School Board Mulls Possibility Of Increasing Student Fees

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

On Monday night, January 14, the Kewaskum School Board discussed the possibility of increasing student fees.

Board President, John Tessar, said there was "...no question...that a number of these fees have to be increased." There was no official decision on the matter.

Tessar also enjoined Business Manager Bob Borch to meet with school principals to determine what the actual costs per student might be.

Borch had compiled a comparison sheet of current fees and suggested fees, as a means of generating discussion. He also included fees that the Watertown, Hartford, Slinger, Waupun, West Bend and Cedarburg districts were charging last spring.

Totally new fees that may be considered are $3.00 per semester for high school art, $4.00 per semester for home economics, and $5.00 per year for student parking at the high school.

Another proposal is that an instructional materials fee be charged at all levels: $2.00 per year for kindergarten; $4.00 per year for grades 1-6; $9.00 per year for middle school students; and $12.00 per year for high school students. Instructional materials are those consumable items that a "user" could be charged for - textbooks, workbooks, newspapers, "ditto" copies that are run off, and paper in general.

Board member Jerry Secor was personally opposed to charging for instructional materials, claiming it may jeopardize the concept of a "free public education."

Another concern about fees in general was that they may place a burden on larger families.

Another issue was the cost of drivers' education. Most board members felt the proposed fee of $8.00 for behind-the-wheel training was too low. Presently there is a $5.00 fee.

Tessar and some other board members wished to know the exact cost per student for the drivers' ed. program. High School Principal Clark Pearson did mention that there was a $500 per car annual insurance premium. $40 is received from the state for each student, but the cost would probably be $65 to $80 per student annually.

A student parking fee of 50c had been charged last year, but the principals found it created more problems than it solved. Superintendent of Schools, Floyd Brenholt, noted there was a bill before the legislature making it mandatory to charge student parking fees.

A comparison of present and suggested fees shows:

Kindergarten fees may increase from $5.00 to $7.00 per semester due to milk costs. There would also be the $2.00 instructional materials fee.

Grades 1-6 have no present fees, but may require a $4.00 instructional materials fee.

Middle School students might pay a $9.00 instructional materials fee along with the present $5.00 book deposit. A towel fee of $3.00 and a newspaper fee of $1.00 may remain unchanged.

High School students might pay a $12.00 instructional materials fee. The towel fee of $3.00, the newspaper fee of $1.00, and the activities ticket fee of $5.00 might remain the same. A graphic arts fee may be increased from $4.00 to $5.00.

On a divided vote, the school board approved four days of leave following spring vacation for a high school teacher. The teacher's spouse, who is employed in a different school district, has a slightly different spring vacation time.

Two board members were opposed to the idea, insisting that the time had come to say "no" to such leaves. Board member Charles Ogi felt that the necessary substitution of teachers would deny the students of four days of consistent education.

The other board members felt that since seven to eight teachers in the past had been granted leaves under similar circumstances, denial could not be justified.

Most board members also thought that a definite written policy should be established so that decisions would not have to be made in each individual case. Secor did not like the idea of having to say that a person could never take a leave under similar but more extenuating circumstances.

The final vote was 4 to 2 in favor of the leave.

Farmers Urged To Attend Pesticide Hearings

The Wisconsin Vegetable Growers Association meeting in Wautoma Monday evening was told by Russ Weisensel, Executive Director of the Wisconsin Agri-Business Council that all involved in agriculture should make their feelings known regarding the proposed pesticide rule changes. These regulations will be the subject of 10 days of public hearings at 8 locations throughout the State of Wisconsin in January and February. He noted that some of the rule changes, aimed primarily at aerial application, would practically eliminate aerial application in Wisconsin and lay the foundation for the same kinds of unreasonable restrictions for all methods of pesticide applications in the future.

Weisensel, who with his family operates a corn and beef farm at Sun Prairie, Wisconsin, stated that five petitions were filed with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection by Wisconsin's Public Intervenor on behalf of 20 Wisconsin citizens representing themselves and activist groups who are concerned about pesticide application and aerial application of pesticides in particular.

Some of the rule changes proposed include: no application when winds exceed five miles per hour; no application of pesticides within 1,000 feet of buildings; buffer zones around fields in which application of pesticides are to be made; and 48 hours advance notice of pesticide applications. Those to be notified include adjacent property owners, residents in the area and "others who have a valid interest in being informed."

The Sun Prairie farmer noted that Wisconsin's vegetable crops need aerial application of pesticides on a regular basis and that some aerial application may be necessary during the lifetime of a forest crop. "However," he continued, "all phases of Wisconsin agriculture may have the need for aerial application at some time or another. Emergency needs for this type of application could result because of infestation by insects such as the alfalfa weevil, army worm, or corn borer, or fungus disease such as corn leaf blight." When these kind of insect or disease epidemics hit a crop it is not possible to apply the needed controls with only ground application, Weisensel noted.

