room.

COLORAMA ROUTES

Wisconsin is most colorful during September, October and early November. The rolling, tree-covered landscape bursts into flaming color during these months as a tapestry of red, russet, gold and orange spreads across the hills, around the bluer-than-ever lakes, and between the fields and pastures.

The Wisconsin Division of Tourism suggests several colorama tours, each offering fine roads, parks and vistas from which to view, photograph and enjoy this autumn splendor.

The Mississippi River, with its towering bluffs and wide river plains, makes a lovely colorama trip. Follow the Great River Road, Highway 35, as it hugs the valley edge between Prairie du Chien and Hager City. To the north is the Indian Head County, 19 counties speckled with blue lakes where the Chequamegon National Forest, the Flambeau River State Forest, Copper Falls State Park, and the lovely Apostle Islands spread their many-hued beauty before the traveler. And to the west don't miss Pattison State Park, nine miles south of Superior, with its 165-foot waterfall and hemlock, cedar, spruce and flaming maple.

Highways 8, 13, 27, 35, 53, 63 and 70 traverse this land that is scenic in any season and breathtaking in fall. To the east the lake and resort country of the Nicolet National Forest, Northern Highland and American Legion State Forests, with mile after mile of wilderness forest roads, beckon the motorist to explore and soak in photogenic scenes at every turn. Here again the contrast between green pines, golden aspens, blue water and the colorama rainbow is the pinnacle of loveliness. Broad avenues into this wonderland are found on Highways 45, 47, 51, 55 and 70.

Door County is one of the truly outstanding colorama countrysides. The broad, blue stretches of Lake Michigan and Green Bay frame one vista after another. Easily reached via Highways 42 and 57, Peninsula, Newport and Potawatomi State Parks are three of the best places to view this symphony in water and woods.

In the mid-state region is Rib Mountain State Park, near Wausau. A drive to the top provides views of golden and red-hued maples, and rewards the visitor with a panoramic view.

Southward again the rolling Kettle Moraine country is a colorama highlight best viewed from the well-marked Kettle Moraine Drive. Worthwhile stops include the high-viewing points of Holy Hill, south of Hartford, Parnell Tower, near Plymouth, and Lapham Peak, near Delafield. Kohler-Andrae State Park, south of Sheboygan, and Point Beach State Forest, north of Manitowoc, both on Lake Michigan offer a fine combination of evergreen, white birches, flaming hardwoods, white sand and blue water, as does High Cliff State Park on the northeast shore of Lake Winnebago.

The Baraboo Range and the Wisconsin River bluff country along Highways 60 and 78, clothed in colorama finery, are perhaps the outstanding fall color regions in south central Wisconsin. Other bright spots are Blue Mound, Wyalusing, Nelson Dewey and Governor Dodge State Parks, and the oak-clad hills around lovely Lake Geneva.

While viewing Wisconsin's fall colorama treat yourself to the fine quality food products available along our scenic routes. Wisconsin apples have a unique crisp, juicy quality and fresh Wisconsin honey is unbeatable. To these fine products add cranberries, squash, pumpkins and of course several kinds of our world famous Wisconsin cheese.

Take the opportunity to enjoy the Wisconsin countryside in its full fall glory. For more information on Wisconsin's colorama, and other interesting sites and activities, call the Wisconsin Division of Tourism toll-free.

4-H — An Opportunity For Parents

4-H is a youth organization that belongs to the family. It's an opportunity for parents to become involved with their son or daughter in an organized way.

4-H provides the literature and ideas for activities. Parents and children together plan what they want to do. They might be individual projects like wood-working, crafts, foods, clothing or raising crops or animals. It might be group activities where several families do things together, like a kite making and flying day, or family picnic or tour.

Yes, 4-H is for kids, but it's the whole family that gets involved.

Does your family have children third grade or older? Look into 4-H. Call a local 4-H club leader or the County 4-H office at the Court House Annex. 338-4478, 342-2929 or 644-5204.

of Appeals. The variance would request that there be a three foot setback from the lot line in the side yard as opposed to the usually required seven foot setback, and that the detached garage be allowed in the side-yard as opposed to the usually required rear yard. This variance is not a direct concern of the Plan Commission but will be considered at a public hearing held by the Board of Appeals on Tuesday, October 16. A public hearing on the conditional use permit will be held by the village board on Monday, October 15.

Hearing on Proposed Sale of Homes at Kettle Moraine Correctional Institution

State Representative Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton) has announced that a hearing will be held October 11 on the proposed sale of several homes at the Kettle Moraine Correctional Institution.

Hephner, who has been a long-time foe of the proposed sale, indicated that this hearing is a result of a compromise worked out recently with the State Building Commission. The Commission voted to seek further information and testimony on the issue and directed the Department of Health and Social Services to work with opponents of the sale on a possible compromise.

