Brewers' Gantner Speaker at Lions Club Father-Son Banquet

Brewers' Jim Gantner

Stollenwerk Appointed Village President to Succeed Danielsen

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Lions Club held their annual father-son banquet at the Glacier Inn Tuesday night, Feb. 26, with President Pete Albers presiding.

Guest speaker was Milwaukee brewer infielder Jim Gantner, a native of the Eden area. Gantner presented the door prizes which consisted of Brewer souvenirs to the lucky youngsters present. He also showed an interesting Brewers film, followed by a question and answer period, and passed out Brewers literature.

Jim said he also spoke at Hartford recently and they claimed they were out to beat Kewaskum in attendance this summer on Hartford Night and take the trophy away from Kewaskum on Fan Appreciation Night in September. We can't let this happen so order your tickets for Kewaskum Night, June 10.

Due to the fact that Gantner appeared at the Lions father-son banquet and no other Brewers player was available at this time, the Chamber of Commerce will not hold their Sports Night this year.

Jerry Stollenwerk was unanimously appointed as the new President of the village of Kewaskum. Stollenwerk has served as a trustee for 11 months and replaces Robert A. Danielsen, who officially resigned at Monday night's meeting.

Stollenwerk is presently the manager of data processing at Regal Ware. He graduated from Marquette University and in 1969 moved from Milwaukee to Kewaskum. He and his wife, Pat, have five children and live at 375 North Ave.

Stollenwerk has been the president of the Kewaskum Kiwanis, Holy Trinity Holy Name Society and Holy Trinity Home and School Association. He was a charter member of the Chamber of Commerce and the village board's representative on the Kewaskum Plan Commission.

Outgoing President Danielsen had submitted a letter of resignation to Village Clerk Bill Martin, saying, "Due to a change of employment and residency, I hereby resign effective immediately, the position of Village President." Danielsen and his family will be moving to Balsam Lake, Wisconsin, where he will become Director of the Polk County Bank.

Danielsen commented to the board, "It is with regret that my family and I leave all of you and our fine friends." He praised the board, village officials, and department supervisors for their courtesy and cooperation. He further told the board he was "very certain that everything will work out extremely well in Kewaskum under your guidance."

Village Administrator Dar Schmidt explained that the board would have to appoint a president pro-tem prior to any appointment of Danielsen's successor. As the board's senior member, Raynor Herriges was chosen as president pro-tem and it was his duty to ask each board member if they were interested in the presidency. When Stollenwerk was asked, he said he would accept.

Herriges, several other board members, and Danielsen himself had encouraged Stollenwerk prior to the meeting to accept.

After his appointment, Stollenwerk said, "I'd like to thank the members of the board for their confidence. I'll perform the duties of the president to the best of my ability."

Stollenwerk praised outgoing President Danielsen, "I speak for the board members, the village officers in thanking you for a job well done." He said he could understand his decision and reminded him, "Please keep in touch with your friends."

Dan Schmidt pointed out that the vacancy on the board would have to also be filled by appointment. He suggested placing an ad in several papers to determine possible candidates.

Stollenwerk had mentioned that Jeff Rohrer and Vincent Groh were interested. Several board members also had been approached by Richard Schmidt. Trustee Dave Strang commented that it was strange all these people were coming forward now instead of filing papers in January. Three trustees will be up for election and each had been unopposed.

The board agreed that in all fairness, the position should be advertised. Trustee Paul Blumer felt that the vacancy should be filled as soon as possible. It seems likely that a trustee will be appointed at the March 17 meeting.

Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce to Sponsor 2nd Educational Seminar

The Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring its 2nd annual Educational Seminar for Chamber members and their guests on Thursday, March 20, at 7:15 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Valley Bank community room in Kewaskum. This year's topic will focus on the law and justice and the procedures followed in handling a criminal case from the time the crime is committed including the investigation, apprehension, trial and final sentencing.

Washington County Sheriff, Clarence Schwartz, is coordinating the effort along with Chamber of Commerce board member Orval Behnke.

Circuit Court Judge Richard

Becker, District Attorney Fred Fink, Sheriff's Deputy Schwartz and a sheriff's deputy, Chief of Police Don Hlavaty, and Attorney Gerald A. Kiefer have indicated that they will participate in the seminar.

All Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce members and Jaycee members are eligible to attend and invite guests. Should you want to attend this seminar, please contact a Chamber member for an invitation. Chamber members should notify Mark Rodenkirch, Ken Weddig or Orv Behnke if they are going to attend and the number of guests who will attend so that lunch and refreshments can be prepared as well as the proper seating arrangements.

Drug Problems, School Programs On Board Agenda

The Kewaskum Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday, March 10, 1980. Beginning at 8:00 p.m., the meeting will be held in the school district office.

A discussion of drug problems and present school programs in this area will head the board agenda. Other old business items will include staffing for 1980-81 and the approval for issuing teaching contracts, a transportation policy question and the beginning date for the new driver education fees.

Under new business, the board will consider approval of payroll and vouchers payable, a parent transportation contract and approval for selling some obsolete items at auction. A request for added aide time, approval to begin ordering for next year and miscellaneous items which may arise, will complete the agenda.

AFS STUDENTS GUEST SPEAKERS AT PAST

At the February meeting of the Christian Mothers and Ladies Altar Society of Holy Trinity parish, two AFS students were guest speakers. Mirjam Sibbel from the Netherlands and Bassma Marji from Jordan showed slides and spoke about the customs in their native lands.

The picturesque windmills of the Netherlands and the ruins of the ancient Roman Empire in Jordan showed a glimpse of old world beauty. Horse meat is a favorite food in the Netherlands and in Jordan mutton is the meat of choice. The society is thankful for the opportunity to visit other countries without leaving home.

