Apollo's Lyre Denied Dance Permits

By DAN MEILAHN
Statesman Staff Writer

At Monday night's Kewaskum Village Board meeting, it was agreed to deny the Apollo's Lyre tavern any more dance permits until June 30, 1980. A group of about 15 east side citizens were present to register various complaints against the establishment.

Apollo's Lyre is located at 1310 Riverview Drive in a residential area where there is no parking except on public streets. On Saturday nights dances with live bands are held with as many as 500 people attending.

Trustee Carl Spoeth introduced the subject by noting that this was the second appearance in the last 12 months by residents in that general area. He summarized the problems as harassment by some of the patrons and noise pollution. Spoeth reported that within the last two years the situation has not improved "and as of last Saturday night has degraded."

Various citizens cited physical damage to property by patrons of the tavern - a bent and scarred sapling, bent street signs, and a broken porch railing (which later was repaired by Apollo's Lyre). The citizens complained of litter as broken beer bottles and crushed cans laying on lawns.

Others mentioned the foul language of patrons, the squealing of tires, and banging on cars in addition to the loud music.

Another complaint was of people coming up on porches and ringing door bells or pounding on doors. People loitering outside and even urinating on lawns was mentioned.

The residents claimed they had little chance of sleeping on the nights of these dances. Many are reluctant to go anywhere else on Saturday night and leave their children with babysitters. One man reported his driveway nearly blocked such that a vehicle could not have gotten in or out in the event of an emergency.

Some restrictions as to noise levels and keeping beer in the establishment had been set, but citizens have noticed beer being taken out and felt the music was still too loud.

Police Chief Don Hlavaty reported that five or six people were arrested last weekend. He suggested that when the tavern's liquor license came up for renewal, the complaining citizens should be present to voice their opposition.

One person did compliment the police on their control of the large crowd with the limited number of officers present. Others felt that the police were not responding adequately to some complaints.

Trustee Don Mlodzik suggested that "to show we mean business" the village not issue any more dance permits until the liquor license comes up for renewal. Spoeth then moved that "we not issue any more dance permits to the establishment known as Apollo's Lyre for the period from this date to June 30." This passed unanimously.

Trustee Raynor Herriges admonished the citizen group that they had to back the board on this situation.

At previous public hearings on the liquor license, few if any citizens were present to voice their opposition. The group present felt adequate notice of hearings, and particularly one concerning a recent change of ownership, had not been given in the newspapers. Administrator Dan Schmidt said it had been published twice in several newspapers and posted elsewhere.

One spokeswoman of the group assured the board, "If you're going to do something, please let us know. We'll be here."

As of Tuesday, it was learned that the village's attorney said the village had the right to deny dance permits on the grounds that the tavern was not meeting the provisions of the municipal code.

A 4.5 acre parcel of land owned by Claude Johann was rezoned from an R-1 single family residence district to an R-4 multiple family residence district. This is to allow the construction of condominiums in the area east of Highland Avenue and south of Main Street.

The Plan Commission and Zoning Administrator had previously approved the plans. Presently, three buildings are planned of 12, 6 and 16 units respectively. Adequate parking would be provided by garages or underground parking. The plans also call for an extension of Highland Avenue to the east so it intersects the as yet to be developed "Old Slaughterhouse Road" which runs north and south. A water line and sewerage would loop around this area to Main Street. Johann hopes to begin by July 1.

The board approved the hiring of recommended personnel selected by the Parks and Recreation Committee for summer employment. The prospective lifeguards and basket attendants, etc. will be notified in the mail, and an organizational meeting is planned for 9 a.m., May 17.

Spoeth said that in '79 there were under 30 applicants with 23 being hired. This year there were 53 applicants with 21 hired. Residency and qualifications were the main criteria for summer employment.

Supt. of Wastewater Treatment Pete Albers requested that a person be hired for 40 hours per week during June, July and August to do maintenance work at the sewage plant. The board approved this and Albers is considering several people.