"I can't emphasize enough how important this issue is to the people who live in this area. They rightly should demand that the state do all it can to assure their safety and they should not be ignored," Hephner said.

The hearing will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Catholic church in Armstrong with representatives from the Department of Health and Social Services in attendance. Representatives will include Robert Ellsworth, and Darrell Kolb, Director and Deputy Director of the Bureau of Institutions in the Division of Corrections and Richard Hanson, Deputy Administrator in the Division of Business Management. In addition to these individuals, Ody Fish, a citizen member of the State Building Commission is also expected to be in attendance.

Hephner encouraged all interested residents living around the Kettle Moraine Institution to attend the hearing. "This is one very important chance for the people of the area to make sure that their voices are heard. This is an extremely important hearing since residents may not get another chance. I would hope that this hearing will convince department bureaucrats that this property should not be sold and that the issue will be settled once and for all," he said.

MODERN WOODMEN DINNER AT GLACIER INN

The regular monthly social event for the Modern Woodmen of America Camp 2233, Kewaskum, will be a dinner to be held at the Glacier Inn, Kewaskum, on Saturday, October 20 at 7:00 p.m.

There will be a $2.00 charge for adults and $1.00 for children ages 2 through 12. All members of the camp and their families are invited to attend.

If you plan to attend, reservations can be made by phoning 626-2438 or 533-8500 on or before October 15.

Need Volunteers As Big Brothers And Big Sisters

Big Brothers/Sisters of Washington County needs volunteers to befriend children for a few hours a week on a regular basis.

Volunteers enhance the self-esteem of the children and positively reinforce the image of the children who are experiencing a parent absent from their home.

Volunteers act as role models and build relationships, one-to-one with these young people (ages 6-17) as would a friendly Big Brother or Big Sister.

The attached chart shows the need by region, in Washington County.

Put Fire Safety First To Make Job Last

Keep your paycheck from literally "going up in smoke" by keeping on-the-job fire safety at peak performance level.

Every employee, as well as every owner, has a stake in protecting the workplace from fire. To help protect your job — and your income — the National Fire Protection Association suggests these important ways each person can prevent on-the-job fires:

1. Observe all "No Smoking" regulations. Be careful with cigarettes and matches in areas where smoking is permitted. Never dump hot ashes into a wastebasket or trash container that holds flammable materials.
 2. Make sure electric cords and connections are in good condition. Eliminate temporary wiring. Maintain electric motors properly.
 3. Maintain machinery in good condition. Avoid slipping drive belts and overheated bearings and motors.
 4. Use utmost caution with flammable liquids. Store them in approved safety containers, use them where vapors are safely removed by adequate ventilation, eliminate possible ignition sources, clean up spills without delay, and provide prompt and safe disposal of cloths contaminated with flammable or combustible liquids.
 5. Take special precautions when welding or cutting. Flying sparks and hot metal easily start fires.
 6. Observe safe storage practices. Never obstruct sprinklers or block fire doors.
 7. Learn when and how to use the fire extinguishers nearest your work area. It's important to choose the right extinguisher to do the job, depending on what type of material is on fire. Also know where and how to turn in the fire alarm.
- Stay "on your toes" at all times to avoid fire on the job at any time.

Five Refresher Courses Offered By UW-Extension

Teachers, engineers, small business owners, and real estate persons in Washington County have five refresher courses offered here and in other counties by University of Wisconsin-Extension beginning the week of October 15.

The courses are offered via the Extension's teleconference systems known as the Educational Telephone Network (ETN) and the Statewide Extension Education Network (SEEN). Both networks allow two-way communication among participants and instructors, but SEEN uses the telephone lines to also electronically transmit illustrations to projection screens at the 23 SEEN locations. Courses and times are listed below.

"Directing Drama, Debate and Forensic Programs," eight sessions throughout the year beginning October 16 at 4:30-6:20 p.m., gives tips from the Wisconsin High School Forensic Association.

For engineers, "Shallow Foundation Analysis and Design," 4:30-5:50 p.m., Tuesdays, October 16 - December 18 on SEEN; and "Residential Energy Audit Refresher," 1:30-2:50 p.m., Tuesdays, October 16 - November 6 on ETN.

"Preparation of Real Estate Forms," 6-7:50 p.m. Wednesdays, October 17 - November 21 via SEEN, satisfies the 10-hour state continuing education requirement for brokers and sales agents.

"Small Business Update," 8-9:50 p.m., October 18, is the first of four sessions to be held through March via ETN in every county. Each session features top national and state agencies representatives with news and tips for small business owners. The first session's main speaker is Paul Hassett, president, Wisconsin Association of Manufacturers and Commerce.

For course information, meeting location, or registration, contact the Washington County UW-Extension Office on the University Center Campus in West Bend, phone 414/338-1161. Preregistration is mandatory.