"Those of us directly involved in production agriculture," Weisensel continued, "have a moral obligation to provide food for people who can't grow their own, we also, therefore, have an obligation to let our state legislators and rule makers know that we cannot provide this food without modern agricultural tools which include pesticides and all methods for the safe application of pesticides."

The public hearings will be held at the following locations on the following dates:

As of a recent date the building committee and school board of Joint District No. 2 of the Kewaskum and Community High School District, has engaged the firm of Raymond N. Le Vee & Associates of Appleton as architects for the proposed new high school building. The board and building committee will narrow down their choice of sites to three and will call a general meeting of all electors within sixty days to determine the exact site and cost of same.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club celebrated the 40th anniversary of the beginning of Kiwanis. New officers were installed namely Ralph Marx as treasurer, Walt Bade, secretary, Lem Rosenheimer, vice president, and "Pat" Miller, president.

Among the graduates of the Milwaukee Hospital School of Nursing, Milwaukee, is Irene Kaniess, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Gerhard Kaniess, Kewaskum.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albion Lehnerz, Route 2, Kewaskum, on January 18.

50 Years Ago

January 18, 1930

Charles Weddig, well known mason contractor, residing about a mile and a half south of Kewaskum, had the misfortune of being struck by a truck near the Louis Klein home on Highway 55 on January 10. He sustained a cut on his head which required several stitches to close the wound.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kirchner of Kewaskum are rejoicing over the arrival of a nine pound baby girl born on January 15. A baby girl was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Haack of the Town of Scott on January 5.

Death called to her final reward another one of Kewaskum's prominent and well known citizens, namely: Mrs. Louis D. Guth (nee Aullenbacher) who passed away on January 11. Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn four daughters: Lorinda (Mrs. John F. Schaefer) and Edna (Mrs. Elwyn Romaine) of Kewaskum; Elsie (Mrs. Harvey Brandt) of Watertown and Lydia (Mrs. Herbert Holtz) of Milwaukee.

Three more wolves were killed last Sunday in the large swamp south of Rockfield.

A preliminary game of more than passing interest was played between the Kewaskum Grammar grades and West Bend grades. The game was close during the first half, but in the second half our "Graders" struck their stride and rolled the score up to Kewaskum 19, West Bend 9. Those playing on the Kewaskum grade team were: Leander Honeck, center; Otto Stenschke and Billy Schaefer, forwards; Bobby Rosenheimer, Johnny Schlosser at guards.

spoon of whiskey. When it begins to boil pour it back and forth from one saucepan to another until smooth and frothy; allow it to cool, then take a teaspoonful every half hour.

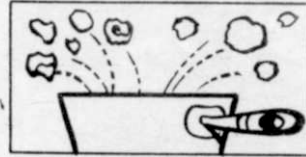

An exchange says: "Town killers are classified in separate bunches as follows: First, those who go out of town to do their shopping; second, those who want a quiet town instead of one of push and business; third, those who imagine they own the town; fourth, those who deprive public spirited men; fifth, those who oppose everything that does not originate within themselves; sixth, those who seek to injure the credit or reputation of an individual. But why omit the merchant who refuses to advertise and sends out of town for his job printing? Why not class him?"

The village fire department held their annual joint meeting last week and elected all the old officers. They also placed an order with the Waterous Engine Company of Minneapolis for a new hose cart, a completed hook and ladder truck and 500 feet of hose.

High Blood Pressure Affects Many Adults

An estimated 23 million Americans — 20 per cent of the adult population — have high blood pressure. Only about half of these individuals know they have high blood pressure, and only a minority of those who do know are being treated effectively.

Why do so many of us ignore this serious health hazard? Everyone knows that high blood pressure is bad for our health. Why don't we have blood pressure checked regularly? Why don't we begin treatment when the blood pressure is too high?

Because high blood pressure is a silent disease. Unless you have seen a doctor, you don't know you have it. And, even after you find out, it doesn't hurt. So why bother?

High blood pressure is one of the great killers. It can shorten your life by contributing to failure of your heart, arteries, kidneys and brain, the American Medical Association declares.

A nationwide screening effort has been underway for several years in America to locate those persons with high blood pressure and get them started on treatment. High blood pressure can be controlled. And the result is a greatly lowered risk of serious disease and death.

Don't panic about your blood pressure, but protect your health and your life by keeping in mind five facts —

1. High blood pressure is a silent disease; it almost never has symptoms and a person does not feel sick.

2. It is a major cause of stroke, heart failure and kidney failure, but these disorders often can be prevented with control of high blood pressure.