The board approved the hiring of Mary Ellen Buczak as a part-time police clerk. The present clerk has resigned. The position was recently switched to full-time on a trial basis, however, there was not an adequate work load, and a part-time position was deemed sufficient.

An ID machine will be purchased for $1100. This will produce laminated identification cards for village personnel and residents. It also will be used to supply swimming passes in the form of cards instead of the patches worn on swimming suits last year. Patches had cost $250 annually, and the cards will cost $150 annually. Albers and Supt. of Public Works Augie Bilgo also praised the idea, since it would allow easier access to residences for water and sewer system inspections.

President Jerry Stollenwerk read several proclamations. April 20-26 is declared Secre-

HYDRANTS TO BE FLUSHED

The village water department will flush hydrants on Wednesday and Thursday, April 16 & 17. If water appears rusty, do not be alarmed as it is harmless and will clear in a few hours.

Tornadoes Rip Area; Kewaskum Escapes

Several tornadoes ripped across Dodge, Washington and Ozaukee counties Monday afternoon leaving 24 injured people, damaged homes and barns, and 15 mobile trailers destroyed and 27 others damaged.

Kewaskum escaped the brunt of the storm but had threatening skies, some wind and rain, and a heavy hailstorm. The hailstones ranged from marbles to almost golf balls in size and covered the ground like snow. Locally no damage was reported but the tornado warning siren was sounded around 4:40 p.m. as the storm approached, and residents took precautionary measures. Several residents reported loud creaking noises in their homes as the storm passed over. The tornado then swung northeastward to the Boltonville area, where a funnel cloud was sighted.

In Washington County the tornado severely damaged farm buildings around Allenton and Kohlsville. Losses were substantial at the farms of Leo Schweitzer, 6560 County DW; Robert Ihlenfeld, 7022 County WW; Melvin Nickel, 6930 County DW and Ralph Boden, 9612 Nenko Road, all near Allenton.

A windmill was blown over and trees were damaged at the Ted Moser Sr. farm at Route 1, Theresa, and garage damage was reported at the Charles Schelling home on County DW and the Daniel Wagner home on Hwy. 175, both near Allenton.

The tornado also touched down in the Town of Barton where Milton Beth, 7435 Glacier Drive, reported a back porch demolished on his house and a small log cabin in the back yard flattened.

Hardest hit was the Mielke Mobile Home Park in Dodge County near Beaver Dam where the trailers were destroyed or damaged. Most of the tornado-related injuries occurred at the

Story Hour to Begin April 17

The Kewaskum Junior Women will begin their spring session story hour on Thursday morning April 17, at the Kewaskum Public Library. There will be two sessions each Thursday for six weeks at 9:15-10:00 a.m. and 10:30-11:15 a.m. Children should be three to five years old. To register call Karen Keller at 533-4493.

mobile home park. Witnesses said there were mobile homes piled on top of one another. A 15-month old baby, crying and lying face-down in a pile of broken glass, was found amid the debris from a demolished trailer. The baby was not injured.

There was also damage in other surrounding areas.

It was ironic that the storm should hit the area on Monday, the beginning of Tornado Awareness Week proclaimed in Wisconsin by Governor Lee Dreyfus.

KHS Art Show On Tuesday Eve

The Kewaskum High School Fine Arts Department will be holding a first on April 15. An Art Show with featured exhibits of the outstanding senior artists, will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the high school. Each exhibitor will not only arrange their own show, but will also have printed programs which will explain each one of their exhibits.

At 7:00 p.m. in the old gymnasium, spectators will have the opportunity to hear some of the outstanding senior musicians, as starred firsts entries from the recent solo and ensemble contest will be performing.

The best in vocal music will be heard at 7:30 p.m. as the Mixed Choir, under the direction of Dave Bertelsen, will sing some of their favorites for you.

More outstanding senior musicians will perform next, with the ever popular Barbershop Quartet, Woodwind Choir, Brass Quartet and a tuba solo providing the entertainment.

Then, the Symphonic Band will fill the halls with Fingal's Cave, an excellent piece by Felix Mendelssohn, and selections from the Broadway hit "Annie," will be led by Wendi Goeden, the student director. Director Larry Ammel, will close the program conducting "Galop" a very rousing finale to a star-studded evening of some of the best Kewaskum has to offer.