In the Service

Navy Electrician's Mate 3rd Class Glenn J. Herman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Herman, 9079 Townline Road, Kewaskum, recently returned from a deployment in the Western Pacific.

He is a crewmember aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Tarawa, homeported in San Diego. While deployed his ship operated as a unit of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

His ship is the first of its type to make a 7th Fleet deployment. During the six months he and his shipmates participated in five major amphibious operations, including the recent exercise "Fortress Gale" off the Okinawa coast. Port visits were made in Hawaii, Japan, the Philippines, Thailand, Korea, Singapore, and Hong Kong.

The Tarawa is 820 feet long and carries a crew of 800 officers and enlisted men. Primarily designed for amphibious operations, she has the capability of embarking, deploying and landing a fully-equipped Marine battalion landing team by helicopter, landing craft or a combination of both.

A 1975 graduate of Kewaskum High School, he joined the Navy in December 1975.

DENVER — Airman James R. Uelmen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Uelmen, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force weapons control systems course at Lowry Air Force Base, in Denver.

Graduates of the course earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Uelmen learned the maintenance and repair of aircraft weapon control systems.

He is being assigned to MacDill Air Force Base, Florida, for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

The airman is a 1975 graduate of Campbellsport High School.

Marine Cpl. David S. Decker, son of Merle R. and Suzanne C. Decker of Box 373, Kewaskum, has been promoted to his present rank while serving at Marine Corps Air Station, Beaufort, South Carolina.

Store Shelf-Stable Foods Properly,
County Extension Home Economist Warns

Even though foods may be shelf-stable, they can spoil or lose other qualities. With time vitamins and protein, color and flavor, thickening and leavening powers do deteriorate.

Store foods properly and plan to use them during their recommended shelf life. This will assure nutrition and taste; and you will not waste your money by throwing out unpalatable food.

Many shelf-stable foods as canned goods and processed dry mixes will keep for a year or more at room temperature.

Unprocessed foods as cereal, grains and nuts or processed foods as raisins, crackers and macaroni have a shorter shelf life but keep well from microbial attack because of low moisture content.

Read all labels of boxes and canned goods, making sure the product needs no refrigeration.

Store shelf-stable foods in cabinets located in the cooler areas of the kitchen. Keep such foods as dry beans and flours air tight in dark, dry places. Keep all foods away from poisonous household chemicals where mistaken identity can occur.

Never store food in cupboards under the sink — insects and rodents can more easily reach the food through cabinet openings. Store clear of water and heat pipes — rust and overheating can damage foods.

Check rusty cans for leakage. Rust may penetrate the can. If you pick up a can and it sticks to the cupboard, a weak seam may be forcing liquid out. Discard the can.

Poisons may form in leaking cans. Also, a bulging can is evidence of spoilage. Discard it. Use your eyes and nose to detect food changes. But never taste food that appears suspicious or you may poison yourself.

If you are storing food for several months in the cupboard, label each container with the purchase date.

A list of shelf life and handling guidelines is available from your County Extension Home Economist, P.O. Box 537, West Bend 53095. Please send in 15c with your name and address and request the leaflet entitled "Storing Food in Your Kitchen Cupboard."

for 1980.

Impala 4-Door Sedan

A lot of new technology has gone into Caprice and Impala for 1980 to keep them the best-selling full-size cars in America. Among its refinements:

- Newly standard 3.8 Liter V6 engine designed to increase mileage over last year.
- New aerodynamic shape to help reduce wind resistance.
- New anti-corrosion measures.
- New standard high-pressure steel-belted radial ply tires that roll easier than last year's tires, taking less effort from the engine.

Even though Caprice and Impala have been redesigned for '80, they still maintain six-passenger roominess and comfort. Chevrolets are equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. Ask a salesperson for details on this and on Chevrolet's new three-year limited warranty against perforation (rust-through) due to corrosion.

Five Refresher Courses Offered By UW-Extension

Teachers, engineers, small business owners, and real estate persons in Washington County have five refresher courses offered here and in other counties by University of Wisconsin-Extension beginning the week of October 15.

The courses are offered via the Extension's teleconference systems known as the Educational Telephone Network (ETN) and the Statewide Extension Education Network (SEEN). Both networks allow two-way communication among participants and instructors, but SEEN uses the telephone lines to also electronically transmit illustrations to projection screens at the 23 SEEN locations. Courses and times are listed below.

"Directing Drama, Debate and Forensic Programs," eight sessions throughout the year beginning October 16 at 4:30-6:20 p.m., gives tips on school activities and news from the Wisconsin High School Forensic Association.

For engineers, "Shallow Foundation Analysis and Design," 4:30-5:50 p.m., Tuesdays, October 16 - December 18 on SEEN; and "Residential Energy Audit Refresher," 1:30-2:50 p.m., Tuesdays, October 16 - November 6 on ETN.