3. It can be controlled by taking medications prescribed by your physician and by following his advice about life style.

4. High blood pressure medication should be taken every day, even if the patient feels well.

5. All adults, every one of us, should have blood pressure checked regularly.

It cannot be overemphasized that high blood pressure will not be cured, it will only be controlled. Thus it is vital to continue the therapy prescribed by the physician even after the blood pressure level has been lowered sufficiently. Abandon treatment and the pressure climbs again.

West Bend Savings Expands Mortgage Lending

Washington County's largest financial institution and home lender announced today an expanded mortgage lending program which will provide adequate funding for the foreseeable mortgage loan needs of West Bend and Washington County over the next three months.

West Bend Savings president, Richard A. Larson, indicated in making the announcement that congressional action taken in late December, waiving the Wisconsin maximum interest ceiling from January 1, 1980, to March 31, 1980, was the primary factor affecting this increased availability of loan funds.

According to Larson, West Bend Savings, like most other financial institutions, was experiencing a strong inflow of savings dollars being deposited into the higher rate certificates recently authorized by the government. Lenders could not economically afford to loan these high rate funds when the mortgage loan rate ceiling was limited to 12% by the state's interest rate law. With the temporary removal of the 12% ceiling, millions of dollars of additional funds automatically became available for mortgage lending. Larson said that, effective immediately, the association would begin accepting loan applications and approve loans for purchasing residential one-to-four family property in its market area.

Daniel V. Filzen, vice president - mortgage loans, said that under the new program the association would emphasize a three year roll-over mortgage which would give the borrower great flexibility without being tied to a high rate long term loan. When rates decrease, the borrower could then obtain the new, lower rate or refinance their loan without a penalty.

Filzen also indicated that the association would again underwrite construction loans for both buyers of a home being built for them and for builders building homes on speculation. Under the new program, rates have increased from one-quarter to three-quarters of one percent, but the availability of money will again permit any qualified borrower to obtain home financing.

Fetal Alcohol Syndrome: A Preventable Problem

The National Foundation of the March of Dimes estimates that there are more than one million alcoholic women of childbearing age. And the number is growing - particularly among adolescents.

Because of the potential magnitude of this problem, Governor Lee Dreyfus has proclaimed January as Fetal Alcohol Syndrome Awareness Month in Wisconsin.

Fetal Alcohol Syndrome is a name researchers have given to infants born with a pattern of physical and mental defects to women who drink excessively while pregnant.

Symptoms of FAS may include a lowered birth weight, slowed growth after birth, a small head, facial irregularities, heart defects, and mental retardation. Behavioral symptoms such as hyperactivity, extreme nervousness and short attention spans are also common. Not every FAS baby has all the defects, but there is a relationship between the severity of the physical characteristics and degree of mental impairment.

Why is alcohol so harmful to an unborn baby? Medical researchers used to believe that the placenta provided a protective barrier for the fetus against harmful substances like alcohol and other drugs. We now know that when a pregnant woman drinks, the alcohol travels across the placenta and through the baby's blood stream in the same concentrations as it does through its mother's. A developing fetus' liver is only half as effective at burning off alcohol than an adult liver, so the alcohol remains in fetus' system longer.

While researchers still don't agree on what level of drinking will produce FAS, the syndrome has been clearly linked with heavy drinking during pregnancy - six drinks a day. Furthermore, some research suggests that consumption of relatively moderate amounts of alcohol - ranging from 1-4 drinks a day, may increase the risk of spontaneous abortion, lowered birth weight, unusual physical development, lowered IQ, and central nervous damage.

The most important fact to keep in mind about FAS is that it is preventable. The physicians of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin urges pregnant women not to abuse alcohol. The Society recommends that a woman consult her physician concerning her drinking habits and the potential dangers it has for her unborn baby.

UWWC Offers Evening Chemistry Course

Introductory Chemistry will be offered at night for the first time this coming semester at the University of Wisconsin-Washington County campus in West Bend starting January 22.

Chemistry 145, for five credits, is intended for students who are just beginning their programs in the science fields, engineering, natural resource areas, and for other students who will be taking a full chemistry course sequence.

This chemistry course could also be very informative for anyone who is working in an area where more knowledge of the basics of chemistry would be useful.

The course will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings for fifteen weeks. The weekly lectures are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday from 5:40 to 6:55 p.m. The laboratory session follows the lecture on Tuesday and lasts from 7 to 10 p.m. The discussion period follows Thursday's lecture from 7 to 7:50 p.m.

The only prerequisite for this chemistry course is an adequate knowledge of algebra, which is usually acquired in two years of high school algebra or one year of algebra on the college level. A routine entrance test in math will indicate whether a student has the necessary math background. If not, the student may also concurrently enroll in College Math 105 this semester to gain the necessary competency.