So please reserve Tuesday, April 15 for an evening of excellent entertainment. Art teacher, John Baitinger promises some outstanding art works, and the music department sees an exciting evening for all attending.

Village Board

aries Week and April 23 is Secretaries Day in recognition of this profession's "vital responsibilities" and "roles in commerce, industry, and government." The month of May is designated as Recycling Month. The Junior Woman's Club was cited for their collection of "several tons of glass, tin and aluminum," which "has saved the Village of Kewaskum considerable time and money by eliminating the need to put these materials in a landfill site." The Kewaskum Lions Club was also cited for their monthly paper drives which likewise represented a savings to the village and allowed for "re-using of paper that would only be discarded."

Trustee Raynor Herriges stressed that people should be more aware of the availability and practicality of recycling paper, glass and metal.

The Junior Woman's Club also donated a basswood tree for the new village park and wished to have a flower garden near the entrance. Bilgo said they would assist with dirt and border stones, etc.

Stollenwerk read a memo requesting a culvert or storm sewer system along Edgewood Drive that would lie in a covered and seeded ditch to prevent accidents, potential drownings, and animal pests. About 30 Knights Avenue and Edgewood Drive residents had signed the petition requesting that this be done by September 30, 1980.

Patrick Hanrahan was granted a bartender's license by the board. Steve Liegl's building permit for an addition to his home on Hillside Drive was approved.

A joint meeting of the Village Board and Plan Commission is scheduled for April 29 to explain the Tax Incremental Funding proposal which would provide the village with some funds for improving blighted areas.

The newest trustee, Jeff Rohrer, was officially appointed by Stollenwerk to the Administrative Committee and as the board's representative on the Plan Commission. Since Stollenwerk will be out of town on April 21, 22 and 23, Raynor Herriges was appointed President Pro-tem for that period.

The board then adjourned to a closed session concerning "expenditure of public funds."

Over 400 Attend Annual Girl Scout Supper

The Girl Scouts and leaders of Kewaskum, Farmington and Wayne deserve a long overdue pat on the back for their work on the 11th annual Pot Luck Supper that was held last month at the Amerahn. The evening was a huge success. There were over 400 people in attendance, and a wonderful time was had by all.

This year's theme was "It's a Small World," and each of the 11 troops did a song or dance representing a different foreign country. The girls not only worked on their program, but they also made their costumes and made centerpieces for the tables as well. The program ended with a candlelight ceremony with all 193 scouts participating.

This banquet is also a time for special recognition for a variety of achievements, and this year was no different. A special award was given to Michael Pettit in memory of his wife Dottie who had worked with Girl Scouts in this area for over 18 years. A beautiful tribute to Dottie was given by Pat Morgan, and when the plaque was presented there was an immediate standing ovation.

Mrs. Lois Bartz received a 35 year pin for her years of service. She has given of her talents endlessly over the years and is this year's cookie chairman. I am sure we will all agree she is a special person to have given so much to scouting. Many thanks Lois.

A 15 year pin was given to Mrs. Janet Panzer, and 10 year pins went to Mrs. Vel Wheatley, Mrs. Judy Goetsch, Chris Maloy and Vickie Key. Whether it is 35 years, 15 years, or only 1 year, Girl Scouting cannot exist without the dedication of these people.

Harold Justman was awarded a friendship pin for donating the use of the sound system for our Pot Luck Supper for the past several years.

Special recognition was given to the Marion Mitchell donation. She had set up a special fund in the 50's and this year the funds were turned over to the Kewaskum area scouts.

Two Cadettes from troop No. 72 received Girl Scouting's highest honor. They have earned First Class awards. In order to get this award they were required to complete four challenges and also earn six other badges. Congratulations to Mary Paul and Lisa Gatzke.