"Preparation of Real Estate Forms," 6-7:50 p.m. Wednesdays, October 17 - November 21 via SEEN, satisfies the 10-hour state continuing education requirement for brokers and sales agents.

"Small Business Update," 8-9:50 p.m., October 18, is the first of four sessions to be held through March via ETN in every county. Each session features top national and state agencies representatives with news and tips for small business owners. The first session's main speaker is Paul Hasset, president, Wisconsin Association of Manufacturers and Commerce.

For course information, meeting location, or registration, contact the Washington County UW-Extension Office on the University Center Campus in West Bend, phone 414/338-1161. Preregistration is mandatory.

Store Shelf-Stable Foods Properly,
County Extension Home Economist Warns

Even though foods may be shelf-stable, they can spoil or lose other qualities. With time vitamins and protein, color and flavor, thickening and leavening powers do deteriorate.

Store foods properly and plan to use them during their recommended shelf life. This will assure nutrition and taste; and you will not waste your money by throwing out unpalatable food.

Many shelf-stable foods as canned goods and processed dry mixes will keep for a year or more at room temperature.

Unprocessed foods as cereal, grains and nuts or processed foods as raisins, crackers and macaroni have a shorter shelf life but keep well from microbial attack because of low moisture content.

Read all labels of boxes and canned goods, making sure the product needs no refrigeration.

Store shelf-stable foods in cabinets located in the cooler areas of the kitchen. Keep such foods as dry beans and flours air tight in dark, dry places. Keep all foods away from poisonous household chemicals where mistaken identity can occur.

Never store food in cupboards under the sink — insects and rodents can more easily reach the food through cabinet openings. Store clear of water and heat pipes — rust and overheating can damage foods.

Check rusty cans for leakage. Rust may penetrate the can. If you pick up a can and it sticks to the cupboard, a weak seam may be forcing liquid out. Discard the can.

Poisons may form in leaking cans. Also, a bulging can is evidence of spoilage. Discard it. Use your eyes and nose to detect food changes. But never taste food that appears suspicious or you may poison yourself.

ASCS Requests Acreage Reports

Postcards are being mailed to all Washington County farmers who do not have a 1979 acreage report filed, according to Donald E. Sampson, director of the ASCS (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services).

Participants in the Feed Grain/Wheat programs will not receive the return postcard as their acreage have been reported. We are asking the farmers to enter the total of each crop on the farm unit, sign, date, tear off the return portion and mail promptly.

The crop reports are used for future participation. With a zero set-aside for wheat and a small set-aside expected for corn, a large sign-up for 1980 is expected according to Mr. Sampson. Previous year acreage could affect the amount of a deficiency payment.

New Emphasis and Methods for 4-H in Coming Decade

Families, health and wellness, communities, and the environment, will be the major areas of Wisconsin 4-H involvement in the decade ahead, according to interim state 4-H program leader J. Mitchell Mackey of the University of Wisconsin-Extension.

"In the 1980's, 4-H will be providing opportunities for families to interact with each other and with their communities, and for youth to grow and stay well while learning about man's interdependency with nature," Mackey says.

The '80s will be a time of re-evaluation of 4-H events and activities to see if they benefit people or are perpetuated regardless of effectiveness. A project which focuses on identification of tree leaves might be expanded to emphasize the tree's overall importance to man and man's importance to trees, for example.

Demonstration projects provide another good example, Mackey says.

Demonstrations started out as a method for youth to come to a clearer understanding of what they were learning. "But at some time, someone started comparing one demonstrator with another, and contests were introduced. Then the emphasis passed to winning the demonstration contest rather than using demonstrations simply to aid learning," Mackey points out.

Mackey says 4-H has always tried to help youth respond to the cycles of change in society. Its programs have been successful because they too have been responsive to change, growing out of family and club concerns and not from those developed in state and national offices.

That's why today's 4-H is not only an organization of farm youth, but of urban youth as well. Its leaders are not only parents and farm professionals, but also people who may not have children themselves yet have interest and expertise in an area and want to pass what they know and love to others. More and more, 4-H will be appealing to retirees, the elderly and childless couples to take part.

There will also be a new emphasis on increasing understanding of food production, relating to animals and appreciating the environment among urban and suburban youth, as well as on helping rural people understand urban society.

The theme of Wisconsin 4-H in the '80s will be "People Growing Together."

AMPI District 7-D Meeting Held at Amerahn

Milk prices will plummet in 1980 if farmers continue producing at present rates, members of the nation's largest dairy co-op were warned here Tuesday.

At the annual meeting of District 7-D of the Mid-States Region of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., held at the Amerahn, Tuesday evening, October 2, Membership Director Robert Beck, Lodi, said in a mixed metaphor:

"We must not kill the goose that laid the golden egg. We cannot have increased production and an increase in price."

Stating that there's a limit to how much milk can be sold, Beck called over production the most important matter facing dairy farmers in 1980.