Accurate Census Count April 1 Is Important to Rural America

Farmers and residents of rural America are being urged by the Census Bureau to be counted April 1 in the 20th Decennial Census of Population and Housing, and to urge their farm help to be counted too.

The results can affect farmers' pocketbooks and their representation in State legislatures and Congress.

More than 100 Federal programs now guide their spending of an estimated $50 billion annually with census statistics. Funding for the Cooperative Extension Service, for example, hinges upon a state's rural and farm population as determined by the census.

Local governments rely on census statistics to guide them in numerous programs. These include locating schools, providing transportation facilities and public utilities for their residents, pinpointing housing conditions that must be remedied, and solving many other problems. Census population data are the basis for reapportioning seats in the U.S. House of Representatives. At the state level, changes in population affect the redistricting for the legislature and the House of Representatives.

The census is expected to count approximately 222 million people and 86 million housing units. Data will be compiled for 3,200 counties, and 20,000 incorporated villages, towns and cities, together with information on county subdivisions, census tracts, and 2.5 million city blocks.

Every household in the nation will receive a census questionnaire in the mail on March 28. About 90 percent of the households will be asked to mail back their completed forms. The remaining 10 percent, primarily in sparsely settled areas of the West, will be instructed to keep their forms until census takers pick them up.

Farm families having children in elementary or high school are receiving an early introduction to the census. Some 123,000 special school curriculum

Safety Tips for Wood Heated Homes

By Jim Fritz
Interim Resource Agent
UW-Extension, West Bend

With more people using wood burning stoves as an energy supplement there has been an increase in the number of fires. The blame naturally falls on the use of wood as fuel but if proper care is taken - safety follows.

Check the list below to see if your wood heating system passes all safety tips:

*the chimney should be properly constructed, in good repair, and kept clean of tar and creosote.

*the heating unit must be well designed and constructed so burning coals and sparks can't escape.

*the unit should be set on an inflammable base large enough so coals and sparks can't spill on a flammable floor surface.

*flammable walls or ceilings must be protected by adequate distance from the stove (distance depends on what type of stove) or pipes (18 inches for an unprotected wall, ceiling or stove surface, 9 inches for protected) or by a heat shield.

*allow wood to dry for at least a year before using. Green wood causes more smoke and faster buildup of creosote - the main cause of chimney fires.

*do not fully load a heating unit, set the draft and back off, as the fuel may flare up and overheat.

*provide adequate ventilation as oxygen consumed by combustion can be replaced.

*don't use volatile liquids for starting a fire.

*install a good smoke alarm and have a proper fire extinguisher readily available.

Knowing your system and facts about wood burning can save time, trouble, money and even your home. There are 11 publications on Wood for Home Heating available from UW-Extension covering everything from types of wood, to creosote and how to deal with it. What's even more important is that six are free and the other five are available for 15 cents apiece. Any questions can be directed to our office by calling 338-4480, 342-2929 or 644-5204 and asking for Jim Fritz.

Altho older people commonly complain of poor memory, laboratory studies show that many of the old actually can learn as well as younger people. Dr. L. F. Jarvik, Prof. of psychiatry at Univ. of Cal. states that so-called memory loss may really be due to hearing difficulty, impaired hearing, inattention, etc.

He says that mental deterioration in the elderly is really a symptom of depression. The "deterioration" can be overcome simply by counselling, psychotherapy, or the use of antidepressant medication.

DNR Awards $62,852 Grant to County for Septic Systems

The Department of Natural Resources recently announced that it has awarded a $62,852 grant to Washington County to replace or rehabilitate 27 septic systems.

The question that arises once a county agrees to participate in the Wisconsin Fund septic system grant program is "How do I get my name on the application?"

The Wisconsin Fund provides grants to cover 60½% ($3,000 maximum per system) of the cost of replacing or rehabilitating residential or small commercial septic systems. Only failing systems—not new ones—with a county or state enforcement order against them are eligible. Seasonal homes and small businesses with average daily wastewater loads of more than 2,100 gallons are ineligible.

Before a county can submit grant applications on behalf of its residents, it must meet statutory program requirements. The county must have a sanitary code that calls for inspection of new septic systems every three years, whether the property owner has received state funds or not.

Once the county board resolves to participate in the program, an application listing individual properties and grant eligible costs is sent to the DNR for review. If approved, the DNR makes a grant offer.

When qualifying property owners learn that their county is considering applying for a grant, they should contact the county zoning administrator and ask to be included in the application. Those who have completed work on their systems since July 29, 1979 or plan to do so in the near future are eligible.

After work on the septic system is completed and paid for the property owner must provide the county a copy of the cancelled check and paid invoice, which will be sent to the DNR. The department will make a grant payment to the county, which will in turn reimburse the property owner.

Workshop to Train Leaders for 4-H Adventures Program

Are you an adult interested in the outdoors? Do you enjoy working with youth? Then 4-H has a new program which may be for you. A workshop to train leaders in the new Wisconsin 4-H Adventures Program will be held at Upham Woods, Wisconsin Dells, on March 21-23, 1980.

"We're looking for mature, responsible people over the age of 18 who are in good health. They must have a love of the outdoors and a desire to work with youth," says Bob Stodola, 4-H and Youth Agent for Washington County.

The workshop, sponsored in part by a grant from the Federal Cartridge Corporation, will include skill training in canoeing, backpacking, camping, and biking. Participants will also learn necessary skills in leadership and trip planning as well as program ideas to use on adventures with youth.

Says Robert Stodola, "We want people to learn how to lead groups safely and properly, with a minimum of impact on the environment."