Thirteen junior girls received the "I Live My Faith" award. They are: Becky Geidel, Kim Kody, Ellen Beisbier, Michelle Morgan, Sue Boden, Chris Bodden, Annette Stommel, Bridget McKenna, Stephanie Amerling, Brenda Kober, Barb Harmon, Jackie Schoofs and Carrie Grahl. This award is the highest achievement a junior scout may earn.

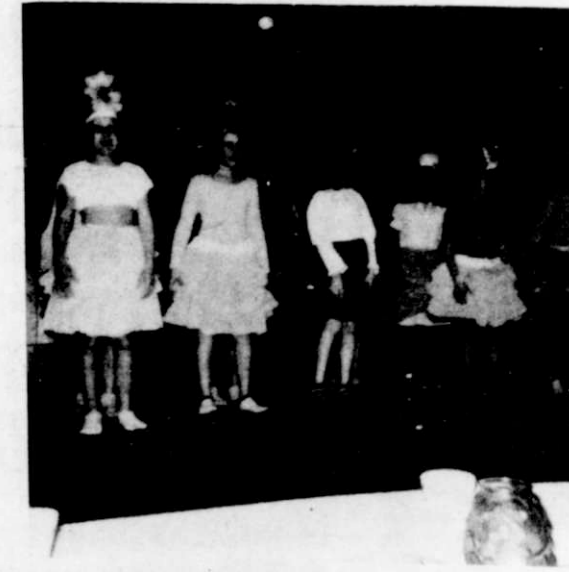

Special thanks go to this year's chairman, Mrs. Vivian Stommel. Many hours of planning are required to make a success such as this year's Pot Luck Supper surely was.

Benefit Dance for Ray Reindl Saturday Night

Ray Reindl, who was stricken with acute lymphocytic leukemia and has been a patient at Seattle's Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center in Washington, has returned home.

In December Ray underwent a bone marrow transplant, an experiment which doctors hope will keep the disease in remission. Prior to the operation Ray had undergone chemotherapy and radiation treatments at Children's Hospital in Milwaukee. It put him in remission for a while but it did not last and last August he relapsed. He went back to Children's Hospital for another series of chemotherapy and was told his relapse would be fatal, but there was one new thing they could try — the transplant.

Ray was flown to Seattle's Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center. His older brother, Paul, who was the most acceptable donor of his brothers and sisters, was admitted to the hospital in Seattle. Almost one quart of marrow was taken from Paul's hips and within three hours — after it went through a chemical process — the marrow was fed to Ray intravenously. Every day for several weeks, platelets were taken from Paul's blood and given to Ray to build up his system. Then there was the wait to see if the new marrow would begin producing platelets on its own.

Sometimes the new marrow begins working in 15 days, but in Ray's case it took 28 days before there were a few young platelets in the blood.

Paul, who had been weakened by the transplant, recuperated in an apartment owned by the hospital and returned home February 1.

Ray remained in the hospital and as the platelets kept building each day, he was able to move into the apartment in late January.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Reindl, his parents, and Sue Nigh, Ray's girlfriend, spent some time in Seattle during the nearly three-month experience.

Although he is now home, Ray must still go for blood tests in Milwaukee. It will be several months before he can return to normal living.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis are sponsoring a benefit dance for the Reindls on Saturday evening, April 12, at the Homestead to help meet some of the expenses which were not covered by insurance and amount to thousands of dollars.

Music for the benefit dance will be provided by Normie Dogs and his Melody Boys, and tickets are available at most Kewaskum business places. Tickets are $1.50 in advance and $2.00 at the door.

Dr. R. G. Edwards, Marvin Martin and Elmer Yoost are in charge of the event.

Still Time to Mail Back Census Questionnaire

If you haven't mailed back your completed census questionnaire, it's not too late to be counted in the 1980 Census of Population and Housing.

The district manager for the census in this area, Kala Mueller (633-8011) says, "We're counting on you to answer the census and, although the Census Bureau wanted the questionnaires to be returned on April 1, we'll still accept them. If the questionnaires are not returned shortly, census takers must call, and that will add to the cost of the census to taxpayers."