There was also a warning for consumers who think the price of milk is too high. Beck noted that since 1948, going out of business were 85% of the dairy plants selling fluid milk in metro areas.

In the East the drop was from 436 plants to 90, he said.

The reason is that retail milk prices relative to average wage levels have been declining for the past 12 years, according to Beck. As a result of a nine-week milk strike in New York City this spring, plant workers will receive $29,000 per year, while truck drivers will average approximately $35,000 including fringes.

"It took 11 minutes at average factory wages to earn enough to buy a half gallon of milk in 1967, compared to 8.6 minutes today," he said.

With average factory wages at $6.17 an hour last year, Beck noted that the real price of milk in terms of wages dropped 25 cents a half gallon between 1967 and 1978.

"Despite those numbers dairy co-ops and the U.S. Department of Agriculture are under attack for "unduly enhancing prices" through milk marketing orders.

"I say to you without the over order superpool premiums bargained for by AMPI, many dairy farmers would not be in business today and many consumers would be unable to purchase the milk they need and want for their children," he said.

Beck predicted that co-ops would assume greater marketing responsibility to assure consumers of continued supplies of milk to drink.

County Members

Participate in

State 4-H Horse Show

Washington County 4-H'ers were among the 500 horse and pony project members who competed for honors at the state 4-H horse show at the Dane County Fairgrounds in Madison.

The competitors exhibited skills in showmanship and performance classes and a horsemen's display, according to Ray Antoniewicz, University of Wisconsin Extension Horse Specialist. A judging contest gave the 4-H'ers a chance to judge the classes and to compare their judgment with the official horse show judgment placings.

Tena Henrickson of Slinger placed as reserved champion in the western showmanship for members age 16. Lynn Kurtz of Colgate was reserved champion in the hunt seat equitation for the 12-14 age class. Members who placed in the top 10 in their class included Tina Schneider of West Bend, Jenny Schumann, West Bend, Shannon Wink, Slinger, Randy Hoffmann, Jackson, Kerry Brackett, Hartford, and Maggie McQuestion, Hartford.

Melanie Orth and Randy Beisenstein of Hartford and Renee Feyrer of Kewaskum had a high score in the judging contest.

Other members that participated were Lori Marker of Hartford, Donna Laun, West Bend, Melissa Wick, Hartford, Sue Martin, Hartford, and Caren Paff, Hubertus.

The Washington County group placed 4th in the barn award.

Neil Beisenstein of Hartford is the county 4-H Horse Project Coordinator. Jack Tonsor of Slinger is the Chairman of the County 4-H Saddle Club.

Board to Consider

Revised Budget, Levy

The regular meeting of the Kewaskum Board of Education will be held on Monday, October 15, 1979, at 8 p.m. in the district administrative offices.

Consideration and approval of a revised budget and levy for 1979-80 will be the major item on the agenda. The revised levy will show a decrease of over $100,000 from the tax levy anticipated at the July Annual Meeting. Finalization of the state budget and a higher-than-expected enrollment are the two major reasons for the sharp decrease in the levy.

Other agenda items will include consideration of a Federal proposal for a career education program, changes to the athletic code, action on a leave request, transfer of activity account money, appointment of a WASB convention delegate, two leave requests, payroll and vouchers payable and consideration of cancelling the second October meeting. Miscellaneous items which arise will also be considered.

KEWASKUM TOWN BOARD TO HAVE BUSY AGENDA

The Kewaskum Town Board will meet Wednesday, October 17, 1979 at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Garage, 9340 Hwy. 45, Kewaskum.

Agenda items include discussion of new landfill ordinance; set charges for plowing private driveways; hiring snowplow drivers; stop sign and speed zone ordinance approval; initial work on setting up planning commission; landfill rental bids opened and payment of bills.

October 'Law of the Month' to Emphasize Winter Driving Preparations

With the approach of winter driving conditions, the State Department of Transportation will emphasize the importance of winter maintenance and safety checks, and adjusting winter driving habits for ice and snow.

In the "Law of the Month" for October, William A. Harvey, Administrator of the Division of Enforcement and Inspection, said several deaths are reported each year from carbon monoxide poisoning from defective exhaust systems. The danger is especially acute in early winter when drivers begin keeping windows closed, thus trapping any leaking exhaust gases inside the vehicle, Harvey said.

Winter maintenance and safety checks should include tires and brakes as well as adding anti-freeze to the radiator to protect the engine from cold weather.

Captain W. Jorgensen, Commanding District 2, of the Wisconsin State Patrol, reminded winter travelers that it's time to adjust driving habits to compensate for bad driving conditions.

Under Wisconsin law, Jorgensen noted, vehicles must be driven at a speed that is reasonable and prudent under the existing conditions...even though posted limits may be higher.