Besides learning specific skill areas, the workshop will emphasize how to use these recreational skills to learn about the outdoors. "People who attend this workshop should return well prepared. Hopefully, they will then use their skills to lead a group of county youth on some new outdoor adventure in the next few months.

The only costs to participants is a $5.00 registration fee and transportation to the workshop. Interested people should inquire soon, as the workshop is limited to 35 participants.

More details are available from Bob Stodola at U.W. Extension, Court House Annex II, West Bend 53095 or by calling 338-4478.

State Nursery Tree Stocks Depleted

Wisconsin state nursery stocks of trees are exhausted and supplies of only a few species of shrubs still remain, according to Department of Natural Resources' forestry personnel.

Al Kubiske, Nurseries and Wild Rivers specialist in the DNR Bureau of Forestry, said, "The shortage results from a rise in demand for tree seedlings and shrubs because of the increased interest in reforestation and wildlife habitat which has occurred the past few years throughout the lake states and central states regions."

"Because of the increased demand," Kubiske continued, "and because our nurseries must anticipate demand at least four years ahead of time, temporary shortages may continue to occur." He urged Wisconsin landowners who anticipate planting trees in the spring of 1981 to "mark their calendars and get tree order blanks from the DNR in November of this year and send them in early."

Shrub species still in stock are silky dogwood, ninebark and wild grape.

Trees and shrubs purchased from state nurseries can be used only for conservation purposes, and are not to be used for landscaping or commercial Christmas tree production.

Wisconsin's Mile Death Rate Shows Increase for 1979

Wisconsin's traffic death rate rose to 3.02 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles of travel in 1979, only the second time the rate has gone up since 1966.

The state department of transportation said preliminary estimates show motorists traveled 32,974 million miles on Wisconsin highways in 1979, a 2.6 per cent decrease from 33,863 million miles in 1978.

With 997 traffic fatalities in 1979, the rate went up to 3.02 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles, compared to 998 deaths and a mile death rate of 2.95 in 1978.

A previous increase was noted in 1975, when the death rate climbed from 3.26 in 1974 to 3.29 per 100 million vehicle miles of travel in 1975. The 1966 mile-death rate of 5.59 deaths per 100 million miles of travel was 3.9 per cent ahead of the 5.38 death rate of 1965. All interim years showed annual decreases, the department said.

The mile-death rate has showed a steady decline, despite the fact that traffic has increased almost annually. In 1966, a total of 1,126 people died on Wisconsin roads while traveling a total of 20.2 billion miles. In the 13-year period since that time, traffic has increased 65 per cent, while deaths decreased about 11.5 per cent.

The largest decreases were noted after the 55 mile per hour speed limit went into effect in 1974, the department said.

In the six years since the speed limit became effective, a total of 5,739 lives were lost, compared to 6,890 in the six years preceding the 55 limit. The speed limit was the primary factor in the decline, the department said.

The department said comparable figures are not yet available from other states, but preliminary 8-9 month figures showed death rates of 2.9 in Illinois and Michigan, and 3.1 in Iowa and Minnesota.

Gas Saving Tips

It's easy to fall into bad driving habits. They may not be dangerous, but they do waste gasoline and increase your fuel bills. Here are two bad habits to avoid, suggests Donald A. Woodruff, Executive Director of the Wisconsin Division of Tourism.

Avoid unnecessary idling. Every two minutes of idling is a mile of driving wasted.

Turn off your engine instead of idling when you're at drive-in facilities such as banks, ticket lines and restaurants when the lines get long and slow.

Turn off your engine instead of idling when you're waiting for someone in your car.

It takes less gas to restart your car after your engine has warmed than to idle it for more than one minute. Generally there's no need to press the accelerator to restart a warm engine.

Wind resistance creates a drag on your gas mileage figure. An aerodynamically smooth car cuts through the wind barrier more quickly and efficiently, so close windows at speeds over 40 miles per hour, and remove luggage or ski racks when not in use.

Carbon Monoxide: Cold Winter Threat

Each winter, a number of deaths due to carbon monoxide poisonings are updated in Wisconsin.

Carbon monoxide is an odorless, colorless, tasteless gas that can come from car exhaust, faulty furnaces and smoldering charcoal in a grill among other sources.

While it usually dissipates in the open air without harm to anyone, in an enclosed space it can be deadly.

In an automobile, carbon monoxide gas can seep up through the floor boards from a leaky exhaust. The victim becomes drowsy and falls asleep. It takes only a short time for an engine running in a closed garage to fill the building with the deadly gas.

No one knows how many winter auto accidents are caused each year by motorists whose reaction time is slowed somewhat by a small seepage of carbon monoxide into a closed auto.

When driving this winter make sure at least one window in your car is open slightly. The motorist who drives with all windows tightly closed is flirting with serious danger from carbon monoxide.

Have the exhaust, muffler and manifold in your car checked to make sure they are tightly fitting and free of leaks. And when driving in "bumper to bumper" traffic, keep the front air vents closed to avoid sucking in fumes from the car ahead.

Carbon monoxide leaks from a furnace's exhaust system pose another risk. Your home furnace should be checked each fall prior to turning it on for another winter.

A lesser known risk presents itself in burning charcoal. If you're a person who enjoys charcoal grilling cooking in all types of weather, fine. But keep it where it belongs — out of doors. Or at least on an open porch. Be certain all coals are burned out before bringing the grill indoors.

World Day of Prayer Observances Slated Throughout County Friday

The World Day of Prayer will be celebrated locally, nationally and internationally on Friday, March 7. The theme for the annual event is "Responsible Freedom." This year the women of Thailand have prepared the service which emphasizes the issue of freedom in its political sense as well as economic, social, and theological application.