The manager adds that the census is meant to reflect the count of everyone on April 1. Anyone who has moved into your household since that date should not be listed on your questionnaire. Anyone who has moved away who was a resident on April 1 should be listed.

Most questions can be answered by blacking in the small circles with an ordinary lead pencil. If the yellow instruction guide that came with the questionnaire is followed, the task will be simple. Also enclosed with the questionnaire was a brown envelope for mailing it back. It is addressed and requires no postage.

Firemen Answer Mutual Aid Call

Fire of a "suspicious nature" destroyed a wood shed at 3490 County Trunk D in the Town of Barton last Tuesday evening.

West Bend fire fighters battled the blaze on the Robert Poler property for about an hour after being called out at 5:43 p.m. The Kewaskum Fire Department was also called. One Kewaskum fireman was injured fighting the blaze.

The firemen used 2,500 gallons of water in extinguishing the blaze. The shed had an estimated worth of $3,000. The fire was reportedly started by the igniting of a wood pile in the shed.

West Bend Battalion Chief Eugene Spaeth said the fire was of suspicious origin because there was no electrical source in the shed. However, no exact determination had been made on the cause.

Kids Enjoy Easter Egg Hunt

An exciting surprise at this year's Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by Kewaskum American Legion Post No. 384 in the old village park Saturday was the appearance of the Easter Bunny. Hundreds of children were on hand on a beautiful sunny day to enjoy the hunt. Kids in the age group from six to nine years hunted Easter eggs and candy in that area of the park located on the east side of the river and those five and under met on the west side of the river.

Dear Editor:

I am very concerned about what could have been a tragedy in our village last Monday. As I am sure many residents know, the tornado sirens on the east end of town did not work. What would have happened had a tornado touched down on the east side of town? We could hear no sirens. What warning would we have had if we did not have a television or radio on?

I believe our taxes are high enough to furnish a functional tornado warning system.

Crew Leaders Named For Census '80 Here

Crew leaders who will supervise much of the local effort in the upcoming 1980 Census of Population and Housing were appointed today by Kala Mueller, manager of the census district office in Racine, Wis. (633-8031).

The manager said each crew leader will supervise from nine to 13 enumerators or census takers in the national count that began April 1.

In their training sessions, crew leaders are learning how to recruit, train, and supervise enumerators who will be hired for this area in the near future.

Crew leaders appointed today include: Loraine Long (626-4453) of Kewaskum for Kewaskum, Hartford and surrounding areas; also Janet Stange (338-3678) of Kewaskum for West Bend and nearby areas. Also serving in Washington County are Clyde LaFauve of Menomonee Falls, Gayle Rodenkirch of Germantown, and William Steiner of West Bend ... with Norman Chitwood of Slinger as Field Operations Assistant.

School Board Faces Busy Agenda Monday

The regular monthly meeting of the Kewaskum Board of Education will be held on Monday, April 14, in the district administrative offices. The meeting will begin at 8:00 p.m.

Gymnastic equipment needed to run meets will be up for discussion and action, as will the need for a used, smaller tractor. The cheerleader code will be on the agenda, and the board will also look at the Title I program for next year as well as a plan for program evaluation in the district. Approval is being requested for hiring personnel for the kindergarten screening program, and a discussion will be held on the future of our athletic fields. Pay for census takers will be acted on, and a number of teacher resignations accepted. A possible request for use of school facilities will be considered. Payroll and vouchers payable approval is the final agenda item at present, but miscellaneous items which arise will also be considered.

Sign on a school bulletin board: "Free wisdom on Monday through Friday. Bring your own container."

TORNADO AWARENESS WEEK APRIL 6-12

April, May, June and July are the big tornado months in Wisconsin. Sherman C. Carr, Courthouse, West Bend, Washington County Emergency Government Director, suggests that people remain particularly alert to changing weather conditions and make a practice of listening to weather forecasts.

Each year tornadoes kill hundreds of people. Thousands of homes are destroyed. Whole buildings disappear and only their basements are left.

No one can stop a tornado; but there are precautions you can take to safeguard lives and property.