Jorgensen said 6,316 drivers were convicted of speeding "too fast for conditions" in 1978, each paying a forfeiture of $73, including court costs and penalty assessment, in addition to four demerit points on their driving records.

He said icy bridge decks, a phenomenon in early morning and evening hours when days are warm and nights cold, patches of wet, slippery leaves on the highway, and earlier arrival of dusk are just a few of the special driving conditions that merit extra caution for travelers in October.

Local law enforcement agencies are urged to join the Law of the Month campaign, which selects a timely law for emphasis each month.

Sanfilippo Intends To Run in 53rd Assembly District

Washington County Clerk of Circuit Court Jon W. Sanfilippo says he intends to run for the 53rd State Assembly seat held by James Lewis "in the event the office should become vacant."

Sanfilippo stated: "It is not appropriate for me to announce my candidacy at this time. I am a member of the Republican Party and the party has its representative in the assembly district now. Because there is a legal representative from the 53rd Assembly District, the governor has not called a special election at this time."

Lewis of West Bend, recently entered a guilty plea of perjury before the grand jury and is now awaiting sentencing in Federal Court.

Sanfilippo, also a member of the West Bend Board of Education, admitted however, that he has already made "contingency plans for my candidacy."

"I do believe this is going to be a heavily-contested race in both the primary and general elections," Sanfilippo commented.

The number of 4-H volunteer leaders—adults, juniors and teens—has tripled in the past 20 years to 579,624.

Diane Bliss Announces Candidacy for 53rd Assembly District Seat

Diane L. Bliss, of West Bend announced last week she will seek the 53rd Assembly District Seat in the next election, now held by James R. Lewis, also of West Bend, who will lose his seat.

Bliss, a member of the Republican party, filed her candidate registration statement later last week.

An end to Wisconsin's burdensome capital gains taxation system and a halt to increasing governmental regulation are cited by her as two of her primary concerns, as well as continued efforts to open government for public review.

Bliss, currently Executive Vice-President of the West Bend Area Chamber of Commerce, emphasizes her experience in representing local business and community concerns to all levels of government as one of her many qualifications. She added that her degree in Political Science from Marquette University has given her the working knowledge of the political system. She also believes that through her work with business, agriculture, and the consumer, she has gained a practical understanding of district problems.

Bliss has been encouraged by the support given her by various community representatives. A committee is being formed on her behalf.

The 53rd district consists of parts of Washington, Dodge and Fond du Lac counties, including the cities of Mayville, Waupun and West Bend.

More Savings Incentives Needed

We are seeing plenty of evidence these days that most Americans find little or no reason to save their money. Unfortunately, the impact of that trend is complex and negative.

Those who can only afford to save small amounts are caught in a pinch. Inflation is now running at over 13%, but the interest they earn on their savings account falls far short of that level. Passbook accounts typically earn 5.5%, while savings certificates and special accounts draw no more than 8%, and that only if the money is deposited for long periods of time. In addition, small savers can't afford other types of investments which might get a better return.

What is worse is the fact that interest earnings on savings accounts are subject to federal income taxes. Taxing those returns further reduces earnings on saved dollars and widens the gap between them and inflation. With those taxes goes even more incentive to save.

How bad is it? Figures show that only 4.5% of disposable family income is saved and installment debt has reached an all-time high of 18% of personal income. Also, the federal government reports that savings withdrawals are now running at all-time record rates. People are tapping their nest eggs--intended for college education for their children, down payments on homes, retirements, etc.--for day-to-day living expenses. It seems the only hedge on inflation people have these days is to spend their money before it becomes worth less.

The impact of this trend is serious. Savers are losing the battle against inflation, and sacrificing their dreams at the same time. Also, the less people save the less reserves our financial institutions have to lend to others for businesses, homes and other purposes that benefit the economy as a whole.

To reverse that trend and restore incentives for people to save money, I have cosponsored H.R. 1429 to exempt the first $100 ($200 on joint returns) of interest earned on savings from the federal income tax. This will help small savers and those hurt hardest by inflation -- low- and middle-income families and the elderly. This financial relief for the consumer will also have the side benefit of increasing personal savings up to $3 billion nationwide, a boost to the economy.

It's time we allow a better return on our money, and H.R. 1429 will do just that.

"Do you wish people to think well of you? Don't speak well of yourself."

The U.S. Treasury Department may try to force public acceptance of the controversial new $1 coin by slowly withdrawing all paper $1 bills from circulation, Ninth District Congressman Jim Sensenbrenner (R-Shorewood) revealed today.

"That is nothing more than a back-door attempt to jam the Susan B. Anthony dollars down our throats," the GOP lawmaker said.

Sensenbrenner joined with 95 other Congressmen in asking Treasury Secretary G. William Miller to not withdraw all $1 bills from use, as a Treasury Department report suggests.