In West Bend, a program has been coordinated by Mrs. Lorraine Spaeth, in which many churches will participate. In the morning the host church will be St. Frances Cabrini, which is located at 1025 S. 7th. There will be Bible study at 9:30 a.m. led by Rev. Douglas Wicker of Immanuel United Church of Christ, followed by a prayer-worship service at 11 a.m. The homily will be delivered by Father Rick Skowronski of St. Frances Cabrini Church. After the service there will be a social hour in the Church Hall. Those attending are asked to bring a "Sack lunch." Dessert and coffee will be provided by the host church. Trinity Lutheran Church will share in the prayer-worship section of the program. A nursery will be provided for young children.

There will be a worship service at the Cedar Lake Home at 2 p.m. Participating will be women from Holy Angels, Christian Science Society, and Salem UCC from Wayne. The service at the Samaritan Home will be presented by women from St. Mary's Immaculate Conception, Fifth Ave. United Methodist and Peace UCC of Kewaskum. This service will begin at 1:30 p.m. Two p.m. services are planned at Meadowbrook Manor by the women of Our Savior's Lutheran, St. Martin's UCC, Fillmore, and Calvary Assembly of God.

All World Day of Prayer services to be held county-wide are planned by the Church Women United of Washington County. The public is invited to attend.

In Hartford the World Day of Prayer will be observed at the First United Methodist Church located at 738 Monroe Ave. There will be a 9 a.m. Bible study and coffee hour followed by a worship service at 10 a.m. A special children's service will be held at the same location from 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. The service will include worship, crafts and refreshments. Transportation will be available at the schools but parents should plan to pick up their children afterwards. A nursery for young children will be available at the morning events. Cooperating in the two local services are women from these churches: St. Aidan's Episcopal, St. John's UCC, Redeemer Lutheran, St. Kilian's Catholic, First Congregational and First United Methodist.

Churches from Colgate, Lake Five, Hubertus, Richfield and Germantown will observe the World Day of Prayer at St. Paul's United Church of Christ located at the corners of St. Augustine's and Monches roads. Speaking on the theme "Responsible Freedom" will be the Rev. Robert Anderson of the host church. The service will begin at 8 p.m.

In the World Jay-Slinger area the World Day of Prayer services will be held at Faith United Church of Christ located on Slinger Rd., Slinger, at 1:30 p.m. The service will be Rev. John Heibuch of Faith Church. Participating will be women from these churches: St. John's UCC, Slinger, Friedens UCC, St. Peter's UCC, Peace UCC, and Christ Lutheran, all of the Jackson area.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT — A TAXING DECISION

[Fourth in a series of articles]

Filing our income tax — the long form way — always seems so tedious, doesn't it? Even with a professional tax advisor to help us, there are all those records to keep, bills and receipts, and cancelled checks to sort out. The short form with only a few lines to fill out, is a tempting alternative, especially as we get closer to April 15.

The IRS has made the short form (1040A) an even greater temptation for us this year by increasing the zero bracket amount. This year if you're single you can claim a $2,300 deduction; $3,400 if you are married and filing with your spouse. Exemptions, too, have increased this year, from $750 to $1,000.

According to the Wisconsin Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the short tax form is very handy for those who have had too much tax withheld from their pay and must file a return to get a refund. It can also be used by those with incomes under $10,000 who owe no taxes but have an earned income credit coming to them. The IRS will let you file the short form if your income is solely from salaries, wages and tips, with no more than $400 in dividends or interest. If your adjusted gross income is over $20,000 ($40,000 on a joint return), then you cannot use the short form.

Most American taxpayers don't bother to itemize their deductions and some alternate between the short and long forms, bunching deductible expenses, such as extensive dental work, in the years they itemize. However handy the short form appears, the question of which form to use is something you should reevaluate each year — long before April 15. Any change in your lifestyle, including one or more of the following, could warrant a reappraisal of the method of filing.

Purchase of a home. Interest and real estate taxes would almost certainly make itemizing worthwhile.

Other large interest payments. Don't overlook interest on time-payment plans, loans, charge accounts and credit cards as well as the interest on back taxes paid for prior year.

Unusual state and local tax payments. Again, include payments made in 1979 which apply to earlier years as well as generally higher current taxes, and perhaps prepayments of 1980 taxes you may have made. Large purchases during the year could have meant exceptionally high sales taxes.

Unreimbursed business expenses incurred. The cost of performing your job other than commutation expenses may be deductible: uniforms, special work clothes, union dues, subscriptions to technical publications, tools and equipment, business entertainment, an educational course to help you keep your present job.

Expenditures for managing investments. Subscriptions to investment publications and services, costs of traveling and from brokers' offices, tax advice and assistance, safety deposit box if used to store investment documents — all are deductible.

Capital losses on sale of assets. This applies only to assets purchased for investment — not to such things as home, car, or boat.

Large medical bills. Only amounts in excess of three percent of adjusted gross income are deductible, but one serious dental project could do it. Don't forget health insurance, drugs, and prosthetic devices such as eyeglasses, dentures, braces.

Divorce. Alimony is deductible for the payer, taxable income to the recipient. (Child support is neither although it will help decide which parent can claim the dependent exemption).

(The final article in this series, about preparing for an audit will appear in our next issue).

Deadline Nears for Summer Camp Jobs

The deadline for applying for salaried positions in the state's five Youth Conservation Camps nears, State Senator Don Hanaway noted this week.

Young people between 15 and 19 are paid $3.10 per hour under a learning-work experience for a five or six week period. A work schedule of 32 hours per week results in weekly salary of $99.20 from which a room and board charge of $24.20 is deducted.

Work activity includes projects in forestry, fish management, wildlife, recreational use areas and ranger stations.