Tornadoes are usually associated with severe thunderstorms. High winds can range upwards of 150 to 200 miles per hour. Large hail often accompanies tornado-bearing storms. In a darkening sky, the approaching thunderstorm clouds often look greenish-black in color as the afternoon sun shines through from behind the storm into the ice-filled clouds. The base of the cloud may start to dip down towards the ground to form the familiar funnel shape.

Sometimes there is no visible funnel cloud, or darkness hides it. Frequent "flickering" lightning is another reliable sign of severe thunderstorm or tornado.

Early and late season storms nearly all move from the southwest to the northeast, with rapid forward speeds of 35 to 50 miles per hour. In July and August, tornadoes often move from northwest to southeast. About 85 percent of all Wisconsin tornadoes move in from the west and south directions.

When the skies look threatening, listen to the radio. The National Weather Service and the Severe Storm Warning Center track all weather systems with sophisticated radar and are usually able to give adequate advance warning of violent weather conditions. A TORNA-

DO WATCH means the atmospheric conditions are such that tornadoes could develop. A TORNADO WARNING means an actual funnel has been sighted in your area. Warnings are usually accompanied with a description of the speed and direction of travel of the funnel. Many communities have also arranged special warning systems such as sounding warning sirens.

When a watch is issued, listen to broadcast advisories, be ready to take cover. It is wise to collect a battery-powered light and radio and have family members within earshot under watch conditions. Also, take your car keys; should a tornado hit your area, your car may still be operable—but keys could be lost in the rubble.

There are 13 steps to take to insure your survival in the event of a tornado. Carr, Emergency Government Coordinator of Washington County, has been alerting county citizens to the survival steps.

The 13 steps, outlined by Carr, are:

1. Listen to your radio for official tornado watches and warnings, and take them seriously. You usually will first hear that a tornado "Watch" is in effect. This means tornadoes may occur. A tornado "Warning" is broadcast when a tornado has actually been sighted or indicated by weather radar.

2. Stay indoors. Wind-driven objects are your greatest danger outdoors.

3. In your home, go to a storm cellar or a basement under sturdy furniture. In home with no basement, take cover in the center part of the house, on the lowest floor, in a small room such as a closet or bathroom, or under sturdy furniture. If there is time, open the windows from the side of the home away from the approaching storm to reduce air pressure inside. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!

4. In office buildings, plan to go to an interior hallway or the lowest floor or to the designated shelter area.

5. In shopping centers, go to the designated shelter area (not to your parked car).

6. In schools, follow advanced plans to an interior hallway on the lowest floor. Avoid auditoriums, gymnasiums and large open rooms with poorly supported roofs.

7. In your car, drive away from the path of the tornado at a right angle. If the tornado is unavoidable, leave your car and go to low, dry ground for shelter from wind-driven objects. Avoid overhead wires.

8. If caught outdoors, lie down flat on the ground. A dry roadside ditch or plow furrow gives you some protection.

9. Parents, stay calm! Know where the kids are during a tornado watch. Be sure they know your plans for emergency action. Keep the path to the basement uncluttered. Decide which part of the basement is best to use. Keep your battery powered radio handy.

10. Know where and how to shut off your electrical power and gas. Do not touch broken wires.

11. Know the names of counties, towns and the numbers of main highways around you, especially if you're traveling. This will help you interpret weather information.

12. Mobile homes are particularly vulnerable to overturning during strong winds and should be evacuated when strong winds are forecast. Damage can be minimized by securing mobile homes with cables anchored in concrete footing. Mobile home parks should have a community storm shelter and a warden to monitor broadcasts throughout the severe storm emergency. If there is no shelter nearby, leave the mobile home park and take cover on low, protected ground.

13. When you hear fire or other warning sirens, take cover and turn on your portable radio for Official Tornado "Warning" information.

AFTER THE STORM

If a tornado should hit, remain calm—panic never helps. Most tornadoes are short-lived, lasting only four or five minutes and traveling on the ground for two miles, on the average.

Closely inspect your property, including automobiles, for damage. Check immediately for electrical problems and gas leaks and report to utilities or fire department if danger is imminent.