Associate Professors Alan Grimm and Joseph Diamanti will instruct introductory Chemistry this spring.

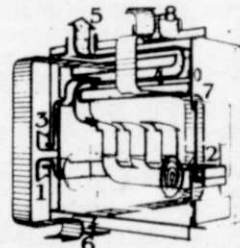

Registration for the spring semester will be held on January 16 from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Main Building. Call the Office of Student Services at UWWC, 338-1161, for any questions.

Seeing IS Believing

On the front of every Volcano is an inspection port with a swing away cover, through which the observer sees a sheet of bright orange & blue flame sweeping over and around wide, flat steel surfaces of hollow crossflow baffles. He sees the heart of the Volcano, and the significant difference that makes it the most sophisticated wood burner in the world.

This sheet of flame (gases burning in the secondary combustion chamber) superheats room-heating, fan-forced air ducted around the firebox and through the hollow baffles.

- 1 A precisely controlled volume of combustion air is pre-heated and ducted evenly through the primary firebox.
- 2 Adjust fresh air is introduced to the secondary firebox to ignite escaping gases in a super hot flame.
- 3 permitting little fuel loss out the chimney.
- 4 Cool air near the floor is fan-forced.
- 5 through hot air jacket & hollow baffles and exhausted into room or into hot air system.

This intense secondary burn, observable and fascinating to watch on every Volcano, demonstrates Volcano's lead in woodfiring technology.

When hooked to forced air or hot water systems (hydronic models available), the Volcano literally provides all the heat a homeowner needs with measurably less wood consumption than even the most modern of competitor stoves. Inside, the Volcano is as new as tomorrow, with the outward appearance of the Quaker Box Stove of yesteryear.

THE NEED FOR A CENSUS

America has grown in many ways since its founding, and that growth is measured in detail every ten years, when the Census Bureau conducts its headcount of our population. Originally the census was intended to provide the data needed to apportion seats in the House of Representatives, but over the years its uses have expanded dramatically.

In fact, the information now gathered during the census is essential to the government's understanding of a community's characteristics and needs — on a federal, state, and local level. Programs such as revenue sharing, CETA, Headstart, and nutrition for the elderly are just some of the many federal programs that rely to some extent on correct census data to guide the distribution of their funding to our local governments. Many state programs need this, too.

On April 1st of this year, approximately 80 million households will receive, through the mail, either the short version of the census questionnaire with 19 questions, or a longer version with 65 questions. Only about one of six households will receive the long version.

One concern always voiced by many is that the personal information gathered from the private citizen in the census will be made public. Such fears are unwarranted. All census responses are kept secret, and census employees face a $5,000 fine and a five-year prison term for violating the federal law that assures confidentiality of the responses. No census employee has ever been charged with breaking this law.

In fact, your responses are even kept secret from other federal government agencies, such as the FBI and the IRS, and from local agencies, such as the police and welfare departments.

It is impossible to overemphasize the importance of an accurate headcount to this country — from federal aid programs to representation in Congress to the many uses the private sector makes of the data. This is especially true in rural areas, which have a lesser voice in government policymaking.

If you are missed in 1980, your voice won't be heard and your community's needs may be overlooked. Please help yourself and your community by participating in the 1980 census.

Federal Crop Insurance Expanded to 150 Additional Counties, Including Washington

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) all-risk federal crop insurance program will be available in 150 additional counties, including Washington County, in 28 states in time for the 1980 spring planting, Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland said.

Bergland said the addition was the maximum allowed under current law. Legislation currently pending in Congress would permit expansion of the crop insurance program at a faster rate, Bergland said.

The selection of the counties by USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) board of directors was based on the need to provide additional crop protection in those counties, Bergland said. About 250 other counties have applied to be admitted to the program.

The FCIC program provides producers the opportunity to insure their major crops, thus guaranteeing themselves an established income should those crops be damaged or lost due to natural hazards. Coverage on corn, oats and peas will be offered in Washington County in 1980. Wheat will be added in 1981.

"This assurance," Bergland said, "is important not only directly to farm producers, but also to the communities that depend on a reliable farm income as the basis of their economies."

Today's addition brings to 1,676 the number of counties where FCIC presently operates.

WHEN YOU HIT THE TRAIL, PICK ONE THAT WON'T HIT BACK.

There are a lot of remote places that snowmobiles and motorcycles can go.

And some places they shouldn't.

Take Wisconsin Electric rights-of-way, for example. Those are routes you should never take.

Since we clear the ground underneath our power towers and poles, these paths look mighty inviting.