Senator Hanaway said the camps provide a unique educational opportunity for young people. The deadline for applying is March 10. Applications may be made through high school guidance directors or by contacting the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Youth Conservation Camp Section, Box 7921, Madison, Wi, 53707.

The camps are scheduled for 5 and 6 week periods in June, July and August. They are located near Manitowish Waters, Minong, Montello, Campbelsport and Prairie du Chien.

The DNR will notify applicants in April or May whether they have been selected.

HORSES

May Soon Be Used by Kewaskum Men to Haul Dead Wood Out of Kettle Moraine State Forest

Two men from Kewaskum may soon be able to use horses to haul dead wood out of the Northern Kettle Moraine State Forest thanks to the actions of State Representative Gervase Hephner (D-Chilton). Representative Hephner, working closely with the Department of Natural Resources, DNR Secretary Anthony Earl and the Joint Committee for Review of Administrative Rules (JCRAR), apparently has resolved a problem that was brought to his attention by two of his constituents.

Last year Lewis Schmidt wrote Representative Hephner to protest the fact that he and his son Dean were prevented by the DNR from using a team of horses to remove dead wood from the Kettle Moraine State Forest. DNR officials cited NR 45.10, (an administrative rule) which places a restriction of using horses only on bridle paths in state forests, to justify their actions. The DNR claimed that such a rule was needed to prevent erosion and damage to the environment by horses.

The Schmidts, however, felt that NR 45.10 was a bad rule. They were prevented by the DNR from doing something (removing dead wood) that would benefit the whole state. Furthermore, they contended that their horses did not do any damage to the environment whatsoever.

After receiving the Schmidts letter, Representative Hephner wrote to the DNR and JCRAR about 45.10. As the result of his actions, the DNR will shortly propose amending NR 45.10 to make an exception for horses used in logging activities, including firewood skidding.

Approximately 6,000 requests for firewood permits were received by the DNR in 1979, and the number is expected to increase drastically this year. The DNR will encourage the use of firewood from state forests as an alternative source of fuel. "One of the DNR's objectives is to continue maximizing wood usage for energy. The proposed DNR amendment to NR 45.10 will help meet this objective of the Schmidts and make Wisconsinites a little less dependent on high priced oil," Hephner commented.

Big Brothers and Big Sisters Informational Meeting Tuesday

Spring is a good time to start fresh and briefly explain the procedure in which a volunteer is matched with a young person. What's "in it" for the volunteer?

Our children are from single parent homes, due in most cases to divorce or death. The children are between 6 - 17 years of age, and are looking for a friend. Someone beside their custodial parent, to share different and new experiences with and to talk with. Someone who has the time to listen and help to guide them.

To our volunteers, being able to spend time with a child who needs acceptance and guidance is their reward. Satisfaction comes also by being able to share their experiences and wisdom with a child whose parent may just not have the time to give at this point. This is what's "in it" for you!

One of the finer points of our program is that you are able to choose the age group of the child you are interested in helping. You are also able to choose the location in which the child lives. In these days with gas prices skyrocketing, that is a major advantage. You will choose a child with similar interests, or one with different interests so that you may have the opportunity to expand your own.

Most of our children are quite satisfied with just "getting together" over a Coke, or a walk in the park. Just to get together a few hours a week is all that children ask for. Most children are happy just to know that a few hours are set aside

"just for them."

Come to our informational meeting on Tuesday evening, March 11 at 7:30 p.m., at 141 N. Main St. in West Bend, and get acquainted with our program. Take the time to consider volunteering. Talk to a Big Brother or Big Sister and decide what's "in it" for you.

In the Kewaskum area there are 5 boys between the ages of 10 and 15 and 2 girls 14 and 17 who are looking for you.

Johanson of Cedar Lake Home Accepts Chicago Position

Gary T. Johanson, Assistant Superintendent of the Cedar Lake Home Campus, West Bend, has accepted a position in Chicago, the Benevolent Corporation of the Cedar Lake Home Campus announced.

Johanson will become the Administrator of the Washington and Jane Smith Home, Chicago, April 1. The Chicago Home is a 250 bed not-for-profit long term care facility.

While a member of the Cedar Lake Home Campus administrative team, Johanson began as a general administrative aide and was appointed Assistant Superintendent and Chief Fiscal Officer in 1976, being responsible for the total campus operational budget, state certification, and the Cedar Lake Home Campus Foundation.

"Mr. Johanson has been instrumental in developing many of the innovative programs we now have on Campus," Cedar Lake Home Superintendent Riesch stated. "His dedication to residents, staff and community has been exemplified in his successful eleven years of service on our total team. We are deeply appreciative of his sharing of time, talent and treasure and look forward to his performing great things in his new and challenging field of labor."

Graduating from Moorhead State College, Moorhead, Minnesota, with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Education, and from Northern Michigan University, Marquette, Michigan, with a Master's Degree, Johanson was Vocational Education Coordinator at the Campbellsport High School before joining the Cedar Lake Home Campus administrative team in 1969.

Active in church and community affairs, Johanson is a member of Campbellsport United Methodist Church and past president of the Kiwanis Club of West Bend. He also served on the Washington County Commission of Aging and the Moraine Park Technical Institute (MPTI) and Slinger High School Office Occupations Advisory Committee.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scout Week

MARCH 9-15, 1980

March 9-15 is Girl Scout Week, marking the founding of Girl Scouting on March 12, 1912. The theme this year is "Girl Scouting: Where the Future Begins."

Girl Scouting has proven itself to be more than just an afterschool activity. It has been a pioneer in helping girls to shape their own destinies, and is helping them to achieve success in any undertaking. The future of our community depends on our young people of today. Girl Scouts are important in providing service, and contributing to the betterment of our community.