Sensenbrenner said there have been many reports of blind and poorly-sighted elderly persons being victimized by the confusion over the new $1 coin, which is very similar in size and weight to the quarter. Vending machines cannot accept them unless costly conversions are made, he added.

"These problems must be worked out one way or another. But until then the $1 bills we rely on should be kept in circulation, not phased out just to force us to accept the coin, unsolved problems and all," Sensenbrenner said.

Reports on public acceptance and actual problems with the coins have varied widely, so Sensenbrenner encourages Ninth District residents to communicate their comments and experiences with the new dollar to him at his Washington office -- 315 Cannon Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Hephner Blasts DNR on Monday Opening For Duck and Goose Hunting Season

State Representative Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton) Friday blasted the DNR's decision that set Monday as opening date for the current duck and goose hunting season as "a failure to recognize the average sportsman's contributions to the Department."

According to Hephner, the only people who had a chance to enjoy this year's opening date for duck hunting "were doctors, lawyers, and a small handful of others who didn't have to work on Monday."

"Every hunter knows that the first day of the season is the most important for bagging a duck or goose," Hephner remarked. "By the time the average guy got a chance to go duck or goose hunting last weekend, ducks and geese were very wary and scarce to find after having 4 1/2 days of hunting."

"Whatever happened to giving the average sportsman a chance to enjoy the opening day for duck hunting," Hephner questioned. "He's the person who has been the primary contributor to the Department's programs through the purchase of hunting and fishing licenses."

Calling the decision to set an opening hunting date on a Monday "as arbitrary and capricious," the Chilton lawmaker said he wondered "whether the DNR was going to continue this practice." "I am disturbed with the practice and if the DNR Board does it next year, I will ask the legislature's appropriate committee to take the appropriate action to suspend the dates they select," Hephner stated.

The first part of the duck and goose hunting season began at noon on Monday, October 1, and ran through October 7. The second part of the season begins on October 13 and goes to December 9.

The opening of the ruffed grouse season was slow in most areas, not because of a lack of birds, but because of poor visibility resulting from the heavy foliage. The waterfowl opening ranged from fair to good around the state. And, fall color has peaked or should peak in most northern counties this weekend though in some areas the leaves are now falling. In the southern counties, it's generally a week to a week and a half away from peaking.

In the southeastern counties, fall colors are developing rapidly with good color noted at this time in the Holy Hill area in Washington County. Colors should remain good for about two weeks. The waterfowl opening was poor to fair in the southeast with few migrants having arrived as yet. Inland fishing is good for game and panfish, and Sheboygan breakwater anglers had good success in Lake Michigan for rainbows, browns and brookies.

Winnebago County — Wall-eye fishing on Lake Winnebago is good. Nice catches are being taken on Lakes Butte des Morts and Poygan using nightcrawlers while drifting. White bass are hitting on the Fox River.

Southeast District

There is good fall color at this time in both the northern and southern units of the Kettle Moraine State Forest. Colors should be good for about two weeks unless we have high winds or heavy rains.

Duck hunting pressure was light on opening day and hunting success was only poor to fair. There are still a number of local ducks around and the weather change should bring in some migrants from the north.

Fishing continues good for both panfish and game fish on all inland waters of the district. However, fishing pressure is light. Anglers are reminded that snagging trout and salmon is prohibited in the Kenosha Harbor and the Root River in Racine County.

There was good fishing for rainbows, browns and brookies in Lake Michigan off the Sheboygan breakwaters this past week. Spawn sacks, Mr. Champs and smelt were putting the fish on the stringer.

Kewaskum Hosts Golf Sectional; Fond du Lac First, Goes to State

Fond du Lac will defend its state girls golf title Friday and Saturday, October 12-13, at Lawsonia Links.

The Cardinals earned the right to play in the state meet for the eighth straight year by winning the Kewaskum Sectional at Hon-E-Kor course Thursday with an excellent 373 score, two strokes ahead of runnerup Port Washington (375), Braveland Conference Champ Homestead was a distant third with 401, Sheboygan North next with 410, West Bend West 434, West Bend East 443, Kewaskum 450, Sheboygan South 460, Mayville 491, and Horicon 555.

Fondy, this year's Fox River Valley champs, was led by senior Barb Casper, who won medalist honors with a 40-38-78 on the par 72 course. Port Washington's Lisa Kartheiser took second with a 40-40-80 and was the only individual qualifier for the state meet. Fond du Lac's junior Cathy Witte was third with a 44-43-87.

The Cardinals won the state meet last year in a sudden-death playoff with Appleton West. The teams were tied after regulation play with 718 totals. Casper was eighth individually last year with a 36-hole total of 177. She and Witte are the only two returning members of that team.

Kewaskum, which placed seventh with 450, was led by Bobbi Schmidt, who ended her career with a 98, sixth overall in the meet. Debbie Schlice, a first year player, had 114, Pam Perkins 118 and freshman Cheryl Jaeger 120.