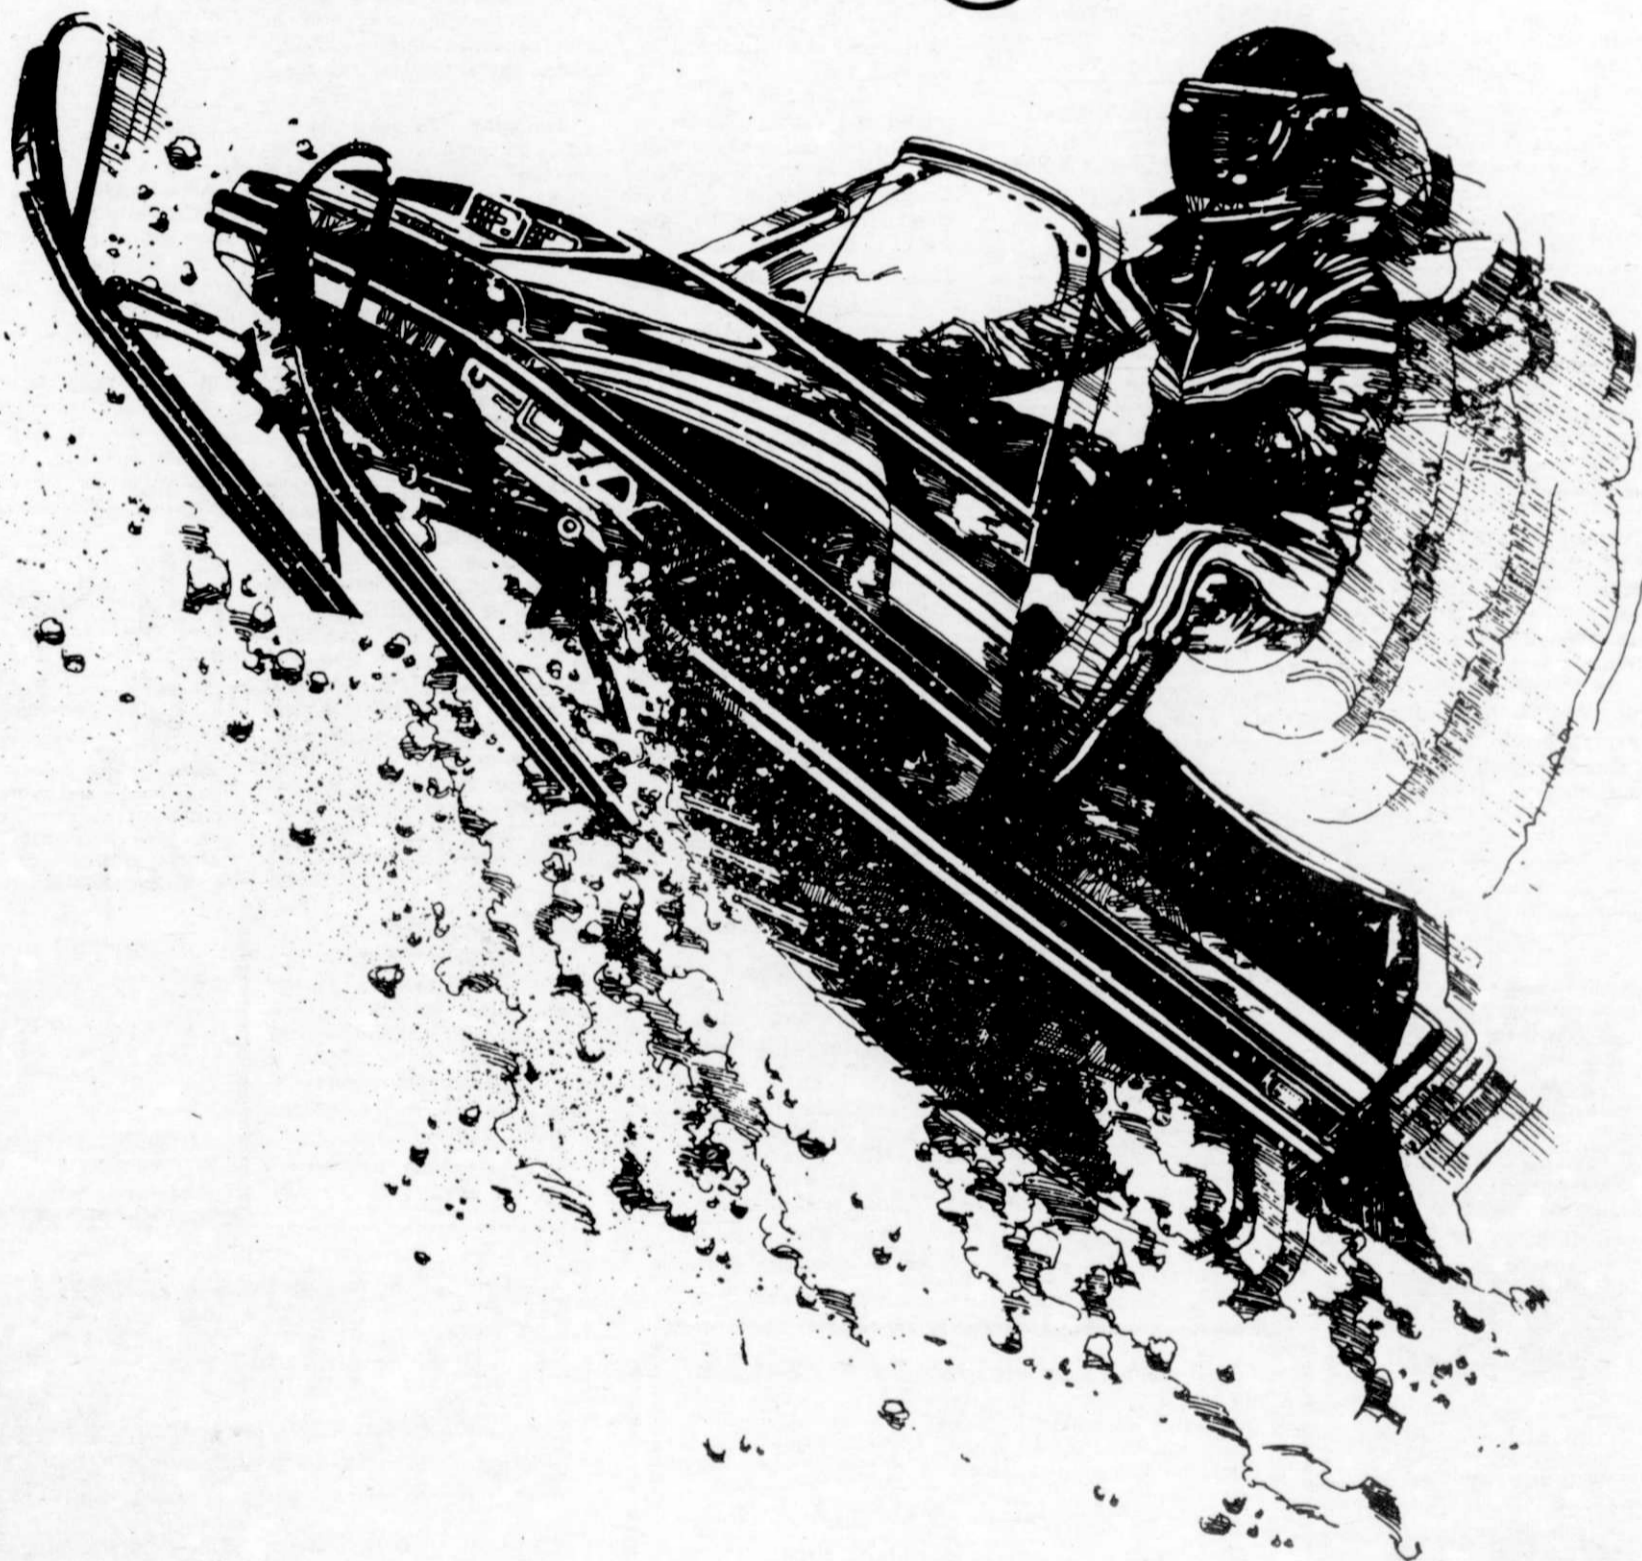

But there are support poles, barriers and cables that are tough to see at high speed.

Biking or snowmobiling on these rights-of-way could be very risky.

That's why we've placed them off limits. We don't want anyone to get hurt.

Look alive. Steer clear of power towers, poles and rights-of-way.

That way, when you hit the trail, it won't be one that will hit back.

Help 'Strike' Out Muscular Dystrophy by Participating in Jerry Lewis Bowl-A-Thon

MDA (The Muscular Dystrophy Association) is currently implementing the Jerry Lewis Bowl-A-Thon Program for the first time in Southeastern Wisconsin, and is urging bowlers of all ages to participate. This means that as bowlers bowl their best during the 1980 season, some of them will also be doing their best to help "score a strike against dystrophy" by participating in an MDA Bowl-A-Thon.

A Bowl-A-Thon is a one day special event sponsored by local bowling center proprietors and the Muscular Dystrophy Association. It's just one of the rewarding and fun ways bowlers can help support the fight against neuromuscular diseases. Bowlers raise money for MDA by collecting pledges per pin knocked down in a three game series.