The Kewaskum, Farmington and Wayne Girl Scouts are planning a variety of activities this year. They started off with Thinking and Thanking Day. This is a time for each individual troop to think about and thank all the people who have helped in their troop.

From March 7 until March 20, the girls will have an art display called "Art Fair '80" at the Valley Bank in Kewaskum. It is an opportunity for everyone to see the creative abilities of our area girls. Plan to stop in and see the display.

Sunday, March 9, has been designated as Girl Scout Sunday, and the girls may attend church services at 9:30 a.m. at Holy Trinity, or at 10:15 a.m. at Peace Church. In the evening, the girls and their parents will gather at the Amerahn for their annual Pot Luck Supper. The theme this year is, "It's a Small World," and each troop will do a skit, song, or dance from a different country.

Selling cookies is a Girl Scout tradition that gives the girls an opportunity to earn money for their troop activities; to participate in special Girl Scout opportunities; to give direct services to girls, and to purchase equipment and property on their behalf. This year the girls will take cookie orders February 29 to March 9, and the cookies will be delivered April 28 to May 11.

Some 75 million boxes of cookies are expected to be sold nationally this year by more than 3 million Girl Scouts. The Kewaskum, Farmington, and Wayne Girl Scouts are all set to go, and everyone's help throughout our sale will bring about the success for which we are striving. For this we thank you.

If you are not contacted by a Girl Scout and would like to order cookies, you may call these numbers to place an order.

EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

A TAX CUT THIS YEAR?

As you fill out your 1979 tax forms these days, you may well wonder whether any tax relief will come out of Washington this year. As inflation ravages our buying power and pushes us into higher income tax brackets, we all hope this will happen. But, will it?

In his State of the Union message, the President opposed the idea of tax cuts this year. His 1981 Budget contained no provisions for them, either.

However, the Administration's line may not be as hard against the idea, after all. The Treasury Department is reported to be preparing a contingency tax cut plan to be put forth if economic conditions worsen. Last month's increase in unemployment and decreases in housing and auto industry output may have been the signals the President felt warranted preparing that contingency plan.

Second, while the President's Budget may not have called for tax cuts, it certainly provided ample ammunition for those who want them. Thanks to higher Social Security taxes and "bracket creep" — inflation pushing us into higher tax brackets — the federal government, under the President's Budget, would collect an additional $76 billion in taxes next year. That's over $300 billion for every man, woman, and child in the country! Besides that, the proposed $616 billion spending level would leave a deficit of $15 billion — major contributor to inflation. So, the Budget has plenty of features strengthening the arguments of tax cut advocates.

The 1980 elections will also add to the tax cut impetus, in all likelihood. If Senator Kennedy's challenge intensifies, I would predict that the President would be much more willing to accept tax cuts, as a way of dealing politically with that challenge.

And lastly, the windfall profits tax, though stalled in a House-Senate clash over its provisions, is slowly being revised in the direction of being used for tax cuts instead of for financing tax credits for energy conservation innovations. The longer this impasse lasts, the more attractive tax cuts will become to Congress.

If tax cuts are to be enacted, however, I would urge a reasonable approach in doing so. Unless they are coupled with corresponding cuts in federal spending and a balanced federal budget, the inflation now fueled by our budget policies will only continue, wiping out any possible benefits of tax cuts.

Recycled Materials — A Way to Save Energy

by Beth Stoffel
Recycling Chairman
Kewaskum Jr. Woman's Club

This is the second in a series of articles on recycled materials.

The Kewaskum Lions Club has been operating their monthly paper drives in conjunction with the Kewaskum Recycling Center since June of 1975. In that time approximately 550,000 pounds of paper have been recycled. The most desirable type of paper for recycling is old newspaper. Other types of waste paper are also recyclable.

The newspapers that the Lions Club takes in are sold to a distributor who returns it to a paper mill for the recycling process. If waste paper is to become a quality new product, the most important step in the recycling process is the removal of ink and impurities.

So the first step after the paper is shredded is "deinking" or "pulping." During this process water and chemicals are added to the shredded paper to become a slurry called pulp. The pulp goes into whirling cylinders called the centrifuge and the centrifuge where trash (staples, paper clips, and other solid objects) is removed.

The next step is the primary water removal process. A machine squeezes the pulp, separating it from the dirty water, chemicals and ink. The pulp is sifted over a series of vibrating screens to remove any remaining impurities and given a final washing. It may also be bleached white. The original waste paper is now pure pulp and ready to become new paper products.

The clean pulp is now mixed with clean water in a machine until it forms a liquid slurry 99% water and 1% pulp. A carrier belt made of plastic mesh which has a shaking motion to drain away excess water, causes the tiny fibers in the slurry to interlock and form a continuous web of paper. This "web" of paper may be up to 172 inches wide by 300 feet long.

The moving belt of newly-formed paper then passes through a series of roller presses until it is approximately 45% dry. It then enters the drying section where the remaining water is removed by passing the paper over steam cylinders heated to 260°F. After drying, the paper is about 95% dry. It then moves through a set of steel rollers, giving it a smooth surface for printing and writing. The finished paper is wound onto rollers and then cut to various sizes. These rolls are shipped to printers, publishers and manufacturers for use in new products. For some products not used in rolls, the paper is cut in large sheets, packaged and sent to its users.

Many common items are now made from recycled paper. Cereal boxes, paper bags, many types of wrapping material, even stationery are only a few of the many things being made from recycled paper.

So there you have it. We've traced your old newspapers from the Kewaskum Lions Club paper drive to store shelves stocked with new paper products. It's a good feeling knowing that those old newspapers can become new ones. Think about it next time you're going to throw that old paper away.