If you have extensive damage, contact your insurance company immediately. In the meantime, insure your property from further damage or theft. Heavy rains often follow a tornado.

Take an inventory of the damage to speed your insurance settlement. Your policy may provide coverage for additional living expense should you be able to stay in your home. There may also be a policy provision for paying the expense of debris removal.

If you have not suffered damage, be a good neighbor and help those who need it. But, do not telephone directly into or visit a disaster area. Reports will be broadcast, so let the rescue work proceed unhampered by spectators and curiosity seekers.

Do not enter a building damaged by a tornado until you are sure it is safe and will not collapse.

Use only approved or chlorinated supplies of drinking water.

Check food supplies. Food may contain particles of glass or slivers of other debris. Discard canned goods with broken seams.

Get food, clothing, medical care or shelter at Red Cross stations or from local communities if necessary.

Notify your relatives of your safety. Local authorities may waste time trying to locate you if you don't send word. Do not tie up telephone lines if they are needed for emergency calls.

Cooperate in the general clean-up of debris. You are responsible for cleaning debris from your own property.

During repairs and clean-up wear shoes and gloves. Glass, including fiberglass insulation, can injure unprotected hands and feet.

WHAT IF YOU ARE A VICTIM

Do your best to protect yourself, your family and your neighbors from further damage.

Make certain authorities are notified that you are a tornado victim.

Be prepared to cooperate with trained and authorized officers and volunteers who will arrive to give aid.

Do not sign contracts for repair work, removal of rubble or new insurance without consulting authorities.

Tornadoes can strike Wisconsin at any time. That's why Governor Lee Sherman Dreyfus and numerous organizations have joined forces to proclaim Tornado Awareness Week.

By thinking calmly and helpfully and helping one another, Wisconsin residents can limit the injury and destruction tornadoes cause.

Dreyfus Declares Tornado Awareness Week

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, natural disasters are caused by tornadoes in the State of Wisconsin; and

WHEREAS, such tornadoes create emergencies of concern to the State of Wisconsin; and

NOW, THEREFORE, I, LEE SHERMAN DREYFUS, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby proclaim the week of April 6 through April 12, 1980,

TORNADO AWARENESS WEEK

Your 1979 Tax Return May Be Audited — Plan For It Now

[Final article in a series]

Your 1979 income tax return may be one of many that the IRS randomly selects for audit each year, so while you are preparing your return, keep that in mind. A tax audit, says the Wisconsin Institute of Certified Public Accountants, can be pretty painless if you have all the necessary documentation. What makes an audit difficult, they say, is that it usually takes place a year or two after your return has been filed, and by then you might have trouble remembering a former business contact's name, not to mention your reason for taking him and his wife out to dinner back in 1979.

So right now, with events fresh in memory and documentation still at hand, is the time to prepare for the IRS interview you hope never takes place. As you assemble the facts that will go into your 1979 Form 1040, retain the receipts and cancelled checks that support your tax data. File them with your copy of the tax return.

Not only will this help you prove, if necessary, that you did indeed spend a great deal of money having your son's teeth straightened, but the existence of such thorough documentation could also serve to reassure an IRS examiner that your return would probably stand up to careful examination in any other area. If the contrary were the case — should you be unable to document a substantial deduction, let's say — the agent would be much more likely to keep on digging.

Also, although it's often possible to come up with proof by consulting other people's records — the orthodontist's, for example — this would necessitate at least one more visit with the IRS. Full, orderly documentation tends to keep contacts with the tax agency short and sweet.

Should a taxpayer try to head off a possible audit by holding deductions within the average amounts claimed by persons in his tax bracket? Certainly not, advises the CPA Society; there is no sound reason for passing up legitimate claims. If your deductions are especially high, though, that's all the more reason for saving your documentation.

Also, maintaining a low profile by trying to keep within the average parameters is no assurance that you will avoid an audit. Returns pulled for audit (about one in fifty, overall) are selected by the computer, and no one outside the IRS knows exactly what criteria is used in the selection process. We do know, however, that some returns are picked strictly at random, so there is no sure way to prevent an audit.