By taking part in an MDA Bowl-A-Thon, adults will enjoy

Higher Fines for Conservation Law Violations

Since the first of this year, fish, game and trapping law violators in Wisconsin are subject to heavier penalties and assessments than was the case in the past. For some offenses, the cost to the violator could more than double.

The Legislature provided for the addition of natural resources assessments and restitution payments beginning in 1980 for violations of the state's conservation regulations. The assessment equals 75 percent of the amount of the fine or forfeiture and the restitution payment is equal to the cost of a license which should have been obtained by the violator.

A few examples will help. For a Wisconsin resident hunting deer with a gun without a license, the forfeiture, penalty assessment and court costs in the past totalled $49.00. Beginning this year, a natural resources assessment of $30.00 (75 percent of the forfeiture of $40.00) is added plus the cost of a resident gun licence for hunting deer ($11.00). That brings the total to $90.00.

Another example...in the case of a nonresident hunting deer with a gun without a license, the forfeiture, penalty assessment and court costs were $115.00. Now a natural resources assessment of $75.00 (75 percent of the $100.00 forfeiture) plus the cost of nonresident gun deer license ($80.50) brings the total penalty and assessment to $270.50.

The law provides that the natural resources assessment and natural resources restitution (where applicable) are applied to penalties for conservation law violations including those listed in Chapter 29 of the Wisconsin statutes, and Chapters NR 10, 11, 19, 20, 21, 22, 25, 26 and 27 of the Wisconsin Administrative Code.

that overall good feeling one gets from helping those less fortunate. Bowl-A-Thon experience for children can help instill the important qualities of caring and kindness, and it can help bring them one step closer to becoming responsible concerned adults. All participants will receive a "Strike Force" patch, a certificate of merit, and eligibility to receive 1st, 2nd or 3rd place trophies.

Money raised by bowlers allows MDA, a voluntary national health agency, to continue to provide medical services — free of charge — to patients suffering from Muscular Dystrophy and 39 related neuromuscular diseases. MDA also is fighting these diseases through an unparalleled worldwide research effort. Currently MDA funds over 700 research projects in the U.S. and abroad.

How can you help support this worthwhile program? By participating in a Jerry Lewis Bowl-A-Thon, or, if a bowler asks you to pledge, please give generously. You'll be helping to "Strike Out Dystrophy," and ensuring Bowl-A-Thon success.

Interested bowlers, bowling center proprietors, and league coaches can obtain more information on Bowl-A-Thons by calling the Muscular Dystrophy Association at (414) 453-7600.

Tea or coffee stains in a cup? Wet with vinegar and rub with a damp cloth dipped in salt.

Snowmobilers For MS Annual Ride Set for Jan. 27

For the seventh consecutive year, volunteer snowmobile enthusiasts will conduct their annual "Ride for MS" on behalf of the Southeastern Wisconsin Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and its over 700 patients (the national MS chapter is not, and never has been, affiliated in any way with another strictly local Milwaukee multiple sclerosis group).

This event, as organized and conducted by over twenty snowmobile clubs throughout southeastern Wisconsin plus many others throughout the rest of the state, will occur on Sunday, January 27, at which time hundreds of snowmobilers will travel over their respective areas' designated trails, after previously securing monetary pledges for each mile traveled. Funds derived from this activity are applied toward internationally coordinated research programs, and local patient services for those stricken in southeastern Wisconsin.

Snowmobile clubs from Washington County, participating in this year's effort include: Hill and Gully Snowmobile Club, ride chairman Dale Zastrow and the West Bend Ridge Runners, ride chairman Oscar Beisbier.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Southeastern Wisconsin MS Chapter office located at 615 East Michigan Street, Milwaukee, WI 53202; telephone (414) 276-4606.

Southeast District

At this writing there is no Southeast District snow cover in the district counties for snowmobiling or cross-country skiing.

Ice conditions remain variable on the larger lakes and rivers and extreme caution is advised for any ice travel.

Ice fishing has been fair on most district waters. Some panfish are being taken from Pewaukee Lake and Upper and Lower Nemahbin Lakes in Waukesha County, Big Cedar Lake in Washington County and the Lauderdale lakes in Walworth County. Northern pike action is spotty, but some northerners are being taken from many district waters.

A few brown and rainbow trout are being caught in the Port Washington harbor. Rabbit hunting conditions are generally good throughout the district.

Fond du Lac County—Anglers are taking many large walleyes on Lake Winnebago. Ice conditions are fairly poor, the ice is 4 to 10 inches thick and is very rough.

Winnebago County—Walleye fishing on Lake Poygan has slowed considerably. However, walleyes, white bass and perch are being caught on Lake Winnebago. The best fishing is at Point Comfort and Wendt's. Ice thickness on Lake Winnebago varies from 2 to 8 inches and anglers are going out 1 to 1½ miles on the lake. Cars on Lake Winnebago are still not recommended.