Indian coach Joe Harlow felt his team finished just about where he thought they would.

The Indians were led in scoring by Diane Bremser, while Janet Matenaer and Mirjam Sibbel were the top spikers. Sue Kleinke also played well.

The JVs won their first game and then lost the next two and the freshmen lost their first match of the year.

The loss brought the varsity's record to 1-3 in the conference and 3-3 overall.

KHS Girls 1st in Tough Blackhawk, Second in Slinger Invitational

Saturday was a very successful day for the Kewaskum High cross country runners as they won the Blackhawk Invitational title at Grafton. The Indian girls, with three of their runners in the top ten, edged Wisconsin Lutheran for their second straight Blackhawk title.

Other schools in the tough meet included Manitowoc Roncalli, Menomonee Falls North, Shorewood, Kettle Moraine and Grafton.

A mixup almost lost it for the Indian girls. Three runners went the wrong way on the course and had to run an extra 400 yards to get back on track. Barb and Laurie Wilson and Linda Larsen all went the wrong way. Lutheran thus came in with first, second, fourth and seventh places. But their No. 5 runner came in 42nd and this saved Kewaskum.

Julann Zemlicka led the Indians in third, Barb Wilson was fifth, Laurie tenth, Larsen 12th and Vicki Reif 22nd.

Indians Lose Another Close One at Hartland

Kewaskum lost another close one at Hartland's homecoming Friday night, 28-22. The strong Warhawks (3-1) took a 16-0 lead in the first half and went ahead 22-0 with a score on the first play of the second half but the Indians fought back with 22 points in the last half to narrow the final gap to 6 points.

Kewaskum's three losses thus far were by a total of just 17 points — 7-3 to Grafton, 7-0 to Kettle Moraine and 28-22 to Hartland. In between they sandwiched a 21-7 victory over Slinger.

Again the Indians had the better of it in the statistics, garnering 12 first downs to the Warhawks' 11 and led in total yards, 299 to 288 but Hartland had the most points on the scoreboard.

Indian halfback Rod Schultz was the leading ground gainer in the game as he kicked up a storm with 158 yards in 16 carries. Mike Pettit also ran well as usual with 91 yards in 13 carries. Schultz's yards included an 80-yard touchdown run.

Junior fullback John Hackbart carried 16 times for 140 yards and scored three touchdowns to lead Hartland. Hackbart scored on runs of 4, 50 and 14 yards. Mark Miller, who had the Warhawks' main threat in previous contests, also ran well.

The Indians had their backs to the wall most of the first period. They took the opening kickoff and were forced to punt after getting only to the 19. Hartland drove to the 10 after Pettit's short punt only reached the 39 but Tom Kern's recovery of a Hawk fumble ended the threat. The Indians were forced to punt again and a nifty run by Eric Uebersohn set up the first score.

On the first play of Kewaskum's third series, John Kaiser intercepted a Joel Herriges pass and returned it to the Indians' 35. Hartland fumbled and couldn't score but later they put together a 69-yard drive and Miller took it in from the six.

After Uebersohn's run to midfield to open the second half, Hackbart's 50-yard scamper for a score made it appear like a rout. But shortly after the Indians' Schultz came back with a big 80-yard run of his own. He broke tackles, turned on the speed and ran beautifully down the sideline for a score.

Hartland scored once again in the third quarter on a 53-yard drive and then the Indians made their move for two more scores in the final period. The first was on a one-yard run by Pettit to top a 70-yard drive. The final TD came with 36 seconds left on a flea-flicker double reverse pass play which found Scott Brendemihl alone in the end zone. But it was too late to catch the Warhawks.

This Friday night (7:30) the Indians entertain Pewaukee in their homecoming game. Both the Pirates and Indians are 1-3 and the winner will move up in the standings.

JVs Lose in 4 Overtimes

Hosting Hartland Thursday night the Kewaskum JVs made history by battling through four overtimes before the Warhawks finally won, 12-6.

The young Indians stopped Hartland three times in the first half on the one, three and four yard lines and the half ended 0-0. In the third quarter the Warhawks finally scored on a pass. Kewaskum got its lone touchdown in the third quarter on a 15 yard run by Dave Donath with an intercepted pass. Brian Larsen barely missed a 30 yard field goal in the final quarter that would have won the game for the Indians.

Kewaskum could not score in the overtime series although they got the ball first in each overtime. Hartland's try in the fourth overtime finally was successful when they scored on three running plays after an Indian penalty. Kewaskum is now 2-2.

The freshmen lost quite badly at Hartland, 32-8. The Indian frosh scored their first touchdown of the season in the final period on a short run by Todd Kircher. Sean Walsh ran for the two point conversion. Offensive mistakes hurt the Indians.

The Kewaskum frosh didn't get home until after midnight because of a leg injury to a player, which resulted in a several hour delay at the Oconomowoc hospital.