IRS auditors can and do question any part of a return — whether all taxable income is reported, claimed exemptions are legitimate, deductions are justified and accurately reported. But when they notified you that your return is to be reviewed, they generally indicate the areas in question, so you need bring (or let your professional tax advisor bring) to the meeting documentation for just the matters in doubt. This is not to say, of course, that the examination cannot be expanded to other areas.

Randomly-selected tax returns are examined in detail each year of an ongoing IRS study of the degree of taxpayer compliance with the Internal Revenue Code. If you are chosen for one of these examinations, expect to be questioned in depth about any or all aspects of your return — and about financial data not even included on the return.

In its conventional audits of computer-selected returns, IRS each year gives extra emphasis in certain areas. Right now, and for some months to come, agents auditing returns (most of which are for 1978) have been instructed to look closely for:

Unreported gains on sales of stock or other assets.

Unreported stock dividends and state tax refunds.

Closing out of tax shelters, which often results in realization of income.

Sales of homes (without replacement) by persons who got the home-purchase tax credit in 1975 or 1976.

Off-the-record barter transactions, in the so-called underground economy.

What areas will be receiving special attention when IRS gets around to auditing 1979 returns is anybody's guess, but those who follow the CPA's advice and put aside documentary evidence should have no reason to be unduly concerned, whatever those areas may be.

Taking a cue from a noted truck manufacturer, Area Moraine Realty uses 'job-rated' equipment in performing its selling activities. Newest addition to its rolling fleet is their Piper PA-22 Tri-Pacer Airplane which will be used to service northern resort and local farm and lake accounts. According to J. di Mittelstadt, president of the Campbellsport firm, the four-passenger airplane will be a time-saver in showing property in the up-state lake area. Also, it works out well in presenting local agricultural and recreational land, plus in picking-up customers from distant locations.

The Piper Tri-Pacer, considered a classic in aviation circles, was chosen for its high performance at low fuel consumption. It cruises at 135 MPH using only 7 gallons per hour. Judi's broker-husband Glenn, who is also glider and commercial/balloon/instructor rated, will pilot the craft out of Fond du Lac Skyport.

Another 'job-rated' vehicle used by the firm is a four-wheel drive Scout used to give on-the-spot viewing of agricultural and recreational lands. According to Judi, today's sophisticated buyer wants eye contact with the investment property. To do this properly the right mobile equipment is a necessity.

Do you sit more than you should? Do you feel aches in your legs - feel sluggish? You may be a victim of "sittitis." Your legs may be crying out for exercise.

Prolonged sitting can develop varicose veins, clots in the leg veins, weak and flabby leg muscles. Leg cramps or 'restless legs' can come from "sittitis." Walking helps to keep blood vessels elastic by washing away fatty deposits - it keeps tissues youthful and resilient. Therapists advise that we get off our seat and onto our feet, and walk to put new youthful vitality into our entire body.

Campus Notes

Barbara Thill, a junior from Kewaskum majoring in history and English at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater, has been chosen to receive the Donald Graham History Scholarship for 1980-81.

The scholarship honors the late Professor Donald Graham, a member of the UW-Whitewater faculty from 1955 until his death in 1976. Dr. Graham had been acting chairman of the Department of Social Studies, assistant dean and then dean of the School of Graduate Studies, director of Summer School, and chairman of the Department of History after returning to full-time teaching. He was a long-time member of the Faculty Senate and served as its chair in 1971-72.

Principal consideration in selection of the award recipient is the student's scholastic record.

Barbara, who plans to teach at high school level upon graduation, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Thill, 4656 Highway 28 West, and a 1977 graduate of Kewaskum High School.

Brian E. Markielewski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Markielewski, 2651 Townline Road, West Bend, graduate of Kewaskum High School, qualified for the Dean's Honor Roll during the winter quarter at the Milwaukee School of Engineering in computer engineering technology.

The new $4 million Walter Schroeder Memorial Library on the MSOE campus will be dedicated April 22.