The next article in this series will explain how glass is recycled.

Through at Ripon College, Edwards Leads Lakes Win

Tom Edwards, 6-6 center, the No. 6 man on the strong Ripon College squad this season, ended his college playing days Saturday and then returned to Kewaskum to join the Land o' Lakes team Sunday. His 39 points in a 136-126 win over Mayville were welcomed.

Edwards was in Illinois for games Friday night and Saturday as the Redmen, Midwest Conference champions, took third place in the NCAA Division III regional tournament. Ripon finished 20-4 for the year.

Against Mayville, Edwards started slowly but poured in 21 of his 39 points in the last quarter, when Kewaskum outscored Mayville 45-34 to pull out the victory. Clark Eichstedt chipped in with 37 points and Ken Loest scored 27. Loest attended school in Mayville.

Tom Fischer paced Mayville with 33 points. Dan Heim hit 27 and Dave Mayer 23.

Kewaskum, now 5-4, still trails Oconomowoc by two games in the "B" Division. Kewaskum hosts Hartford this Sunday, March 9, at 7:30 p.m.

In other weekend games Hartford beat Slinger, 117-91, Menomonee Falls Stingers trounced Slinger, 154-103, Cedarburg whipped Sussex, 140-100, and the Unbeaten Falls Badgers (11-0) overwhelmed Port Washington, 150-115.

KHS Chess Team Suffers 1st Loss

The Kewaskum High School chess team dropped its first match of the season in a close 28½ to 26½ loss to Kettle Moraine. The loss dropped the Indians into a first place tie with Kettle Moraine with identical 6-1 records. Kewaskum won 5 of the 10 boards and drew one but Kettle came up with the two point win. Both schools must play Hartford and Germantown before the season ends on March 12.

The team fell behind 3-0 when Jim Simon lost at board 8. Ken Bauer made the score 3-2 when he mated Scott Bischel. Bauer has been making good improvement the entire year and broke into the top 10 last match and recorded his win at board 9 this week. Rick Howell suffered his first loss of the year at board 5. He lost to Dave Hilmer, who also was undefeated going into the match. Rob Slegler again won easily at board 7, making the score Kettle Moraine 9, Kewaskum 6. The tide seemed to change to Kewaskum's favor as Chuck Strancke drew at 2nd board, Kim Manthei won at 3rd and Tom Rosenberger won at 4th. This made the score Kewaskum 25½, Kettle 13½ with three boards to go. Andy Rosenberger at board 10 played his best match of the season, picking up a win after close to two hours. Steve Yahr lost at board 6 after falling behind 2 pawns for a knight. The final 10 points for board 1 was decided when Mel Peterson trapped Dusti Howell's bishop on the back rank. The loss was Howell's first of the season.

The team travelled to Germantown on March 4 to face the Warhawks.

The melting of snow on lakes and rivers provides good conditions for ice skating and ice boating. Ice fishing is generally good for panfish throughout the district. Excellent catches of crappies are coming from Whitewater Lake in Walworth County using wax worms for bait. Nice catches of perch are coming from Pike Lake in Washington County. Northern pike fishing on Whitewater Lake has been good, but anglers are warned that the season ended in most district waters on March 1. Ice anglers are once again reminded that fishing shanties had to be removed from the ice March 5. A few brown and rainbow trout are being taken at warm water discharges on Lake Michigan at Sheboygan, Port Washington, St. Francis and Oak Creek.

Fond du Lac County — Sturgeon spearing off Pipe has been excellent. Water clarity is good...you can see bottom in 16 feet of water. Walleye fishing is spotty on Lake Winnebago. Snowmobiling is good. Cracks in the ice on Lake Winnebago this time of year are hazardous and there are reports of cars going down.

Dodge County—Fox Lake is producing good catches of perch and crappies. On Lake Emily, catches consist of small perch and bluegills. Beaver Dam Lake fishing has been slow.

Winnebago County—Sturgeon spears are having improved success in bagging sturgeon. Walleye fishing has slowed down considerably, but should improve with higher temperatures. Some walleyes are being taken along the Wolf River. Snowmobiling and skiing conditions are poor.

Health and Safety Tip

Children Can Learn Good Dental Habits

Good teeth start in childhood, and there are things parents can do to help insure that their offspring have a minimum of dental health problems both in childhood and later years.

To point up the fundamentals of good dental health for children, the American Dental Association has declared the first full week in February as National Children's Dental Health Week.

The ADA lists four simple rules which, if followed faithfully, can help reduce decay:

- Cut down on sweets, especially between meals.
- Brush teeth immediately after eating (snacks as well as regular meals). When this is not possible, rinse mouth thoroughly with water.
- Have regular dental checkups. This enables the dentist to discover decay and other problems at an early stage.
- Fluoridation of community water supplies greatly reduces decay. Where water supplies are not fluoridated, dentists sometimes suggest applying fluoride directly to children's teeth.

Sugar is named as a major cause of tooth decay. Bacteria that are present in the mouth act on sugar to produce acids. These acids attack the teeth. Of course, sugar is an important part of the diet. But it can be controlled. Nibbling on sweets all day is hard on your teeth. Eat your candy all at once, then brush your teeth.

The American Medical Association points out that many children, perhaps most of them, lose a tooth or two through an accident, often with a baseball bat or a playground fall. If this happens, wrap the tooth in a wet towel and take both child and tooth to the dentist. Sometimes the tooth can be replanted.

Dental authorities agree that the child should make his first visit to the dentist at about age 2½ to 3 years. By this time the baby teeth are in, and the dentist can check for signs of decay or malformation.

Sound teeth in childhood can prevent many dental problems in later life. Regular dental care is an important part of the overall health care of the family.