Kettle Moraine Squeezes Out 65-64 Victory Over Kewaskum

Kettle Moraine, which had managed only one win in five starts previously, came here Friday night and surprised Kewaskum by edging out the Indians, 65-64, in a tight battle. The loss dropped the Indians to a 2-4 mark and a tie with the Lasers.

However, the biggest surprise was the performance by senior Scott Carpenter of Kettle, who scored 33 points on 12 baskets and 9 free throws, including the game-winning basket with 20 seconds remaining.

The Indians fell behind by as many as 14 points in the first half but re-grouped to trail by only 2 at the intermission, 34-32. It was a see-saw battle throughout most of the contest with the Lasers holding a slim lead at the end as Kewaskum missed out on a chance to sneak ahead in the final 9 seconds.

Carpenter was the whole show for the Lasers as none of his teammates scored more than 9 points. Top scorers for the Indians were Henry Schilter, who racked up 20 points on six field goals and 8 free throws. Bob Nigh contributed 12 points, while Jim Rohlinger and Tom Kern added 12 and 10 points respectively.

Kern and Nigh both fouled out for the Indians and this had a bearing on their defeat as they are the two big men in the lineup. Kettle lost Weber and Wirth. Forty-five personals were whistled in the contest. Kewaskum made good on 14 free throws and the Lasers on 15. After trailing by three points, 17-13, at the quarter and by two at the half, the score was knotted after three periods, 48-48. Then the Lasers tallied one more point than Kewaskum in the final stanza to squeak to victory.

This Friday night the Indians travel to Mayville to do battle with the rival Cardinals. Mayville is tied with Germantown for third place, both with 4-2 records. The Cardinals lost a close one to second place Grafton last week.

Indian Wrestlers Bow to Grafton, 5th in Fond du Lac Invitational

Hosting Grafton Thursday night, the Kewaskum wrestlers were defeated 34-19, in Scenic Moraine competition.

Grafton led early 3-0 on a 7-1 decision but Wayne Boudreau put the Indians ahead with a pin. Kewaskum held the lead until the 10th match when the Blackhawks pulled ahead to stay.

Steve Beck returned to action for Kewaskum and registered an 11-2 decision. Along with Boudreau, Scott Klein also registered a pin.

On Saturday, Kewaskum participated in the Fond du Lac Invitational and had a successful day, finishing fifth out of eight teams, some of them Class A schools. The Indians scored 73 points in the meet, won by host Fond du Lac, and brought home an individual championship by Andy Strigenz.

In the 185 lb. class, Strigenz, who weighs just 163, deserves credit for bringing home a title. Andy did a great job in pinning a kid from Hamilton Sussex before winning a referee's decision over Tim Wastart of West field in the final. Strigenz, a senior, is the third in a line of four Strigenz boys who have wrestled for Kewaskum. He is now 8-5.

The Indians also got seconds from Mike Pettit (167) and Scott Klein (98). Pettit, who had been out with the flu, lost in the finals to West Bend West's Tim Dixon. Klein, now 12-2, led Fondy's Gary Clausius until the final 30 seconds when his opponent managed a reversal.

JVs WIN ANOTHER, FRESHMEN BOMBED

The Kewaskum JVs defeated previously undefeated Kettle Moraine here Friday, 68-62. Center Dale Wodsedalek was the offensive ace with a whopping 31 points. Randy Westerman hit 12 and Jim Krahn and Rick Leitheiser 11 and 10. The win gives the young Indians a 4-2 mark.

The KHS frosh were buried by Kettle, 66-22, and slipped to a 1-5 record. The Laser frosh had some tall players, two of them 6-5, and a strong bench.

Kewaskum Girls Roll Over Kettle Moraine, Now 8-2

Host Kettle Moraine tried to slow up the Kewaskum girls Thursday night but their tactics didn't work as the Indians came home with an easy 37-23 victory. The win brought the KHS girls' record to 4-2 in conference and 8-2 overall.

The big Laser girls' slow play worked for a little while as they held the Indians to a 6-4 first quarter lead but by halftime Kewaskum had built up a 14-7 lead in the low scoring contest. Good defense by the Indians held Kettle's score down.

In the third quarter Kewaskum outpointed the Lasers 14-5 and took a commanding 16 point lead.

Led by Diane Bremser on defense, the Indian girls' "man-to-man" defense and full court press worked well.

Playing one of her best games of the season, Janet Matenaer scored 14 points. Jill Yearling had 15 points and 14 rebounds.

Tuesday night the girls were scheduled at Mayville, which has a similar conference record.