KHS Girls Whip Pewaukee, West Milwaukee for Title

Advance to Sectional Here

After nipping St. Francis 52-50, in overtime last Tuesday in the opening round of WIAA regional tournament action (results were in last week's paper), the Kewaskum girls went on to overwhelm Pewaukee Thursday, 55-29, and West Milwaukee at Slinger Saturday, 57-39, for the Class B regional championship. All the games were played away from home. It's now three down and two to go for a state tournament bid. The regional title enables the Indian girls to advance to sectional competition in Kewaskum. They will host Lomira, winner over Laconia Saturday, in a semifinal game of the sectional on Thursday evening here at 7 p.m. The Lomira-Kewaskum winner will go to Elkhorn Saturday at 1:30 p.m. for the sectional title game against the winner of the East Troy-McFarland contest.

In their game at Pewaukee Thursday, the Indians were not up tight as they were at St. Francis Tuesday and won in a runaway. The girls played a good defense, holding the Pirates to just 11 baskets in the entire contest.

Kewaskum was ahead by halftime, 30-14, and two quick buckets to start off the second half put them up by 20. From then on it was just a matter of finishing the contest. Jill Yearling led the winners with 15 points and reserve Judy Schoofs came in to add eight, including three long shots.

Kewaskum 55, Pewaukee 29. Pewaukee (4-10-11-4--29): Hansen 3-4-4, Shandrowski 3-1-4, Goodman 0-0-2, Beck 0-1-1, Tesch 2-0-1, Venable 1-1-5, Lawrence 2-0-2. Totals: 11-7-19. FTM: 10.

Kewaskum (12-18-13-12--55): Yearling 4-7-2, Larsen 3-1-1, Russell 0-0-2, Matenaer 3-0-0, Schmidt 1-0-1, Bremser 1-0-0, Hanrahan 2-3-3, Stoffel 0-2-1, Schoofs 4-0-3, Brenholt 0-2-1, Schlice 2-0-0. Totals: 20-15-14. FTM: 12.

In beating West Milwaukee for the regional title Saturday night at Slinger, 57-39, center Jill Yearling played a super game.

The victory was not as easy as the score would indicate as the game was close for almost three quarters. Kewaskum shot ahead by a 10-0 margin and it appeared like it would be a rout. The Indians still led at the quarter, 16-6, paced by Yearling's 11 points.

Then the Mustangs of West sprinted in a bad second quarter for the Indians to score 20 points to Kewaskum's 6 to take a 26-22 lead at the intermission. But the Indians gave up only 13 points the rest of the game, regained the lead in the third quarter and then pulled away. The KHS girls outscored the Mustangs in the second half, 35-13.

Harland Upset

Indians Close Season With Easy Win Over Slinger, Cop 3rd

The Kewaskum Indians brought a very successful last season in the Scenic Moraine Conference to a close Friday night here with an easy victory over seventh place Slinger, 91-69, to finish third in the strong conference with a 9-5 record. The Indians were 13-5 overall.

Scenic champion Hartland Arrowhead, which went all season both in and outside of the conference without suffering a defeat, was beaten in a big upset in their final game Friday, 58-47, by fifth place Kettle Moraine.

Kewaskum came close to finishing in a tie for second place when Grafton narrowly edged out Germantown by two points, 70-68. Had Grafton lost they would have been tied for second with the Indians. Mike Kornermann's layup with one second left capped a Grafton rally in the last five minutes that overcame a 10-point German-town lead.

Slinger and Kewaskum attempted 77 free throws and connected on 56 of them. The Owls were 29 of 40 from the line, while the Indians hit 27 of 37.

Ace Henry Schilter of the Indians led all scorers with 26 points (including 10 free throws) and added 12 assists. Tom Kern provided 16 points, Jim Rohlinger 14 and Scott Brendemihl 12. Jerry Lofy paced Slinger with 20 points (12 free throws), while Dave Nowicki had 12.

The Indians started slow again as they fell behind from the start 9-2. But the Owls couldn't maintain their lead and by the quarter Kewaskum had cut the margin to 19-15. Slinger started to slip and Kewaskum put on a spurt in the second quarter. In a short period the Indians scored 13 unanswered points, outscoring the Owl's 26-10, to take a 41-29 lead at halftime.

The Indians began to turn the game into a rout in the third quarter as they outpointed the Owls 28-19. The period was marred by fouls and free throws in the physical tussle. The final quarter was close to even but it was too late for Slinger as reserves began to pour in.

The Kewaskum JV's also came through with a win, 60-54. Leading Indian scorers were Dale Wodsedalek with 20 points and Wiedmeyer with 12. Tops for Slinger were Ken Cornell with 16 and Pete Fritz with 11.

Klein Takes 3rd in State Wrestling

Scott Klein at 98 pounds, Kewaskum's only representative in the WIAA state public high school wrestling tournament at Madison over the weekend, took a third place and gained 9 points for Kewaskum. A total of 34 schools were represented in Class B of the state tourney.

After having a hard time making the weight limit, Klein went out and dominated his first match over Terry Hancock of Darlington, 9-2. Klein had four takedowns in the match and was in control all the way.

In the semi-finals Friday afternoon Klein dropped a match to Wisconsin Dells wrestler Joey Van Dinter, 8-1, and then came back to beat Luxemburg-Casco's Bob Stahl, 4-3, for third place.

The Campbellsport wrestling team, a perennial contender for the WIAA title when the tournament was grouped in only one class, easily won the team championship in Class B with 73 points. The Cougars had two champions in Mark Schultz at 105 lbs. and Randy Narges at 155. They also got seconds from Rick Gruber at 119 and Scott Rowe at 167.
